

ENGLISHMAN HAD TENT BEARING ON U. S. NEW DEAL

John Maynard Keynes Considered As No. 1 Economist In World

LONDON, Aug. 21.—At Cambridge university, near here, lives a tall, mild-mannered Englishman whose influence on the "New Deal" policies of the Roosevelt Administration has been more potent than that of most Americans at home. He is John Maynard Keynes, who at King's college, whose black mustache adorns the face of one of the most famous economists in the world. For years he has been advocating the appropriation of huge sums in Public Works projects to ease the depression crisis and unemployment.

Ex-Prime Minister David Lloyd George adopted his idea as part of his Liberal party platform in the English elections in 1921. But it was not until President Franklin D. Roosevelt, when he entered the national scene of hunger and chaos, to turn eagerly to the theories constantly offered by Keynes as a positive aid to "recovery."

The gigantic NRA appropriations in 1933 called for the expenditure of $3,300,000,000 on Public Works alone in charge of Interior Harold Ickes. Millions were poured out or set aside for the CCC, Tennessee valley, highways, river and harbor projects. With state and national authorities, the PWA co-operated to help finance new works and those left unfinished with the advent of the depression.

All this, Keynes regarded as good. But later he suggested in an open letter to the President: "You have made yourself trustee for those who seek to mend the ways of our conditions by reasoned experiments of existing social system. Yet reform may impede recovery. The U. S. must plan loan expenditures—not merely refinancing."

He suggested that more and more funds be appropriated until the monthly total should approximate $400,000,000 instead of suddenly diminishing the outlays as was done in the rapid extinction of the CWA.

The U. S. needs a hard shove toward prosperity," he added, "and cheap and abundant credit along with reduction of interest rates." The economist recommended refinancing of the national debt from short term bonds to long term securities at lower interest.

That Keynes has influenced the Chief Executive even recently was evidenced when on his U. S. visit in June he conferred with Roosevelt. It was no small coincidence that almost immediately after the conference, the NRA price fixing plan was abolished and the White House obtained a large sum to add to Public Works. And the super-adjunct cabinet board created on the eve of the President's vacation to coordinate New Deal agencies and expenditures bears quite a resemblance of the "small office to collocate expenditures" suggestion given to Keynes.

Where does this foreign economist obtain his prestige?—Interested people ask. At the time of the Versailles peace conference, Keynes, then only 35, was the personal representative of the British treasury, and a member of the Supreme Economic Council.

So incensed was he at the "brutal" way in which the allied victors enforced a colossal reparations bill on defeated Germany, that he warned of the inevitable tragic aftermath. Germany could not pay the fantastic indemnity, he said, there wasn't that much money in the world, and the war debts could only be paid in goods and services, and in German exports.

He resigned from the conference in disgust and wrote a book in which he prophesied that the entire world would suffer the consequences of the "disastrous" peace, and that some day the cost of the World War must be paid.

Since the war he has pleaded for a managed currency and Public Works to ease possible depressions. A liberal economist, he has termed "bankers' impeccable spinners," and has asserted "interventionist individual capitalism is a failure; it is no good and doesn't deliver the goods." And though he is mildly criticized as a trifle cocksure and audacious, solid and ultra-conservative, financiers harken to his forecasts.

WORLD'S FINEST FLIERS TO BID FOR BIG PRIZE

18 Americans Aim For Cash At End Of London-Melbourne Hop

LONDON, Aug. 21.—(AP)—A veritable galaxy of international flying talent will race away from London on Oct. 20 for an 11,000-mile drive, "Melbourne or bust."

Of the 64 countries, America tops the list with 18, two ahead of Great Britain.

American aviation has a double stake in the aerial derby, however, since a number of foreign fliers have chosen American planes. These include Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, Australia's best-known pilot, and Col. J. C. Fitzmaurice, the Irish co-pilot of the "Bremer" in 1928 on the first East-West Atlantic flight.

The race is a duel, eyesight, speed and a handicap competition. It is sponsored by Sir MacPherson Robertson, Australian candy magnate, in connection with the centenary celebrations of Victoria and Melbourne.

Sir MacPherson has posted $75,000 in cash prizes, the first flier to land on Fleming race course, Melbourne, winning $50,000 and a gold cup. Second to land will receive $7500 and the third $2500.

Handicap prizes, the winners of which will be calculated on the basis of best performance having regard to wing area, pay load and horsepower, are $10,000 for first place and $5000 for second.

The race has been routed across Europe, Iraq, India and Malaya with the only requirements that the pilots land at Baghdad, Allahabad, Singapore, Darwin, Charleville and Melbourne.

In addition, nearly a score of optional landing points approximately 500 miles apart have been designated.

Nine of the 64 entries are concentrating on the speed prizes, seven of them American. These include Col. Roscoe Turner, coast-to-coast record holder; Wiley Post, the one-eyed Oklahoma man who holds the round-the-world record; Clyde Pangborn, another globe flier; Miss Laura Ingalls; Herbert V. Thaden and his wife, Louise Thaden; and Lieut. Col. G. R. Hutchinson.

Harry Lyon, comrade of Kingsford-Smith on the epic trans-Pacific flight in 1928, is paired with R. F. Lape of San Francisco. Other American entries are Russell A. Hoeler, Huntington, Ind.; Jacques-Louis Cochran and Wesley Smith, New York City; Capt. F. Rose, Palm Springs, Calif.; J. E. Granger, Los Angeles, and J. Frye and H. Hall, flying the entry of Harold Gatty, famous arial navigator.

Zachry, Herbert Smith, Herman Echols, and Ellen Beitz.

According to E. Runge, Coast Line employee, old residents of Sanford will be interested to learn about Jack Hunt, farmer who left here about 20 years ago after selling his West Side farm to John Bender. Mr. Hunt, Mr. Runge said, now resides in Marietta, Va., where he is known as "Sailor Dad" Hunt. He is one of the founders of the Virginia Folk Festivals on White Top Mountain in Virginia. Recently, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt paid the festival a visit, and she enjoyed the old folk songs so much that she invited Mr. Hunt and several others to visit at the White House. The group was entertained at tea at the White House, and later played and sang before the President. When Mr. Hunt sang his sea chantey, "Santa Anna" at the White House, the President is said to have liked it so well that he asked for a recording which was made before Mr. Hunt left Washington.

John Meisch, Sr., chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, and Mrs. Meisch and their daughter, Miss Katherine Meisch, and grand-daughter, Miss Angela Meisch, left today by motor for Chicago to attend the World's Fair. Mr. Meisch and his party will be guests of the manager and staff of the Florida exhibits on Florida Commission Days, Aug. 28 and 29, and a long round of entertainment will be provided in their honor.

NEW SIGN OF NAZI PAGANISM IS UNCOVERED

German Nordic Faith Movement Set-Up As One "Without Hope For Beyond"

BERLIN, Aug. 22.—(A.P.)—Fresh evidence of the advance of paganism under the Nazi regime was provided today by the founding of a second pagan body this year.

The new group, called "The Nordic Faith Movement," is without "Hopes for the beyond" and holds there is no "Need for redemption."

The anti-Christian movement was stressed in a pronouncement of August Heppes, of the Hitler Youth press department, published in the periodical "Nordland."

"The time has come," he wrote, "to take up the fight against Christianity. Germans must and shall realize that their conversion to Christianity was a crime against the race and the people which put them completely at the mercy of powers outside the state."

Catholic circles were perturbed by the attack on Christianity, the Catholic publication Kirchenblatt asking "the responsible authorities of the state how these utterances of Hitler Youth can be reconciled with the positive Christianity recently emphasized by an authoritative voice."

The Vatican has not yet ratified the new interpretation of the Concordat between Germany and the church, indicating a state of suspense.

Reichsbishop Mueller, now in complete control of the state church, has announced a drive to "convert every city and every town to Christianity."

The Protestant opposition, which has adopted a policy of "wait and see," nevertheless expects to win out in the long run.

The Catholics, meanwhile, are continuing their fight to keep Catholic youth under the church, and bishops have been given permission, it was learned, to ratify locally provisions of the concordat.

Birmingham Police Search For Young College Girl

BERMINGHAM, Aug. 22.—(A.P.)—Police here, missing New College student, was found by voluntary searchers this afternoon in a field near Irondale. She had been out at least 24 hours.

BERMINGHAM, Aug. 22.—(A.P.)—Detectives today announced they are questioning a second young man in the disappearance of Miss Faye New, 18, Howard College co-ed who, officers believe has been slain.

A. E. Cain, when the police described as a "close friend of the missing girl," was quoted as saying he followed Harold Taylor and Miss New for several miles after they left Birmingham Monday night on an automobile ride from which the girl has not returned.

Meanwhile 200 Boy Scouts were added to many hundreds who searched a wooded section northeast of the city throughout the night without result.

It was in this section that Taylor, who met Miss New Monday night a few minutes before their ride started, told officers the girl jumped from his automobile and ran into the woods.

Tropical Storm Said Brewing In Atlantic

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(A.P.)—The Weather Bureau today issued the following statement: "Advisory at 10:00 a.m. A. S. tropical disturbance opportunity of slight intensity was central 100 to 150 miles east of Puerto Rico, moving westward about 11 miles an hour."

Mussolini Tells Schuschnigg That Italy Will Tolerate No Interference With Austria

FLORENCE, Italy, Aug. 22.—(A.P.)—The destiny of two nations was linked closer than ever yesterday by two premiers who sat down and talked together in an ancient villa overlooking Florence.

Some observers thought they saw a distinctly monarchial angle to the conference, but there was nothing of royal splendor in the appearance of the men who conferred. The head of the Austrian state wore civilian clothes, while Mussolini, his visit in absolute confidence of democratic garb, for he came to the meeting fresh from army maneuvers wearing a headpiece with his trousers jammed into riding boots. On his head was a worn yachting cap.

The suggestion that the Austrian monarchy was concerned in the meeting of the premiers came with an announcement after the conference that Schuschnigg, instead of returning directly to Vienna, would go by automobile to Genoa and take a short cruise on the S. S. Conte Di Savoia.

The automobile route runs through Viareggio, where the former Empress Zita of Austria is staying.

Rumors that Hapsburg rule might be restored in Austria by the benign consent of the foreign powers have been current lately in Europe, but have been constantly denied here.

Count Ciano, son-in-law of the premier and head of the Italian press bureau, said that the name of the claimant to the throne, the Archduke Otto, had not even been mentioned yesterday and that there was no truth to the rumor that Schuschnigg would visit Zita.

Efforts had been under way for some time to obtain federal finances to erect warehouses in various parts of the state. The 1933 Legislature authorized expenditure of $50,000 for such projects, but said the money could come only from surpluses in the general inspection fund of the State Department of Agriculture.

F. F. Dornier, president of the Seminole Agricultural Club which has been active in an attempt to secure a Farmers' Wholesale Market for this city, said today that the sum refused Governor Sholtz for the cold storage plant has no bearing on the local situation. The market that is to be built here, he said, is already approved officially.

Governor Sholtz said Bartlett informed him the federal department could not undertake the work as they lunched together yesterday at the executive mansion, Julius F. Stone, Jr., Florida relief administrator, Chairman C. B. Broadway, of the Florida Advisory and Planning Board, and J. P. Newell, active secretary to the Governor, were other guests.

Bartlett will remain in the state for a week to make a survey of the general agricultural condition. The Governor said they discussed (Continued From Page Four)

Unmasked Thugs Get $2700 At Malone Bank

MALONE, Aug. 22.—(A.P.)—Two unmasked bandits yesterday robbed the bank of Malone of currency and silver estimated at $2700. The pair escaped in an automobile bearing a Georgia license tag, driven by a negro, who remained outside with the motor running during the robbery.

L. H. Bell, cashier, and Miss Bernice Hutton, bookkeeper, were ordered to stand against the wall by the two bandits as they walked in the door.

The two robbers scooped up all cash in sight and fled without another word.

Sandy Anderson Predicts Success For New State Farmers' Wholesale Market

Declaring that the truck trade brought thousands of dollars of new money into the North Carolina peach belt this season and that this same trade will converge upon Sanford this winter seeking quality celery and other truck crops, Sandy Anderson, veteran field man for several local co-operative groups, this morning predicted almost certain success from the very start of Sanford's proposed $75,000 Farmers' Wholesale Market.

"My contact with 200 different truck owners during the past summer in North Carolina," he said, "plus the experience which I have had in dealing with them, leads me to the prediction that we'll have three times as many truckers in Sanford this winter as we did last year. Further, if we give them the kind of produce and colery they want, our growers will reap a harvest far beyond their expectations."

Mr. Anderson has just returned from a three months' assignment as solicitor for the New York and Sanford firm of Fleischer Brothers and Danziger, Inc., with headquarters at Aberdeen, N. C.

He covered a 60 mile circuit every day, dealing with scores of growers and shippers, as well as truckers. Early this season, he began to contact every truck operator, advising him that Sanford would be the site of a state operated wholesale market from which it would be possible to secure quality produce of every description.

"I talked with 200 different truckers," Mr. Anderson said, "and all but one of them said he'd come to Sanford on Page Two."

WORLD JEWS DIRECTED TO PUSH BOYCOTT

Rabbi Wise Spurs On Drive To Bring Back All Rights Of Citizenship In Germany

GENEVA, Aug. 22.—(A.P.)—Rabbi Stephen W. Wise, of New York, in a militant speech yesterday declared before the third world Jewish conference that the boycott against Germany by Jews will not be abandoned until Adolf Hitler's regime cancels every law or practice "violating human freedom, political equality, and the ideals of civilization."

Rabbi Wise attacked the timidity of Jews who failed to approve the boycott and threw down the gauntlet to Jews who have issued the warning that the Jews of Palestine will not support the projected world Jewish conference if the present Geneva conference judges adversely against their negotiations with the Nazi government.

"For my part," declared Wise, "I cannot believe in the seriousness of such warnings or threats."

He said the Jewish masses were without leadership and resorted spontaneously to a boycott as their answer to the actions of Hitlerism. Referring to what he termed a lack of unity in world Jewry in the present crisis, Wise charged "the deepest unfaith" as the basis of a refusal by certain Jewish groups to meet with their fellows. He averred there were too many Jews "under fatuous leadership" who show a growing lack of faith in the future of the Jewish people and their high destiny.

In impassioned tones, the New York rabbi urged German Jews to spurn any compromise "farab of peace" Nazi Germany may offer. He said he anticipated and feared an offer which would prove a palliative treatment with the object of disarming Jewish protests.

"To die at the hands of Nazism is cruel," Rabbi Wise declared, "to survive by its grace would be ten thousand times worse. We will survive Nazism unless we commit the inexcusable sin of bartering with the Nazis to save some Jewish victims."

Turning to the question of Palestine, Wise registered "a solemn protest" against the breach of the boycott practiced by Palestine, "a breach which continues to be ever widened."

"This trafficking of Jewish Palestine with Nazi Germany must cease at once," said Wise. "There is something worse than entering Zion with unclean hands and that is with unclean hands."

The speaker said he rebelled against what he called self-anathema by many Jews during the present period of peril. He deplored "the almost total absence of unity in world Jewry" and said that day-by-day tinkering had replaced the long view of Jewish statehood.

"If the Jews wish to remain a people," he said, "they must awake and arise, taking counsel to stand together against their foes."

The conference steering committee began a private discussion of the boycott on Germany and its deliberations will be continued to day. A spokesman said the trend was for the continuance of the boycott but that the committee had to study ways and means to make it effective. He said, however, that non-Jews had joined in the boycott in many cases.

Rabbi Goldberg, of New York, on behalf of himself and Rabbi Wise, said he was completely ignorant of any rumor that a Jewish super-government was under discussion.

ROOSEVELT STUDIES NEW NRA SET-UP

Plan Is To Stabilize, Simplify Recovery Program In Time For Fall Upswing

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(A.P.)—President Roosevelt, in a series of conferences, yesterday charted a reorganization of the National Recovery Administration that will be completed early in September.

Definite indications of the presidential plans were coupled with his sudden decision to return to Washington immediately after the funeral of Speaker Henry T. Rainey at Carrollton, Ill., instead of going directly to Hyde Park, N. Y.

Administration advisers are hoping for a sharp return in business this fall and every effort will be made to accelerate the expected increase with more simplified and stabilized NRA code machinery.

A blueprint of plans for revamping the Illus Eagle's coat has been prepared, one version of which calls for a form of military organization with a five man board to direct the activities of five "sectors" or groups of industries.

The national emergency and executive councils were directed by the President upon his return from his Hawaiian cruise to wipe special reports on the progress of the entire recovery program and to submit suggestions as to how it could be improved and speeded.

During the afternoon Donald R. Richberg, director of both the executive council and the industrial emergency committee, presented the first of these reports at a meeting of the council with the Chief Executive.

Richberg described his report to newsmen as "very heartening" and added a series of reports dealing with his general summary would be prepared soon. They will be "purely factual," he said, and "obviously the basis for continuing the activities of the Administration."

Outlines of relief needs, Public Works activities, agricultural adjustment progress, improvement in the heavy goods industry, labor difficulties—all vital parts of the Recovery picture are being drafted. They probably will be presented to Mr. Roosevelt soon after he reaches Hyde Park Sunday to establish a "summer white house."

A discussion of a proposed FERA sponsored census of Sanford and decision to request the FERA to extend the survey, if approved, to cover all of Seminole County.

Reports also were made on the progress of the zoo and aquarium project; on the status of the lake-shore boulevard and State Road No. 44 and 57 improvements; on the recent visit of Mark Wilcox; (Continued On Page Two)

Farm Club Will Elect New Officers Thursday

Election, by secret ballot, of 1934-35 officers of the newly incorporated Seminole Agricultural Club will be held at Seminole High School tomorrow night during a Club meeting before which will appear E. F. Housholder as a speaker on "Co-operation."

Ballots were in the mails today to all paid up members of the new organization, according to F. F. Dornier, club president.

Those persons who have joined the organization since ballots were sent out, may secure ballots by attending the meeting.

Mr. Dornier also said that card-reminding members of Thursday's meeting were not mailed to every former member, as in the past. Only those who have paid up will receive cards, he said, although all others are invited to attend.

Alex R. Johnson of the Market Committee will give a report on his trip to Jacksonville in the interests of the Market and some definite date as to when construction will begin.

County Agent Dawson Prepared To Aid In Securing Crop Production Loans

Growers who have so far been unable to finance themselves in the matter of securing crop production loans should get in touch with County Agent C. R. Dawson at the Court House before Sept. 15, it was announced today.

Mr. Dawson was named yesterday as an agent of the Emergency Crop Loan office, and he is prepared to assist any grower who appeals for aid.

Loans may be made up to $250 for all emergency crop loans, but if a request is made for a loan over $150, growers will have to show that the loan was rejected by the Sanford Production Credit Association, for only $150 is granted without first applying to the Production Credit Association.

Approximately 10 days time is required to send the loan request through proper channels, Mr. Dawson stated.

Promissory notes will be taken for the loans, and they will be payable Apr. 1, 1935. A first mortgage also is taken on the crop to be planted.

In making loans, care will be taken to see that the land is suited to the crops in question, and that there is a reasonable chance of a market for them.

Officials have announced that the general practice will be to make loans only where there is a chance for a successful crop, and in conformity with practices approved by the State Agricultural Extension Service of which County Agent Dawson is an agent.

The largest amount that can be borrowed per acre on commercial truck crops is $25 where fertilizer and spray materials are used, and less if these materials are not used.

White potato growers may borrow up to $27 per acre where fertilizer and dusting or spray materials are needed.

Legalized Lottery Planned For New York City, With All Proceeds For Relief Work

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(A.P.)—Four lotteries a year by a corporation picking its officers by lot for fabulous three month salaries are planned by Mayor Fiorello La Guardia and city lawmakers to provide unemployment relief.

Allowing 40 percent of the receipts for salaries or prizes, backers of the law estimate it will net $12,000,000 a year to meet relief emergency.

Thirty-five million more is expected from the business gross receipts tax of one percent, ten times the tax now in effect.

James J. Lyons, Bronx Borough President drafted the lottery plan to skirt the state law against lotteries.

Shares in the relief corporation would be sold for $2.00 or $2.50 each, and officers would be chosen from among the shareholders at public drawings.

25 NEW PERSONS NAMED AS TRADE BODY DIRECTORS

Over 300 Ballots Are Cast In Annual Election Of Governors

Official count of the ballots cast by Seminole County Chamber of Commerce members through late yesterday afternoon revealed at the board of directors meeting last night that 25 new faces will appear on the board during the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1.

More than 300 ballots were cast or nearly half again as many as in recent years, and the high man, City Commissioner S. O. Shubolter, polled 104 individual votes.

Most of the changes in directors were made in the towns around the county, Altamonte Springs and Longwood members electing entirely new boards of three representatives who are to attend parent organization meetings.

Tendering of the report of the Elections Committee was the highlight of the meeting which brought out 25 members of the board and several guests.

Other features included: A report by C. R. Dawson, County Agent, on his drive to eliminate the waste of artesian well water. He said that he had located 52 wells that are flowing constantly without apparently being used, and that he had capped 11 of 36 wells he had inspected. At the instance of the Board, the Legislative and Agriculture Committee of the organization will meet next Tuesday at 1:45 o'clock to decide on ways and means of furthering the drive.

A discussion of a proposed FERA sponsored census of Sanford and decision to request the FERA to extend the survey, if approved, to cover all of Seminole County.

Reports also were made on the progress of the zoo and aquarium project; on the status of the lake-shore boulevard and State Road No. 44 and 57 improvements; on the recent visit of Mark Wilcox; (Continued On Page Two)

Farley Must Pay For News From Now On

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(A.P.)—High government officials who have been getting news hot off the wire through a ticker service at $75 a month—government money—will have to pay for the service themselves or else discontinue it.

They include Postmaster General Farley, Secretary Morgenthau, Comptroller General J. R. McCardi disclosed recently. He had ruled federal funds could not be employed to cover the cost of the service. The ruling applied specifically only to Farley's ticker, but officials said it would cover all tickers.

PLOT NIPPED TO OVERTHROW CUBAN REGIME

Close Friend Of Col. Fulgencio Batista Shot, Perhaps Fatally, As Head Of Rally

HAVANA, Aug. 22.—(A.P.)—Suspected of a plot to overthrow the Cuban government, Lieutenant Colonel Mario Hernandez, Military Commander of Pinard Del Rio Province, was shot and perhaps fatally wounded today by soldiers of Colonel Fulgencio Batista, Commander of the Army.

Batista named three men as implicated in the alleged plot. They were Major Angel Echevarria and Captain Augustin Erice, in addition to Hernandez. The latter two were said originally to have escaped from authorities sent to arrest them but police in the suburb of Marianao later announced they had arrested Major Echevarria.

Colonel Batista blamed the excessive use of drugs and alcohol for "this mad acting" on the part of men that "The Army General Commander considered more as relatives than friends." Hernandez was reported shot while resisting arrest.

Slot Machines Are Taken From Many Places In County

Slot machines, a few punchboards, and an occasional marble game which offered an "element of chance" in its operation, were removed from dozens of stores and public places in this city and county late yesterday and last night, it was learned today.

Their removal came after a conference between Sheriff J. F. McClelland and Lee Sharp of Orlando and W. J. Pell of Sanford, owners of most of these devices. The Sheriff was under orders from Governor Sholtz, and he transmitted these orders to the slot-machine operators who in turn promised to remove the machines within 48 hours.

Some doubt was expressed in many circles today that the machines are out to stay, but State's Attorney Lloyd F. Boyle answered with the statement that "The slot machines will not be returned."

Baseball marble games were in operation in several stores this afternoon, but they are considered by their owners as offering no element of chance inasmuch as no prize is offered for rolling a high score or any variation of that idea.

George Thurston, acting president of the Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce, today urged all members to attend a special meeting of the organization, scheduled to be held at the Country Club at 8:00 o'clock Thursday night. Refreshments will be served after a discussion on the progress of the membership drive, the election of a bi-monthly meeting place, and other matters of early organization detail. All members are expected to bring at least one new member to the meeting.

The proposed FERA census of Sanford would go a long way in settling debates which arise everytime someone mentions that the census has been requested of FERA officials. Some groups hold that the City's population has shrunk from the 10,000 of 1930, to about 7000 at the present time, and that 50 percent of the people living inside the City limits are negroes. A recent report had it that the negro population is increasing rapidly, almost every home in the Goldsboro section having a (Continued On Page Four)

County Agent Dawson Prepared To Aid In Securing Crop Production Loans

Growers who have so far been unable to finance themselves in the matter of securing crop production loans should get in touch with County Agent C. R. Dawson at the Court House before Sept. 15, it was announced today.

Mr. Dawson was named yesterday as an agent of the Emergency Crop Loan office, and he is prepared to assist any grower who appeals for aid.

Loans may be made up to $250 for all emergency crop loans, but if a request is made for a loan over $150, growers will have to show that the loan was rejected by the Sanford Production Credit Association, for only $150 is granted without first applying to the Production Credit Association.

Approximately 10 days time is required to send the loan request through proper channels, Mr. Dawson stated.

Promissory notes will be taken for the loans, and they will be payable Apr. 1, 1935. A first mortgage also is taken on the crop to be planted.

In making loans, care will be taken to see that the land is suited to the crops in question, and that there is a reasonable chance of a market for them.

Officials have announced that the general practice will be to make loans only where there is a chance for a successful crop, and in conformity with practices approved by the State Agricultural Extension Service of which County Agent Dawson is an agent.

The largest amount that can be borrowed per acre on commercial truck crops is $25 where fertilizer and spray materials are used, and less if these materials are not used.

White potato growers may borrow up to $27 per acre where fertilizer and dusting or spray materials are needed.

WELBORN FOR TODAY

SAFE STEPS: The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord; and he delighteth in his way.—Psalm 37:23.

What this country needs is more beef and less beefsteak.

No matter how important Hitler gets to be in Germany we never can overlook the fact that he wears the same kind of mustache as Charles Chaplin.

As the father of four sons and one daughter, President Roosevelt should know that it is impossible to reach a unanimous agreement on anything.

Two newspaper headlines yesterday read as follows: "U. S. Threatens Price Fixing as 'Living Costs Rise'"; the other, "AAA Continues Plan to Raise Farm Revenues." So the government is trying to raise farm revenues without increasing the cost of wheat, corn, and cotton. To a soul who knows nothing about such things, that sounds almost like trying to go up in a balloon without leaving the ground.

Orange county commissioners so it is said, are planning to deal to the government some 2,000 acres of land on which it is proposed that the unemployed shall produce sufficient crops to feed more than 200 families. Orange county commissioners could probably make a better deal with Seminole County farmers to supply at low cost vegetables which our farmers from time to time find it expedient to plow under because there is no market. Thus the Orange county commissioners would avoid the unhappy experience of crop failures.

In California an interesting campaign for the governorship of that state is now under way. Upton Sinclair is seeking the Democratic nomination for governor, and political observers say, has an excellent chance of winning it. Upton Sinclair, however, is not a Democrat. He is a Socialist, as thoroughly so, a Socialist as Norman Thomas, the party's candidate for president in 1928. Upton Sinclair is as much a Socialist as anyone in the United States. And yet he may soon become the "Democratic" governor of California.

It is to the everlasting credit of the newspapers of New Orleans that without exception they have fought Huey Long tooth and nail ever since he first made his appearance upon the political horizon, despite the fact that it undoubtedly would have been to their financial advantage to have supported him. Now Huey proposes to censor the press as Hitler has done in Germany. He will not get away with it, as there is a Constitution in this country which protects the freedom of the press. But his efforts along this line are giving the people a good idea of what can happen under a dictatorship.

The United States prefers silver money to gold, we read, in spite of the once rich gold mines in Colorado, California and Alaska, and gold nowadays comes from British owned mines in Africa, Canada, and Australia. The United States produces more silver than any other country on earth. And as Arthur Brisbane points out, more than 75 percent of all the silver money in the world was originally produced by the people who are now the poorest in the world, including Argentina. Enlightened South Americans, nevertheless, still recognize that gold is the real money, provided you

Mosquito Breeding

According to a recent bulletin issued by the Florida State Board of Health, dengue fever is not carried by any species of culex mosquitoes such as culex fatigans and the culex quinquefasciatus, as is popularly supposed, but only by the Aedes aegypti, which is more commonly known as the Stegomyia.

This, it seems, is an important distinction because the culex mosquitoes breed in one kind of water, and the Aedes aegypti breed in another kind of water. And the campaign deliberately designed to bring the spread of dengue under control must take this fact into consideration.

In this campaign, therefore, it is not so important that all swamps and ditches be drained, or that all pools of stagnant water be eliminated, since the mosquitoes which breed in such places are relatively harmless. It is only important that artificial containers such as tanks, cisterns, wells, tin cans, broken bottles, gutters, and so forth, whose water might remain for a period of ten days or two weeks, should be emptied or covered with screens or oil. For it is in places such as these that the Stegomyia, or dengue mosquito, breeds.

Encouragement in the fight against the Stegomyia may be further gained from the fact that the average life of this insect is about three weeks. While under certain favorable conditions dengue mosquitoes may live for a much longer period of time, it has been found that the ordinary elements of nature usually destroy them in a relatively short time after they are born.

Nevertheless, the State Board of Health urges that city officials and health officers throughout the state bend every effort toward the elimination of the mosquito menace. "Municipalities should," the Health Bulletin says, "divert funds, making them available for use by health officers in employing personnel who should, during the next two months at least, devote their full time to inspection of breeding places and to the elimination of Stegomyia breeding."

And the public, too, should co-operate to the full extent of its abilities toward the elimination of such breeding places. For it is the public itself which will suffer if the spread of dengue fever once gets out of hand. Every man should make it his business to clean up his own backyard. Protect yourself and your families by destroying the breeding places of mosquitoes!

The Newspaper Boy

Every American boy has as much right to economic independence as his elders. If he is willing to work, he should be allowed to, and he should be paid for it, with the right to spend his money or save it, as he wishes. The thoughts of everyone rebel against the practice of "child labor" as it has been known to exist in certain factories, mills, and other industrial centers, but not all "child labor" is harmful.

Pointing out that when the American boy comes to manhood, he should be self-supporting, self-reliant, capable, useful, competent, and willing to do his part; and to recognize the parts of others, the Philadelphia Bulletin insists that boyhood is an apprenticeship for manhood. This, the Bulletin further declares, is one of the fundamental reasons why the newspaper boy is happy and fortunate in his vocation, and why he should be encouraged to develop the opportunities it offers.

"The Newspaper Boy," the Bulletin says, "is a young merchant. He deals with the public, as does the tradesman. The conditions of success are elemental. He is the master of his own fortune. He must render good service. He must be dependable. He must be prompt, punctual, attentive to the duty. He must be enterprising, energetic; he finds that his personality counts; success comes in the measure he works for it. He learns to know people, appreciates the fact that they are not all alike, acquires the tact of dealing with folks of varying natures.

"Of all the various employments for boys, Newspaper service fits best in their schedule. It takes but comparatively few hours of his time; it does not interfere with school or studies; it leaves him time for necessary play. It requires attention during its hours, discipline that counts for much in manhood experience. But he is on his own and he pays for his defaults and he gets the reward for his merits.

"Boys need experience, as well as precept in learning to do men. It is a Boy's right to gain that experience, and to do that, he must have some measure of responsibility, obligations of self-control, merits and demerits definitely resulting from his own efforts or neglect.

The Newspaper Boy gets this opportunity of experience, learns its lessons, takes its tests, meets its judgment of self-measurement. He is studying, learning, to be a man. And the record of his achievement, in thousands of individual cases, in the general mark-up of industry and enterprise and thrift, and all that makes for effective manhood and good citizenship, is a convincing proof that goes to a good school."

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mrs. B. F. Whitner chartered a happy party of young people to the Chase bungalow, Thursday afternoon, the party going over to the Chase and Oldmill cases about three o'clock. Bathing suits were a part of the equipment for incursions in the day's pleasures, and the bathing in the lake followed by supper. A delightful informal dance was enjoyed in the evening and the young people returned to Sanford in "The Sun" about 10:30 p.m. for the next pleasure on the program. Some of those going over were Mrs. Whitner, Misses Lillian Simpson, Ann Lee, and Lottie Caldwell, Messrs. Griffin Herring, Ben Walker, and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Almonsky have returned from a most pleasant return to Europe. Mr. S. M. Williams has returned from a delightful visit to America, Ga.

A PITCHER AND THE WELL

MIAMI DAILY NEWS

With a two-to-one "voter" against him in Tuesday's primary, Gov. Charles W. Bryan, who tried for the senatorship, comes to the end of a serious political career. We believe that this is the end of Bryan's political career. He is now 67 years old and in poor health. After this defeat, he has small chance to build himself back to political strength.

Charles W. Bryan is a member of William Jennings Bryan's three times candidate for president. As long as the older Bryan held the center of the political stage, "Brother Charles," as he came to be known colloquially in Nebraska, remained in the background, a manager of the stage which his famous brother occupied. He was Bryan's campaign manager and Bryan's campaigner all the retirement of Bryan from the cabinet of Woodrow Wilson, a virtual retirement from politics, freed Charles for politics on his own.

He launched out immediately for mayor of his city of Lincoln. That was in 1918. As a campaigner for office for himself he displayed a resourcefulness not hitherto attributed to him. A fast talker in private and on the stump, he had a preternatural skill at touching upon his advantage the interests and prejudices of his public. It was war time and coal was going up. He established a municipal coal depot. It was a time of combinations and strikes. The price of kerosene was high. Bryan's campaign established a municipal gasoline station.

Sandy Anderson Predicts Success For Wholesale Market

(Continued from page one) direct to Sanford upon entering Florida. Of this number of trucks, 75 of them paid Sanford a visit several times last year. They all expressed themselves enthused over the idea of being able to save time and money by securing their requirements in one market, and all promised to spread the news in every section of the country.

Mr. Anderson said that a feature of the peach deal in North Carolina was the increased truck trade as compared with last year. "Fully 50 percent increase was recorded in the number of trucks coming into the peach belt," he said, "and as a result the growers made thousands of dollars that they would not have made had they depended upon shipping by refrigerated cars."

In this connection, Mr. Anderson said that he knew of an instance where eight refrigerated freight cars were loaded and ready for shipment when the grower, pressed on all sides by truckers demanding fruit, unloaded the cars and sold for cash on the spot, receiving more than he would have netted after shipping by freight to New York and other Eastern markets.

Local growers need not fear that truckers will attempt to deal unfairly, Mr. Anderson said. "These men are in a business that naturally demands that they pay for low prices as much as possible," Mr. Anderson said, "but if you give them quality produce well packed and attractively displayed, they'll buy it from you. The one under orders is to buy the best possible produce at the lowest price possible, and although they may appear to be haggling, they are really dealing with you fairly. Deal with them properly, and they'll return again and again if you produce what they want."

Paul Lukas Featured In Miami Movie Today

A modern Hamlet, surrounded by six beautiful Dellihas, is the nucleus of the intriguing plot of a new picture, "Affairs of a Gentleman," Universal's delightful drama, with Paul Lukas, which opens a one-day engagement at the Miami Theater today.

Lukas shines brilliantly in his latest role, while his leading ladies, six of them are as beautiful a bunch of feminine charmers as has ever been collected by a Hollywood casting office. Just close your eyes and visualize, Lillian Haynes, Patricia Ellis, Lillian Bond, Dorothy Burgess, Jerry Compton, and Dorothy Libaire, all in one picture.

In the cast are also Phillip Reed, Orson Stevens, Richard Cate, Murray Kinsey, Sam Haden and others. Some sterling direction from Edwin L. Marin makes this one of the best pictures of the year and one highly recommended.

Mrs. Wiley Emanuel Is Buried In Lakeview

Funeral services for Mrs. Wiley Emanuel, 86, who died at the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital last night after a Caesarian operation, were held at the graveside in Lakeview cemetery this afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. Rev. Bailey of the Church of God officiated.

Surviving the dead woman are her husband, and three daughters, Edna Emanuel and Pearl Mae Emanuel, and Viola Johnson, a daughter by a first marriage.

FAMILY GATHERING

The following bit of interesting news was taken from an edition of the Sunday Star-News, Aug. 19, Wilmington, N. C.: "Mrs. B. F. Galloway, of Sanford, Florida, who is spending the summer with her niece, Miss Eris Roberts Swain, at her home on Orange Street, was supposed to be present at a family gathering Mrs. Swain held last evening for her kinsman, Dr. Walter Curtis Galloway. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mill Galloway, of Washington, D. C., were unable to come owing to Mrs. Galloway's illness. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Steadman Galloway, who have been members of the family reunion, have returned to their home in Louisiana. The Swain and Galloway families are interlocked through four generations and members of the families, are assembling data for a book that Howard Steadman Galloway and Miss Swain are writing."

U.S. IS HEADING FOR DESPOTISM, MILLIKAN WARNS

Millikan Warns

Government action. The end of the road for the American people is inevitably the breakdown of both the character of a people and the effectiveness of its government.

Government action, Dr. Millikan said, is relatively inefficient when conducted at its best, and when it is heavily loaded down with functions which the government should not be performing, it becomes hopelessly so. With its breakdown, he added, comes the rise of the dictator.

"I do not overlook the fact," he continued, "that the state has a great many functions which it ought to perform, indeed which it alone can perform. Such are control of coinage and currency, defense of the nation against aggression, administration of justice, suppression of crime, maintenance of a multitude of ways of honest, orderly government, regulation of monopolies, suppression of practices which result in health, care of the indigent and the helpless, including relief in times of emergency, even, if necessary, compulsory contributory insurance regulations, for in a world of plenty everyone is agreed that no one can be allowed to starve or to provide for himself."

"But in America the state is performing these normal and proper state functions so very badly, so deplorably inadequately, that even if it were right in principle to extend its functions outside its normal field, a totally blind person could see that the time has not yet come to do it. But some types of suggested extension are definitely wrong in principle. The proper functions of the state are in general regulatory, not operative."

"Indeed, so strongly do I feel this that I regard the man who urges the extension of the powers of the state into operative fields, which private initiative can and will handle equally well or better, as an enemy of free government—the most pernicious influence in American life today."

"If you wish to perpetuate a strong, self-reliant people leave to private initiative everything that it can do as well or better than government, and let government content itself with acting, through its laws and supervision, as a check to private industry's exploitation and greed. Leave the human spirit free for the development of science and education, and be boundless as to the possibilities of the life of the average citizen of the United States in the coming century. But destroy the freedom of that spirit either by the blight of another world war or by the mere insidious blight of what Herbert Spencer called the coming slavery—too much statism—and the dream may be spoiled."

Dr. Millikan scorned the theory that the cause of the depression was over-production. He defended science for creating more wealth and thus raising the general level of human well-being, but blamed unemployment and poverty on a temporary jam in the social machinery.

"This situation, he said, 'has of course, called all the quack doctors to the bedside of the patient. The most intelligent and understanding among these doctors tell the patient that he is suffering from too much capacity for the production of wealth and that the remedy is to smash the machine. But proof of the unsoundness of the foregoing diagnosis seems to me to be found in the following United States census report: The percentage of our whole population gainfully employed, i. e., the percentage of the population that normally lives by jobs, has risen during the last fifty years from 84.7 in 1880 to 89.8 in 1930. This is the precise period in which modern industry has been having its phenomenal development, for there was relatively little of it before 1880. I cannot find anywhere any statistical evidence that when general trends are studied the machine fails to create more employment than it destroys."

Dr. Millikan defended Congress's voting of extraordinary powers to the President by saying that one of the best evidences of a democracy's vitality and effectiveness is enough intelligence to do just that.

"The supreme political struggle of the race," he added, "is between freedom and despotism, for the one represents the opportunity of the man to think for himself, to develop himself; the other, the loss of that priceless opportunity. Backward, unintelligent and decadent nations may need despotic governments, but with rising

Radical Says Government in Business Impairs Americanism

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—The rise of government in business is leading to the destruction of the American dream, the country shall be a land of free enterprise, Dr. Robert Millikan, president of the Galileo Institute of Technology and winner of the Nobel Prize physics, declared in an address here today.

The breakdown in character through too much paternalism and a ready trend of despotism to replace freedom are the two great influences which threaten to stay the realization of the American dream, Dr. Millikan said, despite the vast improvements which science has made for the welfare of mankind.

"Now," he said, "just after science has begun to get man out of his habit of coddling himself in the lap of the gods, whisking about the decrees of the fates, wasting his time and strength in snake dances to bring rain, when he might be building irrigation ditches, just after science has begun to get man standing on his own feet and has taught him to rely more than formerly on his own efforts, she is somewhat disturbed to find a group of political philosophers and sociologists, some of them in high places, too, who come along and want to push man back, not exactly into the lap of the gods or into the hands of the fates, but into the soft bosom of the state."

"Some call it Communism, some Socialism, some something else, but I will use the broader term statism to include this whole tendency toward the government's ownership and operation of everything, this whole movement that weakens self-reliance, discourages private initiative, diminishes opportunity, stimulates bonus marches, veterans' rackets, even teachers' federal lobbies (I admit it with shame). What is fundamentally the matter with the whole program under whatever name it goes and by whomsoever it is championed?

"Oliver Goldsmith gave the answer better than I can in words—'All fares the land to hastening ills a prey, Where wealth accumulates and men decay.'"

"The decay of men is far and away the most insidious menace to realization of the American dream, for that dream cannot be realized save by stalwart, self-reliant men. A nation is made great by the wide distribution of power and opportunity among its citizens, not by the concentration in the hands of the necessarily politically minded officials, or in the hands of despots. No civilization can possibly arise above the character of the units which compose it, and private initiative has shown itself incomparably more efficient in developing that character in those units that any kind

Daytona Judge Kills Lawyer By Accident

Daytona Judge Kills Lawyer By Accident

DAYTONA, Aug. 22.—Accidental death came yesterday for Robert P. Weed, Daytona Beach attorney, shortly after Justice of the Peace Charles L. Beers, also of Daytona, unwittingly fired a gas pistol in Beers' office yesterday morning.

The two had been examining the gun with casual interest, possibly explained by the fact Weed was well-known as an "expert shot," thus highly interested in firearms. Both men had held the gun in their hands and it fired accidentally as Beers examined it, the bullet piercing Weed's abdomen.

Daytona Beach Bondholders Tola That City Is Seeking Benefits Of Wilcox Measure

DAYTONA, Aug. 22.—City bondholders will be notified immediately that proceedings are being started for re-adjustment of the city's debt as provided by privilege of the Wilcox Bankruptcy Act, Francis R. Miller, city clerk, announced yesterday.

The consent of the required 51 percent of the bondholders to a tentative plan of lowering interest rates from 8 to 5 percent has been reached, according to a report prepared by city officials.

Next steps, necessitating approval by the courts already has been started, and a federal application for privilege will await their consent.

A communication from Jacksonville interests, representing nearly 80 percent of the city's bondholders, showed that holders of bonds amounting to $1,374,000 had agreed to the plan. Added to local holders who are already in agreement, the percentage mounted to 51.9 percent of the total issue. The report in full shows that the bonded debt subject to terms of the temporary plan is $2,855,000 and the amount of the 51 percent is $1,475,000.

The bonded debt which is subject to the proposed plan, excludes a sinking fund of $240,591; bonds retired in 1934 amounting to $98,000; water bonds not included in the sinking fund amounting to $248,400. The total bonded debt of the City of Daytona amounts to $3,184,000.

Champion Liar Of Oklahoma Owe Title To Minnow

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 22.—(AP)—A man was fishing on the bank of a river one day, passing the time away by drinking his favorite high spirits. Suddenly he stopped.

Addressing a minnow nearby, he said, "Say, old man, you're a pretty good friend of mine. I've got two drops left. I'll give you half of what's left."

He then placed a drop in the minnow's outstretched mouth and drank the other himself. He threw the bottle over his shoulder and leaned back against the tree to rest for awhile.

In less than a minute there was a terrible splashing of water and what do you think the fisherman saw? There in front of him was the minnow he had befriended carrying an 8-pound bass in its mouth.

And as a result of the above story, its author, L. D. Riskey, of Ardmore, Okla., holds the title of Oklahoma's "champion liar."

Carrollton Receives Body Of Dead Speaker

CARROLLTON, Ill., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Sorrowing "home folk" received the body of Henry T. Rainey, speaker of the House, here today and then awaited the arrival of President Roosevelt and the late afternoon funeral services.

Today's reception was in strange contrast to the "Welcome Home" previously always given by friends, some of them lifelong.

The body of Mr. Rainey who died unexpectedly in a St. Louis hospital Sunday night arrived from St. Louis in the morning and was borne into the stately old stone Greene county courthouse to lie in state until the funeral. Relatives first viewed the body and then the public was admitted. The funeral was started on a special train.

COST OF N. R. A. TO TRADE IS SET AT $100,000,000

Research Division Begins Budget Scrutiny As Code Tax Soars

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The 500th N. R. A. code has been given official approval at the deadline set by General Hugh S. Johnson, Recovery administrator, for the codifying of American industry was reached last Saturday.

With the change in sight from codifying to complete concentration on the problem of administration of the rules of fair competition, the division of research and planning in the N. R. A. began to compile and give closer scrutiny to the costs of the various code authorities. "WING" WING submitted budgets estimated to total a tax of about $100,000,000 annually on American business.

General Johnson, at work in his office, reserved comment as his office announced that approval of a code for the refined fish-oil industry had brought the number of codes to 500. The N. R. A. said it was expected that employment in the industry, which fixes hours of work, would be increased by 30 or 25 percent under the code. General Johnson also approved a code for the refrigerated warehousing industry, with a basic forty-eight-hour week.

Ninety-seven codes are still pending before N. R. A. awaiting disposition, it was announced. Apparently a stretching of the deadline will be granted for most of them. They include twenty-one proposed codes covering special problems such as shipping and public utilities and fifty-nine food codes upon which action has been delayed because the A. A. A. as well as the N. R. A. has jurisdiction over them. In the last month seventy-three codes were approved, fifteen were withdrawn and thirty-one were slated for consolidation with existing codes.

The approval of 500 codes was at odds with the proposal of General Johnson a month ago that the entire number of codes be reduced to around 300. According to N. R. A. headquarters the attempt to consolidate existing codes will still go forward, but small industries have been insisting on separate codes. There has also been little response, it was indicated, to General Johnson's invitation to the small industries to adhere to the basic code recently promulgated. The N. R. A. still anticipates that many of the small industries will be driven by the expense of their code authorities to the basic code, where they may have advantage of a governmentally financed code authority.

Emphasizing the rising total of costs involved in the 500 code budgets, two industries alone submitted schedules of administration expenses amounting to almost $1,250,000. The code authority of the

In anticipation of bringing the necessity for the construction of the St. Johns-Indian River canal before this state's representatives at Washington, the Chamber of Commerce today sent an invitation to Mark Wilcox at West Palm Beach, asking that he come to Sanford on Sept. 25, for the purpose of meeting with Senators Fletcher and Trammell, and Representatives Sears, Caldwell, Peterson, and Green, and taking a yacht trip of the proposed route. Mr. Wilcox already has announced that the canal is his major objective, and the trade body is anxious that the other side view "it on the ground" in hope that they might share Mr. Wilcox's enthusiasm.

"We are being given splendid and surprising co-operation," said City Sanitary Inspector G. F. Paxton this morning in discussing the progress of the City-FFERA sponsored campaign against the mosquito which carries the germ of dengue fever. "The people seem to be anxious to help us stamp out the chance of an epidemic of dengue. They are giving our five special agents every assistance, and are promising to keep their grounds and homes free of any objects or articles that by retaining even a teaspoonful of water, might constitute a breeding ground for the mosquito. City crews are hauling away tons of refuse, and our men and the people have destroyed thousands of old cans, bottles, dishes, and basins, as well as other mosquito traps. Our drive certainly promises to be a success."

Dictatorship On Way In U. S. GOP Body Told

Theodore Roosevelt Says NRA, AAA Are In Opposition To Basic Government

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 23.—(A.P.)—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, president of the National Republican Club, said today that NRA and AAA were preparing the way for a dictatorship in the United States.

"Both NRA and AAA contravene specifically certain of our fundamental concepts of government," he said, in addressing a Republican state rally at Crescent Park.

By "arrogating" to itself powers surrounding business codes, Roosevelt asserted, the Administration had assumed "Executive legislative, administering, and judging which in itself is dictatorship and nothing else."

Taylor Held In Jail As The Murderer Of Birmingham Girl

BIRMINGHAM, Aug. 23.—(A.P.)—Death in a ditch for Faye New, Howard College Co-ed, and the cell for Harold Taylor charged with her murder.

These today were the developments from the girl's automobile ride Monday night with Taylor, a man she met only a few moments before.

And A. B. Cain, Faye's suitor who followed her to city limits as her ride with Taylor started, was free, released after police were convinced his story was true.

Miss New's body was found yesterday afternoon, face up in a ditch.

Two deep gashes in her throat, both mortal wounds, ended a struggle in which she was choked, scratched, and beaten the autopsy report showed.

Taylor denied any part in the girl's death. "She was unbrut when she ran into the woods from my car," he said.

Sholtz Fires Dade County Tax Agent

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 23.—(A.P.)—Gov. Dave Sholtz, yesterday suspended Bob Simpson from the office of Dade county tax collector on grounds of "inefficiency, and malfeasance and incompetency," and appointed W. R. Becker, of Miami, to succeed him immediately.

In the order removing Simpson Gov. Sholtz said an audit of the Dade county tax collectors' office for the year ending 1933-34 showed $177,809.10 for taxes, licenses and poll taxes. These taxes had been collected, Gov. Sholtz said, but had not been paid over to the state, county and districts.

Sheets of Rain Rout Drouth In Parts of South

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 23.—(A.P.)—Sheets of precious rain routed the drouth from many sections of the Southern plains yesterday.

Oklahoma got the best of the downpour, which covered hundreds of miles with varying intensity.

In Oklahoma City approximately three inches was recorded, the heaviest fall since December, 1932.

Pastures, choked with bony cattle, much of it purchased by the government, will be green within "ten days," said farm agents; but gardens will sprout much needed vegetables; farmers will have fall feed crops; dry water holes will fill up.

The livestock industry alone in Oklahoma got $25,000,000 worth of benefit from the rain, the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman, an agricultural paper, estimated.

Over the waffle-brown plains of Western Oklahoma and North Texas the rain fell, although some extreme Southern Oklahoma and Oklahoma Panhandle points missed it.

Showers spotted many Kansas localities and liberal, in the Southwestern wheat belt, was drenched with more than three inches.

The break in the drouth enabled the FERA to complete plans for moving thousands of unemployed farm families back to their land.

It was too late, however, to help growing crops, with corn a virtual failure in most localities and the cotton yield already cut to the lowest point in many years by the long dry spell.

Stocks Stage Advance Into High Ground

Favorable Technical Position Lends Self
To Bullish Temper In Speculative Fields

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(A.P.)—Stocks monopolized speculative attention yesterday with a strong advance that carried the market into new high ground on the recovery from the late July decline.

In the heaviest trading since Aug. 9, with turnover of 1,291,410 shares compared with 579,010 Tuesday, many gains of 1 to 4 points were recorded for active issues.

A variety of factors, including a favorable technical position, were cited as contributing to a bullish temper in speculative quarters.

Wall Street lent ear to rumors that the dollar might be revalued further to 50 percent of its old gold parity, the full extent of deflationary powers voted the Administration by Congress last year. The present level is 59.06 percent of the old parity.

It was argued in some quarters such a move would dispel much of the current uncertainty concerning the dollar.

The dollar weakened against foreign exchanges, and U. S. government bonds, in contrast with second-grade corporate issues, continued to slip.

Stocks showed commodities out of speculative favor. Hogs extended a protracted advance, establishing a new top of $7.25 a hundredweight. But grains were heavy, wheat closing 1-2 to 7-8 cents a bushel lower, and cotton 1-10 to 1-12 a bale in face of the government's decision to lend growers 12 cents a pound on the staple.

Following Tuesday's upturn, demand for stocks expanded somewhat, after the opening and for a time the ticker was swamped by a rush of buying orders. Later the market quieted but finished around best levels of the day.

Traders became more active on the buying side as railroad shares fell in line with industrials in pushing through the tops of the recent narrow range.

The advance was general, with rails, farm implement and mail order, chemical and other industrial groups forming the shock troops of the offensive.

Among issues showing gains of 2 to 3 points were Santa Fe, Atlantic Coast Line, J. I. Case, W. T. Grant, Ingersoll Rand, Johns-Manville, Lehman Corporation, Owens Illinois Glass and Underwood-Elliott-Fisher.

General Motors, American Telephone, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, New York Central and American Tobacco B moved up about a point or so.

The Standard Statistics Company average for 90 stocks was lifted 1.8 points to 74.8.

Steel shares were firm but continued dullness of steel buying discouraged speculation in that group.

Other major barometers of industrial activity portrayed a steady course.

Minneapolis Strike Is Finally Ended

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 23.—(A.P.)—Minneapolis wrote final to its five-week truck strike yesterday with a return to normalcy unbridled by military restrictions or threats of violence by strikers who once more were simply workers.

The city teamed with commercial vehicle movement compared to the meager number of trucks that piled the town under military rule until final settlement of the controversy was achieved Tuesday night.

12-Cent Bottom Is Placed On Cotton

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(A.P.)—A 12-cent "bottom" has been placed under cotton by President Roosevelt and the move was described yesterday as an attempt to permit the South to market its staple in orderly fashion. Farmers will not have to sell at low prices should the quotations drop in the near future, officials said.

Chase Declares Proration Plan Aids California

Urges Florida Growers To Protest Proposal To Wallace

The National Proration plan as embodied in the proposed Citrus Marketing Agreement favors California growers as against Florida growers and should be supplanted with a state proration plan, according to Randall Chase, who in a statement issued today urged Florida growers to write Secretary Wallace protesting against any discrimination against Florida.

Mr. Chase's statement, in full, is as follows: "National Proration, as provided in the Proposed Marketing Agreement is manifestly unfair to Florida growers. On account of excessive freight rates Florida has only the Eastern markets in which her fruit can be marketed, comparatively little can go west of the Mississippi, California, on account of its favorable freight rates, has all of the markets in the country in which to sell its oranges. For instance, it would cost Florida growers approximately $2.80 to put fruit on the Pacific Coast, whereas it costs the California growers $1.15 to put fruit into any market east of Bismarck, including those on the Atlantic coast. Why should Florida growers agree to step out of the market which they have, so that California can sell her fruit there as well as all other markets in the country?"

"The National Proration plan as contained in the proposed Agreement is a California scheme. Paul Armstrong, a California, manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, drew up the plan. He is a most estimable gentleman, but he has the California viewpoint. Furthermore, there are other interests reported to be in favor of National Proration. Large interests in California control many of the Eastern auction companies. The California Fruit Growers Exchange is a customer of these auction companies, therefore, it is a great advantage to these auction companies to have (Continued On Page Four)

Roper Claims Profit Motive Still Exists

Cabineteer Declares
Roosevelt Regime
Squarely Behind
Honest Business

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(A.P.)—Secretary Roper assured the nation's business men last night that the "government and the masses of the people themselves resent unthinking statements or subtle suggestions that the profit motive in American life has been or is to be abolished."

The Secretary's assertion made in a national radio address, obviously was considered by the Administration as a highly significant statement. It was timed so as to coincide with Presidential reorganization of the NRA on a permanent basis.

With his declaration that the New Deal is not trying to override the private profit motive, Roper coupled another that business is definitely on the up-grade. Private enterprise, he said, is showing such initiative in getting back on its own feet that it is more and more relieving the federal government of "responsibilities which under normal conditions belong to business."

Striking the point of his major theme, Roper said the Roosevelt regime is "squarely behind" the principle of continuing the "profit motive" and believed in "just profits for management and capital and an equitable return to labor for its rightful rewards in the economic process."

"No thinking business man desires to have the old order restored," he said. "He does desire and is entitled to have the new order characterized by a better control against economic cataclysms and by the freedom to exercise his initiative in planning for the future of his business in the light of an equitable profit system."

The Roper speech was broadcast over a nation-wide chain under the auspices of the Washington Star Radio Forum.

The Secretary devoted most of his address to his experiences on a recent trip to Alaska. As part of it he told of witnessing conditions (Continued On Page Four)

New Deal Is Facing New Probe

American Liberty
League Organized
By Group Of 1932
Anti-Roosevelt Men

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(A.P.)—The New Deal is about to be put under a powerful, bipartisan microscope by an organization announced late yesterday as "The American Liberty League."

Among the founders are the two former Democratic presidential nominees, Alfred E. Smith and John W. Davis; the former Republican senator and now representative from New York, James W. Wadsworth; the former Republican governor of New York, Nathan L. Miller; and Irene du Pont, who contributed to the Smith and Roosevelt campaign funds.

President Roosevelt was informed of the plan a week ago yesterday. His attitude has yet to be stated, but he was assumed to be sympathetic to the announced purpose of combating "radicalism" and informing public opinion on the issues of the times.

The president of the league will be J. M. C. Carr, former chairman of the Democratic National Executive Committee and later president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. He announced formation of the new corporation, telling of plans eventually to have it embrace the entire country.

Asked whether it was to take part in political campaigns, he said "Not at this time." Beyond that he would not go.

Exact purposes of the league he stated formally as follows: "It is a non-partisan organization formed as stated in its charter, to defend and uphold the Constitution of the United States and to gather and disseminate information that (1) will trace the necessity of respect for the rights of persons and property as fundamental to every successful form of government, and (2) will teach the duty of government to encourage and protect individual and group initiative and enterprise, to foster the right to work, earn, save and acquire property and to preserve the ownership and lawful use of property when acquired."

Asked if the league was anti-New Deal, Roper replied "It is definitely not anti-Roosevelt."

It was noted that the Democrats who have agreed to serve on the executive committee were identified with the "stop-Roosevelt" movement at the Chicago convention in 1932, but Mr. Shouse said this had no significance.

The desperado's body was riddled with bullets. He died instantly. There was a wound in his body for every officer shooting.

A. F. Of L Supports Big Textile Strike

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(A.P.)—American Federation of Labor yesterday threw its support and its organizing force behind the already-called general strike of cotton textile workers. William Green, president of the federation, gave his endorsement of the strike in the same breath with an expression of elation over the Administration's action in cutting work hours in the cotton garment industry from 40 to 36 without reduction in wages. The two industries are not directly connected.

2 Cuban Army Officers Are Given Death

HAVANA, Aug. 23.—(A.P.)—Two high ranking Cuban army officers were sentenced to death by court martial today for participation in a revolutionary plot against Colonel Fulgencio Batista, commander-in-chief of the army.

Major Angel Echevarria and Captain Augustin Ertos, commander of the Army Signal Corps, were convicted of participation in the plot in an early morning trial at Camp Columbia outside Havana.

The revolt was crushed in Pinar Del Rio Province before it could get started. It was planned for Sept. 4, anniversary of the rebellion by which Batista, a former sergeant, established himself at the head of the Army.

Reports that eight enlisted men were shot to death when the revolt was smashed were denied officially but several newspapers said that they are true.

Lieutenant Colonel Mario Hernandez, accused of taking part in the plot, was shot yesterday while resisting arrest.

Lehmann Says City Hall Affairs Are Efficiently Handled

"Every citizen in Sanford would have been proud of the official administration of affairs at the City Hall if they could have attended the sessions of the Florida League of Municipalities meeting in Orlando yesterday," said Karl Lehmann, secretary of the Sanfords County Chamber of Commerce on his return to the city this morning.

"The day's sessions were devoted to a discussion of the Wilson Municipal Bankruptcy bill and last night's proceedings included a roll call of the cities of Florida, outlining their present situation in reference to bonds and other indebtedness," said Mr. Lehmann.

"And while Sanford's bonded debt problem is a serious one, in comparison with other cities of the state, Sanford is in a very satisfactory condition. No city reported as much reduction of the bonded indebtedness situation as has Sanford in the past two years, and now has reported as satisfactory relationship with the bondholders' Committee."

"Today's sessions of the convention were devoted to the Homestead Exemption Amendment, and other important trends in Florida relating to municipalities," he added.

Sanford was represented yesterday by City Commissioners V. A. Speer, H. J. Lehmann and T. L. Dumas, City Attorney Fred R. Wilson, who spoke for Sanford last night, City Clerk F. S. Lamson and Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce Karl Lehmann.

2 Bandits Hold Up Bank In Georgia

PALMETTO, Ga., Aug. 23.—(A.P.)—Two bandits yesterday robbed the Farmers' Bank here of approximately $700 and escaped in an automobile with another man but one of them was believed seriously wounded by shotgun fire.

The automobile used in the getaway, stolen in Atlanta Tuesday night, was found on a bear later near Fairburn, just off the main highway. The bandits evidently continued their flight in another car, for fresh tracks, including imprints of a woman's shoes, were found around the abandoned automobile, officers said.
