SEMINOLE COUNTY HAD SOME SURPRISES ON ELECTION DAY

Long Ballot And 2nd Choice Made Long Wait VERY QUIET ELECTION

DOUGLASS AND MORGAN FURNISHED MOST EXCITEMENT IN COUNTING BALLOTS.

The election in Sanford and in all parts of Seminole county was a very quiet affair and people voted in a very quiet manner indicating that most of them had made up their minds before coming to the polls and that they had studied the matter of politics more closely than ever before and while there was much interest during the day and especially after the votes were being counted the people were quiet and exhibited but little of their old time spirit. On account of the unusual ticket and the second choice votes the returns complete were difficult to obtain and it was not until Wednesday that the official canvass showed the real results. There were many surprises in the several races and one of the biggest was the race between E. A. Douglass and W. L. Morgan for the office of Clerk of the Circuit Court and it took the official count and then some to finally determine this result showing Douglass to be 6 votes ahead with several travelling votes to be left but it is thought that Douglass will continue to be the winner in what was undoubtedly one of the most spectacular and unexpected results in any election in the county. The results of the county canvass are as follows and the tabulated form by precincts is given in another part of this issue:

For States Attorney, DeCottes.
For State Senator, M. O. Overstreet.
For Representative, F. P. Forster.
For County Judge, E. F. Householder.
For Sheriff, Chas. M. Hand.
For Clerk of Circuit Court, E. A. Douglass.
For Constable Dist. No. 1, D. H. Hooker.
For County Commissioners, L. A. Brumley, L. P. Hagan, Endor Curlett.
For Constable in Dist. No. 1, R. C. Cobb.

Morris is Champion
B. H. Morris manager of the Ball Hardware Co., is an ardent fisherman and whenever he can take a few minutes off goes after the big fish that are so plentiful in this section of the state. His latest catch from the Wauvava river is a ten pound bass that has been placed in a cage of iron and hung in the window of the Ball Hardware Co., where it attracts much attention. So great was the interest displayed that the Ball Hardware Co., has offered three prizes for the biggest fish of the season caught with hook and line and they consist of a fine rod for the first, a fishing reel for the second and a fishing cap for the third prize. The state Mr. Morris has the lead because of the other local fishermen as they will lower his colors now that the campaign is over and they will have time to devote to their great sport. There is better fishing in this part of the state than any other section of Florida and the rivers and lakes abound in all kinds of fish and those who wish to take a good one and go in for these prizes will not only have a good time but they will be amply repaid. See the advertisement of the Ball Hardware Co. in this issue.

Annual Clearance Sale
J. M. Dresner is having an annual clearance sale that will start Friday June 18th and last for ten days. The opportunity of obtaining reasonable dresses, hats, corsets, skirts, petticoats, etc., at reasonable prices. See the advertisement in this issue of the Herald.

RETURNS FROM STATE SHOW FLETCHER, HARDEE SEARS, ARE ELECTED

Sanford House Coming Down

The workmen tearing down the old Sanford House are making good time at the work and already it has been torn down to the first floor on the first street side and will soon be cleared away on this side entirely. As soon as the old building has been cleaned up the work of building the new store rooms and office building will commence so this paper has been in the "ruts".

C. M. Hard Thanks People

I take this occasion to thank the people of Seminole County for their support in the recent election.

Fletcher And Hardee Increase Their Lead FOURTH IS CLOSE

BILLINGSLEY, SHEATS, WELLS, LUNING, AMOS AND WEST ARE ELECTED.

Additional returns from Tuesday's statewide Democratic primary will not all in gives one good idea of how the candidates will stand.

Out of 52,414 votes tabulated of a possible 70,000 cast yesterday morning in the senatorial race, Senator D. U. Fletcher had 35,524, Gov. Catts 14,890.

Out of 53,070 votes tabulated in the governorship race, Cary A. Hardee had 32,384, Van C. Swearingen 17,019 and Lincoln Hulley 3,667.

For attorney-general, the race is close with the advantage slightly in favor of Rivers H. Buford of Mariana but Judge J. L. Billingsley of Miami and J. E. Calkins of Fernandina are close on his heels, with about an even vote and with these two running especially strong in south and east Florida, the chances seem to favor Calkins or Billingsley.

With 46,896 votes tabulated in the race between Dixie M. Hollins of Clearwater and W. N. Sheats of Tallahassee for state superintendent of public instruction, Mr. Sheats has 25,291, Hollins 21,605.

For railroad commissioner Senator A. S. Wells of Leon has made a runaway race of it, with J. H. Tench of Gainesville and W. J. Roebuck of Lake City huddled for second honors.

Justice Thomas F. West of Tallahassee was an easy winner for re-nomination to the supreme court bench over John S. Beard of Pensacola.

State Treasurer John C. Luning of Tallahassee has won a re-nomination, defeating Walter S. Melin of Tallahassee.

Comptroller Ernest Amos defeated Capt. Allie J. Angle for the comptroller ship by an overwhelming majority.

With the returns fairly complete from the First Congressional district, Congressman Herbert J. Drane has 10,476 votes to 6,481 for his opponent, George H. Wilder of Plant City. Mr. Drane carried every county in the district.

In the Second district Congressman Frank Clark had no opposition.

In the third district with 7,143 votes tabulated Congressman J. H. Smithwick has 3,179, with Ben Hancock 2,102 and Y. L. Watson 1,871. Mr. Smithwick has been re-nominated.

In the Fourth district Congressman W. J. Sears has won a re-nomination over Forest Lake of Sanford. Out of a total of 20,161 votes tabulated by the Tribune Mr. Sears has 11,683 and Mr. Lake 9,478.

Three Resign In One Day

Tallahassee, June 10.—W. O. Lemasters, superintendent of public instruction of Hernando county, today tendered his resignation to the governor to take effect not later than July 5, or as soon as his successor can be appointed and qualified. The resignation was accepted.

The governor has received from D. P. Johnson his resignation as constable of the First justice district of Pinellas county, assigning as his reason for resigning the action of the governor in reinstating R. R. Carter as justice of the peace of that district. The resignation was accepted.

Otis R. Parker, state attorney for the Fifteenth judicial circuit today telegraphed the governor tendering his resignation as such state attorney effective immediately. In his telegram Mr. Parker stated that the people have repudiated the governor's removal of Thompson and urges the governor to appoint the latter as his successor. The resignation is accepted but no appointment has been made.

Mr. Rose writes each club that they would be held responsible for getting a ball game and that they would be held responsible in the constitution of the organization would be to hear in every instance where gambling is proven and the offender be subject to a fine of $100 for the first offence and forfeiture of franchise and players for subsequent offences. Mr. Rose wants each club to make every effort to stamp out gambling practice where it exists and help restore the high standard set by the league. If a club is not elected by the league for the reason that the practice of open betting is not found to have been eliminated, the club will be liable to happen the Chief of Police has been instructed to act if it is not going on.

CELERY SEED

By CHAS. L. BRITT

We've reached the cellar, but it's not any long.

Another new manager. This time it's Gene Gafney, and if Gene can manage a club like he can hit, look out.

The decision made by his Mm's in the game with Tampa Monday in which he started the "rag chewing" after calling Ollerman out at third showed that either Daugherty or some of those glasses ordered by Monahan or a new set ordered for himself.

Mr. Rose wants the betting cut out with Mr. Rose. Open betting in the grand stands should be cut out and we know that the Sanford will give no one trouble on that point.

Mr. Faugherty left Cleveland in a taxi to take McManamara's place and arrived in Orlando Monday, jumped in a car and got to the Sanford park just in time to start the game. It might be that he still had a few cinders in his eyes and couldn't see all the way from home plate to third base. If so, that cinder in his eye added a victory to Tampa's string that shouldn't be there.

We play with Tampa no more this first half. We will not be given a chance to take them over until next fall but we will make it up with Ollerman.

Gafney Still Leads

The batting averages released recently shows that Gafney is still leading in the hitting for the Sanford club but has four ahead of him in the league. Fry is leading with an average of .411 Quinn of Bradentown is second with an average of .387. Brooks of Bartow comes third with an average of .378 and Tampa fourth with an average of .356 respectively. Gafney is batting fifth with an average of .345. However, Sanford has just one man batting above .250 on the team, but we think that when Oleskey and Purke are going right they will give Gafney a cause. Ollerman may do the same if he keeps up his stride of the last several days.

Umpire Tom Monahan on account of ill health was forced to resign from the staff of the league. He has left for his home in Pittsburg, Pa. He has been succeeded by Umpire Tom Daugherty of Cleveland. Daugherty comes to the league well recommended and is expected to make good as a umpire in the Fla. State League. Pres. Rose is still after a fifth man for his umpire staff, to provide for any emergency on account of illness or otherwise.

War Risk Insurance
Former service men are notified by Director R. G. Cholmeley-Jones of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance that a new official circular of information listed as "LD-9" and entitled "New and Liberal Features of War Risk Insurance" is now issued.

The text of this bulletin is based upon the latest amendment to the War Risk Act which permits payment in one sum on converted insurance in case of death, and enlarges the permitted class of beneficiaries in the case of both War Risk (Term) and converted insurance.

The circular is printed in book form, illustrated by charts, and has an index by the use of which any ordinary question about government insurance may be readily answered. A copy of the booklet may be obtained by writing to the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, Washington, D. C. or upon application of former service men and welfare organizations cooperating with the Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

Regardless of how long a service man has been discharged or how long his insurance has lapsed or been cancelled, he may reinstate his War Risk Insurance at any time before July 1, 1920, or within eighteen months after his discharge, if there be a later date, and upon payment of only two monthly premiums on the amount of insurance he desires to reinstate, with a satisfactory statement of health.

Pensacola Is Third
Washington, June 9.—With an increase in population of 35 per cent, the 1920 census showing a total of 31,035, Pensacola retains its place as third city in Florida. The numerical increase gained by the west Florida seaport during the decade was 8,053.

When Mizmi made its wonderful gain, going into the 29,000 class, it was thought that the Magic City had moved ahead of Pensacola. Miami stands fourth, ahead of Key West, who possibly may be able to retain its position by showing an increase of more than 50 per cent.

COUNTY HAPPENINGS

Monday to Wichita, being accompanied by his mother, Mr. Mary Pierpont.

Rev. L. E. Wright is attending the District Conference of the Methodist Church Orlando District at Sanford this week.

Mrs. E. A. Farnell, Mrs. L. D. Shupe and Alton Farnell went to Sanford Tuesday.

On Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock the funeral of J. Argo, whose death occurred Monday in Sanford, was held at the cemetery in Oviedo. The services were conducted by Rev. J. N. Thorpe, pastor of the Oviedo Baptist church of which Mr. Argo had long been a member. J. Argo was one of the pioneer citizens of Oviedo, having come here from Hackensville, Ga., in 1851. After the death of his wife several years ago Capt. Argo had lived with his children but still retained his home and spent as much of his time as possible at the home. He was a member of the Oviedo Baptist church and was a member of the Oviedo Grange. He was a very successful farmer and his estate is estimated to be worth $100,000.

people, alone among the remaining courts of Europe retains all the old world formalities which up to the outbreak of the war were so rigorously observed in Vienna, St. Petersburg, Berlin, and to more or less extent in London, Rome and some of the smaller capitals of Europe.

This is due to a large extent to the influence of the queen mother, Maria Christina, who remains all powerful in court circles and is a stickler for the observance of those forms and ceremonies which marked all occasions at the court of Austria, where, as a grand duchess, she learned them.

"Strictly Royal" at Palace. King Alfonso, after receiving in the throne room at the palace in the morning, may rub shoulders with jockeys, bookmakers, and the general run of racegoers at the track in the afternoon, but when he returns to the palace in the evening he resumes, as it were, the crown. It is generally reported that to him the afternoon, free from conventionalities, is the happiest part of his day and that he has often expressed a desire when harassed by the political troubles of his country, which seem never to settle down, to leave it all and take his family off to some South American republic and engage in the breeding of horses, of which he is passionately fond.

The strict formality of the court was observed at the banquet and reception given to the diplomatic corps a short time ago when for the first time the representatives of all countries had been invited to the same function since the summer of 1911. The guests saw a display of jewels which probably could not be matched outside of Asia. Although the diplomats were the guests of the evening, the younger members of the royal family preceded them and were to the right and left of Queen Victoria at the table, the ambassadors and ministers of state coming after them.

Jewel Display Dazzling. Dinner over the King and queen with the royal and dinner guests formed in procession down a long reception hall where the foreign representatives presented the members and their staffs. The king and queen stopped at each group to pass a few words, but this was the only informality of the evening. Later in the throne room guests not belonging to the diplomatic corps were presented.

The final scene, however, was on the grand staircase, on either side of which stood a row of brilliantly garbed servants. As the beautifully gowned women wearing many jewels and the men in their brilliant uniforms passed up and down this staircase a changing color scheme was presented.

Queen Victoria in a dress of cloth of gold, a wonderful diamond tiara on her fair head, two great diamond necklaces reaching to her waist, was a stately and dazzling figure.

The queen mother was equally resplendent in pearls, of which she wore a collar of six rows, a thirt, two necklaces, and many clusters. Ladies in waiting wore jewels formed of every precious stone known, with whom vied the wives and daughters of the grandees of all Spain.

Moroccan Spanish Jews. One of those historic bits stranger than fiction and one which contains the note of poetic justice too often lacking in ordinary experience, is the recent inauguration of an effort upon the part of Spain to nationalize and rehabilitate the Jews of Morocco. The King of Spain himself is at the head of the movement, being chief of the honorary presidents and being seconded by many of the most prominent statesmen of all parties. After three centuries of ostracism the Jews are to be officially invited to return, as it were, and to resume their position in the evolution of the land.

REMEDY IS POINTED OUT

Manufacturers Should Register Their Trademarks With the Government One Concern Paid $30,000 to Recover Trademark.

Buenos Aires.—Dispatches from the United States stating that the American Manufacturers' Export Association had launched a fight against "trademark" pirates in various foreign countries, including Argentina, were read with interest by the American business colony here, which is aware of frequent instances of this sort of business meanness.

Americans are far from holding Argentina alone guilty of the practice, for the stealing of trademarks has been done here even by Americans from their own countrymen. It is said as well as by Europeans from America.

Remedy Pointed Out. The remedy against it, business men say, is for the American manufacturer to register his trademark with the government without delay, otherwise when he attempts to enter this market he may find that some unknown individual or competitor in the same line of goods has anticipated him.

It is not necessary in Argentina for the person who registers a trademark to be the actual manufacturer of the goods. That is, anybody can register a trademark, first come, first served. Once registered, the mark can, of course, be used by no one else, and if it has been pirated, the rightful owner either has to sell his products under a new trademark or buy off the pirate.

It is known in the office of the United States commercial attaché that $20,000 was paid by one American concern to recover its trademark from a pirate. There are reported to be certain individuals who almost make a business of appropriating trademarks of foreign concerns in order to extort a price for surrendering them to the owner. They watch particularly for advertising in newspapers and magazines of foreign concerns whose products they judge are likely to find a market in Argentina; if they find a likely trademark not registered, they see that it is done in their own names and then wait.

Trademarks Need Renewal. They also watch for the expiration of trademarks—the period is ten years. There are known to be instances in which concerns have thus left their trademarks to a pirate as the result of neglecting to have them renewed.

Argentina has yet to set up a pan American trade-mark convention, under which a central agency for the ten southern republics of America would be established in Rio Janeiro for the registration of trademarks. A trademark registered there will be good in all other South American countries signatory to the convention and will save time, expense and trouble. The Argentine administration is known to be anxious to have the treaty ratified, but congress has failed to act. It is reported that President Frigones is preparing a special message to congress urging that there be no further delay in the matter.

Gorky, Russian Radical, Finds Soviets a Failure

Bitter disappointment with bolshevism is expressed in an article recently published by Maxim Gorky, the Russian radical, according to a dispatch from Stockholm, Sweden. "The revolution has not been followed by spiritual revival," the article is said to declare, "and has proved itself unable to make men more honest. Men in power now are just as brutal as those in authority under the imperial regime and send as many to prison. Bolshevist leaders, driven by ambition, are performing experiments upon living people, especially the working classes."

PRETTY FACE CAUSES WRECK

Aviator Crashes Into Tree While Throwing Kisses to Swarthmore Coeds.

Swarthmore, Pa.—The Curtiss mail plane R-20, which dropped into a cluster of trees on the Swarthmore college campus, is rapidly disappearing at the hands of souvenir hunters in spite of the efficient guarding of the local police department. An eyewitness furnished an account of the mishap. According to his story the pilot was flying low and waving to a group of coeds. All went well, it is alleged, until he loosened his hold on the controlling rod for the purpose of throwing kisses with both hands. In an instant his plane dropped into the trees, and it was another case of a pretty face causing the downfall of a man.

EXPLAINING GREEK ART.

Why is a Greek statue, building or vase of the best period more beautiful than a statue, building or vase of any other nationality or period? Jay Hambridge, an American now in London, thinks he knows.

He says it is because every Greek work of art conforms to a definite geometrical proportion which he has discovered. Hambridge has impressed officials of the British museum and art authorities to the extent that the London Times carries two columns about his "dynamic symmetry."

HAS BOOKS OF WILLIAM IV.

Navy Lists, With Comments on Superior Officers, in New York Library.

WASHINGTON GREATEST MAN

King of England So Termed Him in a Speech Long After His Visit to New York—Eighteenth Century Slang.

New York.—Under the title "A King's Books," attention is invited by the New York Public Library to the set of human personal comments and letters preserved on his superior officers by the British prince, in annotations made by him during his visit to New York in one of his majesty's ships.

The Bulletin, recently published, has described some old volumes of British Navy Lists, once the property of William IV, "the sailor king." A number of these volumes have his autograph on them. "William Henry," on the title page, with his naval rank at that time and the name of his ship. Such a volume with the list of 1785, when, according to his name, he has signed himself "Lieutenant" of the "Hebe."

The young prince had named himself, according to the Bulletin's editor, by annotating certain volumes of the set, "which he seems to have had in his cabin . . . and, if the comment opposite the name of his grace the duke of Bolton, admiral of the White, looks suspiciously like the word 'lieut,' it may be that the prince, even as a lieutenant, was in a position to know whosoever he wrote. . . . It was by no means the only comment at his disposal. The Right Hon. George Lord Viscount Mount Edgcumbe, admiral of the White, is tersely described as 'damned miser.' This is in the list for 1780."

Eighteenth Century Slang.
Reference is made to other expressions "mysterious today to every one excepting those familiar with sailors' slang of the eighteenth century; others whose significance has no shade of doubt—the blunt language of the quarter-deck or the barracks." And there is at least one, which some "discerned hand," possibly his own, when he had succeeded to the throne, "had seen fit to cut out with a sharp penknife."

"All are in keeping with the character of the man who, when he became king, over forty years later, was known for his good humor—but also for his suffering manners," says the writer. In stressing his "bluff and hearty nature" the library publication cites the fact that, "at the most solemn moment in his life, as he ascended to the throne, and spoke of his late sovereign and brother, George IV, with as much feeling as anyone not a trained actor could put into his voice for that monarch," he "instantly added in his usual easy-going gruffness, as he affixed his first signature as king to some papers of state: 'This is a damned bad pen you have given me.'"

Of more vital interest to New Yorkers is the prince's connection with their own city of Manhattan. "As Prince William Henry the king stayed for some time in New York, with the British military and naval forces then (1782) occupying the city, contrary to the wishes of General Washington and the American army, encamped in New Jersey. The prince had his quarters in Hanover square, and skated, according to tradition, on the Collect pond. Colonel Ogden of the First Jersey regiment formed an elaborate and well-natured plan to capture the prince and his admiral and take them into Washington's camp. General Washington approved the plan.

Thought Washington Greatest Man.
"Something seems to have affected the prince favorably toward his country and its first president. He had, throughout life, an extraordinary weakness for making speeches, some of which were not remarkable for their tact. . . . A happier example of his country was afforded when he was king and happened to be entertaining a group of gentlemen which included the American minister. He was 'seized with his fatal habit of making a speech,' and said that it had always been with him a matter of serious regret that he had not been born a free, independent American, so great was his respect for that nation. He said that he considered Washington the greatest man that ever lived.

"Coming as this did from the king of England, compliment could go no further."

The acquiring by the library of a set of "British Army Lists," beginning with the year 1755 and ending with 1842, dates back to the Astor library and the time when Doctor Cogswell, its first librarian, was in Europe "with his princely endowment in his pocket."

"These books," says the Bulletin, "had been the property of William IV, king of Great Britain and Ireland, and of one or another of his sons, and they bear the bookplates of one or more of these personages."

His Faithful Friend.
Louisville, Ky.—Although his family owns three automobiles, Acting Mayor

Kirwan of Louisville sticks to his horse and buggy. Kirwan says: "When I start any place I want to know that I am going to get back, and that's why I am cured of automobiles." The city has a big auto for its mayor, but Kirwan never uses it.

PLAN TO LOWER COST OF MEAT

Federal Department of Justice Starts Campaign of Intensive Education.

URGED TO BUY CHEAPER CUTS

Forequarter Meat, Looked on With Indifference by the Majority of Housewives, Is High in Quality and Nutritive Value.

Washington.—Farmers and stock raisers are indirectly interested in a nation-wide campaign which has just been undertaken by the department of justice to increase consumption of fore-quarter beef cuts.

The general campaign is already under way. Intensive educational efforts began with the "Save Money on Meat Week" in Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, New York, Indiana, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Every farmer who raises beef animals has to produce fore-quarters as well as hind-quarters, and he has to put the same high-priced feed into both.

But city housewives more than ever before have been largely confining their purchases to porterhouse, sirloin and club steaks. If they do buy fore-quarter meat, it is sure to be prime ribs. The uneven demand makes these cuts higher in price, but no matter how high they may go there is no corresponding benefit to the producer, for he cannot confine his production to porterhouse and sirloins. He must make chuck, plate and clod, to which a majority of the housewives are indifferent.

Buy Cheaper Cuts.
The department of justice is trying to interest consumers in these palatable, wholesome cuts of the fore-quarter and thus bring about a more even consumptive demand. The result will be a more even scale of prices and better prices on the whole to the consumers all along the line, while live stock prices will not be affected.

If the department succeeds the producer will have a market among housewives for all his beef. Of course, the department is not directly concerned with any plan to increase beef consumption, for it will have achieved its aim if the distribution of meat is made economical and if consumers are made to see how they can help themselves by studying the different cuts of a beef carcass.

The fact that makes the campaign possible, however, is that beef should actually be an inexpensive food; and as an inexpensive food its use would be greatly increased if an economic demand is developed. Consumers will learn how to get more good beef for less money than before, and the volume of beef consumption will be increased as a direct result.

Will Help Meat Industry.
This is an advantage to the consumer, but hardly less of an advantage to the producer. For a great many years there have been efforts to increase economy of production, but economy of consumption has been neglected. The quality of chucks, clods and other fore-quarter cuts is so high and their nutritive value so great, that the economy preached by the department of justice is entirely sound and bids fair to be a permanent and growing thing.

Between fore-quarter and hind-quarter cuts there has never perhaps been so large a spread as now. A decrease in this spread will be of enormous benefit to the whole meat industry.

BRITISH RAISE SEA TREASURE

$175,000,000 Worth Regained Around the British Isles Since the War Started.

London.—Sunken treasure worth $200,000,000 (about $175,000,000) has been raised since the war began around the British Isles.

The Restorer and the Bellant, two salvaging vessels that were bought by a British concern from the American navy, have a new device, an oxy-acetylene flame, which is worked under water for cutting holes in the sides of submerged vessels.

Each ship has twenty-five electric pumps capable of pumping 1,000,000 gallons of water an hour and carries two divers, searchlights, line-throwing guns, electric welding plants, rock drills and other accessories. Each diver is equipped with a telephone.

The Restorer last year recovered $1,000,000 in gold from two vessels which are now operating off New Haven on the channel coast.

U. S. BOARD HAS 1,387 SHIPS

Director of Operations Says 40 Trade Routes Are Being Served From 18 Points.

New York.—The United States shipping board has 1,387 steamships totaling more than 8,300,000 deadweight tons, of which 1,170 were in actual operation February 1. It was made known here by the director of operations, John Cushing.

These ships are being operated from 18 American ports and are serving 46 trade routes, virtually one-half of the tonnage being assigned to northern European trade. Transpacific trade has approximately 14 per cent of the ships, and South American and West Indian Caribbean service 21 per cent; New York has 36 regular shipping lines.

ITALY WANTS OUR TOURISTS

Government Making Plans to Make Travel Attractive to Americans.

Washington.—The Italian government, according to advices to the department of commerce, is overlooking nothing in its plans for smoothing the way for prospective American tourists. A big influx of American sight-seers, it is held, would go far toward rectifying the present exchange difficulty and, because of the premium on the dollar, Americans would find prices in Italy but a little higher than before the war.

New hotels are planned for various sections and official attention is being given to train schedules.

BULLDOGGING LIONS

Proves to Be Favorite Sport in Santa Barbara Forest.

Bulldogging lions is proving to be the favorite sport in the Santa Barbara forest, California. With five great bloodhounds, valued at $1,000, Stanley R. Graham of Chicago, wild animal hunter and writer; George T. Baker and W. P. Chester, veteran big hunter of Arizona, have received at Santa Barbara and are making ready for a lion hunt back in the Santa Ynez.

A group of lions will be Chester's attempt to hunt and the lion is a lion. If he succeeds he will receive a $1,000 bonus offered by Graham. One of the five dogs brought to hunt lions is "Red," a champion $2,000 lion, once a champion against theft. "Red" has nine litters of pups in Arizona to his credit and many lions.

The lions seldom attack the blood hounds and usually make for a tree. The dogs can outrun the lions and when the lions are winded they seek a tree.

Old Clock Still Running.

A "grandfather's" clock, 169 years old and still ticking strong, has been presented to P. T. Fenns of Riverside Cliff, by Frank A. Tetley, who obtained it sixteen years ago in Pittsfield, Mass. It is said to be one of the oldest examples of the early colonial American clockmaker's skill.
