

'Four-Fifths' On Ballot? Commission Cool To Idea

Many Seminole County residents would like a chance to vote on reinstating the four-fifths vote requirement for the County Commission to change the land-use plan, according to Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff.

Putting this issue on the November 1982 ballot would require a three-fifths majority vote by the Seminole County Commission. Kirchhoff received a lukewarm reaction to the idea from the other four commissioners when he resurrected the issue at Tuesday morning's meeting.

Until Nov. 24, a specific amendment to the county's comprehensive land-use plan required approval from at least four of five commissioners. On that Tuesday evening, after nearly two hours of public comment on the issue was heard, the commission voted 4-1 to change the four-fifths requirement to a simple three-fifths majority vote by commissioners.

Kirchhoff was the lone commissioner to vote against the proposal. Commissioners Bob Sturm, Robert G. "Bud" Feather, Barbara Christensen and Sandra Glenn voted for the three-fifths vote.

Prior to the vote, Seminole and Hillsborough County shared the distinction of being the only counties in Florida requiring a four-fifths majority among commissioners to change the land-use plan.

Hillsborough now is the only county in Florida with that requirement.

Opponents of the four-fifths requirement called it "minority rule." People who spoke out against it at the Nov. 24 meeting, mostly realtors-estate brokers, developers and large land owners, said the four-fifths requirement effectively gave two commissioners the power to veto a proposed land-use plan amendment. Those who favored the four-fifths vote said it gave an extra measure of protection to Seminole County residents. With four out of five commissioners favoring the proposal, people could be relatively certain the development concept was sound, four-fifths vote proponents said.

After the Nov. 24 vote, Kirchhoff said several people asked him how many petition signatures were required to bring the four-fifths vote question to a countywide referendum. Kirchhoff checked with County Attorney Nikki Clayton, who told him a "simple majority vote by the commission would put the issue on the November ballot.

"Shouldn't the other important issues like (requiring a four-fifths vote on) the budget be put on the ballot too?" Feather said Tuesday. "I would consider it (a referendum on the four-fifths vote requirement for land-use plan amendments) if it was included with a requirement for a four-fifths vote on the millage too."

Feather said the county's budget was the most important issue the commission dealt with. People put the highest priority on how their tax dollars are spent, he said.

After the meeting, Kirchhoff said he disagreed with Feather's statement. "Land-use decisions are irrevocable," he said. "The budget can be changed every year."

Sturm and Mrs. Christensen said they were not approached by anyone who wanted to see the four-fifths vote question come to a countywide vote.

If people are aware the commission is responsible for bringing the question to a referendum, commissioners will be hearing from their constituents soon, Kirchhoff said.

The commission postponed a decision on the matter until it could better evaluate which issues might be brought up for a referendum.

THEY CAN DIG THIS

Tuesday morning marked a banner day for the city of Longwood. The city's first gray water treatment system was installed at the construction site for a new home on Mendez Way in the Columbus Harbor subdivision. A gray water system is designed to treat water which has been used by household appliances such as a dishwasher and send it back into the ground to recharge the water supply, rather than running the treated water through a regular drainage system. Longwood was designated by the state Legislature as one of the official test sites for the new system. Homeowners who install the system will receive a $1.50 monthly discount on their sewer fees, bringing the cost from $9 to $7.50. A $100 discount will be applied to the initial sewer tap fee for builders who install the system, according to Longwood City Administrator David Chacey. From left, Mayor John Hepp, Chacey and City Commissioner Steven Uskert make their contributions to the groundbreaking ceremony.

Sales Tax

City, County Officials Push For Hike

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

City and county officials are seeking a new revenue source—an increased sales tax—from the Legislature during its 1982 session.

After a meeting of the board of directors of the Florida Association of County Commissioners (SACC) Monday, SACC and the Florida League of Cities (FLC) decided to attempt to form a coalition to get an increase in the state sales tax, with the resulting revenue earmarked for return to the two units of government for property tax relief.

Seminole County Commissioner Sandra Glenn, who attended the SACC statewide meeting in Tallahassee, said today that a task force of 10 of-officials, five from each organization, were named to push the program.

At a meeting of the House Appropriations Committee Monday

The city of Sanford's position calls for a one-cent sales-tax increase.

afternoon, Mrs. Glenn said, Orlando Mayor Bill Frederick spoke for the FLC, telling the legislators of the problems local government has had in raising sufficient revenues and of the effect growth has had on city government.

Mrs. Glenn said State Rep. Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, a member of the Appropriations Committee, specifically questioned whether the FLC and the SACC have a uniform position.

Mrs. Glenn said the 10-member task force in the next few weeks will be trying to work out a uniform position to ask for a uniform amount of sales tax increase and a funding formula.

She said the major questions which the task force must answer are: What will be funded under the sales tax increase, what amount of property-tax relief will be given, and how the revenues will be distributed among the cities and counties.

The FLC position, supported by the city of Sanford, calls for a one-cent increase in the sales tax with the revenues split among city and county government, according to population. The FLC also would like 70 percent of the revenue for property tax relief.

The Lake Mary City Council opposes a tax increase, while the city of Altamonte Springs delayed a decision this week until a funding formula can be reached.

Rumors in Tallahassee are that the tax, if authorized by the Legislature, would be for a two-year period only. And the question remains, Mrs. Glenn said, as to whether the increase would be approved if the matter were put to a referendum.

Board Hears Polk's Request

Pay Hikes: No Decision

By LEE DANCY
Herald Staff Writer

A significant difference between requests from the Seminole County Public Safety and Sheriff's departments for employee salary increases lies in the amount of time it takes each department to fill a vacancy, according to County Commissioner Barbara Christensen.

Sheriff John Polk appeared before the commission Tuesday to present his plan for upgrading the salaries of his deputies, sergeants, lieutenants and captains. The commission postponed any immediate decision in order to further evaluate the sheriff's requests.

Polk's initial request involved securing a five percent cost-of-living increase for his employees at a total cost of $153,101. The sheriff also wants his communications workers' salaries upgraded at a cost of $19,913, and pay hikes for his sworn officers to the tune of $142,373.

County Office of Management and Budget Director Eleanor Anderson is skeptical about the availability of funds for the sheriff's proposal.

Polk said there are no line items he can snip from his budget.

Mrs. Anderson said raises for the Sheriff's Department might be more easily managed after the county's mid-year budgetary review.

If the sheriff's monetary requests are approved by the commission, the money would come from the county's general contingency fund, which was fattened slightly when $18,718 was added after an oversight in the budget making process, Mrs. Anderson said.

The Office of Management and Budget is recommending only $11,656 be appropriated for pay upgrades in communications. It also recommends trimming the request for sworn officers to $91,529.

The commission asked County Administrator Roger Neiswender to evaluate the sheriff's requests and meet with Polk prior to the Dec. 22 meeting. Polk agreed at the meeting to settle for salary increases comparable to those granted public-safety workers.

Neiswender and Polk were charged with the responsibility of devising a chart showing comparisons between job classifications in the Sheriff's and Public Safety departments. The chart will be used for devising equitable salary-increase comparisons between sheriff's employees and public-safety workers.

No Second Access Road For Altamonte Toy Store

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

Both sides are satisfied following Tuesday night's unanimous decision by the Altamonte Springs City Commission to deny an appeal by the Toys R Us store to have a second access road onto Haines Avenue. The store's request previously was rejected by the city's Planning Board.

The 40,000-square-foot store, when constructed, will be situated on 6.9 acres of undeveloped property off State Road 436, south of the Altamonte Mall and between Hattaway Drive and Essex Street. Its primary access is onto SR 436.

Following more than an hour debate on the issue, about 40 to 50 residents of Escondido condominium, Barkley Woods and Royal Arms apartments applauded the commission for its action.

The residents present at the meeting expressed their concerns over allowing traffic access onto Haines Avenue, fearing increased traffic congestion, noise pollution and environmental deterioration of the area would result.

On the other hand, a Winter Park lawyer, James Covington, representing the store, said he is satisfied with the commission's decision because "now we can build. Without another access for public-safety vehicles we couldn't start; now we've got it."

As an alternative to providing free-flow access to and from the store onto Haines Avenue, the commission agreed with

Commissioner Cheney Colardo's motion to allow an access onto Haines which will be blocked by a guardrail enabling only public-safety vehicles access to the area in case of an emergency.

When the undeveloped property west of the store and adjacent to Essex Street is developed, city planners intend to have the store's traffic flow routed onto Essex Street as well as SR 436.

According to Jon Martin, city community development director, and a traffic engineer hired by the store and currently working on the city's transportation study, having only one access onto SR 436 could force store delivery trucks to make dangerous U-turns on an already heavily congested state road. The state Department of Transportation has twice rejected the store's request for two SR 436 access points.

Martin said the store will generate about 3,000 vehicle "trip ins" per day. A "trip-in" includes arriving at and departing from the area, "or about 1,500 round-trip visits," he said.

"This proposal provides considerably less traffic than other proposals for development of the property," City Manager Jeff Etchberger said. "Toys R Us has exceeded every request by the city, and that is unique for developers."

Etchberger said the store was asked to preserve a 10-foot buffer from the edge of the road to the store to preserve trees and keep the area environmentally attractive. He said the store "has more than complied" in allowing for a 21-foot buffer.

The city also asked the store to install a drainage system to prevent any drainage problem with surrounding residential areas. Toys R Us complied by planning a "highly sophisticated percolation system which the city engineer feels is an excellent, superior system," Etchberger said.

"Toys R Us has been more than responsive to city requests on all these issues," he added.

"We just don't want Haines Avenue to be a commercial road, allowing the store's trucks to run up and down them," said Alfred Van, an Escondido condominium resident, at the meeting.

"Those diesel trucks aren't so quiet either," Frank Kaiser of Escondido added. "Opening that road up for the store will only cause more traffic congestion, noise, and a safety hazard to people in the area and to drivers trying to make that steep grade on the road."

In reply to the deluge of residents' remarks concerning increased traffic, Commissioner Lee Constantine said he too lives in the area and knows the existing situation and potential traffic problems.

"Let's be blunt, though," he said. "We can't put anything in here that isn't going to impact on Escondido and the other surrounding complexes." He added that Mrs. Colardo's alternative best suits the area's current traffic-flow problems.

NATION IN BRIEF

Congress Adjourns Today; Democrats Try To Regroup

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 97th Congress headed for the final adjournment of its first session today, with Social Security legislation, a new farm program, a foreign-aid bill, and a black-lung benefits measure the last major items on the agenda.

For harried Democrats, the adjournment can't come too soon. For nearly the whole year they were mangled by the charisma of President Reagan and by the ability of Republican congressional leaders to hold their own and attract enough Democrats to gain victory on the big votes.

Reagan Threatens Warsaw

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan has sent a stern message to the Polish Communist Party leadership: The use of violence against Polish citizens will have "extremely grave consequences."

Having preached non-intervention for months and having warned the Soviet Union to stay out of Poland's affairs, the administration Tuesday injected the United States directly into the dispute and placed it at odds with Polish authorities.

Viet Vets Seek Answers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Four Vietnam veterans headed for Hanoi today seeking answers from their former enemies about the effects of the chemical herbicide Agent Orange and the fate of 2,500 GIs who never returned from the jungles of Southeast Asia.

Inmates Out For Holidays

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Thugs will be romping on Alabama rooftops this holiday season instead of Prancer and Dancer if a federal judge's order releasing 352 inmates three days before Christmas is allowed to stand, the state's chief prosecutor has warned.

Attorney General Charles Graddick said he would file a motion today to challenge U.S. District Court Judge Robert Varner's authority to free the inmates. Graddick said he would object to the release of the prisoners, some of them convicted murderers and rapists.

Lake Mary Council To Discuss Alley

The Lake Mary City Council, at a 7:30 p.m. meeting Thursday, will hold a public hearing to consider a petition to vacate and abandon a 20-foot-wide dedicated alleyway in the Lakeview Avenue-Wilbur Avenue area.

The meeting will be held at City Hall, 158 N. Country Club Road.

The abandonment was recommended by the city's Planning and Zoning Commission.

Adjacent property owners Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Leidigh and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Long requested that the 594-foot-long alleyway be abandoned because it is not opened and not used.

Under the law, if the city abandons title to the alleyway its ownership will revert to adjacent property owners. The Planning and Zoning Commission during its public hearing determined that no city or other utility lines are located in the alleyway.

The only other items on the meeting agenda are routine reports.

Sanford Man Jailed For Hot Ring Sale

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

A Sanford man is being held in the Seminole County jail on $5,000 bond after he was arrested at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday and charged with dealing in stolen property.

Curtis Posley Jr., 27, Dixie Avenue, was arrested by sheriff's deputies after they received a "tip" from someone at the Deluxe Bar, Southwest Road, Sanford, who said there was a man at the bar "showing off" a diamond ring.

According to John Spolski, sheriff's department spokesman, when deputies approached the suspect the man said he found the ring. Spolski said the ring was similar to one stolen Dec. 9 from a clerk at the Drift Inn, located on Beardall Avenue, Sanford.

Deputies said Linda Morton, who reported the theft of her ring and cash from the Drift Inn earlier this month, later identified the diamond wedding ring as hers.

ARSON ATTEMPT

A recent fire at a Longwood business center appears to be the work of an arsonist, investigators said today.

According to Seminole County sheriff's deputies, someone set papers afire at the entranceway of Longwood physician Howard Buchoff's office, 695-B Douglas Ave., Douglas Square Professional Center, 1499 W. State Road 434 sometime between 4:30 p.m. Friday and 8:55 a.m. Monday. The fire partially burned the office door and scorched a small section of carpet causing about $350 damage.

Deputies said the door hinges had also been tampered with and were partially loosened.

Fire investigators said burnt paper and ashes were found at the door's base.

surveillance of her home while she was away, someone broke into Bera Woodall's home at 702 W. 3rd Street and caused about $200 damage.

According to Sanford police, Mrs. Woodall's residence was entered after someone broke a window in the front door. Once inside, the perpetrators poured wall putty powder all over the stove and kitchen floor. Police said the vandals also placed a piece of plywood in a broken bedroom window and took a nap. The incident occurred sometime between Thursday and 4 p.m. Monday.

BURGLARS HIT CHURCH

Burglars broke into the Sanford Christian Church, 137 W. Airport Blvd., Sanford, between Nov. 29 and Dec. 2, stealing two of the church's vacuum cleaners.

According to sheriff's deputies, the thieves entered the church through the Sunday School building by breaking a window. Once inside, they stole the vacuums valued at $525.

COURT ACTION

It worked out to about $2,540 a year. A Tampa longshoreman conned a 78-year-old Altamonte Springs widow out of $12,700 over a year ago and this week was sentenced in Circuit Court in Sanford to five years in state prison for the crime.

Tom A. O'Hara, 40, was also placed on 15 years probation after pleading guilty July 6 to grand theft, extortion, and impersonating a police officer.

O'Hara won't even start serving that sentence, however, until he has completed a 21-year prison sentence imposed in Lake County involving similar charges.

O'Hara's troubles started on Nov. 4, 1980 when he and another man posed as police officers investigating the Malta and convinced Alice Haughton to turn over $12,700 to them for use in their probe.

Mrs. Haughton discovered she had been swindled when she unwrapped a package supposedly containing her savings and found it to be filled with strips of newspaper.

Two days later, O'Hara pulled a similar scam in Lake County, flummoxing an elderly Leesburg couple out of $3,000.

A second suspect in both cases, Oscar Thrash Jr., 41, of Tampa, is being sought by police.

In other court action, Beverly A. Stokes, 26, of Midway, was sentenced to five years probation after pleading guilty to a charge of unemployment compensation fraud. She admitted to receiving $240 in state benefits in May 1979 while employed at Florida Electronic and Transformers.

— Romie Hadden, 45, Sanford, resisting arrest with violence, two years probation.

— Loren Elisha Bailey, 34, Altamonte Springs, forgery, 10 weekends in the Seminole County jail and five years probation.

— David Shannon Sayne, 18, Casselberry, two years in prison and two years probation for robbing the Park Federal Savings and Loan Association in Oct., 1980.

TV SHOP ROBBED

Burglars broke into a south Seminole County business and stole an undetermined number of television sets and video recorders.

According to sheriff's deputies, the burglary of Associated Television, 1815 N. Orlando Ave., Maitland, may be related to a similar robbery in Casselberry recently.

Upon their arrival, deputies found a rear door broken open, possibly having been rammed by a vehicle.

An operator with the Orlando-based alarm company which monitors the business told deputies she heard three male voices over her monitor and that the voices were recorded on tape. The operator said the men were in the building for only about two minutes.

A Doll That Gives Birth

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — It was inevitable that the anatomically correct doll would be followed by the functionally correct doll — a rag doll that gives birth to a tiny baby doll.

They come in two styles — one that gives birth naturally and another that delivers by Caesarean section.

Jan Alovus says she designed the first of her dolls in 1977 for the young son of a friend who was having problems figuring out how his impending sibling would arrive.

The idea was so well-received that other friends requested a human doll. From that small beginning in a rural area of Central Tennessee near Celina came Natalie, the rag doll with a tiny baby inside, attached to a detachable umbilical cord, that can be delivered in exactly the way a real baby comes into the world.

Natalie is bought mostly by educators, hospital auxiliaries and health-related groups for fund-raising purposes.

But a national magazine (Ms.) recently endorsed it as a toy for Christmas.

Ms. Alovus, 35, a free-lance art consultant and art teacher, does not recommend the 22-inch fabric doll for public school classrooms. But she would like to see a lending library of dolls established where people could check educational-type dolls in and out like books.

Kids that benefit most, she said in an interview Monday, are those who don't know how to "read a picture" and are about to have a sister or brother.

Mrs. Alovus, the mother of two small boys, moved to Tallahassee a year ago and is working on a guide to help parents decide how best to introduce the pregnant doll to children.

It is strictly a cottage industry, she said.

"I don't expect to make a lot of money and this is not my principal business. I'm not trying to prove anything, but to make something available to people who want it and adults to take to groups who need it to help children deal with a subject that is often difficult for parents to explain and children to understand," she said.

She sells the dolls or do-it-yourself kits at wholesale prices, giving discounts for large quantities.

People learn about Natalie by word of mouth from birth groups and small articles in birthing magazines.

"It isn't a doll children will play with a long time," she said. "Most play with it a while, then put it away."

Altamonte Tables Proposed Tax Hike

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

Believing that "a penny saved is a penny earned," the Altamonte Springs Commission unanimously decided Tuesday night to "postpone indefinitely" supporting a proposal for an additional one-cent sales tax.

"We were screaming fiscal responsibility during the campaign recently and I feel we should continue to be fiscally responsible," Commissioner Cheney Colardo said. Mrs. Colardo said she does not feel any additional sales tax should be levied against Altamonte Springs residents, asking "Why should our people have to pay for other cities services to their people?"

The tax is being proposed by the Florida League of Cities, a lobbying group for Florida municipalities, as a means of reducing property taxes. However, the proposal, one of six currently before the state Legislature, does not indicate how the extra tax-generated revenue will be divided among cities, counties, law enforcement, transportation and education.

The league proposal also includes a mandatory property tax rollback during the first year of implementation. "I find it somewhat deceptive to run this in the guise of property tax relief," Mrs. Colardo said. "Once its there, it's there forever. They're not going to repeal a sales tax."

Mrs. Colardo added she is concerned that if one-cent sales tax is imposed and property taxes are relieved for the year, "there is always the possibility it'll be turned around after that and taxes will go back up."

Calling the league's proposal "vague," Commissioner Lee Constantine admitted it would be "nice" to be able to roll back the property taxes but "the proposal is not specific enough as to who will receive the tax-generated funds."

In arguing for the tax hike, City Manager Jeff Eichberger warned commissioners, "This is a decision for the future and I urge you to look down the road."

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Slain State Trooper Was Victim Of Ambush

TAMPA (UPI) — A Hillsborough County sheriff's deputy, whose bullet-riddled body was found sprawled in the rain between his van and his house in a rural area near Thonotosassa, apparently was ambushed, officials said.

Investigators said Cpl. Lemon Harvey, 34, had gotten off work as a patrol supervisor at 11 p.m. Monday. His body — still clad in his uniform and bulletproof vest — was found by children walking to a school bus stop Tuesday morning.

No-Fault Decision Delayed

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The House Insurance Committee has postponed until January a decision on whether to continue no-fault auto insurance in Florida.

Road Board To Be Revived?

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Legislature appears determined to resurrect the old state road board even though its abolition was considered one of the key reforms in a massive 1980 government reorganization act.

The House Transportation Committee Tuesday approved a proposal already endorsed by its Senate counterpart to replace the state transportation secretary with a seven-member commission.

Parole Board Gets Reprieve

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Rep. Tom Bush has backed off a drive to abolish the Parole and Probation Commission now that his former partner in the campaign has joined the agency.

Bush, of Fort Lauderdale, said Tuesday he has withdrawn a plan to abolish the commission in 1983. He offered a new bill providing for a full Sunset review in 1984 of the commission's performance, with the panel being abolished at that time if the action is warranted.

Soviet Planes In Poland; Troops Root Out Strikers

United Press International

Soviet transport planes landed in Poland today and Polish army tanks pushed into the solidarity stronghold of Gdansk to root out defiant union strikers, reports from Warsaw said. The military government said union leader Lech Walesa was broken and weeping.

The arrival of the Soviet aircraft — reported in a BBC broadcast from Moscow quoting diplomatic sources — came a day after a Soviet official said the Kremlin was ready to send troops to Poland to help restore order. It was unclear, however, whether the Soviet planes carried soldiers.

Moscow Blasts U.S. Policy

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union charges the U.S. cutoff of food aid to Poland is an attempt to use economic pressure on the Warsaw Pact and says America should keep its hands off the Kremlin's crisis-ridden Communist neighbor.

The Soviet news agency Tass also accused the United States of mounting a propaganda campaign to encourage open rebellion against Poland's new military rulers.

Ballots Available For Dec. 22 Runoff

Absentee ballots for the Dec. 22 runoff election in Lake Mary are now available at City Hall, said City Clerk Connie Major.

Mrs. Major noted that city voters who cannot come to the polls on election day may vote absentee. Absentee ballots must be returned to City Hall before 7 p.m. on election day.

Candidates on the ballot for the runoff election are: Councilman Ray Fox, being challenged in his bid for election to a second term by Bill Durrenberger; and Councilman Gene McDonald, opposed in his try for a second term by Bob Stoddard.

3 Applicants For Fire Chief Advance

Three of the seven applicants for Casselberry fire chief will advance to the second stage of the selection process following certification of their Civil Service Board last scores last week.

According to Aida D'Ercole, city personnel supervisor, retired New York City fire lieutenant Paul Algeri of Oviedo, Tampa fire captain Hector Castro and Richard Kolb of Ocala, senior fire instructor with the Florida Fire College in Ocala, were the top three scorers in the test given Friday at City Hall.

"Now I will set up interviews with the candidates," Mayor Owen Sheppard said. "They will be interviewed by me, (City Clerk) Mary Hawthorne and Fire Administrator Ken Gaines. Following the interviews I will make an appointment."

The fire chief position was vacated in October by Gaines, who is currently serving as part-time fire administrator. He resigned to accept a firefighter position with the Orange County Fire Department, along with several other city firefighters, citing low morale and better career opportunities as his reasons for quitting.

David Halstead, Orlando, a fire lieutenant in Altamonte Springs, also passed the Civil Service Board examination. However, only the top three scorers advance to the interview stage, Mrs. D'Ercole said.

Among those who applied but did not pass the examination are Roy LaBontas Sr. of Casselberry, a former Casselberry fire chief; Gilbert Ogilvie of Sanford, who worked with the Naval Training Center fire department in Orlando; and Gaspar Palmisano of Pinalas Park, a fire lieutenant in St. Petersburg.

A Weird Sort Of Body Shop

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — A newcomer to Veda Mannequins might think he had stumbled onto the set of a Fellini film or a new chain-saw massacre movie.

Nude bodies are everywhere. In one corner, a masked woman uses a hacksaw to cut through a head. Another woman walks by pushing a cart loaded with armless children.

"Anyone walking in here is more or less awed by the whole thing," said Frances Tanz, whose mother, Veda Humphrey, formed the company that specializes in refurbishing and updating mannequins.

"Sometimes we'll be picking them up at stores and have to lay them on the sidewalk while we're loading the car," said Mrs. Tanz. "Everybody always has something to say as they walk by."

Mrs. Humphrey, 70, had painted mannequins for a company that moved out of the area. She began offering the same service to local stores, and set up shop in her home in 1950 to meet a growing demand. Her first employee was her cleaning lady, Verneeda Himes, who still works for the company.

"We have about 300 clients," said Mrs. Tanz. "They may have a mannequin that needs only an arm or leg replaced, or sometimes a whole makeover."

"We can make them look like new with new eyelashes, a new wig and complete facial decor."

"We had a guy come in here with no facial features at all — he had been dropped. We gave him a whole new personality."

Mannequins have changed quite a bit since Mrs. Humphrey first began working with them. The old plaster ones were quite heavy and did not have moveable limbs, while the new models are made of much lighter plastic and fiberglass.

"They're easier to move and easier to dress," said Mrs. Tanz. "They also come apart at different places in the middle in order for the girl models to wear bikinis and other types of clothing."

"The faces and hairstyles have changed quite a bit, of course, and we seem to be getting a greater demand for running figures for sports. The older ones were very stiff."

About NATO's Southern Flank

Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger's recent stops in Italy and Turkey were pointed reminders that NATO's southern defenses need shoring up, and that the Reagan administration intends just that.

In Ankara recently, Secretary Weinberger and Turkish Defense Minister Haluk Bayulken announced creation of a joint planning group charged with expanding and improving defense cooperation between the two countries. The new planning staff portends a likely increase in U.S. military aid to Turkey, currently running at about $400 million per year.

There can be no doubt that Turkey's highly disciplined but ill-equipped armed forces are in need of substantial aid. The 470,000-man Turkish army is the largest in NATO, but also the most poorly armed. Many of its weapons are of 1960s vintage. The ill-advised U.S. arms embargo Congress imposed on Turkey from 1975 to 1978 greatly exacerbated these deficiencies by denying the Turks desperately needed spare parts.

As a result, much of the obsolescent equipment the Turks possess is currently unserviceable. Similar problems plague the Turkish navy and air force.

The Weinberger visit also helped to offset carping criticism from Western European capitals disgruntled because the Turkish generals haven't yet returned the county to civilian rule. European memories are indeed short. It was little more than a year ago that Turkey's generals took over in a bloodless coup because factional strife and terrorism were escalating and the civilian government was paralyzed.

The coup was greeted with ill-concealed relief in Western Europe, then engaged in a major financial effort to rescue the slumping Turkish economy. If the generals want to wait a little longer before returning to the barracks, they are entitled to the benefit of the doubt from allies at least.

Mr. Weinberger's stop in Italy was less dramatic, but it's worth noting that the Italian government is standing firm in its decision to permit the deployment of U.S. cruise missiles on Italian soil. Moreover, Italy is increasing its defense budget at a time when other NATO members are struggling to maintain military spending at current levels.

These developments, of course, take place against a backdrop of anti-NATO, anti-American moves by Greece's new socialist government. Prime Minister Andreas Papandreu is threatening to pull his country out of NATO and to close down U.S. air and naval bases in Greece. If either of these threats is carried out, NATO's southern flank will be weakened. And Turkey, which shares borders with the Soviet Union and Warsaw Pact member Bulgaria, will feel more exposed than ever.

All the more reason, then, for Mr. Weinberger to pay reassuring visits to vital allies who must now bear an increasing burden in the defense of NATO's southern flank.

BERRY'S WORLD

© 1981 BY JIM BERRY

There has to be a better way. When basketball season bounced into Seminole County, wrestling and soccer rolled with it. Every night of the week is jammed with one of the sporting events.

It was so nice and easy with football. The game was played on Friday. The whole week pointed toward the big event. Cross Country was nice too. Every Saturday there would be some invitational in which all of the county schools would participate.

Basketball, though, is maddening. For example, Monday night the Seminole High junior varsity (both boys and girls) played at Lyman. Tuesday evening, the two varsity teams of boys and girls play at Lyman.

Add to this the Crooms freshman and you have five basketball teams competing from Sanford alone. Compound that with four from Lake

Mary, five from Oviedo, Lake Brantley, Lake Howell and Lyman and you have a pretty healthy schedule.

Wrestling and soccer boost that number even more so.

I guess the only thing worse than being a sports writer would be a parent with a lot of athletic kids.

One wrestling extravaganza no one should miss is the Lyman Christmas Invitational. It draws the best teams in the state of Florida every year and this year should be no exception. Last year's 3A champ — Bishop Moore — and 4A winner — Miami Southridge — both participated in the Longwood attraction.

Almost non-stop action begins Friday and carries on through Saturday night's championship matches. Tickets are available at the door.

Returning to basketball, coach Bill Moore's Lake Mary girls have gotten off to a flying start. Going into Tuesday night's game, Moore's girls have won 3-of-4.

Lisa Gregory, sharpshooting Michelle Schwartz, freshman Kim Averill and Liz Stone have been some of the standouts. Moore, who coached the Lyman varsity boys some years ago, is returning to the coaching ranks after a few years of working with the Seminole Education Association.

Sanford's Reginald Branch, another one of coach Jerry Posey's great running backs, was honored at East Carolina University last week. The former Seminole High sprinter picked up the Rick Dankston Memorial Award for outstanding scout team play. Branch is a freshman.

Donors' Political Clout

WASHINGTON — Sen. Howard Metzenbaum was recently challenged to a debate by a fellow named Terry Dolan.

Dolan is not a candidate to unseat the Ohio Democrat in next year's election. He is not even an Ohio resident.

Rather, Dolan is chairman of the National Conservative Political Action Committee, one of a growing number of campaign organizations independent of any candidate or political party. NCPAC is dedicated to unseating congressional liberals like Metzenbaum.

That Dolan considered his committee important enough to issue such a challenge — and that Metzenbaum is taking the challenge seriously though without consent — shows the increasing power of the independent campaign organizations, called "L-PACs." Federal law defines an "independent expenditure" as one that is made to support or defeat a clearly identified candidate without cooperation or consultation with a political party, a candidate or a candidate's staff.

Independent spending can far exceed the annual limits — $1,000 per contributor to any federal campaign and $5,000 per individual to all federal campaigns — that apply to money given directly to political parties, campaign organizations or candidates.

The growing power of independent contributors is underscored by a new Federal Election Commission report showing that these organizations and individuals spent more than $16 million to influence the 1980 elections; $12.7 million of that amount was spent on the presidential campaign and the rest on congressional races.

Total outlays by the independents were eight times greater in 1980 than they had been in 1978, the first general-election year in which such spending was allowed.

Cecil Haden, the president of a Texas tugboat company, spent more money on the 1980 race than any other individual. He laid out $113,221 to get Ronald Reagan elected after first investing $182,728 in John Connally's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

In second place among individuals was liberal Stuart Mott, the General Motors heir, who spent $110,178. Next came television producer Norman Lear, whose contributions totaled 108,201.

Among the L-PACs, the biggest spender was the "Congressional Club," which was formed to support the re-election of Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., but which has since become a massive backer of conservatives. That organization spent $4.8 million in 1980.

NCPAC spent $3.3 million during the year, and The Fund for a Conservative Majority spent just over $2 million.

The conservative organizations were responsible for almost all of the negative spending. They put up $481,000 to oppose Sen. Edward Kennedy's bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Catholic Follies II

Those American Catholics who remain within the church, honoring its theological and traditional claims, despite the astonishing performance of the American bishops at their Washington conference, have a clear intellectual obligation: to speak out against the nonsense that is being talked by high Catholic officials, and to rescue the Catholic position from those who are currently engaged in corrupting it.

Recently in Los Angeles, for example, Thomas Gumbleton, the auxiliary bishop of Detroit, came out publicly for... surrender. Yes, if necessary, surrender to the Soviet Union.

"Surrender to the invader. Let yourself be dominated," said the bishop, paraphrasing Jeremiah, Chapter 38.

He called the use of force, in self-defense or even in defense of others, "un-Christian... We must defend against evil by goodness... If that seems contrary to human reasoning, then human reasoning has to go by the boards."

Not only has Bishop Gumbleton thrown overboard centuries of serious reflection, Catholic as well as Protestant, on the implications of the Christian message he is also involved in an outright heresy, a violation of the prime command to behave with caritas, or love.

If a homicidal adult is about to fling an infant down a stairwell, am I not to try to stop this outrage — if necessary, by force?

Bishop Gumbleton's moral theology, apparently, would let the infant die.

The Good Samaritan, in Christ's parable, aided the man who had fallen among thieves by getting him a place to stay and caring for his injuries. Fine. But what would love have had the Samaritan do if he had arrived a little earlier, while the thieves were almost killing the fellow. Let them finish the job? That appears to be the answer of Bishop Gumbleton.

A great deal has been written lately about the failure of the Allies in World War II to bomb the trains heading for the gas chambers of Auschwitz and other horror factories. Most of the discussion has revolved around the bureaucratic reasons for the failure. No one I've read believes it would have been a mistake to bomb, and perhaps free at least some of the doomed prisoners. Bishop Gumbleton would be against bombing. This is Christian love?

Bishop Gumbleton's pacifism, if applied in 1940, would have allowed the Nazi conquest of Europe, and Hitler also had designs on the Ukraine and the Middle East. If followed, Gumbleton's policies would have facilitated branches of Auschwitz from Scotland to Bombay.

Today, the bishop's policies would greatly expand the Gulag. When asked whether he favored unilateral disarmament by the United States, Bishop Gumbleton indicated that he did. If we disarmed, the Soviet Union and "anyone else who has nuclear weapons would do the same."

It would be good to have the comments of Lech Walesa and Aleksander Solzhenitsyn on the Gumbleton theses.

The trouble is that the Catholic bishops' conference at its recent meeting in Washington adopted the essence of the Gumbleton position, though expressing it less extremely.

What all this means, in practical terms, is that the bishops will suffer serious erosion of their spiritual authority, which is tragic.

Oh yes, Bishop Gumbleton was accompanied by another speaker, a man who came out in favor of lesbianism.

DON GRAFF

Study Peace, Not War

On the face of it, the timing could scarcely appear less propitious.

The United States is gearing up for a massive rearmament effort. We are in a state of semi-confrontation with the Soviet Union over the nuclear imbalance in Europe. Simultaneously we are becoming if anything more deeply involved than usual in the Mideast that is even more inflamed than usual with the distinct possibility of going one-on-one with Libya.

Meanwhile, back in our own hemisphere, the administration continues to emit ruminations as to the possible necessity of forceful measures to bring Cuba and Nicaragua to heel.

So now is the time that Congress is being asked to consider establishment of a national peace academy, the culmination of an initially private campaign to institutionalize the study and application of techniques to resolve conflicts without violence.

By way of basic background, the government got involved in the business back in 1978 with establishment of a Commission on Proposals for the National Academy of Peace and Conflict Resolution. Given a budget of $500,000, the commission was charged with conducting hearings around the nation to gain public input prior to submitting specific recommendations to Congress.

That's where it stands — or rests — at the moment. The recommendations envisage a federally financed graduate-level institution offering a range of courses up to a two-year master's program with branches at selected universities and colleges.

The curriculum would be designed to teach and refine techniques in peaceful resolution of conflicts in everything from labor negotiations to hostage situations to confrontations between nations. Participants, in addition to full-time students, would be drawn from business and labor, the bureaucracy and military, and from foreign countries. A hope is that some would eventually hold positions of private and public power, through which their training in peace could have positive effect.

Well, it sounds good. But the question at the moment is whether the initial conflict can be resolved — between the campaign's goals and those of this administration. The commission, for example, says money should be no object, a year's funding being estimated at a fraction of the Pentagon's expenditures for a single day. Even so, David Stockman's office is likely to be an exceedingly difficult sell.

Further, the commission's report is a legacy of the Carter administration and there is no rush to act on it in a Congress preoccupied by its dealings with a Reagan White House. Bills to enact the recommendations were introduced in House and Senate in November, but committee hearings won't begin until spring.

Still, it's too early to give up hope. The academy campaigners, who report a fivefold increase in contributing supporters in the last six months, certainly aren't.

Hinckley Had Ties To Terror Group?

WASHINGTON — Libyan gunman arm't the only ones trying to kill President Reagan. Iranian terrorists have also targeted him for assassination — and there's a wild possibility that they may have been behind the shooting of the president last March 30.

The young man who shot Reagan and three others outside the Washington Hilton that day, John W. Hinckley Jr., is widely believed to have acted out of a crazy desire to impress actress Jodie Foster. It's an explanation that has gained credence by its very absurdity.

But there is a possibility that Hinckley became associated with some Iranian terrorists who call themselves the Islamic Guerrilla Army (IGA). I reported in 1979 that this group had set itself the task of murdering Americans it perceived as enemies of Islam.

Their program apparently got more specific in the past year. Here are the clues pieced together by my reporter Carly Johnson:

Case No. 1 — An American member of the Islamic Guerrilla Army informed FBI and Secret Service agents on Jan. 28, 1981, that the terrorist group planned to assassinate Reagan sometime between mid-March and early April. Hinckley's attempt fit into this schedule.

Case No. 2 — The IGA informant identified one member of the assassination team by the code-name "Elihu" — a student who had been arrested in Nashville in October 1980 for illegal possession of firearms.

Case No. 3 — A veteran government undercover agent identified Hinckley as the man he saw conferring at the Denver airport in 1979 with leaders of the Earth Liberation Organization, which he said was a small Communist-backed group with links to the IGA. The investigators said the ELO practiced a brand of psychology that might have been effective on a loner such as Hinckley.

As the IGA informant put it: "Are you trying to tell me a guy gets on the bus all the way from California and the next day knows how to get that close to shoot the president?"

The IGA connection raises a serious question: What, if anything, did the FBI and the Secret Service do with the information they were given by the turncoat terrorist in the two months before the assassination attempt?

Incredibly, the answer seems to be: "Practically nothing." The Secret Service's own documents reveal that the warning of an IGA assassination plot was given minimal attention. The agency's officials in Washington said they were not familiar with the IGA plan; they evidently were not given the details obtained by their field agents.

The IGA informant — who explained his treachery by saying he thought assassinating the president was "going too far" — traced his connection to Muslim terrorists back to 1978, when he joined the Palestine Liberation Organization in Jacksonville, Fla.

Through the PLO, he was put into contact with officials of the Iranian Embassy after the shah's overthrow. The informant moved to the Washington area in late 1978. When the Iranian Embassy was closed after the hostages' seizure, the IGA informant got his marching orders from the Iranian interests section at the Algerian Embassy.

He played a peripheral role in the murder of the shah's former press attaché, Ali Akbar Tabatabai. The informant said he was ordered to telephone Tabatabai while he was on a Philadelphia radio talk show and warn him that he was about to die. The informant said his call was placed on hold and never put through. Tabatabai was killed in his suburban Washington home on July 22, 1980. His assassin is still at large.

In October, the IGA informant said, he was told that Reagan was the next target. During January, he was told that a "Brother Yusuf" of the IGA was being sought by the FBI for the Tabatabai murder — and that Brother Yusuf and a man named Hicks were plotting the Reagan assassination.

According to Secret Service documents, the IGA informant was contacted by an Iranian known only as Mike and asked for help in the assassination plot. "I was supposed to get back to them with information about Secret Service activities before Feb. 15, because they wanted Reagan dead soon," he told the agents at one of their four meetings with him in late January and early February.

The IGA doctor said he "wasn't surprised" at Hinckley's attempt to assassinate

Reagan. Belatedly, the Secret Service took an interest in his Hicks-Hinckley theory. On Easter Sunday — 19 days after Reagan was shot — agents from the Baltimore field office questioned him in greater detail about the mysterious Hicks.

At one point, FBI agents instructed the IGA informant to call his contact at the Iranian interests section while they recorded the conversation. When the FBI-supplied questions were posed, however, the Iranian contact became suspicious and refused to cooperate.

Footnote: The FBI has summarized its investigation of the Reagan shooting in a 1,500-page report that will be used by the prosecutors during the Hinckley trial next month. According to my sources, the report states categorically that the FBI found no evidence that Hinckley was involved in a conspiracy to kill the president. Any other findings, of course, would raise questions about the FBI's failure to act on the information furnished two months in advance of the shooting by the IGA informant.

Hinckley's father also told my office that the possibility of a conspiracy was discussed but discounted. "That is one of the first things we looked at," he said. "The government looked into it and didn't find anything. There's absolutely no truth, no substance to a conspiracy. John is very ill; he is a sick person. He did this for a very pathetic reason."

Maryland's Bob Bauman

'I Was A Damn Good Congressman'

EASTON, Md. (UPI) — Down to his tailored pinstripe suits, Bob Bauman seemed to personify conservative values.

As a Maryland congressman for more than seven years, he became a spokesman for the Republican right and a national leader of a conservative movement that predated Ronald Reagan's presidency.

Then, 13 months ago, he was arrested on a sex charge involving a teenage boy. He lost his seat in Congress. He lost his wife. It looked like he was finished politically.

Last week, however, Bauman, saying he had overcome what he called his "twin problems" with alcoholism and homosexuality, announced he would seek to return to Capitol Hill.

"I was a damn good congressman," said Bauman, 44, an attorney in this town of 11,600 residents. "Having met my problems and solved them, I think I'll be a better congressman."

Maryland's 1st District is composed of farms, crabbing and oystering communities and tobacco fields. Some believe Bauman can again be elected to Congress. Others have doubts. Still others say there is no way.

Thomas Cohee, a 65-year-old retiree, peeled the cellophane wrapper off a cinnamon roll, sipped coffee and gave his opinion from the lunch counter at Hills Drug Store.

"There's a lot of sentiment to vote for him," Cohee said. "But due to that thing that happened, well, a lot wouldn't vote for him."

 "People on the Shore are a little different than in the metropolitan areas," Cohee said. "They pass an opinion like they did over the thing that happened and, well, it usually doesn't change much."

The unmentionable "thing that happened" happened in October 1980, a month before Bauman had been expected to win his fourth consecutive term in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Bauman, then head of the national American Conservative Union, was arrested on charges of soliciting sex from a 16-year-old boy in a Washington bar.

Bauman conceded after his arrest that he had "homosexual tendencies" that he said were aggravated by alcohol. He said he was an alcoholic and agreed to submit to a six-month rehabilitation program.

District residents "passed their opinion," as Cohee would say, on election day. Roy Dyson, a Democratic state delegate, defeated Bauman, 97,743 to 91,143.

Bauman lost the election, but not his political zeal. "Despite everything, he wants to be back there (in Congress)," said Maryland Republican chairman Allan Levey. "He knows how difficult it will be. In fact, if it wasn't for that difficulty, he'd be the incumbent."

Part of Bauman's comeback problem is that critics view him as a hypocrite, a man who seemed arrogant and self-righteous about the conservative, fundamentalist views he espoused until he was humbled by events, until he found himself mired in the most embarrassing sort of public scandal.

"I admitted my transgressions," Bauman says now. "Anything I had done didn't make those (conservative) principles any less apt, any less important."

Bauman still sees himself as a popular figure in the district, a belief based, in part, on a poll he conducted last spring.

According to Bauman, 42 percent of those surveyed said, if the election were held then, they would have voted for him, compared to 34 percent for Dyson.

A Dyson poll, conducted and released last month, showed 56 percent would vote for Dyson against 29 percent for Bauman, Dyson's office said.

Some of the folks in district say they don't care about Bauman's sexual proclivities, future or past, as long as he does his job if reelected.

"But if he loses it, that'll be why," said Leonard Falcone, 35, a state health department employee from Easton.

After Bauman's arrest and during his 1980 campaign, Bauman and his problems were the subject of a new round of raunchy jokes. He remains the object of off color comments.

Said Falcone, "There are some snide comments when I'm in the pool room and he walks by, but people in there usually don't vote."

NUCLEAR NATIONS

The membership of the nuclear weapons club has been fixed at six since 1974, when India created a minor world crisis with the testing of a nuclear device assembled with the unauthorized use of fissionable materials obtained from Canada. But weapons capability has not remained similarly static, as Israel's attack on Iraq's nuclear reactor in June brought forcefully to world attention. Western intelligence sources believe that Israel itself is among a select group of nations now possessing the technology to build nuclear weapons whenever they decide to do so. Another 16 nations are within 10 years of the same capability.

High Stakes In Gold Prospecting Again

By TOM TIEDE
WEAVERVILLE, Calif. (NEA) — Gordon Cunningham has been prospecting for gold here for 40 years, and he has never seen anything like it. For example: He says that one day not long ago he was working one of his staked-out streams when a stranger showed up to say he was going to move in on the claim. "Oh, no, you're not," Cunningham said. "What are you gonna do about it?" the stranger asked. "Shoot you, if I have to," Cunningham concluded. And that's not the half of it here in California's Trinity Alps. Gold miners throughout the forest region say they are being beset by thugs, thieves and pistoleros. Cunningham says everyone is coming to the mountains to get a piece of the action, and a good many of them are lowdown claim jumpers. In Trinity County alone, law-enforcement officers say gold mine disputes are now a way of life. Several prospectors have been wounded by gunfire, and one has been found face down in a river near his claim. Another man, Richard Arbo, says bandits recently took some $80,000 in dust from his diggings. Some locals think the reports of violence may be exaggerated. They say that Arbo, for one, may have invented his complaint to avoid paying income tax. But tall stories apart, the policemen who investigate the activity insist that today's claim jumping is beginning to resemble that of the old West. The Trinity Alps were part of that original trouble, too. California's gold fever broke out at Sutter's Mill, in the Sacramento Valley, but the gold there is said to have originated in these mountains. Geologists say glaciers brought the gold to the surface, and it was washed south in the rivers. Not all of it, though. Even back then the Alps were swarming with prospectors. Some large companies were formed, and gold dredging became a substantial industry here. Thousands of Chinese laborers were brought in to dig; they pulled out random piles of stones which are still in evidence today. Sometimes the stones were used on the skulls of rival entrepreneurs. The record suggests hundreds of gold miners were dispatched during many years of violence. Then as the streams yielded progressively less paydirt, and the old West gave way to the new, gold mining and the subsequent lawlessness were ended.

Cunningham says the peace lasted until the early 1970s, when a change in U.S. policy opened the price of the metal to speculation. When gold was set by law at $42 an ounce, only a few men like Cunningham mined it; however, "When it got to $800-$900 an ounce," he says, "people started coming in droves." The people came in such numbers, in fact, that the legalities of prospecting could not keep pace. Authorities say more than 72,000 claims have been filed in California to date, with as many as 1,000 more added each month, and the trouble often stems from the fact that many claims overlap or even double up. Some of the claims are out-and-out frauds. Others were legal at one time but have since expired and been transferred. Then there are the claims sold by the dishonest to the gullible; Cunningham says outsiders will pay $10,000 or more for phony claims and get upset when they arrive here to find out. Uspet? Cunningham, 63, says prospecting in the Alps these days is for people who know how to hate. Some of the camps on the Trinity River are reported to have become fortresses. One deputy sheriff says that emotions are so warm that a few prospectors are shooting at anything, even off-the-road tourists. And small wonder, Cunningham says. The stakes are pretty high. He and several partners own eight claims, for instance, and all of them are productive. He says that he's taken 600 ounces of gold from one claim, "that's enough to fill five quart jars," and he feels some of the other spots have more potential. The sourdough is not rich, however. He says problems with claim jumpers and federal officials have prevented it so far. The latter reference is to the forestry department; Cunningham says it chased him off one claim, and he has had to spend a whole lot of that 600 ounces to argue the particulars in court. Now he's working at a claim on West River Creek, a few miles backwoods from Weaverville. He lives in a small trailer there, with a wife, eight dogs and five cats. He keeps 15-year-old brandy in the refrigerator, and he says he finds gold every day. Life is good, he adds. Except for trouble. "Like, somebody killed the mother of all my dogs. I don't know why. They laid out traps on my claim, and the dog was caught. She wasn't hurt any, it just got her by the toes of one foot, but they killed her anyway. They shot her in the head." The prospector says he's taken all he's going to from the bad folks. And he's shored up his

Gordon Cunningham says, "The county sheriff, Tom Kelley, is a friend of mine. He says if I have to shoot somebody, make sure he's on my claim — or drag him back. I intend to." defense. He has two pistols, three rifles and an M-1. "The county sheriff, Tom Kelley, is a friend of mine. He says if I have to shoot somebody, make sure he's on my claim — or drag him back. I intend to."

Hounds Nudge 'Noles

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

Seminole High coach Bill Payne knew whom not to foul in the waning minutes of overtime Tuesday night at Lyman High School.

Payne's problem, though, was he couldn't get his thinking across to his young and inexperienced Seminoles.

Thus, Antoine "Pop" Lemon converted four free tosses in the final 24 seconds of overtime to hand the Greyhounds a narrow 61-60 Five Star Conference victory over Sanford.

Seminole dropped its fourth straight game to fall to 1-6. The Tribe is 0-2 in conference. Lyman remained undefeated in the Five Star at 3-0. The 'Hounds are 3-2 overall.

"I told them not to foul Lemon or (Eric) French," said Payne about the Greyhounds' two best foul shooters. "But sometimes in the heat of battle the messages don't get across."

Payne made a couple of lineup changes for Tuesday, and they almost paid off with a victory over Lyman's favored 'Hounds.

Sophomore Willie Mitchell started at center and 6-6 senior Stuart Smith moved to forward. Both moves paid off as Mitchell collected 10 rebounds, while Smith had 12 boards and 16 points.

"Willie is a little more aggressive than Stuart and a little more mobile in the middle," pointed out Payne. "We wanted to get French in foul trouble if we could."

Senior guard Marvin Butler sat out the contest with what Payne believes might be tendonitis of the knee. Junior forward Torie Hendricks is suffering from the flu and didn't play much.

Lyman jumped to a 20-13 first quarter lead, but Sanford regrouped in the second period to deadlock the game at halftime, 32-32.

The Seminoles, though, missed a golden opportunity to exploit that half-time tie by missing the front end of a one-plus-one three times prior to intermission. They hit 8-of-14 free tosses in the first half.

Using its pattern offense, Sanford inched ahead, 42-40, entering the final eight minutes of play. Lyman, nevertheless, seized the advantage with 46 seconds to go in the last period when Alexis Cleveland hit two free throws for a 53-51 lead.

Sanford's Smith sent the game into overtime, though, when he drove to the hoop and was fouled. Smith, an excellent shot from the line, converted both for the 53-53 deadlock. Lyman couldn't get off a shot in the final 11 seconds.

Sanford's Calvin "Kiki" Bryant, who had an outstanding 7-for-7 from the field, hit a free throw to nudge the Tribe on top in OT, but French fired a jumper to put Lyman up, 54-53.

Fifteen seconds later, French stole the ball and added another jumper for a bucket with 2:04 to play, giving the 'Hounds a 57-54 edge.

At the 1:47 mark, however, Smith went inside and scored over the top of French for a 57-56 game. Twenty-one seconds later, French missed a jump shot and Sanford had a chance to go ahead.

The Tribe ran the clock down to 54 seconds, but Lyman's quick guard William Scott fumbled away a pass and the Greyhounds went into their spread offense.

With Lemon doing most of the ball handling, Sanford's Richard Grey fouled the Lyman sharpshooter with 24 seconds to go. He hit both shots for a 59-56 edge.

"You don't think I'm going to let anybody else handle the ball in that situation?" asked Lawrence.

With 12 seconds to play, Seminole's Vernon Law scored to pull Sanford within, 59-58. Lemon, though, drew another foul and bagged both free throws.

With two seconds to go French fouled Smith and the calm senior notched both free throws to make the final, 61-60.

"That was crazy," Lawrence said about French's foul. "All we had to do was let him make the layup and we win."

"But this was a crazy kind of game. It wasn't one of those run-and-jack-it-up games that we're used to. Seminole played it smart," observed Lawrence.

Payne, however, wasn't happy with the near miss. "We're still 1-6 in the record book. It's not good enough to come close. "When we shoot 23-of-31 (74 percent) and still don't win, we've got problems," assessed Payne.

Along with Bryant's perfect shooting night, he added 5-of-7 free throws to lead Sanford with 19 points. He also grabbed 10 rebounds. Smith had 16 points and Law chipped in nine.

Lyman, headed by Lemon's 7-of-9 shooting, made 27-of-59. French and Lemon each scored 20 points. Cleveland added nine.

"Sanford hurt us inside. They played real well," said Lawrence. "And we don't have it together yet. But maybe we're better off."

"All the other years we started fast and tailed off. Maybe this year will be different."

Lady Tribe Trips Lyman

Everybody's heard of Tony Hardy, Robin Higgins and Johnnie Bennett when it comes to Sanford Lady Seminoles basketball.

But who is Cathy Jones? Well, the 5-10 senior showed Lyman just who she was Tuesday night by scoring 19 points and hauling down 11 rebounds to lead the Tribe past the Greyhounds, 69-52, at Lyman High School.

The victory kept Sanford undefeated in the Five Star Conference with a 2-0 mark. The Lady Tribe is 4-1 for the season. The Lady Greyhounds fell to 0-5.

Lyman, aided by the return to action of Vikki McMurrer, moved to a 17-13 first quarter lead. Valerie Jackson, Lyman's deadly jump shooter, continually hurt the 'Noles from outside.

"We tried to take it inside in the first quarter and we forced a lot of shots," said Coach Ron Merthie.

Sanford righted itself in the second period as Jones began to score inside and out and was helped on the boards by Hardy (eight rebounds) and sophomore Djeidre Hillary (eight rebounds).

Seminole outscored the 'Hounds, 17-9, in the second quarter to take a 30-26 lead at intermission. In period three, Sanford zipped its lead to 49-37 and was never in danger of losing it after that point.

Jones led the scoring parade with 19 points. Hardy notched 14, Sabrina Melton 13 and Higgins had 12.

McMurrer, who sat out the early part of this season waiting for an eligibility ruling, paced the 'Hounds with 17. Jackson added 15.

'Cudas Whip Rams

In another girl's game Tuesday night, the New Smyrna Beach Barracudas knocked off Lake Mary, 62-44, at New Smyrna Beach.

Freshman Kim Averill and sophomore Lisa Gregory each tossed in 12 points for Lake Mary who fell behind, 18-5, in the first period.

Peggy Glass, a 6-1 sophomore, scored seven points and collected six rebounds in her initial appearance of the year. "She did a good job for her first time out," said Rams coach Bill Moore. Glass' 6-1 twin sister, Laura, also played for the first time.

Lake Mary, 3-2, plays Daytona Beach Father Lopez tonight at home. Coach Bob Wagner's 3-0 junior varsity squad tips off the action at 6:15 p.m. The varsity tilt follows at 8 p.m.

Sanford's Tony Hardy (no. 32) jerks a rebound in the Tribe's victory over Lyman.

'Dogs Bite Howell; Bucs Nip Pats

By BILLY STRIPP
Herald Sports Writer

The DeLand Bulldogs coasted to a 73-35 victory over the Lake Howell Silver Hawks Tuesday night in Five Star Conference basketball action at Lake Howell.

DeLand used its height advantage to outboard Lake Howell nearly 3-1. The setback was the fourth in a row for the Silver Hawks, who seek their first victory Friday at Seminole High.

Early in the first quarter, Howell and DeLand exchanged baskets for a 4-4 tie before the Bulldogs ran off the last 10 points of the quarter for a 14-4 bulge.

Two Mark Layton buckets pulled the Hawks within eight, but the Bulldogs controlled the boards from then on to build up an 18-point lead at intermission, 32-14.

DeLand, led by Derrick Watson and John Ramsey with seven points apiece, piled on 26 points in the third quarter to put the game out of reach.

"We need to get some experience for our younger guys," said Hawk coach Greg Robinson, who was playing without junior guard Tony Maccagnano, who was injured and will be out a couple of days.

Layton, a 6-1 swingman, paced the Silver Hawks with 14 points. Terrance Graham and Chase Brown each tallied 14 for the 'Dogs, while Ramsey added 13 and Watson 11.

At the other end of the county, Daytona Beach Mainland remained unbeaten for the year—but just barely—squeezing past Lake Brantley, 60-56, in Five Star Conference action at Altamonte Springs.

Prep Basketball

The Bucs of Dick Toth are 5-0 for the year and 3-0 in the Five Star. Lake Brantley dropped to 1-3 for the season and 0-3 in conference.

Mainland jumped to a 22-11 first period advantage behind 10 points from Tony Sheffield and six points from Robert Lee.

"We got on the boards a little better in the second quarter," said Patriot coach Bob Peterson. "And we cut off their inside game."

The Bucs jumped the lead to 26-11 before the Pats regrouped and pulled within, 30-26, at halftime.

proximately $900,000 a year. "Ever since we've been in baseball it was always the Yankees. Everything in my house is blue and I just didn't want to start changing things now."

The signing of Guidry, who played out his option with the Yankees this past season and tested the free agent market, ended nearly a year of negotiations between his agent, Jonn Schneider, and Steinbrenner. It also made the hard-throwing left-hander the richest pitcher in the history of the Yankees and one of the richest in baseball.

Although no terms of the contract were revealed, it is believed Guidry received a guaranteed four-year deal, with a limited trade proviso, worth $900,000 per year.

Guidry Stays Yank For $900,000

NEW YORK (UPI) — No one really expected pitcher Ron Guidry to leave the New York Yankees.

Guidry wanted to stay, club owner George Steinbrenner wanted him to stay and, maybe most of all, Bonnie Guidry wanted her husband to remain in pinstripes.

"I felt I was getting too old to move to another place and start all over again," Bonnie said Tuesday, after her husband signed a multi-year contract with the Yankees for ap-

Mavericks Win First Road Game

Vincent Picks Up Scoring Slack For Absent Aguirre

By United Press International While Mark Aguirre was having a screw implanted in his broken foot back in a Dallas hospital, fellow rookie Jay Vincent knew what had to be done.

"Someone has to pick up the scoring and we're all trying to do it," said Vincent, a 6-foot-7 forward from Michigan State who scored 31 points Tuesday night to lead the Dallas Mavericks to their first road victory in 11 games, a 107-102 victory over the Washington Bullets.

At Indianapolis, Sidney Moncrief scored 25 points, including two layups that snuffed a brief Indiana rally, to lead Milwaukee, 17-6, to its ninth straight victory. Billy Knight led the Pacers with 20 points.

Lloyd Squanders 9 Points, Holds On To Beat Shriver

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (UPI)—For all she has experienced in tennis, this was a new kind of sensation for Chris Evert Lloyd.

Already down a set to Pam Shriver, she raced off to a 5-1 lead in the second set and had nine set points over a stretch of three games.

"I'm sure that made history tonight," Evert conceded when asked if she had ever squandered nine set points. As for blowing the 5-1 advantage, she said, "I don't even want to think about that."

Evert joined top seed Martina Navratilova, Tracy Austin and Andrea Jaeger as first round winners in this season-ending championship that probably will decide the world's No. 1 ranking for 1981.

Navratilova, who beat Evert in the final of the Australian Open last week, defeated Mina Jusovic, 6-2, 6-4, Austin routed Virginia Ruzici, 6-1, 6-1, in 61 minutes, and Jaeger needed only 49 minutes to dispose of Hana Mandlikova, 6-4, 6-1, winning eight of the last nine games.

Grandpa Kangaroo Having His Happiest Christmas

Captain Kangaroo says this will be his happiest Christmas — he survived a heart attack in June and this month was twice-blessed as a grandfather.

On Monday, Bob Keeshan, television's Captain Kangaroo, became a grandfather for the second time when his daughter, Maeve Ashbaugh, and son-in-law, Hans, had Derek Hans at Elkhart, Ind., General Hospital.

Keeshan became a grandfather for the first time on Dec. 1 when his son, Michael, and daughter-in-law, Lynn, produced Britton Conroy Keeshan.

Keeshan also has another daughter, Laurie. She became Mrs. John Sullivan on Oct. 17, but her father says she's not pregnant.

Christmases Past

For some people, the spirit of Christmas is Ebenezer Scrooge.

Take Richard Simmons, author of "Never Say Diet." He still snarls at the gift last Christmas of 100 pounds of chocolate.

"That's not my idea of funny," he told People magazine.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., head of the Finance Committee, thinks cash is a good gift, explaining, "People can get what they want. And everything's half-price after Christmas."

Larry Hagman, who takes home $2 million a year as J.R. in "Dallas," also tried playing Scrooge last year.

"Christmas is supposed to be spiritual," he said, "so I thought we'd abolish gift giving. On Christmas morning we didn't know what to do with ourselves. The kids hated me. So this year we're back to presents."

Astronauts in Canada

American space shuttle astronauts Col. Joe Eagle and Capt. Richard Truly were off on another trip — but this time they only went as far as Montreal. The Americans were north of the border on a two-week tour of Quebec and Ontario.

While in Montreal they visited the manufacturer of the $100 million remote manipulator, the "Canadarm," which made its debut aboard the second shuttle trip last month.

Groveview On Agenda

Final platting and engineering for the proposed $9 million, 189-unit Groveview Villas townhouse development, to be constructed by Tompkins Development Co. on property located north of Lake Mary Boulevard east of Sir Lawrence Drive and west of Justin Way, will be considered by the Sanford Planning and Zoning Commission at its 7:30 p.m. meeting Thursday.

The meeting will be held in the City Commission room at City Hall, Park Avenue at Fulton Street.

The commission, after studying plans for the development, will make a recommendation to the City Commission for action.

A spokesman for Tompkins Development said construction time for the development is dependent on the economy.

In other business at Thursday night's meeting, the Planning and Zoning Commission will consider:

- After public hearing, a request from David Suellau, owner of the property at 501 E. First St., to change the property's current zoning from multiple-family district to general commercial. Suellau said he plans to build a retail business building at the site.

Hair Leaving Juvenile Arbitration

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

After three years, as Seminole County Juvenile Arbitration Program manager, Gayle Hair is leaving "her baby" to stand on its own.

Mrs. Hair, 37, is leaving her post to accept a position as juvenile court coordinator for Circuit Judges C. Vernon Mize Jr. and Dominick Salfi, starting Jan. 6. She will be replacing Ed Ruth, who is retiring.

Mrs. Hair said the transfer is "lateral, with the same salary (about $13,000 annually), but it will allow me to learn a lot more about the juvenile justice system. There are so many things I want to learn. This was the first job I've had in the juvenile system and I want to move on," she said.

However, Mrs. Hair said her decision to leave the arbitration program was not an easy one.

"I'll miss it," she said. "It's my baby. I've been with it

GAYLE HAIR
... moves on three years and I've seen it grow into a stable program. However, the strength of the program doesn't lie in the manager. It lies in the volunteer arbitrators, and we have some good ones."

The arbitration program, begun in 1978, is designed to resolve misdemeanor criminal cases involving first-time juvenile offenders without going through the court. The program uses area residents as arbitrators to work out "suitable punishments for juvenile offenders," Mrs. Hair said.

The program has gained widespread support locally and has become the model for similar programs across the country.

"The program gives first-time juvenile offenders a chance to redeem themselves," Mrs. Hair said. "These kids are not sick kids, as some might call them, and they aren't really bad kids. They are just kids who need some direction in their lives."

The Seminole County Personnel Office is accepting applications for the program manager's position until noon Monday.

According to Mrs. Hair, the new manager will be chosen by a board composed of judges, court fiscal coordinator Lois Walker, a state attorney's office representative and herself. She said the selection probably will be made before Christmas, enabling the new manager to begin work Jan. 6.

"Although I'm leaving as manager, I'll always be available to assist with the program and help the new manager in any way I can," Mrs. Hair said.

Being a funeral director isn't for everyone. The hours are unpredictable . . . you are continuously exposed to grief . . . you become the subject of a lot of bad jokes . . . and, when you have a sick friend, you can't visit him because people will say you're a "culture" and you can't stay away because his feelings will be hurt.

But we're not complaining. We know there are disadvantages to every job, and ours has an unusual redeeming feature: It provides the satisfaction of knowing we've helped others at a time when help is needed most.

Cook Of The Week

Christmas Is... Keeping Family Food Traditions

By LOU CHILDERS
Herald Correspondent

This week's feature cook, Jackie Herman of Geneva, believes in the nostalgia of cooking traditionally at Christmas. For years now she has been using the traditions of her husband's family when it comes to Christmas cooking. "When Larry and I were first married," she says, "his mother, Mae, gave me two recipes — Cranberry Sauce and 24-hour Fruit Salad."

Continuing, Jackie says, "These two recipes were a 'must' in my husband's home during the holidays. No Christmas dinner would be complete without them now at our house. Both of them should be made the day before serving."

Another Holiday favorite at the Herman home is Stuffed Orange Shells. Jackie's friend, Selma Williams of Sanford, shared this sweet potato variation with her several years ago. Now, it too is a part of the Christmas cookery for Jackie's family.

The first step in the preparation of the Stuffed Orange Shells for Jackie is a trip to her orange grove to pick the oranges! She adds, "I always save the orange sections from the shells to make a fresh fruit bowl."

Jackie is well-acquainted with the Florida orange — she was raised in Miami. In fact, she had the thrill of riding on a float sponsored by her former employer, the First National Bank of Miami, in the Orange Bowl Parade in 1963.

Like many other women, Jackie is a working gal. When her duties as instructional aide at Geneva Elementary School are completed each day, she still likes to cater to her family when it comes to cooking. She says she survives the "9-to-5 syndrome" by planning menus in advance.

Jackie also states, "Many of my friends have shared their recipes, including Dot Young of Sanford." When Jackie's husband recovered from a heart attack three years ago, his diet became quite restricted. However, he still had a sweet tooth to be satisfied. That's when Dot came to the rescue.

"The recipe she gave me for Low Fat Fruit Cake has only 1 tablespoon of margarine, and NO eggs in it."

Jackie and her family are looking forward to Dec. 25. The Herman children, Rhonda, 14, and David, 13, will be glad to visit with their older brother, Douglas from Sanford, and their grandmother, Mrs. Gladys Merritt from Greenville, S.C.

Jackie hasn't decided when her Holiday table is spread whether the main entree will be turkey or ham, but either will be complemented by the side dishes she has planned.

The delicious Stuffed Orange Shells, 24-hour Fruit Salad, Cranberry Sauce and the Low Fat Fruit Cake can be prepared ahead of time, affording her more time to enjoy the company of her family and friends and less time in the kitchen on Christmas Day. You could say that this added time will be Jackie's "Christmas gift" to herself.

CRANBERRY SAUCE

1 package fresh cranberries

Jackie Herman picks fresh oranges for Stuffed Orange Shells

Herald Photo By Lou Childers

1 cup sugar
3 cups of water
1 large box cherry Jello

Mix water and sugar in a large sauce pan. Wash cranberries, removing any stems. Add cranberries to water and bring to boil. Cook until skins pop and cranberries become tender. Remove from heat and add Jello, mixing well until it is dissolved. Allow to set overnight in refrigerator in a glass bowl or Jello mold. Serve cold.

24-HOUR FRUIT SALAD

2 eggs

4 tablespoons vinegar
4 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup whipping cream
2 cups halved grapes
2 cups miniature marshmallows
1 9-ounce can pineapple tidbits

Put eggs in double boiler and beat slightly. Add vinegar and sugar and beat until thick and smooth, cooking over hot, not boiling water. Remove from heat; add butter and cool. Whip the cream. Drain all fruit well. Fold cooled egg mixture together with whipped cream, fruit and marshmallows. Cover and put in refrigerator overnight.

STUFFED ORANGE SHELLS

7 or 8 medium sweet potatoes
1/4 cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons evaporated milk
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 egg
6 oranges
12 large marshmallows

Boil peeled potatoes until tender; drain. Mix with electric mixer while warm. Remove any strings from sweet potatoes. Beat in remaining ingredients until smooth. If mixture seems too stiff, add a little orange juice or more milk.

Cut oranges in half, removing pulp, but leaving just a little of the orange around edges. Stuff orange shells with sweet potato mixture and bake in a shallow dish at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Poke a large marshmallow in each center and continue to bake for 10 more minutes. Serve warm.

LOW FAT FRUIT CAKE

1 1/2 cups grated carrots
One-third cup raisins
Two-thirds assorted candied fruit
1 tablespoon shortening or margarine
1 & one-third cup water
1 & one-third cup sugar

Mix above ingredients together and bring to a boil. Boil for 5 minutes and cool. While this is cooling, mix together the following:

2 cups all purpose flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/8 teaspoon ginger

Mix dry ingredients together. Add 1/2 to 1 cup nuts to flour mixture if desired. Mix liquid and dry ingredients together. Mix until smooth. Pour into a lightly greased bundt pan and bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes.

Shrimp and smoked fish team together to spotlight any buffet in Hot Shrimp Caribbean Style and Smoked Fish Dip. These are two recipes you'll want to add to your "special occasion" list of favorites. Both are quick and easy to prepare, yet outstanding in flavor appeal.

HOT SHRIMP CARIBBEAN STYLE

1/4 cup margarine or butter
1/2 medium-size green pepper, cut in strips
1/2 medium-size red pepper, cut in strips (or pimiento)
1 can (4 ounces) small, whole mushrooms, drained
1 teaspoon garlic oil onion salt
2 teaspoons chopped fresh or frozen chives

'Electronic Tonic' Has No Future

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 35-year-old single woman who is seen regularly on local television. (Omit city, please.) About a year ago I started getting phone calls from a man who said he was divorced and a successful businessman.

Without coming on as a masquerade, he said he admired my work and wanted to get to know me better. For some crazy reason I became intrigued by this stranger and encouraged his calls.

He's intelligent, well-educated and has a wonderful sense of humor. We've had some very soul-searching and intimate conversations — one of which lasted three hours!

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and have been sleeping with this man in the way that he refuses to meet me. I'm beginning to suspect he is either very ugly or perhaps deformed. I don't care what he looks like; I love his mind.

Ladies' Day Fete At The Chamber

Ladies Day at the chamber has always been a lot of fun. And this year was no different when the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce hosted the annual Business Women's Luncheon Thursday at the Sanford Civic Center.

The free lunch, door prizes and fashion show keep growing. According to Virginia Longwell, overall chairman, 275 women showed up, "the largest crowd we have ever had."

Martha Yancey was chairman of the fashion show which took on a new and welcome twist—handsome male models, Jeff Kaley, Andy Collazo and Jim Birkenthal—showing the latest styles for His Majesty from the HIS Stores for Men.

Other stores showing outstanding fashions were: Vogue, Ro-Jay, Second Image, Merle Norman Cosmetics and Boutique and Lois' Place.

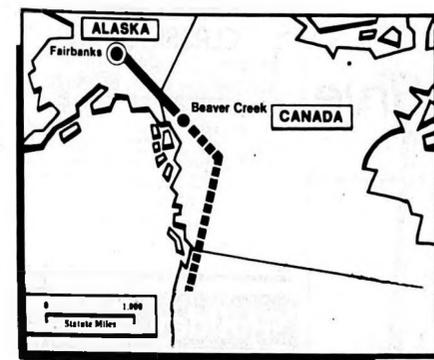

Irene Brown was the fashion show commentator. Women models were: Bettye Smith, Gina Lindsey, Winifred (Bill) Gielow, Edith McNeil, Janice Lecher, Lisa Barker and Tina Millon.

Also: Liso Montes, Colleen McFadden, Myra Stapleton, Linda Alderman, Mary Pat Cordell, Pat Montes, Jackie Hyatt and Pam Tucker.

Also: Delores Lash, Florence Korgan, Lois Dycus, Diane Kiracke, Margie Combs, Gina Madden and Norita Kemp.

Mishandled Incident At Beaver Creek

BEAVER CREEK, Yukon (NEA)—The U.S. border with Canada has long been described as the most open and friendly in the world. For good reason. The United States shares a philosophic and social heritage with the Dominion, as well as 5,525 miles of boundary, and the links strengthen with time.

Her Face Inflamed At His Bold Gaze...

Harlequin Novels: Dreams Come True

Newspaper Enterprise Association
 "Your work must be interesting," he suggested. Catherine Orr smiled. Was it ever! Imagine, flying all the way to New York City from Toronto to be interviewed by a world-famous syndicated columnist about Harlequin Books, the company she now worked for as a consumer-relations director.

Imagine, sitting across the table from him in the quiet lobby of the Biltmore Hotel. He was gorgeous, with thick jet-black hair, piercing deep blue eyes, high-bridged nose and firm, cruel mouth that gave the impression that here was a man who always got what he went after. He was very tall, well over six feet, his massive shoulders tapering down to a narrow waist and muscular thighs — all shown to best advantage in the tight turtleneck sweater and fitted jeans he wore. Confidante of kings and presidents, linked romantically with Princess Caroline and Jacqueline Bisset, rumors of a bit-ter-sweet affair long ago with Sophia Loren.

Was it ever!
 "Yes. Yes, it is," she replied. "I travel around the country and meet many interesting people."
 He sipped his tea, gripping the cup firmly with his strong brown hands, then appraised her. He took in her sensible brown suit, lacy white blouse and grandmother's gold necklace, her ash-blond hair full and soft, her green eyes sparkling, her small nose upturned. Her breath caught and her face inflamed at the boldness of his gaze.
 He opened a small note pad. "I understand Harlequin sold 200 million books worldwide last year — all of them romances — in 21 languages." Here was a man who did his homework. "You publish 12 new ones a month. Describe your formula."
 "We don't like to use the word 'formula,'" she said.

She flushed again as his eyes narrowed; clearly, he was not used to being contradicted. "We prefer the word 'ingredients,'" she clarified. "Usually, it's a young woman, inexperienced, age 18 or 19. She meets a man several years her senior who is more worldly. They have an... encounter, in an exciting place. They fall in love — she more than he — and come together in marriage."
 He was writing her words down in the pad!
 "So they're for old-fashioned girls?" he suggested.

We present fantasy. Harlequins are for people who want to be uplifted...girls who are 12 years old... women who are 90...

"Some people call Harlequin Romances a haven for women who aren't feminists. I say no."
 "You do?" He was amused by her precocity.
 "The heroines are usually women with jobs, women who can make it on their own but choose not to."
 "And what do you choose, Cathy?"

She flushed at his brazen familiarity. She hardly knew him. She went back to business. She had a job to do!
 "As more women are working," she continued, "the readership has gone up. Women have to get away from work stress just like men do. Men have their male fantasy novels by writers like Louis L'Amour and Mickey Spillane. Harlequins are the same idea for women. They take one to three hours to read, they're quick and they're fun."

 He rubbed his chin thoughtfully, the dark shadow there evidence that he was one of those men who must shave twice daily. She felt certain he would have a thick mat of hair on his chest, too.

"Are your readers the same women who watch soap operas?"
 "No," she replied. "These aren't the TV watchers. The soaps are adultery, real life. We present fantasy. Harlequins are for people who want to be uplifted. Girls who are 12 years old read them because they're anticipating romance. Women who are 90 read them to recall romance."
 "So it's more romance than sex?"
 "It's not sex. A Harlequin is sensual, soft. Everything women like. If... if..."

"Go on."
 "If more men read them they'd know more about what women like," she blurted out.
 He laughed. It was a deep husky laugh that made it clear to her he already knew. He closed the note pad and shifted his powerful shoulders.
 "The interview is over, but you're going to be seeing me again," he commanded. He was used to commanding.
 "I am?" she said hoarsely, heart pounding.

He stood, swept her to her feet. "Tomorrow morning. On my yacht. Bring a change of clothes. You see, Cathy, women read Harlequin Romances because in Harlequin their dreams come true.

"Well, dreams can come true in real life too. At least they can if you have your own syndicated column."

Rows Of Highway Trees Help To Reduce Pollution

ATLANTA (UPI) — Preliminary research indicates that rows of hardwood or pine trees planted along highways helps to reduce the massive air pollution caused by automobiles, a forestry expert says.

 Gerald Aubertin, associate professor of forestry at Southern Illinois University said data from a study he is conducting "indicates a definite improvement in air quality after it passes through a roadside stand of trees."
 Aubertin reported his research on how trees and other vegetation can comb traffic-generated impurities from the air at the recent national convention of the American Society of Agronomy.
 "The cost of air pollution on human health in terms of sickness, lost time, medical bills and premature death has been estimated as high as $6.1 billion per year," he said.

"Direct damage to health from mobile-source emissions is estimated to be as high as $3 billion."
 A single vehicle may generate up to seven tons of particulates per year, according to Aubertin.
 "Most people are looking at the industrial sources of particulates," said Aubertin. "Not too many are looking at the traffic-generated particulates."
 He said that although his study, financed by the Illinois Institute of Natural Resources, showed improvement of roadway air quality after it passes through a barrier of trees, the amount of improvement has not been definitely measured.

Traditions

Other Lands Enrich Holiday Fare

The United States is a country uniquely blessed with a diversity of cultures and national origins. As they came to settle here, immigrants brought with them many of their traditions, and particularly their culinary specialties. In many countries, special desserts are traditional during the holiday season. From across the Atlantic and south of the Border, here are some wonderful holiday recipes, adapted by the Kraft Kitchens.

American holiday fare can certainly be enriched with these sweet holiday traditions of other lands.

SUGAR PLUM PUDDING

Red currant jelly adds flavor to this traditional English dessert.

- 1 cup raisins
- 1 cup currants
- 1 cup mixed diced candied fruit
- ¼ cup sherry
- ½ cup margarine
- 1½ cups packed brown sugar
- 4 eggs
- 1 10-oz. jar red currant jelly
- 1½ cups dry bread crumbs
- 1 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- "Philly" Hard Sauce

Combine fruit and sherry; let stand several hours or overnight. Cream margarine and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, mixing well after each addition. Cover with tight-fitting greased lid or aluminum foil. Place mold on rack in large kettle; add boiling water to a level half-way up mold. Cover lightly; steam 5 hours in gently boiling water or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Add boiling water as needed. Cool 10 minutes; unmold onto serving plate. Serve warm with:

DANISH KRINGLE

A golden sweet bread conceals a spiral of fruit and nut filling.

- 2½ to 3 cups flour

- ½ cup milk
- ¾ cup water
- margarine
- 1 egg
- ¾ cup margarine, melted
- ¾ cup raisins
- ¾ cup chopped nuts
- 1-3 cup granulated sugar
- 1-3 cup packed brown sugar
- vanilla drizzle

In large mixing bowl, combine 1 cup flour, sugar, yeast and salt. Heat milk, water and 1-3 cup margarine over low heat until warm. Add to flour mixture; beat 3 minutes at medium speed on electric mixer. Add ¼ cup flour and egg; beat 2 minutes at high speed. Stir in enough remaining flour to form a soft dough. On lightly floured surface, knead dough until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; brush with melted margarine. Cover; let rise in warm place until double in volume, about 1½ hours. Punch down dough; divide in half. Cover; let rest 10 minutes.

On lightly floured surface, roll out each half to 15 x 9-inch rectangle. Brush with margarine; sprinkle with combined raisins, nuts and sugars. Roll up, starting at long end. Place seam-side down on greased cookie sheet. Form each into horseshoe shape; seal ends. With scissors, cut two-thirds of the way through dough at 1-inch intervals. Cover; let rise until double in volume, about 45 minutes. Bake at 350 degrees, 20 to 25 minutes. Drizzle with:

Christmas: A Time Of Warmth, Caring And Sharing

Christmas is a time of good eating and good cheer. In a country still young, families continue to build their own Christmas traditions. And, although the "mistress of the house, her servants and daughters" no longer spend months baking, roasting, canning and creating delicacies, the Christmas meal is special, even when most simple.

It is, after all, the meaning of the holiday that is uppermost... It is a time of warmth, caring and sharing.

A few lines from the "Virginia Almanack" describe the season aptly:

"Christmas is come, hang on the pot, Let spits turn round, and ovens be hot, Beef, pork, and poultry, now provide To feast thy neighbors at this tide; Then wash all down with good wine and beer And so with mirth conclude the YEAR."

HOT BUTTERED CIDER

1 1/2 cups apple cider
1/2 cup packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
1 1/2 cups Bacardi dark rum
6 teaspoons butter, softened

In a saucepan, combine all ingredients, except rum and butter, and heat thoroughly; do not boil. Stir in rum. Serve hot in heated mugs or glasses, with 1/2 teaspoon butter on top of each serving. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 3 quarts. (Delete rum and add 1 1/2 cups cider, optional.)

SPEEDY GLOGG

2 cans (1 pound 4 ounces) pineapple chunks in syrup
6 cups dry red wine
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
1/2 cup sugar
12 sticks cinnamon
2 oranges, sliced

Drain pineapple chunks, reserving liquid. In 12 cup coffee maker, combine pineapple syrup, wine, cloves, ginger and sugar. Do not use stem and basket assembly. Connect coffee maker. While coffee is perking, distribute pineapple chunks evenly among 12 large, thick mugs. When mixture stops perking, pour over fruit in mugs. Garnish with cinnamon stick and orange slice. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 12 servings.

GRAPEFRUIT GINGER ALE FIZZ

2 cups grapefruit juice
1 bottle (10 ounces) low-calorie ginger ale
In a pitcher, mix together grapefruit juice and ginger ale. Pour into 4 glasses over ice. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings.

CHEESY DEVILED EGGS

8 hard-cooked eggs
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash cayenne
1/4 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 small jar Cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons red caviar

Shell eggs and cut in lengthwise halves. Remove yolks to a bowl; reserve whites. Mash yolks, blend in remaining ingredients. Mix until smooth and creamy. Put yolk mixture through pastry tube to fill whites with generous swirls. Garnish with red caviar if desired. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 16 halves.

YOGURT CUCUMBERS

1 large cucumber
1 container (8 ounces) plain yogurt
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon instant minced parsley
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
1/4 teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper

Thinly slice cucumber into wide-mouthed glass jar. Mix remaining ingredients together and pour over cucumber slices in jar. Mix well. Chill overnight to blend flavors. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings. (Recipe can be doubled.)

SALMON CHEESE SPREAD

1 can (7 1/2 ounces) salmon
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened
1 or 2 drops liquid smoke flavoring
3 tablespoons sliced green onion or scallions
1/2 cup chopped parsley
Assorted crackers

Drain and flake salmon; reserve 2 teaspoons salmon liquid. Combine cream cheese, smoke flavoring and salmon liquid; blend thoroughly. Stir in green onion then fold in salmon. Refrigerate at least 2 hours or overnight to blend flavors. Shape into a ball and roll in chopped parsley. Serve as a spread with crackers. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 1 1/2 cups spread.

(NOTE: Recipe may be doubled using 2 cans (7 1/2 ounces each) salmon or 1 can (15 1/2 ounces salmon.)

GARDEN GREEN ANTIPASTO

2 Granny Smith apples, unpared, cored, sliced into wedges
1 zucchini, unpared, cut into 3-inch strips
1 cucumber, sliced
2 raw broccoli flowerets
1 large green pepper, seeded, cut into strips
1 small bunch scallions, cut into 3-inch lengths
3 ribs celery, cut into 3-inch sticks
Fresh parsley sprigs

Arrange apple wedges and vegetables on a large serving platter. Garnish with fresh parsley. Serve chilled, with dips. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 to 8 appetizer servings.

APRICOT GLAZED TURKEY AND YAMS

1 1/2 cups apricot preserves
1/2 cup light corn syrup
3 tablespoons sherry
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
1 (about 15 pound) turkey
8 yams, cooked and peeled or 3 (23 ounces each) cans yams, drained

In a small saucepan, stir together apricot preserves, corn syrup, sherry and ginger. Bring to boil, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat. Use about 1 cup glaze for turkey, brushing frequently, during last 1/4 hour of roasting. Spoon 1 cup glaze over single layer of yams in a shallow baking dish. Bake in 325-degree oven basting occasionally, 30 minutes or until yams are heated and glazed. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 2 cups glaze.

RIB ROAST OF BEEF

5 to 7 pounds rolled or standing rib roast of beef
2 tablespoons coarse salt
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce

If standing rib roast, stand on rib bones in shallow open pan; if rolled rib roast, place on rack with fat side up. Mix together salt and pepper sauce; rub over fat surface of meat. Insert meat thermometer. Make sure pointed end of thermometer does not rest on bone, fat or gristle. Roast in a 325-degree oven as follows:

For standing rib roast: rare, 22 minutes per pound (internal temperature 140 degrees); medium, 25 minutes per pound (internal temperature 140 degrees); well-done, 30 minutes per pound (internal temperature 170 degrees).

For rolled rib roast: rare, 30 minutes per pound (internal temperature 140 degrees); medium, 33 minutes per pound (internal temperature 140 degrees); well-done, 40 minutes per pound (internal temperature 170 degrees).

Allow 1-3rd to 1/4 pound bone-in roast per serving, or 1/4 pound boned roast per serving.

CRAB MOUSSE IN TOMATO CUPS

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt

2 teaspoons dry mustard
1/2 cup fresh lemon juice
1/2 cup sour cream
2 cups flaked cooked crab
1 cup snipped fresh dill
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
8 to 12 large tomatoes

Sprinkle gelatin over water in saucepan. Place over low heat; stir constantly until gelatin dissolves, about 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in sugar, salt, dry mustard and lemon juice. Add sour cream and beat until blended. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Stir in flaked crab and dill. Fold in whipped cream. Chill until mixture can be piled up in mounds. Remove thin slice from top of tomato and scoop out pulp to form a shell. Reserve tomato pulp for soup, sauce or stuffing of other vegetables. Drain liquid from tomato shells. Spoon in chilled crab mousse, piling high over top of tomato. Chill until firm, 3 or 4 hours. Garnish with sprigs of dill. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 to 12 servings.

FRESH BROCCOLI PUFF

1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons chopped fresh onion
1/2 cup flour
4 cups milk
3 eggs
1 tablespoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 bunch broccoli, finely chopped (4 cups)

In a large saucepan, melt butter. Add onion and cook until tender. Blend in flour. Gradually stir in milk and cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and comes to a boil. Remove from heat. In a small bowl, beat eggs, salt and pepper and stir in a small amount of hot sauce. Return egg mixture to saucepan and mix well. Stir in broccoli. Turn into a 2-quart buttered casserole or baking dish. Bake in 350-degree oven for 50 minutes, until top is golden and tip of knife inserted near center comes out clean. Let stand for 5 minutes before serving. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.

SOUR CREAM SCALLOPED POTATOES

2 cups (1 pint) sour cream
1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
1/2 cup chopped scallions
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 pound fresh mushroom, chopped
1/2 teaspoon dried dill weed
6 medium potatoes, pared and cut into 1/4-inch slices

In a large bowl, mix all ingredients except potatoes. Add potatoes and mix well. Place in buttered 2-quart casserole or baking dish and bake uncovered in 300-degree oven 1 1/2 hours, until potatoes are tender. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 servings.

POTATO-ONION MOUNDS

4 pounds (12 medium) potatoes, pared and cut up
1/2 cup plus 1-3rd cup butter or margarine, divided
1 cup hot beef bouillon
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 Bermuda onions, peeled and cut in 6 thick slices each

Cook potatoes in slightly salted boiling water in large covered saucepan 20 minutes, or until very tender. Drain; place over low heat 1 or 2 minutes to dry out, shaking pan gently. With potato masher or electric mixer, mash potatoes thoroughly until no lumps remain. Stir in 1/2 cup butter, then gradually beat in enough hot bouillon to make potatoes fluffy and creamy. Add salt and pepper. Cover potatoes and keep hot. Heat remaining 1-3rd cup butter in large skillet; add onion slices and cook, turning only once, until lightly browned; remove. Spoon potatoes in 12 mounds on serving platter. Top each with an onion slice. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 12 servings.

SPICED CRANBERRY RELISH

1 pound (4 cups) fresh cranberries
2 cups sugar
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup diced oranges
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ground allspice
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
1/4 teaspoon salt

Place cranberries in saucepan with sugar and water. Cover; bring to boiling point and cook only until skins burst, about 8 to 10 minutes. Add oranges, ginger, cinnamon, allspice, cloves and salt. Cook 1 minute. Cool and serve with turkey or roast, in orange cups if desired. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 3 1/2 cups.

APPLE AND DATE PIE

2-3rd cup sugar
2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup chopped dates
4 cups thinly sliced, peeled fresh apples
1/4 cup orange juice

Pecan Pastry
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 egg yolk (optional)
1 teaspoon water (optional)

Combine sugar, tapioca, spices and salt. Add dates and mix to coat pieces thoroughly. Stir in apples and orange juice and let stand 15 minutes. Roll out half of the pastry 1/4-inch thick. Line a 9-inch pie pan and trim pastry at edge. Roll remaining pastry 1/4-inch thick. Cut several 2-inch slits near center. Fill bottom crust with apple mixture; dot with butter. Moisten edge of bottom crust. Place top crust over filling. Open slits to permit escape of steam. Trim top crust, letting it extend 1/2-inch over rim. To seal, press top and bottom crusts together on rim; then fold edge of top crust under bottom crust and flute. Combine egg yolk and water; brush over crust. Bake at 425 degrees for 55 minutes, or until syrup boils with heavy bubbles that do not burst.

(Use Greening, Cortland, Rome Beauty, Wealthy or McIntosh variety.)

PECAN PASTRY: Measure 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour and 1 teaspoon salt into bowl. Cut in 2-3rd cup shortening with pastry blender or 2 knives until mixture resembles coarse meal. Mix in 2-3rd cup finely chopped pecans. Sprinkle in about 7 tablespoons water, a small amount at a time, mixing lightly with fork until all particles are moistened and cling together when pastry is pressed into a ball. Wrap in wax paper and chill slightly before rolling. Makes enough pastry for 1 two-crust 9-inch pie.

RUM-NUT PIE

1 package (4-serving size) vanilla flavor pudding and pie filling
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
Dash of salt
2 cups milk
1 egg yolk
1 egg white
2 tablespoons sugar
1 envelope whipped topping mix
1/2 cup chopped pecans
2 teaspoons rum extract
1 baked 9-inch pie shell, cooled

Combine pie filling mix, gelatin and salt in saucepan. Blend in 1/4 cup of the milk and the egg yolk. Add remaining milk; cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Beat egg white until foamy throughout. Gradually add sugar and continue beating until mixture will form soft rounded peaks. Gradually fold in hot filling. Cool, stirring occasionally.

Prepare whipped topping mix as directed on package. Fold 1 cup of the prepared whipped topping, the nuts and extract into pudding mixture. Pour into pie shell. Chill. Garnish with remaining prepared whipped topping and chopped candied fruits, if desired.

CHOCOLATE-DIPPED CUT-OUT COOKIES

2 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 squares semi-sweet chocolate, melted

Mix flour with salt and baking powder. Cream butter. Gradually beat in sugar and continue beating until light and fluffy. Add egg and vanilla; beat well. Gradually add flour mixture, beating well after each addition. Roll 1/4-inch thick on lightly floured board. Cut with cookie cutters and place on ungreased baking sheets. Bake at 375 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes. Cool on racks. Dip portions of each cookie into melted chocolate. Decorate with frosting and colored sprinkles, as desired. Makes about 3 1/2 dozen.

Potatoes

Mouth-Watering, Impressive Side Dishes

If you're planning a festive dinner party this holiday season, make sure that you can join in the high spirits, too — so often the host or hostess is left in the kitchen with little time to participate in the festivities.

One approach to entertaining with ease is by serving foods that can be prepared in advance. And with the accent on sumptuous, luxurious fare so characteristic of holiday entertaining, there is no better choice than potatoes.

Without losing quality or savoriness, two exquisite stuffed potato accompaniments can be made ahead of time and frozen. All it takes is reheating them just before dinner to allow the chef to relax and join in the merriment. One impressive dish that complements a savory meat such as roast pork or hearty steak is Blue Danube Party Potatoes. A baked potato is made extra rich with blue cheese, tarragon and parsley.

Another mouth-watering option is Golden Sun Valley Potatoes — and, as its name suggests, it is truly as good as gold. Morsels of Parmesan cheese melt in a creamy filling with scallions to produce a luscious stuffed potato.

Here's a tip on handling the potatoes: let them cool; then use a spoon to scoop out the insides. Leave about a quarter-inch of potato lining the skin to hold its shape and prevent it from breaking. To make the potatoes the night before, fill them with the stuffing, cover with foil and refrigerate. Simply heat them before dinner.

And, while preparing these dishes, why not make a few more stuffed potatoes and freeze them so your family can enjoy them for a post-holiday dinner?

BLUE DANUBE PARTY POTATOES

- 4 Idaho potatoes
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup (2 ounces) crumbled blue cheese
- 1/4 cup chopped fresh parsley
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 3/4 teaspoon dried leaf tarragon
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

Scrub potatoes, dry and prick with fork. Bake in a 425 degree F. oven 55 to 65 minutes, until soft. Reduce oven to 350 degrees F. When potatoes are done cut a slice from top of each. Carefully scoop out potato without breaking skin. Set skins aside. Place potato pulp in a medium mixing bowl. Add egg; beat until smooth. Stir in blue cheese, parsley, onion, tarragon, salt and pepper. Spoon potato mixture into reserved potato skins. Place in baking dish. Spoon butter over potatoes. At this point potatoes may be frozen. To serve immediately, bake in a 350 degree F. oven 25 to 30 minutes or until heated through. Yield: 4 servings.

To freeze: Place unwrapped potatoes in freezer until firm, about 30 minutes. Wrap potatoes individually in aluminum foil using the drug store wrap. Return to freezer. To serve: Thaw potatoes overnight in refrigerator. Bake as above.

GOLDEN SUN VALLEY POTATOES

- 4 Idaho potatoes
- 1 egg
- 3/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese, divided
- 1/4 cup minced scallions
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

Scrub potatoes, dry and prick with fork. Bake in a 425 degree F. oven 55 to 65 minutes until done. Reduce oven temperature to 350 degrees F. Cut a slice from top of each. Carefully scoop out potato without breaking skin. Set skins aside. Place potato pulp in a medium mixing bowl. Add egg; beat until smooth. Stir in 1/2 cup Parmesan cheese, scallions, salt and pepper. Spoon potato mixture into reserved potato skins. Place in baking dish. Spoon butter over potatoes. Sprinkle with remaining 1/4 cup Parmesan cheese. At this point potatoes may be frozen. To serve immediately, bake in a 350 degree F. oven 25 to 30 minutes or until heated through. If desired, place under broiler about 2 minutes until golden. Yield: 4 servings.

To freeze: Place unwrapped potatoes in freezer until firm, about 30 minutes. Wrap each potato in aluminum foil using the drug store wrap. Return to freezer. To serve: Thaw potatoes overnight in refrigerator. Bake as above.

Glorious spuds make holiday entertaining easy and elegant as featured in this luscious accompaniment, Golden Sun Valley Potatoes.

Light, creamy Veloute Sauce complements chicken breasts.

Stuffed Chicken Is Ideal Dish For Two

Many are finding themselves in the position of cooking for fewer people, maybe just one or two. This can be difficult anytime, but especially so when looking for a special meal, perhaps to be served during the holidays.

Poultry and stuffing, appealing and appropriate this time of year, can be a challenge when you're preparing for two.

Stuffed Chicken Breasts with Veloute Sauce can be the tasty answer to your dilemma. Tender, succulent chicken breasts are stuffed with a pork sausage and herb-seasoned stuffing mixture. Crispy and savory on the outside, the chicken is sprinkled with crushed herb seasoned croutons before baking. The light, creamy veloute sauce adds just the flavor combination to complement the chicken and stuffing.

Traditional holiday fare, sweet potatoes, have been transformed into a tangy side dish to serve with the chicken. Raisins and orange marmalade blend with the potatoes to add a surprising flavor variation.

Topped with honey and nut coated corn flakes cereal, the flavor and texture combination of Sweet Potato Bake might become a new seasonal favorite of yours.

Round out the meal with a salad or relish tray, bread and dessert to make dinner for two. It can be an enjoyable, delicious dining experience.

STUFFED CHICKEN BREASTS WITH VELOUTE SAUCE

- 2 chicken breasts, boned and halved (4 pieces)
  - 1/4 cup bulk pork sausage
  - 2 tablespoons chopped onion
  - 2 tablespoons chopped celery
  - 1 cup herb-seasoned croutons
  - 1-3rd cup water
  - 2 tablespoons margarine or butter, melted

3. Portion 4 tightly packed mounds (about 1/4 cup each) of stuffing into foil-lined 9 x 9 x 2-inch baking pan. Place 1 chicken piece, skin side up, over each stuffing mound, tucking edges under stuffing to form bundle.
4. Brush chicken with the melted margarine. Sprinkle evenly with crushed croutons.
5. Bake at 400 degrees F for 25 minutes or until golden brown and tender. Serve with Veloute Sauce. Yield: 2 servings

VELOUTE SAUCE

Microwave Magic

Gifts From The Kitchen Are Always Well Received

One certainly can be occupied with thoughts of food and preparation of food for the holidays. In addition to planning family meals and parties, I like to plan now a number of food items to give as gifts.

The microwave oven can be a great help in all areas of the holiday food preparations. By starting now, the time closer to the holiday will not seem so hectic and you will even have satisfied the question of what to give to some of those on your list.

Gifts from the kitchen are always well received and often nothing else will do.

The microwave oven can be your greatest kitchen asset during the holiday season. Don't forget to use it. Start by preparing these gifts with it. A little ribbon, glass or tin containers and Christmas wrap make the gift even nicer.

BUTTERMILK PRALINES

Makes 4 dozen

2 cups sugar
1 cup buttermilk
 $\frac{3}{4}$  cup butter or margarine
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups pecan halves

Butter 3-quart mixing bowl. Stir in sugar, baking soda, buttermilk and butter. Microwave 50 percent power 30 to 40 minutes or until a soft ball forms in cold water, stirring 2 to 3 times during cooking. Add vanilla. Beat at high speed with electric mixer until soft peaks form. Stir in pecans.

Drop by teaspoon onto wax paper. Cool until firm. Store in tightly covered container in freezer or in refrigerator.

Another candy recipe that is sure to please is Almond Crunch. This recipe does not mention chocolate coating, but I usually melt a milk chocolate bar and spread on the brittle or sprinkle with nuts.

ALMOND CRUNCH

2 cups sugar

Midge Mycoff

Home Economist
Seminole Community College

$\frac{1}{2}$  cup water
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup dark corn syrup
1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup  $\frac{3}{4}$  ozs. silvered almonds

Combine sugar, water, corn syrup and butter in 2-quart glass mixing bowl. Microwave (high), uncovered, 18 to 20 minutes or until candy thermometer registers 290, stirring every 5 minutes. (If you don't have a candy thermometer, drop a small amount of mixture in cold water and it should form a soft crack consistency.) Stir in almonds. Pour at once onto buttered cookie sheet. Cool. Break into pieces. A Microwave safe thermometer is a handy piece of equipment to use, when making candy. It can be used in the microwave while it is operating. It takes some of the guess work out of candy making.

A red or green pepper jelly to be served with cream cheese and crackers is always welcome.

HOT PEPPER JELLY

$\frac{1}{4}$  cup chopped or ground red or green hot peppers
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup chopped or ground sweet green peppers
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cups sugar
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cups vinegar
1 bottle liquid pectin (certo)

Grind peppers on fine blade of food grinder or use a blender. Bring to a brisk boil. Boil 3 minutes. Add pectin and boil 1 minute longer. Boil at 100 percent power for 3 minutes. Add pectin and boil 1 minute longer. Watch carefully because of bubble-ups. Remove from heat and let stand 5 minutes longer. Put into jars. Seal with wax. Serve on crackers with cream cheese.

SUGAR AND SPICE NUTS

(About 2  $\frac{1}{2}$  cups)

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup packed brown sugar
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon cinnamon
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon nutmeg
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon grated orange peel, if desired
1 tablespoon water
2 cups (about 8 ozs.) shelled walnuts or pecan halves or whole almonds

Microwave (high), butter in 1-quart glass bowl or casserole  $\frac{1}{2}$  to 1 minute (2 to 2  $\frac{1}{2}$ ) or until melted. Add remaining ingredients; stir until nuts are coated evenly. Microwave (high), uncovered, 4 to 5 minutes (9 to 10) or until nuts are toasted and glazed, stirring 2 to 3 times. Spoon nuts in single layer onto wax paper. Cool.

Next week's column: Christmas cookies from the microwave.

STRAWBERRY OR PEACH JAM

1- $\frac{1}{2}$  cups sugar
3 cups frozen strawberries or peaches
3 tsp. powdered fruit pectin

Place strawberries in 2-quart bowl. Mash well. Do not drain juice. Stir in sugar and pectin, mixing thoroughly. Cook at 650w (high) 3 to 4 minutes, or until mixture reaches a rolling boil.

Reduce setting to 455w (roast) and cook 5 minutes, or until slightly thickened. Jam will thicken more as it cools. Skim off foam. Pour into glasses, cover with plastic wrap and store in refrigerator. If you like a thicker jam, add an extra teaspoon fruit pectin.

Fresh strawberries or peaches can be used when available. Substitute 2 cups fresh fruit for frozen, and reduce fruit pectin to 2 teaspoons.

Have a variety of homemade cookies and confections on hand.

New Ideas For Yummy Holiday Sweet Treats

Nothing is more traditional in many households during the holidays than homemade cookies and confections. Great for gifts, or to serve when friends drop by or to say happy holidays to your family, everyone has holiday favorites.

Why not add some new ideas to your collection this year? Cinnamon Snowballs, snow-white with confectioners' sugar, are tender and cinnamon-y with the crunch of corn flake crumbs and nuts in a tender bite-sized cookie. Peanut butter and chocolate team up with the crunch of oven-toasted rice cereal to make Peanut Butter Logs, confections that will be enjoyed by adults and children alike.

Fruitcake Squares, made with wheat bran cereal, and lots of fruits and nuts are like mini-fruitcakes. Brownies take on a new flair when coffee is added to the batter and frosting. Mocha Bran Brownies will be year-round favorites, a welcome addition to any brownie lover's repertoire.

The holidays are approaching so you'll want to get started on your holiday favorites. This year, add some new ones to your holiday cookies and confections recipe collection.

Lamb A New Note To Holiday Meals

The traditional feasts that get so much attention at holiday time are surrounded by many other spontaneous gatherings of family and friends. Seasoned hosts will be prepared with convenient yet festive menu ideas. With today's smaller households and diet-wise consumers, a lean leg of New Zealand Spring lamb provides a perfect solution. Flash-frozen in New Zealand to lock in freshness, New Zealand Spring lamb roasts are available year-round handily sized at five to seven pounds, making them perfect for groups of six to eight. Also, because lamb has less internal fat than other red meat, you'll be serving a satisfying roast without adding to holiday diet woes.

Enhancing the natural goodness of lamb is Lamb "Wassail." Literally, "wassail" is a toast that means "be healthy." In merry old England, it became the name of a spiced wine served at Christmas. We've taken the traditional ingredients and created a magnificently flavored marinade. The minimal preparation is done ahead of time, so you can relax, too.

When there's a nip in the air, few foods are as satisfying as braised meat. And when you're talking about New Zealand lamb shoulder chops, economy adds to the satisfaction. Select a lamb shoulder from your supermarket freezer case and ask the butcher to cut it into steaks and chops on his bandsaw.

Braised Chops in Wine is a soul-warming combination of chopped vegetables, herbs, wine and mild-flavored shoulder chops. The goodness of this classic culinary method is capped by mixing sour cream with the essential pan juices remaining after cooking the chops; this makes a creamy, savory sauce.

LAMB "WASSAIL"
1 frozen leg of New Zealand Spring lamb, 5 to 6 pounds, defrosted
1 cup Burgundy or any dry red wine
1/4 cup water
2 cloves garlic, minced
2 tablespoons grated onion
Zest of half a lemon, cut in thin strips

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg

With a sharp knife, trim off any excess fat from lamb. With tip of knife, cut small slits in meat. In a large plastic bag combine wine, water, garlic, onion, lemon zest, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg; mix well. Place lamb in bag with wine mixture. Close bag tightly. Marinate lamb in refrigerator 12 hours or overnight; turn lamb several times. Drain lamb; reserve marinade. Place lamb, fat-side-up, on rack in shallow roasting pan; brush with reserved marinade. Roast in a 325 degree F. oven 1 hour 45 minutes or until meat thermometer registers 140 degrees F. for rare, 160 degrees F. for medium, 170 degrees F. for well-done. Brush with reserved marinade every 30 minutes during roasting. Remove meat to serving platter. Allow to "rest" 10 minutes before carving. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

BRAISED CHOPS IN WINE
1 tablespoon vegetable oil
8 frozen New Zealand Spring lamb shoulder chops, defrosted
1 cup dry white wine or dry vermouth, divided
1 large onion, chopped (1 cup)
1 large carrot, chopped (1/2 cup)
2 cloves garlic, chopped
1 teaspoon dried leaf thyme, crumbled
1 bay leaf
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2-3rd cup sour cream

In large skillet heat oil over high heat; brown chops on both sides. Drain fat. Combine 1/2 cup wine, onion, carrot, garlic, thyme, bay leaf, salt and pepper; pour over chops. Cover. Cook over medium heat 45 minutes or until chops are tender. Remove chops to serving platter; keep warm. Add remaining 1/2 cup wine to vegetables in pan. Stir, scraping up bits from bottom of pan. Bring to a boil. Stir in sour cream; heat through but do not boil. Spoon sauce over chops. Yield: 4 servings.

HOLIDAY AVOCADO ORANGE SALAD Avocado Showboat For Festive Holiday Salad

It seems like there are never enough good, easy recipes for the holidays. They're either too much work or not fancy enough.

The answer can be as near as your produce section when you choose Florida avocados. Their big beautiful size and pretty green color make them a wonderful holiday fruit. And they can help make simple recipes special.

Whirled into dips, avocados add festive color and mellow-nutty flavor to hors d'oeuvres. Leftover turkey salad looks glamorous served in a big Florida avocado half. And plain consommé or jellied madrilene is elegant presented in a Florida "showboat."

In addition to their distinctive good looks and versatility, Florida avocados are nutritious and lower in calories, ounce for ounce, than other commercially grown avocados. So you can indulge throughout the holiday season with no guilty feelings. Avocados are an especially nice flavor complement to tangy citrus. If you don't already have a favorite avocado-citrus salad, this recipe for Holiday Avocado Orange Salad is a lovely one to try. The Lime Mustard Dressing marries many varied flavors with wonderful results that really bring out the avocado and citrus flavors. Red pepper spears and onions add additional flavor and bright holiday color.

Instead of the traditional salad slices, make use of the Florida avocado's large size as an edible serving bowl. Slice each avocado lengthwise around the seed, then twist halves in opposite directions and remove the seed. There's a perfect hollow for the rest of the salad. It's convenient and very eye appealing. When making Holiday Avocado Orange Salad or other avocado dishes, remember to buy avocados several days before you'll be using them, as they need some time to soften. But that's no problem because while you're waiting for them to ripen, they make beautiful holiday centerpiece. Arrange avocados, bright green limes, apples, and oranges with pine cones or a spray of evergreen in your favorite basket. Keep an eye on the avocados so they don't get overripe. They're ripe when they yield slightly to a gentle squeeze. Then simply replace the ripe avocado with a new firm one. That way you'll have a constant supply during the busy holiday season, as well as a very festive display.

HOLIDAY AVOCADO ORANGE SALAD
Curly lettuce
2 Florida avocados, halved and pitted
1 1/2 cups fresh orange segments (about 3 oranges)
12 pickled or fresh sweet red pepper strips
4 red onion rings
Watercress sprigs
Lime wedges
Lime Mustard Dressing (recipe follows)
Line individual serving plates with lettuce. Place an avocado half on each. Fill cavities with orange segments, pepper strips and onion rings. Garnish with watercress sprigs and lime wedges. Serve with Lime Mustard Dressing. Makes 4 servings.

LIME MUSTARD DRESSING: In small bowl whisk together 2 tablespoons each lime juice and orange marmalade, 1 tablespoon white wine vinegar, 2 teaspoons Dijon-style mustard and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Gradually whisk in 1/4 cup vegetable oil. Add 1 clove garlic, peeled and halved. Chill 2 hours. Remove garlic and stir before serving. Makes about 1/2 cup.

Red wine and spices combine to give Leg of Lamb "Wassail" the authentic "To Your Health!" flavor-greeting for holiday meals.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Thursday, December 17, 1981

YOUR BIRTHDAY December 17, 1981
You may have some interesting challenges to contend with this coming year, but you'll be more than a match for anything that confronts you. They might slow you down a trifle, but they won't stop you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You know what needs doing today and you have the capabilities to do it. However, you might do more thinking about it than actually putting forth the effort. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in each of the seasons following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Two things could hold you back today: Self-defeating thoughts and trying to do something the identical way it proved unsuccessful previously.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't dig too deeply today into a friend's personal affairs. You might uncover something you won't be able to resist telling others about.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Important decisions which personally affect you should be made by yourself today, not by others. Though their intentions may be good, their judgment could be faulty.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Beware of making judgments today if you're not certain you have all the facts. Decisions based upon sketchy information could cause problems later.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't bank too heavily today on persons who have proven to be unreliable, especially in situations where there is money involved.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Both you and your mate may not be too good today at keeping promises made to one another. Neither should make commitments which can't be fulfilled.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Avoid participating in office gossip today with coworkers. Word could get back to the boss, making you appear to be the culprit.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be doubly protective of, and careful with, your resources and possessions today. Carelessness or leaving things unguarded could lead to a loss.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There's a chance today that you might be kind to those who don't deserve it and hostile toward those who do. Distinguish between persons who matter and ones who don't.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Normally, evaluations are based upon logic and facts, but today you may merely play your hunches. This could get you off-track.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) This is not a good day to become involved in financial dealings with friends. There's a possibility something could go awry and create bad feelings on both sides.

Iodine Deficiency Unlikely These Days

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am worried about my iodine intake. Many reliable sources say that the less salt we use the healthier our bodies will be because salt can cause high blood pressure and fluid retention. My mother had a thyroid condition and had a goiter removed. I have consistently purchased low sodium iodized salt. But the last two years my cooking habits have changed. I do not use salt in preparing meals.

Because I use so little salt is there a chance that I may develop a goiter? Is there any other way I can get iodine in my diet? I ate a delicious restaurant seafood dinner yesterday, but it contained salt and today I feel five pounds heavier. My ring, shoes and clothing are uncomfortably tight.

DEAR DR. LAMB — We are having a little dispute and we need you to settle it. Our science teacher told us that before any oxygen hits your blood it is blue. Our parents tell us this is not true. They say your blood is always red. Can you please tell us what color blood really is before oxygen hits it? Who is right, our parents or our science teacher? Our parents do not think our science teacher is qualified to teach.

DEAR READER — It is traditional to speak of venous blood as being blue blood. You can pick up any color-illustrated science book showing the circulation and see this scheme used. I use the distinction of blue blood for blood in the veins that is not fully loaded with oxygen and red for fully oxygenated blood found in arteries myself.

The venous blood is not really blue, but it is a lot darker than arterial (oxygenated) blood. Because the walls of the veins are blue you can see the combination of colors provide a blue cast to the veins over the back of the hands or elsewhere. And if blood is trapped in tissue so it can't get enough oxygen, it impart a bluish color to the skin which we call cyanosis. As soon as venous blood hits the air it will absorb oxygen and become red at once.

WIN AT BRIDGE

and with a little luck they might have won instead of finishing just seventh.

John elected to open one club on account of the worthless doubleton in diamonds. His one notrump rebid bought the contract.

West opened the king of spades. East took his ace and led back the three of diamonds. West cashed the ace and king and got out with the 10 of hearts. At this stage of the proceedings John had an almost perfect count of the hand. He cashed the ace-king and queen of hearts and when everyone followed he decided that East's tray of diamonds had been an honest fourth best. Hence, West had 6-3-3-1 distribution and would have been one down at two spades.

John needed eight tricks at notrump to score plus-120 and beat any South players who were plus-100.

It was no problem for John. He simply led his deuce of clubs to dummy's nine. East took the queen and led back the jack. John took his ace, led to dummy's 10, cashed the jack of hearts and queen of diamonds, threw East in with the jack of diamonds and scored the all-important eighth trick since East had to lead a club.

Beans Cure For Holiday Food Rut

We all tend to go overboard in the food department during the holidays, leaning toward extremely rich foods and desserts.

ITALIAN-STYLE BEANS

- 1 medium clove garlic, minced
- 1/4 teaspoon oregano leaves, crushed
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 can (16 ounces) pork & beans in tomato sauce

- 1 cup cooked small shell macaroni
- 1 can (about 8 ounces) tomatoes, chopped
- 1/2 cup cooked cut green beans
- 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
- In a saucepan, cook garlic and oregano in oil a few minutes; adding remaining ingredients. Heat; stir occasionally. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 3 cups, 6 servings.

CHILLED BEAN AND PEPPER SALAD

- 1 can (16 ounces) pork & beans in tomato sauce

- 1 1/2 cups cooked rice
- 1/4 cup chili sauce
- 1/4 cup diced green pepper
- 1/4 cup chopped dill pickle
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- In a bowl, combine all ingredients. Chill 4 hours or more. Serve on lettuce. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 3 1/2 cups, 6 servings.

Zippy Short Cuts

Knowing a few short cuts can often mean rushing a triumph to the table rather than a half-baked offering.

Here's some hints suggested by a classy cookbook dedicated to speed, economy and good-tasting, nutritious meals.

Frozen sandwiches save time when packing lunches. These ingredients freeze well: cream cheese, cooked egg yolks, sliced or ground cooked meat, tuna, salmon, peanut butter. Seal bread by spreading butter to the edges. Pack lettuce or bean sprouts separately to add later.

Serve tortillas instead of bread at meals. Lightly spread one side of each tortilla with butter or margarine. Sprinkle lightly with sugar, if desired. Gently roll up each tortilla and wrap in foil. Heat in warm oven and serve.

Use a tight-sealed plastic marinator to marinate meats, poultry, fish or vegetables. Distribute the liquid by quickly inverting the sturdy container every so often as you pass the refrigerator.

Use a divided serving dish to serve hot vegetables and hot rolls. You only have to pass one dish at the table.

Deluxe Food Gifts

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Special To The Herald
Many delightful holiday gifts originate in gardens and orchards. This combines nutrition, thrift and delightful eating.

Imagine opening your door on Christmas morning and having a pillow case filled with tender spinach handed to you. Think of the salads to be made! Think of fresh spinach served as part of a steak dinner!

Here's how to give such a gift, according to Mary Anne Guender, food information specialist of the New Jersey State Department of Agriculture.

Select spinach with leaves that are fresh, crisp and green.

As soon as possible after purchase, wash and store the spinach in the crisper of the refrigerator.

If large amounts of greens are to be washed, they can be tossed into a clean pillow case and placed in the washing machine. Set the machine on the rinse cycle (the second rinse cycle if there are two settings).

Allow the machine to progress through the rinse cycle and the spin-dry cycle. Your greens will come out beautifully clean, and you will have spent little time washing them.

Remember, one cup of spinach contains only 45 calories.

A deluxe food gift could be macadamia nuts. These nuts with a unique flavor and texture originated in Australia but now are primarily a product of Hawaii.

Macadamias are one of the most expensive nutmeats to produce, yet the demand for them is such that the industry's biggest problem has been supplying enough. A 3.5-ounce jar of macadamia nuts costs about $2.50 and would make a superb and unexpected gift.

Artichokes are plentiful in Spain, France and Italy. Most of the U.S. supply comes from Castroville, Calif.

We suggest a box of six artichokes, expertly packed in white paper and wrapped with Christmas ribbon, to be sent to a friend who until now has been unaware of their subtle flavor.

Punch Bowl Adds Glamour To Fete

Celebrating is wonderful but it wreaks havoc with the diet and makes it hard to maintain optimum health. You can make a festive punch using Florida Punch teams citrus superstars—Florida tangerine or orange and grapefruit juice—with low calorie raspberry soda. The Florida grapefruit juice provides a slight tartness, the orange or tangerine juice a decided sweetness. The vitamin C found in the citrus guards against winter colds and the flu, another plus.

The punch bowl adds glamour and excitement to a gathering and the pretty pink Tangerine Holiday Punch offers a sweetly refreshing libation for just 35 calories a serving. A votre sante!

TANGERINE HOLIDAY PUNCH

1 quart grapefruit juice, chilled
1 cup Florida tangerine juice or orange juice, chilled
1 bottle (16 ounces) low-calorie raspberry soda, chilled
Florida tangerine or orange sections
In punch bowl mix all ingredients except sections. Add sections and serve over ice.
Yield: 14 four-ounce servings, 35 calories per serving.

Pie Any Time

BLACK FOREST PIE

1 ready-crust chocolate-flavored pie crust
1 cup cold whipping cream
1 jar (7 or 7½ ounces) marshmallow creme
2 squares (1 ounce each) unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons maraschino cherry juice
¼ cup quartered maraschino cherries chilled beaters and bowl, whip cream until stiff. Using same beaters, combine marshmallow, chocolate and vanilla until well blended. Gradually add cherry juice blending until smooth. Fold in whipped cream and cherries. Pour into crust. Freeze until firm, about 2 hours. Garnish with additional cherries, if desired.

MOCHA CREME PIE

1 ready-crust chocolate-flavored pie crust
2 tablespoons instant coffee
1-3 cup hot water
1 jar (7 or 7½ ounces) marshmallow creme
2 squares (1 ounce each) unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 carton (8 ounces) frozen whipped topping, thawed
Dissolve coffee in hot water. In large mixing bowl, gradually add coffee to marshmallow, mixing until well blended. Stir in melted chocolate. Fold in whipped topping. Spoon into crust. Chill until firm, about 3 hours. If desired, garnish with chocolate curls.

Note: For extra-dark chocolate flavor, increase unsweetened chocolate to 3 squares.

FROZEN ORANGE CREAM PIE

1 ready-crust chocolate-flavored pie crust
1 can (6 ounces) frozen orange juice concentrate, softened
1 egg white
2-3 cup sugar
1 cup cold whipping cream
few drops yellow and red food coloring

In medium bowl, combine orange juice, egg white, and sugar. Beat on high speed until soft peaks form and sugar is dissolved. Chill while preparing cream. Using same beaters, combine cream and enough food coloring to tint a medium orange. Whip until stiff. Fold whipped cream into orange mixture. Spoon into crust. Freeze until firm, about 3 hours. Garnish with additional whipped cream and grated orange peel, if desired.

CRANBERRY PRALINE PIE

1 ready-crust butter-flavored pie crust
¼ cup chopped pecans
¼ cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup cold whipping cream
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup brown sugar
1 can (1 pound) whole berry cranberry sauce
In heavy saucepan, heat pecans, ¼ cup brown sugar and butter over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil, stirring frequently. Spread the pecan mixture over the bottom of the crust and allow to cool.

Using well-chilled beaters and bowl, whip cream until stiff. Set aside ¼ cup whipped cream for garnish. Using same beaters, beat cream cheese and vanilla, gradually adding ¼ cup of brown sugar until the mixture is smooth. Reserve ¼ cup cranberries for garnish; stir remaining sauce into cream cheese mixture. Fold cranberry mixture into whipped cream. Spoon into crust. Chill until firm, about 4 hours. Decorate with remaining whipped cream and cranberries.

Spiced Wine Tea Warming Combo

During the holidays, when friends drop by to see your tree, to exchange gifts and good wishes, it's nice to have a quickly made pitcher of punch on hand to serve with slices of fruit or pound cake and perhaps some little tart shells filled with mincemeat.

The punch can be a spiced wine tea, an irresistible combination of tea, which gives the punch body, spices, which add special tang and taste, and claret (or other dry red wine) for color and cheer.

SPICED WINE TEA (Makes 1 1/2 quarts)

- 1 quart boiling water
- 6 teabags
- 1 1/2 cups claret wine
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 4 orange slices, halved and studded with 2 whole cloves per slice

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Wednesday, Dec. 16, 1981-11C

half
Pour boiling water over teabags. Cover and let stand 5 minutes. Remove teabags. Meanwhile, bring remaining ingredients to a slow boil. Remove from heat and mix with hot tea. Serve in mugs. Garnish with cinnamon sticks.

Note: If desired, omit claret wine. Use 1 1/2 quarts boiling water and add other ingredients with teabags. Stir to dissolve sugar.
