ILLNESS FATAL TO MRS. ARREST LAKE

Prominent Woman Of Sanford Dies Saturday Night In Sanitarium At Formosa

Active In Church Club, Social Work

Death Comes Suddenly And As Big Shock To Her Many Friends

Following a critical illness lasting for several months, Maud Anno Lake, wife of Ernest Lake, passed away Friday night at 12 o'clock in the Florida Sanitarium at Formosa where she had been patient for the past three weeks. Death was due to cancer.

Mrs. Lake when she died was 62 years of age. She was a member of the family in Sanford, Fla., and a sister of Mrs. Julian Carpenter. While not unexpected, Mrs. Lake's death came suddenly and as a great shock to her many friends.

She came peacefully, Mrs. Lake having been in a comatose condition since last Sunday night when she took a turn for the worse. At that time attending physicians abandoned hope of prolonging her life longer than a few days. The patient gradually grew weaker, her remarkable vitality responsible for life during the last few days just prior to death.

Mrs. Lake enjoyed unusually good health until early in the fall of this year when she was suddenly taken ill. In May she underwent a minor operation at the Jefferson Hospital and a time was believed to have regained her health. In August Mrs. Lake was again stricken and her condition was deemed so critical that it necessitated her removal to the Jefferson Hospital at Philadelphia.

After diagnosis by surgeons at the Philadelphia institution, Mrs. Lake underwent another operation and her condition was declared such that she could never recover. Mrs. Lake remained a patient at the Jefferson Hospital for nearly three months. Her suffering was partly allayed by expert care and life was prolonged by several blood transfusions.

In November Mrs. Lake was removed from Philadelphia hospital and brought back to Florida where she entered the Sanitarium at Formosa. Her condition for some 10 days continued to be as good as could be expected, attending physicians hoped for a recovery and except for brief intervals never regained her faculties.

Mrs. Lake is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. John H. Hutton and Miss Maud Anno, all of Sanford, and one sister, Mrs. Julian Carpenter of Jacksonville.

Funeral rites are to be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Holy Cross Episcopal Church with the Rev. Mortimer Glover, rector in charge.

Pairings are made in tournament to start next Sunday.

Slush Fund Group To Continue Role

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The Senate today formally extended the life of the Reed Committee to remove all doubts of its authority to hold new inquiries into the slush fund charge against Senators-elect William S. Vare of Pennsylvania and Frank L. Smith, of Illinois. A resolution, sponsored by Senator Reed (7) of Missouri by an overwhelming margin, it not only gave the committee full powers to institute new, or reopen old, investigations into senatorial campaigns of 1926, but validated all its acts during the last summer, when its authority was challenged, in the courts.

SEMINOLE GRAND JURY HAS FOUND 11 INDICTMENTS

Grand Jury Goes Into Session This Morning For Second Week Still Facing Big Volume Of Special Business

The first week's deliberation of the Seminole County grand jury resulted in the return of 11 indictments, according to presentments that have been delivered to the court and filed in the office of clerk. The grand jury went into session this morning, beginning its second week with what is reported to be a large volume of business still facing it for disposition.

Court also convened this morning for the purpose of hearing several civil matters and settling the criminal docket which is expected to consume all of this week and possibly a part of the following. Judge Wright hopes to clear the calendar by the end of next week of all civil and criminal actions except those in which he has been disqualified.

A recess will be taken for the holiday season and court is expected to reconvene early in January. Following are the indictments which have been returned thus far by the grand jury:

Anna Irene and David Bellamy and Sadie Jackson, first degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Albert Gailiner on June 26, 1927. All are charged with discharging the gun and aiding and abetting the others.

Walter Mosely, charged with forgery in the name of R. F. King on a check for $8 made to the order of I. N. Lane and endorsed by Iont Lane and C. O. Mitchell with intent to defraud Mitchell.

Walter Grant, charged with embezzlement of an automobile entrusted to his care by Mattie Johnson.

Robert Livingstone and Catherine Williams, charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony, a store building of J. C. Howell and R. M. Williams with intent to steal money, goods and chattels valued at $50.

Joe Beal, charged with breaking and entering into the Sanford Filling Station, the property of W. H. Reitz, J. H. Pyle and P. W. Bell, with intent to steal goods and chattels.

Endell Williams, charged with breaking and entering the dwelling of G. D. Bishop with intent to steal goods and chattels.

Charles Giles, charged with forgery in the name of Ethel Frisan to note payable to the Seminole County Bank for $22.

MILITIA TOLD TO STOP BODY FROM MEETING

Oklahoma Governor Calls On State Troops To Keep Legislature From Convening To Start Impeachment Measure

Court Has Decried Session As Illegal

Representative Anticipates Committee Report Against Governor On Five Charges

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Dec. 12.—(INS)—Following the precedent established by Gov. J. C. (Jack) Walton, in 1923, Gov. Henry S. Johnston of Oklahoma, today ordered state troops to prevent a meeting of the Oklahoma Legislature which was to vote impeachment charges.

"Keep the legislature from meeting," was Governor Johnston's orders. The legislature met two days ago and organized investigating committees, the Senate resolving itself into a high court of impeachment to await charges from the house. Various moves in court ensured on the part of the government and last week the supreme court of the state ruled the session was not legal.

The criminal court of appeals, however, ruled the house members had the power to meet and consider impeachment charges. The charges have been carefully guarded.

Brig. Gen. Charles McPherson was in charge of the troops. He was ordered to use as many soldiers as necessary to prevent the legislature from assembling.

The legislative program which was to begin today, according to announcement by H. Tom Knight, representative from Claremore, who contemplates a committee report against the governor and was said to contain five charges.

It was scheduled to be adopted by the House, transferred to the Senate high court of impeachment, action probably taken in suspension of the governor during the trial and the automatic ascension to the governorship in that event of Lieut. Gov. William J. Holloway.

According to plans announced, Holloway is to be asked to issue a proclamation calling the legislature into special session at once for general legislative purposes.

Legion Makes Plans To Secure Rest Of Claims Of Veterans

With approximately 5,000 ex-servicemen in Florida who have not secured their adjusted compensation, American Legion members in this state have launched a campaign to secure the names of every person eligible for such compensation and as part of the drive, the Campbell-Losing post of Sanford has designated December 15 as the day for enlistment.

It is estimated that there are about 200 World War veterans in Seminole County who have not signed for their compensation. Those who have not are urged to call at the office of A. R. Platt, 114 1-2 North Park Avenue, on Thursday of this week and have their applications filled out. An American Legion member will be on duty all day to assist veterans in this matter, it was announced.

Ruth Elder And Haldeman Will Dedicate Municipal Flying Field In Anniston

Atlanta, Dec. 12.—(INS)—Ruth Elder, the trans-Atlantic aviator, will arrive in Atlanta Dec. 20 to get into a plane at Candler Field and swoop down from the air on her hometown of Anniston, Ala., where thousands will be waiting to acclaim her.

Her itinerary, announced today, reveals that she will come to Atlanta by train from New Jersey, arriving at Terminal Station on the Southern at 5:20 A. M.

She will be joined here by George Haldeman, her co-pilot in the daring Atlantic flight that ended when the "American Girl" crashed into the ocean and they were picked up by a steamer. Captain Haldeman is in Florida.

Miss Elder and Haldeman will hop off from Candler Field about 7:30 o'clock that morning. They expect to reach Anniston by 9 o'clock. An escort of Army planes probably will accompany them, and they will be greeted by a band when they arrive over the Anniston Airport.

In Anniston preparations are going forward for a rousing demonstration in honor of the first girl flier to survive an ocean flight. The flying field being improved and made into a complete airport. Governors of several states, including Governor Hardman of Georgia and more than 10,000 visitors are expected.

Ruth Elder will formally dedicate the Anniston Airport. She and Captain Haldeman then will head a huge parade which will wind through the principal streets of the city. A reception will be held at the Alabama Hotel, followed by a luncheon. There will be a banquet in the evening and later a dance at the Country Club.

Miss Elder will spend Christmas with her mother, Mrs. Sarah Elder, of Anniston, and other relatives. She has been granted a leave of absence from the vaudeville tour which she is making on Loew's Circuit.

STEAMER'S CREW OF 22 MEN STILL MISSING IN LAKE

Tugs Reach Ship Which Has Wheel And Rudder Swallowed. Fires Out But No Sign Of Crew Anywhere In Night

SAULT ST. MARIE, Mich., Dec. 12.—(INS)—With the crews of the wrecked steamers Altado and Agawan safe ashore, search was continued today for 22 other men comprising the crew of the Mathews Steamship Company's steamer, Lambton, encased in ice and hard aground off Passanago Island in Lake Superior.

Tugs which reached the ship found her wheel and rudder swallowed, the fires out, her hull lashed amidships and filled with water. Deck indicated the crew had left since the storm.

Although the tugs circled the footprints frozen in the ice on her island, searching for the 22 men comprising the crew, no trace of them was found. If they made shore on the Canadian mainland they are in a trackless wilderness. If they reached the American shore 11 miles away some well should have been received from them before now.

SOLOMON TO ASK PROBE OF U.S. AIR DEFENSES

Congressman James Declares The Tremendous Advance In Field Of Aviation Requires Change In Nation's Policies

Believes Five Year Program Too Small

Says Country Should Learn What Is Being Done By The Army And Navy In The Air

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(INS)—With the possibilities disclosed by the trans-Atlantic air odyssey of Lindbergh and others weighing heavily upon the minds of members of Congress, Rep. W. Frank James, (R) of Michigan, ranking Republican on the House Military Affairs Committee, today announced that he would propose a thorough investigation of the state of the nation's air defenses.

The tremendous advance made in the field of aviation may demand a complete change in the nation's present policies, James asserted.

"My own view is that in view of the flights over two oceans, we should seriously consider whether the five-year air program goes far enough," said James. "My personal impression is that it does not."

"I think the country ought to know what is being done with the five-year program and I shall recommend to our committee that it call assistant Secretary of War (for air) Davidson, Major-General Patrick, chief of the Army Air Service, and Brig. Gen. Eshelby, who will succeed him, to learn what is being done now and what they think should be done in the future."

At the same time a movement was under way, sponsored by Rep. McClintock, (D) of Oklahoma, to call Lindbergh, Byrd, Chamberlin and Maitland—all trans-oceanic fliers—before the House Naval Affairs Committee.

James further declared that he and Rep. Madden (R) of Illinois, chairman of the House Appropriation Committee, fully agreed that the Army and Navy should immediately give its full wartime strength in airplanes in Hawaii and Panama.

Under the $150,000,000 five-year program, a peace-time basis and a war-time basis is outlined, but James and Madden hold the distance of Panama and Hawaii make it necessary that the air force there be on a war footing at all times.

Although there is less sentiment among the naval affairs experts in Congress for increasing the navy's air force, Rep. Britton, (R) of Illinois, said that he would propose the building of one new aircraft carrier each year. The air force can't be increased until more carriers are provided he argued.

"Airplanes will never replace battleships," asserted Rep. Butler, (R) of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Naval Affairs Committee. "Battleships are the Tunny and Dumpey and airplanes are the Henry Leonard of our National defense."

Spafford Gives Up Prohibition Poll

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 12.—(INS)—The proposed prohibition poll by American Legion Posts was called off here today by National Commander Edward B. Spafford who suggested it in a recent New York address. "After careful consideration it seems that the matter is so controversial as to cause misunderstanding among our own members and I have decided not to bring the matter before this body nor shall I bring it before the National Executive Committee," Spafford told the national conference of department adjutants and commanders of the American Legion here today.

SHARP CONFLICT IS SEEN BETWEEN U. S. AND MEXICO

Mexican Embassy Declares Financial Agent Has Diplomatic Standing And Is Not Subject To Subpoena

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(INS)—A sharp conflict between the United States and the Mexican Government appeared in prospect today in connection with the investigation of charges that the Calles government appropriated $1,215,000 and ordered it paid to four members of the Senate.

One of the subpoenas issued by the Senate is for Arthuro Elias, Mexican financial agent in New York, through whose hands the money is alleged to have passed. The Mexican Embassy considers that Elias has diplomatic standing and is immune to subpoenas, but a contrary view is taken by the Senate.

Consular officials and other employees of foreign governments are not exempt from summons, except where it is so specified in treaties, according to Senate authorities. No such treaty exists with Mexico. To this convention, the Mexican Embassy replies that it is "established practice" to consider consular officers in the same class with other accredited diplomats.

If Elias refuses to obey the Senate subpoena and the sergeant-at-arms is ordered to take him into custody an awkward Mexican-American situation may arise. The State Department is considerably concerned over it.

The Senate's investigation into the Mexican situation will start on Thursday. A number of executives of the Hearst Newspapers have been subpoenaed.

Mine Operators To Refuse Invitation Of Secretary Davis

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 12.—(INS)—Secretary of Labor James J. Davis' "peace conference" to settle the 1927 coal strike, apparently will resolve itself into a gathering of district presidents of the United Mine Workers of America in Washington tomorrow. "This was the indication here today as officials of all but one coal company in Western Pennsylvania announced refusal of the invitation of the Secretary of Labor's proffered invitation."

The Bertha Consumers Company, so far as is known, here, is the only large coal company that has signified its intention of sending a representative to the meeting.

In writing acceptance of the invitation, the officials of the Bertha Company made it plain, however, that it had nothing to discuss with the representatives of the United Mine Workers and was merely attending the conference out of deference to the president and the Secretary of Labor.

STAR WITNESS ASKS STATE TO DROP CHARGES

Says Prosecution Secured Indictments By Fraud And Were Trying To Ruin Him

Berger Asks To Speak To Court

Declares He Labored Long For Reputation At Present In Peril

COURT HOUSE, CINCINNATI, Ohio, Dec. 12.—John S. Berger of Los Angeles, a star witness for the defense who was indicted and arrested on the charge of giving perjured testimony, in the trial of George Remus for wife murder appeared before the court and demanded that the indictment against him be quashed.

"The indictment against me was obtained by the prosecutor by fraud," declared Berger, adding that the state was trying to ruin his reputation which he worked fifty three years to build up.

Berger is a wealthy exposition promoter and a boyhood friend of Remus. The motion by Berger to quash the indictment was made by his attorney, Charles H. Elston. Berger then asked Judge Chester Shook for permission to address the court.

"Your honor," said Berger, "I was permitted to appear before the Hamilton County Grand Jury which indicted me to prove to the grand jury that the prosecution used fraud in getting me indicted. I understand they showed the grand jury a photograph of a well known criminal and said it was me. Upon the manufactured lies of the prosecution the indictment was issued."

"I worked all my life for my reputation and I want to defend it," Prosecutor Charles P. Taft, who was responsible for Berger's indictment objected to Berger's speech before the court.

Judge Shook then said: "I will hear complete arguments on this matter tomorrow." Judge Shook told Berger he had no control over the prosecutors' office and he did not know of the indictment until it was returned.

Brock And Schlee To Seek Altitude Record

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Dec. 12.—(INS)—Edward F. Schlee and William E. Brock, round the world fliers, will take off Wednesday morning on their attempted endurance flight to break the world's record of 52 hours and 23 minutes they announced here today.

After going over their plans "Fride of Detroit" the two fliers, pronounced it in "perfect condition" for the flight in which they hope to stay in the air for sixty hours. A test flight was held yesterday by Brock and Schlee to adjust the plane and to become acclimated to air conditions over Daytona Beach. They planned another test flight today.

Uprising Of Moros Is Awaited By Officials

MANILA, Dec. 12 (INS)—Fearing attacks from the Moro Datus in the Province of Lanao, the constabulary of Mindanao has been ordered to prepare for eventualities, according to a special dispatch received here today by the newspaper La Vanguardia.

The expected uprising of the Moros was said to have been inspired by the withdrawal of Governor Johnson of Lanao, whose appointment to the post was not confirmed by the Senate. Johnson was an appointee of the late Governor General Leonard Wood.

Suit Against Ford Gets Started Today

PONTIAC, Mich., Dec. 12 (INS)—A series of motions opened the $4,000,000 "breach of faith" suit brought by Henry M. and Wilfred C. Leland and other stockholders of the old Lincoln Motor Company against Henry and Edsel Ford and the Ford Motor Company in Circuit Judge Frank L. Conroy's court here today.

The suit asks the Fords to return the exact amount invested by the stockholders of the old Lincoln Company, which Ford bought from a federal receiver in 1924 for $1,000,000. The Fords broke the agreement to reimburse the stockholders the suit charges.

Dempsey Will Participate In One Championship Fight Next Summer Says Writer

By David Walsh
International News Service Staff
NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—There will be one heavy weight championship match next summer, just as our Mr. Tunney predicted, the only difference being that Tex Rickard will promote both of them and Jack Dempsey will appear in only one, the last. Incidentally, it will be Dempsey's only start of the campaign, there being no disposition on his part or anybody else's to give any elimination contests a passing thought.

This was the information that came to the writer today from a source that just cannot be ignored. Apparently, the business is on.

The elimination tourney, so called, would see the things that are to start with all contenders considered to be eliminated except Jack Sharkey and Tom Henney. Why the forbearance in their cases? Well, they have to send some one in there with Tunney for that first championship bout. My information is that some one will be the winner of the Sharkey-Henney fight next month.

This fact, too, is said to have furnished the answer for Paulino's sudden break with Rickard and his announcement that he intends to tour the country. It seems that he was to have had more than matches under Rickard's management.

The program, as outlined to me, calls for the warm-up championship in July. Then, it being assumed that our champion can and will beat either Sharkey or Henney, he may please his fancy. It will be in Chicago for the third episode of the Dempsey-Tunney series. If, it is said, will take place in New York. The public acceptance of Dempsey as the challenger, as in and without doubt, in fact, the public seems to feel that Dempsey is the real champion, anyhow, being the only one that much discussed long time over Tunney in the seventh round.

This discussion, by the way, has led me to feeling here that a third Dempsey-Tunney fight will come off by the second of the year being an enraged citizen usually enters the box office man coming forward. The number of horrors we think Dempsey got the worst of in his lesion, as we say at the old hitting post.

Cadets Will Tackle Harvard In Football

WEST POINT, Dec. 10.—(INS)—A new Eastern football alignment is indicated here by the announcement that the Army would meet Harvard in football in 1928. The contest is on the Cadets' schedule for the first time in 38 years, completing a loose conference of Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Pennsylvania, West Point and Annapolis which promises to exert a great influence on titular claims along the eastern seaboard next fall.

According to the Army schedule, the Cadets will face Harvard, Yale and Navy, Yale will face Harvard, Princeton and Army, and Harvard meeting Penn., Army and Yale. The Navy has engagements with Penn. and the Army, while the Quakers will do battle with Harvard and the Navy. To stand at the back of this group will mean a great deal next year, and will probably give the team on top a goodly claim on the eastern crown. The Army schedule calls for the Soldiers to play nine games next fall, and it is one of the toughest schedules aavy compiled for a Cadet eleven. In addition to Yale, Harvard and the Navy, Notre Dame is also met, and the powerful Southern Methodist eleven, which was the sensation of the Southwest, has also been added, making five major engagements for the Cadets.

Jack Delaney Wins From Berlenbach In Decisive Battle

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—(INS)—Jack Delaney's "first night" in Chicago was a big success, as far as Delaney and 5,600 boxing fans were concerned. For Paul Berlenbach and promoter Jim Mullen, it wasn't so "hot."

The Coliseum was only half filled last night when Delaney, the retired light heavyweight champion of the world, again salted Berlenbach away, undoubtedly for the last time. The Bridgeport pugger won by a technical knockout in the sixth round.

The shifty Delaney had too many guns for the once formidable Astoria assassin, Jack tore into him at the first gong and weakened him with terrific rights to the jaw. But not until the third round did Paul go down under the assault. Then he arose slowly and walked in for more.

The fourth and fifth rounds were duplicates of the other three. It was only a question of how much punishment Berlenbach could take. He landed several times with that once-deadly left, but it lacked steam and if Delaney was hurt by any of them he gave no evidence of the fact.

Starting the sixth, Delaney unleashed his pile driving right, alternating with right crosses and vicious uppercuts. Berlenbach went down. But wouldn't take the count. He staggered to his feet and waded in. Delaney could be hard advising referee Jimmy Gardner to stop the fight. Gardner hesitated while Delaney uncorked a few more withering rights. Paul's knees were sagging when the referee called a halt.

It was the fourth meeting between Berlenbach and Delaney. The latter had stopped him twice and on another occasion won a decision in 15 rounds. Berlenbach holds one 15-round decision over Delaney.

Have Closed Out College Grid Careers

When diplomas are passed out at the University of Florida next June, six members of the 1927 Gate football squad are expected to step to the rostrum. Four backs, Capt. Bill Middlekauff, Ion Walker, Cecil Beck and Howard Bishop, and two linemen, Tom Fuller and Charlie Tucker, hung up their football togs in December 11, never to play again under Florida's Orange and Blue.

that the poll would be taken on three questions: "Shall the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act be approved and continued? Shall the Eighteenth Amendment be continued? Shall the Volstead Act be amended so as to permit the use of light wines and beers with the usual natural percentage of alcohol?"

TEA DRINKING IN ENGLISH SCHOOLS SEEN AS MENACE

Too Liberal Allowances For Spending Money And Many Sessions At Afternoon Tea Are Cause For Downfalls

LONDON, Dec. 10.—(INS)—Unlike American students, many of whom are said to have an unholo penchant for synthetic gin, British students are facing the menace of too much tea.

which confront the college youth of today. Differing from the "American problem" no warnings were sounded by speakers against gin and cocktails, late hours and petting parties. The most serious moral menace Dr. Lindsay could scrape up was the evil of too much tea drinking in feminine society.

"I had a case of this sort to deal with not long ago," said Dr. Lindsay. "A young man at Balliol went thoroughly to the bad, after a careful investigation the only thing I could discover to account for it was that he made a habit of going four times a week to tea at Lady Margaret College, a woman's institution."

Father Shoots Two Sons Because They Are Deemed Insahe

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 10.—(INS)—A father and two sons were dead here today, because according to friends, the father, Francis E. Stevens, 51, a prominent banker, brooded over the mental condition of his two boys.

The elder son, Francis, Jr., 20 was confined to a sanitarium here, doomed, it was said, to probable insanity as the aftermath of injuries received in an automobile wreck. The younger son, George, 16, also suffered mental trouble, friends said.

Harassed by his dark thoughts, the father yesterday took his younger son with him and drove to the sanitarium where the older boy was being treated. Before leaving the car he shot and killed the younger boy and then entered the sanitarium, police reported.

He found his elder son on the tennis courts. What transpired there before the shooting is not known. Attendants heard two shots

Old Buick Does Odd Job

FLINT Mich., Dec. 10.—Thrashing machines, pumping outfits, home lightning installations, and a host of other labor saving devices are providing work for automobile engineers to do after they have finished their term of service in the field for which they were built. But it remained for Robert Ballinger, of Portland, Ore. to devise for such an engine one of the most novel uses which has come to the attention of the Buick factory here.

For the past four years, Ballinger has been using the engine from a 1914 four-cylinder Buick to run a miniature railroad which he operates at Oaks Park, a Portland amusement place. His train is also an annual feature of the Oregon State Fair at Salem.

Ballinger's father, who is manager of the park, bought the Buick in 1915, when it had seen a year's

Minor League On Major's Post At Dallas Me

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 10.—Six hundred delegates to the annual Minor League Convention all but the eight members of the National Board of American League were enroute to their homes following the final session of the baseball pow-wow.

Perhaps the most successful event of the convention was the success of the association in getting it known to the manager in which the leagues control the nation's time. It was brought to a closing session in a room overlooking the three downtown and western end of the city. The next convention will be in Richmond, Va., and Term losing.

Second in the matter of business transactions, the naming of a committee upon Commissioner Landis' interpretation of the minor leagues for accepting a misunderstanding as to the agreement expires at expiration of Landis' first term of office or at his death.

U. S. WILL DEPEND ON CHEMISTRY TO GET NECESSITIES

Prominent Chemist Declares Synthetic Kisses Might Be Concocted If Present Ample Supplied Market Falls

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 10.—(INS)—Within the next few generations the United States will be dependent upon chemistry for a lot more necessities than gin.

But, according to Charles L. Reese, chief executive of the E. I. Dupont Corporation, and a prominent figure at the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, the United States fifty years hence isn't going to be confined to synthetics.

Other engineers of note, while emphasizing the important part chemistry is destined to play in coming epochs, felt that there are certain fundamentals beyond the scope of the science. A synthetic kiss might be con-

The News Boosting Florida

The New York Daily News, which at times has not been any too kind in its comments upon Florida, recently published a Florida section containing considerable advertising and publicity for this state.

Read by ten to fifteen million persons daily, the News story about Florida has brought to the Sunshine State publicity and advertising that could not be offered through any medium.

The Tampa Times points out that one of the best articles in the New York newspaper is found under the caption of "from Frenzy to Friends" part of which is as follows:

"For centuries Florida stirred the imagination of those who did not know her. There, Ponce de Leon sought the Fountain of Youth. Other world-conquering and money-hungry Spaniards wasted energy and lives there, trying to find the gold-paved streets and trees that dripped rare jewels and precious metals.

"People who started flirting with Florida for a good time as well as a gold mine, suddenly becoming seriously interested in marrying her and settling down for life. Fervent but flash-in-the-pan infatuation became life-long love! The tendency of those Florida-friendly to adopt the state permanently increases constantly.

"And those, who are Florida-friendly, have started a procession that will continue at flood-tide as long as there is prosperity in America. So instead of a temporary boom, Florida can expect a continual stream of visitors, tourists and new citizens, every one contributing to the state's development!

Fake Salesmen

A few days ago The Herald called attention to the fact that this is the season of crooks, but failed to include in its list of wire-tappers, second story men, and so forth, that peculiar specimen, who might not be flattered by this classification, known as the "house-to-house salesman."

About this time of year Florida is flooded with these agents and canvassers, who because of the sleet, hail, winds and snows of the North, find it more to their liking to work through tropical climes in their quest of "easy money."

For instance, recently in South Jacksonville, nearly every house wife there was "gypped" out of one or two dollars. According to the Dade City Banner, this is the way it was worked:

"A house-to-house salesman showed up, one of those gentlemen representing a firm "which sells direct to customers and saves the customer the middleman's profit." He took the order for nosiery, four pairs for $4.50, $1 or $2 payable on the spot, the balance when the goods arrived. The customer was to receive also six cups and saucers gratis.

To be on the safe side it is always better to give these fellows the merry ha ha and shut the door in their faces, than to be sorry afterward when you find that you have paid your dollar or two and haven't anything to show for it.

and instructed me to continue in the capacity as Receiver. My reason for publishing said notice after Mr. Thompson had published a notice stating that the property had changed hands, a good many of the customers had called my office asking for information relative to whom they should pay accounts to and wanted information concerning tickets that have been sold and to fulfill my duties as Receiver, I deemed it necessary to make this announcement.

As Brisbane Sees It

Concerning Mike De Pike, Kresge and Jefferson. Who Got the Cash? Lindbergh's Next Flight.

A CHICAGO resort, described as a "vice hotel," is thoroughly bombed, despite a protecting iron door. Police suspect that "Mike De Pike" Heitler, recently in the penitentiary, was bombed for trying to "muscle in on the vice racket in Chicago."

THE POLICE know Chicago's leading gangsters, bootleggers, hijackers, gambling house keepers, etc., intimately. Why not lock them up, as they are identified and keep them locked up.

IN COLORADO miners are locked up merely because they belong to the I.W.W. and in California an educated woman accused of no crime except "communistical" political opinions, not approved by the majority, was sent to jail for many years.

A CHICAGO police commissioner recently said that more than half the police force engaged in bootlegging. That, perhaps, accounts for liberty enjoyed by recognized gangsters and murderers. There should be some way to make organized crime as dangerous for the criminals as it is for the public.

F. S. KRESGE, of Detroit, head of the five-and-ten cent chain stores, gives $500,000 to a prohibition fund. There are various opinions on the way to achieve temperance. Thomas Jefferson, who wrote the Declaration of Independence, would have given the $500,000 to establish breweries and plant vineyards for production of light wine and beer.

DOCUMENTS ALLEGED to have been taken from the archives of the Mexican government show that $1,200,000 were set aside for four members of the United States Senate, whose names, of course, are not published, although they appear in the Mexican documents.

LINDBERGH'S NEXT long flight will be from Washington, D. C. to Mexico City, on the invitation of President Calles of Mexico. He will fly in the same machine that took him across the Atlantic. The engine in the Spirit of St. Louis, which has carried Lindbergh over thousands of miles in the United States since his return from abroad, has not been overhauled since he started for Paris, although carefully inspected after each flight.

THE UNITED STATES government ought to enlist the services of Lindbergh to instruct American citizens an enlighten those responsible for our air defense. If another war comes it will seem very extraordinary to future historians, writing of American cities bombed and gassed, that the richest cities in the world should have gone along without adequate air defense.

MRS. MEDILL McCormick, widow of the late Senator from Illinois, will go to Washington as Congressman-at-large from her state. A good thing for the state, and for Congress. Some Chicago newspapers the supporting Mrs. McCormick, so is Mayor Big Bill Thompson and Vice-President Dawes. All this would interest the late Mark Harna, Mrs. McCormick's father, if he didn't know about it.

that I would not permit anyone to ride the trucks for the purpose of learning the water business until I had sufficient information from both plaintiff and defendant in case to justify me to do so, or until I had notice from the Court to file my final reports and discontinue as Receiver, for I am bonded for the purpose of protecting this estate, but I did tell on receipt of sufficient information from both parties or the Court, I would be glad to teach his drivers all I could about the business.

Referring to the letters Mr. Thompson enclosed, asking you to extract certain portions and publish; personally I have no objections to the letters being published as a whole, but if you should publish these letters, it will be necessary to ask you to publish letters of prior date and answers to same, so that the matter will be fully explained. Now as for Mr. Butzner, you will have to consult him as I have no authority to speak for him.

Yours very truly, H. J. Clause.

WHY HATHAWAY? HOLMES COUNTY ADVERTISER

The Advertiser has been insistent that Fm. Hathaway should come out for governor in the coming primary, and with that insistence there has been confidence that he would, not a firm conviction that he should. We are ready to give a reason for the faith that is in us.

To be sure any reason on our part would seem superfluous when it is considered that thousands of voices have been raised in the same call from one end of the state to the other. We practically every editorial column in the state has reflected a friendly attitude and most of them have come out in open support of his candidacy, why should the Advertiser need special reasons for backing this worthy son of old Holmes?

We want Hathaway because we want performance and not platform. It is easy to put up an alluring platform, it is another thing to put up consistent satisfactory performance. In this respect Hathaway is without an equal among the progressive candidates. We need not question their intent, or their wisdom, or their energy, but we have a right to demand the credentials of actual practical success in administrative public positions.

We want Hathaway because we want honest administration. We make no charges of dishonesty, past, present or prospective. Where do we have a man who has handled so many critical situations, who has dealt with so many conflicting interests, who has directed the expenditure of so many millions of public money, and has escaped without the smell of the fire of criticism upon his garments? Who has accused him of fraud, or favoritism, or carelessness, or poor business judgment? No one! Again there may be available candidates who are capable of making such a record. We do not know. But we do know Hathaway is.

We want Hathaway because we want clean politics. Again, we do not speak by negation or insinuation. Hathaway after years of most involved political relations stands a free man. Who has ever

Old Circus Players Seen In Film At The Milane Today

Nothing is less curable than the "circus fever." It slumbers and sleeps, but never dies—not even the memories of happy, youthful days under the big tents.

Which isn't a short way of saying that a census taken of Henry King while shooting the circus sequences of "The Magic Flame," in which Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky appear at the Milane Theatre today, disclosed that the percentage of ex-circus performers in motion pictures is far greater than anyone would expect. One out of every two men will acknowledge boyhood experience around a circus, but in "The Magic Flame" company it turned out that nine out of every ten had once had some connection or other under the big top.

Practically the entire crew of electricians, property men, scene shifters and other workers were among the sawdust circle alumni; so, too, were many of the extras and almost the whole of the cast—even to Ronald Colman, who once ran a concession stand with a small English provincial circus.

Which may or may not be the means whereby Mr. King made his circus scenes authentic.

Annual Holy Cross Supper Is Enjoyed
The annual supper and Parish meeting of Holy Cross Episcopal Church was held Friday evening at the new Parish House on Magnolia Avenue. The large assembly room was bright with baskets of poinsettias, hibiscus and roses. Supper was served at small tables each centered with crystal bowls of scarlet sage and ferns. The supper was prepared by the members of the Women's Guild and these members were assisted in serving by some of the members of St. Agnes Guild.

Following the supper the regular routine of parish business was carried out under the direction of the rector Rev. Mortimer Glover. Many interesting reports were given.

GUILD POSTPONED
The regular business meeting of St. Agnes Guild of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, scheduled to have been held Monday afternoon has been postponed until next Monday, Dec. 19, on account of the funeral of Mrs. Forrest Lake. All members are asked to attend this meeting, as many matters of importance are to be discussed.

Menjou Is Starred In Picture Coming Here On Wednesday

Adolphe Menjou got a great hot-weather break while working in "A Gentleman From Paris" his new Paramount picture which will be shown at the Milane Theatre Wednesday.

It was unusual weather in Hollywood while H. D'Abbadie D'Arast, the director, was shooting an interior sequence. The thermometer was not after a non-stop altitude record. In the studios every one on the set was clamoring for individual fans, ice-cream sodas and cakes of ice. People were afraid to open their refrigerators for fear the ice would explode.

It was on just such a day that Menjou discovered the script carried some scenes in which he was to be photographed under a shower-bath.

He spent a whole day in the shower-bath with only his head sticking out of the curtains and the cool water trickling down his parched frame while the remainder of the staff stood enviously aside.

A few days later the thermometer repeated and Menjou discovered several scenes that had to be played in pajamas.

"I'm even up at last," said Menjou. "The last time I played a scene in pajamas I was in a snow drift. That was in "Service for Ladies."

Shirley O'Hara is Menjou's heroine in "A Gentleman of Paris."

Mary Astor Plays Breezy Role For Film Coming Here

Mary Astor plays the part of a flapper in "No Place To Go," a new First National comedy drama coming to the Milane Theatre next Tuesday. Miss Astor is next-haired, and lovely. She is usually seen in rather reserved or tensely emotional parts, but this time she is as peppy as the peppest and wholly delightful.

Lloyd Hughes lays the masculine lead with Hallam Colley, Virginia Lee Corbin, Myrtle Steadman, Jed Prouty and others in the cast.

The combination of New York at its brightest and the South Seas, languorous and lovely, is a rarely intriguing one. And for comedy and adventure there is a cannibal island scene with thrills that keep the suspense at top notch.

Mervyn LeRoy directed this clever and entertaining film which Henry Hobart produced for First National Pictures.

Shirley O'Hara is Menjou's heroine in "A Gentleman of Paris."

Major Leagues Commence Their So-Called Annual Four Day Business Meet

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service
SPORTS Editor
NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The Major Leagues today began their four days of annual business with a meeting of the so-called steering committee. This used to be something of a sneering committee because the Judge and Ban Johnson were mighty like a sword point. But now Ban is gone and so the boys can begin steering promptly at noon.

If I were rocking the boat as a member of this committee, I would attempt immediately to settle the Major-Minor war declarations over the draft. However, I am not in the committee, for which the committee is no more pleased than I am.

The essence of the threatened war is that the Majors want the draft, possibly because they do not want it, because they are the drafters. However, neither can get along with the other, so we might as well turn our attention to something important.

This probably will be found in the lobbies where the boys do their trading rather than in the meeting rooms where the men will do their talking. It is difficult to see how these four days will be permitted to elapse without at least one deal of major importance being swung. The Washington, Cleveland, St. Louis and Chicago Clubs of the American League and the New York, St. Louis, Brooklyn, Cincinnati and Chicago entries in the National admittedly are gunning to improve their hands.

George Sisler, the great sizzler of other years, is supposed to be on the market, for one thing, and may it be that another of those St. Louis-Washington transactions will be closed. The Senators, however, are hot after an infielder and the Browns have none; at least nobody has caught them at it. This being the case, it may be that Stanley Harris will go after Jimmy Dykes of the Athletics.

The disposal, if at all, of Cobb and Speaker will be another item for consideration, although it must be admitted that there was nothing but a shuffling of silence in this direction during recent weeks. The trouble is that these gentlemen want money and the only thing Andrew Mellon ever forgot was to invent a substitute.

Lyman Girls Defeat Junior High Quintet

The Lyman junior high school girls' basketball team emerged victorious in a game played Friday night with the Sanford Junior High quintet. The score was 24 to 0, and E. Douglass and B. North were the stars for the visitors who overwhelmed the local team by the superior team play.

The lineup was as follows:

E. Douglass C. Pearman
B. North F. Stoubamere
L. Douglass F. Goldman
Click G. Melton
Zimmerman G. Ishie
Substitutes: By Lyman, Woodman for Click, By Sanford, Milton for Ishie, Hurt for Milton, Ishie for Goldman, Gant for Melton.

FAMOUS AUTHOR

Rex Beach, famous author and President of the Alumni Ass'n whose congratulatory message on the admission of his alma mater to the Association of Southern Colleges states: "It is a significant step forward along the course which President Hamilton Holt has laid out for the college and it should be a source of pride and satisfaction to all who are interested in the future of Rollins and the whole state of Florida. It augurs well for the success of his ambition to make Rollins the outstanding small college of America. Every alumnus will rejoice that henceforth his college will be afforded full academic recognition throughout the world."

While in New York recently President Holt had a conference with Mr. Beach about the activities of Founders Week in the course of which this noted graduate of Rollins agreed to address the alumni on Feb. 18, participate in the Literary Vespers on Feb. 19 and attend the Convocation ceremonies on Feb. 20.

Canton In State Of Revolt As Reds Get Control Of Affairs

CANTON, CHINA, Dec. 12.—Canton was in a state of revolt today and under control of thousands of avowedly communistic rebels who attacked the government buildings, ousted officials, killed and wounded hundreds of soldiers, and announced that they would form a "red government."

The streets were deserted except for marauding bands of blood-thirsty rebels and bodies of the dead and wounded. Desperate street-fighting has resulted in hundreds dead and wounded. The railroad near the Nanking Station was dynamited and communication with Hong Kong is at a standstill. Looting was the order of the day and numerous fires have broken out in the city.

The revolt started when two thousands military reservists taking advantage of the fact that the majority of the troops of general Chang and Hanchihsiang were away at the front, entered the government buildings and ousted all the officials.

The two generals, whose present cup forced Lichsing from power, were compelled to flee aboard a warship, narrowly escaping death at the hands of the infuriated rebels.

Conservation Work In Florida

By Mrs. Miller Wilson
Under auspices of Federation of Garden Clubs and the Federated Circles of the Garden Club of Jacksonville

Conservation is a subject of vital importance to the people of Florida. It is of vital importance to the Garden clubs of Jacksonville.

Our state in its primeval condition was so bountifully provided with every natural resource that our forefathers could not believe they would ever be exhausted.

Vast forests of virgin timber teeming with game and countless varieties of wild life, savannahs gay with flowers, roadsides crowned with flowering and fruiting shrubs, rivers and lakes filled with fish, water fowls and water plants. Innumerable products for man's use and delight were our inheritance.

Had these been used with care and foresight our ancestors might have had all they needed and we and future generations would have been equally well supplied.

This care was not exercised, and it remains for us to use our utmost endeavors to conserve and increase what remains to us of all this wonderful bounty.

While the Garden clubs are particularly interested in the beauty of our state, every intelligent gardener realizes that beauty is dependent upon the fertility of the soil, the water supply, insect control and all the benefits which follow proper conservation of our natural resources.

Forest fires must be stopped and the no fence law enforced not only to preserve the trees, shrubs and flowers, but to preserve the water supply and the humus in the soil.

Birds must be protected from indiscriminate slaughter. We need the birds not only for their song and beauty but for their assistance in our battle with insect pests.

Many of our most beautiful plants such as holly, dogwood, jessamine, magnolia and other typical Florida plants are in danger of extermination from injudicious cutting.

These are commercial assets to the state, adding to its attractiveness to residents and tourists.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Miller Wilson, the Garden Club of Florida to publish in this column from time to time, short articles in connection with the work.

The following article on "Soil" is by Harold H. Hume, a member of the advisory board of the Garden Club of Jacksonville and an authority on plants and plant life.

SOIL
Soil is an interesting composite material of great age. It is as old as the world itself. The principal part of what we call soil is derived from rocks that have been pounded cracked and rubbed against one another in nature's soil mill through countless ages and ground to powder. The grinding agents, and they are still at work, are frost, ice, water, wind, heat—nature's common forces. Their work has been done slowly but thoroughly. The hardest rocks have been pulverized and soil made from them deposited nearby, or carried far, even thousands of miles from where they were ground to dust. If the rocks that went into the mill were sandstone, sandy soil resulted; if they were granite, felspar, mica or slate, for instance, then the soil made from them is clay.

Usually soil is regarded as being dead, inert substance, without life of any kind in it. This is not true. It is teeming with life. Bacteria, worms, ants, insects, moles, gophers, turtles and many more live their lives entirely, or in part in the soil, and the asserion is largely true that many areas have a very large population of plants and animals in the top 6 to 12 inches of soil than is to be found above its surface. This population has an enormous amount of work to do—the making of plant food available for the crops, natural or cultivated that grow upon the land.

This changing of plant food from insoluble to available forms is done largely through the activity of soil bacteria, and they are the principal workers in the soil laboratory. They are numerous and active only when there is material, the remains of plants and animals, found in the soil. And so a really good soil consists of sand and clay with a liberal amount of organic matter mixed with them. Indeed the measure of a fertile soil is the measure of the organic matter in it.

This organic matter is commonly referred to as humus, and by many the term is used to cover everything from coarse leaves and grass that have just gone into the soil, to the finely pulverized brownish material that represents these same materials where they are all decayed. More properly humus is a dark brown powdery substance formed in the decay of plants and animals.

Briefly, humus is a material in which soil bacteria are very active, manufacturing plant food. It holds water as no other soil material can. It makes a sandy soil able to hold more moisture and it breaks up the hard, compact nature of clay, makes it less sticky, more easily worked and cultivated. We can have no fertile soil without it. The full benefit from the use of fertilizers cannot be secured unless it is present in the soil amounts.

How can humus be secured? It can be furnished by applying vegetable matter to the soil and allowing it to decay, by using dairy fertilizer or stable manure. Usually these are regarded as fertilizers and they are, but their greatest value lies in the vegetable matter they contain. Leaves, grass, prunings of trees and shrubs all make humus when they decay. The clipping of the lawn should not be raked up and put in the street. That is waste. Enough good leaves are wasted on city streets to add enormous amounts of valuable humus to city parks and other public places. To burn it or throw it away is waste. Humus from materials are also present in organic fertilizers like tankage, cotton seed meal, castor pomace and bone meal. The farmer secures his supply of vegetable material and humus by growing crop of different kinds, such as cow peas, soy beans, beggarweed and clover on the land and then plowing them into the soil when they are matured. This is a fundamental necessity in the handling of any good piece of farm land.

The forest floor is covered with a thick layer of vegetable matter in all stages of decay. In its decayed form it is branches, twigs, leaves and the trunks of trees. Think of the tonnage of this material that the forest drops upon its floor every year. The forest keeps a forest in good condition. It furnishes food and humus for the plants that grow in the open. In the open timber land grass and other plants grow. These decay and make the soil rich. Finally, there are few acres of open forest lands in Florida that are not burnt and swept clean of every bit of vegetable litter that grows or falls upon them. Is it any wonder that they are lacking in humus, and poor and sandy? Could a more rapid destruction be asked of waste and put into effect? It is now high time that the people of Florida, young and old, in city, town and country, change this policy to a more sensible one?

Some of his proposals are somewhat advanced and his platform doesn't sound very much like the president's message, but the McWhorter measures are certain to get the senator plenty of publicity.

All wise-cracks to the effect that Senator McWhorter is a pussyfoot who dodges vital issues or straddles them to get votes are demolished by his ringing declaration of principle on prohibition. The senator's friends such as they are, strongly advised him to avoid this subject because it was full of dynamite and because the senator's statements concerning it had often been misconstrued in the past, but he replied in crushing accents that he owed a duty to his people and his party.

"What we must strive for in handling this tremendous question is not only to satisfy everybody, but to make everybody happy," says the McWhorter statement. "That means that we must pass legislation which will meet the enthusiastic approval of both wets and dries."

"The solution is extremely simple. When you come to think of it, and I shall soon introduce a bill to embody it. Briefly, my plan is first to remove the restrictions on rum-running upon our coasts and our frontiers. This will make better booze easier to obtain and will surely placate all wets."

"I don't propose to appropriate much money for flood control. My bill will provide for a few more levees, but it will also provide for fish nets strung across the broad expanse of that great river, so that all the fish may be sold to make the repairs and improvements pay for themselves."

"As for farm relief, everybody knows that all the farmer wants down in the bottom of his heart, is promises. Promises have always taken care of the farmer in the past and they're good enough now. The only trouble is that we haven't promised him enough. My farm relief bill will demand a number of new promises for the farmer which have never been made before. The other party won't dare oppose them."

"If my colleagues listen to me, we'll dispose of Mr. Smith and Mr. Vane with neatness and dispatch."

LONG ILLNESS FATAL TO MRS. FORREST LAKE

charge of the services. Music is to be furnished by the full vested choir and the program is to be held at the Municipal Cemetery following the obsequies at the church.

Honorary pallbearers include S. O. Chase, T. L. Dumas, L. R. Phillips, Charles E. Henry, B. F. Whitner Sr., H. R. Stevens and A. E. Yowell. The active pallbearers were to be W. J. Thigpen, A. R. Key, Judge J. G. Sharon, G. P. Smith, George A. De Cotte and R. J. Holly Sr.

Mrs. Lake was born in Jacksonville, her parents being Mr. and Mrs. William R. Aono. In early childhood with her parents she moved to Orlando. As Miss Maude Aono she was prominent in the social life of that city and her marriage to Mr. Lake was one of the most elaborate social events of that day.

Since her marriage about 30 years ago, Mrs. Lake had made her home in Sanford most of the time, being absent for a period of about eight years when she resided in Santiago, Cuba and Miami.

A woman of unusually engaging personality, Mrs. Lake had a circle of friends that numbered hundreds in Sanford as well as scores of others living all over Florida and other parts of the South. Her death marks the passing of one of Sanford's most prominent and beloved women.

During her residence in this city, Mrs. Lake was prominent in social, club and church life. She was a member of the Holy Cross Episcopal church in the work for which she demonstrated an unusual interest. She was the organizer of the Woman's Guild and served as its first president.

As a clubwoman, Mrs. Lake enjoyed the distinction of being a charter member of the Sanford Women's Club, the Sallie Harrison chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution and of the Rosalind and Sorosis Clubs, literary and social organizations of Orlando. She has served all of these organizations in various official capacities and at one time was treasurer for the Sallie Harrison chapter.

Mrs. Lake was further honored by Sanford D. A. R. members when the local chapter of Children of American Revolution was named for one of her ancestors, Captain Reuben Briscoe.

Mrs. Lake held membership in the old Welaka Club which in later years formed the nucleus of the Sanford Woman's Club. She was a member of the Ark and Dove Society, Maryland organization whose membership is confined to those whose ancestry is traced to the founders of that state.

Mrs. Lake was also a Colonial Dame, a distinction that is enjoyed by only a limited number in this country. Membership as a Colonial Dame is confined to those whose forefathers held office in the colonial government, prior to 1776, or established institutions which subsequently developed into those of lasting influence or whose services contributed to the founding of the United States.

All that will keep them off the floor and in their offices, with provision that we will send for their votes by messenger whenever they are needed. They will not be permitted to vote except when necessary."

Other McWhorter proposals include laws providing toothpicks for desks in the Senate, punishment for pages who laugh at senators behind their backs, bigger and better cuspidors, larger hunks of pie in the Senate restaurants and dollar bills printed on pink paper.

Senator McWhorter's colleagues were slow to comment on his program, but some admitted that he showed a splendid grasp of political and economic principles.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON
Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory disease, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Mississippi Valley Keeps Eye On Progress Of Flood Control Plan Of Congress

AIRPLANES GIVEN CREDIT FOR HELP IN FLOODED AREA

Aviation As Unit Of Valued Assistance In Recent Inundation When Communication Was Cut Off With Outside

BOSTON, Dec. 12.—(INS)—Aviation as a unit of valued assistance in flood areas was proven in the recent inundation of northern New England when communication with the outside world was temporarily cut off.

The work of aviators in the flood area, and the condition which they found, served to accentuate both the value of aviation in this service and the necessity for more airports in New England.

"The flood brought into sharp relief the desirability of more airports and flying fields throughout New England," Summer Sewall of the Colonial Air Transport company is reported to have said. His statement is backed by Captain C. W. Ford, air officer of the first corps area, who discussed the difficulties experienced by army fliers in landing.

Flier Took Chances
"Our fliers had to take chances of 'cracking up' in order to land supplies," he said. "The first army plane to land at Montpelier had to be sent with only the pilot, so that he could shift his weight to the rear of the ship upon landing to prevent the plane's nosing over in the muddy field."

Had their been prepared land-planes made a reconnoitering trip to Burlington, landed in a field and marked out runways, placing red flags at danger points. Thereafter the heavier planes were able to land," Captain Ford said.

"Had their been prepared land-planes," he continued, "the big transport planes, capable of carrying as much in one load as the lighter ships could carry in thirty or forty trips, could have rushed supplies in large quantities to many stricken towns. As it was, materials had to be dropped by parachute in these places."

Reconstruction under the Cross made good progress with water out and other off-seasons have been planted in thousands of acres along the rivers.

From every nook and corner the Mississippi valley came reports of successful "combed" during the summer by planes in every report confidence is pressed that the national government will shoulder the entire burden of flood control.

What funds could be borrowed their farms and cottages. The crops were used by the Mississippi valley to rebuild homes, replace drowned livestock.

Yeast and other foodstuffs, in addition to mail were transported to the flood district by air despite prevailing adverse weather conditions.

The flood flying program was divided between the army of the New York National Guard, and the Boston Airport Corporation; three national guard planes from New York penetrating as far south as Manchester where Pilot Paul D. Meyers landed with mail.

Major General Preston Brown, commandant of the first corps area, directed the army's relief work. He was assisted by Colonel Benjamin Foullos, in command at Mitchell Field, New York, who flew to Boston four amphibian planes, two giant transport planes, one DeHavilland photo plane, and three O-2 ships battled their way through swirling snow and low hanging clouds to carry supplies to those marooned by the flood.

An air line through Vermont, from Boston to Fort Eban was established after the primary efforts of the aviation allowed reconstruction activities to be organized, and Lieut. E. D. Cobb for several days kept regular flight between New Hampshire, and Massachusetts distributing mail.

ROMAN REMAINS BEING EXCAVATED BENEATH LONDON
 Archeologists Excited Over Discovery Of Roman Relics Twenty Feet Below Surface Of London In Excavations
 LONDON.—Dec. 12 (INS)—Archeologists and students of antiquity are watching with interest, excavations now being made in the city of London for construction purposes, and hardly a day passes when some workman's spade does not upturn a clay-baker's relic of the time when sandaled Roman feet trod the areas that now comprise Piccadilly and May-fair.

Students Interested
 But with the advent of modern buildings with deep foundations, the invasion of Roman London by steam shovel and electric drill began. And new excavations recently begun have brought to light discoveries which have gladdened the hearts of archeological students and excited the curiosity of the man who trods the streets beneath which the forgotten city lies.

WAR COST PLACED AT 35 BILLION IN MELLON REPORT
 Secretary of Treasury Says Countries Eventually Meet Statement Correct If All Payments To United States

By International News Service
 WASHINGTON, Dec. 12. The World War cost the United States government $35,119,622,144, assuming that the United States had not loaned to other countries, Secretary of the Treasury Albert B. Mellon said today.

This was disclosed today in the annual report of Secretary of the Treasury Albert B. Mellon.

Mellon said that the total war costs to the United States have amounted to $27,233,111 up to June 30, 1927, plus, resulting from war expenditures, including interest on war bonds, payments on war debts, and other items totaled $3,654,000,000 to the end of the fiscal year ended June 30, 1927. The total is given as $35,119,622,144, including $7,470,000,000 due on war debts.

The "assets" were referred to as "partly estimated."

Military Expenses
 Military activities of the war cost $16,285,569,000 and those of the naval forces $1,807,784,000. The interest on the war debt up to June 30, amounted to $8,116,343,000, an item that will continue, although on a decreasing scale for about 30 years. Care of the government's war debts, as a war result, had cost $2,618,917,000 to the end of the year.

The foreign obligations outstanding June 30 amounted to $9,598,236,000 upon which $1,743,030,000 had been paid. On the foreign obligations the government "stands" to lose $384,206,169, according to Mellon's report.

In addition to the $35,000,000,000 estimated cost of the government also expended billions in interest until the debt is retired as well as the heavy cost of maintaining the Veterans' Bureau and its dependents for many years.

"It is well known to the students of public finance that the peace-time budgets of modern nations are largely concerned with the cost of present and future wars," Mellon said.

The question often arises as to the percentage of United States national expenditures that is attributable to actual or potential wars. The best known compilation of data was made by the late Edward B. Ross of the U. S. Bureau of Standards.
