

McLucas Preps Seminole Warriors For Clash With Ocala Friday Night

Indian-Wildcat Clash Will Be Feature Game Of Conference Play During Coming Week

Local Eleven Emerged From DeLand Tilt Safe From Injuries And Squad Also In Good Mood For Friday Battle

Head Coach Leonard McLucas and his 1937 edition of the Seminole High School Indians went through their initial workout yesterday afternoon in preparation for their contest with the Ocala Wildcats that will be staged in Sanford's own backyard stadium Friday evening of this week.

Ocala will bring to Sanford a team that has yet to be defeated in Northwest Conference play and a team that will be hard to beat but Coach McLucas' boys say that it can be done. Ocala has won four conference victories while Sanford has won two and dropped one and that to Lake City after wins over Bufile and DeLand.

The winning of the game Friday night by the local aggressives would mean that they will be in a great bid for the leadership of the conference but a defeat would mark their near failure. The Indians are not over-confident or not under-confident but have the right spirit needed when they are scheduled to go into a hard battle.

The local group has two of the hardest games on the 1937 schedule planned for the next two weeks as they are with Ocala and Orlando and an advantage will be held over both eleven in weight division, experience and also the home grounds will be the setting.

If Sanford wins over Ocala this week and Orlando upsets Lee, Sanford can expect one of the largest crowds in the history of the school's football season to see the Indian-Tiger war. The team emerged from the DeLand game in excellent condition and they are working hard on their double wingback plays which chiefly comprise many reverses and razzell-dassell style of play. The hidden ball system in the double wingback division will be another of the advantages that Seminole will have over Ocala. Although the double wingback plays were used in the DeLand tilt they are still not run as Coach McLucas wants them so that will probably be the Indian mentor's chief motive in this week's practice session.

Backfield Ace Of Hatters Is Again Injured

Stew Ryan Suffers Second Injury In Past Three Weeks

DELAND, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Stew Ryan's hopes of defeating Erskine College here Friday night took a mighty tumble when Ryan, ace backfield man who was out of the Tampa game with a head wound, injured his left ankle in practice at Hulley field yesterday afternoon.

Just rounding into shape after a slight concussion suffered in the South Georgia teachers game here Oct. 8, Ryan was expected to play a leading role against the seceders.

More misery for Hatter supporters came with the announcement by Coach Brady Cowell that Lyn Warren, triple-threat backfield star, "probably" would not see action Friday because of a bad cold. And just to make the picture complete, Ed Furlong, Giant tackle, is watching the sessions this week from the sidelines because of a leg injury suffered in the Tampa battle.

With the squad reduced to 24, it was necessary to call on the game-worn freshman for an hour's scrimmage, but the Baby Hatters, bruised from a terrific 49-12 beating in Miami Saturday, were no match for their big brothers and the varsity marched through their flimsy line for consistent gains.

"They look pretty ragged," Cowell said in reference to the general all-around play of his gridder. "and they'll have to do better than they're doing this afternoon if they expect to stop that 'flying fleet' from Erskine."

The only optimistic feature of the session was the accurate placement kicking of Willard Anderson and the fine-plunging of Lanier Smith, diminutive fullback. Some flashes of brilliance were quickly overshadowed by "boneheaded" plays and ineffective blocking.

Freak Play By Yale Back Is New Problem To Game Rule-Makers

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Clint Frank, Yale's All-American back, found himself spotlighted yesterday as the leading man in a football play that threatens to become a new problem for rule makers and officials.

The play occurred late in the third quarter of the Yale-Cornell game here Saturday which Yale won, 9 to 0. With the ball on the loser's 23-yard line, fourth down and 10 yards to go, Frank faked back to the 40 and shot a long, high forward pass deep into Cornell's end zone without

Cincinnati Not To Have Agreement In '38 With DeLand

Baseball Team, Informed Officials Here Last Night It Would Not Renew Its Working Agreement Next Season With The DeLand Florida State League Team

WARREN C. GILES vice-president and general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, National League baseball team, informed officials here last night it would not renew its working agreement next season with the DeLand Florida State League team.

"The geographical location of DeLand makes it difficult for us to handle and follow the progress of players," wrote Giles. "Therefore I hope you are not counting on any affiliation with our club next year. For various reasons I am going to restrict our class D operations and those we are interested in will probably be nearer at hand."

A single Yale player leaving the line of scrimmage, the question today was whether Frank had deliberately grounded a forward pass to gain ground, which involves a technicality in the rules. The officials called the play a touchback and handed the ball to Cornell on its 26, an advance of eight yards for Yale.

It was pointed out there is nothing in the rules to penalize deliberate grounding of a pass to "gain" ground.

Heavy L. Gray Is Again Named State Loop Head

Gray's Salary Also Named At $1,200 For Coming Season

At the annual Fall meeting of the Florida State Baseball League Board of Directors held yesterday in Palatka, Henry L. Gray, a Gainesville attorney whose first year's term as president of the loop found him tendering an annual report revealing a treasury balance of $2,394.94, was re-elected by acclamation by the group and became the league's first salaried president.

Directors, meeting in the Analea City, voted to give Mr. Gray as an annual salary, $1,200, and also pay his entire expenses to the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs yearly meeting to be held in Milwaukee during the first week of December.

In a harmonious session attended by representatives of all clubs save Leesburg, the directors also re-elected Al Combs of Gainesville as vice president, and Peter Schaaf of Orlando as secretary-statistician.

When Director Rex Packard of Sanford raised a point as to the president's authority in levying a $500 fine on Leesburg, President Gray pointed out that rules approved by Minor League President W. G. Bramham, he was within his rights in applying a disciplinary measure of this type.

He explained that the fine followed a warning that Sanford would feel a stiffer penalty should spectators again swarm upon the field, and added that the forfeiture was imposed as a penalty aimed at protecting the fans from themselves.

"It wasn't so much for what happened as what might have happened," he explained. "that I decided that a forfeiture was the only way I could drive home to the fans that they have a vital interest in each game. It was to check them in the future that the game was forfeited, and it appears that the check served its purpose."

The annual treasurer's report, submitted by President Gray who also is treasurer, revealed total receipts of $2,342.87 and expenditures of $6,974.99, of which $5,272.59 was expended upon umpires. Collected during the year in fines assessed against players was $420, divided as follows: Gainesville, $130; Sanford, $124; St. Augustine, $43; DeLand, $35; Leesburg, Daytona Beach, $25 each; Palatka, $23; and Orlando, $15.

Future Seminole Grid Rival Loses Two Backfield Men

Bolles Academy Of Jacksonville To Play Here Nov. 11

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 26.—Coach Kenneth Eppert of Bolles last night expressed fear that two of his regular backs would be unable to play in Thursday night's game with St. Paul's on Cawthon Field.

Timer O'Reilly, star punter and quarterback, had to be treated for a stomach ailment yesterday and Edward Beverly, right half, may not be eligible for the fray because of a temporary scholastic deficiency.

Eppert, of course, hopes Beverly can make up his work and O'Reilly's ailment will not prove serious. If O'Reilly is able to play, he will take over the tailback spot and Charles Nuckola will take over the quarterback assignment.

The Cadets were instructed yesterday in the defense that will be used against St. Paul's and heard their mentors point out the mistakes they committed against Fletcher last Friday.

Waldo Stock, regular end, has a painful Charley Horse but he should be able to play Thursday night. Out in Riverside, Coach Charlie Jones drilled his charges on protecting the kicker. St. Paul's has had four punts blocked this season in three games and Jones wants no more of it. The Riverwalkers also polished up their aerial game. St. Paul's, if Capt. Alfred Price recovers from a bad cold, will be in the best shape of the season for the Cadets.

St. Paul's scored out a 7-8 decision over Bolles last year and another close game is expected this season. Bolles will outweigh St. Paul's but the Riverwalkers hope their superior speed will offset their lack of avoirdupois.

Plans Provide For 3 Story Structure To Be Made Of Brick

A WPA project for a County-owned and operated hospital has been approved by the County Commission, signed and sent to the WPA office in Jacksonville, a Herald reporter learned late yesterday afternoon.

Plans for the hospital were drawn by Architect Elton J. Moughton and are based on other plans for modern hospitals which have been constructed over the nation during the past year, Mr. Moughton said.

The proposed three story structure will have a bed capacity of 47, and will be so constructed as to be fire proof. It will be equipped throughout with a hot water heating system and also with an automatic self-extinguishing elevator.

Mr. Moughton's specifications for the ground floor of the structure provide for an accident room, x-ray room, isolation ward for contagious diseases, office, and main kitchen while the second floor will be completed chiefly of wards and private rooms.

Judge Tells Jury Error Was Made In Montague Verdict

ELIZABETHTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 27.—(AP)—A jury last night sent mysterious John Montague out of Essex county court house, a free man—free to go reap fame and gold by his ability as a super golf player.

The verdict acquitting him on charges that he committed robbery in 1930 was brought in after 12 men had been deliberating for almost four hours.

There was a mighty cheer in the little court room and Judge Harry E. Owen, gray-haired and dignified, ordered all spectators to leave. They jammed the aisles, trying to shake hands with Montague who stood at the defense table smiling and waving.

When quiet was restored, James Noonan, defense counsel arose and said: "Gentlemen of the jury, I thank you. I thank you in behalf of Lawton." (Continued on page three)

Freedom Of The Press

Many people nowadays seem to have the idea that whenever a newspaper editor speaks of the freedom of the press or warns against any infringement on the liberties of the people to say and print what they please, or calls attention to the constitutional guarantee against government control or censorship of newspapers, that he is seeking merely to advance his own personal interests, that freedom of the press is a sort of "newspaper racket," or that in some way it enables the publisher to reap an enormous profit either at the expense of his employees or the public generally.

As a matter of fact, nothing could be further from the truth. Freedom of the press is not something which concerns merely the editor, but it is something which vitally affects every person in the community, every person in the nation. It is just as important to the man in the street, even though he may never read a newspaper, as it is to the biggest publisher. Freedom of the press is something which is as vital to democracy and to the liberty of every individual as is the right to vote or to a trial by jury.

In this country not only does every newspaper editor enjoy the privilege of writing freely upon any and all subjects but so does every other American citizen. The newspaper publisher may spend thousands, or hundreds of thousands of dollars, buying his presses and getting his plant together with which to lay his views before the public, but the man in the street enjoys this same privilege without putting up a red cent. Any banker, farmer, laborer, or communist agitator can have his say in the forum columns of the newspapers on either side of any subject he chooses without its costing him anything.

That is freedom of the press. And that is a privilege which every person in this country enjoys whether he cares to exercise it or not. But the mere fact that he can, if he chooses, express his approval or disapproval of anything which may happen to be going on, is the greatest guarantee which the people of this country have that other liberties will not be taken away from them. Just so long as the average man can shoot his mouth off to his heart's content, there can be no dictatorship in this country such as already exists in Germany, Italy, and Russia. But to say that the average man has this privilege today is not to mean that he will always have it. We know of many attempts which have been made in this country to muzzle the press. Mark Wilcox recently related an incident which occurred shortly after the Civil War in which an editor was jailed, and denied the right of a trial by jury for calling a carpetbag governor a "tyrant." But one does not have to go back to the Civil War to find attempts at controlling the press. Huey Long tried it in Louisiana by means of a special tax, later declared unconstitutional. Gov. Quinn of Rhode Island has recently called out the National Guards to close a racetrack belonging to a newspaper publisher who had opposed him politically in his newspaper.

Bishop Francis John McConnell was quoted only yesterday as warning against attacks being made on every hand against the freedom of the press. "The next ten years," he said, "probably will see the most deadly warfare against free speech that our nation has known within the lifetime of any who hear me." And it is interesting to note that almost at the same time that this warning was being given by one Bishop, another Bishop, Henry St. George Tucker of the Episcopal Church, was warning that the church itself is in danger of extinction.

In truth, freedom of the press, freedom of speech, freedom of religion, and all the other liberties which men enjoy go hand in hand. Wherever you find the right to print the news and to comment upon it fully and frankly destroyed, you find also that men are not permitted to worship God in their own way, are thrown into jail without the privilege of a fair trial, and are often executed by firing squads for no more serious offense than a failure to agree with the head man.

No, freedom of the press is not something which merely concerns newspapermen. It concerns everyone.

No Income Tax Here

Getting to be one of the biggest "big businesses" in America is John L. Lewis' CIO union, or the Committee for Industrial Organization. It not only has a membership running into millions of industrial workers, but it also collects from them regular dues which aggregate millions of dollars.

Figures recently released at the Atlantic City meeting show that the CIO treasury is supplied with funds by the workers at the rate of $190,000 a month, which amounts to $2,280,000 a year. Expenditures by this vast organization reached a total of $1,745,968 during the past sixteen months.

Though no official accounting of funds is required by law, and CIO leaders are free to do with this money exactly as they please, it was revealed at the Atlantic City meeting that more than $900,000 had been spent on strike activities during the past year.

menace during the Mediterranean Fruit Fly extermination campaign a few years ago, for information regarding the status of the Medfly damage bill, Mr. Patterson, who introduced the bill, said that he believes it will be passed in the next few weeks.

Mr. Patterson, who had introduced a companion bill to Senator Andrew's measure calling for a survey of the damage claims, replied that the bill was on the verge of being reported by the House Committee when Congress adjourned last summer. He said that he has the assurance of the chairman of the committee that it will be among the first measures to be taken up at the next regular session.

He pointed out by declaring that "we are going to watch it very carefully and I am not sure that it will be reported at all."

passed some time during the regular session.

Congressman Hendricks also concludes his letter with a hopeful note. "We continuously urged the Committee on Agriculture to give us a favorable report on this bill and the fact that they were overworked, we were not able to get the bill out of the past session. I believe once they have reported the general farm bill, we can get a favorable report on this bill and it is my conviction that we will be able to get action on it in the House in the next regular session."

Congressman Wilson writes that he believes the adjournment of the past session was caused by the chairman of the House committee that action would be taken on the bill just as soon as Congress convenes again. He concludes by asking Mr. Patterson that if he has any information as to the status of the bill, he will be glad to hear from him.

Mr. Patterson said that he had no information as to the status of the bill at the time of his adjournment.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26.—Unwanted (and how!) applicants for the job of junior writer in Mr. John Galloway's training school at Metro.

It's not news that everybody wants to write, and that more than half the world thinks it can. Not quite everybody writes to Galloway at the first inkling of the new Metro project. Only 500 people did. But that was just the first day after the first announcement that he had been retained to guide the uncertain fingers of literary neophytes in the fashioning of movie scripts.

His studio job is unique. It almost happened eight years ago when a group of movie producers got together and decided some thing ought to be done about the training of movie writers. But the plan fell through the depression lumber, presumably. At any rate, Galloway continued quietly at his profession of play doctoring.

Apparently it's just as difficult to become a "junior screen writer" as it is to crash a magazine—this for the benefit of the 500 first-day applicants. The juniors are selected through performance, not through self-recommendation. And Galloway isn't "teaching" them to write. He's a literary consultant. He analyzes, guides, suggests. His system is based on detailed analysis of story elements, or "stimulus-response" units.

Galloway devised it after a whirlwind career of adventure and writing had left him a physical wreck. The adventure, I mean—could it have been the writing? His experiences include the Galveston flood, staying away to the beaching grounds off his native Newfoundland, lumber-jacking, bank

Montague got up. He started to speak.

"Gentlemen of the jury—"

"Wait a minute," cut in Judge Owen, "this is no show."

"I'm sorry, your honor," Montague said, recognizing his seat.

The judge then turned to the jury and said:

"I am sorry to say your verdict is not in accordance with what I think you should have rendered, but that is up to you, not to me."

Defense counsel moved that Montague be forcibly removed from the courtroom under which he has been held.

"Granted," said Judge Owen.

Then Montague, who yesterday took the stand and denied participation in the robbery of the bank's vault, was ordered to leave the courtroom, while the jury filed out.

Every eye was turned to the courtroom when the verdict was rendered. It was 11:30 P. M. The clerk announced that the jury had a verdict.

"Not guilty," said Alvin Karpis.

WPA Project For Hospital Is Advanced

The operating suite occupies a large portion of the third floor. It consists of a doctor's dressing room, six showers and lockers, a major operating room, sterilization room, nurse work room, nurses dressing room, delivery room and maternity ward.

The structure will be 191 feet in length and 60 feet wide, three stories high and will be built of brick and concrete.

The building and the equipment provided in the project are exactly the same as provided in the specifications for a previous WPA project for a new hospital and the same will be approximately the same for the people of Seminole County, Mr. Moughton asserted.

When asked when the referendum for the approval of a bond issue for the project would be held, Clerk of the Circuit Court O. P. Herndon, advised a Herald reporter that in the event Washington officials required a referendum in the county of the project before taking action themselves, he was at the option that the County Commissioners would call the election as soon as possible, if election officials are furnished by the Chamber of Commerce or other organizations so that there will be no cost to the County for holding the election.

No definite site has been chosen for the location of the hospital as yet but preliminary plans in the selection of a site are expected to be made soon, so that no time will be lost in beginning construction as soon as the project has been indicated by WPA officials. It was indicated.

The Sanford Forum

Editor The Herald:

I notice your Editorial plea for more publicity for Sanford and the Sanford district, also your plea for a suitable Trailer Camp site. You are right. Absolutely right. Now if your plea, you are bound to win in the end.

Sanford and the Sanford district have never had the publicity they deserve. I question if one in a thousand people here in the North who ever know there is such a place as SANFORD, FLORIDA. Now that there is such a wonderful system of good roads between all these northern states and Florida, every effort should be made to call these Northerners' special attention to the wonderful possibilities of SANFORD, FLORIDA, and the SANFORD DISTRICT.

Proper advertising will bring them but it is up to the people of Sanford to hold them. SANFORD SHOULD HAVE THE LARGEST AND BEST EQUIPPED TRAILER CAMP IN FLORIDA.

Very truly yours,

Bette Davis Appears At Ritz In New Role

Described as more thrilling than her recent "Marked Women," or "Dangerous," which won her the Academy Award as the best actress of 1935, is the Warner Bros. melodrama which brings Bette Davis today to the Ritz Theater.

It is called "That Certain Woman," and depicts the blonde star as the widow of a gangster killed in the notorious Valentine's Day massacre in Chicago. It takes Bette through many tribulations and persecutions, and shows her battling her way bravely toward peace and happiness.

It is said to be a most unusual sort of photoplay. It was both written and directed by the celebrated Edmund Goulding, who not only did both of those jobs, but also composed a theme song which Miss Davis sings.

"That Certain Woman" has as its romantic hero Henry Fonda. In it also are such distinguished players as Len Hunter, Anita Louise, Mary Phillips, Hugh O'Connell and Donald Crisp, so it might be called an all-star production.

3. That a convention attended by representatives of all American Federation of Labor and Committee for Industrial Organization unions be called soon to ratify such an agreement and adopt regulations to guarantee the fulfillment of the program.

U. S. Borrows Billion Dollars From Wage Class

The Government's security act... The Treasury deposits the special obligations in reserve accounts.

These obligations in effect are promised to pay off old age and unemployment benefits.

The obligations thus far have aggregated $200,000,000, and the Treasury is expected to issue the country's new debt in the amount.

President Roosevelt, noting in his special message effects of the security law and the parallel Railroad Retirement Act, said a total of $1,775,000,000 in special reserve account obligations would be issued during this fiscal year.

That total, he said, would be sufficient to finance the estimated $605,000,000 net deficit and reduce the debt outstanding in the hands of the public by $280,000,000.

This system of borrowing eventually may have a profound effect on investment practice because it means a shift in Federal borrowing from the money markets to those who pay security taxes.

Persons who have saved away their funds in tax-free Federal obligations may find this field of investment drying up.

So far the Treasury has not actually bought back any of its outstanding obligations from investors, but this will be done as the reserve fund piles up.

The Social Security Board and the Treasury are considering possible changes in the security law to put the old age and unemployment programs on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Under this system, only a nominal reserve fund would be maintained. Collections from social security taxes would be segregated into special accounts to pay off benefits.

Terror Is Spread By Fire, Sword In Shanghai Area

or machine guns by airplanes of any nationality.

This precaution against any military emergency was taken as flames penetrated the settlement at one point and by mid-afternoon had consumed a square block of closely-packed houses on the Tibet Road.

All available foreign fire engines were deployed along Bochow Creek which flows between Chapel and the International area, to keep the flames from spreading. Settlement authorities were optimistic of success because the wind was from the east blowing the flames parallel to the Settlement boundary.

Chinese Put Torch to Buildings to Cover Their Retreat

Shortly after 7:30 A. M. today a huge Japanese flag, bearing the emblem of the rising sun, was hoisted over the Shanghai-Nanking administration building adjoining the station.

Foreign military observers said the shell-torn station, target of almost continuous bombardment during the 70 days of fighting in Shanghai, had definitely fallen into the hands of the Japanese.

Occupation of the station would mean that the Japanese, picking up momentum on their terrific thrust through Tazang to the Shanghai-Nanking railway, which cut the Chinese defense lines yesterday, had driven through to the core of Chinese lines in Chapel.

The area, within a few blocks of the northwestern barricades protecting the International Settlement, adjoins the American defense zone. Foreign observers feared that if pressure becomes too intense and the 70,000 entrapped Chinese troops find escape cut off west of Soochow Creek, bordering the Settlement, they may flee through the foreign zone.

They would have to smash through lines of American Marines, charged with defending that section of the foreign zone against any attack, either by Chinese or Japanese.

The Japanese, attempting to engulf the Chinese defenders in the Chapel area in a strangling net of men and steel, pushed forward shortly before dawn under cover of a tremendous burst of artillery fire.

The shelling was concentrated on the North Station area. Thirty planes bombed the Chungshan Road along which the Chinese were fleeing. Chinese guns answered the barrage on the North Station, and for an hour the din of screaming shrapnel and the dull roar of big guns thundered along the entire front from Chapel westward to Nansiang, where the Chinese still clung desperately to positions along the railroad.

Seminole Gridders To Practice Under Lights Of New Field Tonight.

Power Adjustments Will Be Made While Local Eleven Are Preparing For Ocala Event

Weather Man Says Showers Expected Early Tonight But Session Is Still Scheduled To Be Held

Although the weather man predicted scattered showers, Head Coach Leonard L. McLucas of the Seminole High School Ocala team or Indians will send his proteges through a tough practice session tonight under the floodlights of what may be the "McLucas Stadium" when the new field will be used for the first time although a regular game will not be played on the field until Friday.

The lights will be tested for the lighting power and any adjustments before the Ocala game Friday night that will be held under the best of conditions while the teams are working out.

The practice session formerly scheduled for this afternoon is postponed and according to reports from various lovers of the game in Sanford, a large attendance of sporting fans will see the boys work out. A scrimmage session will possibly be held between the regulars and the scrubs but it will promise a real action.

Whether the entire squads will be ready tonight to seal the many expected visitors is not known at the present time but the usual scheduled practice program will be used, according to Coach McLucas.

Yesterday afternoon the boys worked out on the practice field and did some very good work and from the looks of their actions in the practice yesterday, the mood is excellent for an oncoming battle and their condition is very good. No men are yet subject to injuries that may prevent them from starting the game, if they are regulars and the Ocala game should provide much excitement to the local football followers.

The session tonight will be under the direction of Coach McLucas and his two assistants, Coach Russell McCracken and Coach Woody Riser. The time for the session has been set at 8:15 o'clock.

There are 78 industries in Seminole County, according to a recent survey.

DELAND, Oct. 27.—Hoping to halt the championship march of Erskine in the S. I. A. A., a crippled Stetson eleven entertains the present conference leaders on Halsey Field here tomorrow night. It will be the first conference game of the season for the Hatters while the visitors have three loop victories to their credit.

Stetson would have gone into the fray as underdog under normal conditions; but with three first-stringers on the hospital list Coach Brady Cowell has almost lost the last ray of hope. Supporters, however, believe a patched-up Hatter backfield will come through behind the powerful Stetson forward wall and give the Green and White gridders an outside chance of stopping the Seceders.

Lyn Warren and Stewart Ryan, backs, and Edward Furlong, tackle, definitely are out of the starting line-up, Cowell said yesterday, and it is unlikely Ryan will see any action for the rest of the season because of a serious ankle injury received in Monday's scrimmage with the frosh.

A new backfield combination is in the making this week, but the coaches are doubtful they can perfect a scoring machine similar to that centered around the versatile Warren. Hall Godbold of Vero Beach and Clifford probably will start in Furlong's position, with the rest of the forward wall intact. George McClelland, Sanford, will handle the wingback assignment and likely will be called on for much of the running duties. Cowell's selection for Warren's replacement, however, is still the big worry. Several backs have been drilling at the post, but it will be a hard one to fill.

Test Lights Tonight
Coach Leonard L. McLucas, head coach of the Seminole High School football eleven, will see his proteges go through the first night football practice in the history of the school's athletic activities. The lights will be tested and refocused at necessary places if that is required and already a large crowd will be expected to see them go through their paces.

Pros Work Tonight
Coach S. A. B. Wilkinson, head of the Sanford semi-pro gridders, will see his youths undergo their second workout tonight under the lights at the Army field. A large number of boys are expected to be present and it looks as if the plan may yet turn out to be a success.

Name Comes Up Again
The changing of the name of the local high school eleven has brought considerable comment from nearly everyone interested in the spot in this city. It seems as though nearly all the business men in Sanford would like to hear the name of Indians when referring to the team which nearly all the women do not like the idea. A student suggested the name to us and after we had investigated the case with a large number of people we decided to give it a tryout and note the reaction. The high school students are approximately half and half on the dilemma. Either way is okay with us.

Wrestling Coming Here
There has been some talk by local sportsmen as to why wouldn't the wrestling business make a go here in Sanford as it does in Tampa, Ocala, Orlando and many other cities in this state. It seems as though the only sort of athletics that Sanford people are to see other than baseball, is the high school games. If there were not a high school in Sanford, where would this city be today in the sports world?

The school gives us basketball games, football games and a few baseball games. If wrestling were to come to Sanford, the semi-pro eleven make a success, operate a semi-pro baseball tournament for the national semi-pro baseball congress and many other items of sports would certainly make this city a sporting success!

DON FRISON GUARD

DELAND, Oct. 27.—Aggressive Don Frison, Hatter guard, is expected to be in top form for Friday night's Stetson-Erskine football game on the campus. While some of his mates are ailing, this dynamic Florida lad is in condition to display the offensive power and defensive alertness which have made him, after a season and a half, one of the Hatter heroes.

Coaches Cowell and Freeman are telling their athletes that they will have to put out their ultimate if they are to turn back the South Carolina invasion. The Flying Fleet ran a fine scoring machine, already having won four games this season.

AAA Returns Citrus Facts To Growers

Agricultural Administration Claims Deficiencies Exist In Both Agreements

Pledges Help To Gain Objectives

Responsibility For Drafting New Pact Returned To Florida

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Agricultural Adjustment Administration held today that there are deficiencies in each of two marketing agreements proposed by opposing groups of the Florida citrus industry.

The AAA returned to both shippers and growers the responsibility of drafting a pact which would meet the requirements of the marketing agreement act.

It said it was prepared "to cooperate fully with a substantial majority of the industry to the end that the declared policy and objectives of the act might be achieved."

Representatives of the growers Committee of Shippers and the Committee of the United Growers and Shippers of Florida were here to receive reports on their sharply conflicting proposals.

The United Growers and Shippers proposed a system by which the Secretary of Agriculture would be permitted to establish shipment quotas only two weeks out of each year, with the remainder of the quota to be filled by the industry itself.

The Growers Committee asked that the Secretary, in other agreements, be authorized to establish weekly quotas throughout shipping season.

Kenneth Scott Is Main Speaker At Lions Club Meet

Kenneth Scott, engineer now employed with the Robinson Fruit Cannery, was the guest speaker last night at the regular weekly meeting of the Sanford Lions Club held in the grill room of the Valder Hotel at 7:30 o'clock, according to a statement made this morning by J. L. Callaway, secretary of the organization.

Mr. Scott spoke to the Lions about the work of the National Sea Scout organization and the work in which they are doing and of the progress that they have been making in the past few years.

Mr. Scott was formerly connected with Sea Scout work in Louisville, Ky., for several years before coming to Sanford and he promised the local Lions club, the sponsors of the Sanford Sea Scouts, that he would co-operate with them at any time and offer any assistance that they may need.

Also present at the meeting was Ben Cantwell who recently returned from Brooklyn, N. Y., where he was with the Brooklyn Dodgers of the National League when the season came to a close. Mr. Cantwell told of some major baseball highlights during his short career.

J. M. Brinkman also was present at the meeting and rendered several vocal selections. Clarence Adams presided over the meeting and during the business session, Joe Wilson made a short report concerning the Sea Scouts.

Former King, Duchess Go To Hollywood, Then Miami

PARIS, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor are planning a double winter across the United States from New York to Hollywood and back to Miami, a close associate disclosed today.

They will travel with about 20 trucks and a retinue of six persons. He explained, the western trip will take the former British monarch and his American-born wife along the northern route while the eastward journey will be through the south.

The tour will take about five weeks. The Duke and Duchess will sail Nov. 9 on the liner Bremen. After reaching Florida they plan to visit a Caribbean island but have not decided which one.

The Duke of Windsor declared yesterday that he and his American-born wife are going to the United States without political status. He said they were only trying to aid in finding a solution to "some of the vital problems that beset the world today."

Wall Street Pleased Over Reserve Action

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Action of the Federal Reserve board on stock margin requirements was hailed enthusiastically in Wall Street last night as a step "in the right direction" calculated to go far in restoring confidence to brokers and traders who have been shaken up badly following a $25,000,000 washout in stock values.

Widepread agitation for lowering of margin requirements on the buying side reached a climax 10 days ago when Winthrop W. Aldrich, chairman of the Chase National bank, made a vigorous plea for federal intervention into the badly tangled affairs of securities markets, the efficiency of which, he said, had been impaired by the drastic break in prices.

The total was an increase of six for the day. Dr. F. M. Leach, secretary of pharmacy and chemistry for the association, said the latest verified elixir deaths occurred at Collins and Magee, Miss.; Swainboro, and Dahlonega, Ga.; Wichita Falls, Texas, and Arab, Ala.

Dr. Leach said that probably only five or six more deaths would be verified as resulting from the elixir, containing a drug commonly used in industry but not recommended for internal use.

The Federal Food and Drug Administration has confiscated virtually all of the drug.

Buying Burst Hits Market On Margin Cut

Federal Reserve Orders Stock Margins Reduced From 55 To 40 Percent

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Stock market leaders shot up one to six or more points in the heaviest burst of buying witnessed in many weeks as Wall Street found a new lease on life in the Federal Reserve's sudden shift in margin regulations.

Purchasing orders flooded the boardrooms on overnight news that the requirements for speculative purchases had been cut while those for short selling were boosted. More than a million shares were traded in the first hour.

The Federal Reserve Board last night reduced the margin requirement for stock market purchases from 55 to 40 percent and in a further, unprecedented move apparently aimed at restricting "bear" speculation, imposed a margin of 50 percent on short sales.

The new regulations take effect next Monday.

They were announced as Wall Street interests were demanding relaxation of government regulation of the securities markets and liberalization of the margin requirements. Financial leaders had criticized the Roosevelt administration on the ground that "over regulation" was responsible for the absence of sufficient buying in the market.

In the past six weeks the market, weakening under tremendous selling pressure, touched new lows in nearly every sector for more than a year. Commerce Department officials said the decline already was showing a psychological effect on business, in that it created uncertainty.

While the Reserve Board issued the new regulations without any explanation whatever, they apparently were designed to encourage buying since the purchase of securities will need less cash to buy the same amount of stocks.

At the same time the innovation of a margin requirement of 50 percent on short sales is expected to discourage excessive speculation by "bears"—those who play the market for an expected drop in prices, selling "short" by making commitments in the expectation of buying to meet them after the decline.

Until last night's announcement the Reserve Board had no specific regulation governing short sales. The New York Stock Exchange, however, has a rule requiring at least 10 point protection on such transactions.

Movie To Be Made Of Panther From Sanford City Zoo

Ross Allen Gets Panther For Grantland Rice Sports Movie

The Florida panther which for sometime has been on exhibition at the Municipal Zoo will soon occupy the spotlight in a movie showing the capture of a Florida panther by Grantland Rice, according to R. Ross Allen, noted herpetologist at Silver Springs, in an interview with a Herald reporter this morning.

The panther belonged to Mr. Allen and he came here to remove the animal to the Everglades where the movie will be made.

In making the picture, Mr. Allen stated, the animal will be turned loose in a large corral where close-up will be made with a camera. He will then be freed and captured by Mr. Rice with the use of a rope with a noose in it similar to the cowboy lariat.

There are a number of the animals roaming the State yet, Mr. Allen stated, especially in the semi-tropical jungles of Collier county, and in many other sections where deer are abundant as deer meat provides their principal diet.

In discussing his work with snakes at his farm in Silver Springs, the herpetologist disclosed that some very interesting experiments with the various kinds of snake venoms have been conducted at his farm during the past year.

The findings of these experiments will be reported at the meeting of the Florida Academy of Science which meets in Miami on Nov. 2, he said.

The chief work of the herpetologist, however, is to milk the

Main Body Of Chinese Troops Retreat By Soochow Creek Exit

SHANGHAI, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The United States Marines and the British troops offered tonight to aid the withdrawal of a Chinese battalion, trapped by the menace of stray bullets falling into Shanghai's International Settlement with its thousands of foreigners, including Americans.

The offer was refused. The Chinese, about 500 men, held on grimly to a small area within the settlement which the remainder of their army abandoned yesterday to Panos and the advancing Japanese.

Growth of foreigners and Chinese gathered on rooftops, forming a shower of machine gun bullets, to watch the battle along the settlement's northern border when the American and British offer of aid was made.

There was grave danger to the International Settlement. The American and British commanders said the only solution was to aid the Chinese in their effort to drive the Japanese from the area.

The Chinese were not much worried about the Japanese planes, and were prepared for their landing. He declared the American and British offer. Somehow the Chinese managed to get food and supplies and sent back word they would hold on until the last man died.

Suicide squads of Chinese troops hurled themselves into the fire of certain death, early today as they sought to stem the tide of Japanese troops which was threatening to wipe out nearly 20,000 trapped Chinese soldiers.

A war correspondent who had made his way through the fighting and across the settlement through the machine gun fire of Japanese troops, said that "suicide squads" among their ranks to cover the retreat of their comrades.
