A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH, "HE'LL PRENT 'EM"—SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

The question is often asked: "What are the legal and national holidays and by what authority are they determined?" Webster's international dictionary defines the word and gives the following information on the subject:

"A holiday or holy day is a consecrated day; a religious anniversary or festival. Any day of exemption from labor or work; a day of amusement or recreation, etc. The law states, that they freed by law for the suspension of business in whole or in part is a legal holiday. In the United States the legal holidays are determined by law commonly by statutes of the several states. There is no national legal holiday congress having no jurisdiction to appoint one and the only common law holiday is Sunday. In common usage Sunday is not generally included under the term holiday or legal holiday. The holidays most widely observed in the United States are: New Year's day, Lincoln's birthday, Decoration day, Independence day, Labor day, Christmas day. The last Thursday in November is now regularly appointed by proclamation by the national and state executives as Thanksgiving day, a day of thanksgiving and praise. In various states a day in the spring as Good Friday or the first Thursday in April is regularly appointed by executive proclamation to be observed as a day of fasting and prayer and observed as a holiday. This point is to be observed that in the United States there are no national holidays set aside by congress. Our congress having no jurisdiction over the states to appoint such a day.

In the Philippines the legal holidays established by act of the Philippine commission are: New Year's day, Washington's birthday, Thursday and Friday of holy week, Memorial Day, Independence day, Occupation day, Capitulation day, Rizal day, December 10. The special holidays in the Hawaiian Islands are: January 17, Celebrating the anniversary of the monarchy; Kamehameha day, June 11, Rejoicing day, and November 28, celebrating the recognition of Hawaiian independence. In Porto Rico July 20 the anniversary of the landing of United States troops in 1898 is a legal holiday.

With the approach of the Christmas holidays people will begin to realize the advantage offered by the Sanford parcel post in the matter of facility of service and economy, in the opinion of local postoffice authorities. Aside from the cheapness of rates such an action as the insured parcel system it is thought is bound to appeal to the majority of people.

While the postoffice authorities have every reason to believe that they can handle the large amount of matter they expect during the holidays they desire the cooperation of the public in doing so. A like agitation to that of '60 your Christmas shopping early' is what they are striving for and to this end the public is asked to send their Christmas packages as early as possible. Even now it is not too early to begin as the packages can be stamped: "Do not open until Christmas."

At the postoffice preparations are already being made to facilitate the service. Everything that could possibly assist in disposing of the mail matter is already being ordered.

It has been noticed at the postoffice that many people who use the parcel post neglect to place their name and address at the upper left hand corner of the package. This according to the superintendent of local delivery is a grave omission. If it should chance that the parcel for some reason or other could not be delivered there would be no way whatever of locating the person who sent it.

An allowance for children instead of promiscuous giving of nickels and dimes will be urged upon fathers and mothers of the country from the Chicago headquarters of the American Society for Thrift as one sure method of inculcating ideas of thrift in the next generation. "Do not let misguided friends give your child pennies, but teach the children how to spend wisely by fixing an allowance out of which their small needs must be met," is a warning which will be reiterated in primers of thrift which this society is preparing for distribution. Questions from the organization committee uniformly have invoked from thrifty people the advice as a first principle, "Do not let your child-

I have not traded with you for a long time received, and as you ask me to tell you frankly why I will give you a few reasons.

"First—I am in business in this community and am looking to this community with its varied industries for my support. I cannot ask the merchants of this town for their support if I do not give them mine.

"Second—In looking over my books I fail to find either Mr. Sears, Mr. Roebuck or other of the company's names, which reminds me that neither of these gentlemen have ever given me a penny's patronage. Why is this? Am I too far away, or have neither of them needed a physician? or are they afraid of the mail order plan when it comes to the practice of medicine? I can certainly give as good satisfaction by mail as your house can and will appreciate a call from either of them when in need of medical service.

"Third—In looking over the subscription lists for improving our streets and public highways I have failed to find the name of either member of your firm down for one penny to assist in the work. Also I have failed to find your name on any of the charity lists where help has been rendered to our poor; in other words you are not down as a contributor to our Helping Hand Society. In fact in all the movements for the betterment of our conditions where our community has needed the united efforts of her public spirited citizens I have failed to find your name among the list of our contributing merchants. Your name is not on our city tax books nor do I find where you have paid a city license to do a mercantile business in competition with our home merchants."

Bill Mapoles on Expenses

In his welcome address to the printers gathered in Ocala for the cost congress, Hon. Edwin Spencer, Jr., member from Marion county of the last legislature told the following story:

And speaking of newspaper men in the legislature I cannot refrain from reminding you that one of the ablest men in the last legislature was a representative of the press, namely Hon. "Bill" Mapoles. Like all newspaper men "Bill" was popular and one of the best hearted fellows in the world but not so proficient in the art of speaking or in the use of the king's English as some of his one brethren. I remember that on one occasion the legislature had passed a bill appropriating $8,000 for a pipe organ for the Florida Ecypale College. "Bill" was opposed to the bill and his speech in opposition to it ran something like this:

"The first class postmaster has no duties. He performed them all before he was appointed.

Fourth class postmasters receive from $50 per year up and do not run automobiles as a rule. First class postmasters receive as high as $5,000 per year. This is why they are called first class postmasters."

Major Spencer spoke words of wisdom the other day in the police court of the city of Ocala, and also a couple of days ago in the city of Sanford. He was talking about the trouble of the system. The reason he said was that the boys were every day and had noted that many young boys made it a place to congregate and that in his opinion it was no place for the smaller boys to be thrown in the company of older men and that only at the depot but in other parts of Sanford it was almost for little boys to loaf around places where they could not be benefited by the company of older men.

Major Spencer again at the depot and I have spoken about it time and again and so the practice seems prevalent here of allowing little boys to roam the streets at all times of the day and night. There are more little fellows at the moving picture shows and other places late at night and unaccompanied by their parents than there can be found in some of the larger cities and now that the mayor feels that way about it I hope that he will call attention of the police to these children and see that they are kept off the streets and out out some of the horse play indulged in at various times. Boys will be boys but when they endeavor to become too progressive too smart too glib it should be the duty of the police to call them and again there should be some kind of curfew law to make them stay indoors at night when the hour grows late. I am for the boys, but they ought to stay in their place and their place is not loafing around depots, theatres, livery stables or other places.

The wear and tear on my political faith becomes more distressing every day. Here comes a correspondent threatening me with office on the grounds that I have advanced "some very sound political theories lately." Cannot our correspondents understand that men with sound political theories are the very men who cannot be trusted and never are?

Seats Roebuck & Co. the Chicago mail order people have a scheme by which they send out periodical lists to people who once dealt with them, but whose orders have ceased to come in. One of these letters reached a physician in a western town, whose reply, published below, is worth reading:

THE BIG CONVENTIONS

Being Held This Week in Panama and in Jacksonville

Washington D. C. November 10.—The Mississippi Association of Inland Waterway Association, of which Senator Duncan U. Fletcher is president, the Leland J. Henderson of Pensacola is secretary are holding their annual convention at Panama, Florida today.

This association advocates an inland waterway from the Mississippi river at or near New Orleans extending along the Gulf to the West Coast of Florida and across Florida to the Atlantic. A considerable portion of the money available for use.

A survey has been made of the Mobile Bay and Pensacola Bay. It will be very little extra cost to make an inland route between Mobile and Pensacola. There is a route from Pensacola to Choctawhatchee Bay and St. Andrew's Bay extending the two St. Andrew's Bay to the outlet to the Gulf through a channel 22 foot depth. There is a canal between St. Andrew's Bay and Apalachicola river, for which $1,000,000 has been appropriated to connect the Apalachicola with the canal system.

Five routes were surveyed in Florida by the engineers, and they decided upon a route which would run up the St. Johns river to Lake Lekiawaha to Lake Harris and with a chain of lakes and canals about Leesburg and very little will be required to pass over the whole route thence to the improvement of the existing canal which will bring the water to the project in a matter of a few days. The delegates to the convention at Panama will go to Jacksonville on the 15th to 21st. This convention is an Atlantic coast from the Gulf of Mexico. Much of this road is already constructed. Water supply of these two projects is the Constal System will be along the Atlantic and along the Gulf will be pushed westward from the Gulf to the Rio Grande.

Notice of Election

Pursuant with provisions in the revised charter of the City of Sanford, Florida County of Seminole State of Florida I hereby call regular City election to be held at said city building on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in December, 1913, same being the second day of said month, for the purpose of electing a Mayor to serve two years from the first Monday in January, 1914. And a full board of Aldermen to serve two years from the first Monday in January, 1914, the total number of Aldermen to be elected being seven.

I hereby appoint G. W. Smith, Keane and E. W. D. Dunn inspectors and C. C. Howard, clerk. 22-Tues-414 G. W. Spencer, Mayor.

"TESS" AT STAR FRIDAY

UNITED STATES IS WAITING IN MEXICAN WAR GAME

NO ONE KNOWS WHETHER IT IS BLUFF OR WAR

COLONISTS ARE VERY UNEASY

OTHER NEWS OF THE WORLD IN GENERAL FRESH FROM THE WIRES TODAY

Speculation as to what President Wilson intends to do in the face of the Mexican difficulty was increased today by the knowledge that the American chargé d'affaires, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, had received new instructions from Washington to wait at his post for further instructions and that important matters were under consideration.

The announcement that a British squadron is coming to Mexican waters created great interest, but the effect upon the Mexican mind was reassuring rather than otherwise, because the Mexican people continue to look upon Great Britain as a friend. In official quarters the dispatch of the squadron is styled as an act of courtesy.

The foreign colonies in the Mexican capital are preparing to defend themselves in the event of disturbances in the city and particularly should the final settlement be left to the Mexicans themselves. Both Sir Lionel Carden and Admiral Von Hintze, the British and German ministers, respectively, have suggested to their countrymen the advisability of perfecting some sort of a defense organization.

“Holding the Philippines” before the Brooklyn Institute of arts and sciences tonight, ex-President William H. Taft discussed the policy of President Wilson and the acts of Governor Francis Burton Harrison since he took over the reins of government in that island month. Mr. Taft spoke at length of the history of the American occupation with which he had been connected since Governor Harrison's death and President almost continuously since 1901. He added his personal remarks that the great majority of the mass of Filipinos wish more independence and would not be ready to accept other generalities. The former president took exceptions to the policies of President Wilson in general and in particular in the government and relation to the natives.

The Crop Movement

Oranges and grape fruit moving freely. Good fruit selling well

Small sizes are accumulating in some markets. Vegetables by express not so heavy, but will be larger next week

The car lot movement of lettuce has fairly opened up. There will be an increase next week. The stock is relatively of pretty good quality. The movement will increase next week. The oranges are on the ground for every car that is loaded, but the operators are taking care of their patrons. Every market seems to want lettuce and it will bring a fair average price, but more money has been paid for some fine stock.

W. H. Topp has a car load of fine lettuce on the ground at the old depot and is selling them very cheap.

BROOMS FROM PALMETTO

SANFORD FACTORY WILL SOON BEGIN OPERATION

MAKES A SUPERIOR ARTICLE FROM MATERIAL EASY TO PROCURE

Brooms from palmetto. Brooms that are better and much cheaper. How does that sound to the busy housewife and the struggling husband who is trying to reduce the cost of high living?

But that is just what two enterprising Sanford men propose to do and in the dull summer months after the crop of lettuce and celery and other winter vegetables are off these gentlemen will hit the woods for a supply of palmetto and will work it into a good and serviceable broom that is superior in every way to those made from the stiff and brittle broom reed.

The long desired palmetto broom of Florida has been found valuable in making brooms and other commodities but it is broom business can be made to succeed the best use for the palmetto has been found. Every year sees a rise in the price of broom corn and a consequent rise in the price of brooms but with the hundreds of acres of palmetto in our state it is surprising to know that it could be used so advantageously.

Vaughn and Clark are the two men who have been working on the palmetto broom for some time. They have been successful in their work and the palmetto broom is now being made in Sanford. The palmetto is very tough and is much more than the broom straw. The broom is much better and takes the strain and does not break down so rapidly as the broom made from the broom straw. FLORIDA GETS BIG A BOOST SENATORS AND CONGRESSMEN TELL ABOUT THE WORK BEING DONE FOR INLAND COASTAL CANALS

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 20.

Coastal waterways that connect along the Atlantic seaboard and the Gulf Coast get their latest boost today and tonight. At the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association in session here Captain W. V. E. Jacobs, commander of the revenue cutter service Itaska, as well as the superintendent of the school for the revenue cutter at New London, Conn., showed how adequate coastal canals would save lives and be a facility in the contingency of war.

The work which has been done and the aims of Georgia toward even greater things, was outlined by Colonel Sigo Myers of Savannah, Ga., from the standpoint of the banker and other professions, the address of Colonel Myers was given. The ideas of New England on the general proposition were brought forth by John J. Martin, president of the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange. Speaking as a member of the Rivers and Harbors committee of the House of Representatives, W. W. Wood, of Stephen, Mass., stressed the need for every possible assistance of his support.

During the afternoon a visit was made to the destroyer Boston and torpedo boats Tingey and Thornton. Many of the convention visitors also visited the Florida Citrus Farm. The evening session of the convention was presided over by Hon. Fredrick W. Doolittle of Trenton, N. J. From a Hudson river standpoint, the support of Hon. Peter G. B. Fox, a Democrat of Congress from New York following the Florida and Inland Waterways project from New England, Florida was perfect in his Secretary, W. H. Shedd, with a large number of other delegates.

Making one of the most genuine speeches of the convention in the favor of a coastal waterway from New England southward across Florida and then across the Gulf of Mexico to the Rio Grande came the welcome speech which the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association gave the Miami Convention.

High officials of the waterways association of the United States, in a convention hall, when the welcome was given and responded to. Addresses were given by the officers of the two organizations as well as two delegates also present. The general vote to support the project of waterways was taken and the project was approved. In his speech Chairman Sparkman of the National Rivers and Harbors Committee, promised to do all that he could for the waterways schemes proposed by both organizations. He reviewed the great work that has been accomplished by the Rivers and Harbors Committee, and pointed out the practical effects it had on commerce. Congressman Sparkman was enthusiastic over the plans and promised to do in every way possible as chairman of the powerful committee in Congress.

Gambling Game Winds up in Murder in Which Webb Mitchell Goes Out

Last Wednesday night Webb Mitchell was killed in a gambling game. Mitchell was found in the alley when the smoke of battle had cleared away and he was lying on his back. That was the end of the game. Another county was added to the continually increasing list of progressive Florida counties this week when Lake county voted for bonds in the sum of $500,000 for hard roads. With Seminole next, Orange next and now Lake county coming into line Florida will gain the name of being the most wide awake state in the Union in the matter of bonding for hard roads. Seminole county has the distinction of having the only special road district in the state to form a special district and vote for bonds for brick roads to the tune of $200,000. Hillsborough for one million followed and then Orange came in for $600,000 and the good work will be continued for other live and progressive counties in Florida will wake up to their responsibilities and lost opportunities and in a few years it will be possible to travel from Jacksonville to Tampa over an unbroken stretch of brick country roads.

GREAT INTEREST IN SPECIAL EDITION

The expression seems to have gotten abroad in some inconceivable way, that the Special Edition of the Herald is a sort of a charitable contribution. This is a great mistake. While The Herald has never failed to advocate every measure that carried with it a promise of welfare and advancement for the Sanford section, and has cheerfully devoted many pages and much gray matter to such advocacy, it cannot consent to the furtherance of projects which are not adequate compensation.

Hence, when our friends come to us, as they sometimes do, with a request to help along a pet project, we refer them politely but firmly to our advertising department for rates.

The Big Special Edition is going to be the greatest thing that has ever offered to the people of Sanford, and no business man who wants to let the public know that he is on earth can afford to be left out of it. The city and county will be adequately represented but it is only, not the gang. Strangers as well as citizens are invited to find out who are the live business men of Sanford and Seminole County. Can you afford to be left out of it? The response of our business men to our call has been in the main, we are glad to say very hearty and generous. A few have procrastinated and a very few have shown a disposition to let the other fellows do the "booming" while they reap the benefit. Such men are of no credit or value to the community.

Our prices are as low as is consistent with the large expense of getting out the edition in first class shape. It is no money maker for The Herald. This is not the idea, but we must clear expenses. The price is $60.00 per page, newspaper size, $30.00 per half page, $15.00 per quarter page. This includes an extra for photographs and illustrations. Costs. Surely some of these opportunities will meet your purse and help your interests. Put in such an advertisement at once and you will not only be able to afford and have the satisfaction of seeing that while you are promoting your own business you are helping to boost Sanford and Seminole County.

Shock Was Too Great.

Pellegrin: Do you know this stick man? Interested Hylander: No, I only met him. He seemed a nice sort of a fellow, he shook my hand and we chatted a while. I ask him if he knew of some young feller as could show me around, and then he threw up his hands and fell down. —Puck

Jesting and Dancing.

It is good to make a jest, but not to make a trade of jesting. The Earl of Rochester knowing Queen Elizabeth was much delighted to see a gentleman dance well, brought the master of the dancing school to dance before her. "Fish," said the queen, "it is his profession. I will not see him." She liked it not where it was a master quality, but where it attended on other perfections. The same may we say of jesting. —Thomas Fuller.

Coldbloodedness is a physical characteristic of the habitual criminal and the temperature of murderers is strikingly below normal, according to statistics published by the American Medical Association. General physical degeneracy is found to stigmatize the criminal. The average convict is three inches below the normal in stature, light in weight and with small chest expansion.

Wonderful Peroration.

A lawyer, more fluent in his speech than careful in his metaphors, was once guilty of the following peroration: "Gentlemen, it will be for you to say whether this defendant shall be allowed to come into court with unblushing footsteps, with the cloak of hypocrisy in his mouth, and draw three bullocks out of my client's pocket with impunity."

She Wanted Too Much.

"Yes," said the determined looking woman, "I might manage to hand you a bite to eat if you'll saw and chop a good pile of wood and bring in a few buckets of water and pick the weeds out of the garden and fix up the fence." "Lady," replied Meandering Mike, "I'm only a hungry wayfarer; I ain't yer husband."

Sword and Pen. Alfred Noyes, the self-supporting English poet, told a story about a brother bard at a dinner in New York. "A brother bard, less fortunate than myself," Mr. Noyes began, "was grinding away at an ode when his wife said: 'Milton, is it really true that the pen is mightier than the sword?' 'I suppose so,' Milton answered doubtfully; 'and yet that sword was lower on the frat floor sports two motor cars, while we haven't a scrap to eat in the fat.'"

Kalamazoo. Kalamazoo, county, city in same county, and river in Michigan. According to one authority the name is derived from the Indian word 'neg-kannamazo,' meaning 'otter tail.' 'Beautiful water,' 'boiling water' and 'stones like otters' are other translations.—United States Geological Survey.

Platinum Counterfeiters' Metal. Platinum was a favorite metal with counterfeiters some years ago, when its intrinsic value was about $5 an ounce. Many spurious $10 and $20 United States gold pieces were turned out, composed chiefly of this metal. The coins of Great Britain have also been imitated in the same way.

Small, Smaller, Smallest. In a drop of water there are about 2,000,000,000,000,000,000 molecules. If one of these molecules were magnified till it appeared twenty feet in diameter the atoms of which it is composed would look like floating specks of dust. And each atom is like a solar system.

Passing. "God love this world," he breathed and the flesh sank from him. Death. It was but the breaking of a rusty scabbard to loose a flashing blade.—Will Levington Comfort.

Apparently Not. "You cannot legislate for all the ills man is heir to," declares an observer of current tendencies. But shall we be denied the fun of seeing to?—Pravda Science Journal.

To the Voters

In the coming city election we are facing a new problem so serious that I consider it my duty to call your attention to same.

For the first time the voters will have an opportunity to elect an entire ticket of new and untried men to govern this city. To do so would be an experiment that might turn out a serious drawback to the welfare of the community. The city of Sanford has grown to such proportions now that the problems to be solved by the men that are called to govern it have become very large and intricate therefore it is well time to call to you to remember that all the prelection promises of a candidate will not guarantee you good government—but that it is only integrity and efficiency that will really count. Financial problems are facing the next city government that will require careful handling by experienced men to the interest of the tax payers and that the program laid out by men of long experience to handle these matters for the best of the city, may be entirely lost.

In your list of candidates you have your choice of men that have shown ability to govern wisely. Most of these men I am satisfied have entered the race again in the same spirit as myself. From a personal standpoint I have greatly appreciated the honor conferred upon me several times by being elected one of your councilmen but having had my full share of the honors I see nothing ahead but hard work and can truthfully say that I would feel relieved if the good people would turn me down this time. Still I consider it my duty to the tax payers to be ready to assume the burden again if with my experience I can serve them.

At I ask is that you consider that long experience counts for efficiency in business and that those of us that pay large taxes are liable to be the most conservative in spending your tax money wisely.

Upper Burma Home of Ruby.

While certain qualities of rubies are widely distributed and found in Burma, Siam, Ceylon, Afghanistan, India, Brazil, Australia and the United States, the countries of Burma, Siam and Ceylon are beyond question commercially the more important. Just as this is true there rests but little if any doubt that Upper Burma, the Mogok section, furnishes the finest and largest supply.

Oil Drilling by Hand.

Oil exists in great quantities in Siam, but the methods of securing it are exceedingly crude. The wells are not more than sixty feet deep and are dug by hand. The oil secured is that which is baled from the bottom of the well by dippers on long sticks of bamboo. The oil is sold to the natives who live within calling distance of the wells.

Three Babes Walked Fifteen Miles.

Novelist Plays Safe.

FLORIDA HAS THE FISH.

J. E. Cannon, who lives near Falmo the Suwannee river a short time since which he reported as weighing 15 pounds.

A long time ago Daniel Buford caught a trout in Alligator lake just south from Lake City which weighed 17 pounds.

He brought it to the market in Lake City placed it on the scales and rang the market bell which called together a number of citizens who verified the weight.

The above may be "some trout" for the writers from which they were taken but the editor of The Sun has seen trout and black bass taken from Alachua lake two and a half miles from Gainesville which tipped the scales at 27 pounds.

Congratulations to Editor Clarence Woods and the Eustis Lake Region John Bell of the Tavares Herald and Bart Corley of the Leesburg Commercial for all of them worked for the bond issue in their county.

COURIER TWICE A WEEK. No. Your calendar is a right. The Plant City Courier has simply taken upon itself the task of getting out two papers each week where one was printed before and this issue comes to you unannounced but we hope not unwelcomed.

NEWSPAPER ENEMIES.

Men may be measured as accurately by the enemies they make as by the friends that they have drawn about them. It is always creditable for a man to have enemies in the factions that stand for corruption or tyranny.

The more successful a newspaper is in arousing public sentiment for the enforcement of law and discountenance of demoralizing tendencies the more active are its discomfited enemies in their endeavors to injure it.

enemies—in fact it must welcome the possession of enemies as showing the value of its antagonism to things that are corrupt.—Miami Metropolis.

BULLY FOR LAKE

Hon. Clarence E. Woods editor of the Eustis Lake Region and the Chesterfield of the Florida press Association wired the following to the Herald last Tuesday night:

"Lake County gave two hundred majority for half million dollar bond issue for good roads."

Clarence wired this joyful intelligence to the Herald because he knew that we were waiting the result as anxiously as were the public spirited people of Lake county.

On the same line and for the same reason the impecuniousness of the printer is due largely to the making of prices without regard to cost.

Hon. Joseph Sears of Kissimmee has announced his candidacy for Congress from the Fourth District.

Congratulations to Editor Clarence Woods and the Eustis Lake Region John Bell of the Tavares Herald and Bart Corley of the Leesburg Commercial for all of them worked for the bond issue in their county.

The Sanford Herald is in earnest on the subject of the manufacture of brick at home and of Florida clay.

That lady in Tallahassee who committed suicide because her husband came home drunk and beat her made a mistake. She should have armed herself with a base ball bat and stood behind the door and when her husband came home drunk fell on him gently with the bat and beat him to death.

as the attendance at his funeral simply verified. It was so perfectly natural for him to do right. We did not fully appreciate his true worth until after the thread of life was severed.

COST SYSTEM SYMPHONY.

The printers had a cost congress in Ocala last week. It is pretty well known among the fraternity that all printers do not conduct their business on business principles.

That listens, well, Joe, but there was no printer present at Ocala from Orlando and your city has the reputation of being the greatest cut rate printing place in the state.

Rare Works of Art Stolen. Twenty-five thousand dollars worth of art were stolen from the church of San Mosalmo, Padua, Italy, recently.

Out of His Sphere of Influence. Father Farrell was addressing a little group of boys at the mission one night, and it wasn't long before all but one of them had been moved to tears.

Ancient and Honorable. The word Gumbolt, when used as a surname, has nothing at all to do with any part of the anatomy.

Need Not Be Ashamed of Name. The surname Snooks by no means seems to be an imposing cognomen; but, as a matter of fact, it is a name of great antiquity.

How They Get Them. Miss Gotrox was wearing a diamond spangle around her neck. "What is that?" asked the young man.

Bees Stopped Railway Traffic. Bees held up railway traffic on the London and North-Western mail line near Shap Summit for several hours recently.

Pigeon Stopped Clock. A pigeon flew against the face of the Ipswich (England) town hall clock and was caught between the minute hand and the dial.

In the Gym. "So you have a gymnasium in your new house?" "Yes," replied Dustin Stax. "I spend an hour or two there every day. I have swung up a hammock, and it's a nice place to take a nap in."

Names of Honorable Origin. The surname Mouse denoted at first a man of great courage; while Mr. Ratt got his name from the fact that the first bearer of the name was a wise person, who gave "counsel" to the king.

Might Say Many Men. "Some men," said Mrs. Pozzozzie, "think that because they have one poor little woman bamboozled at home, that they possess great executive ability."

Philosophical. The philosophical proprietor of a seaside hotel ended his rules bulletin for men thus: "Remember, 'Time and tide wait for no man.' For ladies' rules, see other bulletin."

The Reason. "Miss De Pepper is one of the hottest dressers I know of." "She ought to be, she buys her clothes at five sales."

Convincing. Many people complain that they are not appreciated at their true worth; and the numerous empty prison cells seem to bear them out.

Their Job. Willie—"Paw, what is a jury?" Paw—"A body of men organized to find out who has the best lawyer, my son."

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good. I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.

I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.

I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.

Doctors Use This for Eczema

Dr. Evans, Ex-Commissioner of Health, says: "There is almost no relation between skin diseases and the blood." The skin must be secured through the skin. The germs must be washed out, and so salves have long ago been found worthless. The most advanced physicians of this country are now agreed on this, and are prescribing a wash of wintergreen, thymol and other ingredients for eczema and all other skin diseases. This compound is known as D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema.

Dr. Holmes, the well known skin specialist writes: "I am convinced that the D.D.D. Prescription is a specific for eczema as quinine for malaria. I have been prescribing the D.D.D. remedy for years. It will take away the itch the instant you apply it. In fact, we are so sure of what D.D.D. will do for you that we will be glad to let you have a $1 bottle on our guarantee that it will cost you nothing unless you find that it does the work."

FROM MICHIGAN TO SANFORD

Sanford Fla. Nov. 15, 1913.

Dear Mr. Holly Editor Sanford Herald:

Granting your request will give you a little "write-up" of our trip. As you know, we motored through by auto. There were five in our party, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Green, Mr. H. W. Wallace, daughter Blanche and myself. We left Perry Mich September 24th and arrived in Sanford October 11th making the through trip in two weeks and four days and we found the entire trip very pleasant indeed. Had many experiences travelled over all kinds of roads "good, bad and indifferent," visited several places of note. Came by way of Jackson Mich. and saw the state penitentiary a very fine building. After leaving Jackson, which is a very pretty city we came through Adrian Mich. into Oak Shade Ohio which city is two miles across the Michigan line. This was one day's travel for us—111 miles. Then we came through Troy Ohio by the way of Lima where we saw great oil tanks about seven hundred almost all in one row. A wonderful sight to see such mammoth big tanks full of oil. And as we journeyed through the country we saw hundreds and hundreds of acres of corn which seemed to be the chief product of the state. Then we came through Dayton. This city seems quite dear to me as I spent most of my childhood days there; was born at Centerville eight miles from Dayton. We spent several hours at this place visiting some of my old school mates, whom until that day I had not seen for twenty-five years; saw the old school house where I attended school when but seven years of age. It brought back fond memories of my dear father and mother; how mother used to put up lunches for my brothers and myself but now so sad mother and father laid away to rest in the Centerville cemetery. But "such is life" many changes take place in our life time—sad and sad memories. Then we came through Lebanon where the state university is located. This school seems dear to me also as my brother and sisters and myself received our education there. So much for my personal part of the trip. I did not know when we left Perry that we would visit any of these towns. I shall never forget our auto trip through to Florida. Our last city in Ohio was Cincinnati where we crossed the Ohio river into Covington Ky. on bridge. This bridge is considered one of the longest in the United States and is a very beautiful structure of steel. Cincinnati and Covington are both beautiful cities and traveling in our auto we were able to enjoy many beautiful drives throughout the cities. We had fine singing at the way until we reached Waton Ky. where we began entering into the foot hills of the Allegheny Mountains. We were three days traveling through the Alleghenies in Kentucky. Came through Lexington the "Blue Grass Country." Lovers of thorough bred horses are well acquainted with this country. Readers perhaps have read about the "Lovers Leap." This is a very high mountain and we are told as we were looking at the mountain why it was called Lovers Leap. Two unfortunate lovers who were not allowed to marry took their lives by leaping from this mountain. To the right of this mountain we crossed the Brooklyn Bridge; thence to Harrodsburg the oldest town in Kentucky where the court house now stands. This same building was used as a hospital for the wounded during the civil war. The next town of note was Hodgenville two and one-half miles from the Lincoln farm the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln. We spent almost two days there visiting all places of interest. The cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born is now covered with a marble building to preserve from decay. We went through the building. The steps leading up to the cabin are of marble. We drank water out of the spring which supplied water for the Lincoln family; we saw the tree under which Abraham Lincoln used to study which was a live oak 15 feet in diameter. We came within nine miles of the Mammoth Cave one of the seven wonders of the world. Did not visit this cave but were told its history several times. It takes six hours to make the trip 16 miles and one would have to walk all the way. This cave is as dark as a dungeon, with no light except a torch light carried by the guide. Now we go to Glasgow and this finishes Kentucky. Throughout the state we have seen many beautiful fields of tobacco which is Kentucky's chief industry. Then we pass on through to Scottsville, Penn., and as we travel along to Nashville we are entering into the Cumberland Mountains. Between Nashville and Manchester the roads in places were almost impassable. Leaving Manchester for Chattanooga we crossed the Cumberland Mountains, passing through one little town called Phelan. Now is when we get a touch of "High Life." The first part of the mountain was not so long as the latter part. The highest part of the mountain is 3,700 feet. Now when I tell you the condition of this road through the mountain, you will say it would take an expert driver as well as a hero to drive through—nothing but rock and boulders, sharp turns, etc., with the road only 10 feet wide looking down from the top of the mountain 3,700 feet. It took five hours to cross this mountain. The last part of the mountain was almost straight down. We did not know the condition of the road when at the top of the mountain. There were two roads one leading to the left and one to the right. We should have taken the left but took the right—the impassable one. But after Mr. Green got started we could not turn back so had to continue and with Mr. Wallace building the road ahead to make it passable we got through alive to tell the tale. Just a few days previous to our adventure some one touring through got stuck in the stones and it took five mules to get him out. They were one and a half days getting 700 feet. From this mountain we traveled some distance when we came to the Tennessee river; crossed it on the Rankin Ferry. From this we had far sailing to Chattanooga where we spent two days visiting the battlefields the national cemetery which contains seventy-five acres 14,540 known and unknown graves. As we crossed the Georgia line our next town was Rock Springs. We also came through Kingston where Sherman had one of his telegraph offices during the civil war. Our next town of any size was Atlanta which is a very beautiful city. After leaving Atlanta we came to Griffin which though a small place is noted for the number of cotton mills it contains. Macon is also a very pretty place. Leaving Macon behind we cross the Suwannee river into some very sandy country roads which were almost impassable sand being so deep. We had about 150 miles of sand bed all of ten inches deep on the level. We found these roads by the way of Live Oak Lake City High Springs to Gainesville. From Gainesville to Sanford the roads were very good and while we enjoyed our entire trip immensely we were all glad to arrive at our destination. We experienced no engine troubles throughout our journey had no punctures but brought Michigan in our tires to Sanford. Giving Mr. Green our skillful driver and the Oak land car credit for our success and the higher power over all this ends my letter.

On the Death of Judge Whitner

Altamonte Springs, Nov. 11. The sudden death of Judge B. F. Whitner was a terrible shock to his family and many friends who had the pleasure of knowing him in this life and I believe that all who knew him feel that the world was better for his having lived in it. The new county of Seminole has lost one of its most progressive and enthusiastic citizens. Who had lived to a ripe old age his usefulness lost to his many friends and loving family are deplored by all who had the pleasure of his association and friendship. His bereaved family have the heartfelt sympathy of their friends who have the consolation that he left this vale of tears without long days of sickness and suffering in making that long journey from whence no traveler returns.

USUAL ENTRANCE FEE

After Second Venture He Gloatingly Declared His "Eye Teeth Had Been Cut."

BY GEORGE ELMER COBB.

Copyright, 1912, by W. G. Chapman.
John Marsh was going to the city, and his friends at the village general store were apprised of the fact. They were quiet old-fashioned fellows, in the main, and they shook their heads dubiously when John told them of his determination to see the sights.

She had taught school for two years, for her father was by no means a wealthy man. In fact, outside of some two thousand dollars, invested safely, as he supposed, he had only the small farm where he lived, at the edge of the village.

John had a very neat idea in his mind he fancied as he reached the city early the next morning. He had a part of the dividends from his mining stock investment in his pocket, and he planned to make Lucy a hand and a pleasure for her, he determined to get her something in the art line.

"Real high art," he explained to a man he met outside of an antique store to which he had been directed.

"You'll find it here," declared his chance acquaintance, with enthusiasm and his friendly, obliging way.

A real art expert passed on the genuineness of the pictures. Some were sold for as much as three thousand dollars.

Then the ordinary auction sale began. John's companion must have conveyed some hint to the auctioneer, for when the latter put up a gaudily framed daub, designating it "a rare Meissonier," the man nudged him.

He kept the picture wrapped all the way home, Lucy by his side. It was fortunate that he was not looking at Lucy later, when he proudly exhibited his purchase.

and disappointed tone. "It is quite—quite attractive, and—the frame is very bright and new."

She did not tell her father that he had been swindled with the vilest daub, but he suspected that all was not right. A week later he had something else to think of.

"No more art school, then," said Lucy, with quivering lip; but she added, bravely, "I shall go back to teaching till I earn enough to complete my art education."

To this her loyal lover, Vincent Darrow, demurred. It meant a long wait for a wife and a home, but there was no appeal from Lucy's ambitious decision.

"Why, say," observed the old man, "what's the matter with ripping that old daub out of place—for I know now that it is one—and using the frame, which is pretty fair for an auction frame, after all?"

"This was agreed to. Her lover by her side and her father regarding them indulgently, Lucy began to remove the old canvas from its frame backing. To her surprise, as it came free, there showed under it a second canvas.

Lucy fell back with so startled an exclamation that father and lover stared at her in amazement. Her eyes were fixed on the hidden canvas. Their depths were expressive, ecstatic.

"Why, Lucy—" began her puzzled lover. "Oh, Vincent!" interrupted Lucy, in a delighted gasp—"it's a real Corot!"

"What's that?" blundered her father. "A gem, almost priceless," declared Lucy, who knew art when she saw it.

It all proved true. In some way, undoubtedly, one of the pictures concealed by the foreign shipper to evade paying duty, had got mixed with the ordinary stock of the auctioneer.

"Oh, how much it means!" was all the enraptured Lucy could say as she sat drinking in the beauties of the masterpiece, all her dreams of ambition again revived.

She was too good a little business woman not to calculate the great benefit she would derive from the picture. She would prove it herself and then her dear father.

John Marsh had to take another trip to the city the next day. He accompanied Lucy carrying the precious Corot in a grasp that he was determined not to thieving miscreant should break.

Lucy had no difficulty in finding an expert who pronounced the picture genuine, and established its selling value. She left it in his hands to dispose of. Then she and her father returned home to await the result of that friend's negotiations.

A letter arrived finally that set all doubts at rest. Lucy opened the expected message with trembling fingers, and a muffled beating heart.

"I think it's sold," cried John, who, reading the truth in her radiant face.

"Yes," nodded Lucy. "Oh, father, everything is all right now!"

An art connoisseur had paid fifteen hundred dollars for the treasure. Lucy was able to resume her art studies, her engagement with Vincent was shortened, and John Marsh was able to discharge his duties.

Wanted. "After you become wealthy," said the biographer, "you found yourself much sought after?" "Yes," replied Mr. Dustin Stax, "by an investigating committee."—Washington Star.

Dangerous Calomel Going Out Of Use

A Safer more Reliable Remedy Has Taken Its Place in the Drug Store and in the Home

A few years ago men, women and children took calomel for a sluggish liver and for constipation. They took risks when they did so, for calomel is a dangerous drug. Your family doctor will be the first to tell you this if he discovers you dosing yourself with calomel.

But the drug trade has found a safer more pleasant remedy than calomel in Dodson's Liver Tone.

L. R. Phillips & Co. tell us that their drug store sells Dodson's Liver Tone in practically every case of biliousness and liver trouble where calomel used to be taken.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a vegetable liver tonic that is absolutely harmless for children and grown people. It sells for 50 cents a bottle and is guaranteed to be entirely satisfactory by L. R. Phillips & Co. who will refund your money with a smile if it does not give you quick, gentle relief without any of calomel's unpleasant after effects.

Executive Committee Will Meet

The Democratic Executive Committee of Seminole county has been called to meet by Chairman Whitner to recommend a successor to fill the vacancy of the office of County Judge on account of the death of Judge B. F. Whitner. The meeting is called for Tuesday, Nov. 25th at 11 a. m. in the county court house.

The following is from Governor Trammell:

I have learned with great regret of the death of the Honorable B. F. Whitner Sr. late County Judge of Seminole County.

The vacancy in said office caused by Judge Whitner's death will be filled by the appointment of a suitable person upon the recommendation of the Executive Committee of Seminole County at a meeting regularly called for such purpose. Such meetings should be held in a public place with open doors. Adequate notice should be given each member of the committee of the time and place of the meeting. All members of the committee should attend the meeting in person and no proxies should be permitted. I deem it advisable that each member of the committee refrain from committing himself to the support of any candidate prior to the open meeting. The people of the county should be notified either by publication in the newspapers or by posting of notices in public places of the time and place of the meeting so that they may have ample opportunity to express their wishes as to the recommendation to be made. It is desired that the meeting be held as early as will suit the convenience of the members of the committee.

A copy of this letter is being mailed to each member of the committee.

Very truly yours

PARK TRAMMELL

Governor

The Men's Meeting Last Night

Much interest was manifested in the men's meeting of the Presbyterian Brotherhood Monday evening as was evidenced by the good attendance. Speaker Ingold told the audience many pertinent things regarding the Hungarians in both this and their native land. After the speaker had finished a discussion took place in which several of the audience took part. The orchestra under the direction of Prof. Brock discoursed sweet music and the entire congregation raised its voice in several songs.

This Tuesday evening the men's meeting will be addressed by Hon. D. L. Thrasher the topic being the Germans in America. It is hoped that every German in the city will attend this as well as the following meetings. Wednesday evening the meeting will be open for both women and men and the speaker will be Thomas K. Bates the topic being the immigrant in America. Thursday evening Robert J. Holly will address the meeting on the Italians in America. This as well as the Friday evening meeting will be for men only. Mr. H. C. DuBose will address the Friday evening meeting on the duty of the laymen and the church to the immigrant to our shores.

It is hoped that for the remainder of the series that every seat in the house will be occupied as these meetings are bound to be the forerunner of the instituting of some kind of men's meetings each week in this city which will be conducted in their entirety by the laymen of Sanford. An active men's movement in our community means much toward the elevation of morals a better understanding of economic conditions and a cementing of the good fellowship that must be part and parcel of any community that desires to forge ahead spiritually as well as materially.

EVERGLADES LAND IN COURT

PROMOTERS WILL HAVE TO FACE FEDERAL JURY

SOLD LAND BY THE QUART

UNITED STATES AUTHORITIES EXPECT TO PROVE FRAUDULANT TRANSACTIONS BY MAIL

Eight officials and agents of the Florida Fruit Lands company were indicted by the federal grand jury here today on a charge of conspiracy to use the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of 180,000 acres of land in the Everglades district of Florida to 12,000 purchasers in various states.

Those named in the indictments are Richard J. Bolles, Jacksonville, Fla.; George A. Paddock, Chicago; Jesse L. Billingsly, Jacksonville, Fla.; John Mathews, U. H. Martin, R. J. Borders, Edward C. Chambers and A. D. Hart of Kansas City. Each was indicted on twenty-one counts.

The Florida Fruit Lands company case has come before the department of justice several times. Attorney-General Mc Reynolds, however, shortly after he took office, turned the case over to S. T. Graham, assistant attorney-general, who after an investigation directed the United States district attorney at Kansas City, to ask indictments from the grand jury. Mr. Graham said today that the prosecution would be pushed with vigor.

The Florida company, with R. J. Bolles, Robert L. Martin and Joseph H. Borders, as moving spirits, acquired about 180,000 acres of land in the counties of Dade and Palm Beach in Florida, in March, 1911. At that time the land was under water but the claim was made that the state of Florida had contracted to drain the lands through canals and that purchasers would get the benefit of those improvements.

The state of Florida did have under consideration about that time a scheme to drain a portion of the Everglades, but when the company secured its lands the covenant with the state declared that no burden lay upon the state to drain the lands. They have not been drained, according to department of justice investigators.

The Florida Fruit Lands company, organized four years ago by R. J. Bolles of Jacksonville, is said to control nearly 500,000 acres of land in the Everglades. It is alleged that 180,000 acres were placed in the hands of Robert J. Martin and Joseph J. Borders, by them sold tracts to 12,000 persons, mostly in Kansas City and adjoining territory.

The grand jury investigation was undertaken two weeks ago at the behest of small purchasers who were dissatisfied with drainage conditions on their tracts. It was said that more than $700,000 already has been paid to the company.

NO DAMAGE ST SANFORD.

Later reports are that cold did not injure the vegetables.

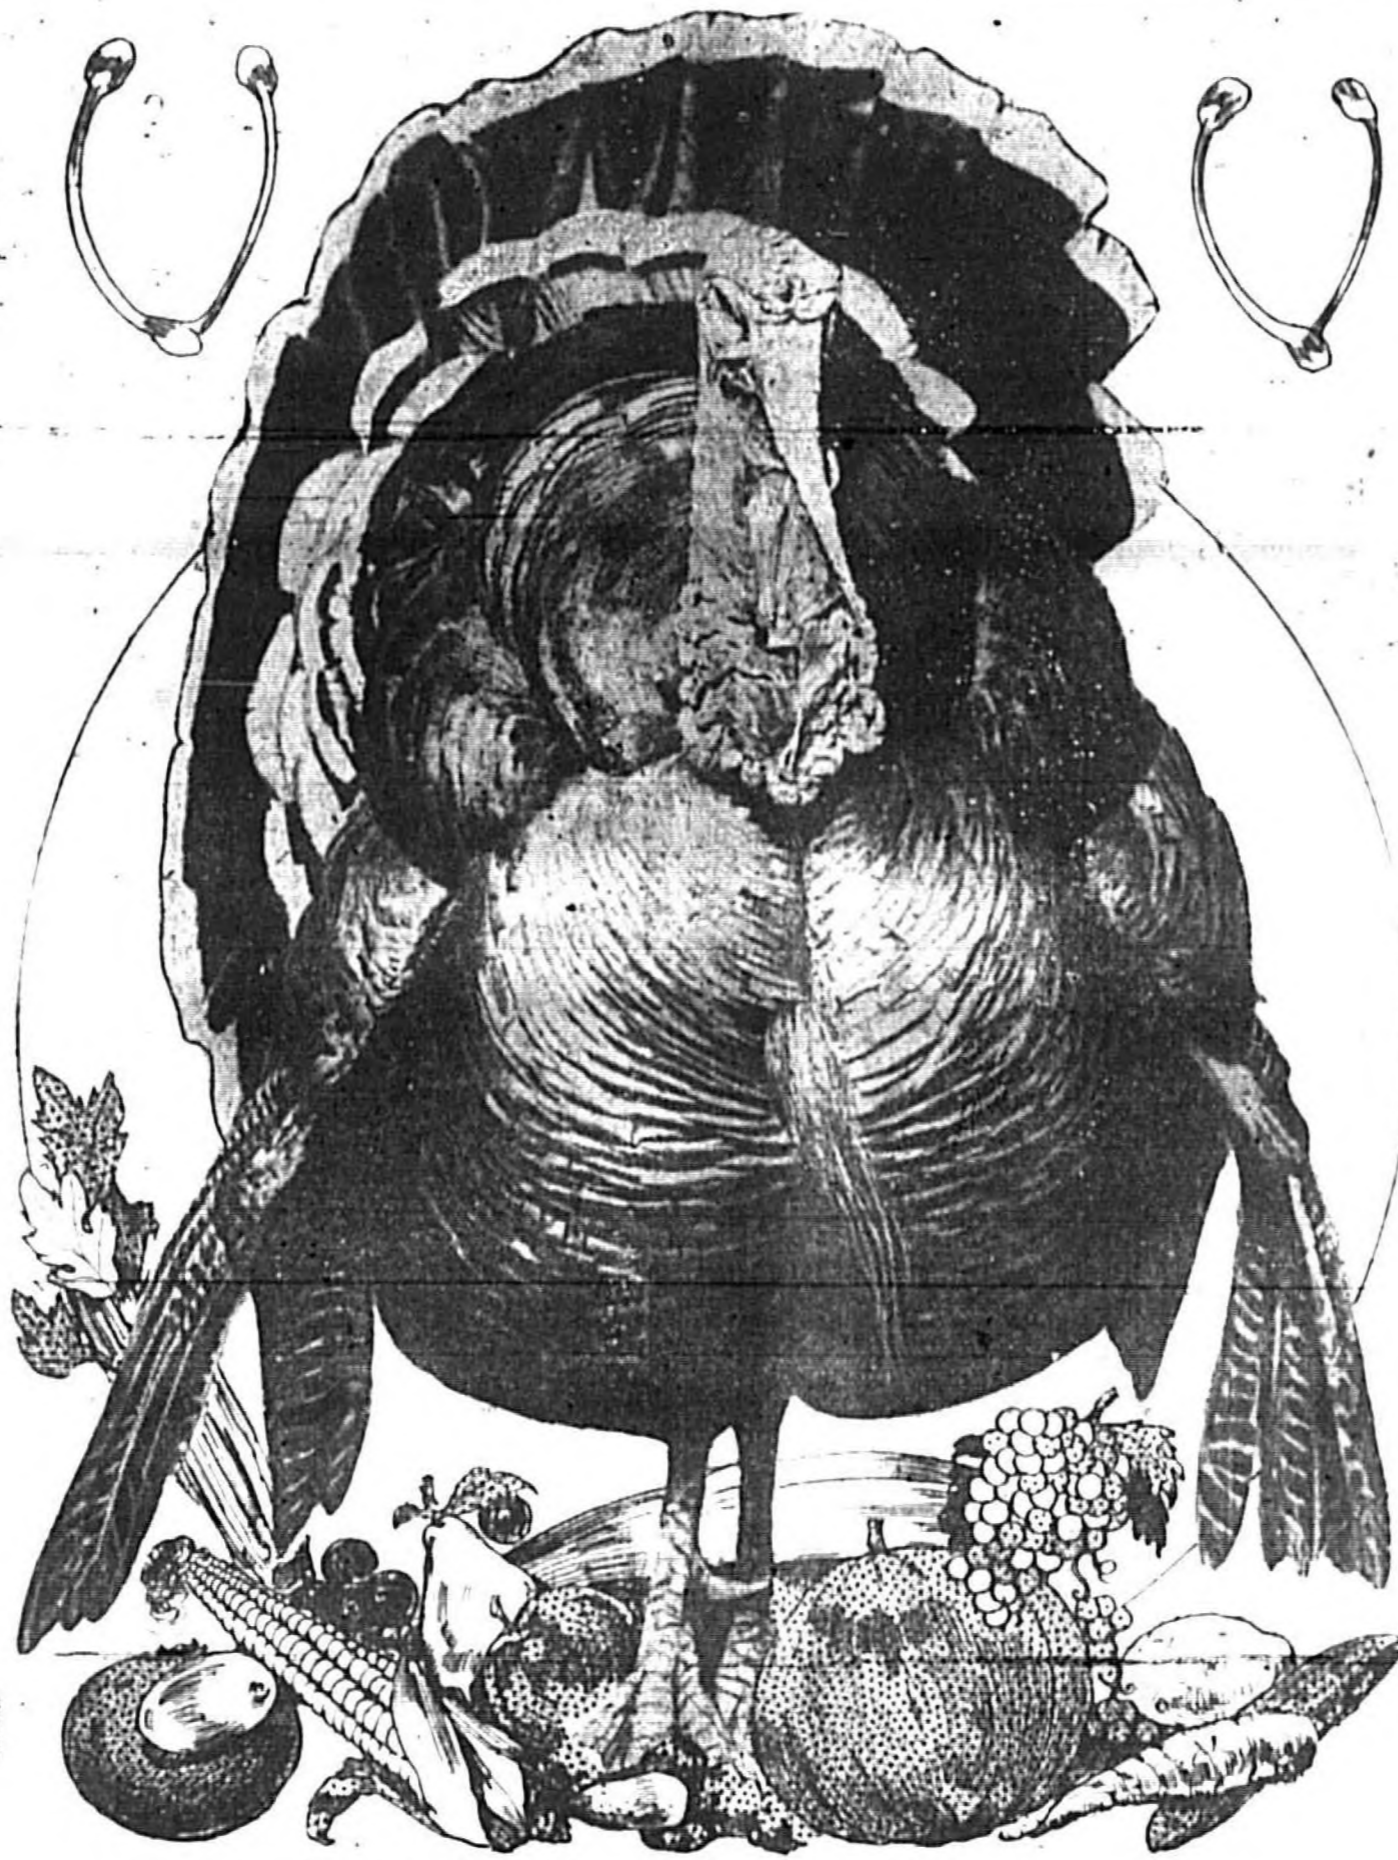

Sanford, Fla., Nov. 21.—The cold last week did considerable damage to tender vegetables in some sections, but the Celery City escaped without loss. Some pioneer growers claim the cold wave was worth thousands of dollars to them, as it destroyed millions of insects that would have done the crops more or less injury. Celery, lettuce and cabbage are in good condition and do not show the slightest signs of having passed through severe weather. Growers attribute their escape to the high winds and cloudy weather the greater part of Sunday night and Monday. This, no doubt, saved the lettuce from being hurt.

The weather remained quite cold until Wednesday when there was a decided change. It turned warm and cloudy weather prevailed the latter part of the week. Express shipments of lettuce are steadily increasing and from present indications it is believed the loading of refrigerators will start the first of next week. Sanford has nearly 1,500 acres in celery, lettuce, cabbage, cauliflower, beets, potatoes, English peas and romaine. —Produce News.

HIS MAJESTY, KING TURK

THANKSGIVING DAY

PROCLAMATION BY THE PEOPLE OF SEMINOLE

To The World at Large:

There are times in the affairs of state when it becomes necessary for the American people (which includes Seminole county) to throw off the yoke of temporary business depression and a wholesome respect for the welfare of mankind requires that a fitting expression be given the determination.

Whereas, The American people and those of Orlando by their suffrage have elected a chief executive under whose policy a period of general prosperity will be inaugurated and the low tariff will reduce the price of turkeys and

Whereas, It is believed that even those who may differ with him can still hold postoffice and other positions of trust and will promote the general public interest by continuing to draw their salaries from a Democratic government and will cooperate with us at least until events may disclose the wisdom or unwisdom thereof and

Whereas, Sanford is the metropolis of Seminole county recently formed by the grace of God and several others whose names we cannot now recall and in the Great Little County of Seminole there are other cities that are flourishing and making great progress and the entire county is prospering to such a remarkable degree as to be beyond comprehension and

Whereas, Sanford lettuce having started the season of prosperity with such a high price that several commission men have dropped dead with heart disease, this being cause for congratulation and thanksgiving and may they never have to eat another Thanksgiving dinner in the old hotel and

Therefore, Be it resolved; That we the people of this most favored county hereby urge the necessity of setting aside all rivalry and aspirations for office and for a few hours forget about politics and by combined effort seek to encourage industrial, mercantile and financial pursuit by awakening our people to a restored sense of their responsibility, if such a miracle is possible.

Let us all in this season of bountiful crops and restored confidence in general financial conditions unite in their efforts to promote a broad reciprocal spirit which does not mean patronizing the mail order houses by a jugful and to bring back that degree of business activity which in years past has characterized the country in general and Sanford in particular.

While every cultivated acre is laden with plenty, every heart responds to the inspired hope of good times; every ripple on the broad bosoms of Lakes Monroe and Jessup and Harney breathes an invitation to our people to engage in the commerce of the world. As the happiness of one is the concern of all we ask the cooperation of our neighbors here and all over this neck of the wood in all pursuits and as this season marks the advent of a new era industrially and otherwise we desire it to be known that Sanford throws open her gates and we invite the world to enter, barter, trade, sell and buy and aid in inaugurating a prosperity that may extend throughout the land like a tidal wave and to meet us in a spirit of broad patriotic good fellowship intent only upon the common good of our great county.

THANKSGIVING DAY

GENEVA HAS NEW CHURCH

THRIVING CITY OF SEMINOLE MAKING GREAT STRIDES

METHODIST CHURCH DEDICATED

BASKET PICNIC MADE A MOST DELIGHTFUL OCCASION WELL ATTENDED

One of the most enterprising and thrifty communities in Seminole county is that surrounding the beautiful little city of Geneva. The people of Geneva not only have fine homes surrounded by beautiful orange groves fronting the many lakes of that vicinity but they know how to dispense hospitality that is traditional with the southern people.

Last Sunday the city of Geneva dedicated the elegant new Methodist church recently built at that place and invitations were extended to the people of every denomination to join in the services, an invitation that was gladly accepted the proverbial hospitality of that section being a household word. The new Methodist church is a fine structure that would grace a city twice the size and was recently built through the untiring efforts of the good people of Geneva and especially the ladies who assisted in and the ladies can. The church is large and of fine appearance having an assembly room, auditorium and a large parlor for the altar and choir. The windows are of stained glass and the woodwork is finished in mission, the pews finished to match. The church is especially adapted for a special activity, being gas plant and is up to date in every particular, in fact can be classed among the best of the kind in Seminole county.

The services on Sunday consisted of several fine musical numbers rendered by the choir assisted by the church orchestra. Dr. Blackburn, the presiding officer made the dedicatory address and the pastor, Mr. Hope, in his remarks, directed toward the church extension and the good work being accomplished along this line.

After services the congregation and guests adjourned to the grove adjoining the church and here a most beautiful repast was spread beneath the shade of the oaks and pines and the well filled baskets were almost too much for the hastily constructed tables.

The day was a memorable one not only because it meant the dedication of another house of worship in Seminole county, but because of the fact that these good people were allowed to assemble and to mingle again one with another and the day was most pleasantly spent and too soon ended.

Geneva is one of the rare gems in the diadem of Florida and has recently forged to the front by the East Coast Ry. building a rail connection between Maytown and Okeechobee points thus giving the buyers and shippers an outlet. Nestling among the piney hills and dotted with sparkling lakes, a paradise for tourists, a place for the farmer and fruit grower, Geneva is appealing to the investor and man of means and town lots are selling and new people are going there to buy and build homes.

New stores, new residences, new packing houses and other industries did not blind the good people of Geneva with the financial interests to the exclusion of the spiritual and new churches followed the first being the Methodist dedicated on Sunday.

Rev. A. L. Hope is the pastor of the new church and also has the Methodist church of Oviedo in the pastorate and the people of that section are to be congratulated upon having this forceful and earnest minister in their midst.

Will Build Parish House

The Episcopalians will build a parish house 30 by 68 feet on the south side of their property at the corner of Park avenue and Fourth streets. The building will be started this week and will be a fine improvement in the church property. The parish house will be used for the Sunday school and entertainments and bazaars and other work of the church. The Episcopal church like all the other churches of Sanford is making a remarkable growth and larger quarters are necessary.

County Jail Work Starts

The jail fixtures for the new county jail have arrived and work will start immediately. As related in The Herald some months ago the county purchased the Hill building next to the city hall and this building will be put in first class shape for the county jail. All steel cells will be used and the ceilings and floors will be of steel and concrete, making one of the finest jails for the size in the state.
