$10 Millions Are Cut From State Budgets

Scientific Research And Institutions Of Higher Learning Funds Slashed

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 11.—(AP)—The cabinet cut nearly $10,000,000 today from budgets submitted by Florida institutions of higher learning and scientific research.

Acting on decisions made in a closed meeting last night, cabinet members did a quick trimming job at their budget session today. Heads of the affected institutions may appear before the Cabinet to appeal the reductions.

The college budgets cuts were twice as heavy as all others combined up to today.

These were the reductions, all in sums asked from the state general fund:

University of Florida—cut to $10,854,014 from the requested $14,864,014. During the present two years, the University had $8,985,807 for salaries and expense in the general fund.

Florida State University—cut to $7,536,180 from the requested $11,300,180. FSU had $5,197,652 during the current biennium.

Agricultural Experiment Stations—cut to $4,118,842 from $1,018,842. They had $3,528,598 this biennium.

State Plant Board—cut to $911,110 from $904,110. The agency had $721,178 this biennium.

Soil Conservation Board—its request for $10,000 for salaries and expenses was approved unchanged but its $200,000 item for machinery and equipment was eliminated.

Board of Control—cut by its own action from $100,720 to $89,520. (Continued on Page Eight)

Wind Shrieks Out Of Rockies Into Mid-West

New Blizzard Howls Down On Minnesota And Wyoming Dropping Temperatures

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winds up to 40 miles an hour shrieked out of the snow-stacked Rockies and south across Wyoming today. And right behind it in the west a paralyzing parade of bad weather came an arctic cold wave, biting into Montana and heading toward Nebraska.

In addition, a new blizzard howled down on northern Minnesota. It was expected to overspread the state tonight.

Advancers of snow and minor blizzards, meanwhile, harassed the Pacific Northwest. Heavy rain drenched the coast. Light snow piled new layers on inland hills.

At Tallahassee, Fla., today's wind raged heavily to 40 miles an hour. At Tallahassee, Fla., the mercury shot down from 40 above to 12 below within 12 hours. Nebraska expects a new cold wave, sharp squalls and gale force winds by tonight.

In the east, light snow with moderate northern winds, southerly New England and western Canada, the temperature dropped to 20 degrees from the 30s. Sharp never came to an end. The snow steadily with snow showers, but no snow on the ground.

Secretary Of State Asserts U. S. Will Not Dictate What Should Be Done

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today the United States wants Europe to choose political unity but this government will not dictate what European nations should do.

Acheson was before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for a discussion of the Marshall Plan. The Administration has asked $1,000,000,000 to continue the European Economic Administration.

Apr. 15, the committee is holding hearings on the plan.

The question of political unity in Europe was raised by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) who has proposed that Congress should send a favorable political opinion of European nations.

Fulbright said that the State Department should not take a political attitude toward Europe's political affairs.

He said the general attitude of the United States should not be a word about the necessity of European nations to choose political unity.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Southern Senators talked today about proposing a "compromise" in the Senate's forthcoming fight over curbing the filibuster. They put off a decision until Monday. The South-easterners met at the call of Senator Russell (D-Ga.) to formulate a policy and program but took no action.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee today put tax legislation aside at least temporarily, in the face of the new tax-raised plea from President Truman.

The committee voted to give its consideration to the President's proposals for a vast expansion of the Social Security program. Hearings were scheduled beginning Feb. 28.

This might mean that no tax bill will be considered until May. A committee spokesman explained, however, that today's action does not mean the committee cannot take up a tax bill any time it pleases.

Chairman Douglas (D-N.C.) of the Ways and Means Committee strongly favored that the first priority program would come first. In general, the Capital Budget given Mr. Truman's call for quick action on a $4,000,000,000 tax bond was chilly.

Meanwhile, Secretary of Agriculture, Earl Browder, asked Congress to give him the Commodities Credit Corporation authority to provide storage for farm commodities under government loans.

U.S. Ousts Top Hungarian From Diplomatic Post

Notification Gives No Reason For Demanding Expulsion

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(AP)—The United States today retaliated against Hungary for expulsion of two American officials from Budapest by ordering a top Hungarian diplomat out of this country.

The diplomat ordered to leave "as soon as possible" is John C. Florian, first secretary of the legation here.

The State Department notified Minister Andrew Sik yesterday that Florian is no longer "persona grata" or acceptable as a representative of his government.

The notification gave no reason for the demand that Florian leave. State Department Press Officer Michael J. McDermott told reporters it was "pure coincidence" that Florian's expulsion followed the rejection of the American officials from Budapest in the last two weeks.

Diplomats, however, accepted the move as being, at least in effect, retaliation.

The State Department in announcing this action also denounced the filing of spying charges by Communist Bulgaria against 15 leaders of the United Evangelical Church in Bulgaria.

The Department in a formal statement said:

"The similarity between the fantastic accusations being made against Protestant religious leaders in Bulgaria and those against Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary, whose trial has so recently been concluded, strikingly emphasizes the concerted nature of the continuing Communist assault on religious freedom in the Balkans."

Mother And 7 Children Die As Home Burns

Father And 1 Child Escape From Fire In New York House

CLAYTON, N. Y., Feb. 11.—(AP)—A mother and seven of her eight children perished early today in a fire that destroyed their three-room house near the St. Lawrence River village.

Mrs. Clifford Conant, 29, and the children, ranging in age from one year to 11, apparently were trapped in their beds. The structure, about 25 feet square, burned to the ground.

The husband, 39, and a daughter, Susan, 14, escaped.

Conant was treated by a physician for hysteria and shock and cuts of the hands and arms.

Susan, awakened by smoke and the crackling flames, roused her father, a trooper.

Conant, clad only in his underwear, tried to enter the house to rescue his family. Smoke and flames drove him from the doorway. Then he ran from window to window, breaking the panes and trying to climb in. Flames drove him back each time.

Firemen said they believed the blaze originated in a kerosene lamp.

Philadelphia Tied Up By Walkout Of Transit Workers

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Detoured by a strike of transit workers, Philadelphia's 3,200,000 bus, subway and trolley system scrambled into the city today in a foot-thump-flagging of passing cars and by fighting their way aboard arduous-packed suburban railway trains. The massive operations of the Philadelphia Transportation Company ground to a halt at midnight last night, throwing workers in the nation's third largest city to their own devices. The strike of 11,000 members of the CIO's Transport Workers Union was in support of a demand for a fourth round wage increase. The work stoppage was orderly and PTC officials said the company will make no attempt to operate over its 1,500 miles of lines. Many workers were late. Some were hampered by a four-inch snowfall that piled into drifts in suburban areas and never got to their jobs. Much of the load shifted to suburban trains of the Pennsylvania and Reading railroads. Police stood guard at stations pushing puffing passengers to the steps and barking with menacing regularity. "Move into the middle of the street," they barked. (Continued on Page Eight)

Jaycees Favor School Section For Swim Pool

Site Is Praised For Central Location By Brailey Odham

The Sanford County Junior Chamber of Commerce went on record at the noon meeting at the Town Center yesterday as favoring the location of the proposed swimming pool in the vicinity of the Sanford High School following a motion by J. Bradley Odham.

Mr. Odham stated in his motion that the Jaycees favor the location of the City swimming pool in the vicinity of the high school, if land transactions can be completed in compliance with State Laws.

Mr. Odham said the high school would plan the pool in a central location for students and residents of the City. It would allow children to be taught how to swim while in high school. According to Selective Service records, he said, the third highest number of non-swimmers to enter the armed forces in the recent war, he asserted.

Mr. Odham also stated that the pool would be a fine addition to the city and that the site was a central location for the pool. He said the pool would be a fine addition to the city and that the site was a central location for the pool.

Court Fixes Salary Of County Judge

The Florida Supreme Court recently sustained the position of Seminole County Judge R. W. Ware to determine his salary status under Florida law. O. P. Herndon, county clerk, announced today.

The higher Court's decision on Jan. 21 followed an appeal by Judge Ware from a decision on June 18, 1948 by Judge M. H. Smith in Circuit Court that as Judge of the County Court, Judge Ware was to be compensated under Florida section 34.21, Act of 1941. The Supreme Court upheld this decision, and stated that the law prevailed in regard to Judge Ware from June 30, 1942.

This law fixes the compensation of the County Judge as $1,500 a year, including all salary, fees or other compensation which as Judge of the court he might receive or be entitled to, said Mr. Herndon.

Citrus Men Urged To Limit Output

LAKELAND, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Florida Citrus shippers were urged to limit their output to 1,400 carloads (200,000 boxes) next week to take advantage of reduced estimates of the crop.

Marvin J. Walker, general manager of the Florida Citrus Commission, urged spacing of shipments to maintain present prices on a sound basis.

Government estimates yesterday of the nation's crop were 23,000,000 boxes lower than a month ago. Most of the decrease was attributed to freezing weather during January in California, Arizona and Texas.

Florida's orange crop was dry weather caused much of the fruit to fall off the trees.

U.S. Warned To Think Twice Before Joining Crusade For Mindszenty

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—(AP)—A prominent Brooklyn Protestant minister has called on Americans to "think twice before they join the 'holy' crusade" on behalf of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty.

The Rev. Dr. John Paul Jones said yesterday that both the Roman Catholic Church and the Hungarian Communist have "resorted to questionable tactics of unseemly warfare."

He said few Americans, perhaps none, know the whole truth concerning the trial of the Hungarian primate, who was sentenced to life in prison on treason and other charges. He urged protestants to view all factors objectively before government or public opinion involves us in serious commitments.

Dr. Jones is pastor of the Union Presbyterian Church of Bay Ridge and president of the Brooklyn Division of the Protestant Council of the City of New York.

In an editorial, prepared for his Union church newsletter, Dr. Jones said Americans should not become involved in any concerted contest by the Roman Catholic

Winter Of '49 Is Officially Hardest In History Of West

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(AP)—This has been the toughest winter in history in the blizzard belt.

The Weather Bureau officially has handed January 1949 the title of "the worst yet ever had." February has a good chance of snatching a title too.

The weather experts base their decision on the combination of conditions that test the endurance of man and beast—cold, snow, wind and visibility.

Hundreds of people have been snowbound. Some have died. Some stockmen have lost every animal they owned.

Exactly how many cattle and sheep have died won't be known until the snows melt in late spring. Then it will be known whether the losses have been so heavy they will cut meat supplies and bring higher prices. Most experts are guessing right now maximum production of beef of high quality and for maximum returns from his investment and labor.

The project, conceived by Station Director Harold Mowry several years ago, has been developed into a detailed program of research for agronomists soils works, and animal husbandmen, the necessary land has been acquired and fenced, and the research is expected to get under way within the year.

Improved pasture plants, such as Pangola and the Bahis grasses and clovers will be planted in separate pastures, various fertilizers will be used on them and the productivity of the plants and the efficiency of the fertilizers will be closely checked. Four herds of grade native cows will be raised on the different pastures and will be bred to bulls of the Shorthorn, Brahman, Hereford, and Angus breeds so that in a four-year period each cow will drop a calf of a different cross-breed. Productivity of the cows on the various pastures, supplemental feed requirements, growth of calves of different breeds, weight gains or losses, quantity and quality of meat produced by slaughter animals, and costs of production will be watched and recorded.

From the research, the station hopes to obtain progressive results which it can pass on to cattlemen for use with their herds on range. As with most research, results that can be used will require time for development, but they will be forthcoming as the work progresses.

The program, beginning with the soil and continuing to the market meat from the animals that will be raised on it, will be thorough and detailed, and should prove of great value to cattlemen who have herds on thousands of acres of land similar to that of the research tract.

losses won't be that heavy. January probably will turn out to be the coldest January of all time in at least three states—Utah, Idaho and Nevada—when all the records are in. Weather Bureau experts say. The previous cold records were set in most Western states in 1937.

More snow fell in Nebraska and Kansas, than in any previous January. Precipitation for Kansas and Oklahoma was four times as much as usual. In the Southwest there was twice as much.

Temperatures were below zero for several days.
Fourteen inches of snow fell, with drifts 20 feet high.
For two days the winds blew at a top speed of 70 miles an hour.
"Visibility limited to less than five feet the greater part of two days," says a local Weather Bureau report.

The hardest hit states have been Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, North and South Dakota, Nebraska and parts of Colorado. The Weather Bureau says.
A weather summary, released today, says:
"The blizzard of Jan. 2-5 was one of the most severe of record in the Central Great Plains area. Similar conditions which prevailed in Western Nebraska on January 2-5 were described as the worst ever to visit that region."

"The duration of blizzard conditions at Cheyenne, Wyo., was the greatest of record. In North Dakota blizzard conditions prevailed during the greater part of the month."
It adds:
"January 1949 was the coldest on record at Missoula, Mont.; Boise, Idaho; Fresno, Bakersfield and San Diego, California, and Salt Lake City, Utah. The temperature fell below zero on 22 days in Missoula; frost penetrated into the ground for seven feet and "thousands of water pipes burst."

It sums up:
"Temperatures almost as low as in 1937, combined with high winds, deep snow and long duration of blizzard conditions makes the weather of January 1949 the worst ever experienced in this section. (The blizzard belt.)"
Although Department of Agriculture officials say it is too early to determine how many cattle and sheep have been killed, they estimate there were around 2,500,000 head of cattle in the area hardest hit and about the same number of sheep.
Many cattle that weathered the blizzards may be so weak they will die later. A lot depends on how the snow melts and how much feed is available.

The number of U. S. farm houses with modern bathrooms more than doubled between 1940 and 1947.
Owls live mostly on animal food, captured alive—mice, rats and other small mammals as well as birds of various species.

Mitchum Sentence May Be Interrupted

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Robert Mitchum's jail stretch may be interrupted today, if Lawyer Giesler can swing it.

A court hearing was set for this afternoon on Giesler's motion to have the film star's 90-day sentence postponed to keep "hundreds of persons from being thrown abruptly out of work."

Mitchum was slated to leave tomorrow for Mexico City on location with RKO's "The Big Heat" company. Then he and Lila Leavelle were hit with the court sentence on a marijuana charge.

Giesler said the film could be completed within six weeks and that Mitchum could pick up the remaining $50,000 of his term "without paying hundreds of other persons."

Mitchum himself settled down to jail routine. "Kind of like it here," he said, "but I'm not getting into trouble here."

West Allies Protest Firing In Corridor

BERLIN, Feb. 11, (AP)—U.S. British and French authorities protested Russian plans to conduct no-charge firing practices today at the entrance to a corridor blocked by the airlift supplying the city.

The Russians said they would fire for six hours up to a range of 2,500 feet.

An Allied announcement said the firing was directly in the pattern of airlift planes departing from Berlin-Tegel Airport to return to Western German landing bases.

BIBLE VERSE TODAY

No one would be silly enough to think he would do well by violating natural laws. Laws do not cease at the border of the material world. If ye fulfill the royal law... ye shall do well.—Ja. 2:8.

The city of Lakeland is trying to solve its financial jam with a two cent tax on every package of cigarettes. The biggest part of the cost of a package of cigarettes already consists of the tax, but for those who are interested we might point out that Lakeland received $15,629 during the first three months its new tax was in operation, expects to raise $60,000 a year.

Are comic books injurious to children? A six-year old child was hurt the other day in a traffic accident in Cleveland. She had been playing with other children in a game called "Sudden Death". The idea, she explained, was for all the children to line up along the curb of a heavily travelled street. When the leader suddenly shouts a given name, the child called must dash across the street in front of the approaching traffic. Asked where they ever got the idea for such a game, she said, "In the comic book."

At a time when so many people are quitting their jobs simply to collect unemployment insurance, it is refreshing to find one man, and him a street sweeper, who is willing to work for the good he can do.
 When Dan Noble of Kearny, N. J., after working for over twenty years in the street cleaning department at $37 a week, suddenly and miraculously inherited $500,000, he calmly announced that he intended to go right on sweeping streets.
 "Somebody has got to do it," he said, "and besides, I like it". Praise God for men who love their work.

We don't know why it is that people telephone us when they have a complaint to make against the Orlando Sentinel. Or why they ask us to give free publicity to a commercial broadcast over WTRR. We have the highest respect for both the Sentinel and our local radio station, but we recognize them as competitors fully deserving of our utmost resourcefulness. We have no intention of telling them how to run their business, or of helping them to sell ads. When Lucky Strike advertises in our paper urging people to buy Chesterfields, we may change our mind.

We do not agree with President Truman that the 80th Congress was the worst in American history—for we have had some honeys—but of all the acts which it passed seeming to make it so was the 1948 Tariff Act, on a subject always a weakness in the Republican party. And it is significant to note that the very first Republican measure repealed by either branch of the new Democratic Congress was this self same tariff act which went down to defeat in the House on Wednesday by a vote of 319 to 69. Tariffs are an impediment to world trade at a time when world trade needs all the encouragement it can get.

We commend to the Legislators, as well as the Governor and his aide, the forthright statement of the West Palm Beach city commissioners, who pointed out in no uncertain terms the evils of the homestead exemption amendment and the plight in which it has left Florida's cities and towns. With the state and federal governments receiving virtually all sources of revenue, the cities are nonetheless left with the duty and responsibility of providing police and fire protection, streets and sidewalks, sewers and sewage disposal facilities, if any, parks and playgrounds, swimming pools and other sports, golf courses and other recreational facilities as well as street lighting and garbage collection.

Power To Reorganize

The proposed measure which would give the President authority to prepare reorganization plans for the executive branch of the government went through the House of Representatives with surprising speed and strength. The friends of a handful of independent agencies managed to get them into a special category, but these agencies are nevertheless subject to reorganization.

If the measure should get through the Senate with equal good fortune, a first step would be taken toward a more sensible government system. It should not be assumed that more efficient government would then be an accomplished fact, however. Reorganization would still be a slow process, and not at all a sure one. It would be up to the President to prepare reorganization plans, and Congress would have the chance to veto any or all of such plans.

A presidential reorganization power was voted ten years ago, by the seventy-sixth Congress, but the sprawling, un-planned, wasteful piling of agency on agency did not stop; it grew and prospered. Two years ago Congress made a specific move toward reorganization when it drafted and enacted a plan to unify the armed forces. The net result is that there now are four competing and duplicating military departments, where there used to be only two.

Enactment of permanent authority to reorganize the executive branch, if achieved, would be gratifying. But nothing will ever come of it unless both the President and the Congress have an honest desire to improve government.

Freedom Of The Press

Freedom of the press throughout the world is a concern of the International Congress of Liberal Newspaper Editors, which has just created an international committee to consult with and advise editors and newspapers on problems relating to freedom.

The task of such a group is delicate. Freedom of the press cannot be imposed on a nation; it can only be created within the nation. It cannot be enforced from without; it must be defended from within. Responsible newspapers can and do watch unceasingly for things which endanger press freedom, but they can only resist and expose the dangers; the people must protect their free press if they want to keep it.

Even an organization of editors or newspapers must be loosely formed, and can do little more than watch and advise. A newspaper which would remain free cannot bind itself to follow the lead of any body. It can only commit itself to sustain freedom, justice, and right, and to follow and support all others who do likewise.

Checking On Lawyers

Lawyers will soon have a chance to learn how other people like being cross-examined and told that they cannot do something because some red-tape rule forbids. A Survey of the Legal Profession, financed jointly by the American Bar Association and the Carnegie Corporation, is working on a three-year project.

This will see what lawyers do, how they are trained, and how to improve their service to society. Lest the legal point of view prevail to the exclusion of the layman's, a non-lawyer advisory committee has been added, including the former undersecretary of state, Sumner Welles.

The legal characteristics to which laymen chiefly object are not likely to be totally removed as a result of this survey, but some improvements may conceivably be made.

Owls swallow whole pieces of material around bathroom show-ers, which first became popular in the United States after World War I, greatly spurred clay tile production and sales.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Good ideas can't be killed.
 A year has passed since Mahatma Gandhi was shot to death by the Hindu Narayan Godse. But the teachings of the great spiritual leader go marching on with increasing strength at the head of India's awakening millions.

Yesterday Godse was sentenced to be hanged for one of the terrible crimes of the ages. Of six fellow conspirators, one was condemned to death and the rest to life imprisonment.

Godse testified at his trial that he "respected Gandhi's saintliness" but disagreed with his policies of love and tolerance for Moslems. Among the assassin and his colleagues left the courtroom after being sentenced they were shouting:

"We will conquer Pakistan (the Moslem dominion). Long live Hindu dewan (the dominion of Hindu India)!"

The condemned men had tried to kill ideas with leaden bullets. The margin by which they failed is seen in the fact that the bequest of brotherly love left by Gandhi had much to do with preventing war between Pakistan and India at the height of the quarrel over the long labor of Gandhi, the Hindu, for Moslem-Hindu peace brought striking recognition on the anniversary of his death from Khwaja Nazimuddin, governor general of Pakistan. Nazimuddin said in a message to the Indian capital of Delhi:

"In the present-day world which has failed to take a lesson from the devastation and misery caused by two world wars of this century and where the cult of violence still holds sway, it would be well to recall Gandhi's message of non-violence, for the salvation of humanity lies in outlawing violence."

You will note that this Moslem leader called the Mahatma "Gandhi-Ji" that in itself is a great tribute, for the suffix "Ji" is a designation of respect and affection. You would understand that better if you knew Gandhi, as I did.

I always think of him either as "the Mahatma (great-souled one)" or a "Gandhi-Ji." Many folks were impressed that way by this humble little man who once told me that the greatest influence in his life had been Christ's Sermon On The Mount.

So Gandhi-Ji's ideas march on. The Prime Minister of India, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, who is one of the world's outstanding personalities, keeps exhorting his people to follow the Mahatma's teachings. So dies the minister of state, Bardar Patel. And Gandhi's disciples are continuing to spread the teachings of the apostle of non-violence and brotherly love

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL KAY

Too many times the path of the pioneer, the person or organization that dares to step out along lines which are new, is a pretty rugged one, with whatever rewards due to such initiative coming much later. But in the case of "The Greatest Story Ever Told," the radio program which dramatizes the teachings of Christ, just the opposite has been true. Having to be different, underrating to present religion in modern manner on a national network, with innovations in the production, presentation and theory behind the program, it was almost immediately recognized as an outstanding job and ranks today as just about the best program radio has done in the past decade.

At a time when radio is cluttered with an over abundance of goofy commercials, exaggerated claims, jive and jangle, with listeners warned against the horror of "fish man hands" or being only "half safe" and even the so-called better programs weakened with boring interruptions by a syrupy female voice cooing the virtues of a "home permanent" or the unbelievable joys of "regularity," it is indeed refreshing to find one program that features no commercial at all.

While "The Greatest Story Ever Told" is sponsored by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, no effort is made to commercialize it in any way and no institutional comment is made anywhere in the program. The sponsor is identified at the beginning of the program as required by the Federal Communications Commission, that is all. Not even the sponsor's address is mentioned.

In further contrast to other radio programs, "The Greatest Story Ever Told" is not used as a vehicle to promote or publicize exceptional talent make its production possible.

When you can keep an actor from trying to get into the spotlight and taking advantage of everything possible in order to throughout the vast sub-continent for whose independence he was so largely responsible. You see Gandhi's guiding hand in numerous acts of government, both national and provincial. There is striking evidence of this in the prohibition of alcohol as a beverage in many provinces.

One of the most notable developments came the other day when a meeting of exponents of peace, held at Gandhi's ashram ("hermitage" or "sanctuary") at Wardha, decided to hold a world convention at Santiniketan.

to speak just as he spoke almost two thousand years ago. Clergy, educational and civic leaders were approached on the question. Most felt that it would be quite acceptable if approached in the right way. A few presented arguments against it. All of them felt that it would be extremely difficult to get an actor to portray the kindness, humility, compassion, strength and spiritual feeling that would truly represent the Master. Dozens of actors were tried for the role before one was finally accepted. Acceptance has been entirely favorable from the time the program first went on the air at 8:30 P. M. EST over ABC network, where it continues now in its third year. I am gratified to have this opportunity to pay tribute to the sponsors of this splendid program and to the actors and musicians who remain anonymous and unselfishly waive recording fees in order that "The Greatest Story Ever Told" may reach the greatest possible number of people.

Cabinet Nips $20 Per Cent From Budgets

Florida Faces Near Financial Crisis, Warren Says After Commission Meet

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The Cabinet nipped at least 20 percent of the budget increase request of every state agency today, and put squarely up to the Legislature the responsibility to supply $15,000,000 extra for the school program.

The actions brought total budget reductions to some $30,000,000, which would still leave the state up against the proposition of finding about $70,000,000 in new tax money for the next biennium.

Governor Warren and Cabinet members came out of an hour closed conference to make the cuts with little discussion.

Warren said the state is "faced with a new financial crisis" because the 1917 legislature adjourned without providing enough income to meet appropriations it had voted and "required the state government to do deficit operating."

Specifically, the Cabinet Budget Commission:

Adopted a resolution reducing all requested increases in operating budgets over the 1917 appropriations by 20 percent, or by any other amount that already had been cut off by the Cabinet.

Reconsidered its recommendation that $90,000,000 be appropriated for the school system during the next two years and substituted $44,000,000. It said even the lower amount cannot be paid unless the Legislature provides new revenue.

The Budget Commission fully recognized the needs of the county schools for additional revenues to meet the formula prescribed for the maintenance of the public school system by the 1917 Legislature, but believes it is futile to recommend the increase requested of $40,000,000 for the biennium unless additional revenues are provided by the 1919 Legislature.

Extradition Of Sassard Held Up By Gov. Talmadge

Release To Be Made After Settlement Of Georgia Charge

ATLANTA, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Extradition of Jack Sassard, wanted in Florida for killing a deer, was held up today because he is wanted in Georgia for reckless driving and killing a hog.

Governor Herman Talmadge granted the extradition but Sassard, formerly of Sanford and now of Athens, Ga., was not delivered because of the Georgia warrant.

Sassard is charged in Florida with unlawfully killing and possessing a deer in the Ocala National Forest Aug. 14. He was charged with violating the motor vehicle law in Swainsboro, Ga., Feb. 12.

Talmadge said Sassard would be turned over to Florida authorities after settlement of the charge in Georgia.

Hayes Lewis, Jr., attorney for the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission of Florida, said Sassard and H. R. Odham were charged with possessing and killing a deer at night and out of season.

Florida investigators located Sassard in Athens, Otham a brother of Florida State Rep. Bradley Odham, was fined $100 and sentenced to 30 days in jail in connection with the deer hunt. The Florida Pardon Board remitted the jail sentence but increased the fine to $200.

John Houston, assistant attorney general, assigned to Talmadge's office, said the Swainsboro warrant charged reckless driving and killing a hog.

Court Orders Argument On Tideland Case

Federal Control Of Coasts Is Fought In Suits Filed In Texas, Louisiana

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The Supreme Court today ordered argument on whether it should let the Justice Department file suits seeking to establish federal control over submerged lands off the coasts of Texas and Louisiana.

The Supreme Court refused to review the conviction of Bennett E. Meyers, retired Air Force major general, on a charge that he had secured another man to be made a partner in a business.

Meyers had been in jail here since May 17, 1948, serving a sentence of 18 months to five years. A district court jury convicted him of inducing Horatio H. Lamar to testify falsely before a Senate investigating subcommittee.

Lamar was writing president of a Dayton, Ohio, company. He first told the subcommittee that Meyers and the company were connected with the company, which got war contracts at a time when Meyers was the Army Air Force's No. 2 purchasing officer. Later Lamar said Meyers was the real owner of the concern.

Meyers' conviction was upheld by a U. S. court of appeals here by a 2-1 vote.

In appealing for a Supreme Court review, the ex-general said his trial was "a subtle mockery, a fraud and a sham." He said the court of appeals decision upholding his conviction was "a fitting and hypocritical climax to these disgraceful proceedings."

Attorney General Clark has asked the high court for permission to bring the suits against Texas and Louisiana as original actions, that is, without a federal trial in lower courts.

Clark also gave the Supreme Court copies of the suits. In them he asked the tribunal to declare federal rights over "lands, minerals and other things underlying the Gulf of Mexico" adjacent to Texas and Louisiana.

The Supreme Court did not indicate when it would hear arguments on the question of permitting the government to file the cases. Presumably the court will set a date convenient for attorneys of the two states.

The Supreme Court ruled in June, 1915, that the federal government has "paramount rights in, and full dominion and power over" submerged lands off the California coast. Clark contended the same rule is applicable to Texas and Louisiana.

U.S. Unemployment Should Be Watched, Sec. Tobin Asserts

Mindszenty Trial Is Attacked As Unjust By Pope

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The Senate's top-ranking foreign policy leaders today said they are opposed to continuing this country to any "moral obligation" to go to war. The declarations came in Senate debate from Chairman Connally, 60 years of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, the past chairman.

They were discussing the proposed North Atlantic Security Alliance. Details of the proposed alliance study have not been disclosed, but the Connally and Vandenberg statements served notice, in effect, that the Senate is unlikely to approve any treaty which would bind the United States automatically to go to war under any circumstances.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Tobin said today that the unemployment situation needs close watching so that steps can be taken to deal with it before it becomes a serious problem.

Tobin told the Senate House Economic Committee that the number of jobless is still rising, but that the rate of increase appears to have leveled off.

Caution is needed, the Secretary said, with the nation still in its period of postwar readjustment. The committee is holding hearings on the general economic outlook.

Other developments on Capitol Hill:

The Senate Labor Committee reviewed hearings on the Fair Labor Law. There are signs the struggle over President Truman's demand for repeal of the act and passage of a new one will be beyond the annual session.
