

PREMIER'S ACCEPTANCE OF CAPITAL SHIP RATIO SENT JUSSERAND TODAY

France it is Stated Maintains Her Position on Submarines

DEFENSE SHIPS

ARE NEEDED BUT FRANCE IS WILLING TO NEGOTIATE DEPECHE VOUS

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Dec. 23.—Premier Briand has sent Ambassador Jusserand in Washington final and definite acceptance of capital ship ratio.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—Great Britain's plea that the submarine be banished from the seven seas was presented to the arms conference yesterday, but it received no support from any other power.

In turn, the spokesmen of France, Italy and Japan replied that they regarded submarines, when properly employed, as a legitimate and valuable arm of naval strength, and were unprepared to see them abolished.

The American delegates took no final stand on the question, but suggested that the conference turn its efforts toward such a revision of international practices as would prevent a repetition of the ruthless submarine methods of the world war.

A further exchange of views on the British proposal will take place today unless France, whose representatives again are awaiting instructions from their premier, is prepared to go ahead with the delayed presentation of estimates for auxiliary craft she desires to keep under the naval reduction program.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—A suggestion has been made by the Italian arms delegation to the naval committee of the conference that another international gathering of broader scope will be called soon after adjournment of the present discussions to deal particularly with submarines and auxiliary craft.

WIZARD OF SCIENCE INVENT MACHINE TO TEST HEART THROBS

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The wizards of science now have a technical contrivance by which the quantity of love may be measured by observing the exaggerated effort of the lover's presence on the heart action of his lady.

Such was the announcement Tuesday to the Society for Electric Development in describing the workings of the "telegraphone," an instrument by the use of which, its inventor declared, unhappy marriages might be prevented.

All that is necessary to insure results, the inventor explained, is for the doubt-torn swain, to adjust the device over the heart of his intended, whisper a well-calculated word into her ear and watch the indicator. If it flutters violently, then all is well and the banners may be published, but if not, beware.

The inventor, it was admitted, has not yet perfected means of making the girl put on the detector.

RAILROADS PLAN FREIGHT CUT ON ALL GOODS SOON

EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1 ALL OVER COUNTRY—FRUIT AND COTTON INCLUDED

OMAHA, Dec. 23.—The railroads of the country will put into effect on January 1, or as soon thereafter as possible a voluntary ten per cent freight reduction on cotton, butter, poultry and other commodities, as well as the reductions ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission for Western territory on grain and grain products and hay, according to a statement issued last night by F. W. Robinson, freight traffic manager of the Union Pacific system.

The voluntary ten per cent cut is to be effective for six months as an experiment and will apply to the entire country, he declared.

Mr. Robinson also announced the roads would continue until June 30, 1922, reduced rates on live stock, and that a ten per cent cut in rates for live stock on which no cut has been made would be put into effect.

The cut will apply to cotton, butter, eggs, cheese, poultry, live or dressed; cotton seed, cotton seed hulls, unmanufactured tobacco, fruits, fresh or green, not including canned or preserved fruits, dried or evaporated other than candied, canned, crystallized, glazed or stuffed; vegetables, fresh or green, dried or evaporated, wool and mohair.

PARKER CONVICTED MURDER FIRST DEGREE WITH RECOMMENDATION

OCALA, Dec. 21.—Parker convicted murder first degree with recommendation for mercy for killing Cunningham.

OCALA, Dec. 21.—A. L. Parker, convicted of the killing of J. B. Cunningham, near Orange Lake June 25 last, is a man about forty years of age and has a wife and two children. He is a farmer and moved to the Orange Lake section about twenty years ago from the East Coast.

Cunningham, also a farmer, who left a wife and several grown children, went to that section from Brooks county, Georgia, in 1919, desiring to find a place in Florida where he could settle. He rented land on the Dixie Highway between Orange Lake postoffice and McIntosh from Parker and also purchased some stock from him, Parker moving to South Florida where he remained two seasons. Cunningham, in addition to operating the farm he had rented also worked his own farm in Georgia, going back and forth between them.

When Parker returned from South Florida Cunningham moved off the place and rented from Clarence Cork, whose land lies nearby. Cunningham also had twenty acres of land leased from Parker and it was over the date of the end of this lease that the dispute that ended in the killing was believed by the authorities to have originated.

Cunningham was residing at the home of Mrs. Mollie Amerson, who with her two sons was helping him with his work, and it was there that the tragedy occurred. He was in the cow lot helping with the milking when Parker, according to witnesses, appeared and after a few words emptied both barrels of a shotgun into Cunningham's body killing him instantly. Cunningham was unarmed. Parker made no attempt to escape or resist arrest. He was brought to Ocala, given a preliminary hearing and committed to jail without bail. When the grand jury met December 13 he was indicted for murder in the first degree.

Raymond B. Bullock, one of the best known criminal attorneys on the Fifth judicial circuit represented Parker and Cunningham's family engaged John P. Knight, of Nashville, Georgia, to assist State Attorney Geo. W. Scofield in the prosecution.

PAT MURPHY HERE COMPILING HIS GUIDE AND MEETING FRIENDS

Pat Murphy, known from coast to coast and from Pensacola to Apalachicola and even to Cocoa-Cola is here today getting up data and advertisements for his Guide to Florida. Pat every year gets up the Murphy Official Railroad and Steamship Pocket Guide to Florida. Pat is a former resident of Sanford and has many old time friends here who are always glad to see him. He gave the Herald the following fine poem written by him for Christmas and it is given below:

As the snowflakes of winter were falling On mountain on hilltop and tree; I gathered the laurel and the holly For Christmas was sure sweet to me.

And I watched for the man in the chimney As I sat by my dear father's side And the Christmas fire flickered dimly In the fireplace dusky and wide.

Then off to the church in the morning To hear the sweet choir sing, I, the happiest boy in the village, With the gifts that the neighbors would bring.

Now thus was the days of my childhood, In Ireland over the sea, Thus over in sweet recollections Bring Ireland's Christmas to me.

HARDING WILL GRANT CHRISTMAS PARDONS

No General Amnesty For War Law Violators Is Expected Now.

Christmas freedom for war law offenders was given final consideration by President Harding tonight at an after dinner conference at the White House with Attorney General Daugherty. Announcement of those selected for executive clemency, it was said, is to be made from the White House tomorrow.

At tonight's conference the President was understood to have gone over with Mr. Daugherty the digest prepared by the department of justice containing the complete history of the 197 war law violators, and to have taken up each case separately without relation to the others.

In this connection it was thought probable in official circles that the case of Eugene V. Debs, Socialist leader imprisoned at Atlanta, was considered as an individual case upon its merits, as were the other offenders against the war laws.

While it was expected that quite a number of these offenders would be granted their freedom by the President, high officials maintained that there would be no general amnesty extended war law prisoners and that tomorrow's action would only be the extension of executive clemency on a larger scale than usual.

WATTERSON RESTS IN PEACE AT JACKSONVILLE

REMAINS PLACED IN VAULT TO BE REMOVED TO LOUISVILLE LATER

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 23.—Marse Henry Watterson content with fullness of his life rested today from his labors. With only members of immediate family present and with the hour of service announced the body of the venerable Kentucky journalist was placed in a vault to remain until spring when it will be taken home to be given its final resting place beside his mother and father at Louisville. For fear many persons would attempt to attend the brief and simple service at the mortuary chapel which preceded the laying away of the body, the hour of service was not made public and the family requested there be no floral tributes, desiring the service and everything connected with it be as simple as possible. J. T. Boone, pastor of the First Christian Church here, of which denomination Mrs. Watterson was a member, officiated.

Only four floral tributes, two from relatives, two from intimate friends. Culla lilies from the family were on the casket and a cross of the same flower on the mantel and roses at the head of the casket. No music. Dr. Boone read the 14th chapter of John and after a brief eulogy in which he spoke of Watterson's life as an open book he delivered a short prayer.

The body rests in the marble vault in Evergreen Cemetery. Mrs. Watterson did not attend service. At the last moment the family issued a general invitation to newspaper men of the city to be present.

Besides the members of the family the following here at the service: Mrs. W. S. Jennings, S. Bryan Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Hough, of the Times-Union; Judge Robert Bingham, publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal; Bainbridge Richardson, manager of the hotel in which Colonel Watterson passed away, Miss Maida Richardson, W. A. Elliott, Times-Union and several newspaper men.

After Holiday and Fate of Ireland Hangs in the Balance

IS NO ALTERNATIVE EXCEPT FOR DEVALERA TO FAVOR RATIFICATION, SAY HIS PARTY

ENNIS, Ireland, Dec. 23.—The Clare county council, his constituency of Eamon DeValera, yesterday voted 17 to 5 in favor of the treaty between Ireland and Great Britain and requested Mr. DeValera to use his influence for the maintenance of national unity.

The resolution admitted that there were grave objections to the treaty but declared that there was no national alternative to its acceptance.

"Rejection of the treaty," the resolution added, "would be almost certain to involve us in a war of annihilation because our people would be divided, and because world opinion, instead of being with us, as at present, will be against us."

Copies of the resolution were sent to Mr. DeValera and other Clare representatives.

DUBLIN, Dec. 23.—The Dail Eirann by a vote of 77 to 44 decided late yesterday, on a motion submitted by Michael Collins, to adjourn further debate on the Irish treaty until Tuesday, January 3rd. It was not the motion itself but an amendment to the motion, on which the vote was actually taken. The amendment, introduced and seconded by opponents of the treaty, called for continuance of sittings day and evening until action was taken on the treaty's ratification or rejection.

The defeat of the amendment automatically decided the motion. With few exceptions, so far as could be observed, the vote followed the party lines of those favoring or opposing the treaty.

Nobody believes, of course, that if a vote had been taken on the treaty itself the majority would have been so great as the vote on the adjournment motion gave its supporters, but there is no doubt in the minds of those who have been following the debates carefully that this vote roughly approximates the sentiments for and against the treaty. This is denied by some of the opponents of the treaty, who assert that it was not a fair test as many on both sides, especially the country members had voted for adjournment in order that they might get home for the holidays.

In fact, Countess Markiewicz, one of the strongest opponents of the treaty, seconded Mr. Collins' proposal, apparently having in mind, as indicated by her satirical seconding speech, the possibility of the debate continuing through Christmas day and night and overlooking the possibility of a party division on the motion.

STATE NEWS

PENSACOLA, Dec. 22.—Lieut. Comdr. H. C. Wicke, Lieut. Comdr. R. P. Moulton and Lieut. M. R. Greer, of the Naval air station here, spent one night recently drifting to sea in an HS-2 naval seaplane. The plane during a flight was forced to alight on the water and when it failed to return a vessel was sent to search for it. The searching party located the disabled machine but could not catch up with it because it was drifting rapidly. A subchaser and tug set out and took it in tow shortly before daylight the next day. The officers had suffered from exposure to the cold weather but otherwise were in good condition.

PALATKA, Dec. 22.—Applications for telephones here have outgrown the local facilities of the Southern Bell Telephone Co., and a survey has been made which will result in the laying of more cables and an expansion of the system. The improvements will necessitate enlargement of the local exchange.

The vegetables not so well known include Chinese cabbage, Swiss chard, leek, spinach, parsnips, rhubarb, kohlrabi, Brussels sprouts, endive, romaine and salsify, the vegetable custer. An acre of strawberries and many other staple crops in this section are being grown on the plot.

Help Control "Busy" Reports

Out of the thousands of telephone calls made daily, about ten per cent result in a report of busy lines.

This enormous number of busy reports is due largely to the fact that many subscribers repeat their calls at intervals of a few seconds.

Making immediate and repeated calls for a busy line causes much unnecessary work for the operator and is a wasteful use of lines and equipment.

It will improve your service and help the general service of the community if you will wait a few minutes after receiving the busy report before making a second call.

SEMINOLE BANK IS FOR CONSTRUCTIVE CHRISTMAS GIVING

GIVE REAL GIFTS THIS CHRISTMAS IS THE SLOGAN OF THIS BANK

"If every man, woman and child received a savings account as a Christmas gift this year, we would have a real Christmas in this community," said A. R. Key, cashier of the Seminole County Bank.

"It's a novel and constructive idea in Christmas giving," Mr. Key went on to say, "and one that carries real cheer throughout the year. It represents more than the gift of money because it implants the germ of a habit that means success to any one who acquires it."

The Seminole County Bank is running an interesting series of ads suggesting the gift of a savings account to mother, children and others. The savings pass book will be delivered in appropriate Christmas dress to carry better the spirit of the Yuletide.

CHRISTMAS CAROLS WILL BE SUNG IN CENTRAL PARK NEXT SUNDAY (XMAS) AFTERNOON

Music Department of the Woman's Club Will Sponsor the Affair

Music Department of the Woman's Club will have a Community Sing Christmas Carols in Central Park next afternoon (Christmas day) at 3 o'clock, in conjunction with the Sanford Band. Every one cordially invited to come out and sing. The songs published below. Cut them out and bring them to the song service:

All Hail the Power

All hail the power of Jesus' name! Angels prostrate fall; Forth the royal diadem crown Him Lord of all, Chosen seed of Israel's race, Ransomed from the fall, All Him who saves you by His grace, Crown Him Lord of all.

Every kindred, every tribe, This terrestrial ball, Him all majesty ascribe, And crown Him Lord of all.

ROY TO THE WORLD!

Roy to the world! the Lord is come; At every heart receive her King; At every heart prepare Him room, And Heaven and nature sing.

Roy to the earth! the Savior reigns; Let men their songs employ; While fields and floods, rocks, hills and plains Repeat the sounding joy.

No more let sins and sorrows grow, Nor thorns infest the ground; He comes to make His blessings flow Far as the curse is found.

He rules the world with truth and grace And makes the nations prove The glories of His righteousness, And wonders of His love.

HARK! THE HERALD ANGELS SING

Hark! the herald angels sing, "Glory to the new-born King; Peace on earth, and mercy mild; God and sinners reconciled." Joyful, all ye nations, rise, Join the triumph of the skies; With an angelic hosts proclaim, "Christ is born in Bethlehem."

Christ, by highest Heav'n adored, Christ, the everlasting Lord: Late in time behold Him come, Off-spring of a virgin's womb, Velled in flesh the God-head see, Hail th' incarnate Deity! Pleas'd as man with men to appear, Jesus our Immanuel here.

Hail the Heav'n-born Prince of Peace! Hail the Sun of righteousness! Light and life to all He brings, Ris'n with healing in His wings: Mild He lays His glory by, Born that man no more may die; Born to raise the sons of earth; Born to give them second birth.

SILENT NIGHT! HOLY NIGHT!

Silent night! Holy night! All is dark, save the light Yonder where they sweet vigils keep, O'er the Babe who in silent sleep, Rests in heavenly peace, Rests in heavenly peace.

Silent night! Peaceful night! Darkness flies, all is light; Shepherds hear the angels sing, "Alleluia! hallelu! King! Christ the Savior is born, Jesus the Savior is born."

Silent night! Holy night! Guiding Star, lend thy light! See the Eastern wise men bring Gifts and homage to our King! Christ the Savior is born, Jesus the Savior is born!

FINE PUBLICITY FOR THE RESORTS OF FLORIDA

The Literary Digest, in a department devoted to winter travel in its issue of the 17th inst., gives generous space to Florida, presenting the attractions and advantages of its health and pleasure resorts most effectively. As this publication has an enormous circulation and is held in high esteem this publicity should prove of great benefit. Excerpts from the article are herewith presented:

Although the Spaniards discovered Florida hundreds of years ago and it has been held at various times by Spain, Great Britain and France, between 1559 and 1861, its re-discovery as the Land of the Fountain of Youth goes back to comparatively recent years. Further, more Americans and visitors from foreign lands keep on discovering its salubrious charm month after month, for Florida has come to possess a strong appeal as a summer as well as a winter resort. But it is during the fall and winter months especially that the great trend of travel turns to the peninsula. Here Americans are learning the secret of long life and comfort, as they have previously mastered the problem of hard work and success. Each autumn the seasonal visitors "pour over the borders of the state like an invading army" we read in the Florida Tourist (Tallahassee), a quarterly issued by the Florida department of agriculture, which proceeds:

"Florida has all types of hotels. From the most palatial, elaborately furnished, with giant domes looming against the cloud-decked blue in bar-baric splendor, to the simplest hostelry. There are winter homes, from magnificent villas to humble bungalows. Lack of accommodations to meet the influx of visitors has led many to own or rent winter homes. Many tourists' parks have been provided for those who prefer outdoor life to hotel accommodations. The state is penetrated by the great trunk automobile roads, or has connection with them. The Dixie Highway from Chicago, the Miami-Quebec highway along the east coast, and the old Spanish trail along the gulf to Texas, connecting with the Jackson highway, Santa Fe trail and the Apache trail to the Pacific." Geographically, the main resort sections of Florida are divided into the east coast, the inter-lake regions and the west coast centers, along indentations of the gulf and we read further: "Bordering the Atlantic is a chain of world-famous resorts: Beginning with Fernandina, the shipping port of phosphate, and with a shrimp industry of more than $1,000,000 annually, thence to Jacksonville, the gateway of the state from the north, we go to historic old St. Augustine, with hotels and churches, rivaling the populous resorts of the old world. Ormond of golf fame and winter home of the richest man in the world; Daytona, with its magnificent beach; Palm Beach, glittering with wealth and fashion; Miami, the dream city of magic and paradise of yachting; Long Key camp, rendezvous of fishermen, the over-sea viduaut to Key West, looking out towards the West Indies.

"On the lakes and rivers of the interior, surrounded by tropical verdure, citrus groves and pleasure parks, we have the upland attractions for the sojourner. Beautiful Orlando, Palatka, Sanford, Ocala, with one of the most wonderful springs in the world; Lankeland, wreathed by clear lakes, fringed with groves; east and south from thence is a region flecked with dimples rivaling Monaco's enchanting landscape, coaxing hunters for heart's ease away from blizzards and frosts of northern climes. Gainesville, the university city; Brooksville, the city among the hills; Lake City, Live Oak, Tallahassee, the 'hill city of Florida,' the capital of the state and the home of the Florida State College for Women; Quincy, the 'tobacco city'; historic Marianna, situated in one of the best agricultural sections of the south; DeFuniak Springs of Chautauqua fame; Milton, and many other splendid and progressive cities and towns.

On the west coast there are Fort Myers . . . St. Petersburg, the 'sunshine city of the Pinellas peninsula,' bathed in the waters of the gulf; Tampa, city of aristocratic hotels, beautiful parks and driveways; Bradenton, Sarasota, Cedar Key, Apalachicola, famed for oysters, shrimp and fish; beautiful St. Andrews, and Pensacola, one of the oldest cities in the United States and the best harbor south of Newport News, exporting lumber, cotton, coal and iron to the value of many millions of dollars."

The gulf coast of Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas is a winter resort region gaining rapidly in favor and destined soon to become the great American Riviera. The Mississippi river is a natural division between two gulf coast regions; the first extending between Tampa, Pensacola, Mobile and New Orleans; the second between New Orleans and the long chain of Texas waterfront places.

From Pensacola to New Orleans the coast is paralleled with a series of islands, the shore continuously indented with deep bays and innumerable estuaries. There are many miles of smooth shell roads, shaded by huge magnolias and live oaks, draped with Spanish moss. Back from the sandy beaches stand forests of pine, combining with the soft air to contribute health-giving qualities to the warm, genial climate. The gulf abounds in gamey fish, including the tarpon, and here are waters most tempting to yachtsmen. In this back country there is excellent hunting. Tampa, Pensacola and Mobile, situated on broad bays are delightful cities for a winter visit.

THE ANTI-LYNCHING BILL

The Herald has hesitated to state any opinion about the Dyer Anti-Lynching Bill that is now being discussed in congress because we tho't it was unconstitutional and would never see the light of day. But it seems to have a good chance of passing and since it does we would just like to express our opinion of those Republican congressmen who are continually aiming a brick at the South and to tell them that regardless of what they may think or do there is one crime at least on the category that will cause a lynching in the South every time it is perpetrated and all the legislation by Northern congressmen will never stop this lynching. The Jacksonville Metropolis sizes up the situation as follows:

"The Dyer anti-lynching bill, which is, in its real significance, a strike at the South, will not be voted on by congress until after the holidays. The chances are it will pass, since it is being advocated by the Republican members, who form the majority.

"We say it is a strike at the South because the greater number of lynchings occur in the South, where also the greater number of outrages, which cause lynchings are perpetrated. It seems that causes are being ignored entirely in the consideration of the bill, and these are important.

"Every lynching, regardless of its cause, is an outrage against justice; and the law-abiding citizens of the South frown upon the practice as a menace to the preservation of law and order, only a small minority engaging in it. Yet this bill proposes to punish the law-abiding citizens by forcing them to pay heavy benefits to the relatives of victims. It proposes to punish taxpayers for the inefficiency of public officials. It is founded on a false premise.

"The bill will, if passed, take the responsibility of law enforcement, or at least the attitude of responsibility, from state and county officials and vest it in the national government. This violates the spirit and purpose of the Constitution of the United States. The bill proposes rank paternalism, and we already have too much of this.

"Carrying out the theory of the bill, legislation will prevent murders and other crimes. But it is a false theory. Law must follow public opinion, not nose-riding it and tug it along. The Federal government will get along better if it attends to its business and permits the states and counties to attend to theirs. This is the only successful law-enforcement method.

"The South is doing all in its power to reduce the number of lynchings, and is succeeding, and action on the part of the Federal government will not stimulate the effort. In all likelihood, it will discourage it. Herein much of the danger lies."

THE INCOMPETENCY OF CONGRESS

The incompetency of our national congress in dealing with questions of tariff and taxation has been illustrated many times. There are too many divers interests represented in congress to hope for intelligent legislation for all the people. The "interests" are always represented whenever a tax bill or tariff bill is under discussion, by eager and hungry lobbies, while the great mass of the people are not represented, and fare as best they can. They take the bones which their congress flings them, to find usually that there is little or no meat on them. The emergency tariff which was exploited as being for the relief of the farmers is a case in point. It has cut down imports of Canadian products, but it has not stopped the decline of American farm products, which have shrunk in price more than other commodities.

The tax law enacted by a Democratic congress was the acme of congressional muddling. Its terms were incomprehensible to the average man, and it was impossible for him to know whether he was complying with the law or not. The services of an attorney were needed to elucidate it. A Republican congress, muddled over a tariff law for seven long months, while business suffered, and finally postponed action till the regular session. It disregards the fact that we are now the great creditor nation of the world; that our debtors have little or no money and must pay in goods, if they pay at all, and deliberately raises a barrier to make the entrance of their goods more difficult, or even impossible. Instead of holding out a helping hand to our struggling debtors, and helping them to get on their feet so they can pay their debts, we cripple them all we can. At the same time our own people are crying loudly for cheaper goods. President Harding says truly that we cannot sell if we do not buy, and the party which put him in his high office is doing its best to hinder our buying from those who have no other way to pay their debts. Such blind folly is almost incredible.—Tampa Times.

Last chance to get your Christmas cards. Finest line ever brought to Sanford at the Herald office. Open tonight and Saturday night.

The most beautiful line of Christmas stationery in the state at the Herald office at prices that are fifty per cent cheaper than last year. Open tonight and tomorrow night.

The Daily Herald has but two holidays in the year—Christmas and the Fourth of July and this office will be closed all day Christmas to give the boys a chance to enjoy the day.

The Methodist Church will hold a white Christmas service Sunday night. There will be a musical program and a short talk by Dr. Walker. Be sure and bring something for the orphans.

Kit Bowden left today for Okeechobee City where he will have charge of the Okeechobee News. Mr. Bowden has been working in the Herald office for some time and made many friends while here.

Hon. Cary D. Landis of DeLand was in the city today, shaking hands with his many friends. Mr. Landis is the senior member of the law firm of Landis, Fish & Hull and is well known in this and other counties of the state. Mr. Landis reports business good in his home town and many winter visitors coming down to spend the winter.

The Chamber of Commerce board of governors had a most interesting meeting today with W. T. Donnelly of New York and the mayor and city councilmen of Ocala as guests. Many matters of importance were discussed among them being the benches and more lights for central park, a matter brought up at the meeting by Bandmaster E. A. Ball.

The editor of the Herald is in receipt of a box of fine Pittsburgh stogies from Dr. J. H. Wendler, general manager of the Florida Publishing Co. of Winter Park. Thanks, old friend. We like stogies and there are none finer than Pittsburgh stogies and stogies are just about the kind of smoke that we relish about this time of the year, especially when they come from a brother newspaper man.

W. T. Donnelly will leave for Jacksonville today after spending a few hours here with his many friends. He will look after Sanford's interests while in Jacksonville and expects to come back to Sanford with his family and his electrical propelled yachts later on and will spend the remainder of the winter here. He is one of the greatest Sanford boosters that has ever come among us and he and his family will always be accorded a warm welcome.

The bar 1 concert last night at Central park was greatly enjoyed by a large crowd. The question of more seats will soon be solved by the city commissioners having a sufficient number made for the park, and better order among the little ones will be maintained. The noise of some of the children will not be tolerated at any more band concerts, as it tends to distract the attention of those who wish to enjoy the music and is also an annoyance to the members of the band.

WANTED—Ford with small truck body. Must be cheap. Box 291, City 233-3tp.

DEATH OF MRS. M. H. BOWLER

The city was shocked this morning to learn of the death of Mrs. M. H. Bowler, which occurred last night at her home on Magnolia avenue. Mrs. Bowler had been very ill due to a partial paralytic stroke received while on a visit to her son in Raleigh, North Carolina, and as soon as she was able to travel she came home, arriving yesterday afternoon. The trip was evidently too much for her overtaxed strength and she died late last night. Mrs. M. H. Bowler was a resident of Sanford since the early days, living here as Miss Harris, the daughter of the late Dr. J. J. Harris, former mayor of Sanford and editor of one of the early newspapers and one of the most widely known men in the state. Mrs. Bowler is the wife of M. H. Bowler, claim agent for the A. C. L. Railway for many years and they resided in Jacksonville for several years coming back to their old home in this city about three years ago. Deceased leaves a husband and one son, Dixie Bowler, of Raleigh, N. C., and a daughter, Miss Mabel Bowler of this city, three sisters, Mrs. Rounhill of this city, Miss Harris and Mrs. Rogan, of Jacksonville, to mourn her loss.

Mrs. Bowler was well known and well beloved by a large circle of friends here and elsewhere in the state. A most progressive woman with the best interests of her home city at heart, a loving wife and devoted mother, one who, while her health was good, was always ready and willing to assist every worthy object and all those in distress. Her death will be a distinct loss to the community and to her legion of friends.

Mrs. Bowler was also gifted in a literary way and assisted her father on his paper and was at one time society reporter for The Sanford Herald and furnished this paper and many of the state papers with contributions from time to time.

The funeral will occur from the Methodist church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. Dr. S. W. Walker officiating, interment being made in Lakeview cemetery.

The sympathy of the entire city is extended to those who lost mother, sister, wife and friend. The Herald feels a deep grief in the death of this estimable lady, who was all that womanhood embodies in this world.

FAKE SANDSTORM? NO! GEN- UNIE ONE IN "THE SHEIK"

Producer of Big Paramount Picture Treated to Surprise by Mother Nature

The great wind machine was working its hardest in a desert sandstorm scene of "The Sheik" which George Melford was producing for Paramount and which will come to the Star Theatre, December 30th and 31st. The millions of particles were swirling at a high rate of speed as Agnes Ayres and Rudolph Valentino, the featured players, were engaged in a dramatic scene wherein he rescues her from harrying Bedouins.

"Stop the engine," called Melford. Obediently the mechanic switched off the airplane motor which was raising so much dust—but the sand continued to fly.

"What the deuce—" began Melford. "Didn't I tell you to stop that sandstorm—?"

Then everybody realized that a real sandstorm had come up during the artificial one. They crawled under cover and for five minutes the air was almost unbreatable.

"If we'd waited five or ten minutes," grinned the producer, after the storm had passed, "we might have saved a lot of gasoline."

"The Sheik" was adapted from Edith M. Hull's novel, by Monte M. Katterjohn. The supporting cast is excellent.
