9 Highway Deaths Result In East As Rain, Snow Strike

Eighteen inches of snow knock out one thousand phones in Adirondack Area

By The Associated Press Heavy snow and pelting rain hit the nation's northeast quarter today, causing at least nine highway deaths in New England.

In the northern Adirondacks near New York's Canadian border, 10 to 18 inches of snow knocked 1,000 telephones out of service.

Communications were disrupted also in northern Vermont. Four to eight inches of snow was predicted generally for northern New England, with six inches in some sections of western Massachusetts.

South of the heavy snow belt rain fell to depths of 2 1/2 inches Thursday in some parts of the North Atlantic region, rain had continued for 30 hours by noon Friday.

Three schools were closed because of high water in the Catskill Mountains region of New York.

A landslide near Cortland in central New York blocked a rural road and stopped traffic on Delaware, Lackawanna and West (Continued On Page Four)

Coldest Spell Of Winter Results In Scattered Frosts

LAKELAND — Frost extended deep into South Florida today in the coldest spell of the winter.

Meteorologist Warren O. Johnson of the Federal State Frost Warning Service says there undoubtedly was some crop damage, the extent of which is not known.

Frost was reported as far southward as the Lower East Coast today in light patches. Homestead, south of Miami, recorded a 37 degree reading.

Light to moderate frost withered to within a mile and a half of the lake and outward into the mucklands where new farming areas are being opened.

Johnson reported crop damage could not be assessed for a while yet. He explained much crop raising being reported Thursday night. He added that advance frost warnings resulted in a lot of frost picking.

The weather official reported Florida frost tonight would have scattered frosts but temperatures would not be as severe.

Here's a rundown of what happened in areas other than the Glades:

North Florida: 27 to 33 with frost heavy in spots. Brooksville and Orlando areas: 27 to 33 in low round ridge and Barlow areas: 29-36. Frost was confined to low places and was heavy in some spots.

West Coast: 31-38 in low ground areas. Scattered light frost and locally heavy in spots.

Although frost formed over a wide area of the Tampa strawberry and truck raising region, first checks showed no damage.

Rehearsals Slated For Carol Singing

U. S. To Defend Land, Japanese Are Told

TOKYO — Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida told Parliament today the U. S. is obligated to defend Japan if she is attacked.

He made the statement after a stormy session in the House budget committee.

A member asked, "Is it conceivable that with a sudden change in the international situation, the U. S. forces will withdraw from bases in the Pacific? If I were a war strategist I would do so."

Yoshida declined to answer then, and was heckled. Opposition members walked out.

After an hour and a half they trooped back.

Yoshida then told them the U. S. had fully assured Japan it would defend her.

Florida's First Antique Shop Opened By Monroe Corners Woman

By RALPH J. TOMPKINS

Sanford comes to the front again to claim as one of its citizens a "first" in an unusual and truly intriguing field. Even though Mrs. Loren Week lives at Monroe Corners, she likes to think of herself as a true Sanfordian, a distinction which she is only too glad to grant. Mrs. Week stated that in 1912 in Daytona she opened the first antique shop in the state of Florida. Her shop there, located at that time just across the street from the law offices of former Governor Dave Sholtz, soon became the mecca for the thousands of folk far and wide who love to delve into the lore of old things.

Later Mrs. Week opened an antique shop in Miami. She admits, however, that she is not too sure about claiming first honors there in the magic city. Now Mrs. Week modestly admitted all this, and even seemed a little reluctant to talk at first, but soon warmed up to the subject of antiques in proper style as her appreciative fingers touched first one treasure and then another.

Although there are many things we might mention as old and interesting in her little shop at the Corners, perhaps we might better limit our discussion to about two. A solid copper tray, weighing about eight pounds, is over 100 years old. This relic, handwrought in India, has delicate etchings on its surface which quite accurately reflect the patience of the original painter. It was brought to this country by an American (Continued on Page Five)

Britain Accuses Red Germans Of Training Youth

LONDON — Britain accused Communist East Germany today of drilling children as a manpower reserve for its mushrooming armed forces.

A Foreign Office survey declared the East zone is training youth "along military lines set by the Soviet Union and the satellite forces."

The report says that in the East zone, Communist youth groups are training children in military drills, and that the children are being drilled in the use of rifles and machine guns.

Pinacastle Airman Is Found Dead In Crash

ORLANDO — Fighting through a treacherous cypress swamp, thick with sawgrass over their heads and pocked with areas of quicksand, members of an Air Force rescue team today found that 2nd Lt. Robert A. Moe, 22, had gone to death in his plane when it crashed 30 miles south of here Thursday.

Pinacastle Air Force Base. Moe's home field, had reports at least two sources told of seeing a parachute floating down in the area about the time Moe's single engine airplane P-54 crashed.

Gene Koger, who lives in the area, guided the rescue party to the scene near Lake Gentry in Osceola County.

Moe was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Moe, Grand Fork, N. D.

Major David Remley, Sanford Civil Air Patrol officer, took part in the air search late yesterday afternoon. He also participated in this morning's early aerial search.

Oil Company Plans For New Location

The City Commission will be approached at their next meeting, Dec. 22 with a proposal of the Seaboard Oil Company to move their service station from First Street and Elm Avenue to Sixth Street and French Avenue, which is included in plans of the company for moving their entire plant to the new site, John M. Gillon, City Building Inspector, said today.

Present facilities of the company are located on Atlantic Coast Line Railroad property. Mr. Gillon disclosed, while the company has leased the new site with option to buy it. The new site takes up an area of a full half-block.

The building inspector said he could approve movement of all the facilities, except the service station, as the new site is zoned as a commercial area. It is necessary that the filling station be approved by the Commission.

The company he said, plans to have the service station facing French Avenue.

A spur of the ACL Railroad runs adjacent to the new site. The company imports its products to Sanford by rail.

Sanford Post Office To Open Sub-Station

The Post Office will open a mailing substation in Sanford to handle the additional Christmas mail, and to help relieve the long lines forming in the lobby of the Post Office. This sub station will be located at 200 North Palmetto in the Strickland-Morrison warehouse, the same location that was used last Christmas.

The station will be open from 9:30 a.m. until 6:00 p.m. from Dec. 12 through Dec. 23. It is urged that all Christmas parcels be taken to this location for mailing. Stamps may be purchased and Christmas cards and other letter mail may be deposited also.

World Heads Meet To Talk On Economics

Ministers Of 18 European Lands To Discuss Issues With US Representatives

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Acheson left today for Paris where he will attend a meeting of the North Atlantic Council which he said will "demonstrate to all the world the continued unity and cooperation" of the Western alliance.

Acheson was accompanied by Treasury Secretary Snyder and Averil Harriman, mutual security director, members of the U. S. delegation to the Council of 11 NATO countries.

Traveling in President Truman's plane, the Independence, the group left at 1:30 p. m.

Acheson said in a statement he does not expect any major decisions to come from the meeting.

French Troops Aim Guns While Moslems Pray

CASABLANCA — French Moroccan troops pointed machine guns at the gates of the Moroccan mosque today as hundreds of Moslems assembled for prayers. Expected demonstrations did not take place.

No disturbances were reported elsewhere in this North African city, which has seen bloody rioting and demonstrations almost daily since Sunday. Seven or eight European and several score natives have been slain in riots growing out of nationalist demands for independence.

The French feared further disturbances today as the Friday prayer for Muslims was held at the mosque entrance. Other Legionnaires and Moroccan troops in the city were on alert.

Singer Makes Big Hit Despite Legal Writ

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — A Tony lyric soprano whose recent neighbors but her into the nation's headlines was called back today and sang an encore at her concert hall debut last night.

Mrs. Wentworth Morris of near by Clarksville appeared as a guest performer at a Nashville Symphony pops concert in the huge new Vanderbilt University gymnasium.

Although the 50-pandum concerto in the blue ruffled evening gown was swayed by her surroundings, the singer was not directly affected by all corners of the hall and commanded rapt attention and an enthusiastic applause from about 4,500 listeners.

There was no indication that her voice had suffered during the weeks she has been under temporary injunction to practice only two hours daily in her tightly closed home.

The chancery court injunction was issued pending a decision on a writ of habeas corpus. Mrs. Morris who said she had lived in peace and quiet of the neighborhood. The decision, expected last week, is still pending.

Gradieks Bring Suit Against Symborsky

Suit for $25,000 in damages was filed yesterday in Circuit Court by Mrs. John E. Gradieks, Sanford, against Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Symborsky, apparently from New Jersey, charging that Mrs. Gradieks suffered considerable injury and pain as the result of an automobile accident Oct. 28 in front of the plaintiffs' residence, 2008 South Park Avenue.

Information which has been filed with the Circuit Court clerk claims that Mr. Symborsky ran into an automobile parked by Evelyn C. Higgins and that Mrs. Gradieks, who was outside the vehicle talking to the occupants, was knocked to the ground. Among injuries listed were sprains of the cervical and lumbar regions of the spine and a possible fractured vertebra. Also, the information contends, she incurred medical bills and loss of salary when unable to work.

The plaintiffs also contend that Mr. Symborsky was operating a car while under the influence of intoxicants. Gordon V. Frederick is the attorney for the plaintiffs.

Priceless Pages Of Famed Papers Will Be Moved Under Super Guard

WASHINGTON — The six priceless pages of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States will be moved under heavy guard tomorrow to their new fireproof, bombproof home.

The transfer of the documents from the Library of Congress to the National Archives Building will be made with the fanfare and turnout of guards, of a presidential parade.

Brig. Gen. Sylvie O. Ross, commanding general of the U. S. Air Force's Headquarters Command, will lead the military escort.

Both sides of the streets between the two buildings will be lined by a cordon of men and women of the armed services.

A flying wedge of motorcycle police will lead a procession including armored cars carrying the documents, two light tanks, ceremonial troops of the Army, Marine Corps, Navy and Air Force, a color detail, the Army band and the drum and bugle corps of the Air Force.

In addition, about two dozen men will be directly involved in the physical transfer. Two members of the Armed Services police department will carry each of the six crates, with additional policemen guarding them on the way.

The six leaves of parchment comprising the documents—one for the Declaration and five for the Constitution—are sealed in separate glass cases filled with helium, and specially created for the transfer.

An formal dedication installation of the documents in the shrine of the National Archives Exhibition Hall is scheduled Monday.

Ike Letter Of Oct. 24 Is Quoted As Saying US Won't Quit Korea

Opponents In Segregation Case

JOHN W. DAVIS, former U. S. Supreme Court Justice, and Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the National Youth Alliance, today quoted President elect Eisenhower as saying on Oct. 24 "We are not going to withdraw from Korea and close our boys in Communist prison camps."

General Told Publisher "We Won't Leave Our Boys In Communist Prison Camps"

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. — Basil Brewer, publisher of the New Bedford Standard Times, today quoted President elect Eisenhower as saying on Oct. 24 "We are not going to withdraw from Korea and close our boys in Communist prison camps."

Brewer said he delayed making public what he called Eisenhower's "long range views toward ending the Korean conflict until the President elect had completed the visit to Korea he promised during the campaign.

The correspondence between the publisher and Eisenhower was published today in the Standard Times.

Brewer said a letter from the general, dated Oct. 24 from Detroit, stated in part:

"There is no easy or early solution of the Korean situation. To the contrary, I have said that this is the only which our vacillating opinion took us unprepared. It is one part of a global problem which must eventually be solved on a worldwide basis.

"Frankly, other solutions I have for a long time advocated stepping out of the Republic of Korea, troops in far greater numbers, and a ROK training and armament program being properly initiated and vigorously pressed. American and United Nations troops could by this time occupy more strategic roles and reserve positions, giving assurance that the ROKs would not suffer from an all-out enemy strike.

"We are not going to withdraw from Korea and leave our boys in Communist prison camps."

Two Americans Issue Of Racial Segregation Is In Court's Hands

WASHINGTON — The issue of racial segregation in public schools now rests with the Supreme Court. The bitterly disputed question which the court must decide is whether separate schools for Negro and white children are constitutional.

Arguments ended yesterday. It may be several months before the court will announce its decision on the issue.

The case, which is known as Brown v. Board of Education, involves the desegregation of public schools in Topeka, Kan.

The Supreme Court has heard arguments in the case since October 1951. The court has heard arguments in the case since October 1951.

Admit Of Membership And Tell Why They Gave Up Party

UNITED NATIONS — The U. S. State Department has set up a confidential committee to consult with the Justice Department on ways and means of supplying secret information to Soviet and American subscribers employed by the U. S. U. S. U. S.

The final decision, however, is left to President Truman, who in the past has asked for such information in order to deal with the spotlighted problem of U. S. Reds in U. S. employ.

NEW YORK — Two Americans employed by the United Nations say they once were members of the Communist party but dropped out because they disapproved of Communist aims.

Their admissions at an open hearing yesterday drew praise from Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.), member of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee probing alleged American subversives in the U. S.

Praised by Ferguson were John Charrow, a reports officer for the U. S. International Children's Emergency Fund, and Mrs. Evelyn Thaler, secretary to Konstantin E. Zinchenko of Russia, assistant U. S. secretary general for Security Council.

Court Okays Ban On Newspaper Pickets

FALLAHANSEE — The Florida Supreme Court today approved a ban on newspaper pickets in Miami.

Justice Frank Robinson writing the court opinion, said that in connection with the labor dispute in drawing a "reasonable inference" that some members were responsible for acts of violence in the strike.

The strike started in 1948. Picketing was halted by court order in 1951.

Plans Are Made For Rezoning Of New Hospital Area

Rezoning proposals are being prepared by the City Planning Commission for presentation at a public hearing at 8:00 p. m. next Friday at the City Hall, James G. McLaughlin, commission chairman, said today.

The first matter on the agenda deals with rezoning a new type of zone, tentatively called restricted business zone, which would confine an area to small types of business with off-the-street parking, he said.

With this matter deals with rezoning the site of the new County hospital, now classified as R-1A, single family, one-story dwelling with a minimum area of 1,000 square feet. Mr. Galt said the commission has made the proposal to rezone the area of the site, west of Melloni Avenue to Chapman Avenue and north of East Second Street. The zoning which the commission proposes would compensate for the hospital, the WFLR radio station building and the memory, he said.

A third matter deals with rezoning of French Avenue to its entire length to a retail commercial classification, while a fourth deals with rezoning a portion of Diamond subdivision from R-1A, single-story, one-family dwelling with an area of 1,000 square feet, to R-1A, he stated.

FRIDAY, DEC. 12, 1952

Many people are beginning to learn that in an unstable economy it is impossible to make wages keep pace with rising prices.

We see where Russian scientists have invented a camera which will take 12 photographs inside the stomach at one time. Uncle Joe must be suffering from indigestion.

Senator Lodge says that what this country needs is a foreign policy based upon high moral principles. And it needs a domestic policy similarly based.

Secretary Acheson says he is looking forward to a trip to the West Indies shortly after Jan. 20.
All in the world he wants now is a little island where he can get away from it all.

More than $1,340,000 worth of really sales were reported in Brevard county during November bringing the total to more than $12,000,000 so far for the year.
Titusville, Cocoa and Melbourne are really growing.

Not only is Sanford growing,
and Florida, but the whole country is growing. The Census Bureau estimates there will be a labor force in this country of 89,000,000 persons by 1975. There were about 64,000,000 in 1950.

Florida citrus growers rejoice over the news that the orange crop for this year will probably be four million boxes less than previously estimated. Prices should be higher.
But it is a poor policy that has to depend upon an economy of scarcity for success.

Although Florida highways leave much to be desired, this state has more registered automobiles, not counting tourist cars, than any other state in the South except Texas and North Carolina, both of which are much larger in population.

Members of the State Road Department for the coming year will be Richard B. Simpson, chairman of Monticello; Earl Powell, Gainesville; J. Saxton Lloyd, Daytona Beach; Thomas B. Manuel, Fort
Lauderdale; and Howard Franklin
Tampa.

If you want to know why there is so much traffic congestion on Florida highways, why it is so important to build new highways, discuss these facts. Since 1949, only three years ago, the number of motor vehicle titles issued in Florida has increased from 375,000 in 1949 to 910,000 in 1951. And the number is still increasing. The only way to justify not building new roads is to maintain that we should stop selling new automobiles.

Governor-elect McCarty names
Sam Davis of Tampa as head of the State Beverage Department, one of the most difficult law enforcement jobs in the state. But Davis is a good man, was head of the Tampa Crime Commission, knows a good deal about the Florida underworld. He also served in the South Pacific during the last war and was a football star at the University of Florida during the 1930s. He is president of an insurance agency and has made a success of his own business.

Nearly one and a half million cigarettes were collected from the State cigarette tax during the month of October alone. Of this amount $239,684.22 went into the State's general revenue fund; the balance was distributed among the various cities and towns in Florida.
The State received $7,500,397.
By way of comparison with terms of comparable size, Key West got $228,000, Ocala $9,750, Palmetto
$100,000, Deland $8,750, Ft. Pierce
$100,000, Ft. Myers $9,750,
Gainesville $9,750. The amount collected by any city or county depends upon the number of cigarettes sold.

Christmas Trees

Be sure to pitch out that old Christmas tree before the natural pitch and resin in it burn you out. The warning came from the National Safety Council today as millions of Americans prepared to buy and set up Christmas trees, the traditional symbol of yuletide gaiety, in their homes.

A fir tree is filled with pitch and resin, the Council pointed out, and is one of the most combustible objects known. Once ignited, it burns so rapidly it is almost impossible to extinguish the fire. To help prevent Christmas tree fires, the Council offers 14 simple precautions:

1. Buy a fresh tree — and choose a small one. It's less dangerous. Be wary of trees sold as "fireproof." And don't attempt to flameproof Christmas trees with chemical solutions.
2. Keep your tree in a cool place — an unheated garage is fine — until ready to use it.
3. Before setting up the tree, saw off diagonally at least an inch of trunk, and place base in water-containing holder. Keep water well above diagonal cut at all times.
4. Locate your tree well away from fireplaces, radiators, television sets, powerful electric light and other sources of heat.
5. Never use candles for decorations. Use only electric lights, and be sure these and wiring bear the Underwriter's Laboratories label. Always check wires for defects and loose sockets before putting them on tree.
6. Since too many light circuits in one outlet may overload the house wiring and blow a fuse, distribute the load among several outlets. A blown fuse means too many lights on one circuit. Reduce the load or connect part to another circuit outlet. Never increase size of fuse, or substitute a penny for a blown fuse.
7. Turn off the tree lights when no one is to be in the room for any length of time.
8. Don't operate electric trains under the tree.
9. Dispose of Christmas gift wrappings at once.
10. Use only artificial "snow" and decorations of the flameproofed or non-combustible type for trimming your tree.
11. In all places of public assemblage, locate trees away from stairs and other exits, and station competent watchers with fire extinguishers or water pails nearby. Keep aisles and exits clear, and plan ahead to avoid panic.
12. Move the Christmas tree lights if the tree's needles near them turn brown. And when the needles start to fall, take the tree down and discard it.
13. Dispose of old trees in fire-safe areas outdoors — not in furnaces, stoves, or fireplaces — because Christmas trees burn with almost explosive violence.
14. In case of fire, call the fire department immediately.

Problem Solved

A group of businessmen in Allentown, Pennsylvania, demonstrated that the solution of a community's problems often depends on the initiative of its citizens. They were troubled by the reports of the national shortage of trained nurses and they saw evidence of that shortage in Allentown. It was discovered that many girls who would have liked to enter nursing were unable to do so because of the amount of money necessary to purchase text books, uniforms and equipment. The businessmen established a scholarship fund which at present stands at $21,000. In 1951 there were 57 student nurses in the freshman class at the Allentown hospital. In 1952 there were 88 freshmen enrolled. The problem of the nurse shortage affects every community. Some may be too small to establish an effective scholarship program, others may already have such a program to encourage the study of nursing. But it is well to note how the businessmen of Allentown led the way to the solution of the problem in their city.

Tito Turns West

Bit by bit Yugoslavia's Marshall Tito is shifting his basic viewpoint and co-operating with the free nations of the west. Much of this co-operation is offered as his country aids NATO in its Balkan plans. Tito still holds tenaciously to his philosophy of collectivism and the one party system but has made a number of compromises and accepted liberal elements of several western governments.

This is a far cry from Belgrade's first statements after severing connections with Moscow. Then there were repetitions of Russian ideology and foreign policy. Now all that is changed. Tito realizes that if he is to be free of Russian domination, his first step probably must be a tight defensive alliance with Turkey and Greece. Further integration with the NATO plan is very likely to come later.

If it does not — if Tito somehow turns away from the west and once more seeks the favor of Russia — he and his country will be very sorry. He needs the support of the free world quite as much as it needs him.

THE WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — MacArthur will have to explain, if any explaining is done, why he chose to say "there is a solution" to the Korean War in a public speech instead of quietly telling President Truman, President-elect Eisenhower or the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Early on Friday, Dec. 5, the news came from Korea that Eisenhower, fulfilling his campaign promise to go there to look for a solution, had ended his visit and didn't think there were any easy answers. This may have been a disappointment to anyone who thought Eisenhower could provide a quick way out.

That night MacArthur made his speech before the National Association of Manufacturers in New York. He said he felt sure there is a solution. Eisenhower had gone all the way to Korea for a solution but said he found no easy one.

This can't be interpreted as an attempt by MacArthur, after learning that Eisenhower was offering no golden hopes, to rush in immediately on a more affirmative note.

MacArthur had written his speech at least one day before news of Eisenhower's Korean visit broke. Copies of the MacArthur speech were released on Thursday, Dec. 4 — in published in morning papers Dec. 6, since he would deliver it on the night of Dec. 5.

It probably had been prepared before Dec. 4 because the NAM is not in the habit of inviting its main speakers at the last minute. But apparently only an accident in timing prevented MacArthur from getting nation-wide publicity as the man who had a solution at the very moment when the whole country was waiting to see if Eisenhower could come up with one.

Churchmen Renew Traditional View On Church, State

By EDWARD G. ETHELL

DENVER (AP) — Leaders of 30 Protestant churches today reaffirmed traditional separation of church and state but asked their 35 million members to live by Christian principles and halt a drift of American government from religious tenets.

They called for more religious education in schools and colleges but said parochial schools should receive no government aid. They demanded a halt to religious and racial discrimination. They encouraged church members to seek political office as a way to halt corruption.

In a formal message to their home churches, clergy and lay leaders backed up statements by members of President-elect Eisenhower's official family that America can lead the way to lasting peace only by showing that freedom works in this country.

The message was presented at the concluding session of the biennial General Assembly of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. Officials said it would be adopted formally this afternoon with only a few minor changes in wording.

The message represents thoughts expressed in six days of almost continuous conferences here and there.

As it turned out, the news of the Eisenhower trip got so much prominence in the Dec. 8 morning papers, and required so much space, that MacArthur and his suggestion of a solution were buried on the inside pages of those papers which printed the story at all.

But MacArthur got back into the headlines quickly when Eisenhower's speech was reported. There is a possibility, however, that MacArthur's speech will be forgotten in the days to come.

MacArthur's speech was reported in the headlines of the morning papers and it was reported in the headlines of the morning papers and it was reported in the headlines of the morning papers.

Sanford Forum

Mr. R. L. Dean, Editor
Sanford Herald
Sanford, Florida
Dear Mr. Dean:
In the Herald of November 28, you comment erroneously in regard to the "Warrior Fund" of the Unemployment Compensation Division of the Florida Industrial Commission, and, knowing editors as I do, having been one myself, I feel sure that you do not want to misinform your public on a matter that concerns our whole social structure.

In the first place, let me call your attention to the fact that the Social Security Act of 1935 is a Federal Act. The Unemployment Compensation Act was merely a part of that Act, and provided for a 3% payroll tax to meet weekly payments to those who were laid off and without employment, through no fault of their own. The act, however, were given the option of paying the tax and passing a similar law, with privilege of modification to meet state needs, or rejecting the Act and leaving the matter of administration with the Federal Government. Under this Federal Government the 3% became a fixed payroll tax; under acceptance by the state government, the employer had the privilege of paying the tax to meet weekly payments to those who were laid off and without employment, through no fault of their own. The average present tax rate therefore is 57%, and not 2.7% as it would have been under Federal administration in January 1939. Florida employers have saved some 20 million dollars that otherwise they would have had to pay to the Federal Government.

It might interest you to know that some 1,600 employers in Florida now enjoy the zero rate, and are exempt from the 2.7% rate by the law of maximum of employer time, a perfect record of employee turnover, which means no change in personnel.

Again, the 80 million dollars held in reserve for the State of Florida are "earmarked" funds and cannot, under the law, be used for "building schools, highways, hospitals, etc.," but only for the payment of the purchase for which it was created — weekly payments to unemployed workers.

This 80 million dollars is not in debt; it is invested and earns a dividend of over $1,500,000 annually.

Of course, you as a businessman, know that this tax is not paid by the employer — it is ultimately paid by the consumer. As an item in the cost of doing business, the same as rent, insurance, services, etc., it is charged to overhead expense, and price increase to cover the cost of purchase of materials, and the regular profit added thereto. The consumer, you and I, and the workers, even those most benefitted, in fact all of us, pay the tax in the cost of everything we buy in the open market.

And finally, let me call to your attention the fact that fundamentally, this is an economic measure. The 80 million of dollars will eventually be returned to the state in weekly installments to benefit not only the unemployed worker, but also through no fault of his own, but to benefit society in general through a more stabilized business economy.

"Mad Dog" Killer Will Be Executed Today

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — William E. Cook, "mad dog" killer who spread terror across the Southwest in an orgy of murder and kidnaping two years ago, dies in San Quentin's gas chamber today.

The slight, 5-foot 4-inch dishwasher, now only 23, got his death sentence for the killing of Robert Dewey, Seattle salesman — just one of the six persons Cook boasted of slaying. All were killed in cold blood just because they happened to get in the way of his crime career.

The 300-year-old San Quentin catraz for the kidnaping of the five members of the Carl Mosser family of Atwood, Ill. He dumped their bodies in a zinc pit near Joplin, Mo.

Federal Judge Stephen Chandler of Oklahoma City, who sentenced Cook for the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Mosser and their three children, said the killer was incurably insane.

But an Imperial County, California, Superior Court jury decided the wavy-haired slayer was sane when he shot Dewey to death. Cook's savage rampage began shortly after Christmas, 1950, when he kidnaped the Mossers in their car near Oklahoma City. He was captured several weeks later in Mexico.

Miss Appleby Given Party By Mrs. Rucker

Miss Nancy Jean Appleby, whose marriage to Claude Hendrick will be an event of Dec. 18, was honored last night with a lovely party given by Mrs. H. Wayne Rucker at her home in San Juan. Bright red gladioli were used in decorating the living room, and upon the arrival of the honor guest she was presented with a miniature bridal nosegay.
Refreshments were served by Mrs. Rucker in the dining room. The refreshment table was overlaid with a lace cloth at one end of which was a silver coffee service presided over by Mrs. M. R. Strickland. In the center of the table were a small bride and groom under an arch of bridal flowers and greenery. The arrangement was flanked on either side with white burning tapers. Silver and crystal appointments held small white cakes, sand-wiches, date bars, nut nibbles, salted nuts, and mints which were served with the coffee.
On the buffet was a beautiful arrangement of white poinsettias and chrysanthemums with feathery green foliage arranged with white tapers. Candles and white blossoms were also used in other arrangements in the room. During the evening Mrs. Robert Williams entertained with soft piano music.
Miss Appleby was given several togethies in her chosen pattern of crystal. About 35 guests were invited to be with Miss Appleby.

PERSONALS

Friends of Mrs. W. W. Dresser, formerly of Sanford and now of Tampa, will be interested to learn that she will celebrate her 85th birthday on Sunday. She is making her home with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McClelland.

Mrs. Ganus Speaks At Central Meeting
Mrs. Fred Ganus was the guest speaker for the meeting of the Central Circle of the Garden Club held yesterday. Mrs. H. M. Papworth was hostess to the meeting which began at 9:15 a. m. Christmas arrangements of native materials were discussed and demonstrated by Mrs. Ganus to make up a timely and interesting program.
Mrs. E. G. Kilpatrick, Jr. led the business meeting and the group decided to place arrangements of native plants and flowers in the Tourist Center during the month of March. Following the meeting Mrs. Papworth served a delicious dessert course.
Those present were Mrs. Kilpatrick, Mrs. W. B. Nicholson, Mrs. Francis Holz, Mrs. B. C. Moser, Mrs. A. C. Benson, Mrs. Ira E. Southward, the hostess, and two guests, Mrs. Ganus and Mrs. R. J. Holly.

PLAY IS PRESENTED BY THEATER GUILD
Members of the audience formed the jury last night in the play, "The Night of January 16th," which depicts a murder trial, presented by the Sanford Theater Guild at the Court House.
The production will be presented again tonight promptly at 8:15 o'clock.
Members of the jury were A. B. Peterson Jr., foreman, Mrs. S. G. Hartman, Frank Evans, Mrs. Jewel Sasser, A. B. Peterson Sr., Marcel Ruelle, Mrs. Miriam Russell, John Adams, E. E. Tucker, Mrs. Charles Gunn and O. K. Goff. The verdict of the jury is being withheld so as not to affect the decision of tonight's jury, which also will be taken from the audience.
People from the audience were hearty in congratulating the cast for the performance which they staged. Mrs. A. B. Peterson Sr. remarked today the play was "well presented" and that members of the Guild "really deserved a big hand." Others who had high praise for the production were Mrs. Ella Howard and Mrs. Simon Dingfelder.

Hints to Housewives

The food farm families can produce for their own tables has traditionally been one of the advantages of living on a farm. The fruits and vegetables, milk, eggs, poultry, meat and other food products can furnish themselves has allowed farm people generally to eat better for less money than city people. Many studies have shown that the more of their own food farm families produce, the better and less expensive their diets, according to the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture.
Home production takes time and labor, however, and the trend now is for the farm home-maker to lighten her work by buying more of the labor-saving food products on the market. Even though experience with food varieties during the war and the recent popularity of home freezers gave new impetus to home food production, the stronger and increasing trend seems to be away from it.
A danger worth noting is that farm family diets may rate lower nutritionally, even though the home-maker saves time and labor. In the post-war years the number of vegetable gardens on farms has declined, yet these are important in keeping farm diets up to par in such important vitamins as A and C and in important minerals.
For money-saving as well as for good nutrition, home production of food deserves the farm family's consideration. Latest reports from five areas, three in the South, indicate that from one-third to two-thirds of the total money value of farm food is supplied by home production. Even on highly specialized farms, it offers considerable savings. For example, on tobacco farms in the South the value of home-produced food averaged nearly $700 per family in the latest survey.

That wonderful and oh-so-true editorial in Thursday's "Celebrity" by Margaret Morrison, who is an associate editor of our paper, was really worth reading. In case you didn't have an opportunity to read this and also for the benefit of the townspeople, I'd like to print her article in hopes that will convince one and all just how much we think of and respect our high school and therefore we want all of you to know that we would be pleased to have you...

Some of our town's leading business men would have one believe that during the three minutes the 125 students can do to change classes, students can do go all the way to the other end of the hall to their lockers to put up books, get the books for the next period down to their classrooms, and still have time to "muck" in the halls for at least five or ten minutes. In accordance with most corporations this is impossible; if someone can find a way to accomplish this feat, please submit it to Ripley's Believe It or Not.

A Child's Life of Jesus is one of the last books written by the late Fulton Oursler, noted author of such volumes as The Greatest Story Ever Told, The Greatest Book Ever Written, etc. This presentation of Mr. Oursler's book has been specially illustrated for newspaper publication by the well-known artist, Neil O'Keefe.

CHAPTER I
One winter's night, long, long ago, God, who made the sun and the rain and the rivers and the flowers and all the silver stars and everything on the earth and in the sky, did a new and wonderful thing.

He sent His own dear Son down from Heaven to join the world and live with people like you and me or a while.

CHAPTER II
One angel spoke to the shepherds: "Great news. A Saviour is born here. Christ was born!" The shepherds could hardly believe their ears. Christ was born! This was the first Christmas Day.

Radio Amateurs In Soviet Russia Are Enthusiastic Body

By THOMAS F. WHITNEY
AP Newfeatures
MOSCOW—Soviet radio amateurs are as enthusiastic about their hobby as radio amateurs anywhere else in the world.

They have a mass organization which includes hundreds of thousands of children, youths and adults. Thousands of radio amateur "circles" in the U.S.S.R. assist their members to study that phase of radio technique in which they are most interested.

They are helped and supported in their work by the Pioneers (the Soviet children's organization), by the Ministry of Communications of the U.S.S.R., and by the three organization known as DOBAAF ("The All-Union Voluntary Society for Assistance to the Army, Navy and Fleet.")

End Of Controls Urged At Closing Of Farm Meeting

SEATTLE, Dec. 12. — Elimination of wage and price controls, a curbing of the federal sale of electric power and return of tidelands control to coastal states were demanded in closing sessions of the American Farm Bureau Federation convention here yesterday.

Action on these matters came as the federation's delegates stamped their approval on a 72-page report by the Resolutions Committee.

The delegates also called for flexible farm price support and criticized monopolistic power by "industry, labor, agriculture or the government itself."

Labor came in for a separate going over in a report on labor-management relations which noted what it called the trend toward labor monopoly.

The attack on price and wage controls came in a section of the committee's report devoted to national economic policies. The controls, it said, "have no place in this coordinated attack on the inflation problem. Price and wage controls impede the control of inflation by diverting attention from the fundamental requirements of a sound program."

"By wasting manpower, creating confusion and disrupting business procedures and relationships, ceilings make the job of getting necessary production vastly more difficult."

The report on public power said "the production, transmission and distribution of power should be primarily a function of private enterprise, either cooperative or non-cooperative. The entry of the federal government into the power business should be restricted to those instances in which private enterprise or state governments are not able or willing to assume responsibility for such development."

And, the delegates agreed, when the government does construct a dam, the right to generate power at the dam site should be sold to private enterprise or to states or their political subdivisions.

Wounded Student In Critical Condition

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — An Auburn football player who was accidentally shot in the head remained in very critical condition at a Birmingham hospital today.

Weaver Henderson, 19-year-old Manchester, Ga., sophomore, was struck here after the accident at Alabama Polytechnic Institute yesterday. Doctors said his brain suffered extensive damage.

Henderson was riding with Jackie Creel, Dothan, Ala., track star, when a shotgun he was holding discharged. Creel told school authorities.

Patrolmen escorted an ambulance which made the 125-mile dash to Birmingham in 110 minutes.

Creel said Henderson started to shoot a squirrel while riding, then pulled the shotgun back into the car when Creel said he saw a car approaching.

"Then I heard the shot," Creel related. "I looked at Weaver and noticed a hole in the upholstery above the door. Then I saw him fall over."

"I rushed him to Drake Infirmary as soon as I could."

Henderson was a substitute end who was held out of play this fall. He had played high school football at Fitzgerald, Ga.

Charnow testified he was a Communist in Washington, D. C., for about a year in 1938. Asked why he joined the party, Charnow said: "I searched for answers to the world's problems. I discovered the answers. I was not possible to suggest any ideas differing from the party line."

Thaler testified she joined the Communist party in 1942 for about a year.

She said she has given the committee the names of those who noticed an anti-party unit in New York City.

Asked why she joined, Mrs. Thaler replied: "I was stupid. I didn't think it meant anything and I got bored and went away."

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev.), adjourned the hearings indefinitely at the end of yesterday's testimony.

Christmas, Florida Has Yuletide Spirit

CHRISTMAS, Fla. — The 200 or so persons in this little community are out to make every day Christmas Day.

As a step in this direction they planted a permanent Christmas tree recently.

Weatherproof ornaments were substituted for the usual fragile kind. Any day you drive through Christmas you'll see a full-blown Christmas tree.

In addition to planting and decorating the new tree, the residents have been busy with the usual flood of Christmas mail.

Mrs. Junilia Tucker, the postmaster who inherited the job from her mother-in-law in 1932, handled about 200,000 pieces of mail last Christmas — with the help of 12 other women.

Mrs. Tucker says she expects ten more mail this year. Central Florida residents and lots of tourists as well drive to the town to see their cards and presents will have the added touch of a "Christmas" postmark.

It was MacArthur's duty as a soldier to report to the President if he has any plan for peace in Korea.

"Ike is not going to get into any quarrel with Truman," one of Eisenhower's close friends said. "He's going to see Gen. MacArthur, as he said he would, to get MacArthur's views on the best way to bring peace to the Far East. He is not going to become involved in any fight over it."

"Ike will stand on the sidelines in the Truman-MacArthur affair," another associate said. "Truman has said some harsh things about Ike, but it's my guess that (Eisenhower) won't make a reply."

The President virtually closed the door yesterday on proposals for a meeting with Eisenhower and MacArthur. He said he believes such a meeting would serve no useful purpose.

MacArthur implied last week he had a new plan for peace in Korea.

Porpoises May Be Original Users Of 'Sonar' Equipment

By CHRIS MacGILL.

TALLAHASSEE. — Porpoises may have been swimming with the aid of sonar long before man ever developed it as a help to navigation.

Sonar is a method of navigating with the aid of sound waves bounced back from surrounding objects. The possibility that porpoises use it is suggested by two scientists of the Florida State University Oceanographic Institute.

Writing in the magazine Science, W. N. Kellogg and Robert Kohler reported on experiments with captive porpoises. Marine biologists at Maryland, Fla., and at Miami in the Bahama Islands.

Method Uncertain

They said porpoises either can hear sounds far too high on the scale for human detection or have an as yet unidentified organism which reacts to high frequency vibrations in water.

If their ears are capable of picking up extremely high sounds "it follows as a unique possibility that porpoises may not only hear (high) frequencies . . . but that they may also produce or emit ultrasonic vibrations."

The inference seemed inescapable that the porpoise, like the bat, may orient itself with respect to objects in its environment by echolocation—that is, by the reflection of its own sound waves.

The scientists said porpoises are extremely fast swimmers and often visit murky waters or travel at night when they would be unable to navigate or hunt food by sight.

Just a Theory

The porpoises "may consequently have used sonar long before it was ever thought of by man," Kohler and Kellogg wrote. They warned, however, that the theory should be regarded as present only as an "interesting speculation, in that it is not verified and has not been tested in the future."

Though found in the ocean, porpoises are not fish but mammals of the same order as whales. The common variety of porpoise usually doesn't grow longer than five feet.

"Human Fly" Scales Bank Building Before 2,000

56-Year-Old Has To Use Rope, Hooks; Actor Stands On Head On Rooftop

By KENT CHETLAIN
Awesome illusions of the 2,000, or more spectators, who thronged around the Sanford Atlantic National Bank Building last night to watch the "world famed" human fly, one Johnnie J. Woods, were slowly dashed in face of numerous melodramatic orations and climbing aides.

The fever pitch excitement that forced the thousands to brave the chilly winds and choked off traffic on First Street between Park and Magnolia Avenues, turned almost into mockery as the 56-year-old climber slowly crept up the bank building to the top by employing ropes at the precipitous corners and hooks on the lofty window sills.

Woods, a former vaudeville actor, over employed the now dead oratorical stage dramas even before his ascent. With almost each successful hurdle, the husky actor belted out through his megaphone how cold it was and why he must use the ropes, hooks and ladders.

Some of the children, trying of these obvious obstacles began chanting, "I could do better than that." A plea for donations before the climber further chilled the crowd as the Civil Air Patrol's cadets and Mr. Woods went among the cold and anxious spectators for money.

Woods added a rather humorous touch to the whole "spectacle" when, after climbing to the first floor window, he climbed down a ladder inside the building and used the elevator to get to another window, which was equipped with a special rope that reached around the first cornice to the third floor window.

It was particularly humorous in view of his pre-climbing boast about never using an elevator but instead always climbing to the roof of bank buildings just to meet the president.

During the first cornice climbing feat, Woods stepped through one of the French windows, which touched off another excuse to speak to his audience at the next "resting" ledge.

Abolish Two-Platoon System In Football, Says AP Sportswriter

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK (AP) — When the National Football Rules Committee meets next month it should:

1. Rule out the two-platoon system.
2. Allow unlimited substitution.
3. Clarify the pass interference rule so as to (A) inflict fewer penalties on doubtful interference and (B) protect the receiver from roughness because interference isn't called.
4. Do away with the so-called "sucker shift."
5. Eliminate the dangerous "helmet block."
6. Return the goal posts to the goal line.
7. Permit running with recovered fumbles.
8. Do away with fumbles entirely.
9. Require a fifth official to watch for downfield infractions.
10. Eliminate a couple of the officials who keep getting in the way or at least take their whistles away.

It's all very simple. All the rules-makers have to do is figure out the wording of new rules to bring about all these things and a few more.

Actually these 10 points take in the most frequent suggestions offered by sports writers and broadcasters replying to the Associated Press post-season questionnaire. There were many others and a solid bloc who voted "leave the rules alone."

By MERCEUR BAILEY
ATLANTA (AP) — Presidents of Southeastern Conference schools convened today in executive session to start fashioning an athletic program for next year.

In the pro-bowl SEC, participation in post-season classics isn't an issue—but the money involved is. A plan before the presidents called for a calling on the amount of bowl money a school could keep.

Present rules require a school to give the Conference 25 per cent of its bowl receipts to defray operating expenses. A plan offered by Dean N. W. Dougherty of Tennessee would limit the 25 per cent to the Conference, invoke an arbitrary limit on the bowl team's take, and divide the rest of the purse, if any, among other SEC schools.

Other major problems confronting the annual meeting of SEC presidents, coaches and athletic directors include freshman eligibility, grants-in-aid and television.

Winter Park Tops Seminole Quintet In Opener, 52-30

Winter Park's mastery of the boards, floor game and shooting accuracy proved too much for the young Seminole quintet as the Wildcats scored an easy 52-30 victory over the Calory Feels at the SHS gym today.

It was the opening game of both teams. "Biddy" Biddix was the high scorer pouring in 14 points, closely followed by Don Kniber for the winners.

Newcomer Gordon Clark and Junior Metts shared the high point honors for the losers getting eight each. The Parkers opened with a sudden rush of 13 points while mesmerizing the Feels to a single marker in the initial period.

Thereafter the Seminoles picked up a little with a half-time margin of 27-10 reading in favor of the winners. Sanford almost kept pace with Winter Park in the last two periods by scoring 20 points to the Feels' 11.

Hellcats Keep 1st Place By Winning 2-1 Over Bobcats

VJ-62 Bowling League's front running Hellcats maintained their winning pace by handing the Bobcats two licks in a three-game series last Tuesday night at the Sanford Bowling Alley.

The score of the match, played under a blazing sun, was 1-6, 1-8, 6-2, 6-2, 13-11.

All the thrills were packed into the final set which required 50 minutes to play compared to only 24 minutes for the first two sets.

The Indians reached match point three times in the 14th, 16th and 20th games, but couldn't get the winning point when they needed it.

Italy now will need to win only one of Saturday's concluding singles to qualify for the interstate final against the United States next week at Sydney. Misra is scheduled to meet Fausto Gardini in the first singles while Kumar and Roberto del Bello finish it off.

It was learned after today's match that Misra suffered either a hernia or rupture in the closing stages and probably will be unable to play Saturday. In that case his place will be taken by George Bassant who originally was brought along as manager. Misra was taken to a hospital.

Seldom is such a radical reversal of form seen in first class tennis as befell each pair in turn in the first four sets today.

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Italy's veteran Davis Cup pair of Gianni Cucelli and Marcello del Bello rallied from the brink of defeat today to defeat India's stubborn combination of Sumant Misra and Naresh Kumar in a five-setter and give their country a 2-1 lead in the interzone semi-final.

Ford Leads Miami $10,000 Open With One Stroke Lead

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Doug Ford, a young pro from Harrison, N. Y., who learned the secrets of Miami golf courses when he was stationed here as a coast guardman during the war, took a one-stroke lead into the second round of the $10,000 Miami Open tournament today.

While the favorites flourished in a 26-mile-an-hour wind that raked the 7,010-yard Miami Springs municipal course, Ford carved a steady three-under-par 67 in Thursday's first 18-hole stretch.

Ford, competing in a field of 160 players from 39 states and five foreign countries, finished his opening round a stroke ahead of Art Wall Jr., another comparative newcomer to the pro ranks, and Johnny Palmer of Charlotte, N. C.

In fourth place with 69 was Jack Burke of Houston, Tex., who set a sensational pace on the winter circuit last year. Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla.; Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N. C.; and John Cuzzano of Miami.

This tournament will decide the two-man fight between Burke and Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N. Y. for the Vardon trophy awarded annually to the golfer with the best average score for the year on the PGA circuit.

Going into the Miami Open, Kroll led with an average of 70.74 for 100 rounds of tournament golf. Burke's average for 74 rounds was 70.66. Kroll shot a 71 Thursday.

The tournament became a wide-open affair when defending champion Sam Snead passed it up to make a movie in Hollywood. Another conspicuous absentee is National Open champion Julius Boros.

State's Squirrel Hunting Is Aided By Acorn Growth

TALLAHASSEE (Special) — A good acorn crop during the past year has helped Florida's squirrel population and hunting for this species this year should be better than the last shooting season, it was stated today by biologists of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

There are three species of squirrel here in the State, with two of them—the grey or cat squirrel and the fox squirrel—considered game animals. The flying squirrel, found everywhere but in the southern part of the State, is non-protected.

Smaller of the two game species, the grey squirrel is found chiefly in dense, broad-leaved forests and cypress swamps. The fox squirrel is an open placewoods animal and falls as easy prey to hunters. Fox squirrels are slow and awkward in their movements and are considered to be inferior to the grey squirrel in sporting qualities and popularity as game animals.

Squirrel food consists mainly of acorns, nuts, pine seeds, cypress balls, buds, and a variety of grains and tender vegetation. Fox squirrels are particularly destructive to pine cones and either squirrel is capable of causing considerable damage to citrus fruits, pecans and cultivated crops adjacent to woodlands.

Both species build their nests from twigs and leaves up in tree branches. Often they may select a deserted woodpecker hole or other similar tree cavity for their nests.

The squirrel's enemies are numerous, and only his constant watchfulness and agility permit him to exist at all. Major enemies are failure of acorn crops, destruction of mature forests, severe storms, disease, mankind and various predatory birds and animals.

The shooting season this year started Nov. 20 and will close Feb. 1, with a daily bag limit of 10 grey squirrels and one fox squirrel. Squirrels are valued highly for the food, sport and recreation they furnish hunters as well as their esthetic value to persons who see them in the parks and woodlands.

SEC Presidents Tackle "Money" Program In College Athletics

Other major problems confronting the annual meeting of SEC presidents, coaches and athletic directors include freshman eligibility, grants-in-aid and television.

Col. Blake R. Van Leer, president of Georgia Tech, strongly opposes varsity status for freshmen and was slated to back a motion to end freshman eligibility. Indications were that other presidents, who have final authority, would go along with Van Leer, although most of the coaches would like to see freshmen remain available for varsity competition.

Opera "Carmen" Is Televised To Large Audience

TV Viewers On Closed Circuit Estimated At 60,000 Persons

By RAY KOHN

NEW YORK (AP)—When the Metropolitan Opera's famed golden curtain went up last night, a silver screen audience coast to coast settled back to enjoy the telecast of Bizet's "Carmen."

More than 3,000 opera lovers at the Met itself were joined electronically by thousands of other patrons in 27 cities. Total seating capacity of the theaters was estimated at 60,000. Reports on attendance ranged from half full to capacity.

The closed circuit telecast—viewers couldn't see it on your home TV set—unanimously was pleasing to the ear. But the picture reproduction got few good notices.

There was a sprinkling of ink in some movie houses but the bulk of the TV viewers wore their week day clothes and a few brought the children. Popcorn was banned in many of the film palaces.

The met prices ranged from $1.25 for standing room to an $8 top. The theater scale was $1.20 to $7.20—the top rate charged here in New York City.

The cross-country audience watched and listened to Rose Stevens in the title role, Richard Tucker as Don Jose, Nadine Conner as Micaela and Robert Merrill as Escamillo.

Cries of "bravo" at the Met echoed in the theaters, whose audiences behaved just about like that in the staid old house at 39th Street—some came in late, whistled a bit, applauded various numbers.

Fading and fuzziness of the pictures was general, but the audience didn't seem to mind too much.

Most of the complaints about picture reception came from theater managers and music critics.

Here are some reactions on the TV version:

Boston: "Sound excellent, quality of picture far from good."

Los Angeles: "Lobby comment—'wonderful' to 'terrible'."

Some fuzziness due to natural blurriness of TV picture. One movie exhibitor said: "This is the way we're going to get our customers back."

Kansas City: "Picture excellent, but sound superb." Audiences applauded as if live show.

Detroit: "Sound very good,

Comedian Skelton To Undergo Operation

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Suffering from a painful diaphragmatic hernia, comedian Red Skelton was scheduled to undergo surgery today at St. John's Hospital.

The ailment was diagnosed several days ago. Physicians at first thought they might be able to postpone surgery so the comic could resume filming his television shows.

However, friends said, the hernia permitted his stomach to push against his heart and lungs, causing breathing difficulties and other unpleasant symptoms.

Mrs. Georgia Skelton said her husband appeared jovial yesterday when she finally made his decision to get it over with as soon as possible.

Dr. Stanley Immerman and three specialists will operate. The surgery is expected to take from 3 to five hours.

"Red's public was unaware that he had been in excruciating pain since the beginning of his television stint this season," said his wife.

Commenting on recent reports of family dissension, Mrs. Skelton said: "Red and I still happen to get on love. He spoke to her at the hospital last night and to their children, Richard, 4½, and Valentina, 5½."

Six of his television shows have been filmed ahead.

closeups good, but long shots blurry. No fancy dress but theater omitted popcorn and potato chips."

Philadelphia: "Tone very clear and picture clear with occasional spots of fuzziness." "A few people bemoaned lack of color."

Chicago: "Sound good, picture comment ranged from 'not too excellent' to 'incredibly bad'."

Mink coats mingled with house dresses.

Baltimore: "Crowd included many servicemen." "Technically good, sound better than picture."

Not wildly enthusiastic, but few in applause for some big scenes. "One 60-second interruption due to technical troubles."

Cincinnati: "Overpriced." "Let her for the ear than for the eye."

Junior High By PENNY WALLER

The Student Council of Sanford Junior High sponsored their annual Crowell-Collier magazine sale from Oct. 30 to Nov. 13 of this year. With the money we are buying two water coolers.

For years we have needed water coolers in our school. We have managed to use the one in the lunch room but it is inconvenient for the seventh and eighth grades to go to the lunch room to get water when changing classes.

As the PTA realized our needs for fountains, they chose that as their project for last year. However, they were not able to raise enough money for their purchase. They did set aside the sum of $100 to be used toward the purchase of the water coolers, provided they were purchased before Jan. 1, 1953. So we are very happy and fortunate to receive the money.

Some weeks ago the student body voted unanimously to purchase the fountains which will be installed during the Christmas holidays. When we come back to school on Jan. 5 we will be happy to see the coolers, one upstairs and an identical one downstairs. They both have double bubblers. They are being purchased from the Sanford Electric Company and they both have a capacity of 12 gallons.

Thanks and hooray for the magazine sale!

End Of Shortages Of Pork Products Expected In State

PENSACOLA (AP)—You'll be able to get that breakfast bacon with no trouble once more.

The State Livestock Sanitary Board has lifted its five-month-old pork embargo for all practical purposes and says the action will eliminate any pork shortage in Florida.

The action came at a meeting here Thursday at which the board adopted a resolution permitting unrestricted entry to Florida of all pork from 22 states so long as it comes from animals slaughtered since Oct. 11.

The 22 states are those which either never have had their swine herds attacked by vesicular exanthema or have been free of it for at least 60 days.

The embargo was ordered July 23 to protect Florida hogs from several states. It is fatal to swine but does not affect humans.

States which have lifted quarantines more recently than 60 days ago may import pork to Florida if State Veterinarian C. Paul Vickers gives his approval.

All other states may import pork which has been subjected to

Mutual Sets Price Minimum On Citrus At $2.44 Per Crate

LAKELAND (AP)—Florida Citrus Mutual says the lowest acceptable price for early and midseason Florida oranges f. o. b. (at the packing house) should be $2.44 a box—19 cents more than it was.

Before the U. S. Department of Agriculture lowered its estimate of the Florida crop Wednesday, the lowest acceptable figure was $2.25.

The estimate placed the crop at 77 million boxes, four million less than on Nov. 10.

Mutual's directors announced Thursday the average value of a box of Florida oranges f. o. b. is now $2.81, 19 cents more than the $2.62 average value Wednesday.

The smaller the crop, the greater the competition is for it and the higher the price.

The directors also upped the season average value of oranges for canning from $1.10 to $1.30 a box, delivered to the canner.

Although the estimated size of the grapefruit crop remains the same, the value of grapefruit for canning also increased. Mutual explained that high orange prices can raise the grapefruit level.

The new value of grapefruit for canning is 74 cents a box, an increase of 14 cents.

Robert C. White, Mutual's economist, said the 77 million box orange crop likely would be used like this: 27 million boxes for fresh shipment, 10½ million for single strength juice, 2½ million for home use in Florida, one million for hot pack concentrate, 36 million for frozen concentrate.

Previously it had been estimated the concentrate industry would take about 40 million boxes.

The directors extended the voluntary supply adjustment program through Jan. 3. The program is designed to prevent flooding the markets. They suggested 2,000 cars of oranges and 900 cars of grapefruit as the maximum to be shipped the week ending Dec. 20, 700 cars of oranges and 600 of grapefruit for the week ending Dec. 27, and 1,000 cars of oranges and 800 of grapefruit for the week ending Jan. 3.

enough heat to kill the vesicular exanthema organisms. Raw pork may be sent in from all states except California, Pennsylvania and New Jersey cars to Florida processing plants.

Imports from those three states were barred because the board said they are doing nothing to curb their vesicular exanthema outbreaks.

States which have been free of the disease for 60 days or never have had it also may send live hogs to Florida.

Use Our Convenient Lay - Away Plan

Business Mirror By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK—The government is cutting back or stretching defense production with one eye on the other. It is signalling industry to come in and help up any of the slack.

Businessmen are debating whether industry can keep up the high and general spending next year, even though it is expected to be less than last year.

The auto and construction industries are told to get in there now. They are told they can make more cars in the first half of 1953, and can start after Jan. 1 on new buildings of a type now under light controls.

The government also warns that it will have trouble finding the metal—and thinks the planned cutbacks in production of tanks and military trucks won't be much help to them.

The government contends, in other words, that there is no slack—no stretch-out in defense plans due to it due to policy changes part of it due to bugs in the system—has been apparent this fall. The failure of government spending to reach the levels originally planned from the planmaking centers reports that the peak in military aircraft production, originally set for next spring, may not be reached for almost a year because of technical troubles.

And the Defense Department advised Wednesday that starting in the production of tanks and military trucks will be cut back.

The stretch-out in defense plans, however, may mean a cut of about $1 billion in military appropriations in the next federal budget (which the taxpayers won't mind), but which industrial plant had counted on.

The new administration may see things differently, of course, and other stretch out spending more to restore it.

Businessmen there is no real cut back planned—just a spreading out of spending over a longer period. This will give industry a milder shock next year, but a more sustained one in 1954 and even 1955.

And Treasury Secretary Snyder has the consolation belief that the population growth and high living standards "will continue to create a solid and expanding demand for both goods and services," even after the defense boom ends.

To take up any slack when defense spending ebbs, Commerce Secretary Sawyer has a committee at work thinking up ways to extend the civilian economy. Business organizations also are working on this same problem.

For the immediate future, certainly, there seems to be enough demand for civilian goods. For example: the oil industry, light car makers, the electrical power industry, the pipe-line companies all want metal now reserved for armament making.

Blues In The News
By BOB ANTHONY

In keeping with the Christmas spirit, the Public Works Department at NAAS is putting up decorations all around the station. A loud speaker system has been set up outside the Chapel and it was given a try-out yesterday with a recording of a Christmas hymn.

Another indication of the nearness of Christmas is the many men preparing for that long-awaited leave that will take them home for Christmas or New Year's. The holiday leave period aboard the station will be divided into two sections — Christmas and New Year's. The Christmas leave period will be from Dec. 19 to Dec. 29 and the New Year's leave period will be from Dec. 30 to Jan. 10. Some men have chosen to be home for Christmas and some men will be home to see the new year in but there will also be some men who will stay right here in Sanford for the entire holiday season. And those men who will be staying here can be assured that the men at the Galley will be preparing and serving the traditional Navy turkey dinner to celebrate Christmas Day.

The National Emergency Ground Force has assembled for the last time this year. After a short drill period Tuesday afternoon, it was announced that there will be no more meetings until after the first of the new year at which time there will probably be many new men replacing the present members of the Force.

William O. Hensch, aviation machinist's mate third class, reported aboard NAAS yesterday from a tour of sea duty. His wife is still at home in Taylors, S. C. but Bill says he plans to bring her to Sanford soon. He has been assigned to the Special Services department here.

Harold F. Shepherd, air control man third class, received some good news recently when he learned he has been accepted at the U. S. Naval Preparatory School in Hainbridge, Md. Harold is attached to the operations department here and he will leave today for Hainbridge. His home is in Montgomery, Ala. Graduates of the Preparatory School are selected to be students at the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis. Good luck to you Harold. Here's hoping you have a long and successful career in the Navy service.

Louis P. Vinciguerra, Jr., has left NAAS for Norfolk, Va. where he will become a student in the Class "H" Yeoman School there. "Vince" is a yeoman second class and is especially interested in learning gashornam at the service halls of a native Floridian. Vince's home is in Melbourne. He will be in school in Norfolk for 10 weeks.

Inauguration Of Governor McCarty Is Open To Public

TALLAHASSEE—Everybody's invited, but there'll be no special invitations when Florida inaugurates Dan McCarty of Fort Pierce as governor for the next four years.

Inaugural chairman Justice Elywn Thomas says all the ceremonies of the inauguration are open to the public and there'll be no special invitations to the Jan. 6 activities.

Even state officials, legislators, and members of the official families of the in-coming and outgoing governor won't get special invitations to come. There'll be seats near the platform for officials, with room for some 15,000 people within seeing distance of the ceremonies.

For the first time in State history the ceremonies are going to be held on the west side of the capitol. This will make it possible for more people to witness the inauguration.

The ceremonies will start at 11:30 a.m. with an address by outgoing Governor Fuller Warren first on the program. At 12:30 noon the chief justice of the Florida Supreme Court, H. L. Sabring, will administer the oath of office and McCarty will be officially Governor of Florida.

An inaugural speech by Governor McCarty follows, with this phase of the program scheduled to conclude by 1:45.

A parade down Tallahassee's Monroe Street, headed by the Fort Pierce High School band, starts at 1:30. A general invitation for counties to send bands and floats has been extended to all counties. Bands wanting to enter the parade should contact the local Clerk of Circuit Court or the Tallahassee Chamber of Commerce.

However, the Inaugural Committee has emphasized that it's making no effort to get a float or band from every county and doesn't expect to make up an extravaganza.

McCarty's first instruction to the committee was to plan an inauguration day in keeping with the dignity of the office.

The evening of inauguration day there'll be four inaugural balls, including one at Florida A. & M. College for Negroes, to top off the day's activities.

The inauguration is a four-year highlight in this Capital City and local citizens are looking forward to perhaps the largest influx of visitors of all time.

New Fast Freight Service Is Begun By 2 Rail Lines

A fast new freight service will be inaugurated on a four-day-a-week basis for rail shippers of Florida perishables to eastern-bound markets beginning with loadings Monday and lasting through the growing season, it was announced today by the Atlantic Coast Line and Seaboard Air Line railroads.

The service will be effective on Mondays, Tuesdays, Fridays and Saturdays of each week through the season with the exception of the week of Dec. 21-27 and Monday, Dec. 29.

At the request of many shippers and receivers of Florida perishables, the ACL and Seaboard lines decided to institute this service on an experimental basis in collaboration with northern connecting lines.

This new service will provide third morning market arrivals at Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Newark, Jersey City and New York. A somewhat similar service was operated during a portion of the shipping season in 1947-48, but the schedules, which became effective Monday, will give shippers about three hours additional loading time with the same market deliveries at destinations as afforded by the 1947-48 service period.

Since this third morning delivery service is being conducted on an experimental basis, it will be maintained only if patronage justifies continuing the period.

The present fourth morning schedules from Florida to eastern markets will continue and will be in addition to the new third morning service.

Hal Boyle Column
By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Success can cost too much.

And if men have to start wearing girdles to achieve it—well, success has plumb priced itself out of the market for the average man.

The idea that the American male needs a girdle to get ahead in a woman's world belongs to Dr. Burgess Gordon, president of the Women's Medical College in Philadelphia. The distinguished medic says girdles contribute to a girl's sense of well being by elevating her abdomen, thus allowing her to get more air into her lungs and oxygen into her body tissues.

And if men are going to compete with women successfully, he believes, they had better start wearing this secret success weapon, too.

Well, I have just completed a poll of 15 men on this question, and they voted 14-to-1 as follows:

"If wearing a girdle is to spell the difference between success and failure, we'll give up right now and go fishing. Let women rule the world."

The only negative vote was from a middle-aged fellow who pulled me aside and whined:

"I've been wearing a girdle for five years, but it has been ten years since I got a raise in pay. Well, I think my girdle is too tight or too loose."

The surprising thing about the poll is that the men didn't object to girdles on the grounds they were unmanly or that George Washington had managed to win a war without the help of a corset. The chief objection was that girdles for men are basically impractical.

"My wife looks better in a girdle and it is only reasonable to admit that I would, too," said one man.

"But here's the problem: It takes all the muscle that both my wife and I have to pour her into a girdle now."

"There just isn't enough strength in our family to get us both into girdles. If I started wearing a girdle, she would either have to quit wearing hers or I would have to keep a hired man around just to help me squirm into mine."

Another man said he felt confident about competing in the business world against women, because he was sure their elastic armor was actually a handicap to them.

"They have to struggle so hard getting into their girdles they arrive at the office exhausted, and it is noon before they have reeled up enough to tackle any real work," he said. "By then I've got most of my day's work done."

And a third commented:

"Oxygen isn't so scarce a man has to wear a girdle to get it. If you need more oxygen, wouldn't it be simpler just to keep an oxygen mask handy, like airplane pilots do?"

For two generations American men have forged ahead by following Horatio Alger's two basic rules for attaining success:

1—Hard work.

2—Save a banker's child from being trampled by a runaway horse.

Both of these rules are hard enough to follow. If Dr. Gordon is going to add a third formula for success—wear a girdle—the ordinary man is just going to decide the game isn't worth the candle. He'll go down on the Bowery and tell the nearest bum to move over.

Jellied tomato salad has so many uses — it's delicious served with a cheese soufflé, broiled shrimp, fried fish fillets, or roast beef. Flavor the tomato juice used for the salad with grated onion, lemon juice, and freshly-ground pepper. Finely diced celery added to this recipe makes for good texture contrast.

Cream-style cottage cheese mixed with Roquefort or blue cheese (crumbled), sour cream, Worcestershire and grated onion, makes a delicious salad dressing.

Examinations were given today to candidates for the Limited Duty Officer Program throughout the Naval service. Two men to take the exams aboard this station were John J. Davis, boatswain's mate first class of NAAS and Joseph C. Kermon, aviation machinist's mate chief of FABRON 821. To be eligible for this program an enlisted man must be a first class petty officer or higher, be a high school graduate, have at least ten years of honorable service in the Navy, be in perfect physical condition and be recommended by his commanding officer. Those men finally selected through this program are commissioned as Ensign, Limited Duty Status.

Billy May To Marry His Agent's Ex-Wife

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Handleader Billy May is going to marry the divorced wife of his business agent, Carlos Gastel, and Gastel, in a reciprocal mood, is going to wed the former Mrs. Billy May.

That's the way things are, says May's agent, who added that Mrs. Gastel and May are in Bloomington, Ill., where May is on tour with his orchestra. Gastel and Mrs. May are due back from an eastern tour today, said Howard, May and Mrs. Gastel are expected home just before Christmas.

Howard said the divorced Nov. 21, the Gastels Dec. 2 Both wives alleged cruelty both have two children by their divorced mates.

Howard said the quadrangle started when Gastel began managing May a year ago.

"He became friendly with Billy's wife," said Howard, "and if got to be a constant thing with Billy and Mrs. Gastel. It seemed to start out as a matter of crying on each other's shoulder, but soon they were being seen together a lot."

Continued Alerts By Business Is Urged

ST. PETERSBURG (AP)—Florida businessmen will have to keep their eyes peeled for economic opportunities to maintain the present rate of progress, a State Chamber of Commerce executive said here today.

Harold Cole, Jacksonville, executive vice president of the State Chamber, cited growth of the citrus industry, tourist business, cattle industry, lumber, phosphate and other industries.

"It is a fact that no state today is doing more than Florida to quicken the movement of the dollar and no state is doing more than Florida to improve the cultural position of its people," Cole said in a talk prepared for noon delivery to the St. Petersburg Rotary Club.

Cole went on to caution against thinking that under such circumstances "the forward leadership of each of you can be dispensed."

He told the businessmen not to let their imaginative and constructive facilities slow down, but to engage in "economic sky scanning" more than ever.

"It is one habit all Florida must engage in, to a greater degree than has heretofore been the case," Cole said. "The sooner the better, and in all important economic nooks and corners."

"We simply can no longer afford to drift, or to trust to luck. We have too much at stake."

Florida Is Braced For Colder Blast Predicted Tonight

Frost And Freezing Temperatures Are Forecast For All Sections Of State

By The Associated Press
Already plagued by a days-long cold spell which has hurt some rich truck crops, Florida readied Monday for an even more severe and threatening cold over the state.
Snow flurries fell Sunday in widely scattered parts of North Florida. The mercury fell to 27 in that section and on the University of Florida campus at Gainesville students shivered in 23.7 degree weather.
But the worst lay ahead. A bitter two-day cold wave was in prospect.
"It doesn't look good at all," said Meteorologist Warren O. Johnson of the Federal State Frost Warning Service at Lakeland.
He forecast frost and freezing temperatures in all farming areas of the state. Frost was predicted over most of Florida again Wednesday.
Johnson cautioned growers of all ornamentals, both home areas and nurseries, to protect them from frost. He urged growers to cover their truck crops by any means certain should do so, said Johnson.
"Grave owners in the northern fringe of the citrus belt probably will fire their citrus lands. Johnson said he expected some heating will be necessary in low ground locations in central Florida. Higher ground farming generally will be much better off.
He also suggested nurseries in North and Central Florida take precautions for citrus left outside, and especially when starting them. Johnson explained one had fear for truck and some fruit crops (Continued On Page Six)

Eisenhower And Wife Take Part In Xmas Carols

General Sings Along With Girl Students Of Barnard College

NEW YORK (AP) Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower sang Christmas carols Sunday night at the door-way of his Columbia University residence in a traditional candle-light ceremony dedicated to the head of the university.
Twenty-two students of Barnard college, a woman's unit of Columbia, sang with the general outside the President-elect's home.
Eisenhower, content and but less, came out to greet the student in the chilly air and join in the singing. His wife threw on a coat and came out to hum along with them.
Florence Sloan, 21-year-old Barnard senior from Greenwich, Conn., asked Eisenhower if he had a favorite carol.
"What was that one we heard on television tonight?" she asked. He replied it was "The Night Before Christmas," and it was sung. A policeman assigned to the outside of the residence joined in the general, who returned Sunday from a trip to the Korean front. He told the students: "You certainly have made this a nice homecoming."
"Now is the time for the fruit cake," he said, apparently referring to the custom of rewarding cadets with candy. Smiling at the girls, he told them: "I hope you all have a Merry Xmas."
The general goes back to work in his New York headquarters today, prepared to meet "anybody" (Continued On Page Six)

Freighter Sinks After Collision

Truman Calls For Freedom Of Mind, Spirit

President Points To Threat Of Communism, Also Dangers Of Thought Control

WASHINGTON (AP) President Truman said today the idea of freedom is in danger not only from communism but from those who want the government to regulate the mind and spirit.
"The external threat to liberty should not drive us into suppressing liberty of thought," he said. "Those who want the government to regulate matter of the mind and spirit are like men who are so afraid of being murdered that they commit suicide to avoid assassination."
The President's remarks were in a speech prepared for historic ceremonies dedicating a new shrine in the National Archives for display of the Declaration of Independence, Constitution and Bill of Rights.
All three documents have been added in glass cases specially designed to protect them from deterioration. Under the same roof is a 70-ton safe with built-in elevator, considered to be impregnable against fire, flood, gas, bombs or other disaster. The Constitution and Declaration were moved under heavy guard from the Library of Congress on Saturday. The Bill of Rights, ratified 104 years ago, has been already at the Archives Building.
Truman said the children of our nation must be taught to understand the very things they are struggling to preserve.
"Freedom did not come through the dejection of one point as persons who believe it is too dangerous to proclaim liberty throughout all the land in all the inhabited parts of the world," he said. "It came through the courage and conviction of our forefathers."
"Invasion and conquest by Communist Armies," he asserted, "could be a horror beyond our ability to imagine. But invasion and conquest by Communist ideas of right and wrong would be just as bad."
"For us to embrace the method and mode of communism in order to defeat communism is a contradiction," he said. "We must find a way to defeat it by the use of our own minds and spirit."
"If we do not find a way to defeat it by the use of our own minds and spirit, we will have lost the very thing we are struggling to preserve."

Crime Emphasis On Radio, TV Hit By Federal Body

Committee Report, However, May Control TV, Appear

WASHINGTON (AP) A congressional committee reported today that it had found a crime emphasis on radio and television programs, and that further government action was needed to control the situation.
The committee report, which was made public today, said that the Federal Bureau of Investigation had found that crime programs on radio and television were being broadcast in large numbers, and that these programs were being watched by millions of people.
The committee recommended that the Federal Bureau of Investigation should be authorized to investigate and report on the crime programs on radio and television. It also recommended that the Federal Bureau of Investigation should be authorized to recommend to the Federal Communications Commission that it should take action to control the crime programs on radio and television.

Sanford Theater Guild Production Is Given Enthusiastic Approval

Enthusiastic approval was given Friday night to the fledgling Sanford Theater Guild's first effort, "The Night of January 13th," a suspense murder trial tale which was presented two nights at the Court House.
Rapt attention was given by the large audience of the court room as the diversified and stirring play unfolded. Following the tricky conclusion of the play, the audience crowded around members of the cast, offering their congratulations.
Final "destiny" of the defendant in the case, Karen Andre, played convincingly by Mrs. Richard Harri, was determined by a 12-person jury picked from the audience. Thus, even the actors did not know the ending.

Hearing Scheduled For Tomorrow At Cocoa-On Harbor

Local representation will be made tomorrow at Cocoa on the hearing being conducted by the Army Corps of Engineers in Jacksonville on the feasibility of improving Canaveral Harbor to a status of handling ocean-going cargo vessels.
Furseth Breckenridge, secretary of the St. Johns Indian River Waterway Association, and Al Lee, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce waterways committee, will attend the meeting. Mr. Breckenridge and today. They were appointed by the president of the association, Earl Brown. Mr. Breckenridge said that Eddie Holland, of Sanford, manager of Pioneer de Leon Springs, also will attend.
The C of C manager urges businessmen of Sanford to attend the hearing at the Cocoa city hall, which could have a definite effect on the economy of this city.
Representatives of Central Florida City will be heard at 3:00 p.m. by the engineers conducting the review investigation.
The proposal of incorporating Canaveral Harbor with the St. Johns Indian River Canal was made Friday at a meeting in Earl Breckenridge's office in Sanford by Col. H. C. Gee, partner in the firm of Gee & Jensen, consulting engineer to the Canaveral Port Authority.
Col. Gee, who will present a lengthy report on the harbor project tomorrow, indicated he would present information which would link the two major waterway proposals.
According to his prepared report, an approximate total of $2,500,000 has been expended in preliminary construction at the harbor. This figure represents an investment of local interests of $1,350,000, an investment by the federal government of $850,000 and an investment by the armed services of approximately $400,000 to provide the crash boat station on the south side of the entrance channel.
All the dredging work required to construct the large canal from the Intracoastal Waterway eastward to the turning basin and the dredging required to provide the authorized basin and entrance channel to deep water in the ocean at Canaveral light has been completed, according to the report. This dredging represents one-third of the authorized work.
