They played like the number one team in

For two quarters.

Two quarters, however, were all the Lake Mary Lady Rams needed to play their game, overcome a three-point deficit at the half and advance to the state championship game with a 66-39 win over Fort Lauderdale-Dillard in the Class 6A Semifinals of the FHSAA State Girls Basketball Championships at The Lakeland Center Thursday night.

"Halftime was refreshing for us, like a boost," said Lake Mary senior guard Stephanie Dale.

They were on one heck of a shooting streak in the first two quarters," junior point guard Ashlee Ballance added. We knew we had to come out on them in the second half and that's what we did."

Though they were only down by three when the first half buzzer sounded, Lake Mary had a tough fight just getting to that

Junior forwards Mary Leah Sutton and Lauren Bradley came out strong and scored the only points for the Lady Rams in the first quarter. Sutton would go on to score 18 points in the game while playing aggressively under the basket. She and Bradley were instrumental in holding the Panthers to only 15 in the period despite their very quick offense. Dillard was up 15-10 at the end of the quarter and take Mary was searching for a way to get its offense into the game.

From stall reports

ORLANDO - Former University of Central Florida football coach Gene McDowell pleaded guilty Thursday to lying to fed-eral authorities who investigated his players in a cellular hone scam.

McDowell could receive probation to 16 months in prison when U.S. District Judge Anne Conway sentences him on May

McDowell's attorney, Chan Muller, said the coach tipped his players about the cellphone investigation because he wanted to protect them. "He has a big heart and didn't intend to harm anybody," Mulier including in his testimony before a federal grand jury.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Cynthia Hawkina Collazo questioned McDowell's motives. She said that he lied repeatedly.

McDowell learned of the probe from Seminole County sheriff's office official David Smith. Smith, the father of UCF tailback Maurice Smith and former UCF running back Marquette Smith, also awaits sentencing. He pleaded guilty to lying to federal officials

U.S. Secret Service agents raided the UCF locker room Oct. 28, They found only four of the 17 phones they believed were being used to obtain free service. They arrested Patrick Brinson, a former UCF player on charges of selling phones programmed to make calls without being billed.

Authorities started looking for a leak after McDowell said publicly that he knew in advance of the search.

The episode caused UCF to appoint Mike Kruczek as the school's interim football coach for 1998. Kruczek had been one of McDowell's assistant coaches.

LAKE MARY - Brother and sister weight lifters are out to prove this weekend that brains and muscles play equally in successful competition.

building massive muscle seems to come naturally. Genetics clearly fit into the brains and bronze combination neatly. Kelley even supplies his own calculation. "Power lifting is hard work. I'd say it takes 35

The second quarter wasn't much better for the Lady Rams. Dillard was all over Ballance, the key to Lake Mary's attack, and the rest of the team was making crucial mistakes in an effort to get things going. Sophomore stand-out Lindsay Mans, junior starter Becky Pedro and senior Stephanie Dale helped Sutton and Bradley out and soon the Lady Rame had taken the lead by one. They would fall three behind by the end of the half, trailing 33-30, but they had railted back and finally began to formulate some type of offensive threat.

Halftime would prove to be the downfall of Differd as Lake Mary took advantage of the break to regroup, come up with a new game plan and take the court ready to attack.

"Basically in the third quar-ter I just knew I had to pass the ball," Ballance said. "Dribbling wasn't working and Once we got our inside game going, they couldn't adjust," Sutton said. "I never worried when we were down because I knew if we could just keep them from beating us on the baseline and not let them get open outside, we'd be able to stay in it."

Confidence has brought the Lady Rams this far...that and a tremendous amount of talent. Both will be put to the test when they face Boone High School from Oriando, which crushed Pompano Beach-Ely 59-33 in the other semifinal

Mom mulls giving son behavior drug

Dear Mary.

Our son is 12 years old and is finishing 6th grade. He never has liked school, but this year has been a disaster. His teachers have said he may need medicine for ADD (Attention Desicit Disorder), and his pedistrician has left it up to us as to whether we want to try it to see if it helps him settle down at school. We are feeling pretty desperate, because he may fail 6th grade if he doesn't settle down. Everyone knows he's capable of doing the work, we just don't know whether he is capable of controlling his behavior without medicine. By the way, at home he just seems like a regular boy, busy and ac-tive, but not more than his friends or brother or sister.

Out biggest concern about trying the medicine is that he'll get used to thinking that if you have a problem, all you have to do is take a pill and that will fix everything. With all hear about teenagers and drug sage to put him on a drug for his behavior. Also, we are afraid that he will just use it to get "high".

Still, I'm glad you are concerned about handing your son a pill to control his behavior. it's a risky, albeit sometimes necessary, thing to do. Since you already know how the achool year is going to end if you don't do anything, I think that if I were in your position, I would give the medication a trial run. You don't have to give it to him at home, but if it calma him down and helps him concentrate at school, it seems the risk is probably worthwhile.

One other thing I would like to caution you shout. Even though your son will probably not get high on the medication, the drugs are commonly stolen and abused by other teens. The best way to avoid this possibility is to monitor his medication taking and dispense only one dose at a time. Also, e sure to month

Believer finds the faith to heal

Herald Staff Writer

God first led Rick Friend to the streets of Sanford in 1994. Through his ministry, Friend has witnessed the gift of healing in his personal life and with others. The Lord has placed healing services on my heart," said Friend, Living a life of obedience to God, Friend has unquestioningly set about organizing the healing services.

Friend's is a ministry of reconciliation. Praise and worship services will be conducted by Joe Panzello. Friend wants to lead people to the healing scriptures. "People periah for the lack of knowledge," said Friend, referring to the Scrip-tures. People have to have an understanding to receive the gift of healing.

During the worship services Friend will call a healing line if he is led by God to do so, and he believes instant healing will take place at the services. God is a live God and his is a live Word," explains Friend, "When the Word goes out I expect something to happen". "A lot of people believe healing is not for today," said Friend. The Bible says Jesus is the same yesterday, today and

"Healing is for every believer," said Friend, "(The Bible says) lay hands on the sick and they shall recover.' God wants to heal folks". Jesus purchased the gift of healing with his blood, explains Friend. I couldn't heal a flea. It is totally God".

Friend did not learn of God's gift of healing when he first came to know God. At the time he suffered from an incurable disease. He read about faith healing in a booklet by Kenneth E. Hagin. Parents, friends and doctors could not help him but he knew God could. T found the knowledge and I

The healing was not instantaneous for Friend. For him the healing took about 9 months to a year. The healing manifested from the inside out. Sometimes a person gets healed and the symptoms come back, according to Friend. The person has to know how to stand on the word of God." God's Word is true. When God gives His Word, expect manifestation of The Word'.

"Most people take good health for granted," said Friend, "but when you can't get out of bed and then you're healed you have compassion for folks". Friend is led to share the gift of healing with

Ex-Globetrotter Meadowlark Lemon brings ministry to Sanford church

By SUSAN WENNER Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - Ordained minister, Meadowlark Lemon, formerly of the Harlem Globetrotters will speak at New Life Word Center this Sunday at 7 p.m. he has traveled the world teaching the gospel to others and reaches additional people through his weekly television show on Trinity Broadcast Network.

According to a recent press release, Meadowlark Lemon, affectionately known as the "Clown Prince of Basketball," is a legendary hero in the world of sports. He has been the creative force and focal point of international, comedic basketball since he began his career with the Harlem Globetrotters more than four decades ago. From the inner-city playgrounds where youngsters try to duplicate his basketball world, Lemon is a household name.

Lemon's "no-look, wrap-around pase" for an easy slam-dunk, his hook shots from half court, and his ability to turn a hapless referee into a foil for his wit is unsurpassed. In his nationally-syndicated column, Los Angeles Times Sports Writer, Jim Murray, described lemon as "Oan American Institution whose uniform should hang alongside the Spirit of St. Louis and the Gemini Space Capsule in the halls of the Smithsonian Institute."

He admits to being on the run because "the kids used to tease me a lot about my name." A native of Wilmington, North Carolina, Lemon frequented a movie theater in his youth. At the age of 11 he saw a newsreel about the Harlem Globetrotters and he then began his practice to make the team.

Clean living, abstaining from cigarettes, alcohol and drugs, allowed Lemon the health and stamina needed to maintain his eight to 12 hour-a-day workouts.
Service in the military put a slight halt to his dream but after two years of service he was back on track. His dream finally became a reality.

Lemon traveled over four million miles wizardry to the luxurious cities of the and played more than 7,500 consecutive games. He averaged more than 325 games a year to fans in over 100 countries. In 1986 he became a minister of the

THE WEEK IN PREP ATHLETICS

Games of the Week

You're no sports fan if you miss...

By JEFF BERLINICKE Herald Staff Writer

Feb. 20: Edgewater at Lake Howell, boys regional basketball tournament, 7:30.

The Silver Hawks lost their first battle against Edgewater, giving up an early lead, but things have changed since then. Basically, Lake Howell is on fire.

Lake Howell rolled through districts last week with wins over Lake Brantley and Lake Mary and feature a dominating front line of Rikki Williams, Ryan Smith and Brad La-Core, not to mention point guard Reggie Kohn who was named first-team all-Semmole County.

The Silver Hawks, by beating Lake Mary. won their first-ever district title and have improved steadily since most of the starting lineup came together three years ago.

If Lake Howell wins, there will be another home game Tuesday.

Feb. 20: Lake Mary at Dr. Phillips, boys basketball, 7:30 p.m.

Look out for the Rams. Lake Mary has recovered from injury problems to finally play up to their potential.

Randy Abrams and Jerome Bingham have been the keys to the comeback, taking over in the backcourt and the Rams' dominating front line of Jamal Harrison, Robbie Shapiro and Ben Kersenbrock are terrors under the basket.

Lake Mary still has to learn to win the close ones. The Rams have been dropping close games all season, including seven by less than five points. To combat that, they have been pummeling teams instead.

Oviedo was a victim, by nearly 20 points last Thursday in the game that propelled the Rams to the regionals as the Rams took charge early and never looked back.

Feb. 20: Seminole at Winter Springs, baseball, 7 p.m.

It's been a season of firsts at Winter Springs and this will be the first home game in the history of the school.

Check out Winter Springs' new baseball stadium for the first time. It's already one of the county's best facilities and the visitors might be the best team in the county

Winter Springs is new, but coach Harold Hitt has some talent on his team, comprised of only freshmen and sophomores. The Bears are Class 3A, but will play a full SAC schedule. Pitchers Brad Stephanson and Derek Jones are two of the arms Hitt can go Seminole returns with one of the state's best teams. C3 Williams, Tim Raines, Chaz Lytle, Ned Raines, Paulo Silva and Bill Johnson are just some of the returnees from last season's powerhouse and there are also several impressive transfers.

Be there for history when Winter Springs plays under the lights at home for the first

Feb. 21: Class 6A State Championship, Lake Mary vs. Orlando-Boone, giris basketball at Lakeland Center, 8 p.m.

Lake Mary is the top-ranked team in the state, sporting a 32-0 record after last night's 66-39 win over Ft. Lauderdale-Dillard in the state semifinals.

The Lady Rams have smacked away all challenges this season and that includes wins over second-ranked Pensacola and third-ranked Evans already in the state playoffs. It might look easy, but remember, Lake Mary is still a young team with only one senior starter. An interesting side bar to this game is that it was expected to be played two weeks ago.

Boone, which beat Pompano Beach-Ely 5933 Thursday night, was expected to be the runner-up from 6A-District 3 and have to play at Lake Mary, the 6A-4 champion, in the first round of the regional playoffs.

But the Braves, which lost twice in the regular season to Evans, upset the Trojans in the district finals and got to play Lyman instead of Lake Mary

The two teams did play in the regular season, with the Rams outscoring the Braves, whom start five sophomores, 17-1 in the final period to win 44-24 in Orlando back in SANFORD This is a rebuilding year?

Seminole High School boys tennis coach
Scott Casko has been claiming that this might be a tough year because he has new inexperienced players on his squad.

But if the performances turned in by the Fighting Seminoles in the first two matches of the year are any indication, this could be a very good year for Seminole tennis.

Thursday afternoon, the Tribe opened its home schedule with a 5-2 victory over Class 5A-District 5 foe Pine Ridge. This was our first district match and I'm proud of the team," said Casko. Bryan Knode, Robbie Smith and Danny Treffery picked up singles wins for Seminole and the Tribe swept both doubles matches. The Fighting Seminoles will take to the road on Monday traveling to Deltona to take on the Wolves in another 5A-5 match starting at 3:30

After opening the season on Tuesday with a 5-0, two-hit shutout of Winter Springs, the Silverhawks put it all together yesterday, as freshman Lindsay Wright hurled a no-hitter and he offense backed her with 11 hits in a 12-0, fiveinning whitewashing of DeLand.

Leading the way at the plate for the Silverhawka were Megan DeMichele (2-for-4 with a triple and three RBI), Jennifer Gillespie (2for-2 with a double and two RBI) and Mandy Migliori (2-for-3 with two runs scored).

Doing the damage in the win over Winter Springs were Crystal Ritchey (3-for-4, RBI), Melissa Barney (2-for-4, RBI) and Jenny Rhiner (RBI).

Senior guards Jerome Bingham (left) and Randy Abrams have been the driving force behind the late-season surge that has propelled Lake Many into tonight's first-round regional playoff matchup with 6A-4 champion Dr. Phillips.

Guards come to Rams' rescue

By JEFF BERLINICER Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY _ A few weeks ago, the Lake Mary basketball program was in disarray.

The Rams were giving it everything they had every night and coming up short, usually by some heart-breaking last second loss.

In fact, the Rams lost seven games this season by five points or less. 'Then, leading scorer Paul Beik went down, probably for the season, and coach Mike Gaudreau was looking desperately for someone to step up. That's when the Rame' backcourt of Randy Abrama and Jerome Bingham took over.

Lake Mary has suffered by an abundance of turnovers all season, but Gaudreau never lost faith in his guards. Abrams has responded by turning into one of the county's best, if not the best, three-point shooters, and Bingham has gone from a sometimes out-ofcontrol guard to a dependable leader who has cut down drastically ion turnovers. With the improved backcourt have come wins. Lake Mary lost in the district finals against Lake Howell last Saturday, but a surprise win over Oviedo in the district semi-finals guaranteed a shot at the regional. Lake Mary will travel to Dr. Phillips Friday for a 7:30 p.m. start.

Most of the Lake Mary players have been together for four years, starting as an undefeated freshmen team and never having suffered through a losing season. Bingham and Abrams have played together all four years and are as tight off the court as they are

We've been playing together for four years and we knew we had to start taking a bigger role," Bingham said.

The turning point, both said, was when Lake Mary squandered a big lead at home four weeks against Oviedo that led to an overtime loss. It was the latest in a string of heartbreaking losses.

"After that, we just got sick of losing," Bingham said.

"Since that game, we knew we had to make a point of winning the close games," Abrams

They have been almost unbeatable since, except for the loss to Lake Howell.

Coach just told us to keep it together after losing so many close games," Abrams said. 'He knew we'd come around. The losses just made us stronger."

But it was the injury to Beik that forced the Lake Mary backcourt to fill the vold and they have done it ever since. Abrams has been on fire and Bingham has taken over as the team scorer.

"Ever since Paul Beik went down, it was up to Randy and myself to step up," Bingham said. We knew we had to from experience."

Abrams scored 18 in the loss to Lake Howell and is combining with Bingham to take the load off of Ben Kersenbrock, the team's leading rebounder, His outside threat is also making it possible for big men Jamal Harrison and Robbie Shapiro to take more of a role in the offense. Teams can no longer collapse on the Rams, the biggest team in the county because of Abrams' shooting threat.

"I've had games where I've been in a kind of zone lately," Abrams said. "Lately I've been feeling comfortable and everythings falling just right. Even when they weren't falling, I just continued to shoot. When I don't shoot, the offense starts to stagger. It isn't staggering now. The Rams are the hottest team in the county except for Lake Howell and the underdog status going into Friday doesn't deter them a bit.

We feel like we can beat Dr. Phillips," Abrams said. "There were a lot of people who didn't think we could beat Oviedo and

*Our expectations are high, Bingham added. We think we can go all the way."

If they can go all the way, it will be because of the Lake Mary backcourt stepping up when it had to the most.

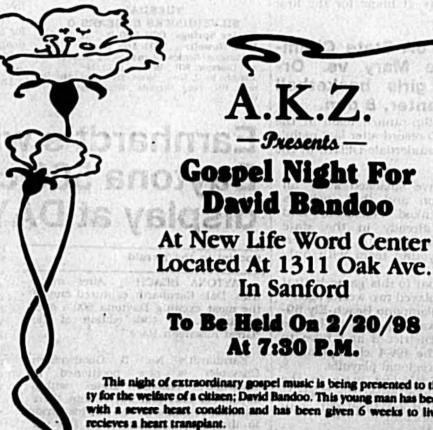

Big savings on other models too.

Physical abuse is no joke

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 60-year-old brother-in-law derives perverse plea-sure from pulling my sister's nose until she screams. Although we object to this behavior and have asked him to stop, he only laughs. Can you offer a solution?

DEAR READER: I suggest two possible solutions. The first is the more civilized and preferable.

Get the family members together and meet with your brother-in-law for a discussion. Explain that his abuse is painful and inappropriate, and that the family is unanimous in condemn-ing his behavior and will no longer tolerate it. If he persists, report him to the local police for assault and battery. He may then be arrested and undergo an embarrassing trial, after which he may be fined.

Option No. 2 should work if solution No. 1 doesn't. The next time your brother-in-law begins to pull your sister's nose, she should punch him in the face or strike him sharply in a tender spot. Such an act will cause him to stop and reconsider his actions, especially if she follows up with a verbal reminder: "That doesn't feel very good, does it? If you pinch my nose once again, you'll really get it. Now

Of course, this option is somewhat silly... isn't it? However, he has to get the idea that your sister is fed up with playing the victim and isn't going to take it anymore. She's got to stand up for herself and take charge of the situation. And, at long last, by clobbering him, she will send an unmistakable message that his behavior is not playful and cute. Your brother-in-law has 3 to learn that your sister is a force to be reckoned with.

Well, I don't really endorse option No. 2 from a practical standpoint, but I hope that it will elicit some interesting comments from my readers!

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have a painless tumor, called a lipoma, on my back. My doctor reassured me that it is not a health hazard. However, it is growing. It's now the size of a golf ball, and I have two more on my thigh. What can I do about this without further medical attention?

DEAR READER: Nothing, unfortunately. The only treatment for lipomas is surgical removal — a simple office procedure when the tumors are small, but a more involved operation when they're large. Clearly, your doctor is correct. Nonetheless, as the lipomas grow (and no one knows why they do), they will become more difficult to remove. So, if the lipoma on your back bothers you or is an embarrassment, I suggest that you go to a local surgeon and be done with it.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm an elderly man with a variety of health prob fits. However, in a recent article in the New England Journal of Medicine (Jan. 8, 1998), researchers from the Honolulu Heart Program reported on the effects of walking among retired men. More than 700 nonsmoking retirees (ages 61 to 81) were studied. The scientists discovered that regular walking profoundly reduced mortality: Those men who walked more than two miles a day had half the mortality rate of men who walked less than a mile daily. Moreover, the most active walkers tended to live, on average, about five years longer than their less active compatriots.

These findings are important to all elderly people because the study proved that low-intensity activity has a greater beneficial effect than

It's all white now

By Phillip Alder

Along with red wine, there is, of course, white. Californian chardonnay enjoys considerable popularity, but I prefer a mature Australian semillon or a soft sauvignon blanc. Yet my real favorite is a dry muscat. The ones from Alsace are all right, but they have nothing on those made in the '70s (but no more, it seems) in the Roussillon area of southern France.

In a tournament in Malta, British international Brian Senior did much better. When East played the diamond five, Senior dropped his six with no revealing hesitation.
