THE CLUB SPIRIT

The benefits that come to club men are many. The fine fellowship available at the mid-week luncheon hour is splendid. It is refreshing to drop one's business cares and meet with the group, entering into that atmosphere of unselfishness and generosity. It equips one for more wholesome and more patient work until the next luncheon occasion returns.

With all, this good is accompanied with danger. A danger so insidious that it is difficult to escape it. This danger is, that one may confine his participation in this splendid spirit of fellowship to the hour during which the luncheon occurs.

The motive of such clubs as the Kiwanis is service. Much is said concerning this motive at the club meetings, and as an abstract thing every member enters into it. It is not so easy, however, to practice this motive in the regular lines of duty during the rest of the week. It is the same old criticism that has always been charged up to the average church member, namely, that he takes his religion out in attending church, listening to the sermon and meeting his fellow members and that the experience as a whole fails to affect his life permanently.

If the experience of club life, as it is represented by the Kiwanis club, is to have any real power to accomplish anything, it must so get into the minds and activities of its members that its high motive will be practiced throughout the entire week.

The accusation has been expressed and perhaps there is much truth in it, that profit is the greatest goal of activity. The laborer means to strive for the largest wage in payment for the smallest amount of work. The employer has been accused desiring, more than anything else, the largest amount of work for the smallest wage. It is often said the manufacturer's goal is to produce an article at the smallest cost possible, which he may sell for the largest price obtainable. The retail merchant has been accused of handling those articles which he may sell at the largest profit.

The laborer must cultivate the desire to earn the wage paid. The employer must meet the laborer in this particular and come to actually desire the very best welfare of his employee, paying the highest wage that the circumstances will allow. The goal of the manufacturer must come to be, to produce an article of the highest possible value in terms of service and endurance, making that his goal instead of profits and the retail merchant should seek to cultivate the desires of his customers by the right kind of merchandise.

In other words, the experience of service as an abstract conception which looms so large in the club meetings must become a practical thing in the various kinds of business into which the members are engaged during the week. Unless this is done the club will have entirely lost its meaning and will be of little real value.

Let us, the fore, as members of our club set ourselves to the tremendous task of transferring this abstract idea of service about which we talk so glibly into a dynamic principle, intensely practical, in order that the impetus which comes to us at our meetings may react beneficially through us to that circle in which each of us moves and by this avenue get into the life of our community.

KIWANIS IN BUSINESS.

History has proven that the truly successful business man is one who has infused into his business and business relations those principles for which the Kiwanis Club stands. Kiwanis is the modern interpretation of the golden rule as applied to the activities of modern business life: "Do unto others as ye would that they should do unto you." Indeed, it is, or should be, the true religion of business life, not in a sentimental manner, but in a whole-souled, manly and forceful way, such as only he who is strong mentally, having an abiding faith in a Supreme Being who rules this universe and to whom above all others he owes his allegiance, can have.

"And now, brethren, I command you to God, and to the Word of His grace, which is able to BUILD YOU up."—Acts 20:32.

Gap Johnson Tells of Incident Which Should Convey a Moral to the Intelligent Reader.

"My cousin, Hank Buckley, paid for a dog a couple of weeks ago," recalled Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge, Ark., "and directly gave the dog and four bits for a fiddle. Pretty soon he swapped the fiddle and six bits for a shotgun. He hadn't much more than got settled with the gun than he figured he'd rather have a dog than a shotgun, and swapped the gun for the man, and the fiddle man give him $1 to boot. After a spell he got to studying and decided that he wanted a fiddle worse than he did a dog. So he swapped with the fiddle man and give him $1 to boot.

"Well, he kept this up, sorter like the rascal rascal in the old Third Reader resolved round and round the rascal neck, snapping fiddle or dog or gun, whichever it happened to be, by one of the other things, and giving $1, or such a matter to boot every time. Well, he was out $10.25, and had the dog. When I found him last he told me it was a dreadful thing not to be able to make up his mind and keep it made up."—Kansas City Star.

First Phone in Vermont. At a banquet recently one of the officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, while recalling some of the early history of the development of the telephone, mentioned the fact that in the museum of the company at its Boston offices was the first telephone instrument in Vermont. Known as the Childs Chamberlain set of Brattleboro, Vt., dated probably 1878. This came to the attention of C. F. Childs of C. F. Childs Co., who discovered what he did not know before, namely, that the Childs of the Brattleboro telephone was his father. The old telephone bears every indication of antiquity. It is fashioned by hand, and for a diaphragm an old daguerreotype had been used, the picture on which can be clearly seen today.

Turns of Fortune's Wheel.

The other afternoon, says Paris F. J. garré, a Russian admiral saw in a taxi-cab a gallant general of the heroic hours of the war, and on the open boulevard embraced him and gave him the kiss of peace.

Another even more touching scene occurred in a modest restaurant of the left shore where the "students who study" meet.

At a table three Polish women students were installed. A waitress of rather advanced age drew near; despite her humble dress she had a lofty air. The students looked at her attentively, and suddenly one of them rose, knelt down and kissed the edge of her apron. This servant had formerly been a lady of honor at a court that was wrecked in the most awful drama of contemporary history.

Bunyan Opposed to Kissing.
John Bunyan is the first recorded opponent of the kiss. Here is what the famous Puritan wrote many moons ago: "The common salutation of women I abhor. It is odious to me in whomsoever I see it. When I have seen good men salute those women whom they have visited and that have visited them, I have made my objections against it, and they have answered me it was but a piece of civility. I told them it was not a comely sight. Some, indeed, have urged the holy kiss, but then I have asked them why they salute the most handsome and let the ill-favored ones go?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Foreign Birds Brought In.
A total of 60,793 canaries were imported into the United States during the past fiscal year under permits issued by the biological survey, United States Department of Agriculture. The number of permits issued during the year authorizing the importation of foreign birds and animals increased more than 20 per cent, or from 458 to 500.

Quite Sufficient.
"There are two sides to every question," said the ready-made philosopher. "Yes," replied Senator Surghum. "And sometimes it's a hard piece of work to get from one side to the other when a situation required. I'm glad there are no more than two."

There will be a meeting of the alumni association of the Sanford High School at the high school Monday night, May 8th at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present to discuss plans for our big banquet. 33-4t-dh

McCUMBER ASSERTS TARIFF BILL WILL PASS DURING 1946

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 5.—An estimate that at the present rate the pending tariff bill would be passed on September 29, 1946 was given to the senate today by Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, in charge of the measure, who said the estimate had been prepared by an expert who based his calculation on the fact that just two of the 2,000 odd committee amendments to the measure have been acted on in thirteen days.

"I think that after listening to the debate today," said Senator McCumber, "we will have to add thirty or forty years more to that estimate. Asserting that the tariff bill had not been discussed for one fifth of the time it had been before the senate, Senator McCumber declared.

"We have all gone off on extraneous matters. "Unless we get down to the bill itself, I'll tell you what will happen. You will get tired of hearing your own voices and before you have considered one-third of the bill you will be ready to swallow all of it."

Senator McCumber said night sessions might become necessary but he thought if the Senate would, it could be passed in a reasonable time.

The senate voted yesterday on the second of the committee amendments, rejecting 26 to 47, an amendment by Senator Jones, democrat, New Mexico, to reduce the proposed duty on boric acid from one and one-half cents a pound to three-quarters of one cent a pound. The committee rate then was approved.

The Kiwanis Club woke up Sanford last night. These live wire clubs are great institutions for any city and do much toward unifying the business interests and getting everybody acquainted.

Why not surprise Forest Lake today or tomorrow with a check for the municipal band? He is chairman of the band committee of the Chamber of Commerce and wants every man in the county to contribute.

Now a tornado strikes Austin, Texas. What with floods over the great part of the country, tornadoes, strikes and other disasters, it is fine to be living in the grand old state of Florida where all is peace and prosperity.

Albert Gilchrist wants Park Trammell to travel round the state with him and have a joint debate on the questions of the day. We favor this. It would at least give the aspirants a chance to answer each other the same day.

Anyhow we are having a truce in Ireland until next Monday and this ought to give the different factions a good rest and they can get ready for a big fight next week. There is nothing like having a truce now and then when both sides get tired of fighting.

The bonus question has again been referred to President Harding. Well, it might just as well be referred to him to kill us to let it die a slow death in the senate or house. We hope the ex-soldiers who voted so blithely for Harding at the last election are proud of their work.

The municipal band of Sanford is doing a great part in building the city. There is no live city in the country doing without a good band and Sanford has the reputation of having one of the best bands in the state. Nothing like plenty of good music to put pep in the people, music makes live cities.

The defeat of Senator New in Indiana will be a blow to the 'old guard' in the Republican party. It is the handwriting on the wall, the taking of the last trench, the beginning of the end of the grand old party. You can look for a revival of the 'Hall Moose' again and if Roosevelt was alive it would do his old heart good to see the many changes taking place.

We rather like Senator Smoot's plan for the twenty year endowment insurance for the soldier boys instead of a bonus. To our mind there should be something done along broader lines regarding soldiers' insurance and plans that will help them to carry the insurance. A good insurance policy is good for a loan any time and would help out the boys in a pinch. The war is over now, you know, and all that the boys did is almost forgotten except by those who had a hand in the big game. It is time the American Legion realized this and realized who their friends are here in Sanford and other places.

Rents are declining in New York City. Rents will decline somewhat all over the United States as soon as the majority of the renters get on their feet and realize that it is cheaper to own your own home than it is to pay rent. If there was a half million dollars here in Sanford available right now to build new homes on easy terms there would be a hundred or more built this summer.

Not a hair on a man's head is changed in the spirit world, says Conan Doyle. Horrows! Think of Bob Holly and Earl Naugle going through eternity that way!—Tampa Tribune.

Even at that, Jawn, it would be better than having a wooden block under which your ideas could never grow. We should worry about the spirit world, eh, Earl? Col. Nutt is hired to do that.

THE HERALD IS BUSY.

With the great school magazine Salmagundi, off the press of 148 pages; with the 14 page daily yesterday and Kiwanis special, with one of the prettiest Kiwanis programs ever printed just off the press, with the big Weekly Herald of 12 pages, one other weekly paper, with all kinds of job work piled up, the Herald is not even thinking of a summer vacation or Thursday afternoon off. Maybe some time, there will be a dull summer come along and the Herald force will be able to get off for lunch but not this summer. We are a busy bunch.

DEMPESEY THE FIGHTER

It is nothing less than neanting to read the press reports about the great receptions being tendered Jack Dempsey the pugilist who is now touring England and France and who expects to go to Germany. This is the wonderful fighter who refused to fight when his country was calling for fighters and what a difference between his "touring Europe" and the experience of the men who went over to fight and came back many of them wrecks. As the Midwest Veteran says:

"Jack Dempsey, champion pugilist of the world, has gone to Europe to fight. According to press reports the best that modern travel has to offer in none to good for him, and he is enjoying the trip immensely.

It certainly is a strange world when one pauses to make comparisons. We are thinking of a poor devil in a hospital down south. His lungs are slowly rotting away and he has but a short time to live. He went to Europe to fight—not in a padded ring for thousands of dollars, but amid gas and shell in a muddy trench for a dollar a day. He went over in the bottom of a boat packed in with hundreds of others in a small room where the sweating bodies and foul air make one's head reek with pain. It almost seemed that the worst was none too bad for him!

And today the one who didn't give a damn for his country is getting the most out of life, wallowing in luxury, hailed as a great personage wherever he goes. The poor devil who did the most and was even willing to die for his country, is all but forgotten, waiting for death to claim him. He is not a hero or great personage—to be frank there hasn't been a soul in to see him for nearly two months.

Yes, it is a strange world!"

LEESBURG MUNICIPAL ICE PLANT.

"Municipal ice plant to be enlarged and improved," says a headline in the Leesburg Commercial, and this announcement would be of only passing interest except for the fact that it is only a very few years since the plant was taken over by the city and put in good condition. The plant has already been improved, and with stated capacity of fifteen tons daily something more has been produced for the past few months. The storage chamber of the plant holds thirty-six tons of ice. Ice is made and delivered to the people at a reasonable price, and it appears that all are satisfied with the experiment of a city making ice for sale. The improvements contemplated will considerably increase the capacity of the plant.

HENRY FORD'S MISTAKE

A few days ago a representative of Henry Ford stated that he had a secret process for the manufacture of fertilizers by which he would manufacture them and sell them far below prevailing prices. This was presumably intended to influence congress to accept his offer. In our opinion it will have the opposite effect.

It is generally believed that if Henry Ford obtained control of Musculo Shoals a great development would follow in many lines. The manufacture of fertilizers is only one of the lines threatened. Mr. Ford relies on efficiency instead of on discrimination in his favor. It is generally believed that if he were in control of Musculo Shoals he would manufacture many things cheaper than they are manufactured now. In our opinion this is the cause of all the opposition to his lease of the property. The industries of this country, tariff pampered as they are, dread the competition of as strong a rival as Henry Ford. They can't freeze him out and he would not enter into any combination to keep up prices.

We believe if Mr. Ford had gone into this thing differently he might have bought the government holding at Musculo Shoals for a million dollars or less. If some member of congress had introduced a bill to sell useless government property to the highest bidder it would probably have passed. In saying this we are not charging congress with corruption; the bill would probably have appealed to the majority as the right thing to do. The idea would have been that the property was useless and even dangerous. As long as the government continued to own it danger would have existed that it would operate it and call on congress, as in the case with the shipping board, for millions every year to make up deficits. A board or commission or something of the kind might have been provided to manage it with gigantic salaries as is the case with the shipping board. It is probable that the majority of the members of congress, honestly looking after the interests of the people, would have voted to sell it for whatever it would bring to get the matter finally disposed of.

Then if Henry Ford had said nothing but had a bidder present he could have picked up the property for a song. Quite a number of ships have been sold for between half and a fifth of a cent on the dollar of what they cost. If Henry Ford had used the business sense of bootleggers who wanted ships for use in bringing in their liquor he could have gotten possession of Musculo Shoals without alarming anybody and his rivals would never have known until late what was threatening them.

We do not believe the fertilizer men are doing as much as some others to block Ford's plans. They have not been as dependent as many others on tariff favors—in fact we consider the increase in price the tariff makes on ingredients that enter into the cost of fertilizers we doubt whether they have received any favors at all. But there are many industries that are licensed by the tariff to bleed the people and these think Henry Ford would interfere with the bleeding process.—Florida Times-Union.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BUSY ON WATERWAYS GETTING UP THE DATA

At the regular meeting of the governors and members of the Chamber of Commerce at the noon-day luncheon today at the Valdez Hotel, the question of collecting data for the meeting of the government engineers called at Titusville next week was brought up and a paper presented by E. T. Woodruff was vetted O. K. giving as it did some valuable information. The Chamber of Commerce will compile some valuable statistics along this line at once and any one who can give information about the incoming and outgoing shipments from Sanford is requested to assist the Chamber in this work. It means much to Sanford and all of the interior of Florida. A big waterway meeting will be held here Monday night at the Valdez Hotel or in the court house if the meeting is a large one to discuss ways and means of getting out the data about the St. Johns river and attending the meeting at Titusville. Every business man in Sanford should be at the meeting Monday night.

FISH FRY WAS GREAT

The fish fry given by Dr. Walkers class of the Methodist church at Crystal lake yesterday was a great success and several hundred people congregated at the lake to do justice to the elegant fish and other good things to eat. All those who attended reported today that they had never eaten so many fine fish before in their lives and they voted the "scrap iron" class and Dr. Walker and Mr. Boyd and their assistants, the best ever in the way of arranging details for a fine time. They not only had plenty for everybody but seven baskets of fishes and loaves were gathered up after the fry and transported to people who were not fortunate enough to attend. There is no place like Sanford for a fish fry and few people like the Methodists to have picnics.

MR. W. A. MacWILLIAMS
CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS
HAS ISSUED THE FOLLOWING SEATEMENT

1. I am not the candidate of any class, faction nor special interests.
2. I stand for liberal appropriations for Education, realizing if our country is to endure, its citizens must be informed of the basic principals of our Government.
3. The National Road Laws should be amended to bring about the changes of specifications for road building in the State in accordance with our local and climatic conditions, thereby giving us greater benefits from Government aid.
4. I am in favor of the Government turning over to Henry Ford Muscle Shoals, to the end that the farmers may secure cheaper fertilizers.
5. I believe in a country which produces more than it consumes, a high protective tariff is economically unwise, but if the consumers of the Fourth District are compelled to pay a high protective price for the articles of production should be protected.
6. I believe the Government should generously meet its full duty to our ex-service men. For once let history show R. publics are grateful.
7. I am in favor of the present limitation on immigration, but would favor an absolute bar for a specified number of years.
8. Florida's greatest problem for further development is transportation and improvement of inland waterways. I cannot promise to obtain all the Fourth District needs and deserves at the hands of the General Government, but I do promise untiring, attentive and energetic efforts in that behalf.
9. I believe changes in the Federal Reserve Bank Act should be made, it never was intended that the Government should exploit the borrowing public in the sum of over one hundred millions a year, and this after the paying of exorbitantly high salaries and bonuses to its officers and employees, and all this against the small banks and in the interests of the large Banks in the money centers of our country.
10. I believe the present laws for reforestation should be enlarged and made more effective.
11. I believe in economy in handling Governmental affairs, there exists undue extravagance at present. The Government has no right to take any more money from the people than is necessary & economically administer the Government.

BEAT THE BUSHES IF YOU BAG BIRDS.

B. C. Forbes, noted financial writer in a recent article discussing business conditions, said: "There must be much beating of the bushes if the birds are to be bagged," and then quoted a prominent business man who said "the man who goes after laurels for his brow and does not spend his time browsing on his laurels will succeed."

Forbes points out that the man or business concern that is fighting for business is finding times "good" while the man of business who spends his time waiting for business to come to him is complaining that business is bad."

Individuals and business concerns that spend their time howling about "hard times" are not forging ahead. Individuals and business concerns that are meeting conditions by increased efficiency and effort are showing as good results as they did in years gone by.

The motorist who comes to a hill does not allow his car to attempt to coast over the hill—he steps on the gas and the old bus pulls the hill just as easily as it coasts down grade.

Business is very much like the motor car. If the engine under the hood is of the right sort and the operator "steps on the gas" it will pull any hill—but if the motor is hitting on only one cylinder and the driver is too lazy to feed it the gas the car will never get over the hill.

On the wall of a Jacksonville business house is this slogan: "No hard Times Are Not Coming; Just Soft times Going."—Jacksonville Metropolitan.

SHELLS USED AS CURRENCY

Probably the Earliest Form of Money of Which There is Any Real Knowledge.

The earliest tribes did not need money because no individual in the tribe owned anything personally. All property belonged to the tribe as a whole and none to any one person.

It was necessary, however, to award the developments of a "unit of value" before money became elastic. It required something valuable in the eyes of these tribes.

SCHEME PROVED A NUISANCE

Office Force Refused to Allow Methodical Man to Overlook Letter Written to Himself.

The methodical Mr. Kellan, granted acknowledgement when Kessler, an office assistant, presented him with a note, according to the New York Sun, "Found this in the 'K' mail box. It's addressed to you," said Kessler.

Mysteries of Nature.

One of the most mysterious powers that close observation has revealed is the capacity of certain fishes and water animals to live out of the water.

One Way It Does Not Rain.

The weather men have been trying to answer: "How does it rain?" It is a hard question, says Dr. W. J. Humphreys of the weather bureau at Washington.

Poker in Hand.

We lived in the flat above our landlord. He and his family were in the habit of going on motor trips every Sunday. So one Sunday we were rather surprised to hear a peculiar grinding noise in what seemed to us to be their kitchen.

EXPERTS BUILD FUR WRAPS

Making of Crazy Quilt Nothing Compared to the Piecing Together of Bits of Skin.

Of course it would not be quite the thing to look a gift fur in the lining, or rather to rip up the lining and look at the under side of the pelt, but if the dollars that pay for the scarf or the wrap have been saved up out of your own pay check, it might be wise to do so, according to a jovial and friendly member of the "fur mosaic" workers.

Does it wear well? A friendly member of the Greek colony in Sixth avenue that makes this luxury fabric of scraps shrugged his shoulders and said: "Why for you ask me such thing? You should know. Fine for the looks. Can make extra careful care, no-yes? Don'ta forgetta the cheap price."

Tyranny of Clothes Customs.

Three hundred years ago Shakespeare could make Polonius say, with some measure of truth, that "oft the apparel doth proclaim the man."

THE SPRING OVERHAULING

Practically all motorists recognize the benefit of a spring overhauling for the car. And within a few weeks, thousands will be attacking this task more or less assiduously according to their enthusiasm or their familiarity with the subject.

But the elimination of carbon, the tightening up of the bearing, bolts and nuts, and the freshening effects of a coat of paint are not sufficient, according to J. B. Ray, manager of the local Exide Service Station.

"The battery," says Mr. Ray "requires more or less attention at all times of the year, but especially after it has stood in the car—idle or otherwise—throughout the winter.

"Corrosion may have taken place around the terminals. This should be carefully scraped off and vaseline spread over them to prevent further trouble of this kind.

"The cradle in which the battery rests, is frequently so badly corroded by acid, that, figuratively speaking, the battery is only held by a thread. In fact, I have seen a man's battery drop out on the road because the motorist had failed to examine his cradle.

"The wisest course is to drive the car to the nearest service station either before or after you have completed the rest of the overhauling. Here, an expert battery man can test your battery, tell whether it needs any repairs and in other ways, assure the success of your spring overhauling.

"One way of avoiding this—if you lay your car up for the winter—is to store your battery with your battery service station until spring. The cost is nominal, but when you are ready for the touring season, you can be sure your battery is in good condition.

"To sum up, remember, your battery is an important part of your car. Give it at least the same attention you give to other parts and you will have no cause to swear at the battery—rather, you will swear by it.
