Manager Of Cardinals Is Reported To Be At Odds With Heads Of Ball Club

McKechnie Leaves For The East Few Hours After Team Loses An Rumor Float About That He Is Through

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service
Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—It was less than 24 hours after the St. Louis Cardinals had taken it full on the contender for the fourth, the final and funniest time Tuesday afternoon that Mr. Will McKechnie, ever had, that the rising, young bug-holder, was riding eastward from a hotel such as no man or woman ever before had sustained in a World Series. He was a dispenser so hearty that the customary "poling" of the premises, the sweeping up of post-season fragments usually awaiting a managerial whisk broom, was allowed to go by default and this occasion some comment.

From McKechnie's viewpoint however, it was likely that the book nature of his leave taking was a perfectly natural one. After what had happened to his ball club out there during recent days, it is possible that he felt he had had enough of St. Louis for the time being. It probably didn't occur to him that St. Louis may have had enough of him.

Afterward, as swiftly as he left, he was still inclined to match wits with the press of a rumor to the effect that he wouldn't be managing the Cardinals next season. The rumor, as a matter of fact, was a well established one several weeks before the Cardinals won the pennant under McKechnie's direction or may be over it, for all I know.

McKechnie may or may not be a good manager but it would seem that his audience at least might be open to reason on this point, in view of the fact that teams he had managed have won two pennants and one World's championship during the last four seasons. The fact that he is no longer in with one of these clubs and may be about to start the other, by the emergency rule, need in case of fire, and by those who have heard this news in the past, indicates that he is a good salesman of his own ideas.

He was kicked downsize by Harry Dreyfus only a year after he had managed the Pirates to the 1926 championship, in the National League, and a little in the World Series. The obvious reason was supposed to have been the inherent quality that also vitiated the careers of Fred Clarke, Carey Davidson, Adams and others involved. McKechnie's regime, however, had been under fire from several sources for some time. Apparently McKechnie's even like the way he had done it.

It was the same this year when he thought the Cardinals down the wire in a great stretch run. The Cardinals still were making that when an apparently well authenticated report reached the writer that Frank Frisch, second baseman, had been fired, would be fired the next year, only under the condition named. The manager of the outfit, however, it was said, he would be retained.

GUEST WILL LEAD FINE POLO TEAM FOR U. S. HONORS

YoungStarHasCombination Believed To Be Of Winning Merit

By Malcolm Ray

Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Winston Guest, one of the greatest polo players of the day and promising to be the greatest of all with in a few years, will lead the Meadow Brook four in action today against a machine-like United States Army combination for the polo championship of the United States, on the velvety green turf of International Field at the Meadow Brook Club, Westbury, L. I.

Guest, whose brilliant play through the season forced his selection on the American Big Four in the series of matches for the championship of the Americas, has beside him "on the Meadow Brook" quartet today Johnny Miles, the sterling all-around star of the Argentine team, Malcolm Stevenson an internationalist of many years standing, and Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, making a determined effort to follow in the footsteps of his famous father, Harry Payne Whitney, captain of the first of the American big four which swept the English into oblivion in 1909 and brought back to the United States the international cup which the British had held for close to a quarter of a century.

Against this team, one of the most powerful ever put together in the United States aside from an international four, will play a smooth Bard hitting and fine riding Army outfit, which until the injury to Capt. C. A. Wilkinson, its star No. 1, in the semifinal match on Tuesday, was looked upon as a sure fire bet to win the championship on the sheer merit of its splendid team play for no other reason.

GLOOM REIGNS IN GATOR YEARLING FOOTBALL CAMP

First Year Team Is Not Very Well Prepared For Auburn

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, GAINESVILLE, Oct. 11.—(Athletic News Bureau)—There is considerable gloom in the freshman football camp as Brady Cowell prepares his "Baby Gators" for the start of the seventh season of University of Florida football. The Auburn Cub, who finished the opposition next Saturday at Columbus, Ga., in the curtain-raiser, have broadcasted that they, before their freshman football prospects been so rosy, while down here in Gatorland, Mentors Cowell and Pierson see little chance for the 1934 ranks that resembles freshman grid squads of former years. Horace Marsh, the All-Southern prep guard of last season, has rejoined his mates, but absence from practice for three weeks has placed him considerably behind in training. Don Forsyth, of Pennsylvania, has been showing up nicely, and seems certain to start at one of the guards.

"Monk" Durrett, triple-threat back, looms as one of the most promising athletes to enter the University since the immortal Jones, Goldstein and Williams, but he suffered a slight injury last week and is not scheduled to scrimmage before the Auburn clash, though he should be able to start against the Auburn Saturday.

The return of Earl Hitch, end, after nearly three weeks absence from practice, strengthens the situation at end, but he too is not in top physical condition, and somewhat behind in his pre-season training. Installation of the Vetter Dome system by the Vetter coaches is making their job more difficult than ever this year, but the tutoring they receive this fall should serve them well when they graduate to varsity ranks. Carlos Frantz and Jimmy White, from Tampa, who are far from strangers to state football fans; Big Ed Farrell, from St. Lawrence, always and Leo Worrick, who played colorful high school ball up in Jacksonville last fall; Delana Draw from Clearwater, and Bob Adams from Indiana, loom as the best of the present backfield crop.

A "used car" is unused transportation

A GOOD automobile is built to stand years of use. It will provide many thousands of miles of satisfactory transportation.

But only occasionally are all its years and all its mileage used up by one owner. Many owners turn their cars in after an average use of only two to three years—long before the cars' lives have been exhausted.

This custom brings into the market every year so-called "used" cars which represent outstanding opportunities to buy unused transportation at low cost.

Every year more and more people appreciate this fact. Today millions of families are driving cars of which they are the second or third or even fourth owners; and this year the volume of new car sales and trade-in transactions has created wider markets and greater values in unused transportation than ever before.

3 out of 5 buy used cars

THREE out of five of the cars you see on the road have been purchased as "used" cars. You cannot tell—nor do you ask yourself—whether the driver of any particular car is its first owner, or its second or its third, providing the car looks well and is running satisfactorily.

The cars which General Motors dealers have accepted in trade vary in name, body style and price. Some have such sturdy service; in others the potential mileage has scarcely been touched. And all offer a wide field of opportunity.

To the family wanting transportation at lowest possible cost.
To the family wishing to own a car of a higher price class.
To the family needing a second or third car to meet the requirements of all its members.

We invite you to examine the unused transportation in the stores of General Motors dealers. For your convenience General Motors extends the GMAC Purchase Plan.

cross-winds and later, head winds to impede the ship's progress.
In passing over Madeira the zepplin was aided by a southeast wind. There are no indications of bad weather in the Bermuda region. Later, the Arlington station picked up a radiogram that the airship had passed over Madeira in the direction of the Azores.
By turning southward beyond the southern steamer lane, the arrival of the zepplin will be delayed. It may not reach Lakshurst until Sunday evening or Monday morning, all depending upon the nature of the weather encountered after reaching the western side of the Atlantic.
Passing over Gibraltar at midnight, Eastern Standard Time, the zepplin left the Spanish coast an hour and 30 minutes later and headed southward along the Spanish-Moroccan coast.
Ships in the vicinity reported fine, clear weather with light wind flying conditions were called ideal.
While passing Gibraltar the ship exchanged radio messages with the Gibraltar station. For long periods the ship's wireless was silent, indicating heavy static conditions.
All the way from Lyons to Gibraltar the great air liner fought strong headwinds and some times her speed was reduced to a bare 50 miles an hour.
After leaving Marseille the zepplin drove out over the Mediterranean passing the French and Spanish coasts and soaring over Barcelona at 6:30 P. M., Thursday, just after darkness had fallen.

The State Of Florida

The Boston Transcript has been one of Florida's best friends in dissipating the reports in the North that the entire state had been wiped out by the hurricane...

The Transcript points out that Florida is as far from north to south along the Atlantic as Boston is from Baltimore...

The State of Florida, continues the Transcript, "is in reality a vast domain. It is greatly needed as a part of the productive territory of the United States."

The Transcript has depicted the state of Florida exactly as it exists. In the southern portion of the state there is a vast fertile tract of some five million acres capable of such productivity as to feed the entire nation...

Values of Florida's principal farm crops, for the year ending July 1, 1928, are reported as follows by state and federal agricultural agencies:

Staple crops—Corn, $7,226,000; cotton, $1,624,000; cowpeas, $130,000; hay, $1,308,000; oats, $97,000; peanuts, $1,042,000; sugar cane, $1,400,000; sweet potatoes, $2,268,000; Irish potatoes, $5,633,000; tobacco, $2,880,000. Total value $23,808,000.

Truck crops—Snap beans, $3,683,000; cabbage, $459,000; cantaloupes, $76,000; celery, $3,969,000; cucumbers, $1,928,000; eggplant, $255,000; lettuce, $576,000; green peas, $119,000; peppers, $1,292,000; strawberries, $2,001,000; tomatoes, $7,284,000; watermelons, $2,524,000. Total value $24,066,000.

Fruit crops—Oranges, $30,360,000; grapefruit, $14,045,000; peaches, $121,000; pears, $51,000; pineapples, $25,000. Total value, $44,602,000.

Miscellaneous—Livestock, $5,350,000; poultry, $4,208,000; eggs, $6,466,000; milk, butter, $11,472,000; miscellaneous, $5,842,000. Total value, $33,338,000. Grand total, $125,814,000.

A First Class Team

This is a great week in sport, witnessing as it does the climax of the World Series and the beginning of the football season in earnest.

Football is not supposed to be the "Great American Game." The dignity of that position has been reserved for baseball...

The change has come about through the wholesale desire of practically all colleges to capitalize on their football teams.

The natural outcome of this condition has of course been better football teams, and with better teams and faster play, have also come larger crowds.

Here in Sanford we have a team representing our High School which is battling hard to keep on a par with the best of the younger teams in the state.

DEATH IN INITIATION

Greek-letter fraternity men all over the country are perhaps the most severely shocked by the news from the University of Texas that a student was killed during the process of an initiation.

It is hardly a defense for the fraternity to claim that a lot of other boys passed safely through the initiation. The fact that one did not is evidence enough of the danger of such dangerous experiences.

We believe that a good live newspaper, whether it be a large daily, or small weekly publication, is as important and as essential to any town or community as its banks, schools or churches.

The Unknown Soldier

Daytona Beach News-Journal

An English dramatist is preparing a play for production in London, in which the Unknown Soldier rises from his tomb in Westminster Abbey and speaks his mind about various things that have happened since the Armistice.

The project seems to have caused a great deal of London Ex-service men's organizations have protested, and a number of such prominent people as Sir Arthur Conan Doyle have joined them.

The question is one which will eventually arise in Daytona Beach. It is worth our while to consider it now.

Given reverent, intelligent treatment, it is hard to see why such a theme should give offence. To be sure, it is possible that the Unknown Soldier might have some rather caustic things to say about the way England's diplomats and leaders have handled the ideals for which he died.

Is someone in London, perhaps, stirring up these protests with that in mind?

What is the unknown soldier anyway? Is't reverence accorded him merely vicarious tribute paid to all of those who died overseas and to the sacrifices of those who miraculously returned to take their places in society again?

The real question is not whether the Kellogg treaty will end wars, but whether it will keep them from beginning.

FLORIDA-AUBURN TILT TO ATTRACT CAPACITY CROWD

Heavy Ticket Demand Assures Fine Attendance Saturday Game

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, GAINESVILLE, Oct. 12 (AP)—Florida vs. Auburn at Gainesville Saturday, in the first conference game of the season for the " Fighting Gators," is going to attract a capacity attendance, in the belief of Florida athletic officials. The demand for tickets has been unusually heavy, according to Graduate Manager James R. Boyd Jr., and it is possible that the S. R. O. sign will be hung out before game time.

Coach Charlie Bachman, anticipating a strong attack from the somewhat downrod Auburn host, had the "Gators indulging in a lengthy scrimmage" Wednesday. Featuring the offensive was a 60-yard touchdown run by Cannonball Clyde Crabtree, the South's skillful ball carrier, and a few moments later, Carl Brumbaugh, who paraded down the sidelines last Saturday for 45 yards and a touchdown, almost duplicated the run. Outside of these two boys, the "Gators didn't buck out of the leaves, though a squad of freshmen, taught Auburn plays by Assistant Coach Higgins, inflicted several damaging thrusts against the big varsity team.

The week's most outstanding achievement has been scored by Al Church, a former Hillsborough High athlete, who takes over Willie DeHoff's jersey for this coming Saturday. DeHoff, a brilliant end, broke his ankle in the game last week, and is lost to college football forever, and as his ill-fated jersey, No. 13, hangs in the stock room without an owner, the tutorial board took stock and found that Church was deserving. He plays guard, and though weighing only 170 pounds, is a real scrapper. He seems to love the game, and the thought they come, the better.

Ed Sauls, who loomed last week as one of the most outstanding of Florida's surprise backs, is suffering from an annoying injury, and may not have opportunity to see much action this week. When one thinks of an array of halfbacks, one can't help but think of Capt. Boyer, Goodwood, Cantham, Crabtree, Sauls, Nelson, Owens, Brumbaugh and a host of others who are expected to play. The loss of one is not felt as a whole setback after all.

Health HINTS

By DR. J. C. HOWELL

A well-known Sanford citizen writes to me with a story of how she was cured of a bad case of hemorrhoids. She writes that she had been suffering from this trouble for many years and had tried many remedies without success. She writes that she was cured by using the medicine advertised in this paper. She writes that she is now free from all trouble and is able to enjoy life again.
