3-County Group Takes On Hyacinth Eradication

College Construction Not Possible Now

"If the proposed Junior College for Seminole County is to be financed by county and state funds, I do not see how Seminole County could support such an endeavor in view of our present 20 mill limitation for school resources," Senator Douglas Stenstrom, chairman of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Education Committee said this morning.

District Governor Lauds Pilot Club For Achievements

Mrs. Marie Gleason of DeLand, District Governor of District Four, Pilot International, paying her official visit to the local Pilot Club at a meeting held in the Yacht Club last night, commended the Sanford club for its achievements during the past year.

Senator Stenstrom's statement followed a meeting of the six man committee yesterday to determine if plans should be followed in attempting to have one of the Junior Colleges located here.

Mrs. Gleason, in making a report on the international convention which was held at Miami Beach in July, stated it was thus far the largest convention to be held, with 1147 members in attendance in addition to co-pilots and visitors. She called attention to the report that was given by Mrs. Edith MacBride Cameron of Gainesville, Fla., the retiring Pilot International president, in the September issue of the "Log" and urged each member to read the article.

Sawyer Creator Visits NAS

Tuesday Roy Crane, creator of the famous "Bus Sawyer" remote strip accompanied by Hank Schlenker and Ed Granberry members of his staff, was a visitor to the Naval Air Station, Sanford, home of Heavy Attack Wing ONE.

Crane was greeted upon his arrival at NAS by Captain J. T. Blackburn Commander Heavy Attack Wing ONE, who escorted the visitor on a tour of the facilities afforded fleet units based here at this fast growing naval activity. Captain Blackburn briefed Crane on the mission of Heavy Attack and the training undertaken in fulfillment of this mission.

CofC Program Has Three Main Items

"The Chamber of Commerce will produce no miracles—but we do have a definite program," John Kriker told the Coffee Club of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce this morning.

"We have some very live committees," Kriker stated, "and I am hoping that each committee will produce something for Seminole County."

Kriker revealed the once-a-month gathering that "our program has three main items: (1) Navy, (2) Industry, and (3) Tourists."

Calling attention to the deplorable state of the tourist program, Kriker remarked that "we have no stores for rent, no office space, and very few apartments. There's just no place to put them."

"We're hoping to have some investment money soon for commercial buildings—for I think that's where we're lacking—space."

"I hope that before we meet again I will have some announcements that will be important for Sanford and Seminole County," the Chamber of Commerce manager told the group. "I appreciate the confidence that has been shown in the Chamber of Commerce and I am looking forward to progress."

Also reporting at this morning's meeting, said to be one of the largest attended of the affairs, was Frank Mebane Jr., manager of the Mayfair Inn. He said "It's probably too early to say what kind of season we will have. However, response to our advertising has been terrific."

Mebane told the C of C Coffee Club that "It looks like we might have one of the best seasons we've ever experienced."

"We've started the annex," he said, "and we have started the circulation of brochures for conventions here."

Mebane explained "Organizations are looking for new places to meet. When we complete the Civic Center here in Sanford we will have more to offer."

The local Mayfair Inn manager called for the support of Sanford and its citizens. "It will take the whole town's assistance," he said.

Survey Is Authorized By Board

A contract with Goodbody and Co., investment brokers, was authorized last night by the Board of Sanford City Commissioners, at an adjourned meeting.

Mayor F. D. Scott explained to Earl Higginbotham and John Kriker, commissioners who were unable to attend Monday night's meeting, the purpose of Wilson Holt, representative of Goodbody and Co., visit to Sanford Monday night to meet with the Board of Commissioners. "He asked for the job of making a complete and thorough survey," said the Mayor.

One of the first actions of the Board was on a motion by Commissioner Higginbotham that the investment brokerage firm of Goodbody and Co. be employed to make the necessary survey.

Commissioner A. L. Wilson told the Board last night "I believe that this commission should carry out the terms of the 1934 resolution, and if we are not able to do so, to make a survey and notify the State Board of Health as to when it can be accomplished."

Higginbotham said "I want to do everything possible for Sanford." And Wilson explained "I'd like to say that we do have the courage of our convictions—I'm for the sewage treatment plant—and second the motion to have the survey made immediately."

City Manager Warren E. Knowles explained that "the contract is the same type which we entered into before with them."

State Board of Health representative and sanitary engineer Sid Berkowitz, sitting in on the adjourned meeting as an observer remarked "I have nothing to say unless you have some questions."

Mayor Scott immediately asked "Will this action satisfy the State Board?"

Longwood Medical Building Fund Gets $510 From Auction

By RUTH LAVO
LONGWOOD—Longwood's Medical Building Fund was the recipient of $510—received from the auction held by the Longwood Chamber of Commerce last Saturday evening.

The Auction in Sunnyside Park got underway promptly and with an estimated crowd of 300 and donations totalling well over that number. Bidding, under the auctioneering of Larry Jones was lively and the bidders very anxious to see a large amount raised so that the Medical Building might be completed.

The ladies at the refreshment stand were kept busy all evening serving hot, cake, pie and coffee. Also selling the many delicious delicacies prepared by Longwood's good cooks. Funds raised from this stand are included in the above mentioned amount.

President Richard Zartman praised all of the workers for their untiring efforts also those who so generously donated so many worth-while articles and those attending which made this event so great a success.

The committee included, chairman, Ralph Hammond; co-chairman, Larry Jones; refreshment committee, co-chairman, Mrs. B. R. Gray and J. D. Kirkland; helpers, Mrs. R. Rudolph, Mrs. D. Screeny, Mrs. C. Morrison, Mrs. D. Black, Mrs. Mobley and Mrs. J. Carhart; finance committee, co-chairman, R. Grant, R. Jamnup and C. Morrison; pick-up committee chairman, M. Rudolph, assisted by, H. Henson, L. Cox, D. Black, A. Black, R. Hammond and J. Gamble.

Monroe Lake generously donated the use of his sound system and J. D. Kirkland made the many signs used for that evening.

Lake Helen School Children Guests At SNAS Tuesday

The Naval Air Station, Sanford, and Heavy Attack Squadron SEVEN (VAH-7) were hosts Tuesday at an open house for sixty children, parents and teachers of the Lake Helen Grammar School. The children were given a guided tour of station facilities for a close up look at Navy life.

Highlights of the visit included a helicopter demonstration, and tours of the station Fire House, Chapel and parachute loft. The visitors were also given an opportunity to inspect an AJ-2 Savage attack bomber of Heavy Attack Squadron SEVEN.

The Naval Air Station is under the command of Capt. R. W. Jackson, and Cdr. L. B. Lobbey is commanding officer of Heavy Attack Squadron SEVEN.

"Whether local folks are members of the Seminole Chiefs Club or not, we urge them to join us in this motorcade," Schirard said.

Football Fans Will Form Motorcade To Winter Park

John Schirard, president of the Seminole Chiefs Club, today called on local football fans who are planning to attend the Seminole High School Winter Park game tomorrow night to join with the Chiefs Club in a motorcade to the neighboring city.

Schirard said that the motorcade would form in front of Seminole High School at 8:29 tomorrow evening.

"Whether local folks are members of the Seminole Chiefs Club or not, we urge them to join us in this motorcade," Schirard said.

Band To March In Homecoming Parade At Stetson

Six Central Florida high school bands, including the Seminole High School band, all conducted by Stetson alumni, will join the Stetson Hatter Marching Band for the Homecoming parade and football Saturday, Nov. 3, according to Richard M. Fessel, Stetson's band director.

The bands and their conductors are DeLand High, John J. Henry; Crescent City High, Janet Sauls; Williston High, William Starke; Lakeside High at Winter Garden, Horace Hawn; Seminole High at Sanford, Ernie Cowley; and Seabreeze High of Daytona Beach, Fred Dean.

The bands will march in the parade scheduled for 9:30 a. m. Saturday and will take part in massed band formations at the halftime ceremonies in Municipal Stadium.

The Stetson Band, with John Fulton, Stewart, as drum major, and Earl Williams, Ormond Beach, as band captain, will present the corps of majorettes in baton twirling routines in a pre-game program. June Barry of Ft. Pierce is chief majorette.

REPRESENTATIVE SAYS AMENDMENT 'WHOLLY UNACCEPTABLE' — Rep. Tallahassee (AP) — Rep. Nominate Richard O. Mitchell of Leon County says he now finds the 67-senator amendment "wholly unacceptable."

Mitchell said that after doing further study on the proposal to be voted upon Nov. 6 he had changed his thinking about it. Earlier he had said he would favor the 67-senator proposal as a last resort in the event no other satisfactory apportionment is reached.

Mitchell said the position of medium-sized counties such as Leon could be weakened should the amendment be adopted.

OHS Principal, W. H. DeShazo From Tennessee

By MARIAN JONES
OVIEDO—Meet our new principal—W. H. DeShazo. Mr. DeShazo comes to us from Humboldt, Tenn., where he says he was a native for 20 years.

He received his college education at Memphis State College, Memphis, Tenn. He married the former Miss Nell Foote, who hails from Mississippi, but attended college at Jackson, Tenn.

He also tells us an interesting fact—Mrs. DeShazo is a former All-American basketball star—no kidding!

DeShazo was principal of Humboldt Senior High for five years prior to coming to Oviedo.

They have two children, Ann, a student in the tenth grade, and Jimmy, a sixth grade student.

He says they like their new home very much. We welcome them to our small, but thriving community and hope that their stay will be a pleasant one.

DeShazo succeeds F. S. Gatchel, now supervising principal of Seminole County.

"Give 'em XXXX Harry!" This was not the Democratic party's slogan, but President Truman's whistle-stop audiences kept it alive throughout the 1948 Presidential Campaign.

Plane Forced Down

A TU-2 Trainer plane, attached to HATTU, at the Sanford Naval Air Station, made a forced landing about 1 1/2 miles from Enterprise about noon today.

The forced landing followed a flame-out and the pilot, Lt. Harry J. Griffin, elected to land when he determined he had insufficient altitude to enable him to effect a safe landing at the Naval Air Station.

Lt. Johnson escaped from the plane uninjured.

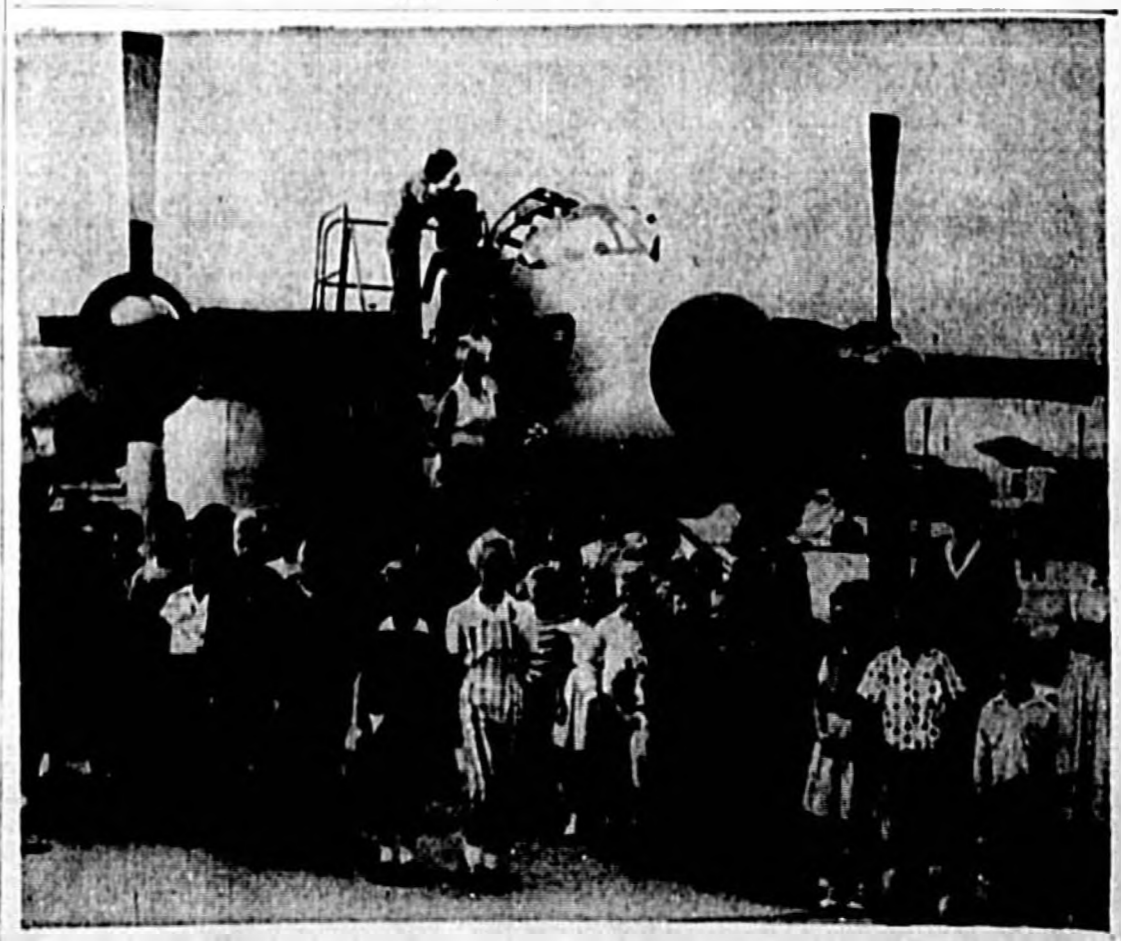

Information on the forced landing of the plane was released shortly after noon today by the Public Information Office of HAT Wing 1, to which the training unit is attached.

Radio-TV Highlights

NEW YORK—The superb production accorded "The Letter" on Producers' Showcase NBC-TV the other evening demonstrated what live television can do with a play that has run its course on Broadway and on film.

After 30 years "The Letter" came on the home screen as fresh and vital entertainment thanks to superior writing, acting, direction and production.

Romerset Maugham, one of the finest writers of our time has at times indulged in boiling the pot with his tongue far over in his cheek. But in "The Letter" he was not making soap. True, it has a facile plot:

The wife of an English Malaya planter murders her lover from jealousy of his Oriental mistress. The Oriental comes into possession of a letter she wrote the murdered man which would convict her.

With the reluctant connivance of her lawyer she buys the letter from the woman, who cares less about the money than the abatement of the English woman. She is free—but she not free. Her husband, learning of her unfaithfulness, is nevertheless willing for the reconciliation she believed she desired with him. But at the final moment she realizes she loves the man she murdered.

"The Letter" is, above this, a study of human duplicity and of the inherent conflict between East and West. In its Producers' Showcase presentation these basic themes came through clearly and convincingly.

The essential nature of the woman is captured by Siobhan McKenna, a magnificent actress who chose to play the role bravely—which seemed wise in a 30-minute television production. When Maugham created the character of the woman he was not concerned with absolute evil, but with the utter confusion of human passions. There was no mistaking this in Miss McKenna's interpretation.

Michael Rennie, as the lawyer, superbly set off Miss McKenna's intensity.

Spotlight On Hollywood
HOLLYWOOD—Ordinarily, I would rather interview a horse than a child actor.

This may get me picketed by the Screen Children's Guild, but I must confess it's true. In unpleasing years of interviewing, I have had reasonable success with adults. I've had fair results with animals, robots and assorted monsters. Child actors throw me.

Their conversational range is limited. While they may be good company at marbles or hopscotch, they aren't much help to a reporter in search of copy. You get more yeps and nopes out of them than you do from Gary Cooper.

I am happy to report that Michel, a young boy, has approached me with the same mix-up. I have had with other film suspects. But I found he could converse as well as Clifton Webb. And in five languages!

Michel is now being hailed as the brightest young find in years because of his role as the Mexican boy in "The Brave One."

That part won him startling status as a half-breed lad in "The Tin Star" with Henry Fonda, Betty Palmer and Anthony Perkins.

He could not only talk, but spoke with a slight British accent. He was born near London, the only son of a leather merchant, Henry Popper, and his wife.

"I'm taking lessons so I'll be able to talk Western in the picture," Michel explained. "It's not too difficult. I speak English, French and German fluently. I speak Spanish rather well, but with some grammatical errors, and my Italian is fairly good."

All this from a lad of 10! His mother, a lovely brunette who once studied dramatics at the Reinhardt School in Vienna, explained that her husband travels a great deal in Europe and America. Michel picks up the language wherever he goes.

Michel is an athletic lad with a handsome face and a large shock of brown hair that has once again been dyed black for his film role. He's now ambitious to be an actor when he grows up. But if that doesn't work out, he'd like to run a restaurant. Yep, he cooks, too.

IRONATED HELMET
CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. — A Marine Medal of Honor winner has sent his steel helmet to be put on the life-size bust of another Marine, awarded the same medal.

Capt. Henry A. Comiskey sent the helmet to I. Reider of P.O. Elizabeth, South Africa, in response to a request. Reider explained he made the life-size bust of 1st Lt. Frank M. Mitchell. Mitchell was awarded the medal posthumously for heroic action that cost him his life in Korea. The two Marines had never met.

BIRTHDAYS OF THE PRESIDENTS

By Robert C. Platt, President, Encyclopaedia Britannica
Many men of unusual wisdom and ability have occupied the White House during the life of the United States. Few, however, have held their followers with the personal devotion given Theodore Roosevelt, 26th president of the United States.

Roosevelt was born October 27, 1858 in New York City. His early childhood was a happy one. His family was of old New York Dutch stock, sufficiently wealthy that he never had to worry about earning a living.

By the time he was eighteen, Roosevelt was advanced enough in his studies to enter Harvard University, graduating in 1880.

In 1887 President William McKinley appointed the now well-known "Teddy" assistant secretary of the navy. The Spanish-American War came in 1898 and Roosevelt resigned his position at once to organize a regiment of volunteers. These were the famous Rough Riders.

During his two terms as president, he was re-elected in 1904. Roosevelt continued his struggle against trusts and big business interference in politics.

In 1912 Roosevelt was nominated the presidential candidate of the Progressive and was defeated by the Democratic can-

Official Optimistic About Cancer Cure

WASHINGTON — Melford D. Runyon, executive vice president of the American Cancer Society, said yesterday so much "hopeful" research is going on "that for the first time we dare hope with confidence that cancer will be conquered—and in our lifetime."

Runyon said 10 years ago one out of four cancer patients was saved, the ratio is now one out of three patients and "the doctors tell us we could do better — that half the people who get cancer can be saved."

"The American Cancer Society," he said, "is preparing to meet this challenge by expanding its research and education and service programs."

Runyon said women especially benefited from stepped-up efforts in cancer control, with their cancer death rate dropping 12.6 per cent in the past decade.

"Now that the annual checkup is becoming a family habit we can hope for a corresponding decrease in male cancer death rates soon," he said.

TB Assn. Seeking Items For Regional Patients' Service

Mrs. Lorraine Graham, Mrs. W. W. Tyre, Mrs. B. F. McWhorter, and Mrs. Irving I. Pryor attended a meeting yesterday at the Central Florida Tuberculosis Hospital in Orlando to help in the formation of the Central Florida Tuberculosis Hospital Regional Patients' Service Committee. This meeting was open to the 19 counties served by this particular hospital.

Officers were elected to fill posts of chairman and secretary until the end of the committee's fiscal year, March 31, 1957.

After lunch Dr. Benjamin L. Brock, medical director of the hospital, gave a short talk and introduced J. B. Hubner, who is in charge of Special Services at the hospital. He told of the needs of the patients and asked that each Association collect pocket edition books—patients prefer mystery and western—records (preferably "hill-billy" or popular), jigsaw puzzles, games of monopoly, scrabble, clean-up decks of cards, and Chinese checker games and bring them to the hospital, as these things afford the patients many hours of sunshine. He also requested table model radios, saying that they needed about 30 at this time. He reported that they are in great need of a 17 or 21 inch TV for one of the porches which has recently been activated. They also need about ten chairs and two settees for this porch and have been offered a 21 per cent discount on a type which would tie in with furniture throughout the hospital; so they really prefer cash donations to meet this need.

Miss Gary Simms, social director, was introduced and reported that for the clothes closet they could use women's pajamas sizes 36 and up, B size men's pajamas, men's pants, coats, and sweaters, as many patients do not have these items and could use them. Clean, used garments, in good repair are acceptable.

Miss Williams, Occupational Therapy worker, asked if any club or individual in any town could give talks and displays on hobbies to contact their local association and make arrangements to come before the patients. Recently an Orlando group showed ceramics and demonstrated how they were made and the patients thoroughly enjoyed the program. She also reported that some of the patients had made fine leather wallets and handbags and were looking for sales outlets of these items.

"If anyone in Seminole County can donate a radio, books, games, records, clothing, etc. please call Mrs. Graham at the local TB office, phone 794," said Mrs. Pryor.

The meeting was conducted by

3-County

(Continued From Page 1) streams and lakes of the area. Senator Douglas Stenstrom served as moderator during the discussion in which he brought out various county representatives from the important issues and plans by which hyacinth eradication and control could be attacked.

A committee, consisting of three county commissioners, one from each of the three counties represented at the meeting, was appointed. John H. Talton of Orange County, O. M. "Jack" Simpson of Lake County, and Fred Dyson of Seminole County were named to tackle the hyacinth control program on a local basis with each county sharing the cost and to ask the State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission to furnish the equipment and labor.

The committee will meet at an early date to take the necessary steps to get the program underway.

Fred Balsom of the Corps of Engineers, stated: "The estimated cost would be approximately $1200 for the Wekiva River alone, an amount arrived at on the basis of $20 a mile for 24 miles."

Orange County offered to put up $1000 toward the cost.

Others attending the get-together from Seminole County, other than Senator Stenstrom, Robert Williams, Charles Bloom, and Fred Dyson were: Commissioner John Meisch, Representatives Mack N. Cleveland Jr., and Gordon Fredrick, Sheriff Luther Hobby and City Commissioner John Krider.

What is the 4-H Club and what does it do? It is probably the latest rural youth organization in the world composed of boys and girls between the ages of ten and twenty-one who are actively engaged in agriculture, home making or community activities through projects that they carry on and work with themselves. These boys and girls form a club, either in the community or in the school through the cooperation of the school officials, elect their own officers and carry on their own program and activities. This helps in developing leadership, community pride and spirit. It builds young men and women to know how to conduct meetings and organize community projects.

4-H Club work emphasizes the home, as that is the place where the project is usually carried out and brings parents and children closer together with a common interest. It fosters individual ownership and a love of nature.

Let's not "sell short" this business of working closer with our youth of today. If you want 4-H in your community, get behind it and support it. You'll never be sorry.

Agriculture News

By CECIL A. TUCKER II
Seminole County Agricultural Agent

Many people have been asking lately about the 4-H Club program for the boys in Seminole County. In all probability a column a month will be devoted to that subject and its progress. We have started some 4-H work for the boys in the county, but we must remember that in a county such as ours where we have one agent working with both the adults and the youth that we must of necessity limit the scope of the youth work. Yet some of the clubs in the county are coming along fine at the present time, because they have local adult leaders that are helping to develop the club program in that community. Our hats are off to the people who can still see it to take three or four hours a month and devote it to working with our young people and helping them to develop their minds along the right way of living as a good citizen while they are young and their minds are still plastic. This is important, because after all, these same young people will be the leaders and maybe the farmers of tomorrow. Our future rests in their hands.

What is the 4-H Club and what does it do? It is probably the latest rural youth organization in the world composed of boys and girls between the ages of ten and twenty-one who are actively engaged in agriculture, home making or community activities through projects that they carry on and work with themselves. These boys and girls form a club, either in the community or in the school through the cooperation of the school officials, elect their own officers and carry on their own program and activities. This helps in developing leadership, community pride and spirit. It builds young men and women to know how to conduct meetings and organize community projects.

4-H Club work emphasizes the home, as that is the place where the project is usually carried out and brings parents and children closer together with a common interest. It fosters individual ownership and a love of nature.

Let's not "sell short" this business of working closer with our youth of today. If you want 4-H in your community, get behind it and support it. You'll never be sorry.

To date there are six clubs organized in the county. They are at Geneva, Lake Monroe, Ovielo, Pinecrest, Sanford Junior High (8th and 7th grades) and Slavia. Those clubs which have elected their officers will meet Saturday, Oct. 27, at 9:30 a. m. at the Court House for the purpose of organizing the Boys' 4-H Club County Council. This will be a county-wide organization composed of the offices of the various clubs. The purpose of this first meeting is to get it organized; however, the purpose of the Council is one of planning and assisting in the county with the 4-H program. The boys will meet at the County Agent's office.

Contract

(Continued From Page 1) Board of Health for we're going to have some repair and extension as long as the study is being made."

Berkowitz revealed that a signed contract would show good faith. However he remarked "If you have plans that is one fact I do not have." Sparking new life into the sewage treatment plant issue was Berkowitz's announcement that Public Law 660 is available. "In Florida there is $900,000 set aside for such construction work of which has been used. It is possible, said Berkowitz that Sanford could get up to 20 per cent of the cost of a treatment plant as a grant—not a loan.

Delving into the issue which was catapulted into prominence Monday night, Commissioner Higginbotham said "I'd rather see this thing on a cooperative basis rather than saying you can't do this or you can't do that."

He said "I'll defend this commission in having the courage and faith to tackle this problem or any other with which we are faced."

Each member of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners expressed last night, at the adjourned meeting "The necessity for prompt action on the sewage treatment plant problem." However "we must have the facts as far as our financial condition is concerned."

Commissioner Wilson stated, following the meeting "It is my desire to have the sewage treatment plant constructed or under construction by the deadline set in the resolution, March 1957."

Goblins Will Be In Lake Monroe For Big Carnival

BY GRACE THURSTON

The goblins will be in Lake Monroe Monday evening for the school's annual carnival.

Ghosts and goblins and all masqueraders will gather at the school from 6 p. m. to a o'clock. There will be plenty of parties, such as pie, cake, soft drinks, hot dogs and hamburgers, coffee, candy, and apples.

For the gala affair there will be horse riding, the spook house, fish pond, dart game, ping pong, country store and cane toss, cake walk, and a gay booth selling articles that come as "pairs."

Everyone is invited to come out for a lot of fun with the spooks and goblins Monday night at 6 p. m. at the Lake Monroe School.

SCHOLARSHIPS GO HIGH

OKLAHOMA CITY — Abe Simons, basketball star at Oklahoma City University, was short on a tall player.

So he placed the following among the want ads:

"Available, one basketball athlete scholarship to a boy with good scoring average, 6 feet 3 or over."

OHS News

BY MARIAN R. JONES

OVIEDO—Ovielo High School News is coming in gradually now. I have just learned that the following young ladies have been named majorettes for the Ovielo High School Band. They are: Linda Miller, Margaret Fortson, Josephine Miller, Priscilla Tuby, Lynette King and Janet George. Congratulations, young ladies!

The selection of the cheer leaders is still in the office. Mrs. James Morris Staley has been busily engaged in training them for their duties as such. We understand that the selection will be forthcoming Friday. Keep your fingers crossed!

If you heard a great deal of weeping and wailing this past week, it may have been over the issue of the first report cards.

We have enlisted the aid of our principal, W. H. Jones, to help Coach McFadden in his efforts to get the new staff of the school annual. We promise it to you soon if we have to journey to Paul's room to get same.

We hear that they have formed a 4-H Club at the school. We will have to look into that matter, too, and get the full particulars.

Voters--Let's Keep Politics Out Of Our Educational System

From the study of Amendment No. 8 on which voters will express their approval or disapproval in the Nov. 6 General Election, there seems to be some expression of discontent in the fact that an important position in our county school systems is filled by the voice of the voters.

In four counties there is an apparent dissatisfaction, either with the method which the Superintendent of Public Instruction receives his appointment—or with the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

To avoid political appointments, the citizens of each county are given an opportunity to be heard in naming their Superintendent of Public Instruction in a regular election.

To place the responsibility of naming a Superintendent of Public Instruction into the hands of three men on a five-man board would mean a political appointment rather than one on a basis of qualifications—under which a prospective candidate is permitted to place his name and own qualifications before the voting citizens of our county.

Politics—even now—play too big a part in many of our responsible positions of trust. Keeping politics out of our school system is in the hands of the citizens and not in the hands of a few—possibly pressured—board members.

Qualified men in educational positions, where appointive, have been released, fired, or just plain "kicked out" before even being given a fair chance to put their programs into effect—all of which can become a very expensive proposition for a school system to cope with.

Minor problems—now controlled by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, a five-man school board, and a three-man Board of School District Trustees, cooperatively, as done in our county—can easily become nasty political issues.

Certainly we don't want the education of our children to become a political plum of perennial four-year job hunters.

That's why we are not in favor of Amendment No. 8, on which the voter, on Nov. 6, is asked to either approve or disapprove. Education is big business these days, and we cannot afford to have educational leaders who devote their lives and complete efforts toward meeting the ever-increasing standards in all of our schools, to be kicked about at the whim and wish of politicians. You would not want the education of our children placed on that basis—so it stands to reason that the leaders who guide your children's education destiny should not be put on that level.

Porpoise Talk

Fifty years from now, according to one scientist's prediction, man will be able to talk to porpoises. The natural presumption is that porpoises will be able to talk back, thus opening an entirely new area of conversation.

Most of us won't be around when the happy situation is effected, so we'll never know just how much of a contribution porpoise talk will make to world progress. In the meantime, we'll all have to do our best to make talking with fellow human beings interesting and worthwhile. Sometimes that's more difficult than conversing with porpoises could possibly be.

Hours Too Few

A newspaper columnist reports that to him the most trying period of the day comes with his awakening, when he must drag himself from bed to face the day's tasks and problems. He instinctively resents sudden emergence from peace and repose to a call for effort and action.

The night brings him respite from mental stress and worry. Getting his mind and body adjusted to the demands of another day's duties is difficult. Often he doesn't get to functioning at full spirit and efficiency for two or three hours.

On the other hand, George Bernard Shaw is said to have abhorred night and its dark blanket of silence and inactivity. The hours of daylight were best suited to the character and richly productive mind of the greatest playwright of our time.

With all men of creative talents and ambition, such as the columnist and the renowned Shaw, time is something to be used to the best possible advantage. One may prefer to work at night; another loves the early hours of daylight. But all have one thing in common.

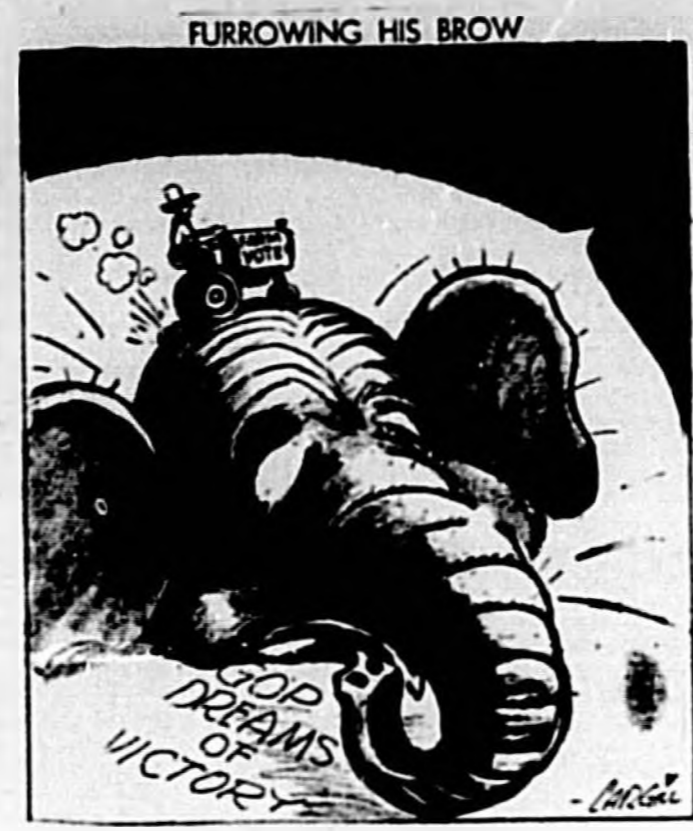

They find that, for men striving constantly to achieve, the hours are too few, whether it be night or day.

Tooth Banks

We have soil banks, blood banks, and serum banks. Why not tooth banks? One of our modern universities is working on this problem. If the attempt is successful, it may be possible to do away in some cases with artificial bridges for lost teeth.

Teeth have been transplanted in human beings, the researchers say. It has been done in young adults, but so far only in special cases. More investigation and experiment needs to be done, but the prospects of success seem to be good. Tooth banks promise to be a major step forward in man's long effort to counteract the ravages of time and physical decay.

Why is it that the man who knows least about a subject always seems to have the loudest argument?

P. Keenan Going To North Pole

NEW YORK (AP)—Peggy Keenan, a lady pianist who became a gold miner, now has decided to become the first woman to reach the North Pole.

"And I will," she said positively. She is the only woman on a scientific expedition of 16 men and 40 odd dogs scheduled to fly to the North Pole next January. The expedition will be headed by her explorer husband, John F. Stanswell-Fletcher, a veteran arctic explorer and U. S. Air Force reserve officer.

Miss Keenan, who is red-haired and has eyes she describes herself as "Auricle colored," expects to spend some time in the vicinity of the North Pole. She doesn't feel her sex is any liability, thinks more arctic exploring should be encouraged.

"A woman actually can stand cold weather better than a man," she said. "I found that out on two previous trips to the arctic, when the weather went to 85 below zero." It was on a trip to Alaska as a USO entertainer that she met her husband.

Miss Keenan is an adventure-loving woman with both business as well as artistic talent who has never been satisfied with doing just one thing at a time.

While pursuing an active career as a professional pianist she also built up a bankroll operating a flooring concern.

Nine years ago during a dinner party in Los Angeles one of the guests spoke at length of the still untapped mineral wealth in the Black Hills of South Dakota. She was so interested that one of the other guests suggested jokingly, "Why don't you become a gold miner yourself, Peggy?"

Miss Keenan didn't think it was a joke at all. The idea appealed to her at once. "I'd been a rock bound myself since I tramped the high Sierras as a girl with my father, who was interested in mining ventures," she recalled.

She hired a mining engineer

Conservationist Discuss Purchase Of Grove Chopper

By BEN WIGGINS

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the Seminole Soil Conservation District was held last night at Toddy's restaurant. The meeting was called to order by Chairman Bonner Carter and the minutes of the previous meeting were read by secretary Bill West.

Under the heading of New Business Supervisor Ralph Hammond brought up for discussion the needs for a grove chopper for use by small citrus growers in this District. There are a good many small grove owners who cannot afford to own a chopper and would therefore be greatly benefited if such a chopper was made available to them for a few days each year. A committee composed of W. W. Liza, Henry Wight, and Ben Wiggins was appointed to check on the type of chopper needed, price, weight, etc. and report on same at the next meeting in November. Also under the heading of new business supervisor Liza brought up for discussion the proposed new sewage treatment plant for Sanford. All supervisors agreed that a sewage treatment plant was essential for the continued growth of Sanford and for the health and well being of all citizens in this area. Mr. Liza made a motion that the District supervisors send a letter approving the proposed project to the City Commissioners. The motion was seconded by Supervisor Wales and unanimously approved.

Cecil Tucker, Agricultural Agent of Seminole County, expressed his willingness to cooperate and work with the District Supervisors in any way possible. Chairman Carter read a letter from Governor Collins to the group. This letter was in regard to public recreational areas available to local citizens. It appears that some State assistance may be obtained in developing such an area if the need warrants. After considerable discussion of the letter Supervisors agreed that if some of our present recreational areas, such as the Wekiva River, were cleared of snags, sandbars, and hyacinths they would provide better recreation and a greater number of people would participate. Supervisor Henry Wight was appointed to draw up a letter concerning the needs for such a project in order to provide local citizens with better recreational facilities.

Is Barring H-Bomb Tests Issue?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analysis
WASHINGTON (AP)—Several basic questions are involved in the campaign debate between Adlai Stevenson and President Eisenhower over whether this country should take some new step toward stopping H-bomb tests.

Stevenson has sought to make a campaign issue of it. Is it? Only a handful of government people and scientists know enough about this highly secret field to form an intelligent opinion on whether the test should end. The scientists disagree. The rest of the voters can only wonder who's right.

The argument between Stevenson and Eisenhower comes down to two related questions:
1. Stevenson says continued tests will do desperate damage to mankind from the radioactive fallout. Eisenhower says this is wrong. He quotes the National Academy of Sciences as saying mankind will not be damaged at the present rate of tests.

2. Stevenson says this country wouldn't lose any advantage to Russia by stopping the tests and then resuming them if it found out the Russians were continuing them. Eisenhower says this is wrong too.

Eisenhower refuses to halt the tests until there is not only an agreement with Russia to do the same but also foolproof safeguards—by inspection teams.

Stevenson has never said in unmistakable language exactly what he had in mind. At first he seemed to be saying this country should stop its tests without an agreement with Russia to do the same.

ed to say this country should stop its tests without waiting for agreement on inspection teams.

"The hard scientific fact," he said, "seems to be that we can safely stop hydrogen explosions without inspection because if Russia or anyone else should violate an agreement and explode a big bomb we would immediately detect it."

Would we "immediately" detect it? Eisenhower says tests of very large weapons probably could be detected but it is impossible to be sure except in the case of the very largest weapons.

Stevenson says in effect: The United States has an enormous supply of nuclear weapons. What is to be lost by stopping the tests if this country goes right on with research and preparation for resuming the tests if Russia should violate an agreement to stop her tests?

Eisenhower's reply: Even if this country continued its research—after suspending tests—it could suffer serious damage if then it found out the Russians had set off another test explosion of their own.

He said it requires a year or more to organize and carry out such tests as those made at U.S. proving grounds in the Pacific Ocean. He also has said that research without tests is a waste of time and money.

Eisenhower says this country right now has a "superiority" in nuclear weapons and could lose its lead by suspending tests without absolute certain the Russians weren't bent on developing their own weapons further.

On October 31 there will be a demonstration on learning to clean the sewing machine at the Council Center, 401 E. 25th street. Any one interested in learning to clean the machine can bring it to the Center by 9:00 a.m. Please bring newspapers, soft rags (men's undershirt), two pins, a small jar, small size croch hook, screwdriver that fits your machine, and a can of lubricating oil. You may bring sandwiches, or you may go home as it will take about an hour for the machine to set after the cleaning agent is put on the machine.

On The BOOKSHELF

By SARA KING

Book of the month for September will be a popular one I feel sure: "Nun's Story" by Kathryn Hulme. The story of a Belgian girl who, at the age of 21, turned away from her sister and family to enter a famous nursing order. This is the record of her dedicated life in Europe and in the Congo and of her struggle in self-renunciation. Sister Luke gave herself unsparingly to the little Congo mission hospital, but her pride of spirit was an obstacle to the perfect obedience required of her, and later, in a hospital in Holland under the Nazi occupation, her emotional involvement and active aid to the underground which took all of her courage to resolve.

"Wreck of the Mary Deare" by Hammond Innes is the Literary Guild selection for November. The Mary Deare was a 6000-ton freighter, torpedoed three times in two World Wars, wrecked twice before, finally presumed lost for good. Then one day the ship sailed into the Channel, battered and exhausted by a Biscay gale, and apparently unmanned. A dramatic and exciting man against the elements story with an intriguing mystery.

"Adventure of 'Horse' Barnaby" by Phil Stone (State Fair) is the story of a picturesque adolescent in the days of the Forty Niners. Horse was 13 when he was left an orphan in Iowa, the ward of a villainous uncle. He set out for California to join the gold rush. But Uncle wanted to get his hands on the fine farm that Horse had been left, so he set out for California, too—to do in his orphaned nephew. From here on the wildest sort of things happen.

Frank Yerby's new book "Captain Rebel" is a fast paced tale of the Civil War, spiced with sex, smeared with gore and full of murderers, arsonists, kidnappers, rapists and adulterers. Captain Rebel follows a steady course through the hazards of Yankee gunboats and Southern temptresses to find love where he least expected it.

"Call for Dr. Barton" by Elizabeth Seifert is about a doctor who put behind him his unhappy marriage and the grueling years of a city practice, feeling he had found a haven of peace in the twin towns called the Hollies. The girl he met on the beach seemed to fit perfectly into his future. But the hidden tensions of small town life provided difficulties he hadn't bargained for and almost couldn't cope with. The movie version of "Friendly Persuasion" by Jessamyn West is a series of 14 short stories in sequence about a Quaker family. It is an adventure in literature. ## F. N. Club Meets

On the program at the meeting of the Future Nurses Club of Seminole High School was Sue Patterson, supervisor of the third floor of the new hospital. The meeting was held Friday Oct. 19 during activity period.

Following the business period, Miss Patterson spoke to the girls about nursing and also advised them on some subjects that would help them in a medical career. The meeting was adjourned at the end of activity period.

right words to express her precise thought is simply uncanny. It is a beguiling story you'll never forget. It will make you laugh so hard you'll cry, and cry real tears. Some good mysteries for the fans are ready for circulation: Christopher Bush, "Case of the Amateur Actor"; Agatha Christie, "Dead Man's Folly"; Patricia Wentworth, "Fingerprint" (a Miss Silver mystery); Earle Stanley Gardner, "Case of the Gilded Lily"; George Bagby, "Cop Killer"; "Man Who Didn't Fly" by Margot Bennett is a suspense murder story. For a sinister international hoax story read "Dark Window" by Thomas Walsh. "Don't Go Near the Water" is still tops on the best seller list and on the readers' choice of current books. It's still going strong here too. Did you know that in a recent study made by a scientific association it was pointed out that only 17 per cent of all adults were reading a book when interviewed? In 1937 the figure was 29 per cent. With such good books on the market now, how can you resist?

'Elvis Presley' Guest Singer At Oviedo Party

OVIDO—The Memorial Building was again the scene of much merriment and festivity Saturday evening when the Reception committee of the Oviedo High School P.T.A. sponsored another party on behalf of the students.

Receiving the students and their guests at the door were Carol Alfred, Tommy Estes, Kenneth Sparks and Carol Parker, student representatives, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John Courier and Mr. and Mrs. James Pearson, parent representatives.

Dancing was enjoyed by the group as well as a talent show program. Coach Paul Mikler, acting as master of ceremonies, introduced that famous trio, "The Sneering Steer Sisters," who sang "I'm An Old Cowhand." This talented trio was composed of Mrs. James Merritt Staley, seventh grade teacher; Mrs. Paul Mikler, and Mrs. James Partin, president of the P.T.A.

Then Mrs. George Means, dressed as the idol of the rock and roll set, with guitar, sideburns and hound dog, pantomimed "Don't Be Cruel."

The sixty students and guests was served light refreshments following this gay evening.

Anna Miller Circle Schedules Visit To Umatilla Home

The decision to visit the Harry Anna Crippled Children's Home in Umatilla was made at the Anna Miller Circle meeting Tuesday evening at the Elks Club. Mrs. Ed Cox presided over the social gathering and brought out that this is a very interesting trip and should be made by as many members as possible. Saturday, Nov. 10, has been selected as the date for the visit and all ladies of the circle who wish to attend are asked to be at the Elks Club at 1 p.m. on that date.

After the various officers and committee chairmen gave their reports the group enjoyed delicious refreshments served by the hostesses, Mrs. Fred Roettger, Mrs. James Thompson, and Mrs. James Via.

Present for the session were Mrs. Clarence Collins, Mrs. J. H. Phillips, Mrs. Eddie Stout, Mrs. Irving Feinberg, Mrs. L. N. Lyons, Mrs. Fred Roettger, Mrs. James Via, Mrs. J. R. ## Garden Gate

BY DOUGLAS A. CLINE

The Sanford Garden Club of Florida Federation of Garden Clubs.

It is the time to plan for the protection of shrubs, ornamentals, and the young annuals that should be planted this month for winter blooms. "Ghost Gardens" are a familiar sight in Central Florida when the nights are cold. Old sheets and bed-spreads have saved many of the cold-sensitive plants and shrubs. Well-watered plants are better able to withstand frost and the ground should be soaked, not sprinkled. A plentiful mulch is available in Spanish moss, which can be left on annually for two or three days while the cold spell lasts.

In November it is safe to use an oil emulsion for scale on camellias and other woody plants. Citrus trees may be treated with a wettable sulphur spray to control red spider and mites.

Some gardeners like to plant winter grasses to assure green lawns during the winter months. Italian rye is most commonly used, although Kentucky blue and red top are also recommended by the University of Florida Agricultural Experimental Station. Fertilizer should be applied before the seeds are planted, and the lawn should be kept moist. It is necessary to mow the rye when it is about two inches in height with a sharp mower which will not tear the roots. Lawns planted with winter grasses will require more watering and more mowing.

Junior High Program Will Keep Seminole Eleven In Competition

By B. HUGH ANSLEY

As regards the current question now dominant on the lips of Sanford Seminole fans: "Will Junior High football make the Seminoles a winning club?", the answer is a resounding "Not necessarily".

The matter is much more serious than that. If the Sanford Seminoles was the only squad with a junior high program in the Orange Belt Conference, it would make a winning club; but the dire necessity of a junior high program in Sanford is the only thing that will keep the Seminoles in competition with their conference rivals. The Seminoles are now outclassed for only one reason, the teams that they play are boasting twice as much experience. In other words, only a junior high program will keep Seminoles High from being outgrown by current competition.

But junior high football has very rewarding results.

Perhaps the most outstanding example of what a junior high program can do for a team can be demonstrated by the record of Hugh Carlton, now principal of Junior High, and the man on whose shoulders the new program will rest.

In 1950 Carlton began his coaching-teaching career at Lyman High School in Longwood. At that time Lyman was a member of the Central Florida Conference, and junior high programs were just coming into vogue.

Carlton instigated a junior high program, and even though it was not carried through in the 9th and 10th grades, the results were remarkable.

The primary result was experienced players in the lower high school grades. In 1951 Lyman placed the first member of the football on the All-Conference team for more than a decade. One of the boys that Carlton started out in the seventh grade made Honorable Mention All-Conference in the ninth grade and All-Conference in the 10th. From that time on, a solid stream of boys have made the All-Conference roster from Lyman. And the outstanding thing is that many of the boys, and the last group comprise this year's seniors, make the grade before their Senior year.

But the story doesn't end there. From Lyman Carlton went to Cross City, where a junior high program had already been pioneered. The first year there Carlton mentored his charges to the conference crown and placed seven men on the All-Conference team. The next year his team again captured the conference championship, and this time eight men made the All-Conference team.

All this indicates that, even though there is no assurance of a winning club, all the wonderful potential in and around Sanford will be realized by the Junior and Senior years of the participating boys.

DeLand Topples SHS JVs 18-13

The vastly improved DeLand Bulldogs JVs, with considerable help from referee George Partz, toppled the Sanford Seminole JVs 18-13 in the Shrine Benefit game last night in DeLand.

The Seminole JVs jumped to an early lead in the first minutes of the game as Cecil Dandridge rolled out and elected right end for 20 yards and the score. His attempt to dropkick the extra point was blocked.

The Bulldogs jumped back in the game by turning the return kickoff into a scoring drive. The drive was culminated by a 40 yard run on a double reverse by DeLand's Benny Moon. The attempt to run the extra point was repelled by a solid Sanford wall.

The second quarter was a seesaw defensive battle, with Sanford penetrating to the 20 yard line on two occasions. But on each penetration excessive penalty calling took the fire out of the Seminole drive.

Early in the third stanza the Bulldogs were unable to capitalize on a Sanford fumble at the Seminoles' 16 yard line, and the Seminole line held solid for four downs and took over possession of the ball at the same spot.

A fourth quarter Sanford punt was partially deflected, and was returned by DeLand to the Sanford 25 yard line to set up the second Bullpup TD. A series of penalties against the Seminole JVs moved the ball down to the Seminole two-yard line, where Jimmy Thomson, on a quarterback keep, plunged through the middle of the line for the score. Again the attempted plunge for the conversion was smothered.

"With six minutes remaining in the game the junior warriors went on the move again. They covered 63 yards in 11 plays to score. Halfback Al Collins, sparking the Seminole drive, made the tally from three-yards out, and then ran the same play with Collins carrying again for the extra point.

The large Seminole crowd was jubilant as the JVs stepped into the lead 13-12, but on the first play after the return kickoff, Preston Sloan passed to Mike Miller, and Miller gathered in the pass and raced 59 yards for a touchdown to push the Bulldogs out in front with only seconds remaining in the game.

The refereeing, the poorest ever witnessed by this writer, was unmercifully severe on the Seminoles.

WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNAMENT LUNCHEON YESTERDAY

Yesterday's luncheon of the Women's Golf Association, at the Mayfair Country Club, had an unprecedented attendance of 47. Three new members, Mildred Smith, Dottie Mann, and Gerry Carfagno, made their initial showing with the group.

Weekly tournament prizes this week were presented at the luncheon. Gene Partz was awarded the Class A prize; Lucille Heard, Class B; Ann Maesh, Class C; and D. D. Russell, Class D.

Ellenor Village Golf Course has invited the Sanford Women's Assn. to participate in a tournament and cocktail party on Oct. 30. The enthusiastic reception of the announcement indicates a preference for the local club and said event.

HUBBELL LIKES LOCAL CURSE

Carl Hubbell, before returning to New York yesterday, tried out the Orlando Country Club course with Mario, Frank Mebane Jr. and Frank Mebane Sr. Tuesday, and enjoyed the outing. Mario came in with 72, Frank Mebane Jr. 73 and Carl tied with Frank Sr. with 74. Hubbell reports he still will re-presented himself for the he would be back in town again in about a month.

MEBANE VS. CARFAGNO IN A CLOSE ONE

It seems Frank Mebane Jr. is whittling down the distance between his play and that of Mario. Frank has been pushing Mario for the last week, and after running even-steven for 17 holes, Mario finally came in one stroke below Frank yesterday. After the slim win Mario said, "As long as I've been playing golf, I've never seen anyone hit a drive off the fairway as straight as Frank. He's plain murder with those woods."

BEGINNING CLASS EXPANDING

Mario Crafagno's new beginning golf class is expanding. The class will meet Monday morning at 10, and the new faces expected are Kitty Walker, Mary Libbey, Terry Price, and Betty Guy. Mario called attention to his furnishing all the necessary equipment, and said there were plenty more clubs and balls for any new members.

Hialeah's Flamingo Stakes for 3-year-olds has had 27 runnings. The favorite has won 17 times.

CHAPTER 23

AFTERWARDS Val felt she must have been mad to have made a deliberate exhibition of herself; she tried to put it down to the champagne; but she knew it had nothing to do with the champagne.

Her action had been instinctive, prompted not from her mind but from her heart. She had run so fast she had bumped hard against Dr. Bruce Hartman's chest.

"Will you dance with me, Bruce?" she said quickly. Then for some reason, she laughed.

"I shall be delighted. It was kind of you to single me out—and so obviously," he added cruelly.

Bruce looked down at her and said quickly, "Let's get out of the door, for heaven's sake."

Presently they stood in the prow of the ship where they had stood and talked that first morning. He took a handkerchief out of his pocket and handed it to her without speaking. She wiped her cheeks and blew her nose hard.

"I'm sorry," she whispered. "Did I make a fool of myself and of you?"

"I don't suppose anyone noticed. At least, that you were crying. But why? I don't understand, Val," he said in a low voice.

Her young body slumped against the railing. She said wretchedly, "I suppose I wanted to know why you'd been avoiding me all evening."

"Why should you have to know? And surely it was obvious?" he said quietly. "You must have done it deliberately to make me feel," he drew a short breath and added, "I'm sorry, miserable!"

"But what have I done deliberately?" she stammered.

"Dressing yourself up in Hanson's suit. How do you think I felt when you came into the dining room—with him—tonight?"

"Why should you mind so much?" she said quietly.

He paused. "It was a declaration, wasn't it? Your declaration as to whose side you were on."

"It's funny," she said slowly. "But it's frightening too."

"What's funny and what's frightening?" he asked angrily.

"It's funny you should believe I dressed like this deliberately to annoy you, and it's frightening that you—that any man should hate another as you seem to hate Dirk."

He was silent a moment.

"Wouldn't you hate anyone who took the man you loved from you?"

She too paused before she replied. "I might if I had loved him very much once—if I still loved him."

"You think I'm still in love with Eileen?" he asked.

"I think there are people who remain in love all their lives even though the person they loved has died," she returned quietly.

"But not if that person had broken a solemn oath to love them."

"But if that person hadn't broken that oath? If—you knew Eileen hadn't?"

"Then I'd have loved her all my life, and no one but her," he said simply.

She said after another pause, "But do you think it healthy to love someone who is dead as much as all that? Do you think they'd want it?"

"Maybe not," he said finally. "As a doctor I know it isn't healthy; it's liable to turn into a neurosis. That was one reason I came to sea."

"That first day you told me the sea breezes had blown all the bitterness out of your soul," she reminded him quietly.

"I thought they had. Maybe it was meeting Eileen again and seeing you two together. I've felt as though the whole affair had happened over again, only differently."

"Differently?" she queried.

"Well, yes... You are different. You're not a bit like Eileen and yet—"

"What were you going to say, Bruce?" she asked.

"I was going to say that although you're so different, I thought I'd fallen in love with you. I thought I might love you as" much—heaven help me—as I love her. But you, too, preferred him."

She put her hand on his arm. "Dirk is a friend, nothing more. Supposing I had told you last night that I would give up my friendship with him?"

"Don't you see what that would have meant to me, Val darling? He might have taken Eileen from me, but I would have taken you from him."

"Don't talk like that, please," she whispered. "It hurts, horribly."

"Because you don't want to give him up?"

"No." She shook her small red head. "I would promise anything if I knew it would help you. You see," she raised her eyes and looked up into his darkly brooding face. "I care for you very deeply. I suppose I'm in love with you."

"Oh, my darling." His voice broke this time, and now all the bitterness and anger had gone out of it.

A discreet cough sounded behind them. It was the cabin steward.

"Beg pardon, Nurse, but Mrs. Featherstone would like you to go down to her cabin."

"Of course, I'll go at once." Val spoke automatically and as though coming out of a dream, a dream of happiness, of fulfillment, of peace used love. But she felt guilty, as though despite her throbbing happiness she had in some way been untrue to herself.

She turned abruptly away. Bruce followed her. He caught hold of her arm.

"You'll let me know if there's anything seriously wrong with your patient?" His change of tone stung her.

"I think I know my duty, Doctor," she said coldly.

"Heaven, Val, I didn't mean like that," he said with genuine apology. "We can't leave matters as they are. If your patient doesn't need you for anything important, couldn't you come up here again? I'll wait... I'll wait right here." She hesitated for the moment. "I'll try to come back."

18 Out For Uoff Basketball Team

By JOHNNY JONES

Editor's note: Johnny Jones is the outstanding basketball pride of Seminole County. He hails from Oviedo.

The University of Florida basketball team finished their sixth practice of the year yesterday and assistant coach Jim McEachern reported that there were eighteen boys out for the team. Centers—Bob Emrick 6.5, Chuck Drenfield 6.7, Jim Zinn 6.8, Jurt Touchberry 6.4, Wayne Williams 6.3, and Larry Gangl 6.4. Forwards—Dick Hoban 6.3, Jerry Henderson 6.3, Dick Roberts 6.4, and Bill Graham 6.2. Guards—Joe Hobbs 6.1, Ron Stokley 6.2, Don Boone 6.0, Johnny Jones 6.1, Charlie Smith 5.10, Nevel Fox 6.1, Bobby Fields 5.11, and Tim Chasey 6.1.

So far the Gator cagers have held their practices from four until five-thirty five in the afternoon, but after Nov. 1st they will practice from seven until nine. Afternoon practice will resume after regular season games start.

The Gators have had no scrimmage as yet. Their practice sessions have been held to sprinting and ball handling drills.

The team should be very strong this year with seven returning lettermen, two Junior College transfers, and five Freshmen coming up from last year's Freshman team. No one graduated off last year's young team and Head Coach John Mauer hopes to improve last years record 11-12 by using the double pivot offense.

Chiefs Club Plans Membership Drive

George Morgan, newly elected vice-president of the Seminole Chiefs Club, announced this morning that an intensive membership drive would be forthcoming within the next ten days.

According to Morgan, the drive will use the Florida State Bank's telephone service. Morgan said that it was hoped that every resident of Sanford with a telephone would be contacted.

EVERY TOUCHDOWN MEANS A DANCE

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Jim Epperson, a Choctaw Indian student at the University of Oklahoma, does a victory dance in full tribal regalia after each Sooner touchdown.

It's a tough job and Epperson insists that he has to train for it. "With the national champions rolling, I get to dance a lot," he sighed after Oklahoma made 10 touchdowns against Kansas State.

Pimlico, opened on Oct. 27, 1870 is America's second oldest active horse racing track.

front with only seconds remaining in the game.

The refereeing, the poorest ever witnessed by this writer, was unmercifully severe on the Seminoles.

NAME MIX-UP

SALEM, Va. (AP)—A Roanoke College Professor was somewhat stunned when he noted the name on his birth certificate was William Huper Harbaugh Hooker. For 35 years, he'd been using the name of Zebulon Vance Hooker II.

A Roanoke County Circuit Court order set the record straight making the name Hooker had used through the years his official name.

Hooker attributed the mixup to the fact his father, Zebulon Vance Hooker, died shortly after his birth. Since then, he's gone under the name Zebulon Vance. He didn't discover the error until he received the certificate from the Bureau of Vital Statistics in Richmond.

Hooker's travels CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A local man arrested on a drunk charge, told Judge James McWhorter, "Give me a break, Judge, and I'll walk out of town." The man was brought before the same judge on the same charge five days later. With downcast eyes, he said: "I walked out of town."

FSU Homecoming
Homecoming at FSU was big news this past weekend. Students and alumni participated in the celebration "Big Time FSU" which marked the tenth anniversary of the school as a co-educational institution.

The festivities were touched off with an hour long parade of floats and bands down the main street of the capital. A huge pep rally followed the parade, showing FSU's rise as a football power, fireworks, announcement of the Homecoming Queen (Layla Bowen) and introduction of the football team.

At the alumni breakfast of Saturday morning given by FSU President, and Mrs. Doak S. Campbell, Governor Latta Collins expressed "a feeling of thankfulness that Dr. and Mrs. Campbell have been with us all these years." President Campbell is retiring at the end of the school year after serving for fifteen years.

Early Saturday morning fires were lit on the football field for the gigantic barbecue, but because of rain the "big feed" was shifted to the FSU Demonstration School. Approximately 1,000 persons were fed.

The traditional football game between FSU and Wake Forest, in which the score was deadlocked at 14-14, and a dance wound up the festivities.

Incidentally, Junior Metts of Sanford made the second touchdown of the game and merited the attention from his coach who said "Metts again played a good all around game. He is our most consistent performer." Keep up the good work, Junior!

Enjoying the Homecoming festivities along with the students were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Ham Risbee, Miss Rebe Risbee, Mrs. Donna Lou Askew (nee Harper), Dr. and Mrs. Harry Woodruff, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hedding, and Miss Harriet Hedding. Harriet, a student at Stetson, went at the bid of Tommy Wyatt, freshman at FSU!

This Saturday night 1000 pairs of eyes are expected to watch FSU and Villanova tangle in Philadelphia. FSU's famed circus will give an hour long performance before the game and the band, the Marching Chiefs, will also perform. Following the game, both the band and the circus will stage television appearances in Philadelphia.

Famed Artist Appears
Stetson students and Deland residents were privileged to hear one of America's most famous artists, Marjorie Neasom, last Friday evening when she gave a recital in Elizabeth Hall as the first of the Stetson Fine Arts Series. Mrs. Neasom has given recitals all over the United States and has been heard on more than 200 radio broadcasts. She has studied under some of the most eminent teachers in Boston and today has a skill and breadth of tone that has made her justly renowned.

Her program Friday night included several works written by her composer husband as well as several modern French descriptive studies.

Stetson's Homecoming
Homecoming festivities will rule on Stetson's campus November 2-4. Activities will begin with the Homecoming Alumni Banquet which is scheduled for Halley Cafeteria at 5:45 p. m. Friday, Nov. 2. Those attending this dinner will then join with the students in the Hatter Hoopler and Pep Rally.

Members of the 30 and 25 year classes will receive Half-Century and Quarter-Century Diplomas at the Alumni Convocation which will be Saturday at 10:30 a. m. The Stetson Glee Club will appear at this time.

Also on the agenda that Saturday is a parade through the streets of Deland, a barbecue in the Forest of Arden, and of course the football game in Municipal Stadium between the Hatters and the Carson-Newman Fighting Eagles.

Reunions for three classes have been scheduled for this big weekend. These are the classes of 1906, 1931, and 1951 who will hold reunions in the form of breakfasts on Saturday, Nov. 3. If this includes any of you Sanford residents, be sure and be there, hear? And even if you aren't included in this, there are several of you alumni around who would get a thrill out of these things. Let's show some good old school spirit next weekend! Remember that Sanford has two players on the Stetson team this year and you need to support them. Jim Hawkins saw action in the Davidson game last week and kicked the extra point of their lurchback. Jim Krojer is also doing quite well for himself. Will see you there!

New University
We hear great news that Hillsborough County has recently been picked as the site of a proposed $12,000,000 state university. This four-year institution is one of two recommended by the Council on Higher Education after a two year study. When one hears of the crowded conditions of the two present state universities—FSU is expecting 10,000 next year while UWF will probably have 12,000—we realize that this will be a great boon in helping absorb the increasing flood of students. Now with more and more students attending colleges, it is imperative that adequate facilities are provided for them so that they will be well prepared citizens of tomorrow.

Betty Good and Joe College
Bonnie Robinson recently had as his guests at the Citadel in Charleston, S. C. where he is a sophomore, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Robinson. The occasion was Parents' Day and all report a good time.

Bob Healy, a member of the FSU Marching Chiefs, was mighty glad to have his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Healy, on hand last weekend to watch them do their stuff on Band Day.

Full Frolics at UWF drew Kay Eyles of Oviedo in for the occasion at the bid of Bobby Morrison, senior at the University. Miss Nancy Richards was a guest of Lorne Harris, freshman.

The title of distinguished literary student has been bestowed upon Lalet Terry Corbett, senior at the Citadel in Charleston, S. C. for achievements in academic, military and leadership grades. This qualifies her to apply for a Reserve Commission upon her graduation in June.

Terry is majoring in Business Administration and is active in the Round Table, an honor society. She is also a member of the Sphinx Staff, Glee Club and Brigadier Staffs. He is a cadet captain, commanding company "F" at the Citadel.

Elizabeth Woodruff is mighty proud of her newly pledged sorority, Pi Beta Phi, who was first prize in House decorations and second prize for their float in the parade during Homecoming festivities at FSU.

The U. of I. Band, of which Jimmy Brown and Colleen Eubank are members, will travel to Baton Rouge this Saturday when UWF classes with FSU.

Incidentally we hear that Bulba Risbee was extremely proud when his girl, Layla Bowen of Ford Landersdale, was crowned Homecoming Queen at FSU!

Seen in Sanford this past week end were Wesley Giles, Jim Owen, and John Wimshurst from UWF; Marion Davis from Orange Memorial Hospital in Orlando; Jim Hawkins, Harold Marsh, John Todd

OVIDEO—HEED! HEED!
Mrs. R. C. Miller informs us that they are grandparents their first experience in that role and that they are quite tickled over it. Their daughter and her husband have a darling little girl born at the Base Hospital, Orlando, last week. I am sorry I do not remember her daughter's married name, and efforts to reach Mr. Miller this morning were to no avail.

Speaking of new arrivals, we wish to also congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Rex Clouts on the arrival of their new daughter this past week. We understand that the little baby will be called Susan. She has two brothers, Rex, Jr. and Lee, also one sister, Janet. The proud grand parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee and Mrs. C. H. Clouts, all of Oviedo.

Glad to see John Horton and son, Joe, now of Brevard, MA in town. John is the husband of the late Eula Horton who was tragically killed when a train hit her car near Halloween of last year while en route to Sanford. At the same time, Joe was quite seriously injured but is doing quite well.

John came to us on our four-year-old son, at Oviedo High School, and is now a student at the University of Florida.

We are glad to see that Ben and Helen Ward have started their new home, which we understand will be a lovely little one, situated in the Ward Grove near the home of L. A. Hatch.

All seem to be doing well, and we wish them all the best. We hope to see them again. We had the father and mother in New Station after they secured so many medals over there. However, we have ourselves with having Bob Ward to hang on to, anyway. As long as we keep the "Ben Words" in the Family Field of Oviedo, we will be ok.

Among those who have made contributions for the temple given by Seminole Chapter No. 2 O.E.S., honoring their Grand Matron's visit, Mrs. Joseph Leppert, organist for the chapter, J. B. Jones, past patron, Mrs. Lynn Mather, past matron of Vermont Chapter, and Mr. Irving Malcolm. We are certainly glad to have Jim and Louise (Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson) back after their nice vacation trip to Colorado.

Gala Evening Is Scheduled

By E. M. Wives

Wear a costume or pay a fine! That's the rule for the Halloween Party at the E.M. Club Saturday night. Of course, that only applies to the members of the Eminent's Wives Club and their husbands. All hands on the base are most welcome to attend, in costume or not, whichever suits their fancy.

This will be a regular old fashioned Halloween party with all the trimmings, including the traditional dunking for apples and eating an apple on a string. And of course there will be dancing, with music provided by J. B. that hasn't been decided yet but there will definitely be music of some sort.

Festivities are scheduled to begin around 8:30 and there should be a good time in all the fun.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. John T. "Doc" Healy will be having a party at their home on Oct. 28. The guests to be invited are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stanger and the guests from last year's party. The party will be held at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanger, 111 West First Street, Sanford.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. Williams will be having a party at their home on Oct. 28. The party will be held at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Williams, 111 West First Street, Sanford.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stellanor of Rockledge, who spoke on "The Catholic Home, Center of Catholic Culture" at the luncheon of the Catholic Home, are planning a trip to Tampa this weekend to visit Lucille's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Jackson (Mrs. Dave Jackson, also relatives at St. Petersburg).

Lucille and she are going to baby sit on 1st and Christmas shop. We know Lucille just cannot stay away from that little granddaughter for many days at a time. She and Charles (Grandpa) were down just a few days ago. See what I mean? Don't blame you, Lucille! I will probably do the same when my time comes.

Sanjhi Dance Will Be Held At Celery Crate

The Celery Crate will be "rock in" and roll "Friday night when it will be the scene of the Sanjhi Dance. For the uninitiated, the Celery Crate is located above the City Hall and the Sanjhi Dance is one sponsored by the Sanford Junior High School.

This dance is for the seventh and eighth graders only from Sanford Junior High, Pinecrest, Paradise, and Lake Monroe Schools. It is scheduled to begin at 7:30 and will last until 10:30 p. m. Refreshments will be served. Chairman for the dance are Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Roberts.

15 Sanford Women Attend Deanyery In Daytona Beach

Fifteen women of All South-Catholic Women's Club attended the Fall meeting of the Orlando Central Deanyery held at Daytona Beach, our Lady of Lourdes was the host parish, and the meeting started with Mass and Benediction in that church. Breakfast was served in the "Lourdes Room" of the School.

The group of 210 women then moved to the Daytona Plaza Hotel for the remainder of the meeting.

Standing committee chairman of the deanyery gave a two minute talk on the scope of their committee. Mrs. W. V. Roberts of All Souls is Retreat Chairman, and Mrs. J. L. Hurt is Library and Literature chairman for the Deanyery.

The speaker at the luncheon was Fr. Charles Stellanor of Rockledge, who spoke on "The Catholic Home, Center of Catholic Culture". He told of several different ways to make the home truly catholic, especially emphasizing charity and courtesy and family prayer.

He said "Children must learn obedience and respect in the home, as no amount of teaching in school can equal that training." He also said "If children of all ages cannot come to their parents and talk over their problems and dreams, there is a sad situation in that home."

It was announced that the spring deanyery meeting would be held in Winter Park.

Conning The News

by VIRGINIA COSS

Again very little to report, but I expect to get into high gear tomorrow. Went to the luncheon at the Country Club today, given by the Women's Golf Association. The table was decorated with decoys, and wild grasses. The luncheon of baked ham, sweet potatoes and vegetables was delicious. Helen Andrews, the club manager does an excellent job, and I think very few people actually know how much she contributes to the smooth way things function. She even took her day off to paint the ladies' locker room before the start of the tournament. There were a number of Navy girls at the luncheon—Louise Parker, Beril Samson, Jean Filton, Jeanie Foul, Dottie Mann, Jean Stetson, Betty Guy, Ida Bae Wilson, Alice Mills, Carty Scribbling and Duke Weber. We met the new pros, Mario Carfagno and his lovely wife Gerry. Mr. Carfagno announced the start of a beginner's class next Monday.

at ten. There will be a series of six lessons at a cost of ten dollars the series and he will provide all the equipment necessary. Better sign up now.

Mrs. Lydia Parker, Jim's Mother, spent the day with Jamie Miller. They had lunch, and went to the movies.

We are spending the time enjoying our new hi-fi set, purchased at Winn's. I'll have to tear myself away from all the beautiful music and work on the school carnival. Don't forget the Lake Mary school carnival Friday night. And I know you can't forget the Halloween party Saturday night, but please get your reservation in. Also, we are extending a special invitation to our civilian friends.

Irene Harris gave a lovely coffee Wednesday morning for Bob Johnson, who is leaving next week for Norfolk. A beautiful arrangement of gladioli graced the table. Seen among the crowd were Carol Stanley, Ann Pat Todd, Spook Hook, Johnny Elam, Tom Sontal, Dot Odum, and the honoree, of course.

Polly Brubaker had her first table of bridge for beginners this morning. She reports that several brilliant girls are coming to study, as well as Navy.

GOP Office Holder Increase Predicted

DR. WILLIAM H. KADEL

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — Florida's Republican Party is feeling its oats to such an extent that its state chairman predicts that practically every county south of Gainesville will have a few office holders four years from now.

State Republican Chairman G. Harold Alexander of Fort Myers reported the GOP has 200 candidates for state and county offices on the November ballot in contrast with 80 office seekers four years ago.

"Four years from now, practically every county south of Alachua will elect a few Republicans," he forecast.

The Republicans have 210,797 registered voters this year in comparison with 166,794 in 1952. The Democrats outnumber the GOP by better than eight to one but in 1952 the ratio was nearly 11 to one.

"I have immediate optimism. I believe that after President Eisenhower is elected this year that the Republican registration by 1960 will reach half a million," Alexander said.

He predicted Florida is four years away from a real two-party system.

Secretary of State Gray, who is in charge of the state's election machinery, said his office keeps no records of local candidates but it is his informal observation that Republican activity appears to be on the increase.

Sample ballots are issued by the commissioners of the 67 counties and no copies are sent to Tallahassee.

However, a spot check of representative counties by The Associated Press before the primary elections in May showed nearly a 100 per cent increase in Republican candidates for such offices as county commissioner, school board member, sheriff and the like this year over 1952.

Alexander said there has been an increase in precinct committee members too. He reported the GOP has workers in some 1,100 of the state's precincts in comparison with 427 organized precincts the last time a check was made in 1950.

He credited "hard work by the republican organizations" for the increase in registration.

Church Attendance Answers Spiritual Nourishment Need

BY RANDALL CHASE

The development of nuclear energy has radically changed the thinking of man. The knowledge of the terrible force of atomic and hydrogen bombs has caused the mind of nations to arbitrate differences, rather than resort to force. A quarter of a century ago the Suez crisis almost surely would have resulted in war.

The unleashing of this terrific power has stimulated serious thinking; even some atheists have been brought to acknowledge God and become an active part in the Church.

Never before have great nations evidenced such a recognition of Almighty God. Churches are reopening in countries where they had been banned. The Church which was underground is coming forth—and Church attendance is surpassing previous records.

Crises, emergencies and catastrophic happenings cause man to turn to God. Personal observations of two world wars fall to show.

Church Revival Starts Oct. 30; Public Invited

The Wesleyan Methodist Church of Panama, located on E.W. First St., six miles west of Sanford, announces a revival meeting beginning Oct. 30.

The Rev. E. L. Shigley, Sr., pastor and evangelist of Mebane, Ala., will speak each evening at 7:30 p.m. and at all of the Sunday services.

The pastor of the local church has extended an invitation to the public to attend these services.

Local Club Slates Halloween Party

Panel Discusses Program Action Recommendations

The legislative committee of the Seminole County Teacher's Educational Association discussed the 10 recommendations of the Program Action Committee at its meeting last night held at Pinecrest School.

The panel discussing the various phases of the recommendations were H. T. Miller, Miss Edna Chittenden, Miss Barbara Ruprecht, Mrs. Mildred Town, Mrs. Hamilton Brown, W. J. Wells, and Stewart Gatchel.

Miss Chittenden pointed out in her discussion that there are 4200 teachers in Florida not fully certified and 800 teachers hold sub-standard certificates. 1,400 teachers are needed to reduce overcrowded conditions.

"Expenditures have been greatly increased," she said, "but these have been absorbed by increased enrollment." Florida spends $213 per pupil, but the national average is $221 and the highest State expenditure per pupil is $255.

"It is recommended that the minimum starting salary for teachers be set at $5,000 with hopes to receive a $4,000 minimum starting salary," Miss Chittenden said.

Miss Barbara Ruprecht stated that $3,000,000 was appropriated in 1955 for textbooks but more money is needed.

"It is recommended," she said, "that the teacher's load be reduced to 10 percent, that maximum enrollment of 30 pupils per teacher be adopted, that $400 per instructional unit be appropriated for building classrooms, and that"

Pearson's Column Hit By Official

WASHINGTON (AP)—Press secretary James C. Hagerty today described as "the most amazing distortion of falsehood that I have ever seen" a report by columnist Drew Pearson that President Eisenhower suffered a "mild relapse" on his Western campaign trip.

Hagerty said it is "absolutely and categorically" untrue that Eisenhower suffered a relapse at any time on the trip. Hagerty told reporters there has been no relapse on that or any other occasion.

Opening the discussion on his own, without waiting for questions at his news conference, Hagerty said he obtained a copy of the Pearson column from newspapers which queried him about it. The column was distributed for publication tomorrow.

Hagerty said that on one page alone there were 10 misstatements of fact, three in one sentence. Hagerty went over what he called the misstatements one by one. At the end, he remarked:

"I am trying not to get mad on this one, but I should be mad vigorously from side to side."

"Then he went on, 'Well, I think this is about the worst job of reporting I have ever seen.'"

Hagerty said he wanted to recommend that newspapers which print the Pearson column also print his remarks about it. He said he had called Pearson's secretary and told her of his plans to make a public statement on the column and was informed that the columnist was on the way to the White House.

Blackburn Receives Citation From ColC For Piloting Skill

The commanding officer of Heavy Attack Wing three at the Sanford Naval Air Station presented a citation from the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce at its Coffee Club meeting yesterday morning.

Captain J. T. Blackburn was presented a framed and gold-embossed citation in recognition of his flight on Sept. 3 when he was captured by a carrier off the West coast. He overcame odds, bled his way to establish his speed, and continued non-stop flight to Jacksonville, NAS.

Clifford McKibbin, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, presented the citation and said, "This citation is presented in recognition of your skill in piloting an A-1 and in breaking the existing speed records."

Captain Blackburn thanked the chamber of commerce for the citation but added, "on behalf of the members of VAWB who have returned to Sanford I want to thank you for the banner placed across First St. to welcome the squadron back home."

The general theme for 1956 is "Schools for a Strong U.S. Education Week Topic"

The Seminole County Education Association is preparing to take its usual active role in planning and carrying out an effective community-wide observance of the 30th Annual American Education Week, Nov. 11-17, according to Mrs. Jack Burney, chairman of the association's Public Relations Committee.

The general theme for 1956 is "Schools for a Strong U.S." with topics assigned to each day of the week's observance to carry out the message of the theme.

The daily topics are, and Mrs. Burney said: "Our Spiritual and National Heritage," Sunday, Nov. 12; "History," Monday, Nov. 13; "Literature," Tuesday, Nov. 14; "Science," Wednesday, Nov. 15; "Healthful Living," Thursday, Nov. 16; "Schools for a Strong U.S.," Friday, Nov. 17.

The Public Relations Committee, Mrs. Jack Burney, Chairman, with Mrs. Robert Rumbley and Miss Zillah Welch developed plans for the observance at a recent meeting.

Wanted speakers were secured from various business firms and an emphasis was placed on the schools of the day for the display of school work and activities. The merchants sponsoring American Education Week feel that "Good Schools are Good Business," said Mrs. Burney, and it is the hope of the local educational association group that local people will become "school conscious" as they window shop.

Parents and other interested citizens have been urged by the local Seminole County Education Association to not only "window shop" but to visit the classrooms, attend the special programs and acquaint the schools with the needs and accomplishments of the county schools.

"With the splendid cooperation of our local citizens," said Mrs. Burney, "it is the desire of the Seminole County Education Association that during American Education Week every Seminole County child will become school conscious."

DeBary GOP Club Holds Last Rally; Voting Is Urged

DE BARY — De Bary's last GOP Rally was held this week at the Civic Center. It got off to a good start by group singing of the like song, with William Watson's choral group and Charles Caswell's baritone to encourage the audience. George Percy, vice president of the local club, introduced the following candidates: Harold Besemer, for county judge; Mrs. Mable Schmidt, for tax collector; Kenneth Zeh, for state representative; William F. Mason, for judge of small claims court; Lee H. Stone, for commissioner of inland navigation; and Harry Selzer, local candidate for justice of the peace.

Percy explained that owing to the scarcity of voting machines, there could be unavoidable delays. "But don't let that discourage you and do bring your registration certificates," he urged. "If everyone in DeBary votes," he added, "they will have to vote once for every 45 seconds in the 12 hour period." Introducing Harry Selzer, independent write-in candidate for justice of the peace, Percy described how to make the write-in problem. "When you enter the booth, pull up the flap where you wish to enter your candidate's name. After you have taken care of that, go back to your regular candidate (GOP preferred) and vote down the line for them. This way you won't forget."

"The reason that write registrants have not received invitations and other correspondence," explained Ralph Wilkerson, president of the club, "is that their names are not yet available from the county offices."

With the exception of William A. Washburne Jr., candidate for Governor, all GOP candidates of Volusia County have been at De Bary GOP rallies.

Methodists Oppose Legalized Spread Of County Betting

At its regular September meeting, the official board of the First Methodist Church of Sanford, voted to oppose the spread of legalized gambling in Seminole County.

Through the passage of this anti-gambling motion by the official board, the members pledge themselves to work for the defeat of the referendum to be voted upon in the coming November election relative to licensing pari-mutuel betting at Seminole Park Raceway.

On this coming Sunday, in cooperation with the united effort approved by the Seminole County Methodist Association, the Reverend Milton H. Wright will preach an anti-gambling sermon at the First Methodist Church on the subject, "The Salt of the Earth." This service will be broadcast over radio station WTRR.

Hawkins To Start For Stetson Eleven Against Wofford

Jim Hawkins last year's star for the Sanford Seminoles left the school position for the Stetson Panthers tomorrow night when they meet highly favored Wofford in a municipal stadium.

Hawkins, only a freshman at Stetson, has been outstanding all week in scrimmage. Herb McQuillar, head coach for the Panthers, said "All week we've been looking for 11 men who want to play ball. Jim deserves the chance to play. He's been outstanding."

Other changes in the Seminole line-up include Dave French, Louisville, Ky., and Mill Crawford, Jacksonville. Game time is 8 o'clock to 10:00 p.m. on Friday night in De Land.

M. McDonald To Be Methodist Laymen Day Guest Speaker

Morton McDonald, a prominent Florida Methodist, will be the Laymen's Day speaker at the First Methodist Church, at the 11 a.m. service this Sunday.

McDonald is the immediate past president of The American Title Association and president of the Abstract Corporation of Deland.

He was born in Oconee County, Ga., and was educated in the public schools of Georgia. He attended the University of Georgia but left school before completing his course because of the death of his father.

He has been active in his trade associations, having served as president of the Florida Title Association in 1940 and 1941, and was secretary of the Florida Title Association for ten years just past.

Also, he has been active in civic affairs for a number of years, having served as president of the Deland Chamber of Commerce, president of the Deland Rotary Club, District Governor of District 213 of Rotary International and headed many drives for raising funds for various civic activities, and he received the award of the Outstanding Citizen of Deland through the Deland Chamber of Commerce in 1945.

As an active member of Trinity Methodist Church in Deland, he has been a member of the Official Board since he was 23 years old, and is Chairman of the Board at the present time.

McDonald is listed in Who's Who in Methodist and across the years has been a loyal churchman. His subject for Sunday morning will be: "A Layman's Responsibility."
