Reds Promise To Continue Resistance

Communists Hurl 150 Jets At U. N. Warplanes In Largest Air Fight Of War

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—(AP)—Gen Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Chief of Staff, said today Russian-speaking pilots are flying some of the Communist jet fighter planes in the Korean war. He was asked by reporters if Russians are piloting the aircraft which bear the insignia of the Chinese Communist Air Force. He stopped a direct answer, Vandenberg said: "People who speak Russian are flying the MIG's. Anybody who wants to make something of that can do so."

MUNSAN, Korea, Oct. 23—(AP)—Red China's Peiping radio today quoted Premier Mao Tse-tung as saying Chinese will continue to "resist America" until the U. S. accepts Red peace proposals in Korea.

The Red Chinese premier added that armistice negotiations "will be a success if America takes a national stand in true talks."

The broadcast was heard in Tokyo as the Reds let another day slip by without approving an agreement to reopen cease-fire talks which they broke off two months ago.

Mao remarks were taken to mean the Communists haven't changed their position during the two-month break in negotiations. Red negotiators had insisted on a cease-fire line along the 38th parallel. They said the United States is "not serious" (Continued on Page Six)

Candidates For City Commission To Speak At Jaycee Rally Tonight

The six candidates who are running in the three groups for City Commission will speak in behalf of their candidacies at a "Public Information Rally" to be staged by the Jaycees tonight at 8:00 o'clock at a First Street and Magnolia Avenue. Plans to the program, the Semnole High School Band will play a concert starting at 7:30 o'clock.

The speakers will be presented by State Representative Vello Williams, Carl Priser, chairman of the Jaycee Get-Out-The-Vote Committee, will have charge of the program which will be presented from a platform next to the Touchton Drug Co.

The speakers, each of whom will be granted nine minutes to speak, will be presented in the following order: Robert A. Kader and Al Lee in Group No. 1; J. M. "Pete" Higgins and W. H. Stempert (Incumbent) in Group No. 2; W. V. Billing (Incumbent) and Randall Chase in Group No. 3.

The area will be roped off under the direction of Police Chief Roy H. Williams and Station WTRH will broadcast the program.

Only three more days remain for registration prior to the Nov. 7 election, H. N. Sawyer, city clerk, said this morning. To date about 2,400 citizens have registered.

Probe Is Begun Into Chicago Race Riot

CHICAGO, Oct. 23—(AP)—A special federal grand jury on Nov. 5 will begin a full-scale investigation of the rioting in suburban Chicago last July.

The jury of 13 men and 10 women was sworn yesterday and a judge in state criminal court quashed indictments against four persons accused of conspiring to cause the riots.

The September Cook county grand jury had indicted six persons in connection with the rioting. The disturbances started July 10 after Harvey E. Clark, Jr., a Negro bus driver, had attempted to move his family into an apartment building. The disorders were halted on July 12 after National Guardsmen were rushed to the suburb.

Work Is Resumed This Morning By Petite Paris Following Fire

Work was resumed this morning by the Petite Paris Lingerie Co. at its new temporary location in the former County Canning Kitchen Building at Twenty-fifth Street and Sanford Avenue.

Mrs. Martha Yelvington, president of the firm, which was burned out of its former quarters on Celery Avenue 11 days ago, said that orders for lingerie would be filled today.

This morning 14 operators were at work on 14 sewing machines, and it is expected that 20 will be working in the building in the near future, said Mrs. W. A. Pitts, who is in charge of production.

The sewing machines are at the south end of the building near the large windows. Day light is supplemented by fluorescent fixtures installed by D. Stafford.

A large cutting table has been installed, and the two cutting machines were salvaged from the fire. Docks and floor and other office equipment has been installed and Mrs. Yelvington pointed out that some of the charred customer records can be copied.

The building has been leased

Rickey Gives Defense For Farm System

Manager Of Pirates Tells Committee He Resents Idea Of Baseball Trial

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—(AP)—Branch Rickey, father of baseball's farm system, hotly told a congressional committee today he resents the idea that baseball is on trial.

Rickey was testifying before a House monopoly subcommittee investigating whether baseball violates anti-trust laws.

"The farm system is the most regrettable thing about this hearing," Rickey said, "as that people reading the newspapers may get a sense of growing suspicion that baseball is on the defensive, that it's doing something morally wrong."

Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.) agreed with him, but Chairman Celler (D-N.Y.) said his main aim did not indicate the public felt as Rickey said it did.

Staunchly defended the farm system he helped launch, Rickey declared he never knew of an instance where a major league team deliberately kept a player in the minors even though he was ready for the majors, and insisted that in the minor league clubs must do their best to get the public will penalize them by staying from games.

"The farm system," the general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates said, "is the savior of baseball."

He said it is "problematic" if minor league clubs had not bought minor league teams for the development of players.

The subcommittee last week heard testimony from Commissioner K. M. Landis and now counsel for the Pacific Coast League, (Continued on Page Six)

Curran Gives His Help To Rebel Strike

Maritime Union Will Not Cross Picket Line Of Striking N.Y. Longshoremen

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—(AP)—The CIO national maritime union offered its support today to striking rebel longshoremen who have paralyzed the port of New York.

Joseph Curran, president of the NMLU, said his union would respect picket lines of the longshoremen and established lines.

The strikers, members of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association, already have succeeded in paralyzing the waterfront of New York. With only a few exceptions, more than 30 miles of piers have been shut down since the walkout began five days ago.

The stoppage also has spread to Boston, where 1,500 longshoremen and 400 freight handlers refused to work today.

Curran's offer to back the strikers was made in a speech to 600 delegates to the eighth annual NMLU convention.

He said, "If the ship owners load with us, our seamen on these ships will not tolerate this activity."

Curran told the delegates that he was investigating circumstances at the pier where the U. S. lines passenger lines America is preparing to sail Thursday.

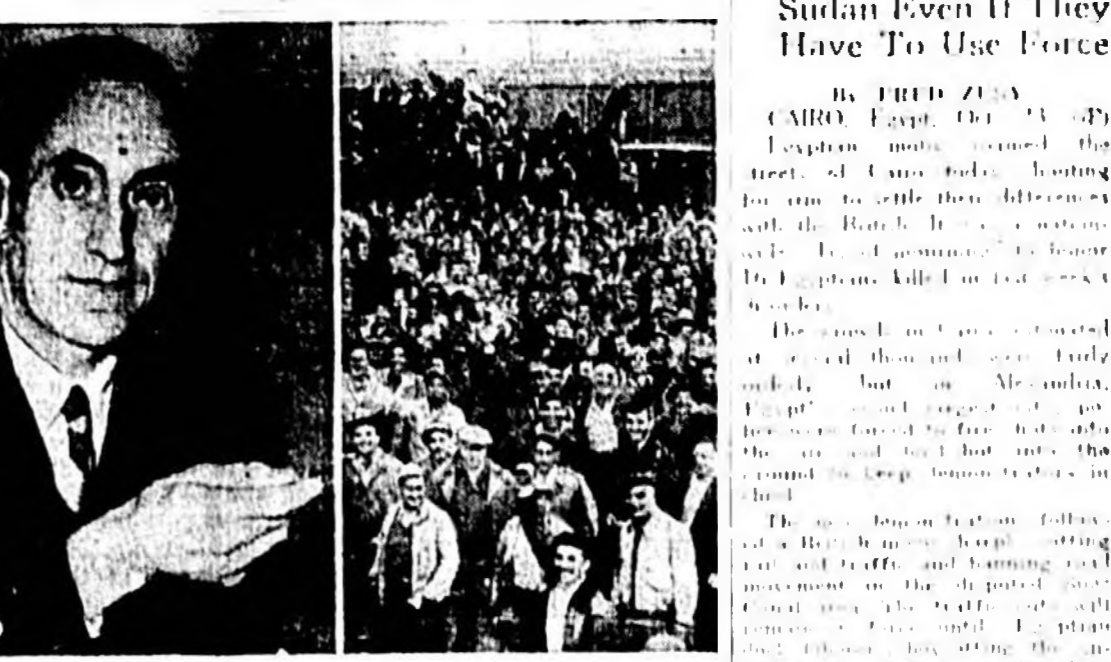

If the longshoremen are on the street and the seals are on the lines on that vessel, she is now at sea," he declared.

His advice to the U. S. lines to settle the strike with the workers.

Curran said Army material and civilian goods had high priority since the work stoppage began a week ago. (Continued on Page Two)

Crowds Roam Cairo Asking For Arms To Settle With British

Denies Instigating Dock Strike

TALKING TO REPORTERS in New York, Harry Hodges (left), leader of West Coast longshoremen, denies that he had anything to do with the wildcat walkout of dock workers on the East Coast. At right, cheering longshoremen stand outside a Brooklyn, N. Y., pier after they decided to strike in support of the men who already walked some days ago. Fifteen thousand dock workers are reported to be on strike. (Associated Press)

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 23—(AP)—Egyptian mobs roamed the streets of Cairo today, shouting for arms to settle their differences with the British. They also demanded that the British withdraw their troops from the Suez Canal zone.

14 Year Old High School Girl Tells Lions Of Duties

Miss Dorothy Holloway, 14 year old Seminole High School freshman, today told members of the Lions Club at their luncheon in the hall of today's citizens rests the responsibility of maintaining democracy, government and opportunities for those who will believe in their beliefs.

She was introduced by Malcolm MacNeill.

"Just look at the lethargy, the apathy, the drowsiness, the indifference that the great percentage of our citizens today are playing in the game of being good citizens," said Miss Holloway.

"Our stake in the future," she said, "rests solely, entirely, and with no doubt in the statement, in your hands."

She told of a report by U. S. Chamber of Commerce which described federal officers as being impudent and disgruntled, help of faulty planning, loss budgeting and unfair competition with private business.

"You travel back in your mind to your 14th birthday," she said. (Continued on Page Six)

THE STATE DEPARTMENT, in announcing his new job, said that his first task will be to put into effect the mutual defense treaties which the United States recently signed with the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand.

Officer Killed In Wild Gun Battle With Crazy Man

PETERSBURG, Va., Oct. 23—(AP)—A crazed mental patient shot and killed a police officer today in a wild exchange of gunfire at a state hospital farm here. Six other persons, including two patients and two hospital attendants, were wounded before the gunman, loaded up in a small truck and exchanged fire with police.

The mental patient burst from a window of a grand jury building and held off officers who sought to put him out of his flimsy fortress with bullets and tear gas.

W. H. Gibson, the State Police investigator, was slain by a shotgun charge in the face as he sought to get to the door of the two-room building. His body lay where it had fallen, and two attendants, covered by the weapons of the police and an armored car from the army's nearby Fort Lee, were able to recover it.

The patient, whose identity was not immediately disclosed by the hospital, was working with a crew on the hospital farm. He pulled a pistol, shot two patients and two attendants and made a break for home. (Continued on Page Six)

Highly Critical Report Of Vice Conditions Due

BIAXI, Miss., Oct. 23—(AP)—A one man Senate subcommittee wrapped up an investigation of vice conditions along Mississippi's Gulf Coast last night and said he would submit a highly critical report to the Senate.

Sen. Lester Hunt (D-Wyo.) issued his investigation of gambling, liquor and prostitution conditions along the Gulf Coast.

Before reading a summary report at a hearing Sunday Hunt criticized the commanding general of Keyhole for failing to stop gambling on the Gulf Coast.

"I'm not critical of your work at the training center," the Senator told Maj. Gen. James F. Powell. "But I do criticize your limited action to stamp out gambling and I am discouraged by your attitude about what happens to the boys off the base."

Hunt's report and the voluminous testimony taken at yesterday's hearing would be turned over to the seven member preparedness committee and the Senate Armed Services Committee, and that "proper corrective measures will be evoked."

The report said that gambling interests had entrenched themselves as "virtually controlling the economic life of the area."

During the hearing the committee investigators heard promises from Sheriff Las Quave and Biloxi Mayor R. Hart Chinn that gambling laws would be enforced during the rest of their terms of office.

Princess And Duke Will Entertain Trumans At Saddle Of Lamb Dinner

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—(AP)—The royal couple, who will visit the Trumans at dinner Nov. 1 for three days, will give their "bread and butter" dinner at the Canadian Embassy. There will be only 30 guests.

It sounds simple, but from a protocol viewpoint, it's complicated. The reason is that Mr. Truman, one of the guests to be invited, is not a member of the royal family.

The Canadian Embassy, a handsome Georgian house set in a beautiful garden, will also be the locale for a comparatively small get-together of ambassadors representing the eight countries in the British Commonwealth.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE
 That tree grows in every garden. We must learn to choose wisely. The tree of life also is in the midst of the garden. —Ge. 2:9.

You may not have been interested in the atomic explosion in the Nevada deserts yesterday, but we'll bet the Russians were.

Snow was reported falling in a dozen places throughout the Middle West last weekend. Just another sign that winter is already upon us and the tourist season is not far away.

Betting odds in London against the Labor government are now reported at 5 to 2. This is not, however, as bad as the odds were a week ago when they were reported at 7 to 2. But with the election being held on Thursday of this week, the London Evening Standard predicts the Conservative House of Commons by a majority of 99.

President Truman signed the new five billion dollar tax bill, but griped about it not being enough. If he had to pay taxes on his entire income, he'd think it was enough. And as a matter of fact that five billion dollar tax increase is more than all the expenses of the federal government in any single year of all three Republican administrations during the 1920s.

The Tampa Tribune bears down on the "sacred pig of college football," pointing out that the University of Florida two years ago hired its present coach at a $17,000 a year salary just to win football games, and created a special $247,000 fund to hire good football players. It makes a good show and the public loves it, the Tribune points out, "but it is of no lasting value to student or school."

The state of Georgia opens its welfare rolls to public inspection almost before you could say "scat" after the President signed the tax bill which included a provision prohibiting the Federal Security Administrator from cutting off welfare funds to any state which by legislative act votes to make the names of welfare recipients public. It is too late for Florida to do this until the next legislative session, but it will be interesting to see what the publication of Georgia's rolls reveals.

Spate the rod and spoil the child, someone has said. So a baby sitter in Nahant, Mass., stole $24,000 from her employer, calls in two other teen-age girls, picks up two men friends and beats it to New York where they have a high old time going to night clubs and buying clothes and costume jewelry. One of the girls was 15, another 16, the oldest 17. The time to teach children the difference between right and wrong is when they are young. If they have not learned by the time they are teen, the parent has neglected his responsibilities.

Secretary Acheson admits that he is worried over conditions in the Middle East, and no one can doubt but that he has cause to worry over conditions in the Far East where the Korean war has already cost this country a hundred thousand casualties. But if he is losing sleep over world conditions, he should admit that he has only himself to blame. He and his predecessors in office appointed by the man who appointed him, or by the previous incumbent in the White House, have also Acheson's fault. There has been in full charge of American foreign policy for over four years. During that time we have not made a single move to prevent the spread of communism.

Factors Of Love
 Asked to explain a federal grant for a survey designed to determine "unconscious factors governing courtship and mate selection," President Truman replied that he was uncertain just why the survey was being made at federal expense. A study of the factors that lead to marriage might prove interesting, and perhaps could prove or disprove some of the theories which have long been accepted.

Wary bachelors have always been cautious about the invitation to visit a young lady and enjoy "a good home-cooked dinner," for it has long been said that the way to a man's heart and Niagara Falls is through his stomach. The effectiveness of this ruse may depend to a large extent on the girl's skill as a cook.

Much advice has been given to the man who would woo and win his maid. Countless boxes of candy, fields of flowers, and oceans of perfume have been sold to amorous swains who seek a lady's heart. Colleges have turned their attention to the boy-meets-girl problem and its complications.

It is doubtful whether a government survey will have much effect on the marriage rate. The causes of love will probably remain among the mysteries of human behavior which make life so fascinating.

Prolific Inventors
 A recent news note says that the basic idea of which is credited in non-Russian history books to Karl von Drais, a German, with later refinements by French and English experimenters. The first two-wheeled vehicle of the bicycle type, for that matter, was made somewhere in ancient Egypt.

The case of the bicycle illustrates very well the modern understanding that most devices are not invented by one person. The device which finally is successful, and therefore is called an invention, in most cases is merely a modification of other devices made in many previous attempts; seldom is an important invention really new. It is the ability to take ideas previously studied and make them work, to get usefulness from them, which characterizes successful invention.

Apparently the Russians do not grasp the significance of the difference between creating something and putting it to work. If we had invented half the things the Russians claim to have invented, and then had done nothing with them but sit by and watch others make use of them, we certainly wouldn't be bragging about it.

Ships For Argentina
 Americans must receive with mixed emotions the news that a former United States cruiser has joined the Argentine navy and is named in honor of the accession to power of Juan D. Peron, the Argentine dictator. The ship came out of the "mothball" fleet and was sold at a fraction of its cost to the Argentine government under the mutual defense assistance program of the American nations. Another is to follow.

The Argentinians obviously plan to make much of the first ship as a symbol of United States assistance to the Peron regime. Officials also said that the ship would symbolize inter-American solidarity. The solidarity of the Americas is based on mutual interest in the freedom of nations, large and small, to go their peaceful way without fear of ambitious aggressors, and in the rights of people to basic human privileges and freedoms.

We shall probably have to leave it to history to judge whether the same object may fitly be a symbol of the Peron regime and of the mutual interests of the Americas in human freedom.

Shadow Of War Falls On Toys For Christmas
 By SAM DAWSON
 NEW YORK, Oct. 23—(AP)—A record dollar volume of toys are in the stores this year—for a record number of children.

But the shadow of the Korean war and the defense program already on the toy departments. There are more plastic and wooden toys this year.

There are still a lot of metal toys in the stores—because the manufacturers speeded up production in the first four months of this year before curbs on metal use became stringent. But the makers of metal toys say they'll be hard put to replace them on re-orders in the future.

Toy prices, on average, are about 10 per cent higher than last Christmas, says William A. Wenner, president of the U. S. Toy Manufacturers Association. He estimates that stores have already ordered $300 million worth of toys, at manufacturers' prices. This is $30 million more than last year.

But there are a million more youngsters under 14 this year than last, so Melvin Freud, president of the Toy Guidance Council, Santa Claus will have more than 48 million names on his list—thanks to the war and postwar boom in the baby business.

Freud estimates that manufacturers were able to make only about 75 per cent of the demand for metal toys. And Wenner reports that some electric train makers cut down the variety of their cars so as to assure national distribution of the rolling stock they were able to make out of the steel available.

More toys are being imported this year, especially from Germany and the United Kingdom. Imports from Japan are running about the same as last year. Importers say that price increases on foreign toys are just about offset by lower tariffs in the case of German toys.

Speaking in behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Hall this morning said that he is very much pleased with the action of the Commission, and added that it will solve a very difficult problem.

The Commission, said Mr. McKibbin, ordered executive of an opinion to the Bell Telephone Co., on the east one half of the block bounded by French Avenue, Ninth Street, Laurel Avenue and Tenth Street for the site of their future building. A resolution was also passed to request the County to rescind its dedication of the area as a park, as it is not now being used for that purpose.

The Garden Club was granted permission to sell its building at Mellonville Avenue and First Street. This has been erected on land donated by the City. The Club, of which Mrs. L. E. Spencer is president, proposes to apply the proceeds of the sale toward proposed civic improvement building, with the stipulation that a room in the building be reserved for the club, said Mr. McKibbin.

Since Sanford is now a critical defense area, Mr. McKibbin was directed to write the Federal Security Agency requesting that Federal assistance be given for building sanitary sewers here. Extension of sanitary sewerage projects and mains has not been approved by the State Board of Health, said Mr. McKibbin.

He pointed out that due to action of Seminole County state representatives, the State law had been amended to permit the proposed dining of Pump Branch in Georgetown. The former State law did not permit more than 14,000 to participate in such projects requiring Federal aid.

A public hearing was set for Nov. 12 to consider the rezoning of the area between French Avenue and Park Avenue south of Twenty-fifth Street from R-1-A to R-1 status. In addition, said Mr. McKibbin, certain clarifications of the Zoning Ordinance will be dealt with.

Ray Slaton headed a group of West First Street citizens who protested to the Commission about excessive speeding on First Street near Poplar Avenue and Tenth Street. Slaton was directed to police the area more often.

In response to requests by members of the Business and Professional Civic Club, a Negro organization, for safety measures to protect school children at West Thirtieth Street, a street light has been ordered placed at Olive Avenue and Thirtieth Street. In addition, speed limitation signs will be placed there.

The beer and wine selling license of J. O. Derringer, operator of a grocery at Olive Avenue and Thirtieth Street, was revoked for six months following court action for selling beer on Sunday.

To prevent a higher pile-up, the American Association of Railroads embargoed most freight consigned to New York and Boston for export and for coastal shipping.

Surveying the strike effects, the U. S. Customs Office said that at 11 A. M. 97 ships were strikebound at the piers and seven others were anchored in mid-stream.

The Commerce and Industry Association of New York estimated at least $11,000,000 worth of merchandise for export, most of it machinery and chemicals, is tied up in the port. Export of imports was not immediately available.

The rebel strikers, whose international Longshoremen's Association recently negotiated a contract granting a 10 cent hourly wage increase, are demanding a contract reopening.

In taking a stand with the strikers, Curran told his men: "Insofar as this union is concerned, it supports rank and file workers fighting for legitimate gains when their leadership has obviously sold them down the river."

Hard time planning Mayor Chinnow to a definite promise to enforce laws against gambling.

He finally said he would halt public playing of slot machines during his remaining 14 months in office, although he said he still believed wide open operations were best.

Hunt said investigations were underway around other military posts, but he declined to name them.

 been invited 150 guests representing Great Britain, New Zealand, Austria, Canada, Ceylon, India, Pakistan and South Africa.

Ambassador Hume Wrong and Mrs. Wrong, with the Princess and Duke, will receive their guests in the library. Will there be anyone else in the receiving line? That hasn't been decided yet," said Mrs. Wrong. The British ambassador, Sir Oliver Franks, and Lady Franks will be among the guests.

Elizabeth and the Duke, like other tourists, will first visit Mount Vernon. Mrs. Wrong will go along. Somehow she is supposed to get back to the embassy ahead of the royal party.

"If I have time, I'll change into a red silk dress, but if not I'll just keep on the dark blue suit I'm planning to wear that morning," Mrs. Wrong told a reporter.

There'll be champagne and sandwiches, and then in the hour the young couple will go back to Blair House for lunch.

That afternoon comes the mammoth handshaking—a reception at the British Embassy to which 2,000 guests are invited—and then the dinner at the Canadian Embassy.

It will then be Elizabeth's turn to hurry for the Duke and her husband will have to leave Blair House in time to get to the embassy ahead of the Trumans and their other guests.

The dinner will be rather simple. There will be cocktails in the drawing room. But how to get into the dining room?

It isn't as simple as having Elizabeth, as hostess, say "let's eat."

It is up to Mr. Truman to take the initiative and escort the Princess into the dining room, the Duke giving his arm to Mrs. Truman.

"Since it is our home we'll probably go in last," Mrs. Wrong said.

How will they be seated? That too has yet to be worked out. Two can sit at each end of the table, and it may be that Mr. Truman and the Princess will be at one end and Mrs. Truman and the Duke at the other.

And when it comes to who says "good night" first—Mr. Truman does.

 By JACK ADAMS
 (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—(AP)—When do we get television in our town?

You hear that question every day, in places large and small, scattered over more than half of the United States.

For more than three years it has been the most frequent inquiry received at the offices of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC). Officially, FCC says only: "As soon as we can arrange it."

That agency, all-powerful in the station-licensing field, does not want to be pinned down to promises it may not be able to keep.

However, you might make a big red check-mark by the month of February, 1952. It now seems pretty certain that the commission will act during that month to lift the freeze on new TV station grants which has been in effect since Oct. 1, 1948.

The "unfreeze" will be accompanied by publication of a final report of local channel assignments, which will settle what your community is to get by way of operating space in the broadcasting spectrum.

A "reasonable period"—30 to 60 days—will then be allowed for the filing of new applications and the amendment of applications now in hand, in the light of the final local assignments.

FCC expects to start processing these applications by Apr. 1. That means some actual grants by mid-summer.

If someone in your town—who has the $250,000 to $500,000 necessary to build a station—applies to the FCC and gets a break, in his favor, on every possible factor, you may see your station in operation by sometime late next year.

But that will be the exceptional case. Largely, it can apply only where there is no contest over the channel sought and where the applicant has "taken a chance" and placed an advance order for his transmitter and studio equipment.

The talk in the trade is that possibly as many as 100 of the current RRR applicants for new stations have quietly bought every thing they need to start up business. The equipment is in warehouses while the owners keep their fingers crossed for the requested construction permit. There is going to be a great race to be first on the air after the freeze.

The big delays in new station operations will occur in those areas where there is a battle over the channels, where the number of applicants exceed the local channel assignments. In such places, initial or additional TV may be years away—competitive hearings often take that long.

The headlines tonight seem to read "Colony Falls Step On Palms." That's the way the football game went last Friday and was a humdinger! Anybody that saw our first home game can't say they were disappointed. Not only was the team extra special on the field, but there was a huge crowd with everyone cheering along with the band and the pep club and the cheerleaders. The "Colony" really really outshined the "Palms" team last weekend. It was a top all over St. Augustine this Friday night! Even though it is out of town game we hope to have a huge crowd show up. The Band and the Pep Club is getting to go to this one! Let's have a crowd at the St. Augustine game!

Lou Boudreau Is Ready To Trade Any Player To Fill Red Sox Gaps

By HILL KING

BOSTON, Oct. 23—(AP)—Realizing just how difficult it is to assemble a championship baseball club, Lou Boudreau did not even mention pennant while making his formal debut as the Boston Red Sox manager for the next two seasons.

Evidently recalling the seven years he required to make the Cleveland Indians the 1948 world champion, Boudreau's only promise was to plug the Red Sox' obvious gaps.

"Our first need is an established catcher, then a dependable double-play combination," Boudreau said yesterday when General Manager Joe Cronin made the long anticipated announcement concerning Steve O'Neill successor as Red Sox pitcher.

"And we'll trade any one of our players to get the strength we need," Boudreau continued.

"Does that include Ted Williams?" he was asked.

"Yes," Lou replied. "Everybody, Ted included, will be used as trading material to get the players we want."

It was evident, however, that Williams would not be included in Boudreau's new managerial roster.

"You don't give away a player like Williams who drives in 126 runs for you," he explained. Then, adroitly, he fended a query concerning a Williams deal for Ned Carver and Sherm Lollar, the St. Louis Browns' star battery.

Lou also ignored questions concerning the salary terms on his new two year contract. They, however, can be assumed to be the $65,000 per sum he signed for last fall when he tied himself to the Red Sox for two years as a utility infielder.

Lou did admit that he turned down managerial offers from the Pittsburgh Pirates and Browns to succeed O'Neill, who will remain in the Red Sox organization, probably as a scout.

Boudreau's only definite announcement about his 1952 Red Sox organization, probably as a scout.

Boudreau's only definite announcement about his 1952 Red Sox concerned his coaching staff.

Otis Miller will place Eddie Mayo as my third base coach but Earl Combs and George Susce will be retained," he said. "I also will add a pitching coach and I want Bill McKechnie, if he is willing to return to baseball."

Boudreau who appeared in 81 games at third, short and first base for the Red Sox during the recent season, wound up, with a .287 batting average, despite a fractured hand.

"I learned a lot about the Red Sox players for I was close to them," he explained. "Steve O'Neill did a wonderful job, but I believe I can do a better job. You're looking for a right-handed hitter as Vern Stephens and Bobby Doerr. And Walt Dropo's slump from .322 to .239 was much too far out of line. I'm sure he never will drop off like that again."

With the dependable Doerr retiring, Boudreau indicated he was considering switching Johnny Pesky from shortstop to second base.

"But I won't make any decisions on switching players until we start spring training," he said.

Asked if he believed minor leaguers are moved up in keeping with their ability, 93 said yes, nine no.

Eighty-four said they favored the use of farm systems by the major leagues; seven said no.

Fifty-five indicated they feel a change in the line-up of major league clubs is desirable; 30 said no and 18 voiced no opinion.

Forty-six said they believed the players were in favor of the present methods by which they may appeal salary demands.

And 70 indicated they believed baseball should be free to work out its own rules regarding the right to broadcast or televise major or minor league games independent of anti-trust laws as presently interpreted by the Department of Justice.

It's Best To Be On Time, Miami Fans Find Out

Hurricanes Score As Soon As They Get Hold Of Pigskin

CORAL GABLES, Oct. 23—(Special)—University of Miami football fans are making sure they'll be on hand for the start of the football game this fall for they're discovering that if they are as much as five minutes late, they'll miss Miami's first score.

In the first set played Sunday afternoon Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Morrison made their experience count against the younger pair as they won 6-2.

Monday morning it was a different story as Miss McNab and Miss Anderson managed return after return to pull through the two sets 6-4, 6-4 and win the match and doubles title.

This was the fifth title annexed by Miss McNab in the City tournament. She also holds the junior women's doubles championship and three runner-up titles.

In the semi-final matches for the women's doubles played Saturday Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Morrison defeated Helen Tucker and Martha Wight 6-2, 6-2. In the other match Miss Anderson and Miss McNab triumphed over Betty Doris Williams 2-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Aggie Tackle Denies Breaking Back's Jaw

STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 23—(AP)—Willbanks Smith, Oklahoma A & M Tackle accused of breaking Johnny Bright's jaw, denied last night that he intentionally injured the star Drake halfback.

A & M Athletic Director Henry P. Iba also scoffed at the charge of Drake football players that the Aggies were out to get Bright, who was taken from the game after seven minutes of the first quarter. A & M won 27-14 Saturday, snapping Drake's five-game winning streak.

Aggie Coach J. B. Whitworth said movies of the game disclosed that the blocks which injured Bright were illegal—but unintentional.

The longest touchdown run from scrimmage by a University of Alabama football player was a 98-yard dash by Harry Gilmer against Kentucky in 1945.

All four members of the football coaching staff at the University of Arizona played professional ball prior to entering the coaching field.

Vanderbilt is the only newcomer to the 1951 Georgia Tech football schedule. The Commodores replaced South Carolina.

Darrell Crawford, Tech Quarterback Fools Forecasters

By STERLING SLAPPEY

ATLANTA, Oct. 23—(AP)—If Darrell Crawford chooses, he can laugh at almost every coach, scout, official and sports writer in the Southeastern Conference.

He's earned it. As recently as Sept. 22, just before Georgia Tech whipped Southern Methodist, Crawford was the most underrated quarterback in the South, maybe the country.

He had mediocre sophomores and junior seasons at Tech and almost no one expected much of him this year.

Today, he's fast becoming the South's most effective quarterback and if he keeps going he may make All-America without benefit of advance favorable publicity.

He had his share of unfavorable advance publicity. That Darrell isn't the most publicized quarterback stems from the fact that many writers are just now realizing how wrong they were about the kid from Kingsport, Tenn.

In five games this season, each of them against a big time team for unbroken Tech, Crawford has cocked his right arm 71 times and completed 48 passes for a .605 average. He's gained 695 yards and passed for seven touchdowns. Four passes last week to Buck Martin scored four touchdowns against Auburn.

The extent of improvement in Crawford's casting is shown in figures for his first five games last year. He tried 40 and completed 18 for 450. They earned Tech only 219 yards and two touchdowns.

Together with vast improvement in passing has come better play calling, although Crawford's play selection always was better than his passing.

Crawford is a shy guy who passes the credit on to Tech Backfield Coach Frank Broyles: "I believe Coach Broyles has done more to help me than anything. He taught me a new grip and several other things. But above all, he gave me some confidence that I never had before."

Broyles' opinion of Crawford is the highest. "Darrell is the best field general I have ever seen," Broyles says, and Broyles developed Baylor's Arlin Burk and Florida's Haywood Sullivan. "The Tech team has confidence in Crawford and he makes the other players do things we didn't think they could do."

Last season Crawford injured his shoulder in the fourth game but even before then he looked far below Southeastern quarter-back standards. Because of the poor years neither he nor Tech was expected to produce much this year.

Now with 1951 half gone, Tech is having a merry time practicing in succession S.M.U., Florida, Kentucky, L.S.U., and Auburn. And most of the credit should go to head Coach Bobby Dodd; his prize assistant, Frank Broyles, who is an old Tech hatter and to Darrell Crawford, the kid who fooled the "experts."

Sports Writers Name Baseball All-Star Team

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—(AP)—A power-packed outfield, a tight inner defense and crafty pitching backed by that rare diamond commodity—a hard-hitting catcher—make up the 1951 Associated Press All-Star baseball team.

Eight of the 16 big league clubs are represented on the sixth annual AP' dream team, chosen yesterday by 186 members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

The Brooklyn Dodgers salvaged some glory from the '51 season by placing three players on the squad—the only team with more than one representative.

The All-Star team (with votes in parentheses): First base—Farris Fain, Athletics (111).

Second base—Jackie Robinson, Dodgers (180).

Third base—George Kell, Tigers (144).

Shortstop—Phil Rizzuto, Yankees (79).

Left field—Ted Williams, Red Sox (102).

Center field—Stan Musial, Cardinals (179).

Right field—Ralph Kiner, Pirates (105).

Catcher—Roy Campanella, Dodgers (167).

Lefthander pitcher—Preacher Roe, Dodgers (116).

Righthander pitcher—Sal Maglie, Giants (82).

The outfield of Williams, Kiner and Musial snatched 104 home runs and drove across 343 runs. Defensively, the infield of Fain, Robinson, Kell and Rizzuto rates as one of the best in recent years.

Campanella, a candidate for the National League's most valuable player award, was the big gun for the Dodgers last summer. He hit .326—something of an oddity for current-day catchers—while knocking in 108 runs, mostly on his 33 homers. Campy also handled Brooklyn's wobbly mound staff in expert style.

The pitchers, Roe and Maglie, won 45 games between them while losing only nine—a .833 percentage.

University Of Tennessee Is Voted No. 1 Football Team In AP Poll

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—(AP)—The University of Tennessee, rated as the nation's No. 1 college football team before the season opened, finally made the grade today in the fourth weekly Associated Press poll. California, last week's top team, dropped to the No. 9 spot.

The volunteers of Gen. Bob Neyland, who clouted Alabama 27-13 Saturday, received a whopping total of 70 first-place votes out of 161 cast by the nation's sports writers and sportscasters to take over the No. 1 ranking.

This gave Tennessee a total of 1,354 points—a comfortable margin over Michigan State, the No. 2 team, with 1,202 points. Michigan State, a 32-21 winner over Penn State, had 28.

The rough week-end for several top-ranking teams caused some juggling of the standings among the top 10, but only Texas A&M dropped out of the select group. The Aggies skidded from No. 6 last week to No. 16, after being upset by Texas Christian, 20-14.

Southern California's Trojans, who hung a 21-14 defeat on the California Bears, made the highest jump in the ratings—from eleventh a week ago to the No. 6 place vacated by the Texas Aggies.

Georgia Tech, which took over the Southeastern Conference lead by defeating Auburn, 27-7, advanced from fifth place to third. The Tech Yellow Jackets were the only other team besides Tennessee to gain a spot in the top 10.

Illinois, which invaded the Far West to demonstrate its power with a 27-20 victory over Washington, moved from eighth place to the No. 4 rank. The Illini edged out Maryland for the No. 4 place by 37 points, 878 to 841.

Maryland, barely defeated North Carolina Saturday, 14-7, No. 7 last week, they moved up to No. 5. Another team moving up is Baylor, now No. 7 after a No. 10 ranking last week. The Bears thumped Texas Tech, 40-20, Saturday.

Princeton, with a winning streak of 17 straight games after trouncing Lafayette, 60-7, went up a notch from No. 9 to No. 8. The Texas Longhorns, upset by Arkansas, 16-14, almost fell out of the top 10, skidding from No. 4 last week to No. 10.

Among the second ten, Kentucky ranked seventh, with one vote for first place and a total of 47 votes. Mississippi received 10 votes and Louisiana State five.

The Professional Golfers Association champion from White Sulphur Springs, West Va., was elected by team members at an elaborate dinner last night at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

The West Virginian succeeds National Open Champion Ben Hogan, who led the Americans against Britain as non-playing captain two years ago when the U. S. won, 7 to 5.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23—(AP)—The Pacific Coast Conference is drumming up votes for a drive to outlaw the two-potato system in football.

Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt said yesterday that he has sent letters to the presidents of many national collegiate athletic association, schools seeking support for the campaign at the NCAA meet in Cincinnati Jan. 10-12.

The PCC also wants to abolish spring training.

What a whale of a difference D-D MAKES!

A single soil treatment with D-D did this:

LAST YEAR . . . operators of American Fruit Growers Farm in Sanford suspected that nematodes were the cause of their poor celery crop.

THIS YEAR . . . they ran a D-D test to find out. One part of the field was treated with D-D . . . the rest was untreated. Both sections were then planted and cultivated alike. Just before the picture was taken, U.S.D.A. nematologists found heavy infestations of both sting and stubby root nematodes in the untreated soil. (These nematodes are as detrimental to plant growth as the root knot variety . . . causing brown discolored root systems and burned-off root tips.)

CONCLUSION . . . nematodes were the cause of the scraggly crop and . . .

D-D KILLS NEMATODES!

D-D, injected into the soil before planting, rids your land of nematodes and other soil pests for the season . . . allows plants to develop healthy, wide-ranging root systems and sturdy plant structure that means a profitable crop. Use of D-D reduces fertilizer requirements by about one-quarter without sacrificing growth.

D-D is easily applied and economical to use. Its cost is recovered many times over in increased yields and profits. We have trained crews and equipment available to treat your soil at low cost per acre . . . or we'll be glad to show you how to do the job with your own tractor.

Labor Victory Is Called Threat To Anglo-U. S. Unity

Churchill Assails "Sham Reconciliation" Of Labor

PLYMOUTH, Eng., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Winston Churchill asserted today a Labor victory in Thursday's general election would weaken Anglo-American unity and the hope of world peace.

The conservative leader, in his last major speech before polling day, called the patched-up quarrel between Prime Minister Clement Attlee and Laborite left wing leader Aneurin Bevan a "sham reconciliation."

"Nothing else could be worse for our country," said Churchill, "and nothing could be more injurious to the cause of world peace, than for Mr. Attlee to be returned dependent upon a sham reconciliation between the main body of the Socialist Party and the few who have broken away from it."

The whole process of growing unity and confidence between the two great republics across the Atlantic Ocean would be weakened and our power to influence the course of American policy might be seriously impaired.

"I do not hesitate to say that such a situation would be prejudicial to the growing hopes of reaching a good working arrangement with Soviet Russia by negotiation based upon the patient strength and living accord of the free world."

The 76-year-old war-time Prime Minister said Laborites "some what shamelessly" and the Communists brazenly, make the charge that I am a warmonger.

"This is a cruel and ungrateful accusation," said Churchill. "It is the opposite of the truth."

"If I remain in public life as I continue to be because right or wrongly but sincerely, I believe that I may be able to make an important contribution to the prevention of a third world war and to bringing nearer that last peace settlement which the masses of the people of every race and in every land fervently desire."

"I pray indeed that I may have this opportunity."

"It is the last prize I have to win."

Churchill said: "A third world war could only come if the Soviet government calculated, or miscalculated, their chances on an ultimate victory and fell upon us all in violent aggression."

"That is why I am hopeful about the future."

"If I were a Soviet commissar in the Kremlin, looking at the scene from their point of view, I think I should be inclined to believe a friendly talk with the leaders of the free world and see if something could be arranged which enabled us all to live together quietly for another generation."

Churchill repeatedly has called for another attempt to settle the cold war by direct talks among President Truman, Prime Minister Stalin and the British Prime Minister.

Warren's Speech

drove up the crowd had grown to nearly 600. It swelled to nearly 1,000 as he started speaking. His voice carried the length and breadth of Manatee Avenue, a loud speaker.

Like his Tampa audience last night, it was a friendly crowd and made up predominantly of outsiders.

Mayor Sterling Hall introduced Warren. He said many roads had been built in Manatee county since 1948, and referred to the start of work on the lower Tampa Bay bridge linking Bradenton with St. Petersburg and the $100,000 per year Bradenton receives from the state cigarette tax.

"I believe we of Bradenton have received more benefits from his administration than any other Governor," Mayor Hall said.

Warren thanked Hall profusely for his "kind" introduction.

"I have heard so few kind words the past two years and so few more," he said, "I surely appreciate the kind words."

Warren praised the Manatee county legislative delegation—Senator Orval Fogelie and Rep. Joe Hill Reed and J. Ben Pogue—then reviewed point by point the 22 planks of his campaign platform and what he has done to carry them out.

He stressed particularly his road and bridge building program and his sponsorship of the state test tubes code and highway safety.

After a private luncheon with a few close friends here Warren motored to Sarasota where he was to speak at 3 P. M.

The Governor was met at the Sarasota City limits by a motorcade of medical admirers organized by Duncan Crombie.

His inaugural speech at Tampa was before a crowd of 1,100. Applause was scattered, but frequent.

CPO CLUB

Last Friday evening the Chief Petty Officers Club officially opened at the Naval Air Station. It was truly a joyous opening with a gay crowd of about 120 CPOs, wives, friends and guests on hand.

The new club is located in the former Marine Barracks as you enter the station. It is beautifully finished on the inside in tones of gray with a stained bar, ceiling and floor. According to the club Secretary-Treasurer, Chief Paul Sells from FASRON 21, the club is not completely finished yet, but will be in the near future when pictures and drapes are hung.

Chief Joseph Granger, a member of the Board of Governors from NAAS, in the absence of club president, Chief Fred Cobb from NAAS, who was out of town, welcomed the crowd to the club in a short speech saying he hoped they all enjoyed the evening and liked the club. Club Manager, Chief Herbert Anderson from FASRON 21, invited the CPOs back to all the activities planned for the coming months.

Guests of the Chiefs, their families and guests as they arrived were Chief Phil Sells and Joseph Granger. By 8:30 nearly 200 guests had arrived so Chief Gerald LaHay, NAAS, assisted by Chief Joseph Smith, FASRON 21, started the party with some names.

Honor guests of the club for the evening were Capt. and Mrs. John M. Stinson, Commanding Officer of NAAS; Comdr. and Mrs. Gerald Pearson, Executive Officer of NAAS; and Ldr. and Mrs. F. W. Trappin, Commanding Officer of FASRON 21.

Other guests were Lt. and Mrs. Robert Ramey, NAAS; Lt. and Mrs. Stanley Parker, NAAS; Lt. and Mrs. Robert Letton, NAAS; Ldr. Edward Ford, FASRON 21; Dorothy Von Herbold from the Herald; and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Smith, NAAS Public Works Department. When I asked Smith, as he is known to everyone on the station, what he thought of the club, he said, "Oh, I like it."

Some FASRON 21 Chiefs, Harrison Rector, Lawrence Beckley, Bill McKinley, Eugene Klama, John Fuller, and their wives seemed to be having a wonderful time as they played the games along with NAAS Chiefs, John Brown, N. T. Hayes and their wives.

The John Fuller, NAAS Chiefs Howard Haynes, W. A. Reynolds and their wives were having a very good time as they were coming back very soon because the club was such a success in their opinion.

After the games the tables were cleared away and the evening climax was a dance.

Congratulations to the club officers, board of governors and all the members from NAAS and FASRON 21 on their very successful opening of the Chief Petty Officers Club. I hope you have smooth sailing on all the club activities ahead.

Korean War

Nations emphasis on a battle line truce was irrational.

Earlier Peiping radio reported the Reds had reshuffled their first-line troops, naming two new delegates. A U. N. spokesman said the change might indicate the Reds would place greater emphasis on military training and less on political considerations.

Reorganization of the Communist delegation was announced as the Reds ignored a U. N. challenge to ratify quickly new truce talks. That was the only thing still needed to reopen negotiations to end the fighting in Korea. The Red delay ruled out the possibility of a meeting before Wednesday.

Vic Adam C. Turner, top Allied negotiator, signed the new ground rules Monday a few hours after liaison officers approved them. He asked North Korean Lt. Nam Il, head of the Red truce team, to set quickly so negotiations could be resumed promptly after a two-month interruption.

While Nam Il was silent the Peiping radio announced changes in the Red delegation to include reinvestment last week of two members of the U. N. truce team. Gen. Pien Chang-Wu would replace Adam C. Turner, Hwa and North Korean Gen. Chang Du Kon would succeed North Korean Gen. Chang Pyong San.

A Hong Kong dispatch identified Pien as a former military attaché to the Chinese embassy in Moscow. The dispatch said the 46-year-old general was in Moscow this fall.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, official spokesman of the U. N. command, said it was possible Pien was "a more military type" than Tung woh was regarded by the U. N. delegation as a political adviser.

Nuckols said Chang never gave any indication of taking an active part in negotiations.

By ROBERT HUNSON

U. S. 8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Communist airmen hurled 150 jets at U. N. warplanes today and lost at least 14 destroyed or damaged in history's largest jet battle.

Two American planes were shot down and at least two damaged.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force estimated number of B-29 Superforts, were involved in today's screaming engagements.

The previous record in a single jet battle was 100 on Sept. 26. The Russian-type MIG-15s swarmed in waves on B-29 Superforts bombing a new Red airfield at Namai, 45 miles from the Manchurian border.

All airmen were credited with destroying five Red jets, probably destroying two, and damaging between seven and ten. One B-29 was crippled and plunged into the Yellow Sea. The crew bailed out. A Fifth Air Force briefing officer said one F-84 Thunderjet was shot down.

Two B-29s from Okinawa were badly damaged, but landed at All in Japan.

The estimated number of Red jets—a record number—fought in the air battle was 150.

The incident, whether or not confirmed, dates from Oct. 23.

Branch Rickey

commented the abolition of the farm system.

The group calling Rickey and baseball a new czar, Ford Frick, today announced that a large number of the nation's sports writers believe the reserve clause by which club owners can renew players contracts annually is necessary and desirable. This was brought up by a poll which also favored the farm system.

Rickey, first to testify, said he would place no limit whatever to the number of baseball players a major league club could control as long as each team owned only one club in each of the minor leagues.

Chairman Celler (D-NY) suggested baseball rules at the time the farm system got under way limited major league clubs to the "control" of 40 players. Rickey said the farm system did not violate the rule, because the big league club did not "control" the minor league player.

"For 22 years," he said, "Judge Landis never directed that the word 'control' to mean that the rule was being violated."

Rickey said the origin of chain-store baseball was not a sudden stroke of somebody's originality. He helped develop the program while running the front office of the St. Louis Cardinals in the late 1920s.

"The inception was occasioned by necessity exactly its growth has been advanced by necessity. And it was necessary that caused Landis to criticize it publicly but do nothing about it for 23 years."

HOLLYWOOD

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The life of a child actor in Hollywood today was defended by the mother of three movie moppets.

"I get angry when I read all the stories about how child stars face broken marriages and unhappy lives in their adult years," said Mrs. Eleanor Perrean. "I think that's untrue as a hard fact rule. Anyone who writes such stories can visit my home and he'll see three of the most normal kids he can find."

The speaker is the mother of Janine, Gig and Gerald Perrean (Gerald's movie name is Peter Miles). They are nine, 10 and 13 years old respectively and the family has been in pictures almost eight years. Mrs. Perrean asserted their active careers have made no dents in their normal living.

"The children have been in the business so long that they are no longer awed by it," she said. "They accept acting in movies as a matter of routine, the same as going to school."

"As a matter of fact, I think it is a good thing for them to work in pictures. It teaches them to use their memories. They learn to make good use of their time, since punctuality is essential in making a picture. And they are earning some money which they will be able to use in later life."

Mrs. Perrean said she thought over-ambitious parents are the cause when child stars are spoiled for later life.

"I think it's wrong for parents to lavish setting and dancing lessons on their children, to push them into jobs," she observed. "When a child sees all the attention his parents are giving him, he figures he must be important."

"There has been none of that in our family. Our children have never had dramatic lessons and only the normal amount of dancing and music. We have never let them think movie work is overly important. If it ever became a problem, I would take them out of the business."

The Perrean parents are in the strange position of having three children but no dependents. Each child files a separate income tax. Mrs. Perrean is an importer and his wife is generally busy overseeing one of their children at some studio, I asked her what happens when two or more of the kids are working at the same time.

"That is a problem," she admitted. "Then I have to find someone to go with the older child. That isn't so much of a concern now, since Gerald doesn't want to do pictures. His last picture was 'Qan Vada' for which he went to Rome for five months. Now he's at Loyola High School and he's too interested in school to work. He might take jobs during his vacation."

Inquiry Begun Into Race Discrimination

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Acting Mayor Joseph T. Sharkey has directed city agencies to investigate the Stork Club's alleged discrimination against Negro singer Josephine Baker.

Sharkey told the appropriate agencies yesterday to take action if warranted.

Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has charged that the fashionable club violated the state Civil Rights Act and the Alcohol Beverage Control Law.

Miss Baker, internationally known entertainer, has complained that she and her party were ignored by waiters at the club a week ago tonight.

Last night White and five other NAACP members picketed before the club's entrance. They carried signs reading: "Wop protest humiliation of Josephine Baker" and "Stork Club discrimination."

The British increased their hold on the Suez Canal area last night by seizing the harbor and rail station at Port Suez.

The Egyptian governor of Suez told reporters there the British have not cut pipelines carrying gasoline and kerosene from Suez to Cairo.

British sources said earlier the British threatened to do so.

The governor said there was no more train traffic between the Canal zone and the rest of Egypt, although within the boundaries of the zone, traffic "returned to normal."

A British spokesman here said the Canal Zone trains were operated by British military personnel.

Suez itself was quiet during the day, as its Egyptian residents noted the "day of mourning" for British forces which occupied a railway workshop outside Suez last night withdrew in the morning.

Railway officials in Suez told a reporter several thousand Egyptian passengers were forced from two trains which the British confiscated at Fayid last night. The passengers spent the night at Fayid's station under British armed guard and heard bursts of gunfire during the night, the officials said.

The governor said the British permitted some highway traffic out of Suez, but under heavy restrictions. The British maintained checkpoints around the outskirts of Suez.

there would be some train traffic out of Suez.

TEXAS OIL HEIR Raves Of Love Egyptian Style

By WILBUR MARTIN

HOUSTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Red-headed Sherwood King III came home babbling over love on a moon-kissed desert and not too concerned at the wrath of his socially prominent mother.

The 26-year-old Texas oil heir wooed and won the hand of a beautiful Egyptian belly dancer in just three hours time said he was going to start divorcing his wife today.

The intriguing love story of the 26-year-old ex-Marine and Danvers Samia Gamal entered a new phase when Sheppard closed the door of the imposing family home short of after midnight.

"Mother says that the doos and turn out all the lights so we won't be bothered by reporters," he explained to reporters. Then he went back into the home to see her.

Mrs. Sherwood King, his ailing 51-year-old widowed mother, has threatened to disinherit him if he didn't "get rid of that woman."

"She can't disinherit me," said Sheppard. Admitting his family is "very wealthy," "I'll take it to court."

He has no intention of getting rid of Samia.

"I'm flying to Cairo the day I get a divorce," he said. "I'm going to get married the day after I get there."

He anticipated a small wedding in Cairo, but a full of a reception at the Regency's Lux Pyramids night club. "There'll be buckets of champagne," he promised.

Sheppard, his wife, Gloria—whom he had secretly remarried June 2 after an earlier divorce—and sister Patricia were on a holiday when he saw Samia in a Paris night club. Three hours later they were engaged, the subject of global conversation, and a source of ire for his mother.

Mrs. Sherwood King snapped that her son had no business "playing business" and that if he married Samia she was disinherit him. She didn't mind his becoming a Moslem.

Sheppard said he was glad of this because he was going to insist on her calling him "Abdullah," the name he took when he became a Moslem.

He said he was serious about his conversion, prayed five times a day, but admitted that as a Moslem he had the "modern concept," that is, he is not off liquor.

"I don't mind giving up ham, but not liquor," he said.

Devout Moslems neither drink alcoholic beverages nor eat pork. Sheppard indicated champagne and romance blended beautifully.

He raved about romance, Egyptian style.

"You take about six bottles of champagne, get on a camel and ride off across the desert. That's nothing like the desert in the moonlight. Then you get off at some sand dune and the camel driver brings you champagne every time you clap your hands."

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The life of a child actor in Hollywood today was defended by the mother of three movie moppets.

"I get angry when I read all the stories about how child stars face broken marriages and unhappy lives in their adult years," said Mrs. Eleanor Perrean. "I think that's untrue as a hard fact rule. Anyone who writes such stories can visit my home and he'll see three of the most normal kids he can find."

The speaker is the mother of Janine, Gig and Gerald Perrean (Gerald's movie name is Peter Miles). They are nine, 10 and 13 years old respectively and the family has been in pictures almost eight years. Mrs. Perrean asserted their active careers have made no dents in their normal living.

"The children have been in the business so long that they are no longer awed by it," she said. "They accept acting in movies as a matter of routine, the same as going to school."

"As a matter of fact, I think it is a good thing for them to work in pictures. It teaches them to use their memories. They learn to make good use of their time, since punctuality is essential in making a picture. And they are earning some money which they will be able to use in later life."

SIXTEEN NEGROES DIE FROM POISON SHOTS

ATLANTA, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Sixteen Negroes died here as a result of week-end moonshine liquor parties and 17 others were hospitalized in critical condition.

Lieut. L. T. Ballard of the detective homicide squad said four Negroes were arrested yesterday and charged with suspicion of manslaughter in connection with the moonshine.

Three of the victims died soon after reaching Grady Memorial Hospital Monday morning. Victims collapsed while along streets on processing to the hospital's emergency clinic had become steady.

"We've never seen anything like this," declared detectives J. E. Helms and W. W. Holloman, veterans of the homicide squad. "They arrived so fast that hospital attendants didn't have time to complete entrance records."

Hospital physicians said the deaths were caused by "acute" accidents resulting from internal consumption of methyl alcohol.

Illegal liquor seized by police working on the case contained the deadly poison, said Dr. Herman Jones of Fulton county (Atlanta) crime laboratory.

Tax Bureau Suspensions Story Killed

Revenue Department Withdraws Story On Two Employees As "Premature"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—(AP)—The Internal Revenue Bureau today announced the suspension of two of its employees in the New York area and half an hour later asked reporters to withdraw the story because it was "premature."

No further explanation was given for the request. Those the original announcement said were suspended are Theodore Isaacs, an agent in the upper New York City division, and Elias Schulman, a deputy collector in the first New York district in Brooklyn.

Commissioner John B. Dunlap said Isaacs was suspended "pending completion of investigation of his testimony before special agents of the bureau regarding his financial condition and other matters."

Schulman was suspended "pending investigation of charges of misconduct," Dunlap said. The suspensions followed the resignation by request last night of Joseph P. Marcelle as collector of Internal Revenue for the first New York district.

Marcelle failed to appear today before a House Ways and Means Subcommittee hearing on irregularities in the government's tax collection system.

A subpoena was promptly issued for his appearance tomorrow.

Rep. King (D-Calif.), chairman of the subcommittee, said the Internal Revenue Bureau meanwhile has been asked to take steps to see that none of the steps in Marcelle's office are "tampered with."

Meanwhile Senate investigators asked to see RFC records on loan applications in which Vice President Barkley's secretary and a Senate committee lawyer displayed interest.

W. Stuart Symington, administrator of the big lending agency, disclosed at a news conference that the request had just been received from the Senate investigation subcommittee headed by Senator Hroy (D-N.C.).

Asked whether the records would be made available to committee investigators, Symington said: "Sure."

State Boosted As Summer Resort By F. P. & L. Co. Head

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—(AP)—A picture of Florida as a pleasing summer playground as well as a winter resort was given today by McGrew Smith, president of Florida Power and Light Co. Smith talked in the New York Society of Security Analysts of his company's progress. But he said the progress of Florida Power and Light was "only a reflection of the advantages of living in Florida."

It was his second appearance before the security analysts—he last spoke to them in December, 1948—and he said that in the intervening years, summer business had boomed and misconceptions concerning Florida's climate had dwindled.

He based his luncheon speech to the security analysts on his company's aim to have "the best stockholder relations in the country."

Prior to Feb. 18, 1950 Florida Power and Light had one common stockholder, Smith said. By virtue of the dissolution of American Power and Light under the utility holding act, the Florida utility now has about 28,000 common shareholders, he added.

Five Candidates For City Board Speak At Rally

Stemper, Chasc, Kader Rap Terminal; Higgins Is For It

Five of the six candidates for City Commission spoke at a Jaycee political rally on First Street last night presided over by Carl Pison, chairman of the Get-Out-The-Vote Committee. They were John Kader in Group No. 1, J. M. (Peter) Higgins and W. H. Stemper in Group No. 2, and W. V. Hitting and Randall Chasc in Group No. 3. Al Lee, the other candidate, was unable to be present.

They were introduced by Volle Williams, Jr. who pointed out that the Jaycee program consisted of leadership training and community betterment. He also introduced Miss Dorothy Hitting, 14 year old high school student, who urged everyone to register and vote in the coming election, declaring "Our stake in the future rests in your hands today."

Mr. Kader said that the principal issue in the campaign is the terminal project and expressed himself as opposed to it because of the bonds which would be issued for its financing without a vote of the people.

"I am for the terminal as much as anyone," he said, "but until the people have had an opportunity to voice their opinion, I am opposed to its construction."

He also said there is too much secrecy in connection with City affairs and suggested that two microphones should be set up in the City Hall and all proceedings there broadcast so that the people could know what is going on.

Mr. Higgins was in support of the terminal project. He said he favored more sewers and a sewage disposal plant, a hospital, a better recreation program, better street lighting and more traffic lights.

Mr. Stemper, chairman of Group No. 2, against Mr. Stemper, spoke in favor of the terminal project. He recalled that the federal government had spent over $500,000 in dredging the St. Johns River and would not have done this if it did not think that a terminal at the end of the river was a good thing.

He said that he is in favor of the hospital, better sewers, and tennis courts, but added that the way to get these things is to bring in more industries and more pay for them. The terminal, he said, making Sanford the distribution point for all Central Florida brought lower freight rates is the only way to bring in new industries.

He said that Sanford is known in Orlando as "the sleeping giant" because of its industrial (Continued on Page 5)

The plan, Rayburn said in a statement, calls for installation of a warning and communications system, designation of protective shelters, fire-fighting, rescue, warden and welfare services.

NEW GOVERNMENT SPENDING EQUAL TO $636 FOR EVERYONE IN NATION

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—(AP)—In a session which ended Saturday, Congress approved government spending which amounted to $636 for every man, woman, and child in the country.

The final compilation by a House Appropriations Committee showed today that Congress voted $91,626,563,164. That does not include an estimated $7,000,000,000 in more or less permanent allotments which include such items as about $5,000,000,000 on the national debt.

On the basis of 154,000,000 population, that means $636 for each person. While not a record, it is the third highest in history. The plan was tried last year for the first time in recent congressional history but was discarded this year over Cannon's objections.

Destruction Of Red Corps Is Reported

Korean Cease-Fire Talks To Re-Open Tomorrow; Battle In Air Continues

CENTRAL FRONT, Korea, Oct. 24—(AP)—A corps commander declared today a Chinese army was destroyed in the limited offensive before Kumung, onetime Communist stronghold.

He estimated in an interview that 30,000 casualties were inflicted in the assault that carried his three Allied divisions forward six miles along a 15-mile front.

The commander, who declined use of his name, said the United Nations divisions "broke through what we think were the main Chinese battle positions. They had to call in reserves from two armies but were unable to stop us."

The fighting, he added, was good for training replacements and "increased the quality of our troops by at least 50 percent."

Allied tanks again shot up battered Kumung on the Central Front as a great jet battle raged across North Korea in the fourth straight day of air fighting.

The Fifth Air Force said one Red jet was shot down and another probably destroyed. One F-86 Sabre jet was reported lost.

The tanks killed an estimated 85 Chinese and destroyed 24 bunkers in a raid into a valley just west of Kumung. They returned safely to their lines through Red artillery fire.

Infantrymen slowly mopped up an estimated 120 Chinese fighting a last-ditch defense on a ridge southeast of the city, a front line dispatch said. It was the only resistance remaining along this sector.

The Fifth Air Force said between 70 and 150 Russian-made MIGs took part in the battle that raged across the entire width of the Korean peninsula and finally ended northwest of Wonsan on the east coast.

The new air fight followed Tuesday's air in which Allied B-29 Superforts and jets destroyed or damaged 20 Communist jets when they tried to stop a bombing attack on the Red's new airfield at Namat.

This fourth straight day of air fighting broke out when MIGs jumped Sabre jets covering B-29s as they dumped 150 bombs weighing 1,000 pounds each on a 5,000-foot single track bridge at Sunchon in Northwest Korea.

In Tuesday's air battle three of nine Superforts attacking the Namat airfield were shot down. The other six were damaged but got back to Allied bases. B-29 gunners were credited with five of the eight Red jets reported shot down and one of two probable U-N fighter pilots said they damaged 10 other enemy planes.

MUNSAN, Korea, Oct. 24—(AP)—Allied and Communist negotiators will reopen Korean armistice talks tomorrow. They will tackle first the knotty problem of prisoner exchange.

NATIONAL GUARD
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—(AP)—Senator Edward Martin (R-Ia.) said in a speech prepared for the annual conference of the National Guard Association today that the Army high command is following a "fruitless and unsound" policy toward the Guard.

Martin accused the Army of breaking up National Guard units by levies of officers and key non-commissioned officers. The Army has said it is taking Guardmen as part of its policy for rotating home veterans of last winter's fighting in Korea.

Martin is a former commander of the Pennsylvania 28th Guard Division now federalized. He trained it for World War Two duty.

Admiral McCann Tells Kiwanians Of Diving Bell

Invention Was Used In Rescuing 33 Men From Sub

REAR ADMIRAL ALLEN R. McCANN, retired, whose invention of a submarine rescue chamber led to the saving of 33 men trapped in a submarine 100 feet below the surface in Portsmouth, N. H. harbor in May, 1940, today described the development of this diving bell to Kiwanians at their luncheon at the Yacht Club, and gave a graphic account of the rescue at which he was present.

He was introduced by Arthur J. Green, an old friend, whom he kidded on becoming a "grand father today."

The rescue chamber, said McCann, had been named the McCann Bell in honor of Admiral McCann. He pointed out that the Admiral had been in command of the submarine Squadron No. 6 when the Japanese launched their attack on Pearl Harbor in December, 1941. Later he commanded the Iowa, sister ship of the Missouri, and was acting commander of the fleet at the Philippines and at Leyte.

After that Admiral King called him to be chief of staff of the 10th Fleet in the anti-submarine division. He commanded the ship that took President Roosevelt to Buenos Aires, and the ship on which President Truman went to Potsdam. He has been chairman of the Advisory Board of the Secretary of the Navy, and his last assignment was as inspector general of the Navy.

Longshoremen Resume Loading Despite Catcalls

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—(AP)—Longshoremen resumed loading of military cargoes today, leaving the bus and catcall from which strikers who threw up a pocket line along New York's waterfront.

Most of the port still was closed by the longshore strike which has striven for a presidential intervention. But at two Army piers, some of the idle men returned to work.

Biggest work in the military cargo group was in Staten Island, where eight military ships awaited loading. There, 300 stevedores streamed past picket lines, some about of double-crossed and back from strikers.

There was no violence. At the same time, the Army introduced a handful of about 50 new dock workers, signed on as special duty reserve workers, for jobs at Brooklyn's huge pier of embarkation. The strike began in Brooklyn in days ago.

A few strikers there also attempted to work, leaving picket barriers.

This development came as the government sent its top labor mediator, Clyde M. Mills, from Washington to try to iron out the strike, which has stranded more than 100,000 tons of goods.

The strike, set off by a last year's contract of the International Longshoremen's Association, has spread throughout the New York-New Jersey harbor area, and crippled operations in Boston and Albany.

New Jersey Gov. Alfred DuSable stepped into the picture today, declaring the situation a "threat to the general welfare."

He pledged action to keep military cargoes moving. He dropped hints that the National Guard would be called out if necessary to cope with the strike.

WAR ENDS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—(AP)—President Truman today formally proclaimed the end of the state of war between the United States and Germany.

His action was a follow-up to a joint congressional resolution ending the conflict. The proclamation said the war, which was declared Dec. 11, 1941, was terminated on Oct. 19, 1951, the date of the passage of the resolution.

C Of C Program Told Pilot Club By Breckenridge

TOURISTS, NEW INDUSTRIES ARE GIVEN AS KEY TO THE FUTURE

Declaring that Sanford could be the mecca for tourists and industries, Mayor L. J. Breckenridge, president of the Sanford Civic Club, today outlined the program for expansion and development for all of Seminole County as well as Sanford.

The population of the Sanford area has grown in the last few years that it is now able to support its own distributing center without having to depend on the adjoining trade areas.

Sanford has one of the most beautiful approaches that can be found anywhere," said Mr. Breckenridge, who called upon the members of the Sanford Civic Club to develop and beautify the Lake Shore Boulevard so that it would be used for tourists to drive on past such an attractive place without first stopping at a gas station.

More tourist business, the development of Sanford and Seminole County as a community and a more complete development in the future.

Richard Tison Hurt In Accident

Richard Tison, 34, 395 Magnolia Avenue, suffered fractures of the left leg and a foot when he was hit by an automobile while attempting to cross Magnolia Avenue on Third Street shortly before 7:00 o'clock tonight.

The automobile that hit him was a 1940 Ford Sedan driven by Clyde E. Perry, 706 West 10th Street, according to the police report.

Mr. Perry at the time was turning north on Magnolia Avenue from Third Street.

Richard was taken to Donald Loughlin Memorial Hospital for emergency treatment for his bruises, and according to his mother, Mrs. Brannon C. Tison, Mr. Perry assisted the lad into the house when he was brought back home.

Truman Calls Russians Foolish As U. N. Marks Sixth Birthday

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—(AP)—President Truman told the Russians today they are "utterly foolish" in opposing nations banded together to seek "peace and justice."

Speaking on the anniversary of the birth of the United Nations, the President declared:

"I hope the time will not be far distant when the leaders of the Soviet Union and their satellites will come to see that it is utterly foolish to oppose the united will of all the other peoples of the world for peace and justice."

"But so long as the forces of aggression are attacking the United Nations, there must be no weakening—there must be no slackening of our efforts to check aggression and to build up the defense of the free world."

"It is up to us here at home to back up these men of many na-
