Government Closes First Testimony In Case Against Forbes

A letter from Pratt to Black was introduced, dated Oct. 19, 1922, it read:

"My dear Black:
"I have been waiting for some word for a long while from either you or Mort (Mortimer), but it seems that the government construction work is being delayed and I presume our prospects of getting anything are very slight.
"Under the circumstances, can not you arrange to have the advances to your friends taken up and oblige."
WILLIAM D. PRATT.

"Told to Forget"
Mortimer testified Black gave him this letter in New York, a few days after its receipt, and told him to forget it. At the same conference, Black told Mortimer, the latter testified, that he was "through with Forbes" and in future would go after the government contracts "without paying any graft."

At that time, Mortimer said, Forbes had accused him of "double crossing" because Forbes got only $5,000 of the $15,000 "advance." Mortimer said Black told him that Thompson had given Forbes about $30,000.

East Railway Claim Versus Government Soon Be Adjusted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Director General of Railroads James C. Davis expects, soon after Jan. 1 next, to make a complete report regarding adjustments with railroads as a result of Federal wartime control. Railroad claims are practically closed out, but there remains to be disposed of some 10,000 cases which individuals have brought against the government.

Wife Physician Found Murdered In Her Bed

BIRMINGHAM, Dec. 8.—Mrs. George T. Edwards, age 30, wife of well known physician here, was slain while she slept and her husband was shot in hand by person who entered their home about 4 o'clock Tuesday morning. A wound in the left temple indicated the woman was slain with a blunt instrument. No motive has yet been discovered. Burns on the woman's body indicated some drug may have been used before she was killed.

Citizens Of Berlin Tie Up Traffic With Jay Walking Habits

BERLIN, Dec. 8.—Berlin is having a hard time putting through its new traffic regulations, which for the most part are patterned upon American models. In fact this capital, in which cabinet crises are so frequent as to be uninteresting, is now developing what may be termed a traffic crisis. Next to prostitution of the new regulations for vehicles and pedestrians occupies most space in the daily press.

British Banker Will Appeal Court Ruling

LONDON, Dec. 8.—C. E. Robinson will appeal against judgment in Midland Bank case and has executed a deed of assignment making over all his rights in 125,000 pounds sterling which he claims from bank according to statement on behalf of Mrs. Robinson.

AFRICANS LIKE WHALE MEAT

LONDON, Dec. 8.—Canned cuts of whale meat are considered a great delicacy in West Africa, according to the Board of Trade Journal. Practically the whole of the whale meat canned in British Columbia last year was sold among the settlements between Liberia and the Congo.

REQUESTS LITERATURE

The Milwaukee Sentinel has requested the local Chamber of Commerce to send literature to the travel bureau. That paper, in assisting in choosing places for its patrons to spend the winter. Secretary Pearman states that this is in conjunction with the advertising program that is being staged throughout the country in over 40 metropolitan newspapers. The information was sent immediately, he announced.

Over Six Million Veterans Receive Service Pensions

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Preparation and mailing of $577,171 checks for an aggregate of $230,004,814 was an item in the year's business of the pension bureau. The bureau's annual report today said it has 525,539 names on its pension lists, as against 539,766 a year ago.

Simple Invention Makes Car Go Forty-Two Miles

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—We have just learned that a San Francisco automotive engineer, formerly of New York, has perfected a much-needed but simple device which enables car owners to increase their mileage up to astonishing figures. Cars on which this has been tested have made 42 miles and over on a gallon of gasoline, besides greatly increasing their power and pick-up.

are connected and in service, a slightly sulphuric taste. "No consumer need to fear any bad results from the use of the water."

terior Decoration. A thorough discussion of this subject, explaining in an artistic and scientific way the principles which underlie the decoration of houses.

Overton, Grant. "Cargoes for Crusades." Contains interesting biographical notes and facts of present day writers not readily found elsewhere, with comments and criticism of their works.

Pratt, W. S. "New Encyclopedia of Music and Musicians." The most recent and best one-volume book on music. Comprehensive and carefully compiled. Contains definitions, biographical facts and information about musical places and institutions, and a list of operas and oratorios.

Scott, E. L. "Story Telling." What to tell and how to tell it. A valuable little book, literary in tone, giving programs, suggestions and lists of cycle stories.

Shaw, Bernard. "Saint Joan." A recent noteworthy dramatic success and a splendid presentation of the Maid of Orleans. One of the finest plays written in the English language in present day.

Arnin, M. A. "Enchanted April." A charming comedy of manners about four discontented women, all strangers to one another, who rent a villa and are transformed by the beauty of an Italian spring.

Bailey, Temple. "Peacock Feathers." Another entertaining love story by this popular writer.

Bear, Thomas. "Sandoval." An exquisitely written novel, with a Southern hero, vividly and accurately depicting the social life of New York in the seventies.

Cabell, J. B. "Cream of the Jest." This comedy of evasions is written with Cabell's classic touch and distinctive charm.

Curwood, J. O. "A Gentleman of Courage." Story laid on the shores of Lake Superior. Good descriptions and characters of the early days of Canada.

Galworthy, John. "Forayte is a tremendous social satire, presenting a representative English family writers. His characters are compared with Shakespeare's.

Hergeshelmer, Joseph. "Ballad." A beautifully written romance of old Virginia, and one of the outstanding novels of the year, by one of the strongest and most artistic American authors.

Rudson, W. H. "Green Mountains." The best work of this stylist of English prose, based on the author's travels in South America. It illustrates his love of all beautiful things.

Hutchinson, Vere. "Great Waters." An admirable sea story of pirates in the eighteenth century.

Lincoln, Joseph. "Bugged Waters." One of the happiest books of the year and an unusually good Cape Cod story.

Machen, Arthur. Story of a boy with an over-sensitive imagination, and called a "Robinson Crusoe of the Soul." A book of quiet and deep emotions.

Massefield, John. "Sard Harter." A romance of the sea and South America, with love and adventure, and the finest descriptions for which this author is noted.

Mason, A. E. W. "House of the Arrow." A well written thriller and model mystery story above the average.

Melville, Herman. "Moby Dick." A realistic story of whale-fishing in the Pacific and a permanent contribution to American literature.

Merrick, Leonard. "Conrad in Quest of His Youth." Merrick is called "The author's author." This is his most popular book, and shows his usual charm and distinction of style.

Mill, L. J. "In a Shantung Garden." This story depicts the beauty of a Chinese garden, and the charming home life of a wealthy mandarin, where a young American obtains an entree and tries his fortune.

Morley & Marquis. "Pandora Lifts the Lid." A story of the up-to-date flapper, where seven girls disappear. Full of mirth and adventure, with a happy ending.

Norris, Kathleen. "The Callahans and the Murphys." Two stories of Irish Americans, full of sentiment and humor. One of the season's popular novels.

Oppenheim, E. P. "The Wrath to Come." Oppenheim's large audience will enjoy his prophecies of Sabatini, Rafael. "Sabatini's Summer." Sabatini has been called a second Dumas. A recent reprint of a former work, with a hero as fascinating as Scaramouche.

Turgenev, Ivan. "House of Gentlefolks." This story by one of the greatest Russian writers depicts his most beautiful woman character, and influenced an entire nation.

White, W. P. "Twisted Foot." A clever Western story, full of action, and touched with humor and mystery. As popular as the library as Zane Grey.

Wilson, H. L. "Merton of the Movies." The picture of a young grocer who goes into the movie picture business. A story of real humor and pathos, by one of our best humorists.

Wodehouse, P. G. "Leave It to Smith." The author is past master of the art of humor and conversation, and this amusing yarn is considered one of the best books of the season.

In Election Held In Germany Sunday

Future of Liberalism.
The future of liberalism in Germany and the ability of Germany to keep unimpaired the continuity of her post-war economic recovery will be heavily influenced by the outcome of Sunday's voting for the new reichstag and the Prussian diet.

If the Prussian reactionaries, who are traditional and irreconcilable foes of German democracy, decisively are repulsed in their cherished ambition to acquire control of the Prussian diet, and the national electorate returns a reichstag which will be definitely dominated by the Socialists, Democrats and clericals, Germany will be enabled to settle down to a concerted and co-ordinated economic and social salvation along the hard and fast rules laid down by the Dawes reparation plan.

Gibbs Elected Head Taylor Commandery

L. H. Gibbs was elected and installed as commander of Taylor Commandery 28 at the election and installation of officers held Friday night.

Hamilton Tolar officiated as installing officer and James Moughton as marshal.

The following elective officers were installed: A. F. McAllister, generalissimo; T. W. Jones, captain; Glen E. McKay, senior warden; John Gotz, junior warden; R. B. Chapman, relate; R. S. Key, treasurer and John D. Jenkins as recorder.

The following appointive officers were named: George Huff, standard bearer; Robert Herndon, sword bearer; R. Brotherson, warden; C. Starr, sentinel; T. Meredith, guard and Sandy Anderson, guard.

Officials state that it was one of the largest sessions held for some time and that the ceremonies were very interesting. A banquet was enjoyed at the close of the session.

Plan Conference At Memphis, Jan. 5

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 8.—A meeting of all southern state superintendents of public instruction, called for January 5-7 at Gulfport, Miss., is expected to have a bearing on future aid that will be extended these states by the General Education Board of New York. The meeting has been called by Wallace Buttrick, chairman of that board which has notified the superintendents that it will bear all expenses incident to the gathering.

It is considered here as practically certain that the board contemplates further aid to education on the southern states, but to just what extent and in what direction this aid will be extended is not yet known. This board under an arrangement made in 1919 to continue through June, 1925, is now providing for the salaries of two supervisors of secondary education in Florida and also for a professor of secondary education at the University of Florida. Traveling expenses for two of them and clerk hire for one also are covered in allotments the board makes.

This arrangement is to be discontinued June 30, next year, and education department officials now are wondering whether the board will renew the arrangement or establish something new. It is thought not unlikely that the allotments now made, which cover salary, traveling expenses and clerk for the state high school inspector, and salary and traveling expenses for the supervisor of negro education, in addition to the professor of secondary education at the University, may be cut off and other features provided for to take their place. Two subjects assigned for discussion at the Gulfport meeting, "divisions of school house planning," and "division of research and school service," have led officials to believe that the board may offer to finance these divisions in state education headquarters wherever state authorities desire them. It is admitted that there is a good field for both departments.

Amount of Prizes Depends on Numbers, Figures or Blame, Machine Is Unlawful

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 8.—Slot machines which pay off checks, merchandise or cash, the amount of the prizes is dependent upon certain numbers, figures or emblems that may appear face or disc of the machines. Gambling devices and therefore not be lawfully operated in Florida.

Such is the opinion of Attorney General Rivers H. Buford, as the annual session approaches when various machines of such less chance are put into play different sections of the state, attorney-general points out, however, that a slot machine may lawfully operated if it is one which a coin is placed and in which the value of the coin is delivered in merchandise. In case, he says, it becomes merely vending machine and is NOT lawful. His opinion on the subject says:

"Whether or not a slot machine is lawful and a license therefor issued depends altogether on how the machine operates. If it is a machine in which a coin is placed and from which the value of such coin is delivered in merchandise, then it is merely a vending machine and is not unlawful. A license may be issued therefor. But, if it is a machine which pays off in checks, or merchandise, or cash, and the amount of the prize is dependent upon certain numbers, figures or emblems, or combination of certain numbers, figures, or emblems, which may appear on the face or disc of the machine, then it is a gambling device, should not be licensed, and may not be operated lawfully."

It has been brought to the attention of The Sanford Herald that certain local citizens with an excess of change and a paucity of sound judgment are investing odd amounts here and there among other Florida cities, frequently reported by land agents to be gold mines. They take a run down to Sarasota for a few hours, are overwhelmed by the rapidly with which they do things, invest every nickel they can squeeze out of their socks, and think that they are at last on the right road to riches and can soon return to Sanford bloated capitalists, and rest in peace until God beckons them.

Of course if these folks want to buy gold bricks, that is none of our business, but we cannot make ourselves believe that they really WANT to. They are simply laboring under fantastic illusions, misinformation, and erroneous conceptions. They have heard about Mr. I. Gottrox who went down there, took an option on a business block for two hundred dollars and in sixty days turned it over, netting something like one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars, the exact figures being overlooked in the deal.

Now it may be that this Gottrox chap did do something like that, but don't get the idea that you will. Lightning doesn't strike twice in the same place, more than once a year, and as far as Sarasota and some of these other towns are concerned, their quota has already arrived. Prices there are higher now than they should be two years from now, while in Sanford, which is continuing to be "The City Substantial", prices will not have attained their proper level for several months yet.

We do not contend that money cannot be made in some of these other Florida cities by judicious investments. A man thoroughly acquainted with St. Petersburg and conditions prevailing there, who knows really values in that city and knows where the next jump is going to come, can make money if he has a little capital to invest. But there are very few Sanford people who come up to the restrictive qualifications just given. There are very few Sanford folks who know more than heresay, or what can be gleaned from a few days' observation, about conditions in Tampa, Sarasota, St. Petersburg or Bradenton. When they invest their money under such circumstances, they are taking a shot in the dark, and might just as well go to Havana and bet on the horse races where they can get odds.

As we said before if these folks really WANT to buy gold bricks, let them ship their money away and exchange it for mercury—they SAY you can make gold out of mercury anyway. But if it's just wealth and happiness they want, let them sink their knucks into their own potato patch, and help the rest of us push up the plants that will grow and shower dollars on us when the storm begins to blow in other places.

"Exceptional Employee", The Best Acquisition

"The most valuable acquisition to his business which an employer can obtain is an exceptional employee. There is no bargain so fruitful.

Andrew Carnegie said that. And Andrew Carnegie knew, just as every great master of industry knows and profits by that knowledge.

The employee who has to be told but once, the employee who does not watch the clock, the employee who can be trusted through thick and thin is found in the composite that makes up the exceptional employee. And if in addition to these fundamentals, the exceptional employee has brains and ability, and willingness to lay aside his personal ambitions in the interest of "the business", then indeed has an employer found a treasure that is beyond price.

Andrew Carnegie had a habit of looking out for such employees and signally rewarding them. Sometimes very likely he misplaced his trust and discovered in the trusted employee ingratitude and treachery. But for the most part he found that his "exceptional employee" was all that he believed him to be, and the canny Scot tied that employee still more closely to his organization through still more generous recompense. The Carnegie men were noted for the way they sang the praises of the man and the business they served.

In every institution that prospers there are exceptional employees. Happily, too, bright young men and women are noticing that as a business prospers just so much more surely will prosperity come for the individuals who make that business a "going concern". And, according to the extent of their ability, these young people are endeavoring to qualify as "exceptional employees" in the firm's organization.

The young man who is steady and sure, trustworthy, loyal and unafraid of work; and who adds to this, keen interest in the progress of the business with which he is connected, can become an "exceptional employee" with all that signifies of opportunity for preferment and success. The young woman who is alert, attentive, industrious, and loyal, can take her ability and brains into the same big market, and "make good" as surely as can the man of equal qualifications.

One thing only is essential, and that is the self-examination, and the self-appraisal that can give even the mediocre employee comprehension of what he or she needs to acquire, in character or skill, to enter the "exceptional employee" class.

Even though occasionally the stupid or the egotistical employee fails to recognize or show appreciation of the "exceptional employee", the employee of that ingrate is piling up treasures that he will some day be able to bring to light with great satisfaction. The "One Hundred Per Cent Man" need bother his head very little as to the appreciation shown him as he climbs. The "exceptional employee", very likely will become the "exceptional employer" some day.

Reading is to the mind, what exercise is to the body. As by the one, health is preserved, strengthened, and invigorated; by the other, virtue (which is the health of the mind) is kept alive, cherished, and confirmed.—Addison.

By necessity, by proclivity, and by delight, we quote. We quote not only books and proverbs, but arts, sciences, religion, customs, and laws; nay, we quote temples and houses, tables and chairs by imitation.—Emerson.

TOWNS AND INDIVIDUALS
PALM BEACH POST

Individuals can prosper only as a community is just that much less their communities prosper. Once benefited, those who are unwillingly a prosperous man will be long to take hold and do anything found in a backward community, a for community progress by all the man who has accumulated wealth laws of justice and right should despite the disadvantages sur- not have any part in the prosperity founding him. But in the main that is brought about by those who there is no prosperity for individuals work in community interest, viduals of a city if the city itself. Work and money, energy and is not going forward.

Development of the community is measure he is able to give, will a work that rests on all of its in- may and pay big. It is everyone's habitants. Each time some one in- business, to help build and main- habitant shirks ever so little, the tain prosperity.

The Four R's.
Men Like Variety.
The Value of Science.
Lions, Alive and Dead.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright 1926)

ACCORDING TO modern school children, education includes four R's—"reading, writing, arithmetic and radio."

Children seem to be born with understanding of the new discoveries born with them. A boy of fifteen will manage and understand an automobile by intuition better than his father. A young child will walk up to a screeching, squawking radio, turn knobs and get music later of the "static" produced under adult management.

AS REGARDS the nature of electricity, what it is, why it works, the youngest child knows as much as any scientist.

In a tropical forest, when travelers have passed on leaving a fire burning, the monkeys come down, sit around, to warm their hands. They don't know what it is that warms them, and never add a stick of wood to the fire.

Civilized men sit around the mystery of electricity, like so many nonkeys around a dying fire.

DR. MARIE MUNK, of Berlin, woman admitted to the German bar, says the trouble with marriage is "man's fondness for variety." It is pitiful but true that the average man will stick to one brand of cigar longer than he will stick to one wife.

According to Dr. Munk, men leave their wives for somebody younger, "for mere desire for a change." That's all true, but what of it?

FIDELITY IS even rarer among monkeys than among men. The object of marriage is to change men from monkeys to real men, and marriage is doing the work gradually. Infidelity at least is not a thing to brag of and take for granted.

A REPORT of the Smithsonian Institute shows that our highly civilized Government appropriates less than one-third of one per cent of its annual budget for science and research.

TEN TIMES that appropriation which would be too little and would come back to the Government in increased wealth a hundred times over.

How poor would this nation be without steam engines, automobiles, tractors, steel-making methods, chemical knowledge of fertilizers and other "modern improvements," all born of science?

THE MEN of wealth do little for scientific research, outside of their own industrial plants. One scientific invention, getting nitrogen out of the air, at a low price, would supply cheap food, and properly used in charity, would do more for the poor hungry than all the money given from the beginning of time.

THE ITALIAN nobleman, pointing to the beggars at his back gate covered with sores and eating scraps of food thrown to them, said quite seriously, "these by my hands with which I hunt salvation."

If feeding the poor means salvation, scientific research could be made to pay dividends hereafter as well as now on earth.

PROFESSOR JEANS, leading British scientist, tells the Royal Astronomical Society that the great age to which suns are now known to live makes it quite certain that the universe and its millions of planets are populated by thinking beings.

SUNS, THOUGHT to last only a few million years, when ignorance of radio active forces led to the supposition that the suns were actually burning up, are now known to last many billions of years. That gives plenty of time for planets to cool off and become habitable.

BUT WHY should hot planets or suns be uninhabitable? A maggot, looking at a living lion, would say "that's uninhabitable." With the lion dead and cold, the same maggot would say "there's a nice comfortable home for maggots. Now it's a habitable lion."

One single mind inhabits the lion's body, while it lives. Many maggots inhabit it when it is dead. That may be true of blazing suns.

A WASHINGTON dispatch says the final disposition of Muscle Shoals rests with President Coolidge. It is to be hoped the President will persuade Henry Ford to re-open his original offer.

He would supply the farmers with cheap fertilizer, if the thing can be done by money and intelligence. Why not for a change give an honest, competent man a chance? The grafters surely get their full share.

IT SHOULD be remembered, however, that a fine collection of tools does not make a mechanic. It is by his USE of the tools that the mechanic proves his value. A big vocabulary doesn't add anything to a human being's value, unless thought to make the words useful is also there.

Five hours of thinking for one hour of cross-word puzzling would be about the right mixture, but it usually goes the other way.

WHETTING HIS APPETITE

THE FRENCH DEBT
LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL

In his message to Congress President Coolidge alludes to the vast sums due the United States by European Governments and the settlements already negotiated for over 42 per cent of the amount by Great Britain, Finland, Hungary, Lithuania and Poland. But he does not refer to the negotiations, now in progress, that promise to put France in the class of those that have funded their debts and to pave the way for the settlement of other outstanding obligations. To this end the conferences between Secretary Mellon and Ambassador Jusserand have done much toward arriving at a mutual understanding. The laws in the case have been passed on to the Debt Funding Commission, now in session.

No definite basis of payment has been arrived at, though it may be inferred that the plan laid down by Chairman Hurley of the Debt Funding Commission some time ago will be followed. This calls for a moratorium of from four to ten years, the interest rate to be graduated from 2 1/2 to 3 per cent, instead of 5 per cent, and a refunding period of at least eighty years. With the present interest rate, France's indebtedness to the United States stands this sum, it is believed, will be scaled down markedly. The British refunded their debt on a basis of 3 and 3 1/2 per cent, the refunding period extending over 62 years. In view of reports that France may receive more favorable treatment there has already been some indication that Great Britain would protest. For the present this matter has been in abeyance and where alluded to it is argued that the Government is not compelled to treat all creditors alike.

It is along this line that negotiations are being conducted. The French Ambassador has been presenting to the Secretary of the Treasury the matter of France's capacity to pay and its desire to arrive at some plan whereby it can pay. This, however, is but preliminary. Ambassador Jusserand will quit his post in January and return to France. His successor, some member of the French Government, will resume the conversations with the object of arriving at a definite settlement.

President Coolidge in his message reiterated his opposition to the cancellation of these debts. He could not do otherwise. These billions owed to the United States constitute the savings of the people, invested during war days in Liberty loans and other war finance measures. They must be paid or an additional burden put upon the people. But the United States has been lenient. It has taken into consideration the after-war conditions and has not pressed its claims. It has been no Shylock, however much Europe may picture America as the chaser of dollars. Generosity and justice have already been exemplified in the attitude of the Government.

France's willingness to do the right thing has never been questioned. The Dawes plan has taken the place of the disastrous Ruhr venture and France is now hoping to translate this willingness into action.

Other nations, too, are feeling the same desire and the refunding of the French debt probably will be followed by similar action by Italy and Belgium.

SHOPPING TRIPS
DAYTONA NEWS

Shopping trips which involve the expenditure of considerable sums of money aren't made on the spur of the moment. They are too important to the welfare of the family to be made hurriedly or without preparation.

The thrifty family plans such shopping trips in advance, and the family almost always knows in advance just what stores will be visited.

Such shopping trips are mapped out in the evening, at home, when the day's work is finished. The advertisements describing items which must be bought tomorrow are sure of a hearing in the evening. They arrive at the home at the hour when the shopping trip is being planned.

Tomorrow's sales, then, depend to a great extent upon the advertisements that reach the home this evening in the evening newspaper. The readers of the evening newspaper search every evening for advertisements describing merchandise which must be bought tomorrow. The advertising columns of the evening newspaper serve as the average family's directory, and that directory is consulted every evening at the hour when shopping trips are being mapped out.

Merchants who realize that they must be represented at this important hour, advertise in the only newspaper that is consulted in the evening—the evening newspaper, the HOME newspaper.

FLORIDA'S FUTURE
BOSTON HERALD

Even though Florida failed to prove that fountain of perpetual youth for which Ponce de Leon yearned, it is happily serving as a harbor of refuge for the tax-payed residents of all this great republic. At the general election of Nov. 4 last, the people adopted an amendment to their constitution providing that "No tax upon the inheritance or upon income of residents or citizens of the state shall be levied by the state of Florida or under its authority." The Floridians further declare that they have practically no tax on intangible property.

Florida seems destined to test the effect on a state of becoming attractive to the rich. It has already drawn thousands of them to its citizenship and more are going. Any increase in our own local rate on intangible would add to the current. The prediction freely made that Florida will be the first state of the South to send Republican senators to Washington, and Republican electors to the great college. Its public men, even though Democrats, are usually conservative, and its newspapers, also Democratic, stand on the same side of all the great questions! Watch Florida.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Tom Gibbons of St. Paul, whose record for ferocity has weathered the attack of a champion, meets a worthy opponent in William Ward, pugilistically known as Kid Norfolk, negro light-heavy-weight in Madison Square Garden Tuesday night. Although entitled to the favorite's position by reason of ability to stand the knockout punch, the Minnesota man is at his best, for Norfolk also has an impressive line of conquests behind him.

Since 1913 Gibbons has sent many leading heavy weights to the hospital, for it is not only a matter of his own strength, but of the scientific work he has done. He has been exploring Indian mounds at St. Paul, which will be covered with water, when the big Wilson Dam is put into completion. The relief which Mr. Fowler found in the mounds, and which he has been studying for some time, remains to be determined.
