

WITHIN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS LLOYD GEORGE WILL TELL THE WORLD

Just What His Intentions Are About Resigning ONLY STATEMENT

FROM HEADQUARTERS THAT MEANS ANYTHING IN POLITICAL CRISIS

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 6.—Within twenty-four hours, or at most forty-eight, the world will know definitely whether Premier Lloyd George decided to resign or continue as chief of the coalition government. This is only the only substantial conviction emerging from the tangled contradictory rumors in crisis which engrossed political observers over Saturday and Sunday.

LONDON, March 6.—Premier Lloyd George returned to London yesterday afternoon from Chequers court, where he spent the week end. His only political guest over the week end period he was away was Charles A. McCurdy, chief coalition political whip.

Shortly after arriving at his official residence in Downing street, the premier was visited by Lord Birkenhead, the lord high chancellor, and Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of the colonies. The conference between the trio lasted an hour.

The disposition in political quarters in London seems to be to believe that the climax in the crisis is not likely to be reached before next Tuesday when Arthur J. Balfour is expected to deliver an important speech in London. According to an apparently inspired statement issued yesterday there is no change in the situation.

Lloyd George's offer to resign has been held in abeyance, but not withdrawn. He still is awaiting assurance of the continued loyalty of the unionist party to the coalition government.

The premier points out that candidates are being chosen in various constituencies for the approaching general elections who openly disclaim Lloyd George's leadership, yet receive the approval of Unionist headquarters and he considers it impossible to go on under such conditions. It is further understood that the premier insists, in the event of a general election that there shall be a more equal allocation of seats between the unionists and liberals in the coalition, whereas the unionists claim the preponderance of the seats.

The situation is complicated by the fact that while the Unionist members of the cabinet are earnestly urging the premier not to resign, the coalition members of the government are almost as anxious that he should resign.

They expect to see little prospect of success for the coalition in the general elections, and many of them are anxious to seek a reunion with the Asquith liberals under Mr. Lloyd George's leadership. They admit this solution of the situation presents difficulties but they express the belief that it might be accomplished in time.

There is a growing advocacy here of a postponement of the Genoa economic conference until after general elections are held unless the present crisis is solved in such a manner as to leave the premier with undiminished authority.

HARDING'S JOB IS UNFINISHED MOST TOO BIG

PRESIDENT SAYS HIS ADMINISTRATION IS A RETURN TO NORMAL

WASHINGTON, March 6.—A return to normal ways of government, President Harding declared in an address before members of the National Press club Saturday night, he considers an achievement of his first year in the White House.

If nothing else had been accomplished, the president said, "the long step toward getting back to normal ways of government would seem to me to have been the achievement of the year."

The address was delivered at an entertainment given in honor of his first "official" birthday and to mark the occasion a birthday cake surmounted by "one candle" was presented to him.

"I am not unmindful of the fact," President Harding said, "that my predecessor was ill and that the government was in the drift of the reaction from the war, but," he continued, "problems of readjustment are infinitely more difficult than any of you can imagine."

Mr. Harding said he liked to throw aside the cares of official life and mingle with gatherings like his audience. "If there is one trouble with this white house job," he said, "it is in being a human being."

A president, he said, cannot hold himself aloof and cannot find time to get all the things done he would like to do.

"I never find myself done," he said "I never find myself with my work completed. I don't believe there is a human being who can do all the work there is to be done in the president's office."

"It seems as though I had been president for twenty years," he continued, adding that "life has been so full" in the past year "that there's scarcely any impression of life outstanding before I came to Washington, except one, my viewpoint of the senate compared with what it is today." He emphasized that he did not mean this in any unkind spirit.

There have been some plans which have not been worked out Mr. Harding said in discussing his first year in the white house, and some dreams which have not come true.

"Maybe some fault lies with the executive," he added, "but it can't be all for it's a divided authority."

The president said there were compensations for all the exactions of his office, however, in contributing to "restored order," and in making better the civilization we have inherited.

He asked the support of the newspaper correspondents as molders of public opinion, in his task of making "this republic of ours the best government in the world and the sheet anchor of democracy."

"If we can make it the sheet anchor of democracy," he added "then we have contributed to the current which keeps alive the great stream of civilization."

RIGA, March 6.—A United Front on world problems affecting capital and labor and meeting of all internationalists was recommended by the Executive leaders of the Third International, also today, after two weeks discussion.

WOMEN MUST PAY POLL TAX FOR YEARS 1921 AND 1922

Is a Prerequisite to Voting, Just as in the Case of men—Buford Seeks to End Confusion

TALLAHASSEE, March 6.—Recent by the attention of Hon. Rivers H. Buford, attorney general, was called to a statement in one of the state papers substantially to the effect that under the laws of Florida, women are not required to pay a poll tax for either 1920 or 1921 in order to vote in the elections of this year. The attorney general has written the newspaper in question the following letter which is of timely interest and which will doubtless do much to clear away any uncertainty which may have existed on the subject. The letter, omitting the name and place of publication of the paper, is as follows:

"Tallahassee, March 1, 1922. "Gentlemen—My attention has just been called to the clipping, which I enclose herewith, which I am informed was taken from your paper.

"I do not wish to appear officious but it occurs to me that the statement contained in this clipping may lead to a good deal of unnecessary trouble.

"Under the nineteenth amendment to the federal constitution there can be no difference between the requirements of the law as to the qualification of an elector between male and female voters, and under the law of the state of Florida, all persons between the ages of twenty-one and fifty-five years, except those who have lost a limb in battle, are required to pay poll tax for the two years next preceding the date of the election to become qualified to vote. The law specifically makes an exception to all persons who became eligible to qualify to vote in the year 1920, and provides that such persons shall not be denied the right to vote because of not having paid a poll tax for the year 1920. Under the existing conditions such persons will be required to pay the poll tax for 1921 to qualify to vote in any election in 1922.

"Some persons have assumed that the poll tax was not collectible because there was no law authorizing the assessment of a poll tax against women on Jan. 1, 1921. This position, however, is not correct because it makes no difference under the law whether a poll tax was assessable or not, the payment thereof may be made a prerequisite to the qualification to vote and under our law it has been made a prerequisite and the non-assessability thereof is only recognized as a valid reason for the non-payment when and only when it is not assessed because of the proposed election being not of age, or being over fifty-five years of age, or having lost a limb in battle, or shall have become disabled in the United States army or navy service.

"A man, who moved to the state of Florida in April, 1921, is entitled to register and vote in the June primary this year but it will be necessary for him to pay poll tax to qualify although he was not in the state Jan. 1, 1921, and no poll tax was assessable against him. The same rule applies to all persons, male and female, residing in the state of Florida, who are otherwise eligible to qualify and who became eligible to qualify in 1920.

"Yours very truly, (Signed) "RIVERS BUFORD, "Attorney General."

NO ALLIANCE NEW TREATY NO OBLIGATIONS

TO USE FORCE SAYS SENATOR NEW, REPUBLICAN FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 6.—No alliance in the four-power Pacific treaties nor any obligation to use force, Senator New, of Indiana, Republican member of the foreign relations committee declared today at the opening of the senate discussion of treaties on behalf of the administration. New declared treaties gave safeguards for peace to United States and did not impair American sovereignty.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—A resolution asking President Harding just what effect the ratification of four power Pacific treaty will have on the celebrating Lansing-Ishih agreement between the United States and Japan was adopted today by the senate.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Resolution introduced by Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, one of the treaty opponents, and agreed to without roll call, after a short debate in which Senator Underwood, of Alabama, declared in his opinion the agreement would be wiped out entirely by series of conference treaties.

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—The State is expected to rest today and the defense is to begin its efforts to prove the innocence of Madlynne Obenchain who is on trial here for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy.

REPUBLICANS BROKE FAITH WITH PEOPLE

YEAR WILL BE NOTABLE FOR FAILURE TO PUT THINGS OVER

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 6.—The Republican minority in congress during its three years of control of the government since 1918, and the Republican administration during the past year "have wholly failed to make good their pre-election promises, and to grasp the true economic conditions and apply sound remedies therefor," Cordell Hull, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, declared last night in a statement reviewing the first year of the Republican party's administration of national affairs.

"The patent failure of the chief Republican policies and the astonishing breakdown of the reactionary leadership after March 4, 1921, constitute the chief characteristics of the twelve months of the Harding administration," Mr. Hull declared. "The first year of this administration will always be notable for its failures rather than its successes.

"Having for temporary political advantage, helped to create conditions now so grievously complained of by the people, Republican leaders are stopped from asking to be excused for their failure to remedy them."

Chairman Hull asserted that having defeated in 1919 and 1920 the reconstruction program of the Democrats, the Republicans "are now proposing the same remedies" to restore the country from panic conditions which the program was designed to avoid.

LINDSAY PLAN TO SELL LAND IN OUR STATE

HAD PICTURED RICH PHOSPHATE LANDS IN EVERGLADES

NEW YORK, March 6.—Alfred E. Lindsay, under seven indictments for fleeing society women out of large sums of money, was accused Saturday by his former associate, Dr. Knute Arvid Enlid, of having planned to sell the French government three and one half million tons of phosphates from mines pictured in the Florida Everglades.

Dr. Enlid, indicted Friday for grand larceny, was quoted by Assistant District Attorney Murphy as having said that Lindsay persuaded him to get out of the army in 1919 in order to help carry out the plan. Lindsay did not own the mines at the time, nor the place where they were supposed to be, Dr. Enlid was reported to have said but was confident of financing a scheme to acquire them.

Under this reported scheme, Dr. Enlid, who spoke French was to go to France to conduct negotiations with the Paris government.

Dr. Enlid said he had known Lindsay since 1918, when the broker was a private detective and strike-breaker. He and Lindsay bitterly attacked one another Saturday, Enlid claiming that he cashed certain checks only to take the money to Lindsay, and the broker avowing that he had practically supported Enlid for years.

BEGIN FIGHT TODAY FOR WAGE CUTS FOR RAILROAD EMPLOYEES

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, March 6.—Railroad labor and the nation's largest transportation lines will open their fight over the present scale of wages this morning before the United States Railroad Labor Board. More than 175 roads have placed petitions for reductions averaging 10 per cent before the board, a move which has been met by many groups of employees by counter proposals for wage advances.

Attempts to block the hearings and secure indefinite postponements are regarded likely in railroad circles. The six shop crafts unions, representing 500,000 employees and constituting one of the strongest groups of rail workers, are first on the board's program for the wage hearing. It was said that B. M. Jewell, president of railway employees' department, American Federation of Labor, representing the shipment, would ask postponement of the hearing on numerous technical grounds.

A total of 114 roads will seek the 10 per cent cut for shop workers when the case comes up today, although the shopmen have asked increases on but eighty-five of these roads. This was due it was said to failure to get the employees petitions in on time. The shop men ask an increase of 13 cents an hour over the present scale.

For Any People Convicted of Violating State Liquor Laws IS HARD BOILED

PROHIBITION NAVY WILL SOON BE PATROLLING THE ATLANTIC COAST

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, March 6.—Governor Hardee assured C. W. Crooke, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League that persons convicted of violating the state liquor laws, need expect no pardons or commutation of sentences, it was learned here today. Crooke conferred with Governor Hardee Thursday at Tallahassee.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The prohibition "navy" will be ready for operation in Atlantic coastal waters in search of liquor smugglers some time this month it was declared last night at enforcement headquarters.

Arrangements have been completed officials said, whereby the prohibition bureau is to have the use of submarine chasers not now being used by the coast guard. Nine of these little craft, former navy ferriers, are said to be immediately available for transfer to Dry-Laws commanders.

Prohibition Commissioner Haynes said last night it would take about two weeks to man and equip the subchasers for duty as a prohibition sea patrol but declined to divulge his plans for meeting in their own element the swarms of rum runners, said to infest the Atlantic coast, lest valuable information reach the ears of wily liquor skippers.

It was learned, however, that prohibition authorities contemplate a screen of swift ships operating from Maine to Florida, and in the Gulf of Mexico to prevent the landing of illicit alcohol. Sub-chasers to form the prohibition fleet, officials said, are being loaned by the coast guard as it is unable to commission them for this service because of lack of funds and trained personnel.

The ships are 110 footers and are now scattered at Atlantic coast guard stations but the prohibition authorities have planned to centralize their activities probably basing the main fleet at New York with a strong squadron on duty in Florida waters.

MAN WRITES HE KILLED TAYLOR BECAUSE OF AN OLD FEUD; LEAVING U. S.

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—Captain David Adams, of Los Angeles police department announced Saturday that he had received a letter from a man whose name he refused to disclose, stating that the writer had killed William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, whose recent death has baffled investigators.

The letter, Captain Adams said was written by an educated man and was sent from a city in Connecticut, the name of which he declined to disclose, and made circumstantial statements that filled in precisely with facts developed by the police.

Captain Adams said he would not say definitely that the letter was a genuine confession but he would say that the department put much credence in it, and was making a thorough and quick investigation.

The letter expressed regret that he could not collect the rewards offered for the arrest of the slayer, but announced that the writer was leaving the country immediately. It gave revenge for an old feud as the motive for the shooting of Taylor, and was signed by a name that had not been connected with the previous investigations.

Captain Adams declined to give out any further details and said that he would not show the letter at present.

CHICKEN PILLAU PICNIC

Henry H. Chappell gave a chicken pillau party at his home on Celery avenue last night to the big Sunday School class of the Methodist church that meets every Sunday at the Princess Theatre under the leadership of Dr. Walker. The class is composed of men who belong to the Methodist church and to other churches and some that do not belong to any church but attend the class at the Princess regularly. Mr. Chappell is one of the boys himself and knows that chicken pillau is just about the finest thing in the English language dictionary of cooking and Mrs. Chappell knows how to get the best results in the culinary line. The Chappells were assisted by the good ladies of the Methodist church in preparing for wonderful array of chicken pillau, mashed potatoes, crisp celery, peas, cake and coffee.

It was a dinner composed almost wholly of products of the Chappell farm served in the good old southern style, in the hospitable manner of the Chappell home and with that touch the ladies of the Methodist church know how to give to those affairs and it was enjoyed right down to the last spoonful. About sixty people were served and after they had all eaten until they could not accept any more several of the members of the class were called upon for short talks and the evening was spent most pleasantly and profitably by all present and they left the Chappell home with the feeling that it was good to be members of the Sunday school, to be residents of Sanford and to know Mr. and Mrs. Chappell and the good ladies of the church and last but not least, Dr. Walker, the teacher and preacher and his assistant, Mr. Boyd and all of those earnest workers of the church who are building better than they know in this field that offers so many possibilities and potentialities in this great work for good and the benefit of mankind.

They will not soon forget Henry Chappell's chicken pillau picnic.

WILL TREBLE CAPACITY OF GAS PLANT

Plans are being laid for the enlargement of a big scale of the gas works, now a part of the water and light company, but which will be retained by the Cheney interests after the city takes over the water and light plants, according to an announcement made today by J. Y. Cheney, speaking for the company.

It was reported on the street yesterday that the plant would be sold. "On the contrary," said Mr. Cheney this morning, "we are preparing to enlarge the plant to more than double its present capacity to carry on the work of supplying the city with gas."

To give some idea of the enlargement figured upon Mr. Cheney said the present capacity of the plant is 300,000 cubic feet per day, and this will be increased to more than a million cubic feet a day.

The company, Mr. Cheney declared will expend a considerable portion of the funds representing the sale of the water and electric plants, in the modernizing of this gas plant, with the idea of "catching up with the needs of the city, and anticipating the future growth."

"We purpose," he said, "to be in a position to give the city the utmost service in this field."—Reporter-Star.

MEMBER THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Jacksonville paper says that civilization follows the use of soap and water. In other words where "there's life there's soap."

The most miserable man in Sanford in the one that is inoculated with the virus of selfishness. He ought to take something for his liver and heart.

What a man does for himself dies with him. What he does for his community lives forever, says Herb Felkel of the St. Augustine Record. In that case—well, you know the answer.

There is a city ordinance against driving cars with cut-out open in the city of Sanford but it is not being enforced and there are a lot of dubs chasing round town all times of the day and night making more noise than a dozen thrashing machines. Where is the motor cop and the balance of the police force that they do not stop it?

Lindsay the gilt edge New York broker who skinned so many ladies out of their inheritance and is now in jail was also about to pull off a big swindle in Florida phosphate—although he did not own a foot of Florida soil. Glad he didn't get Florida into it. We would never have heard the last of it from the northern papers.

"Honest John," the last of the big gambling house proprietors of New York, has been pestered by the police until he has quit, and gone to operating in Wall street, the biggest gambling hell of all, where gambling in millions is regarded as perfectly legal, as well as honorable. Moral: If you must gamble, gamble in big figures, and you will be respected, and maybe sent to Congress.—The American Legion.

Bus driver paid no heed to signal of train the other day and his bus load of people were killed. The same thing happens here every week only there has never been a bus load killed. A bus load were injured the other day on Celery avenue but it will not stop the fool drivers from doing the same thing over again next week. The way to stop any recurrence of this accident is to stop the careless drivers from driving any more cars of any kind.

That recent rain and cold spell that struck us Saturday means several hundred thousand dollars saved to the celery growers. Upon such little things hinge the prosperity of the growers but they are not scared or down-hearted. If they lose out on one crop in the Sanford section they make it on another. And the celery growers will make money this year beyond any shadow of a doubt. The cool weather prevailing will keep up prices and keep the celery in fine shape.

A new party is being talked about in the north that will be neither Republican or Democratic but will lean toward independent idea and mostly toward labor unions. We cannot see why labor unions or any people with common sense would want to turn away from the Democratic party or from the teachings of Woodrow Wilson. If any sensible person can pick a flaw in Wilson's tactics or prove that he was not working for the best interests of the people at all times, we are willing to join a new party. But you will have to prove it.

A picture in the northern dailies shows that a snow and sleet storm in Michigan resulted in millions lost in the fruit belts. Florida is most fortunate indeed when it comes to weather. We may lose money by exorbitant freight rates and the juggling of markets but we hardly ever lose anything by weather conditions. Our only trouble here would be the hot weather injuring the celery or lettuce crop and not the cold weather that usually injures other parts of the north and south.

CABBAGE MARKET SICK

Cabbage growers and buyers in Central Florida have been jolted by excessive freight rates, over-production and low northern markets, according to leading operators. S. J. Sligh, of S. J. Sligh & Co., is authority for the statement that in the Sanford section producers are discouraged to the point where they are plowing under cabbage crops rather than accept bids of less than 50c on hampers loaded into the cars. In this connection Mr. Sligh said:

"Cabbage is a drug on the market at all points in the North. Prices received even on low f. o. b. cost hardly cover freight and handling charges at this end. Buyers are able to secure stock at practically their own figures, and cannot get out whole. The crop—a large share of it, at least—is going to waste in the fields. In some sections the growers are plowing the crop under, and we will have a repetition of last year's experience. So far we have heard no definite report on action taken at the Interstate Commerce hearing in Washington on the freight rate issue. We do not believe any action taken will affect this season's crops."—Florida Grower.

CURED BY ADVERTISING

Advertising during periods of lessened demand has proved to be one of the chief means of reducing seasonal unemployment, today a most serious handicap to American industry. Hundreds of thousands of men are laid off annually in the various trades because the sale of goods which they produce is limited to certain months. The President's Conference on Unemployment, in its efforts to formulate plans for reducing nationwide joblessness, has found American resourcefulness already mitigating this even. Inquiries have brought to light for example, that one New York company, which does a large business in dried fruits, by advertising to the consumer has lengthened the season for eating its products.

A Cleveland firm manufacturing men's clothing, in which the styles fluctuate by seasons, has kept up continuous production by standardizing its products and advertising inducements to retailers for accepting deliveries over an extended period, instead of only at the opening of the season.

Another Ohio corporation which makes women's clothing has achieved the same results. It makes models according to carefully laid plans, and by advertising has inspired retailers confidence in its judgment as to the goods and the seasonal demand for them.

A Rochester men's clothing factory fills in dull periods between seasons by making a stock of conservative models, and advertising mid-season sales at prices which cover overhead but have no profit.

Pennsylvania manufacturers of glass formerly a very intermittent industry, have stabilized considerably by lowering prices of goods ordered at certain seasons, and advertising this reduction. Customers have taken advantage of this cut, thus spreading work over the entire year and enabling the makers to keep on their employees.

In Brooklyn a shoe corporation employing thousands now advertise throughout the year instead of only in season, and has induced its customers to cooperate by placing orders when the firm most needs them. They also advertise a staple shoe not subject to seasonal demand, which helps the retailers, as well.

NO FIGHT ON THE RAILROADS.

A few simps here wanting to curry favor with the railroads for some reason or other take exceptions to the "ship by water" movement on the ground that it is a fight against the railroads. As far as the Central Florida Water Traffic League knows there are no railroads and the railroads probably know nothing about the league and care nothing. The league is going right ahead and shipping everything by water and the railroads can either lower their rates or get to cover—it is immaterial which to the average farmer and merchants. For instance if the railroads had been satisfied with $250 a car for cabbage this year they would have hauled hundreds of cars of cabbage out of the state and the cabbage growers would have some money to show for their work. Now the railroads have hauled no cabbage at the exorbitant rate of over $400 and the growers have plowed the cabbage under—a dead loss to growers and railroads. What the Water Advocates want is a better rate from the railroads and a better rate by water in order that the growers of Florida can live. If there is anyone in Sanford or any other part of Florida that can see any objection to the farmers getting a better freight rate, if there is a business man in Sanford who objects to the business men getting a better freight rate, then the objector is evidently getting a salary from the railroads or is tied to them hand and foot. There is no fight on the railroads. The people simply intend to get cheaper rates by water and by railroad than they are getting now even if they are obliged to put in their own boat lines and the millions of dollars—MILLIONS—that are spent every year for high freight rates will build a fleet of ships in a year's time that will carry all of Florida's fruits and vegetables to the eastern markets.

Don't be misled by the bray of any asses. They are simply masquerading in the lion's skin and mean nothing.

THE BOYS AS "RAW MATERIAL"

In these days there is very considerable discussion of the matter of raw material necessary for industrial purposes. Government agency, corporate and individual and organized efforts are put forth for the most practical and the most economical use of raw material entering into manufactured products and into the supplies required by mankind. Of the latter, coal, a product of the earth, comes in for much discussion with reference to its more perfect utilization and its careful conservation in order that the best results may be eliminated. So, with reference to other raw materials, commendable attention is given to the matter of proper use, or employment, to the end that mankind may best be served.

But what about the boys? In a sense, altogether respectful and worthy, they are "raw material." Only this, and most important, that boys have hearts and minds and animate bodies, something not possessed by coal and other material things that are classed as "raw." Is not then this boy "raw material" entitled to and worthy of all possible consideration? Much of such consideration is now being given to the boys, as is right and proper. They need more and more all the time. They always are with us. As the boys of yesterday become the men of today others keep filling the gap. There is no depletion in their ranks. Boys will be here when many other varieties of "raw material" are exhausted. Thus it is evident that boys are a constant and continuing subject for study, for attention and help on their way to manhood.

It is just as true today as it ever was that "As the twig is inclined so will be the tree." Families, churches and schools are doing a vast amount of good work in direction of giving the boys proper inclination, a love for home, for righteousness, for knowledge—all of a character that will enable them to grow into men of the right sort and type—honorable men, of whom the world never has an over-supply.

Everywhere in this country of ours, that manifests so much of practical interest in humanity, boys are receiving attention that has for its most worthy object their proper training leading, we would prefer to say, in order that they may develop into splendid manhood. In the rural sections as well as in the towns and cities this attention is being given by those who appreciate the immortal value that is in the most valuable of all raw materials—the boys.

Club work in the country sections, Boy Scout organizations, Y. M. C. A., and other similar development work is going on, with the ultimate man of real worth as the object of attainment. Is not this work well worth all the time, energy and money employed? Assuredly it is. If the boys of this nation, or of any other, are not worth saving, or developing into strong, sturdy, upright men, what is there in the universe that is worthy of protection of fostering care?

It is, therefore, most commendable to give the boys of today that attention which their importance, their intrinsic value, demands. Whether in the home, the church and the school, or through the agencies already referred to, and to those represented by Rotary and Kiwanis, and kindred organizations of men, this work well and for boys is of the utmost importance. As it is practical so will be the measure of its success.—Times-Union.

PUBLICITY BILL SHOULD PASS NEXT LEGISLATURE

The publicity bill, introduced in the last legislature and fathered by the Florida Press, providing that all financial transactions of cities, counties and other district organizations disbursing public funds should make complete and itemized statements of their expenditures, should pass the coming session of the legislature. And it will pass if the newspaper men of the state endeavor to put it across. The legislative committee of the state press consisting of G. E. Hoamer, Frank K. Anderson, J. E. Worthington, Willis Powell, J. H. Humphries, C. C. Carr, C. E. Mullen, Frank B. Stoneman and R. L. Sweger held a meeting at Tampa just before the press breakfast and will soon begin bombarding the press to get them busy. In the meantime, fellow newspaper men, see the prospective candidates for the legislature in your county and get them to promise to support this measure. It will save the state money in the long run, and at the same time give a little business to the newspapers. We plead with every newspaper man and woman to see to it that no one is elected in this county who is not friendly to this legislation. Another bill classifying what is a legal newspaper, will also probably be presented to the next session of the legislature.—Florida Business Printer.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING NOW LEGAL FOR FARMERS

The Capper-Volstead Bill which recently passed the United States Senate and was signed by the President is being widely heralded in the daily press as an act of Congress which "legalizes cooperative marketing."

Discussions of the bill in the agricultural press vary considerably. Most agricultural editors are inclined to believe it an excellent thing; but appreciate that with or without it the major portion of the established cooperative marketing associations for farm products would have continued their progress and growth.

The main feature of the bill is that it permits of collective bargaining by farmers and growers. That is, farmers' cooperative marketing associations now legally may set a price upon the pooled product of members without violating the Sherman anti-trust law.

Beyond this authorizing of collective bargaining by farmers, the Capper-Volstead bill really grants no powers to cooperative marketing associations that were not previously granted by the state laws of the more enlightened states.

ANOTHER SUPER-HERO OF THE WORLD WAR

JERSEY CITY, March 4.—The war record of a third super-hero, Frank J. Bart, of West Hoboken, is being prepared for a place in the hall of fame, following a ceremony here Thursday night at which the Italian government added another medal to his already generous collection.

Bart's record is believed by officers of the second corps area at Governor's Island to equal those of Sergeant Alvin C. York and Lieutenant Samuel Woodfill.

Bart enlisted in the Ninth regiment at the age of 42, giving his age as 33, after recruiting officers repeatedly told him he was "too old to fight."

And he lifts his customary veil of modesty long enough to remark that he is glad to have a job after fifteen months of pounding the pavements looking for one and never finding any.

He will seek the seat now held by Townsend, Republican, who it is understood will seek re-election.

STATUE ERECTED FOR PALM BEACH PIONEER CITIZEN

WEST PALM BEACH, March 4.—A statue of the late Captain E. J. Dimick, pioneer citizen, developer and legislator of this section, has been unveiled here.

Captain Dimick with his wife and daughter came south from his Indiana home in 1875, stopping at Jacksonville. The following year he was joined by other members of the family and the small party then set out for Lake Worth shores, plying the outside water route.

In this wilderness, however, the party equipped with a mule and a stock of chickens, began its new venture. Tropical fruits came early into the industrial life of the settlers and Captain Dimick went to Bermuda for seed and plants.

Henry M. Flagler came to Palm Beach in 1893 and it was then that he and Captain Dimick established a friendship which lasted over a lifetime. The following year brought the extension of the Florida East Coast Railroad to Palm Beach and the section had its first rail communication with the outside world.

In 1890 Captain Dimick was sent to the state legislature as a member of the house of representative. Six years later he went back as senator to serve two terms.

The statue which was erected by popular subscriptions, bears the inscription: "In honor of the memory of Ellsha Newton Dimick, a pioneer, who served his community well 1849-1919. Legislator, Developer, Friend."

It is a bronze figure portraying the captain and his characteristic posture his cap swinging loosely in hand, and one foot slightly advanced.

JACKSONVILLE MEN WILL PAY VISIT TO FLORIDA CITIES

JACKSONVILLE, March 4.—More than a score of Florida cities have been tentatively placed on the itinerary of a proposed trip of Jacksonville men. The tour, sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce, is planned for the purpose of "getting acquainted," it is announced.

The tentative itinerary follows: Tallahassee, Madison, Live Oak, Lake City, Gainesville, Ocala, Leesburg, Eustis, Tavares, Tarpon Springs, Clearwater, St. Petersburg, Tampa Plant City, Bartow, Lakeland, Kissimmee, Orlando, Sanford, DeLand and Palatka.

A world of good is expected to result from the trip, according to those in charge of arrangements. In the smaller towns, the merchant for the first time, in many cases will meet the Jacksonville manufacturer of jobber. The tour has primarily for its purpose however, the communion of interests in the promotion of a "Greater All Florida" movement, in lieu of sectional antagonism.

BOARDING HOUSE BURNS SEVERAL ARE DEAD OTHERS INJURED

NORFOLK, March 4.—Three persons were burned to death and two others were overcome by smoke in a fire which damaged a three-story boarding house here early today.

The dead are: Helen White, Lem McKinnis, R. M. Hyatt, seaman of the United States navy. Several persons were rescued by the firemen. One woman boarder is missing.

FLORIDA AUDUBON SOCIETY WILL MEET IN JACKSONVILLE

JACKSONVILLE, March 4.—Prominent state and out of state speakers are on the program for the three day convention here beginning March 21, of the Florida Audubon Society, and discussions will not be limited, apparently, to matters coming strictly within the scope of the society. Rather, it seems that the meeting will be much on the order of a gathering of clubwomen at which their activities will be discussed.

The Duval county Federation of Women's Clubs, will be hostess at the meetings. Other local civic bodies invited to participate include the Chamber of Commerce, the Duval Anglers' and Hunters' Clubs, and the Duval county Law Enforcement Committee.

The Audubon Society plans to devote the morning of its second days meeting to the transaction of business.

Speakers on the program for the three days' session include: T. Gilbert Pearson, of New York, president of the National Audubon Societies, and Dr. E. W. Nelson, chief of the biological survey, of Washington. State Senator W. A. McWilliams will address the meeting on state legislation.

Five minute discussions of legislation to be sought by the women are set for the afternoon of March 22.

Mrs. Katherine B. Tippetts of St. Petersburg, is president of the Florida Audubon Society.

GOETHALS IN CHARGE MUSCLE SHOALS PLANT IF ENGSTRUM TAKES IT

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 4.—(By The Associated Press.)—George W. Goethals, former major-general in the army and builder of the Panama Canal, will take personal charge of the development of the government's war-made projects at Muscle Shoals, Ala., in the event the offer of Frederick E. Engstrum, North Carolina shipbuilder and engineer for lease and completion of the Alabama properties is accepted by congress, it was announced yesterday. Mr. Goethals already has agreed it was added to accept the task of completing the great dam at Muscle Shoals, and other projects for Mr. Engstrum.

The announcement of the agreement between Mr. Engstrum and Mr. Goethals was made by Marion Butler, former senator from South Carolina in testimony given the house military committee on the proposal which was under consideration as a competition to those submitted by Henry Ford and the Alabama Power Company.

MISUSE OF ALCOHOL IN FLEISCHMANN PLANTS BRINGS BAN ON USE

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 4.—Orders revoking the industrial alcohol permits of the Fleischmann Company, Inc., of New York and its eleven branch agencies were issued last night by Prohibition Commissioner Haynes.

At the same time prohibition officials in the cities where agencies of the company are located were ordered to seize supplies of industrial alcohol in the plants.

Whether the revocation would interfere with the manufacture of Yeast, prohibition officials last night were unable to say. It was thought however, the alcohol manufactured along with yeast could be allowed to evaporate instead of being conserved as heretofore.

The action was taken on the recommendation of S. F. Rutter, former assistant federal prohibition director for Pennsylvania before whom hearings were held in Philadelphia upon charges of misuse of their industrial alcohol permits by the Fleischmann agencies.

FUME IN HANDS OF REVOLUTIONISTS

(By The Associated Press) ROME, March 4.—Alarming news from Fiume has been received by the Giornale d'Italia, reporting that the Fascist revolutionists are masters of the city and have formed a government, President Zanella and his followers have fled to Buccari, near Fiume.

The accounts received by the paper say that the Zanelli police attempted a sortie from the palace but were repulsed after a sharp fight. A lieutenant of carabinieri was killed and many on both sides were wounded. The revolutionists tried to bombard the palace from an armored boat but were prevented from doing so by an Italian torpedo boat.

The Italian destroyer Mirabello is expected to arrive shortly at Fiume from Pola with landing troops.

RAILROADS DO NOT STAND ONE THIRD OF PAVING

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, March 4.—The Supreme Court has declared unconstitutional, provisions of a charter granted by the legislature to the city of Gainesville which in effect permitted the city to assess the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad for a proportionate share of the entire expense of paving streets traversed by the railroad.

In reaching its decision the higher court reversed the action of the Circuit Court for Alachua county in rendering judgment against the carrier for $20,000 for the paving of a portion of Main Street.

The carrier's tracks extend longitudinally along the street. The railroad voluntarily paid the expense of paving between its tracks and for two feet on each side, but the city, under the provisions of its charter, sought to have it pay a share of the expense for paving the entire width of the street.

The supreme court declared those provisions to be "wholly unwarranted" and an "unwarranted exercise" of legislative power.

STEAMER OSCEOLA KEEPS BUSY BRIDGE TENDER AT JAX

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, March 4.—The steamer Osceola, that piles the St. Johns river is causing the most heralded bridge across that stream at this place, no little trouble with its frequent comings and goings. The bridge has a lift span as a clearance for vessels with high tops, but, it is said, its costly operation to move the span upward and downward, and all Jacksonville's port commerce, the Osceola with its high smoke stack passer under the bridge most.

The city commission wrote Captain W. M. Tupper, skipper of the vessel, about the matter, but Captain Tupper replied that it would cost $10,000 to cut off the smoke stack and install forced draught equipment and so apparently the bridge tender will have to remain on the job.

AIRPLANE TORE UP PATCH OF CUCUMBERS IN ALACHUA

(By The Associated Press) WAUCHULA, March 4.—The aggrieved farmer is still an element in the march of progress. First it was the automobilist who when he returned home by the skin of his teeth related the difficulty he had in settling with an irate farmer for a cow he had run down. Now it's the aviator.

A commercial flyer from Dorr Field made a forced landing in a cucumber patch, here recently. He made three ineffectual attempts to get away and then secured the services of a mule team to pull his machine out of the field to a better starting place. Darkness had come on in the meantime and he remained in town overnight. When he started to leave next morning, he found that the law had taken hold tightly of his plane.

The machine wasn't moved either until Captain Maynard came over from Dorr Field and settled for the damages to the cucumber grove. The plane itself did no little damage to the grove, and the spectators it attracted did the rest.

AFRICAN GOLF PLAYER CARRIED LIVE FROG AROUND FOR LUCK

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, March 4.—Lady Luck's benevolent smile gives way to unrelenting wrath when her Royal Highness is symbolized by such a worldly thing as a frog, in the opinion of Willie Johnson, negro. Neither is the lese majeste mitigated by enfolding the frog in a silken handkerchief of gaudy hues.

Johnson was arrested, with 16 other negroes, in a dice game in a box car on the outskirts of the city. Officers in searching the negroes' pockets, came across a bulgy affair wrapped in a handkerchief in possession of Johnson. It was put aside, momentarily, as they continued their pursuit of evidence. And then the bulgy affair showed signs of life; the silk of many colors unfurled and the frog hopped forth. It was Johnson's turn to talk. He had placed great faith in it as a talisman, he explained he had treated it royally but the firmisternal ingrate had done him wrong.

CAMDEN, Ala., March 4.—Following a heavy rain storm and tornado which passed over this section Thursday night, a logging train of the Vardenburg Lumber Company was wrecked yesterday morning and three negroes were killed and three negroes and one white man injured. Three negro children were injured when the storm overturned a house. Two tenement houses at Koy and one at Nellie were blown down by the wind.

SHIPPING BOARD PAID ITS WAY DURING PAST MONTH SAYS THE CHIEF

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Joseph W. Powell, who retired as president of the Emergency Fleet Corporation of the United States Shipping Board yesterday announced that for the first time in the history of the shipping board the ship operating expenses for February were less than the operating revenues. Since last July when he assumed office, he added, the shipping board has disposed of $20,370,000 worth of property.

The February figures for ship operation Mr. Powell said, showed that approximately $6,500,000 was taken in by the managing operators on shipping board accounts and that the expenditures were $6,400,000.

JACKSONVILLE HOTEL LOOTED BY ROBBERS IN FACE OF LOUNGERS

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, March 3.—Guests and loungers in the lobby of a small hotel here last night, and even the proprietor in his place behind the desk, moved aside to permit a gang of thieves load everything in their sight on to a motor truck. Ignorant larceny was in progress, according to the police reports today. The thieves escaped with all the loot.

DIES WHILE DRIVING AUTO IN CITY STREET

JACKSONVILLE, March 4.—James P. Carter, 65, salesman, for F. Morrow and Son, died at the wheel of his touring car here yesterday while approaching the intersection of Phelps and Ionia streets. The car came to a stop after it had gone half across the southwest corner of the street intersection and jammed against a pile of paving brick. Physicians said death was caused by heart failure and the authorities decided an inquest was unnecessary. Mr. Carter, who came to Jacksonville six years ago from Shelbyville, Ind., leaves a wife and daughter, the latter Mrs. H. W. Fleming of this city.

PRE-COOLED CELERY

The first celery shipped out under the newly established pre-cooling system in Sanford was sent out by the Sanford Farmers' Exchange on Tuesday. This is believed to be the first important lot of celery ever moved under the pre-cooling method. The carload was made up of 300 crates. Cost of pre-cooling and destination were withheld. It is believed, however, that any added expense will be made up in the larger returns received for the product. The movement of celery has shown a considerable increase in the period under review. It is estimated by factors in the Sanford-Monroe section that upwards of 500 carloads have gone out in the last seven days, and that stock out and ready for shipment will easily increase that total to 650 carloads. The movement from the state to February 20 is given as 1,050 carloads, compared to 1,244 carloads to February 23 last year. In the period covered by March last season, a total of 1,765 carloads of celery went out of the state. Of this amount the Sanford-Monroe section was credited with 1,360 carloads. It is the opinion among shippers that in the March period to come the movement will be around 1,500 carloads from the Sanford district. While easier on small counts, the f. o. b. market is in good shape and a trifle higher on field run of stock than was the case a week ago. Operators and speculators have run the market up to $2.50 a crate field run of sizes, and on some acreage up to $2.00 and $2.75 has been paid. This is where the average on counts is largely from 3s to 6s. There has been a little falling off on 8s and 10s and these counts are available at 50c discount on 8s and $1 on 10s. The opinion among shippers on the outlook is unfavorable on small counts, but strong on 3s and 4s. In this connection a well known New York buyer had this to say in an interview with the Florida Grower correspondent on Tuesday:

"I find an easier tone in the f. o. b. celery market on small sizes and green stock. This week weather conditions have been a little unfavorable for 'blenching' celery and much stock has had to be shipped out more or less green in color. This, together with extreme cold in the North, has interfered with distribution, and the wires report a falling off in price on the average receipts. In my opinion, this is a temporary condition only. In the Sanford section the general f. o. b. market is $2.35 to $2.65 a crate, with a substantial premium on buyers' selection of sizes. On counts 3s, 4s and 6s stock was bought early in the week at $2.50 to $2.75 a crate for the New York market. Counts 8s and 10s do not seem to be wanted. "Celery in carload lots has been shipped into California, but this is not a condition of great importance to Florida shippers except that it indicates a good deal of damage was done to the California crop in the late freeze. It does mean, however, that other markets throughout the country will be forced to call upon the Florida crop to supply a deficiency. In my judgment the crop should be moved out at a smaller rate of progression than is now the case. Growers in the Manatee and Winter Garden sections are shipping more freely than is usual at this time of the year. Everyone seems anxious to clean up, while if they would hold back the northern markets would be relieved and prices would pick up."—Florida Grower.

Down to 74 yesterday and this morning when our weather man caught the last flicker from the weather stethoscope and 74 means so much to the celery growers and others right now. Sanford could not have any better weather if they had it made to order. It is fine, grand and glorious and everyone living here should give thanks for the joys of living in such a favored spot. There are a few belly-achers though, who probably are kicking this morning because the freeze failed to get here and ruin a lot of people just because "they told you so."

IN MEMORY OF MISS EDNA PAGENHART.

How cold and dreary the world seems now, dark, how desolate, how lonely, since the light of our life has forever gone out; since death has claimed Edna for its own, the cozy little home once so cheerful and so bright, in darkness and gloom is shrouded today, only the touch of her little hands now linger. No more will we see her; no more will she greet us, till in Heaven we meet her. We miss her, yes we miss her, but we can never forget her. Dear mother and father weep not for your darling Angel. She has only gone to a land beyond earth's vision. She is gone and vain is our imploring, not for a moment would we stay her going or would we call her back. Her spirit hovers near you, and whispers in accents soft and low, "I'm happy now within the Heavenly portals." Not now, but in the coming years, it may be in a better land we'll read the meaning of our tears and then sometime we'll understand. We'll know why clouds instead of sunshine were over many a cherished plan.

Something in Bill's mind seems to snap, Mr. Barrymore here rises to magnificent heights of artistry. He flings the locket on the floor, stamps on it, crushes the letter, tears his prison bed from its fastening on the wall, and then savagely attacks the cell door.
