Spring Snowstorm Blisters East, Midwest

By United Press International
Bitter spring weather as nasty as any December product besieged the upper Midwest and East today with blinding snowstorms and below-zero temperatures.

More snow was predicted from the Montana Rockies across the northern Plains, Wisconsin and upper Michigan into the Great Lakes and northern Appalachians, and through the New England states.

The mercury crashed to one degree below zero this morning at Bradford, in northern Illinois. International Falls, Minn., reported three degrees above zero. Temperatures were below freezing as far south as northern Tennessee and the Missouri-Arkansas line.

The thermometer dipped to zero at 5 a. m. in Milwaukee, the coldest temperature ever recorded there so late in the season.

Early-morning snows, whipped by 15-mile-an-hour winds, blizzarded western Pennsylvania, dumped three inches or more of snow in several areas and laid a dangerous slick across most roads.

NEW DISTRICT 2 County Commissioner J. H. Van Hoy, standing, second from left, beams as his bond is approved and signed by the County Commission at a special meeting Thursday night. Leaders Discuss Flood Relief Aid Seminole County representatives will go to Tampa Saturday to find what relief the county can get if such relief becomes necessary here.

County Agricultural Agent Cecil Tucker will represent Seminole agricultural interests at the Central Florida disaster relief meeting called by Gov. LeRoy Collins.

News Briefs

Seitz Convicted
MIAMI (UPI) — James J. Seitz, 36, was convicted of first degree murder Thursday in the butcher knife slaying of Chelise Tidd Jr., 32, an aluminum company executive.

Nuclear Stock Up
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. LeRoy Collins predicted Thursday Florida's program of nuclear development will be worth more than a third of a billion dollars to the state within the next decade.

Added Funds
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Appropriations Committee today added $187,000,000 to President Eisenhower's budget for health, education and welfare, including an extra $1,060,000 for a broad federal attack on juvenile delinquency.

Deadline Set
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Superior Dairy of Jacksonville has until April 30 to offer a fine to avoid revocation of its license. The Florida Milk Commission, charging that Superior underpaid milk farmers some $30,000 last year, took up the firm's license Thursday.

Life In Prison
DOWNEVILLE, Calif. (UPI) — Larry Lord Motherwell was sentenced Thursday to life in prison for the murder of Mrs. Pearl Putney, wealthy, 72-year-old Washington, D. C., widow. A jury of nine women and three men, which could have sent the 42-year-old defendant to the gas chamber, returned the verdict on the third day of deliberations.

22 Wounded
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U. S. Immigration Service has warned 22 persons within recent weeks against making unauthorized flights to Cuba. Officials said the warnings were a follow-up to Secretary of State Christian A. Herter's order last November aimed at preventing flights that might stir up trouble with the Castro regime.

Chuluota Youth Dance Saturday
The Chuluota Youth Club will hold its installation of officers and anniversary dance at 7:30 p. m. Saturday.

Film Showing
Slide films showing a real estate appraisal on a typical appraisal assignment will be shown at the Seminole County Board of Realtors appraisal class at 7 p. m. Monday night. The meeting will be held at the Pinescrest Elementary School.

Convicts Give In; Turn Over 18 Hostages

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — The tall, young convict with cropped hair walked out of the prison factory at dusk Thursday, flipped away his cigarette and spat on the ground. Then he stuck out his hands to be handcuffed.

That defiant action by Charles Raymond Farra, 26-year-old West Virginia kidnaper and robber, ended a 26-hour war of nerves in which he and a fellow convict gambled the lives of 18 hostages against the hope that 200 police would let them flee from the Tennessee state prison here.

Farra and Robert Rivers, 26, of Temple, Tex., armed with .38 and .45 caliber pistols smuggled into the prison, seized more than 70 hostages in a strangely disguised bid for freedom late Wednesday.

They released all but 18, including three women, and entreated themselves in a deputy warden's office in the prison clothing factory. They treated their hostages with elaborate courtesy but swore to kill them all unless given a fast car and a chance to shoot it out with police on the highway.

At the end they traded their prisoners for a promise of no punishment, a temporary transfer to the county jail and efforts by lawyers to obtain their release on a writ of habeas corpus.

Lake Mary School Move Starts Today
Lake Mary Elementary School students are moving out of their old school today and will be in the new school addition Monday. Principal Floyd Richards said today.

Moving the 150 students has held off until the boiler is ready in the new school or the weather warms up. The boiler will be ready shortly, according to Richards. The students are moving into five rooms of the new 15 classroom section.

The old section will be remodeled and made into an administrative suite, library, teachers' lounge and three classrooms. The new addition will also contain a cafeteria.

Altamonte Town Council Buys New Police Car
The Altamonte Springs Town Council agreed to buy a new police car for $1,680.74 at a meeting Thursday night.

The council accepted the low bid of Heinzelman's Ford Inc. of Orlando for a Ford Fairlane car. Heinzelman's actually bid $2,371.74, but allowed a $611 trade-in value on the present town police car.

The council also decided to transfer $927.50 from the general fund to the fire department budget to buy needed fire equipment. The money will be used to buy 650 feet of hose, a 2 1/2 inch nozzle and a fog gun. Mayor Wilbur Hawkins said that some of the hose now in use was made in 1931. Councilman Bill York said the newest hose the department has is 21 years old.

Mayor Hawkins recommended that Lt. Cdr. John G. Kennedy, Charles Pasternak and Kenneth Thompson be asked to serve as a town zoning commission. Attorney Joe Davis said the council should appoint a zoning board to recommend changes in the town zoning ordinance.

York was told to get bid specifications on a new backstop for the little league baseball field. York said the backstop would cost about $440. He said that the field could do with its present backstop for this year.

Councilman Homer Sewell said that the Florida Power and Light Co. had advised the town to hold off any more lighting on SR 436 until the state road is widened.

Mayor Hawkins said that the library association would start its fund drive and now "tentative plans" are to build a new library in the Altamonte city park. City Attorney Joe Davis said he did not see any restrictions on building a library in the city park so long as the building belonged to the public. He said the cost of the library would have to be maintained by the community, or by the town from the general operations fund.

Voters

Over 12,750 persons have registered to vote in the May 3 Democratic primary, Supervisor of Registration Mrs. Camilla Bruce said today.

Mrs. Bruce reminded residents that the vote registration deadline is April 2. She added that the registration office in the Chamber of Commerce building will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on that day.

Longwood Paving Work Starts Soon

Longwood's $37,371.50 street paving project should start within two weeks, town street superintendent John Farina said today.

The job should be done in six weeks to two months, Farina said. The 8,000 feet of paving to be done is on Grant Ave. from Wilder to Georgia Ave., Palmisto Ave. from Grant west to the railroad and on W.

Mohar Ave. to range paving and will do the job.

Farina said he would try to have the water line extension on Palmisto St. put in before pavement is put down there. Longwood workmen will do the Church St. and Palmisto St. water line extensions themselves. The whole street and water improvement program is being financed by the town's recent $70,000 bond issue.

Volunteers Hear First Aid Talk

Thirty members of the DeBary Volunteer Fire Department heard Clyde Lankford, of DeLand, give instructions in first-aid Wednesday night at the Fire House. Mr. Lankford is the chairman for the Red Cross first-aid instruction program in West Volusia, and he is a registered first-aid instructor.

He spoke on first-aid and artificial respiration, giving attention to the latest methods for the treatment of burns, shock, snake bites, excessive bleeding, heart ailments, drowning, and accidents of various kinds. He answered questions from the members, and then conducted a demonstration in the application of artificial respiration, use of dressings and bandages, and the proper method for applying tourniquets.

1,000 Attend Greco Ballet

Approximately 1,000 persons attended the Jose Greco Spanish ballet at the Civic Center Thursday night.

The ballet was sponsored by the Sanford DeBary Entertainment Assn. Greco and his troupe of dancers put on many stunning dance numbers featuring all 21 members of his troupe.

The performance lasted two hours and Greco received over eight curtain calls.

Quit Generalities, West Tells East

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States demanded that the disarmament talks today that the Soviet Union quit talking in generalities and get down to the specific question of inspection of an armed forces freeze.

But the Soviets replied that the United States was trying to "put the cart before the horse," and again refused to discuss control before the Western powers have agreed on specific measures of arms reduction.

One Western diplomat said the meeting was "an echo of London" with reference to the Soviet refusal to discuss controls before the disarmament subcommittee talks in London in 1957.

Frederick M. Eaton, chief American delegate, told the 10-nation conference he hoped the Soviets would reconsider their hasty refusal to discuss specifics.

Easter Seal Drive To Get TV Boost

Seminole County Easter Seal Campaign Chairman Ken McIntosh will make a television appearance in Orlando Sunday on behalf of the Seminole County Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

The Sanford attorney will be a special guest on the "Sunday with Sally" show carried on WLOF-TV Channel 9 at 3 p. m.

McIntosh's appearance will be in conjunction with the mailing of Easter Seals to Sanford families. The seals are being sent out here this week. Sanford's young Buster Anderson will also appear on the show, disguised as a carrot-munching Easter rabbit.

Longwood Home Development Set

A 200 home development will start in Longwood within three weeks, developer Sumner Aronson said today. Aronson who built 165 homes in Forest City Estates and Lake Harriett Estates in the last year and a half, said the homes will be in the $8,250 class. They should be finished within a year, he said.

The houses will be built in the town's northeast corner at the end of Highland St., diagonally across from Dynatronics Inc. and near the new Longwood Elementary School. The whole development will be on 46 acres.

Lansing Fund Barbecue Saturday

A barbecue dinner with proceeds going to the Porter Lansing fund will be held at 6:30 p. m. Saturday at the Elks Club grounds.

The public is invited to attend. The Sanford DOES is sponsoring the barbecue and tickets will be $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children.

Carlton Tours County, Promises To Advance Quality Of Citrus

Sen. Doyle E. Carlton Jr. toured Seminole County today, said he would continue working to advance the quality of Florida citrus and will make a campaign speech at 8 p. m. in Ft. Mellon Park.

Carlton, Ernest Southward, committee chairman, and Sen. Douglas Stenstrom were in a party traveling through the county for nine stops. The Wauchula senator met voters in Oviedo, Slavia, Chuluota, Longwood, Altamonte Springs, Geneva, Lake Mary, at his south Seminole headquarters on Hwy. 17-92 and in Sanford.

Carlton added the promise "to maintain constant vigilance in the search for new laws to advance the quality of our citrus products" to a proposal he made at Daytona Beach Thursday for completing four-laning of Hwy. 1 from Jacksonville to Ft. Pierce if he is elected. It would be a $250-million project.

"I am pledged to work as I have in the past, counseling with the industry and promoting legislation which will insure the highest attainable quality in our citrus products," he said, after praising citrus men for their devotion to the industry in our nation which does not run to the government for help all the time.

Thursday was a busy day for the other candidates for governor who continued swings around the state.

John McCarty of Fort Pierce said he is convinced that recent Negro sitdown demonstrations are illegal. They must be dealt with "fairly and firmly," he said, while stumping Sarasota, Polk and Manatee counties.

Fred O. Dickinson took a critical look at the state capital and pronounced it "ragging." He promised to completely renovate the place if elected.

Jacksonville Mayor Haydon Burns continued his criticism of campaign spending in a speech at Pensacola.

"Tremendous campaign expenses, forests of billboards, armies of paid workers, and Hollywood television productions" were among the items arousing Burns' wrath.

Ted David of Hollywood renewed his pledge to apply the state sales tax to banks in comments at Tallahassee. He indicated the banks have escaped such taxation so far only because of the work of the Senate's North Florida majority bloc, the "Pork Chop Gang."

Bryant Speaks In Sanford Saturday

Farris Bryant headed his campaign for Sanford today and will be at a public meeting at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in the Civic Center.

He was visiting with voters in Tampa, Daytona Beach and DeLand Thursday when he spelled out a campaign plank to direct the state government "economically and without the need of additional tax sources," if he is elected.

Bryant headquarters sent out a 10-page document to outline his tax proposals, in which he took a swipe at "hidden taxes," pointing out that "a $2,000 car means $1,500 in the car and $500 in hidden taxes" as he listed 151 of these items.

"To be more specific, so that my statement in this respect cannot be misunderstood, I will diligently resist any and all efforts to increase our taxes in any manner whatsoever by vigorous application of sound business management. Further, I will undertake reduction of taxes in some areas," Bryant said.

These areas included repeal of the intangible tax increase and revision of the inventory tax system.

Lynch said the zoning board, two years ago, had approved the area for commercial zoning and he and his group had planned on putting a shopping center in that vicinity.

Lynch said that large sums of money were borrowed on the strength of commercial zoning and now the board plans to "cut it up in residential and multiple dwelling areas."

"I don't like to see the board get into any legal tangle," Lynch said, adding "but, that is just what I intend to do."

"All I want is fair justice," he emphasized.

Lynch said he had a petition from approximately 60 property

Weathersfield Developer Opposes Zoning Proposal

The County Zoning Board had a tough time of it Thursday night as they were threatened with lawsuits, claims of misleading the public and cries of unfair justice.

Bill Lynch, president of the American Land Development Co. and Southern Development Co. appeared before the zoning board at their final comprehensive zoning hearing and appealed to the board to uphold commercial zoning along SR 436 in the Weathersfield area.

Lynch said the zoning board, two years ago, had approved the area for commercial zoning and he and his group had planned on putting a shopping center in that vicinity.

Lynch said that large sums of money were borrowed on the strength of commercial zoning and now the board plans to "cut it up in residential and multiple dwelling areas."

Nixon Gets Free Pass From Sanford Pitt-Putt Owner

Sanford Pitt-Putt Golf Course owner Harold Hardesty gave a free pass to the top customer of his career Thursday.

Hardesty said he had just walked into a restaurant across from Miami International Airport when he saw Vice President Richard Nixon sitting at a table with three aides.

Hardesty walked up to Nixon and gave him a free putt-putt pass, good anywhere in the county. Nixon thanked him and said he appreciated the gift.

Lynch said that large sums of money were borrowed on the strength of commercial zoning and now the board plans to "cut it up in residential and multiple dwelling areas."

"I don't like to see the board get into any legal tangle," Lynch said, adding "but, that is just what I intend to do."

Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Timms, pastor of the Ebenezer Methodist Church, were the guest speakers at the Indian River Community Center on Wednesday.
Their talk included some unusual denotations aimed at the young people. The Timms have been youth leaders of the Winona, Lake Bible Conference for the last 16 years.

The Spell of a Story

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter Verses
Sunday	Luke	1-10
Monday	Luke	11-20
Tuesday	Luke	21-30
Wednesday	Luke	31-40
Thursday	Luke	41-50
Friday	Luke	51-60
Saturday	Luke	61-70

Think back, grown-up! There haven't been many joys in life that compare to the thrill of being read to. Remember—we came to know most of those stories by heart—and we loved them more each time we heard them.

Robin Hood and Little John—King Arthur and Sir Launcelet—they became old friends. And the heroes of our Bible stories—David and Daniel and the Boy Jesus in the Temple—they lived before our eyes as though the centuries had melted away.

Those stories helped to mold our lives. They taught us courage and faith. We sought to be like the heroes we loved.

Today, grown-up, your child needs the right stories. Are you taking advantage of the Church's program of religious education for youth? Are you giving your youngster the best start in life by making yours a worshipping, a church-supporting home?

Symington Questions Importance Of Wisconsin Presidential Primary

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Stuart Symington is starting his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination by raising questions about the meaning of Wisconsin's heavily publicized primary.

Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) are matched in the presidential preference contest in Wisconsin and both are treating it as a crucial test.

Symington, formally announcing his candidacy Thursday, reiterated that he would not enter state primaries. He noted that 35 of the 50 states do not provide such primaries and said all national convention delegates should have a voice in choosing the presidential nominee.

The Missouri senator also contended that presidential primaries do not necessarily reflect the opinion of Democratic voters. He said Adlai E. Stevenson polled 55 percent of the Democratic vote in the 1956 Minnesota primary but lost because an estimated 125,000 Republicans voted in the Democratic contest.

Symington said Wisconsin offers the only contested Democratic presidential primary this year in which Republicans can vote.

In the Wisconsin primary, Humphrey's campaign advisers also have been raising questions about how many Republicans may cross over to vote in the Democratic contest.

With Vice President Richard M. Nixon unopposed in the Wisconsin GOP race, there is no contest to hold Republican voters to their own primary.

While the division of Republican votes between Kennedy and Humphrey may be unpredictable, Humphrey backers clearly fear that Kennedy will get most of them.

Symington told his news conference Thursday that he hoped to have the endorsement of his fellow Missourian, former President Truman, and implied that he expected it.

'Outspoken' Leesburg Circuit Judge Truman Futch Dies

LEESBURG (UPI) — Funeral services will be held here Saturday for Circuit Judge Truman G. Futch, outspoken jurist and civic and fraternal leader.

Futch, appointed to the bench in 1948, died at a Leesburg hospital Thursday after several months of illness. He was 68.

Futch gained fame when he presided over the 1949 Groveland rape case trials. Four Negroes were charged with assaulting a white housewife. One was killed by a posse, another given a life sentence as a juvenile, and a third shot to death by Lake County Sheriff Willis V. McCall, whose aid he was trying to escape.

The fourth defendant, Walter Lee Irvin, brought Futch to further public attention. Irvin was sentenced to death but Gov. LeRoy Collins commuted the sentence.

Futch subpoenaed the governor, asserting that Collins was the victim of Communist publicity in his action. But Collins, denying he had been pressured by anyone, declined to honor the subpoena.

Before his appointment, Futch served as city attorney and mayor of Lake Butler, and city attorney of Leesburg.

He served several terms in the state Legislature and was elected president of the Senate in 1933.

Cause of his death was not disclosed. He had been hospitalized for several weeks.

Famed Writer Dies Writing Obituary

NEW YORK (UPI) — John Lardner 47-year-old columnist and son of famed humorist Ring Lardner, died of a heart attack Thursday night while writing the obituary of another noted columnist-humorist, Franklin P. Adams.

Lardner was at his best when reminiscing about the varied celebrities he had known for years. His columns would recall intimate glimpses of their lives with an easy, off-hand manner. His bemused, sometimes wistful, style was noted for its quiet humor that could gracefully include a note of tragedy.

Once described as "a sort of high-priced utility infielder for top-echelon American magazines," Lardner had been a columnist and contributing editor of Newsweek Magazine since 1939.

Lardner also wrote many books. They included "White Hopes and Other Tigers," "Strong Cigars and Lovely Women," "It Beats Working," "The Yanks in the Pacific," and "Southwest Passage."

Longwood Church Plans Breakfast

Women of Longwood's Christ Episcopal Church made plans for a Palm Sunday Breakfast, an Easter even bake sale, and a rummage sale at their meeting this week.

The bake sale is planned for April 16 and the rummage sale for May 7 in Altamonte Springs. The Right Reverend William Francis Moses, Suffragan Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of South Florida visited the Longwood church at the 9 a. m. service Sunday.

CHIEF AVIATION Machinist's Mate David Scott, chief petty officer in charge of the line division of the Sanford Naval Air Station's operations department, retired after completing 20 years of service last week.

Longwood Dinner Nets $430 For Fund

The Longwood volunteer fire department collected $430 from its chicken dinner Saturday and money is still coming in.

Fire Marshal Claude Layo estimated that the department will have $500 from the dinner by the time all proceeds are in. About 700 persons were served chicken dinners in the city park, Layo said Thursday.

Layo said the turnout of chicken dinners was delayed because much of the cooking equipment was sent to disaster areas in Cocoa and later in Tampa. The firemen were working with one third of their cooking gear. He said the diners showed great patience even though 200 were waiting in line at one time. The money from the dinner will be used to buy new firefighting equipment.

Circle To Meet

The Grace Methodist Church evening circle will meet Monday at 6 p. m. at Mrs. S. A. Tindell's Elder Springs home. Mrs. Roy Wall will be co-hostess.

Septic Tank Trouble Plaguing Many Residents Of Casselberry

Many Casselberry residents have asked Mayor W. M. Benson what they should do about their defective septic tanks.

Benson said the principal defects among these tanks are inadequate size and lack of bottoms. One of the badly functioning tanks is a 250 gallon container, he said.

In speaking of these defective septic tanks, the mayor referred to 15 tanks which the Casselberry Board of Aldermen recently declared must be fixed. There are 12 other septic tanks in Casselberry which the mayor called "inadequate disposal systems."

Benson discussed the sewage problem Thursday with County Health Officer Dr. Clyde Brothers and Sanitarian Val Robbins. The mayor said he was assured of the county officials' backing, in his emphasis that the tanks must be fixed.

Bus Driver Finds, Returns Wallet

If you're looking for an honest man here's a candidate worth considering.

His name is L. P. Briggs and he is employed by the Tamiami Trail Tours, Inc. as a bus driver.

Recently, he found a wallet belonging to Eric M. Earis, AA, USN of FASRON-31, who was enroute to Sanford Naval Air Station from the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif. The wallet contained a sum of money, but most important to the young sailor, it also held his travel orders, and Dept. of Defense identification card; two very important items.

All is well now though because Briggs returned the young man's possession via mail, everything intact.

A letter of thanks and appreciation has been sent to Mr. Briggs from the Commanding Officer of FASRON-31, Commander Edward J. Winter, USN, in behalf of the newest member of his command.

Volunteer Fire Company At 28

The Longwood volunteer fire department is picking up one or two recruits each week and now numbers about 28 men. Fire Marshal Claude Layo said Thursday.

The volunteers still need recruits however, he said. One of the trucks was used to pump water off flooded Wilders Ave. during the recent heavy rains. A new motor has recently been put in the woods truck. The volunteers answered a call on Church St. this week when a pan of grease flared up on a stove and burned adjacent cabinets.

Waterproof Cotton May Be Seen Soon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agricultural Research Service has developed a new water-repellency treatment for cotton which produces an unusual fabric finish that keeps water out but lets air through.

This finish would be particularly desirable for rainwear because it allows air circulation through the fabric which is important to the comfort of the wearer.

Instead of coating the fabric and thus sealing off the tiny open spaces in the weave, as some waterproof finishes do, the chemicals in the new finish penetrate the fibers and make them water-repellent.

In tests, the treatment proved effective on cotton broadcloth and other lightweight cotton fabrics, and cheesecloth. It has been tried successfully also on wool and some other fibers.

ARS said the treatment is not yet being used commercially, but looks promising because it is not costly.

St. Johns Dredging Contract Awarded

Colonel Paul D. Troxler, district engineer for the U. S. Army Engineer District, Jacksonville, has announced the award to Hardaway Dredging Co., Columbus, Georgia, of a $165,281 contract for maintenance dredging of the Intracoastal Waterway between the St. Johns River and Melbourne.

The dredging will remove certain obstructive shoaling in designated locations and restore the affected reaches of the Jacksonville-to-Miami Waterway to normal width and depth.

Berlin Only Minor Problem In Ending Cold War, Brandt Says

BERLIN (UPI) — Mayor Willy Brandt said today that Berlin actually is a "minor" world problem and useless as a key for solving the basic issues which divide East and West.

He stressed that the "Berlin issue" should be solved by itself. The East-West dispute over Western Allied occupation rights in the city is not the cause of the cold war, only a symptom of it, he declared.

"There can be no separate solution for Berlin because this problem is a result of the split of Europe and of Germany," Brandt said.

In an exclusive United Press International interview in his well-appointed but business-like office in the huge old Schoenberg rathaus, Mayor Brandt stressed this point.

"If the free powers could solve the more important problems, then the proper atmosphere will exist for the solution of such minor problems as Berlin," he declared.

Brandt smiled when he was asked if he really thought Berlin is a minor problem.

"Berlin is the most important thing in the world to me, but taken in the whole context of world problems, Berlin is a minor one," Brandt listed as major problems disarmament, East-West trade, and aid to underdeveloped nations.

The mayor was asked if he thought these large issues could be solved.

"Certainly not at a first summit conference, which probably will not last much longer than a week," he said. "But there we should be able to find out whether the time is ripe now to start real negotiations."

"Khrushchev must know that any new dramatized crisis about Berlin will poison the atmosphere for the discussion of the real, larger problems."

Brandt was pessimistic over the possibility of unifying either Berlin or Germany at this time.

"There are no great chances of unifying Berlin much before the Germany problem is settled, and I don't expect that soon," he said.

SLEEK & SOLID

Sleek describes what meets the eye. Solid covers the hidden virtues. For sure, you want the beauty. For sure, you want the brawn. Add the Fury V-8 power plant and you get the best of all in the sleek, Solid 1960 Plymouth.

Sleek means several things about the 1960 Plymouth. The neat, trim lines. The styling that says "no wasted metal, no wasted motion." The sure way this car daggars through the wind.

Solid fits, too. It means the strength and durability built into Plymouth's one-piece welded Unibody. It means the steady stance of Torsion-Aire Ride. It means the surging V-8 power up front.

This just might be your car. Best way to find out is to see your Plymouth dealer. This week's a good time. He'll supply the Solid Plymouth for your once-over. You can supply the rest of the words.

A Chrysler-engineered product, built a new solid way to give you solid satisfaction.

Barbecue Saturday For Lansing Fund

Members of the Elks, Moose and Sportsmen's Assn. report gratifying response to their efforts to establish the Porter Lansing Fund to give financial assistance to Porter Lansing with his tremendous burden of hospital bills.

The Elks Club agreed to act as central collection agency for funds and several events have been planned to raise money to help the popular Sanford man.

Next event on this program will be a barbecue Saturday sponsored by the Sanford Drove 160 of the DOES. It will be on the Elks Club grounds and serving will begin at 6:30 p. m. and the public is urged to attend. "Bring the whole family," is the invitation of the DOES. Tickets will be $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children.

If you like a good barbecue dinner, here's a good chance to get one and help these folks show their appreciation for their old friend, Porter Lansing.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

Father Guay deserves special commendation for his fearless efforts to stabilize marriages. But this newspaper has long been doing the very same thing by its "Advice" column, various "Marriage Clinics," and such non-profit educational booklets as those named below. So take full advantage of these local helps to a happy marriage.

CASE #111: Father Andre Guay, aged 28, is a Canadian priest who merits a great deal of praise.

For he is director of the University of Ottawa's Catholic Center. He now offers engaged couples a correspondence course of 18 lessons to help them establish happier homes after they marry.

The young couples must study together such topics as psychology, biology, anatomy and physiology, plus similar related topics. They even take tests thereon at frequent intervals and mail their answers to the Catholic Center.

Father Guay estimates that 15,000 couples have already taken the course in Canada.

It is a pleasure to salute Father Guay for his attempt to insure happier homes by this teaching course which they will encounter in matrimony.

For 25 years, the leading newspapers of America have been doing much the same thing by their various "advice" columns.

Dr. Paul Pepene and I have especially stressed such subjects in our column.

And scores of great daily newspapers have scheduled "marriage clinics" where I have been invited to address large crowds running as high as 15,000 in a single audience.

Every year I am thus scheduled for 30 days of speeches, usually under auspices of newspapers.

Properly speaking, these audiences comprise "newspaper clinics" on marriage or teenage problems.

The non-profit booklets and mail service offered via this column are much like an "extension class" of your local state university.

Your newspaper thus renders a far wider and more helpful aid to happy homes than many of you may have imagined.

Do you realize that state departments of education lend this type of educational service?

Or that 15,000 of these booklets were ordered last fall for the 100th anniversary convention in New York City of the American Dental Assn.?

Do you know that hundreds of clergymen each year, plus judges of domestic relations courts and fellow psychiatrists, likewise order these booklets in quantity lots to help steer muddled married folks and confused teenagers toward happier social relations?

Via this column you can order any or all of the non-profit booklets mentioned from week to week.

Neither your newspaper nor the syndicate selling this column, nor I, as the author, gets any royalty. These booklets are a non-profit gesture to help promote happier homes.

We don't care if you order only ONE booklet and pass it around to 50 members of your Women's Club or Church Society, or if you order 50 individual copies, for they are non-profit.

In fact, you can go to your city library and consult my college textbook, "Psychology Applied," for the same information FREE, if you wish.

But if you do desire a personal copy, send a stamped return addressed envelope when you order any booklet, plus 20c.

"Tests for Successful Husbands and Wives," is a dandy. So is the "Tests for Good Parents," plus the "Sex Problems of Teenagers," and "Sex Problems in Marriage."

Use these newspaper aids to help prevent divorce, delinquency or school dropouts by members of your family.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4c stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

WASHINGTON CALLING by Marquis Childs

MADISON, Wis.—Through the snowy streets of Columbus, Beaver Dam, Horicon, Mayville, Watertown, Waterloo, the small towns of this Second Congressional District, Hubert Horatio Humphrey is making his strenuous articulate way. Given time enough — he never seems to lack energy — to talk to all the people of this state, his campaign managers believe he could win the primary April 15, and thereby get a leg up on the Democratic presidential nomination.

But there is not time and the feeling is growing that he is waging a losing battle; that, in fact, it may have been lost from the beginning. What makes it so frustrating for the ardent Humphrey backers is that their man seems to be forced to compete in a popularity contest — a beauty contest. And in that kind of competition the glamour of Senator John F. Kennedy, and the glamour of the various members of the Kennedy clan as they fan out across the state is bound to win.

It seems to get down to that Madison Ave. word "image." The Kennedy image with all its attractiveness and appeal has been projected by the mass magazines and by television, and the hold that it has on large numbers of voters, particularly women and younger people, has little to do with issues or convictions.

As the time grows shorter, Humphrey has increasingly tried to draw an ideological line. At a big farm meeting in LaCrosse he contrasted his own record of support for farm measures with that of Kennedy. By way of emphasis literature was circulated, showing the voting record in the Senate of the two men.

"I hate to do this," Humphrey said, waving his campaign pamphlet. "But I'm tired of hearing that there's no difference between the two candidates."

If this kind of attack is stopped up in the next two weeks many Democrats feel that the primary contest can mean more than the loss of a personal campaign for one candidate or the other. The divisiveness filling the air could breed a party split.

It is not clear how many Democrats are being advised about the dark and bloody background of Wisconsin where politics is a year-round sport.

One of those most concerned over Humphrey's determined effort to draw the line between the popular Kennedy image and the Humphrey view of Humphrey as a progressive, with a record in favor of the progressive measures this state has stood for, is Governor Gaylord Nelson. A Democratic governor in a normally Republican state he must run for another two-year term in November.

What is more, he has hopes of being re-elected or permanent chairman at the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles and there even have been vice-presidential intimations on a ticket with Kennedy perhaps. If the party falls into a bitter factional fight those hopes go glimmering.

The Kennedy strategy has been laid out with abridgment and resourcefulness from the beginning. It began with hints that the senator would probably decide to stay out of Wisconsin. After all, it was Humphrey's record that was the issue. Bobby Kennedy, in a pronouncement from New Hampshire, said that he advised Jack to dare all and go into Wisconsin, come hell or high water.

But for many months the able political tactician has been shown in polls taken for the Kennedy's that the senator from Massachusetts was far better known than the senator from Minnesota in neighboring Wisconsin. Humphrey's sampling, incidentally, showed that the Kennedy polls showed that a Kennedy win by a ratio of perhaps as high as 60 to 40 was possible.

In contrast to Humphrey in the skillful, high-level speeches he is making, Kennedy refrains from attacking Vice-President Nixon. The expectation here is that Republicans who cross over to vote in the Democratic primary April 5 will contribute heavily to the Kennedy total. According to some

Jaycees To Honor State Students

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—State School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey said Thursday 37,872 high school students will get certificates of recognition this year from the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Jaycees provide certificates for students who make straight A's and those who make the honor roll.

Bailey said 8,111 straight A students and 27,721 honor roll students will get certificates.

Happiness Through Health

Do You Have The Backache? (By DR. F. LEO KERWIN)

Backache in industrial workers is a frequent and troublesome condition. Not only does it disable an otherwise healthy worker, reducing his income, depriving industry of his services, it also results in industry paying large sums of money for compensation.

The only logical way to deal with low back pain can be traced to some mechanical defect in the alignment of the bones of the lower spine. This frequently results from some faulty movement of the body while working.

To deal with this mechanical problem of the spinal column it is necessary to consult a specialist in human engineering. Such a specialist is your Chiropractor whose work is so effective in reducing the number of man hours lost from work that it is recognized by more than two hundred of the leading insurance companies.

One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropractic, written by Dr. F. Leo Kerwin whose office is located at 201 S. French Ave. and his telephone number is FAirfax 2-7442.

ASSIGNMENT WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON—Now, it turns out, the United States may lose one phase of the cold war to the Soviet fishing fleet.

This came up in the Senate in the middle of the debate on civil rights for people. Sen. Warren Magnuson (D-Wash.) changed the subject to civil rights for salmon and other poor fish.

The Russians, said the worried lawmaker, are moving in on our coastlines with fishing ships that look almost as large as the Queen Mary. The Reds went into big-time fishing only five years ago and already have about 60 "Queen Mary" clippers on the seas.

They call their operation "Fish Moscow," and according to the senator, the Communists run it like a military operation. "Every ship must bring in its quota, or else . . ."

The hooker is that not only are they catching fish from under our noses; their ships are sixty chartering our coastlines. The Russians are going about the fishing business so intensely that within 10 years they'll have the seas tied up the world over as far as fishing is concerned.

They're sending out scientific fleets — calling the seas, so to speak — to learn the idiosyncrasies of fish. Then they gather up so many fish that they're gradually taking over the world market, even underselling the Japanese.

The Reds aren't the only source of irritation for the man who comes from one of our biggest fish states. He's vehemently opposed to the Geneva Conference is going to take up this week — extending the sovereignty of the seas from its present three miles to six miles or even 12 miles.

If it's moved out to six miles, says the Senator, our commercial fishermen netting off the coast of Canada, for example, will be stymied, since salmon usually travel within six miles of the coastline.

The rare colloquy on fish rights uncovered another kettle of woe. The senator was bent over his desk scrutinizing a Navy map of the Pacific and shaking his head sadly.

He then described a most unusual fix our fish find themselves in, in the Pacific. It's an unwitting perpetual-motion trap that kills off millions of salmon every year.

Japanese trawlers drag along nets seven to 10 miles long, and often these vast nets break away and drift around in the currents. A phantom net will keep catching fish 24 hours a day until it gets so loaded it drops to the bottom and stays there until the fish rot, lightening the load enough to raise the net to the top and start all over again, trapping live fish.

All in all, Magnuson painted a disturbing future for the fish interests of America. But he made a further intriguing observation. We know less about the secrets of the sea, he said, than we know about the backside of the moon. One big mystery is: Where do the salmon go during their three-to-five-year cycle at sea?

To this day, Magnuson said darkly, we have not been able to learn for sure whether our North American fish fraternize with Communist salmon.

"We sat around and crocheted."

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), stating that the Wisconsin primary battle should be a serious discussion of issues:

"I didn't enter this contest just to shake hands and pose for photographs — pleasant as these occupations are for every politician."

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—State prison guard J. W. Trusdale, describing his 25 hours as a hostage held by two desperate convicts:

"They never made any threats to kill us all . . . but they were shaking guns close to our faces, about three or four inches away. I sure feel lucky to be out."

SAN FRANCISCO—Lance Revellon, son of Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton, after being asked what he did at the bachelor party before his wedding to actress Jill St. John:

"We sat around and crocheted."

Lutheran Church Plans Smorgasbord For April 23

A festive "all you can eat" smorgasbord-type dinner is being planned for Saturday, April 23, from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m., by the ladies of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. The heavily laden table will be set at the Lutheran edifice at 103 W. 25th Place.

Swedish meat balls, ham, cold cuts and cheeses, will center the table with macaroni-tuna casserole, baked beans, a variety of salads, pickled beets and similar delicacies to supplement other items.

Tobias of pickles, relishes, celery, carrots and other appetizers will be available as well breads, coffee, beverages, homemade cupcakes and fresh fruit cups.

Mrs. James Ekern is general chairman, assisted by Mrs. John Benkarik, Mrs. M. G. Hodges, Mrs. Claude Bomgardner, Mrs. George Daniels, Mrs. Ray Braden and Mrs. Andrew Wolf. The ladies of the church are determined to give guests the best meal of their lives.

Mrs. G. Marion Harmon will be in charge of the homemade candy table, a special feature of the event. Door prizes will also be given.

Mrs. Ekern announced that only 300 may be served, and with the tickets limited to that number, they are going at a very encouraging pace. Mrs. Ekern added that tickets may be purchased at $1.25 for adults and 50c for children under 12 years, from any of the ladies of the church or by contacting her at FA 2-4261.

Mrs. George Daniels at FA 2-4226.

Clothes Important To The Teen-Ager

MYRTIE C. WILSON Clothes are one of the most important things in life to a teenager. Adults understand the importance of clothes in terms of fashion, style and color. But most adults don't quite understand how important to the teenager's happiness it is to look and dress like everyone else.

With good reason, parents frown upon some of the sloppy teen-age get-ups. Dirty white shoes, loafers falling apart, jeans bulky sweaters and many more of the current teen-age fashions are appalling to adults.

Mother wants her daughter to look her prettiest and her son to look like the clean-cut boy he really is. It's no wonder mother is upset when they look like the adult idea of tramps.

The importance of clothes that conform to teen-age standards has been shown by several studies and surveys. Dressing like the others is important to them and should be more important to adults because it affects the adolescent personality development.

When conformity in clothes is seen from this viewpoint, it becomes much more important than the clothes themselves as seen through the adult eye.

Personality is affected because social attitudes and adjustments are more intense during the teens than at any other age. To be accepted by the group is vital to the teen-ager's adjustment and therefore it is the group which sets clothing standards.

Conflict with parents over clothing brings resentment, feeling of inferiority and often real rebellion. Perhaps parents can work to bring about improved group standards, but it's tough to try it on one individual teenager.

Church Circle To Sell Cook Books And Hot Cross Buns

Mrs. Howard Rollins, general chairman, reported Monday evening that the cook book the ladies of the Congregational Christian Church are having published, will go to press early in April and will sell for $1.50. Several orders have already been received and anyone that would like one of these hand drawn, illustrated cook books may place their order by calling Mrs. Max Coberly at FA 2-4264. The recipes in this original book are family recipes of the members and guests of the church.

For a wedding trip to Nassau, the bride chose a pale orchid suit with champagne accessories and a pearl necklace, a gift of the groom. Upon their return they will make their home in Loch Arbor, while the groom is stationed at the Naval Air Station in Sanford.

Out-of-town guests included, the parents of both the bride and groom—Mr. and Mrs. J. Ballis, Mr. and Mrs. E. Reid, and Mrs. R. Blayzaski all of Angola, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. W. Mathews, Mobile, Ala., and Mrs. B. Mathews of Elmer, N. J.

Members of the Ethel Root Circle met at the parsonage at 7:45 p. m. for their regular meeting with Mrs. Maurice Corbett presiding. The devotion "Living not professing is what matters" was given by Mrs. Edward Simpson, followed by a prayer.

The annual Easter egg hunt was discussed and committees appointed. It was decided to have the hunt April 16 on the church grounds. All members, officers in particular, were asked to attend the "Spring Meeting of District 6" at Winter Park, April 25 to better understand the planned programs.

Hostess for the evening was Mrs. Florence Lossing and refreshments were served to Mrs. Gus Schmah, Mrs. Corbett, Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Rollins, Mrs. Oscar Zittrower, Mrs. James Bedenbaugh, Mrs. T. R. Alford, Mrs. Helen Remusat, Mrs. Richard Carter, Mrs. Herbert Thurston, Mrs. E. Ludecke, Mrs. Earl Moxley, Mrs. Coberly, Mrs. Harold Herbst, Mrs. B. Carter and a guest, Mrs. Clara Hunt.

The next meeting on April 4, will be at the Fellowship Hall and will be held jointly with the Friendship League for their second quarterly meeting of the year. Members of the circle are also taking orders again this year, for hot cross buns. To place an order call Mrs. Corbett at FA 2-6389 by Tuesday, April 12 for delivery on Maunday Thursday.

Safety tips: Clean up grease on floors and fix defective floors or steps.

Pilot Club Learns About Securities

The regular dinner meeting for the month of March was held by the Pilot Club of Sanford, Tuesday evening at the Civic Center. A delicious meal was served to the members by Mrs. Homer Little.

The guest speaker, Herman Gade, of Securities Associates, Inc., of Winter Park, discussed stocks and bonds. He pointed out the advisability of saving a portion of each month's salary and investing it properly.

He talked about investing in stocks and bonds which give the largest yield, stating that the yield shows the growth of the industry in which you place your investments. He also stated that electronics, for instance, is bound to be a top notch field for years to come.

Looks Well In Draves Camp

Frank Draves is looking well today in the Milwaukee Braves' training camp.

Solving Jinx Still Playing Racing Driver

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — Englishman Sir Frank Draves is still playing racing driver.

Draves, who had been covered to win the 1955 annual 15-hour sports car endurance race Saturday in a Ferrari, was highly favored in the race.

But Draves immediately prepared to drive another Maserati of the same type, the same car he used to win the recent Havana race.

The short Briton, who has a reputation for breaking down cars, was highly favored in the race.

Draves said he threw a rod in the powerful four-cylinder engine and it could not be repaired.

Camoradi team manager Lucky Camoradi of Miami said his mechanics would try to repair the damage before Saturday.

Thus, Camoradi was left with two Maseratis—one new and one not-so-new.

Still, the new Italian-built cars appeared to be a major threat to Draves' Ferrari two-year dominance in international sports car racing.

But the big question was: will they hold up for the 15-hour drive?

English, Italian and Swiss cars ruled as the favorites today in a familiar familiar race that precedes Saturday's 15th running of the Sebring 15-hour sports car endurance race.

English Elvas were given a slight edge on the basis of lap times recorded in Thursday's practice runs over an abbreviated 3.5 mile section of the Sebring race course.

Two Elvas tied for the fastest lap at 1:27 minutes. They were driven by Jim Hall of Dallas, Tex., and Charles Kolb of Silver Springs, Md.

More than 75,000,000 Americans have received at least some Salk polio vaccine, according to the Book of Knowledge Annual.

The way over for this one but usually pass up the Open.

Seldom is there a runaway in the Masters, Vic pointed out, and the tournament by the very nature of its competitive setup has produced some of the fairway's most fabulous finishes.

"Take the year when Sarazen needed three birdies on the last four holes to tie Craig Wood," said Ghezzi. "So on the 485-yard par five 15th he knocked in a 220-yard spoon shot for a double eagle two, parred the rest of the way in and then beat Wood in the playoff."

"Gene laughs about that one, which stands as one of the most spectacular shots in golf," Ghezzi continued. "He says there were about 100 people in the gallery when he hit that shot. But today about 50,000 people claim to have seen it."

"You can 'tuck' your way into the Open by getting hot during the qualifying rounds," he added. "Here you have to have established yourself to get an invitation or earn a berth. It's the greatest field in golf because even the foreign stars come all

STABLER, MICHIGAN SWIMMING COACH, WHOSE HOLYBIRDS WILL SEEK THEIR 4TH STRAIGHT N.C.A.A. TITLE AT DALLAS, TEXAS, MARCH 24-25.

World's Richest Greyhound Favored In Featured Race

The world's richest greyhound, even if he doesn't know it, will be stepping in the hot-box 10th affair at Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club, highlight of an 11-race schedule starting at 8:10 tonight.

Belgar going West, the youngster (less than two years old) marched to victory seven times, placed once and showed once out of nine starts at SOCK.

Andale is a strong 8-to-3 choice by morning line odds in the hot 10th event tonight. He'll gallop from the seventh post position and many Seminole County racing fans are expected to be on hand for his homecoming.

Seven champion caliber greyhounds will offer an abundance of competition for Andale in the headliner.

O. B.'s Medium and Feast, both rated 3-to-1 shots, are among the stars also slated for action.

Others in the hot-box lineup are Rocket Dream, Frisky Hound, Pleasure Up, Fair Abe and Duce Black.

After tonight's competition, there will be only nine racing days left on the track calendar which winds up April 4.

Matinee racing will start at 2 p. m. Saturday, followed by 11 events in the evening at 8:10.

Harvey's, Vulcan Pace Kegler Loop

The Seminole County Businessmen's League, in its second week at Jet Lanes, is beginning to settle down into a real bowling league, with some big scores being racked up by all teams.

In first place this week, a tie exists between Harvey's Plumbing and Vulcan Materials, as both hold a 3-1 win loss total.

The four teams tied for second, all with four wins, two losses, are: Wally's Phillips 46, Gator Lumber, Sanford Atlantic National Bank and Sanford Auto Parts.

Owens' Gulf Service has the third spot all to themselves, as Pol-Air Horne's Distributors, Sanford Electric, and Abstract take up the fourth spot. Wall's Plumbing & Heating holds fifth with 23-24, Florida State Bank is in sixth with 2-4, Ride-A-White Stables and Leroy Benton, contractor holds seventh place, while the Atlantic Coast Line is occupying the basement for the present.

Al Morris was top man all around, this week as he racked up a 235-353 to take individual honors. Pol-Air took all team honors in eight, as they turned in a 3604 scratch series, 3006, handicapped.

Goalby Leads DeSoto Play

BRADENTON (UPI) — The DeSoto open golf tournament heads into its second round today with Bob Goalby, 29-year-old pro from Crystal River leading the field of 150.

Goalby birdied five times and bogeyed just once — when he hit a tree with his tee shot on the second hole — on his way to a 24-33-67 score, four under par and one stroke ahead of Al Balding.

Seminoles Smash Records At Meet

Sanford's Seminoles hit four high spots as they ran away with the 4th annual track meet in Leesburg Wednesday.

Sanford was way out in front at the finish with 188 points, compared to 20 points for Florida Military School; 41 for Leesburg and two for Eustis.

Jim Gracy was high scorer at the meet as he paced the track and field men with 17 points. Rapid Ray Lundquist broke his own school record of 22.8 seconds for the 440 yard run by making a 21.7 seconds dash.

The Sanford mile relay team broke the old Seminole school record of 3:02.5 minutes as Crawford, V. Welsh Fawley and Bonifacio came across with a 2:49.3 time.

Sanford's Barbour, Roberts and Jones took second, third and fifth places respectively in the 120 yard high hurdles, with Kramer of FMS coming in first in 18.8 seconds and Aiken of FMS placing fourth.

Gracy ran the 100 yard dash in 10.7 seconds, with Blackford of FMS following in second place, Stegall of Leesburg in third, Leesburg's Webster in fourth and Mann of Sanford in fifth spot.

Sanford's Fawley was over the finish line first in the mile run, which he did in 4:31.7 seconds. In second, third and fourth places respectively were Axford of Leesburg, Walker of Sanford, Hines of Sanford and Drowdy of FMS.

Trailing Ray Lundquist in the 440 yard run were Joy of FMS, Bonifacio of Sanford, Dwyer of FMS and Jones of Sanford.

Kramer of FMS made it over the 120 yard low hurdles in 14.5 seconds, followed by Barbour and Mann of Sanford, Brigham of FMS and Stegall of Leesburg.

Notris of FMS was first in the 200 yard run with a time of 2:14.9. Running behind him were Armstrong and Aldous of FMS, Fawley and J. Welsh of Sanford.

Leesburg got one of its two firsts in the Sprint Medley relay, as their runners made the rounds in 2:15.3. Sanford was second and Eustis, third.

Gracy was in the lead again as he topped the 220 yard dash with a 24.3 second time. After him came Harvey of Sanford, Jamerson of FMS, Mann of Sanford and Stegall of Leesburg.

Leesburg followed Sanford's record breaking team in the mile relay run.

Sanford's Fox and Gordon came in first and second in the shot put contest as Fox heaved the sphere forty-two feet, six inches. Christopher of FMS, Brown of Leesburg and Sulzpio of Sanford came next.

Kramer of FMS jumped 19 feet, nine and one-half inches to win the broad jump, with Gracy of Sanford second. Joy of FMS, Dean of Eustis, and Blackford of FMS followed.

Brown of Leesburg lifted himself 11 feet, six inches over the bar in the pole vault contest. Kramer, Fulford, and Gise of FMS and Brown of Sanford followed.

The high jump ended in three ways for first and fourth places, Roberts of Sanford, Brown of Leesburg and Fulford of FMS were all tops with five foot, six inch jumps. Oravetz and Gracy of Sanford and Gise of FMS tied for fourth spot.

First 40-m.p.h. Family Outboard Announced by Evinrude Motors

When you're accustomed to highway speeds it may not sound like a great challenge to design and build an outboard motor that will drive family-type boats at 40 m.p.h. or better. Yet, it had never been done until Evinrude perfected the Starlite II.

True, Evinrude had exceeded 40 m.p.h. for thirty years ago with the famous "4-80." But that was a racing outfit. In the new Starlite II, Evinrude engineers did it without sacrificing top speed on big cruisers and utilities. They did it without sacrificing load thrust... and with no increase in weight or fuel consumption.

The challenge was two-fold: (1) to develop an engine of sufficient power output to overcome the tremendous hull friction at over-40-m.p.h. speeds, (2) to overcome lower unit drag—a "break-through" in hydrodynamic efficiency comparable to the first swept-wing supersonic aircraft designs.

Characteristic Evinrude smoothness and quiet were not to be sacrificed. We had to select the best basic type ("V"... in-line... opposed) and the number of cylinders necessary to deliver ample power evenly. To begin with, a two-cylinder outboard engine has twice as many power impulses per crankshaft revolution as four-cylinder inboard or automotive engines. For that reason, two-cylinder outboards are identical in smoothness to four-cylinder automotive engines. The four-cylinder outboard matches the automotive eight. The six matches the twelve, etc.

Engineers agree on this fact: Up to the point where improvement in smoothness can be gained, it makes sense to add cylinders. Beyond that point, additional cylinders mean nothing but cost, trouble and friction.

The modern day automotive V-8, by comparison with the old twelve-cylinder engine, is far smoother, less complicated, infinitely more rugged and dependable. For much the same reason, so is the modern Evinrude V-4. These modern V-type engines are inherently smooth because reciprocating forces are naturally in balance at all operating speeds. Each bank of cylinders contributes the force of the opposite bank. This is an advantage that is unique with the 90° V shape.

Another advantage of the compact, modern V-engine is that its short, crankshaft and short manifold permit automatically balanced fuel distribution, without sacrificing the single lever carburetion adjustment feature.

A major achievement in versatile power!

Some outboard engines are designed for load handling efficiency, some for high speed performance. But, until Starlite II came off the boards, there had never been an engine that delivered full efficiency for both high speed and load handling conditions, without changing propellers.

The best demonstration of the difference between a racing-type high r.p.m. engine and a family-type high-thrust engine occurs at an outboard racing meet. The finely tuned high-r.p.m. engines barely have enough power to put the feather-light one-man racing shells into a plane—yet some of these engines will develop over 70 h.p. after they reach full r.p.m. On the other hand, Evinrude's Starlite II delivers full power almost instantly from a standing start with either a heavy or a light load.

Now, for the first time, the 75 h.p. V-4 Starlite II lets you enjoy speed and company, too!

Evinrude pioneered noise suppression with the use of aircraft-type engine mounts, which isolate vibration. The powerhead "floats" on rubber mounts inside a sound-tight nacelle, enclosed to the waterline. High speed gear whine is suppressed with high spiral gears. Exhaust is jetted into the propeller stream. We literally bottled the sound and sealed it!

There has never been a motor to match it!

Starlite II is the one motor that makes no compromise in any quarter. Nothing has been spared to give you the finest performance on the water. There's never been a motor to match it. Yet, you can own it at the lowest cost per h.p. in history!

No words can tell you what a pleasure the Starlite II is to drive and ride with. You'll have to try it for yourself. Your Evinrude dealer invites you to do it now!

Golf Association Rules Prevent Manufacturing Long Range Ball

By OSCAR FREALE
NEW YORK (UPI)—No man can hit a golf ball 300 yards on the dead flat in a dead calm. Jimmy Thomson, long-famed as one of the big hitters of the fairway, always has made this contention. And it is backed up by exhaustive tests conducted by the U.S. Golf Association.

Its survey, made during the 1958 U.S. Open championship, showed an average carry of 240 yards with, under good conditions, an average roll of 20 yards—for an average drive by top players of 260 yards.

Yet, if it weren't for rules laid down to the manufacturers by the USGA, they conceivably could come up with a ball which could carry 350 yards and produce 350-yard drives.

This, of course, would make most of the current courses obsolete and the game as result of such a "rabbit" ball would deteriorate into a dull pitch-and-putt pastime devoid of the skills which make golf the competitive game it is. So the USGA, after three years of work and at a cost of $40,000, has developed a new electronic ball testing machine to keep the manufacturers "honest."

The association since the mid-'40s has kept the clamps on the manufacturers by use of a machine which tests velocity. The ball thus was limited in size, weight and to an initial velocity potential of 250 feet per second. But this single testing device left something to be desired and, with types of balls had to be banned in the last U.S. Open and the players were advised that they would be disqualified if they used them.

"The problem has become increasingly acute in the last two years," he added. "Actually, two types of balls had to be banned in the last U.S. Open and the players were advised that they would be disqualified if they used them."

One manufacturer recently sent two dozen of a new experimental ball to the USGA for testing. Nine of the 24 balls exceeded the permitted velocity.

"There's no question but what they can make balls which far exceed the velocity limit," Dey admitted.

Semi-Finals Set In Golf Tourney

ST. AUGUSTINE (UPI)—Mallie Reynolds plays Frank Ross and J. Wolcott Brown meets Egon Quitner today in the semi-finals of the American Seniors Golf Assn. championship tournament.

All were with comparative ease Thursday, in an upset - studded tournament in which both of last year's finalists and all three of this year's medalists were ousted within three rounds.

Reynolds, Dallas insurance man, won 4 and 3 over 1959 runner-up Bruce Coffin, Marblehead, Mass. Coffin dropped four straight holes on the back nine after he and Reynolds made the turn even.

Best scoring of the day was by Brown, a Sagitt, N. J., banker. He was two under par while trimming John W. McGuire of Indianapolis 3 and 2.

Ross, Hartford, Conn., was one under par in routing Forrest Andrews of Chicago 7 and 6. Quitner, a Philadelphia textiles producer, advanced with a 2 and 1 win over Martin Lindgrove, Morrisville, N. J.

Woodruff Happy Over New Job

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—Former University of Florida football coach Bob Woodruff said Thursday he is happy about a new job that will enable him and his family to remain in Gainesville.

Woodruff, who resigned under pressure after the 1959 season, accepted a job as head of a petroleum dealership here. "I'll still be with the Gators and their new coaching staff 100 per cent," he promised.

The man who gets the nod in this battle between two fighters who were virtual unknowns only three months ago will step into the ring at Las Vegas, Nev., on May 27 to face world champion Don Jordan in a scrap for the crown.

Rollins Takes Baseball Play

WINTER PARK (UPI)—Rollins topped Amherst 4-3 and Ohio State trimmed South Carolina 9-2 in a baseball doubleheader Thursday.

Ronnie Brown, with two hits in four trips including a two-run homer, paced Rollins in a game shortened in eight innings by darkness. Pitcher Jess Lee picked up the win.

Ohio State routed South Carolina with a 13-hit attack, wrapping up the game with a three-run rally in the third.

ABC Championship Play Standing Keeps Changing

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI)—A scoring volcano, after laying dormant for the first 15 days, still was erupting in full force at the American Bowling Congress Tournament being held here.

By the time the last team had finished in this morning's wee hours there had been 12 changes in the top 10 standings during Thursday's action.

Paul Kulbaga of Cleveland occasioned the biggest outburst when he took over first place in the singles with 726, totaled 1931 for the top spot in all-events and with partner George Schuld, had totaled 1315 in the doubles for second place in this division.

The Checker Cab of Detroit went into first place in the booster team division for terms with 850 or under average, rolling 2783.

Two other teams, Riverside Home of Ann Arbor, Mich., and the Hendon Tavern of Salem, Ohio, tied for second in the booster team with 2761.

The strong Muntean and Hedman team of St. Paul scored the major change in the open team division for third place with 3059.

Four team members went over 600 as the Minnesota team had games of 1039, 1003 and 1015 and became the first team in this year's ABC to string three successive games over one thousand.

A & A Asphalt of Birmingham, Mich., leads the open standings with 3096.

Buddy Simon Sign of Cleveland, sparked by Kulbaga's 1931, took over first place in the team all-events standings with a 9290.

Brothers Pace Four-Ball Play

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—A tightly-bunched field enters the second round of the Men's International Four-Ball Golf Tournament today with only three strokes separating the top seven teams.

Brothers Bill and Jack Key, Columbus, Ga., held the narrowest of leads after an opening round 63, seven under par. At 66 are the tournament favorites, U. S. amateur champion Jack Nicklaus, Columbus, Ohio, and British amateur tilist Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md.

The teams of John Sjostrom, Flossmoor, Ill., and Scott Robertson, Darien, Conn., and Tommy Aaron, Gainesville and Dan Sikes Jacksonville, were tied at 67.

At 68 were three more pairs—Ted Bishop, Boston, and Jack Penrose, Miami Beach; Ralph Bogart and Robert Brownell, both of Bethesda; and defending champions Harry Root Jr., Tampa, and Jimmy Lee Jr., Tallahassee.

Bait Box

Nothing much surprises the veteran fishing camp operators anymore, but something unusual did happen at Crowe's Camp this week, J. M. Crowe reported today.

Shad were being caught by fishermen using cane poles on the camp dock. This is the first time that he can recall shad being landed from the dock, Crowe said.

Crowe advised boaters who plan to use the launching ramp at the bridge adjacent to his camp that the high water has covered it, but said that there are some other usable launching places nearby.

He suggested that boats be unloaded at a place beyond the SR 46 bridge referred to as the "old cut-off" or at the public ramp in Cameron-Wright Park. Boats may be eased off trailers in these areas and paddled into deeper water

Unheralded Golfers Take Tourney Lead

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UPI)—Three unheralded women pros shared the lead as the second round of the annual Royal Crown Open golf tournament opened here today.

Joyce Zinke of Milwaukee, Bonnie Randolph of Naples and Betty Jameson of San Antonio, fired par 72s in the opening round Thursday.

The tricky Columbus Country Club gave favorites Mickey Wright of San Diego and Fay Crocker of Montevideo a rough time. The two top choices were far behind with 70s. Defending champion Betty Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., also trailed with a 70.

Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., was one stroke behind the leaders with 71, Gloria Armstrong of Oakland, Calif., ranked fifth with a 75, and four other players shot 76s.

The open is one of the richest tournaments on the women's tour. First-place money is $1,400 and the total purse is $8,000.

New Cage Loop May Be Formed

CHICAGO (UPI)—A new professional basketball league appeared to be in the making.

Representatives from nine U. S. cities, including Honolulu, Hawaii, expressed desire for franchises in the proposed loop after Thursday's meetings presided over by Abe Saperstein, owner of the Harlem Globetrotters.

Saperstein said no hard decisions were made at the meeting. The representatives will report to their home cities and return for more "definitive" sessions in Chicago April 21, he said.

Celtics Roll Over Philly

United Press International
Tommy Heinsohn had the last word in his duel with Will Chamberlain and so the Boston Celtics are occupying a familiar perch today in the finals of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The former Holy Cross star scored on a tap-in just before the buzzer that gave the Celtics a 119-117 victory over the Philadelphia Warriors Thursday night and sent the Eastern Division champions to their fourth straight title round berth.

Harrison Main Spark In Comedy Drama On Ford TV Startime Show

By FRED DANZIG NEW YORK (UPI)—The only purpose of Tuesday night's NBC-TV "Startime" production of "Dear Arthur" was to let us understand why we enjoy the talents of Rex Harrison...

It was, to coin a phrase, a privilege and a pleasure. The play was a Gore Vidal treatment of Ferenc Molnar's bit of dramatic nonsense about a gray revolution among the French Riviera's international set.

Harrison, that internationally famed song stylist, played the non-singing role of a glossy, unprincipled con man. To this part, he brought his charm, his megaton laughter, and his... glides from a vicie high-pitch down to a rough-edged pout, his limber and communicative hands and his eyebrow-raising code of stage conduct.

The plot, briefly, placed Harrison in Prince Rainier's Monaco, where he was to dream up a mythical, perfect (now, there's a redundancy) husband, Count Arthur de Ghuyse for his loving daughter, Arthur's purpose was to arouse a flame of passion in daughter's tame suitor. The scheme worked — but too well.

Decorating the production (put together by Rutwidge Windust shortly before his death last week) were some satirical comments about the international set, enunciated by Hermione Baddeley Sarah Marshall, as Rex's daughter, was beguiling, flirtatious and high-spirited and Niche...

'The Last Voyage' At Drive-In

"The Last Voyage," a motion picture which has received a barrage of publicity and comment is coming to the Movieland Drive-In Sunday.

The film, a suspense-filled story of the sinking of an ocean liner and the dramatic rescue of its 1,500 passengers, will play at the drive-in until Wednesday.

Life Magazine has called the film one of the most authentic and powerful depictions of a sea disaster ever brought to the screen.

The other feature on the program is Alfred Hitchcock's "North By Northwest."

Two action packed dramas will play on Wednesday and Thursday. They are "The Warrior and the Slave Girl" and "The Seven Thieves."

Four comedies will be the main attraction Saturday. The four are "The Sheriff of Fractured Jaw," "Have Rocket Will Travel," "The 30 Foot Bride of Candy Rock" and "Once Upon A Horse."

The forms, addressed to him at "Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity House, University of Idaho, Moscow," arrived here stamped with a pale green seal of the Russian post office and the words "De Moskva."

I also enjoyed small vignettes by Robert Dryden, in the role of a lawyer, and Gaby Rodgers, as a girl supposedly wronged by "Dear Arthur."

The final half of Arthur Murray's fun - roast - for - charity - and - Bob Hope had sharper gags and a less-inhibited spirit than last week's opener.

Tuesday night's NBC-TV half-hour saw Hope receive, among his gag awards, a can of tinned laughter, I suspect some of the can's ingredients found its way out of the container and into Tuesday night's sound track.

Highlights: Hope "walking" with host Arthur Murray and Hope's own monologue, which contained funnier, more pointed jokes about himself than anything delivered by his "roasters."

It seemed that Hope was willing to serve as the roast duck for this format but the gag writers were a trifle too chicken.

The Channel Swim: Jim Garner and Jack Kelly, suspended stars of ABC-TV's "Maverick," are talking about court action against Warner Bros., producer of the show.

Next Monday's "Jack Paar Show," his first from London, will feature Julie Andrews, Dicky Valentine and Hans Conried, M.P. (member of Paar-lament.)

The Masters golf journey from Augusta, Ga., will be covered by CBS-TV cameras on Saturday and Sunday, April 9 and 10. Andy Devine is set to star in next season's new half-hour mystery series on NBC-TV, "Big Jake."

Only Public Can Aid TV Programming, Mills Says

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower's new nominee to the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) said today the government had no business "trying to determine what programs should be offered to the American public by radio and television."

Mills told United Press International in an interview that he hoped public demand would bring about an improvement in program standards. He said he felt the public already had indicated it wanted "less emphasis on crime and violence" in radio-TV shows.

Eisenhower Thursday to serve out the unexpired 15-month term of former FCC Chairman John C. Doerfer. Doerfer resigned recently under fire from Congress for accepting plane flights and yacht cruises from broadcast executives. Mills must be confirmed by the Senate.

Collins Asks Bi-Racial Board To Seek Racial Tension Solution

By United Press International
Florida Gov. LeRoy Collins asked his new state bi-racial commission today to "seek out ways in which progress can be made" in eliminating racial tension in Florida.

Collins, the first southern governor to create such a commission to deal with a Negro campaign against all forms of segregation, picked four white men and two Negroes Thursday as members. "We should not expect miracles from the commission," he said. "Problems in this area are highly complex and difficult, as everyone knows. It will be the job of this commission to provide leadership not only at the state level but to assist by advice and counsel wherever possible similar bi-racial committees in the cities and towns throughout the state."

Negroes over the South continued their drive to abolish racial barriers at lunch counters of drug and variety stores. Three more Negroes filed application papers to enter the all-white University of Alabama Extension Center at Montgomery.

Frank Stewart, Alabama superintendent of education, was to report today on his study of a request by Montgomery Police Commissioner L. B. Sullivan that Alabama State College for Negroes be closed.

Sullivan charged that the college president and faculty have no control over the students at Alabama State. Thirty-five students were recently arrested for anti-segregation demonstrations.

Four Negro women tried Thursday to obtain service at the lunch counter of a bus station in Columbia, S. C., and Negro students renewed sitdown demonstrations at white lunch counters in Charlotte, N. C.

At Rock Hill, S. C., local NAACP President C. A. Ivory refused to answer questions in recorder's court about an anti-segregation rally last week which resulted in arrest of 70 Negroes. One of the 70 was sentenced Thursday to pay a $55 fine or serve 30 days in jail.

Eighteen Negro students filed suit in federal district court at Roanoke, Va., for immediate admission to the white high school at Pulaski, Va. Their applications were twice rejected by the State Pupils Placement Board.

Rep. John Hart asked the South Carolina Legislature to withdraw the state's 1868 ratification of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution.

Population Up Over Florida

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The number of people in Florida over 65 jumped from 235,000 in 1950 to 433,000 in 1958, the Census Bureau reported Thursday.

The 82 per cent increase boosted the number of senior citizens to more than 10 per cent of the total state population.

Mrs. Judy Hayman (left) and Mrs. Shirley Collins will collect forms in their Suitland, Md., area.

Dr. Robert W. Burgess, director of the Bureau of the Census, holds an official credential. Machine at right transfers written matter from microfilm to electronic tape for Univac.

ON APRIL 1, more than 60,000 counters—65 percent of them women—will start the 1960 decennial census, the 18th since George Washington's administration. Many householders will hand the callers forms they received previously in the mail. The 250,000 enumeration districts for the two-week count were mapped by the Census Bureau in Suitland, Md.

Despised Killer Starts Life Sentence

BIRMINGHAM, England (UPI)—"I just like beautiful women," said 28-year-old Patrick J. Byrne. And in his own way, he probably meant it.

Girl friends pictured him as the overprotective type. In particular, he always was worrying about whether some dark, lonely night a sex fiend would get hold of them.

"Paddy used to say he wanted to escort me home at night because I might be attacked," is the way Jean Grant, a girl who used to date the husky laborer, explained it.

"He never once kissed me good-night in all the times he took me home and never made any advances to me," Jean, a rather buxom blonde of 18, was quick to add.

Byrne today began serving a life term for the sex slaying of a woman.

Other people who knew Byrne used to rib him as being "Paddy the Peeper." The press called him Britain's nastiest murderer since Jack the Ripper. The judge who sentenced him to life in prison Thursday described him as a man under "the influence of overwhimpering, violent and perverted lust."

For Byrne, the night before last Christmas Eve, had gone to the YWCA room of an unemployed 28-year-old secretary named Stephanie Baird. When he left, a little while later, she was lying dead on a bed, beaten, strangled, mutilated and headless.

The defense lawyers argued vainly that Byrne was insane and guilty only of manslaughter. The jurors found him sane and guilty of first degree murder. British law prohibits capital punishment for murder except in certain cases, such as the slaying of an unarmed policeman.

Byrne trembled and thanked the jury. "I'm sorry. I just like beautiful women," he said.

Suspect Suffers Heart Attack

MERIDIAN, Miss. (UPI)—A 47-year-old man suspected of being a member of an interstate drug-peddling ring involving nude teen-aged girls who posed for obscene pictures was in critical condition in a hospital here today.

Jesse Cox, a barbiturate wholesale dealer from Tusculum, Ala., suffered a heart attack shortly after he was arrested in Lauderdale County, Miss. Meridian Detective Mike Nichols said drugs valued at more than $10,000 were found under the hood of Cox's car.

Man, 72, Heads Back To College

ATHENS, Tex. (UPI)—Seventy-two-year-old Cliff L. Frazier, the father of four children, retired from the insurance business five years ago.

Recently he started leaving home every day and wouldn't tell his family where he was going.

Frazier finally disclosed his secret—he was going to college. "Ever since I quit Louisiana State University in 1909 after one year I have wanted to return to school," Frazier said.

"This year I got tired doing nothing," he explained, "and just couldn't resist the temptation to go to school."

The University of Missouri is the oldest state university west of the Mississippi River.

Newest Iron Ending Fuss For Southpaws

NEW YORK (UPI)—Southpaw ironers get a break with a new steam and dry iron exhibited at the National Electric Manufacturers' Association show.

The cord for this iron is attached to the top rear of the handle, to accommodate either left or right-handed homemakers. The temperature control also is conveniently located on the front of the handle top.

Other new appliances include a portable food mixer with power booster to give additional thrust in heavy mixing and an electric dry pan with a lid that can set at an angle in a slot on the back rim, to protect against splattering. The skillet also comes with a special leg that snaps into the handle, tilting the pan slightly to simplify basting and draining off fat as it collects.

IF YOU ARE A VETERAN OF WW II - UNDER CURRENT LAW YOUR VA-ENTITLEMENT EXPIRES JULY 25th - THIS YEAR!

VETERANS: Your VA-loan rights, earned by your service in our armed forces, are the greatest opportunity for home investment you will ever have. Yet hundreds of veterans in this area are still paying rent. Buying in Sunland Estates your entire closing costs could conceivably be less than two months' rent in your present circumstances. Your monthly payments are reasonable in Sunland Estates. For example on a $14,000 VA-loan your monthly payment including taxes and insurance is only $87.50. And the interest and taxes are every penny tax deductible. And if you wish to buy a larger home, your monthly payments increase only $6.00 per month for each thousand dollars increase in purchase price and that $6.00 includes taxes and insurance. Rent money is lost forever! Buying in Sunland with your VA-loan entitlement starts a home investment that makes your house expense dollar work for you. THERE IS A PLAN TO FIT YOUR BUDGET - A HOME TO FIT YOUR FAMILY IN SUNLAND ESTATES. WE WILL ENJOY SHOWING YOU CENTRAL FLORIDA'S MOST DELIGHTFUL COMMUNITY FOR FAMILY LIVING.

• VA FINANCING means bigger dollar savings. Check these facts: On a $14,500. Home

FHA - *90.69 Monthly for 30 years.

VA - *80.08 Monthly for 30 years.

The VETERAN saves per month for 30 years $10.61.

• The fact is the same monthly payment of 90.69

that retires a $14,500. mortgage under FHA—

will retire a $16,400 investment for the qualified

Bryant, Carlton Pledge Reapportionment

Farris Bryant came to Sanford Saturday and said he would make fair apportionment of the legislature the first order of business if he is elected governor.

Bryant spoke at the corner of First St. and Magnolia Ave. and at the Civic Center. In both places he stressed the value of good schools for Florida youngsters. He urged voters not to let the federal government take over the purse strings and control of Florida public schools. Bryant said it would be very easy to let the federal government pay more and more of state school costs. But he warned that the consequences might be federal domination of Florida's public school system. He urged the taxpayers to put their shoulders to the wheel and support good schools for Florida.

Later on, in the Civic Center, Bryant said that nothing touches the lives and future of Florida's children like good schools.

"Sputnik doesn't bother me as long as our children have the opportunity to get the learning which has made the United States great," the Ocala attorney said. Bryant scored Florida's death toll on the highways and said Florida must cut its traffic death toll in half, pointing out that more than 100 persons died on the state's highways last month. Bryant promised that if elected, he would see that penalties against traffic lawbreakers are enforced. Switching to the financial side of government, Bryant said nobody believes politicians when they say they want to save money. Bryant said that as governor he can save more than $100 million in taxes in the next two years, by turning this money to things the state needs, like more schools and junior colleges. He said that if voters wanted to know whether he was economy-minded they should look at his record in the Florida House of Representatives. Bryant pointed out that when he served as speaker of the house in 1953-54, House operations cost only 40 percent of what they cost during the previous two years. "I want to be the symbol of your determination that Florida tomorrow will meet some of its problems," were the Ocala attorney's closing words. Starting today, Bryant will use television to reach the voters. He scheduled a talk on the recent spread of efforts by Negroes to integrate lunch counters in stores. His headquarters advance release of the speech termed the subject "a problem so crucial we must take immediate steps to meet it intelligently and decisively." Bryant was the second candidate for governor in two days to make an appearance in Seminole County. Don Carlton Jr. preceded him Friday and talked with voters in the communities from 8 a. m. until 8 p. m., when he capped his tour with a speech in Ft. Mellon Park. Carlton told his Sanford audience that he would continue to work, as he had in the past, for "fair apportionment," which would give Seminole County and Brevard a senator each instead of sharing the current upper house seat. He repeated that he had proposed a highway program — and stressed that he had proposed a way in finance. He referred to a $250 million proposal he made earlier last week at Daytona Beach. "All this growth in Florida makes it imperative that we keep up with our road program," he said. Carlton, who issued a strong statement on the racial tension problem last week, stressed again here that he would use the powers of the governor's office to "preserve the right of a store owner to operate his store so that he serves his own clientele in conformity with the customs of his community in order to stay in business for himself."

Hoodlums Tightening Grip On U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Rackets Committee warned today that a "criminal syndicate" of underworld hoodlums has tightened its grip on the U. S. economy.

Its findings were unanimous, but the committee split 4-to-4 along strict party lines over proposed establishment of a national crime commission to help combat the growing menace.

The committee, in another report on its investigation of infiltration of management and labor by racketeers, accused Teamster President James R. Hoffa again of "gross abuses" of union power and an "unconscionable betrayal" of union members.

The new attack on Hoffa said he gained power with the help of "racketeers and hoodlums" and, despite a "promised clean-up drive," has shown "no inclination to move against a variety of thieves, robbers, burglars, arsonists, white slavers, extortionists, dope peddlers, and even murderers who are holding office in teamster affiliates."

The suggested crime commission would have served as a federal clearing house for nationwide data on crime. Unable to agree on the proposal, the committee voted instead to recommend immediate study by an "appropriate" congressional committee on how to best cope with the problem of syndicated crime.

The committee split over the proposed crime commission had more than the usual partisan overtones.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, spearheaded the drive for its adoption. He drew support from the other three committee Democrats—Chairman John L. McClelland (Ark.) and Sens. Frank Church (Idaho) and Sam J. Ervin Jr. (N. C.).

Orange-Seminole Drainage Dispute Breaks Out

A little dispute over who gets who's flood waters threatened to start in south Seminole County Sunday when Seminole residents charged Orange County drainage workmen.

District 3 County Commissioner Lawrence Swofford said that crews from Orange County trucks and a grader were trying to pump water from flooded Lake Chari, in Orange County, into Long Lake or Spring Lake in Seminole County.

Both Long Lake and Spring Lake are also flooded. The Orange County workmen said they were working for county Commissioner Jack McDowell and Engineer Fred DeWitt. They were trying to pump the water through aluminum pipes, Swofford said.

One irate Seminole County resident decided to take matters into his own hands and chopped the Orange County line in two with an axe. Other residents took a more peaceful course and came to Swofford with a request that he stop the drainage crew.

Swofford told the Orange County men they would have to get permission from the Seminole County owners and from the Seminole County Commission before they could pump water across the county line.

"We have enough water to take care of in Seminole County. We don't want theirs," Swofford said.

CHICAGO (UPI)—Flood swollen rivers surged over their banks in four states today, driving hundreds of persons from their homes and isolating several communities.

The Weather Bureau blamed a fast spring thaw which melted mountains of snow accumulated by record breaking winter storms.

Snow-fed rivers washed over their banks in Missouri, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska.

Countless roads were closed by the rising water. Police urged motorists driving in the four-state area to be on the lookout for washed out highways.

National guardsmen helped police in rescuing stranded families. This was the state-by-state picture.

Nebraska: At least three communities remained virtual islands; 60 families were driven from their homes; authorities said the worst was yet to come.

Iowa: The Nodaway River was expected to crest four feet above flood stage at Clarinda this morning, causing some flooding.

Kansas: The Highway Patrol reported many roads closed or soon to be closed, flood waters were two feet deep at Frankfort and coming in fast.

Missouri: The Weidon River went on a rampage with a six-foot rise in one hour at Mercer; the Chariton River was expected to crest at seven feet above flood stage by evening.

Police Recover Body From Lake

After a week-long search, police Sunday recovered the body of a Sanford Negro in Lake Monroe who was in a fatal auto accident over the Osteen Bridge that took the lives of three other Negroes.

Police found the body of Eddie Lee Washington floating in the southern portion of the lake. Washington was the driver of a car which crashed through the bridge on March 10 carrying three other Negroes to their death.

Progress Link

This aerial photo of the new bridge across Lake Monroe was taken by Herald photographer Bob Stubbings to show that the final link in the span is in place and ready for the concrete to be poured. This bridge, and the accompanying work on U. S. Interstate Hwy. 4, just west of Sanford, represent growth and progress in this area. And that is what this edition of The Herald is about — it's the annual progress report on Seminole County and contains pictorial and written evidence of a lot of the subject.

The Herald also can report modestly with this issue that the number of copies paid circulation this year will almost double that of last year's edition.

Circulation Manager Frank Voltoline can get a limited number of copies for residents who wish to send them to other sections, but who failed to reserve them for today's regular mailing.

Reds Turn Cold Shoulder To Disarmament Plan

GENEVA (UPI)—The West handed Russia a detailed blueprint today for a veto-free watchdog organization to prevent cheating on a proposed disarmament agreement. But the Soviets quickly dumped cold water on the idea.

The Western proposal was laid before the 10-nation disarmament conference by Italy's deputy delegation chief Francesco Calavetti on behalf of all five Western powers represented here.

One of the chief functions of the new disarmament organization, Calavetti proposed, should be to set up machinery to ban nuclear satellite warfare from outer space.

The West suggested that the international disarmament organization should have a 14-member executive committee, some permanent and some rotating as in the United Nations Security Council. It also would have a council of states and a director general.

There would be no veto, such as the Soviets have used to ham-

Art Workshop Scheduled Tonight

Joe Mathews will conduct a painting workshop at the meeting of the Sanford Art Assn. at 7:30 p. m. today in the Crafts Shop at Ft. Mellon Park.

The workshop will include sketching from life and still life.

McCarty Names A. B. Peterson Jr. County Chairman

John M. McCarty, candidate for governor, has named A. B. "Tommy" Peterson Jr. as chairman of the McCarty for Governor organization in Seminole County.

Peterson, a resident of Locklow, is a real estate consultant and civic leader. His appointment spurred activity in the already busy campaign to elect McCarty.

McCarty, Fort Pierce attorney, businessman, citrus grower and former circuit court judge, has been touring to bring his "work program" to the people. He said he has formulated a step-by-step work program on Florida's needs rather than the customary campaign platform. He said he feels the "work program" will let the voters know where he stands on every issue.

Deputies Probe Grocery Holdup

The Sheriff's office was kept busy this past weekend investigating a holdup Sunday night and a murder Saturday.

Deputies reported that late Sunday night two men walked in to the Little Giant Food Store in Forest City and demanded that the clerk hand over all the money in the register.

The clerk told deputies that the men had sawed off-shot guns. The Sheriff's office is still investigating the case and has not as yet determined the amount of money taken.

A large scale man hunt is on in the south end of the county for the two men.

The Sheriff's office reported also that Catherine Doe, a Negro woman of Altamonte Springs was found murdered in her home Sunday night.

Deputies apprehended a 48-year-old Negro, Willie Duke, who admitted shooting the Doe woman in the head after an argument. Duke is being held at the county jail without bond.

New Plan To Aid Farm Industries

Steps have been taken to aid cattlemen and the county's three and a half million dollar vegetable industry, county officials reported today.

Harold Kastner, a member of the U. S. Fruit and Vegetable advisory board, returned today from a nation-wide meeting of the group in Washington, D. C. Kastner said that a committee has been set up with a meeting for June to give additional help to terminal markets strung out across the nation.

Sanford vegetable produce men would be able to get better prices for their products with terminals closer to the city.

Instead of shipping to places as far as Chicago and New York they could ship from Jacksonville or Tampa and save on freight, Kastner said.

County Agent Cecil Tucker reported that cattlemen will also get some aid soon with a reduction in freight when shipping hay. Tucker said the reduction could amount to an almost 50 percent cut. He added that the Railroad Commission and ICC is presently studying the proposal.

Farmers will also get some relief as a result of the U. S. designating 12 counties in the state as disaster areas for emergency production loans as a result of the recent floods and abnormal rains in central Florida.

One of the areas designated was Seminole County. The USDA advised farmers who have suffered losses in the stricken counties to apply to the Farmers Home Administration for emergency production loans.

Farmers in Sanford and the county should apply to the local FHA office of Curtis Green in the Sanford Atlantic Bank Building. Farmers in the county are eligible for emergency funds from FHA at a three percent interest.

Tucker, County Engineer Robert Davis and County Red Cross Director Col. J. O. Gregory attended a state meeting in Tampa of representatives from stricken Florida areas to study long range plans to control flooding.

Tucker said that the county was given the assurance that in case of any serious threat to the area they would be eligible for flood relief.

Judiciary Group Gets Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Judiciary Committee, long a cold storage for civil rights bills, took a forced look at the House-passed measure today with orders to send it to the Senate by Tuesday night.

The committee, headed by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.), scheduled a morning point bill, which includes a provision for court-appointed referees to safeguard Negro voting rights.

Although liberal members said they would seek to strengthen the bill, the committee's split lineup made prospects dim for any major action.

Eastland, an avowed foe of the bill, invited Justice Department officials and Charles J. Bloch, prominent Mecon, Ga., attorney, to meet with the committee and give their views on the voting referee plan.

Regardless of what the committee does, congressional leaders hoped the House and Senate could agree on a bill within a week or so without need for a time-consuming conference to work out a compromise.

Both southern opponents of the House bill and liberal forces seeking to strengthen it have served notice they will try to amend the measure on the Senate floor.

If the southerners launch a filibuster, leaders were confident they could muster the necessary two-thirds margin to invoke cloture and cut off debate.

Board To Honor N. O. Garner

Sanford City Commission will honor retiring Civil Service Board Member N. O. Garner at a meeting in City Hall tonight.

The commissioners will make a presentation to Garner for the 17 years he has served on the board. Other business on the agenda for the 8 p. m. meeting includes request to use the Civic Center for Easter services and discussion of a proposed street intersection at Scott Ave. and Eighth St.

Africans Mourn

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI)—Heavily armed police stood guard in native townships throughout South Africa today to watch the black man mourn his dead. It was one week ago today that police bullets killed 72 and wounded 200 during riots in Sharpeville and Janga.

Junior Miss

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—Maureen Sullivan, a lovely 17-year-old Irish lass who wants to teach retarded children, reigned today as America's Junior Miss of 1960. Miss Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan of West Haven, Conn., won over 42 other high school girls Saturday night at the climax of the week-long America's Junior Miss pageant.

Blood Bank

Enterprise residents are reminded that the Volusia Flagler Blood Bank Mobile Unit will be in Sanford Tuesday, from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m. at the Civic Center. All those interested in donating blood for the Enterprise blood bank should report there or contact Miss Helen Sneedgrass, for further information.

Ike, Macmillan Open Nuclear Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan began talks today at secluded Camp David, Md., on a counter proposal to Russia's plan for banning nuclear weapons tests.

The two leaders were reported willing to accept on a limited basis Russia's demand for an unpoliced moratorium on small test blasts to be linked with a formal ban on larger explosions.

But Eisenhower was said to be ready to agree to the moratorium only for the remainder of his term in office — about 10 months — while Macmillan wants one of at least 18 months. Russia demanded a moratorium of four or more years.

Herter Made Unfriendly Remark, Cubans Charge

HAVANA (UPI)—A formal protest accusing Secretary of State Christian A. Herter of making an "unfriendly" statement about the Fidel Castro regime threatened today to trigger another round of sharp diplomatic exchanges between Cuba and the United States.

The Cuban protest, delivered to Ambassador Philip W. Bonsal Sunday night, denounced as "far from true" Herter's recent statement that Communist sympathizers hold high positions in the Castro government.

Castro himself, in two major speeches Sunday, renewed charges of open aggression against Cuba by the U. S. government.

As he has done repeatedly in past weeks, Castro hinted that an outright military invasion of Cuba may be in the planning. But he said Cuba was strong enough to defeat invaders "from abroad."

The Cuban note marked the latest in a bitter series of diplomatic exchanges with Washington which started with the government's seizure of American-owned business properties in Cuba.

Protests and counter-protests followed over Castro's accusation that U. S. officials plotted the sabotage of a French munitions ship in Havana harbor.

"Large segments of the North American press, numerous legislators and responsible officials in other branches of the U. S. government have pressed incorrect and even painful opinions of the Cuban revolution," the note said.

It added that Cuba had dismissed many of those attacks over the past year as coming from "petite interests," but was "renewedly wounded" when they come from Herter, a person second only to the President in responsibility for U. S. foreign policy.
