Lake Monroe Extension Club Names New Slate Of Officers

The Lake Monroe Extension Homemakers Club elected Mrs. Joanna Dubois as president of the new fiscal year at the April meeting held in the Community Building in Lake Monroe.

Others serving will be Mrs. H. L. Johnson, first vice president; Mrs. Marion Lee, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Mann, secretary; Mrs. Alice Carroll, treasurer; Mrs.

J. C. Sapp, delegate, and Mrs. Audrey Roberts, alternate. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Olga Hunter, current president.

Mrs. Roberts, club health chairman, was in charge of the program which presented 11 members of the 4-H Handy Helpers Club in a skit, both serious and comical, on poison safety. With setting of a ghost town, the skit told the story of a mayor and 10 ghosts, who were forced to live there because of contacting, in some way, poisons in their former homes.

Reports were given on a 4-H Club work, on the recent cooking school, on a shoe covering class and on a knitting class being given each Monday at the Agriculture Center.

Members were reminded of the one day short course of four classes to be held April 28 at Camp McQuarrie. All were urged to attend.

Mrs. J. H. Tindel expressed her appreciation for the card sent to her while she was confined to the hospital. It was announced that Sheriff J. L. Hobby will be guest speaker for the May program and meeting.

Following a white elephant sale, refreshments of iced tea and decorated cupcakes in Easter theme were served by Mrs. Marion Bethea and Mrs. Dubois to 19 members and 11 guests in attendance.

Gauging 'Inner Johnson' Of First 500 Days

(Second of Three Dispatches)

By Bruce Blossat

WASHINGTON (NEA) —

Lyndon Baines Johnson simply has no interests but being President of the United States.

It is common to say of him that he is a master parliamentarian turned president.

But one man, who believes he can gauge the "inner Johnson," flatly says it is a case of a master parliamentarian with his eye always on the presidency.

The difference is important. It means he brings even more to the job than his thick fabric of experience in government and politics. He brings some 30 years of studying and rubbing shoulders with the presidency itself. Says this history-minded friend:

"Whether he was in the House, or the Senate, serving as Majority Leader, or being Vice President, the one thing that's been in his mind all along is that some day he'd sit in the White House."

Not long after Johnson took over from John Kennedy, he summoned an old acquaintance to talk over his new burdens. For nine hours the men sat together, examining with infinite care the good and bad points of the three or four presidents who had must immediately preceded him in office.

His nearly total preoccupation with his job may help to explain his hypersensitivity to criticism. When his performance is attacked, it's as if another man of broader interests found himself assailed for his golf or his taste in music.

These things do not really exist for Lyndon Johnson. He cares little for music, has no interest in theater or movies, reads only what bears on his job, shuns sports and exercise except for a little riding at the ranch and the walking ordered by his doctors.

A well-known Washingtonian who hauled the President to the golf course three or four times finally gave up, and says now: "He was bored stiff. His mind was back at the White House."

The ranch is the one place Lyndon Johnson seems to relax. He gets renewal from fresh touch with the Texas soil. Close to his real roots, he often lopes across the open reaches, dragging friends who can't quite see the charm. One visitor's reaction:

"He takes you out and sweeps his arm to point out 200 acres set aside for his daughter Lynda, or 200 for Lucel. I look at that land and think to myself, 'I wouldn't turn my dog loose on it.'"

More than 16 months into this job which he has made his whole life, the President is portrayed today by friends and associates as a man more assured, less inclined toward posturing.

From the beginning, a good deal of his problem in this latter regard was summed up in the one word: Kennedy. "A hard act to follow," says an aide.

So there was a lot of flamboyance, not only in the public's gaze but in the privacy of White House offices.

Today, it is said, things are different. One view: "There are less staged scenes, public and private." Another: "He's stopped playing at being President."

He seems to have toned down in other ways. "He used to be a pretty fancy dresser but that's gone now," says a Texas acquaintance. "I expect Lady Bird has had something to do with that."

By now Lyndon Johnson's habits are pretty well known. He is awakened between 7 and 8 a.m., reads the morning papers and some reports brought over by aide Jack Valenti, lives up the telephone circuit. At the tail end of the day, he drags homework to bed with him, sitting propped up with pillows in the style made famous by Winston Churchill.

The telephone is the thread which weaves his day together, from office to White House living quarters. In his office he even has one beside his rocker.

He's on the phone at 7:30 a.m. and still going at 11:30 at night, trading anecdotes, sniffing the political wind, warning himself with contact in his work-world.

Yet the notion, born of this steady contact, that he personally drives through his own congressional programs just isn't so today and never has been. His liaison aides, led by the extremely capable Lawrence O'Brien, husband of the President's credit with lawmakers and use it sparingly for crucial moments.

Obviously under the doctors' strictures to lead a regulated life, the President these days usually keeps his immense drive within reasonable bounds. He takes a nap.

His eating habits pass muster. But he doesn't like lunch and one helper thinks there just might be some mischief in his practice of calling conferences during the lunch hour.

Through all Johnson's concentrated labors, there has not been much sign of wit. "It's hard for him to laugh at himself," notes an old friend.

Yet this fellow insists the President has a streak of humor, in the deadpan kidding vein Texans relish. A lot of people watching him from near and far would welcome evidences of it as proof he was unwinding.

Maybe it was a foretaste of this he offered the day he was on radio-television to the two

Gemini astronauts on the recovery carrier Intrepid. Television cameras recorded his appearance as he talked. When he hung up, mindful of charges he lets the press see him too seldom, he wagged a finger and smirked:

"And that counts for the first press conference I've held—and on live television."

Pool Shark Ends Career . . . At 14

MEMPHIS (UPI)—A ninth grade boy has promised to end his gambling ways even though he netted $250 last year.

Authorities said the 14-year-old boy—not identified because of his age—made the money hustling pool and gave much of it to his mother.

He promised his mother he would end his "pool shark" career as he awaited a juvenile court hearing.

He was arrested with two 21-year-old men who were charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was playing a match with one of the men when they were arrested.

Detectives said he was 35 games ahead of the man in a $1 per game series.

The youth said he began playing pool at a community center two years ago and began playing for money about a year ago after finding he had a knack for the game.

Elks Club Nine Dumps Shrine In 12-8 Tilt

Elks fought their way into a share for the first place lead in the Junior Boys League yesterday by pounding out a 12-8 win over Shrine. Cecil Simpson pitched his first game in Junior League play and managed 15 strikeouts, picking up the strikeout. David Soper, Steve Rawls, and Tommy Grassy each collected two hits for Elks while Steve Leach, the losing hurler, went four for four at the plate for the Shrineans.

Indians Lose First Little League Contest

Congregational Christian Church took the opening game of the Church League softball season, by outscoring Pinecrest Assembly 17-18. Curtis Johnson for Pinecrest and Ray Middleton and Gordon Honeycutt for Congregational, hit home runs. Panning Lumber of Longwood moved ahead of the pack in the City Softball League, winning their second game in an "easy" 10-1, setting back Chase, 8-6. Trailing 5-6, Panning rallied for four runs in the last of the sixth to pull ahead to stay. Ready Ivey's infield single in the sixth inning broke up a no-hit bid by Ronnie Nobles of Chase, but the Chase nine still went home winners, 6-1, over Quality Mobile Homes.

In other Little League action, Florida State Bank edged defending American League champ, Navy, 6-5 with Andy Steels receiving credit for the pitching victory. He struck out eight batters in leading the way for the Bankers. Mike Parrish, of Navy, took hitting honors getting three doubles in three times at bat.

Seminole High best Lyman twice this season, but it has never run against Oviedo. In the recent relay meets Sanford had broken a number of school records, with David Noell, the captain of the Seminole team, breaking his old record in the discus and setting a new one of 159 feet, 2 1/4 inches. Jack Hunt broke the mile run record with a time of 4:36.2 and Bill Frisby, Rick Walstrom, Eddie Griffith and Paul LeRoy set a new record in the sprint medley relay with a time of 2:03.8.

Tribe Sends Angels Flying, 7-1

Gabe Paul of the Cleveland Indians can take a bow now for the deal which caused him to take the rap all winter. Paul made one of the most controversial deals of the 1964 season last September when he sent pitcher Pedro Ramos to the New York Yankees, who were in desperate need of pitching. Ramos turned out to be a key factor in the Yankees' late surge to the American League pennant and Paul has been hearing ever since he made a "gift" of the flag to them.

Few listened when Paul pointed out that he obtained pitcher Ralph Terry in the transaction. Paul's Indians received their first dividend in the deal Tuesday night, however, when Terry spun a nifty four-hitter that enabled Cleveland to open its season with a 7-1 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels.

The Chicago White Sox defeated the Baltimore Orioles 5-3 in the season opener for both teams and the Detroit Tigers drubbed the Kansas City Athletics 11-4 in other American League games. In the National League, Cincinnati topped Milwaukee 3-1, Chicago downed St. Louis 3-1, and Pittsburgh beat San Francisco 6-2.

Lyman Hits Finals In OBC Tourney

The Lyman Greyhounds earned a spot in the finals of the Orange Belt Conference baseball tournament with a tremendous 5-4 comeback victory over the favored Leesburg Yellow Jackets last night at Leesburg.

Seminole Nine Falls Victim To Colonial, 11-0

The one-hit pitching of Gale Coleman set the Grenadiers ahead all the way. Coleman struck out seven Seminoles and was in on the Colonial scoring. Eddie Fitzgerald and Ron Dudley held the mound for Sanford, but the Colonial batters were too much to handle.

Stan Bell got a triple with the bases loaded for the Grenadiers in the first inning to spark the game for Colonial. Bell also scored in the second inning.

Colonial got one run in the second inning and four in the fourth to win. Sanford committed four errors. The Seminoles best Colonial 3-0 in an earlier game this season, but the Grenadiers came back to set up an impressive 11-3 record. Sanford will see action again this Friday when it hosts the Edgewater Eagles at 4 p.m.

Miss Whirl Seeks 16th SOKC Victory

The great Miss Whirl goes for her 16th win of the season tonight in the featured 10th race at the Sanford Orlando Kennel Club—but the Larry Hughes ace might have her work cut out for her. Going against the Hughes speedster will be Cecil Austin's Genobar, who turned out the best clocking of the season in his last start. Genobar was timed at 30.75 seconds in winning by 10 lengths last Saturday.

Witherspoon Tops Science Fair

By Robert B. Thomas Jr.
323-3736

Student Government Day was held at Crooms High last Friday. Members of the Senior Class took over the teaching chores of each teacher.

James Davis, president of the student council, was principal and Elliot Bellamy, vice president, was assistant principal.

Ferman Dickey, who replaced "youra truly" as visiting teacher, had a good day. When the bell rang for the homeroom activity, I asked Dickey what kind of day he had. His reply was: "I did not have any trouble at all."

Competition ran high among the numerous science projects exhibited April 9 and 10 in the Initial Science Fair of Crooms High School.

Other exhibits from the business education, industrial arts, mathematics, music and arts, and foreign language departments helped to correlate the relationship of the fact that each school subject is a science. The fore-named departments were not on a competitive basis.

Most outstanding among the science projects were the following:

Lewis Witherspoon, binary game — derived from the base 2, binary system. It is based on the counting numbers of this system, 1, 2, 4, 8, 16, and 32 (place value). This system is so arranged that any number from one to 63 can be gotten by adding two or more of the counting numbers together. This game is designed for two or more players.

James Sheppard, Tony Brooks Jr., and Anthony Wright, "Thunder Machine" — modified Tesla coil type. It employs the simple principles developed by Nikola Tesla, during the early 1900s. It is constructed with a neon sign transformer, wire, glass, and aluminum foil. It produces 250,000 volts which appears in the form of brilliant flashes of light and thunder like sounds.

Wilbur Hawkins, radiation detection — project on radiation detection dealing with the amount of radiation that is absorbed by ordinary materials. This was accomplished with the aid of a Geiger counter and a radioactive sample. Separate readings were taken for each material used as a shield against the radiation emitted by the sample.

Elliot Bellamy, carbon arc furnace — a source of brilliant light and producing extremely high temperatures. The parts consist of a flower pot, carbon rods, an acid rheostat and a heating unit. The members of the ACL Club, of which D. D. McCoy is president, will award Lewis Witherspoon a $25 Savings Bond during Student Award Day at Crooms High.

Set and Mrs. Isaac Ballard, of Fort Hood, Tex., are houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Rubin J. Jones.

Sergeant Bullard is the brother of Mrs. Jones. The son of Rev. and Mrs. E. S. Bullard, of Bartow, he has been in service for 17 years. Also visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jones is Mrs. Jones' mother, Mrs. Bullard.

Students of the East Haven Kindergarten recently took a train ride to Winter Park under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Lella Ross. Mrs. Ross reported that all "had a wonderful time."

Each day your child misses school weakens him considerably. If in each of the 12 years of school your child is absent from 25 to 30 days, he only receives a sketchy education. This is one of the reasons our children fall so far below the national norm tests.

So parents, do not keep your children out of their first period classes to pay a bill or take care of his other sisters or brothers. This type of practice will most certainly hurt the child in the future.

Women of Mt. Moriah Primitive Baptist Church will have their annual Women's Day observance Sunday at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Mrs. Lilla E. Hall, teacher at Jackson Heights Elementary School, will be the morning orator; Mrs. Ida

Mac Anderson, of Geneva, also an instructor at Jackson Heights, will deliver the afternoon address.

You are cordially invited to attend these services.

St. John Baptist Church will observe Passion Week. The first session began Monday night with Rev. James D. Hagin as the main speaker. The speaker for the Tuesday session was Rev. S. H. Hill. Rev. A. A. Fields will deliver the message this evening. Rev. Robert Boynton will be the orator for Thursday's session at 7:30 p. m.

Friday evening the Young Peoples Choir and Male Chorus will present an Easter Cantata entitled, "The Gospel Song of Easter," with film.

The early sunrise service will begin Easter Sunday morning at 5 a. m. Guest preacher for the occasion is Rev. W. H. Calhoun, pastor of New Mt. Zion Baptist Church of Tampa. Music will be provided by various choirs of the church.

The pastor will deliver the morning message at 11 a. m.

Seminole County PTA Council Sets Election For Thursday

By Julia Bartos

The Seminole County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will elect and install new officers at a meeting to be held Wednesday at Altamonte Springs Elementary School. Hospitality hour will be from 9 until 9:30 a. m. immediately followed by the business session.

Next Tuesday a school of instruction will be held at First Methodist Church, Sanford, with Mrs. Byron Blee Jr., past president of the State PTA, as main speaker. This meeting will get underway promptly at 9:30 a. m.

A meeting of the district council was held Monday at the Open Hearth in Maitland for which Mrs. George Hearn, Seminole County council president, and Mrs. W. Lawrence Swofford, district eight vice president, were hostesses.

Councils represented were Ocala, Brevard, Volusia, Flagler, Orange and Seminole.

Last Thursday, the executive board of the Seminole council met at the home of Mrs. William Segrest at which time all PTA presidents and school principals were guests of honor for a covered dish luncheon following the meeting.

'Phone System Gains Support

By Paul Brookshire

Casselberry's Board of Aldermen voted unanimously Monday night to join other Seminole County municipalities in petitioning for a county-wide toll-free telephone system.

The action took place following an appearance before the council of John Krider, executive director of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, and Carl Carlson, general commercial manager of the Winter Park Telephone Company.

Krider said the metro phone system would serve in linking Seminole County closer together and make up for a lack of communications. He said a petition for the system is due to go before the State Public Utilities Commission soon.

Carlson assured the aldermen that the toll-free system would not result in a rate increase for Casselberry subscribers. They will be able to call Sanford and all areas in the county without extra charge, he said.

In other action, the Casselberry aldermen discovered a special meeting they held on March 29 to open bids on a new police car was illegal.

Alderman George Howard said the session was "strictly illegal" and asked that it be declared null and void. The board backed him up by a 2-1 vote.

Howard contended the meeting was not called by the mayor or by two members of the board as required by law. He also said notification sent to aldermen about the meeting was unsigned.

At the special session, the aldermen had accepted a low bid of $1,375 for a new police car from Holler Motor Company, Sanford.

After the meeting and bid taking was voided, the aldermen voted again to accept the low Holler bid by a unanimous vote. Three bids on the police car were received.

The session of the board was interrupted to allow Chief Raymond E. Beary of the Maitland Police Department to present certificates of merit to three members of the Casselberry Police Department. Officers William T. Randall, Vernon Weinhart and Noel P. Hamilton were given awards for completing an FBI course at the Maitland Academy.

In other action the board: Passed on second reading a $101,500 budget for the city for the coming year. The two biggest items were allotted the roads and police departments. Roads will get $30,000 and the police department $28,000.

Failed to give first reading to an ordinance setting up a Fireman's Relief and Pension Fund.

Accepted a financial statement.

Village Firemen To Meet Today

A regular business session of the North Orlando Volunteer Fire Department will be held at 7:30 p. m. today in the village office.

Chief Bill Hahn urges that all male residents of the community who are interested in protection of their homes and families attend the meeting and participate in work of the department.

The crash, which occurred at Wilma and Warren, came about when Mrs. Barbara Lee, driving a late model convertible, plowed into the side of the emergency equipment which had its siren and flashing red light in operation at the time.

Colin Kelly, member of the volunteer department who was driving the vehicle, is hospitalized at Winter Park Memorial Hospital where he still is under observation.

Voted to affirm a zoning board recommendation that a request for zoning change from R-1 to R-3 for J. E. Lowe on Park Drive be denied. Set a fee of $5 for filing of applications on zoning matters.

Referred bids for a motor grader to the roads committee for study. Two bids were opened—one for $12,977 and the other for $13,600.

Continued the meeting until next Monday night.

Firemen Lose Emergency Car

The Emergency Vehicle of the Longwood Volunteer Fire Department has been adjudged a total loss after being involved in a weekend traffic collision while on the way to a fire at Rolling Hills Country Club on SR 434.

The crash, which occurred at Wilma and Warren, came about when Mrs. Barbara Lee, driving a late model convertible, plowed into the side of the emergency equipment which had its siren and flashing red light in operation at the time.

Colin Kelly, member of the volunteer department who was driving the vehicle, is hospitalized at Winter Park Memorial Hospital where he still is under observation.

Volkswagen, incognito.

You'd have to be some kind of a car sleuth to know that concealed under the Karmann Ghia's beautiful exterior is the heart of a Volkswagen.

The Ghia's chassis and the 4-speed synchromesh transmission are the same as the regular Volkswagen's.

Behind every Ghia is one of VW's won't-bail-over-or-freeze-up engines.

You also get VW's big 15-inch wheels; the very ones that help VW bugs rack up 40,000 and more miles on a set of tires.

The Ghia's torsion bar suspension is all Volkswagen, too.

Not to mention the traction and gas-and-oil economy and low insurance and parts service, etc.

What aren't typically Volkswagen are the Ghia's sleek lines, the hand-drawn body, the noble Roman nose.

If you're one of those people who admire everything about the VW except the way it looks, why not consider driving around in a beautiful disguise?

Sanford Rejects Air Conditioning Public Library

An offer by Louis Temple to install air conditioning in the Sanford Public Library, with free labor, was turned down by City Commissioners.

Commissioners instructed W. E. Knowles, city manager, to thank Temple for his offer, but explained that the job would have to be put out for bids and his bid would be welcomed at that time.

Air conditioning of the library originally was budgeted for this year, but later was cancelled when the $6,000 appropriated was transferred to contingency funds.

Commissioners indicated that air-conditioning would be one of the priority items in next year's budget.

They turned down a proposal to air condition the Central Fire Station, also saying that they preferred to consider building a new station, or possibly enlarging the No. 2 station on French Avenue.

A "go-ahead" was given by commissioners on the paving of Grandview Avenue South, from 24th Place north to a dead end, upon petition of the property owners who will pay a portion of the cost.

Union Cab Company, owned by Milton, Elmer and Felton Brooken was granted a license to operate a third taxi cab.

Commissioners were notified that the National Exhibition Company (San Francisco Giants) has not paid either county or city taxes on the Mayfair Golf Course to date. Under the lease, failure to pay taxes is reason to constitute a breach of the lease after 90 days from receipt of written notice.

Under this lease, the city has the right to declare a forfeiture of the lease and to pay the taxes.

Under question of allocation of city insurance business, city commissioners moved that insurance agents sharing in a portion of the city insurance premiums must have an occupational license and own taxable real property inside the city limits.

'Co-operation' In N. Orlando Plea of Tilson

By Margaret Cooky
North Orlando Mayor Dave Tilson, who took office April 5, outlined steps to bring about a closely co-operative community and recommended establishment of three new five member groups at a special council session.

Tilson specifically stated his desire "to listen to views and discussions of the people on village matters" and encouraged members of the council to "make your views known to your mayor and to each other."

"I believe we form the best council the village has ever had. We have people here who desire to seek growth, who want to work together, and who are capable of doing so," he stated.

He asked that consideration be given the formation of a building commission, a development committee, and a beautification committee. In each case, one member of the council would serve with four members of the village residency.

He outlined purposes of the development committee to be "to work with North Orlando Company, Silver Creek Company, with the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and the South Seminole Chamber of Commerce to investigate, first, the development of Seminole County as a whole, and, secondly, the development of North Orlando individually."

He suggested that possible source of beautification committee members would be the already established North Orlando Garden Club.

It was requested that names be submitted for recommendation to fill all groups at the next council meeting.

Councilman Charles Rowell of the Health, Education and Welfare Commission for the village, appealed for suggestions and ideas from all people in the community in regards to providing a recreation committee which could submit proposals to the council.

Jay Wetz, councilman in charge of fire and police department matters, reported that a budget for the fire department is under discussion and that the police department budget is being typed for presentation to council.

At his suggestion and in view of "work, danger and low amount of pay involved" council agreed in its vote to reinstate Bob Stephenson as chief of police with badge of captain and Edgar Smart as policeman with badge of lieutenant. The mayor, after some hesitation, voted for the measure to split the tie, remarking that he would vote yes "so long as there is a police department and it is under supervision of council."

Council agreed that the bill for policemen's summer hats will be paid when it is filed and that Mrs. Helen Green be bonded as the village treasurer.

A special budget meeting was scheduled for April 26 with next regular council session to be May 2.

Prize Winning Bonnets Pre-empt Easter Parade

The plush lobby of the Florida State Bank was recently transformed into a "Parade of Easter Hats" as the organized clubs of the area participated in a colossal hat contest sponsored by the bank, with cash awards made to the winning organizations.

Madame Lily Dache and her renowned salons could not have designed and produced more colorful and varied chapeaux than were on exhibit at the bank.

The masterpieces were on display around a bubbling fountain and rock garden with bunnies, chicks and brilliantly hued eggs creating a festive Easter atmosphere for the six confused judges to decide the winners.

Lovely Kay Gallagher designed and created a hat for each of the judges to wear, thus getting them in "just the mood" for announcing the winners. The original creations were "wild" and the judges almost threw their hats into the ring as they engaged in hilarious conversation while sipping coffee during the heated round table discussion.

Judging the difficult and delightful contest were Chester Rearick, DeBary; John Krider, Seminole County Chamber of Commerce; Robert Sheddin, manager of Southern Bell Telephone Company; Mike Richardson, Orlando, and Paul Brookshire and Doris Williams, The Sanford Herald Staff.

Pretty Mary Ferguson of the bank modeled all the creations with the poise and perfection of a real pro, and on making this an annual event, and jokingly added that perhaps next year, there would be a Men's Division, which would no doubt be priceless to observe—a man's version of the latest and exact trim for his derby or fedora.

Receiving cash awards for their organized club in the Junior Division were Charlene Abrams and Jane Lea Schultz, both representing Seminole High School Future Homemakers Club.

Charlene won in the Prettiest Division for her white cloche with handmade purple flowers adorning the brim.

Miss Schultz was winner in the Best Use of Materials Division with her creation featuring a fish net veil interspersed with miniature fishing equipment replicas attached to veil.

In the Senior Division, Mrs. A. O. Roberts of The Sanford Woman's Club was awarded top honors for the Prettiest Hat. Her design was a small pink flying saucer with a misty pink bouffant illusion veil centered at the crown with a single large rose of pink tones.

Mrs. George Stine won cash for the Pilot Club of Sanford for the Funniest Creation, which was a white sombrero with two large wooden shad superimposed at the back and front and an assortment of lures, lines and flies ornamenting the wide brim.

Mrs. T. W. Mero of the Ixora Garden Club had the Best Named bonnet, labeled "The Pill Box." Various pill containers were attached to the top of a small black pill box hat.

Mrs. Nancy Morgan of the Ixora Garden Club placed first in the Most Original Division. Her unique straw cloche was decorated with sun glasses, straw slides and florets created from currency and coins.

A tie resulted in the Best Use of Materials Division between Mrs. Helen Gleeson of the Seminole Memorial Hospital Women's Auxiliary and Mrs. Marge Cowan of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Sanford.

Mrs. Gleeson fashioned a design cleverly combining pastel shades of toilet tissue, facial tissue and chicken wire with a small beret as the base.

A fascimile of the proposed Marina was created by Mrs. Cowan, who decorated a minnow bucket, which was topped with a tissue crown depicting water and adorned with miniature sailing vessels.

The distaff side at the bank will model the creations all this week for the benefit of the many interested persons who might be curious as to the varied tastes and talents of our clever area ladies.

Miss Sharon Booth Feted At Lovely Graduation Tea

Attired in a stunning white lace skimmer over white satin, Miss Sharon Booth, a member of the 1965 graduating class of Seminole High School, received approximately 50 guests at a Graduation Tea given in her honor by Mrs. Malachi Hagan at her spacious Mayfair home last Friday afternoon between the appointed hours of 3 and 5 p.m.

Mrs. Melvin Wilkins assisted as co-hostess.

In the receiving line with the hostess and honoree were Mrs. Noah Booth, mother of the honor guest. Both mother and daughter were presented lovely white carnation corsages by the hostesses, with the honoree also receiving a "book of knowledge" charm.

Beautiful floral arrangements adorned the reception area. The refreshment table was overlaid with a sheer ecru lace cloth with silver candle holders containing tall blue glowing spiral tapers. Refreshing fruit punch was poured from a handsome footed cut glass bowl with crystal appointments containing an assortment of dainty open faced sandwiches, miniature tea pastries, slipper mints and toasted nuts.

Mrs. John E. Fox and Miss Grace Marie Stinecipher poured and floated hostesses were Mrs. J. A. Strange, Miss Melissa Wilkins, Miss Pat Stenstrom and Miss Donna Davis.

Announcement was made that Mrs. Robert Parker, Mrs. Paul Slavik, Mrs. W. H. Stapp and Mrs. Roy Britt had visited Sunland and had taken Easter gifts to the children sponsored by the Oviedo Woman's Club.

Mrs. Estes announced that the May meeting would be a covered dish lunch.

Mrs. A. F. Jernigan and Mrs. Joan McInroe were welcomed as new members.

After the flag salute the meeting was adjourned.

Easter Luncheon Program Featured At Oviedo Meet

An Easter theme was carried out at the Oviedo Woman's Club, Friday, as members gathered for the regular monthly luncheon and meeting. Door hostesses were Mrs. A. B. Tedford and Mrs. L. W. Wood.

On each table was a pot of African violets and on the stage was a large arrangement of salmon colored gladiolus and fern. The speaker's table was covered with a linen cloth and two lovely arrangements of pink and white carnations with baby's breath were used.

An appropriate Easter devotion was given by Mrs. Joan McInroe.

A delicious lunch of baked chicken with a mushroom, carrot and pea sauce, lime delight salad and strawberry shortcake was served by Mrs. Paul Slavik and her committee, Mrs. Dan Dinda, Mrs. R. L. Croom, Mrs. G. S. Moon, Mrs. T. L. Lingo Sr., Mrs. W. H. Stapp and Mrs. J. E. Anderson.

Bon Voyage Fete Given Duo Departing For Europe Tour

The home of Mrs. Charles D. Webster was the scene of a lovely Bon Voyage Party honoring Mrs. John Pierre and Mrs. Theo Stiles, who are leaving on April 19th for a tour of eleven European countries.

Among the points of interest to be visited by the ladies will be a visit to the Veteran's Cemeteries in France and the scenes of many of the battles of World War I and II. Mrs. Stiles and Mrs. Pierre are active officers of the American Legion Auxiliary and are therefore greatly interested in visiting these spots.

Two interesting side trips will be made during this tour. Mrs. Stiles will visit with many relatives and friends at Cardiff, Wales and Mrs. Pierre plans a special visit to the Vatican.

City Bus Service Scheduled To Start Next Fall

Sanford again will have city bus service, with service expanded to residential areas outside the city, beginning some time next fall, according to plans by George White and Sanford City Commissioners.

White told commissioners that he could not get delivery of the buses from Detroit until some time in the "third quarter of the year" and would start service immediately on delivery of the buses, which will be "new and modern."

White said that he would establish special prices for school students at 10 cents, with a student card; 35 cents inside the city limits or to the Naval Air Station; 50 cents to Lorich Arbor and Sunland Estates. Trunk fees would be free. Student hours would be from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m.

He plans to start with three buses and expand as use demands, going up to as many as 18.

Commissioners tabled action on signing of the franchise pending incorporation of the bus company and approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC).

Young Students Hear Of Astronaut Young

By Jane Casselberry

With all of Central Florida excited over the prospect of Astronaut John Young's triumphant return to Orlando for a hero's welcome on Saturday, April 24, South Seminole Junior High School seventh grade students have been fortunate in getting a more intimate glimpse of his earlier life as well as the Gemini Program.

Young's cousin, Joe Akerman, an eighth grade science teacher at South Seminole, has given talks on his famous relative to all the seventh grade science classes during the past two weeks.

John Young was born in San Francisco in 1931 after his parents returned from China, where his father, Hugh Young, was an engineer employed in building the first Sears, Roebuck Store in that country.

Soon afterward they moved to Carterville, Ga., the elder Young's boyhood home. The family moved to Orlando in 1937 and lived in blocks from Akerman.

John attended Princeton Elementary, Memorial Junior High, and Orlando High Schools. He graduated in 1948 as the most outstanding scholar in his class, having made straight A's in all subjects.

He was the recipient of the Gurnsey Good Citizenship Award.

He attended Georgia Tech from 1948-1952 on a Navy scholarship graduating second in his class.

After graduation he went on active duty with the U.S. Navy and was assigned as a forward artillery observer on the Destroyer USS Laws.

After seeing action in Korea he became a Navy test pilot.

During the years 1956-1961 he logged more than 5,000 hours in jets and set the world's 3,000 meter high altitude speed record.

One of the youngest Gemini astronauts, he stands a good chance to make the lunar trip, due to his age and experience.

According to Akerman, John has a keen, dry, homespun wit but is rather reserved around large groups and extremely modest. He remembers his cousin was fun to be with, back in his youth, because of his repository of funny stories. Though he might prefer taking a back seat, Young has proved himself an excellent leader when the need arises.

TW-3 ... Sanford Style

That was the week that was. One of the most action-packed and memorable weeks in Sanford's past is now history. What a week was!

The highly successful Sanford Automobile Show attracted thousands downtown and the 11th annual Reconnaissance Bombing Derby and air show drew thousands more to Sanford Naval Air Station.

The Sanford Automobile Dealers Association is to be congratulated for its planning and execution of a fine attraction that put the spotlight on the downtown area for three days and nights.

There was some skepticism about the merits of the auto dealers blocking streets and taking over the shopping area to show their wares. We don't believe there are too many skeptics today. Well done, fellows!

The Navy cleared the decks for action Saturday and gave Central Floridians one of the best air shows they will ever see. It was a fitting climax to a week full of joint Navy-civilian activities.

It helped cement the relationship that already exists between the Navy and Sanford.

The visiting admirals returned to their commands with extremely favorable impressions of our city.

It was a good week for us all. It really was "that was the week that was!"

This May Hurt A Little

The income tax honeymoon is over—temporarily, at least. And there is now being heard throughout the land the wail of the taxpayer as he begins to read the fine type in the tax cut that pleased him so much last year.

The joker in the tax deal is that when the cut took effect last March the withholding rate was reduced more than the tax itself.

This had the delightful effect of making the increase in take-home pay more than the actual tax cut justified. But it is now bringing about a distressing discovery by many people as they sit down to figure out their 1964 tax bills.

They are finding that in reality they have been advancing themselves money each pay day, and that they now have to make it good as Uncle Sam wipes off that smile and becomes all business.

For millions of taxpayers the 1964 refunds will be smaller or the tax bills greater than anticipated. Researchers have found this does not make for dancing in the streets.

In all fairness to Uncle Sugar, who never wants to make a taxpayer (voter) mad if there is a way to avoid it and still get the money, there was no attempt to conceal the fact that the withholding rate was cut more than the actual tax was cut. This angle just wasn't played up as much, and those who weren't paying attention too closely let it slide.

The worrisome thing about the situation is that it is likely to bring forth more than mere screams from John Q. Public. John Q. may have to cut back some on his buying when he gets the facts of life from the Internal Revenue Service.

Perhaps the moral is never to be too happy or too worried over something until we have dug into all the facts.

But when the carrot dangled in front of your pocketbook is a nice, juicy tax cut, the tendency is to become a little giddy and stop reading the rules and regulations before you come to the "however" part.

And it was fun while it lasted. Many happy returns.

Thought For Today
But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you.—Matthew 5:44.

Phil Newsom Says . .

Austerity Pays Off

For exactly a year now Brazilians have been living under an austerity program as tough as the grim career soldier who in April, 1964, took over from inept and leftist-leaning President Joao Goulart.

But when President Humberto Castello Branco marked the first anniversary of Brazil's revolutionary regime by accepting another $43.4 million in U. S. loans, there was further proof that austerity is paying off.

The loans under the Alliance of Progress will go into electric power projects, highways, low-cost housing, water works and expansion of the metal cement and plywood industries.

Part of Pledge
The money was only a part of the $350 million which the United States has pledged to shore up the Brazilian economy. But equally important was the new vote of U. S. confidence in the new regime's pledge not only to save Brazil from communism but also to restore economic and political stability.

Brazilians still grumbled because still plaguing the country was the inflation which through three successive administrations had nearly wrecked the cruzeiro and which reached a peak under Goulart.

One year ago the Brazilian housewife had to pay 110 cruzeiros for two pounds of black beans. Today she pays 330 cruzeiros. Sugar has gone up from 140 cruzeiros a year ago to 312.

But today the unofficial rate of the cruzeiro is pegged at 1,430 to the dollar, exactly what it was a year ago and in itself a mark of international confidence in the new regime.

During Goulart's 31 months in office the cruzeiro fell from 250 to the dollar to nearly 2,000.

The Castello Branco regime has carried out reforms by remarkable use of the carrot and the stick.

To workers grumbling about rising prices and decreased purchasing powers he granted a pay raise from $23 to $35 by raising the minimum wage 57 per cent. The unions had demanded a 100 per cent raise.

The president thus relieved some of the grumbling and at the same time indicated he would hold the line against excessive demands.

At the same time he produced easy credit and tax reductions on imports for companies agreeing to hold down prices.

The Brazilian cost of living jumped about 85 per cent last year. It had been forecast at 160 per cent. Next year the government hopes to cut it to less than 30 per cent and around 10 per cent thereafter.

Under government pressure, backed by the military, the Brazilian congress has passed laws for land reform, a lightened system of tax collection and an even break for foreign investors.

CHECK POINT

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Mr. Kerby is a dynamic magazine editor who recently asked me to answer a few questions about "faith healing" and the power of religion to promote better health. So add this to your scrapbook. Millions of you have heard me tell the case of Joe, the newspaper editor, for it is a classic in psychosomatic medicine.

CASE V-463: James H. Kerby is the dynamic editor of the Cadle Call, which is the fastest growing religious magazine in America nowadays.

"Dr. Crane," James began as we attended a luncheon which Dr. Warren Walker, the Midwest's famous TV pastor, gave me, "I am also deeply interested in faith healing."

"Can internal glands and organs not normally under our conscious control, be influenced by our subconscious mind?"

So I told the true case of the Illinois editor named Joe, which is the most classical example I have ever encountered.

Under official hypnosis we can demonstrate remarkable power of the mind over the body, but Joe's case is the most striking I have ever met in a non-hypnotic patient.

Joe was a brilliant ex-school teacher, now an editor of a thriving daily newspaper.

He was married and with two children of grade school age.

After a luncheon one noon he decided he should get a medical check-up due to a cough which had hung on for several days.

The doctor was apparently incompetent.

"Joe," he began, "don't you have night sweats?"

Joe shook his head.

"Doc, I never had one in my life," he nonchalantly replied.

"Well, you should have," retorted the medic, "for one of your lungs is entirely eaten up with tuberculosis."

"So you are through with the newspaper as of now. I'm making a reservation for you in my private sanitarium tomorrow morning. Plan to be there at least a year and maybe two or three years!"

Well, Joe was demoralized. For he had no reserves and this was before the modern hospital insurance protection.

He stuck to his job till 5 p. m., but as he walked up the street toward his house, his wife saw his dejected appearance and ran to the door in alarm.

To her anxious queries, Joe

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — State legislatures in this country appear to be threatened as much by their own internal weaknesses as by the powerful pull of federal centralization.

They are shot through with flaws which lead some experts in state affairs to question their capacity to deal with this era's engulfing wave of new problems. Need for reform is becoming urgent.

With complexities spilling all over the landscape, 30 of the 50 state legislatures meet only every other year for fixed periods of 30 to 90 days.

In 34 of the 50 states the average yearly salary for legislators is a measly $2,600. New Hampshire pays $100 a man. A Maryland lawmaker figures his salary, measured against work-time, comes to about 60 cents an hour. Here and there secretaries make more money than their legislative bosses.

Lawmaking at the state level is consequently a part-time job. According to one appraiser, only New York and California come close to giving the occupation decent status. Says he:

"The job should be a vocation, not an avocation."

The Legislators' part-time status produces an often gravely harmful offshoot—conflict of interest between the public business and the lawmakers' private labors.

Expert judgment is that few states have the laws they need to regulate conflicts of interest.

Insufficient pay is far from the only sign of skimpy support for state legislators. They lack trained staff personnel to research issues properly—and even stenographic help to handle their mail.

Relatively few states provide them with private office space unless they happen to be committee chairmen. Usually the lawmakers use communal office space or operate from their chamber desks, the capitol corridors, even telephone booths.

This hardly seems the way to validate the old anti-Washington battle cry that "lawmakers at the state and local level can do a better job of handling the nation's problems as they arise in the field."

Even state legislative committees are cramped for space. The Oregon legislature has 40 committees but just 14 committee rooms.

Most of these state legislatures are victimized by decrepit state constitutions which have not been modernized for decades or longer.

Aside from the five states which were added to the flag in this century, only seven—Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Michigan, Missouri, New Jersey and Virginia—have adopted new constitutions since 1900. Virginia's (1802) is the oldest of these, Michigan's (1864) the youngest and most thoroughly modern.

The constitutions of Vermont, New Hampshire and Massachusetts go back to the late 18th century. Another four fall in the first half of the 19th century.

One seasoned student of state matters observes:

"It should not be thought that state legislators like the mess and squalor they are in. The record is full of their efforts to get out of it."

"But their performance and their image is so bad it destroys most efforts at reform. The public simply has no confidence in them."

The circle, then, is vicious. Voters frequently decline to approve longer and more regular sessions and other changes needed to upgrade legislatures. Their attitude: "If they never met, we'd be better off."

Some progress is nevertheless occurring. Twenty legislatures meet annually now, as against just four a generation ago. Constitutional reform is being pushed in several states.

Yet the race "against Washington" demands improvement at a pace far faster than presently evident.

Politics Charged In Military Act

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Democratic congressman suggested that the Johnson administration waited until after the election last fall to announce its plan of merging the Army reserves into the National Guard.

Rep. Alton Lennon (D-N.C.) charged during a House armed services subcommittee hearing that the events leading up to the proposal's announcement indicated to him that it could have been made public in October instead of on Dec. 12.

"I think it was done for political considerations," he said. "... I abhor politics when it enters matters of national security."

Snakes do not bite with their tongues, which are soft and could not inflict an injury.

Editor, Herald:
Death and taxes. Death comes on space and we know not when the Grim Reaper will swing his scythe.

But, taxes, yes, we know when they come. April 15 for IRS and July 1 for the four new ones the Legislature is to give us this session:

- Water Control bill, no referendum.
- Seminole County Port Authority, $60,000 to start.
- Plus Right of Eminent Domain—no referendum.
- Seminole County's part of $12 million for Barge Canal right-of-way.
- Revenue bonds for Sanford-Indian River Canal, no referendum.

Editor, Herald:
The Kiwanis pancake dinner and auction held March 20 appears to have been most successful. Indications are that we earned $1200.

We are especially grateful for the cooperation of the local merchants. Eighty five of them contributed in one way or another, and for a town the size of Sanford this is a large percentage of merchants.

Our patronage likewise was exceptional. We served over nine hundred people in a period of three hours. Had it not been for the excellent publicity given by The Herald, we probably would have served a smaller number.

Kiwanis is proud of its work with underprivileged children and of the scholarships we are able to provide needy boys and girls. We do however realize that our accomplishments would not be possible without the cooperation of our citizens, our merchants, and our newspapers. May we through your paper say "thank you" to all those who have made a success of our fund raising project.

OVER 35 YEARS
At First & Palmetto
(Alongside old post office)

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: For several years Jayson and Rita and my husband and I have been very good friends. We see each other in the evenings about two nights a week. Jayson is a salesman, so when he is in my neighborhood he frequently drops in for a cup of coffee. It's all perfectly innocent, I assure you, but lately he has been coming over much more often. My children remarked that their playmates have mentioned it. I suspect the neighbors are talking because they see his car in front of our house so many afternoons.

Now that I think about it, I'm not quite sure how I would like it if MY husband called on a married woman in the afternoon. How can I tell Jayson it would be better if he didn't drop in any more? I hate to hurt his feelings.

ONLY FRIENDS

DEAR ONLY: The best approach is the direct one. Tell Jayson that his visits have become neighborhood gossip, and it would be better for all concerned if he discontinued his afternoon drop-in visits.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl who turned 15 last week, but I am very mature for my age. Physically, I mean. I like a boy who is a senior at school and he is real neat. He has started to walk me home from school every night and we always take the long way by walking through the park. My mother is afraid I will get into trouble if I keep letting this boy walk me home every night. Do you think there is any danger?

LIKES HIM

DEAR LIKES: Not if you keep walking.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a father who won't buy his child a piano even though he could get one wholesale? Our 13-year-old child has begged for a piano for years. She hasn't done very well in school and I am sure it's partly due to the fact that she is brooding about not being able to learn how to play the piano. She's promised that she would practice, but her father says, "I know how much you'll practice after the newness wears off. Besides, we can't afford one." We are not rich, but we could afford a piano, I know.

It's true, we may have to keep after her to practice, but if she has talent and enjoys it, he would be glad we bought it. And if she doesn't have talent, we can always sell the piano. How can I make my husband see how selfish and foolish he is?

A CONCERNED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If you could rent a piano long enough to let the child prove her interest, Father may become convinced. If that won't sell, how about a relative? If there are no kinsfolk or understanding friends nearby, how about the school, the church, or the "Y"? I think the little girl should have a chance, too.

CONFIDENTIAL TO PAT: The surest way to destroy your enemy is to make him your friend.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

The primary requisite for an opening bid is a high card holding of 11 points or more. With those 11 high card points you consider opening; with 12 high card points you try to find an excuse to open; with 13 high card points you should open every time or at least 99 per cent of the time. You don't need that much high card strength for an overall. Here your primary requisite is playing strength. Usually you need opening high card strength for a takeout double. Thus, in the early days of contract someone got the idea that an overall showed less than an opening bid and a takeout double at least an opening bid. This idea has completely disappeared from expert circles today. The overall does not deny opening bid strength and there are some hands that are not worth an opening bid but are worth a 'takeout double. North's hand is not worth an opening bid. It is a sound takeout double of one diamond since North is well prepared for all other suits. The actual North doubled and then raised his partner in hearts whereupon South went on to the heart game. South had an anxious moment or two in the play when West shifted to the five of clubs after his ace of diamonds held the first trick. It held the trick and after that bit of mild good fortune South had no trouble making game and rubber.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

"Age should not have its face lifted, but rather teach the world to admire wrinkles." Teaching today's world to admire wrinkles would seem to be a hopeless task. But women could do a lot to teach the world to ignore wrinkles if, as the wrinkles appeared, women would make the most of the womanly qualities age can't touch. A woman of any age can be a good listener, and an appreciative listener is always nice to have around. A woman of any age can be a helpful, dependable friend, relative and neighbor—and no one has too many of these. A woman of any age can be vitally interested in others, instead of being self-centered, and such women fit in with any age group. A woman of any age can look attractive, wrinkles and all, if she is always well groomed, suitably dressed and pleasant-faced. A woman of any age can become knowledgeable about anything that interests her. A person who knows a great deal about any subject is respected for that knowledge. A woman of any age can cultivate the habit of making others feel happy with their lot, a talent all too infrequently put to use. A woman of any age can have an enthusiastic zest for life and an eagerness for new experiences that keeps her young in spirit. A woman of any age can be completely and charmingly feminine, so long as she is happy to be a woman and never stops trying to please.

Highlights TV Time Previews

10-11 p.m. (CBS) The Danny Kaye Show. With Gwen Verdon as his guest tonight, Danny devotes most of his show to the dance. The show opens with a jazz dance performed by the Toni Charmoli Dancers, and Miss Verdon and Danny illustrate the "What is a Dance?" comedy sketch which includes strangers meeting at a dance and shy Jerome taking his blind date to the shoe clerk's annual dance. Miss Verdon does a production number to "Downtown" and, in the sit-down spot, Danny shows how children react when they have to perform in a dance recital. 7:30-8 p.m. (CBS) Mr. Ed. "The Bank Robbery." Shades of the old west! A bank robber slashes his loot in Ed's saddle bags (making Ed an accessory). Wilbur gets involved when the crook tries to recover his swag from Ed's stall. Wilbur is threatened, but Ed won't lift a hoof to help unless he's personally offended. Funny show. 8:30-9:30 p.m. (ABC) Shindig. We won't give you the whole talent roster, you might not be able to wait for the show before collapsing. But, how's this for a sampler: Jerry Lee Lewis, The Manfred Mann Quintet, Donna Loren, Sounds, Inc., Neil Sedaka and Millie Small. And take our word for it, there are many more, all equally talented. 9-9:30 p.m. (CBS) Dick Van Dyke Show. "A Show of Hands." A very funny show on an incredible subject and it is all the more to the credit of this series that it can tackle something like this and make it funny and totally inoffensive. Just before Bob's appearance at a banquet for the "Committee of Interracial Understanding," both he and Laura accidentally dye their hands black. And nothing will get this indelible substance off. 9:30-10:30 p.m. (ABC) Burke's Law. "Who Killed the Rabbit's Husband?" Burke tries to trace the missing wife of a murdered doctor and in the course of his investigation, he shakes up a lot of the people in her address book, all of whom would love to see her dead. Night Movie. "Houdini" (color). (rerun). Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh star in this biographical comedy drama of the man considered by most to be the world's greatest magician. I would like to reduce but people always seem to try to force me to have cocktails and bits of this and that when I go out to parties, which I have to attend in the cause of my husband, a politician. He hasn't really said anything serious about it. This problem is too big for me and so am I. What to do?—Ida G. W.

Well, at least you still have your sense of humor working and that is helpful. You must reduce, not only because you look older than you are and your husband "notices" your weight and is, I think, displeased, but your health is the big concern. No woman should be overweight. When a young woman is overweight, it looks as if she doesn't care. Just grit your teeth and say no to drinks and "bits" of food. Take a glass of soda and hold it in your hand at parties. WEATHER: Chance of showers Friday, high in mid-80s; low tonight in 60s.

VOL. 57 United Press Leased Wire Established 1908 THURSDAY, APRIL 15, 1965 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 169

Sanford woman rushed into post office Tuesday and demanded: "Give me all the tax forms you've got." "Why the hurry?" asked Postmaster Cecile Heard. "You've got until Thursday midnight."

Residents of West 24th Street are proud of the new Pinehurst Municipal Park but they're getting dusted off. They complain of clouds of dust from cars going to and from the ball games. There are no paved streets in the area.

Our sympathy to a certain photographer who got his home burned at the air show Saturday then went to the beach Sunday and toasted his feet. Well done!

Hibbard Casselberry, treasurer of the Sanford Hospital Eye Bank Association, makes this suggestion: "Tonight set your breakfast table as you have for many years, and tomorrow morning when you get out of bed, put a blindfold over your eyes and go to your breakfast. You know the way. You know how to eat. You have prepared it just as some member of your family might prepare it for you. But you must eat it without the help of your eyes. Imagine that they are totally blind."

Such an experiment, Casselberry believes, may make you think about giving the greatest gift possible to another person—the gift of sight to one who has none. Will your eyes after death to the Sanford Hospital Eye Bank Association.

The City of Sanford has received a check for $1,049 in federal disaster relief funds for damages caused by last September's Hurricane Dora. The check was turned over by Civil Defense Director A. B. Peterson Sr.

Seminole County Humane Society meets in the conference room at the county courthouse at 7:30 p.m., tonight.

"The Man upstairs will punish the guilty one," Mrs. J. M. Adams, of 119 Elm Avenue, predicted when she reported that someone had fed rat poison to her year-old pet dog, "Husky."

Meeting of the Seminole County Democratic Association, for which Dr. Paul Douglas and a group of Rollins College students will present the program, will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Altamonte Springs Community House and not on Thursday as stated in The Herald Wednesday.

Envoy's Kin
'Mercy' Victim

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The fatal shooting of Mary Hopper, 61-year-old sister-in-law of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, ambassador to South Vietnam, in a nursing home here was described by police today as a "mercy killing."

Her best friend, Miss Dorothy Butts, 35, of Bethesda, Md., the alleged slayer, shot herself to death in her automobile parked in front of the Bethesda police headquarters Wednesday night.
A note found on Miss Butts' body told the story in a single sad sentence:
"Today, I killed my best friend, Mary Hopper of 1208 River Road, Bethesda, Md., who has been suffering so cruelly from cancer."

LBJ Throws Disaster Aid In High Gear

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson, heartsick at the devastation wrought by wind and water in the Midwest, today threw into high gear a federal emergency program of money and materials to "rebuild and restore the life" of the stricken areas.

"This has been a day of both heartbreak and hopefulness," he told an airport crowd at Toledo, Ohio. Shortly after returning to the White House Wednesday night, Johnson made good on his pledge of "maximum assistance" from the government. He signed documents designating tornado-hit areas of Indiana, Michigan and Ohio as federal disaster areas.

In the case of Minnesota, where rising flood waters threaten some areas, the President made a similar declaration earlier this week. The White House awaited only formal requests from the other states to take further action.
No specific funds were allocated, pending damage surveys by federal experts.
Emergency federal relief measures were put into effect immediately after the weekend tornadoes.

But under the disaster declarations, federal funds will become available for speedy repair of such public facilities as highways, public buildings and schools.

For the President, the Midwest was a "blow" to bring tears to the eyes of anyone.
"But he found a ray of hope amid the storm and flood of destruction. 'We've been seeing very few tears anywhere,'" he said at Toledo. "We've seen the old and the young standing shoulder to shoulder, planning for the morrow."

Johnson's words were measured and somber. He obviously had been deeply moved by the sights of the day.
Flying from Washington in his Air Force One jet transport he had seen at first hand the wreckage left by one of the greatest disasters ever to strike the nation's midlands—the Palm Sunday tornadoes which left close to 250 persons dead.

Senator Vows Will Press For Expansion

By Dave Fountain
(Sanford Herald Bureau)
TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Sen. Ed Price, of Manatee County, stated today that as chairman of the Senate appropriations sub-committee he would press for more money to expand and extend the system of agricultural experimental stations throughout Florida, including the Seminole County Station on Celery Avenue in Sanford.

The Senator stated that these experimental stations help every phase of agriculture and that he felt that agriculture needed more money than was presently appropriated.

He went on to say that he felt these experimental stations were so important that other budget requests should be revised downward in order to secure the funds necessary for this project.
When it was suggested that these other budgets wouldn't want to be revised "downward," Price stated that he "felt more money would have to come from the people."
He further stated that he would be in favor of an increase in taxes in order to finance these projects.

Senator Price said that unless Gov. Haydon Burns changes his mind on the "hold the line policy" on taxes, there would be no way to acquire the money necessary to extend the expansion of the agricultural experimental station system into effect.

Wednesday Price placed appropriation of the funds for new construction and further development of the experimental stations high on the budget priority list.
The State Board of Control already has approved $188,000 for expansion of the Experiment Station on Celery Avenue. This is one of the appropriations Price says must be made.

The money, if approved, will go for the construction of a new office building and laboratory at a cost of $117,000. Of the remaining funds, $10,000 is earmarked for the acquisition of new land for cultivation and redevelopment, primarily of peaches and ornamentals, Dr. John Wilson, chief of the station here, said.

The final $21,000 will be for the construction of a new greenhouse and headhouse, the supply and work shop for the greenhouse.
The Celery Avenue station is divided into two sections, the "office" just off Melville Avenue at the rear of the Sanford Naval Academy, and the "farm" 1 1/2 miles further east on Celery Avenue.

Ranger Sailor Dies In Blast

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Navy enlisted man was killed Tuesday in an engineering fire aboard the aircraft carrier USS Intrepid in the South China Sea near Viet Nam, the Pentagon announced today.

The man was identified as fireman apprentice Chester Statton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Statton, of Rayville, La.
The fire, caused by a ruptured fuel line, damaged one of the ship's four engine rooms. The carrier will go into Subic Bay, Philippines, for repairs, the Pentagon said.

'Shadow Lurks,' Planes Crash

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI)—Members of a model airplane club here are searching for a fellow with a distorted sense of humor who calls himself the "Shadow" and causes their tiny radio-controlled planes to crash.

The culprit, who members believe watches them from a car or house, breaks up their Federal Communications Commission assigned frequency with his own transmission. They think he may be using a walkie-talkie.
When the frequency for planes is disturbed by voice sounds, the little craft go into uncontrollable tailspins and plunge into the ground.
When club members bought a radio receiver recently and turned it onto the plane frequency they heard a voice saying, "heh, heh, heh. This is the Shadow."

Sanford Man Fatally Shot

HHH Predicts 'Blockbusters'

The measure will be passed, he said, because of President Johnson's "vigorous leadership" and because of an unprecedented peacetime unity which amounts to a national consensus.
Humphrey made the prediction before the American Society of Newspaper Editors.
