Question: What is your feeling toward the proposed merger of the Seminole United Fund and Orange-Orange United Appeal?

I believe Seminole should stay independent and would benefit just as well.

I think it would be a good thing. Everyone should give and support the United Fund.

Seminole should have their own. Orange County should be trying to take things away from Seminole all the time.

It would be all right for the groups to unite if all are going things for a common goal.

This week's Question: What is your opinion on the current sex education course with the Seminole schools?

Nixon Haven Is Idyllic Retreat

EDITOR'S NOTE — When Dwight D. Eisenhower was president, his farm in Gettysburg, Pa., served as a kind of "White House." When John F. Kennedy was in office, he joined his family at the Hyannisport complex. President Lyndon B. Johnson spent many a weekend at his Texas ranch. And Richard M. Nixon will use Key Biscayne, Fla., as his haven.

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — This is a tight little neighborhood where for many years people could come and "get away from it all" in 15 minutes by car from the non-embellished heart of Miami.

Now, suddenly, the quiet life is gone. For four years at least, because one of the men who discovered this sequestered haven from the rat race was Richard M. Nixon.

Since 1951, when he first came here to unwind from the tensions of a tough U.S. Senate race in California, the island has been his favorite hideaway.

This idyllic retreat where he sought seclusion so often in the stormy course of an up-and-down political career has become the official "Little White House" of the nation.

The residents of Key Biscayne, a 2,300-acre paradise nestled among thousands of towering coconut palm trees waving in the trade winds, are bursting with pride because "Dick Nixon" is their neighbor. But they know that the languid life they loved must be sacrificed.

Hordes of sightseers undoubtedly will swarm across the Rickenbacker Causeway from Miami, trying to see the Nixon home or to get a glimpse of him and his family.

Already, there have been complaints about traffic snafus on Crandon Boulevard, the island's main road, which narrows from four to two lanes as it approaches the area of the Nixon home.

"Minutes after Nixon was declared president-elect after a hot race with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, he was on a plane bound for Key Biscayne. Since then, he has been busily beautifying the site of the "Little White House."

He has purchased the home of a wealthy Cuban exile, Manuel Arce Jr., a rambling palm-beach structure valued at $127,000 which sits 200 feet from the shore of Biscayne Bay. Next door is the home of retiring U.S. Sen. George Smathers, which Nixon has used before and also plans to buy.

Just beyond the Smathers home is that of C. C. "Babe" Rebozo, a banker who took Nixon on his first trip to the island and since has become his confidant and friend.

18-foot-high hedge of hibiscus bushes has been planted as a barrier against sightseers around a compound encompassing the three houses.

As vice president in the Eisenhower Administration, Nixon was a familiar figure on the island. He came here in 1949, to heal the wounds of his defeat by President John F. Kennedy, and it was here that Kennedy sought him out for a dramatic post-election meeting.

Here, also, Nixon took refuge when another bitter defeat, in a race for governor of his native California, appeared to have surrounded the swan song of his political career. It was here, too, that he mapped out the campaign that carried him to the presidency, and here he came without delay at the moment of his greatest triumph.

Legend says Ponce de Leon came ashore in 1513 and named the island Santa Maria. It was a hideout for Black Caesar and other buccannery preying on the treasure ships of the Spanish Main. A red brick lighthouse

Pay Of Port Administrator Brings On Real Donnybrook

Alexander, Moore In Hassle

By BILL SCOTT

Real hassle developed last night during the Seminole County Port Authority meeting when Lee P. Moore, port authority chairman, and John Alexander, County Commission chairman, argued over whether the qualifications of part-time Authority Administrator Francis E. Roumillat III entitled him to be paid more than a general administrator.

The County Commission, which controls the port's expenditures and levies a millage to fund the operation of the embryonic facility, in the person of Alexander, said if the port wanted to hire Roumillat on a full-time basis he would come under the county's pay scale at a salary "less than $10,000 per year."

Moore maintained that a full-time administrator should be hired by April 1, date he proposed start of Port of Sanford construction, and stated he felt that the County Commission and the authority had an obligation to Roumillat, who had given so much to the establishment of the facility.

John Alexander, chairman of the County Commission, said that a salary of $15,000 yearly should be considered as commensurate with the responsibilities of the top port position.

Alexander intimated that a pay scale of that magnitude would mean the employing of a more qualified man than Roumillat, a Sanford druggist.

Moore pointed out that Seminole Memorial Hospital, which operates with a commission levied millage, employs Robert Besseyer at a much higher salary (hospital trustees recently raised Besseyer to $18,000).

Alexander made no comment to Moore's assertion and the verbal battle rose to a white-hot pitch with Moore insisting that it was a matter of judgment over a Seminole County man with experience contrasted to the employing of a "qualified man" from out of the county or out of the state. Moore intimated that the authority has the right to hire an administrator and fix his salary as does the hospital.

Alexander said, "We have not told you that you cannot hire Roumillat," and Moore replied, "In this case you have a board of county commissioners dictating to us what we can pay."

At this point both men's voices had reached the range of an opera singer hitting the last notes of a death scene, and the chairman observed, "I don't believe we should subject this board to a debate between you, but I feel Francis should receive a salary somewhere in the $15,000 scale, but it could be negotiated."

Moore remarked, "The efforts of the authority has put more money in the till than the Board of County Commissioners," and he quickly outlined the port's problems from its beginning, citing the handicaps overcome by Roumillat, who, Moore informed, should be given credit for the recent $600,000 grant from Economic Development Authority.

Moore concluded by stating he felt all those associated with the port "owed Roumillat something for his untiring efforts in getting the port established."

The two men, obviously tiring from the hassle, called a truce and moved along to other business.

Toll-free telephone calls from Sanford to Orlando became an issue today during a morning session of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce projects committee meeting for the first time this year at the chamber's conference room.

Alex McElhinny, newly appointed chairman, opened the discussion called to develop plans for 1968.

The idea for making toll-free telephone service to Orlando was first mentioned during a Friday meeting of the Chamber's planning committee at Holiday Isle by John Krieger, Chamber manager, who asked Russell Hurbert, Winter Park Telephone Company president, if he would support the idea to help industry locate in Seminole County.

Hurbert said he thought he could, and mentioned that soon this service would be available to Kissimmee and Apopka.

Today, A. J. Peterson Jr., member of the projects group, brought the question before the session and was delegated to have a Southern Bell Telephone official appear at next committee meeting at 8 a.m. Feb. 25 to discuss the proposal.

Paulucci Donates Road Right-Of-Way

Four more sections of right-of-way, one owned by the City of Sanford, need to be donated to the county before work can commence on Improving Rantoul Lane, it was reported at the meeting of the Board of County Commissioners yesterday.

One section was given by Jeno Paulucci and accepted by the county before work can start the ball rolling for acquisition of the tract.

Paving of the road west of the Mayfair golf course and connecting SR-40A to SR-16 at Lake Mary is part of the county's road program for the year. Since no moneys are available for right-of-way, the sites must be received by donation if the road is to be built.

In other business at the Commission meeting, the suit involving maintenance of Sand Lake Road is currently an appeal to the Fourth District Court of Appeal.

Sex Class Impresses Reporter

By DONNA ESTES

Controversy which has developed around the sex education portion of the pilot health education program currently being conducted in three schools in Seminole County led The Sanford Herald to Lyman High School, one of the three participating schools in the program to discover the scope and intent of the program this week.

Mrs. Robbie Ambrose, teacher of the elective course at Lyman, was personally interviewed to determine the extent of sex in the program.

The pretty, blonde mother of two and holder of a bachelor of science degree in biology and master of arts degree in sciences held nothing back and expressed without qualification her full support of the program.

"We are not teaching sex as such. It is only a very small part of an overall health education program," she pointed out that it is not a required subject but one that the students select to take.

No textbooks are used for the course that encompasses all aspects of health information from the dangers of smoking, drinking and using drugs to analysis of television commercials, nutrition, quackery, problems encountered in teenage marriage, customs, responsibilities of adolescents and parents, a bit of biology and finally a touch of human reproduction. Mrs. Ambrose cited that much less concerning human reproduction is included in the course than the normal biology course.

The course taught in students of tenth through twelfth grade takes the form of discussion classes at Lyman with Mrs. Ambrose suggesting the topic for the day and the students providing the discussion.

The human reproduction aspect of the program met with "no giggling or snickering" but was greeted with serious thoughtfulness by the students," Mrs. Ambrose said.

Following each class, students are asked to write a few sentences of evaluation. Evaluations seen by this reporter indicated in some instances the student's gratefulness for being given correct information rather than learning it from other young people who were not well informed.

Most looked with awe on the miracle of reproduction while some stated they were a bit odd to be told things they had known for some time. None of the comments seen indicated disgust or shock at the revelations, and none showed undue emphasis or dwelling on that particular day's class over the others in the series.

A film was used for this topic which Mrs. Ambrose said has been used in biology classes in the county schools for some years.

The health demonstration project is being conducted as a pilot project in three counties in Florida — Broward, Duval and Seminole and being funded from a grant from the federal government.

The approach used to teach the program is one based on student decision making, critical thinking, discovery and problem solving, according to the course's official manual.

School Construction Hit By Increased Costs

Seminole County School Board is in a quandary caused by rising construction costs and a fight a pending law suit expected for the school building program in 1967, before the costs rose to present astronomical heights by current Central Florida boom brought on by Disney and other interests.

John Evans, chairman of the Seminole County School Board, vice chairman of the board at Seminole Memorial Hospital, and secretary-treasurer of Wheeler Fertilizer Company, received the Good Government Award from Walter Duda.

The Faith in God Award was presented by Ben Ward Jr. to Andrew Duda Jr. who has taught Sunday School for the past 25 years and is president of A. Duda and Sons.

Jaycee President John Conley presented Jaycee of the Month awards to Walter Duda, July, 1968; H. R. Spencer, October, 1968; Jim DeShazo, November, 1968; and Bryant Hickson, December, 1968. PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Charles Winninger, 84, veteran actor whose career spanned 50 years in vaudeville, movies, radio and television, died.

Reason for the Goldsboro delay is same problem encountered in the college construction—rising building costs versus amount of money allocated for the additions to Altamonte Springs, Longwood, English Estates and Goldsboro Schools.

Award of the contract to add to the three South Seminole facilities went to Harvey Spears Construction Co. of Eustis, which submitted three bids totaling $543,420.

Burton informed the educators that since construction costs are escalating and would soon be even higher the board might be wise to proceed as quickly as possible with planned school construction to save money.

Iraq Triggering New War?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A new mass spy trial was reported under way in Baghdad today as Iraq accused Israeli troops of massing to attack the 20,000 Iraqi troops stationed in Jordan.

The complaint, Mr. and Mrs. Flowers claim Meriwether installed a post wire fence down the center of the access to their property on Dec. 17, 1968 thereby preventing use of the yard for planting, cultivating and harvesting crops on the property. It is also noted the crops will be ready for harvesting within 10 days to two weeks.

The Flowers maintain oral agreement was reached with previous owners of the Meriwether property in 1964, already has announced its forces are in a state of military readiness for any Israeli reprisals from gallow in the city's central square.

The U.S. State Department announced it will urge Israel not to retaliate. Diplomats in Washington believe a reprisal could come as soon after as Israel's Dec. 28 commando attack on Beirut International Airport might start another full-scale war.

It did not mention the number of defendants, but London sources had reported earlier that 36 persons, 13 of them Jews, would be tried by Iraq's revolutionary court on charges of spying and sabotage.

In Baghdad, Information Minister Adnan Sabouni Saturday said a news conference in Iraq's forces were preparing to attack Israel's forces in Jordan in reprisal for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency's alleged role in the removal of a fence in the Circuit Court by Charles M. and Gladys E. Honeymoon Is Kaput For Canadian Chief OTTAWA (AP) — The honeymoon is over for Pierre Elliott Trudeau. After nine months in office, Canada's prime minister is under fire.

His performance at the British Commonwealth conference in London was disappointing to many. Some were disturbed by his limited participation and some by his outburst at the press for its reports on his dates.

Until then the 49-year-old Trudeau had enjoyed unbridled public support and had escaped serious criticism, even from his political opponents.

As recently as December an article in Maclean's magazine declared that the "prime minister is stronger today than he was last June."

The question now being asked is whether this appraisal will stand up in the coming months. There has been no measurable public reaction, but both the press and the politicians have challenged Trudeau's London role.

The most dramatic manifestation of this challenge was in Canada's House of Commons, where political foes reprimanded Trudeau for his publicized dates and for what Conservative leader Robert Stanfield described as "his attitude of casual involvement and non-commitment."

The chief complaint of Conservative leader Stanfield had been that Trudeau was complacent because of his comfortable majority in Parliament and that, as a result, his lengthy policy reviews dragged on while major decisions were delayed.

Trudeau's Liberal party holds 133 of the 264 seats in the House of Commons and seems to be sure of staying in power for three or four years no matter what happens.

At any rate, Trudeau doesn't seem much concerned. His approach is to take a long, fresh look at all existing policies — including foreign policy.

Under his timetable, policies should begin emerging by midspring, approximately one year after he succeeded Lester Pearson as Liberal party leader and prime minister.

Whether he has an acceptable formula for Quebec's future role looking to a new constitutional conference in February to see in Canada.

Press And President Confer Successfully!

President Richard M. Nixon, with the emphasis on President, might well think back to his high school days when reading with Combs' "Communist Days in the White House" and would then remember Combs' "Vail, Vail, Vail" — "I am, I am, I am."

Mr. Nixon stood at ease and very much in command of the subjects and questions posed by some of the most brilliant, perceptive and news-hungry journalists in the world. The foreign press was represented. There was the repetitive theme of new approaches to old issues, a citing of meetings where single problems were given in-depth consideration by teams of experts.

H. L. Hunt Says: Religionists Do Survive!

Although Soviet Russia and other communist lands often boast of "liberalism," individual freedoms remain severely restricted. Religious freedom in particular is denied and church-goers are oppressed. Yet in spite of government religious persecution, religious freedom in communist controlled lands still manage to hold fast to their beliefs.

Permissive Era In "Justice" Over!

By RICHARD WILSON. WASHINGTON, D.C.—One glimpse of Attorney General John N. Mitchell and his crime fighters and law-and-order men encourages the conclusion that permissiveness in the Department of Justice is over.

Another of Mitchell's law men, Richard G. Kleindienst shares the devotion to rectitude of the man he tried to elect president, Barry Goldwater.

Political tenderness threatened to temper justice in Billie Sol Estes, the Texas promoter who was convicted of fraud and is now serving a term in the federal reformatory at Sandstone, Minn.

Nothing is more ominous to the Department of Justice than the edge dividing the private from the public good — that transfer of the administration of justice that shades the nation's crime rate that shades the nation's crime rate that shades the nation's crime rate.

Helping Hands: Medical, Dental Assistants

By F. J. LAIN

Miss Lain awards a Mercury portable, courtesy of the Royal Typewriter Co., to Mrs. J. M. Brown, Smyrna, Ga., for her request:

"Please write about medical and dental assistants."

A — Looking for an attractive career working with people? One that doesn't require a four-year college degree, where the surroundings and contacts are pleasant, and where your contribution is important and appreciated? Whether you're 18 and new in the working world, 50 and looking for a way out of "boreman's humdrum" — or somewhere in between — you might be interested in becoming a medical or dental assistant.

HOSTESS, HELPER, HOUSEKEEPER. Whether you work for a doctor or dentist, you usually have three general areas of responsibility:

(1) AS AN ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT, you are responsible for certain administrative tasks, such as scheduling appointments, handling correspondence, keeping track of patients' accounts, and maintaining up-to-date medical or dental records.

(2) AS A MEDICAL ASSISTANT IN THE TECHNICAL AREA, you assist the physician for examination or treatment... sterilizing instruments... measuring height and weight... sterilizing instruments. With special training, you may perform certain simple lab tests, take X-rays, and perform other medical services for patients under the doctor's supervision.

AS A DENTAL ASSISTANT IN THE TECHNICAL AREA, you may assist and prepare patients... place instruments in the order needed... keep the operating field clear... pass materials and instruments to the dentist... assist in making radiographs... mix plaster, stone and investment... pour casts, models or dies... invest, cast and polish inlays and crowns... and perform other subprofessional lab tasks at the dentist's direction.

(3) AS A HOUSEKEEPER, you are expected to keep the office, waiting room, consulting rooms, etc., neat and ready for use. This does not mean heavy charwoman chores, but day-to-day tidiness. It's also your job to make sure office and lab supplies are arranged properly, and to reorder when stocks are low.

THE IMPORTANT YOU. Qualifications for the successful medical or dental assistant include intelligence and dependability, a gracious personality, good health, immaculate grooming, and a kind, sympathetic interest in people.

YOUR SHINING HOURS. You may work a full-time 40-hour schedule, or part-time, since demand is high for well-qualified assistants. You may be expected to work some evenings and Saturdays, with compensatory time off.

SALARY. The money is not a king's ransom — about the same as that of a business office assistant with a comparable degree of training. An idea of the range is $50-125 weekly, but it varies widely. The work is not seasonal, you won't be evicted by machinery, the satisfaction of humanitarian service is rewarding and the outlook for the future is as bright as the white uniform you'll wear.

TRAINING. You must be a high school graduate (or equivalent), and while it is possible to learn on the job, the recommended education consists of a program in an accredited junior college or vocational school for either medical or dental assisting. One year in the suggested minimum, but the trend is toward two years. Some business schools offer medical and dental assisting curricula, but such schools should be evaluated carefully to assure that their programs provide competent training and meet standards acceptable to physicians and dentists.

FOR MORE INFORMATION ON MEDICAL ASSISTANTS, write to the American Association of Medical Assistants, 200 East Ohio Street, Chicago, Ill. 60611. Enclose stamped, self-addressed long white envelope.

FOR MORE INFORMATION ON DENTAL ASSISTANTS, write to the American Dental Assistants Association, 211 East Chicago Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60611. Enclose stamped, self-addressed long white envelope.

Camp Challenge Given Boost

By MARYANN MILES

Welcome Wagon Clubs of Florida, in observance of the 50th anniversary of Welcome Wagon International, are sponsoring a "Welcome Wagon Challenge" at Camp Challenge, a recreation and training facility for handicapped children located west of Sanford on SR 46 near Sorrento.

Spearheaded by Mrs. Judy Hurlburt, executive supervisor for Florida, the Welcome Wagon also sponsors a number of camps for children throughout the state to attend the popular camp.

A $1,600 check was presented to Dr. Thomas B. Abbott of Gainesville, president of the Florida Society for Crippled Children and Adults, by club representatives attending a recent meeting at the camp. This fund will go toward construction of the cottage. At the same time, the Winter Park club presented a $300 check as an extra donation to be used for purchase of wheelchairs.

Central Florida clubs, including those from Seminole County, Winter Park, Maitland, Orlando, Lakeland, Winter Haven, Leesburg, and Osceola County, made this project their main goal for the year and raised approximately $3,000 to finance it. In addition, Volusia County clubs, including Deltona and Daytona, joined in the effort, contributing a total of $300 toward a campsite and the cottage.

The average discharge of electric coils exceeds 350 volts, according to the National Oceanographic Data Center. Current usually amounts to a fraction of an ampere.

Put Some Jam In Next Cake

JAM CAKE — Bake it in a tube pan and cover it with jam frosting.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

When your family clamors for cake, consider baking a jam variety in a tube pan. You'll have lots of cake.

This jam cake is different from others of its kind because fine dry bread crumbs and corn oil are among its ingredients. Lots of eggs go in, too — six of them.

It's the kind of large size cake that's nice to have in the house for a family dessert, for an after-school refreshment and for a teenage-age get-together.

JAM CAKE

1½ cups fine dry bread crumbs
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
6 eggs, separated
¾ cup sugar
¾ cup seedless raspberry jam

½ cup corn oil
1 teaspoon vanilla
Jam Frosting (recipe below)

Grease the bottom of a tube pan (9 by 3½ inches). On wax paper thoroughly stir together the bread crumbs, baking powder and salt.

In a large mixing bowl, beat egg whites until foamy. Gradually beat in the sugar, continue to beat until soft peaks form. In a medium mixing bowl, without washing the beater, beat egg yolks until thickened and lemon color. Gradually beat in jam, then corn oil and vanilla. Blend in bread-crumbs mixture. Fold into beaten egg-white mixture.

Turn into prepared tube pan. Bake in a preheated 325-degree oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — about one hour.

Invert. Let cool completely. With a small spatula, loosen sides. Turn out; turn right side up. Cover with Jam Frosting.

Note: If you like, you may bake this cake in two 9 by 1½ inch layer cake pans lined with wax paper; in this case bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 30 to 35 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

JAM FROSTING

1 egg white
¼ cup seedless raspberry jam
½ cup light corn syrup

Beat egg white until foamy. Add the jam; beat until fluffy. Gradually beat in the corn syrup; continue to beat until mixture forms peaks.

Make The Most Of Cauliflower

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

There are half a dozen ways to serve cauliflower, and all of them are delicious.

First comes that old favorite, cauliflower with Cheddar Cheese Sauce. There's something so compatible about this combination of flavors. In the following recipe we give directions for serving the cheese sauce with a whole head of cauliflower.

Another good way to serve cauliflower is with a combination of melted butter and lemon juice.

Cauliflower Divan is a company dish. Turn cooked cauliflower into a shallow baking dish and top with slices of cooked turkey and a rich cream sauce. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese and brown under the broiler.

Tossed cauliflowererets with a tangy oil-and-vinegar dressing for an interesting salad.

CAULIFLOWER WITH CHEDDAR CHEESE SAUCE

Medium head (about 2 pounds) cauliflower
3 cups boiling water
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ tablespoons butter
1½ tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
Dash of white pepper
1 cup milk

1 cup grated medium fine low heat, melt butter; stir in and loosely packed) cheddar cheese
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon mustard and pepper; remove outer leaves from cauliflower; wash in cold water. Put cauliflower, core side down, into a saucepan into which it just fits. Add boiling water and ¼ teaspoon of the salt. Bring to a boil; cover partly and boil until barely tender — about 15 minutes. Drain and keep warm.

In a one-quart saucepan over low heat, melt butter; stir in salt, mustard and pepper; remove from heat. Gradually stir in milk, keeping smooth. Return to moderately low heat; cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Remove from heat. At once, thoroughly and vigorously, stir in cheese. If sauce is to be reheated, do not boil. Pour cheese sauce over cauliflowererets.

Makes four servings.

Legion Post Gets Citation

Old Glory American Legion Post 128 of Altamonte Springs has received a letter of commendation from the membership chairman of the Department of Florida, extending congratulations on attaining 100 per cent membership.

The letter, read at the recent meeting conducted by Commander Otto Baumgartner, also requested that the group "try for 120 per cent membership."

"This is routine as Old Glory always is looking for and welcoming new members," C. H. Rice, adjutant, advised.

In other business, renovations to the building were discussed with action to be taken in the near future.

It was announced that Bill Chambers, longtime service officer and house and grounds chairman, has retired due to ill health. Henry Bittick will take over the office of house and grounds chairman.

It also was reported that Fred Faulhaber, a patient in the Veterans Hospital in Gainesville, is "doing well."

Coffee and sandwiches were served by members of the auxiliary unit following the meeting.

The puppet show, "The Magic Sinner," recently was presented for children of St. Luke's Christian Day School kindergarten and lower elementary grades by members of the Orlando Junior League.

The fourth show was adapted from the story of "The Seven Sins," by Olga Cabral.

Following the program, the audience was shown how the puppets are handled and how changes in their appearances are rapidly made. Questions on how to make puppets also were answered.

Members of the League presenting the show were Mrs. Lettie Hurst, Mrs. Charles Bradshaw Jr., Mrs. Charles B. Flynn, Mrs. Mac Gruder and Mrs. Ralph Mead.

The group was entertained by Mrs. John L. Duda Jr. at luncheon between the performances.

What's In A Name?

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Because of his name, John Henry Mallard of Blakely, Ga., sat in jail for 17 weeks awaiting trial for a crime he didn't commit.

He was picked up at his Blakely home last Oct. 18 on an FBI warrant charging him with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution on a burglary charge in Tampa.

The $1,700 theft took place at a doughnut shop and two women workers, who said they witnessed the burglary, gave police the name of a former shop employee.

The name happened to be similar to Mallard's and, although he had put in a full eight-hour work day at the Blakely Peanut Co. the day of the burglary, Mallard was jailed.

Mallard, 32, spent four months in a Blakely jail and 10 days in a Tampa jail before appearing at his preliminary hearing here Jan. 20.

"Your honor, that's not the man," B. L. McCoy Jr., manager of the doughnut shop, told Justice of the Peace Marion Hendry after the hearing got underway.

The case was dismissed.

"Didn't I tell you they had the wrong man?" Mallard told all who would listen as he rushed from the courtroom.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a minister who has been a member of your column, but I must disagree with you. A woman wrote that she had "fallen in love" with her pastor, and couldn't bear from thinking some thoughts she shouldn't entertain while sitting in church. You advised her to transfer to a sister congregation without telling her pastor the reason.

Abby, we clergymen are aware that some of our parishioners do fall in love with us, and we are trained to cope with that situation. It happened to me, and with the help of a psychiatrist, I was able to set the lady straight.

I would have suggested that the woman confess to her pastor how she feels about him. Then I would recommend that she and her pastor, and together they can work her problem thru. If she follows your advice and transfers to another church, her treatment will still have the same feeling.

NO NAME PLEASE. Unfortunately, she will be a member of your church, and she will be a member of your church, and she will be a member of your church.

DEAR ABBY: I have been criticized for giving a letter to a woman who was reading it in a public place. I would like to know what you think about this. I would like to know what you think about this. I would like to know what you think about this.

Here is another hand that shows bridge expert Jake Winkman getting a match point top score. The bidding is so normal that every pair in the field would reach the same four-spade contract, but while some went down one trick and others made exactly four odd, Winkman managed to make an overtrick.

It is easy enough to go down after the 10 of clubs opening. You play the king or jack from dummy. East takes his king and plays the queen to the other hand. West is in with the king and if he leads a second club, South will have to lose a diamond in addition to the three tricks already taken by the defense.

If West shifts to the king of diamonds, South will make the contract by simply running off the overtrick. It isn't a matter of anything except ability to make an unusual decision at trick one. Winkman ducked the 10 of clubs in both hands. His reason was that he had decided that West would not have led away from the king of clubs into North's club bid. Therefore, the king of clubs was marked in the East hand and Winkman wanted to let West stay in.

West could have held declarer to 30 tricks by shifting to a heart, or just continuing with clubs but West wasn't looking at his partner's cards. The one thing West was sure of was that his partner was holding the unguarded king of clubs and that it would drop on the next club lead. So West shifted to the king of diamonds.

Winkman drew trump; ran off dummy's clubs in order to duck both his losing hearts and remove a trick to the queen of diamonds.

Polly's Pointers

By Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY — Recently someone wrote in to the column about using a plunger's friend. I sent one to my son in Vietnam and got a real heart-thank for his "Handy Dandy Washing Machine." Clean soaks and underwears is a must in that climate and laundry is a real problem. A discarded can of the plunger and some soap wonder for him. If I was a Polly Dolly I surely will go to Operation Vietnam.

JAYNE
Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I am using white wool to embroider a linen background. This is on stretcher strips and I plan to frame it when finished. I know dust will collect on the white thread. Put tablets in the tiny bottle, or right in the combination of itself, with sufficient cotton to protect them. Buy a yard of soft, pliable cord and put through the loop in the top of this "locket." Cut cord to a suitable length and fasten. It can be worn to bed as well as in the clothes when one is dressed. I used to worry that mother's pills would be in a purse or on a night stand where they could not get to them when they were needed.

Agent Sings Swan Song

A fond farewell and good wishes for his future endeavors were extended to Seminole County Agricultural Agent Cecil Tucker during special ceremonies and a covered dish luncheon at the Agri-Center yesterday afternoon.

Tucker will put in his last day as county agent Friday following nearly 13 years with the county. He resigned to take the position of production manager with Baker Watercess Farms.

While agent, Tucker had the administrative responsibility for the total extension program of agriculture, home economics and 4H in the county and was specifically responsible for providing technical assistance to livestock and vegetable growers.

Tucker was appointed Seminole county agent in August, 1956, and was at that time the youngest county agent in the state. When he was reminded of his youth at the beginning of his employment with the county, Tucker in cheek, he told the county commission, "Get them young and you can raise them the way you want them."

The county apparently raised Tucker the way he wanted for a letter of commendation presented by Commission Chairman John Alexander on behalf of the county board yesterday.

Recent question about who is responsible for a school whenever the principal and assistant principal are away from a school and a bomb scare is experienced like that recently at Lyman, was explained by County School Supt. John Angel. Angel said in the Lyman case, John Schuler, dean of students, was vested with responsibility at the time Carlton Henley, principal, and Bud Lyster, assistant principal, were attending a county PTA meeting.

The Gayle Sawyer Fund was presented by 222 the other day by the Anchor Club members of Seminole High who gave up their free time on Saturday to shine shoes to earn money for their sister member. Look for them again to brighten the downtown sidewalks and the townfolk's shoes.

While Leo Moore and John Alexander were in a heated battle over whether the $10,000 to $12,000 pay should be $10,000 or $11,000 as port administrator, the Florida Cabinet recommended salary increases of $5,000 to $12,000 for Circuit Court judges, which includes Volis A. Williams Jr.

Growers Meet Here Tonight

A meeting for citrus and vegetable growers has been set up by Chase and Company at 7:30 p.m. in the Sanford Civic Center tonight.

Headlining a program devoted to helping growers improve their crops will be talks given by Dr. Mac Irving, of Skokie, Ill., an agronomist representing a large manufacturer of fertilizing material.

Irving works as adviser to growers and assists them in developing crop production.

Gabriel Delianous Jr., of the Glyco Chemical Company, with headquarters in New York, will speak on new and proven pesticides for vegetables and citrus.

Charles Butterworth, manager of the Chase fertilizer plant, said the purpose of the meeting is to introduce growers to new ideas and concepts in helping to reach crop production objectives.

A film, "New World Beyond the West," a history of the American farmer, also will be shown.

Acquitted in Retrial

BARTOW, Fla. (AP) - Former Mulberry Police Chief Horace Branch, convicted of a store robbery in 1965, was acquitted in a retrial here Wednesday.

Branch and Dale Kelly, former Mulberry policeman, were convicted of the crime after John Frace of the Tampa Tribune disclosed Robert Lamar Watson, of Sanford, had been convicted of it when he did not commit it.

BULLETIN

To quell rumors that a new chief of police had been employed by the City of Longwood, Mayor Ken Brown said this afternoon that he had been approached by James McCall, former chief of Cascherry and now a resident of Longwood, but that he had made no commitments.

Brown said the city now has an acting chief pending the return of Chief Grady Hall from sick leave.

5 Indictments Handed Down

Mrs. Mabel Frances Thompson is one of four persons indicted by Seminole County Grand Jury for murder.

In the indictment returned by the recently impaneled 12-member jury, Mrs. Thompson is accused of premeditated murder in the death of Sanford man Bobby Thompson last June 23, several days before he was reported missing by fire department officials.

His badly decomposed body was found by Sanford police officers and sheriff's department deputies nearly two weeks ago stuffed in a closet in the family home.

Mrs. Thompson had carried on her life much as usual after her husband's supposed disappearance last summer. However, she and her children moved from their Sanford home to live with Mrs. Thompson's family shortly after the disappearance.

The widowed mother of four children was arrested within hours after the body was found. She appeared calm and composed at her husband's funeral which she was given special permission to attend.

Preliminary hearing for the 23-year-old accused murderess was held on Wednesday, Feb. 7, before Peace Justice R. E. Carroll.

Others indicted for murder were Artis Mills in the pistol slaying of James Reid on Dec. 21; John Milton Wade in the gun death of James Riddle, at the Hills Lounge Bar in Fern Park on Jan. 10 and Lewis Elton Gilley and Thallit Jer.

Indicted for slaying a child "by force and against her will" was Harold Earl Burrier.

Further indictments may be forthcoming for the jury whose term of office will not end until beginning of the spring term of the circuit court on April 8.

Tax Collectors Will Meet Here

Sanford City Attorney William Heston has been authorized by the City Commission to draw up a proposed bill establishing an airport-industrial authority with a clause inserted to give the city freedom from taxation of the former Navy base by Seminole County once the 1,750-acre site is released to the city, expected before March 1.

This provision keeps the city free of any county taxes on the land or buildings and would presumably pass the liability on to firms leasing buildings for use on the material contents of the structure but leaving out the land itself, as municipally owned land.

If the county decides to tax the property, liability will not be paid by the city, thereby forcing the county to seek collection of any tax from leasees.

Tax problem with the council came to a head recently when Mary Earle Walker, former county tax assessor, billed the city for taxes on the city-owned Holiday Isle, which is leased to two firms for a motel and a docking facility.

Both firms have sought relief from the City Commission for taxes in what has been described as municipally owned areas.

Problem still has to be resolved and may require re-drawing of the lease agreement.

The necessary legislation to present to the Orange-Seminole legislative delegation for introduction at Tallahassee to the same time Industrial Development Act in one bill.

It also would establish a bonding district of Sanford and Sanford West.

Money derived from sale of industrial revenue bonds, if set in place, would enable city to help potential industries wishing to locate on the Navy base but lacking sufficient money to obtain monetary aid from industrial bonds.

Remember many years ago when spending was not the habit, of course, but the different type of economy that credit buying was? I don't know, but they also know that it makes you feel good when you buy with cash. And to do it, they have had to be mighty with a part of their money. I know it is hard, but it is worth it. It is a part of how much better you feel, how good you can be on a deposit here and your interest money here.
