

Growers Lay Plans To Halt Cutting Of Celery For 3 Days

Committee To Confer With Shippers Will Be Chosen Tonight At Farmers Meeting

250 Growers At Session Tuesday

Producers Vote For Stopping Thursday; Shippers Veto Plan

Sanford celery growers tonight will reconsider a plan adopted at a meeting last night to halt all celery cutting in this district Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The meeting to reconsider the plan was called today after a conference between a committee of growers and the salesmen of the Sanford shipping organizations this morning at which the shippers objected to the plan on the ground it failed to give them sufficient time to prepare for it.

The growers at tonight's meeting will be asked to appoint a committee with power to act as representatives of all farmers in the district. This committee will negotiate with the shipping organizations in carrying out a plan to stop celery cutting for a definite period. The meeting will be held at Seminole High School at 8 o'clock.

At last night's meeting the growers present, by a vote of 21 to 18, elected to halt celery cutting Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Many of the 250 growers attending failed to vote. A committee to confer with shippers was appointed with E. J. Symes, George E. Paine, G. F. Smith, Frank Miller, R. L. Baldwin, Elton Steele and J. B. Little as members. The meeting was called by Fred Dorner, president of the Seminole County Agricultural Club. H. J. Lehman was elected chairman.

Tonight's meeting was called by Mr. Lehman after the shipping organizations this morning declared they could not co-operate effectively on such short notice. The sales managers of the organizations also asked the appointment of a growers' committee with power to act for all growers in the district.

At last night's gathering another meeting was called for Friday night to discuss ways and means of reimbursing growers suffering loss through no cutting during the three day cessation of activities. Tonight's meeting is now scheduled to take the place of the one planned for Friday.

Various plans for improving celery market conditions were discussed last night. A plan for cutting down or destroying one tenth of each growers' crops was discussed but not acted upon. Another plan for throwing out small celery during the three day cessation of activities. Approximately that number of ears are being cut daily at the present time.

THOMPSON WINS IN WINDY CITY'S COUNCIL BATTLE

Mayor William H. Thompson's forces today remained in control of the city council following yesterday's aldermanic election. The so-called "reform" faction, won only a few seats. Leaders of the reform groups blamed incumbent mayor for their poor showing.

Thompson's narrowest loss was the loss of one of his floor leaders, although 33 aldermen who usually vote with Thompson, during the last two years were re-elected for another two years.

The election, to the surprise of many, went off quietly. To the police, however, the day of calm was no surprise. They were usually well prepared for trouble, and in the words of the Deputy Commissioner, "The serpent knew that if it raised its head, it would be knocked off."

Nevertheless, Stagg admitted, department chiefs breathed a sigh of relief when the day was done and "no fireworks had started." Detective bureau squads, their cars bristling with machine guns and repeating rifles, mounted guard in the city and districts where gangland strife has been rampant.

Six such squads constantly patrolled the streets of the "Bloop" district, where "Boss" Kelly's Republican opponent for committee man was slain by gangsters last Friday night. Incidentally, Kelly's candidate, William V. Farrell, was returned victor in the race for alderman yesterday.

Only a half dozen minor disturbances marred an otherwise perfect election. A minimum of arrests were made. It was estimated that about 50 per cent of the 124,029 qualified voters went to the polls. This compares with 80 per cent that cast their ballots in the last primary.

Six sitting aldermen were ousted by voters. Among them was Titus A. Haffa, under sentence of two years in Leavenworth prison and a fine of $11,000 for conspiracy to violate the prohibition law. He convicted his campaign while at liberty on bonds pending an appeal.

Marshall Foch Has Good Night And Is Reported Improved

PARIS, Feb. 27.—(INS)—Marshall Foch's condition was slightly improved today according to the following bulletin issued by physicians this morning.

"The marshal's temperature has been reduced to 99. His pulse is 66. There is slight improvement in the pulmonary congestion."

Dr. Hertz, one of the physicians attending the 77-year-old veteran campaigner, was much pleased today over the improvement in his condition.

"The marshal has made a wonderful battle," he told an International News Service staff correspondent. "He is better of eye today and appears to be taking a great interest in things about him."

Father Haffa, an old friend of the marshal, visited him yesterday in a hospital ward. He appeared to be in a cheerful mood and was very interested in his friends' inquiries before the camera.

HOOVER TRIES TO FILL THREE CABINET POSTS

President-Elect H. A. S. Tough Sledding In Completing Personnel Of His Cabinet

Democrat May Be Given Heavy Post

Attorney-Generalship Is Proving Difficult Position To Satisfy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(INS)—Herbert Hoover is experiencing tough sledding in the completion of his cabinet personnel, according to all indications today.

Mr. Hoover received somewhat of a shock today when Col. William C. Clegg informed him that he had decided not to accept the secretaryship of war, which was offered him on Monday, and which Mr. Hoover had considered as good as settled.

From behind the veil of secrecy that the President-elect has thrown about his operations, there leaked reliable reports today that here are still three vacant vacancies in the state. These involve the attorney-generalship, the secretaryship of agriculture, and the secretaryship of commerce.

It isn't that there aren't enough candidates. The capital, as inauguration day draws near, is flooded with names. Some of them have come to see the inauguration. But others have been drawn to Washington to be on the spot should there be any eleventh hour lightning crackling in the air.

There was a curious muttering in Republican quarters for Capitol Hill today over the reports that Mr. Hoover was toying with the idea of offering the attorney-generalship to a Democrat. The fact that a Democrat is even being mentioned for the post indicates that the President-elect is in a pretty serious dilemma.

William C. Clegg, of Ohio, secretary of the national guard, and Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, and Justice Harlan F. Stone of the Supreme Court, have already declined to consider it, according to the most authoritative information.

Three names were said to be still on the President-elect's desk today for the agricultural portfolio. A. G. Glover, Wisconsin farmer, and J. T. Bailey, of Ohio, secretary of the national guard, and Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, and Justice Harlan F. Stone of the Supreme Court, have already declined to consider it, according to the most authoritative information.

Colorful Crowd Seen In Miami Waiting For Fight's Opening Gong

ODDS ARE PLACED ON SHARKEY AS BIG FIGHT NEARS

Stribling's Friends Talk Big But Don't Back It With Money

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 27.—(INS)—Jack Sharkey will enter the ring at Flamingo Park tonight, a strong favorite over Young Stribling because of his experience against strong opposition, weight advantage and a general impression that Stribling has not fully recovered from the injury that interrupted his training last week.

It isn't much of a betting figure, the reason that all of the sportsmen on the street seem to want to back Sharkey. The price on the Bostonian has fluctuated from 5 to 3 to 4 to 3. Some 2 to 1 money was quoted this morning and it appears that the price will have to be offered to unhooken the Southern bankroll.

The man on the street seems to like Stribling as well as Sharkey, but because a large number of visitors from south of the Mason and Dixon line are not backing up their talk with cash.

Not more than five of the northern experts pick Stribling and only one southerner, the sports editor of a little paper in North Carolina, has come out for Sharkey, content seems to rule the selections as well as the betting.

Sharkey has every outward appearance of an athlete in general condition and he has much more experience in making time before a big bout. Stribling's ordinary training consists of a fight or two every week and lots of traveling.

The usual last minute reports were floating around last night. About 10 o'clock a rumor that Sharkey had injured himself at the human pools on the beach yesterday afternoon struck from headquarters and caused a commotion. After his limbering up exercises at the Miami Kemp Club yesterday afternoon Sharkey took a plunge at the beach. Somebody saw him slip on a stone and from that the rumor grew to a story that he had sustained a bad fall and cracked his elbow.

Jack had retired when the boys at press headquarters telephoned him. He got up and personally killed the rumor.

"I have not been injured in any way," he said. "I feel fine and I am hitting the hay early because I expect to take a jog early tomorrow morning. After I weigh in at 230, I will take a long nap and be as fit as a fiddle by evening. Don't worry about me. I'll win."

Boxing Rules Given Once Over By Men In Charge Of Fight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 27.—(INS)—Referee Louis Magnolia in a conference yesterday with Pa Stribling, Johnny Buckley, Jack Conway and Jack Dempsey, boiled down the new boxing rules to working code that he discussed thoroughly with the managers.

It was a practical session, with the two managers, Stribling and Buckley, in the center of the ring, while Magnolia, who was the referee in the fight between Stribling and Sharkey, looked on.

The new rules, which were adopted by the National Boxing Association, were given a thorough going over by the men in charge of the fight. Stribling and Buckley, who were the only two fighters in the ring, were given a thorough going over by the men in charge of the fight.

One Thousand Millionaires And Countless Celebrities Gather To See Big Battle

Decision Fight May Go Full Ten Rounds

Special Trains Roll In As Crowds Come From Whole Nation

By James L. Kilgallen International News Service Staff Correspondent

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 27.—In the tropically colorful setting of Flamingo Park, with its background of swaying palm trees, Jack Sharkey of Boston and W. L. (Young) Stribling of Macon, Ga., will battle tonight before the most distinguished, if not the wealthiest, audience that ever witnessed a prize fight. The bout is scheduled for 10 rounds to a referee's decision and Sharkey is expected to enter the ring at 8 to 5 favorite.

It will be an intriguing spectacle from many angles. It will be the first appearance of Jack Dempsey in the role of promoter, and a successful one at that, for the box office receipts are expected to run up over the $250,000 mark. Then, too, the bout has whipped up sectional interest to fever pitch, what with an army of Southerners here to see their fellow Southerner Stribling with the ringing of the bell.

For sheer class, in the way of a fight crowd, tonight's contest will record. A thousand or more millionaires, many of America's foremost celebrities and jeweled society women will be among the 25,000 fans sitting in the stands, the balconies, or wherever it may be. No one can figure either Sharkey or Stribling. Their bout may be a dud or a thriller but, somehow it has caught the imagination of the public.

More than 200 newspapermen, the largest press representation at any fight, will be massed around the ring, six rows deep. A battery of telegraph wires have been strung from the arena. Radio broadcasting has been set up for a nation-wide hookup. Sitting amid the working press will be James J. Conzett, former heavyweight champion of the world.

The spectators will include well-to-do statesmen, United States congressmen, sport luminaries, wealthy bankers, retired millionaires, actors, comedians, and the cream of society. A huge delegation has arrived from fashionable Palm Beach. Their yachts are moored nearby, in beautiful Biscayne Bay today.

Special trains rolled into Miami this morning with heavy loads of fight fans. Hundreds came by boat from Havana and from Miami Island. Thousands came by automobile, and they are still coming. Special trains came from New York, Washington, Atlanta, New Orleans, Augusta, Cincinnati, Chicago, Kansas City and other cities.

Every spectator who comes in to the Flamingo Park will find a good view of the proceedings, as completely as the low-lying, open-air arena built. From the last row of the stands, the distance of the ring is 12,000 feet and the sight-seeing is on all sides of the arena.

Thousands in the stands will be watching the fight. The crowd is expected to be the largest in the history of the sport. The fight is expected to be a close one, and the crowd is expected to be very interested in the outcome.

GERMAN AVIATOR COMES TO U.S. TO STUDY METHODS

Air Mail Is Particular Object Of Interest In Our Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(INS)—Major Otto Lehmann, a notable figure in the aviation industry of Germany, aerial observer in the World War, and at present one of the officials of the Lufthansa Company, Germany's principal operator of aircraft, is in the United States to make a detail inspection of the American Air Mail Service.

His reason for his interest in this important branch of American enterprise is summed up by Major Lehmann's own words:

"Airplane lines of nearly every other European country pass over Germany, and we are naturally greatly interested in learning how the United States Air Mail can operate without any Government subsidy."

To Ride Mail Plane

The German expert's plans for finding out all he can about the air mail includes a round trip to the Pacific coast in a mail plane, with brief stops at the airports in principal cities.

"Only through flying can a flyer learn anything about flying," the major said when discussing his tour.

"I am especially eager to have the experience of night flying over part of the 6,000 mile air-mail route," Major Lehmann added, "I have heard so many favorable and praiseworthy remarks regarding the operations of planes in the night."

The Major is very grateful for the aid offered him by America aviation experts and officials who cooperated with him in outlining the itinerary of his inspection trip.

Friend of Huenefeld

Incidentally, the German flyer is a close friend of Baron Von Huenefeld.

"The Bremen flyer recently wrote me a letter," Lehmann said, "in which he said, 'do not forget to give my greetings to America; some of the happiest hours of my life were spent in the United States.'"

Von Huenefeld is very popular in his own country. Major Lehmann explained and his recent visit to the Kaiser's home at Doorn in no way impaired his popularity with Republicans as the visit was merely a personal one and had no political significance.

HISTORIC VILLAGE HAVEN OF LOVERS SETS NEW MARK

Smithy Does Big Business Marrying Couples Who Have Fled

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Feb. 27.—The historic village smithy at Gretna Green, Scotland, for centuries the refuge of runaway couples seeking marriage, had a record year during 1928.

According to statistics compiled by the blacksmith in charge of the smithy, an average of four persons each week of the year joined hands across the anvil of the smithy and became united in marriage.

Four of last year's bridegrooms were Americans, but the majority of the people adopting Gretna's romantic wedding formula were British people.

A Gretna Green marriage now always does not necessarily mean a runaway marriage. The act of 1856 put a check to the romantic flight of English couples across the border to Gretna where a simple marriage contract was made by interchange of consent. A marriage performed at Gretna is now only valid if one of the parties have lived in Scotland for 21 days or more before the marriage.

The form of marriage at the smithy is decidedly unique. The blacksmith asks the persons to be married whether they are single; whether they are of age, or have their parents consent, and whether one of the parties has lived in Scotland for more than 21 days.

On satisfactory answer being given, the bride and the bridegroom join hands across the anvil, on which is a Bible. The blacksmith asks each in turn whether he or she is willing to marry the other, and then declares the couple to be lawfully married. Two witnesses are necessary and are always available.

The blacksmith's fee is usually $5.

Technically, these marriages are irregular and are subsequently registered with the Sheriff at Dumfries to make them legal.

making the government ever better."

Asked what has been the greatest change since he first became a Senator, Overman said:

"The trend from constitutional to economic legislation. We used to argue constitutional questions in the Senate. Now we legislate to control economic progress, eliminate monopolies, protect the finances of the country. We make laws for business."

"Is legislation better now than when you first came?" he was asked.

"Not necessarily better. It is different. We have new problems, which demand laws of an entirely different character from those which were enacted in earlier times."

George F. Hoar of Mass., was one of the greatest statesmen Overman has known, he said. He named a lot of them: John Tyler Morgan of Alabama, Joseph Clay Blackburn of Ky., Chauncey Depew of New York, Henry Cabot Lodge of Mass., Orville Hitchcock Platt of Conn., and John Coll Spooner of Wisconsin.

Love Triangle Ends With Heiress And Cowboy Winners

PIEDMONT, Calif., Feb. 27.—(INS)—Friends of Clymer S. Bowen, formerly of this city now residing at Chicago, were more than a little astonished to learn he had been out-jockeyed by an Arizona cowboy in the matrimonial sweepstakes.

He was engaged to wed Miss Katherine Thorne, young Chicago society girl and daughter of Robert J. Thorne, Montgomery Ward and Company official.

Bowen was left at the barrier, however, when George "Big Boy" Gillespie, cowboy actor and proprietor of a curio store at Castle Rock, Ariz., persuaded the heiress to elope, with him to Phoenix where they were married.

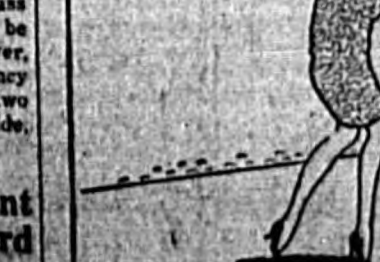

Shortly after Bowen's engagement to Miss Thorne was announced, according to friends here, the Chicago girl and her parents went to Arizona for a visit. Here Miss Thorne met the picturesque cowboy and their romance culminated in the dash to Phoenix and a wedding ceremony.

The girl's father, according to Arizona dispatches, made an unsuccessful attempt to stop the wedding. He asked that Gillespie be arrested on a kidnapping charge, as his daughter was only 17 years old. The sheriff refused to intervene when Miss Thorne insisted she was of age.

Love Triangle Ends With Heiress And Cowboy Winners

PIEDMONT, Calif., Feb. 27.—(INS)—Friends of Clymer S. Bowen, formerly of this city now residing at Chicago, were more than a little astonished to learn he had been out-jockeyed by an Arizona cowboy in the matrimonial sweepstakes.

He was engaged to wed Miss Katherine Thorne, young Chicago society girl and daughter of Robert J. Thorne, Montgomery Ward and Company official.

Bowen was left at the barrier, however, when George "Big Boy" Gillespie, cowboy actor and proprietor of a curio store at Castle Rock, Ariz., persuaded the heiress to elope, with him to Phoenix where they were married.

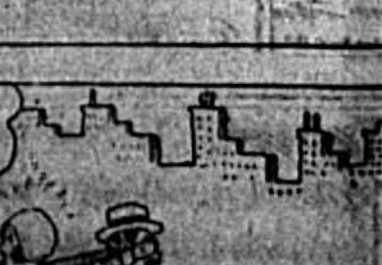

Shortly after Bowen's engagement to Miss Thorne was announced, according to friends here, the Chicago girl and her parents went to Arizona for a visit. Here Miss Thorne met the picturesque cowboy and their romance culminated in the dash to Phoenix and a wedding ceremony.

The girl's father, according to Arizona dispatches, made an unsuccessful attempt to stop the wedding. He asked that Gillespie be arrested on a kidnapping charge, as his daughter was only 17 years old. The sheriff refused to intervene when Miss Thorne insisted she was of age.
