

Choose Home That Fits, Miss Venable Advises

TALLAHASSEE, June 24.—(AP)—When you buy a house use the same reasoning you would in buying a dress—consider for what purpose you want it, how it fits, and whether it can be altered or replaced.

This is the advice given by Miss Ella Venable, associate professor of home economics at Florida State College, to teachers of the subject here for a recent two-week course in "Housing as Related to Family Life."

"The selection of housing is as important as that of any other major commodity," she said, "and should be given more attention since it constitutes from 10 to 32 percent of the family expense."

"Plan your house in terms of need or function and in terms of acceptability in the event your family grows or decreases, or in case you wish to rent part of it later," Miss Venable told the group.

She listed "convenience" as one of the nine requirements every house should have, stating that consideration of the area of a house, and the relationship the different areas have to each other is an important factor in building.

Other requirements a house should have, she said, are: a healthful environment; comfortable surroundings; a feel to be healthy, beauty and simplicity; opportunity for the development of each member of the family; rest and relaxation; privacy; space for production and consumption activities.

County Gets Negroes Held For Pilfering

T. C. Smith and S. B. Brown, negroes, charged with pilfering Tuesday night, have been turned over to County officers, Police Chief Roy G. Williams said today.

Deputy Jack Hickson of Sheriff C. M. Hand's office also picked up Joe James, another negro, who had worked with Brown and Smith, Wednesday morning, Chief Williams stated.

The men were old offenders, he pointed out, adding that he attributed a number of robberies lately to the trio.

Steel Shares Send Stock Mart Up For Sixth Day In Row

Announcement Of Reduction In Price Of Steel Precedes New Upward Trend

Increases Of More Than $3 Recorded U. S. Steel Hints Cut In Wages May Follow Lower Prices

NEW YORK, June 25.—(AP)—The buying of steel shares sent the stock market up for the sixth day in a row today, after an announcement by the U. S. Steel Corporation that none of its officials had given assurances that its reduction in steel prices would not be followed by wage reductions. The market slid back quietly in the first hour, many shares showing losses of 50 cents to one dollar, but buying quickly appeared after the steel statement, and before noon many stocks were from 50 cents to more than $3 above yesterday's final values. This further upswing in stocks carried several as high as $10 to $20 above prices of a week ago, making it the steepest climb the market has experienced since the Spring 1933 when prices rebounded swiftly after the banking holiday.

Wall Street interpreted U. S. Steel's price cut, reducing quotations on its products about 7 to 21 percent, to the lowest in a little more than 10 years, as likely to stimulate business, but wondered what could happen to profit margins, if costs were not also reduced.

PITTSBURGH, June 25.—(AP)—The wage problem was projected into the steel situation today simultaneously with an announcement of one big independent producer that it would match the price reductions yesterday.

In Chicago, Inland Steel declared it would meet the price cut and although other independent producers were silent, they were expected to match the cut almost automatically.

In Washington the Administration's monopoly investigators disclosed that "big steel" probably would be the first to call for public hearings which are expected to start in September.

Olympian Is Overtaken By New Disaster

Crack Flyer Collides Head-On With CCC Train Killing One And Injuring Four

Seattle, June 25.—(AP)—Tragedy again overtook the crack Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific "Olympian" train this morning when the west-bound flyer collided head-on with an east-bound CCC train near Ingonar, Montana, killing one youth and injuring four train men and seven passengers.

J. S. Bahl, assistant general passenger agent here, said Robert Eckert, CCC mess car worker, was killed in the second Olympic accident within a week. Last Sunday morning the Olympic plunged through a weak steel bridge over Custer Creek 26 miles east of Miles City, killing an estimated total of 17 persons.

Bahl said that telegraphic word from the crash scene today asserted the Olympic ran through orders to meet the east-bound CCC train at Ingonar and west into the train a mile west of the scheduled "positive meet" junction.

Vandenberg Flays New Deal "Pump Priming"

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 25.—(AP)—Senator Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan, in an address prepared for delivery last night warned that "pump-priming" can "produce a temporary fever flash," but that "it cannot produce permanent health."

Speaking at a banquet of the Michigan Bankers' association Vandenberg said that "11 million unemployed five years ago were tried 'pump-priming.' After the most lavish, prodigal spending spree in the annals of well-meaning profligacy we wind up with not 11 million but with 13 million unemployed."

Essential points in any recovery program, he said, are: (1) "Balanced public budgets, application of business common sense in government... public thrift... honest mathematics in high places."

(2) "Regulation of business for its own sake and for the common welfare. Police business—to protect the good from the bad."

(3) "Business must freely admit labor's right to a constantly expanding share of the fruits of its own production."

INQUEST PORTPONED

Need Of Additional School Revenue May Lead To Fight For Poll Taxes

TALLAHASSEE, June 25.—(AP)—Demands for additional school revenue from county sources to augment the State allocation may bring on a spirited fight during the 1939 Florida legislative session to restore the $1 a year poll tax for voters.

Work Of Women's Group Outlined In Rail Magazine

C of C Civic Committee Is Commended For Its Activities

The Women's Civic Committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce received favorable comment in the annual Women's edition of the Baltimore and Ohio Magazine, organ for employees of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Activities of the Women's Committee are listed as: "Compilation of a calendar of events, copies of which are posted in clubs and other places frequented by visitors and home people; depository boxes placed at strategic points in the city to receive clothing for the needy of the county (distribution of articles handled by County Welfare Department); a Welcome-to-Sanford Committee to greet all newcomers listed with the Chamber."

The article explains how the committee of three women calls on newcomers and presents a "courtesy card," representing practically every line of business and offering free "sample service." The reaction, the story states, has been most gratifying.

The vice-chairman of the Women's Committee, Mrs. Endor Gurell, said the article says, "is a famous cook and charming hostess; a beautiful country home is a showplace. She has been Seminole County chairman of the Red Cross; organizer of the county's Federation of Women's Clubs; first vice president of the Fernand-Laughton Memorial Hospital Association and secretary of its executive board; first vice president and chairman of the Federation's Child and Welfare Board; auditor of Sanford Women's Clubs (for past six years); past president Sanford Garden Club; organizer of the county's first PTA, and its president for several years; instrumental in securing a county home demonstration agent."

Higher Prices Paid At Kissimmee Cattle Mart

County Agent C. R. Dawson Revealed Himself As Something of a Prophet

Last Saturday he declared that he expected cattlemen to get higher prices this week at the Kissimmee Cattle Mart than they did last week. His statement was made in the face of the fact that veteran market men expected lower prices.

A press dispatch from Kissimmee today afternoon, after the market had opened, indicated that the market had indeed proved to be a prophet.

The real market was off from last week but good cows were at better prices than were reported at any of the up-state markets for the same grades.

James Parrish of Longman got $7.30 for a pair of hogs averaging 125 pounds.

J. D. Kelley had in a lot of pure-bred Angus yearlings from $19 to $42 a head.

The markets this week at Jacksonville, Okla. and Memphis, as well as at Columbus, Baltimore and Philadelphia reported higher prices, and the news was met with out-letting in Kissimmee yesterday afternoon. A grade of grade, the market received a goodly lot of money for a lot of good grade upstate.

J. D. Kelley, large scale dealer and rancher of Vanderhoof, bought a lot of yearling Bull Angus, and his brokers said the yards would do more to stimulate the cattle business in this section of the state than anything of the kind ever established before, and particularly would help the hill man.

The little fellow "King of the Hill" has shared the same fate as the cattle business that the mail dealer in other lines has had to combat, but now that the market has been put into the hands of a single animal, it is readily as a carload, going the same price as the little fellow, a place on a bar with the hill dealer, and the big dealer is not so happy about this state of affairs as the little fellow.

The product of the Newfoundland codfishery is valued at around $20,000,000 annually.

Loyalist Spain Will Assume Eye For Eye Attitude, London, Paris Envoys Say

Neutral Powers Urge Restraint

Chinese Plan New Dike Breaks As Floods Force Jap Retreat

BRUSSELS, June 25.—(AP)—The Spanish Republican government, by present intention, declined to defend in the nearly two-year-old civil conflict, has threatened action which yet might fan the Spanish flames into a general European holocaust.

The British and French governments, which have remained quiet to keep the war confined to Spanish soil, were confronted with that war widely interpreted as a veiled threat by the Barcelona regime of reprisals against Italy.

Barcelona envoys to London and Paris declared the telegraphed government's patience had been exhausted by the Italian raid on Mediterranean cities behind barbed wire and threatened "eye for eye" reprisals against "insurgent" cities and "unrestrained" objectives.

London and Paris urged Barcelona to use restraint while they hurried to dispatch of neutral commissions to Spain to investigate and try to halt the bombardment of civilian centers.

Chinese forces were reported to be panning new dikes in the Yellow River Delta in an effort to keep Japanese armies away from the southwest of railway approach to Hankow, the principal capital.

Red Cross Gives Truck Drivers First Aid Course

TALLAHASSEE, June 25.—(AP)—Five hundred men who drive the big trucks along Florida's highways will be ready by January 1 to give first aid to motorists and pedestrians who are injured in accidents.

They will be graduates of the first aid classes conducted by the American Red Cross, and their diplomas will be the first aid stickers and kits they receive for their trucks.

The Florida Trucking Association inaugurated the plan to have its drivers ready to be Good Samaritans when they come upon accidents along the road. They will render what aid they can pending arrival of a physician or removal of the injured to a hospital.

"We have no idea of trying to take the place of any physician," said John A. Ebel, the association's secretary. "We do want our men equipped to give emergency assistance when they find persons injured along the roads outside of cities."

The first Red Cross class for the truck drivers now is being conducted in Jacksonville. The completed course requires part time study for 30 days. Each man who takes the instruction will be furnished a first aid kit to carry in his truck.

Ebel also announced plans to conduct mobilization in times of disaster in Florida, for transporting persons or food supplies. "We will be able to make 75 trucks available at almost any designated place within a few hours," he said.

The product of the Newfoundland codfishery is valued at around $20,000,000 annually.

Claude Murpree To Play Organ At Methodist Church

Claude Murpree, University of Florida organist, will present an organ recital at the First Methodist Church, Sunday evening at 8:15 o'clock. Rev. Paul Hedfearn, pastor, announced today.

Mr. Murpree is a Fellow of the American Guild of Organists. He is president of the Florida Division of the Guild.

He was appointed to his present post at the University in 1928 and is said to be one of the few Americans to have occupied such positions at the age of 19.

Since the establishment of radio station WRUF at the Florida University campus in 1928, Mr. Murpree has broadcast daily for two and one-half hours except Sunday.

The Methodist church has just finished installing a new pipe organ, built by M. P. Muller of Hagerstown, Md. The organ has two manuals and two pedals, with latest modern electric action. It is said to be beautifully toned and especially voiced for a church. It is built into the church behind the choir loft, and is entirely enclosed in a separate expression chamber. The case is oak, matching the interior of the church.

SONGS OF ENGINES

When I awake in the deep purple
curve of night,
I faintly hear the engines in the yard,
Like great beavers, friendly and companionable,

I hear a train, getting up steam to leave
For a far town; then whistle down
the night
A pleasant tune that dwindles into faded notes
Along the further caverns of the dark,

Along the further caverns of the
dark,
Singing, "Good night, good by."
Then faintly ringing from another line
Another rail-song spirals into sound,

not mention that.

Ever since the history of the world began, people have been fighting and dying for their freedom. Now they are fighting and dying to give it away.

The Dirigible's Role

After every dirigible disaster, the cry has always been raised that there would be no further building of lighter-than-air-craft, that this type of airship could never be made safe, and that its usefulness as a military adjunct was nullified by its great clumsiness and lack of speed.
If it can't be operated safely under favorable peacetime conditions, how could it fare well if it were being shot at by anti-aircraft guns and attacked by pursuit planes? So the arguments have gone.

There have been many instances which have shown that the dirigible can be run with a minimum of danger.
The Graf Zeppelin set a record of many thousands of miles across the North and South Atlantic with not a single accident, and the Hindenburg was on its way to a similar record when the explosion of its hydrogen gas caused the fatal tragedy which did more than anything else to dampen enthusiasm for this type of travel. It should be pointed out, however, that experts are agreed that the accident would never have occurred if the Hindenburg had been using helium gas.

As a military instrument, the dirigible is somewhat in the position of the destroyer, the primary purpose of which is for scouting the enemy. Although the destroyer has a deadly weapon in its torpedoes, this weapon cannot be used as long as the destroyer can be seen and shot at by the heavier guns of the opposing forces. It needs a fog, a smokescreen or some other protective screen to shield it from enemy guns, before it can engage successfully in battle. However, with its speed, it can stay out of gun range and do yeoman service in locating and keeping tabs on the enemy.

In this respect the dirigible could be of invaluable assistance. It has a long cruising range which makes it possible to scout the opposing forces in mid-Atlantic. High up above the clouds it could drift along, unseen and unheard. It could lower an observer in a tiny cable car who could report very important facts about the enemy, and never be seen. Airplanes could be launched which could, if they wanted to, actually harass the ships below, and then return to the dirigible at some safe distance from the scene.

If a dirigible were detected, the chances are that it would not last long against a modern barrage of anti-aircraft guns, and there is little likelihood that this type of airship will ever be used for such purposes again, although in the World War the dirigible proved to be quite effective in air raids over London.

There is no question that our naval experts see in the dirigible a formidable weapon for scouting purposes, a weapon which might easily give the balance of success to the side that possessed it.

Foreseeing the efforts which will be made for Mc-Call's pardon, once his death sentence is commuted, the Miami Herald says "It does not want to be vindictive, but it does want to express what it believes to be the opinion of the people of this county—that the man who committed the worst crime in the history of the county, a crime which aroused the most intense feeling on the part of the people and which never will be forgotten, should receive the punishment assessed by the law and meted out by a just and able judge."

46 YEARS A JOCKEY
When Jockey John Osborne, famous English rider, hung up his saddle in 1892 he had completed the longest track record ever made in the history of the turf.

Osborne was 89 years old then —an old man as far as active sports competition is concerned.
For 46 years he had booted mounts home over the various English tracks. Osborne died in 1922 at the age of 89.

His record calls to mind that of Steve Donoghue, another longtime British jockey who retired last year after 31 years in the saddle. He was 82 when he quit the track.

John Faulkner, another English rider, rode until he was 74—and never once bet on a race! He got into the saddle again at 102 to break an unruly mare, died at 104 in 1933.

RIGHTS OF TEXAS.
Texas, largest of the United States, at any time can divide itself into five separate states without consent of the Federal government, in spite of the fact that the U. S. Constitution does not sanction such an action.

The right to subdivide was granted the state when it left its status of a republic to become a member of the Union in 1845.
Only the consent of the people of Texas is necessary.

The Texas "Panhandle" has long been the scene of controversy on this point, because of its great distance from Austin,
Texas' capital.

BLOODLESS TISSUES
In spite of the fact that your eyes often become bloodshot they contain the only bodily tissues not served with blood vessels.

"The cornea and the lens of the eye are both avascular," a recognized authority on the subject states. "However, under certain conditions blood vessels may and do grow into the cornea from surrounding tissue. This condition is known as vascular cornea or pannus and is not usually permanent."

Grand Jury Indicts Escambia School Head

PENSACOLA, June 25.—(AP)—An Escambia county grand jury indicted H. H. Varnum, county school superintendent yesterday, for malpractice in office and recommended to Governor Cone his immediate removal and also removal of Sheriff H. E. Gandy and Constable Mallory Williams.
Varnum was charged with approving a false invoice of a Pensacola hardware company for $465.50 "so as to enable it to procure a loan from a Pensacola bank secured by said invoice."
No indictments were returned against Gandy and Williams.
The jury accused the sheriff of "frisking" so that he is at times thereby made unfit to perform the duties of his office and to be entrusted with the dangerous weapons and authority of his office of using obscene and profane language and of laxity in protecting evidence."
Williams, the jury said, was law in his custody of a truckload of liquor which was stolen, later recovered, and then disappeared while being held for evidence.

Moscow To Have 4,000 Taxicabs By Jan. 1

MOSCOW, (AP)—Taxicabs are becoming noticeable on Moscow streets. There were only 910 taxis in the capital of nearly 4,000,000 inhabitants at the beginning of this year. But the number had increased to 1,200 by May and the government plans to have 4,000 in operation by the end of the year.

Only a year ago taxis were a comparative rarity in Moscow, with only a few stands where they could be found. Cruising taxis still are unknown. The only way to hire a cab is to go to a stand or call for one by telephone.

There are 65 taxi stands now mostly in prominent squares, with 250 more planned. So inflexible is the soviet that the government found lines of idle cabs at some stands while none was available at others. It has ordered this corrected through a central dispatcher's office.

"Taxis are becoming a part of Moscow life," the newspapers reported recently, announcing the government intended to stimulate their further use by advertising.

Locals Release Win Brown And Freddie Holland

Joe Dojack, Holder And Alex Adz Are Signed With Club

For the third time in as many weeks, another major shake-up in the roster of the Sanford Lookouts has been made as officials of the Seminole County Baseball Association announced late last night they had handed releases to Freddie Holland and Win Brown.

Holland, a backstop, was sent here from Spartanburg of the South Atlantic League and remained here nearly two months. Holland was the second leading hitter on the Lookouts squad with an average of .288 when he left. He will return to Spartanburg and will be sent to a farm club in that system.

Brown, an outfielder, had been with the Lookouts since the opening of the season. He started in right field and was shifted to center when Mayo Langston was acquired. Brown had a .260 batting average and was the best fly-chaser on the team.

The Research Department of the State Unemployment Commission Division will conduct a seasonal study affecting 26 industries. This study will determine the longest regular employment period and upon which the worker's benefits will be based.

Italian Reprisals Are Threatened By Barcelona Regime

Yangtze River toward the provincial Chinese capital landed more than 8000 men on the river's south shore near Anking yesterday under cover of a heavy co-ordinated warship and airplane barrage.

With the ships blasting at Chinese defenses and the planes alternately bombing and strafing, the invading infantrymen were put ashore 35 miles north of Anking, at a point 180 miles by river from Hankow.

Three hundred miles to the north, on the Hunan Province front along the Lungshai railway, the Chinese consolidated gains made in following up retreat of Japanese who were forced back by the great Yellow River floods.

Hankow received details of conditions there in advices from missionaries at Chengchow, important junction of the east-west Lungshai and north-south Peiping-Hankow railways.

Chinese military strategists, they reported, paid off farmers and townsfolk along the Yellow River at the rate of ten Chinese dollars ($1.77) an acre before deliberately flooding the region to drive back the invaders.

Following up the retreat of the highly mechanized Japanese armies, the comparatively light Chinese units captured important areas previously won by the Japanese. The Chinese earlier reported recapture of Chungmow, on the Lungshai 25 miles east of Chengchow, and Huihshih, 30 miles south of Chungmow.

In Spain insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's eastern Spanish armies drove two spearheads toward Valencia.

Scouting out weak points in the government's fortified lines from Teruel to the Mediterranean, the insurgents resumed their advance south after their offensive had been halted temporarily.

One force swung around Satrión, 22 miles southeast of Teruel, capturing a number of small towns. Another in on the main Teruel-Mediterranean highway, 44 miles northwest of Sagunto where a coastal highway leads 16 miles south to Valencia.

Twelve miles inland from the Mediterranean, another insurgent force pushed forward south of Orda, 35 miles north of Valencia. Government advisers minimized the insurgent successes and reported general Jose Malia's troops still were holding the Sierra de Espadana, whose height's dominates the coastal sector.

Wages, Hours Bill Signed By President

Minimum Wage, Hourly Maximum Effective 120 Days After Bill Is Made Into Law

State WPA Quota Increased 3,500

Florida WPA Workers To Receive $5 Per Month Hike In Pay

WASHINGTON, June 26. (AP)—The wage-hour bill, providing for national regulation of minimum wages and maximum hours in interstate industry, became a law with President Roosevelt's signature. The White House announced the President had signed the measure along with 130 other bills passed by Congress.

The wage-hour law fixes a minimum wage of 25 cents an hour, which no exceptions will be granted, and will be increased to 30 cents an hour the following year. Above that point, committees appointed by the administrator for each industry will fix minimum pay. The hourly maximum will be decreased to 42 the second year and 38 thereafter.

JACKSONVILLE, June 27.—Robert J. Dill, Florida Works Progress administrator, said today 3,500 additional relief jobs would be filled in the state within the next few days.

Florida WPA now has 35,000 persons on its payroll and the new quota of 38,500 jobs will be the largest in the history of the WPA. Dill also said 26,500 unskilled laborers in the state would receive higher wages. The minimum pay will be $24 a month instead of $21 in smaller counties and $40 a month instead of $35 in larger counties. In no instance will a WPA worker draw less than $1 per day. The additional jobs will be apportioned throughout the state on basis of unemployment.

Meet Called To Take Action On Publicity Plan

Advertising Campaign For Celery To Be Talked With Growers Friday Night

There will be a meeting of celery growers at the Court House Friday, July 1, at 8:00 o'clock for the purpose of reviving the Florida State Celery Association and discussing an advertising campaign for the celery growers of the state, according to a letter sent to growers today by County Agent C. R. Dawson.

Mr. Dawson sent the letter to the growers at the request of H. J. Lehman, who is president of the association and who prepared the information that was included in the letter.

It is believed that the quickest, cheapest, and easiest way to determine whether or not the growers of this section really want an advertising campaign on celery, the letter read, "would be to revive the corporation, have a meeting of the growers of each celery growing section, elect a new board of directors and other officers and be ready to proceed."

It was further pointed out that "for several years there has been a great deal of talk about an advertising campaign this coming season for the purpose of increasing the consumption of Florida celery. And something must be done if we are to continue in the celery raising business."

Many growers, it added, believe that advertising is the answer to present troubles and it was suggested that an intelligent advertising campaign would increase the consumption of celery just as it has increased the sale of other products.

"Several years ago," it was noted, "this same matter was brought before the growers of Florida and considerable preliminary work was done on the advertising idea at that time. An organization was formed and incorporated under the laws of Florida. Much research work was also done and it was found that celery has many fine selling points which, if brought to the attention of the housewife would unquestionably increase the sale of our product."

Along this line, the letter stated "County Agent C. R. Dawson and he Florida Power and Light Co. have put on some trial campaigns this past season which have proved beyond doubt that the average housewife will respond gladly and readily to information about celery and its health-giving qualities and the many ways of preparing it for the table."

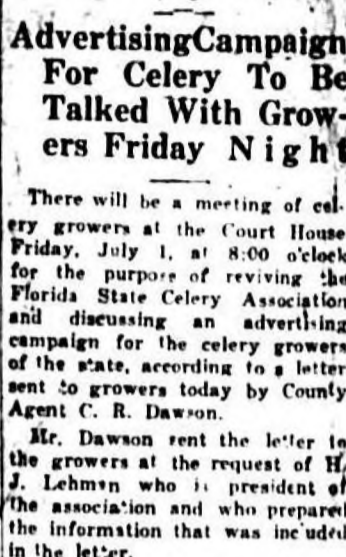

The original board of directors of the Florida State Celery Association, consisting of Roy Byrnes, H. J. Lehman, John Meicher, Fred F. Dornet, E. L. Markell, Charles Dalrymple, Paul G. Stockert, Loring Raoul and Thomas J. Bell have agreed that now is an appropriate time to call a meeting for the purpose of reorganizing.

Similar meetings will be held in Sarasota and Bradenton.

Mr. Dawson urged all celery growers whether they believed in advertising or not to be present at the meeting.

Mr. Dawson said he would present a suggestion at the meeting tomorrow that vice-presidents of the state organization be elected yearly on a rotating basis. That is, he explained, one year Orlando would be honored with the selection from its club of a vice-president while the next year Sanford or Leesburg would be given the honor of having the vice-president.

Tunnel Flooded By Firemen To Put Out Flames

No Serious Damage Results From Blaze Under East River

NEW YORK, June 27.—(AP)—The north bore of Manhattan Queens $58,000,000 vehicular tunnel 150 feet under East River, flooded today to conquer one of the strangest fires in the city's history.

The fire was started last night and thousands of gallons of water were poured into the tunnel which is still under construction, before failure of machinery forced firemen to reduce air pressure which is maintained during construction period to prevent the walls from collapsing.

Lowering of air pressure permitted water to flow in through wells but engineers reported little serious damage to the structure. No one was injured during the battle against flames deep under the river.

The flames ate through hay, shoring and woodwork, investigators reported after their futile attempts to penetrate the smoke-filled tunnel.

They said the fire started some 400 feet from the midtown Manhattan entrance at First Avenue and Forty-first Street.

The tunnel is a link in the project designed to speed vehicular traffic underground across Manhattan from New Jersey by way of the new Lincoln tubes.

Two British Ships Bombed By Insurgents

House Of Commons Demands Action Following New Attacks On Neutral Shipping

Chamberlain Plans No Retaliation

Loyalists' Threats Of Reprisal Are Seen As Bargaining Move

Spanish insurgent bombings, already having provoked an ominous bedlam of threats and counter threats, echoed anew in London today, and taxed the "realistic" stand-off policy of Prime Minister Chamberlain. Two more British freighters were attacked and set afire in the Spanish government ports of Valencia and Alicante with an undetermined number of casualties.

It was the 58th and 59th assaults on British shipping in the nearly two years of the Spanish war and the flames which ate through damaged merchant ships, Arlon and Farham, added heat to the mounting British opposition to Chamberlain's policy.

The prime minister was confronted with demands in the House of Commons that he do something quickly to halt such offenses. Intent with "bargaining" with Italy and Germany, insurgent backers, he had refused to retaliate in any way against the insurgent regime.

Spanish quarters in Paris and London were inclined to view the Spanish government's threat of aerial reprisals against the insurgents' allies as largely an indirect effort to halt the insurgent air raids on government civilian centers.

Some believed the Barcelona regime never seriously considered such a course which, as Italian and German reaction implied, would precipitate general warfare.

Aside from renewed insurgent air raids on the government seaboard, the Spanish war was marked by the halting of the insurgent offensive against Valencia with the attackers holding gains on the front, about 30 miles from Valencia at the nearest point.

The Spanish government yesterday promised to abandon the thought of bombing Italian and German cities, in return for three concessions from France and Britain.

The conditions for giving up a plan for reprisals against insurgent air raids, unlikely to be agreed to by Britain and France, were listed as:

1. That France reopen the Pyrenees frontier to arms and munitions for Spanish government armies.
