Casts Unanimous 'No' Vote To Move To Open Lakes, Rivers

By unanimous vote members of the Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce last night voted their opposition to any plan of opening the lakes and streams of this county for seining.

This action featured the organization's regular meeting at the Valdez Hotel where President M. L. Raborn and J. H. Truluck led a lengthy discussion of the seining problem.

At the suggestion of Mr. Truluck, the organization will seek advertising rates in "Field and Sportsman's" magazine in which the Jay-Cees plan to insert advertisements in December, January, and February inviting the sportsmen of America to Seminole County.

Italian Minister And Staff Asked To Quit Addis Ababa; Radio Misuse Given As Cause

Italy Advised As To Location Of U. S. Establishments In Ethiopian Capital

Americans Told To Display Flag

No Specific Request Made To Italy Not To Bomb American Buildings In City

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Seeking to protect Americans in Addis Ababa, the United States has furnished the Italian government with data concerning American establishments there, in the hope that the invading army might not drop bombs on property protected by the American flag.

The United States has not specifically requested Italy to refrain from bombing buildings flying the American flag, but Secretary Hull told newsmen that the information had been transmitted to Rome.

Hull said Cornelius H. Van Engel, American charge d'affaires in Addis Ababa, informed the state department he had requested American institutions in Addis Ababa either to fly large American flags or to paint large ones on the roofs of buildings.

Audobon Groups Join Opposition To State Canal

The National Association of Audubon Societies has joined the opposition to the state canal according to a statement received today by officials of the Central and South Florida Water Conservation Commission.

In a letter received from New York headquarters of this national wild life preservation organization appears the statement: "If there is any possibility of minimizing the damage to the canal so far as water birds and wild life habitats are concerned, we want all the support that can be mustered."

Officials of the commission, in discussing the proposed canal, reported from this large organization that the detrimental effects of earlier activities of the United States Army engineers upon wild life and fish in other portions of the nation are related in an article appearing in the Saturday Evening Post as of Sept. 14, 1934.

Mr. Darling, director of the U. S. Biological Survey, is the author of this article.

In this article, it was pointed out, Mr. Darling tells how government agencies, including the U. S. Army engineers, working at cross purposes and with complete disregard for the later consequences of their improvements, have largely nullified his efforts.

George W. Morgan, Oviedo grower and member of the committee stated today that "It is doubtful if by very low in Florida anticipate the effect which the lowered water table will result from the cutting of the canal must exert upon lakes and streams, in addition to its effect upon citrus groves and crop averages."

Aduwa, Where Italians Lost 72 Decades Ago, Is Town Of About 4000 Inhabitants

The city of Aduwa, capital of the province of Aduwa, captured by the Italians a few days ago, has about 4000 inhabitants. It is built on three small hills at the foot of a long mountain ridge, about 45 miles south of the River Marba.

The Italian conquest of Aduwa, and of the entire province of Tigray, is the result of the modern Ethiopian empire, the ancient Ethiopian empire, a Semitic tongue which is now the sacred tongue of the land and spoken only by a few.

On the hills above the town, the Italian conquerors have a few isolated buildings. Two and one-half miles west of Aduwa are the ruins of Lalibela, the last capital of a kingdom of Ethiopia which was founded in 1000 and which was destroyed by the Abyssinians in 1285.

Aduwa has the advantage of a mild climate. It is on a plateau 6,250 feet above sea level and it is in a rich agricultural district.

The town is one of a series of spreading oases. There is an imposing wall which has an impressive appearance. Most of the buildings are built of mud with some walls and thatched roofs some of which are enclosed in stone walls.

On the hills top are large round churches around which the dwellers have built their streets. The streets are narrow and winding and cluttered with horse racks and debris. In many places they are

Tax Collector Sells 60 Items First Day

With only 60 items sold and but $248.72 collected, yesterday's state and county tax sale, conducted in the lobby of the Court House by Tax collector J. M. Lee, was one of the smallest on record, he reported today.

Most of the merchandise was purchased by persons having an interest in the property listed as delinquent, either for 1934 or 1935. All of the unpaid property went to the state.

Yesterday's sale was an annual affair, usually held in July, but forced into postponement because of an extension of time by the Legislature and a further extension on account of information which was furnished by Comptroller J. M. Lee.

Asks Big Attendance At Chamber Meeting

Because he feels that tonight's meeting of the board of directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce is one of the most important it has ever scheduled, Harry M. Papworth, president of the organization, this morning urged the attendance of every member of the trade body, whether members of the board or not.

The meeting, slated to start at 7:30 o'clock, is scheduled to produce a statement by Karl Lehmann, secretary, relating to his reaction to a call from the Lake County Chamber of Commerce.

Nature Of Sanctions Against Italy Now Being Considered At Geneva Meeting

The League of Nations at Geneva was informed today that the Ethiopian government had asked the Italian minister to quit Addis Ababa immediately. The request for the Italian envoy's withdrawal was announced in a communication to the League signed by the Ethiopian delegate.

As a result of the rejection of the League's ultimatum, the Italian minister's radio station, "radio Ethiopia," was ordered to be closed in the country to which he resided. The Italian legation in Addis Ababa is the center of espionage, intrigue and plots against the public order of Ethiopia, said the communication.

Meanwhile, the Addis Ababa correspondent of British agency, French news services reported that the Ethiopian government had also ordered its charges d'affaires in Rome to ask for his passport, and leave Italy.

Having declared Mussolini's fascist government an outlaw, among nations, the League today, it is supposed, will announce a date to Great Britain to suggest such sanctions by a vote of the League Assembly was 90-14.

France hopes to keep any sanctions mild.

Prediction Made That 5,500 Will Get Canal Work

O. A. G. Oct. 8.—(AP)—Opening of bids for excavation of 20 half-mile stretches of the Trans-Florida highway, which route brought engineers Monday by the prediction that by the end of October 6500 to 6800 men will be at work on the $140,000,000 highway.

Officials of the federal project tabulated contractors' figures on digging operations reaching 500,000 yards of the distance from the Oklawaha River to Hamilton, Fla. Marion county and a half-mile strip in Putnam county. The bids cover the removal of 1,000,000 to 18,000,000 cubic yards of dirt.

Some contractors decided against submitting bids after learning that strict regulations of the Works Progress Administration, governing the number of men employed, would be enforced on the excavation operations.

Contractors will be required to plan their work so that the equivalent of one man-year—about 1600 hours per man—can be provided for each $1,000 of the contract price.

The contracts probably will not be let before next week, although engineers promised to announce successful bidders soon after completion of the reading of the bids.

A progress report issued Monday at Camp Frank in Brevard, headquarters out of the canal, said 84 buildings already are under construction.

He served during the administration of Mayors E. F. Householder, Nelson Gray and H. J. Lehman, and he was defeated for re-election on Nov. 4, 1930 in a primary election in which Chas. A. Byrd collected 417 votes to 217 polled by Mr. Miller.

Mr. Miller resigned from office on Nov. 25, 1930 although his term did not expire until Jan. 1, 1931.

Mr. Miller is the first person to qualify and sign the oath of qualification. Persons have until Wednesday night, Oct. 16, to offer themselves as candidates in the primary election in which the offices of Commissioners H. J. Lehman and V. A. Spear will be open.

The registration books will close on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 26. Mr. Lamson added as he reminded all persons that if they expect to vote in the primary or general election they must pay their poll tax before that date.

Bible Verse For Today: THINK OF THE HARVEST: Whosoever sows a man sows that, shall he also reap.—Galatians 6:7.

It is easy to see that the highway to prosperity is paved with detours.

Congressman Green has followed in the footsteps of Senator Trammell and gotten married. Congratulations.

Enrollments in CCC camps will be kept at 500,000 for the next six months or more. That's a pretty good little army in itself.

We used to laugh at the young fellow who thought that they would have a party. But by golly, they are laughing better any more.

There are 3,000,000 letters in this world, we read, and so, no matter how bad off you may be, you are better off than some people, unless you are one of those 3,000,000.

The good way of raising our money is to compel all citizens to contribute to their native land and fight to Missouri.

All the various groups seeking security have the same general idea, says the president, but they are moving in different directions. He makes a plea for them to get together. He will have to be somewhat a magician to round up the followers of Townsend, Coughlin, Huey Long, Upton Sinclair and the others, but he has hopes. — St. Petersburg Independent. The Republicans may help him do it.

Why is it that the fellows who believe in "share-the-wealth" are always the hardest to get a contribution out of during a big cross drive? — Sanford Herald. For the same reason they think the community ought to be advised but can't find time to help in the work.—Clermont Press.

Senator J. J. Parrish, veteran legislator from this county, was appointed yesterday as a member of the Florida Committee of Interstate Cooperation which was authorized by the 1935 Legislature. The appointment was made by William C. Higgins, president of the state senate. Other members are Senators D. Stuart Gilley of Duval; Spencer J. Slater Smith of Green Cove Springs; W. A. McWilliams of St. Augustine and H. C. Tillman of Tampa.—Tallahassee Star-Advertiser.

Under the terms of the recent act, the President has the power to embargo shipments of all raw materials to all nations on both sides engaged in a war. That would seem to be fair to all parties concerned and concentrate beyond all question of doubt our desire to remain at peace with the world. But this time, the boy, and the girl, when you try to please everyone, you really please no one. — Tallahassee Star-Advertiser.

War Correspondents

Yesterday's announcement of the death of Wilfred Courtney Barber, war correspondent for the Chicago Tribune, serves to illustrate again the great lengths to which the newspapers of the country go in gathering news, and the risks to life and limb which their correspondents take. Mr. Barber had been assigned by the Tribune to the dangerous task of covering the Italian maneuvers in the Gdaga desert region. He contracted malaria, and died from a combination of malaria, nephritis and influenza.

At the same time one considers the hazards which these correspondents undergo in carrying out their routine assignments, it is also well to remember their responsibilities not only in presenting the world with accurate information under most trying circumstances but also in presenting that information in a fair and impartial manner. It has been said that war correspondents have more to do with the maintenance of a neutral attitude among the people of neutral nations than any other single factor.

Correspondents, like everyone else, are human beings, and have their likes and dislikes "even as you and I." Some of them no doubt have a very strong regard for the superior qualities of the Italians, while others have a natural sympathy for the Ethiopians. If they allow their likes and dislikes, their sympathies and their prejudices to creep into their stories, it soon develops that the correspondents have ceased to be fact finders and have become powerful agencies of propaganda.

The object of every good correspondent is to gather actual facts on the situation at the front and present them in an intelligent manner without attempting to prejudice or influence the reader in any way toward the condition related by the facts. Factual reports themselves often tend to prejudice people, but the duty of the correspondents is merely to present the facts and let the reader draw his own conclusion. It is a hard job, but the better correspondents do it.

"The situation has been excellently covered to date by the news services and American public opinion has to a large extent been formed on a factual basis," says Editor and Publisher. "There seems to be an overwhelming sympathy for the Ethiopians, somewhat because they occupy the underdog position, but mainly because modern American sentiment is bitterly opposed to ruthless and cruel imperialism, such as a seizure of a colony of partially civilized and primitive people, white, black or any other color, under the devastating blast of modern implements of war and in the name of 'progress,' which only covers the word 'greed.' "We believe the reading public would resent the act of American correspondents in making of the war, if it comes, a thrilling hippodrome for amusement and excitement. A realistic reporting of the facts, however horrible, would suffice, without jingoistic flourishes and super-heated exaggeration. Mainly, the reports should be accurate and fair, because the danger that from this spark another world conflagration might conceivably burst. Never let it be said that any American correspondent, for sensational copy, fanned such flames!"

Bicycle Riding

Did you know that the returning popularity of bicycle riding is becoming so great that it has at last become necessary for the State Safety Committee to take cognizance of their widespread use on public highways. According to Asher Frank, secretary of the State Safety Committee, bicycle riding is becoming quite a problem and should conform to the following rules in order to avoid the probability of serious accidents:

- 1. Use a bicycle of the right size, one that is adjusted for you, so your riding will be comfortable. Discomfort may increase your chances of meeting with an accident.
2. Keep in good physical condition. Do not ride on an empty stomach, or too soon after eating.
3. Avoid riding too much in the hot sun, or on very hot days.
4. Learn to ride in your yard, on the sidewalk, or a place especially designated. Stay off streets until you can ride.
5. Keep your bicycle in good condition at all times. Check your brake, and tires frequently.
6. Carrying passengers is dangerous—don't do it.
7. No careful cyclist will attempt to hitch on a truck or other vehicle.
8. Avoid fast riding over rough roads—a bump or rut or loose stone may cause an ugly spill.
9. Pick out the less travelled roads for pleasure riding. Then ride in as straight a line as possible, so motorists can judge where you are going.
10. Ride on the right side of the road. In towns stay close to the curb.
11. Use hand signals when slowing down, stopping or turning.
12. When riding at night, carry a light in front, and either a light or reflector in the rear, light colored clothing helps to make one more visible to automobile drivers.
13. Obey all traffic regulations. Stop for lights the same as if you were driving an automobile.
14. Be constantly on the alert, and at the same time courteous. Remember neither sidewalks, nor highways are made for bicycles.

BACK TO SANITY

NEW YORK HERALD-TRIBUNE

If the report of the Brookings Institution about the NRA is to be believed, the New Deal is here, that organization's report about prices and recovery is nothing short of high treason. By chapter and verse it shows that the outstanding need of the nation today is lower prices and increased production. This is the direct opposite of the New Deal philosophy, which is based on raising prices and reducing production.

But, briefly, the argument is that mass production facilitates cheaper production; that cheaper production enhances wider distribution; that wide distribution means a greater real sharing of the good things in life; and that this wide distribution based on cheaper production necessarily implies increased production. It maintains that this can be done without reducing wages or profits. In fact, the report says: "The price-reduction method of distributing income has been the only method of doing so." It concludes that the New Deal philosophy is a direct threat to the nation's economic future.

Lehmann Plans To Resign His Secretaryship

Orange County Chamber of Commerce for a period of nine years. The invitation to Lake county is the third that has come to Mr. Lehmann in the last 12 years, it is said, and is a unanimous invitation from the Board of County Commissioners and the board of directors of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce. In going to Lake county Mr. Lehmann will be returning to his home county where he owns a grove and country home.

Mr. Lehmann is a past president of the Florida Commercial Secretaries' Association and of the Southern Commercial Secretaries' Association, and has served on important committees of the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries. He is also president of the Central Florida Council of Boy Scouts of America and is an honorary member of the Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions clubs of Sanford.

Another Boat Is Added To Fleet On The St. Johns

From which point a large fleet of trucks distributes its cargo through North and Central Florida.

In addition to its seven river craft, the St. Johns Line operates a fleet of 68 trucks out of Sanford. These cover territory as far north as Ocala and as far south as Tampa, distributing the general cargo brought to this port by the company's ships.

Large cargoes are also brought here weekly by the motorships of the Savannah Steamship Company which bring in supplies for the Wain-Lovett Grocery Company, operators of Piggly Wiggly and Lovett Groceries in the Sanford area. The Colonel, large motorship operated by the Savannah line, was formerly a houseboat owned by the son of Hettie Green, known in her day as the richest woman in the world.

The Central Florida Transportation Company, the company that owns the old R. S. Osceola tied up at the Sanford dock, operates a fleet of fertilizer barges towed by the Florida Towing Company. The Florida Towing Company operates a tug and barge line and brings to the Port of Central Florida the oil tankers of the Orange State and that an organization like the Brookings Institution has set forth these views in such simple and understandable terms are other indications of a return to sanity—a return to sanity, that is, by all except the New Dealers.

If they attempt to denounce the institution's conclusions on this subject they will find that their denunciations, in retrospect, will seem as futile as the attacks on the Brookings report about the NRA. Time proved that the institution was correct in that instance. It will certainly show the same in the matter of the basic economic philosophy of the New Deal with respect to prices and production.

Oil Company and the American Oil Company. Sanford is the distributing point for motor fuel in this part of the state.

The Shell Producers Company of Tampa brings in Standard Oil Company products, while the Gulf Refining Company operates its own river tanker, the tremendous "Gulf Mist," one of the largest boats on the river.

Seine Fishing Is Opposed By Junior Chamber Group

Fuel oil for the Florida Public Service Company and the Florida Power & Light Company is barged down the river by J. H. Coppedge & Co.

The Wood Fuel & Coal Company is the first fuel oil company to locate on the Sanford harbor front. It has recently bought a site, and will soon begin the erection of large fuel oil storage tanks on the lake front. The Woods concern also maintains offices in Orlando, Daytona and DeLand.

Citrus Board May Go Out Of State For Advertising

Recognized home folks should be given a chance," he continued, "and that whatever net earnings there are should be kept here, to circulate in Florida channels, giving employment as far as possible to Florida artists, printers, engravers, plate makers and allied businesses."

"That seemed logical to us when it seemed to be what many growers wanted, and when we had seen and concurred here sufficiently capable to be entrusted with important advertising work coming to them from a great distance."

"Neither the letter nor the intent of that provision can be satisfied by awarding this important contract to some agency from outside within the state simply for the duration of this work, and which will disburse outside, the state whatever net earnings it may obtain."

"Due to the regulations surrounding all legitimate advertising agencies, there is no difference in the cost of using one agency from another. It is not a matter of selecting a low bidder, for each agency's basis of charge must be identical."

"That makes the committee's recommendation logical to us when it seemed to be what many growers wanted, and when we had seen and concurred here sufficiently capable to be entrusted with important advertising work coming to them from a great distance."

Aduwa Claim To Fame Rests Upon Italian Debacle

It is estimated from Page 11 that Aduwa, before they retired to Adigrat the Italians raised Aduwa, and rained Walls and forts still remain as reminders of the Italian occupation of 1894.

The Ethiopians, 100,000 strong, under Menelik, occupied Aduwa, and late in January, 1896, began to move to the northwest. General Baratieri, the Italian military governor, dared not retreat from Adigrat for fear that his columns would be destroyed separately. Therefore he resolved to risk a pitched battle with the Ethiopians, and on the night of Feb. 29 the Italians, who numbered 14,500, started their march to Aduwa.

By moonlight the Italians advanced in three columns: General Dabormida on the right, General Arimondi in the center, General Albertone on the left and General Ellena following with the reserves. They were handicapped by lack of knowledge of the terrain, which to the northeast of Aduwa in the direction of Adigrat is very rough and broken, and by the fact that they had been falsely informed by spies that Menelik and his generals had gone to Aksum.

General Albertone's column by dawn had advanced far beyond the position it should have taken, and found itself surrounded by great hordes of the Ethiopians. The white troops of the brigade failed to resist the terrific onslaught of the enemy, and by their disorderly retreat prevented the artillery from taking position. The Ethiopians succeeded in cutting off the retreat and decimated the brigade, which had been thrown into confusion by the numbers and fury of the attack. One by one, as the other columns came to lend reinforcement, they were surrounded by the Ethiopians, whose speed and tremendous force of numbers completely overpowered the Italians.

There was one point in the battle where it seemed that the Italians might prevail. General Dabormida's brigade, which had held the position assigned to it, suddenly advanced in the direction of the camps of Ras Makonen and Ras Mangascia, and for a moment victory was in sight, but soon Ethiopian reserves descended upon the Italians in dense masses and forced them to beat a retreat.

The Italian losses amount to more than half of their troops, as 4,600 white soldiers and 3,000 natives were killed, and from 2,500 to 3,000 were taken captive. General Arimondi and General Dabormida were killed, General Ellena was wounded and General Albertone was taken prisoner. The whole of the Italian artillery, amounting to fifty-two guns, which had been almost useless during the battle because of the overwhelming rush of the Ethiopians, and the entire Italian transport train fell into the hands of the Ethiopians.

On their side the Ethiopians admitted 3,000 casualties, but it is generally admitted that this figure is too low. Some authorities have placed it as high as 17,000.

General Baratieri, who had been appointed commander-in-chief of the African forces, arrived in Massaua three days after the battle and advanced toward Aduwa with a large body of reinforcements to avenge the defeat, but the Ethiopians had retired, because of a shortage of supplies. Before the Italians and Ethiopians could meet again in decisive combat a provisional peace was concluded on Oct. 26 at Addis Ababa, and Italy recognized the absolute independence of Ethiopia.

General Baratieri, who directed

Cash And Carry Prices Good All This Week Through Nat. Night

We are offering a special discount all this week on feeds if bought on a cash and carry basis. You will find that while our charges of delivery prices are higher than other feed stores, our cash prices are considerably lower. You see, it costs money to maintain and operate a truck, its driver, pay a bookkeeper, besides having to pay interest on borrowed money which is necessary in order to carry accounts on our books. We believe you will like to take advantage of our cash prices because the savings are worth it. For instance you can save as much as $1.00 on 100 lbs. of horse feed. While in town you might as well take the feed home with you and save. If you have no car, then your next best thing is to get it here in person.

Baptists Effect Organization Of New Church Here

Establishment of a new church to be known as the Tabernacle Baptist Church of Sanford was effected at the Woman's Club building Sunday morning at the 11:00 o'clock service, presided over by Rev. E. C. Cowan, who was called as first pastor of the organization.

Quoting the Rev. Mr. Cowan, "For some months religious services have been held both morning and evening in the Woman's Club building under my charge. Some time ago a Sunday School was organized with a good attendance. However, on Sunday morning, a definite organization of another Baptist Church was entered into by a number of men and women who have been in attendance at these services for some time."

For the present, he stated, services will be held in the Woman's Club building each Sunday, and the public is invited to participate.

"At a later date," Mr. Cowan continued, "we will have a recognition service when visiting ministers and members of other Baptist Churches will be invited to recognize the new organization."

The Rev. Mr. Cowan was a pastor Baptist churches in Georgia for a number of years, and he was for a time an evangelist employed under the Baptist state Mission Board of Georgia.

Veterans Banquet On Oct. 21 Planned By Legion Outfit

Florida Department Officials Will Be Here, Says Boyle

The Campbell-Lossing post of the American Legion will celebrate its rejuvenation—it is the first post in the state to exceed last year's membership—at a banquet in the Legion Hut on Monday evening, Oct. 21. It will be an affair for Legionnaires only, it was decided at last night's meeting of the post, and hence it is figured that probably many eligible will enroll before that date.

L. F. Boyle, commander of the local post, told his comrades that Howard Rowan, adjutant of the Department of Florida, and W. J. Steel of Kissimmee, state executive committee men, and other Legion officials will be at the banquet and will make short addresses.

Price Angel is chairman of the committee arranging the affair. Commander Boyle announced at last night's meeting the appointment of two more committees of the Legion, one on grounds and the other to look after the hut. The grounds committee is composed of Fred Bolly, Victor Greene, Ebb Hunter, Edwin Stone and C. R. Dawson, and the house committees are Bruce Anderson, Price Angel, Guy Stafford, Aubrey Kendall and Brown Miller.

Both committees were urged to "get busy" and improve the appearance of the hut and its grounds as much as possible before the expected visit of state Legion officials the latter part of the month.

Native Forces Take Adigrat, Italy Reports

Addis Ababa Claims Victory In Attack On Invading Army On Northern Front

The Associated Press. The war at a glance. ROME—Reports from Italian correspondents at the front said the Eritrean army had captured Adigrat, southeast of Asigrat, otherwise, the northern front was quiet.

ADDIS ABABA—Ethiopian military reported that a heavy attack on the Italian right flank on the northern front had resulted in the capture of several dozen officers, including a colonel.

GENEVA—Italy protested to the League of Nations against the announced intention of Ethiopia to object the Italian ministers at Addis Ababa. Friction has apparently developed in the League's sanction machinery. Indications of this were given when an announcement was posted setting back the critical Assembly session one hour.

ROME—The Ethiopian Charge D'Affaires planned today to leave for home, but only over the protest of Italy over the reasons advanced by Addis Ababa, for his withdrawal. The government described its work in captured territory as justification for its campaign.

PARIS—France felt a greater need than ever for pushing plans for a security pact with England. LONDON—The British cabinet met to discuss sanctions, and an authoritative source disclosed that parliament would be called into session next week. If the international situation necessitated such a move.

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMIES IN THE FIELD, Oct. 9.—(AP)—General Ruggiero Santini said today: "When we have Ethiopia there will never be another Italian who needs to emigrate to America."

The 65-year-old commander of the Italian left column, which captured Adigrat, was pointing out salient places in the rich valley in which Adigrat is set. He indicated a mountain behind the town and said: "beyond is a region still more fertile. Italy will never have to buy grain, cotton or coffee from abroad."

The Fascist army has gained control of a region in northern Ethiopia as large as Rhode Island and Delaware combined.

Lehmann's Resignation As Secretary Of Chamber Is Accepted With Regret After Unanimous Request He Remain

Words Of Praise Are Heaped On Retiring Official By Officers And Members; Lehmann Will Remain Until Dec. 1

Karl Lehmann's resignation as secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce was regretfully accepted by the directors of that body in their session last evening.

The action was taken when Mr. Lehmann informed the body he had given his word to Lake County officials he would accept their offer of the secretaryship of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce. The statement was made after the directors of the local body had voted unanimously in favor of a resolution requesting Mr. Lehmann to reconsider his resignation and to stay for at least a year.

Following acceptance of the resignation, the organization on motion of H. J. Lehman, appointed Ralph Bagwell as acting secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce until further notice. H. B. Pope suggested that the executive committee be instructed to look into the matter of getting a new permanent secretary, and President Papworth announced he would bring the matter to the attention of the committee at its next meeting.

Upon the reading by Mr. Lehmann of his resignation as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce a motion was made by H. J. Lehman that the secretary be asked to reconsider as his leaving would be a "tremendous loss to Seminole County." Mayor T. L. Dumas immediately stated he would gladly second the motion if he felt it worth while, but he said he believed it would be useless to ask Mr. Lehmann to remain and that such a request might embarrass (Continued on Page 2)

Rotarians Will Navigate River To Lake Harney

Sanford Rotarians have chartered the gasoline yacht "Seminole" for a trip up the St. Johns River tomorrow afternoon, and Rotarians and their friends planning to take the trip are advised by H. B. Pope, chairman of the boat ride committee of the club, to be at the embarkation pier on time.

The boat chartered by the Rotarians is scheduled to leave the Municipal pier at the foot of Park Avenue at 1:15 P. M. tomorrow, and Mr. Pope states that it is "supposed" to leave promptly on time.

This navigating of the St. Johns by the Rotarians of Sanford is an annual event, and one that has always proven enjoyable, according to members of the club. Tomorrow's trip will be up stream as far as Lake Harney, about 20 miles distant, Mr. Pope said. The trip will take about three hours each way, he said, but that will leave time for some fishing in Lake Harney, and a swim if the water is not too cold. Refreshments will be served on board the "Seminole."

Farm Boys Invited To Attend Night Classes

Farm boys who, while unable to attend school, would learn more about the profession which they are planning to follow, are invited to gather at Seminole High School tonight at 7:30 o'clock to enroll in what will be the first of a series of 20 weekly classes to be directed by Alex R. Johnson, vocational agriculture teacher at the school.

The classes are open to all boys between the ages of 14 and 21 years. There is no charge for enrollment, and classes will be held every Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock until the entire course of 20 classes is concluded.

Tonight's instruction will center about a general discussion of farm problems including the preparation and use of fertilizers and sprays, and the steps leading to the securing of a loan for farm purposes.

Dr. Irving C. Stover, head of the Speech Department of Station University, will be the main speaker at the first fall meeting of the Junior High School P. T. A. to be held Thursday evening at 7:30 P. M. at the school auditorium.

Cash Required If Sanford Is To Get Armory

Donation Of Material Won't Be Accepted By Uncle Sam For Erecting Building

At least $1,000 cash, possibly four times that amount, must be raised by the City and County if an armory for the National Guard is to be erected in Sanford, it was disclosed at last night's meeting of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce directors.

The information came from County Commissioner John Misch, Sr., and Charles Dunn, both of whom attended the meeting.

Secretary Karl Lehmann reminded the directors that the Chamber of Commerce some time ago, acting on a request from the local National Guard unit for help in its move to get a federal appropriation for an armory, agreed to subscribe $1,000 worth of building materials. This material was to be obtained by solicitation from dealers, and Mr. Lehmann suggested that it would be a good plan to have a committee appointed to do this soliciting at the proper time.

But when Mr. Misch stated that there have been no developments and that it "must be cash, not materials, and it must be done right away," the whole complexion of the situation was changed. Mr. Dunn added the information that $1,000 would be required "very soon."

George McRory, representing the National Guard, said that he understands that when (and if) Uncle Sam constructs the building the local donations must be in cash—and that the City, County and Chamber of Commerce will be expected to put up something like $4,000 for the $10,000 structure.

"The armory is an essential thing for this county, and if the City and County each appropriate $1,000 it will be practically assured," declared H. J. Lehmann.

"What would you have, the City use for money?" asked Mayor T. L. Dumas.

"Isn't that a stereotyped reply you use?" President Papworth asked the mayor.

"Maybe yes, but it is correct," the mayor replied.

"A half-dozen men can get money for an armory quicker than for anything else," declared Chairman Misch of the Board of County Commissioners.

President Papworth of the Chamber of Commerce stated he hoped the armory could be built as "the military company we now have in the descendant of of first company in the county which is organized."

Because of H. J. Lehmann's strong advocacy of the armory project Mayor Dumas offered a motion that Mr. Lehmann be named chairman of a committee to raise the Chamber of Commerce share of the armory fund, and that he be charged with the responsibility of raising the money.

The motion was adopted, with an amendment that Mr. Lehmann call on any member of the Chamber of Commerce for assistance.

50 Suggestions For Program Of Commerce Group

From some 50 suggestions made by members of the organization, a special committee will map out a program of work for the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce next year. H. B. Pope of Sanford, H. F. Barnes of Maitland Springs and Mrs. J. W. Coates of Ocoee were last night appointed to such a committee by President H. M. Papworth.

Questionnaires were sent to the entire membership of the Chamber of Commerce, and only a comparatively few replied with suggestions. Secretary Karl Lehmann reported that the committee members, who will analyze them and report their findings at the next meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

Market Operators Not Growers Must Obtain Licenses

Marketing Act Order Will Be Observed Here This Season

Every operator at the Sanford State Farmers' Wholesale Market this season, except those who are growers, must have in his possession a United States Department of Agriculture license in accordance with the Agricultural Commodities Act of 1930, it was announced at a meeting of the Market and Supervisory Board of the market on Monday night.

This requirement, one of the new ones which must be observed by all stall owners during the coming season, offers protection for both the grower and the buyer. As such, the Committee holds it as one of the best of the marketing laws governing the plant this year.

Routine matters occupied the Board during a session on which Harry M. Papworth presided as chairman.

The outlook for the new season is considered as good, and it was indicated that while the market was open, extra trading would not be expected until during the first week in November.

It was announced that all licensees have been assigned their stall stands for the new season, and that the Western Division will establish a branch office where extra services will be afforded truckers and growers alike.

The Board appointed an advisory commission of approximately 100 farmers by County Agent H. D. Duffin, who will coordinate several hundred growers, shippers, and truckers in Florida and other parts of the South in the opening of the market.

Market Manager H. M. Michael was authorized to make a 10-day tour of the state for the purpose of contacting county agents.

League Baseball Proposal Put Up To 3 Committees

Recommendation must come from the baseball committee representing the county and the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the senior clubs of the city before the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will take definite action toward bringing off a major or minor league club in Sanford for the spring opening season. Such was the decision of the directors of the county organization last night in a session following the baseball proposition to the three committees.

The latest offer has been made by the Chattanooga club, which will come to Sanford next spring on a guarantee of $200, with participation from the Sanford sponsors to take all game receipts, excepting the one-half always allotted to the visiting team, until the guarantee has been returned. There have been negotiations with the Louisville club, but the reply has been received to the last communication with that team.

George Wilkey expressed the opinion that Sanford would be more likely to have a winning team without financial loss after having a league club here to train, and that the Tallahassee club which last summer had on its nine several new whose salaries were paid by a big league. These men were retained, he said, as possible timber for the major league.

President Papworth said he was confused as to where the money for exhibition games would come from as these games would be played when the farmers are the busiest, but H. B. Pope said: "Don't worry about that, the farmers will be there."

Court Sustains Death Sentence For Hauptmann

Supreme Tribunal Of New Jersey Denies Plea Of Kidnap For Another Trial

TRENTON, New Jersey, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The highest court in New Jersey, the Court of Errors and Appeals, today upheld the death sentence conviction of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the kidnaping and murder of young Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.

Denial of the new trial leaves Hauptmann with three courses open: he may appeal to the Court of Pardons of which Governor Hoffman and six judges of the Court of Errors and Appeals are members. They can only commute his sentence to life imprisonment. Appeals to this court are usually denied unless there are extenuating circumstances. He may also appeal for a new trial on the basis that new evidence has been discovered. And he also may appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States. His attorneys have said they would carry the case to this last and highest tribunal.

The opinion was written by Supreme Court Justice Charles W. Parker of Morristown who is 73 years old and, like Justice Thomas W. Trencard, the man who presided at Hauptmann's trial at Flemington early this year, one of the oldest men on the bench in New Jersey.

C. Lloyd Fisher of Flemington, who became chief of the defense staff after the dismissal of Edward J. Reilly of Brooklyn by Hauptmann and his wife, Anna, recently announced he was in possession of new evidence.

Decision of the Court was unanimous.

At New York the wife of the German carpenter was stunned at the news. "Well, all we can do is to carry on," she said. "I don't know what we will do now, but Richard and I will continue to hope in God."

Colonel Lindbergh took off in a plane from North Beach Airport, New York, today apparently without having learned of the decision.

As the time for a decision neared, Hauptmann, convicted of killing the Lindbergh baby, was reported yesterday by his wife, Anna, to be confident he would receive a new trial.
