Powder Puff Brigade Learns About Cars

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

"HELPLESS FEMALES" are a thing of the past, Modern women tackle home repairs, house painting, and other man-sized jobs, with as much zest, and usually as much proficiency, as their husbands.

And when it comes to things mechanical, the gals are showing an amazing interest in, and apti-

With this Miss Smith figure in mind, automobile dealers throughout the nation are sponsoring classes "for women only" in which every subject from gas to gaskets is Strictly educational, the talks and demonstrations are entirely devoid of commercialism, the purpose being simply to inform eager feminine minds about proper care and mainte-nance of their cars and how to operate them more economical-

tude for, the hitherto mysterious topics as the car's basic mechanworking of gears, plugs, pistons ical system, preventive mainteand valves. No longer content with nance, emergency road service, merely driving a car as long as it will run, today's feminine drivers are exceptionally eager to surrance coverage.

When an automobile dealer in

More than 125 feminine drivers turned out for his first meeting, then went proudly home to impress their husbands with their newfound knowledge. Other groups quickly beseeched him to teach hom the difference between that dingus and a thingumbob." In fact, so many requests came in from PTA, church and other women's groups that the Ohio dealer has had to schedule a meeting every week, and sometimes more than one.

The results of his classes, and those of other dealers, has been an increasing understanding on the part of women as to what makes a car tick. And with this greater understanding has come greater attention to safety and to. safe-driving principles.

If your community does not have such a program for women, why not ask your local dealer to guage, the classes cover such start one?

Highway Clean-Up Program Should Improve

There are thousands of people riding up and down the roads of our city, county and state who think that Florida highways are their own private wastebaskets or garbage

In some states it is not so easy to get away with such tactics on the part of motor-

For instance - thirteen states have recently stiffened their penalties for this offense which is getting serious, according to a survey by the family economics bureau of a nationally known insurance company.

We believe that if those who insist on throwing trash out of their car windows and litter the roadsides wherever they stop knew that by so doing they are costing themselves plenty of dough, they would re-

What Wins Wars?

What wins wars? An obvious answer comes at once to mind-guns, bombs, military aircraft, naval vessels, trained and courageous troops.

But that is not all of the answer by any means. The very heart of warfare is supplying the ability to deliver the incredible varie ty and quantity of things that any fighting force must have if it is to survive, much

This helps to explain something Secretary of the Navy Thomas said the other day -that World War II started to be won the day America began building ships faster than they were being sunk. And anyone who has read Churchill's great war memoirs knows that England was terribly close to defeat in the early stages—largely because the toll the U-boats took of merchant shipping-could not then be adequately replaced.

Another top authority, Admiral Carney, former Chief of Staff, has said: "Until and unless the seas dry up, we will be confronted with problems of achieving his own erossing and denying the crossing of his enemy; for nowhere in the future can be discerned any total substitute for the great highways of the seas."

Even if the seemingly impossible should happen, and another chance of war be in some way wholly eliminated, we would still need a great and modern U. S. Merchant marine. For our economic welfare-which means the welfare of the farmer, the worker, the manufacturer-depends in large part on a vast volume of foreign imports and exports which can travel only by those highways of the sea.

Florida brags about its beauty-nature working wonders with its follage, greensward, tropical extravaganess, lush flowering plant plumage, lakes, and moss laden trees. But, to see these lovely pictures with a foreground of empty cigarette packs chewing gum wrappers, candy bar containers, beer cans, napkins, and even sacks of garbage, doesn't pack such a big wallop with our visitors-or even upon ourselves.

Let's get tough here—and institute a highway clean-up program that will improve the scenery everywhere.

Zhukov Says Future War Will Require Larger Armies

NEW YORK UM- Soviet Defense Minister Georgi K. Zhukov says the new combination of air power and nuclear arms "by themselves cannot decide the outcome of an armed struggle."

The Russian marshal says a future war will require large armies and tremendous quantities of ordinary arms, despite development of airpower and nuclear weapons.

Zhukov expressed the opinion in response to questions submitted to him in writing by Hanson W. Baldwin, military editor of the New York Times, during a-visit to Moscow last month.

Zhukov's written answers were transmitted to the newspaper through the Soviet Embassy in Washington.

The embassy said Baldwin's questions and Zhukov's answers would be published by the Soviet Dress.

The Times story said Zhukov's answer on the airpower-nuclear question "suggested an evaluation of warfare factors that came closer to that of the leaders of the United States ground forces than to those of the nuclear airpower school of thought,"

Limes Big As Lemons in Markets

The big shiny green Persian limes which Florida is shipping now are just as good mixers as the other members of the citrus family, and wherever you'd use a lemen, you can substitute a lime — and be rewarded with extra flavor.

Use lime wedges with melons and salads, float lime silves in clear soups, squeeze the julce over seafood and fruit cocktail, or blend a lime julce to season carrots and other fresh vegetables. The Florida lime scason opens in mid-summer, just when other feeds need a pick-up, even as you and I, and the season lastely through September, affording cool relief for the last dog-days expension.

on hand to use in recipes: Lime Butler-Stretcher Sauce

YIELD: 4 servings.

2 tablespeens Florida lime juice Dash of salt 2 tablespoons butter 1 tablespoon chopped chives Melt butter; add chives, Florida lime juice and salt. Serve an house carrots, broccoll, asparagus, spinach, beets or with fish.

out on some other good things, be sure you have plenty of limes

You can drink limeade to your heart's content, for it's a nutri-tious drink, since limes boast lots of vitamin C. And lest you miss.
