Mosquito Spraying To Begin

Spraying for mosquitoes in Sanford began on a selective basis Thursday night and will continue through the weekend and then continue on a Monday-through-Friday basis into October, the end of the mosquito season, according to City Manager Frank Faison.

Faison said the spraying began in "problem areas" such as around the lakefront and will continue through the weekend in other such areas, then the rest of the city on a regular basis.

Set to be sprayed today through the weekend are Celery Avenue in the area of 25th Street, east of Mellonville Avenue in a wooded area near Sanford Avenue, and the south end of the Hidden Lake subdivision.

The spraying will begin late afternoon and last into the evening, according to Faison. After this weekend it will be on a Monday-through-Friday basis in different parts of the city.

Faison said the chemical to be used is dibrom, a Chevron product containing neolead and aromatic naphtha. He recommended people move inside, taking their pets, when they hear the spraying machines, plus close their doors and windows.

"Don't sit on your porch and take a full blast," he said.

Faison also cautioned parents to keep their kids from following the spraying machines which would increase their exposure to the chemical even in its diluted form.

If the kids start following the machine, the operators will shut down and move to another neighborhood, he said.

The project, to be expanded and repeated annually, will cost about $8,000 this year. The annual budget for spraying is estimated at $25,000 to $30,000 and will include spraying of breeding places during the spring, then continue through the season.

Faison said he received numerous complaints at an Aug. 26 city commission meeting about the insects from residents and city officials. Commissioners then voted to spend $8,153 to combat the insect problem. Commissioner Milton Smith was absent. A state of emergency was declared to bypass a lengthy bidding procedure for purchase of spraying equipment.

When pesticide spraying begins next week, this will be the daily schedule. city crews will be working this weekend in the area of Celery Avenue and 25th Street, a wooded area between Sanford Avenue and east of Mellonville Avenue, the south end of Hidden Lake, and the area around Central Florida Regional Hospital.

Neighborhood Nightmare

Racial Discord Spreads Fear; Home Torched After Brawl

By Jim Searls
Herald Staff Writer

Residents of a frightened Casselberry neighborhood plagued by fights, threats, and now arson, hope the trouble has ended with the arrest of two Seminole County men charged with torching a black family's home.

The men, Eugene Elmore, 22 of 101 N. Devon St., Winter Springs, and James William Morgan, 29, of Lot 7, 7th St., Casselberry, are both being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $10,000 bond each. Police said two more suspects are expected to be arrested in conjunction with the incident which destroyed the home of Mary Hamilton, her twin sons Rodney and Roderick, and two female friends.

The Hamiltons are black. Elmore and Morgan are white. Neighbors to both, Ernest and Barbara Wilcox of 1111 Landmark Lane, who live next door to the Hamiltons' 1121 Landmark Lane home, said Thursday they hope the trouble has ended in their neighborhood.

"Gosh, yes, there has been trouble in the past. We have been here about three years and I can always remember problems in our neighborhood and most of it concerned the boys who lived next door, mainly Roderick," Wilcox said.

He said Mary Hamilton often left several adult sons in the home while she visited relatives in New York. He said that when Mrs. Hamilton was in the house there was little trouble, but during her absences the 20-year-old twins frequently got into fights with other young men.

On the night of the fire, Wilcox said his family was watching TV when they saw the flames next door and called police. No one was in the house at the time, according to witnesses and Casselberry police. He said he could smell gas from the fire and said, "They (unknown vandals) tried to burn a car the Hamiltons had stored in the backyard a couple of years ago. It makes you wonder about some people, you know. Somebody could have been killed then too. There were always fights around there."

The Hamiltons were outnumbered by their white neighbors, authorities said. Their troubles started seven years ago when they moved into the neighborhood, Rodney

South African Blacks Attack White Areas

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — At least eight people were wounded by police shotguns and 31 were arrested as racial violence spread for some 700 deaths in the past year spread to white neighborhoods for the first time.

White homeowners fired pistols and shotguns as about 100 mixed-race "colored" youths attacked their homes in Cape Town's Kraaifontein suburb Thursday. The attack was the first on a white neighborhood since racial violence began more than a year ago.

At least 31 people were arrested for rioting in Cape Town during the night, taking the total of arrests countrywide to 76 in the 24-period that ended at 8 a.m. today, police said. Eight people were wounded by police shotguns, police said.

Two houses belonging to whites in the town of Amalinda in eastern Cape province were attacked Thursday by black youths hurling gasoline bombs, and the Durban home of leading anti-apartheid campaigner Fatima Meer was firebombed.

Three people were arrested when guards fired at "colored" youths who tried to firebomb the home of "colored" Member of Parliament Dennis de la Cruz, police said.

Police said 2,674 people had been detained without charge since emergency rule was invoked in 36 administrative areas July 21 in an attempt to halt racial unrest and that 928 remained in custody. More than 2,000 people have been arrested in the same period on charges of arson and public violence.

The violence, which began last September, was triggered, in part, by a new constitution that granted limited government representation to Asians and mixed-race "coloreds" but continued to deny any voice to the nation's black majority.

At least 34 people have been killed in riots around Cape Town in the past nine days — the worst violence ever in the area.

Police closed four main roads around Cape Town and warned motorists to stay off other roads where youths were throwing stones at vehicles.

There were new allegations Thursday of police brutality in quelling the violence.

Police declined to comment on the brutality allegations but said charges backed by sworn statements would be investigated.

Jobless Rate Dips 0.3%

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's unemployment rate dropped 0.3 percent to 7 percent in August, the lowest during the Reagan administration's 4 1/2 years in office, as more teenagers and young adults found jobs or quit looking, the Labor Department said Friday.

The number of people out of work fell by about 325,000 persons to 8.1 million during the month, the fewest looking for jobs since August 1981, the department said.

The 7 percent jobless rate was the lowest since April 1980 and followed six months of remarkable stability, when it remained stuck at 7.3 percent.

An accompanying rate including military personnel as employed dropped to 6.9 percent.

The jobless rate was 7.5 percent when Reagan was first elected in November 1980 and was 7.5 percent his Inauguration Day in January 1981. By any measure, the August improvement was counted a long-awaited triumph in the Reagan administration, a demonstration to skeptics on Capitol Hill who doubted the rate could get as low as 7 percent when the economy was so slow.

The economy created 310,000 new jobs in August, bringing total employment to a record 107.2 million, the department said. The economy has produced 7.3 million jobs since President Reagan entered the Oval Office in January 1981, a total kept relatively small by the 1981-1982 recession. The four years of the Carter administration produced 10.1 million jobs.

The jobless rate for teenagers fell from 19.5 percent to 17.3 percent. The rate for black teenagers showed an enormous decline, from 41.3 percent to 34.4 percent.

Church, Shopping Center Get P&Z Boost

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

The flock of the First Shiloh Missionary Baptist Church in Sanford cleared its first hurdle Thursday towards building a new church when the Sanford Planning and Zoning Commission approved that use for the property they chose.

The commission also considered nine other items of business including the approval of a shopping center on Airport Boulevard.

"I anticipated the approval and was pleased," said Rev. Harry Rucker today, pastor of the church.

"We can now build our edifice, our sanctuary," he said. Rucker, who appeared before the commission during a regularly scheduled meeting Thursday at 7 p.m., said there are several reasons why the congregation wants to relocate its 1101 West 13th St. church to property situated between 11th and 12th streets and Holly and Maple avenues.

He said the congregation's current church is 98 years old, in need of repair, and does not have adequate parking for its 275 to 300 members.

According to city regulation, the construction of a church in an area zoned residential is a conditional use that must be approved by the Planning and Zoning Commission.

Rucker, pastor of the church for two years, said the proposed "sanctuary" would seat 350 people and would take up the entire block. It tentatively would contain administrative offices and an education center, he said. If site and construction plans are approved, building of the structure, estimated to cost $300,000, could begin as soon as January, he said.

At the meeting, Rucker, acknowledging a question about muck on the land from Commissioner Brent Carl, said the congregation plans to develop the land as best it can.

"We have an architect in the process of doing a complete feasibility study on the property," he said.

The church's request for conditional use passed 8-0, with Commissioner Eddie Keith absent because he was out of town.

With request approved, the church can proceed to design the sanctuary and submit that design to the P&Z for approval.

Another agenda item approved by the commission was the site plan for a 45,000-square foot shopping center on the northwest corner at Airport Boulevard and 25th Street.

The shopping center is designed to accommodate eight stores ranging in size from 4,600 square feet to 12,000 square feet, said Fred Shipman representing G.C.F.S. Inc., of Florida.

The approval followed

U.S. Lawmakers Try To Sway Court On Abortion

By Jamie Gnat
Herald Staff Writer

United States Supreme Court justices may reconsider the court's 1973 decision legalizing abortion, but at least three Florida lawmakers have not jumped on any bandwagon on either side of the issue.

An aide to Sen. Paula Hawkins, R-Winter Park, said Wednesday Hawkins is personally against abortion and was not one of the 81 congressmen who filed a brief Friday asking the Supreme Court to uphold its 1973 ruling that said women have a constitutional right to an abortion. But neither was she among 82 congressmen who in July petitioned the court to reverse its landmark Roe vs. Wade decision.

"She's not very vocal about her opinion," her aide said. "It's a very personal thing to her."

Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Lakeland, did not sign either brief. According to his aide Jack Pridgen, Chiles does not favor unrestricted abortion.

"He has consistently favored abortion in cases of incest, rape, or when the mother's life is at risk," Pridgen said.

"He is bothered by the magnitude of abortion,"

Rep. Bill McCollum, R-Winter Park, is strongly opposed to abortion, according to his aide Sophia Nash. She said he did not sign either brief.

The high court is slated to hear arguments on the abortion issue when it reviews abortion laws from Pennsylvania and Illinois during its next session beginning Oct. 7.

The Justice Department has asked the court to reverse its decision in Roe vs. Wade and give states the power to restrict abortions.

Friday's brief called the government's plea to overturn the ruling an "extraordinary and unprecedented step" and said if states were empowered to regulate abortion it would create a "bizarre quilt of wildly varying state laws."

Sen. Bob Packwood, R-Ore., was joined in signing the brief by Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and others, in direct opposition to the July petition urging reversal of Roe vs. Wade.

NATION IN BRIEF

Youngest Artificial Heart Patient Suffers Strokes

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Artificial heart patient Michael Drummond was improving from a series of mild strokes caused by his plastic Jarvik-7, but his condition spurred an immediate search for a human heart to replace the machine in his chest.

Dr. Jack G. Copeland, chief of the heart team at University of Arizona Medical Center, said Thursday that Drummond had improved significantly after suffering the strokes earlier in the day.

The strokes were caused by several tiny blood clots in the brain. Four of the six people who have received Jarvik-7 implants have suffered strokes.

Copeland said the heart team wanted to do the transplant by the weekend — and "the sooner the better" — to head off any further medical problems caused by the polyurethane and aluminum heart in Drummond's chest.

A possible donor heart was located Thursday in Oklahoma City but the patient, a 21-year-old man who shot himself in the head, had not been declared clinically dead.

A helicopter and a private jet were put on standby to fetch a heart from anywhere in the country.

No Cancer From TMI ... So Far

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — There is no evidence so far that radiation from the nation's worst nuclear power accident has caused cancer in residents near the Three Mile Island plant, the first government health study of the accident shows.

But Pennsylvania Health Secretary Dr. H. Arnold Muller cautioned Thursday that the findings are inconclusive because a person exposed to a cancer-causing agent may not develop the disease for "10, 20, 30 years or more."

The cancer-rate report was the first of its kind by a government agency since the Unit 2 nuclear reactor at Three Miles Island was damaged in a partial meltdown in 1979.

The study shows a normal cancer death rate for residents living within 20 miles of TMI for the five-year period beginning Jan. 1, 1979.

It also shows a normal cancer diagnosis rate for residents of four communities between July 1982 and June 1984 and for 3,582 women who lived near TMI during the accident and were either pregnant or soon became pregnant.

Feds To Gays: Don't Give Blood

ATLANTA (UPI) — Federal health officials have tightened the anti-AIDS blood donor screening program and now say any man who has had sex with another man since 1977 should not donate blood.

The new restriction applies "even to men who may have had only a single contact and who do not consider themselves homosexuals or bisexual," the national Centers for Disease Control reported Thursday.

Homosexuals are at high risk of contracting acquired immune deficiency syndrome, which is spread by sexual contact and blood and blood products, and officials said 75 percent of all AIDS cases involve young, sexually-active homosexual males.

As of Sept. 2, the CDC said it has received reports of 12,932 AIDS cases in the United States and 6,481 deaths.

Susan Cruzan of the Food and Drug Administration said Public Health Service researchers went around the nation and checked stored, frozen blood and blood supplies of high risk groups and determined no AIDS antibodies were present before 1977.

Mistrial Declared In Case Of Assault On Retarded Boy

The retrial of an occupational therapist accused of fondling a retarded boy 2½ years ago ended in a hung jury Thursday.

Prosecutors said they will schedule a third trial for J. Martin Burns, 37, of Winter Garden. Burns is accused of fondling the 8-year-old boy during a diaper change while Burns worked at Seminole County's Rosenwald School for exceptional students.

After the four-man, two-woman circuit court jury reached an impasse, members told Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. that further deliberations would be fruitless. Mize then declared a mistrial.

It was the second time Burns has been tried on the charge. He was convicted in January of fondling the boy but was granted a retrial because of a procedural error by Mize. Mize said he incorrectly allowed a "surprise witness" for the state to testify about child molesters in general.

Assistant State Attorney Kurt Erlenbach said time may be working in Burns' favor. The 1983 incident was not reported until a year after it supposedly occurred and the trial is 2½ years after the event.

Witnesses are telling jurors about an alleged event that lasted three or four seconds 2½ years ago, Erlenbach said.

"Memories fade," he said.

Foul-Mouthed Pedestrian Jailed

A pedestrian who yelled at a Sanford policeman as he drove past him on W. 13th Street was arrested by the officer after the suspect allegedly cursed him and spat on him.

The man was charged with disorderly intoxication and battery.

After the man yelled, the officer stopped to ask him what he wanted, a police report said. The man allegedly cursed, spit on the officer, and continued to spit on the policeman's back as he was transported to jail, the report said.

Alvin Barfield Jr., 62, of 200 8th St., Sanford, was arrested at 2:59 p.m. Wednesday and was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

FLED, FOUGHT, JAILED
A 28-year-old Sanford man who reportedly ran from police after being asked, as a suspect in a marijuana possession case, to place his hands on a patrol car, was tackled by an officer who reported the suspect punched him in the mouth and scratched him.

The officer also said as the suspect ran he saw him dropping items from his pockets and a small quantity of marijuana was reportedly found on the ground near him. Another policeman initially stopped the man on South Sanford Avenue and reportedly found three small bags of marijuana in his possession, a police report said.

The man was being charged with possession with intent to sell less than 20 grams of pot at about 10:56 p.m. Wednesday when he reportedly ran and was captured by the policeman he allegedly hit.

David Jones, of 120 Drew Ave., has also been charged with resisting arrest with violence and battery to a police officer. He was being held in lieu of $8,000 bond.

AUTO THEFT ARREST
A sheriff's investigator on stakeout hoping to nab thieves who have robbed three sets of motel guests along Interstate 4 in Seminole County in recent weeks instead arrested a suspected Orlando car thief.

The deputy checked the license number of a car spotted at the Holiday Inn on State Road 46 at Interstate 4, west of Sanford, at about 5:20 p.m. Wednesday, and determined the car had been reported stolen in Orlando on Monday, a sheriff's report said.

The woman driver of the car told investigators the car belongs to her boyfriend and she has been driving it for three weeks. When she produced the vehicle's registration it was in the name of the man who reported the car stolen, the report said.

Kim Cathy Williams, 27, of Orlando, has been charged with grand theft auto and was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

A LITTLE POT
Sheriff's deputies responding to the scene of a reported assault on Bailey Street in Sanford were told the suspect had fled, but deputies spotted a suspect's vehicle and stopped it on Airport Boulevard where a man was arrested on a drug charge, but not in connection with the assault.

When deputies stopped the suspect's car they reported seeing cigarette rolling papers on the floor. They searched the vehicle and found a small quantity of marijuana.

James William Jones, 18, of 2016 Holly Ave., Sanford, was charged with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana at 4:28 p.m. Wednesday. He was being held in lieu of $500 bond.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS
Paul Stuart DeGolia, 48, of Sanford, manager of Ecol Gas,

State Road 46, west of Sanford, reported to sheriff's deputies that the station's till is $150 short. He noticed the cash disappeared Tuesday or Wednesday and gave deputies the name of a possible suspect, a sheriff's report said.

A television worth $313 was stolen from English Estates Elementary School, Fern Park, between June 12 and Wednesday, according to a report media specialist Betty Wright filed with sheriff's deputies.

Jewelry and a .22-caliber revolver with a total value of $6,000 were stolen from the home of Rayburn T. Milwel, 38, of 237 Hillcrest St., Altamonte Springs, Wednesday, a sheriff's report said.

A camera and other items with a combined value of $1,500 were stolen from the car of Carol G. Nugent, 38, of 483 Seminole Ave., Longwood, Aug. 24, a sheriff's report filed Wednesday said.

John E. Flournoy, 35, of 364 Shadow Bay Blvd. N., Longwood, reported to deputies that jewelry and other items with a total value of $2,745 were stolen from his home Wednesday.

Molested Girl In Bathroom After Shower

Man Faces Year In Jail For Assault

An Oviedo man accused of fondling a girl after she stepped out of a bathroom shower in her home has pleaded guilty to lewd and lascivious assault on a 14-year-old girl.

William Lester Ford Sr., 45, of 309 N. Central Ave., entered the plea before Seminole Circuit Judge Kenneth M. Lefler who set Oct. 21 for sentencing. Ford could receive up to a year in the county jail for the assault.

According to court records, Ford fondled the girl on April 3. The girl and her mother reported the assault to Oviedo police and the Seminole County victim advocate. Ford was arrested May 15 after the allegation was investigated.

Ford, who entered the plea Tuesday, is free on bond awaiting sentencing, court records show.

In other court action: —Ronald Paul Gardner Jr., 19, of 512 Doheny Way, Casselberry, pleaded guilty to burglary to a vehicle in connection with a theft from a pizza delivery car June 6. He was arrested June 7. According to a Longwood police report, employees of Domino's Pizza, U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood, gave officers the name of a suspect in the theft. Police located a juvenile suspect who agreed to meet with police at the restaurant along with an adult suspect, a police report said. Gardner and the boy were subsequently charged with burglary. Disposition of the case against the boy is not available because of his age.

—Joseph Carl Crawford, 20, of 140 Stefanie Road, Winter Park, pleaded guilty to burglary to a dwelling. His fingerprints found at the scene linked him to the crime, records show. He is scheduled to be sentenced Oct. 21 by Lefler. Crawford could receive up to a year in the county jail. According to court records, Crawford was questioned after detectives found his prints at a burglary in Casselberry's Windward Square subdivision on Feb. 28. The fingerprint match was made March 4 and Crawford was arrested March 7. A juvenile accomplice was also charged but the disposition of his case is not available because of his age.

—Anthony John Consolazio, 27, of Holly Hill, and Joseph Ackerman, 24, of Ormond Beach, pleaded guilty to possession of cocaine. Each could receive up to a year in the county jail when sentenced Oct. 21.

They were arrested April 4 following a drug deal with Seminole County drug task force agents. The agents arrested the men at 1201 Lake Lucern Circle, Casselberry, after the 1 a.m. drug deal in which the agents bought two ounces of cocaine for $1,600. A third suspect arrested in the incident awaits disposition of his case.

AIDS Victim In School WEATHER

SWANSEA, Mass. (UPI) — Parents and students are rallying behind administrators who decided to do "the right thing" and allow a teenage hemophiliac suffering from AIDS to attend junior high school.

"This was not an off-the-cuff decision," School Superintendent John McCarthy said of the boy, who is believed to be the first in the country with the incurable disease knowingly allowed into a public school system.

McCarthy said Thursday the student, who was not identified to protect his privacy, has been attending Case Junior High School since classes began Aug. 27.

The disclosure came as state officials told school districts across Massachusetts they must admit acquired immune deficiency syndrome victims, except in limited cases, or risk violating state law.

"We cannot succumb to unnecessary fears," Human Services Secretary Philip Johnston told a news conference in Boston Thursday. He said the new policy protects the rights of AIDS victims while it "ensures the health and well-being of all our children."

School officials in Washington, D.C. meanwhile, said a student barred from classes because he had been exposed to the deadly AIDS virus would be admitted, providing a new test shows he poses no health threat to other students.

In Kokomo, Ind., a 13-year-old hemophiliac AIDS victim, Ryan White, was prohibited from attending school last month, and the guardians of a child in New Haven, Conn., were notified last week a youngster suffering from an AIDS-related ailment would not be allowed to receive regular classroom education.

The decision to admit the Swansea boy, who contracted the disease due to treatment for hemophilia, was based on his doctor's assurances that normal school contact would not lead to transmission of AIDS to his classmates, McCarthy said.

"It was the right thing to do," McCarthy said, adding there has been no clamor demanding the youngster's ouster from the school with 630 pupils.

"I think he should be among normal students like everyone else," said student Stephanie Langer. Jeff Dumont agreed, saying, "I don't think I'll catch anything."

Officials at Town Hall received several calls from parents, but most were supportive.

Friday's brief said, "To overturn Roe vs. Wade as the government urges thus would turn the clock back not just to 1973 but to a point prior to 1923. It would not only deprive women of their fundamental liberty, but would also cast into grave doubt the continuing validity of every one of the court's half-century of privacy decisions, which protect us all."

In addition to the congressmen's plea, friend of the court briefs were filed by 17 women's and political organizations in support of Roe vs. Wade including the National Abortion Rights Action League, the Young Women's Christian Association and the American Association of University Women.

Their brief said, "The freedom to decide whether or not to terminate a pregnancy is intimately connected to a woman's ability to be a full and equal participant in this society."

"The condition to which the solicitor general would return us is one in which hundreds of women will die each year from illegal abortions and thousands will have to risk their lives or be forced to endure unwanted pregnancies."

An estimated 200,000 to 1.2 million women had illegal abortions each year in the 1960s. About 1.5 million abortions are performed annually in the United States today and abortion is "one of the safest surgical procedures performed," the brief said.

Hamilton said. Things heated up two months ago and worsened over the weekend.

Wilcox said there had been trouble involving the Hamiltons on July 2 when residents of the house across the street, 1122 Landmark Lane, drew guns after a fight with one of the Hamilton twins.

Charles Michael Powell, 27, Orlando, a member of the Satan Disciples motorcycle gang, was arrested and charged with aggravated assault with a firearm, use of a firearm during the commission of a felony, and grand theft.

A resident of 1122 Landmark Lane, who claimed to have lived there six months and wished to remain unidentified, said that outside of a fight between himself, several friends and the two Hamilton boys, the only trouble he was aware of in the neighborhood was "just a bunch of words between us."

He claimed that Roderick Hamilton had provoked the July 2 confrontation by coming over to his house uninvited and refusing to leave, thus starting the brawl.

Police said then the problems between Powell and Hamilton and their friends were apparently racially motivated. Those involved were ordered to separate, police reported, but members of the Hamilton family said once officers left others would resume harassing them and the fight would begin again.

Police appeared to leave the scene but some officers parked nearby and watched the area. Within a few minutes and, on three occasions, someone opened the door of the home Powell was visiting yelled "nigger" and closed the door, police reports stated. Then a man, identified as Powell, came out the door along with several others. Powell was carrying a gun. When confronted by one of the officers watching the home, Brady Myers, Powell raised his gun. Myers identified himself as a police officer and ordered Powell to "freeze."

The men ran back inside 1122 Landmark Lane but came back outside when ordered to do so by police. Myers said he found the gun lying on the floor of the home near the door.

A police check showed the .38-caliber gun, which was loaded, had been stolen in Orange County in 1982.

"It wasn't a racial thing, just two on two," said the unidentified resident of 1122 Landmark Lane. "He (who he believed to be Roderick Hamilton) hit one of my friends and then he came through my front door and hit one of my kids; I told the police that."

"A lot of people came and went out of that house, man. It was hard trying to figure out who the hell lived there. I got three small children in here, man, it was wierd."

The man went on to say that while he knew nothing about the origins of Monday's fire, he did see two men outside of the Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl.

Hamilton house an hour before the blaze started.

"I heard a car pull up outside and opened the curtain to look. These two guys, one of them tall with blond hair and a baseball cap, were looking in the windows to see if anyone was home. I just closed the curtains then," he said.

Other neighbors in the area were reluctant to talk when approached by reporters Thursday. They said they didn't know about any trouble in the area. One woman, Susan Marman, 1131 Landmark Lane, said she knew both the Hamiltons and Karen and Steve Morgan of 1122 Landmark Lane and liked both families.

"There has always been race problems here as long as I can remember," she said. "It's wierd that there is still racial trouble in this day and age. I've even told my kids to lie on the floor in the house if they hear shots. I knew something would happen here, everybody did."

According to police reports, Rodney Hamilton, who has been staying in Altamonte Springs since the fire, said yesterday that his brother Roderick was involved in an argument with Morgan's brother David at the Handy Way convenience store on E. State Road 434 near the neighborhood on the evening of August 30.

Hamilton said that during the argument David Morgan threatened to burn the Hamilton's home.

A witness called the resulting scuffle, "a bad fight, one guy got his head smashed into the fender of a truck."

Witness Evelyn Bonar, clerk at the convenience store the night of the fight, said she knew there would be more trouble.

"Everyone who came in here (after the fight) said something was going to burn. I heard them screaming out there when they were fighting. I heard them say they would burn them out, the police did too," she said. "People were afraid to have their kids hang around outside, they told them to stay inside with me that weekend."

Ms. Bonar also said the another clerk who was on duty the night of the fire, who wishes to remain anonymous, remembered selling gasoline to two men that evening but didn't think anything of it until after the blaze. The gas was put in a gallon plastic milk container.

"Everybody is scared out there," Bonar added. "I've been here six months and they have always been scared. I can't understand why the police couldn't do something."

Mary Hamilton was out of town at the time of the fire. Rodney said he doesn't know if the home was covered by insurance. He said he is now living in a shack and other members of his household are scattered around the area.

"I don't think I'll go back there," he said. "I don't think they'd bother us anymore, but I don't think I'll go back."

...Spraying

Falson said spraying today would encompass the northwest side of Sanford around Academy Manor starting from the lake up to 18th Street.

During the weekend other areas of the city, whose residents were vocal in complaints about the pests, are slated to be sprayed.

Spraying will continue Monday.

Falson said he wants residents aware of the program in advance because "some people get scared when they see the sprayer truck coming."

At the Aug. 26 meeting, City Attorney William Colbert told commissioners fogging for mosquitoes would increase the city's liability because the public is more aware of environmental concerns and the effects of chemicals than in 1978 (the last time the city conducted a mosquito fogging campaign) If residents experience physical problems from spraying, he said, it could be more expensive than buying the spraying equipment.

An unusually large mosquito infestation this year is blamed on high amounts of rainfall which creates soggy conditions ideal for mosquito breeding grounds.

Although voting for the spraying, City Commission David Farr told his colleagues at the Aug. 26 meeting the city dropped the fogging program because it didn't work. Fogging, Farr said, is "just an exercise to make people feel better."

At the same time, Chuck Volk, operator of Monroe Harbour Marina, agreed with Farr. When they fog at the marina, he said, "all the mosquitoes move to the other side of the island."

But a Sanford resident told the board he was not just concerned with itchy mosquito bites but about mosquito-borne diseases such as encephalitis, an often fatal brain disease.

Shipman's agreement to change the landscaping of the shopping center.

Commissioner John Leroy said he did not want to see a "sea of asphalt" for a parking lot and recommended some extra parking spaces at the shopping center be landscaped.

"Our intention is to preserve all existing vegetation as possible," Shipman said and counter offered to create a "center island of green" in the parking lot.

With that discussion finished and agreements met, the commission passed the site plan 7-0 as amended with Commissioner Gary L. Davidson not voting. Davidson said he abstained from voting because he has real estate dealings with the principals in the shopping center project though involving other properties.

Developers of the shopping center, according to usual procedures, can now submit construction plans to the city for approval.

In a third decision, which chairman John Morris said reflects the commission's concern for "quality" development, a site plan for a small shopping center complex at 25th St. and Mellonville Ave., southeast corner, was denied 8-0.

Several commissioners spoke against the proposed shopping center saying it was not the "quality" of development the commission wanted to see.

"The commission is concerned with aesthetics," Morris told Ron Henson representing Design Structures.

Morris said most of the site plan was "speculative."

"The type of commercial activity that we envision for that area, is not what you presented at this time," he told Henson.

Commissioners Sheila Roberts, Jay Malone and Carl spoke against the measure.

"Why break up a nice industrial (area) with a small bit of commercial development," Carl said.

Henson said the center might have included a Family Dollar store and local tenants including a dry cleaner.

Morris said after the vote that it was difficult to define "quality" and that each commissioner probably has a different concept of what "quality" is. But, he said, it is an attempt to blend development with aesthetics and how the development fits in the community and affects it.

In other business, the commission:

● Approved 8-0 a conditional use for property located at 4165 Orlando Drive for the purpose of used car sales including repairs and body work on the cars purchased for resale. The company, Crestview Development, can now design the business and submit a site plan to the commission for approval.

● Approved 8-0 the site plan for 114-unit residential development for Monroe Village, at 101 N. Terwilliger Lane. The units, one-story in the center of the development, and two-story around the perimeter, average 940 square feet each and will contain two bedrooms and two bathrooms each. Owner Steven Cahill, of Altamonte Springs, can now submit a plan for construction.

● Approved 8-0 a site plan for an addition to Penn Aluminum Co., 2540 Jewett Lane. The site plan is to build a 7,500 square-foot lean-to onto the business to accommodate expansion. The company was represented by Mack LaZebny, owner of the manufacturing business; LaZebny can now submit construction plans for approval.

● Approved 8-0 a site plan for a country store with three apartments at 508 Cypress Avenue. The building is being renovated by Sanford developer Herbert Cherry. Total square footage of the property is 5,148 feet.

● Approved 8-0 a site plan for a 20-unit condominium development at Collins Drive. Each condo will have 940 square feet with two bedrooms and two baths. Owners Sabre Construction and Development Corp. can now submit construction plans to the city.

End To Federal Housing Standards

In principle, federal construction standards for housing should be abolished to reduce costs and to encourage innovation, as the Federal Housing Administration proposes.

In practice, merely eliminating the standards could jeopardize public health and safety and cause chaos in the building industry. Congress should allow the FHA to eliminate its standards, but should strongly encourage states to adopt life-safety codes as replacements.

The FHA standards apply to homes built with federal subsidies or with loans guaranteed by the FHA, the Veterans Administration and the Farmers Home Administration.

Most building codes confine themselves to technical requirements that affect health and safety — requirements that some consumers cannot adequately understand. But the FHA regulations also set numerous aesthetic standards (such as on house colors, room size and configuration, etc.) that are arbitrary, unnecessary and add to housing costs.

Over the years the FHA standards also have taken on a thick layer of bureaucratic rigidity and detail that stifle home-building innovation and creativity.

In place of its own standards, the FHA proposes to defer the local building codes where they exist. In areas not covered by a local code, the agency would require that homes built under a federal loan guarantee comply with a model life-safety code, such as that developed by the Council of American Building Officials.

While the existing FHA standards may have shortcomings, relying on local codes would make matters worse. Many local codes are outdated, irregularly enforced and incapable of protecting health and safety. By virtue of their influence through FHA, FmHA and VA loan guarantees, the federal standards have provided consumers with important protection against such inadequacies. Repealing the federal requirements would eliminate that protection — and would put federal agencies at risk of insuring mortgages on substandard housing.

Moreover, local codes pose a larger impediment to housing innovation than the FHA standards. Codes vary widely and are often used to protect existing businesses from competition by new firms, new methods and new materials.

The solution lies neither with local codes nor with FHA standards, but with statewide adoption of model codes like that of the Council of American Building Officials.

The model codes are regularly updated, allow adaptation to local conditions and encourage innovation. If Congress permits the FHA standards to be phased out, it should prohibit local guarantees or housing subsidies in states that do not adopt and enforce one of the model codes. Given the importance of federal housing aid, such a requirement would assure adequate protection for consumers without the costly and rigid requirements of the FHA standards.

BERRY'S WORLD

GEORGE McGOVERN

How We Can Remedy The Farm Crisis

It is one of the recurring paradoxes of the American economy that agriculture — perhaps the most efficient sector of the economy — is faced with bankruptcy at the moment of its most impressive productivity.

The tribulations of other industries, both at home and abroad, have usually been readily understood. American auto manufacturers got into serious difficulty when they failed to keep pace with the international competition in the development of smaller, more energy-efficient cars. Our railroads have fallen on bad times due to a number of factors, including an uninspired management and a national policy of building superhighways and airports, rather than super railroads. The steel industry is in trouble because it has not modernized sufficiently and increased its efficiency to meet the competition from newer, foreign plants.

In agriculture, by contrast, the efficiency of the American farmer is the envy of much of the world. Aided by fertilizer, hybrid seeds, modern machinery and skilled, knowledgeable farmers, American farm productivity has dramatically improved. While the farm population has been falling steadily since the turn of the century, farm production in the United States has steadily increased. In 1900, one-third of the American people were farmers; today, in 1985, that figure has dropped to 3 percent. Yet the 97 percent of the non-farm populace is eating better, with a lower percentage of their income devoted to food, than ever before.

But despite the remarkable efficiency, or perhaps because of it, American farmers are in deep and growing trouble. Partly because of the depressing pressure of farm surpluses on the market, farm prices have fallen below the cost of production. To meet this squeeze, farmers have borrowed heavily in recent years despite high interest rates. (Farmers now owe more than $200 billion, with interest payments running in excess of $20 billion annually. These shaky loans are a threat to banks across rural America.)

The result of all this is a cost-price-credit pinch that has forced many once-successful farmers to the wall. Meanwhile, the administration and Congress are trying to find ways of cutting federal spending, noting that agricultural price supports and farm loans represent a significant slice of the federal budget pie. This makes it politically and fiscally difficult for Washington to meet the farm crisis by raising farm price supports or offering more generous credit terms.

What then can be done? I would suggest the following steps:

1) A return to the successful formula of the period 1933-1953, which combined strong price supports under farm prices in return for cutbacks in farm production to hold it in line with market demand.

2) A bolder, more imaginative effort to use U.S. farm surpluses to end hunger both in the United States and abroad.

3) A long-term public investment to encourage better land and water conservation in rural America. America's topsoil and water are its most precious physical assets. The public must understand that preserving these assets, along with family farms, is the wisest possible use of public funds.

4) We should establish, on the farms, as a national policy, a national grain reserve isolated from the market to meet emergency food needs at home and abroad.

DON GRAFF

One Down And More To Come?

Ronald Reagan rates very high at the moment in Doreen Brown's book.

The reason is shoes. The president, as you may have heard, has rejected a request by the U.S. shoe industry to curb foreign imports that in the past few years have captured the greater part — more than 70 percent — of the home market.

He did so for the right reasons, saying most of the right things, in the opinion of Ms. Brown, who is president of Consumers for World Trade, a Washington-based lobby opposed to trade restrictions.

The proposed curbs would have set quotas on imports of all but the lowest-priced footwear. Whatever the specific mechanism, the president said, it was still protectionism which "does more harm than good to those it is designed to help."

He estimated the probable cost of quotas in higher prices to American consumers at $3 billion a year, with those with lowest incomes hit hardest, and the damage to other U.S. industries, as a result of retaliation against American exports, at another $2.1 billion.

"As president," he said, "it is my responsibility to take into account not only the effect of quotas on the shoe industry, but also their broader impact on the overall economy."

There was more along the same line, every word of which could probably have been written for him by Consumers for World Trade, which sees any trade restriction as a hidden tax on consumers and ultimately most damaging to the economy that seeks their shelter.

There is no question, even Doreen Brown admits, that many American industries are in a bad way. In part, especially with older, labor-intensive industries such as footwear, this must be accepted as inevitable when an industrial economy matures. But that does not mean, she says, that we must or should allow all our basic industrial capabilities to go down the drain and become primarily a service economy.

It does mean we should focus our efforts in those industrial areas where our potential is greatest and we can be competitive most effectively without the prop of protectionism.

"I think," Ms. Brown says, "that eventually we will come to our senses and decide that there is something besides foreigners that is making trouble for us. It's not just the Japanese. They are taking advantage of the fact that there is something very wrong with our industrial sector, but they are not the cause of the damage."

Soviets Lead In Laser Weapons

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — The superpowers' contest for military supremacy in space continues, and the Soviets appear to be substantially ahead in the latest round: laser weapons.

CIA sources have told us they've discovered a major laser test center at Krasnoarmeysk, 30 miles northeast of Moscow. Even more alarming, the facility is believed to be actually producing laser weapons.

Evidence of the priority the Soviets place on the Krasnoarmeysk weapons plant, the CIA has determined, is that it is operated by an integrated design bureau. Ordinarily the Soviets borrow the capitalist technique of competing design bureaus for everything from tanks

JEFFREY HART

A Double Standard?

I am going to return here to a theme dealt with before, but a deeply important one also.

Last Christmas, a man named Bernhard Goetz shot four young blacks in the New York subway. Goetz will face trial this fall, and all the facts will presumably then come out.

Yet it seems clear that Bernhard Goetz thought he was acting in self defense, though the law may decide — we will see — that he overstepped the permissible boundaries.

Now, there has been another New York subway shooting, which was handled by the authorities in a very different way.

On Aug. 8, two men disputed over a subway seat. One of the disputants shot the other man as passengers, diving for safety, were trampled.

Now listen. When Bernhard Goetz pulled out his gun and shot the four toughs, the New York police went into high gear. There was a city-wide manhunt for Goetz. Drawings of him appeared in the daily newspapers. Mayor Koch and Governor Cuomo made public appeals for him to surrender. You might have thought this was the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby.

Goetz ran, but finally he turned himself in to the Concord, N. H., police. He was interrogated, treated as a media bonanza, and brought before a Grand Jury, which refused to indict.

Enormous media and political pressure built up for a Goetz indictment. District Attorney Robert Morgenthau, running for re-election, obliged. Immunity was given to one of the black youths Goetz had shot. He testified against Goetz. The second Grand Jury indicted Goetz on counts that could send him to jail for life.

Having given his immunized testimony, the black youth was later arrested and charged with raping and robbing a woman in the Bronx.

There has been no such police reaction to the Aug. 8 shooting. There was no racial component. Just a couple of people on the subway, and one of them pulled a gun. There were no all-state alerts. There were no drawings of the gunman in the newspapers. There were no appeals from the mayor or the governor for him to surrender. The gunman has not turned himself in to the Concord, N. H., police.

Before we move on to certain conclusions, I want to cite another shooting in the New York subway. A large and strong man was waiting on the platform for a train. A smaller man came along, and as the train pulled in, demanded that the larger man move out of the way. The larger man said there was plenty of room. The smaller man turned around, pulled out a .45 caliber automatic, and miraculously failed to kill the innocent passenger.

As the police said, it was a miracle that the innocent victim lived, whatever the rest of his life is going to be like.

ROBERT WALTERS

The Tax Probe Ran Amok

DENVER (NEA) — The appalling drama of the Justice Department investigation that ran amok has concluded its four-year run in the federal courts here and now moves to Washington.

In late September, a Senate subcommittee will hold hearings on the bungled prosecution of a tax fraud case that includes the only known instance of a Justice Department attempt to suppress a federal judge's decision.

The saga began in early 1981, when the department began presenting evidence to a federal grand jury here relating to the activities of William A. Kilpatrick, a tax-shelter promoter living in the Denver suburb of Littleton.

Kilpatrick, six associates and the Bank of Nova Scotia were indicted by the grand jury in autumn 1982 on 26 counts of mail, securities and tax fraud and conspiracy.

Although the Justice Department touted the case as the largest tax fraud prosecution in its history, (Kilpatrick and his clients were charged with conspiring to defraud the federal government out of $122.5 million in taxes) all 26 fraud and conspiracy charges were dismissed without a trial in early 1983 by Judge John L. Kane Jr. of the U.S. District Court here.

Kilpatrick was convicted of obstruction of justice in spring 1983, but that summer Judge Fred M. Winner of the U.S. District Court here ordered that he be retried because of the prosecutors' systematic abuse of the grand jury process.

In a scathing opinion, Winner sharply criticized the "repeated excess" and "misconduct" on the part of Justice Department lawyers and Internal Revenue Service agents.

The prosecutors, he noted, conjured up the title of "agent of the grand jury," which they then awarded to various IRS agents serving as "prosecutors' helpers." They also, Winner said, improperly granted immunity to some witnesses and attempted to intimidate others.

Winner's opinion charged that, in addition, the prosecutors illegally imposed secrecy requirements upon lawyers who had represented the defendants while allowing secret grand jury testimony to be improperly disclosed to IRS agents.

Alleging that Winner's opinion was riddled with "impertinent, defamatory and scandalous matters," the Justice Department claimed that his criticism by name of three overzealous prosecutors was a "slandering" action.

In fact, there is no counterpart device in the West.

Both the CIA and the Pentagon believe the Soviets already have ground-based lasers that could interfere with U.S. satellites, and they estimate that by the late 1980s the Russians could have at least prototype space-based laser weapons that could incapacitate U.S. satellites.

The actual deployment of space-based lasers for anti-satellite use is a tricky business, however, and the intelligence experts figure the Soviets won't have mastered this before the 1990s.

The various reports and estimates, which accumulate with virtually every top-secret satellite photo and analysis of it, all demonstrate that the Buck Rogers "ray gun" won't wait for Dr. Huer to come along in the 25th century.

County Teams Seek Better Jamboree Play

One way to look at tonight's second Seminole County football jamboree is that it can't be any more lackluster than the first one. Also, with three county teams and DeLand involved, one county school has to come out a winner.

Don't dare mention a tie. That's what the tiebreaker system is for. Seminole and Lyman each lost a couple of quarters Thursday night at the Lyman Fall Jamboree but there is no way that can happen tonight at the Lake Howell Fall Jamboree.

Why? Because they're playing halves and not quarters tonight. Regardless, DeLand and Lake Brantley kick off the action at 7:30 p.m. Lake Mary and Lake Howell play the second half.

Oviedo will also play at jamboree at St. Cloud. The Lions take on St. Cloud in the second quarter and play Bishop Moore in the fourth quarter.

As one might expect all four head coaches — Mary's Harry Nelson, Brantley's Fred Almon, Howell's Mike Blascaglia and Oviedo's Jack Blanton — are chomping at the bit to get going.

●Nelson: "I want them to come out like Roman conquerors," he screamed. "I want yards and wins and bone-crushing tackles. I want slapping and jarring around."

●Almon: "We're going to come out throwing. We're going to see if we can throw the ball. I hope so. We've worked on it hard enough. (Quarterback) Dave Delfiaco has looked good. Our receivers are good, too."

●Blascaglia: "We're ready to play. Most of our positions have been settled but we'll still play a lot of people this year. There will be a lot of interchanging if one player doesn't get the job done."

●Blanton: "We're running the Run 'N Shoot and we're going to shoot. John Morrow is a good, young quarterback and Willie Gainey and Bernell Simmons have looked good catching the ball. We're going to throw a lot tonight."

Injuries haven't been much of a problem expect for Lake Brantley where highly touted running back Cornelius Friendly has been nagged by a bruised kidney.

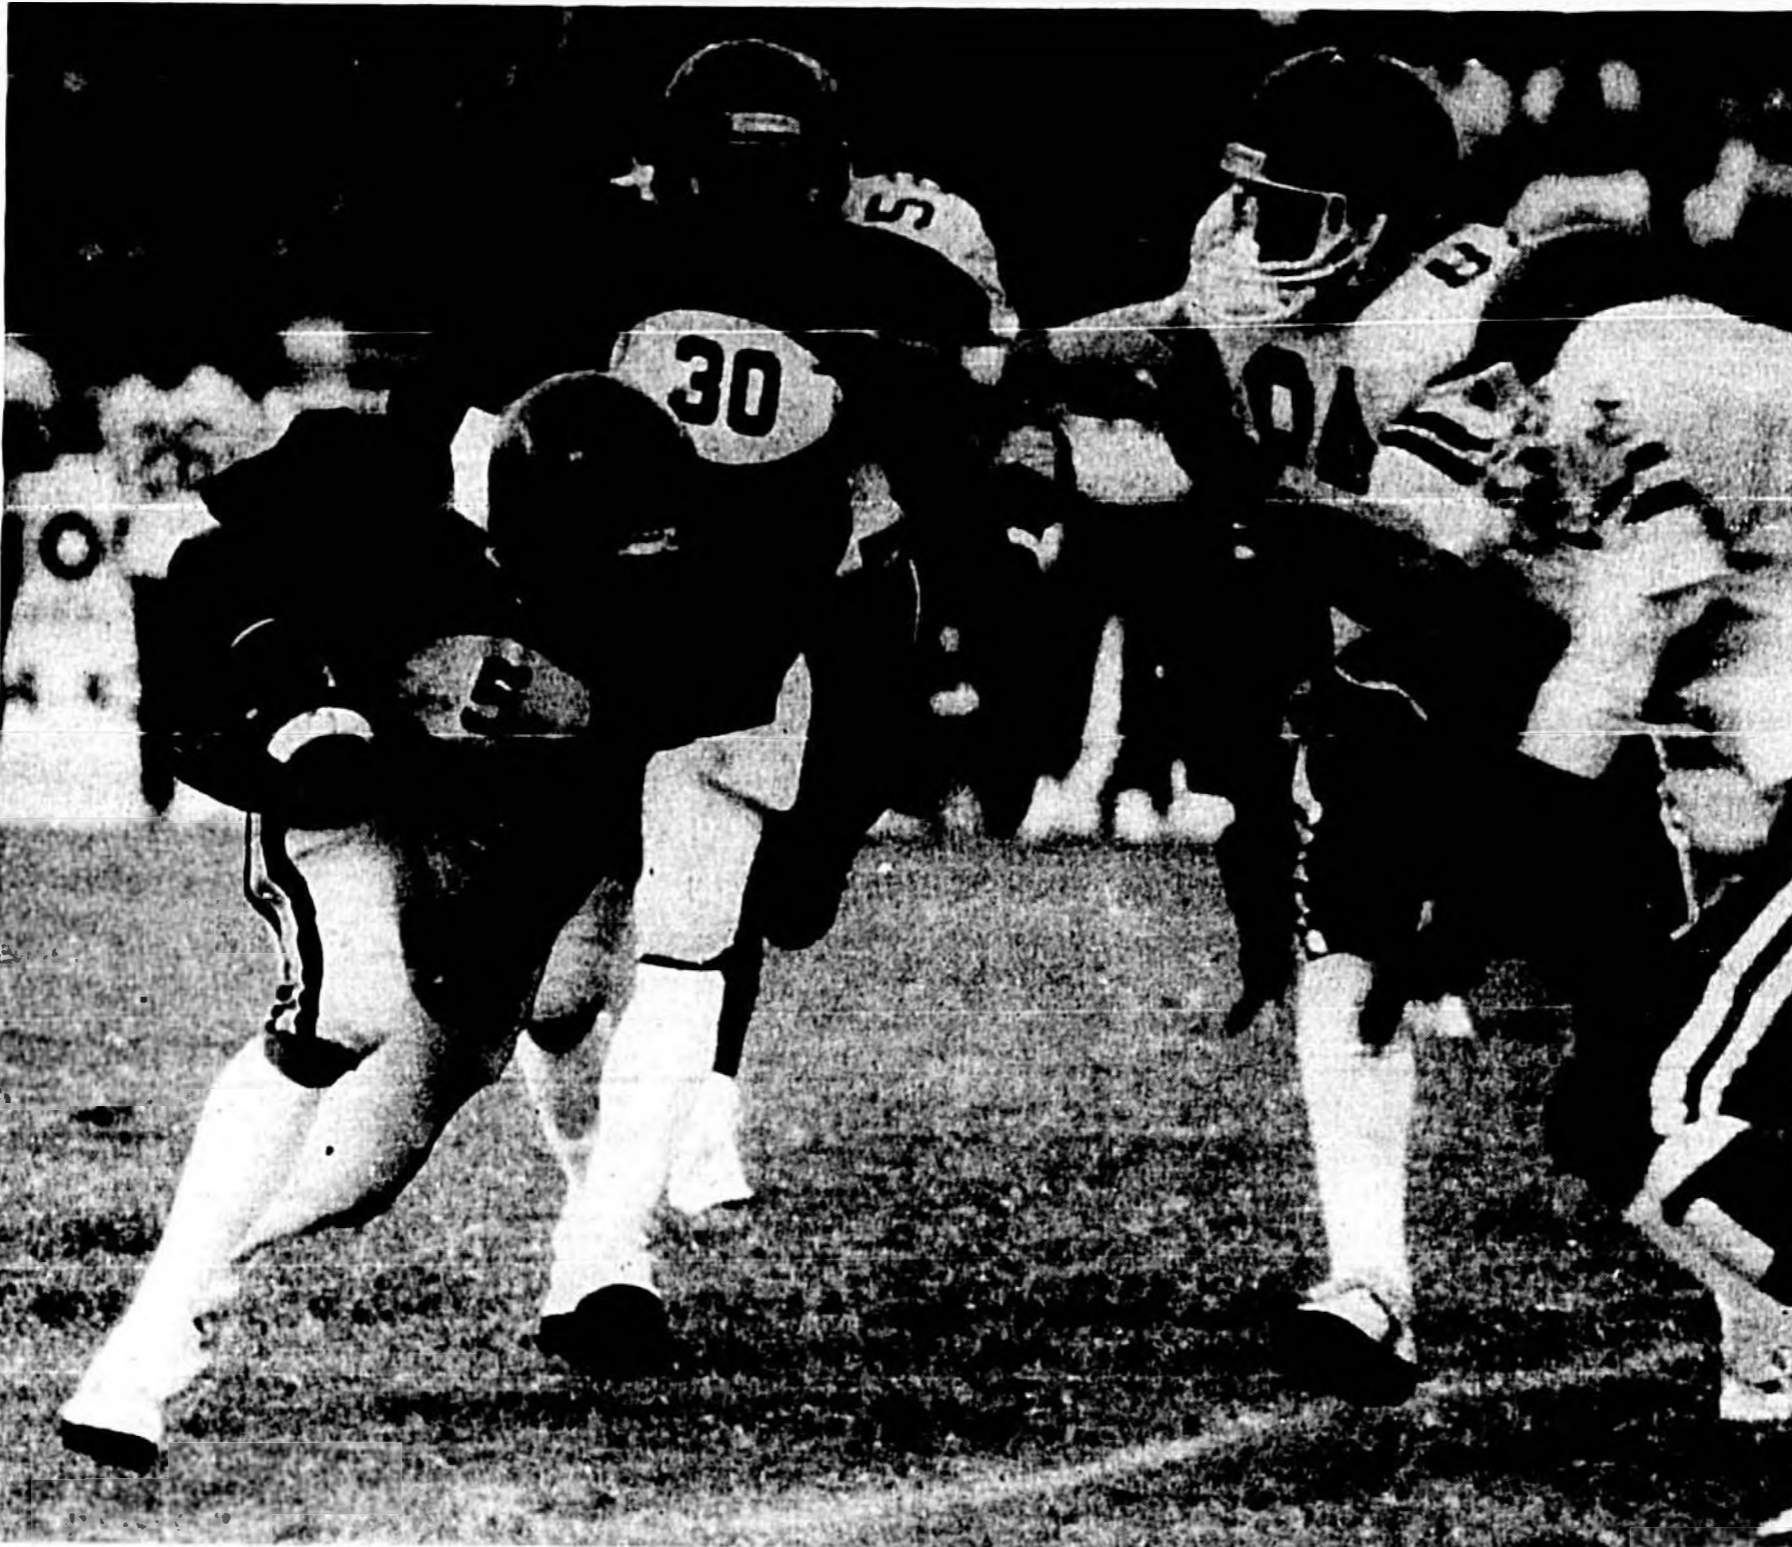

Almon said senior tackle Mark Bousquet and junior guard Chris Mull have been impressive in practice. "Bousquet is the best offensive lineman I've seen," Almon said. "And when Chris gets through with our weight program, I think he can be better than his brother Curt."

Nelson, meanwhile, is impressed with his whole backfield. Quarterback Shane Letterio has been running the attack effectively while the running of fullbacks Brett Molle and newcomer Tom Kothera along halfbacks John Curry and Anthony Hartsfield have been topnotch, according to Nelson.

Although Oviedo's Blanton plans to fill the airways this fall, he said there will still be plenty of ground time for Andrew Smith. The quick-stepping fullback has increased his weight from 148 to 185 and Blanton said he expects to call Smith's number 20 times a game.

Oviedo Adds Marlette To Cage Staff

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Chris Marlette, the basketball coach at Seminole High the past three years before being dismissed last spring, has joined the basketball staff at Oviedo High. Oviedo athletic director Dale Phillips announced Thursday.

Phillips said Marlette will be his varsity assistant. Marlette, a physical education instructor, moved from Seminole High to Jackson Heights Middle to begin the 1985-86 school year.

"I'm just tickled pink to have a guy with that experience," said Phillips. "Teaching at Jackson Heights takes Chris out of an awkward situation at Seminole. It's just down the road from Oviedo, so it should work out perfectly."

Marlette agreed. "It's a good opportunity for me to stay in basketball," he said. "I'll still be looking for a head coaching job but I like this area."

Marlette posted an incredible winning percentage for several years at Crooms High School before taking over for Bill Payne at Seminole. Payne moved to Seminole Community College.

Although Marlette posted three straight winning seasons — winning the district title one of those years — Seminole Principal Wayne Epps was dissatisfied with the direction the program was taking and dismissed Marlette after last year. Epps named Bill Klein, formerly the freshman coach, to replace Marlette.

Chris Marlette was named an assistant basketball coach at Oviedo High Thursday.

"I think they (Seminole) lost a really good man," said Phillips. "Chris really works hard and I'm going to give him free reins. It will be like having two head coaches on the bench."

Phillips said although Marlette was used to being a head coach, he didn't think that would be a problem at Oviedo. "I think we'll be fairly compatible," Phillips said. "I'll encourage him to speak up and listen to whatever he has to say."

Phillips said the addition of Marlette should put some spice in the Seminole-Oviedo confrontations. Both clubs are expected to be two of the better teams in the county.

"I'm sure Chris will be looking forward to playing Seminole," laughed Phillips.

Lendl, Connors Steamroll Foes

No. 2 seed Lendl gambled his match would end before his energy expired, and eliminated No. 7 seed Yannick Noah, 6-2, 6-2, 6-4 Thursday in temperatures that reached 112 degrees on stadium court at the National Tennis Center. Connors, seeded fourth, won by the same score in the evening as he coolly ran Heinz Gunthardt out of the tournament with deep, angled placements.

"He's won some long five-set matches here," said Connors after quickly disarming his Swiss opponent. "And the longer you stay out there, the greater chance he has to get back into the match."

Gunthardt, unseeded and ranked 47th in the world, was no match for Connors, despite 13 aces. Over the first four games he won just four points, and only once in the contest attained a break-point opportunity, which he could not convert.

"I jumped on top of him immediately," said Connors. "I like to do everything I can to entertain the crowd, but business is business."

The 1-hour, 59-minute victory was Connors' 77th in Open singles, extending his own men's record, and put him into Saturday's semifinals against Lendl.

Tennis

Like Connors, the Czechoslovakian outclassed his quarterfinal opponent, denying the sole break-point opportunity against him and finishing his match four minutes more quickly than Connors.

"I was worried about the heat, but after three or four games I felt I was in such good shape I could go for everything," said Lendl, who believed Noah was trying to conserve energy.

"He seemed to be pacing himself from the first point. Not that he wasn't trying. He was trying, but wasn't putting 100 percent energy in each point because he was afraid he would be exhausted at the end of the match," said Lendl, runnerup in the last three Opens.

Noah also felt his effort was lacking.

In the women's semifinal matches scheduled for today, No. 1 Chris Evert Lloyd takes on No. 3 Hana Mandlikova and No. 2 seed Martina Navratilova, the defending champion, will play 18-year-old Steffi Graf, the No. 11 seed who upset No. 4 Pam Shriver in the only three-tie-breaker match in Open history.

Offense Fizzles, Defense Gives Too Many Yards

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

After watching his offense fizzle on a number of scoring drives and a defense that allowed 84 yards to Wildwood in one quarter, Seminole High coach Dave Mosure said he was, "not pleased at all," with the Tribe's performance Thursday night in the preseason jamboree at Lyman High.

The Seminoles dropped a 6-0 decision to Haines City in the first quarter then fell to Wildwood by the same score. Seminole had 62 yards total offense for the night while giving up 105.

"I feel like we've regressed back to the spring," Mosure said. "We're going to start at square one tomorrow (Friday) and then go to square two Saturday."

"We're not ready yet, but next week we will be, period."

Haines City moved the ball well on its first possession but a couple of mistakes stalled the Hornets' opening drive. One mistake was a 15 yard holding penalty after a 13 yard run and another was a loss of 13 yards on a bobbled handoff.

On third down and 25, Haines City quick-kicked and Seminole took over on its own 35 yard line. After gaining just four yards on three plays, Sonny Osborn drilled a 41-yard punt as the Hornets took over at their 31.

Seminole's defense held Haines City in check keyed by Earnest Lewis who dropped the Hornets' quarterback for a six yard loss on first down. After a short punt, Seminole regained possession at their 43 yard line.

With sophomore Jeff Blake at quarterback, the Seminoles marched down to the Haines City 17. Key plays in the drive included a 12 yard pass from Blake to Dwayne Willis and a 14 yard pass from Blake to Willie Evans gave the Tribe on first down on the 17 with 1:55 left in the quarter.

On first down, Blake was sacked for an 11 yard loss, but Evans went up the middle for five yards on second down. After a short gain on third down, Seminole decided to try a field goal with 32 seconds left but Blake's attempt from 41 yards out fell well short.

Haines City took over on the 16 and, after a five yard gain on first down, a hail mary pass on the final play was intercepted by Seminole's Dexter Franklin.

Franklin's play in the defensive backfield was the highlight of the Tribe's defense Thursday night. Not only did he intercept a pass against Haines City but he was in on almost every tackle in the quarter against Wildwood.

"Dexter (Franklin) looked really good," Seminole assistant Roger Beathard said. "He's one of the few veterans we have."

The teams then went to the tiebreaker with each taking four downs from the 10 yard line. Seminole had possession first and Willis gained two yards on first down. On second down, however, Blake's pitchout attempt was off the mark and Haines City recovered. The Hornets then scored on their second play for the 6-0 victory.

"We had some breakdowns where the play that was called wasn't the one the offense ran," Mosure said. "That pitchout was one of them."

Hammontree's Gals Lead Pack — Can Other Teams Close Gap?

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

The past few years there has been a big gap between the top and bottom teams in Seminole County cross country. While teams like Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks continued to flourish, others struggled just to survive.

However, in 1985, the gap is beginning to close as partly approaches in Seminole County.

●At Lake Howell High, coach Tom Hammontree's Lady Silver Hawks have the strength to be one of the state's top teams for the third year in a row. One reason the Lake Howell program has continued to grow is planning.

"The only way you can have a successful program is to plan ahead," Hammontree said. "We're already thinking about the years to come. When the season starts, we're looking for ninth graders who can come in and fill the places of the people who left."

Lake Howell lost just two runners from last year's varsity team, which took fourth in the state, to graduation. They were Nancy Nystrom and Rochelle Spearman.

The Lady Hawks have 4 of the top 7 returning.

Cross Country

led by junior Lisa Samocki. Samocki was sixth in the state (4A) last season in cross country and, this past spring in track, she took second in the mile and third in the two mile at the 4A State Meet.

Another experienced runner and one who has played an important role in Lake Howell's rise to state prominence is senior Amy Ertel. Another returning runner is junior Martha Fonseca who has been in the Lady Hawks' top seven since her freshman season.

Returning for her senior year after sitting out as a junior is Angie Smith and another runner returning after a year's absence from Lake Howell is Rachel Barnes who was one of Winter Park's top five a year ago. The addition of those two to what Lake Howell already had coming back strengthens its chances in '85.

Also challenging for spots on the varsity are Mary Fonseca, Bonnie Oliver, Diane DiMauro, Jenny Bolt, Kim Hammontree and Cindy Oliver.

With most of its runners returning, Lake Howell's boys team is looking to move up this season. Returning from last year's squad are Anthony Howe, Jeff Van Buskirk, John Davis, Chuck Buster and Bryan Rowe. Others who could help out are Dyanan Droze, middle school cross country champion Kavan Howell and Larry Cheeseman.

The only one of the top five not returning is Sandy Potts who transferred to Oviedo.

BOLTON; LIONS ARE GRAPING UP
●Oviedo High coach Ed Bolton said things are shaping up for the Lions and he expects a lot of improvement in '85.

The girls team has all of its top seven returning from last year's young squad which qualified for regionals (3A). The Lady Lions have a solid top two in sophomores Renee Wynn and Cathy Champ. Others returning include juniors Trinh Kossey and Jennifer Nutting and sophomores Cathy Bergman, Bobbi Bowersox and Stacey Helise.

Others who Bolton said could challenge for varsity spots are freshman Valerie Wirth and sophomores Neva Payne and Ashley Poole.

Assisting Bolton with the girls team this season is Patricia Malone, a former Oviedo runner who is currently a senior at the University of Central Florida.

"We have couple schools here in the county that are right up there in the rankings," Bolton said. "We might not get up that high but we're setting one goal at a time. Our biggest goal is to be in top form at the end of the season."

"This is our last year in the Orange Belt Conference, so it's important for us to do well. We would like to leave it with a strong showing."

With the addition of Potts and most of last year's top seven returning, the Oviedo boys team should also move up a few notches this season.

In the early going Potts, a junior along with seniors Kenny Wirth and John Newsome will carry most of the load. Senior Ricky Scott, last year's number one runner, is back but was out all summer with a leg injury. Bolton said Scott is just starting to get back in shape.

"After the top four we're pretty young," Bolton said.

For the quarter, Blake completed 3 of 4 passes for 35 yards while Willis ran the ball three times for 13 yards.

"Jeff (Blake) threw the ball well," Mosure said. "But he showed he's inexperienced." Seminole's best offensive play of the night came early in the quarter against Wildwood, but a mistake on the end of the play halted the drive. On third down and five at the Seminole 37, Eddie Banks took the handoff on a perfectly executed draw play and bolted 18 yards down to the Wildwood 45. However, when he was hit, Banks coughed up the football and Wildwood recovered.

"We had something positive going and he (Banks) fumbles the ball," Mosure said. "We had a number of small drives that fizzled out in their (Haines City and Wildwood's) territory."

Wildwood was quick to capitalize on the mistake as it put together a five-play, 55-yard scoring drive. Quarterback Lorenzo Fields started off the drive with a nine-yard pass to Pat Nelson. On second down, Freddie Douglas broke loose for an 11 yard gain to the Seminole 35.

Douglas took the handoff on the next play and rambled 12 yards to the Seminole 23. On the next play, Fields hit a wide open Bruce Lasane for a 21-yard gain down to the Seminole two. Darren Glover then barreled over from the two for a 6-0 Wildwood lead with 7:51 left in the quarter. The conversion kick failed.

Seminole had its chances again on its next possession as Banks fielded the kickoff at the two and ran it back 62 yards to the Wildwood 36.

Banks picked up two yards on first down and quarterback Darryl Taylor hit Willis for four yards on second. On third and four at the 30, Willis was sacked by Charles Bailey for a four-yard loss. Taylor was the victim of a Wildwood blitz on fourth down as he was buried for a 13-yard loss and Wildwood took over possession with 5:20 left.

The Wildcats ran the clock down to 42 seconds before Seminole got the ball back but the Tribe could go nowhere but back in the waning seconds as Taylor threw an incomplete pass, was sacked twice and was intercepted on the final play.

For the quarter, Seminole had 12 yards total offense. Banks picked up 29 yards on four carries, including one 18 yarder, but Taylor was dropped for 29 yards in losses. Willis gained eight yards on two carries and Taylor completed 1 of 4 passes for four yards.

"We hoped to establish the running game," Mosure said. "But the offensive line wasn't getting off the ball at all."

Wildwood gained 84 yards, 54 on the ground and 30 through the air. Douglas picked up 45 yards on six carries.

"I knew Wildwood would be good and the exceeded by expectations," Mosure said.

"Tomorrow (Friday) we're going to look at the film and then we're going to work," added Mosure.

Mistakes Pain 'Hounds, Scott

By Chuck Burgess
 Special to the Herald

LONGWOOD — Was it Hurricane Elena or just an off night? That's what Lyman head football coach Bill Scott was asking himself last night at the Lyman High School Jamboree.

Lyman, losing to Wildwood in the second quarter, 7-0, and then to Haines City, 7-0, in the fourth quarter, had little to smile about during the game.

The Greyhounds, who were 0-10 last year, saw mistakes of old as they missed tackles, blocks, and passes. "We're going to look at the films and go back to the basics," Scott said. "We need to concentrate on the fundamentals so maybe we can cut down on the turnovers."

A prime example came in the second quarter against Wildwood. Lyman was moving the ball well until Wildwood recovered a fumble to kill the drive. Wildwood could do nothing with the ball and Lyman took over on its won 35.

Unfortunately for the 'Hounds, Lyman turned the ball over on the next play. Wildwood took advantage and drove the ball to the Lyman 15 with 1:42 left to play. From there, Ronald Douglas took the ball to the Lyman 3-yard line. On the next play, Douglas scored to give Wildwood a 6-0 lead with 1:17 left to play. During the course of Wildwood's drive, a pass interference call against the Greyhounds put the ball on the Lyman 15. "I felt that was a poor call," Scott said. "That put the ball deep in our territory and cost us the game (quarter)."

Things looked different for the 'Hounds in the fourth quarter against Haines City. Instead of making turnovers, they were victimized by too many penalties. "We need to work on our mental lapses," Scott said.

Haines City didn't need much time to show Lyman its explosiveness. In just two plays, Darnell Williams gained 84 yards. His first run was two yards and then he jaunted 82 yards for a touchdown.

"Our kids were just missing tackles on him," Scott said. "We had him in the backfield, but we couldn't get him."

Darren Boyesen ran the 'Hound attack during the first quarter while John Burton took over at QB in the fourth quarter.

Despite the twin losses, Scott was optimistic about the season. "I think we'll have a good season," Scott said. "If we stop beating ourselves."

Williams Becomes Playboy? FSU Eyes Nebraska

By Tim Horn
 Special to the Herald

Although Sanford's Isaac Williams may never have considered himself to be much of a playboy, that could change real soon. Williams, a 6-2, 250-pound senior defensive tackle for the Florida State Seminoles, was recently listed among Playboy magazines' "Best of the Rest" (honorable mention) category for college football defensive linemen.

Isaac Williams was listed among the "Best of the Rest" defensive linemen in Playboy Magazine.

Williams, who provided the blocks to push coach Jerry Posey's Seminoles to an unbeaten conference and district season in 1981, was changed to defensive tackle during his freshman year at FSU.

"He took to it like a duck takes to water," FSU assistant Jim Gladden said. Gladden recruits the Central Florida area.

Williams, real estate major, said pro ball is on his mind, along with a super season for the Seminoles. "I really want to play pro ball," he said. "I know I have to have a good year. I'm looking forward to having one."

And if Williams and the 'Noles' defense have a good year, so should FSU. Defense, not offense, has usually been the problem in Tallahassee.

The Seminoles, however,

opened their 1985 gridiron season last week with an impressive 38-12 victory over Tulane. The defense, which played well last week, will have to play even better Saturday. FSU travels to Lincoln, Neb. to take on the high powered Nebraska Cornhuskers.

A victory over the Cornhuskers could make for the beginning of an outstanding season for the Seminoles, but 13th-ranked Florida State will have to put on an even better performance against highly favored Nebraska than they did against Tulane if they expect to win.

"We obviously will have to play our best football game if we have any chance to beat Nebraska," said Seminole head coach Bobby Bowden. "I'm glad we got that first one under our belts but let me tell you this week is a different story all together."

Bowden was especially pleased — and surprised — at the play of his untested signal caller last week. "I feel very good about the way Danny McManus played in his first game at quarterback. He still has a lot to learn but I think he showed me some real poise and I think he's going to get better with every game."

McManus, a 6-1, 190 pound sophomore who won the starting job in spring workouts, completed 14 out of 19 passes for 191 yards and 2 touchdowns in the opener.

"Being my first start, I'd be lying if I said I wasn't nervous," McManus said. "But I'm telling that it wears off quickly—the first play really."

"If I had to grade myself, I'd have to call it average. I was average. I made some bad throws. I ran into my backs on a couple of occasions and I tried to force things."

"Overall I thought I did okay," he added.

On the receiving end of the the two scoring strikes from McManus were flankers Phillip Bryant, a sophomore, and Darrin Holloman, a freshman. Bryant realizes what a win over Nebraska could do for the Seminoles.

"This weekend will give us a chance to put Florida State in the national spotlight," he said. "Nebraska is a great team, but we can't be awestruck. "We have to respect what they are capable of doing but at the same time we have to realize that they are no different than we are. It's going to be a challenge, but if we play the type of game we're capable of we have a chance to win."

Another key player on offense for the Seminoles is guard Jamie Dukes. Dukes, a 6-0, 272 pound senior from Orlando Evans High, said a win over Nebraska would give Florida State momentum coming home.

"Every season there are one or two games early in the season that can help turn a good season into a great one," Dukes said.

...Cross Country

Two young runners who will help out on varsity are sophomore Garth Bolton and freshman Derek Bates.

"Who gets in the top seven from that point is kind of a guess," Bolton said. Two candidates include senior Fracls Vela and sophomore Chris Hunt.

"We have a lot of freshmen and sophomores so we should have a solid nucleus for a JV team," Bolton said. "As for our goals, we want to really do well in the Orange Belt and we want to make it to at least regionals. We just missed regionals last year."

LAUGHLIN; FISHER, GREENBERG SHINE

After a couple of down years as far as team standings go, Lyman's Lady Greyhounds should rebound with a strong 1985 season. Coach Joe Laughlin has his top two returning along with a few transfers who will help out a lot.

Leading the way is one of the top one-two punches in the county in sophomore Tracy Fisher and junior Julie Greenberg. The two formed a solid top two last season but Lyman had a big gap after number two.

Laughlin hopes that gap can be filled by the transfers and some improved returning runners.

Senior Jennifer Hitzges, a strong 880 runner in track, will strengthen the cross country team this year and another senior who will help out is Keshia Kendall.

Brittany Crist, a junior transfer out of California, who ran track for Lyman in the spring, is another runner who Laughlin is counting on. Another junior who is new to cross country is Allie Morgan.

Leading the list of sophomores and freshmen are a pair of transfers, Lynn Gomezperalta and Gretchen O'Grody, both sophomores. Gomezperalta was one of Lake Brantley's top seven a year ago along with being a fine 880 runner in track. O'Grody was Bishop Moore's number five runner a year ago.

Other sophomores on the squad are Tara Braheny, Jennifer Pieters, Audrey Holliday, and Valerie Parker. The freshmen include Chris Bruen and Trish Steiner.

"As far as goals go, our first one is to reach the state meet and place in the top 10," Laughlin said. "Intermediate goals are to start forming a good solid varsity and place a lot higher than we have the last couple years in all the championship meets."

"The transfers will make a lot of difference," added Laughlin. "The last couple years we have been down a bit, but we look to get back up there this year."

Lyman opens the season Tuesday as it hosts a dual meet with DeLand (boys and girls) beginning at 4 p.m.

Lyman's boys team has a new coach in Fred Pinke who coached at Mount Dora High last season and the Greyhounds are looking to remain strong in the county. Lyman has a number of its top runners returning including Mike Mohler, Robin Rogers, Kevin Quinn and Charles Mullins. A freshman who will play a major role is Nick Radkewich.

Along with coach Dave Huggins, who left coaching for the ministry, Lyman also lost two of its top runners, Steve Grundorf and Carl Schmalmaack, to graduation.

LITTLEBRANT; NUMBERS ARE IMPRESSIVE
 Things are looking good at Lake Brantley High where first-year girls coach Mary Littlebrant said she is pleased with the number of girls who have come out for the team. Littlebrant feels the Lady Patriots should turn in a strong showing in 1985 with a berth in the state meet a possibility.

'The transfers will make a lot of difference. The last couple years we have been down a bit, but we look to get back up there this year.'

— Lyman coach Joe Laughlin

Littlebrant has a great deal of coaching experience in cross country. She coached in Michigan at Jackson High and Grass Lake High along with Lake Michigan College. She also has a capable assistant in Julie Lantis, an All-America distance runner out of the University of Illinois.

Lake Brantley currently has 23 runners on the team. "We have 10 strong runners who are very close together," Littlebrant said. "We're looking forward to a good season."

The Lady Patriots lost five of the top seven from a year ago including graduates Kim Lubenow and Joanne Hayward who ran in the state meet in each of their four years. Also graduating was Melissa Meghdadi while Gomezperalta transferred to Lyman.

Leading the way for Brantley in 1985 and the most experienced runners on the squad are returnees Kim Pacietelli, a senior, and Michelle Herbst, a junior.

Lake Brantley boys coach Charlie Harris said his team will be much improved in 1985 with all but two of its top seven returning. Harris said a third place finish in the Seminole Athletic Conference would be an excellent finish for the Patriots.

"We're just going to go out relaxed and have fun," Harris said. "We're building for the end of the season. If we could knock off somebody who is ahead of us, we could be in the top three in the conference."

Leading the list of returning runners is junior Jose Calvino who was one of the top runners in the county a year ago. Also returning are seniors Steve Drake, standout wrestler Kevin Greenstein and Chris Borglum.

"We didn't have any seniors last year but two guys decided not run this year," Harris said. "Those two could have made us tough but I think we can still do well."

'Restless Legs' Caused By Age, Poor Circulation

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — For the past three or four years, I have had what seems like an internal itching sensation occurring in my legs. The symptoms are worse at the end of the day, when I am sitting down or in bed. My own doctor doesn't seem to have much information about this problem. I'm female.

DEAR READER — "Restless legs" is a disorder that may reflect the increasingly poor circulation that comes with age. Exercise, medicine to improve blood flow and the application of heat (like a lap blanket) may help. If the condition is really making you miserable, ask your doctor to refer you to a cardiovascular surgeon, who may be able to give you specific tips on what to do.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What is being done in way of research for a cure or treatment of M.S.?

DEAR READER — Multiple sclerosis is a serious neuromuscular disease for which no cause is known and no universal cure available. Hyperbaric oxygen (the use of oxygen therapy under high pressure) enjoyed a transient therapeutic enthusiasm, but at a recent meeting of neurologists, the technique was reported to be of little benefit.

Presently, M.S. is treated by nursing support. This means that doctors try to treat the symptoms (weakness, energy, loss of mobility and other nerve disorders) to make the patient as independent and comfortable as possible. Until the cause of the disease is known, a specific antidote is — unfortunately — far in the future.

GOTT — In some cases, when one grows older, the anus tends to become smaller and the elasticity is pretty much gone. The bowel cramps and it's very difficult to have good bowel movements. I have been told that a person can be put to sleep and dilated. Is this dangerous or is it successful?

DEAR READER — Although anal dilation is both safe and effective, I cannot specifically recommend it in your case. Ask your family doctor for a referral to a surgeon who is familiar with the procedure and can evaluate you for it. Many people with your problem choose instead to use stool softeners and suppositories, or to increase dietary fiber in preference to dilation, which must be repeated at intervals to be successful. Anal constriction is not necessarily a response to the aging process.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
Today's slam, which was played at a recent regional tournament, was bid and made by a few pairs. Their lines of play varied, but all declarers who succeeded had to bring in the spade suit. East's king has to be dislodged, and after West's second spade falls under the ace, a winning finesse against the 10 has to be taken. One of dummy's diamonds can then be pitched on the good spade jack and one of South's diamonds can be ruffed high in dummy. The last losing diamond in South's hand goes under the club ace. The tally is five hearts, a ruff in dummy, three spades, two diamonds and a club for 12 tricks.

Here's how one clever defender talked the declarer out of taking his second spade finesse. Declarer ruffed the opening club lead in his hand and led the spade queen, which went to East's king. East now made the brazen lead of the diamond queen, won by dummy's king. Declarer, believing he had found a winning line of play, led a low heart to his queen and a low heart back to dummy's ace. He now cashed the spade ace, led dummy's last spade to his jack and ruffed a spade in dummy. Declarer then threw a diamond on dummy's club ace and led a diamond, finessing against East's "marked" jack. East's false-card had set the contract by one trick.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY
 September 7, 1985
 Circumstances in the year ahead may place you in the forefront of an enterprise or progressive movement. Although you might not see it, you will be ushered into a leadership role.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If others think you are too self-serving today, they may attempt to do things to trip you up. Emphasize the "we," not the "me." Trying to patch up a romance? The Matchmaker set can help you understand what it might take to make the relationship work. To get yours, mail $2 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, Box 1846, Cincinnati, OH 45201.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Problems you might have to deal with today could be of your own making. Think your moves through carefully so that you do not run into blind alleys.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) A friend to whom you are obligated is anxious to have the matter resolved. Go to him today to work things out, instead of him having to come to you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Sound suggestions should not be rejected today just because they come from a person you dislike. A closed mind will hurt you, not him.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be selective today with your choice of co-workers for critical tasks. If you choose one who would rather be boss than a willing helper, you'll have trouble on your hands.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) To believe in others is a noble virtue. But today, don't place your faith in people who don't warrant it. See people for what they are.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You and your mate might take opposing positions on an important issue today. Conditions could worsen unless there's a compromise.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Someone whose help you may need later might request assistance from you today. If you fail to comply, don't expect aid when you ask for it.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Strive to spend sensibly today. Keep your budget in mind at all times so you don't go overboard.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be extremely careful today how you treat people over whom you have authority. Once angered, they might figure out sly ways to get even with you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're apt to have little tolerance today with friends who aren't in accord with your views. Try to be open-minded instead of opinionated.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You can have a good time today without delving too deeply into your resources. Money earmarked for essentials should not be wasted on frivolous whims.

Gardening

Now's The Time For A General Cleanup Of Home Grounds

September is a busy month for dedicated gardeners. The fall vegetable gardening season is here. And, now's the time to make preparations for setting out some annuals and ornamental shrubs. This is a good time for a general cleanup of your home grounds, too. Since warm weather is still with us, we need to continue to be watchful for insect and disease problems.

There have been many reports of caterpillars infesting trees, shrubs, and lawns. It really doesn't make much difference which caterpillar is doing the damage, the control is the same. You can spray with Sevin or Dipel to bring them under control. Scale insects, whiteflies, mites and aphids are busy, too. Sod webworm and fall armyworms could still damage your lawn. Be on the lookout. Check with your favorite garden center for control materials.

The pictures of the hurricane last weekend may bring home to some newcomers the potential damage such a storm can cause. This time around, we were lucky — just a few heavy rains. Don't think the season is over. There are a few more forming in the Caribbean Islands and along the Equator between here and Africa.

My observations are that many people have yet

Alfred Besesen
Urban Horticulturist

Ext. 181

to clean up behind last winter's freeze. There are many dead trees still standing in landscapes in the area. And, given a hurricane coming from the wrong direction, those trees may be on top of your car or home.

Check all of your trees for broken, damaged or dead limbs. Falling limbs can cause considerable damage to anything they may strike. It may be necessary to reduce the size of overgrown, neglected trees. This requires severe surgery and the tree will probably look ugly for a few months whether or not a hurricane hits. If you've kept your trees thinned and the canopy in proportion to the trunk, you'll have only minor pruning to do.

Many palms, especially the Cocos plumosa or Queen palm, were severely damaged by the freeze. They may have leafed out normally, but don't be fooled. Best you check closely by tapping the trunk lightly with your knuckles — like knocking on a door — to see if there are any soft spots. If so, you may be better off removing the affected tree. The center of the palm trunk may have a couple inches of live wood, but the outside layer is totally dead and rotting beneath the bark. A strong wind will bring the damaged trees to the ground.

If a storm threatens, outside moveable plants, such as tropical plants, tub specimens, and hanging baskets, should be brought indoors. Less than hurricane winds can strip the leaves from these plants, topple them over, or cause breakage of branches and stems to the point of destroying them.

Let's hope that there will be no hurricanes hitting our area this year, but it is better to be prepared for them. You saw the pictures of the damage to the west coast and the panhandle of Florida. Check your landscape now and take any precautionary measures as needed.

If you want a flower garden this fall, now's the time to decide on a location and start preparing the soil. Locate your garden in an area that receives full sun for at least a half-day. And, if possible, stay away from large trees. Tree roots will quickly use any nearby fertilizer and water. You want to grow your flowers in a spot where trees won't compete for soil nutrients and moisture.

You have a wide selection of attractive annuals from which to choose. Some of the hardy species which will tolerate cold weather include alyssum, candytuft, dianthus, baby's breath, verbena, phlox, calendulas, petunias, pansies, snapdragons, and sweet peas. All of these can be planted during the last two weeks of September.

This is the last call for pruning poinsettias. As you may know, poinsettias should be pruned regularly during spring and summer to develop more compact plants that will produce an abundance of showy bracts this winter. You should not prune after Sept. 10, because you will reduce flowering by removing buds that begin to develop about that time. So, if you need to prune once more, do it now! Cut back the new growth that's about 12 inches long, leaving at least four leaves on each shoot. Again, do not prune after Sept. 10.

Happy gardening!

It's Nicole Mitchell's Second Time Around As Miss Allen Chapel AME Church 1985

The crown of Miss Allen Chapel AME Church 1985 has been won by Miss Nicole Tiwana Mitchell, daughter of Mrs. Lindie Stewart and Frank Mitchell Jr. of Sanford.

Nicole is a ninth grader at Seminole High School where she is an active player on the JV's basketball team. This is Nicole's second time as Miss Allen Chapel. The second place winner is Trudy Roundtree.

because of their historical knowledge and the well versed manner of coordinating and confirming the many activities," Miss Pringle said.

The Orlando International airport was a welcomed sight to traveler Eliza Pringle who recently returned from an interesting tour of China and Japan. Her adventurous tour of China included Shanghai, Hangzhou, Beijing (Peking), Kean, Gulin, Guangzhou and Hong Kong. The historical sights she visited were the Great Wall of China, the Forbidden City, Ming Tombs, the Summer Palace, and the Great Square.

Mrs. Pringle says a cruise on the West Lake was just delightful as well as the 6-hour cruise down the Li River. Scenery both on land, water, parks, commune schools, squares, and museums were delightful to see. The people are friendly and cordial and their cities, towns and country sides were scenic.

"My guides were unforgettable

Construction of homes, offices and highways are booming, the silk and jewelry factories, shops, farms and other occupations were open and in high gear of production.

The arts were just great, paintings, pottery, archeological artifacts, books, libraries and museums were too numerous to list, but the preservation and restoration of 6,000 years plus makes the culture different.

Mrs. Pringle is still excited about her trip, especially the tasty foods of the country, Hong Kong is a busy city, its beaches, waterways, buildings and roadways afforded remarkable sights. The doorway to China is often called a shoppers paradise. Japan was different with its sulphur mines.

Mrs. Pringle, having retired from the Seminole County school system, is indeed enjoying her retirement and what a beautiful educational tour.

Romeo Tomcat Guilty Of 'Feliney' With Juliet

DEAR ABBY: My son moved to another state and left his young tomcat with me for approximately one year. He forbade me to have his cat neutered for fear it would alter its personality. A cat-loving neighbor, who doesn't own a cat, feeds all the strays in the neighborhood, including one wild female who keeps having one batch of kittens after another. The Humane Society has tried unsuccessfully to trap this wild female. Meanwhile male cats come from near and far to breed with this wild female.

This neighbor has volunteered to pay to have my son's cat neutered, but I resent having my cat singled out for neutering. I say as long as this cat lover feeds that wild stray, she'll stay, right? What should I do?

CAT CRAZY
IN MURRAY, KY.

DEAR CAT CRAZY: As long as your son's cat stays with you, it's your responsibility to keep him locked up. And if you can't do that, he should be neutered. Contrary to your son's fears, neutering will not alter the cat's personality.

Because stray (wild) animals that forage for food frequently fall victim to diseases (rabies, for example), putting children and pets at risk, your Humane Society should try harder to catch the wild female and put an end to her reproducing all over the neighborhood. And unless you keep your Romeo from the neighborhood Juliet, you are compounding a "feliney." (Sorry.)

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old sophomore girl in high school. It seems the older guys are attracted to me. Not real old — 19, 20, 21 and 22. Right now this guy who is 20 likes me. I am not involved with him, he just likes me.

My friends say he's jailbait. Exactly, what is "jailbait," Abby? I was going with a guy who is 19. Was he jailbait, too?

NEEDS HELP IN DALLAS

DEAR NEEDS: The term "jailbait" is applied to girls under the age of consent with whom sexual intercourse is unlawful and constitutes statutory rape. Underage girls — not guys — are "jailbait."

DEAR ABBY: I've been dating "Doug" off and on for four years. During a time when we were "off," he had a little vacation romance with a California girl he met in Aspen. I'll call her Sheila. Then he started dating me again.

Sheila kept writing and calling him, assuming there was a future for them, but he assured me that he loved me, so we continued seeing each other.

Five months ago Sheila came to visit him. He felt that since she made the trip, he owed her a few evenings alone. He hoped I'd understand his situation. Well, I didn't understand. He refused to introduce us, which upset me terribly. We broke up for about a month, then resumed our relationship more in love than ever. He even started talking marriage.

Now I learn that Sheila is pregnant, and she told Doug that the baby is his. There's a question in his mind because she had been dating another guy at the same time. She is now five months along, but nothing can be certain until after the baby is born and blood tests are taken.

Doug says he loves me and doesn't want this mess to come between us. He says that even if the baby is his, he won't marry her, and he wants nothing to do with the child. All he wants is me. What should I do? I really love him.

IN DEEP IN DENVER

DEAR IN: I think he's shown his colors, and there's more yellow than true blue. A man who has sex with a woman, whether he "loves" her or not, should take responsibility for his actions. If he's man enough to make a baby, he should be man enough to shoulder the financial (if not the emotional) responsibilities of fatherhood. I'd lose this loser.

Problems? Write to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038. All correspondence is confidential.

Muddin'

They Call This Good, Clean American Fun

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

Here's mud in your eye ... mud in your mouth, mud in your hair, mud down your shoes ... And mud all over the machine you've intentionally driven into, and hopefully out of, a big mud hole.

Maybe you made it out and left the competition bogged down to the axles in your watery, oozy wake. If you didn't make it through the 4- to 15-foot mud pit that stretches over 300 feet, with a little luck and the meanest machine, maybe you at least managed to plow further into the muck than the other drivers stalled in the slime behind you.

That means for one brief, shining moment you're the best, if not the cleanest, in the soggy sport of the four-wheel drive set — the mudders.

Muddin' is the sport that gives men, women and children an excuse for an unabashed romp and ride in the mud, and they even draw a crowd.

Both the crowd and the mudders are a mix of everything from "rednecks to surfer boys," according to 34-year-old mudder Steve Bassard of Sanford.

"It gets sticky, it gets nasty, but we have a ball," he said.

It may not be the sport of kings, but muddin' isn't cheap. The shiny, high riding four-by-fours that rumble onto muddin' turf are, at the very cheapest, about a $6,000 investment, and it can soar from there. Dave Scott of the Sanford Four-By-Four Club, said.

Forget the initial outlay. Week to week expenses are bad enough. In his "Green Bomb" and "Bronka Toy," Scott said a weekend of muddin' will cost him from $50 to $75, and that doesn't include repairs. If you blow an engine, add $1,500 to the tab.

"We can't keep up with the rich boys" and their so-called "dream machines," Bassard said. Most mudders use their four-by-fours for everyday driving because they can't afford a separate vehicle to use exclusively for playing in the mud. But that may very well change in October when the high-bumpered mud riders will no longer be street legal. Lawmakers say they are a threat to other drivers who may be decapitated if involved in a collision with a high-rise four-by-four.

After October mudders will face a greater cost in trailering their vehicles to a race and that, Bassard said, will push some out of the mud.

In addition to all the other expenses and hassles involved in the sport, participants also have to drive to New Smyrna Beach or Bithlo because there's no place to run in Seminole County. Here the county commission has turned thumbs down to muddin', Scott said, and has refused requests for permits for mud rides.

A muddin' run means a day out for the entire family. Bassard always brings his seven children to the track, and the tab for food and beer (for the non-drivers) adds to the overall expense of the sport, Scott said.

The youngsters can get in on the act too, because mud runs usually start with motorcycle and three-wheel cycle races, where the kids can have their turn. And between races, the kids — mud puppies, they're called — engage in mud races, running from one end of the pit to the other, emerging barely recognizable.

Moving into other classes, mud meets have challenges featuring two-wheel drive vehicles, dune buggies, four-cylinder vehicles, street legal stock, powder puff races, and 'run what you bring.'

"Anyone can get out there and enjoy themselves," Bassard said. "If they feel like washing the thing they can get out and run almost anything in the mud."

This is not just a sport for the good ole boys. Women don't shy away from slinging a little mud. Opal Burrow is always ready to run her 1978 four-wheel drive Ford, or her '71 Jeep, which she maintains and cleans herself.

"I just love it, she said. "It's a nice bunch of people. It's good, clean innocent fun... Well, maybe it's not so clean."

Doubling Up

Landers 'Twins' Get Their Act Together

By Dick Kleiner

The one essential thing you have to remember about the Landers twins is that they are not twins.

They've played twins a few times, and they look enough alike to make it easy to jump to that twinnny conclusion, but Audrey Landers is two years older than Judy Landers.

It is Audrey whose career has boomed a bit more, in recent months, than Judy's. Audrey has a key role in the movie version of "A Chorus Line." Audrey is a smash recording artist in Europe. Audrey played Aston Cooper on "Dallas."

But Judy isn't far behind. She's starting to record, too (with Audrey producing her albums, and both of them writing the songs). And both do a lot of guest-starring roles on episodic TV, because if you want a beautiful blonde who can sing, dance and act, there aren't many to choose from — and if you want two, it's pretty much a Landers monopoly.

One reason Audrey is ahead of Judy is that she started sooner. Not only because she is two years older, but because Judy took a detour.

"I was a gymnast," says Judy.

"And I was working," says Audrey, "while Judy was tied up with gymnastics."

Audrey started as a child and actually cut her first record when she was 12. As a teenager, she was in a couple of soap operas — "Secret Storm" and "Somerset" — for some six years.

"I did all that," Audrey says, "while I was going to high school and college. I was always in kind of a rush. I knew what I wanted to do with my life. So I started college when I was 16, at the same time I was in 'Somerset.'"

Judy and Audrey Landers
Sisters aren't twins but they look enough alike to pass. Both are busy with acting and recording careers.

"because she was able to divide herself so much, and devote a lot of time to us and to her business too. We're very lucky to have her on our team."

There was always a housekeeper in the house during the day, but Ruth would be home in the evenings.

"We learned," says Judy, "that it wasn't the quantity of the time (that mattered, it was the quality of time. And our time with our mother was always precious time. A lot of our friends didn't look forward to spending time with their mothers, but we did."

"We loved the weekends together," says Audrey. "We played; we went to the beach; we were with our family. And because we grew up that way, it's still true — we love to be with our family."

"And all that time," Judy says, "I was into gymnastics. But then, when I was 15, I made my decision to become an actress."

The girls' mother, Ruth, had been a model and an actress when she was young. But she had to quit when she found it necessary to earn a living for herself and her two daughters.

She got into the printing business, and now has a large, successful company in Saddle Brook, N.J., that manufactures and designs business systems for corporations.

"We always thought she was some kind of super woman," Audrey says,

And they apparently love to be with each other. It is a rare thing to find a lone Landers — they are almost always together.

But it is only fairly recently that they have begun to work together. Until four years ago, their careers had kept them apart.

"The first thing we did together, as a sister act," says Audrey, "was a couple of variety shows, about four years ago. But we always practiced and rehearsed together, and helped each other. Even when we were little girls, we used to write music together."

They still do. They are now writing all the music for a video they plan to do together, which they will also produce themselves.

They both hope someday to get married and have families. But they also think it will be possible to keep their careers going at the same time as they keep their families going.

Says Judy: "We both have had a great example, in our mother, of how to be a great mother and a career woman at the same time."

Barbara Mandrell Sues Over Car Wreck

GALLATIN, Tenn. (UPI) — Country music superstar Barbara Mandrell has filed a $10.3 million lawsuit against the family of a college student whose car crossed a center line and smashed into her silver Jaguar last year.

Mandrell, who is expecting a baby later this month, suffered a broken right leg, concussion, broken foot, lacerations and knee injuries in the Sept. 11 accident.

Mandrell and her children had been shopping for school clothes and were driving home from a mall when a car driven by Mark White, 19, hit them head-on.

White, a University of Tennessee sophomore, was killed in the wreck.

After the crash, Mandrell, 36, underwent surgery at Baptist Hospital to have a foot-long metal rod implanted in her thigh.

Mandrell, the Country Music Association female vocalist of the year in 1979 and entertainer of the year in 1980 and 1981, did not return to a recording studio until last May.

...Muddin'

Ms. Burrow, a widow in her 40s, fell for muddin' about nine years ago at the urging of a boyfriend, she said.

Muddin' mamas can meet the challenge and see no discrimination on the track. "A lot of the women have more guts than the men do," Scott said. "Guys tell the women, 'Go out there and put it on the floor.' The women do. They don't let off. The guys are afraid, they let off, because they're afraid they'll blow the engine. The women aren't afraid."

"The biggest thrill is winning and not getting stuck," Bassard said. "If you win the thrill lasts for days."

You can still be the winner even if you get stuck, as long as you got further into the mud hole than any of your challengers. Those stuck are towed to shore, and the mud is made ready for another run.

"We stress safety," Scott said. The drivers are required to wear helmets and the vehicles must be equipped with seatbelts and pull points for the low truck to latch onto. Bassard and Scott said they have never seen a mudder get seriously hurt.

Which is a bit odd since it looks like you could get hurt just getting and out of the muddin' machines. Non-street legal machines are high riders, have roll bars and a boosted shock system. You just about need springs on your shoes to hop into some of them, Bassard said.

Sanford mudders, who usually run about five club drivers in a field of 50 or more challengers, placed second in a state competition held in Bithlo last year, Scott said.

"It's a lot of fun when we go down and whip up on Orlando or Daytona Beach boys," Bussard said.

The mud flies in New Smyrna Beach at Dixie 4X4's at the junction of State roads 415 and 44, on the last Sunday of the month. Drivers pay from $5 to $15, depending on their class, for each run. And spectators pay $3.

In Bithlo the races are set for the third Saturday of the month. For more information on muddin' or Scott's 15-member club, call him at 323-4312 or 323-8844.

There are certain occupational hazards to muddin' such as blowing an engine or ripping the transmission out of your truck, above. Then there's the more earthy (literally) drawbacks like getting mud a///// over your body.

'Lovely Rita' The Meter Maid Is Punching Out

"Lovely Rita," the meter maid who inspired a Beatles' song, is retiring and says ticketing Paul McCartney's car 18 years ago was the highlight of her career.

Meta Davis was writing out a citation for Mc-Cartney's car near the Beatles' Abbey Road stu-dio once when the song-writer walked up. "He saw that my name was Meta and he laughed and said, 'That would make a nice jingle. I could use that,'" Davis said.

"We chatted for a few minutes and then he drove off. He was one of the more pleasant people I have dealt with...." That was the last Davis thought of the matter until the album "Sergeant Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band," featuring "Lovely Rita, Meter Maid," came out.

'3 Wives'

Another Defective Detective

By David Handler
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
 Victor Garber is a talented, successful New York stage actor who has done little or no network television. Certainly the opportunity has been there for him — he's good-looking enough, charming, funny. But he has resisted it, until now.

CBS's "I Had Three Wives" is Garber's first stab at TV leading manhood. Unfortunately, this limited-run summer series doesn't show him off at his best.

time they help; some of the time they get in the way.

Elizabeth (Shanna Reed) is an ambitious reporter. Samantha (Teri Copley) is a dizzy, blond-bombshell actress. Mary (Maggie Cooper) is a lawyer and a neatness freak. Mary is also the mother of his 10-year-old son Andrew (David Faustino). Much of the time on "I Had Three Wives," Jackson is as busy trying to be a dad as a gumshoe.

Andrew, for instance, discovers sex right about when his dad is busy trying to find the guy who's terrorizing a famous Southern California private-eye outing. It isn't much, and he isn't much.

It's not a sorry show, but it is routine. "I Had Three Wives" is yet another cutesy, soft-boiled Southern California private-eye outting. It isn't much, and he isn't much.

Garber plays Jackson Beaudine, who drives a battered convertible and lives in an apartment on the Santa Monica pier, right above the merry-go-round, which is run by his chubby pal Johnny (Walter Olkewicz).

Andrew, for instance, discovers sex right about when his dad is busy trying to find the guy who's terrorizing a famous radio call-in sex therapist.

So while Jackson is protecting the "moral voice of the sexual revolution," he's also asking her whether his boy is old enough to be told the facts, and if so, how.

Jackson has a weakness for falling in love and getting married and seemingly, falling out of love. He presently has a trio of ex-wives, all of them comely. They still dote on him, what with him being so sweet and boyish and sensitive.

They also tend to get involved in his cases. Some of the

Our hero is as likely to spend several minutes on a sofa with Andrew saying things like "The thing you need to understand is that your mom and I love you very much" as he is to follow up a lead.

This is a tidy, familiar show. Too familiar. You feel like you've seen it before, and you have. Until something fresher comes along, TV stardom isn't going to happen for Victor Garber.

The largest light-bulb was a 12 inch, 75 thousand watt one created to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the bulb's invention.

Who Was Comedian Fatty Arbuckle?

Dear Dick — I am writing regarding a stand-up comic, Fatty Arbuckle, who is often referred to by comedians of today, but who is this man? I would like to know something about him and his career. — C.B., Riverview, N.B., Canada.

Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle was even before my time, and that's a long time ago. He wasn't primarily a stand-up comic. He was a character comic who starred in many silent films. He flourished primarily from 1913 to 1921. His career ended, really, that year when he was convicted of a sensational Hollywood murder. In recent years, the theory has been advanced that he was framed for that killing. He died in obscurity, in 1933, at the age of 46.

Dear Dick — Someone I know said that "Gone With the Wind" was originally in black and white. Can you set them straight. I know it has always been in color. — M.S., Warren, Mich.

Dear Dick — I know you can now see "Trail of the Lonesome Pine," with Fred McMurray, in color. My friend says it was made in color. I say it was black and white. — E.B., Aurora, Mo.

Both of those films were made in color originally, and have always been in color — except if you saw them on a black and white TV set.

Dear Dick — Re: Rudy Solari. This actor was in the cast of "Garrison's Gorillas," a TV series

Ask Dick Kleiner

some years ago. Is he the same Solari who, in recent years, operated a sort of off-Broadway theater in Los Angeles? — R.J.E., Kalamazoo, Mich.

Yes, the same Rudy Solari. He still acts on TV occasionally, but he is more involved with local Los Angeles theater.

Dear Dick — Walt Disney came out with two movies, around 30 years ago, about border collies. One was "Arizona Sheepdog" and the other was, I think "Border Collies in Action." Will these two movies ever be shown on TV again? If not, can you tell me where I can get copies of them for a VHS video cassette recorder? — B.S.A., Lompoc, Calif.

The chances of them being shown on TV, or anywhere else, are slim to none. And the Disney people tell me that they have not been made into cassettes for VCRs. So I'm afraid you'll just have to watch Lasse re-runs.

Dear Dick — While recuperating from an operation I have been watching reruns of the old "Family" series. I know that Meredith Baxter Birney and Kristy McNichol are still acting on TV, and that James Broderick is dead. My question is, what has happened to Sada Thompson and Gary Frank? And what years did that series run? — Mrs. W.C.B., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Miss Thompson and Frank are still acting, too. She is based in New York and does mostly Broadway, but also some TV work. And Gary works as often as he can find jobs. "Family" ran from 1978-80.

Dear Dick — In the 1970s, we used to watch a TV show about a prison. One of the characters was named Cleaver. I have seen the man who played Cleaver on commercials and other shows. I think his first name was Rick and that the show was called "On the Rocks." Am I anywhere near right? Also, I say that Conchita Farrell on "E/R" used to be in "Baltimore Hotel." Right? — Mrs. R.L.T., Arcata, Calif.

You are pretty right on Part I, and basically right, with a few errors, on Part II. It was Rick Hurst who played Cleaver in "On the Rocks." And it was Conchata (not Conchita) Ferrell (not Farrell) who played April in "Hot L Baltimore" (not "Baltimore Hotel"). I'd say you get a B+ in old sitcom trivia.

CBS King Of TV Rerun Land

NEW YORK (UPI) — CBS narrowly edged ABC for first place in last week's prime-time ratings race. NBC, tied with CBS for first place the previous week, came in a close third.

The last week before Labor Day found the three networks still cruising on summer reruns, the top-rated entry being NBC's "Bill Cosby Show."

CBS's new fall series, "Hometown," airing its second episode, ranked 30th after being tied for 23rd a week earlier.

NBC also had the week's No. 2-ranked show, "Family Ties," while CBS's "Kate & Allie" was No. 3.

The new CBS news magazine, "West 57th," placed 45th, still well behind such established rivals as ABC's "20-20" (14th) and CBS's "60 Minutes" (16th).

"CBS Evening News with Dan Rather" again was the No. 1 news show for the week, with a 10.9 rating and a 23 share. ABC's "World News Tonight" was second with a 10.4 rating and 22 share. "NBC Nightly News with Tom Brokaw" was third with an 8.8 rating and an 18 share.

The top prime time shows for the week ending Sept. 1 according to the A.C. Nielsen Co., were:

1. The Bill Cosby Show (NBC)
2. Family Ties (NBC)
3. Kate & Allie (CBS)
4. Newhart (CBS)
5. Cheers (NBC)
6. Facts of Life (NBC)
7. CBS Wednesday Night Movie: "Sparkling Cyanide" (CBS)
8. Moonlighting (ABC)
9. Highway to Heaven (NBC)
10. Scarecrow & Mrs. King (CBS)

APPLICATIONS ARE BEING ACCEPTED AT THE ORLANDO POST OFFICE FOR THE CLERK-CARRIER EXAM SEPTEMBER 9TH THROUGH SEPTEMBER 13TH ONLY. (And since it won't be offered again for at least 3 years, don't miss out!)

4-HOUR WORKSHOP
Score 95-100% or Your Tuition is Refunded!

NOW is the time to prepare. The pressure is on to score as high as possible to get the job. Career Postal Workers will now earn a starting salary of $16,532 plus benefits — with an accelerated step increase plan; men and women, regardless of age, are eligible. The first step toward a postal service career is getting your name onto the "Register of Eligibles," which is accomplished by passing this Exam. To be one of the first hired, you need to get one of the higher scores! And to be hired at all during the next three years, you will need to score at least 95%.

Come to the workshop. If you don't feel, at the end of the course, that it will help you achieve a score of 95% or better, don't pay for the workshop! Furthermore, if your score is less than 85% on the official exam after using our techniques, we will immediately refund your tuition in full!

WANT TO RELOCATE? We are the publishers of The Postal Alert, the bi-weekly newsletter giving you postal exam dates nationwide. Only The Achievement Center provides this service. Learn how you can relocate to any area of the country you like.

- You are invited to bring your tape recorder to record the workshop for personal exam review
- You may attend as many extra sessions of the workshop as you like (on a space available basis) without additional tuition charge

WORKSHOP TUITION — $40 (includes guaranteed 4-hour Workshop, The Core Guide to Postal Exams [with 6 complete practice tests], a Sample Exam with Answers, Workshop Workbook, "12 Important Steps for Getting Hired into the U.S. Postal Service" Booklet, Follow-up consultation privileges, Achievement Award to high-scorers and Practice Kit containing Six Additional Practice Exams with Answers, Memory Test Flash Cards, and "Simulated Exam" on cassette tape). Please bring two No. 2 pencils with you to the Workshop.

Seating is limited, pre-registration by phone is advised. Otherwise, you may register by arriving thirty minutes early. Tuition is payable at the door by cash, check, money order, MasterCard, VISA or American Express.
