Lack Of Interest To Provide Rooms May Harm School

Baseball Classes To Extend Over Period Of 4 Weeks, Watson Discloses

Accommodations Urgently Needed

Publicity Value Of Project Seen As Priceless To City

By PAT PATTERSON
Lack of housing accommodations, unless Sanford citizens come forward immediately with rooms to rent, may seriously handicap the Chatsanooga Lookout baseball school slated to open here Mar. 1, Henry Watson, president of the Sanford ball club, emphasized today.

A long-distance telephone communication with Joe Engle, supervisor of the Washington Senator's farm system, this morning disclosed that 250 youngsters had signed for the course of instruction and more are coming daily.

Watson appealed urgently for the registration at the Chamber of Commerce of Sanfordites who have one spare room or some sort of sleeping or boarding accommodations. He said it is not necessary to call personally at the Chamber office. Registrations will be taken by telephone.

The baseball president further revealed that instead of the original two-week schedule for the school, the time has been extended to one month.

Students enrolling for the course have been guaranteed that room and board will not exceed $8 per week, Watson announced.

Watson pointed out that 1937 is the first year of the baseball school in Sanford and declared it holds infinite possibilities for the city in future years if the project is supported by citizens.

Its publicity value, in his opinion, is priceless, since the program of students from a hundred or more cities will be followed by the newspapers in the communities sending in the youngsters.

Watson, in another statement today, announced a directors' meeting of the Sanford Baseball Association for Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in his office on Park Avenue.

Heavy Southbound Traffic Reported By ACL Officials

Sanford may be the destination of a score or more persons from the New York-Boston area who stemmed into Florida this morning at Jacksonville via the Atlantic Coast Line, according to officials of the transportation company.

Departmental heads of the ACL, said a heavy movement of passengers from the east began yesterday, marking what probably is the third and last "mass movement" of southbound tourists for the 1936-37 season.

It was explained that three "movements" appear annually—once in early winter, another shortly after New Year, and the final one in late winter.

ACL officials reported from Jacksonville that the Florida Special operated in four sections into the North Florida City, so heavy was the traffic from the east.

Woodman Circle Will Entertain District Meet

150 Delegates Expected To Assemble Here Next Friday

Nearly 150 members of the North Wheeler District No. 8 Woodman's Circle, will assemble here Friday night for a regional convocation, according to plans set down last night by the Gladstein Grove No. 247, Woodman's Circle in Sanford.

Praternal women will come from Groves in New Smyrna, Lakeland, Tampa, Starke, Ocala, Umatilla, Kissimmee and Orlando.

Mrs. Alice Carraway, publicity chairman of the Sanford Grove, said the following guests of honor are to be present.

Mrs. Jeanette Willard, national director of Omaha; Miss Myrtle Crump, state manager from Tampa; Miss Mildred Wheeler, state president of manager of this district; Mrs. Yonda Immann, national delegate of Starke.

A business session has been planned for 2 P. M. when several candidates will be initiated into the order. At the same time, it was announced, several junior members are to be graduated into adult membership.

Recreational work, Mrs. Carraway said, is to be conducted by a team from Ocala and will be assisted by the local degree team.

As the entertaining features for the convention program, a dinner at 6 P. M. has been arranged at the Mayfair Hotel, while a ball is scheduled for 10 P. M. in Woodman's Hall. Luther Livingston and his orchestra of Orlando, will furnish music for the latter affair.

Mrs. J. O. Andes, guardian of the local Grove announced a special meeting in Woodman's Hall at 7:30 P. M. Monday to polish off plans for the convocation. The drill team is especially urged to attend.

Parents, Teachers In District Eight Map Year's Plans

The problems of the exceptional child will occupy members of the District 8 Florida Congress of Parents and Teachers, of which Seminole County is a part, during 1937.

Mrs. Frank Morton, chairman of the project, is slated to give the first of a series of radio talks on the topic at 2 P. M. Wednesday over WDBO, Orlando. She will speak on "After the Auditorium—what?"

The auditorium, it was explained, is a machine to test hearing and report the amount of loss. Since only one of the machines is in use in Florida today, District 8 hopes to assemble its own.

Future Wednesday programs of the Congress will deal with the crippled child, the child with defective vision, and the child with the mental handicap.

Essays On Safety To Be Handed In By High School Seniors

Essays on safety by every member of the Seminole High School senior class will be turned in Tuesday for grading, according to W. G. Ross, safety enthusiast, who has conducted safety classes in local schools for several months.

Teachers in the English department will sift the pieces down to ten or a dozen best and judges will be asked to give their opinion on these.

Competition is divided into two classes—one for boys and a second for girls. In each group the winner will receive a two-week pass to the Rita Theater and second best will be awarded a one-week pass.

Results of the contest will be announced next week, Mr. Ross said.

Kansas Town Asks Aid In Dust Storms

Death Toll Rises As Influenza, Pneumonia Stride Over Village Of 1,500

HUGOTON, Kan., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Plans for more medical supplies and nurses went out from this dust-plagued town of 1,500 in Southwestern Kansas today after two more deaths brought to fourteen the number of victims of influenza and pneumonia. "We need help," declared Dr. T. G. Gammell, city health officer. "We must have more nurses and more supplies."

South in the Oklahoma panhandle at Guyon and Texoma, dust-soiled snow fell today. Goodwell and Boise City, Okla., also had snow.

Snow was stained reddish brown by dust.

Residents in this area caulked windows and placed blankets over the door to keep out dust.

A blinding dust storm lasted six days but snow hailed at the end of the "black blizzard."

Legionnaires Raise $124 Toward Drum And Bugle Equipment

Ten members of the Sanford American Legion Post last night turned in $124 cash toward the $156 needed to completely outfit 10 members of the drum and bugle corps for the Sons of the Legion.

Perry Mero, American Legion Post No. 1244, chairman, said the ten were at work again today in an effort to raise the entire amount before the arrival of eight snare drums, eight bugles, a bass drum and cymbals Monday.

Drummers and buglers, using old instruments, staged their first out-of-doors practice last night near Legion Hut, Mr. Mero said. Also, it was the first time that the drums and bugles were brought together on the same number.

American Bar President Speaks On Court Question

Stinchfield Sets Down Arguments Contrary To Enactment Of Roosevelt's Proposal

To determine the sentiment of The Sanford Herald readers on President Roosevelt's proposal to reorganize the supreme court, The Herald, in cooperation with the other 11, 9, newspapers served by NRA Service, Inc., is taking a poll on this question. For the ballot at the bottom of this page is sent your vote, yesterday.

By F. H. STINCHFIELD
President, American Bar Association

You vote on this ballot. You all have faith in your vote. You don't wish to give up the right to vote on any issue where your voice ought to be heard. Very well, let's see what is now proposed.

NRA was said by the supreme court to be unconstitutional; that is, NRA wasn't a law at all because it violated certain of your rights; that you and the state surrendered them.

This is what is to be done, from your standpoint: the court is to be changed by the proposed law. How? Let's see if it isn't perfectly plain.

There are nine members of the supreme court. Six more men will be chosen by the president. When asked to decide, at least three of the present nine justices have, almost every time, upheld these new laws. Add the six justices to be chosen. You have nine, more than a majority.

Some of the present nine might resign if the law is passed; they would feel that the court's power had forever gone, surrendered to the president.

For the court to act merely as the mouthpiece of the executive would destroy every chance to perform its duties independently, the only way in which patriotic, sincere judges could act. The new supreme court building had just been made a new wing of the White House. The third branch of our government would have disappeared.

The Herald,
Sanford, Fla.

President Roosevelt has asked Congress to pass a law providing that when a federal judge who has been a judge 10 years or more reaches the age of 70 and does not retire within six months thereafter, the president shall appoint an additional judge to his court. This law, under present conditions, would require the president to add six justices to the United States Supreme Court.

Sanford Flying Field Operator Accepts New Job

Williams In Contact With Prospect To Take Over Locally

Sanford was without a Municipal Airport operator today, but Volie Williams, City aviation committee member, was in contact with a flier this morning who probably will take over the direction of activities possibly next week.

Mr. Williams disclosed that Firman Church, who was located here for several weeks, resigned his position to accept a full-time pilot's job in the north.

In another statement today, the aviation committee said C. E. Gradick, superintendent of the airmails, visited here yesterday and made an extensive tour of all projects connected with the celery industry.

He was impressed with that industry's need for speedier postal communication, Mr. Williams said, and also was pleased with arrangements at the airport for landing mailplanes.

The committee announced that inauguration of airmail service here probably would be delayed several days, since it is customary with the Postoffice Department to allow three weeks' time in which stamp collectors can prepare special cachets for the first flight on a new route or into a new step.

It was explained that 4,000 or 5,000 of these special packets probably will be mailed here when the first mailplane arrives.

Williams plans to fly to St. Petersburg tomorrow for a conference with G. T. Baker, president of National Air Lines, operating ships which will serve Sanford.

Sanford Kiwanians' Membership Stands Third Since 1924

Sanford Kiwanis Club has a membership of 55 for 1937 which ranks third in membership ratings since 1924, according to statistics released today by Secretary Sid Nix.

In 1924, when 61 were affiliated with the Club, and in 1927, when 57 were on the rolls, membership exceeded the 1937 personnel, Mr. Nix reported.

Two lieutenant governors have come from the Sanford Club, E. V. Lane and Bill Zachry, according to the secretary's report.

Mr. Nix announced that Kiwanian Haynes, Coleman and Thyrill will have charge of the program Wednesday at the weekly Valdez Hotel meeting of the organization.

All offices in the Court House will remain open for business as usual, it was announced. The City Hall also is scheduled not to close.

It was understood the schools are planning short exercises, although principals could not be contacted today for programs.

Seminole County Booth To Close In Orlando Fair

Sanford, Oviedo Entries Are Objects Of Much Attention

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce today prepared to direct the removal of all local exhibits from the Central Florida Exposition which closes tonight.

A prize-winning meat exhibit entered by the Seminole Chapter of Future Farmers will be returned here and handed over to the individuals who loaned animals for butchering to the Future Farmers in exchange for the privilege of showing the meat at the fair.

Vegetable displays arranged by County Agent C. R. Dawson will be destroyed, and the exhibit of home kitchen products, arranged by Home Demonstration Agent Josephine Boydston will be returned here and stored for further use.

Much comment was caused by W. H. Williams, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, today commended all Seminole County participants in both the Tampa Fair and the Central Florida Exposition at Orlando. He said the exhibitors and the Chamber of Commerce presented their booths in such a way that will "undoubtedly do the County much good from a publicity standpoint."

The poultry display entered by the Oviedo Chapter of Future Farmers as well as a large crate of choice celery grown in the Oviedo section.

Another Oviedo entry which drew much attention was the model of an automobile coach body and radio constructed by Howard Fisher.

FFA chapters of Oviedo, Sanford and four other communities in the section were faced yesterday by fair officials who "turned over" the exposition to more than 200 youths. A short business session preceded the afternoon of fun and education.

Thirty-three boys represented Sanford Chapter, while 20 attended from Oviedo.

Some 500 Seminole County negro school children were given tickets yesterday to visit the fair today. While students had a holiday Monday and toured the grounds.

City Commissioners To Discuss Several Sanford Projects

City Commissioners will assemble Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in their City Hall chambers for routine business transaction and the consideration of several tentative projects.

It is probable that tentative plans for a beautification program will be announced in line with the employment of Edwin Flynn, landscape architect, who is laying out a program to improve the lakefront.

Other discussions will center around the assistance given local baseball interests in assisting them to complete a clubhouse at Municipal Athletic Field in time for the spring training season of the Chatsanooga Lookouts.

County Teachers To Hold Monday Session

The February meeting of the Seminole County Teachers' Association is scheduled for the South Side Primary School building Monday at 8 P. M., County Superintendent T. W. Lawton said today.

Principal feature of the program is a debate, "All Children Should Pass." Mr. Lawton announced. Participants had not been chosen this afternoon.

Unreasonably Long Hours Also Would Be Hit By President's Proposal

Senate Committee Approves Tariff

Vandenberg Ready To Carry Battle To Higher House Floor

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Unimpeachable authorities disclosed today that President Roosevelt is considering a flexible program to outlaw excessively low wages and long hours through a revision of the fair trade practice and anti-trust laws.

Besides fixing mandatory wage and hour standards, the proposed legislation would provide for a broad system of voluntary agreements under which businessmen could ban unfair and wasteful trade practices.

The President, it was said, had not had time to consider details but regards the plan favorably. Officials said Administration legal experts believe the program could be fitted into the present framework of the Constitution and pass the Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The Senate Finance Committee stamped its approval yesterday on the Administration's proposal to extend the Reciprocal Tariff Act three years.

A heavy Democratic majority in the committee rejected seven proposed amendments.

Extension of the present law, which expires June 12, already had been approved by the House. Leaders said they planned to bring up the issue on the Senate floor Tuesday, if possible. Sharp controversy appeared likely then over a proposal made yesterday by Senator Lewis (D., Ill.), to prohibit reciprocal trade agreements with debt-faulting nations.

Miss Chapman's essay was "Mellonville Avenue, An Historical Landmark in My County." Mr. Bachelor sponsors annual historical essay contests, the first place winner being given a gold medal.

Narcotic Education Week

Next week is Narcotic Education Week and throughout the United States the World Narcotic Defense Association is advocating educational campaigns to teach the people of America the evil effects of narcotics of all kinds. Particular stress is to be laid upon the increasing use of Marihuana, or Indian Hemp, which is sometimes made into cigarettes finding a growing field for exploitation among the young people of this country.

Marihuana is a powerful stimulant which produces an immediate effect of psychic exaltation giving the addict a feeling of great personal satisfaction and over-confidence. As the effects of the drug wears off, fear and depression overcome the victim giving him a feeling of hostility toward everyone with whom he comes in contact. It is sometimes called the "killer drug" because it leads its victims in later stages to murder their best friends or members of their families.

The inroads which Marihuana is making is indicated by a report from New Orleans which showed that out of 450 persons taken from a police dragnet, 125 were Marihuana victims, all of whom were young people ranging in age from 15 to 31. In the City of New York more than 37,000 pounds of Marihuana plants were seized by police and destroyed last year, and arrests for violation of the narcotic laws were 11 times as great in 1925 as in 1922. Throughout the world there are estimated to be more than 200 million persons addicted to this drug.

In the campaign against narcotics of all kinds and their use the following points deserve particular emphasis, according to the Narcotic Defense Association:

1. Thorough narcotic law enforcement, including urgent need for prompt, reasonable and efficient action on the part of State courts in the trials of narcotic law violators.
2. The urgent necessity for enactment of the Uniform State Narcotic Drug Act by those states which have not already adopted same.
3. The inclusion of the provision against Marihuana in the Uniform Act in order to make uniform and effective the legislation against the growing use of this drug; also, a concerted drive for its suppression.
4. The need of an intense campaign against the crime wave and the illicit drug traffic by both Federal and State Governments, co-operating with each other.
5. Schools, colleges and universities to provide more thorough instruction concerning dangerous habit-forming narcotic drugs, and the incorporation in school text books of ample and accurate scientific facts in regard to those drugs.
6. Necessity for the public at large to study the narcotic problem, especially the consequences of drug addiction, and to co-operate in the fight for the suppression of this menace.
7. Each state to establish a narcotic institution and farm for the segregation and rehabilitation of its drug addicts, with provision made for women addicts, as well as for the separate housing of criminal and non-criminal addicts—all rehabilitation to have careful follow-up and after-care programs.
8. Necessity for nations already parties to the Geneva Convention of 1921 to honestly and efficiently enforce those obligations and for other nations to ratify same without delay.

War in The Air

The extent to which the next war will be fought in the air is indicated by a report from Howard S. Welch, vice president and general manager of the Bendix Aviation Corporation, who says that 23,500 planes, or nearly half the total now in existence, will be built during the current year, and that four-fifths of this number are military planes.

The various governments of the world will spend $911,000,000 on these war planes this year while Mr. Welch says that "the added cost of maintenance of air corps personnel and expenses for such non-recurring items as airports and airways will bring the total expenditures for military aviation to around $1,750,000,000. Of the 23,500 army and navy planes now being built, no less than 21,150 of them are for the United States, Great Britain, Russia, France, Germany, Italy and Japan.

The following table of comparative aviation strength, present and planned, among world powers and some of the "buffer states," was given out by Mr. Welch.

	Mill.	Civil	Mill.	Civil
Czechoslovakia	2,400	229	700	69
France	5,800	2,093	2,500	700
Germany	2,900	1,809	2,900	257
Great Britain	3,600	1,597	2,700	528
Italy	3,600	359	2,300	65
Japan	3,000	104	2,100	58
Poland	2,200	204	700	30
Rumania	2,200	51	400	8
U. S. S. R.	5,400	1,000	3,800	200
Yugoslavia	1,200	58	540	6
United States	2,800	9,071	1,200	2,640

"More than two-thirds of the new American craft will be civil or commercial planes, while almost the entire procurement of the other powers will be for military purposes," a statement given out by the Bendix organization with Mr. Welch's estimates said. It added that a total of $911,000,000 would be spent for fighting planes, European nations alone putting $677,000,000 into aircraft, chiefly of military type, during the year.

"The great bulk of this total is provided by Great Britain, Russia, Germany, France and Italy," the statement said. "Although smaller European countries, including some of the so-called buffer states, have relatively big air programs, particularly in the military field. Asiatic countries, led by Japan, will spend $99,000,000; Canada and the United States $112,000,000 and Latin American $20,000,000."

With such emphasis as this being placed on airplanes, it can be seen that among the military experts at least there is a growing conviction that the next war will be fought in the air. As has already been demonstrated in Spain, if this assumption proves to be correct, it will be the civilian populations which will suffer most.

For if the Spanish war has proved anything at all, it has demonstrated that airplanes are of very little strategic advantage to combat troops while they may have very effective under certain conditions in destroying the morale of civilians.

One of the first shots in the Civil War was fired at a force led by an Obispo, C. R. Woods of New York, commander of troops on a boat hastening to the aid of Fort Sumpter.

CANDLELIGHT

By NINA OLIVER DEAN
 "Labor is kept alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire, called conscience."

It has been said that "an army travels on its stomach," and, in the final analysis, don't we all? With that thought and George Washington's birthday upon us, I thought I would rather than look into the diet of this man who succeeded in leading a life in his breast that little spark of celestial fire, called conscience. I found a treasure, and here it is—Martha Washington's favorite recipe written just as she wrote it in her own cook book with "ye youlks and ye flour." The very obvious moral is to feed your husband on Martha's rich black cake, and he'll never tell a lie!

To Make a Rich Black Cake—
 By Martha Washington.
 "20 eggs. . . divide ye whites from ye youlks and beat ye whites a good while till they be in a frothe. . . then work 2 pounds of butter till it creame and put in ye whites of ye eggs by ye spoonful and stir them well together, then add ye youlks of ye eggs, well beaten, 2 pounds wheat flour, and 5 pounds of fruit, then add one fourth ounce of mace, a nutmeg and one half pint of milk or cold coffee. Five and one-fourth hours will bake it."

Florida housekeepers, this is a challenge! I dare ye to try it!

Seen while jaunting round the state—the dogwood blossoming about Gainesville like white lace edging the green Spring dress of the cypress trees—an azalea in the garden of an old house near the University that reached the second floor balcony—if the hundred thousand young azaelas at the Ixora Gardens in Palatka grow up to be like that, what an enchanted wood that will be—the old water wheel in the Ravine Gardens with its unhurried gait, somehow quieting and reassuring, leading its life with the scholarly detachment of a Greek philosopher—the white fire of a plum tree in full bloom on a hillside like "day standing thpoe on the misty mountain tops!"

As long as I have been an obdurate copy cat about O. O. Melville's telegraphic impressions in the above paragraph, I may as well quote him in this bit. Of Mary Margaret McBride, author of the freshly published book, "Here's Martha Deane," Mr. Melville says, "She is why young lady dream this Paris, Mo. who came to the big city to become the most popular informal talker on radio has ever known under the pseudonym of Martha Deane."

Mary Margaret McBride's book is just as sparkling and spontaneous as its author. Central Florida has a special claim on this "Martha Deane," as her mother and father have a winter home in Winter Park, and their New York radio star daughter came down by plane to spend Christmas with them, as she said, "flying like a wild duck to sunshine." On the air over WOR and in her book, she brags about the flowers in her mother's Florida garden and the fact that she had shaggy yellow chrysantheums, poinsettias, and roses all blooming at the same time. Her mother asked her daughter in a long distance conversation from Winter Park to New York the adorable question, "The orange trees are in bloom. Can't you smell them, Sister?" It wouldn't surprise me at all if "Sister" could!

Although the "shy young lady" has gone a long way since she came from Paris, Mo. and knows Manhattan and goes everywhere in a taxi, she has somehow retained that freshness and zest for life that her listeners can enjoy on the radio, a little girl quality, a sort of wide-eyed eagerness about what's around the corner that makes her live not only exciting for herself but all those who have the fun of knowing her.

Settlement Of War Debt May Occupy Senate In 1 Year

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(P)—Senator Robinson, Arkansas, Democratic leader, told the Senate today "there is a strong likelihood that in the next year something substantial may be accomplished looking toward the final settlement of the war debts."

Robinson spoke after Senator Lewis, Illinois, Democrat, proposed in a resolution that no reciprocal trade treaty be made with any nation which repudiates or "refuses to pay" or adjust its debt to the United States.

He said undischarged and unadjusted debts exceed $12,000,000,000 and "with interest and premiums approach $25,000,000,000."

THE TAMARIND

THE exotic TAMARIND, now cultivated in Florida, is the fruit of a magnificent East African tree that reaches a height of 80 feet. It consists of thin brown shell pods filled with an acid-sweet pulp containing acetic, tartaric and citric acids and potassium salts. In some countries the Tamarind pulp and seed are thrown into kegs, filled with boiling syrup and shipped to foreign markets. The syrup, highly diluted, makes a cooling summer beverage and is also regarded as a pleasant laxative.

AT the head of one of the most magnificent expeditions ever fitted out in Spain for the extension of power in the New World, HERNANDO DE SOTO landed supposedly on the shore of Tampa Bay in 1539 for the primary purpose of conquest and obtaining treasure. With about 600 well trained men, over two hundred horses and a drove of swine, he then began one of the most remarkable marches in military annals, traversing what is now southern and western United States in his vain search, constantly fighting with hostile Indians. Death ended De Soto's adventurous career on the western bank of the Mississippi in 1542.

Miss Margaret Davis To Lecture On Music

By SUSAN B. WIGHT
In her recent book "Twentieth Century Music," Marian Basse asks this question, "What do you hear when you listen to music? Are you a hearer, listener, a head listener, or merely a foot listener? Does music appeal to your emotions, your intellect, or does it arouse in you only a response to rhythm?" And then she declared, "Those who have not been trained to concentrate actually hear only a very small portion of the music to which they listen. They get the outer crust of rhythm and melodic outlines with a harmonic background unconsciously included."

Feeling that this is true of many sincere lovers of music, who cannot take up the subject technically, Miss Margaret Davis will present "Misunderstood Music," from an amateur's point of view, in a lecture at the Women's Club on Tuesday evening, Feb. 23 at 8:00 P. M.

The speaker will be Mrs. John McMahon of Monongahela, Pa., and St. Petersburg, Fla., and she will be assisted by Miss Fannie Reha Munson, Miss Carolyn Collier, and Miss Daphne Takach in numbers by Debussy and Ibert and some of Bach's by way of contrast.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Dr. Elizabeth Tracy, Miss Anna Lenora Brown, Mr. and Mrs. John Alden Brown and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hoochman and family of Daytona Beach are planning to motor to Palatka Sunday to see the Azalea Gardens.

Assisting Mrs. Galloway was Mrs. W. W. Wright who talked on Japanese flower arrangements. Host Of Friends Honor Cat On 22nd Anniversary

Tommy Clark, 'Orphan' Cat Of New York Doctor, Purrs With Contentment As Hundreds Drink Health

SENECA FALLS, N. Y., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Purring contentedly, Tommy Clark appeared with a sleepy dignity last night before a host of golden cats and the upraised glasses of 250 dinner guests as they toasted the aged cat's twenty-second birthday.

Townspiece and out-of-town visitors stood and drank to the health of Tommy, the founding pet of Dr. W. L. Clark, Seneca Falls veterinary surgeon who picked up the tiny gray and white kitten in a barn on a cold winter night 22 years ago.

Since that time, Tommy has grown in the esteem of the townfolk and from a quiet dinner to a small circle of friends, his birthday celebrations have assumed the proportion of a civic holiday.

A huge frosted cake sparkled with 22 candles.

Elaborate eight-page souvenir invitations in which Tommy's history and his greeting to his guests are printed in verse by Dr. E. F. Dowd, Seneca Falls dentist, testified to the swankiest birthday party in the town's 146-year history.

For several weeks Tommy's mail has burdened the postman with letters of congratulation, birthday greetings and several "proposals" from admiring feline females.

Several verses of poetry voiced the "proposals" of Betty Lusk, New York City siren of screen, who asked Tommy to "come up 'n' see me sometime."

Tonight Dr. Clark read a letter from Nancy Rawdon, Amherst, N. Y., ent. warning Tommy against "metropolitan gold diggers," who don't mean a "single purr" of their blandishments.

Mr. J. N. Tenhet, local entomologist and guest speaker at the meeting, explained according to a botany chart, flower forms, pollination and flower fruits.

Host Of Friends Honor Cat On 22nd Anniversary

Tommy Clark, 'Orphan' Cat Of New York Doctor, Purrs With Contentment As Hundreds Drink Health

SENECA FALLS, N. Y., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Purring contentedly, Tommy Clark appeared with a sleepy dignity last night before a host of golden cats and the upraised glasses of 250 dinner guests as they toasted the aged cat's twenty-second birthday.

Townspiece and out-of-town visitors stood and drank to the health of Tommy, the founding pet of Dr. W. L. Clark, Seneca Falls veterinary surgeon who picked up the tiny gray and white kitten in a barn on a cold winter night 22 years ago.

Since that time, Tommy has grown in the esteem of the townfolk and from a quiet dinner to a small circle of friends, his birthday celebrations have assumed the proportion of a civic holiday.

Tornado Lashes North Carolina Iowa Blizzard Halts Passenger Train With 150 Aboard

The front warning service reported today that temperatures in Florida will drop tonight but will remain slightly above the danger point in the coldest places of Central Florida fruit and vegetable area.

Cooler weather in Florida followed a hodgepodge of violent winds, snow and flood waters in scattered parts of the nation that left at least three dead and many injured and extensive property damage.

A tornado lashed a portion of Charlotte, N. C. last night, destroying houses and injuring many persons. The storm swept on through the center of Concord, N. C.

A blizzard piled snow high in drifts in Iowa, blocking highways and marooning 150 passengers on an eastbound train.

Flood waters from rivers swollen by heavy rains subsided in Southern Wisconsin and Northern Illinois, relieving tension in a dozen communities, among them being Peckford and Galena, Ill., Beloit, Janesville and Burlington, Wis.

Democrats Will Seek Donations For Party Debt

Lloyd Appeals For Support Of Project In County

Sherman M. Lloyd, chairman of the Seminole County Democratic Committee, today was named by National Democratic Chairman James A. Farley as county chairman for the Democratic Victory Donations being collected to reduce the party debt incurred by the November elections.

Mr. Lloyd said he is mailing victory scrolls to the 30 committeemen in the County with instructions that each contributor affix his name. Later these signatures will be published.

While many sections of the country have scheduled dinners on Mar. 4 as a means of raising money, the County chairman said he had contacted several leaders of the party in this section and found the majority of opinion in favor of foregoing the dinner here, and solicit donations instead.

In calling on party supporters to get solidly behind the move, Mr. Lloyd said Democrats hope not only to completely wipe out the entire debt but also seek sufficient cash that it may be possible to lay aside a surplus for (Continued on Page Three)

Assistant Attorney General Sets Forth Reasons To Support President Roosevelt's Proposal

To determine how the Sanford Herald readers feel toward President Roosevelt's proposal to remove the supreme court, The Herald is conducting with The other 15 newspapers served by NIA Service, Inc., in taking a poll on the question. A ballot for your use appears at the bottom of this page. The ballot will not be repeated. In the accompanying article, Robert H. Jackson, assistant United States attorney general, presents arguments favoring the Roosevelt proposal.

By ROBERT H. JACKSON
Assistant United States Attorney General

The American people have a high and well-founded respect for the judicial function. Yet, the only presidents they adore, such as Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln, and the two Roosevelts, have been in bitter conflict with the courts. Do nothing administrations have attempted with the courts, progressive ones always do. If President Roosevelt were running a "run-down" administration, he would hear no complaint that he was overstepping the constitution. Pressed for emergency, hurried to keep ahead of economic collapse and social unrest, the first Roosevelt administration brought forward its policies. Not one of these laws conflicted with any definite provision of the Constitution. Increased majorities in 1931 and overwhelming vote, in 1933 approved them, as desirable to the country's progress.

But as Chief Justice Hughes said, when governor of New York, "the constitution is what the judges say it is."

The president could not find out what the judges had to say. Other countries permit the executive to ask. But our system is unique. The holder of a $16 coupon on a railroad bond could ask the railroad owner's opinion of the constitutionality of the gold clause resolution. The president, representing 120,000,000 people, could not.

Moreover Congress and the executive and no one else can get a final judicial opinion about a law until long after it is passed. At (Continued on Page Two)

Furniture Firms Sanford Voters Select Sanford Voice Distavor As Storage Site Of Court Change

Large Warehouse To Be Erected Here; Serves 3 States

Five leading furniture manufacturing firms of High Point, N. C., today chose Sanford as the location of a storage warehouse to serve Florida, Georgia and Southern Alabama. It was announced by L. C. Robichaux, representative of the companies.

While the establishments already have purchased a five-acre tract of land at the end of First Street near Chase and Company, the first location here will be temporary. Mr. Robichaux said.

Negotiations are under way at present with local real estate firms for a temporary site, he disclosed.

Tentative plans call for the construction of a warehouse 100 feet by 200 feet which will house continually a stock of furniture valued anywhere from $10,000 to $25,000, Mr. Robichaux revealed.

This city, he announced, was chosen as the site for the warehouse because of its central location and easy accessibility by land, rail and highway.

The furniture representative declined to say the approximate cost of the new building but indicated it would be in five figures. He said it will be constructed of brick to give the best protection available to the materials stored.

Sufficient land has been purchased, Mr. Robichaux pointed out, to enlarge warehouse facility. (Continued on Page Three)

Madrid Reports Death Of 1,000 Socialist Village Visited By Airmen On Bombing Trip

Spain's civil war raged today from Oviedo, near the Bay of Biscay where Government troops launched an offensive. To Aragon where insurgents started a wedge to drive a line to the Mediterranean between Valencia and Barcelona.

On the land-fought Jarama River front southeast of Madrid, insurgents reported the capture of four and a half miles of road to Valencia and said the Government-held Guadalupe Highway was under fire. Separance of that road would leave Madrid without a trunk highway exit.

In renewed fighting at Oviedo the Government reported dynamite-burled Asturian miners added in an attack that netted a foothold in the insurgent held city, scene of bitter battles last November.

The insurgent drive in Aragon in an attempt to reach the Mediterranean was reported repulsed by Madrid with 1,000 insurgents slain. Madrid reports also disrupted insurgent claims to the capture of the Valencia Highway link.

Aragon battle, indicated insurgents apparently were in a three-fronted movement to cut off Madrid from Valencia and Barcelona and leave it virtually isolated. (Continued on Page Two)

Herbert Thurston, member of the Seminole Chapter of Future Farmers of America, Saturday was awarded a $25 cash prize for entering the best crate of celery in the Central Florida Exposition at Orlando.

Seminole County participants in the Orlando festival today had dismantled their booths and returned here with their display of materials.

Among the outstanding exhibits entered by locals were the vegetable exhibit by C. R. Dawson, County farm agent in co-operation with local growers, and the home products by Miss Josephine Boylston, County home demonstration agent, in co-operation with local Home Demonstration Clubs.

Participation in the fair was sponsored by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Three Men Escape Drowning When Car Plunges Into Lake

H. Watson of Lakeland and two companions narrowly escaped death by drowning early Saturday night when their automobile was forced off Lakeshore Boulevard and overturned into Lake Monroe about half a mile west of the City limits.

County Deputy Carl Williams, who investigated, said Watson's lights apparently blinded Livingston Campbell of Hopkinsville, Ky., who was approaching from the west, veered by his half of the road and sideswiped the Watson automobile.

None was injured in the mishap, although Deputy Williams said it was only the quick action by the occupants of Campbell's car that prevented possible drowning of the three men.

T. J. Kinsey of Longwood, victim of a second automobile smash on the Longwood Road Saturday night, was confined to Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital with two small lacerations on the head and a sprained shoulder.

Rotarians Hear Service Talk By Visiting Member

Ralph Patch, a visiting Rotarian from Stoneham, Mass., was the principal speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club held at the Mayfair Hotel today. Mr. Patch, who chose as his subject "Vocational Service," was introduced by Rotarian H. J. Malibie of Abamonte Springs.

Mr. Patch said that frequently he believed the vocational service features of the Rotary International did not receive sufficient emphasis and he proceeded to show the tremendous benefits which can be derived by businessmen from a study of vocationalism which he described as being primarily a study of "better business methods."

Using as his text the Rotarian slogan of "He profits most who serves best," Mr. Patch pointed out how many of the problems resulting from the strain of competition in business can be solved in a friendly way by refusing to believe the worst of a competitor, and by getting together with him. WPA Workmen End Improvement Job On Two Highways

WPA workers last week completed major parts of projects intended to improve Sanford Avenue and the Paola Road.

While the asphalt and gravel surface has been applied, WPA officials announced that a skeleton crew will be kept on the job for a few days to finish off minor details.

The two thoroughfares, it was said, were improved over a combined distance of more than two miles.

Relief workers this week were expected to complete the Oviedo Public Park project, one detail of which is a public swimming pool, regarded as probably the finest in Central Florida.

WPA employment last week occupied 171 persons, of whom 72 were women working in local sewing rooms and women's centers.

Composing Room Feels Effect Of Spain's Conflict

Local effects of the Spanish civil war were felt vividly in The Herald composing room Saturday night when one of the newspaper's employees attempted to purchase a batch of type metal from a Daytona Beach publication.

Beginning at four cents per pound about a year ago, metal prices lifted gradually until the war began in Spain. The last bought by The Herald was about ten cents per pound.

Saturday night the composing room foreman of the Daytona Beach paper was asked for a price quotation. He said 14 cents per pound was the best he could offer.

"The Spanish war," he remarked, "has skyrocketed the price of lead and copper."

Real Estate Firms Study Objectives Of State Association

Local real estate circles followed with interest today the five legislative proposals being advanced by the Florida Association of Real Estate Boards. The objectives are:

1—Removal of ad valorem taxes for State purposes; 2—an overall limitation on real estate taxes not to exceed 15 mills by constitutional amendment; 3—valuation of real estate on a basis of income or annual use value; 4—obtaining by legislative action the formation of a State board of tax appeals and adjustment; 5—clarification of the homestead exemption amendment to extend exemption to widows, widowers and other single men and women to the extent that they may receive the same benefits as are now extended in the present amendment.

The Association also is opposing a tentative legislative act which would allow the State to take over all delinquent lands, and directed its attention against any measure which would allow the State to enter into the real estate business extensively.

Chamber Asserts 75 More Rooms Needed For Diamond School

Sanford's big man—the pre-dominating lack of living accommodations for rent today continued to plague Chamber of Commerce officials and interests responsible for bringing the Chattanooga Lookouts' baseball school here.

Ralph Bagwell, Chamber secretary who is receiving registrations from local citizens in a position to board one or more of the students, said at least 75 more rooms are needed.

Mr. Bagwell pointed out that the school which opens here March 1 will mean at least $5,000 of new money being dumped into Sanford's lap for a period of one month.

Homeowners who have an extra room or who can provide meals for the young athletes are urgently requested to telephone their names and addresses to the Chamber of Commerce.

Students have been guaranteed that room and board will not exceed $4 per week.
