Law partnership on 13th Street becomes a reality

By Russ White

STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - One of the strongest criticisms of the Sanford Police Department in recent years was its reluctance to form partnerships or use the resources of the Seminole County Sheriff's Office.

"Calling us wouldn't have meant a weakness, it would have been a strength," Sheriff Don Ealinger said at a law enforcement committee meeting at Sanford City Hall.

Today, a number of partnerships exist - the most significant being the new Sanford/Seminole Community Center at 1211 13th St. in the Goldboro area.

Sanford City Commissioner Velma Williams, who vigorously campaigned for the center, led the dignitaries at a groundbreaking on Monday. She told those gathered that the majority of the residents in the community were very enthusiastic about the effort.

Others, she warned, might regard the constant presence of deputies and city police as a form of harassment. Williams assured them that was not the case.

"We're not going into this partnership to harass anyone," Acting Sanford Police Chief Ray Bronson said. "We're coming in to help this community and neighborhoods throughout Sanford. The Sheriff's Office has a far bigger budget than ours. This is a good partnership."

The station on 13th street is a part of the establishment of a high visibility of law enforcement. Please see Law, Page 4A

Voters today will speak on Sanford's future path

STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - Voters in Sanford today are choosing a new city commissioner, and deciding whether the City Manager will be placed in charge of supervising the police and fire departments.

The polls are open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Residents of District 1 can vote at the Sanford Civic Center, 401 E. Seminole Blvd. Residents of District 2 can vote at the Westside Recreation Center/Boys & Girls Club of Sanford, 919 S. Persimmon Ave.

Residents of District 3 can vote at First Church of the Nazarene Auditorium, 2581 Sanford Ave. Residents of District 4 can vote at the Seminole County Public and Human Services Auditorium, 400 W. Airport Blvd.

The candidates for Sanford's

District 3 commission seat are A.A. "Mac" McClanahan, 73, a Navy veteran and businessman with a master's degree in criminology from Rollins College. Tom Carpenter, 56, a U.S. customs inspector at the Orlando Sanford Airport with an associates degree from Seminole Community College, and Dean Ray, 39, an appliance store owner with an 11th grade education.

Whitley Eckstein, a social studies teacher at Seminole High School, is running unopposed for re-election in District 4.

City residents will decide whether the city manager, instead of the city commission, will be responsible for supervising the Police Department and Fire Department.

McClanahan, who served on the city commission from 1972-1979 and 1987-1995, said his goal is to enhance the quality of life of Sanford residents through controlled growth.

Carpenter also said his priority is making sure growth is done in a manner that has the least effect on residents' quality of life. He wants to work with the county to clean up abandoned homes and businesses in areas such as 25th Street to 30th Street.

Ray said his priority is to enhance the police department through $500,000 in additional funding per year for four years to purchase new equipment. He wants to see more community oriented policing.

Seminole County Residents in precincts 68, 43 and 49 of Winter Park are choosing a new member of the Florida House of Representatives. The candidates for the District 35 seat are Anthony Suarez, Janet Hawkings, and Jerry Creel.

Anyone with questions concerning voting today can call the office of the Supervisor of Elections at 321-1130, extension 7709.

Morris says trade mission to Spain exceeds expectations

By Russ White

STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - On the last leg of a business development and trade mission to Spain, Seminole County Commissioner Randy Morris reports "significant dialogue" on topics that include pollution control, water resources, telecommunications and electric power systems.

Morris is leading an 11-member Metro Orlando International Affairs delegation to Spain, a top export market for the United States.

The goal of the mission is to investigate and pursue direct business and trade opportunities between the Orlando region and the cities of Madrid, Barcelona and Pamplona. The delegation is now in Pamplona and will return late Wednesday.

"This particular mission exceeds all expectations," Morris said by phone on Monday. "We are realizing more and more how much potential there is for the Orlando region and cities in Spain to do business together."

The Commercial Section of the U.S. Embassy in Madrid forecasts growth for U.S. exports and has defined many industries as best prospect products.

Seminole County economic planner John Jones, Seminole Community College president Ann McKee, Orlando Sanford Airport marketing executive Shirley Portillo and Seminole County Port Authority Administrator Dennis Dolner are also on the mission along with state officials.

The group is meeting each day for two weeks with Spanish government, business and educational officials. While in Madrid, the Florida officials inaugurated the state's new trade office - the first U.S. state office in Spain.

The Metro Orlando International Affairs Commission, the international office of the Economic Development of Mid-Florida, Inc., organized the mission. For the second consecutive year, Metro Orlando, the fastest growing major export market in Florida.

The region had more than $1.66 billion in export sales in 1997, a 36.4 percent increase from the previous year.

"In recent years we have developed important relations and economic development ties in Spain, Ireland and in England," Morris said. "Seminole County is no longer a bedroom community outside of Orlando. It is a player in economic development nationally and internationally."

Police tear down suspect houses

By Bill Kerna

STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - A suspected crack house in Sanford became a church parking lot this week, as the city and county continue their campaign to tear down vacant houses that attract crime.

New Salem Primitive Baptist Church recently purchased the house at 1502 W. 12th Street. The property had become a haven for vagrants and possible drug deals while sitting vacant, deputies said.

"After the family that used to live in the home moved out folks began sleeping in it," Seminole County Sheriff's Office Lt. Greg Barnett said. "A vacant house can attract that type of activity."

Seminole County demolishes 30-40 vacant houses that are possibly being used for illegal activity per year, usually working closely with city code enforcement officials, Barnett said.

Officials from Sanford, Seminole County, and the Seminole County Sheriff's Office combined efforts to tear down the suspected crack house, and clear land to turn it into a church parking lot.

"Our enforcement efforts are definitely increasing," Barnett said. "We're working hard with city code enforcement to take down vacant houses where illegal activity such as drug deals may be taking place."

FOCUS ON WOMEN

SARA ECKEL

Schools' duty: to educate and protect

When LaShonda Davis was in the fifth grade, her grades started to slip. She began having nightmares, and she even wrote a suicide note.

The source of LaShonda's distress was a 10-year-old boy in her classroom who repeatedly fondled her breasts and other parts of her body. For six months, she and her mother, Aurelia Davis repeatedly complained to authorities at the Hubbard Elementary School in Forsyth, Ga. But the near-constant harassment didn't end.

So Aurelia Davis filed a lawsuit, arguing that the school failed to protect her daughter from the offending student. The case made its way to the Supreme Court, where last week justices heard the opening arguments. It is the first time the high court has considered a case of peer-on-peer sexual harassment in schools.

Many of the justices expressed skepticism that the bad behavior of a 10-year-old boy could amount to a federal case. "Little boys tease little girls throughout their years in school. Is every incident going to lead to a lawsuit?" asked Justice Sandra Day O'Connor.

The argument against LaShonda's case is a reasonable one: We certainly don't want to be in a situation where childish rudeness continually puts school districts in court. And large settlements in favor of the plaintiffs will ultimately harm students and taxpayers. Add to that the widespread confusion about what sexual harassment is and is not, and it's clear that a ruling for LaShonda could open a Pandora's box.

But LaShonda's case is not one of garden-variety teasing. Indeed, after LaShonda and her mother gave up on getting help from school officials, they took their case to the local police, and her perpetrator subsequently pleaded guilty to sexual battery.

All the while, Monroe County School District officials say they bear no responsibility for the boy's behavior. Lawyers for the school district insist that schools are not liable for acts of sexual harassment that students inflict on other students—an assertion even more disturbing than the prospect of 10-year-olds suing their schools. "I understand the problem of drawing a line between rough-stuff teasing and sexual harassment," said Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg.

The question before the court and the nation boils down to this: Are schools required to protect children from unruly students? Or can they turn their back on kids who are groped, fondled and otherwise molested?

Unfortunately, LaShonda's ordeal is not an isolated one. There are several similar cases on the dockets right now. And an article I wrote on the subject for a teen magazine got a response from many young girls who could not find a sympathetic ear at school after being assaulted by a peer.

Americans may be uncomfortable using the courts for cases like LaShonda's. But when parents send their kids to school, there is an implicit agreement that those children will be cared for. When they are not, schools must be held accountable.

How many Charlie Chan sons existed?

ASK DICK KLEINER

DICK & CHICKI KLEINER

Q. I am a Charlie Chan fan. I know Keye Luke, the No. 1 son, has passed on. Were there two more sons called Sen Yung and Sen Fong? I may have read the credits incorrectly. Could you tell me their birth and death dates, please? I can't find any information about them. — R.E.H., Altoona, Pa.

A. There were only two sons — Keye Luke played Lee, the No. 1 son, and Victor Sen Yung was the No. 2 son, Jimmy Chan. Victor Sen Yung was born in 1915 and died in 1980.

Q. A while back you printed something that has to be wrong information. You said that "Sky King" was on in 1953 and 1954. I remember it from the early 1960s. My mother would leave me to watch TV while she went to get groceries. I was eight or ten years old. "Sky King" was one of the shows I liked because of the airplane. I was born in 1952, and I don't think she would have left me alone when I was one or two. Please re-check your information. — A.N., Niles, Mich.

A. We have checked and re-checked, and our information is correct. So either you were watching reruns or you were very precocious. "Sky King" originally aired in 1953 and 1954 on ABC.

Q. I'd appreciate it if you would happen to have knowledge of a movie with Greta Gabor called "Queen Christina." It's been on TV and I would like to know if it's available on video. — M.H., Brockton, Mass.

A. Greta was not one of those Gabor sisters. Her last name was Garbo. "Queen Christina," one of her finest films, is out on both video and laser disc.

Q. My dad would love to know what you can find out about a movie that he really liked years ago. He thinks it was called "Valley of the Giants" and that it came out in 1938 or 1939. He thinks it was in color. I never see it listed to be shown on the old movie channels. — J.B., Brownstown, Pa.

A. Dad is right about the title — "Valley of the Giants" — and the year — 1938 — and the fact that it was in color. It starred Wayne Morris, Claire Trevor and Charles Bickford. There is no video available, however.

Q. I have a question for you. One of my favorite war movies is "They Were Expendable" with John Wayne and Donna Reed. How did they get the excellent footage of the PT boats being fired at, especially the shells bursting so close? They didn't have the technical ability they have today. — M.S., West Palm Beach, Fla.

A. Even then (1945), Hollywood studios had a lot of technical ability. They worked a lot with miniatures and small explosives.

Q. Please help settle an argument. Who was the director of "Streets of San Francisco" with Karl Malden and young Michael Douglas? If we don't learn the truth soon, we'll murder each other, ha ha. — W.W. and C.W., Mesa, Ariz.

A. Ha ha, yourself. Get a grip on yourselves, because there was not just one director, there were dozens of different directors on that show.

Men convicted for bilking investors

FROM WIRE REPORTS

Orlando - A Deltona, Florida man has been convicted of 77 charges in connection with a Ponzi scheme operated by his companies. Late Thursday in Volusia County Circuit Court, Charles F. Esakuchen, Jr., 44, was found guilty of charges that he defrauded $8 million from Florida investors. His arrest in November 1997 followed a two-year investigation by the Department of Banking and Finance (DBF), directed by Comptroller Bog Milligan, and the office of Statewide Prosecutor Melanie Hines. The Florida Department of Law Enforcement assisted in the investigation.

The investigation, arrest, and vigorous prosecution of Esakuchen demonstrate the commitment of DBF, Hines' office, and other state agencies to fight financial fraud. On Tuesday, February 23, Governor Jeb Bush and the Florida Cabinet adopted a resolution declaring May 9 through 15 as Fight Financial Fraud in Florida Week, to heighten the public's awareness of these types of crimes. "We're working hard to protect consumers from these insidious crimes," Comptroller Milligan said. "This special initiative and vigorous enforcement efforts will help keep our citizens from being victimized by white-collar crime."

Esakuchen is president of ECN Corporation in Heathrow, Florida. "Esakuchen's companies issued promissory notes to investors for $8 million in investments," said Financial Investigator Michael Ombel of the DBF regional office in Orlando. "Proceeds were used to pay principal and interest payments to investors (which is known as a Ponzi scheme) and pay company expenses and payroll. And over $1 million was diverted to Esakuchen's personal accounts."

Esakuchen is currently being held in the Volusia County Jail, pending a bond hearing. Sentencing is set for April 28. He Press-122, Page 4A

Sanford residents are voting on a referendum today that will enable the city's police and fire chiefs to report directly to the city manager rather than the five-person city commission. The referendum is expected to pass, and the city will seek a new police chief in a nationwide search.

Acting Chief Bronson, a 25-year veteran of the force, is expected to be the No. 2 man in the new organization unless he decides to retire. City officials are urging him to stay. Joe Dillard is retiring this month as chief. He has been on medical leave the past three months.

'Florida's team' needs a change of leadership

SANFORD - The Tampa Bay Devil Rays and Florida Marlins can crow all they want about being Florida's team, but it isn't even close.

Almost every local baseball fan (if there are any left) is still a longtime Atlanta Braves supporter and the scene at the Disney Wide World of Sports Complex proves it.

The Braves can charge admission - $7.50 a pop - when no one else does, and the place is still packed while stars like Jeff Bagwell of the Astros can walk through Kissimmee unnoticed and whoever the star of the Marlins is can do the same in Viera (wherever that is).

Back to the Braves. As 'Florida's team' for whoever still cares about major league baseball in these parts, there's a burning question on my mind.

Why in the world is Bobby Cox still managing the Braves? Cox is a great manager - if it's 1990 and the team record is 60-102 and no one is attending the games.

It's now 1999 and the Braves have had the most talent in baseball for eight years now. They have one world series ring for it.

Remember Cox letting Charlie Leisner pitch to Kirby Puckett in the 1991 World Series?

Getting out-managed by Cito Gaston in 1992? Losing to the Phillies in 1993?

Moving it along, remember the humiliation by the Padres last season?

It isn't always the manager's fault. But sometimes a change has to be made for the sake of competency.

The Braves have had the best pitching staff in baseball and maybe the most successful decade in baseball history as far as a pitching staff. Top 10 years of Glavine and Smoltz, seven years of Maddux and five years of Steve Avery.

As far as the everyday lineup, with players like Andrew and Chipper Jones, McGriff, Galarraga, Fendleton, Gant, Blauser, Justice, Grissom, Lofton and the rest, how can this unit not be winning the World Series year after year?

Compare the Braves of the '90s to the Yankees of the '90s, a team with two rings.

New York's potential Hall of Famers from the '90s include Don Mattingly, Tim Lincecum, maybe Derek Jeter, maybe Bernie Williams.

Atlanta's include Dale Murphy (okay, that's a shot in the dark and he was on the Braves' bad team), Maddux, Smoltz (maybe), Glavine (probably when it's all done), Dennis Martinez, Jones, Justice, Lofton (all possibly), and a bunch of others who may be ready in the future.

But the Braves can't find a way to win.

That's why it all comes back to Cox.

The Braves are complacent. And they have every right to be. They have been the best team in baseball for eight years now.

But they only have one ring. The Braves need a shake-up. Put a new guy in charge. Actually Winter Park's Davey Johnson would have been the perfect fit this season before he signed with Los Angeles.

Something needs to be done in Atlanta or Braves' fans can expect a similar scenario to seven of the last eight years: an easy division title and an early playoff exit when the team needs more than Maddux, Smoltz and Glavine to get by.

Bobby Cox did a great job of turning the Braves from a Please see Jeff, Page 2B

Lake Mary girls soccer, Lake Howell boys basketball fall one score short

TALLAHASSEE - Maren Jaffe scored with only 30-seconds left in the game as Spanish River High School edged Lake Mary, 2-1, to win its third girls' Class 6A State Soccer Championship in the last four years Saturday night at Gene Cox Stadium in Tallahassee.

Jaffe, a senior, outran and then got off the shot with four Rams defenders closing in as the Sharks denied Lake Mary back-to-back titles and gave the Sharks another crown to go with their own back-to-back titles in 1996 and 1997.

Spanish River (25-1-2), ranked No. 6 in the nation, took a 1-0 lead with 11:47 left in the first half when Amber Tollefson took a centering pass from Amanda Kahn and drilled a shot into the right corner of the Rams goal.

Lake Mary (23-5-6) had two opportunities to score in the first half, but both were smothered by Sharks' keeper Cammy Jones.

Marissa Burkey made a good run into the box, but Jones smothered the attempt and Jackie VanLooven's shot off a corner kick by Allison Weber was bobbed by Jones, but she was able to cover the ball before Adrienne Elker could get to the rebound.

The Rams finally got the tying goal with 24:57 left in the game when Aly Benitez was pulled down in the box and was awarded a penalty kick, which got just under Jones.

The game appeared to be headed for overtime, when anything can happen, and, in fact, the winning score came in injury time, ending Lake

Benitez has a 'Cavalier' attitude

By Kelle Warner
CORRESPONDENT

LAKE MARY - It's really not surprising that Aly Benitez is going to college on a full scholarship.

Add to that her almost unmatched prowess on the soccer field and she was a shoe-in to receive an offer from a top-notch school.

Benitez is on her way to the University of Virginia to play for the Cavaliers and she couldn't be happier about it.

"I am really excited about this opportunity," Benitez said. "I was trying to decide between Notre Dame and UVA, which wasn't an easy choice. The academic programs at both schools are superb. It basically came down to the coach."

The program at UVA is a perennially Top 10 nationally ranked Division I program, partially because of coach April Heinrich. Heinrich was the coach of the Olympic gold medal team in the 1998 games and chooses her players very carefully.

Benitez should fit into the program nicely. She has been a member of the Olympic development team since the age of 15 and has been an exceptional leader on the Lake Mary squad.

In addition to her success on the field, Benitez has been a very successful student in high school and is looking to either pursue a major in the renowned Dardin Business School or in the field of criminology.

"I really just felt like UVA fit all of my needs," Benitez said. "The coach is a great person and I am really looking forward to playing for a woman for the first time. Coach Eisale is wonderful, but the change could be both beneficial and fun."

The change, however, is not something that Benitez's mother, Beth is looking forward to.

"Aly is an only child and I am really going to miss her," she said. "I am a little nervous about her going so far away but we are from that area so we can have family look in on her from time to time."

Based on her performance at Lake Mary, Benitez shouldn't need too much looking after. Her work ethic has brought her great things in high school and college will only give her the opportunity to do even more.

Starling caps undefeated Lions' comeback

By Tony DeBernier
CORRESPONDENT

OVIEDO - This is developing into a peculiar habit.

For the second time in less than a week, the Oviedo High School varsity baseball team fell behind 5-1, only to rally in its final at bat to pull out a victory.

On Monday night, it was the visiting Deltona Wolves who succumbed to the Lions' late-inning heroics, falling 6-5 to the undefeated Oviedo (8-0) side. Last Wednesday, Lake Brantley saw a 5-1 lead disappear at Mikler Field.

"This team does not quit," said Oviedo coach Kenne Brown. "Twice now in the last week, this team has proved to itself that it can come from behind to win. These guys never think they're beat. And as long as they believe that, we're in every game until the final out."

It was Kenny Starling's turn to be the hero in Oviedo's on-going rotation as he delivered a bases-loaded single to score Paul Lubrano with the game-winning run.

The rally started when Jered

Goodwin (who was 3-for-3 with a triple) led off with an infield hit. After advancing to second on an errant throw, Goodwin scored to tie the game on Lubrano's single to right-center field.

Please see Baseball, Page 2B

Baseball

Larry Grayson then doubled into the left field corner to chase Lubrano to third and force Deltona to intentionally walk Blaine Schulte to load the bases, creating a force play at any base.

Staring spoiled that plan with a sharp single into left field.

The late rally made a winner of relief pitcher J.C. Blass, who worked four scoreless innings to allow his teammates to scratch their way back into the game. Blass (2-0) allowed just two hits while striking out three and walking one.

Deltona led from the start, scoring twice in the top of the first inning and three more times in the top of the third.

Javier Alvarez started the Lions on their comeback when he led off the bottom of the fifth with a solo home run (his fifth of the season) to left field.

Goodwin then aided a triple and scored on Justin Holmes' sacrifice fly.

An out later, Grayson was hit by a pitch, went to second on a wild pitch, and came around to score on an error by the Deltona second baseman.

Everybody contributed to this win," said Brown. "No one person can take the credit for it. Certainly, Kenny (Starling) deserves a lot of credit for coming through with a big hit to drive in the winning run, but there were a lot of clutch plays to help us get to that point."

Goodwin scored two runs to go with his triple and two singles. Grayson doubled, singled, and scored a run. Alvarez had his solo home run. Lubrano contributed two singles, two runs, and an RBI. Schulte and Starling each finished with a single and an RBI. Holmes also chipped in with an RBI.

Providing the offense for Deltona (5-4) were Josh Bucich (double); Bryan Maples, Jarred Petrosky, Nick Chapman, and Matt Matousek (each with a single and an RBI); Rocky Segarra and Garrett Weirs (two runs scored apiece); Doug Hosterman (single); and Will Bates (one run).

Oviedo will try to stretch its season-opening win streak to nine games Friday night when the Lions host the Winter Springs Bears in a 7 p.m. game at Mikler Field.

BEARS EDGE SAINTS

WINTER SPRINGS - Brad Stephenson and Chris Maher combined on a four-hitter and Winter Springs scored the winning run in the bottom of the sixth inning to edge Trinity Prep, 4-3, in baseball action Saturday afternoon.

The Saints had scored single runs in the third and fourth innings to take a 2-0 lead, but the Bears (2-2) scored three times in the bottom of the fourth inning to take the lead.

Trinity Prep came back to tie the game in the top of the sixth inning, but coach Harold Hitt's squad answered right back with the game-winning run.

Stephenson (1-1) was the winning pitcher, while Maher worked the seventh inning for the save.
Stephenson also led the Bears' seven-hit offensive attack, going 2-for-4 with a double. Jeff Rogers and Andrew Huff both doubled and had an RBI, while Jeff Cook and John Rose Crooks both had an RBI.

Warnicke-Smith and Hornsby both doubled for the Saints.

BUZZER-BEATER RIMS OUT FOR SILVER HAWKS

CASSELBERRY - And the winner of the 'Fickle-Finger of Fate Award' is -- The Lake Howell boys' basketball team.

For the sixth time this season, the Silver Hawks had a game go right down to the final horn -- and for the fifth time Lake Howell came up on the short end of the score.

Hoisting Vero Beach High School in the Class 6A North Region 1 Championship Game Saturday night, Chad Parsons' 12-foot bank shot fell off the front of the rim as the horn sounded and the Indians (26-6) held on for a 45-44 victory over the Silver Hawks (27-8).

The Vero Beach victory ended Lake Howell's hopes of a its first-ever trip to the State Final Four and also denied super star point guard Reggie Kohn the opportunity to display his immense skills for The Lakeland Center crowd.

In a related happening, Deland, the Class 6A-District 3 runner-up to the Silver Hawks, also lost by one point, 57-56, to Lake Worth.

Reggie Kohn hit a three-pointer to give Lake Howell the lead to open the game and head coach Steve Kohn's charges led 11-8 after the first period.

But the Silver Hawks, who went to the outside game because Vero's 6-foot-11 center, Matt Crawford, could not find the range in the second quarter and were outscored 14-6 in the second quarter, giving the Indians a 22-17 advantage.

Lake Howell continued to struggle from the outside, missing all 13 of its three-point attempts after Reggie Kohn's bomb to open the game, and fell behind by as many as 11 points in the third quarter before closing the period with an 11-2 run, by cutting to the basket and also getting offensive rebounds, to close to within 33-30 after the third stanza.

Reggie Kohn finally put the Silver Hawks back ahead, 36-35, with a tip-in with 5:36 remaining on the clock.

But after the team's traded baskets, including a lay-up by Parsons, Vero Beach's Jacob Frasier, who led the Indians with a game-high 16 points, buried his second three-pointer of the game, putting Vero Beach ahead to stay, 40-38, with 3:33 left to play.

Brad Hoffer kept Lake Howell close, hitting a jumper and two free throws in the final 1:13, setting the stage for the Silver Hawks' final try. Reggie Kohn brought the ball into Parsons from the side with 2.3 seconds left, but his shot refused to go down.

Reggie Kohn led Lake Howell with 13 points and seven assists, while Hoffer also scored 13 points. Parsons finished with eight.

DAR rededicates historical marker

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

Rededication of the NSDAR marker and restoration of the gravesite of Elizabeth Harrison Stirling by the Sallie Harrison Chapter DAR and the Fort Mellon Society C.A.R. took place Feb. 14, at Lakeview Cemetery, Sanford. The ceremony began with Presentation of the Colors: American Flag carried by Joseph Milder; C.A.R. Flag carried by Beau Duryea; and DAR Flag carried by Susanna Sovran all members of the Fort Mellon Society Children of the American Revolution.

Following the welcome by Sallie Harrison Chapter DAR Regent, Betty Bridgwater the invocation was led by chaplain Mary Williams of Sallie Harrison Chapter. After the American's Creed and C.A.R. Creed introductions were made by Bridgwater. Guests: State Registrar Charlotte Glennie and her mother, Mrs. Glennie; Mrs. Elizabeth S. Malchow, Regent of William P. Duval Chapter, NSDAR; Mr. Bart Peterson III, Great grandson of founding regent Mrs. Stirling; Mrs. Alison Durham, senior President of Fort Mellon Society C.A.R. and Beau Duryea president of the Ft. Mellon Society C.A.R. Historian, Virginia Powell gave a tribute to Mrs. Stirling as follows:

The Sallie Harrison Chapter was organized Nov. 15, 1918 with 26 charter members. It was the 13th chapter in the State of Florida. Elizabeth Harrison Stirling was the Organizing Regent whose Revolutionary War Ancestor was Edward Harrison of Georgia. The chapter was named for his oldest daughter Sallie. Elizabeth was the granddaughter of Edward Harrison and she was entitled to 25 bars for Revolutionary ancestors.

Mrs. Stirling was born Oct. 18, 1872 and was educated at the female Seminary in Gainesville, Ga. She was active in every movement for the betterment of Sanford and was a devoted church member, a devoted daughter, sister, wife and mother, a loyal friend and valued citizen.

Following her death in Feb. 17, 1925, Sallie Harrison Chapter deeply mourned her loss and on Dec. 18, 1931 placed on her grave the bronze DAR marker bearing the insignia of the Society. The ceremony rededicates the DAR marker during the 80th year of celebration of the founding of Sallie Harrison Chapter. We want to thank Gene Hunt of Hunt Monument Co. for restoring the grave covers and the bronze DAR marker," Virginia Powell said.

Rededication of the marker was by chaplain, Mary Williams. Victoria Sovran unveiled the marker and J.T. and Kelly Frye placed a wreath on the grave. Rededication was by Abby Durham of Ft. Mellon Society and refreshments followed by hostess Elizabeth Boyd.

Teens left home tempted to stray

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 15-year-old who lives with my two "Worried Mom" in Minneapolis. I agree that there are some immature 14-year-olds, but not all of them are immature. Although I wasn't mature at that time, I know people who are. Just saying that about all 14-year-old boys is unfair.

Her son showed her that he could spend the night at a friend's house without an adult and not do anything wrong. I was left alone at night at a friend's house, and my friend and I knew not to do anything illegal or stupid. Most 14-year-olds do have their heads on.

MAD 15-YEAR-OLD IN DURHAM, N.C.
DEAR MAD 15-YEAR-OLD: No one accused the boys of doing anything "wrong." However, it's better to be safe than sorry. Read on.

DEAR ABBY: In response to "Worried Mom in Minneapolis," we just returned from the emergency room after picking up our 14-year-old son. He had shared one bottle of whiskey with two other 14-year-old boys at 11 a.m. Two of the boys were found inebriated after falling on their way to a 7-Eleven store to get something to eat. Had they stayed home, they may have ended up dead from choking on their own vomit when they passed out.

One of the boys' fathers had left them home for one hour while he took his daughter to her mom's. Imagine what could have happened had they been left alone overnight.

AN ORDINARY MOM WITH AN ORDINARY SON IN CALIFORNIA
DEAR ORDINARY MOM: Your son is overdoing a frank discussion about the fact that gazing alcohol can not only make a person sick, it can lead to overdosing, which can be fatal. At this point he may be willing to accept it. Read on.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Worried Mom in Minneapolis." I am 42 years old, and I was left home alone at age 14. Because of it, I grew up fast. (I am female.)

It takes only one time to meet the wrong people or be in the wrong place at the wrong time. Fortunately, I had parents who gave me good morals that stuck when they weren't around. Trust me, I was no angel, but I never got caught because I guess I was lucky.

Yes, it gave me the chance to grow up faster than the girls next door. I'm lucky I survived. Really. Kids at that age can get caught up in a lot of trouble that they're not even looking for. Morals or not, it's so tempting to cross that thin line these days. And the price (drugs, disease) is a lot higher than it was in 1970.

If parents give children that freedom, they should know in their hearts that their children are strong enough to handle the pressure. I know I was not to go out, but I did say, "Most kids will, just for the challenge. You can't "smother" 14-year-olds, but be sure to keep an open mind - and never leave them unsupervised at night!"

BEEN THERE, DONE IT, BRADENTON, FLA.
DEAR BEEN THERE: I agree. Teen-agers do not have to be "bad" to exercise poor judgment on occasion. One way to avoid trouble is to avoid temptation. Temptations are less powerful when an adult is present.

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago, I left "Bill," the man I had lived with for almost four years and with whom I have a daughter. I left him to move in with "John," someone I met on the Internet. It was a big mistake. John turned out to be a pathological liar who used me for my money. I was deeply hurt.

Abby, during our six months together, he was hired twice, but was fired from each job within two weeks. I bought him everything he had. He promised to repay me, but I haven't received one red cent from him. I am now filing for bankruptcy. John told me he loved me and wanted us to marry and have a family. He talked me into going off the pill. I agreed because I loved him and wanted another child. Shortly after I found out I was pregnant, I realized that John had lied to me about everything, so I broke up with him.

Bill and I are back together now, and getting married soon. Since he will be raising the child, he wants his name on the birth certificate, instead of John's. John is leaving the state and I don't think he will be back.

My question is: What last name should my child have? John feels that the baby should have his last name because he is the biological father. He threatened that if I didn't agree, he would get a court order. Can he do that since we were never married?

Abby, should I put Bill's name, John's name or "father unknown" on the birth certificate?

UNDECIDED
DEAR UNDECIDED: I see no reason why you should put Bill's name on the birth certificate since he is not the child's biological father. However, since what you put on the birth certificate could have unforeseen consequences in the future, I urge you not to make this decision without consulting a lawyer.
