'Savage Sons' Back With Families

A Sanford Herald news story Friday concerning the Hullahaloo Scene teenage night spot inadvertently quoted a police officer as making a comment concerning the Slumberland Motel next door to the youth's gathering spot. The remark did not come from a police officer but another news source, and was mistakenly credited to the officer.

This item about McGuire was in the "Scuttlebutt" column of the Sanfly, which also reported it was necessary to put locks on the doors of the changing rooms at the Navy Exchange. Reason was loss of so many clothing items.

Pinecrest School, recent target of vandals, is now protected by a burglar system. Alarm system installation had not been completed by original contractor at time school was vandalized. New contractor was engaged and work is finished. If school is broken into, alarm system activates a special telephone line and an operator notifies police.

Lions say this year's Fun Fair was the greatest ever and more than $1,000 was raised for their fund which goes to help the blind. But the Lions are not resting on their laurels — they are already making plans for next year with a bigger and better fair.

Robert Lamar Watson, Sanford man freed from prison after being falsely convicted of robbery, and John Frasca, Tampa Tribune reporter whose exposure led to Watson's freedom, will be guests soon at a Tampa Rotary Club session. Frasca won a Pulitzer Prize for his series of news stories which led to Watson's release and the arrest of three Mulberry police officers for the robbery. You may think Batman is a nowhere show, but licensing of the rights for over 500 Batman items, expected to retail at around $8 million dollars this year!

Repairs Halt Lake Dredging

Capt. J. R. Wells Jr., head of the dredging operations for the Sanford lakefront development project announced today that the dredge had been shut down for repairs.

Capt. Wells estimated repairs might take "two or three days." Work on the filling of the 13 acre tract of land for the marina is proceeding on schedule at this point.

LOOKING like replicas of Lawrence of Arabia, Savage Sons of RVAH-5 arrived home Saturday from a 7½ month Med cruise. Arab-type head-dresses were symbolic of squadron's tour of duty in Arabian countries and were worn at a farewell party for several squadron members, held in Beirut, Lebanon. Squadron Commander David Dearolph (center) is greeted by Capt. R. J. Fowler, Wing commander, as unidentified squadron mate is hugged by small son at NAS airstrip. (Herald Photo)

After 7½ Months At Sea

Glaring white runways at Sanford Naval Air Station took on the appearance of glittering desert sands, Saturday as Arabian sheiks in flowing white head-dresses dismounted from their jet-propelled steeds and swarmed over the airstrip converging on groups of women and children who welcomed them with open arms.

A closer look disclosed the Indian head insignia on the sleeves of the Savage Sons of Reconnaissance Attack Squadron Five, home from a cruise aboard the USS America, which took them to many Mediterranean ports during the past 7½ months.

RVAH-5, serving as part of Carrier Air Wing Six, participated in both Allied and NATO Exercises with the Sixth Fleet.

Cannes, France; Athens, Greece; Istanbul, Turkey and Beirut, Lebanon were some of the ports visited during the deployment. It was at Beirut where the Savage Sons of Sanford were transformed into "savage sons of the desert," during a farewell party for several members of the squadron.

While at sea, Cdr. David Dearolph assumed command of the squadron, replacing Cdr. Wallace Russell, currently serving as Wing Chief Staff Officer.

Striking TWA Employers Still Picketing Moon-Launch Area

CAPE KENNEDY (AP) — Striking employers of Trans World Airlines continued picketing one entrance to the nation's moon-launch area today, but their impact was confined to TWA personnel.

Army Corps of Engineers officials said about 200 construction workers who honored picket lines Friday returned to work today. Industrial union members with firms other than TWA also showed up for work. About 1,100 TWA personnel here have been idled by the work stoppage, part of a nationwide strike against five airlines. TWA holds the prime contract for launch support operations at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's moon-launch area on nearby Merritt Island.

Government and union officials minimized the strike's impact by confining picketing to only one gate.

The government has required all TWA personnel to enter only through the south gate of NASA's moonport. The union accomplishes its purpose by picketing that gate. Union employees with other contractors can go to work through any of four other entrances to the space center.

Planning Committee Request Slated

Request for formation of a planning committee for urban development will be brought before city commissioners at their 8 p.m. meeting tonight by Lee Moore, chairman of the Downtown Development Committee, a division of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. Discussion is expected to center around the need for broad city planning and development programs.

The controversial sign regulation ordinance will again be up for discussion, along with consideration of bids on Sunland Estates water line materials, future projects under federal grant programs, dance hall permits and statements for lakefront dredging work to date.

Mrs. Johnston's Home Ransacked

Approximately $2,500 in jewelry, silverware and other items was stolen from the home of Mrs. Paul Fisher Johnston, 121 Scott Avenue, when the home was burglarized, apparently Friday night.

Mrs. Johnston has been away from home for about four weeks, but a neighbor reported finding a broken window in the rear of the house.

Police reported a bedroom had been ransacked and the articles taken. They included a table model organ, an heirloom necklace, platinum brooch, silver coffee service, and the Annapolis ring of her husband, the late Adm. Johnston.

Bank Windows Open Tuesday

New drive-in windows at the Sanford Atlantic National Bank will open Tuesday, Howard Hodges, president, announced today.

Drive-in and walk-up hours will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. on Fridays, Hodges said.

Bank lobby will be open 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. on Friday.

COOPERATION of the Seminole County Federation of Women's Clubs and the Seminole County Sportsman's Association will result in the building of restrooms at the Wayside Park on the Wekiwa River. A check for $650 was presented to the Sportsman's Association today by Mrs. W. B. Brinson, (third from left). The sportsmen will match the fund from their own treasury. Land on which the park is located is owned by the Woman's Club. From left are Howard Hodges, secretary, Robert Wycho, president, Mrs. Brinson and W. A. (Jake) Adams, treasurer. (Herald Photo)

Federal Help Awaited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Airline strike negotiations reopened today on a sharp note that further dimmed hope of a quick settlement of the walk-out that started Friday.

Joseph Ramsey, vice president of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists and chief union negotiator, entered the conference room and said:

"The public should know that there hasn't been five minutes of real negotiating since this strike started.

"These carriers are standing pat, protecting their profits, waiting for the President or Congress to help them out. "Union members on the airlines are asking to share in the profits.

"After all these years when they have accepted substandard conditions, airline employees are entitled to a better deal."

Ramsey handed out mimeographed copies of the statement but declined to elaborate on it, saying, "We better get on with the job."

William J. Curtin, chief negotiator for the five struck airlines—Eastern, National, Northwest, Trans World and United—arrived in the hallway as Ramsey was speaking, and listened before entering a separate conference room.

Asked for comment, Curtin said:

"We have endorsed the emergency board recommendations which the President himself characterized as the framework for a just settlement of the dispute, and we have improved upon it in our negotiations."

Curtin said evidence before the emergency board indicated clearly that airlines employes are treated far better than most in terms of working conditions.

During fruitless weekend negotiations, officials of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists met in one conference room in the basement of the Labor Department building, airline officials in another.

Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds, who shuttled between the two rooms, arranged the joint meeting, telling reporters that 10 hours of talks Saturday and Sunday had brought no progress.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz was keeping President Johnson posted on negotiations, Reynolds said. Johnson returns to Washington from his Texas ranch today.

Wirtz, who was touring the Far East when the strike started, entered the sluggish negotiations Sunday.

The strike against the five airlines — Eastern, National, Northwest, Trans World and United — has paralyzed much of the nation's air commerce. Normally, the five carriers handle 60 per cent of the domestic industry's business.

Kilcline New RVAH-11 Commander

Winds of change which recently redesignated VAH-11 as RVAH-11 have also brought a change of command with Cdr. Thomas J. Kilcline relieving Cdr. Kenneth M. Sandon as commanding officer of the Checkertails in ceremonies at Sanford Naval Air Station today.

Cdr. Sandon will attend the Naval War College at Newport, Rhode Island.

Cdr. Kilcline has been the squadron executive officer since June 1965. He has served as aide on the staff of commander of the Sixth Fleet, attended test pilot school and served as program manager of the staff of the commander of the Naval Air Test Center for A7, A6, A5 and COIN aircraft. He is married to the former Darnell Thompson of Pensacola and they have four children.

American League Set To Go All Out Tuesday For Elusive All-Star Victory

British Title To Nicklaus

(AP) — The man with the shortest swing left the longest memory after the British Open Golf Championship — even though he was a loser.

Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif., one of the most colorful characters in the game, was shot by three inches with a putt on the home green Saturday that would have tied the winning score of 282 shot by champion Jack Nicklaus, the Golden Bear from Columbus, Ohio.

THIS IS BUSCH Memorial Stadium in St. Louis where 1966 All-Star Game between National and American League standouts will be played Tuesday. Opened only two months ago, it will seat 49,275.

Pittsburgh Win Puts Bucs Within One Game Of Lead

By AP

Veteran pitcher Bob Friend knows about pressure. But that extra squeeze put on by the Pittsburgh Pirates was just too much.

Friend, an ex-Pirate, became angry Sunday when the Pirates, leading by five runs in the eighth inning on route to a 9-4 victory over the New York Mets, tried to squeeze in an extra run. It backfired, but that didn't pacify Friend.

The Cincinnati Reds helped Manager Don Hefner pass an ailing Friend in the eighth inning on route to a 9-4 victory over the New York Mets, tried to squeeze in an extra run. It backfired, but that didn't pacify Friend.

As he was leaving the field, Friend, who oozes stomach acid and said, "My stomach's like a hot stove," tried to squeeze in an extra run. It backfired, but that didn't pacify Friend.

National Leaguers Take Last 3 Games

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The embattled American League, winner of only one of the last nine All-Star baseball games, is ready to go all out Tuesday against the favored National League's impressive array.

The National Leaguers have been taking blows for winning both the World Series and the All-Star Game in each of the last three years. Overcoming a 12-4 edge in the All-Star series, they were completely dominated by the American League, Willie Mays and Co. have taken the lead 18-17.

Two Shutout Wins Extend Post 53 String To 5 Straight

Sanford Post 83, behind two more shutout pitching performances, extended its winning streak to five games over the weekend and moved within two games of first place in Sixth District American play.

Naturally, Steve Shumaker, with relief help from Gary Myles, blanked Evans, 1-0, on Friday evening and then Myles came back Saturday to shutout county foe Casseberry by the same 1-0 score.

Hero Randy Johnson's Biggest Challenge Still Lies Ahead

ATLANTA (AP) — Randy Johnson is getting better all the time, but the rugged Texan says his biggest football challenge is still ahead.

"I never dreamed I would be where I am now," the Texas A&M quarterback said after he guided the West to a 24-7 conquest of the East in the Coaches All-America game.

Ball Players Don't Argue About League Superiority

By Milton Richman

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Ball players on both sides laugh among themselves each time the All-Star game is pictured as a "war" between the leagues and someone tries to use it to prove the superiority of one circuit over the other.

The players feel all such notions are sheer nonsense, and they feel further that if the All-Star Game proves anything at all, it shows only that both leagues are equal and anything can happen in one game.

Miss Francine Elaine Brooks Betrothed To James Nettles

Mrs. Ed VanWinkle of De-Orlando and Herman W. Brooks of Orlando are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Francine Elaine Brooks, to James Ivy Nettles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Nettles, of Sanford.

The bride-elect was born in Orlando and attended schools there. She was graduated from Maynard Evans High School, where her school activities were outstanding. She is a member of the 1955 class of Orlando Business College.

Her fiancé was graduated from Seminole High School, is self-employed and also works for Volusia County.

The marriage will be solemnized on July 30, at 7:30 p.m. at Orlando Baptist Temple.

All friends and relatives of the couple are cordially invited to attend the wedding and reception immediately following at the Church Social Hall.

MISS FRANCINE ELAINE BROOKS

SELECT SHAMPOO CAREFULLY

A woman who spends much of the summer outdoors may need to change her shampoo. Sun and wind combine to play havoc with hair, often causing excess shampoo that has special conditioners — a shampoo to cleanse hair thoroughly without stripping it of natural oils. A cream rinse also helps make hair more manageable at this time.

Returned from their vacation are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sedlak of 1003 Mallard Avenue. They toured the Carolinas, drove to Michigan where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ender, in Oaklawn, Ill., they visited with Mrs. Walter Smith, Mrs. Sedlak's mother, and Mrs. Claude Lane, a sister. Their last stop was in Aston House, La., where they spent some time with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sedlak, also their pride and joy, Stacy Lynn, 10-month-old granddaughter whom they saw for the first time.

BABY OIL SMOOTHS LEGS
The new waterproof leg make-up to simulate a tan presents a cleaning problem. Cosmetologists suggest using a baby oil to help remove the make-up. This also leaves legs soft and smooth.

Stripes of onion, cooked in butter, and a dash of thyme will add interest to cooked carrots.

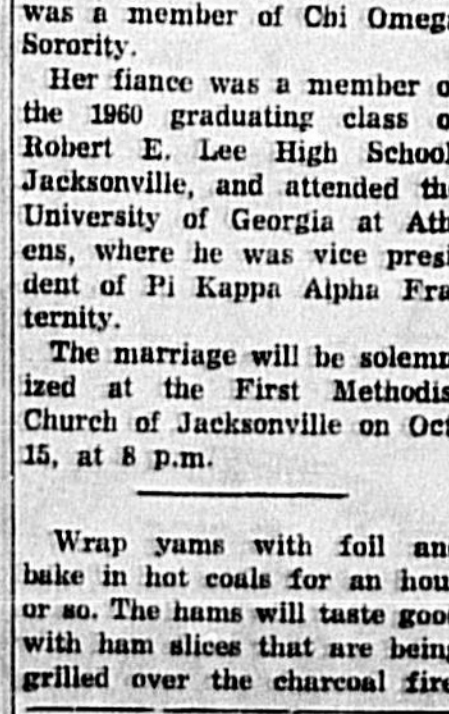

Miss Nancy Black, John N. Steed To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bruce Black of Jacksonville are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Nancy Jane Black, to John Nelson Steed, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Max Steed, of Sanford.

The bride-elect was graduated from Robert E. Lee High School, Jacksonville, in 1962, and Brenau College, Gainesville, Ga., in 1966, where she was a member of Chi Omega Sorority.

Miss Kathy Poff And J.K. Cuchens, Jr. Exchange Vows At SNAS Base Chapel

Miss Kathy J. Poff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Poff of Sanford, and James J. Cuchens Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Cuchens, of Freeport, were united in Holy Matrimony on June 30, 1966, at 7 p.m. at Sanford Naval Air Station Base Chapel.

A wedding recital of appropriate nuptial music was presented by the officiating clergyman at the impressive double ring ceremony. Following in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a street length gown of electric blue fashioned with a full chiffon skirt and Chantilly lace bodice. Complementing the gown was a chiffon sleeveless capelet. Her short veil of imported illusion fell from a white Dior bow and she carried a bridal cascade of white carnations.

Mrs. Mary Ann Needham attended the bride as matron of honor, gowned in a street length azalea pink lace suit enhanced with matching accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Frank Trends served the groom as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Poff chose a delightful blue tunic ensemble with pink accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Following a wedding trip to northern Florida, the newlyweds are residing at 5406 Valencian Street.

Among the out-of-town wedding guests were Karen, Nanna and Pamela Cuchens, sisters of the groom, from Freeport.

Matrons In Need Label Her Angelic

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gertrude Kadushin is a sympathetic soul whose job is helping Park Avenue matrons in distress.

She's the lady to provide six dozen corsairs for that party, 1,000 favors for wedding guests or something to send to your nephew who broke both legs skiing.

Mrs. Kadushin is manager and creator-in-chief for the Louis Sherry Gourmet and Boat Voyage Shop in the heart of New York's expensive upper East Side. She specializes in special requests.

"We try to say yes to anything and then we figure out how to do it," Mrs. Kadushin says. "The only thing we insist on is that the customer puts herself entirely in our hands."

Probably her most successful creation has been the candy "bouquet" centerpiece, several tiers of hard candy topped by an appropriate decoration. For a hostess entertaining friends from the United Nations, Mrs. Kadushin made small flags of a dozen nations.

In the winter months she keeps a number of "bouquets" decorated with the small figures of skiers to send off to the casualties of the slopes. "You have no idea how many skiers there are in the hospitals these days," she says.

Her biggest problem is with customers who don't get around to placing their order until the last minute.

"The other day I got a call from a lady who wanted six dozen ice cream desserts for that party," Mrs. Kadushin said. "She tried to tell me her maid had ordered them several days before, but that was just both legs skiing."

Nevertheless, the order was filled.

Mrs. Kadushin's family customers rarely are any problem. "A lady called up during our Christmas rush a couple of years ago with an order. I told her we couldn't deliver because we were too busy but she could come and get it herself if she wanted to," Mrs. Kadushin said.

"She was very nice and grateful. Then I found out she was Mrs. Douglas MacArthur."

Last Christmas Mrs. Basil Hathorne called to order a gift package for Maureen O'Sullivan and "we chatted away like long lost buddies," Mrs. Kadushin said.

Mrs. Kadushin filled a desk order for Mrs. Albert Laake, the art collector and philanthropist recently. "The next day I opened the paper and there was a story all about how the party was for Mrs. Lyndon Johnson."

"That," said Mrs. Kadushin, "was a nice surprise."

Medical News

Plastic dresses and "kooky" She matured earlier than girls do today, he said, probably beginning to menstruate at eight or ten years of age.

The time came, Dr. Weisman pointed out, as it does to all girls, when boys began to be important. "The young woman then, as now, wanted to be attractive to the opposite sex. Many sculptures show women with beautiful, elaborate hairstyles, rouged faces, and adorned with attractive jewelry," the doctor noted.

Blind Boys Tour North Carolina Museum

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—The hands moved slowly across the bronze figure, paused as their progress around the small art gallery. The bespectacled Princeton graduate, who is curator of education for the North Carolina Museum of Art, was seeing a five-year dream become a reality.

The two sightless youths were only the first of thousands who will tour the nation's first art gallery for the blind, which opened in March.

Stanford conceived the idea of the gallery, perfected the plan and spent 12 months putting it into operation. It is housed in a section of the Museum of Art and contains works valued at $500,000.

Wide counters encircle the walls. A walnut guide rail, raised high to the average adult, edges the counters. Grasp the rail and your fingers automatically touch inside, feeling the labels in Braille, describing the items on the counters. The works of art are easily within reach and directly in front of the description.

The exhibit begins with a small Stone Age figure. It progresses through the stylized Egyptian and idealized Greek arts to the realism of the Renaissance, the motion of Baroque, the neoclassic, the Impressionists, and ends with the abstract sculpture of today.

Included in the gallery is a reading area with tables and chairs. Nearby is a reference library, including Janson's "History of Art," one of the few ever transcribed into Braille.

The gallery was designed by Charles Ross, a student in the School of Design at North Carolina State University in Raleigh, and created with a grant of $17,500 from the Mary Duke Biddle Foundation.

The works of art were loaned to the gallery by individual collectors, galleries and museums throughout the nation. "There was one difficult problem," Stanford said, "We had to advise the donors that the objects must be touched, must be handled. That is something which seldom has been permitted in an art museum."

Some of North Carolina's 11,000 blind tour the gallery daily. Most of the visitors thus far have been students from the state's schools for the blind.

Stanford is convinced the project "has helped develop the blind observers' powers of perception, knowledge and imagination, and has given a glimpse into a realm of man's civilization that before now seldom has been available for the blind."

He concluded: "Remember this youth who touched the sculpture and at least, knew in his mind what a stag looks like. It would have been impossible for him to gain a mental picture otherwise. He could not have touched a live stag and learned. But Antoine Louis Barye, who died in 1876, has given a new grasp on life to a 1966 teen-ager."

Horticulture Program Added For 4-H Clubs

Lawns, flowers, shrubs and gardens are at their peak now and the gardener feels amply rewarded for the hours of toil and sweat that went into creating the lovely vista, reports County Agent Cecil A. Tucker II.

It's not only the home owners who plan with pride at their trim yards, colorful window boxes, beautiful flowers and vigorous vegetables. Their 4-H sons and daughters had a hand in the job, too.

Gardening has long been one of the 4-H mainstays. In the early days, 4-H farm gardens were the chief source of fresh produce for the family table. They also were prominent among the victory gardens of World War II.

About two decades ago, 4-H garden projects became a national awards program. Just recently the program was broadened and the name changed to "HORTICULTURAL" with more attention to landscape design and ornamental plantings.

Horticultural club members experiment with soil testing and new seeds. Others plan and execute landscaping the home grounds. Growing vegetables for home use and "for sale" is still popular and profitable. Specializing in ornamental flower arrangements or in gardening indoors appeals to suburban and urban 4-H'ers. For the best all-around 4-H horticultural projects, sponsors annually provide (2) "four star" medals and (2) "for sale" medals. The top eight projects throughout the entire nation will merit $500 scholarships. Those placing at the county level will win a handsome gold-filled medal, while the best project in the state will send the winner to Chicago as a delegate to the National 4-H Club Congress.

Altamonte Springs Still Waiting For Sewer Help

By Jane Casselberry

Altamonte Springs' Town Engineer Harold Radcliffe of Gilbre Engineering Company has reported to council that he still is awaiting word from the Atlanta office of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development regarding the outcome of the town's application for federal aid in constructing a sanitary sewer system.

Radcliffe is optimistic as to the final approval of a grant and loan to the town and expects to hear from Atlanta any time now that the new fiscal year, which began July 1, has started.

Council was shown the aerial survey photographs enlarged on the scale of 50 feet to square inch to be used in the preliminary plans for the sewer system.

Mayor Lawrence Swafford reported that the Florida Fish and Game Commission had received from Robin Road in Meloland Avenue he renamed in memory of the late Herbert Fuller, as there are two other streets in the town dubbed "Orlando." The matter was continued pending the contacting of remaining property owners on the street for their approval.

A request from property owners on Orieta Avenue was read asking that the street which runs from Robin Road to Meloland Avenue be renamed in memory of the late Herbert Fuller, as there are two other streets in the town dubbed "Orlando." The matter was continued pending the contacting of remaining property owners on the street for their approval.

Perez Remains Head Of Area Heart Group

Louis Perez, MD, Sanford physician has been re-elected president of the Canaveral Area Heart Association, with Ernest Southard named president-elect at the annual meeting of the association which served Seminole, Brevard and Volusia counties.

Three research projects, underwritten by the CAHA during the past year, included Sokoloff research project at Southern Bio-Research Institute in Lakeland, support of projects in coronary artery disease at the Cardiology Center in Tampa and the Milton Rogers Foundation for Heart Research in St. Petersburg.

It was reported that over 83,000 booklets, pamphlets, charts, guides, posters and catalogs have been distributed to physicians, nurses, hospitals, clinics, health departments, school and the general public through the three-county area since July, 1965.

The Heart Association, in corporation with hospitals, schools, civic clubs and organizations has provided 40 heart education projects utilizing films and speakers to bring the latest information on heart diseases to the public.

A three year community service grant has been made available through the Heart Association to the Harvard Crippled Children's Clinic in Melbourne. The grant is to provide the services of an occupational therapist to complete the clinic's rehabilitation program for stroke patients.

The Canaveral Area Heart Association is affiliated with American and Florida Heart Associations with a central office in Titusville.

Horoscope Forecast

TUESDAY, JULY 12, 1966

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until noon, very adverse aspects are in effect and you need to use much care and caution that you do not have a tragicomic situation that has put you in Dutch with those about you but conditions improve as the day goes on and you can now begin to make much headway and progress by a practical and very down-to-earth course on your part.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Trying to handle both business and social in A.M. is not wise, so be sure to talk over practical affairs with intelligent kin in P.M. Be sure you get statements precise during day.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Handling some domestic problem in A.M. is important, but then you make headway in business world. Paying some bills of interest is good tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You waste time fretting and fuming with others in A.M., you can have much loss in the business world, or in creative output. Meet expectations, be realistic.

MOON CHILDREN (June 21 to July 21) Avoid arguments over monetary matters and show good pals that you really like them. Practical tensions can be handled later on.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Find out what higher expectations you do to do and carry through with work, putting own ideas aside for the time being. Evening wonderful for sociability.

VIRO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Contact out-of-town persons in matters important to your well-being, business, etc., instead of giving way to temptation you rest. Find out what you want to know. Then have a good time in P.M.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Certain pals can be quite demanding, so clear their mind and get together with experts who really know their business, and give you wonderful help. Reserve the evening for your mate. Show that you are very thoughtful.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Follow ideas of associates instead of some spallied history, up who has an inflated ego. You need not be formal or forceful with anyone, since matters work out very suitably and you benefit. Be happy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you concentrate on duties ahead of you instead of meandering in the world of dreams and imagination, you can accomplish a great deal today. Don't be negative. Then wonderful benefits can result.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) It is better to concentrate on the creative instead of getting overly concerned with figures, bookkeeping, etc. Avoid the dull and time-wasting. Seek the company of interesting, charming people.

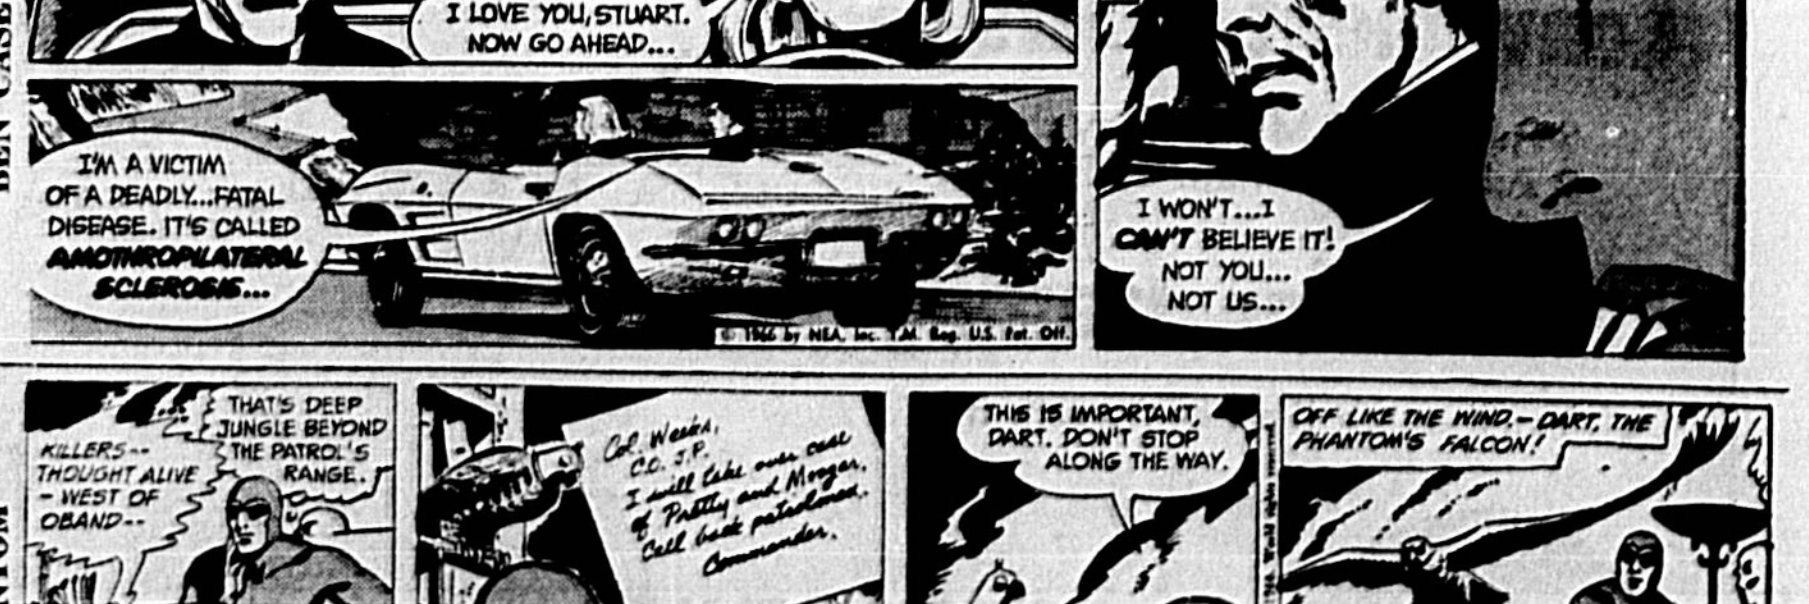

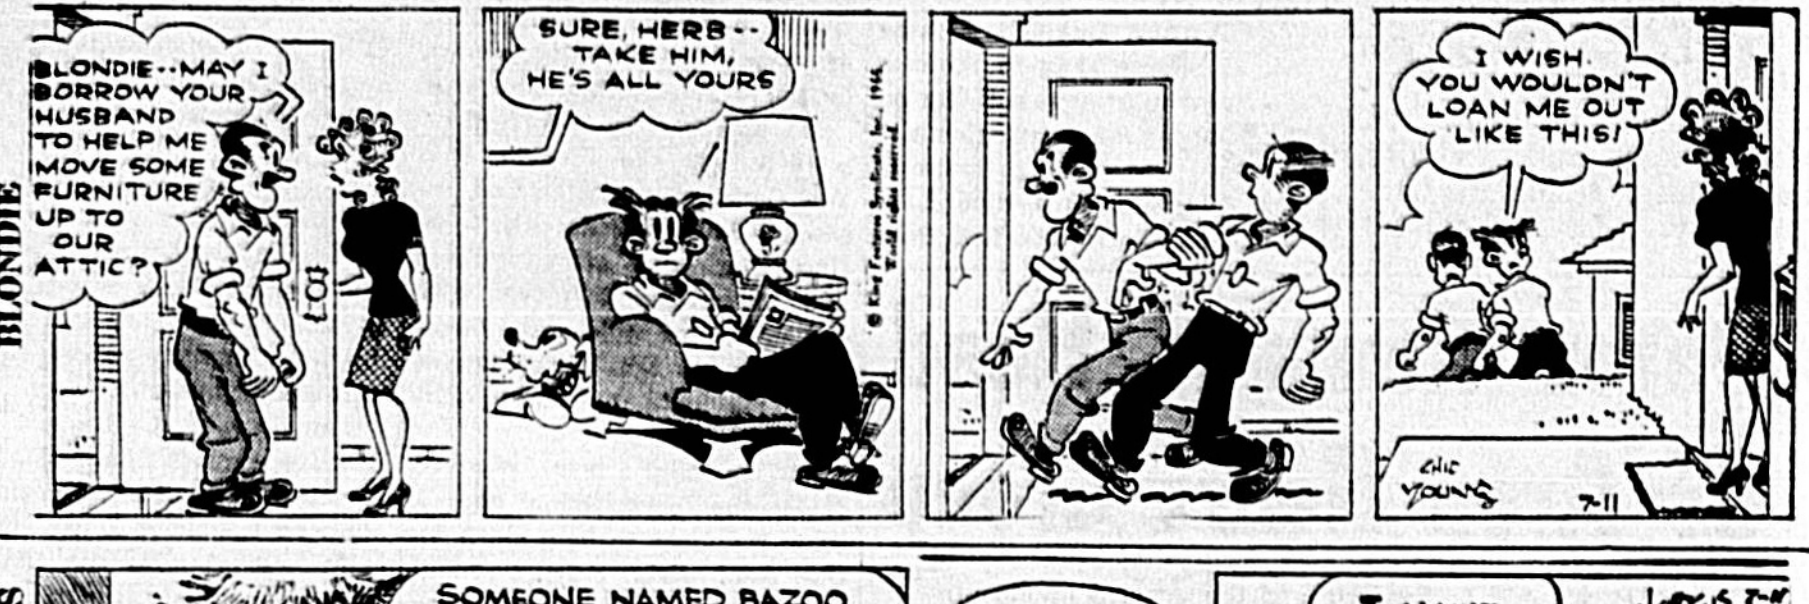

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 19) Ideas can be forthcoming from those who live with you that will be initially better than those given by some fix-by-nights you know. You can get interesting work close to own dwelling. Be precise.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Gauding about, being active, on your toes will bring you in contact with right persons and get the results you desire. Analyze how best to improve daily routines. Experts give the proper answers.

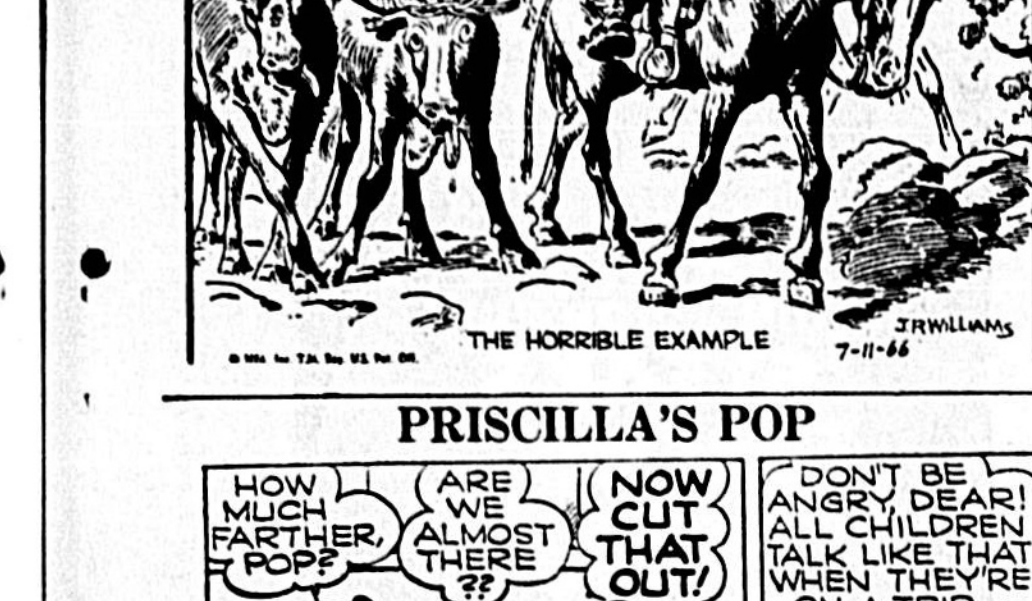

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he, or she, will be one whose psychic ability will develop early, but whose physical body will mature very quickly, so it behooves you to give much attention to the early stages of his or her development. Then the personality becomes a magnetic one and there can be a tremendous success in this chart.

Highlights

7:30-8 P.M. NBC. Hulloation. (Color) (Rerun) quite a funny going-on tonight. Roger Smith will be host to Louie Lomax, Jonathan King, and the Beatles (in a specially taped segment). King and Co. will sing "Day After Tomorrow" and "We can work it Out," and the whole cast joins in a medley of the top pop tunes of 1966. If you are a lover of the literary beat, you can't afford to miss this.

6:30-7:30 P.M. ABC. 12 O'Clock High. "The Underground" (Rerun) Gallagher's career in the air and on the TV screen is almost cut short by France to return interest to England and the waiting TV audience. Guest stars are Robert Walker and Claudine Longet.

8:30-9 P.M. CBS. Vacation Playhouse. The Good Old Days. This series is one of the few new shows on this summer, which says something for a group not much in it is a comedy pilot, of which ten night's offering is the second. This little tale deals with a young caveman (Barry) Hickman who finds himself in need of living and thinking room and sets out to find a new cave. His primitive inamorata is played by Kathleen Freeman. Sort of a live-action Flintstones.

8:30-9 P.M. NBC. Dr. Kildare. "Behold the Great Man." (Color) (Rerun) This is a repeat of the opening episode, and it remains one of the best of the series. James Mason guest stars as Dr. Maxwell Becker, an arrogant but brilliant perfectionist, and his excellent performance is complemented by that of Margaret Leighton as his wife.

9:30-10 P.M. CBS. The Andy Griffith Show. (Color) (Rerun) Barney Fife (Don Knotts) is still in town on a visit, and still a welcome sight. Tonight he finds that Andy's new dog, puppy Warren (Jack Burns), thinks he is a living legend. Barney's reaction to this fine old expansion-type comedy is that he must be a man to join a manhunt for a dangerous escaped convict.

10-11 P.M. CBS. Hollywood Talent Scouts. (Color) (Rerun) The celebrity sponsors this evening include Nanette Fabray, Jackie Coogan, Red Buttons and Gloria Swanson. One slightly worn but nostalgic feature is Jackie Coogan showing clips from his movies as a child star with Charles Chaplin.

10-11 P.M. NBC. Ram For Your Life. "Night Train From Chicago." (Color) (Rerun) Out boy is almost a Mafia murder victim in a well-played, exciting play. Warren (Jack Burns), thinks he is a living legend. Barney's reaction to this fine old expansion-type comedy is that he must be a man to join a manhunt for a dangerous escaped convict.

11:30 P.M. A.M. NBC. "The Tonight Show" starring Johnny Carson. Johnny Bishop takes over tonight for five weeks as Johnny's substitute during his vacation.

Sidewalk Art Festival Set For Weekend

Artists and craftsmen from all over the state, as well as local amateurs and professionals, have expressed interest in the upcoming Sidewalk Art Festival to be sponsored by the Merchants' Association at Seminole Plaza, Casselberry, Friday and Saturday.

Dean Every, festival chairman, has received confirmation for 55 entries thus far and requests for entry blanks are coming in at the rate of 10 to 12 each day — from as far away as Jacksonville and Miami.

There will be three categories in the judging which will take place Saturday beginning at 1 p.m. They include paintings in water colors, paintings in oil or acrylic, and other media such as sculpture, ceramics, and metal work.

First place winners will receive cash prizes and ribbons will be awarded to first, second, third, and honorable mention, in each division. Artists will display their work in the plaza mall, 1-8 p.m., Friday; 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Saturday; and 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., Sunday.

The art festivals have evoked so much interest from both participants and spectators that Seminole Plaza Merchants plan to hold them periodically throughout the year.

Amateur or professional artists interested in exhibiting are invited to contact Every.

No 'Give' Seen In Strike Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists today accused the five airlines shut down by a strike of overestimating by at least $25 million the cost to them of a settlement proposed by the union.

Joseph W. Ramsey, IAM vice president and chief negotiator for the union, said there was no indication of any "give" in the management's stand at the time.

He added that the union was ready to make compromises on proposals but would not concede a cent less than its previous request.

Old jobs are phased out, but at the same time, new ones are created and added close to the employees can be easily trained to assume the new positions with the same company.

Things you might not know: Commercial aviation in Florida today employs more than 32,000 people and adds close to $200 million a year to the state's gross income. Favorable year-round weather conditions give a tremendous boost to the development of the industry.

Latest statistics of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce show income for production employment (exclusive of government employment) in the county totals $65 million per year giving a purchasing power in excess of $100 million, which is an increase of 30-40 per cent in the last five years.

Station Gets 38 Acres

Official appreciation has been extended to the firm of Chase and Company by the staff of the Central Florida Experiment Station.

Chase and Company made it possible for the experiment station to obtain an additional 38 acres of land adjacent to and south of the old station farm.

The land was not for sale, but the company made it available to the station for approximately less than the price quoted by three independent appraisers, as required by the state.

Chase and Company is typical of many acts of public service the company has rendered to Seminole County over the years," Dr. Darby stated in a letter to the firm.

The old 15-acre farm has had numerous experiments in which nematodes, herbicides, fungicides, insecticides and fertilizers were incorporated into the soil over the last 20 years.

"Many of the chemical, leave residues in the soil which affect subsequent experiments. The slope of the experiment station farm is too great for soil experiments because in periods of heavy rain, water runs from the untreated to the treated soil, thereby contaminating it."

"We had reached the point where our results were becoming untrustworthy. This additional 38 acres of excellent land will enable us to rotate our experimental plots at regular intervals."

"The experiment station has been in need of additional land for a number of years. Our entire staff wishes to express our appreciation to Chase and Company for making it possible for us to improve and expand our research program," Dr. Darby concluded.

Legal Tift May Evolve

By Harry Lawes
The City of Casselberry Monday night launched a move to change the site of the county court house in an action which could lead to a legal battle to move the county seat from Sanford.

At the recommendation of the Casselberry Planning Board, the city council voted to adopt a resolution urging the county commission choose a new site for the court house . . . one in the center of the county.

Julian Stenstrom, planning board secretary, pointed out it may not be possible under the county charter to locate the courthouse outside the corporate limits of the county seat. If this is the case — and Casselberry City Attorney Kenneth McIntosh is checking this — Stenstrom urged the council to suggest the county commission seek legislative action to hold a referendum to move the county seat.

"We are not trying to get the county seat moved to Casselberry," Stenstrom said, "just to the center of the county." The city commission concurred with him on this fact.

Other communities in the county are being urged to join with Casselberry in seeking the change in site for the court house.

Stenstrom pointed out the proposed site for the new court house being planned is within 100 feet of the northern boundaries of the county. He added the fact two-thirds of the county's population now resides outside the Sanford city limits.

It is for this reason the move has begun to change the site to one centrally located between north-south boundaries. Proposed change should also place the courthouse complex along Hwy. 17-92 or as close as possible to the road.

It was stated change in site would put the court house within 20 minutes of any point in the county.

If the site of the court house must be within the limits of the county seat, Stenstrom said Sanford may have only two choices: give up the county seat or annex along Hwy. 17-92 to wherever the new site would be.

In voting the resolution the county commission considered the site change, Casselberry council urged the other communities in the county join in seeking the change.

In other action, the city council authorized McIntosh to make final copy of the proposed comprehensive zoning ordinance in accordance with changes recommended by Seminole County zoning director Robert Brown, and the ordinance be passed.

An ordinance of intent to annex the site for the new Mount-Geneva Ward street, just north of Seminole Plaza, was also ordered.

The council also authorized $3,020 be placed in escrow to McIntosh in tractor expenses; $50; electricity, $85; rent, $120; recreation area $40; insurance, $570; land and aquit, $700; fire, $675; salaries, $1,010; utilities $1,400; streets (exclusive of road and bridge funds) $500; and reserve for a village hall, $500.

He explained the desire for a village hall was not possible to fulfill at this time as plans were dependent on receipt of low-interest government loans which are not feasible. "Council has instead decided," he said, "to put $500 in reserve each year until such time as enough moneys are saved to have at least one-third of the cost of the building and then possibly finance the balance through regular commercial loans."

In answer to a question from the audience, McIntosh stated, "The village does not levy an ad valorem tax as it is not equipped to do so."

Debts To Be Paid

City CofC Hits 'Dead End'

By Dottie Austin
Contrary to our funding of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce went into the second round Monday and ended in a TKO for the chamber.

Chamber officials presented a list of members, dues, expenses and unpaid bills as requested by the commission at the June 22 meeting.

Commissioner Joe Baker moved to pay the quarterly appropriation of $25, but the motion died for lack of a second after a long silence, followed by a lengthy discussion.

The report handed to commissioners showed an unpaid balance of $624 in obligations which A. B. Peterson Jr. said had been paid out of members pockets in anticipation of receipt of the quarterly appropriation.

After more discussion Commissioner Earl Higginbotham moved to authorize payment of the $24 in outstanding debts, predicated on the stipulation that the Sanford Chamber of Commerce cease independent operation and join and cooperate with the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Higginbotham's motion was seconded by Commissioner W. Vincent Roberts who told Sanford Chamber officials he "shared Higginbotham's sentiments."

"We cannot afford to dilute our talents and finances. It is incumbent on everyone to work together for the common good of the community," Dr. Roberts added.

Vote was 2-1 with Commissioner Baker voting "no."

Higginbotham pointed out that the membership list of the Sanford Chamber showed a number of only 48 members with a total dues collection of $48.

"Facts are facts," Higginbotham said. "If you do not have the support of the community and to my knowledge has not been recognized by the State Chamber of Commerce. We cannot continue to fund with tax money an organization which does not have the support of the people of this town."

Higginbotham told Sanford Chamber officials, "Peterson replied that he did not feel his organization was creating animosity and that if the appropriation of $24 was based "on the demise of the organization, we will refuse to accept it."

"If the site of the court house must be within the limits of the county seat, Stenstrom said Sanford may have only two choices: give up the county seat or annex along Hwy. 17-92 to wherever the new site would be.
