BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY
A SMALL ROTTEN SPOT
TENDS TO SPREAD AND DESTROY
THE WHOLE LIFE. To be carnally minded is death.—Romans 8:6.

One good thing about being a member of a Senate investigating committee, you get to meet the nicest people.

Washington protocol is deeply concerned over whether the new Secretary of Defense should be given the 19 gun salute of the Secretaries of the War and Navy, or the 21 gun salute reserved for the President. And the rest of us can rejoice that Washington has nothing more serious than hot summer days to worry about than the proper salute for a cabinet officer.

From Fred Bender comes the news that Sanford's fame reaches considerably farther than Arthur Godfrey's radio program. Mr.
Bender's daughter Beverly writes from Augsburg, Germany, where she is staying while her husband, Kinchan Powers, is stationed nearby in the Army, that she went to the commissary recently to buy oranges. Expecting to find some from Spain or Italy only, imagine her surprise when she found a crate full with the Mayfair brand of the Patrick Fruit Co. straight from Sanford.

Virginia Hill, for the second time in three weeks, has taken an overdose of sleeping pills, has gone to the hospital to recoverate. Virginia Hill, in case you are not hep to the gangland lore, is the girl friend of the former "Bugsy" Siegel who bowed gracefully out of the Los Angeles underworld picture when a flock of machine gun bullets caught up with him. Virginia hasn't been able to sleep well since, though she was several thousand miles away vacationing in southern France. And like so many Americans when they can't sleep, she has been taking pills. She may have taken an overdose accidentally; or she may have taken an overdose, period.

General Motors follows the lead of U. S. Steel in announcing price increases following the increase in the price of coal after the coal operators surrendered to the exorbitant demands of John L. Lewis.
Thus the people are continuing to pay the price of Lewis' dictatorship among the coal miners.
The effect of this inflationary spiral is already being felt all over the country in consumer resistance. The people either cannot or will not pay the prices which Big Labor and Big Business are demanding. There is no sense in having another depression, but if we don't watch out we will have a recession which will make some of these big boys sit up and take notice.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce drive to raise funds for the operation of the Tourist Information booth for the promotion of the tourist business in Sanford is meeting with pronounced success. As one business after another comes forward with substantial donations to put the drive over the top. The Jaycees completed a most worthwhile project last winter in building the booth, are now interested in seeing it properly operated next winter. In making tourist promotion their number one project for the coming year, they have hit upon something which has long been sorely needed in Sanford, and which offers the best opportunity of anything for keeping this city in a prosperous condition and maintaining a high level of employment.

Join The Guard

A good opportunity for Sanford's young men to learn something of military training and to prepare themselves for eventualities in case of another conflict is presented by the organization here of a National Guard company.
It is hoped that the company can be activated within the next two or three weeks, but at least 23 enlistments out of an ultimate complement of 188 men will be necessary.
In all probability the next session of Congress will act upon the Universal Military Training bill and all young men will be given their choice of a year's service in the United States Army (or Navy) or a period of training in the National Guard. Many young men will prefer to spend three years in the Guard, where they can remain at home with their families and continue their work in their chosen occupation, to being drafted into the Army and sent to far off posts.

The value of National Guard training was thoroughly attested during the recent war when officers and men with National Guard experience rose rapidly in rank and found themselves well equipped for the innumerable opportunities which presented themselves. Not only did they fare better as to promotions than the more inexperienced men, but in times of danger their chances of survival were improved by the training they had received.

To many men the pay of $2.50 for attending weekly drills of two hours each is no inconsiderable item and may serve a useful means of balancing the family budget, but for the town as a whole the combined pay of such a company, amounting to about $25,000 a year, is something which no business man or civic leader can afford to overlook. As a source of income for our community we should have a National Guard company.

Sanford has always been a good National Guard town.
Before Pearl Harbor it had one of the finest organizations in the state. It had one of the best armories to be found anywhere. It produced more officers, and more high ranking officers, than probably any other city its size in Florida.

It is up to the young men of Sanford to help maintain that reputation by joining the Guard now. Thus, they will be benefitting themselves and helping their town.

Royal Symbol

The British government has decided to permit the Princess Elizabeth to have a big public wedding with all the trimmings that appertain to a royal ceremony. Westminster Abby will be the scene of the wedding and no expense will be spared to make it a glittering pageant.

It might be supposed that the sight of so much magnificense would arouse rancor in the hearts of the people who are undergoing terrific privations and see no relief in sight.
But that will not be the case. The loyal subjects will line the streets, as they did when the King was crowned, waiting patiently for hours, in the rain, if need be, to catch a glimpse of their princess on her happy day. They will discuss the affair over their teacups, lingering lovingly over each elaborate detail. Such an occasion fills a deep need in their beauty-starved lives. The princess is to them a symbol of romance, without which they would be poorer than they are.

The rest of the world wonders how much longer any nation will be able to afford the upkeep of romantic symbols while society everywhere is undergoing a leveling process, but the best guess is that in one form or another they will always be with us.

New Penalty

If a Congressman is sent to jail, should he receive a government pension? Ex-Congressman James M. Curley of Massachusetts is now in prison, and ex-Congressman Andrew J. May of Kentucky has just been sentenced. A Senate bill left pending by the adjournment of Congress would deny pension rights to those members whose "prestige has been used to the disadvantage of the government."
While no names are mentioned, Curley and May are clearly in mind.

An obvious point is that this adds a new penalty to those Congressmen who are convicted of crime. In addition to the normal fine, imprisonment or both, loss of pension rights would be added. It is refreshing to find Congress concerned over the conduct of its less reputable members.
Both House and Senate have too often disgusted their constituents by tender care for the perquisites of good and bad alike. The new bill is a welcome departure from the club spirit that has hitherto prevailed.

Meyer Testifies

order to Hughes for 100 planes, the committee has been told.
Meyer's expense accounts, given the committee, show expenditures of more than $5,000 purportedly for entertainment of Elliott Roosevelt and his friends.

In addition to this spending, the committee heard from Meyer today that he bought a handbag for screen actress Faye Emerson, wife of Elliott Roosevelt, a year after the decision on Hughes' plane. This was also charged as "entertainment."

From the 1943 period—when the plane contract was let—Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) today jumped to Meyer's 1944 expense vouchers.
At that time, the committee has heard in previous closed session testimony, there was some talk of the cancellation of Hughes' contract for the F-11 plane.

Meyer, going through his expense accounts, came to a long weekend from Nov. 2 to 4, 1944.
There was an item reading,
"Dinner, El Mordeco, ten people, $30."

Meyer, shaking his head, commented: "That's very cheap."
"You were only paying the tips, the bill was charged," Ferguson advised him.

Ferguson asked why the trip to Hyde Park was charged to Hughes aircraft, and got this reply:
"Business—wouldn't it be business to go to someone's house who was President of the United States? I thought it was a great privilege."

"That's why I wanted to know why you charged it to aircraft," Ferguson shot back.

Ferguson produced a voucher for $150 for entertainment of Roosevelt in November of 1944.
It listed Janette Thomas as one of those present.

Ferguson—Who was Janette
Thomas?
Meyer—She's a girl from California—Paramount Studios.

He added that the item was charged to Hughes Aircraft because it was general entertainment in the line of war work.

Ferguson showed Meyer a newspaper clipping dated Nov. 16, 1944, which related Elliott's return from Europe that day and said that Meyer had met him in New York.
The Michigan Senator asked if that refreshed his memory any as to whether he was in New York when Elliott returned. Meyer said it certainly did.

Ferguson—Did you see Col.
Roosevelt while he was staying in California, with his daughter,
Meyer—Of course.

Ferguson—Did you see him every day?
Meyer—No, I don't think so.

He must have had other people he could see besides Me-Lo-Keed, Northrop, Vultee, and we'll say Consolidated too.

Ferguson—Why did you pay his bills, and not these other companies?
Meyer—Possibly a warmer

friendship grew up between Col.
Roosevelt and Mr. Meyer than with some of those other companies. I think he's a very charming man. He was my friend and I hope I'm still friendly with him.

Senator Ferguson said the books of other aircraft companies disclose no such "glaring example"

of war time entertainment expenditures as those of Howard Hughes. Ferguson agreed with Senator Brewster (R-Mo) that a
"searching examination" by the committee had failed to turn up similar records in the files of other California plane builders.

As Roosevelt waited to testify,
Brewster cited a report of C. N.
Bailey, general accounting office expert who made the survey of entertainment expenses. Bailey said that his examination, limited to contracts where the records are open to the government, "disclosed nothing of the scope and lavishness" of the $169,000 entertainment expenses of Meyer over a five-year period ending Jan. 1, 1947.

Brewster said the committee was "not so naive" as to believe that other companies did not charge off entertainment expenses. Ferguson observed, however, that committee investigators had been unable to find any such itemized accounting as Meyer gave.

BROADWAY

NEW YORK—The end to which some Broadway citizens will go to attract attention is almost unbelievable. Stories of milk baths, champagne slipper parties and extravagant Diamond Jim Brady episodes are not being duplicated now, but the boys and dolls in the entertainment world still chase after attention just as they did when Anna Held received her famous champagne-scented scolding.

At present the grubby chase after free newspaper or magazine space or radio mention is more spectacularly financed, if less successfully realized, than in the old days. One moderately well known young comedian, for instance, lets no happening go un-noticed in his life. Whenever anything modestly diverting occurs in his path the various Broadway chroniclers are duly—and exaggeratedly—informed.

When this fellow was married, trick angles of the courtship were promptly sent around for columnar perusal and when ultimately after a dignified period had elapsed, he was to become a papa, the buffoon engaged in distributing to columnists who go in for such domestic drivel, all the old approaching-fatherhood rags. When the lad was born, all available (ancient) parenthood jokes were lifted bodily from Joe Miller's venerable collection for use. Recently, the same fellow bought a fancy new car and his press agent received quite a bit of space by reviving a bunch of old Ford jokes of a couple of decades ago and adjusting same to the present era.

While nothing is too trivial or important to keep to his own self, such trumpeting treatment is considered highly ethical along Broadway. Quite a few respected gentlemen of the theater, movies and radio even hang back for a moment in which he constantly gets in the public eyes.

This system based on the Anything-For-A-Gag principle was devised by a press agent who has another and more illustrious "rimrock." All his tub-thumping clients are announced as being in a new movie shot, writing one, acting as technical advisor or in some manner employed in constant movie turmoil which I have definite knowledge seldom, if ever, actually exists. The press agent whose trivia comes religiously through the mails to this desk and just as religiously is "filed" in the waste basket, knows that any major movie company's talent exertions are so constantly in flux as to preclude a finger on the pulse of everything which appears in the public prints. Therefore for several years he has passed along such false bills as "Miss Susie Glamorgan will be a technical advisor on the new Danny B. Selznick film about the decline of the panda population in East Overshore Mississippi. She is awaiting the call from Hollywood to begin her cinema sales. Meanwhile she is singing glamorous songs in the spectacular Club Ananias, located quaintly in a Brooklyn sub-basement." Oddly enough the stuff sometimes gets by some usually cautious writing folk. Just another item to be filed under "Oh, well."

The largest single occupation group in America outside of farming is truck drivers—there are 4,750,000 of them.

Mrs. Park Honors August Bride-Elect

Mrs. Charles Park entertained on Thursday at a decorative honoring Mrs. Connie McCall, whose marriage will be an event of Wednesday with a luncheon at the Mayfair Inn. Guests were seated at a long table in the small dining room of the hotel. A lovely arrangement of pastels adorned the decoration for the table and place cards with tiny nosegays of the pastel flowers marked the seating arrangement.

Mrs. Park's gift to the honoree was an attractive wrought-iron stand with a container for plants. Those invited to be with Miss McCall were Mrs. Emmet McCall, Mrs. Lee Moore and Mrs. David Nusbieckel of Winter Park. Also the Misses Nancy Collum, Gene Caswell, Mary Ann Wheeler, Sylvia Meisch, Camille Batten, Jackie Brochie, Martha Perkins, Shirley Smith and Kathryn Wiggins.

Mrs. Ralph A. Smith Honors Miss McCall

Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith honored Miss Connie McCall, bride-elect of August, with a handkerchief shower and bridge party on Friday at 3:00 o'clock. A pink and green color scheme was used in the tables and decorations. Before the progressions of bridge the guests were invited into the dining room where they enjoyed iced punch.

After the scores were added high score, a Bethman woven straw purse, was awarded to Mrs. Emmet McCall and screens, a cut glass vase, was won by Miss Daphne Connelly. The handkerchiefs were presented to Miss McCall. The lovely color scheme was carried out in the refreshments consisting of iced cream with cakes, Danish pastries, pink and green minis and salted nuts.

Those present with Miss McCall were Mrs. McCall, Mrs. E. S. McCall, Mrs. R. G. Fox, Mrs. Lee Moore and the Misses Gene Caswell of Orlando, Jackie Brochie, Daphne Connelly, Betty Jo Brock, Nancy Collum, Mary Ann Wheeler, Sylvia Meisch and Kathryn Wiggins.

78 Attend Opening Youth Week Supper

About 78 young people attended the supper held at the First Methodist Church for the opening day of Youth Week which is being conducted this week at the church. The program is under the direction of the Youth Caravan. The supper was served by Circle No. 1 of the Women's Society of Christian Services and following a period of informal recreation and singing classes were conducted by members of the Caravansers, Miss Mary Beth Joyner delivered the talk for the evening and the recreation was directed by Miss Naomi Rupert.

All young people in Sanford are invited to participate in activities each afternoon, stated Miss Mable Chapman, director of youth activities of the church. The program each afternoon is from 2:00 until 4:00 P. M. and in the evening from 8:00 until 9:45 P. M. All parents.

Beauty Notes

AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor. You can resort to a little subterfuge to make your skin look tan even after it has started to fade back to its natural color. Some girls use a strong brew of coffee and rub it over their arms, neck and back to achieve a smooth looking tan during this period. Sometimes this is a messy and unpleasant job. Many times after the job is completed, the shade that is achieved by this method does not appeal. Often the color is not deep enough to cover up splotchy white spots and strap marks.

Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 4. (PA) — Olivia De Havilland is going to leave Hollywood behind to go to college.

As soon as the star finishes "The Snake Pit," she and her husband, novelist, Marcus Goodrich, plan to build a home in Rappahannock, Va., where his forbears settled. Olivia, who has never before gone to college, says she'll take classes at nearby William and Mary College.

The Goodriches will live in the east while she isn't making movies here. This seems to be a movement. Gene Tierney and John Garfield being two others who have announced they will frequent Hollywood only for working purposes.

George Murphy is getting itchy feet. He is urging MGM execs to find a dancing role for him. Also, he would like to take the road in an appearance tour, which would feature his old songs and dance routines. Such talented toes as George's shouldn't be kept idle.

Anne Baxter and John Hodiak have one practice which they think will help preserve their marriage. They spend as much time away from Hollywood as possible. . . . Jane Wyman is feeling better and was on the Warner lot for conferences on "Johnny Belinda," in which she'll be movie.

Dan Duray and Richard Long are added starters in "Another Part of the Forest." Dan's first picture was "The Little Foxes." Lillian Hellman's first story of the greedy Southern family . . . more actors getting into the writing act! Howard Da Silva has collaborated on a new version of "Peer Gynt" in verse and he'll star in it at the Coronet here and later in New York. I heard him read it and it sounds good.

Glenn Ford surprised everyone when he did a bus-driving scene in "The Matinee Idol." He performed beautifully and didn't strip a gear. Glenn worked for the Bay Cities Transit Co. while studying dramatics in Santa Monica.

Barbara Bel Geddes has had five good play scripts offered her, but has passed them up. She plans to stay here at least two years until she has established her film career . . . Imagine the chagrin of a studio's press agents the other day when members of the Ford and Chrysler families were gathered on a set at the same time. Shirley Temple will get a week's rest between "Mary Hagen" and "War Party" . . . Jeanne Cagney does a strip tease (as much as the Johnston office will allow) in "Time of Your Life." Her coach is brother Jimmy, ex-husband of hooper . . . It will be Paris next spring for Charles Boyer (to do "Eugene Aram" after "Legal Tender" and "The Sign of the Cross") and then make his long-delayed return to France. . . . Clifton Webb plays a baby in "The Dalziel Mystery." At last the profession is being glamorized. . . . Do you know what Jane Russell reads between "Paleface" scenes? The Bible. It's no post-She's convertant on the great book . . . Jo Stafford has shored 40 pounds in a year . . . Headache Dept.: Peggy Ann Garner, working in pictures at Columbia and 20th-Fox simultaneously, moved into a new house with no phone.

Celery Feds Sweep Four Games From Foes Over Weekend

Locals Have Won 8 Of The Last 9 Contests; Three Tilts Have Been Shutouts

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR., Herald Sports Editor

For the first time in the 1947 season, the Sanford Celery Feds captured all of their week-end contests. The Feds whitewashed the cellar-dwelling Daytona Beach Islanders Friday night in a 12 to 0 contest. Saturday the Feds drubbed the Daytona Beach nine in a twin bill at the Municipal Park by 5 to 0 and 6 to 5 scores. Yesterday Buddy Lake coasted to a 4 to 0 shutout over the second place St. Augustine Saints.

Since John Krider has taken over the reins of the Sanford nine the team has copied eight of the nine tilts. The game lost was dropped by a one run margin to the Palatka Azaleas. In winning eight of the nine tilts, the Feds have executed three shutout victories.

Yesterday Lake was the complete master of the St. Augustine Saints over the entire nine inning route as he allowed the Saints but three scattered singles. Lake allowed but one single. Feds' pitcher second base, Second baseman Ed Judy banged a two base blow down the left field line to open the seventh inning, but remained on second as Lake forced Manager Don Anderson to ground out, struck Johnny Pawlick out and made Stan Karpinski pop a fly to catcher Bill Lewis to end the frame.

Friday night Big Bill Stanton scattered seven Daytona Beach safeties effectively to hang up a 12 to 0 victory for the Celerymen. The Feds rapped Finch and Meadows for 14 hits.

Saturday night the Feds again turned on the steam and shellacked the Islanders in a 5 to 0 twilight tilt and returned in the nightcap to edge the Islanders in a 6 to 5 extra inning affair. The final tilt was scheduled to be seven innings duration, but the clubs were forced to play nine.

Charlie Blisen worked the first game of the twin attraction and Johnny Tomat went the route in the finale. The Feds won the final fracas Saturday night in the bottom of the ninth when Ralph Batterfield singled, was sacrificed to second and was driven home by a long two base blow by Don Murray.

Tonight the Feds invade Francis Field in St. Augustine for a single tilt and will motor to Palatka and will return to the home grounds Wednesday evening for a tilt with the A's.

Southeastern Legion Tourney To Begin In Florence, S. C. Aug. 13

FLORENCE, S. C., Aug. 4, (AP)—One of four Southeastern States American Legion Junior Baseball champions who will compete in a regional title series here beginning August 13 has been determined, and the others were expected to be named this week.

The three-day tourney will see a team from Jacksonville, a Legion Post 9 representing Florida against teams from Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina.

Alabama and Georgia finals will begin tomorrow, and Cheraw and Greenwood will play at Cheraw tonight in a three-out-of-five series for the South Carolina State Title, in which Greenwood has won two, Cheraw none.

Birmingham, Huntsville, and Mobile will compete for the Alabama title at Auburn, Ala., and posts of Atlanta, Waycross, Thomas and Augusta will send teams into the Georgia finals.

College All-Stars Launch Practices For Aug. 22 Game

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 4, (AP)—The college football All-Stars, who 9 days hence will meet the Chicago Bears before some 105,000 fans in Chicago's Soldier Field, today launched a rigorous practice grind.

Head coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame welcomed more than 40 hunkies from big and little colleges throughout the nation. Remainer of the full 61-player collegiate contingent was expected to trickle in day by day.

The Irish strategist emphasized his master business in the two-day drills hooked until a day or two before the Aug. 22 night clash with the champion Bears of the National Football League in the 14th annual All-Star classic.

Leahy may turn over bossing chores the first few days to his three assistants, Wally Butts of Georgia, Marjorie Schwartz of Stanford and George Munger of Pennsylvania.

The All-Star brain trust will be handicapped by the late arrival of four luminaries who can form a real "dream backfield"—full back Doc Blanchard, halfback Glenn Davis and Quarterback Arnold Tucker of Army, and halfback Charlie Trippi of Georgia. Blanchard and Davis, who recently finished making a movie in Hollywood, and Tucker won't be able to report until they receive new Army assignments. Trippi, playing baseball for Atlanta of the Southern Association, will fly here Aug. 15, just a week before the All-Star game.

Roosevelt Testifies

after Elliot Roosevelt recommended the plans favorably.

A contract for 100 planes was let Hughes, but it later was pared down to two planes, none of which was available during the war.

When he took the stand, Roosevelt said he was glad to have been called by the committee to tell his side of the story.

"This is the first time I have ever had the chance publicly to answer any of the charges that have been leveled against me," he said. "You didn't have to subpoena me, I was glad to come."

"That's right," said Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) of the subcommittee.

Elliott gave his address as Hyde Park, N. Y. He said he became an Army captain in September, 1940, was a full colonel in 1943 and became a brigadier general on Dec. 12, 1945. He said his nomination for brigadier general was approved by the Senate "over certain strenuous objections" by some members.

Chairman Brewster (R-Me) of the full committee interrupted to say that General George Marshall (wartime Army Chief of Staff) had said he had twice turned down recommendations for Elliott's promotion, but had been "forced" to agree to a third recommendation.

When Roosevelt said he had been "invited" to testify by Brewster, the latter said he had not issued any invitation.

"Your name is signed to the telegram," Roosevelt rejoined.

The crowd, filling the Senate caucus room, roared.

Ferguson said he wanted to take full responsibility, and that the staff probably signed Brewster's name.

Then the questioning went: Ferguson—When did you first become connected with aviation? Roosevelt—As I remember it was in 1932.

He said he was general manager, about six and a half months, with a west coast airline.

"Later he said, he became aviation editor for the William Randolph Hearst newspapers.

He once undertook a selling assignment with Douglas Aircraft, he said, but "severed the connection before any sales were made."

Ferguson—Were any checks issued to you? Roosevelt—No, sir.

He was also connected for a time, he said, with the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce at $10,000 a year.

Ferguson—Were you trained in engineering? Roosevelt—No, My college education was never completed.

Ferguson—But you do not claim any engineering knowledge? Roosevelt—Oh, no, sir.

Strike Threat

ally provisions of the Taft-Hartley law.

Henry Ford II, youthful head of the big auto firm, declined to attend the last scheduled session although he cut short a vacation to return here.

Meanwhile, in Washington, Rep. Hartley (R-N.J.), recommended an immediate congressional study of the threatened strike at Ford Motor Company to make sure the Taft-Hartley labor law is observed.

Hartley, vice chairman of a joint committee on labor-management relations, said in a statement:

"I am thoroughly convinced from the statements which have been issued on the threatened strike at the Ford Motor Company, that this is a matter which we must go into from the beginning of the negotiations. We have, therefore, watched the situation closely over the weekend."

Hartley, co-author with Senator Taft (R-Ohio) of the new labor management act, said that in order "to be sure" the new law is followed "in accord with the intent of Congress, it is necessary that we determine if there is an organized effort on either side to by-pass any of its provisions."

BUTTS SAYS U OF F TO HAVE IMPROVED SQUAD

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 1, (AP)—Wally Butts, athletic director of the University of Georgia, says the Southeastern Conference Football race this season will be between LSU, Tennessee and Mississippi State.

"I wouldn't like to put anyone on the spot," Butts said here yesterday en route to Chicago, "but as I see it that's just how it's going to be."

He gave the following lineup to columnist Buss Walker of the Chattanooga Times:

"LSU, has more squad depth, experience and strength than last year, the team will have more experience, and Neyland will be working with his boys for the second year instead of the first."

"As for Mississippi State, they have the best backfield, and I believe they'll be near the top when the conference championship is decided."

Butts predicted Kentucky and Florida would have the most improved teams, that Alabama would be stronger and that Georgia Tech would be handicapped at first because of new men but "will be humming plenty loud before they get around to playing us later in the season."

As for Georgia: "We lost the best back in the south in Charlie Trippi, we lost some other boys who will hurt us, too."

That they no longer had to work, and hence failed to produce, with the result that the government had to take the land back and eventually return to its original owners.

Rev. Colmore was introduced by the Rev. Mark Carpenter. Charles Morrison had charge of the program. Jack Ratigan announced the Jaycee conference for this weekend at which Edward Barrett, editor of News Week, will be the principal speaker. The club voted to hold a picnic during the second week of September. Miss Barbara Dampier explained that the City's recreational program is for the benefit of all children in the city and asked the Rotary Club to cooperate.

Visitors included C. J. Epler of Orlando, Joe Hunter of Miami and Rev. Douglas Charles of Sanford.

German Shipyards, Industries Allotted To Fifteen Nations

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 4.—The International Reparations Agency announced today it had decided to allocate Hamburg's famous Flotilla and Voss Shipyards and 22 other German industrial concerns to 15 nations, including the United States.
Three chemical plants, a factory containing machine tool works, shops and 18 mechanical plants were for war production were to be distributed under the terms of the Potsdam agreement.
The Blohm and Voss Shipyards was one of the largest shipyards in Germany. Fifteen of the 18 member governments of the agency made claims for all or part of the plant.
The Agency decided to divide the plant among the 15 claimants, the United States, the United Kingdom, France, Albania, Australia, Belgium, Denmark, Greece, India, Luxembourg, New Zealand, Norway, The Netherlands, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia. (The proportions to each and the estimated value were not specified.)
The United States, The Netherlands and Czechoslovakia all asked for the entire plant and plant equipment, which manufactures glycerine, formaldehyde and penterythritol, two essential for synthetic resin used largely in paints and lacquers.
The reparations agency awarded the United States one unit for the production of formaldehyde, two for penterythritol; Norway got one formaldehyde unit to enable that country to introduce the product. The Netherlands and Czechoslovakia were awarded one unit each for the production of penterythritol.

Do You Suffer Distress U. Monthly FEMALE COMPLAINTS
With Uncomfortable Fullness?
Are you troubled by distressing functional menstrual disturbances? Does this make you suffer from pain, feel nervous, irritable, impatient, or such times? Then so try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms! In a recent medical test Pinkham's Compound proved remarkably helpful to women troubled in this way. It's what doctors call a "uterine sedative." It is a gentle soothing effect on one of woman's most irregular organs.
Take regularly—Pinkham's Compound builds up resistance to such distress. Also a great stomachic tonic!
