Boat shop owner arrested in tax theft

A 64-year-old owner of a Casselberry boat shop has been arrested on charges of stealing more than $5,500 in sales taxes that he collected from customers but never sent in to the state.

John H. Connerly Jr., of Casselberry, was arrested Monday on a felony charge of stealing state funds and misdemeanor charges of failure to remit state sales tax returns as required by law.

If convicted, Connerly faces up to five years in prison and up to $10,000 in fines. He was the owner and operator of Connerly Family Marine, Inc., a boat supply and repair business in Casselberry.

According to Revenue Department investigators, Connerly routinely charged customers sales tax on purchases made at his business. But at various times over a period beginning in 1996, Connerly failed to send in the sales taxes that he had collected, investigators charged. In court records, investigators alleged that Connerly diverted the money to personal and business use.

If you have information about tax theft, call the Florida Department of Revenue investigations office in the Orlando area at 407-623-1176.

Cops go undercover, arrest 23 students during class

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

Teenagers often fantasize about having a secret identity. Little did students at Oviedo and Seminole high schools know that they had classmates who really were undercover agents.

Investigators arrested 30 people Tuesday, including 23 Oviedo and Seminole high school students, as the result of a seven-month undercover operation.

Nine students at Oviedo High School and 14 students at Seminole High School were placed under arrest for selling illegal drugs to undercover agents posing as students.

"It's a very solemn moment when the drug enforcement agents arrive with their black outfits and black hoods," said Seminole High School Principal Karen Coleman. "I hope I never become so callous that when I see a kid handcuffed and led away my heart doesn't ache."

Principals were not told of the so-called "Safety Audit" until Monday, when they met with authorities to plan for Tuesday's arrests. Teachers did not find out about the operation until an agent and administrator arrested students while they were in first period classes.

Some students were pulled out of class, and those who were absent were arrested off campus. Warrants are out for another two adults, and one student.

"What happens in our neighborhoods will occur in our schools," said Seminole County Sheriff Don Eslinger. "We want to intervene in the lives of these troubled young people who are dealing in drugs, and make schools safer for all students."

The undercover agents posed as students since the beginning of the school year. One undercover agent was placed at Jerry Bohm and Maurice Tuohy look over a display of photos and models of military planes that were stationed in Sanford. The two men are part of a committee attempting to put a memorial at the airport honoring the men and women who served in the Navy at Sanford. Below: Victor White, executive director of the Orlando-Sanford Airport, discusses the memorial project.

Navy memorial proposed at airport

By Nick Pfeiffaut
Staff Writer

SANFORD — What an event. Alicia Clarke, curator of the Sanford Museum passed the ball to the Sanford-Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, and the chamber is running with it. The team is made up of chamber members and veterans of the U.S. Navy. The goal line is at the Orlando-Sanford Airport, and a touchdown is expected.

Clarke said the concept is nothing new.

"Gerald Bohm with the Fleet Reserve brought it up during last year's Navy reunion and it apparently drew a great deal of support," Clarke said. "But wives of veterans who served at the base have been discussing a memorial for ten to fifteen years. Only now have we started actually working on it."

The special memorial would hopefully be built at the airport, which served as a Navy Auxiliary Air Station as well as the Naval Air Station from 1942 to 1967. Tuesday morning, Clarke officially turned the project over to the Sanford/Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. She pointed out that it was befitting to have the project kicked off at the Chamber building.

"This building was built because of the Navy," she said. "It was originally the USO for the sailors."

One of the concepts is to have a plane, similar to those used at the base in the 1950s or 60s, as the focal point of the memorial. Discussion at the chamber meeting centered on how such a plane might be

Woman dies in fire

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

GENEVA — An 85-year-old Geneva woman was killed Monday when her clothing caught on fire while she was using her kitchen stove, according to investigators.

Helen Irene Balmer was attached to oxygen when she caught on fire after her clothing brushed against a stove-top burner. The oxygen fueled the fire, according to investigators.

When rescue workers entered the apartment of Floyd and Helen Balmer at 250 2nd Street, it was filled with smoke. Helen Balmer was lying face down on the kitchen floor near the stove, with burns over a large portion of her clothing and body. Balmer died from her injuries at the scene.

"Investigators are looking at this as a terrible accident," said Steve Olson, spokesman for the Seminole County Sheriff's Office. "She apparently got too close to the stove, her clothes caught on fire, and she died."

The accident occurred sometime between 9 p.m. and 11:30

Gas leak at local business

A natural gas burner on a kitchen stove that had been left on at Barnsters restaurant in downtown Sanford caused the structure to become filled with smoke Tuesday morning. The Sanford Fire Department responded to the restaurant, located at 112 E. 1st Street, at 7:49 a.m. No one was in the restaurant at the time, because it had not opened for business. There was never a fire. The only damage caused by the gas leak was when fire marshals had to gain forced entry through the front door. No one was injured. A spokesman for the fire department said it was unknown how long the burner had been left on, although it may have been on overnight.

Teacher faces dismissal over donations

Math instructor promised extra credit for donations to charity drive

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — A Seminole High School math teacher is facing possible dismissal after school-district investigators said she offered extra credit in exchange for donations to a holiday charity drive.

In April, Superintendent Paul Hagerly will ask the Seminole County School Board to fire

Debbie Dominguez for unprofessional conduct.

A school investigator concluded Dominguez collected about $129 and 100 cans of food from students prior to Christmas.

However, despite the claims of Dominguez, investigator John Byerly found no evidence she donated any of the items to a church.

School officials first became aware of the situation in December 1999 when a student went to the school bookkeeper to exchange $20 check for cash. He said Dominguez was collecting money for a church-related charity, and awarding academic bonus points for donations.

See Teacher, Page 7A

Dominguez told investigators the students would receive one point for each can of food or one point for each dollar contributed up to a maximum of $10 in cash. But, some students contributed both at Thanksgiving, then again at Christmas for a total of $20. One student donated 20 cans of Spaghettios, the report said.

Three students who provided written statements claimed Dominguez said they could sign a sheet indicating they received a refund, but they did not have to accept the refund.

The students also said she disclosed the content of a par-

For whom the toll must be paid

The good people who live on Brightview Drive in Chase Groves now know what hell looks like. It looks like the field of muck behind their homes.

There used to be birds chirping in the trees — and a clear blue sky overhead.

The birds are gone, the trees are gone. Six days a week, beginning at 6:30 a.m., work crews dig and blitzkrieg the land. The air is foul, the sky looks nasty.

And, that's just the half of it.

The Missing Link — an unwanted Expressway is about to make Brightview Drive the village of the damned.

"We've been misled, betrayed," the residents are protesting. Yes, they know the Expressway would be a reality but they say they were assured it would be at least 300 feet from their homes. They know now it is 94 feet — an obvious danger.

They also know that the Expressway that is 94 feet from their yards will be elevated as much as 35 feet. How would you like to have an eye sore like that in your backyard?

Clearing the way for the Expressway already has affected the quality of life for many residents of Chase Groves. Some are making plans to sell — but who will buy? Most of the residents have scraped to live in a such a nice place as Chase Groves. They are not millionaires. They do not have 1-acre lots. Some have bought homes for less than $100,000. The homes are close and so are the neighbors. The children play safely.

An Expressway public information officer and a number of the project managers and engineers talked to the Chase Groves home owners on Monday night.

Project Engineer Larry Sellers apologized for the on-site burning. He said the burning would be completed by Thursday. He said the crews must begin work at 6:30 a.m. six days a week. That's just the way it is.

The Expressway people said that there would be buffers and sufficient drainage. That it would take a Flood of a Century to cause any damage. There were no promises about billboards. The Expressway has been planned for some time and soon it would be a reality. Many would benefit from it. That's why it was being built.

For those in Chase Groves the expressway is a road they wish would never be taken. "We're the ones paying the toll," one said.

Russ White lives in Chase Groves. He makes an appeal daily to the Seminole Herald.

Navy memorial needs support of entire community

The period between 1942 and 1967 was Sanford's heyday. It was when the U.S. Navy was housed at the present Orlando-Sanford Airport. Downtown merchants were thriving, the economy was good and there were few complaints about the noise made by the planes — although, at times, there certainly was a great deal of noise from jet engines.

Many Sanford residents still has fond memories of that time. Possibly hundreds of area citizens originally came to Sanford because of the Navy. Contrary to many former service towns, we have an unusually large number of ex-servicemen and women who thought the area was so good, they remained, made their homes here and raised their families.

Someone has finally come up with a concept to show appreciation to those who helped populate and lead the area. Plans for a Navy memorial are currently under way, and a proposal includes building it on current airport property.

We commend the members of the Sanford Museum for coming up with the idea and the Sanford-Seminole Chamber of Commerce for its willingness to undertake the task of raising money, obtaining a suitable marker, and creating the memorial.

While it is hoped there will be a number of services offered free of charge for the memorial, even now, while it is still in the planning stages, financial assistance is needed. Two individuals have already pledged $1,000 each. Others may not be far behind.

What we are suggesting is that not only individuals, but clubs, groups and even out-of-towners become involved in obtaining funds. As with any worthwhile project, a financial base is needed with which to operate. We all know that nothing is free, and this memorial as presently planned — complete with an old aircraft — is no exception.

Until a formal chamber committee is established (which is in the works), groups and individuals wishing to make a financial pledge for this project can contact Ron Rose at the chamber office at 407-322-2212. Money will be placed in a special fund through the cooperation of the airport and earmarked for the planning and fulfillment of this memorial.

And yes, before people complain that these comments were not all-inclusive, Marines, the U.S. Army, WACs and WAVEs were also stationed in Sanford from time to time, and may civilians were employed there. It is hoped they will join in this project as well.

Solitto thanks newspapers for event publicity

To the editor:
The Seminole County Board of Commissioners and the Seminole County Disability Advisory Council would like to thank the Seminole Herald for the advertising for Inclusion Day Saturday, March 4, 2000.

The purpose of the event was to recognize the inclusion of people with disabilities into the community and educate the public on services and products available for the disabled.

The customer service Ken Holtzinger, advertising/operations director provided and the articles Russ White wrote to promote the event as well as follow-up articles notably helped the DAC reach their goals and objectives.

Hahn presents proposal for new trail

To the editor:
I read with some interest several weeks ago that the Lake Mary planning board was considering the construction of another bike and exercise trail in Lake Mary, in addition to the new one recently constructed along Rinehart Road.

I have been considering going to the city government for quite some time with, what I consider to be, a needed and practical addition to the park facilities of the city.

I propose that a bike path/nature trail be constructed from the railroad tracks south of Lake Mary Elementary School on South Country Club Road along the west side of the railroad right of way south to the convergence of Longwood/Lake Mary Road, then north on the east side of Long/Lake Mary past Lake Mary High School to or near The Oaks Center on Lake Mary Boulevard, and finally, east back to its beginning at the railroad crossing, a distance of about three miles.

This triangular route seems, at least to me, to have several very attractive advantages:

- Virtually all the land area is naturally wooded with minimal residential areas.

- Most of it is either already publicly owned or part of the railroad right of way.

Currently there is no sidewalk available to students to walk or ride bicycles on Longwood/Lake Mary Road to either the high school of Greenwood Lakes Middle School, and traffic is an enormous problem around the high school. Some of the problems may be eased slightly if a significant number of students chose to walk or ride to school on the path.

Once constructed, the path could also serve as a training option for school athletes and a cross country route for actual races.

A pedestrian crossway may need to be constructed over the road at the schools. To be sure, negatives would have to be addressed, such as keeping the path drug and gang free, but the potential seems to outweigh the cost.

Aesthetics must also be mentioned. Lake Mary is not a good place to safely ride a bicycle. The bike path along Rinehart Road may be nice someday after it is landscaped and shaded.

Parking areas and access points could be provided at several locations. I suggest that it would be a boon for the community and its reputation.

Life symbol of a great generation

Time, Inc. has announced it will stop regular publication of Life magazine in May. In the future, Life will appear occasionally to mark "special events."

Suspended as a weekly in 1972, Life returned as a monthly publication in 1978. Born in 1936 out of Henry Luce's mind, Life was a regular guest in my childhood home and millions of others. Its photographs not only won top awards but remain embedded in the public mind.

Rather than attempt to appeal to a broad audience, as Life always did, Time's current bosses are emulating television by pursuing niche audiences. Editorial director Henry Muller says the 1978 reborn Life was "a magazine launched for nostalgic reasons." Not really. Nostalgia is defined as "a wistful or excessively sentimental, sometimes abnormal yearning for a return to ... some past period or irrevocable condition."

If the virtues and values Life chronicled are irrevocable, then we are doomed as a society. The yearning for the past good is growing, as the latest Voter.com Battleground 2000 poll has discovered. The poll found that "moral values" are now of greater concern to voters than education, Social Security and Medicare. Just last month, the same poll found education the top concern, with moral values coming in second.

What might these misplaced moral values be and where can they be located? For help, I turn to the Dec. 21, 1942, issue of Life. It was 10 cents then. I recently paid $12 for a copy at the flea market. The cover shows a woman sitting in a chair. Behind her is a picture of her serviceman-husband, who is away at war. It's labeled "Lonely Wife." Inside, advertisements ask that we conserve for the war effort. The phone company requests that you not call long distance that Christmas because "the war needs the wires."

Cal Thomas

A U.S. Rubber Company ad captures the moral underpinnings of that day. On the left page is a drawing of a woman and her baby. On the right is the text: "Your father will not be here for this, your first Christmas. The war has taken him away from us, but his love warms our family hearth. You are the son of a man whose principles are his strength. He has gone to war for those principles. He has taken up arms against evil. His faith is our faith. His strength is our strength ..."

"Now we are about to celebrate our first family Christmas though your father will not be here. We have loaned him to America. We have loaned him to the America you, too, will grow up to love. We have loaned him, so that in years to come, young mothers everywhere, on Christmas day, shall be able to say 'Merry Christmas' to their sons."

Those could have been my mother's sentiments when she held me that Christmas, my first on Earth, as my father prepared to join the Army and go to Europe to oppose evil.

Are such values irrevocable? Only if we don't know where to find them. Life was a light to any who needed to discover the way.

A Hamilton Watch Company ad in that 1942 Life might remind those searching for it what forgotten virtue looks like: "There was a pioneer Christmas in America — when a lonely little band of Pilgrims knew fear and cold and hunger. There was a Revolutionary Christmas — when a nation struggling to be born almost perished at Valley Forge. There were Christmases in bitter years of civil strife and bloodshed — when brother fought brother, friend took up arms against friend. There was a Christmas when the outcome of the first World War looked heartbreakingly unsure. These times too, shall pass away!"

Let's hope these times will, too, with school shootings, low behavior in high places, family breakup — even confusion as to what constitutes a family — and so much sexual immorality. Cosmopolitan's latest cover trumpets "How to Touch a Naked Man." That's life!

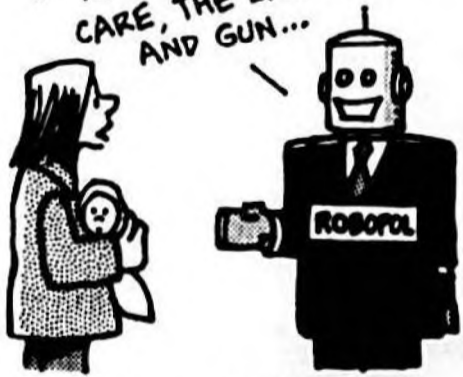

I keep my Life magazines nearby lest I forget my heritage and roots. It isn't nostalgia. It's about remembering how a great generation became great.

Seminole's Dreamers and Doers announced

From staff reports

For 15 consecutive years, Walt Disney World has conducted Dreamers and Doers award competition among area schools. Walt Disney himself is said to have admired four outstanding characteristics in individuals with whom he came in contact: curiosity, confidence, courage and constancy.

Each year, Disney World invites schools to nominate one student from each school who exemplifies these four characteristics. A total of 52 students were named in the 52 Seminole County schools. Three of them will receive recognition at a statewide Dreamers and Doers Recognition coming up later this year.

The three are: Timothy Bird of Spring

Lake Elementary, Rachel Zalkowitz of Rock Lake Middle, and Jeffrey D. Streep of Lake Howell High School.

Seminole County students nominated by their schools for the Dreamers and Doers honor this year include, from elementary schools, Allen English from Altamonte, Fabian Polak from Bear Lake, Michael Carroll from Carillon, Grace Flores from Casselberry, Jacqueline V. Viscosi from Eastbrook, Vesna Pauler from English Estates, Aquita Norris from Forest City, William Dushman from Geneva, and Delisa Bunkley from Goldsboro.

Also from elementary schools, Malcolm Hampton from Hamilton, Brian Nisavacchia from Heathrow, Jennifer Odum from Highlands, Elizabeth Stein from Ivyville, Bharath Ratsakrishnan from Keith, Alexis

Winter Springs students go to Tallahassee

A group of 12 Winter Springs High School students in the environmental specialist classes of Kris Cole took time during their spring break to testify before the Water Resources Subcommittee of the Florida House of Representatives.

The students testified about why the Florida Scrub Jay should be named the state bird, rather than the Mockingbird.

Cole also said the students, ranging from freshmen to seniors, are receiving no extra credit for making the trip.

Lake Mary's Hiatt is honored

Laura Hiatt, a senior at Lake Mary High School, has been named one of more than 2,000 candidates in this year's Presidential Scholars Program. The candidates were selected from nearly 2.8 million students expected to graduate from U.S. high schools in 2001.

Now in its 37th year, the Presidential Scholars Program is one of the highest honors bestowed upon graduating high school seniors. Scholars are selected on the basis of superior academic and artistic achievements, leadership qualities, strong character and involvement in community and school activities.

The 2,000 candidates were selected for their performance on either the College Board SAT or the ACT Assessment. Further consideration is based on students' essays, self-assessments, descriptions of activities, school recommendations, and school transcripts. A panel of educators will review the submissions and select 500 semifinalists in early April.

The U.S. Department of Education will announce the scholars in May.

The final selection of the scholars will include one young man and one young woman from each state, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and U.S. students living abroad. In addition, up to 20 students from the creative and performing arts will be selected, as well as 15 students at-large.

Lawton Chiles Middle School

Recently, Chiles Middle School adopted a Florida panther (the school's mascot) from the Back to Nature Wildlife Refuge. His name is Zema. Later this school year, the school is planning to sponsor a field trip for students to visit Zema at the refuge.

Scholarship deadline Friday

Heart of Florida United Way is now accepting applications for the Martin L. Bell Scholarship. This annual scholarship is awarded to a non-profit executive who has made significant contributions to his or her organization and who possesses the potential to make a continued impact on the organization and their community.

The scholarship is a method for the Roy E. Crummer Graduate School of Business at Rollins College to acknowledge the many contributions of non-profit organizations and express appreciation for their efforts to our community. The proposed tuition for the Executive MBA Program (EMBA) which is covered by the Martin Bell Scholarship, is approximately $21,000 per year.

Organizations may choose to nominate one individual or encourage many employees to apply. Each candidate is required to have the endorsement and a letter of recommendation from the director or president of the organization. Two additional letters of recommendation are required which should address the candidate's contributions to the organization and the community.

Applications for the scholarship should be submitted to Mary Puthoff, Heart of Florida United Way, Dr. Nelson Ying Center, 1940 Traylor Blvd., Orlando, Fla. 32804, by March 24, 2000. The recipient will be chosen in May 2000.

If you have further questions, please call Alice Argenta at (407) 646-1579.

Herald Teacher of the Week

Students at Lake Brantley High School are getting accustomed to calling ninth- and 10th-grade English teacher Heidi Pape by a new name: Pape, the school's Teacher of the Year, married fellow Lake Brantley teacher Frank Gooch two weekends ago.

This is Mrs. Gooch's eighth year at Lake Brantley. She previously was an adjunct instructor for one year at the Seminole Community College Adult High School.

She holds a bachelor's degree and an M.A.T. in English from Setson University. In addition, she is working on an Ed.D. at the University of Central Florida.

Mrs. Gooch does much more than teach English at Lake Brantley. She also is the student council advisor, while teaching sports literature and SAT Skills.

She recently shared her views on various topics with Herald Staff Writer Bill Kerns.

Heidi (Pape) Gooch

involved in your student's education. Talk with your kids. So many parents say that's the school's job, so they leave it up to the school to work with their kids.

Advice for students: "Always take school seriously. The decisions that you make day by day will impact the future you have later. Too many students don't realize that, and they find that their options are limited."

Advice for new or prospective teachers: "Don't give up. The first two years are the hardest years. You are learning on your feet, and the kids are challenging you. Hang in there."

Best advice you have ever received: "Be yourself."

Person(s) who have inspired you: "My mom (Helen) and dad (John), and my great-aunt Anna. (Anna) was a remarkable woman for her day. She came to America from Germany at age 15 and worked all day while learning English at night. She and my uncle started a business and became self-made millionaires. She was a financial wizard. They never gave up, and they always worked so hard."

Favorite book or inspirational message: "I do try, but I don't always succeed in following the Golden Rule. Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Hobbies: "Right now, I am getting to know what it is like to live with three men (Gooch now has two stepsons) and a dog after years of being single. And, I love reading, cooking and playing golf. I also enjoy crafts and antiques."

If you would like to nominate a teacher for the Herald's Teacher of the Week, contact Herald Editor Dan Ping or Staff Writer Bill Kerns by fax, 407-323-9408; or E-mail, sheditor@aol.com.

Favorite part of teaching: "Working with the students. They take themselves very seriously, and it's kind of cute."

Most memorable experience as a teacher: "The time two years ago when two boys who had been part of one of my classes came back to give me a CD with a song that they said reminded them of what the Holocaust must have been like. The class started out as one of my hardest and worst classes, but we all changed our attitudes and it became a really good class. The fact that they would come back and suggest that I use this song meant something to me."

Biggest challenge for teachers: "In general, the biggest challenge is relating to students and remembering that even though they may be big, they are really still kids. You've got to listen to them and take time to understand them. Also, all the testing and preparation for the tests makes it difficult to maintain an interesting class while staying on track with the curriculum and not just teach to a test. It's hard to balance preparing for the FCAT with making a class interesting and fun."

Weather radios alert owners to bad storms

DEAR ABBY: Again the other morning the news was about the terrible losses from a tornado striking in the middle of the night — this time in south Georgia. Could you please tell people about weather warning radios? Sadly, they seem to be a well-kept secret.

After tornadoes struck at night in other states last year, I bought weather radios for each of my children's homes and for myself. They're relatively inexpensive ($30 to $60) and can be tucked in a corner, out of the way. What they do is respond to a radio signal from the NOAA (National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration) when dangerous weather is imminent. The signal turns on the radio to alert people.

The radio at our house is in the hallway outside our bedrooms. It's tuned to the nearest weather station, with the volume up all the way. At 2:30 a.m. on the night the storm hit Georgia, we were awakened by the signal and the warning of a potentially dangerous storm. Luckily, we had only torrential rain and some tree-trimming wind. At least we knew what was happening and could have made it to the basement if things had gotten worse.

We are blessed with attentive weather people on television and at NOAA who notify us of impending storms. However, at night there is no better way to learn of impending bad weather than from a weather radio. I'd rather be awakened for a storm that doesn't turn bad than chance what happened to those poor folks in Georgia.

Thanks, Abby, for giving me a forum. I hope you'll consider this letter worth printing.

JANET H. MAHANNAH, GASTONIA, N.C.

DEAR JANET: Your letter is certainly worth space in my column. I'm sure there are many other individuals like me who have never heard of weather-warning radios.

After reading your letter, I made some inquiries about NOAA Weather Radios, which continually broadcast National Weather Service forecasts, warnings and other important weather information. They can be programmed to receive information specific to a certain geographic area.

The NOAA Weather Radio is the one government-operated radio system that provides direct warnings to the public for natural and manmade hazards — from floods to forest fires to oil spills.

The radios are available at many retail stores that sell electronic appliances, marine supply stores, truck stops, cable shopping networks, mail-order catalogs and the Internet. They cost from $20 to $80 depending on the model.

For people who live in areas where violent storms occur, a NOAA weather radio could be a lifesaver. However, while most areas in the country are covered by the NOAA warning system, a few areas may not be, so ask at your local National Weather Service office before you purchase the weather radio.

DEAR ABBY: In your column, you have indicated your interest in thoughts on friendship. I am a member of the Jesuit community in Wauwatosa, Wis. During a clergy renewal semester at Notre Dame University, I developed the following statement:

"A true and genuine friend, one of those very few special persons who enter my life, is one with whom I can share my brokenness without feeling cheapened."
RENEWED CLERGYMAN

DEAR RENEWED: Your words are beautiful, and I know they'll resonate with my readers as they did with me.

P.S. Please don't feel "cheapened in your brokenness." None of us emerge from the kiln of life without a few cracks, which lend character to the finish.

Census 2000: The most frequently asked questions

By Marna Hawkins
Herald correspondent

The most frequently asked questions of concerned citizens pertaining to the census:

Q: Is it true the actual target of the census is not just to count the population but to locate Blacks and other minorities?

A: It is the primary responsibility of the Census Bureau to decrease the undercounted population. This population has historically been Blacks and other minorities for many reasons. These include apathy, fear of confidentiality, undocumented persons, etc. By not participating in the census enumeration these groups deny themselves of the continuity of community services. Census statistics are the determining factor of the allocation of federal dollars and state taxes coming back into the community as well as the number of representatives allocated to congress. Every person who resides in this country pays taxes and should thus receive their fair share of the return.

If you do not participate in the enumeration process it is as if you do not exist.

Q: If you respond to the census, are any problems you currently face with other federal agencies is made more profound?

A: No. The census goes all out to protect your confidentiality through the 72 year clause, through keeping all data and personal information private. It is only the statistical numbers that are released for use in the above mentioned response.

Q: How is answering these questions beneficial to me personally?

A: The census is how America knows what America needs. It provides for the expansion of programs and services in your community, such as Meals on Wheels, Head-Start, hospital funding, more hospitals, and other programs. The census is the only way the government can determine the needs of its citizens. Only one in every six households will receive a long form, from which we gather most of the statistical data.

Q: Is it unlawful for me not to cooperate, and if so, what is my punishment?

A: Yes it is unlawful not to participate since this operation is mandated by Congress. The true punishment of not participating is the denial of services to your community for over a ten year period.

Q: There is a separation between church and state and the Federal Government, therefore why should a pastor support the operation of the census from the pulpit?

A: Because the church is the most trusted organization in our community, it is important for the leader of the church to support the census. The pastor of a church would benefit from supporting the census because the information gathered from the census will benefit his/her church community. Although there is a separation between church and state, the church also receives federal funding through community projects.

Q: Is there a new race category for inter-racial offspring?

A: The race question included in the questionnaire allows each citizen to determine how he/she wants to be identified.

Q: What has been the response percentage of Blacks that have answered the questionnaires nationally and statewide?

A: The percentage has been low. In 1990, there was an undercount of six percent nationally. Of that percentage, about four percent were minorities.

Bar-shaped cookies

I may have missed an entry or two in my friend Lorraine Bodger's book, "2,001 Ways to Pamper Yourself," (Andrews McMeel Publishing, 1999), but among the pieces of advice ("Drive a fire engine in the next hometown parade"; "Declare a one-day moratorium on boring chores") there should definitely have been one that said "Buy a cookbook by Lorraine Bodger."

Lorrie's newest cookbook, "The Four-Sided Cookie," delivers 55 recipes for squares and bars. Bar cookies have always been among my favorites; they are great for people (like me) who don't have the patience to bake individual cookies, and who tend to burn them when they do. With bar cookies, you make the batter, you pop it into a pan, and you have time to watch "The Simpsons" while they bake.

Here are three bar-cookie recipes — one with nuts, another with chocolate, and the third with fruit — to give you a sampling of Lorrie's offerings. Go ahead and make some. And chalk up another way to pamper yourself.

HONEY ALMOND BARS
For the bottom layer:
1-3/4 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup packed light brown sugar

1/2 cup (1 stick) unsalted butter, well-chilled
1 egg
1 teaspoon almond extract
For the topping:
6 tablespoons unsalted butter
1/4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
2 tablespoons honey
1 teaspoon almond extract
1 cup sliced almonds, raw or toasted, with or without skins

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Grease a 9-by-13-inch baking pan. To make the bottom layer: Put the flour, salt and brown sugar in the bowl of a food processor and process to combine. Cut the butter into pats and add to the processor while the motor is running. Process until the mixture looks like cornmeal. In a cup, beat the egg and the almond extract with a fork. Add to the food processor and process, scraping down the sides occasionally, until the mixture is blended and clumps together. Dust your fingers with flour and pat the mixture evenly into the prepared pan. Chill the pan while you make the topping.

To make the topping: In a small saucepan over low heat, stir together the butter, sugar, lemon juice, honey and almond extract until smooth. Remove from the heat. Stir in the almonds and allow to cool until warm. Remove the baking pan from the refrigerator and spread the topping evenly over the chilled dough.

Bake for 25 to 30 minutes, until the almonds are lightly browned. Let the pan cool completely on a wire rack. Run a sharp knife around the edge of the pan, then cut into bars. These are rich cookies, best cut into narrow rectangles (2 1/2 to a pan), but they can be cut into larger squares (1 1/2 to a pan) if desired. Yield: 25 narrow bars, 16 larger ones.

FUDGE FINGERS
6 tablespoons flour
6 tablespoons cocoa powder, sifted
1/4 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup (1-1/2 sticks) unsalted butter
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
3/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup packed light brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
3 eggs
1 tablespoon instant coffee granules dissolved in 1 tablespoon boiling water
1 cup chopped, toasted pecans

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour a 9-by-9-inch baking pan.

In a small bowl, stir together the flour, cocoa and salt. In a large saucepan, melt the butter and corn syrup. Allow to cool until warm. Using a whisk, mix in the sugar, brown sugar and vanilla. Transfer the butter mixture to a large bowl. Whisk in the eggs one at a time, then whisk in the coffee. Add the flour mixture and stir with a spoon until just mixed. Stir in the chopped pecans. Spread the batter evenly in the prepared pan. Bake for 28 to 32 minutes, until a toothpick inserted in the center of the pan comes out clean. Allow the pan to cool completely on a wire rack. Run a sharp knife around the edge of the pan, then cut into 24 bars, wiping the knife blade between cuts. Yield: 24 bars.

STRAWBERRY-CUSTARD SQUARES
1/2 cup (1 stick) unsalted butter, at room temperature
1/2 cup packed light brown sugar
1-1/3 cups flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup sour cream
1 egg
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
For the topping:
7 medium-large strawberries, hulled, rinsed and drained confectioners' sugar, to taste

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour a 9-by-9-inch baking pan.

To make the bottom layer: In a large bowl, cream the butter and brown sugar. Mix the flour and salt together, then gradually blend into the butter-sugar mixture, mixing well after each addition. With moistened fingers, pat the dough evenly into the prepared pan. (Reserve the bowl for later use.) Bake for 15 minutes, until dry-looking and lightly browned. Let the pan cool on a wire rack until warm, but keep the oven set to 350 degrees.

To make the filling: In the same large bowl as you made the dough (no need to wash it), beat the sour cream, egg, sugar and baking soda until well blended. Spread the filling over the warm dough in the pan. Bake for 15 to 16 minutes longer, until the custard is set.

With the tip of a knife, mark 25 squares (a 5-square-by-5-square grid) on the top of the custard. Do not cut yet.

To make the topping: Cut each strawberry, from the top to the bottom, into 4 slices. Place one slice on each marked square. (There will be 3 slices left over — enjoy.) Sift confectioners' sugar through a strainer over the entire pan. When completely cool, run a sharp knife around the edge of the pan, then cut the squares along the marked lines. Yield: 25 squares.

Arrest

each school. Only school district administration knew about the operation being conducted with the sheriff's office.

There were 37 transactions made with undercover agents, including 25 on school grounds. Marijuana was involved in 28 of the deals. Agents were told to look for anything suspicious, and they did not find any weapons on either campus.

Those arrested face felony charges for the sale of illegal narcotics. Adults were transported to the Seminole County Jail, and juveniles to the Seminole County Juvenile Assessment Center. The teens will face a judge today after spending the night at the juvenile detention facility.

In addition, under the school district's Zero Tolerance policy, each student arrested is automatically suspended and recommended for expulsion by the Seminole County School Board.

"Seminole County is no different from any other county in the state or the nation," said Paul Haggerty, superintendent of Seminole County schools.

"What we have done is open our eyes and try to reduce the drug presence."

Haggerty also said that the high profile arrests are intended to send the message that "there is no such thing as casual marijuana use."

In the last five years, arrests have been made at Lake Howell, Lake Brantley and Lyman High Schools following similar undercover operations. Authorities said that investigations into the sale of illegal drugs on school grounds are on-going.

"What our agents did is just go to school and mix in with the students," Falinger said. "It was an opportunity for our deputies to see what the environment is like."

Seven out of 15 transactions in the Oviedo High School operation were made on school grounds, while 18 out of 22 deals in the Seminole High School operation were made on school grounds.

During the Oviedo High School operation, 11 deals were made with agents for the sale of marijuana, in addition to two sales for LSD, one for ecstasy, and one for a counterfeit drug.

Meanwhile, during the Seminole High School operation there were 17 deals with agents for marijuana, plus one deal for ecstasy, one for crack cocaine, and two deals for prescription pharmaceuticals.

Oviedo High School Principal Robert Lundquist told students in an announcement during first period regarding the arrests to remember that they are responsible for their own actions.

"While it saddens us to see this occur, each of us is in control of our own actions," Lundquist said. "We each must take responsibility for our actions."

At Seminole High School, Coleman said the operation sends a clear message that selling or using drugs will carry serious consequences.

"We have to ask ourselves what it means if we never have one of these days at a school," Coleman said. "It means we are not dealing with the problem."

Students arrested as a result of the operation at Seminole High School for selling marijuana on school grounds include Dustin Annett, 17; John Fletcher, 17; Jesse Curtis, 18; Bernard Lawson, 17; Mariela Parody, 18; Nicholas Smith, 17; and Scarlett Stone, 18.

Other Seminole High School students arrested include Matthew Hutter, 15 (sold unknown pills and marijuana on school grounds); Heather Johnson, 18 (sold marijuana and ecstasy on school grounds); Veronica Riez, 18 (sold marijuana off campus); Kyle Labit, 16 (sold crack cocaine and marijuana on school grounds); and Benjamin Mabry, 16 (sold suspected doses of LSD on school grounds).

Those not currently attending Seminole who were arrested include Eli Brooks, 16 (conspiracy to sell marijuana on school grounds); Robert Juliano, 16 (sold pharmaceutical drugs off campus); Jason Hudson, 19 (conspiracy to sell marijuana); and Alex Szydlowski, 16 (illegally sold pharmaceutical drugs off campus).

Oviedo High School students arrested for selling marijuana on school grounds included Jennifer Braden, 18; Latoya Farmer, 16; and Adam Stapp, 17.

ent-teacher conference regarding the donations in front of a class, according to the report.

At a March 7 School Board meeting, she said that her solicitations were to provide for the needy and denied making significant changes to students' grades through the available extra credit points.

"I was not aware of the paperwork that had to be processed before accepting donations for needy families," Dominguez said. "It was an honest mistake, and one that I am deeply sorry for. Please allow me to continue the career that I love."

She added that student grades were only affected by one or two points. In addition, Dominguez said that she did not realize soliciting money from students was against school-district policy.

Dominguez could not be reached for comment regarding Haggerty's recommendation. She has the right to appeal the recommendation dismissal before the April 11 School Board meeting is held, John Reichart, director of Human Relations, said that Dominguez has not yet filed an appeal.

Reichart said that investigators have not been able to confirm from grade books whether any grades were significantly changed.

"She could not identify anyone whose grade had been altered," Reichart said. "But, our main contention is that she accepted some money or earned goods under the premise that it could improve their grades."

In December, she was ordered to return the money to the students. She recently told investigators that all of the money from students has been returned. Reichart said that investigators are attempting to confirm that the money has been returned.

None of the nine students interviewed by investigators on Feb. 28 said they have received a refund, the report said.

During questioning by school investigators, Dominguez said the money and food were for First Baptist Church of Orlando. However, Reichart said she could not produce donation records.

School officials could not verify through church records that she had donated canned goods or turkeys she said she purchased with the money, he said.

Seminole High School Principal Karen Coleman said she could only verify that Dominguez was in her first year of teaching liberal arts math and test preparation math at Seminole High School, although she has more than 10 years of experience teaching at Florida schools.

brought to Sanford. Will it be barged down the St. Johns from somewhere up north or will it be trucked? Hopefully, those involved in the discussion said someone would donate their services to bring the plane to Sanford.

Other assistance is also sought on design of a monument, and through the airport's assistance, a location.

Airport Executive Director Victor White said the airport will be happy to assist in seeking a location.

"What we will need," he said, "is to find a location that is easily accessible, one where people won't have any difficulty in reaching. Possibly near the parking areas."

He also introduced Jack Dow, Chief of Operations at the Orlando-Sanford Airport, who had been a former Navy officer. Other retired Navy officers were also on hand including George Kimmons, Commanding Officer of RVAN-9 (formerly VC-9 and VAH-9).

Bohm, speaking on behalf of the Fleet Reserve Association spoke highly of the concept, saying the association would be happy to assist in the memorial project.

Financing was also discussed. Members hope to look into possible federal funding for historical sites, and possible availability of other state or military funds.

Tom Ball, Jr., at the meeting, was the first to actually donate to the memorial fund, pledging $1,000. Bob Purcell of Ace Hardware added another $1,000.

The chamber's Executive Director Ron Rose, projected that the fund drive would be led by the chamber, but be maintained at the airport. He also suggested checking with other cities which may have erected a monument for a former military base, to learn what funding they may have obtained.

Persons on hand at the meeting signed up to be part of the NAS Memorial Committee which is still in the process of being formed. Future meetings will be planned to further discuss the various options.

Persons wishing to learn more about the planned memorial, or making a financial pledge are asked to contact Ron Rose at the Chamber, 407-322-2212.

Police shoot dog during attack

From Staff Reports

WINTER SPRINGS — A police investigator shot and killed a dog Tuesday to prevent from attacking a child-protection worker from the state Department of Children & Families, according to police. Investigator Daniel Warren accompanied the case worker to home on Buttonwood Avenue about 3:30 p.m. Warren killed a mixed German Shepherd-

Terrier with a single shot from his service weapon when the dog charged the state worker, said Winter Springs police spokesman Capt. Mike Noland.

"The dog went out of the house and charged at the state worker," Noland said. "She was trying to escape, but the dog kept coming at her."

An investigation into the shooting is being conducted, Noland said.

Champions collide

Lake Howell edges Lake Mary, 1-0, in pitcher's duel

By David Robinson
HERALD CORRESPONDENT

LAKE MARY - Now that's baseball! In a battle of the two hottest baseball teams in Central Florida, the Orlando Baseball Classic champion Lake Howell Silver Hawks put their five-game winning streak on the line against the Paul Miller Spring Break Classic champion Lake Mary Rams and their nine-game winning streak in an important Seminole Athletic Conference match-up at Lake Mary High School Tuesday night.

The game turned into a classic pitching duel with Lake Mary ace Ryan Tretten and Lake Howell star Chris Parsons both having great route-going performances.

But in the end Parsons (4-0) was just a little better as he hurled a two-hitter and struck out seven as the Silver Hawks squeaked by the Rams, 1-0.

Tretten (3-1) also had an excellent game striking out eight Lake Howell batters and only allowing three hits and one run although it was unearned.

Parsons took matters into his own hands on offense also, as he scored the Silver Hawks' only run in the top of the second inning.

Parsons singled to left field and quickly reached third off an error and a Steve Pace walk. With the bases loaded and no one out, Jonathan Vince singled to bring in Parsons making the score 1-0.

Tretten would stop Lake Howell there however as he would pick off Vince at first and strike out the next two batters to end the inning.

The Silver Hawks would threaten to score again in the bottom of the third inning when, with a runner at second, Parsons would smash a hard ground ball between first and second which seemed to be destined to be a hit, but Lake Mary second baseman Jose Hensack made a diving catch and threw out Parsons at first for the last out of the inning getting the Rams out of the jam.

But Lake Mary could do nothing with Parsons as he completely shut down the usually strong hitting Lake Mary line-up.

"Lake Mary's a very good hitting team and the fact that we shut them out is impressive," said Lake Howell coach David Vince. "This was a big win for us to come in here and beat a very good team like Lake Mary. We've won six out of our last seven games and this gives us a lot of momentum going into our big game against Seminole on Friday."

The Silver Hawks improved to 10-8 on the season, while the Rams fell to 14-4.

Lake Mary will face the Lyman Greyhounds in another key Seminole Athletic Conference match-up on Friday night at Lake Mary, while Lake Howell will host the Fighting Seminoles in an SAC and Class 5A District contest Friday night in Casselberry. Both games will start at 7 p.m.

Raiders rise up again on diamond

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

LAKE CITY - Just when you think this team is ready to fold its tent, the Seminole Community College baseball rises up and spans a conference power.

The Raiders of coach Jack Pantelias completed a brutal road trip by sweeping a Mid-Florida Conference doubleheader from the Lake City Community College Timberwolves, 4-3 and 2-1, on Saturday.

SCC, which had to travel to Gainesville (Santa Fe Community College), Jacksonville (Florida Community College at Jacksonville) and Lake City, all M-FC powers, this past week and wound up winning three of five games, is now 10-22 overall and 4-8 in the conference.

The team will now take a

Former Oviedo High School and Sanford American Legion Post 53 star Jeremy Frost hit a pair of home runs, one being a grand slam, and also had a double during a 4-for-4 afternoon on which he also scored four runs and drove in nine more as the University of Central Florida swept a doubleheader, 9-5 and 13-2, over Cornell University at Tinker Field in Orlando on Sunday.

ORLANDO - To say that Jeremy Frost had a pretty good day would be a major understatement.

The former Oviedo High School and Sanford American Legion Post 53 star had a career and dream day this past Sunday afternoon at Tinker Field in Orlando.

The University of Central Florida sophomore went 4-for-4, including his first two home runs of the season, one being a grand slam, a double, scored four runs and drove in nine as the Golden Knights swept a doubleheader from Cornell University, 9-5 and 13-2, to improve to 19-8 on the season.

In the first game the former outfielder, who has returned to his youth position of catcher, went 2-for-2, including his first home run of the season, scored a run and drove in three before leaving for a pinch hitter. See Frost, Page 3B

SCC softball splits spring break games

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - The Seminole Community College softball team woked off a little rust gained during a six-day Spring Break by splitting a trio of doubleheaders last weekend.

The Raiders opened the busy weekend by sweeping a doubleheader from Muskingum College from Ohio, 9-1 and 11-0, at home last Thursday, before hitting the road for a quick road trip to South Florida.

On Friday, SCC split a doubleheader with Broward Community College at Pembroke Pines, dropping the first game, 4-3, then bouncing back to claim the nightcap, 3-2, scoring two runs in the top of the seventh inning.

The Raiders then moved a little further down I-95 to square off in a Saturday doubleheader with Miami-Dade Community College.

The first game was an extra-inning pitcher's duel, with the Sharks scoring in the bottom of the eighth inning to win 1-0.

The nightcap proved to be pretty much the same as SCC took a 2-0 lead with single runs in the first and third innings, but M-DCC rallied with a run in the bottom of the sixth inning and two runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to pull out a 3-2 triumph.

The Raiders, who were supposed to have played a Mid-Florida Conference doubleheader against Florida Community College at Jacksonville on Tuesday, are now 19-17-1 on the season. They will be at home for a 2 p.m. conference doubleheader with Daytona Beach Community College on Thursday and then travel to Winter Haven for a doubleheader with Polk Community College starting at 5 p.m. on Friday.

Providing the offense for SCC were:

HOROSCOPES

Your Birthday
Thursday, March 23, 2000

Exciting developments could be in the offing for you in the year ahead, especially in areas with large organizations. Just be careful you don't take off more than you can chew.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
 Capricornian influences about your financial situation today could turn out to be extremely costly down the line. Recheck all the figures involved, especially where to look for income and you'll find it. The AstroGraph Math formulas instantly reveal what figures are numerically perfect for you. Mail $2.75 to MathMaster, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1704, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10116.

AURUS (April 20-May 20)
 Ideally, unless you're busy, your biggest worries will be water-related. If you can't get a handle on things, you could change your mind as to whether it's worth the entire situation.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
 Sure, you're clever, but not to the point where you can fix anything on this Earth. If you get in over your head today, you could turn out to be the most expensive repairman on town.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
 Limiting your pleasurable interests today with heavy homework for tomorrow could do more harm to your budget than you've gained by. Be ready what you can afford.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
 No extra careful today with all affairs of the home. Mind what you say, and how you react to others. An accident could ruin your property that might cause long-term problems.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
 Seeking your name in the wrong place today could bring about the wrath of someone. It's okay to be detail conscious, but only concerning your own affairs.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
 If you expect longevity from things you now possess, you'll have to be extra diligent in caring for them today. If you let them be about or lend them to the wrong person, a loss could result.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
 Before entering into any agreement with anybody today, be sure each detail is clearly comprehended by both parties. There would be nothing but trouble if you're not really needed.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)
 Sometimes you can't be a victim of your own poor planning. If you're too much on a luxury today, pay attention to the proper attention to your own bank for a long-term income out of it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 19)
 I allow yourself to be talked into something that you're not supposed to. Others could bring out arguments and you'll be today that you're not trying very hard to succeed.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
 Today you could get a bit of bragging from the wrong source. Don't be great, but when it comes time to put up the bills, the bragging will leave you standing over the carpet.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
 Emotions about the details of a decision making today. A failure to keep your high mind on an important target could lead to serious errors.
