Bridge Luncheon
 Mrs. R. S. Keelor was the hostess of a very delightful bridge luncheon at her lovely home, Lake View Lodge on Lake Onoro Saturday. Immediately after the arrival of her guests Mrs. Keelor was charmingly assisted in serving a delicious four course luncheon by Misses Flora M. Johnson and Charlotte Keelor to the guests seated at the card tables, which consisted of oyster cocktail, chicken patis, green peas, potato chips, sandwiches and olives, fruit salad, cherry cream with dainty cakes. Salted almonds were served during the games of cards.

Six tables of auction bridge were played. The highest score was made by Miss Lizzie Mays of Monticello, who captured the first prize, an ancient brass candlestick. Mrs. A. S. Briggs of Madison, Wis., received the booby prize, a bridge set.

Mrs. M. F. Robinson, Mrs. F. A. Schumpert, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Harry Ward, Mrs. Andrew Johnson, Mrs. D. L. Thrasher, Mrs. F. L. Woodruff and Mrs. Fatjo did not join the card party, but enjoyed a very interesting word contest, which consisted in making the largest number of words from the first ten letters of the alphabet. Mrs. Andrew Johnson was the successful contestant and won the silver spoon, which was the prize offered the winning competitor.

Mrs. Keelor's guests were Mesdames Vorce, Robinson, Schumpert, Taylor, Hughes, Johnson, Ward, Holden, Dickins, Lake, Keely, Newman, Puleston, Thrasher, Herndon, Miller, Lane, Driver, Fernald, Woodruff, Gabbett, Fatjo, Brown, Holly, Marks, Misses Nona Wylie and Flora M. Johnson. Out of town guests were Mesdames Carpenter, Bell, Briggs, Papworth and Miss Mays.

Pleasant Afternoon

Miss Hazel Hand gave several of her young friends a pleasant outing and enjoyable visit at her pretty suburban home Saturday afternoon. The girls met at the residence, of Miss Helen Rowland, where Miss Hazel came for them in a large wagon, the bottom of which was comfortably covered with straw. The merry young folks enjoyed the jolly ride. After arriving at the hospitable home, the afternoon was made very pleasant by various amusements and entertainments. Some of the party enjoyed a boat ride on the lake.

Delicious ice cream and cake were served by the charming young hostess, who was successful in giving her guests a jolly good time. When the afternoon was over another merry ride, made the homeward trip very pleasant.

Miss Hazel's guests were, Misses Helen Rowland, Margaret Davis, Lucca Chappell, Essie Purdon, Linda Connelly, Clarissa Starling and Charlotte Hand.

Express Companies Again

The abomination of the growers of Florida is the express companies. The following letter received by the Lewis Vegetable Exchange of this city shows one of the methods practiced by the carriers:

Lewis Vegetable Exchange, Sanford, Fla.
 Dear Sirs—You wrote some time ago that you did not see how vegetables could freeze coming to Philadelphia. I enclose you clipping so you can see for yourself that they do freeze.

Yours,

G. G. McCLINTOCK,
 Produce Commission Merchant, Philadelphia.

Following is the article taken from the New York Packer:

New York, Jan. 12.—General complaint was heard all over the street this week on account of the frozen condition of Florida vegetables arriving here. Beans particularly were hard hit and a total of perhaps several thousand packages were turned down. Express shipments suffered heavy losses. There certainly should be something done to bring the express companies to time. In many instances this perishable stuff arrived in good shape but was carelessly handled by the drivers—thrown on the stoops and sidewalks in front of the stores without, in some cases, any notices being given to receivers at all. In such cases the stock simply perished from the cold. Early in the week some firms turned down as high as two hundred to three hundred packages a day and those houses that did accept the stock lost money because it did not bring freight charges.

Dr. J. C. Davis optician will be at the Robbins Nest hotel in near future. Watch for his ad.

Too Much Bridge

Editor of The Semi-Weekly Holly:

As a fellow unfortunate, I write to ask your help in the formation of a married man's league for the propagation and encouragement of that ancient institution known as supper time. Remember as you can, how day after day one goes home after the days work, with appetite attuned by pleasant anticipations, to be met by the often repeated words, "Refreshments were served at Bridge" you will find something in the ice box "Dearie" (they always call you "Dearie," when the rations are short; or may be this full fed "Brute" never notices) and day after day, for five or six days in the week, you miss out at the even-tide.

Or if they come to your house for bridge they clean you out for a whole week. It really looks like "The Ladies" get together for supper, and leave the married men to "pan handle" as best they can.

There was hope inspired when a tea room was opened, but the first trip there showed even the sales room crowded to overflowing with "Bridgets", and poor man fled precipitately.

Now if we can't form a married man's league, we can have a club room where we can have our suppers, with a Mellins food annex for the children. Kindly take to heart, and advise me.

Yours for "Three Squares,"
 ONE OF THE SUPPERLESS ONES.

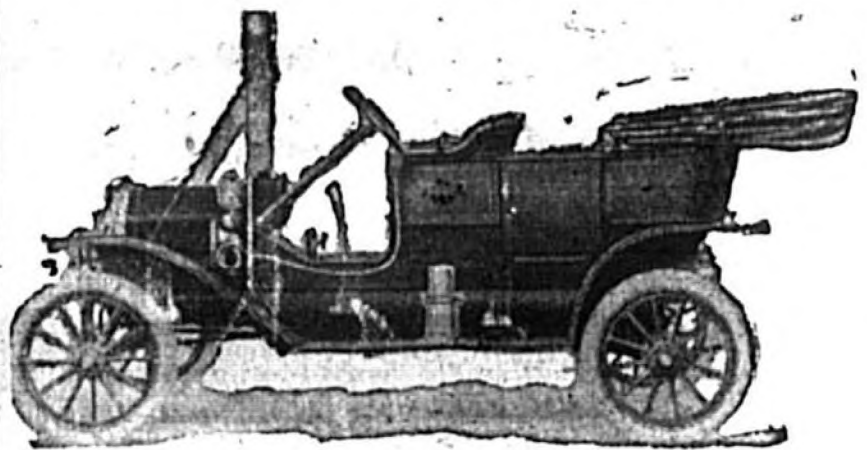

Mrs. Wight Will Entertain

Wednesday afternoon from 3:30 to 5 o'clock Mrs. Henry Wight will be hostess of a social tea for the young ladies of the Congregational church, all of whom are cordially invited to be present.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

Mr. James E. Goodfellow, representing the J. Hamburger Company, wholesale produce commission merchants of New York City, is in Lakeland endeavoring to interest the strawberry growers in a plan to ship their fruit in carloads by freight thus saving at least seven cents per quart on transportation and refrigeration.

It is said that Banker Morse, who is suffering with kidney trouble, will visit Green Cove Springs as soon as he is able to travel. His wife, sister and three servants will accompany him if he comes. Mr. Morse was recommended to Green Cove Springs by a man from his home town, Bath, Me., who was greatly benefited here four years ago. Morse was recently given his freedom by President Taft.

Kissimmee is to have an aeroplane factory. Actual work on the construction of the shops will begin within a short time on a site south of that city. The incorporators of this plant are all Birmingham people.

An egg which is said to be the largest ever seen in St. Johns county was on exhibition in St. Augustine a few days ago. It tipped the scales at ten ounces. The egg came from Mr. Jackson's famous poultry farm at Crescent Beach.

Mulberry is to have a weekly paper. A company has been organized with $3,500 capital. The plant will include only modern equipment. The paper has not yet been named.

News has been received in Pensacola from Washington that several war vessels will be sent to Pensacola for the Mardi Gras celebration.

J. W. Rosetter of Eau Gallie killed a twenty-two pound wild turkey in the woods just west of there last week.

The young ladies of Rollins College have recently organized a basket ball team and are practicing hard with a view to selecting a varsity team.

Rev. Mr. Thomas was shot and killed at his home near Cottondale a few nights ago. It seems that the aged preacher had had some trouble with his son-in-law and the latter fired six bullets from ambush at his father-in-law, all of which entered the victim's neck and passed out the left shoulder.

The tarpon season opened at Crystal River on last Thursday when the first silver king of the season was caught. The day following another large one was caught. The first fish weighed 113 pounds and the second 150.

Illinois Day will be celebrated in Lakeland on the 30th of this month. A large number of families from that State now reside in Lakeland.

The first carload of freight to go through to Key West over the Over-Sea railroad was shipped from Miami, last Monday. It consisted of a carload of lumber.

Improvement Marching On

We are told that an estimate is being prepared by the Mr. Temple for setting the Amoor river privet hedge around the grounds of the Sanford House. This will certainly be an improvement not only to the appearance of the property but to this part of the city in general and the management is to be commended for their zeal in making our city present an attractive appearance to our many winter visitors as well as to our own citizens. This Amoor privet is a beautiful hedge plant and with proper care will in twelve months form a hedge as pretty and useful as the older type of privet was capable of doing in years. Mr. Temple has had phenomenal success with all he has planted. Note for instance inclosures in front of Peoples Bank and Herald office one of which has been in place six weeks, the other two weeks.

Is Coming

Dr. J. C. Davis, the well known optician will be at "Robbins' Nest" Saturday, Feb. 2nd until Saturday, Feb. 10th inclusive. Headache cured with glasses. Don't neglect your children's eyes.

BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL

Seven Thousand Acres of Fine Land Changes Hands

A real estate deal of more than ordinary interest took place this week when the Lee and Mackinson tract near Narcoosa was sold to Cincinnati parties.

The tract comprises 7000 acres of land for farming and fruit growing and will mean the settlement of many hundreds of new people in this part of the Florida.

The Marks Real Estate Agency of this city made this sale and the price paid for the land was well over the $100,000 mark.

Pleasant Social Meeting

The Missionary Society of the Methodist church enjoyed a very pleasant social meeting at the residence of Mrs. F. W. Miller Tuesday afternoon. Quite a number of the society were present. They were pleased to have eight visitors with them. Mrs. M. A. Stout second vice president of the society, was in charge of the meeting and had arranged a very interesting program. At Mrs. Stout's request several very helpful articles from the Missionary Digest, the official organ and magazine of the missionary society were read by different ladies, touching on the work of both the Home and Foreign activities. Mrs. Stout read "The Field," Mrs. Mettlinger "Does It Pay to Send Missionaries to the Foreign Field," Mrs. Chappell, "Cuba Our Own Field," Mrs. Bowler, "Some Statements Concerning The Salaries Paid to Missionaries," Mrs. E. L. Marshall, "The Ministry of A Neighbor," Mrs. J. A. Newton, accompanied by Miss Clara Walker sang for the pleasure of the ladies, "Lead Me The Way," "Nearer My God to Thee," with variation, a very pretty piano selection, was played by Miss Irene Thurston "Tommy," a very amusing recitation, was finely given by Miss Margaret Coffee.

This recitation ended the program, and the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Miller and a social hour and a delicious salad course, served by the hostess and her charming assistants, Misses Irene Thurston, Margaret Coffee and Martha Miller, was enjoyed by the ladies after which the meeting adjourned.

M. M. Smith Will Drive

M. M. Smith, the genial president of the People Bank in this city and president of every other bank in the United States was promptly grabbed today by a Herald man to talk about the Horse Show here February 13th and 14th. "You bet I will be here," said Mr. Smith, "and I will bring several horses and get every other man that loves a good horse to do likewise."

Mr. Smith remarked that he considered the Sanford Horse Show one of the best attraction features this city had ever put on not only would the Hospital Association be benefited but the entire county as more fine horses would be represented here than at any other one place in the state.

Orlando Elks Will Smoke

This does not mean down below, but at Orlando on Wednesday night, Jan. 31st. The Smoker promises a big time for the boys, as several of them will have to answer to charges preferred against them. M. M. Smith is one of the culprits and the boys expect to stick him for enough to furnish cigars for the whole year.

The menu is something great containing such delicate dishes as Liquid Glue, Smoking and Eating Tobacco, Pavo Asado, Karoffel Saint, Copta Curea and other articles of wearing apparel. Members of Sanford lodge are invited and all Elks in good standing are welcome.

Property Changes Hands

The Check apartment house at the corner of Palmetto avenue and Second street changed hands this week. Mrs. E. B. Warman is the purchaser and the price paid was a fancy one. The property is a two story brick building in a most desirable location and comprises three separate suites of apartments suitable for house keeping.

Mrs. Warman is to be congratulated upon securing the fine piece of property.

Conglomeration of Articles

Repairs as follows will be done for a short time in the city by our fellow townsman, Geo. B. Ivey, who is looking for place to locate. He is an experienced workman on repairing and rebuilding organs and pianos, graphophones and phonographs, sewing machines, gun smithing, watch and clock repairing. He will appreciate any favors shown him in way of work, also notary public, auctioneer and office clerk.

SANFORD HORSE SHOW

And Field Day Events Assuming Shepe Rapidly

COMMITTEES HARD AT WORK

Promises To Be A Great Event With Mid Winter Tourists and Visitors

Sanford's Horse Show and Field Day will be one of the banner attractions in the state and many tourists visiting in Florida will be attracted to the city during the two days' festivities. The various committees are at work on the programs, decorating, making a grand stand and other improvements and have been greatly encouraged by the interest manifested by all the business men.

The program of entries will be a very fine affair and besides the program will contain the advertisements of Sanford business firms.

The decoration committee made a canvass of the city and has the assurance of the business men that all the stores will be decorated with the horse show colors several days preceding the 13th and 14th. Many entries for the athletics and the horse show are promised and the success of the project is already assured.

MORE FAIR EXHIBITS

Sanford People Taking Great Interest In County Fair

As the time draws nigh for the great Orange County Fair the committees are being besieged by the people who are anxious to take part in the exhibition and Sanford will have a fine representation. The Sanford booth is being made ready and will occupy one whole section of the Agricultural building, giving room for a larger display than last year.

Anyone wishing information on the subject should call upon or phone Geo. H. Fernald who is in constant touch with the care for exhibits.

The following additional exhibitors have promised to be represented at the Orange County Fair:

- Mr. F. E. Wilson, Sanford, exhibit pen fowls
- Mr. N. J. Stenstrom, r. f. d. No. 2, Sanford, one crate lettuce
- Mr. W. J. Wilson (White Wing Poultry Farm) r. f. d. No. 2, one pair Indian Runner ducks, one pen White Leghorns, one R. I. Red cock, one R. I. Red cockerel
- Mr. F. S. Beardsley, r. f. d. No. 2 Sanford, one exhibit White Orpingtons, one exhibit Buff Orpingtons
- Mr. H. F. Kent, Sanford, Fla., one pen White Wyandottes.
- Mrs. J. M. Gorton, 106 Third street, Sanford, one piece embroidery

Boston In Bankruptcy

"The Boston" a local dry goods firm of this city have filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy. The firm has been in business here about two years. They were incorporated last summer with a capital stock of $25,000. Only a part of the stock was sold however, the balance remaining in the possession of the firm as treasury stock. It is said that the assets will more than cover the liabilities and none of the creditors will lose.

Special Candy Drive

Believing that Sanford people like candy if they can buy it at a reasonable rate. Mr. Miller has inaugurated a special Saturday drive and gives a pound box of good candy for 29 cents. See his window at the Peoples Cash Grocery next door to post-office.

ENDORSE DONEGAN'S ACTION

Democratic Executive Committee of Osceola Passes Resolutions

The following resolutions were adopted by the Democratic Executive Committee of Osceola county at their meeting held January 20th, 1912.

Whereas, The Honorable Arthur E. Donegan has tendered his resignation to the Governor of Florida as clerk of the circuit court of Osceola county, said resignation to become effective February 15th, 1912, And

Whereas, The Governor of Florida has requested the Osceola county Democratic Executive Committee to recommend the appointment of a suitable man for the position to be vacated by Mr. Donegan, And

Whereas, This body has been requested by Mr. Donegan to recommend to the Governor for appointment as his successor a democrat who is now and will not become a candidate for the position as clerk of the circuit court in the primaries of this year, Therefore,

Be it resolved by the Democratic Executive Committee of Osceola county,

That in complying with the request of the Governor this body takes pleasure in also complying with the request of Mr. Donegan, and wishes to commend the spirit of fairness shown by Mr. Donegan in making such a request of this body. This committee wishes to express to Mr. Donegan on behalf of the rank and file of the Democratic party of Osceola county its high appreciation of his valuable services to the people of this county in the discharge of the duties of the office of the circuit court.

That this committee representing the Democracy of Osceola county calls to the attention of the good Democrats of Orange county the past most pleasant and amicable agreement or custom in the State Senatorial representations in that ever since the nineteenth senatorial district was created twenty four years ago we have equally divided these honors, and this committee believing that the patriots of the Orange county Democracy will not suffer this cause to be broken at this time. That in presenting the name of Arthur E. Donegan to the good Democrats of Orange county as the choice of the Osceola Democrats we believe that we are offering them an opportunity to vote for one of Florida's most substantial and deserving citizens, one whose past political record and public service gives promise of even greater results as our state senator, one whose spotless private life and kindly deeds performed entitles him to the fair and earnest consideration of the voters of our neighboring county.

F. M. MURPHY, Chairman.
F. W. HILL, Secretary.

Band Concert Sunday

The first band concert of 1912 will be given Sunday afternoon at 3:45 sharp, January 28th. These concerts are given under an arrangement with the city council.

The majority of the concerts during the year will be at night. Sunday afternoon gives an opportunity for people from out of town and for families to attend. The program on Sunday will consist of standard overtures, several serenades, a set of concert waltzes, "Moonlight on the Hudson", marches, America and the Star Spangled Banner.

The membership of the band at present are as follows: Leader, F. K. Reasoner, cornets, F. K. Reasoner, W. S. Thornton, A. B. Brock, clarinets, Harold Haskins, W. J. Thigpen, Prof. Wildman, alto, S. Graves, Mr. Iserman, trombone, Mr. Reasoner, baritone, Felix Frank, bass, C. F. Williams, drums, Geo. H. Fernald.

Well Known Pastor Here

The Rev. Frank D. Hunt, formerly of this city, but now of Atlanta, is in Sanford this week and taking advantage of the opportunity to hunt a few birds. Mr. Hunt is one of the most popular ministers that ever lived in Sanford and his visits are always hailed with delight, not only because of the friendship entertained for him, but also because his sermons are enjoyed so much. He preached last Sabbath at both morning and evening services, and will preach at the Presbyterian church next Sunday at both services.

Weather Report

Cloudy tonight and warmer Saturday in north and central portion, with indication of cooler weather to follow. Weather conditions point to ideal celery growing and f. o. b. weather can easily be predicted for the balance of the month.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here the Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

In the hope of checking the emigration of American farmers to the Canadian Northwest, important amendments to liberalize the public land laws have been favorably reported from the public lands committee. The enforced term of residence on the homestead is to be shortened. It is estimated that 100,000 farmers are going to Canada every year.

Somewhat of a bombshell has been exploded in the political camp of President Taft's followers by the news from Missouri that Governor Hadley of that state has come out in support of Col. Theodore Roosevelt of New York and will urge Missouri Republicans to throw the support of that state to the ex-president, and will seek to have the coming state convention endorse him and instruct the delegation from Missouri to the national convention to throw its votes to Roosevelt.

A dispatch received by the navy department from Guayaquil, Ecuador, this morning says Commander Bertelette of the gunboat Yorktown, and Seaman Clarence Wood are dead there of yellow fever. Commander Bertelette was a native of Pennsylvania.

The Wednesday Club

A good attendance of the club were present at the home of Mrs. S. O. Chase, Wednesday afternoon. After the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Chase, the program for the afternoon was promptly taken up. "The Saga of Harald Hairyfoot" one of the most powerful and popular Norse Klugs, who ruled over Norway in its early days was given by Mrs. Mary B. Phelps. The interesting "Saga of Hakon the Good" was prepared by Mrs. E. W. D. Dunn, but was read by Miss Lillie Farnsworth as Mrs. Dunn was unable to attend. King L. R. Phelps read King Harald and King Athelstone of England. Miss Mell Whitner read the last paper on the program "The Saga of King Harald Greycloak and Earl Hakon the Mighty." The club received a message from Mrs. Fernald containing a request for contributions of fancy articles from the members for sale during the "Field Day" celebration. After a short business discussion the club received an invitation through Miss Mell from Mrs. J. N. Whitner, to meet at her home during the month of February.

A Social Cnp of Tea

Mrs. Henry Wright was delighted to have nearly if not every one of the young ladies of the Congregational church accept her invitation to the tea given for their benefit Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Fred P. Ensminger was present and told the young ladies about his work among the Cubans in West Tampa. He told them of the great needs and possibilities of the missionary field right at our own door. The young ladies decided that they would undertake to clothe one of the little girls in the home that has been established in West Tampa. Mrs. Wright has over been the interested friend and enthusiastic worker among young people. She is happiest when she is surrounded by these bright young spirits and is always eager to guide their thoughts and efforts into helpful and uplifting channels of needed activities.

Mrs. Wright was assisted in serving her guests with dainty refreshments by Misses Madge and Veda Ward.

Sewing Circle Meets

The Sewing Circle was entertained by Mrs. C. P. Herndon Thursday evening. The members were all busily engaged dressing dolls for the Field Day celebration, and making paper chrysanthemums for the automobile parade in Orlando Monday. A delicious Waldorf salad, olives and chocolate were served. Miss Estelle Beard entertained the workers with several piano selections.

Those present were Mesdames M. E. Jones, Inez Hill, R. C. Maxwell, F. L. Miller, Misses Margaret Roberts, Emma and Estelle Beard, Alberta Hopson, Lola and Nellie Evans, Lydie Brain, Mell Whitner, Little Claire Jones, Jean Maxwell, Ethel Goodwin Perkins and Mrs. Morton Hopson, president of the circle.

EBENEZER NOTES

Special Correspondence to The Herald.
 We certainly appreciate the fine weather we are having at present.

J. M. Lee has been on the sick list for the past two weeks. He is suffering with rheumatism.

Tom Humphries is home from Boca Grande on a visit to his parents.

Mrs. M. M. Lord and children left some days ago to join her husband at Rodman, Fla.

We are sorry to learn of the serious illness of Mrs. B. J. Overstreet of Lake Mary. Hope she will soon be out again.

There will be services at Ebenezer church next Sunday morning and evening by Rev. C. A. Saunders, our new minister. We would be glad to have all come out who will.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Humphries entertained the young people last Friday evening with a fudge party at their home near Clyde. All report a fine time.

Your humble scribe has been in the clutches of gripe for over two weeks, which accounts for the non-appearance of our news in that time.

MOORE'S STATION

Special Correspondence to The Herald.
 We are pleased to say we have a new bridge. W. W. Miller, T. Johnson with his team, Harry Ward sent a man and one of his teams and a few others worked faithfully all day Saturday and did a good job that is much appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Miller of Miller avenue are painting their house, which will add to their attractive place.

Mrs. E. L. Craig and daughters of Sanford and Mrs. Bradbury were here on Thursday calling. Mrs. Bradbury is the wife of the engineer on the Sanford & Everglades R'y. Their home is in Griffin, Ga.

Mr. Tracey of Fredonia, Kans., has purchased ten acres west of Geo. Speer's place and will make a home there at once.

L. Knelling of Willoughby, Ohio, who is in Florida for the winter, is now at the Ellsworth home on Beardall avenue for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ellsworth, Jr., were entertained at 6 o'clock dinner at Minnick place, Jan. 18th, Mr. Ellsworth's birthday. Quite a company came in as a complete surprise and brought dainty refreshments and a most delightful evening was spent. The Ellsworths greatly appreciated this evidence of kindly feeling from their friends.

GENEVA JOTTINGS

Special Correspondence to The Herald.
 Mr. and Mrs. Lyon are visiting for a few days in Orlando, they will also visit other places before returning north.

W. L. Sieg of Deland and J. L. Sieg of Sanford visited home folks Sunday last.

The friends of Mrs. Caldwell who formerly lived in Geneva but now lives in Los Angeles, Cal., will sympathize with her in the loss of her mother, Mrs. E. L. Lattermeyer whose death occurred on Dec. 30th, in that city. On New Year's day the body was cremated and is now enroute to Geneva where it will be buried beside her husband.

Miss Laing of Green Cove, Fla., is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. D. Ballard.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Kittle Wells Sieg to Mr. C. W. Culpepper which occurred at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. K. M. Sieg on Sunday evening at 7:30; only relatives and intimate friends being present. The bride wore pale blue silk trimmed in fringe, she carried an arm bouquet of white roses, hyacinths and jessamines, at her throat and in her hair were bands of brilliants, very sweet and dainty she appeared leaning on the arm of the bridegroom as they walked across the sitting room and stood under the arch and faced Rev. E. Lee Smith of Oviedo, who in his pleasing manner joined this popular young couple in the holy bonds of matrimony. After congratulations were offered, delicious refreshments consisting of salads, pickles, gelatine with whipped cream and cake were served. Miss Sieg is the youngest child of a large family and is a general favorite with many who wish for her much happiness as they journey through life. Mr. Culpepper is foreman for Chase & Co., in the Geneva packing house and is held in high esteem by his employers. They are now "at home" in a cozy little home furnished throughout by the bridegroom. Many sincere friends join in wishing this happy pair all happiness and pleasures.

Mr. and Mrs. David Speer entertained the bridal party at six o'clock dinner Monday evening.

Geneva serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Culpepper Monday night, after the "music" the company were invited into the dining room and served with light refreshments after which a pleasant social hour was spent.

CAMERON CITY CLIPPINGS

Special Correspondence to The Herald.
 A Farmer's Institute will be held at Cameron City Friday, February 2, under the auspices of the Cameron City Farmers' Club. At that time Mr. McQuarrie and Prof. Spencer of the Gainesville Experimental Station will be here all day and it is the plan of the club to have them go into the fields in the forenoon and make practical demonstrations regarding soil, drainage, fertilization, etc., and after a basket dinner deliver lectures at the church in the afternoon, on subjects of direct interest to and pertaining to the growing crops of the farmers of the celery delta. These men are supposed to be experts in their line and able to give us much interesting and valuable information and instruction, and the farmer's club is fortunate to secure a day of their time. To the farmers and their wives from all over the delta, the day of recreation and social pleasure will mean much aside from knowledge and inspiration gained. The club earnestly requests the hearty cooperation of all growers in making this institution a success. Committees on advertising, arrangement and reception have been appointed and everything in the power of the club members will be done to make the day a good one for those who attend. Everybody come and bring your dinner and stay all day.

The Farmers' Club held a called meeting Tuesday evening, the 23rd, with the president, C. C. Worthington in the chair, and after planning for the farmers' institute on Feb. 2, the subject of a canal to connect Lake Jessup with our parks was discussed at some length and a committee appointed to, thoroughly investigate the feasibility of such a plan. This has long been in the minds of many people interested in Cameron City and we are hoping something may be done about it. The club also discussed the question of transportation for the school children to and from Sanford. It so happened that on Tuesday there was no car running to bring them home, and those large enough walked the seven miles, while the little folks stayed in town. Whether it be the county commissioners, school board or railroad that is responsible we are not sure, but the club appointed a committee to investigate and see what can be done to prevent a repetition of Tuesday's conditions.

Mr. Fulton's yacht has arrived and is being overhauled and refinished in Sanford. The trip from Pennsylvania was a hard one for it, but it is Mr. Fulton's intention to make it good as new.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens of Wichita were among our callers last week.

There are a great many tourists coming and going these days. Mr. Howard had a crowd of Pennsylvania farmers out showing them about last week, and Mr. Harris and Mr. Swope were piloting a company of Kansans. Mr. Harris lived at Cameron City last year and it was good to see him back.

We are sorry to know that F. F. Dutton has been ill the past week. We miss his almost daily visits here and hope he will soon be out again.

RHEUMATISM

THOUSANDS WHOM IT HAS CURED SING THE PRAISES OF LEONARDI'S ELIXIR.

The Most Wonderful Remedy of Modern Times, Cured Many Who Were Glen Up to Die.

No other disease that afflicts the human race is so common as rheumatism.

Almost every one suffers from it in some form or other. Impure blood is the immediate cause and the waste and poisonous matter must be driven from the blood before rheumatism can be cured.

There are several forms of rheumatism,—chronic, muscular, inflammatory, deforming rheumatism and rheumatic gout.

Overwork, exposure, changeable weather and indigestion all aggravate the disease and hasten its appearance.

In its early stages the aches that accompany the disease are often attributed to less serious causes.

The cure for so deep seated a trouble as rheumatism can never be an ordinary preparation that only dulls the pain and causes temporary relief. There are a thousand and one so-called medicines for rheumatism that not only never cure, but unfortunately are often the means of discouraging those who use them.

Leonardi's Blood Elixir is as little related to these worthless preparations as an honest silver piece is to a clumsy counterfeit.

Leonardi's Blood Elixir is a specific for the cure of rheumatism in all its forms.

The first ache or pain should send you at once to the druggist for a bottle of this remedy. It will cure your rheumatism. It will so cleanse, clear and rejuvenate the blood that every organ of the body will share immediately in the healthier condition. It will build you up and make you strong. Its peculiar ability to increase the amount of new, rich blood and stimulate the action of the liver and kidneys has made it the regular prescription of many of our best physicians.

Dr. M. J. Anderson, a well known physician of Tampa, Fla., writes, "I consider Leonard's Blood Elixir the best blood medicine made. I know from personal experience that it cures the most obstinate cases of blood disease quickly. In my opinion it is a sure cure for rheumatism and I recommend it to all."

Testimony like this should send every sufferer with rheumatism to his druggist for a bottle of Leonard's Blood Elixir. Use it and get well.

A Statement of Facts Backed by a Strong Guarantee.

We guarantee immediate and positive relief to all sufferers from constipation. In every case where our remedy fails to do this we will return the money paid us for it. That's a frank statement of facts, and we want you to substantiate them at our risk.

Rezall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rezall Orderlies are unsurpassable and ideal for the use of children, old folks and delicate persons. We cannot too highly recommend them to all sufferers from any form of constipation and its attendant evils. That's why we back our faith in them with our promise of money back if they do not give entire satisfaction. Three sizes: 12 tablets 10 cents, 30 tablets 25 cents and 60 tablets 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain Rezall Remedies only at our store—The Rezall Store.

MR. BEACHAM'S PLATFORM

In this issue of The Herald appears the platform of Hon. Braxton Beacham, candidate for Congressman at Large.

What a world of good are in these two items alone!

Better roads, better channels for our river, better harbors. What state in the Union today needs these more than Florida?

What state in the Union today could accomplish more with better roads and better river transportation than Florida?

These two projects literally relegate all other questions to the background and place Mr. Beacham at the head of the procession of candidates.

His facts about the St. Johns and Ocklawaha rivers cannot fail to appeal to every student of Florida's geographical history.

"It is therefore, upon these two great issues—The building of great highways and the improving of the waterways—which I believe of the chiefest concern in the present internal development of the United States, that I seek office at the hands of the people of this state.

prosperity and growth of Florida. I, therefore, come before her people, asking for their suffrage that may thereby give me the opportunity, in the Congress of the United States, to plead and work for measures so devoutly to be wished.

I have endeavored, in setting forth my views on these issues, not to introduce matters that might in any way obscure them. Consequently I have discussed nothing of a purely party nature, and I wish now simply to say; that I am in entire accord with the policies of the great Democratic party, and if I am elected to the Congress of the United States, I shall do all in my power to make the policy of the party effective in the National Life."

The ultimate control of all shipping through the Panama Canal by the foreign "shipping trust," with chief benefit to big American shippers, such as the United States Steel Corporation, would result from the admission of foreign ships to the American coastwise trade, according to President George S. Dearborn, of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, who testified today before the House Committee on interstate Commerce.

Following the report that the campaign against the high price of butter was spreading rapidly all over the country and that farmers were communicating with the Housewives' League, of which Mrs. Julian Heath is president, offering an ample supply at a greatly reduced cost word was received that the desired effect was being attained in the Middle West and that the price of the commodity had been cut in both Elgin, Ill., and Cleveland.

Gen. Bernardo Reyes will not be backed up against a wall, blindfold and shot for inciting a rebellion against the Mexican government, for which crime he now occupies a cell in Bellein prison, Mexico City. That opinion is expressed by President Francisco I. Madero, in a signed communication to the San Antonio Express, which that paper will print tomorrow morning.

ANNOUNCEMENT FOR CONGRESS.

MR. BRAXTON BEACHAM.

Following is the platform upon which Mr. B. Beacham will stand for Congressman at Large:

Forword.

In announcing for Congressman at large for the great State of Florida, I desire, first of all, to express my sincerest gratitude for the kindly expressions on the part of my friends of their belief in my fitness for the place, which have appeared, from time to time, in the public prints. While I am deeply conscious that I do not merit all that has been said, in behalf of my candidacy, I am, however, quite sure, that no one could be more thankful for what they have written, in my interest, than I.

It is my determined purpose, in making this race for Congress, to deal in entire candor with myself and with the public. I do not wish to pose as one, whose importance is such, that the idea of seeking office, of this character, had to come to him, wholly through the suggestions of friends. This, in my judgment, would be an abuse of the generosity that has been shown me. On the other hand, I can truthfully say, that the initiative having been taken, by those who thought that I was qualified for this high position, has made it much easier for me to make this public announcement of my purpose, and has greatly strengthened my faith in my ability to serve my State in Congress.

I am at that time of life, when the physical man is, as I believe, at the best for good service. My mental endowments and attainments, whatever they may be, their limitations, when compared with those of others, I am persuaded, have been developed to such an extent, that caution, sobriety, and earnestness, will control in the forming of judgments for directing conduct. By frugality and diligence, I am possessed of sufficient means to allow me to give myself to the demands of public affairs, without fret concerning my private interest, and so as in no way to detract from the duties that I shall owe to my State and constituency, should I be entrusted with the duties of Congressman at large from the great State of Florida. I will say in all frankness, that I much desire the office, in the meaning ordinarily conveyed, when it is said that men aspire for place. Being a plain man, from the people, I am ambitious to reflect credit upon myself and the people I may represent. But above these motives, which spring naturally in the human heart, I am come to the season in life when I desire, more than all else, to be of service to my country in a larger way than has yet been my privilege, and if I shall be elected to the Congress of the United States, I pledge to bring to the high office my best powers and energies of body and mind and heart. I pledge to put my entire self to the task of making my life count for the good of my State and of my countrymen.

Platform.

In the political evolution of our government, nothing strikes the student of history with greater force than the recurrence of great issues. The size, variety of interest, and general inequality of the different sections has, in general, been the cause of, first: one issue being to the fore, then another. Great measures have been relegated to the background not because they were unworthy of serious consideration, but rather because our country has as yet, developed sections. The majority control, a cardinal tenet of our government, and rightly so, has nevertheless worked a hardship on the more sparsely settled and less favored sections of the United States; consequently parts of the country are richer in the holdings of money, culture and institutions, than are other parts, equally as worthy of such institutions and money holdings, and as susceptible of such development, but they are in the background because those measures necessary for such improvement, as yet have not been pressed, or else they have, for the time given way to other measures more easily understood as belonging to the function of the National government.

For instance, it is understood that until the war of 1812 the main purpose of our tariff had been revenue, with protection only as an incident. During the war manufacturing became developed, partly through our own embargo, partly through the armed hostility. Manufacturing had grown to be an extensive interest, comparing in importance with agriculture and commerce. Therefore, in the new tariff of 1816 the relation was reversed, protection being made the main aim and revenue the incident. Here we have a most interesting illustration of how a measure was brought to the front for the benefit of a section and for the enrichment of a class. A measure against, which the Democratic party has always contended in the advocacy of a tariff for revenue only. Which policy is equitable for the whole country. A policy, however, that has been kept in the background, until now the Democratic party has grown strong enough in this country to enforce this type of legislation, that many of our most enlightened citizens, belonging to other political parties, including Mr. Webster himself, has contended was the only just and equitable tariff measure for the entire Union.

As I have indicated such inequalities in governmental affairs have been due, not alone to sectional greed, but because of the vastness of our country and the variety of its interests. Consequently, sometimes, as in the tariff, theories, long in service, have had to be abandoned. The evolution of the Government has been towards a better understanding of the needs of the Union. The perfection of the Union of the several States can only come through a perfect understanding of the many parts and an equal care for the needs of the varied sections.

It has always been admitted that Congress may lay taxes to build and improve light-houses, public docks, and all such properties, whereof the United States is to hold the title. The general improvement of harbors, on the other hand, the Constitution meant to leave to the States allowing each to cover the expense by levying tonnage duties. The practice for years correspond with this. The inland commonwealths, however, as they were admitted, justly regarded this unfair, unless offset by Government's aid to them in the construction of roads, canals, and riverways.

It may be mentioned, also, that the war of 1812 revealed the need of better means for direct communication with the remote sections of the Union. Transportation to Detroit had cost fifty cents per pound of ammunition, sixty dollars per barrel of flour. All admitted that improved internal routes were necessary. The question was whether the general government had a right to construct them without amendment to the Constitution. The Whigs, like the old Federalists, affirmed such right, appealing to Congress' power to establish post roads, wage war, supervise inter-state trade, and conserve the common defense and general welfare. As a rule, the Democrats, denied such right. Some of them justified outlay upon national rivers and commercial harbors under the Congressional power of raising revenue and regulating commerce. Others conceded the rightfulness of subsidies to States even for bettering inland routes. Treasury surplus at times, and the money appropriations which, by common consent, had been made under Monroe and later for the old National Road, encouraged the Whig contention, but the whole question was taken out of politics by the rise of the railroad system after 1832. The National Road had, however, been built across Ohio and Indiana on its way to St. Louis, and was made over in 1830 to the States through which it passed.

This, in brief, is the history of a measure of the greatest import to the Nation, which at one time was to the fore, and has been left in the background only because in the rapid development of National resources, other measures have seemed the more important. It must be understood that this is not a measure that any party, not even for party success, has declared without the pale of the Constitution and as not belonging within the function of the National Government.

My contention is that the growth of the country and the consequent new needs of our day, demand the giving of this great measure its proper perspective. It cannot be successfully denied that the future happiness, contentment and prosperity of the American people depends more on good roads than on any other type of construction for intercommunication. I do not believe, at this time, with the already constructed railroads, that any additional number of railroads would mean so much to any large section of this country, as a system of thoroughly modern highways would mean to the people and no other endeavor could be freighted with greater possibilities for increasing the wealth of the country people. Rome made an Empire not so much by the Roman sword, as by the net work of the Roman roads.

If one will take any single county, in the great State of Florida, in the less favored sections of the State, and will make a calculation in the saving of time and energy, the increase in the volume in handling the increase in the number of trips per day, the greater contentment on the part of the rural population, the culture, from ease of communication with centers where women and children can observe the habits and customs of more advanced civilization, I am persuaded that such an one will conclude that the greatest need of our great State, at this time, is more extended and better highways. I am persuaded, that the beginning of this great issue, as a factor in the building of the Nation, before the Congress of the United States will be the playing of a part in the political development of our government, as important and as beneficial as any played by our great fathers in the more formative period of the Nation and of the Constitution. I, therefore, come before the people of this great Commonwealth, asking for their suffrage for Congress at Large, pledging myself to the advocacy of this great measure of National aid in the building of highways in the several States.

I realize the ease, with which the part new needs have played and may play, in directing our governmental conduct, may be lost sight of, and understanding as I do, that the common people often conclude that a measure is not feasible simply because they hear disinterested or indifferent public men speak lightly of such measures, I am, therefore, at the greater pains to show what a large part new needs have played in shaping our policies. Perhaps there is no tenet of our government, more clearly showing its evolution, through new necessities in the voicing of new conditions, than the Monroe Doctrine.

I have merely alluded to this doctrine in order to give force to the claim that there must be yet fuller interpretation to the function of the National government, in developing the natural resources of this country, if we are to possess the goodly inheritance that may be ours, by a wise and conservative application of the rights guaranteed under the Constitution, when those rights are interpreted in the light of the new National needs. No man can foretell the influence of America on the civilizations of the world, but many are feeling that much of that influence will depend upon how its Statesmen of today give shape to the purposes of this government in aiding in the development of American resources. The government has already come to recognize that the development and improvement of waterways in the United States is a function of the National government, and that the contentment, prosperity and wealth of the nation is dependent, to a degree, thereupon. This conception, which all now recognize as just and right, is an evolution, through slow processes of the public mind.

We have in the State of Florida a river, worth more for the making of wealth, the reclaiming of lands, the building of homes and schools, and the bringing of a healthful and thrifty citizenship to the State, than is in the power of many men, at the present time, to conceive. To many of the citizens of Florida the St. Johns river means no more than it meant to the wild Creek or Seminole Indian, a pleasant stream to meander along the banks of, and a goodly place for pastime with the rod and gun. The United States' government itself, has as yet never had brought before its Congress the enormous potential value of this stream to this State and to the nation. The paltry sums of money which have been expended by the government in improving navigation is the best argument for showing that neither your representatives in Congress, nor others, have succeeded in bringing to public attention, this natural source, from which in the future, shall come untold wealth to the people of this State. If one will make a study of the topography of the country through which the St. Johns river flows, consider the direction to which the river tends, and will recall, that from its source to beyond Jacksonville, when it gives itself to the great ocean there is only a fall of an insignificant number of feet, that there is not, what may be called a rapid in its entire length, he will be startled at the contemplation of the ease and comparatively little cost with which this river can be turned into a great OCEANIC CANAL, with ocean steamers coming to their piers and taking on their cargoes at Sanford, and such an observer will also see that the present development of the State is only in its infancy. Under this procedure new possibilities will come to the old man ready to turn over the affairs of life to the son, and larger hopes would spring in the breast of every younger son of toll.

We, as yet, are new in this State to large expenditures, but happily the Nation has come to understand that large expenditure, resulting in permanent good, is better than small expenditure resulting in nothing that is lasting. In my judgment, if the merits of the St. Johns river as a stream for the travel of ocean steamers inland, were put before Congress, with force that the cause demands, a million or two million of dollars could be secured for such a purpose, as easily and more so, than one hundred thousand dollars could be secured for the improvement of some particular part of this river, resulting in no lasting good and bringing no apparent prosperity to any large section of the State.

If the St. Johns river was opened for ocean vessels to Sanford, the canal, under the sluggish flow of its stream, would remain an open canal for generations. The nature of the stream and the country through which it flows are such that no amount of rainfall would even endanger its channel by filling it with the wash from floods, as is the case in most of the streams of America. The most impressive stream in the British Isles, is the Clyde in Scotland, but it is not known to the average traveller that this great ship-bearing river, of the greatest vessels that ply the ocean, is entirely a man-made stream for such craft. Time was when only the small craft of the wild man of the North of Europe plied these waters, now the ships of all seas empty their bottoms at Glasgow and from the great ship yards, that line the banks of this great canal-river, some of the finest ships afloat have been sent down her channel to do service on all the oceans of the world, and some of the most beautiful homes of men are on the banks of this stream, made beautiful because made serviceable, by the skill and energy, and daring of man.

Under modern engineering the St. Johns river may be made a great ship carrying canal, with such ease as to make the opening of the Clyde in Scotland, appear a Herculean task in comparison. The fact is that under the system of suction the mud from the channel could be banked on either side, without interfering with the flow of water or lessening its volume, and which in no way, would do damage to property immediately adjacent to the river, nor to that in the surrounding country.

There would be no expensive blasting or cuts from Sanford to the ocean. Not a single dam or lock would have to be built, but only a channel would have to be opened, under the cheapest construction known to the science of engineering, and Florida would have the best and the cheapest ship-canal in the world. It can be safely affirmed that the St. Johns river can be made navigable for ocean craft, at less expense, than any other stream in the United States, and that the benefits therefrom will be as great, for the country, at large, and this State in particular, as any work the government has done, of a similar nature, for any section of the United States.

In addition to the large area of country along the travel of the St. Johns river there is another large section of Florida, bound to this river in sending its waters to the ocean, known as Lake county, with some fifteen hundred lakes of varying sizes, but in the aggregate making a volume of water that gives pause when one contemplates the possibilities in these same waters if properly utilized for enriching the country. The Oklawaha river is the outlet of these lakes to the St. Johns river. This stream is of such importance that the government has already expended considerable sums of money, from time to time, for improving its navigation. I may say here, however, that what has been done, on both the St. Johns and the Oklawaha rivers, by the government has not made these streams navigable for different craft, nor opened them for navigation in any different season, than was the carrying powers of the streams before the government began its work of improving them, which in my judgment is due to the fact that the work of improving these streams has never been gone at on a sufficiently large scale nor in such manner as their merits and possibilities as waterways for the country demanded. It is not difficult for the average man to understand that one or two hundred thousand dollars may be expended on such an enterprise and result in no appreciable benefit, while a million or two millions of dollars expended on the same enterprise will not only bring a lasting benefit but will in the long run, be far the cheaper to the government. Such a system of improved waterways, as I advocate, would bring under the dominion of man a vast area of land, for oranges growth and trucking purposes, and give to them access to the markets of the world by a cheap mode of transportation, that are now as wild as when the red men roamed the forest.

The practicability of utilizing these lake waters is now abundantly shown in the fact that the Oklawaha river is already navigable for inferior craft, and which can be made into a stream that will carry large enough craft into the St. Johns river, bearing the products of the country, for the loading of ocean going vessels. Not only so, but such a development would mean the dotting of the lips of these great lakes with beautiful homes and a country subdued to man's will, paying tribute from the soil, to the genius and labor of man, in rich reward.

What I have said about cheapness in improving waterways applies equally to highways. If one will stop to think that, in all the affairs of life, the cheapest things are the durable things, he will be convinced that the first cost of a road should be sufficient to congestate an abundance of good road building material and that it should be used with generosity sufficient to insure permanent results.

A system of great roads from Pensacola to Jacksonville, from Jacksonville to Tampa, or to Miami, or to any other section of the State can be built by simply grading and throwing up the bed from the soil along the several routes, and brick laid upon such a Little Happenings—Mention of Matters in Brief.

PERSONAL ITEMS OF INTEREST

Summary of the Floating Small Talk Succinctly Arranged for Hurried Herald Readers.

L. P. Hagan of Markham was a special visit in the city Tuesday.

N. M. Smith of Winter Park motored to Sanford Tuesday, on business.

J. R. Chaffin of Atlanta Georgia, is the guest of J. E. Lang and family.

Mrs. Walter Cooper of Sorrento, was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. C. W. Brown.

Mrs. A. E. Allen and daughter, Miss Hazel were shopping visitors to the city, Tuesday.

Mrs. C. W. Brown left Wednesday for Astar, where she will make a visit of several weeks.

M. P. Lips has purchased the Stockton residence on Fifth street and will make it his future residence.

Miss Ruth Pullian of Minnesota left for her home Wednesday after a pleasant visit to the Misses Stewart.

Mrs. A. A. Sistine's host of friends will be glad to know that she is well enough to be up again, after a recent severe attack of grippe.

Miss Rose Dickinson returned to the city Tuesday evening after a visit of several weeks to her sister, Mrs. Harry Sloan of Jacksonville.

Harry Enstein has returned to Sanford after spending several weeks in New York. His sister accompanied him and will remain during the winter.

The Marks Real Estate Agency has rented one of the rooms of the Sanford House annex next to M. P. Lips and will fit up a fine real estate office.

Mrs. J. W. Wingate and little daughter of Jacksonville, who has been the guest of her aunt Mrs. Ernest Tolar, left Saturday for Titusville, to visit relatives.

Mr. Forrest Lake has returned from Tampa where he represented the Sanford Commercial Club at the banquet tendered the Rivers and Harbors Committee on Wednesday night.

Mable Page Co. will be at the Imperial next Friday and Saturday nights. This will be interesting news to the Sanford friends of this bunch of real good actors and actresses.

The many friends of O. E. Walker of Eureka Kansas are glad to see him back in Sanford for the winter. Mr. Walker as usual will plant Irish potatoes and expects to realize a good profit from them.

In the great regret of the many friends made during her stay in Sanford, Miss Dorothy Hayes, the charming nurse and guest of Mrs. W. D. Holden left Tuesday afternoon for her home in Tracy City Tenn.

Mrs. W. A. Parr has been appointed long distance operator in the Telephone Exchange. All the other operators are rejoicing over this welcome addition to their force, as it very materially lightens their work.

Right Rev. W. J. Kenny, Bishop of St. Augustine, is the guest of Father Bresnahan this week at the parochial residence. Both will leave for Eustis Saturday to dedicate a new Catholic church in that city on Sunday.

Mrs. Julian Carpenter, who was the charming guest of her sister, Mrs. Forrest Lake for several weeks, returned to her home in Jacksonville Wednesday afternoon. The social circle will always be glad to welcome Mrs. Carpenter's return.

Dr. W. H. Word and Dr. Hulsey who are guests of W. W. Long are visiting in Tampa this week, together with Miss Beale Long. These genial doctors are in love with Florida and may decide to locate here and escape the rigors of a North Carolina winter.

M. E. Sparrow of Tampa writes the Herald that he claims to be the champion welter weight or middle weight scrapper in Florida and we do not doubt his word. If any champions in Sanford are doubtful about Sparrow they can write him at 1411 Morgan street and mix it up.

The many friends of Peter Johnson of Michigan were glad to see him here today. He arrived on the Clyde Line and will spend the winter in Orlando, and as usual will be the authority on all racing matters. Mr. Johnson expects to attend the Sanford Horse Show on Feb. 14th and will be a most welcome guest.

Paul K. Weaver, who was recently elected assistant cashier of the Citizens Bank of Kissimmee, arrived Tuesday to assume his duties. Mr. Weaver has for some time been auditor for the Sanford & Everglades Railway, and is a young man of pleasing address and comes to city with a splendid reputation as a business man and a gentleman, and will receive a warm welcome among our citizens.—Kissimmee Journal.

Mrs. William Calvin Chilton, as a monodramatist is a delightful success. Her interpretation and portrayal of more than a dozen different characters, in the same play, is simply wonderful. She is without a doubt a thorough mistress of her art.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE WORKERS

Cameron City Will Have Meeting On Friday, February 2

Since the "Better Farming Special" completed its tour before the holidays no regular institutes have been held. Many institutes have been necessarily postponed during the past three months that will now receive due attention. Calls are coming in from counties in various parts of the state. West Florida and South Florida, even as those places where the Better Farming Special covered, are making their requests for regular institute sessions. The heavy drain on the institute funds, together with the limited time at the command of the workers makes it necessary that these institutes be placed on a circuit, thereby losing as little time as possible and accomplishing the most good.

For the following week, Duval, Nassau and Putnam counties are receiving attention and beginning with January 23 a southward trip will be made by the institute workers. The following tentative itinerary has been arranged for South Florida, beginning January 23rd:
 Tuesday, Jan. 23, Summerfield.
 Wednesday, Jan. 24, Crystal Springs.
 Thursday, Jan. 25, Zephyrhills.
 Friday, Jan. 26, Knights' Station.
 Saturday, Jan. 27, Ruskin.
 Sunday—
 Monday, Jan. 29, Riverview.
 Tuesday, Jan. 30, Davenport.
 Wednesday, Jan. 31, St. Cloud.
 Thursday, Feb. 1, Taft.
 Friday, Feb. 2, Cameron City.

At most of these points local Farmers' Institutes were established a year ago and it is expected that a greater interest will be taken in the Farmers' Institute work of that section than in any previous year.

Hillsboro county has been especially active from the start for the improvement of its farming interest. Some of the newer sections of Hillsboro county are calling for help outside of the regular Farmers' Institute work. This can only be given in a limited extent, but wherever assistance is possible the institute workers are willing to make an effort to help these people out. Other sections of the State are making similar requests. The newcomers to Florida finding new problems realize that their conditions are so different from that they have been accustomed to are asking in particular about the crops that are suitable to their locations and fertilizer applications. Most of these people are interested in poultry raising and are calling for literature from the Experiment Station that at present is not available. The better farming special has awakened an interest for better agriculture and it is expected that this class of work will be considerably enlarged as soon as conditions permit.

Butter is Down

New York, Jan. 25.—With the drop of two cents in the wholesale price of butter here, from 40 to 38 cents, wholesalers predict that the price trend from now is likely to be downward if market conditions remain normal. Large receipts last week, 60,000 sixty-pound tubs more than the corresponding week ago, are believed to have been responsible for the drop. Just enough butter is available, it is declared, to supply the market with the demand normal between now and the time of the opening of spring pastures begin to make the commodity plentiful.

ONE MILLION DOLLARS FOR A GOOD STOMACH.

This Offer Should Be a Warning to Every Man and Woman.

The newspapers and medical journals recently have had much to say relative to a famous millionaire's offer of a million dollars for a new stomach.

This great multi-millionaire was too busy to worry about the condition of his stomach. He allowed his dyspepsia to run from bad to worse until in the end it became incurable.

His misfortune serves as a warning to others.

Every one who suffers with dyspepsia for a few years will give everything he owns for a new stomach.

Dyspepsia is commonly caused by an abnormal state of the gastric juices, or, by lack of tone in the walls of the stomach. The result is that the stomach loses its power to digest food.

We are now able to supply certain missing elements—to help to restore to the gastric juices their digestive power, and to aid in making the stomach strong and well.

We know that Baxall Dyspepsia Tablets are a most dependable remedy for disordered stomachs, indigestion, and dyspepsia.

We want you to try them and will return your money if you are not more than satisfied with the result.

Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Baxall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Baxall Store, L. R. PHILIPS & CO.

For State Senator—Arthur E. Donegan

To the Democratic Voters of Orange and Osceola Counties

I am a candidate for state senator from the senatorial district composed of Orange and Osceola counties and will appreciate your support.

I have served the people of my county at various times as deputy tax collector, deputy clerk of the circuit court, member of the state congress, committee and clerk of the circuit court and I have discharged the duties of each of these offices with the honor and respect of my people.

In asking you to elect me as state senator I believe that you are entitled to a legislative body that will be entirely satisfactory to you.

RAILROADIN' IS HARRUD WORUK

"Florida Grower, Oct. 26, 1911. 'I see in the Tobacco Onion that was a terrible thing for Timple to telgraf to the papers that green fruit oranges is poison' said Mr. Hennessy.

"Well, responded Mr. Dooley, 'the Tobacco has a duty to perform and the orange performer which give its effects. Says the big boss at Saint Augustine, 'This the Onion had a crack at the Florida Exchange this morning'.

"'It has not,' says the office boy. 'Where is the Major with the long name?' says the boss.

"The last time I seen him he said he had the typewriter's wrist," says the boy.

"Well, tell him that if he can't get busy to give the Exchange an other crack pretty soon he'll have the Frinch neck," says the boss, an so the Major has to get busy on four-three columns of wind for the Onion. Railroadin' is harrud woruk.

"What's this I hear about a protic association sending telgraf to the Guyoner's an' sayin' that the whole thing was just a fist flie between the lads in the frute bustness?"

"That," said Mr. Dooley, "is a no clety for the promotion of Ketchum & Co., these lads thinkin' they're in the flie themselves. Sure they're no flie at all, it's a walkover an' the referee has awarded the contant."

"He had a brick in his glove," says Ketchum, when he woke up. "The flie was not an the square. 'I was drugged,' says he, 'wid sour orange juice,' and I protat the decision."

"The other lad already has the gate receipts an' the medal an' of course the protat don't go, but it relieves his feelins and does no harrud."

"Did the other lad have a brick in his glove?" said Mr. Hennessy.

"'Fallo, I dunno," responded Mr. Dooley. 'I'd sooner think 'twas a horseshoe, 'tis handier an' fits the glove better and they's good luck in it 'ereefol for the other lad. Timple ony swung onct an' he still has the other glove in reserve an' hees goin' to swing that one pretty soon now, an' they'll be moor knockouts comin' to the sour frute lada."

arranged to be put in this way, again a statement made by the same person, who says that the same thing was said by the same person to the same person.

AN ORDINANCE

Sanford, Fla., January 23, 1912. The City Council of the City of Sanford, Florida, do hereby ordain, enact and establish that the Public Market in the City of Sanford, Florida, shall be located on the corner of Park Avenue and North Street, more specifically located as being 7 feet north of the South line of North Street and 1 foot east of the West line of Park Avenue.

Section 1. That the Sanford Telephone Company, a corporation operating a telephone system in the City of Sanford, under and by virtue of a franchise granted to the City of Sanford on July 27th, 1907, by the Board of Commissioners of the State of Florida, do hereby ordain, enact and establish that the Sanford Telephone Company shall be required to pay to the City of Sanford, Florida, a sum of $100.00 per month for the use of the telephone lines located within the corporate limits of the City of Sanford, Florida, as provided and stipulated in Section 2 of an ordinance granting certain rights and privileges to W. B. Mitchell of Sanford, Florida, dated and passed by the City Council of Sanford, Florida, on July 27th, 1907.

Section 2. All ordinances and parts of ordinances contained in this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Approved by the City Council of the City of Sanford, Florida, this 23rd day of January, 1912.

Are You Nervous? What makes you nervous? It is the weakness of your womanly constitution, which cannot stand the strain of the hard work you do. As a result, you break down, and ruin your entire nervous system. Don't keep this up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients. It acts gently on the womanly organs, and helps them to do their proper work. It relieves pain and restores health, in a natural manner, by going to the source of the trouble and building up the bodily strength. TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic. Mrs. Grace Fortner, of Man, W. Va., took Cardui. This is what she says about it: "I was so weak and nervous, I could not bear to have anyone near me. I had fainting spells, and I lost flesh every day. The first dose of Cardui helped me. Now, I am entirely cured of the fainting spells, and I cannot say enough for Cardui, for I know it saved my life." It is the best tonic for women. Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to women? Take Cardui. It will help you. Ask your druggist. SWEATED ORANGES

To Take the Place of Artificially Ripened Fruit—How One Law May Be Evaded—Florida Products Restricted by Statute.

(Boston, Mass., Transcript, 11-20-11.)

A dispatch from Los Angeles warns the people of the East that their Thanksgiving tables will this year be without California oranges, owing to the order of the bureau of food and drug inspection that the shipment of artificially ripened fruit will be in violation of the law. But the loss will be slight, for much better oranges than those that by their fair exteriors lure to the purchase of fruit still green and bitter and that we have the word of the scientists for are distinctly poisonous to the digestive organs. Yet in spite of the dispatch there is the probability that seemingly ripe oranges will await an eager purchase, for there is nothing in the law to prevent the California shippers from sending East fruit in the green state, and nothing to prevent the dealers receiving them from subjecting them to the sweating process that gives them the golden appearance of the ripe orange. The states could here interpose their pure food regulations, if any such applied, but the national law can only operate in commerce between the states. Back of the ruling of the national pure food bureau that within the definition of adulterated food, as such food is mixed, colored, powdered, coated or stained in a manner where by damage or inferiority is concealed, are included oranges forced to an appearance of ripeness while the sugar and acid content is still that of green fruit, is the agitation of the whole subject by the Florida Citrus Exchange, as the association of shippers of oranges, grapefruit, plantain and bananas is called, which looks to the national government to help save the reputation of the Florida fruit. There is a gap in the orange market between the supply from California and from Florida, and grasping shippers have been in the habit, it is charged, of shipping green fruit or fruit artificially colored by sweating, to the serious damage of the good name of Florida oranges and the eventual falling off in the demand for it, for buyers of bitter oranges sold under the name of Floridas are quite likely to associate bitterness forever more with the brand and to leave it alone. To protect its reputation Florida enacted a law prohibiting the exportation of unripe fruit, and to make the law more effective the assistance of the Federal government has been invoked, in putting artificially ripened oranges under the adulterated food ban.

There may be some question as to what extent the government is justified in interfering with private business to protect the public welfare, but if it is justified, as intelligent public opinion is agreed, in helping to save the public from making the mistake of buying doctored canned goods and eggs too old to be fit for use, for instance, then it is equally justified in trying to keep out of the market oranges that while really unfit for food masquerade as fit. There is no need to argue that the people ought to be allowed to buy green fruit if they want to. They don't want to, and if they knew it was green they wouldn't buy it. Not being experts enough to know when it is "processed," processed oranges may fairly enough be kept out of the market as a health precaution.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here the Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

Secretary of War Stimson, acting upon an exhaustive report from the general staff, has decided that no less than six thousand and probably eighteen strong army units should at once be abandoned. "In order to put an end to the extravagance and inefficiency resulting from improper distribution of the mobile army."

A marked rise in temperature will overtake the Eastern states tomorrow, according to the weekly forecast issued tonight by the weather bureau and moderate temperature will prevail over the eastern half of the country during the greater part of the coming week.

Persons close to administration circles say today that it will be most unusual if nothing is heard of former President Roosevelt's intentions within the next forty-eight hours. In fact so confident are they that something will be forthcoming from Oyster Bay as a result of the visit of Gov. Glasscock, of West Virginia, and Senator Lodge and Congressman Longworth that they are almost willing to say that Mr. Roosevelt will issue a statement along the line of his conversation with the West Virginia governor—that is that while he is not a candidate he would not under certain circumstances refuse the nomination should it be offered him at the Chicago convention.

The Democratic steel bill probably will pass the house tomorrow. Majority leaders claim to have assurance that it will have the support of the Republican progressive in the senate. Informal conferences seem to have developed that the Democratic progressive Republican coalition, which sent the tariff revisions of the special session to President Taft for his veto, will again prevail.

The progressive Democratic League of Columbus, Ohio, has issued a statement declaring that Governor Harmon is out of harmony and calls upon Democrats to nominate a progressive for President.

The army appropriation bill, carrying $58,510,000 and the agriculture bill, $15,836,974, have been reported to the House. The pension bill, carrying about $150,000,000 will be reported.

House Democrats will caucus tonight to determine if an economy program shall be adhered to in the present Congress. The fight against the proposed $16,000,000 public building bill is expected to be the chief feature. Chairman Fitzgerald of the appropriations committee, Democratic Leader Underwood and others hope to defeat the plan in the caucus.

Clara Barton who has been ill of nervous exhaustion since November is much improved and physicians today declared she would soon be out.

Six Republican governors are enrolled on a self appointed committee to advocate the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt for the presidency, according to Gov. Stubbs of Kansas.

Long-Dickinson

The following invitation has been received by the friends of the contracting parties

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Dickinson request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter Rose Baskerville

Mr. Martin Henry Long on the evening of Monday February 12th at six of the clock Church of the Holy Cross Sanford Florida.

Mrs. Dickinson has a host of friend in Sanford and is a popular and attractive member of the social circles. Mr. Long is a prominent attorney in the city of Jacksonville, where he has made his home for the past five years. He is popular in social circles, and is a well known club man. Mr. Long was formerly from Boston, he is a graduate of Harvard University and also of the Harvard Law School. After a pleasant northern trip, Mr. and Mrs. Long will return to Jacksonville, their future home.

Dr. J. C. Davis optician will be at the Robbins Nest hotel in near future. Watch for his ad.

GOOD ROADS TRAIN

Will Tour Florida Reaching Sanford Next Friday

Entering Florida Tuesday, January 30, stopping the next day at Jacksonville, the Good Roads train of the United States office of Public Roads and the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad will tour all of the trunk mileage of that road in the state, spending twenty-four days en route and closing the tour at Lake Butler, Feb. 22nd.

This train started from Richmond, Va., Nov. 24th, after having been on exhibition at the Good Roads Congress in that city for two days. That Congress was one of the most important yet held in the interests of better highways. President Taft having taken an active part in the program and in the work of the meeting. The train is equipped with a private car to accommodate the government experts and representatives of the Highway Association and the Atlantic Coast Line, an exhibition car, sixty feet in length, with railings and counter, and equipped with an engine for generating electric power for operating the lantern in the lecture car, a sixty foot lecture car, equipped with platform for lecturers and seats for the audience.

Models of all types of modern highway construction and working models of road machinery are exhibited and operated by electricity and their practical working clearly demonstrated. In the lecture car are given free illustrated lectures on road building, exhibits and views of fine highways are arranged in one of the cars.

The itinerary of this train on its tour of the Coast Line mileage in the state gives an opportunity to every section to visit the lecture and working machinery cars and receive the benefit of the most recent improvements in the manner of handling the roads. Wilbur McCoy, Florida Agricultural and Immigration Agent of the Coast Line, will be with the train of its trip through the state. The train will arrive in Sanford next Friday.

WILL OPEN CANNING FACTORY

Tomatoes and Beans Will be Canned in Sanford

Harry Ward will open his canning factory this season during the tomato season and expects to put up hundreds of cans of tomatoes and beans.

Mr. Ward expects to have twenty acres in tomatoes on his farm and will run all the surplus from other farmers.

Two years ago Mr. Ward operated his factory and put up considerable in the tomato and bean and other lines but could not dispose of it to the wholesale or retail growers. This season he will sell the entire output direct to the consumer and already has orders enough to keep the factory running full time during the season.

Killed By Printing Press

St. Augustine, Jan. 28.—A sad and deplorable accident occurred at the Record plant late Friday evening, which resulted in the instant death of Mr. Ernest Hubbard, one of the Record company's valued employees, engaged as night foreman.

While working at one of the large presses in the press room shortly before 11 o'clock Friday evening, Mr. Hubbard found need of an oil can which was under the press. Mr. Hubbard reached under the press for the can, but it was not in exactly the spot expected, and the second consumed in locating it was fatal.

The bed of the press making its trips back and forth struck Mr. Hubbard in the head a crushing blow, and inflicted a wound from which the unfortunate man died almost instantly. The skull being crushed.

His fellow workmen rushed instantly to his assistance and pulled him from his fatal position, partially under the press, and everything possible was done for the man, but all efforts were in vain, and he died within a few minutes after the accident occurred.

Vegetables Will Be High

The cold has wiped out the vegetables of Louisiana, Texas, and some parts of Southern California, and in consequence Florida vegetables will command high prices. The wet weather of Florida has injured the celery crop to some extent, but first shipments show good quality, selling at $2. Cauliflower is in the aristocratic class and bringing growers good returns.—Plant City Courier.

The Sanford Music Club will hold their regular meeting at Comfort Cottage, Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. D. L. Thrasher, leader.

FOR CHARITY'S SAKE

Sanford Will Hold A Grand Two Days' Fete

OUR HORSE SHOW AND FIELD DAY

Preparations Being Made For Many Fine Events—Athletics, Automobile Parade, Etc.

Come to Sanford on February 13 and 14th. There will not be a Madison Garden event this season, but the show will be an annual event each year and get better all the time.

Every committee is busy with preparations for taking care of each detail and they will fit into a complete machine when the day breaks.

W. T. Ejelds, that veteran who has arranged state fairs horse shows and every other event of like nature in many other states has charge of the horse show and the booths and field certainly is working wonders. He has a valuable corps of assistants, especially among the ladies, and the merchants are taking an active part in the celebration and giving their time and money to make it a grand success.

The entry blanks have been sent out and a generous response from the lovers of horseth in the county has been the result.

The latest idea is a grand automobile parade, and the Sanford people who take part in the Orlando event will keep their decorations intact and exhibit at Sanford's big fete.

The proceeds will go to sweet charity in the shape of the Sanford Hospital a most worthy cause and every cent expended will return a hundredfold to the donors.

Let everybody get out and hustle and make February 13th and 14th two red letter days in Sanford's history.

TO ADVERTISE FLORIDA

G. T. Spear of Lakeland Wants Photographs for Lantern Slides

G. T. Spear, of Lakeland, who has had much experience in the motion picture business, has sold his Star Theatre in that city and proposes to make a tour of the Northern and Eastern States, giving illustrated lectures about Florida. Mr. Spear is now collecting a series of typical views of interesting points in the state, which he will transfer to hand-colored slides and use in a thirty-minute lecture, to be delivered in some prominent place in each city and town he visits. He is depending upon the Boards of Trade of Florida towns to furnish him with photographs from these slides are to be made. He desires that these bodies send him photographs or postcard views, not more than ten from each town, and he will use them in his lecture, charging the nominal fee of $1 per view per month to cover the expense of making and exhibiting the slides. He especially desires views from Tampa, Jacksonville, Sanford, Orlando, Kissimmee, DeLand, Auburndale, Lakeland, Plant City, St. Petersburg, Ocala, Gainesville, Bartow, Arcadia, Fort Myers, Miami, Palm Beach and Sarasota.

Remittances may be made to the First National Bank of Lakeland, to be turned over to Mr. Spear when he exhibits proof of the slides. The advantage of Mr. Spear's plan is that it will bring views and advertisements of Florida directly before the people of sections whence the army of Florida homeseekers is being recruited. The views will show Florida as it is and the result cannot be other than to stimulate the interest in this state in every section visited.—Tampa Tribune.

SHORT CELERY CROP

Hold for Good Prices is the Advice of Celery Expert

Don't guess, but know. After a most searching investigation of the celery condition all over the country, we find the following facts: The amount of celery in cold storage is so limited that it will have no bearing whatever on the market, the California celery crop is short, and the recent cold has damaged that crop so considerably, that a large amount of it is badly frozen and may never be shipped.

Considering all these conditions, we know that from Feb. 15th to June 1st Florida celery is the only celery obtainable during this period; the celery crop of the state is away short of a normal crop, and the yield this season will not average 500 crates to the acre, therefore the cost of producing celery this season is not less than $1.20 per crate. THESE ARE COLD FACTS.

After carefully analyzing these conditions, you will agree with me that you are justified in holding out for a price. I am not in favor of a prohibitive price, but the celery grower is entitled to every dollar that he can get. It requires hard and honest labor to successfully raise a crop of celery, to say nothing about the innumerable hardships to contend with. "While the price of celery this season will be out of reach of the average consumer the crop is so short that it is doubtful whether we can supply the trade which demands fancy celery and is willing to pay for it."

Interesting Gathering

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist church met last night at the home of Mrs. N. J. Perkins. A large number of members were present, also several winter visitors and an enthusiastic meeting was held. An interesting sketch of the Woman's Missionary Union held during the State Baptist Association at Ocala last week was given by Mrs. J. W. Wildman, who had been a delegate to the convention. Plans for more effective work were also devised and discussed and committees appointed, at the close of which dainty refreshments were served and a social half-hour enjoyed by all.

Notice of Meeting

The West Side Improvement Society will meet at the Robbins' Nest Hotel Thursday, Feb. 1st at 3 p. m. A full attendance is desired, as there will be important business to bring before the society.

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

W. S. Miller, a white man, who was placed in the jail in Palatka for safe keeping was found in his cell dead a few days ago. He had hanged himself with two handkerchiefs and a blanket.

The capitol grounds in Tallahassee are to be beautified, remodeled and improved. The necessary appropriation was made by the 1911 Legislature and landscape gardeners are at work on plans which will be submitted in a few days. As soon as the specifications are ready this work will begin.

When Hon. Henry M. Flagler reached Key West on the first train over the extension of the Florida East Coast Railroad and stepped from the car he was led up a path strewn with American Beauty roses to a grandstand, whereon one thousand children stood and sang national airs. As Mrs. Flagler passed each of the children showered him with a bouquet of American Beauty roses. This was a pretty honor to one who has done so much for Florida.

Realizing that one of the best advertisements a place can have is a good street lighting, plans are being made for a "white way" in Tampa. The electric light company and the gas company will compete for the installation of a new set of lights on Franklin street, to start from the Mallory docks and continue many blocks, and the competition will take the form of exhibits, to be made at court house square.

A park commission it is to be made up of representative citizens, not members of council, and great things are expected of it. In too many of the towns and cities little attention is given to making the public squares and grounds attractive.

The first train over the Ocala Northern ran to Palatka last Friday and a grand celebration was held in the Gem City in honor of the occasion.

Royal Arch Masons

Union Meeting Sunday Night

Three of the congregations of the city, Baptist, Presbyterian and Congregational, will unite in a union service next Sunday night. The occasion is the opening in Sanford of the Men and Religious Forward Movement. The state committee, whose headquarters are in Jacksonville, are sending here Rev. Samuel J. White and Mr. Malcomb Lockhart. These men will explain the aims and work of the movement and tell about the Eight Day Campaign of Florida that is to be conducted in Jacksonville Feb. 18-25.

The union service for Sanford will be held in the Baptist church next Sunday evening, Feb. 4th, beginning at 7 o'clock. All are most cordially invited to be present.
