

—Evening Herald, Sanford, FL Friday, June 6, 1980
The Duping Of The American Voter

Political Ads 'Misleading, Unfair'

By CAROL FELSANTHAL
 American Library Assn.
 Robert Spero begins "The Duping of the American Voter" (Lippincott & Crowell, 222 pages, $12.95) with the question: "True or False: Madison Avenue sells politicians like soap?"
 Answer: False. Unfortunately!

Robert Spero: "Political advertising...is without peer as the most deceptive, misleading, unfair and untruthful of all advertising."

Spero, an ad agency vice president, stresses that soap commercials must meet stringent standards of fairness and truth, including review and possible punishment by nine federal agencies. Political commercials, on the other hand, "are in no way regulated for truth in advertising, nor can they presently be regulated. . . This vital distinction is the reason why political advertising . . . is without peer as the most deceptive, misleading, unfair and untruthful of all advertising."

Spero examines the television commercials used in every presidential race since 1952 and finds that, if any, would have been allowed on the air had their producers been selling a product instead of a president. He is refreshingly non-partisan, damning them all, although he is especially critical of Jimmy Carter. "I started my own campaign 21 months ago," began one 1976 Carter ad. "I didn't have any political adolescent programs . . . and cut administrative costs more than 50 percent."

ABOUT BOOKS Reviews prepared by the American Library Assn.

 Carter, Spero argues, was indeed a politician — elected to two terms in the Georgia State Senate. When he lost his first try at the State House, he immediately began working for the 1970 gubernatorial election, which he won.
 Most of the agencies he eliminated were either not funded by the state or not in operation. Carter converted 65 budgeted agencies into 30 superagencies which, most observers agree, simply generated more red tape. The cost of running the governor's office grew by 49 percent, Georgia's office Georgia's budget grew by 58 percent, its debt by nearly 25 percent and the number of employees by 30 percent.
 Probably American history's most infamous political commercial was used against Barry Goldwater in 1964. The ad opens with an angelic little girl counting as she pulls petals off a daisy — "one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight." Suddenly a man's voice begins counting backwards — "ten, nine, eight, seven, six, five, four, three, two, one, zero." And then an atomic explosion followed by Lyndon Johnson's voice: "These are the stakes: to make a world in which all of God's children can live or to go into the darkness. We must either live each other or we must die."
 Johnson's image makers tried to make the race seem a clear-cut choice between "prudent" Johnson and "crazy" Goldwater. Yet Johnson, during the campaign, was secretly planning his assault on Vietnam.

THURSDAY June 12

- 11:00
 (3) (4) (5) (7) (8) NEWS
 (1) (3) DAVE ALLEN
 (10) V.I. PEOPLE
- 11:30
 (3) THE BEST OF CARSON
 Guests: Jim Foador, Joe Namath, Kenny Rogers, Dottie West. (R)
- 12:00
 (7) U.S. OPEN Highlights of first-round play in this prestigious golf tournament from Baltusard Golf Club in Springfield, New Jersey.
- 12:30
 (1) (3) WILD, WILD WEST
 (17) MOVIE "The Hatchet Man" (1932) Edward G. Robinson, Loretta Young.
- 1:00
 (3) ABC NEWS
 (3) CBS LATE MOVIE "Pat And Mike" (1952) Spencer Tracy, Katharine Hepburn.
- 1:30
 (3) CHARLES' ANGELS
 (3) JIMMORROW QUEST: Inceptor Barry Bremner, baseball's "Kissing Bandit" Marganna Cottrell, Bob Katz and Luke Salisbury of "Fans for the Control of Sports."
- 1:45
 (17) NEWS
 (17) MOVIE "The City Beneath the Sea" (1935) Robert Ryan, Anthony Quinn.
- 2:00
 (3) DAILY DEVOTIONAL
 (7) NEWS
 (17) MOVIE "The Picture of Dorian Gray" (B/W) (1945) Hurd Hatfield, George Sanders.
- 2:30
 (17) MOVIE "Floodtide" (1956) George Nader, Cornell Borchers.
- 4:30
 (17) UPSTAIRS, DOWNSTAIRS
 (17) MAVERICK
- 7:30
 (1) TIC TAC TOUGH
 (3) THE NEWLYWED GAME
 (3) $100,000 NAME THAT TUNE
 (3) MAJIDE
 (10) DICK CAVETT Guest: Frank Zappa.
- 8:00
 (3) BUCK ROGERS IN THE 25TH CENTURY Buck helps the daughter Alan Quaterberry of a female prime minister overthrow her tyrannical mother. (R)
- 10:00
 (3) THE WALTONS Olivia and John take painful steps in the hopes of finding John-Bob after the War Department declares him missing in action.
- 10:30
 (7) MORK & MINDY Mork discovers that Mindy, in the hospital for a tonsillectomy, has been listed under the wrong name and scheduled for brain surgery. (R)
- (1) (3) MOVIE "Passage to Marseille" (B/W) (1944) Humphrey Bogart, Claude Rains. Escapes from Devil's Island attempts to fight the Nazis along with the French Financiers. (R)
- (10) PROBE "Legislative Review" Local legislators will take a look back at this year's legislative session and discuss how local goals were met. Host: Chris Dudley.
- (17) MOVIE "A Girl Named Tamiko" (1963) Laurence Harvey, Francoise Holt, Catherine in Tokyo ignores his love for a Japanese girl while trying to woo an American woman.
- 8:30
 (3) BENSON Benson goes out on a limb to help a low-stared former girlfriend having problems with her marriage. (R)
- (3) NBC MOVIE "The Girl in The Park" (1979) Bernard Hughes, Kay Lenz. A New York City priest with a penchant for solving crimes befriends a young actress being terrified by a series of mysterious events. (R)
- (3) BARNABY JONES While searching for a missing girl, Barnaby uncovers an international teenage ring specializing in teenage girls. (R)
- (3) BARNETT MILLER Barnett is caught in the middle when Harris and Mop demand that a U.S. delegate with diplomatic immunity be arrested unless he sets his slave free. (R)
- (10) ALL CREATURES GREAT AND SMALL
- 9:30
 (3) SEMI-TOUR After heroically winning a major football game, Shake has a run-in with a delinquent player from an opposing team.
- 10:00
 (3) KNOTS LANDING Gary and Valerie Ewing move from Dallas to a suburban California community, where they become involved with three other resident couples. (R)
- (1) (3) ABC NEWS CLOSURE "To Die For" A look at the situation in Northern Ireland, focusing on the role of the British Army, the Irish seeking independence and the Protestants who want to remain a part of Britain. (R)
- (10) BILL MOYERS JOURNAL "A Conversation With Carlos Fuentes" Bill Moyers talks with Mexico's leading novelist and critic.
- (17) MOVIE "Floodtide" (1956) George Nader, Cornell Borchers.
- (17) UPSTAIRS, DOWNSTAIRS
 (17) MAVERICK

FACTORY SPECIALS
 UNITED 1-WEEK ONLY
COMET AWNING SALE 35% OFF
 EASY TERMS OFF 3 or more installed
 • BAKED ENAMEL FINISH
 • CHOICE OF COLORS
 • POSITIVE STORM PROTECTION
 • COULDSAVE UP TO 20%
 PH. 321-0820 FOR FREE HOME SURVEY
 BE PREPARED FOR BUG SEASON!
 SCREENS, EXTERIOR LIGHTS
20% OFF
 • SANFORD 321-0820
 • 418 N. ORANGE BLVD., TR. ORLANDO 321-4911
 • AFTER HOURS CALL 321-3143
 • BEVARD CO. 434-8079 • MIAMI 305-347-3273

Floyd Theatres
PLAZA TWIN
 MAY 19, 19, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31
 SAT. ALL SHOWS 99¢
PLAZA I THE LAST MARRIED COUPLE
 7:45 9:15
PLAZA II 7:45 9:15
KILL OR BE KILLED
MOVIELAND
 Minimum 15¢ with 10¢
HOT T-SHIRTS
 10¢ SWEATER GIRLS

Rick (left) and Tom Fowler get gifts from Mayor Lee Moore and Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Executive Manager Jack Horner to take to Sanford, Maine.

Sanford Dispatches Rolling Ambassadors

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
 Herald Staff Writer
 Two youthful Sanford cyclists left Saturday morning as rolling ambassadors for the city on a trek to Sanford, Maine.
 Rick Fowler, 23, and his brother, Tom, 17, sons of Mrs. Constance G. Fowler of 308 W. 13th St., will be sponsored by the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce. They will be wearing Golden Age Olympics T-shirts to publicize Sanford's annual senior citizen event and taking gifts from Sanford Mayor Lee Moore to the mayor of Sanford, Maine.
 "It's good exercise and something we're always wanted to do," explained Rick. "We thrive on physical fitness and it gives us a good high." A graduate of Seminole Community College, he attends University of Central Florida. He was a member of the SCC tennis team and active in many sports.
 Tom is a student at Bishop Moore High School in Orlando, where he is on the football team and also plays soccer. He recently completed a cross-state bicycling safari from New Smyrna Beach to Naples. Other than that this is the first long distance bike trip for the brothers.
 They plan to take the scenic route along the east coast with stops for sightseeing, such as Jekyll Island and Sea Island in Georgia and Cape Hatteras, where they would like to try hang gliding. Washington, D.C., New York City and Cape Cod are also on the itinerary.
 "When they get in the north they say they plan to stay with friends and relatives, but until then they plan to sleep in a tent. Of necessity, they are traveling light with all their clothing and equipment tied to the bicycles, including emergency repair equipment.
 They expect to average 60 miles a day when traveling and think it will take them four or five weeks to reach their destination.
 Rick worked in Bar Harbor, Maine, three summers ago and wanted to go back for a visit. After an official visit in Sanford's sister city, the Fowlers plan to go on to Nova Scotia, Canada, before returning home by bus. They expect to be back by the end of July.

Casselberry Gains Dog Track, Problems

By DAVID M. HAZLER
 Herald Staff Writer
 Casselberry has lost a harness track and gained a dog track — and a number of new problems — Mayor Owen Sheppard said Saturday.
 On Friday afternoon, the state Senate voted to allow the county's de-brided harness track to become Super Seminole Greyhound Park. The governor is expected to sign the bill into law next week.
 Sheppard, who had been fighting the bill since it was proposed at the beginning of the legislative session by Rep. Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, said he spent Thursday and Friday in the capitol attempting to get senators to amend the bill to charge each patron a 25-cent city tax.
 The administrative law would have helped the city defray the added costs for roadwork and police protection which will be necessary if the track triples its business to more than 300,000 patrons a year as expected Sheppard said.
 The tax measure failed by a vote of 16-15 in the Commerce Committee he said.
 The new greyhound track will operate from May 10 to Sept. 1. Its season will open as the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club in Longwood closes for the year Sheppard said.

The advisory board members, however, expressed concern that minors might be able to obtain the beverages as well as adults.
 Miss Bell said Friday that she and her partner were considering limiting admission to persons of legal age. "It would cut down our profit margin," she said, adding that she and Lawson are willing to make the compromise if it will help in gaining the license. "We would have to eliminate such features as kiddie matinees," she said.
 Miss Bell said if the city commission approves the beer and wine license request Monday night, the theatre could be reopened in July.
 In other action, the board approved a site plan and request for a change of use from a dwelling to a professional office at 700 W. 25th St. Robert Morris plans to open a law office there.
 The board also approved a request from Dorsey Greene to permit the operation of a kidney dialysis center at 210 E. Commercial Ave. The dialysis center is to be open six days a week.

Information From Washington

Effort Underway To Reopen Case

By DONNA ESTER
 Herald Staff Writer
 Efforts are being made to have a 1977 settlement between the city of Sanford and the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) set aside.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979 to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Justice Department charging the city with racial bias. Brooks has denied this.
 In the 1977 settlement, the city, according to the agreement, paid Brooks $25,000 and the three-year-old Moore, back pay and rehired both. Brooks is assigned to DEA while Moore has retired on disability pension.
 They Brooks, a Sanford police officer currently assigned to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency Administration (DEA) as part of that settlement, said he called Washington and obtained this information.
 Brooks began Thursday trying to find the source of information linking him with a recent racial discrimination complaint against the city. Reports he published saying he wrote a letter in December 1979

WORLD IN BRIEF

Despite Criticism, Clark Continues Talks In Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — Former U.S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark held informal talks Saturday with Iranian officials despite being discredited in the eyes of both America and Iran by his part in Iran's "Crimes of America" conference.

"In New York, three members of Clark's 10-member negotiating team and the conference arrived home and immediately charged materials on the seminar were confiscated by U.S. customs authorities.

Both Clark and the returned Americans face possible prosecution and a 10-year jail term or $50,000 fine for visiting Iran in defiance of President Carter's travel ban.

The remaining members of the American delegation that studied U.S. "intervention" in Iran stayed behind to continue talks with Iranian officials. Clark, who plans to stay in Tehran until today, refused comment Saturday.

Clark's mission was condemned by the state radio, which called him the "vilest American agent" and dashed hopes for meaningful negotiations.

Uganda Conference Fails

ARUSHA, Tanzania (UPI) — A summit by East African leaders aimed at settling the chaos in Uganda ended abruptly in apparent failure, with the Sudanese president angry over Tanzanian moves to dominate the troubled nation.

These leaders, Presidents Julius Nyerere of Tanzania, Jafar Numeyri of the Sudan and Paulo Muwanga, head of the new ruling military commission in Uganda, met for only 100 minutes Friday before suddenly ending the talks and leaving for home.

The high-level meeting was aimed at laying the groundwork for a stable government in Uganda where chaos has been growing since the Tanzanian-backed overthrow of dictator Idi Amin last year.

Armed bands from both the defeated army of Amin and the victorious forces reportedly roam the capital of Kampala and the countryside, unopposed much of the time, engaging in killings and robbery.

Iraq Seeks OPEC Oil Cut

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI) — Iraq's oil minister called Saturday for a cut in OPEC oil production because he said Western nations are stockpiling up to 1 million barrels of crude a day.

"We OPEC have to balance production to meet the needed supply," said Tayeb Abdel Kerim, who arrived for a five-day meeting of the world's leading oil producers. "Now there is a surplus of crude."

The stockpiling of the 1-million-barrel-per-day surplus by Western nations, said Abdel Kerim, has created artificial demand and hampered efforts by the moderates in the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries to stabilize prices.

OPEC's biannual price talks, which open in Algiers Monday, will be preceded by a two-day meeting of the nine-nation Organization of Arab Petroleum Exporting Countries.

Korea Attacking Corruption

SEOUL, South Korea (UPI) — South Korea's military government has targeted officials, politicians and lawmakers — but not businessmen — in a sweeping anti-corruption campaign to root out illicit money-making, sources said Saturday.

Bullet Flies By Truck Driver's Head

By DAVID M. RAZLER
Herald Staff Writer

A bullet whizzed by the head of a 60-year-old Lake City truck driver Saturday morning as he drove down Interstate 4, deputies say.

Warren Jones suffered cuts from flying glass when a shot was fired into the cab of his tractor trailer as he drove east on I-4 between County Road 46 and 46A overpasses at 3 a.m. Saturday morning, deputies report.

The shot smashed both side windows, exiting about 12 inches from Jones' head. He needed no treatment for his injuries, but the truck suffered an estimated $250 damage, deputies say.

Deputies are concerned about the shooting, the second reported in recent weeks. Recently, deputies say, a trucker driving along I-4 near Longwood heard shots and later found bullets had passed through his cab and trailer.

MAN WATCHES AS THIEF TAKES HIS CAR

A Chulohla man told deputies he was just sitting around at his neighbor's house Friday night when he heard his car start.

Ronald Ross Ballard, 45 E. Fourth St., Chulohla, said he ran out of his neighbor's home at 11 p.m. to see an unidentified person driving off in his 1973 Ford.

He and his neighbors tried to follow the car in other vehicles, but were unable to catch it.

YOUTH PLEADS GUILTY TO RAPE

A 17-year-old Casselberry youth has pleaded no contest to charges of raping a 23-year-old jogger on Jan. 20.

Jeffery A. Heffling, 17, of 1023 Manchester Circle, Casselberry, pleaded no contest Thursday to a charge of sexual battery and a second charge of unlawful imprisonment.

Chamber To Revive Christmas Contest

The Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade Committee has voted to restore the King and Queen contest in conjunction with the Dec. 6 Christmas Parade to be held in downtown Sanford.

The contest will start Sept. 1 and culminate in mid-November with a countdown dinner at which the winning couple will be determined. Jack Weible, committee chairman, said he hopes to get several local civic organizations to sponsor king and queen candidates between the ages of 16 and 18.

The couple that gets the most votes (at a penny a vote) will be the king and queen and ride in the parade in an open convertible. Money raised will be used to help defray parade costs.

Another fund-raising project agreed upon was a nickel pitching booth to be sponsored by the committee at the Fourth of July Festival of the held in Fort Mellon Park.

A Christmas parade theme contest involving school children in grades five to eight is planned again this year.

The parade committee hopes to encourage the entry of more amateur float builds in this year's parade.

Another meeting is planned in two weeks to finalize details.

Herald, Theater Plan Tuesday Kid Matinees

The Evening Herald and the Sanford Plaza Twin Theatre are once again sponsoring a series of Tuesday matinee films for children.

Every Tuesday this summer, beginning this week, a different G-rated feature will be presented at the theatre for only 50 cents with the Evening Herald coupon, 99 cents without.

Movies begin at 10 a.m., with the box office opening at 9:30 a.m.

All children will receive free popcorn and will be eligible for prizes.

This year's series begins with The Man From Button Willow, and will include showings of The Wilderness Family on June 24, Across the Great Divide on July 22, and Zorro on Aug. 12.

Discount coupons appear in each Thursday's Herald Advertiser and Monday editions of the Evening Herald.

Lake Mary Council: Tear Down House

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The Lake Mary City Council this past week denied the request of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Bennett to extend the condemnation deadline on their partially built house on Pine Circle Drive.

The Bennetts, through their attorney, Kenneth Beane requested a seven-day extension on the June 13 deadline for the house to be razed. The Longwood couple wasn't present for the meeting.

Beane, asking for the delay, said the couple found a builder willing to bring the house into compliance with the Southern Standard Building Code, the construction code used by the city.

But Beane could not guarantee the work would or could be accomplished within the seven-day extension period or if all work necessary to bring the structure into compliance would ever be completed. Beane also indicated the couple wanted a temporary occupancy permit to move into the house.

Spegele Seeks Seat On Board

Bill Spegele, 39, has announced his candidacy for the District Three seat on the Seminole County School Board. A resident of Casselberry, he and his wife, Connie, and sons, Chris and Paul, live at 2009 Kiwanee Trail.

Chris is a student at Tusawhita Middle School while Paul attends Sterling Park Elementary.

Spegele, a past chairman of the countywide advisory committee for the school system, served as a director of the Grove Counseling Center for the five years. He has been a member of the Casselberry Board of Adjustment for the past four years.

Current District Three school board member is Roland Williams.

Evening Herald (USPS 481-380)

Sunday, June 8, 1980 - Vol. 72, No. 249

Published Daily and Sunday, except Saturdays by The Sanford Herald, Inc., 204 N. French Ave., Sanford, Fla. 32771.

Second Class Postage Paid at Sanford, Florida 32771.

Home Delivery: Week, 99 cents; Month, $3.99; 6 Months, $22.00; Year, $42.00. By Mail: Week, 99c; Month, $4.75; 6 Months, $27.00; Year, $52.00.

Action Reports

- ★ Fires
- ★ Courts
- ★ Police Beat

ARREST ON FORGERY CHARGE

A Sanford woman was arrested Thursday on charges of attempting to cash a stolen money order.

Gloria Burke, 1808 W. 15th St., Sanford, was jailed Thursday night in lieu of $8,400 bond on charges of forgery and possession of stolen goods.

Deputies say she attempted to pass a stolen money order, using an identification card stolen last year from a woman at the Deluxe Bar, Goldsboro.

Lance Charges Falling

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department plans to ask a federal judge next week to dismiss the last remaining charges against former Budget Director Bert Lance, who was driven from office amid allegations of financial misconduct.

Lance was acquitted April 30 of nine other counts against him after a three-month trial in Atlanta. The judge had thrown out 10 counts in the preceding weeks. But a mistrial was declared on three bank fraud counts on which the jury had been unable to reach a verdict.

He was arrested on Feb. 10, by city police responding to a report of a prowler in the Windward Square area.

Ten days later, after witnesses identified him, Heffling was charged with the January rape.

Heffling can be sentenced to only four years of prison time under the state's youthful offender law, designed to keep first-time young criminals away from the general prison population, said Assistant State Attorney Alan Robinson.

The state will be asking for the maximum penalty against Heffling, who although charged as an adult for the rape, has no previous criminal record, Robinson said.

Heffling will be sentenced next month, following a presentence investigation.

4-Day Work Week Interests Cities

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Plans for Altamonte Springs administrative and public works personnel to convert to a four-day work week for a 90-day trial period beginning July 1 have sparked the interest of neighboring municipalities.

Delegates from surrounding cities asked Altamonte Springs Mayor Norman Floyd Wednesday night to share results of studies on the proposed shift in working hours designed to save energy and energy costs. The item was discussed at the Council of Local Governments in Seminole County meeting held at the Casselberry City Hall.

Floyd said he is working out a program to implement the plan. Tentatively the working week schedule would run from Tuesday through Friday. The four-day work week would not include pollution control department, police and fire or recreation. It appears that the city would save $2,200 monthly in energy costs by moving to the four-day work week, Floyd said.

Winter Springs Deputy Mayor Wilfred Arnold said the idea may be something other cities ought to consider. Casselberry Mayor Owen Sheppard said he would like to examine what the change would entail.

Floyd agreed to share his study with the other cities. County Commissioner Bob French said the county's change to a four-day work week a year ago in the public works department resulted in a fuel savings and promoted efficiencies in the department.

In other business, Arnold offered to study the council's preliminary application and to complete a more comprehensive application for funding from the state Department of Community Affairs. The application calls for funding for market surveys on employee positions, pay scale and personnel policies on continually changing regulations concerning equal employment opportunities.

The studies, if the grant is approved, would be shared by all city governments in Seminole and the county government.

Discussions on the proposal for the cities to jointly employ an attorney to prosecute violations of city ordinances in the circuit court was delayed because of a proposed new law. The bill, currently pending in the Legislature, is legislation permitting creation of "code enforcement boards" in cities to hear cases involving ordinance violations.

TOP TEACHERS

Seminole County's Teacher of the Year for 1978-79, Karen Coleman (right) congratulates this year's winner, Evonne Lou Davidson. Both teachers were honored by the Seminole County School Board this past week. Mrs. Coleman, who went on to be named State Teacher of the Year by the Florida Department of Education, is a Milwee Middle School math teacher. Mrs. Davidson is a music teacher at Sabal Point Elementary School.

At the Board meeting, Mrs. Coleman also received a copy of the first Encyclopedia Britannica published 212 years ago.

Future Site 1980-81 SEMINOLE SUNRISE PARK KIWANIS PARK

KIWANIS PARK

Sunrise Kiwanis Club is starting work on the first phase of a park and playground on 25th Place east of Sanford Avenue. The initial development will be a softball field. Later the club plans to add a little league-type baseball field, tennis, volleyball and basketball courts. Eventually the club hopes to develop a section into an amusement park.

From left to right, George Willis, Bob Anderson, Brette Sanford, Jim Hardie, Dave Farr, Marklon White, Julian Stenson, Charlie Craig, Bobby Wells, Buddy Williams and Andy Reno.

Police Shoot 'Fast Eddie'

LODI, Ohio (UPI) — A fusillade of FBI gunfire has halted the latest spree of veteran bank robber "Fast" Eddie Watkins, an old-time criminal who kept scores of agents at bay for eight hours by holding a gun to his own head.

The 61-year-old veteran bank robber was hit by his men when he escaped from prison in April.

Gas Price Hike Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Service stations will be able to tack an extra seven-tenths of a cent on the selling price of every gallon of gasoline to offset inflation starting June 15.

The Energy Department, in a routine quarterly inflation adjustment Friday, boosted the retail gasoline gross margin from 16.1 to 16.8 cents a gallon.

The margin is the maximum retailers can add to their wholesale gasoline costs to cover their profits and overhead. The agency's Economic Regulatory Administration prescribes retail and wholesale margins because gasoline remains the only refined oil product still subject to federal price controls.

President To Visit Miami

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter will travel to Miami and Seattle next week to discuss with local officials the problems of the recent Florida riots and the volcanic eruption at Mount St. Helens.

The president also will address the 18th annual meeting of the Opportunities Industrialization Centers in Miami Monday.

In Miami he will meet with local officials to discuss plans to provide relief to those affected by the riots. White House press secretary Jody Powell said he is not expected to tour the riot areas.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Legislators Try To Avoid Long Extension Of Session

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Legislative leaders are fighting to avoid a lengthy extension of the 1980 session after the scheduled time for adjournment was missed for the fourth year in a row.

The House and Senate extended the session until midnight Saturday after being unable to reach agreement on a $60 million supplemental budget and related taxing bills and a few other critical issues by midnight Friday.

House Speaker Hyatt Brown says he expects to get by with a single day's extension and Gov. Bob Graham says there is better than a 50-50 chance one extra day will be enough.

No Action On Amendment

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — As the scheduled end of the legislative session came and went, the senate failed to act on a proposed constitutional amendment requiring single-member legislative districts.

At midnight Friday, both houses had approved the concept of single-member districts twice but were unable to get together 50 secondary issues.

Once approved in final form, the measure would go before the voters on the November ballot.

Proponents of single-member districts say they would increase the accountability of legislators by reducing the size of their constituencies and would likely lead to the election of more minority group members.

Child Abuser Disappears

MIAMI (UPI) — The FBI is searching for a Florida Highway Patrolman indicted by a federal grand jury in the sexual abuse of an 11-year-old black girl after he failed to surrender as scheduled.

Terry McWilliams, attorney for former trooper Willie Thomas Jones, said he fears the 28-year-old client had committed suicide instead of trying to evade the law.

"He has either committed suicide or he has left. He was on the verge of suicide the last time he was arrested," McWilliams said "I had to take away his weapons."

Jones pleaded no contest last year to a charge of lewd or lascivious or indecent assault. Dade County Circuit Court Judge David Levy placed him on probation and ordered him to seek psychiatric care. Jones was allowed to resign from the FHP.

NATION IN BRIEF

House, Senate Override Carter Veto, Kill Oil Fee

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter's 10-cent-a-gallon gasoline fee is dead in Congress, and may be dead in the courts.

By a 68-10 vote Friday, the Senate overrode Carter's veto of the oil fee-killing legislation. The House voted, 335-34, earlier to reject Carter's veto.

It was the first time since 1952, when Congress rejected Harry Truman's veto of the McCarran-Walter Immigration and Nationality Act, Democratic lawmakers in control of Congress overrode a president of their own party.

The action erased an order by Carter, announced last March, imposing a $4.62 per barrel fee on imported oil. The fee would have raised the pump price of gasoline 10 cents a gallon.

Last month, a U.S. district court judge — acting in a case brought by congressmen, public interest groups, and oil interests — ruled the fee was unconstitutional. The administration appealed the decision.

Carl Gustin, an Energy Department spokesman, said the administration is still considering whether to press its appeal.

Car Won't Start?

Call 322-5457

ART'S MOBILE MECHANIC

CERTIFIED AUTO REPAIR

322-5457

ART'S MOBILE MECHANIC N.I.A.S.E. CERTIFIED AUTO MECHANIC Resident of Florida 25 Years Resident of Lake Mary 5 Years

The Garage Comes To You For General Repairs & Emergencies HONEST • DEPENDABLE • EXPERIENCED

THE FIRST 100,000 Cuban Refugee Sealift Passes Historic Mark

This hangar at Florida's Eglin Air Force Base to hold the massive influx of refugees into the house the first large group of Cuban refugees. More permanent facilities were later constructed.

The Sealift: Here's How It Happened

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI) — A chronology of the Cuban refugee sealift:

April 4 — Cuban Navy Lt. Hector Sanuyatiz crashes his carrying 23 Cuban dissidents through gates of Peruvian embassy in Havana, killing Cuban soldier.

April 5 — Fidel Castro, angry over the death of soldier, removes guards' 8th 10,000 Cuban dissidents storm compound seeking asylum.

April 19-20 — Flotilla organized by Miami exile Napoleon Vilaboa set sail for Cuba to pick up Peruvian "embassy people."

April 21 — Two fishing boats, Blanche III and Dos Hermanos, bring back first refugees from Cuba's port of Mariel to Key West, launching Cuban refugee sealift.

April 23 — Vilaboa announces in Havana Cuban officials will allow Peruvian "embassy people" to leave island. State Department says Carter administration is "deeply sympathetic," but "cannot condone" sealift and warns skippers they face felony charges and stiff fines for bringing undocumented aliens to U.S.

April 26-27 — Weekend storm with 90 mph winds rakes Florida Straits and sinks dozens of boats at sea and in port of Mariel.

April 28 — Sealift claims its first victims — Edward Roque, 45, and Adolfo Martinez, 65, Orlando. They drowned when their boat capsized en route to Key West to join flotilla; Florida Gov. Bob Graham orders first contingent of National Guardsmen to Key West; U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service officials confirm Castro taking advantage of sealift to "clean out his jails."

May 2 — Angry Cuban mob attacks visa seekers outside U.S. Interest Section in Havana, driving 350 inside.

May 3 — First plane load of 128 Cuban refugees arrives at "tent city" built by Eglin Air Force Base personnel at Fort Walton Beach fairgrounds to process refugees for resettlement in U.S.

May 4 — State Department closes visa processing operation at U.S. Interest Section in Havana because Castro government "cannot guarantee the safety" of staff and visitors.

May 5 — President Carter tells League of Women Voters U.S. will "provide an open heart and open arms" to Cuban refugees. State Department scraps policy of firing sealift boat captains.

May 6 — Carter declares state of emergency in Florida and releases 10 million dollars in federal funds to handle influx. Gov. Graham sends 300 more guardsmen to Key West to cope with fighting at Trumble Point hangar where refugees await transportation to mainland. Federal Emergency Management Agency takes control of refugee processing operations from state.

May 7 — First group of refugees arrive at federal resettlement center at Ft. Chaffee, Ark.

May 8 — U.S. Marines from Camp LeJeune, N.C., arrive in Key West to relieve 1,350 state militiamen, who head home next day.

May 9 — First group of refugees leave tent city at Fort Walton Beach for new homes in U.S.

May 14 — Carter orders halt to sealift and challenges Castro to negotiate U.S. government-operated air or sealift.

May 16 — Coast Guard reinforces Florida Straits patrols, begins boarding boats suspected of violating presidential sealift ban. Customs officers begin setting returning boats.

May 17 — Fourteen refugees drown when overloaded sealift boat capsizes in Florida Straits in worst single accident of the sealift.

May 18 — First group of refugees arrive at Indiantown Gap, Pa., refugee center.

May 19 — Group of 21 Cubans flee Ft. Chaffee refugee center.

May 20 — Havana Radio says Carter's proposal for U.S. to organize and operate an orderly refugee air or sealift "is not probable."

May 21 — Sealift is one month old and 67,750 refugees have been ferried to freedom aboard 1,187 boats.

May 24 — Refugees tired of processing delays at Florida's tent city storm fence and fight with policemen.

May 26 — Some 300 refugees escape from Ft. Chaffee at town of Jenny Lind, enraging local residents.

May 28 — Nearly 300 owners and skippers of fishing boats seized by Customs demonstrate outside Key West federal court, demanding return of their vessels.

June 1 — About 1,000 refugees at Ft. Chaffee riot, injuring 40 people. Fort buildings burn and irate residents of nearby communities arm themselves and threaten counterattack.

June 2 — Carter orders 2,000 soldiers to guard Ft. Chaffee, calls for processing speedup and authorizes guards to use "reasonable," but not deadly force to control refugees.

June 3 — Officials announce that as of noon, refugee total surpasses 100,000 mark with 50 to 60 boats still at Mariel waiting to bring back more refugees.

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI) — On a muggy Good Friday in Havana, Hector Sanuyatiz rammed a hijacked bus through an embassy gate and launched a ragtag sealift that has brought more than 100,000 refugees to freedom and new lives in the United States.

It is the most intense refugee exodus from Cuba since Fidel Castro seized control of the Caribbean island in January 1959.

Sanuyatiz, a 31-year-old Cuban Navy Lieutenant, started it April 4 when he commandeered a bus and crashed it through the gates of the Peruvian embassy in a hail of bullets. A Cuban soldier died and Sanuyatiz was crippled by gunshot wounds.

Fidel Castro, in a fit of pique, vowed to execute Sanuyatiz and ordered soldiers to abandon their posts at the embassy. Word spread like wildfire and 10,000 Cubans flooded the tiny diplomatic compound seeking asylum.

Cuban exiles in Miami organized a relief effort for the "embassy people" and paraded down Little Havana's "Calle Ocho" in support of their freedom-seeking countrymen.

Castro rejected relief efforts, but not Miami exile leader Napoleon Vilaboa, a Bay of Pigs veteran and an official of the group that negotiated the release of more than 3,000 political prisoners last year.

Vilaboa took 42 boats to Cuba and got Castro to agree to release the "embassy people." Four days later — on April 21 — the fishing boats Blanche III and Dos Hermanos reached Key West with 40 refugees.

The freedom sealift was on.

The thousands of commercial fishing boats, rusty freighters, fancy yachts and tiny runabouts that joined the sealift flitted with disaster in the 110 miles of Florida Straits between the Cuban port of Mariel and Key West. At least 25 people perished at sea, including 14 who drowned May 17 when the yacht Olo Yumi capsized and sank. The Coast Guard saved thousands more.

More than 5,000 refugees were sealifted to Florida from the Cuban port of Camariaca in September 1965, and 261,000 were airlifted to freedom over a seven-year period between December 1965 and April 1973.

As the sealift gained momentum, 3,000 to 4,000 refugees a day were being unloaded at the old U.S. Navy docks in Key West. On June 3, a record 6,000 refugees landed.

Hundreds of volunteers — mostly Cuban exiles — joined a handful of local officials to sort out the chaos caused by the initial flood of sealift refugees.

Gov. Bob Graham sent aides and the National Guard to Key West April 28 to feed, clothe, shelter and transport the refugees to the mainland, where they were put in armories, warehouses, hangars and Miami's Orange Bowl stadium to await processing and resettlement.

Once, refugee food supplies ran so low in Key West that Graham aide Ron Vucelja took a National Guard truck to a supermarket and bought $5,000 worth of sandwich makings and soft drinks.

The thousands of commercial fishing boats, rusty freighters, fancy yachts and tiny runabouts that joined the sealift flitted with disaster in the 110 miles of Florida Straits between the Cuban port of Mariel and Key West. At least 25 people perished at sea, including 14 who drowned May 17 when the yacht Olo Yumi capsized and sank. The Coast Guard saved thousands more.

More than 5,000 refugees were sealifted to Florida from the Cuban port of Camariaca in September 1965, and 261,000 were airlifted to freedom over a seven-year period between December 1965 and April 1973.

As the sealift gained momentum, 3,000 to 4,000 refugees a day were being unloaded at the old U.S. Navy docks in Key West. On June 3, a record 6,000 refugees landed.

Hundreds of volunteers — mostly Cuban exiles — joined a handful of local officials to sort out the chaos caused by the initial flood of sealift refugees.

Gov. Bob Graham sent aides and the National Guard to Key West April 28 to feed, clothe, shelter and transport the refugees to the mainland, where they were put in armories, warehouses, hangars and Miami's Orange Bowl stadium to await processing and resettlement.

Once, refugee food supplies ran so low in Key West that Graham aide Ron Vucelja took a National Guard truck to a supermarket and bought $5,000 worth of sandwich makings and soft drinks.

The thousands of commercial fishing boats, rusty freighters, fancy yachts and tiny runabouts that joined the sealift flitted with disaster in the 110 miles of Florida Straits between the Cuban port of Mariel and Key West. At least 25 people perished at sea, including 14 who drowned May 17 when the yacht Olo Yumi capsized and sank. The Coast Guard saved thousands more.

More than 5,000 refugees were sealifted to Florida from the Cuban port of Camariaca in September 1965, and 261,000 were airlifted to freedom over a seven-year period between December 1965 and April 1973.

As the sealift gained momentum, 3,000 to 4,000 refugees a day were being unloaded at the old U.S. Navy docks in Key West. On June 3, a record 6,000 refugees landed.

Hundreds of volunteers — mostly Cuban exiles — joined a handful of local officials to sort out the chaos caused by the initial flood of sealift refugees.

Gov. Bob Graham sent aides and the National Guard to Key West April 28 to feed, clothe, shelter and transport the refugees to the mainland, where they were put in armories, warehouses, hangars and Miami's Orange Bowl stadium to await processing and resettlement.

Once, refugee food supplies ran so low in Key West that Graham aide Ron Vucelja took a National Guard truck to a supermarket and bought $5,000 worth of sandwich makings and soft drinks.

The thousands of commercial fishing boats, rusty freighters, fancy yachts and tiny runabouts that joined the sealift flitted with disaster in the 110 miles of Florida Straits between the Cuban port of Mariel and Key West. At least 25 people perished at sea, including 14 who drowned May 17 when the yacht Olo Yumi capsized and sank. The Coast Guard saved thousands more.

More than 5,000 refugees were sealifted to Florida from the Cuban port of Camariaca in September 1965, and 261,000 were airlifted to freedom over a seven-year period between December 1965 and April 1973.

As the sealift gained momentum, 3,000 to 4,000 refugees a day were being unloaded at the old U.S. Navy docks in Key West. On June 3, a record 6,000 refugees landed.

Hundreds of volunteers — mostly Cuban exiles — joined a handful of local officials to sort out the chaos caused by the initial flood of sealift refugees.

Gov. Bob Graham sent aides and the National Guard to Key West April 28 to feed, clothe, shelter and transport the refugees to the mainland, where they were put in armories, warehouses, hangars and Miami's Orange Bowl stadium to await processing and resettlement.

Once, refugee food supplies ran so low in Key West that Graham aide Ron Vucelja took a National Guard truck to a supermarket and bought $5,000 worth of sandwich makings and soft drinks.

The thousands of commercial fishing boats, rusty freighters, fancy yachts and tiny runabouts that joined the sealift flitted with disaster in the 110 miles of Florida Straits between the Cuban port of Mariel and Key West. At least 25 people perished at sea, including 14 who drowned May 17 when the yacht Olo Yumi capsized and sank. The Coast Guard saved thousands more.

More than 5,000 refugees were sealifted to Florida from the Cuban port of Camariaca in September 1965, and 261,000 were airlifted to freedom over a seven-year period between December 1965 and April 1973.

As the sealift gained momentum, 3,000 to 4,000 refugees a day were being unloaded at the old U.S. Navy docks in Key West. On June 3, a record 6,000 refugees landed.

Hundreds of volunteers — mostly Cuban exiles — joined a handful of local officials to sort out the chaos caused by the initial flood of sealift refugees.

Gov. Bob Graham sent aides and the National Guard to Key West April 28 to feed, clothe, shelter and transport the refugees to the mainland, where they were put in armories, warehouses, hangars and Miami's Orange Bowl stadium to await processing and resettlement.

Once, refugee food supplies ran so low in Key West that Graham aide Ron Vucelja took a National Guard truck to a supermarket and bought $5,000 worth of sandwich makings and soft drinks.

The thousands of commercial fishing boats, rusty freighters, fancy yachts and tiny runabouts that joined the sealift flitted with disaster in the 110 miles of Florida Straits between the Cuban port of Mariel and Key West. At least 25 people perished at sea, including 14 who drowned May 17 when the yacht Olo Yumi capsized and sank. The Coast Guard saved thousands more.

More than 5,000 refugees were sealifted to Florida from the Cuban port of Camariaca in September 1965, and 261,000 were airlifted to freedom over a seven-year period between December 1965 and April 1973.

As the sealift gained momentum, 3,000 to 4,000 refugees a day were being unloaded at the old U.S. Navy docks in Key West. On June 3, a record 6,000 refugees landed.

Hundreds of volunteers — mostly Cuban exiles — joined a handful of local officials to sort out the chaos caused by the initial flood of sealift refugees.

Gov. Bob Graham sent aides and the National Guard to Key West April 28 to feed, clothe, shelter and transport the refugees to the mainland, where they were put in armories, warehouses, hangars and Miami's Orange Bowl stadium to await processing and resettlement.

Once, refugee food supplies ran so low in Key West that Graham aide Ron Vucelja took a National Guard truck to a supermarket and bought $5,000 worth of sandwich makings and soft drinks.

The thousands of commercial fishing boats, rusty freighters, fancy yachts and tiny runabouts that joined the sealift flitted with disaster in the 110 miles of Florida Straits between the Cuban port of Mariel and Key West. At least 25 people perished at sea, including 14 who drowned May 17 when the yacht Olo Yumi capsized and sank. The Coast Guard saved thousands more.

More than 5,000 refugees were sealifted to Florida from the Cuban port of Camariaca in September 1965, and 261,000 were airlifted to freedom over a seven-year period between December 1965 and April 1973.

As the sealift gained momentum, 3,000 to 4,000 refugees a day were being unloaded at the old U.S. Navy docks in Key West. On June 3, a record 6,000 refugees landed.

Hundreds of volunteers — mostly Cuban exiles — joined a handful of local officials to sort out the chaos caused by the initial flood of sealift refugees.

Gov. Bob Graham sent aides and the National Guard to Key West April 28 to feed, clothe, shelter and transport the refugees to the mainland, where they were put in armories, warehouses, hangars and Miami's Orange Bowl stadium to await processing and resettlement.

Once, refugee food supplies ran so low in Key West that Graham aide Ron Vucelja took a National Guard truck to a supermarket and bought $5,000 worth of sandwich makings and soft drinks.

The thousands of commercial fishing boats, rusty freighters, fancy yachts and tiny runabouts that joined the sealift flitted with disaster in the 110 miles of Florida Straits between the Cuban port of Mariel and Key West. At least 25 people perished at sea, including 14 who drowned May 17 when the yacht Olo Yumi capsized and sank. The Coast Guard saved thousands more.

More than 5,000 refugees were sealifted to Florida from the Cuban port of Camariaca in September 1965, and 261,000 were airlifted to freedom over a seven-year period between December 1965 and April 1973.

As the sealift gained momentum, 3,000 to 4,000 refugees a day were being unloaded at the old U.S. Navy docks in Key West. On June 3, a record 6,000 refugees landed.

Hundreds of volunteers — mostly Cuban exiles — joined a handful of local officials to sort out the chaos caused by the initial flood of sealift refugees.

Gov. Bob Graham sent aides and the National Guard to Key West April 28 to feed, clothe, shelter and transport the refugees to the mainland, where they were put in armories, warehouses, hangars and Miami's Orange Bowl stadium to await processing and resettlement.

Once, refugee food supplies ran so low in Key West that Graham aide Ron Vucelja took a National Guard truck to a supermarket and bought $5,000 worth of sandwich makings and soft drinks.

The thousands of commercial fishing boats, rusty freighters, fancy yachts and tiny runabouts that joined the sealift flitted with disaster in the 110 miles of Florida Straits between the Cuban port of Mariel and Key West. At least 25 people perished at sea, including 14 who drowned May 17 when the yacht Olo Yumi capsized and sank. The Coast Guard saved thousands more.

More than 5,000 refugees were sealifted to Florida from the Cuban port of Camariaca in September 1965, and 261,000 were airlifted to freedom over a seven-year period between December 1965 and April 1973.

As the sealift gained momentum, 3,000 to 4,000 refugees a day were being unloaded at the old U.S. Navy docks in Key West. On June 3, a record 6,000 refugees landed.

Hundreds of volunteers — mostly Cuban exiles — joined a handful of local officials to sort out the chaos caused by the initial flood of sealift refugees.

Gov. Bob Graham sent aides and the National Guard to Key West April 28 to feed, clothe, shelter and transport the refugees to the mainland, where they were put in armories, warehouses, hangars and Miami's Orange Bowl stadium to await processing and resettlement.

Once, refugee food supplies ran so low in Key West that Graham aide Ron Vucelja took a National Guard truck to a supermarket and bought $5,000 worth of sandwich makings and soft drinks.

The thousands of commercial fishing boats, rusty freighters, fancy yachts and tiny runabouts that joined the sealift flitted with disaster in the 110 miles of Florida Straits between the Cuban port of Mariel and Key West. At least 25 people perished at sea, including 14 who drowned May 17 when the yacht Olo Yumi capsized and sank. The Coast Guard saved thousands more.

More than 5,000 refugees were sealifted to Florida from the Cuban port of Camariaca in September 1965, and 261,000 were airlifted to freedom over a seven-year period between December 1965 and April 1973.

As the sealift gained momentum, 3,000 to 4,000 refugees a day were being unloaded at the old U.S. Navy docks in Key West. On June 3, a record 6,000 refugees landed.

Hundreds of volunteers — mostly Cuban exiles — joined a handful of local officials to sort out the chaos caused by the initial flood of sealift refugees.

Gov. Bob Graham sent aides and the National Guard to Key West April 28 to feed, clothe, shelter and transport the refugees to the mainland, where they were put in armories, warehouses, hangars and Miami's Orange Bowl stadium to await processing and resettlement.

Once, refugee food supplies ran so low in Key West that Graham aide Ron Vucelja took a National Guard truck to a supermarket and bought $5,000 worth of sandwich makings and soft drinks.

The thousands of commercial fishing boats, rusty freighters, fancy yachts and tiny runabouts that joined the sealift flitted with disaster in the 110 miles of Florida Straits between the Cuban port of Mariel and Key West. At least 25 people perished at sea, including 14 who drowned May 17 when the yacht Olo Yumi capsized and sank. The Coast Guard saved thousands

Golden Bear Fails To Make Cut

Local Boy Nelson Leads Atlantic Classic

ATLANTA (UPI) — It's a good thing for the Atlanta Classic that hometown Larry Nelson is making a run at this year's championship because it lost its biggest draw when Jack Nicklaus missed the cut.

Tom Watson on last year's PGA money list, says he'd like to win this one for his friends and relatives. "I'm very happy to play well here since it's my home," said Nelson, who gained two shots on Shearer Friday by outshooting the Aussie, 69-71, in the second round.

Nicklaus, playing the week before a "major" tournament for the first time in seven years in an effort to prep his game for next week's U.S. Open, played the final hole the other way — needing to sink a 20-foot eagle putt to make the cut and settling for a birdie when he was 18 inches short.

The 40-year-old "Golden Bear" had a 67 Friday. But after his 78 the day before, that wasn't enough to save him from missing the cut for the first time since the 1978 PGA championship — ending the longest current non-cut streak (22) on the tour.

"Naturally I enjoyed the round after not playing well Thursday," said Nicklaus. "Even though I missed the cut, I accomplished some of what I came to Atlanta to accomplish."

Nelson isn't the only American breathing down Shearer's neck. Defending champion Andy Bean is only two shots back after rounds of 67-68 and so is young Mike Nicolette who had 66-70. Sammy Racheis is three back after shooting 67-137 and there are five at 138 — former PGA and TPC champ Larry Wadkins, ageless Gene Littler, J.C. Snead, Bob Eastwood and Calvin Peete. Bean, a record 23-under when he won last year, said, "I'm probably going to have to play better than I have the first two rounds. I have some work to do."

A Young Idea That's Long Overdue In Youth Sports

From The Sidelines By Joe DeSantis Herald Sports Editor

Lawyers do it and doctors do it. Truck drivers and insurance salesman have been known to also. Batters and bakers and candle stick makers are guilty too. And they all do it without a license, and often with little guidance, little direction and little help.

They're all guilty of coaching your kid. Youth sports, often the target of sometimes well deserved criticism, could certainly improve its various structures with a few ideas that are so simple it's a shame they haven't been incorporated as mandatory yet.

The Seminole Youth Sports Association has come up with an idea that's been a long time coming. Educate, inform, instruct and insist that the individual coaching your youngster have a thorough and complete understanding of young athletes, how to coach them, how to not coach them and why.

The SYSA has come up with something titled the National Youth Sports Training Center, an exploratory conference, with experts from the various sides of the sporting world brought together to aid the youth sports coach in gaining the proper background to constructively participate in the coaching of kids, regardless of what sport.

The first stab at this type of get-together is scheduled for the weekend of July 18th at the Altamonte Springs Racquet Club. The weekend workshop is open to the first 250 youth coaches to register, with an open invitation to all coaches in all youth sports.

Present plans call for an interesting agenda. One that covers everything from how to organize and run an effective practice session to the administrative side of youth sports such as all-important fund raising activities.

Depending upon his full NFL exhibition schedule, Irv Cross, the NFL Today's commentator and presently Chairman of the Board for Pop Warner Football will be the keynote speaker.

You may recall that Cross was on hand in Seminole County last Thanksgiving for the SYSA Pop Warner 50th Anniversary Celebration. I had the pleasure of several long talks with the former Eagle and Ram standout and the man is genuinely concerned about the future of youth sports. And he takes an extremely active role in Pop Warner affairs.

Other clinic notables scheduled to instruct include another familiar face to SYSA parents, Dr. Jack Llewellyn, the noted sports psychologist from Florida International University. His thoughts on youth sports are worth the price of admission alone.

Don Jonas, the University of Central Florida's football coach will also be on hand as will Lake Howell's head football coach Sammy Wier.

A pair of representatives from the sports manufacturing business, Mike Vineyard of Kramer Athletic Products and Howard Fagan of Medalist Industries will hold sessions on equipment safety and abuses.

One of the major monetary headaches of youth sports, insurance, will be covered by Doug Ruedinger of the Federation Fund while fund-raising workshops will be conducted by Herb Davis of New World Fund-Raising.

While coaches Jonas and Wier will handle sessions that cover the on field activities such as developing offenses and defenses, coaching fundamentals and getting the most out of players while they get the most out of participating, the often neglected aspects of youth sports like the care of injuries, how to handle awards and trophies, and getting the most out of mom and dad also will get equal time.

The youth sports workshop is only a small step towards minimizing some of the not-so-nice practices in youth sports. Perhaps it would be wise for a few Little League moms and dads to attend too.

SYSA executive director Don Ruedinger says the training weekend as the first step in what amounts to increasing coaches to participate in SYSA activities. "We'd like to see somewhere down the road that all of our coaches have been through this type of program before they take part in active coaching," Ruedinger pointed out.

"One of the biggest problems with youth sports, and it's a problem all over, is that the youth leagues are constantly in need of volunteers. Once they get warm bodies they give a guy a roster with a bunch of kids and say go to it. But seldom do the leagues themselves give that volunteer coach in the form of training, education and insight to aid him in pulling off a constructive and enjoyable sports season as well as giving the young athletes the proper perspective at a critical point in his or her athletic development."

UCF GRID BLITZ Butler Plaza in Seminole County got a little taste of football Friday afternoon. Local sports personalities joined live entertainment and members of the Atlanta Classic that hometown Larry Nelson is making a run at this year's championship because it lost its biggest draw when Jack Nicklaus missed the cut.

Photo courtesy of Walt Disney Productions

Disney Golf Concept

LAKE BUENA VISTA, FL — Construction is underway at the Walt Disney World Golf Resort on a new kind of junior golf course, which, according to PGA TOUR Commissioner Dean Berman heralds as a "breakthrough in bringing the game to a wider audience of young players."

The 6-hole, 1500-yard layout, which will open in late summer 1986, features two par-3 and three par-4 holes as well as one par-5 hole, making par-23 for 6 holes. Tees and greens will be covered with an artificial turf called "Mod Sod." The porous turf requires no maintenance, but can be top-dressed like conventional tees and greens.

Sand traps are small and flat and water hazards are small and only 24-inches deep so that balls may be easily retrieved. Both types of hazards are used sparingly on the junior course. Its designers hope it will be a prototype for courses all across the country, which may help establish a kind of "little league" program for young golfers.

The junior course features a unique yardage system. As Walt Disney World Golf Director Ritaux explains, "Junior yards will be used. A junior yard is a regulation yard plus one-third. This means that the par-4 280 yard No. 1 hole will be 372 junior yards."

Play on the PGA TOUR Wee Links Golf Course will be open to boys and girls age 18 and under. Junior players must have learned the rudiments of golf and golf etiquette before they will be allowed on the course.

Golf Studio teaching professionals will be on hand to offer instruction as part of the $2.00 fee for 6 holes. Clubs and golf-balls are included in the fee.

The PGA TOUR is funding the $200,000 project on land donated by Walt Disney World. The fees from junior play (and guest play during school hours) will go towards maintaining the junior course.

Two holes on the Magnolia Course are being modified to accommodate the PGA TOUR Wee Links course, changes which Ritaux says will enhance the championship course.

The changes involve the No. 10 hole to the south and No. 14 hole to the north, which form two sides of the rectangle which encompasses the new junior course. The west end borders on No. 13 and the east end on the Magnolia practice range.

The 10th fairway will now slide to the left with a large mound constructed on the right side as a protective buffer to help insure the safety of junior players by keeping errant golf balls off of the junior course.

Hole No. 14 on the Magnolia Course will be shifted 300 feet northward with a dogleg to the right, again helping to keep stray balls from the course from interfering with junior play. "Golf is a game of opportunity," Phil Ritaux enthuses. "And Commissioner Berman feels that the opportunity should be there for those juniors who want to pursue the game. The Wee Links course will enable youngsters who may never have been on a golf course to be exposed to the fundamentals of the game in an environment geared specifically to their skill levels."

SPORTS IN BRIEF

City Of Longwood Begins Summer Youth Programs

The Longwood Recreation Department is now holding registration for their Summer Program, due to begin Monday, June 16. To register you must come by the City Hall and fill out registration forms and the fees will be collected there also.

The program will be Monday through Friday from 10:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. Children must be 6 yrs. old (or entering first grade Sept. 1986) to 12 years old. Fees must be paid by June 13 for the first session and by July 18 for the second session.

In addition to sports, games, arts and crafts, and movies, there will be special events each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoon for bowling, swimming, and skating. Fees are based on the number of children in a family participating, and city or county residency. Mothers who would like to volunteer to assist for special events can do so at City Hall.

For further information, come to City Hall and ask for Tina Anderson, Recreation Director, or call 831-0555.

Sanford Selects All-Star Squads

A pair of 18-player all-star teams have been selected to represent the Sanford Little American League and the Sanford Little National League in upcoming tournament competition.

The Sanford Americans and the Sanford Nationals will join Paola and Tavares in a four-team, double-elimination sub-district tournament which opens June 23 at Fort Mellon Park in Sanford.

The winner of the sub-district tournament will advance to the District IV tournament in Clermont and the winner of the district tournament advances to the state tournament.

American League champ Atlantic Club placed seven players on that league's all-star team, while second place Flagship Bank and Seminole Petroleum each put four players on the team.

Representing Atlantic Bank are Brian Ashcraft, Joey Evans, Eddie Korgan, Doug Atkinson, Monsour Baker, Jeff Melton and David Rapke.

Flagship Bank players Horace Knight, Brian Sheffield, Darris Little and Terry Miller made the all-star team, while Reginald Hayes, Billy Penick, Tommy Mitchell and Timmy McKinney were picked from Seminole Petroleum.

Mike Edwards and Scott Carter were picked to represent George's, while Chris Jones was selected from Jack Prosser Ford.

Doug Atkinson will coach the Sanford Americans, assisted by Ed Korgan and Don Melton. First Federal, the second place team in the Sanford Little National League, put six teams on the all-star team, while first place Railroaders had five players named to the all-star squad.

Heading the list of Railroaders players is Donald Grayson who ended the regular season with 10 home runs in his final five games. He will be joined by teammates Terrance Carr, Dewayne Mitchell, J.D. Paul and Albert Armstrong.

Players selected from First Federal were Roger Hall, Kirk Blocker, Craig Dixon, Gary Cooper, Vernon Ramassar and Michael Wright.

Sunniland Corporation placed Jasper Collins, Theodore Graham, Dee Johnson and Greg Merithe on the National League team, while Larry Lemon, Dexter Franklin and Bryan Debose were picked from Poppa Jay's.

W.J. Ward Sr. will coach the Sanford Nationals, assisted by Jeff Ward and Sid Griffin.

Sunniland Dumps Deluxe

All but two of Sunniland's 12-man roster notched base hits Wednesday night to spark Sunniland to an 11-4 win over Delux Bar in Sanford Men's Softball League action.

Another big hit contest saw Oviedo Auto Paris contend for 17 hits, good for a 16-8 win over Associated Sales & Engineering.

Pages collected a total of 16 hits in his 15-11 victory over Rich Plan while Westgate came out on top in a slugfest with Kiwanis.

Sanford Youth Baseball Roundup

Wynn Sparks Kitwanis With No-Hitter

Kiwanis pushed its second half record to 7-0 and its overall mark to 16-0 with a 19-1 win over Elks Friday night behind the no-hit pitching of William Wynn.

In Friday's other Junior League tilt, V.F.W. won 10-4 over Elks.

Wynn struck out eight in the game which was shortened to four innings under the 10-run lead rule.

V.F.W. scored six runs in the final three frames to break open a 4-1 tie.

Table with columns for Butch's Chevron Service, Clem Leonard Shell, and other teams, listing players and statistics.

Table with columns for V.F.W. Moore, Elks, and other teams, listing players and statistics.

Kenny Walls of Butch's Chevron is all-concentration as he takes a cut at the plate during Friday night's Sanford Youth Baseball League action.

American League Roundup

Brewers Welcome Bamberger With 21-Hit Salute

By United Press International The Milwaukee Brewers saluted the return of their manager, George Bamberger, Friday night with a 21-run hitting display.

Bamberger, 54, has been convalescing from heart bypass surgery March 27 after suffering a heart attack in spring training at Sun City, Ariz.

"The operation has made me 100 percent," said Bamberger. "I wanted to come back as manager because I think this club can win the pennant. I'm just fine now and when I leave baseball I want to leave because I got tired of it."

The Brewers flexed their muscles in the fourth inning when they clubbed Pat Underwood, 0-4, for five runs. Mike Caldwell, 5-2, pitched the first seven innings to pick up the victory.

Bamberger received a two-minute standing ovation in a pre-game ceremony as the 4-8, but when Jeff Burroughs stepped to the plate with two out in the seventh inning and the Dodger lefthander, still bidding for instant immortality, the Brewer's center fielder figured the odds had to be in his favor.

"As a hitter you never believe any pitcher has good enough stuff to pitch a no-hitter against you," Burroughs said after his no-hitter. Sure I thought about it."

Reggie Smith and Ron Cey homered off loser Phil Niekro, 4-8, but when Jeff Burroughs stepped to the plate with two out in the seventh inning and the Dodger lefthander, still bidding for instant immortality, the Brewer's center fielder figured the odds had to be in his favor.

Burroughs said after his no-hitter. Sure I thought about it."

Reggie Smith and Ron Cey homered off loser Phil Niekro, 4-8, but when Jeff Burroughs stepped to the plate with two out in the seventh inning and the Dodger lefthander, still bidding for instant immortality, the Brewer's center fielder figured the odds had to be in his favor.

Reggie Smith and Ron Cey homered off loser Phil Niekro, 4-8, but when Jeff Burroughs stepped to the plate with two out in the seventh inning and the Dodger lefthander, still bidding for instant immortality, the Brewer's center fielder figured the odds had to be in his favor.

Sanford Foursome Starts Tournament Preparations

Paul Harkness, catcher for Butch's Chevron makes a run saving tag at the plate on a sliding Michael Hartman, attempting to score a run for Clem Leonard Shell in Friday's Sanford Youth Baseball League play.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Table showing American League standings for teams like Butch's Chevron, Seminole Petroleum, etc.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Table showing National League standings for teams like Railroaders, First Federal, etc.

Bambi Celebrates Warm Return To Brewers

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The calendar said June 6 but it was opening day for George Bamberger.

The near-capacity crowd gave him a two-minute standing ovation Friday night, then serenaded him with "Welcome Bambi," sung to the tune of Hello Dolly.

"This is like opening day to me," he said, "but tonight every eyeball in the place is on me. It's kind of scary."

"When things get tough, he says the darndest things... It breaks up the tension and before you know it we get a hit and start winning," said Sorenson.

"I think that's what he does best," Sorenson added. Bamberger, 54, suffered a heart attack in spring training at Sun City, Ariz., and underwent the heart bypass operation March 27.

"Whenever you have a heart problem, everyone assumes you are a basket case," said Bamberger. "But I'm just fine now and when I leave baseball I want to leave because I got tired of it."

He has hinted he might return again next year if his health holds up and if the Brewers win the pennant.

National League Roundup

By United Press International Jerry Reuss doesn't hide the fact that he thinks no-hitter first time he has a strong first inning.

By United Press International Jerry Reuss doesn't hide the fact that he thinks no-hitter first time he has a strong first inning.

By United Press International Jerry Reuss doesn't hide the fact that he thinks no-hitter first time he has a strong first inning.

SCOREBOARD

Baseball

Major League Standings
National League East
Pittsburgh 28 20 50
Montreal 26 20 54
Philadelphia 25 21 43
Chicago 21 25 47
New York 18 31 50

Today's Games
Pittsburgh at New York
Montreal at Philadelphia
Chicago at St. Louis

Friday's Results
New York 31 18 43
Montreal 26 20 54
Philadelphia 25 21 43

Today's Games
Pittsburgh at New York
Montreal at Philadelphia
Chicago at St. Louis

Friday's Results
New York 31 18 43
Montreal 26 20 54
Philadelphia 25 21 43

Today's Games
Pittsburgh at New York
Montreal at Philadelphia
Chicago at St. Louis

Friday's Results
New York 31 18 43
Montreal 26 20 54
Philadelphia 25 21 43

Today's Games
Pittsburgh at New York
Montreal at Philadelphia
Chicago at St. Louis

Friday's Results
New York 31 18 43
Montreal 26 20 54
Philadelphia 25 21 43

Mike Burgermeister

Seminole Winners

The Seminole Community College Raiders have announced the recipients of the 1980 SCC Most Outstanding Scholar Awards.

Patricia Arnold

Tennis Anyone?

By LARRY CATTLE

Different Strokes, Different Levels

Overheard at a recent tennis tournament, "I can't believe I lost this morning, the guy beat me 6-0, 6-0. When I won yesterday I played so well and then this morning I just couldn't seem to get a ball in."

French Open Update

Gerulaitis Bounces Connors

PARIS (UPI) — Sweden's top-seeded Bjorn Borg aims for a record fifth men's singles title Sunday at the $650,000 French Open tennis championships.

Arizona Wins College Series

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — Coach Jerry Kindall said his Arizona Wildcats won the 1980 NCAA College World Series by defeating Hawaii, 5-3, Friday night because they are "too tough inside," never giving up when faced with adversity.

Area Business Spotlight

Dixie Davenport (left) has been named director of media relations for state Sen. Vince Fechtel Jr.'s congressional campaign.

Thomas D. Purdy (right), vice president and senior trust officer of Sun First National Bank of Orlando, has been promoted to the responsibility of district trust executive for the parent company, Sun Banks of Florida Inc.

Cardinal Complex Opens

The Rollingwood Apartments on Red Bug east of Casselberry has opened a 40-unit second section. The complex, developed by Cardinal Industries, now has 104 apartments.

Orange Growers Worried

May rains have placed Florida's citrus trees in generally excellent condition but growers are concerned that the 1980 to 1981 orange juice crop will be seriously reduced, United Growers said recently.

Delta Opens Boston Route

Travel horizons were broadened for central Florida travelers on June 1, when Delta Air Lines will inaugurate nonstop service between Orlando and Boston.

Delta Opens Boston Route

Travel horizons were broadened for central Florida travelers on June 1, when Delta Air Lines will inaugurate nonstop service between Orlando and Boston.

Business Head Pallot Dead

MIAMI — (UPI) — Services were held Friday at Temple Beth Am for Richard A. Pallot, a banker and former chairman of the Florida Board of Business Regulation.

Graham To Tout Business

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham is heading north to visit Florida as a business leader.

Forest City Bank To Open

F. Stewart Green, president of the State Bank of Forest City has announced the new Sanford branch on Airport Boulevard will open for business at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Forest City Bank To Open

F. Stewart Green, president of the State Bank of Forest City has announced the new Sanford branch on Airport Boulevard will open for business at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

BUSINESS

IN BRIEF

Longwood Resident Named To Lead Tax Seminar

Margaret A. Bristow, a Longwood resident for 20 years, has been named H&R Block regional seminar coordinator for the region of south Georgia and Florida.

Watkins To Head Office

Archibald L. Watkins, a seven-year veteran of the savings and loan business, has been named manager of Florida Federal Savings and Loan Association's Altamonte Springs office.

Scotty's Boosts Sales

Scotty's, Inc., aided by the addition of a new store in Altamonte Springs, reported sales of $20 million for the four weeks ended May 24, an increase of 26 percent over sales of $16 million for the comparable period last year.

Cardinal Complex Opens

The Rollingwood Apartments on Red Bug east of Casselberry has opened a 40-unit second section. The complex, developed by Cardinal Industries, now has 104 apartments.

Orange Growers Worried

May rains have placed Florida's citrus trees in generally excellent condition but growers are concerned that the 1980 to 1981 orange juice crop will be seriously reduced, United Growers said recently.

Delta Opens Boston Route

Travel horizons were broadened for central Florida travelers on June 1, when Delta Air Lines will inaugurate nonstop service between Orlando and Boston.

Business Head Pallot Dead

MIAMI — (UPI) — Services were held Friday at Temple Beth Am for Richard A. Pallot, a banker and former chairman of the Florida Board of Business Regulation.

Graham To Tout Business

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham is heading north to visit Florida as a business leader.

Forest City Bank To Open

F. Stewart Green, president of the State Bank of Forest City has announced the new Sanford branch on Airport Boulevard will open for business at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Florida Palms Big Hit At Canadian Show

At right, Jerry Sooval, vice president of the Florida Nurserymen and Growers Association, supervises the loading of a 10,000-pound tree for the exhibition. Below, some of the more than 250,000 visitors to the show view the Florida-United States exhibit at the show.

Group Of State Growers Brings Home Top Awards

A complete tropical setting of palms, orchids and more than a thousand other trees and foliage plants was conveyed up the east coast and across the Canadian border recently to represent the United States in the Montreal International Floraria.

The exhibit was prepared by the Florida Nurserymen and Growers Association as part of a 21-city horticultural display held in the huge Olympic velodrome.

Five semi-trailer trucks were needed to transport the 1,212 trees, flowers and plants, which ranged from a 28-stalk Mauritius palm weighing 10,000 pounds to delicate orchids and ferns.

The exhibit was prepared by the Florida Nurserymen and Growers Association as part of a 21-city horticultural display held in the huge Olympic velodrome.

For a full day, international juries prowled the 21 nations' entries, evaluating each one. The result was four awards to the United States display: a second grand prize in honor of overall excellence, plus three second place awards for the best display of nursery stock, foliage plants, and of bromeliads and orchids.

Pierre Bourque, chief horticulturist of the Florist said: "Something so very rare (four awards in a country's first attempt) speaks well, not only of the association involved, but also of the industry itself."

The exhibition was the culmination of joint efforts on the part of the United States government, the state of Florida and the Florida Nurserymen and Growers Association. The association enlisted the help of many of its 1,500 members and their special talents, as well as a crew of 15 university students, to create, transport and install the display.

The wholesale nursery industry in Florida provides 47 percent of the ornamental and foliage plants sold in the United States. Industry sales have grown 1,000 percent in 10 years in 1978, sales were $27.59 million in the U.S. Canada is also a rapidly growing market.

The concept and design of the total project was handled by Robert L. Hartwig, state president of the association and a registered landscape architect, and Bill Willis, both of the Hartwig and Associates firm in Jacksonville.

Coordination of the project was directed by association's wholesale and contracting divisions, including Jerry Sooval, East March Nursery, Dania; Robert Sully, Jones and Scully, Inc., Miami; and David Felt, Kraft Gardens, Inc., Deerfield. Installation of the exhibit was directed by two Florida landscape contractors, Wayne Hardy, Vista Landscaping, Orlando, and Bruce McClendon, BeMac Services, Tampa.

The rock waterfall was built by Gus Urell, Delray Beach, who is a specialist in waterfall creations.

For a full day, international juries prowled the 21 nations' entries, evaluating each one. The result was four awards to the United States display: a second grand prize in honor of overall excellence, plus three second place awards for the best display of nursery stock, foliage plants, and of bromeliads and orchids.

AREA BUSINESS SPOTLIGHT

Dixie Davenport (left) has been named director of media relations for state Sen. Vince Fechtel Jr.'s congressional campaign.

Thomas D. Purdy (right), vice president and senior trust officer of Sun First National Bank of Orlando, has been promoted to the responsibility of district trust executive for the parent company, Sun Banks of Florida Inc.

Dr. Cliff Eubanks (left), dean of the University of Central Florida College of Business Administration, joined by Sanford's O'Connor center, and Dr. Hazel Exzell, national secretary-treasurer of Beta Sigma Phi, chat at the installation ceremonies of the new UCF chapter of the national honor society for business administration students.

Dr. Cliff Eubanks (left), dean of the University of Central Florida College of Business Administration, joined by Sanford's O'Connor center, and Dr. Hazel Exzell, national secretary-treasurer of Beta Sigma Phi, chat at the installation ceremonies of the new UCF chapter of the national honor society for business administration students.

Dr. Cliff Eubanks (left), dean of the University of Central Florida College of Business Administration, joined by Sanford's O'Connor center, and Dr. Hazel Exzell, national secretary-treasurer of Beta Sigma Phi, chat at the installation ceremonies of the new UCF chapter of the national honor society for business administration students.

Slow Housing Recovery Seen For 1981

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A housing recession lasting the rest of the year with a slow and agonizing recovery in 1981 was forecast recently by leading housing and economic observers.

Special to the Herald
WASHINGTON, D.C. — A housing recession lasting the rest of the year with a slow and agonizing recovery in 1981 was forecast recently by leading housing and economic observers.

Leonard Santow, economist, said the prime rate could fall to 10 percent by June and 10 percent by the first half of next year.

Special to the Herald
Leonard Santow, economist, said the prime rate could fall to 10 percent by June and 10 percent by the first half of next year.

But don't expect the badly overstressed consumer to jump right back into the market, he cautioned. "It will be next spring before we see any kind of life in the housing market."

Special to the Herald
But don't expect the badly overstressed consumer to jump right back into the market, he cautioned. "It will be next spring before we see any kind of life in the housing market."

Task Force on Housing, GOP congressional leaders proposed a broad housing program that they said would provide immediate relief to the ailing housing industry as well as set in motion long term solutions that would insulate the extremely credit sensitive industry from its perennial boom and bust cycles in the future.

Special to the Herald
Task Force on Housing, GOP congressional leaders proposed a broad housing program that they said would provide immediate relief to the ailing housing industry as well as set in motion long term solutions that would insulate the extremely credit sensitive industry from its perennial boom and bust cycles in the future.

The GOP housing program called for, among other things, the immediate lifting of restrictions on tax exempt mortgage bonds for single family housing and passage of legislation that would exempt from taxation interest earned on savings accounts.

Special to the Herald
The GOP housing program called for, among other things, the immediate lifting of restrictions on tax exempt mortgage bonds for single family housing and passage of legislation that would exempt from taxation interest earned on savings accounts.

Republican Plans Delight Builders

Merrill Butler, president of the National Association of Home Builders, said recently he was delighted that the Republican National Committee and GOP leaders in Congress have singled out a speedy recovery of the housing industry and a stable production rate thereafter as one of their top economic goals for the 1980s.

Task Force on Housing, GOP congressional leaders proposed a broad housing program that they said would provide immediate relief to the ailing housing industry as well as set in motion long term solutions that would insulate the extremely credit sensitive industry from its perennial boom and bust cycles in the future.

The GOP housing program called for, among other things, the immediate lifting of restrictions on tax exempt mortgage bonds for single family housing and passage of legislation that would exempt from taxation interest earned on savings accounts.

Special to the Herald
The GOP housing program called for, among other things, the immediate lifting of restrictions on tax exempt mortgage bonds for single family housing and passage of legislation that would exempt from taxation interest earned on savings accounts.

15th Anniversary
You are invited to celebrate our... 15th Anniversary
PRIZE GIVE-AWAY! HUNDREDS OF DOLLARS GIVEN AWAY DURING OUR JUNE ANNIVERSARY MONTH.
CLEM LEONARD'S SHELL SERVICE
2500 Park Avenue, Sanford 322-9430 • 322-9914

Legal Notice
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE EIGHTEENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT, SEMINOLE COUNTY, FLORIDA...

Legal Notice
WHEREAS, The City Commission of the City of Altamonte Springs, Florida...

Legal Notice
NOTICE OF SALE
Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the Summary Final Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale entered in the cause pending in the Circuit Court...

Legal Notice
WHEREAS, The City Commission of the City of Altamonte Springs, Florida...

Legal Notice
NOTICE TO PUBLIC TO REQUEST FOR RELEASE OF AIDS
Housing Authority of the City of Sanford, Florida...

Legal Notice
TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, GROUPS AND PERSONS:
On or about June 20, 1986, the above named City will request the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development to release Federal funds under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (PL 93-383) for the following project:

Legal Notice
NOTICE OF INTENTION TO RESIGN
FICTITIOUS NAME

Legal Notice
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, pursuant to Florida Statute 68.09, that the undersigned, desiring to engage in business under the fictitious name of COMPLETE AUTO OR DELRANO, at 327 West High Street, Altamonte Springs, Florida...

Legal Notice
WHEREAS, The City Commission of the City of Altamonte Springs, Florida...

CLASSIFIED ADS
Seminole Orlando-Winter Park
322-2611 831-9993
HOURS
1 time 44c line
3 consecutive times 36c a line
7 consecutive times 29c a line

DEADLINES
Noon the Day Before Publication
Sunday - Noon Friday

3-Cemeteries
2-Choice Lots in nicest section.
Valued at $700, sacrifice $500 each. Call 642-1234.

4-Personals
Why be lonely? Write "Get A Mate" Dating Service.
Special Summer Program $12.97. Includes weekly swim, hike, movies. Sanford 524-7245.

5-Lost & Found
LOST: Ladies yellow gold Watchband in Sanford. Reward $30.500.
Call 642-1234.

Legal Notice
NOTICE OF INTENTION TO RESIGN
FICTITIOUS NAME

Legal Notice
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, pursuant to Florida Statute 68.09, that the undersigned, desiring to engage in business under the fictitious name of COMPLETE AUTO OR DELRANO, at 327 West High Street, Altamonte Springs, Florida...

Legal Notice
NOTICE OF INTENTION TO RESIGN
FICTITIOUS NAME

Legal Notice
WHEREAS, The City Commission of the City of Altamonte Springs, Florida...

18-Help Wanted
GENERAL LABORERS—Day shift. Apply at American Wood Products Mill Office, 300 Marvyn Ave. Longwood.
CLASSIFIED ADS ARE FUN. READ & USE THEM. YOU'LL LIKE THE RESULTS.

18-Help Wanted
In our company paid training program, we teach you salesmanship and product application. You will learn sales techniques used by Hydrant Salesmen who regularly are in the top income bracket each year.

29-Rooms
Sanford Gracious living, Rm. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

30-Apartments Unfurnished
1BR—$200 up. Pool, adults only on Lake Ada. Just So. of P.O. Box 401, Clearwater. Call 322-4477.

2565 322-2420
2525 323-2222
REALTORS
Multiple Listing Service

STOP WASTING YOUR TIME AND ENERGY LOOK AT SOME OF THE JOBS WE HAVE
BOOKKEEPER—The opportunity has been waiting for you for a long time. We have a position available for a bookkeeper in our Sanford office. Call 323-5176.

323-5176
COMPARE
WHERE THE ACTION IS
AAA EMPLOYMENT
912 French Ave.

TREATMENT PLANT
Sanford is a 1300 Weekly. Company of the City of Sanford, Florida. We are seeking a qualified person to fill the position of Plant Operator. Call 323-5176.

31-Apartments Furnished
1BR—$200 up. Pool, adults only on Lake Ada. Just So. of P.O. Box 401, Clearwater. Call 322-4477.

18-Help Wanted
GENERAL LABORERS—Day shift. Apply at American Wood Products Mill Office, 300 Marvyn Ave. Longwood.
CLASSIFIED ADS ARE FUN. READ & USE THEM. YOU'LL LIKE THE RESULTS.

18-Help Wanted
In our company paid training program, we teach you salesmanship and product application. You will learn sales techniques used by Hydrant Salesmen who regularly are in the top income bracket each year.

29-Rooms
Sanford Gracious living, Rm. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

30-Apartments Unfurnished
1BR—$200 up. Pool, adults only on Lake Ada. Just So. of P.O. Box 401, Clearwater. Call 322-4477.

2565 322-2420
2525 323-2222
REALTORS
Multiple Listing Service

STOP WASTING YOUR TIME AND ENERGY LOOK AT SOME OF THE JOBS WE HAVE
BOOKKEEPER—The opportunity has been waiting for you for a long time. We have a position available for a bookkeeper in our Sanford office. Call 323-5176.

323-5176
COMPARE
WHERE THE ACTION IS
AAA EMPLOYMENT
912 French Ave.

TREATMENT PLANT
Sanford is a 1300 Weekly. Company of the City of Sanford, Florida. We are seeking a qualified person to fill the position of Plant Operator. Call 323-5176.

31-Apartments Furnished
1BR—$200 up. Pool, adults only on Lake Ada. Just So. of P.O. Box 401, Clearwater. Call 322-4477.

41-Houses
FOREST CITY AREA—3 bdrm, 1 bath, carpeted, central H.A., remodeled kitchen, large living room, $12,500 down, amenable to mortgages. Asking $34,500. Terms negotiable. Call 323-5231 or Mr. A. H. McCall.

STENSTROM REALTY - REALTORS
Sanford's Sales Leader
WE LIST AND SELL MORE HOMES THAN ANYONE IN THE SANFORD AREA

41-Houses
3 BDRM Block Home in Gold Spots $25,000.
2 BDRM Remodeled, excellent condition $18,000.

41-Houses
HOME 1 BR, 2 Bath, 2 story, 2 1/2 lots, fenced yard, 17th Street, Sanford. Call for Details.

41-Houses
BATEMAN REALTY
Classified Ads will always give you more... Much... Much... More than you expect.

41-Houses
EREA
LOOKING FOR RESIDENTIAL LOT IN LAKE MARY? Give us a call. We have several available.

41-Houses
FRICKE & FRICKE ASSOCIATES, INC.
REALTORS, MLS
5th St., 1/2 City Blvd.
322-5253

41-Houses
St. Johns Realty Company
The Time Tested Firm.
1201 Park Ave. 322-6123

41-Houses
STENSTROM REALTY - REALTORS
OPEN HOUSE
KENTWOOD DRIVE
Wilson Place (W.44A)
Follow the signs to our beautiful new custom built Brick home on a large wooded site with every imaginable feature.

41-Houses
3 BDRM Block Home in Gold Spots $25,000.
2 BDRM Remodeled, excellent condition $18,000.

41-Houses
HOME 1 BR, 2 Bath, 2 story, 2 1/2 lots, fenced yard, 17th Street, Sanford. Call for Details.

41-Houses
EREA
LOOKING FOR RESIDENTIAL LOT IN LAKE MARY? Give us a call. We have several available.

41-Houses
FRICKE & FRICKE ASSOCIATES, INC.
REALTORS, MLS
5th St., 1/2 City Blvd.
322-5253

41-Houses
St. Johns Realty Company
The Time Tested Firm.
1201 Park Ave. 322-6123

41-Houses
STENSTROM REALTY - REALTORS
OPEN HOUSE
KENTWOOD DRIVE
Wilson Place (W.44A)
Follow the signs to our beautiful new custom built Brick home on a large wooded site with every imaginable feature.

41-Houses
3 BDRM Block Home in Gold Spots $25,000.
2 BDRM Remodeled, excellent condition $18,000.

41-Houses
HOME 1 BR, 2 Bath, 2 story, 2 1/2 lots, fenced yard, 17th Street, Sanford. Call for Details.

41-Houses
EREA
LOOKING FOR RESIDENTIAL LOT IN LAKE MARY? Give us a call. We have several available.

41-Houses
FRICKE & FRICKE ASSOCIATES, INC.
REALTORS, MLS
5th St., 1/2 City Blvd.
322-5253

41-Houses
St. Johns Realty Company
The Time Tested Firm.
1201 Park Ave. 322-6123

41-Houses
STENSTROM REALTY - REALTORS
OPEN HOUSE
KENTWOOD DRIVE
Wilson Place (W.44A)
Follow the signs to our beautiful new custom built Brick home on a large wooded site with every imaginable feature.

41-Houses
3 BDRM Block Home in Gold Spots $25,000.
2 BDRM Remodeled, excellent condition $18,000.

41-Houses
HOME 1 BR, 2 Bath, 2 story, 2 1/2 lots, fenced yard, 17th Street, Sanford. Call for Details.

41-Houses
EREA
LOOKING FOR RESIDENTIAL LOT IN LAKE MARY? Give us a call. We have several available.

41-Houses
FRICKE & FRICKE ASSOCIATES, INC.
REALTORS, MLS
5th St., 1/2 City Blvd.
322-5253

41-Houses
St. Johns Realty Company
The Time Tested Firm.
1201 Park Ave. 322-6123

41-Houses
STENSTROM REALTY - REALTORS
OPEN HOUSE
KENTWOOD DRIVE
Wilson Place (W.44A)
Follow the signs to our beautiful new custom built Brick home on a large wooded site with every imaginable feature.

41-Houses
3 BDRM Block Home in Gold Spots $25,000.
2 BDRM Remodeled, excellent condition $18,000.

41-Houses
HOME 1 BR, 2 Bath, 2 story, 2 1/2 lots, fenced yard, 17th Street, Sanford. Call for Details.

41-Houses
EREA
LOOKING FOR RESIDENTIAL LOT IN LAKE MARY? Give us a call. We have several available.

41-Houses
FRICKE & FRICKE ASSOCIATES, INC.
REALTORS, MLS
5th St., 1/2 City Blvd.
322-5253

41-Houses
St. Johns Realty Company
The Time Tested Firm.
1201 Park Ave. 322-6123

41-Houses
STENSTROM REALTY - REALTORS
OPEN HOUSE
KENTWOOD DRIVE
Wilson Place (W.44A)
Follow the signs to our beautiful new custom built Brick home on a large wooded site with every imaginable feature.

41-Houses
3 BDRM Block Home in Gold Spots $25,000.
2 BDRM Remodeled, excellent condition $18,000.

41-Houses
HOME 1 BR, 2 Bath, 2 story, 2 1/2 lots, fenced yard, 17th Street, Sanford. Call for Details.

41-Houses
EREA
LOOKING FOR RESIDENTIAL LOT IN LAKE MARY? Give us a call. We have several available.

64-Horses
Nasquitano "Sara" "Famous Lipizzan" stud to approved mares. $10,000. Full blooded. Also available. (305) 331-8884.

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
Nasquitano "Sara" "Famous Lipizzan" stud to approved mares. $10,000. Full blooded. Also available. (305) 331-8884.

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
Nasquitano "Sara" "Famous Lipizzan" stud to approved mares. $10,000. Full blooded. Also available. (305) 331-8884.

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
Nasquitano "Sara" "Famous Lipizzan" stud to approved mares. $10,000. Full blooded. Also available. (305) 331-8884.

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
Nasquitano "Sara" "Famous Lipizzan" stud to approved mares. $10,000. Full blooded. Also available. (305) 331-8884.

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
Nasquitano "Sara" "Famous Lipizzan" stud to approved mares. $10,000. Full blooded. Also available. (305) 331-8884.

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
Nasquitano "Sara" "Famous Lipizzan" stud to approved mares. $10,000. Full blooded. Also available. (305) 331-8884.

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
Nasquitano "Sara" "Famous Lipizzan" stud to approved mares. $10,000. Full blooded. Also available. (305) 331-8884.

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
Nasquitano "Sara" "Famous Lipizzan" stud to approved mares. $10,000. Full blooded. Also available. (305) 331-8884.

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5000
Phone 322-6440

64-Horses
DAYTONA AUTO AUCTION
1979 Mercury Monterey
Rear window 5

Vernon Jordan's Unspectacular, But Sorely Needed

(The Evening Herald today presents a sampling of opinion from editorials in newspapers across the nation.)
By United Press International

Los Angeles Times: Another national leader, one of the most reasonable and effective voices in the struggle for social justice in America, has fallen victim to violence, but Vernon E. Jordan Jr., the head of the National Urban League, is expected to live. That is comforting news for his family, and reassuring news for the nation.

...only hours before he was shot...he told his audience that it would be irresponsible to threaten a "long, hot summer or to excuse senseless violence that ultimately solves nothing," but he also warned that it would be irresponsible "to ignore the need to meet the legitimate aspirations of the minority poor."

...in 1972, on the death of Whitney Young, he succeeded Young as the Executive Director of the league. In that position, he focused his efforts against racial discrimination in employment, education and housing.

His influence expanded steadily, and he was invited to sit on the boards of some of the nation's largest corporations and foundations. These positions helped him implement his firm belief that substantial change could be brought about by working within the political and economic system. He involved himself in patient, tedious work to hard problems with tenacious but reasonable. An aide said, "Jordan is the one guy who can talk to everybody and anybody."

...Jordan maintained his faith, resisted despair and rejected violence. All Americans of goodwill will find in hoping for his recovery. There are too few leaders like him. He is needed.

Brockton, Mass., Enterprise: These are trying times for the United States; events seem to be conspiring to make us appear ridiculous in the eyes of the world.

Castro opened the way for refugees to flood into this country...Apparently, though, he also opened his jails, prisons and leper colonies, ridding himself of the sick, the mad and the vicious and dumping them upon our shores.

Our enemies and our so-called friends abroad could scarcely suppress their glee.

And now many of those to whom we offered succor have turned upon us, enraged by delays in processing at hastily-organized refugee camps.

...It seems that whatever we attempt these days, regardless of our good intentions, we end up looking like blundering Americans.

Surely, then, this is as good a time as any to remind the world that, 21 years after the Cuban revolution, one out of every 14 Cubans in the world is a resident of this country. And they are still coming.

There are no Cubans trying to get back into Cuba, just as there are no Vietnamese trying to get back into Vietnam. Come to think about it, there are no oppressed people anywhere trying to flee toward the blessings offered by some socialist society...they all want to come here, to the United States, because life is better here than anywhere else in the world.

Killeen, Texas, Daily Herald: The Americans in Iran are still hostages, but suddenly there is no crisis, not because the situation has changed, but because the White House is behaving differently about it.

...Maybe this latest move by President Carter is sound. Some analysts have been saying for months there was no hope for negotiation with the Iranians until the spotlight is turned from them. The militants were enjoying their bandstanding too much to give it up, and the moderates could not operate in the glare of publicity, lest they seem to be appeasing the Americans.

This is not to say that morality or law would permit the president to forget the hostages. It is his obligation to do everything in his power to achieve their release. It is just that his efforts might now be made with less fanfare.

...there has been a peculiar lack of interest in pinpointing just how much technical help this country has provided Moscow which could have been used to enhance Soviet military capability.

Even more alarming, the Carter administration's Department of Commerce seems bent on cloaking in secrecy the entire question of technology transfer to the Russians. And some members of Congress, bowing to the wishes of major exporters, are determined to provide what columnist M. Stanton Evans has called a "comprehensive charter for continued cover-up."

Evans has been a leader in the effort to determine who is trading what to the Russians. The American people surely have an interest in knowing which products and sophisticated technology are going to our chief world rival. But hiding behind the alleged need to protect trade secrets and defend the "national interest," the Department of Commerce has steadfastly concealed as much information as possible.

The Dallas Morning News: ...a mere 0.3 percent rise in consumer prices during April?...the prime rate down below 15 percent. And mortgage rates sliding...Can it be...spring has come to the front-bitten, winter-ravaged American economy?

As a matter of fact, no...A big election's coming. The White House has a wretched economic record to defend...The Republicans, and even some anti-Carter Democrats, have been comparing the President to Herbert Hoover, of all people.

A tremendous temptation is...to pretend (because it would indeed be pretending) that inflation's back is broken and that it's time...to start pumping federal money into the economy by way of fighting inflation.

...Having brought on a recession in order to fight inflation, the White House now may be tempted to bring inflation back in order to fight Republicans. Steadiness of policy...is not the most conspicuous trait of this administration.

What's needed...is major cuts both in federal spending and taxes, so that the government disposes of less income and private people more, investing the money ultimately in plants and jobs and other things that produce new wealth.

The Dallas Morning News: ...the prime rate down below 15 percent. And mortgage rates sliding...Can it be...spring has come to the front-bitten, winter-ravaged American economy?

As a matter of fact, no...A big election's coming. The White House has a wretched economic record to defend...The Republicans, and even some anti-Carter Democrats, have been comparing the President to Herbert Hoover, of all people.

A tremendous temptation is...to pretend (because it would indeed be pretending) that inflation's back is broken and that it's time...to start pumping federal money into the economy by way of fighting inflation.

...Having brought on a recession in order to fight inflation, the White House now may be tempted to bring inflation back in order to fight Republicans. Steadiness of policy...is not the most conspicuous trait of this administration.

What's needed...is major cuts both in federal spending and taxes, so that the government disposes of less income and private people more, investing the money ultimately in plants and jobs and other things that produce new wealth.

...the prime rate down below 15 percent. And mortgage rates sliding...Can it be...spring has come to the front-bitten, winter-ravaged American economy?

As a matter of fact, no...A big election's coming. The White House has a wretched economic record to defend...The Republicans, and even some anti-Carter Democrats, have been comparing the President to Herbert Hoover, of all people.

A tremendous temptation is...to pretend (because it would indeed be pretending) that inflation's back is broken and that it's time...to start pumping federal money into the economy by way of fighting inflation.

...Having brought on a recession in order to fight inflation, the White House now may be tempted to bring inflation back in order to fight Republicans. Steadiness of policy...is not the most conspicuous trait of this administration.

What's needed...is major cuts both in federal spending and taxes, so that the government disposes of less income and private people more, investing the money ultimately in plants and jobs and other things that produce new wealth.

...the prime rate down below 15 percent. And mortgage rates sliding...Can it be...spring has come to the front-bitten, winter-ravaged American economy?

As a matter of fact, no...A big election's coming. The White House has a wretched economic record to defend...The Republicans, and even some anti-Carter Democrats, have been comparing the President to Herbert Hoover, of all people.

A tremendous temptation is...to pretend (because it would indeed be pretending) that inflation's back is broken and that it's time...to start pumping federal money into the economy by way of fighting inflation.

...Having brought on a recession in order to fight inflation, the White House now may be tempted to bring inflation back in order to fight Republicans. Steadiness of policy...is not the most conspicuous trait of this administration.

What's needed...is major cuts both in federal spending and taxes, so that the government disposes of less income and private people more, investing the money ultimately in plants and jobs and other things that produce new wealth.

...the prime rate down below 15 percent. And mortgage rates sliding...Can it be...spring has come to the front-bitten, winter-ravaged American economy?

As a matter of fact, no...A big election's coming. The White House has a wretched economic record to defend...The Republicans, and even some anti-Carter Democrats, have been comparing the President to Herbert Hoover, of all people.

A tremendous temptation is...to pretend (because it would indeed be pretending) that inflation's back is broken and that it's time...to start pumping federal money into the economy by way of fighting inflation.

Mr. Miller apparently believes that most of us are incapable of running our own financial lives, and that the average consumer can be manipulated by a wave of the Washington wand.

As with so many other Jimmy-come-lately policies that flow from the Oval Office these days, the Carter administration merely handed down its credit curb program in response to what was already happening. The ever-inflating dollar and the oncoming recession so scared most middle-income consumers that they simply got wise to the dangers of excessive credit.

But there's an ulterior motive beneath Mr. Miller's arrogance and braggadocio...His fear is that Carter policies are about to...help bring on a deeper recession than the administration ever anticipated.

Thus, what is wanted is for consumers to spend enough to get the president's faltering economic policy back on track before the fall election, regardless of the consumer...

Wheeling, W. Va., News-Register: ...there has been a peculiar lack of interest in pinpointing just how much technical help this country has provided Moscow which could have been used to enhance Soviet military capability.

Even more alarming, the Carter administration's Department of Commerce seems bent on cloaking in secrecy the entire question of technology transfer to the Russians. And some members of Congress, bowing to the wishes of major exporters, are determined to provide what columnist M. Stanton Evans has called a "comprehensive charter for continued cover-up."

Evans has been a leader in the effort to determine who is trading what to the Russians. The American people surely have an interest in knowing which products and sophisticated technology are going to our chief world rival. But hiding behind the alleged need to protect trade secrets and defend the "national interest," the Department of Commerce has steadfastly concealed as much information as possible.

The Dallas Morning News: ...a mere 0.3 percent rise in consumer prices during April?...the prime rate down below 15 percent. And mortgage rates sliding...Can it be...spring has come to the front-bitten, winter-ravaged American economy?

As a matter of fact, no...A big election's coming. The White House has a wretched economic record to defend...The Republicans, and even some anti-Carter Democrats, have been comparing the President to Herbert Hoover, of all people.

A tremendous temptation is...to pretend (because it would indeed be pretending) that inflation's back is broken and that it's time...to start pumping federal money into the economy by way of fighting inflation.

...Having brought on a recession in order to fight inflation, the White House now may be tempted to bring inflation back in order to fight Republicans. Steadiness of policy...is not the most conspicuous trait of this administration.

What's needed...is major cuts both in federal spending and taxes, so that the government disposes of less income and private people more, investing the money ultimately in plants and jobs and other things that produce new wealth.

The Dallas Morning News: ...the prime rate down below 15 percent. And mortgage rates sliding...Can it be...spring has come to the front-bitten, winter-ravaged American economy?

As a matter of fact, no...A big election's coming. The White House has a wretched economic record to defend...The Republicans, and even some anti-Carter Democrats, have been comparing the President to Herbert Hoover, of all people.

A tremendous temptation is...to pretend (because it would indeed be pretending) that inflation's back is broken and that it's time...to start pumping federal money into the economy by way of fighting inflation.

...Having brought on a recession in order to fight inflation, the White House now may be tempted to bring inflation back in order to fight Republicans. Steadiness of policy...is not the most conspicuous trait of this administration.

What's needed...is major cuts both in federal spending and taxes, so that the government disposes of less income and private people more, investing the money ultimately in plants and jobs and other things that produce new wealth.

...the prime rate down below 15 percent. And mortgage rates sliding...Can it be...spring has come to the front-bitten, winter-ravaged American economy?

As a matter of fact, no...A big election's coming. The White House has a wretched economic record to defend...The Republicans, and even some anti-Carter Democrats, have been comparing the President to Herbert Hoover, of all people.

A tremendous temptation is...to pretend (because it would indeed be pretending) that inflation's back is broken and that it's time...to start pumping federal money into the economy by way of fighting inflation.

...Having brought on a recession in order to fight inflation, the White House now may be tempted to bring inflation back in order to fight Republicans. Steadiness of policy...is not the most conspicuous trait of this administration.

What's needed...is major cuts both in federal spending and taxes, so that the government disposes of less income and private people more, investing the money ultimately in plants and jobs and other things that produce new wealth.

...the prime rate down below 15 percent. And mortgage rates sliding...Can it be...spring has come to the front-bitten, winter-ravaged American economy?

As a matter of fact, no...A big election's coming. The White House has a wretched economic record to defend...The Republicans, and even some anti-Carter Democrats, have been comparing the President to Herbert Hoover, of all people.

A tremendous temptation is...to pretend (because it would indeed be pretending) that inflation's back is broken and that it's time...to start pumping federal money into the economy by way of fighting inflation.

...Having brought on a recession in order to fight inflation, the White House now may be tempted to bring inflation back in order to fight Republicans. Steadiness of policy...is not the most conspicuous trait of this administration.

What's needed...is major cuts both in federal spending and taxes, so that the government disposes of less income and private people more, investing the money ultimately in plants and jobs and other things that produce new wealth.

...the prime rate down below 15 percent. And mortgage rates sliding...Can it be...spring has come to the front-bitten, winter-ravaged American economy?

As a matter of fact, no...A big election's coming. The White House has a wretched economic record to defend...The Republicans, and even some anti-Carter Democrats, have been comparing the President to Herbert Hoover, of all people.

A tremendous temptation is...to pretend (because it would indeed be pretending) that inflation's back is broken and that it's time...to start pumping federal money into the economy by way of fighting inflation.

...aren't likely to get back to (prosperity) by lurching from crisis to crisis, one eye cocked ever on the next election.

Charlotte, N.C., Observer: The Social Security Administration is seeking input from different organizations by calling a town meeting on the topic "Social Security in a Changing Society."

The meeting will be held on June 14 from 9:30 a.m. to noon in the auditorium of the John Young Museum at the Florida State University campus, 110 East Hollis St., Orlando, in the building of the Loch Haven Park area.

Representative Bill Nelson, 9th Florida Congressional District, will be the keynote speaker. There will also be discussion of Social Security issues such as financing, changing roles of men and women, and changing work and retirement patterns. Attending will be community opinion leaders such as the various media, congressional staff, business leaders, local elected officials, interest group leaders, etc.

For information call Guy Large, 420-6391.

Providence, R.I., Journal-Bulletin: Credit major league baseball's clubhouse and players with some sense, after all. These moguls of the sporting scene — both those on the field and in the executive offices — appeared for a while to have forgotten the people who make their big earnings possible: the fans. The latter would have borne the brunt of a baseball strike.

Fortunately, for the stability of the Republic, the issues were resolved. What were they? Who cares! Only the high-priced (overly high-priced?) players and their bosses raking it in at the box office really knew. All that the fans are concerned about is that the game goes on...

The Dallas Morning News: ...a mere 0.3 percent rise in consumer prices during April?...the prime rate down below 15 percent. And mortgage rates sliding...Can it be...spring has come to the front-bitten, winter-ravaged American economy?

As a matter of fact, no...A big election's coming. The White House has a wretched economic record to defend...The Republicans, and even some anti-Carter Democrats, have been comparing the President to Herbert Hoover, of all people.

A tremendous temptation is...to pretend (because it would indeed be pretending) that inflation's back is broken and that it's time...to start pumping federal money into the economy by way of fighting inflation.

...Having brought on a recession in order to fight inflation, the White House now may be tempted to bring inflation back in order to fight Republicans. Steadiness of policy...is not the most conspicuous trait of this administration.

What's needed...is major cuts both in federal spending and taxes, so that the government disposes of less income and private people more, investing the money ultimately in plants and jobs and other things that produce new wealth.

The Dallas Morning News: ...the prime rate down below 15 percent. And mortgage rates sliding...Can it be...spring has come to the front-bitten, winter-ravaged American economy?

As a matter of fact, no...A big election's coming. The White House has a wretched economic record to defend...The Republicans, and even some anti-Carter Democrats, have been comparing the President to Herbert Hoover, of all people.

A tremendous temptation is...to pretend (because it would indeed be pretending) that inflation's back is broken and that it's time...to start pumping federal money into the economy by way of fighting inflation.

...Having brought on a recession in order to fight inflation, the White House now may be tempted to bring inflation back in order to fight Republicans. Steadiness of policy...is not the most conspicuous trait of this administration.

What's needed...is major cuts both in federal spending and taxes, so that the government disposes of less income and private people more, investing the money ultimately in plants and jobs and other things that produce new wealth.

...the prime rate down below 15 percent. And mortgage rates sliding...Can it be...spring has come to the front-bitten, winter-ravaged American economy?

As a matter of fact, no...A big election's coming. The White House has a wretched economic record to defend...The Republicans, and even some anti-Carter Democrats, have been comparing the President to Herbert Hoover, of all people.

A tremendous temptation is...to pretend (because it would indeed be pretending) that inflation's back is broken and that it's time...to start pumping federal money into the economy by way of fighting inflation.

...Having brought on a recession in order to fight inflation, the White House now may be tempted to bring inflation back in order to fight Republicans. Steadiness of policy...is not the most conspicuous trait of this administration.

What's needed...is major cuts both in federal spending and taxes, so that the government disposes of less income and private people more, investing the money ultimately in plants and jobs and other things that produce new wealth.

...the prime rate down below 15 percent. And mortgage rates sliding...Can it be...spring has come to the front-bitten, winter-ravaged American economy?

As a matter of fact, no...A big election's coming. The White House has a wretched economic record to defend...The Republicans, and even some anti-Carter Democrats, have been comparing the President to Herbert Hoover, of all people.

A tremendous temptation is...to pretend (because it would indeed be pretending) that inflation's back is broken and that it's time...to start pumping federal money into the economy by way of fighting inflation.

...Having brought on a recession in order to fight inflation, the White House now may be tempted to bring inflation back in order to fight Republicans. Steadiness of policy...is not the most conspicuous trait of this administration.

What's needed...is major cuts both in federal spending and taxes, so that the government disposes of less income and private people more, investing the money ultimately in plants and jobs and other things that produce new wealth.

...the prime rate down below 15 percent. And mortgage rates sliding...Can it be...spring has come to the front-bitten, winter-ravaged American economy?

As a matter of fact, no...A big election's coming. The White House has a wretched economic record to defend...The Republicans, and even some anti-Carter Democrats, have been comparing the President to Herbert Hoover, of all people.

A tremendous temptation is...to pretend (because it would indeed be pretending) that inflation's back is broken and that it's time...to start pumping federal money into the economy by way of fighting inflation.

Briefly

SS Administration Calls Meet On 'Changing Society'

The Social Security Administration is seeking input from different organizations by calling a town meeting on the topic "Social Security in a Changing Society."

The meeting will be held on June 14 from 9:30 a.m. to noon in the auditorium of the John Young Museum at the Florida State University campus, 110 East Hollis St., Orlando, in the building of the Loch Haven Park area.

Representative Bill Nelson, 9th Florida Congressional District, will be the keynote speaker. There will also be discussion of Social Security issues such as financing, changing roles of men and women, and changing work and retirement patterns. Attending will be community opinion leaders such as the various media, congressional staff, business leaders, local elected officials, interest group leaders, etc.

For information call Guy Large, 420-6391.

GED Tests Scheduled

The GED tests leading to a Florida High School Diploma will be offered at Seminole Community College on June 23, 24 and 25. Eligibility for taking the tests must be completed by June 13.

GED Test Orientation will be held on June 19 at 4 p.m. For more information or to be asked for the GED Office.

'Living' Class To Start

The Office of Community Services at Seminole Community College will offer a "Rational Living" class beginning on June 10. Class will meet from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Room L-200 at Seminole Community College.

Cost of the eight-week class is $8. Registration may be completed at the registrar's office or by mail. For information, call the college, 323-1450, ext. 304.

Personalized Instruction Set

Seminole Community College announces the opening of a new, personalized instruction program to help adults, ages 16 and over, with basic math, algebra, and geometry. Students may enroll at any time for the FREE program. Morning classes are offered on the adult campus of Seminole Community College.

For details, call the college, 323-1450, extension 345 and ask for Nancy Williams.

Services For Seniors Offered

The Multi-Purpose Senior Center, located at 113 East Central, Orlando, offers a "smorgasbord" of services. Sponsored by the Orange County Citizens Advisory Council on Aging, Inc., a priority activity of the Center is the employment service.

Skilled, employment counselors are available for help in job placement and identifying employment opportunities for older Americans from 9:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, call (305) 422-4861.

Holland Graduates From SMC

Ronald Blane Holland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Holland of Osteen, has recently graduated from Southern Missionary College in Chattanooga, Tenn. He graduated with an Associated degree in Media Technology at the close of the second semester in May.

Decorating Course Begins

A non-credit course in Housing and Home Decoration (Interior Decorating) will begin soon at Seminole Community College. The classes will meet in newly constructed Interior Design facilities for eight weeks. The instructor will be Mrs. Sandy Snipes.

This is a beginning class where the student will learn some basic skills of a decorator. Furniture groupings and arrangements, color coordination and selections, drawing at 1/4" scale, and period furniture styles are some of the items to be covered.

The classes will meet on Tuesdays from 7 to 10 p.m., June 17 - Aug. 5. Cost of the class is $10. For information, call 323-1450, Extension 228. From Orlando, call 843-7001.

OURSELVES

Being an up and coming civic leader does have its problems. What with all the meetings, plus running a business, there are not enough hours in a day for Jeff Bales, shown with the family pet weimaraners. Now if I could figure out some way to get along without sleep, he said, 'I'd be just fine.'

At 28, Bales Is Elks' Exalted Ruler

By TOM NETSEL, Herald Staff Writer: The Exalted Ruler in the Benevolent and Protective Order of the Elks is the highest position a member can attain in his local lodge.

It is the equivalent of being the president of the lodge and the post is usually filled by a member who has devoted numerous years of service to the organization. While it is not always the case, most Exalted Rulers are middle-aged due to the number of years it normally takes to attain such a rank.

At age 28, Jeff Bales is an exception. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bales of Sanford, he has been a member of the Sanford Lodge 1241 for six years and has held four other positions prior to assuming the top-ranking post. Bales should have a few good years left in him. "I believe I'm the youngest Exalted Ruler in the state of Florida," the Sanford native said.

Bales is following in his father's footsteps to some degree since they both operate Sanford Motors on French Avenue and the older Bales was the Exalted Ruler in 1956.

Since assuming his post in April, Bales has been working hard to change the public image sometimes associated with the Elks' Club. The club is the social side of the Elks' Lodge and members are invited to drop in for various functions and to relax. "I'm trying to convince people that the Elks is not just a place to go and have cocktails with friends," he said.

The local lodge, along with other Elks Lodges in Florida, is a strong supporter of the Harry Ann Crippled Children's Home in Unalaska. The home, said Bales, is there to help any child, age 16 and under, who has a physical handicap.

The home has the capacity to help 100 patients, he said and right now they are only about 60 percent full. They are willing to help any child who needs physical help, therapy, special treatments or braces. This service can be very expensive and many family's insurance plans do not cover all necessary care. This is where the Home can help.

"The kids in wheelchairs, complete body casts, bring tears to your eyes," said Bales, who has visited the Home on numerous occasions, "but they're not unhappy. It's not a hospital environment, it's a school environment and they enjoy it there."

Anyone knowing of a child in need of the home's services is invited to contact the Elks Club for more information, said Bales.

The Elks raise money to help support the home and they also have a scholarship fund that has helped several area students get a higher education. The Veteran's Administration Hospital in Gainesville is another project that gets support from the local Elks.

Bales has been an active member ever since he joined, serving as an officer and on various committees. "They've had me in harness ever since I joined the club," he said. Though the duties of Exalted Ruler require more of his time, Bales feels that "doing environment and they enjoy it there."

Jeff Bales: 'I Believe I'm the youngest Exalted Ruler in the State of Florida.'

Anyone knowing of a child in need of the home's services is invited to contact the Elks Club for more information, said Bales.

The Elks raise money to help support the home and they also have a scholarship fund that has helped several area students get a higher education. The Veteran's Administration Hospital in Gainesville is another project that gets support from the local Elks.

Bales has been an active member ever since he joined, serving as an officer and on various committees. "They've had me in harness ever since I joined the club," he said. Though the duties of Exalted Ruler require more of his time, Bales feels that "doing in a time when there is a good pace to be upse

See EXALTED RULER, Page 1B

We're In The Neighborhood

Remember the old general store where you could find just about anything from soda pop to shoe laces and Franklin stoves. You could even buy gasoline for the buggy and chances are always see a friend.

There was always a warm, friendly atmosphere and everyone knew everyone else by their first name. You'll find that same warm feeling at the new Sanford branch of the State Bank of Forest City at 161 West Airport Blvd., opening next Tuesday, June 10th at 9:00 A.M.

You see, we're an Independent Bank. That means we're locally owned and locally operated. Our staff brings together over 77 years of banking experience in Sanford. A local bank, serving local folks.

We're not too fancy yet, but that doesn't mean you can't come in and get acquainted. Maybe even open up a new checking or savings account. And who knows, you're just liable to see a neighbor. And that's the way we like it.

THE STATE BANK OF City
Your Banker. Your Neighbor.
Sanford Branch: 161 West Airport Blvd., Sanford (305) 323-6620 • Sweetwater Branch: Sweetwater Square, Longwood
Main Office: Hwy. 434 at 436, San Sebastian Square, Altamonte Springs

AREA DEATHS

RILEY W. SLATER
Riley W. (Bill) Slater, 62, of 100 Tropical Ave., Chuluota, died Friday at his home. He was born in Hernando, Fla., and came to Chuluota in 1939 from Zephyrhills. He retired from the Air Force after 22 years of service. He was also retired from the Seminole County School Board. He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Chuluota and was a deacon of the church and a Mason.

He is survived by his wife, Verle Slater, of Chuluota; two sons, Ray of Crestline, Calif., and Michael 1300. Roman numeral for 1000. 47. A small person. 52. Suspicious. 63. A period of time.

1. A period of time. 2. A period of time. 3. A period of time. 4. A period of time.

1. A period of time. 2. A period of time. 3. A period of time. 4. A period of time.

1. A period of time. 2. A period of time. 3. A period of time. 4. A period of time.

1. A period of time. 2. A period of time. 3. A period of time. 4. A period of time.

1. A period of time. 2. A period of time. 3. A period of time. 4. A period of time.

1. A period of time. 2. A period of time. 3. A period of time. 4. A period of time.

1. A period of time. 2. A period of time. 3. A period of time. 4. A period of time.

1. A period of time. 2. A period of time. 3. A period of time. 4. A period of time.

CALENDAR

SUNDAY, JUNE 8
Ballroom and round dancing, 8 p.m., Temple Shalom, Providence and Elkcam Boulevard, Deltona. Music by Koppel.

MONDAY, JUNE 9
English As A Second Language class, 12:30 p.m., Deltona Public Library, 1601 Providence Boulevard.

TUESDAY, JUNE 10
Things that are hard for you to do today, you should do tomorrow. Your actions will have an impact that you can't see.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 11
Things that are hard for you to do today, you should do tomorrow. Your actions will have an impact that you can't see.

THURSDAY, JUNE 12
Things that are hard for you to do today, you should do tomorrow. Your actions will have an impact that you can't see.

FRIDAY, JUNE 13
Things that are hard for you to do today, you should do tomorrow. Your actions will have an impact that you can't see.

SATURDAY, JUNE 14
Things that are hard for you to do today, you should do tomorrow. Your actions will have an impact that you can't see.

SUNDAY, JUNE 15
Things that are hard for you to do today, you should do tomorrow. Your actions will have an impact that you can't see.

MONDAY, JUNE 16
Things that are hard for you to do today, you should do tomorrow. Your actions will have an impact that you can't see.

TONIGHT'S TV

SATURDAY
7:00 (ABC) Orlando
7:30 (NBC) Daytona Beach
8:00 (NBC) Orlando

SUNDAY
7:00 (ABC) Orlando
7:30 (NBC) Daytona Beach
8:00 (NBC) Orlando

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL
For Sunday, June 8, 1980

YOUR BIRTHDAY
June 8, 1980
Abandon projects that have not borne fruit within a reasonable time. This coming year you should seek new and more promising objectives.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
You have the golden touch today where money or material things are involved. Where there is no profit, you can find a source for gain.

TAURUS (April 20-May 21)
You are apt to be both a student and a teacher. In some instances you'll guide others, as well as for yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Regardless of whose company you may be today, you will be cherished as an amicable companion. Everyone is equal.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
You're the power behind the throne today. Your ideas will be respected by those who can further your cause while working for their own.

TAURUS (April 20-May 21)
Not only will you get a chance to put your time and talents to profitable uses today, you'll also have a good time doing it. Apply yourself.

Legal Notice

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE 11th JUDICIAL CIRCUIT IN AND FOR SEMINOLE COUNTY, FLORIDA.

NOTICE OF ACTION
HENRY G. GREEN and RESA GREEN, his wife.

NOTICE OF ACTION
HENRY G. GREEN and RESA GREEN, his wife.

NOTICE OF ACTION
HENRY G. GREEN and RESA GREEN, his wife.

NOTICE OF ACTION
HENRY G. GREEN and RESA GREEN, his wife.

NOTICE OF ACTION
HENRY G. GREEN and RESA GREEN, his wife.

NOTICE OF ACTION
HENRY G. GREEN and RESA GREEN, his wife.

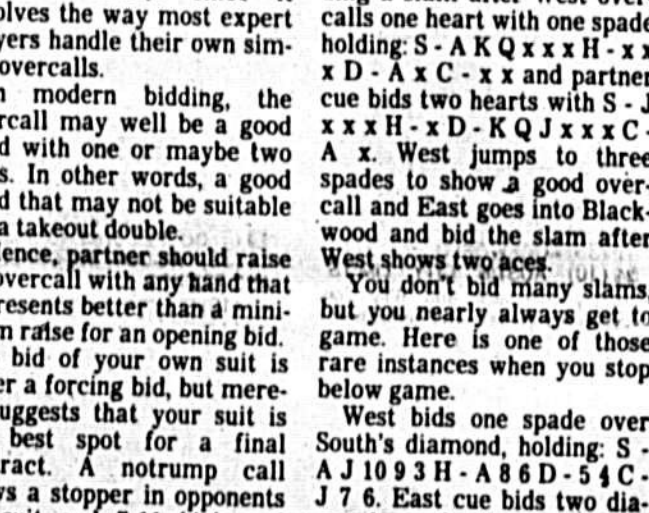

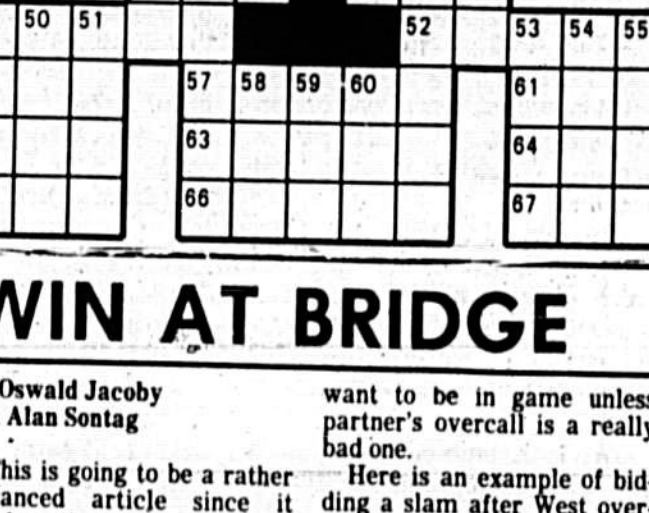

NOTICE OF ACTION
HENRY G. GREEN and RESA GREEN, his wife.

NOTICE OF ACTION
HENRY G. GREEN and RESA GREEN, his wife.

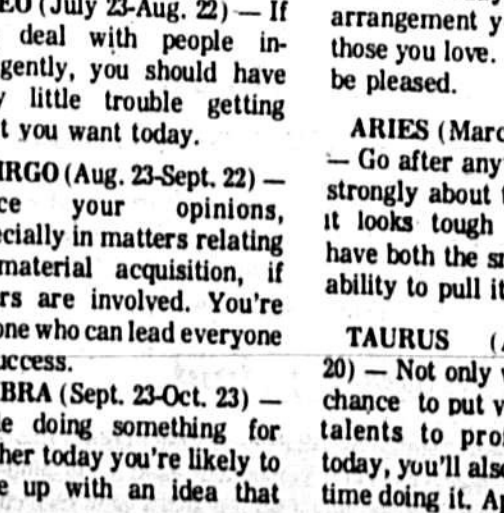

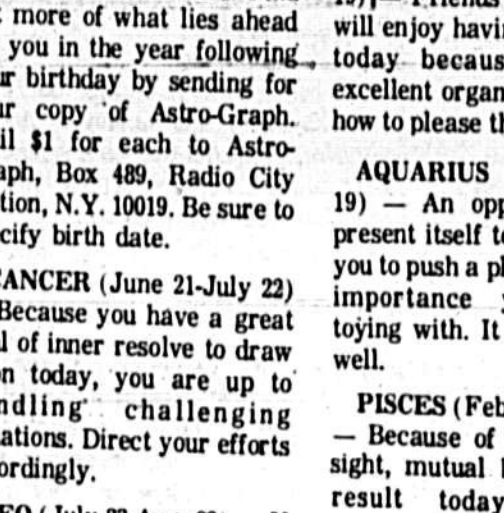

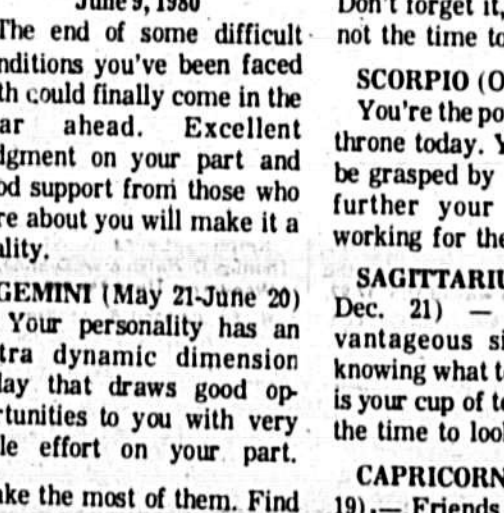

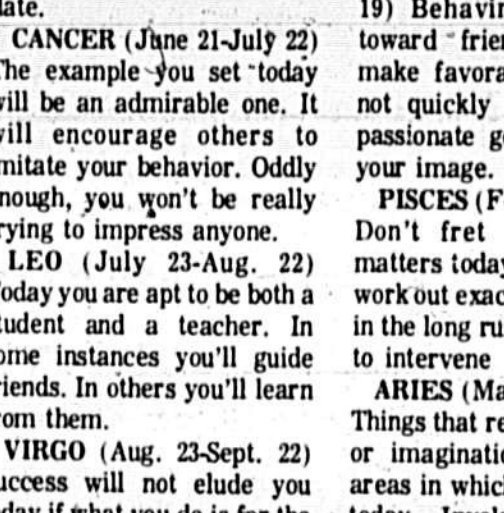

BEETLE BAILEY

THE BORN LOSER

THE BORN LOSER

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Seaborg
Want to be in game unless partner's overall is a really bad one.

Here is an example of bidding a slam after West overcalls one heart with one spade holding: S-A-K-Q-x-x-x-x

West bids two hearts with S-J-x-x-x-x. West jumps to 4 hearts. East passes.

West bids two hearts with S-J-x-x-x-x. West jumps to 4 hearts. East passes.

West bids two hearts with S-J-x-x-x-x. West jumps to 4 hearts. East passes.

West bids two hearts with S-J-x-x-x-x. West jumps to 4 hearts. East passes.

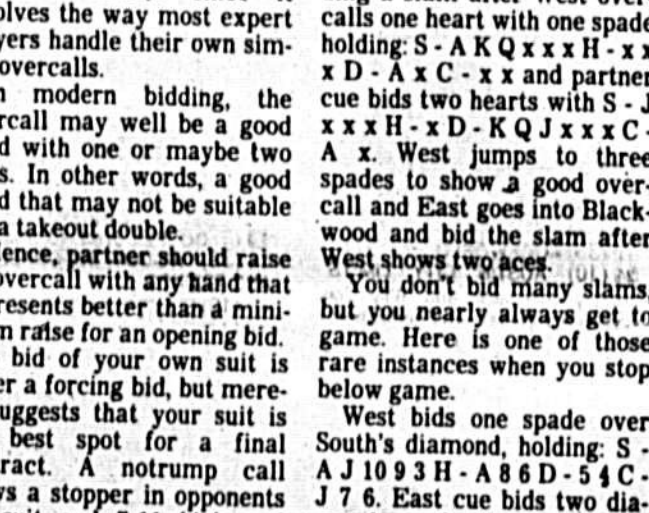

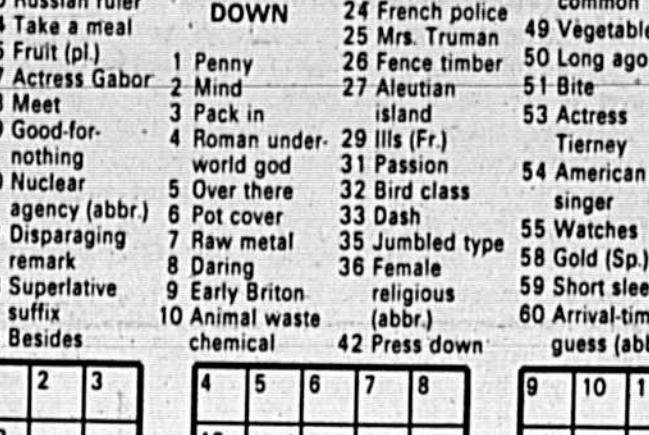

West bids two hearts with S-J-x-x-x-x. West jumps to 4 hearts. East passes.

West bids two hearts with S-J-x-x-x-x. West jumps to 4 hearts. East passes.

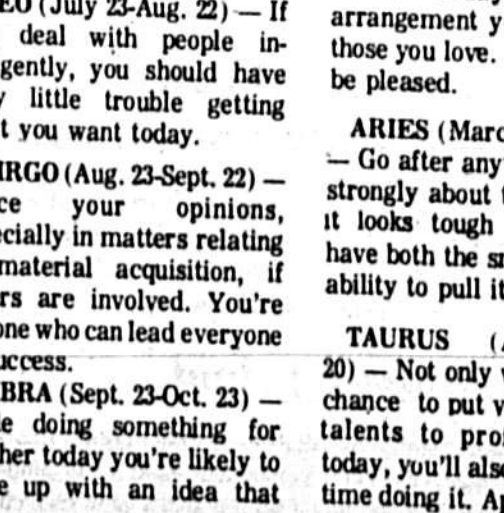

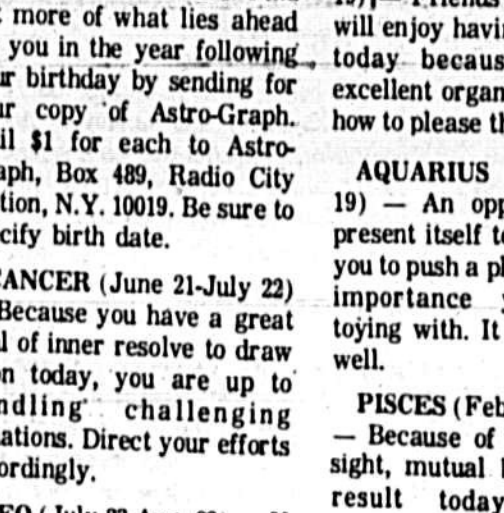

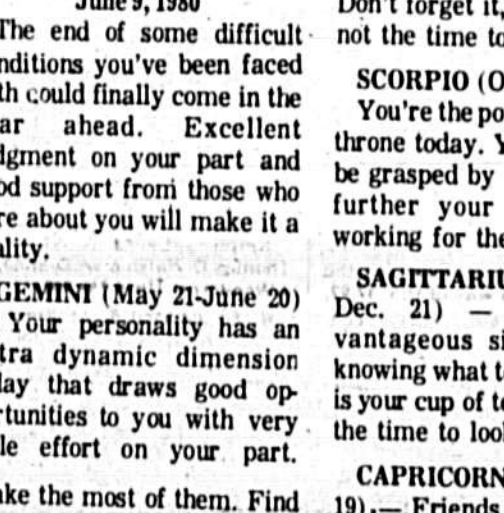

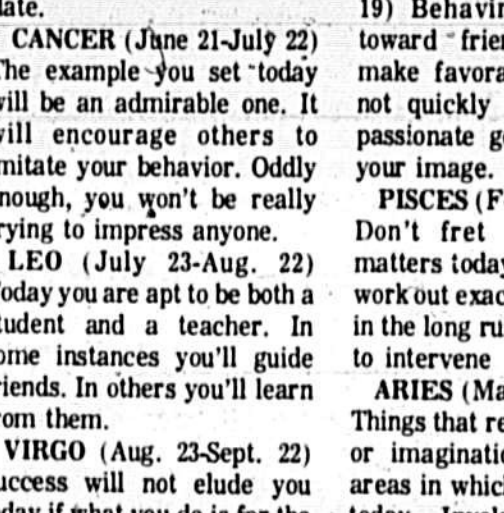

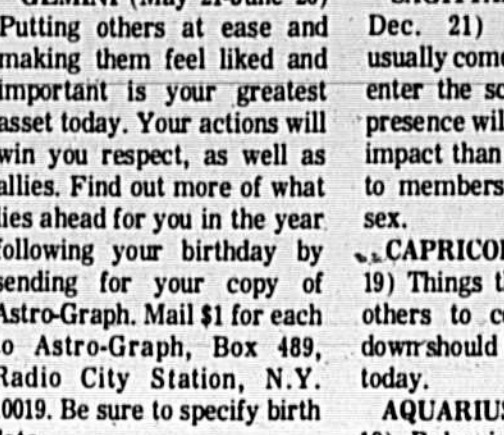

ARCHIE

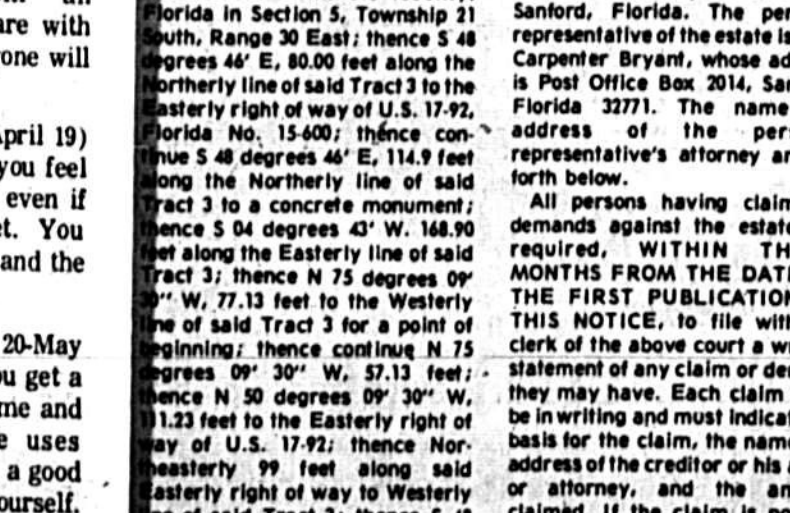

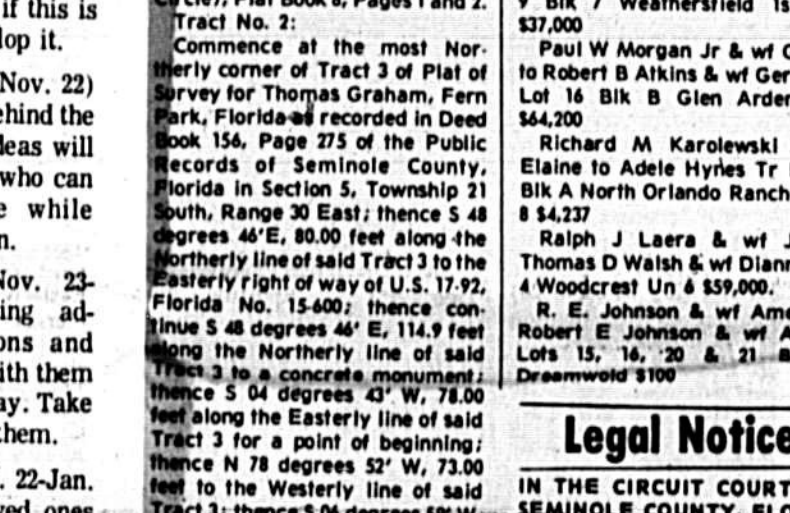

ARCHIE

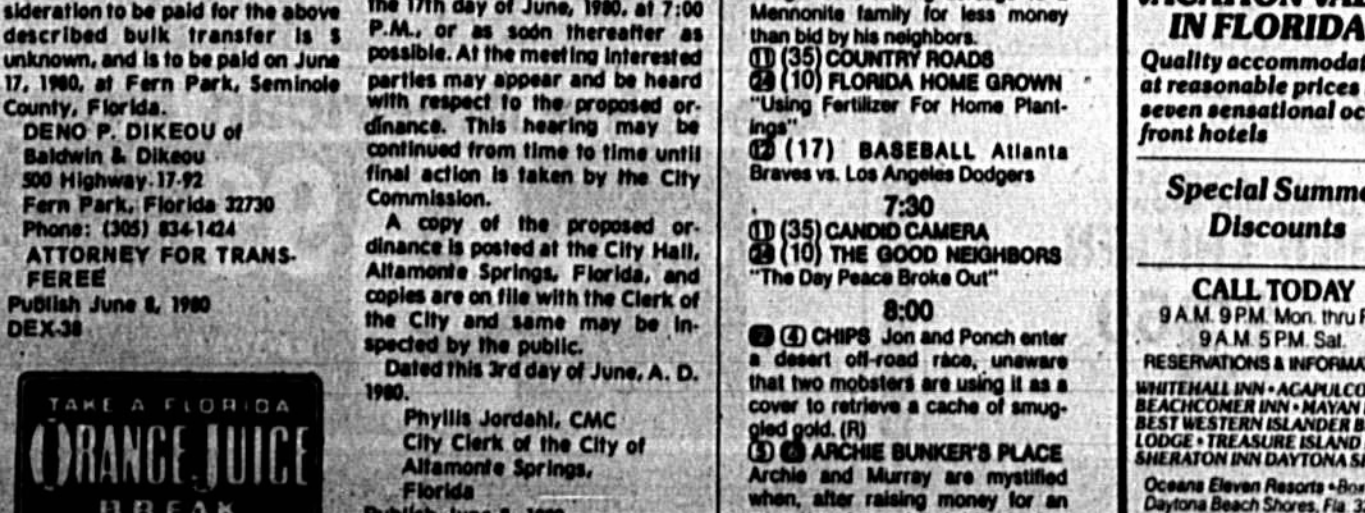

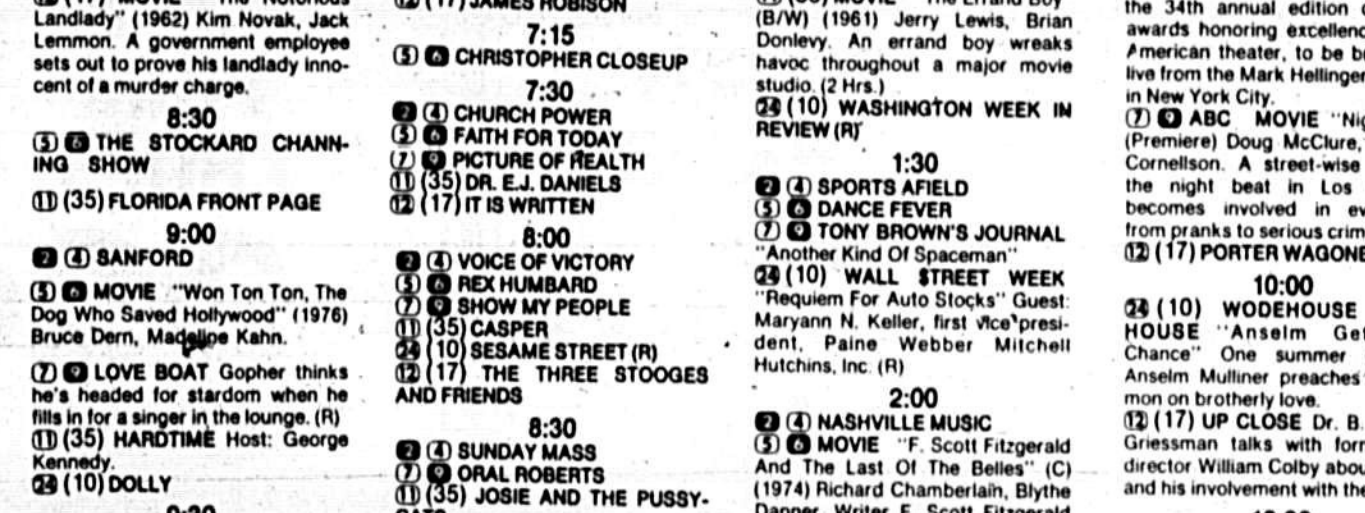

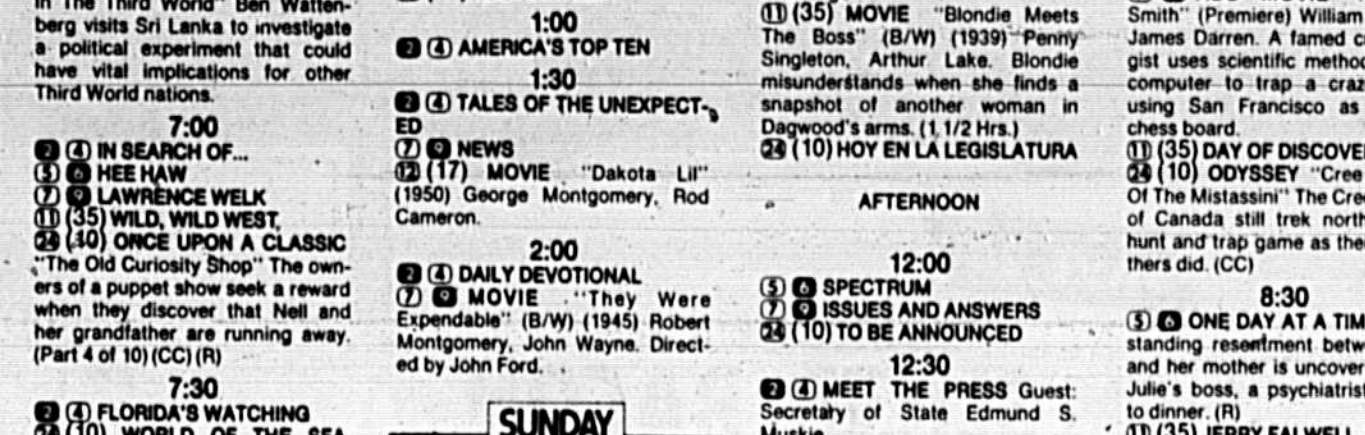

BUGS BUNNY

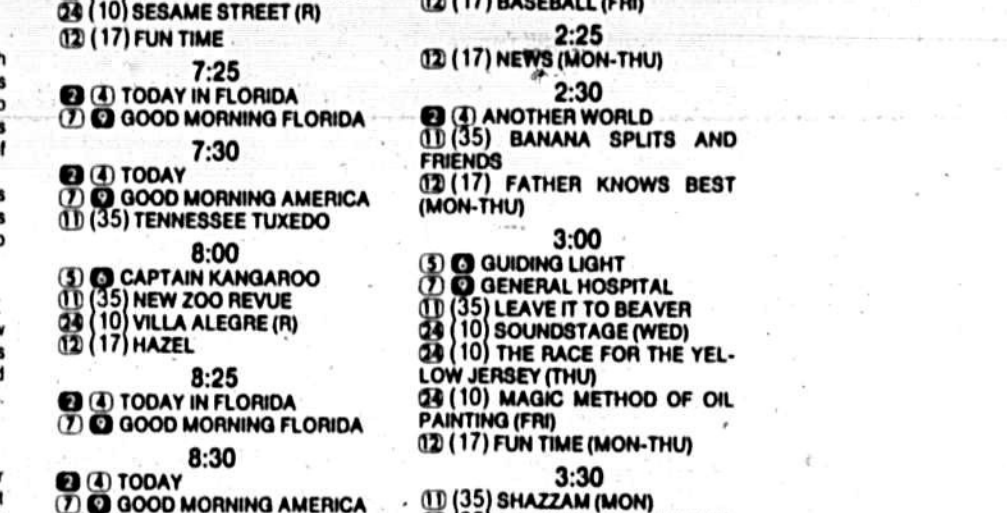

BUGS BUNNY

FRANK AND ERNEST

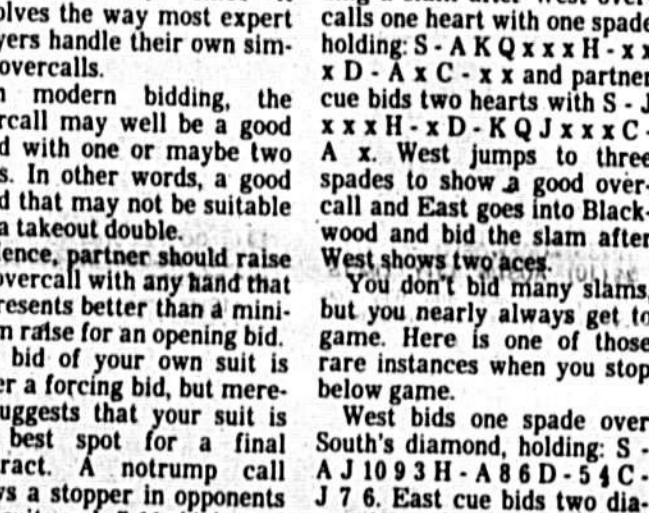

FRANK AND ERNEST

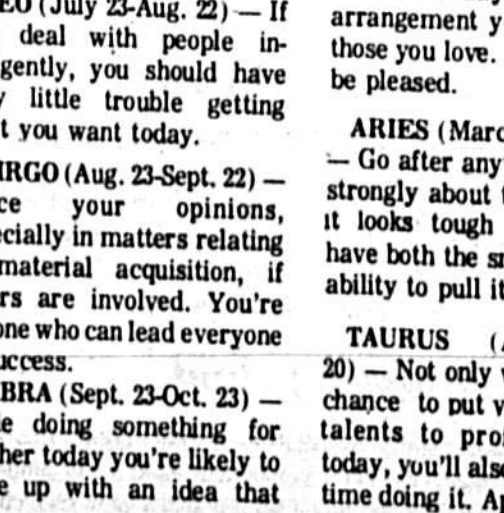

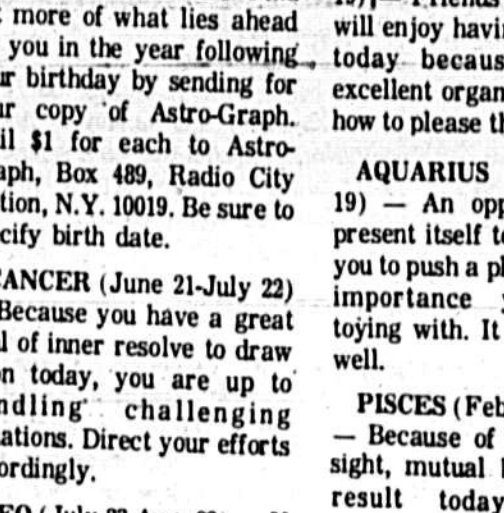

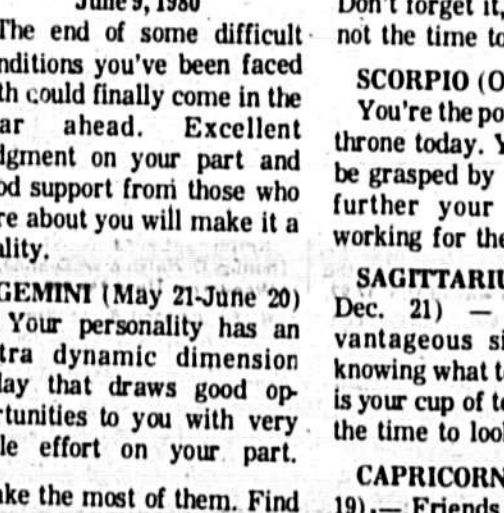

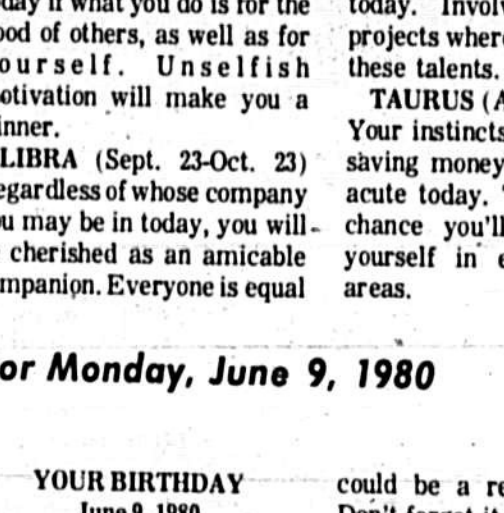

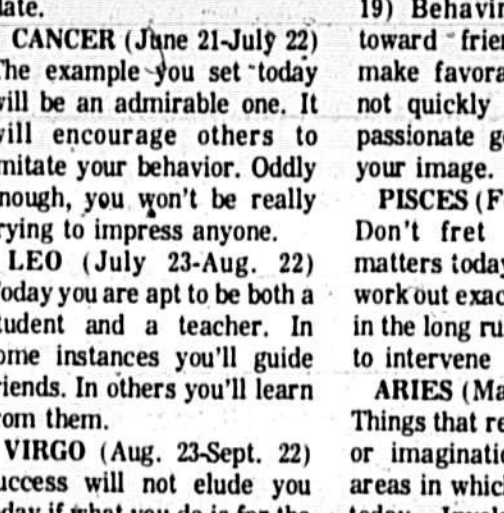

FRANK AND ERNEST

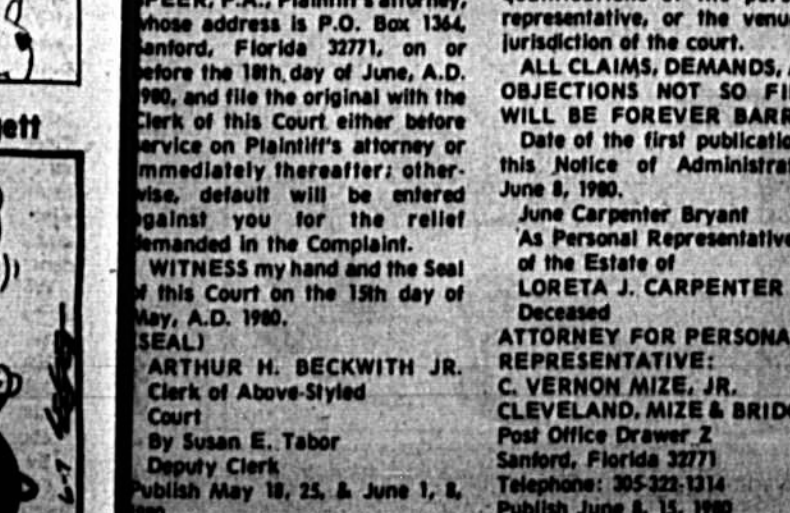

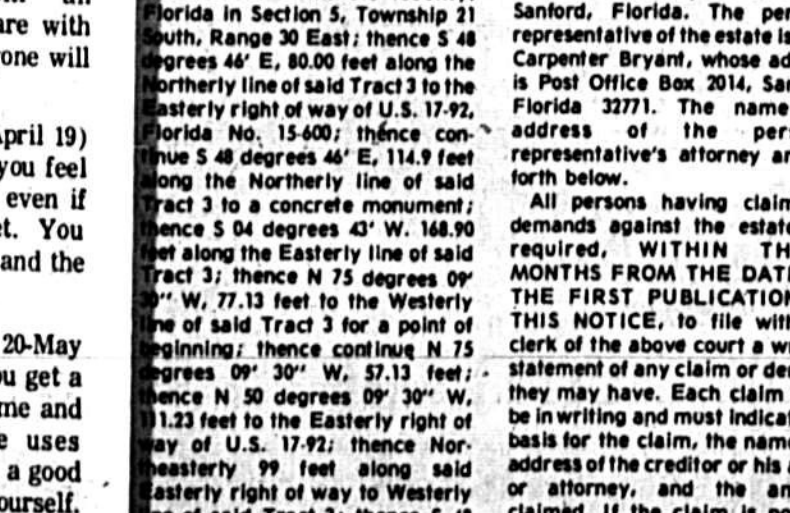

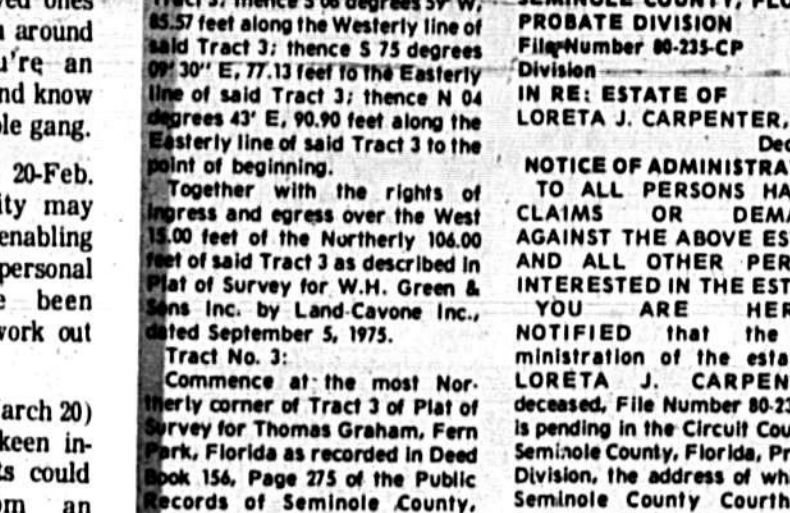

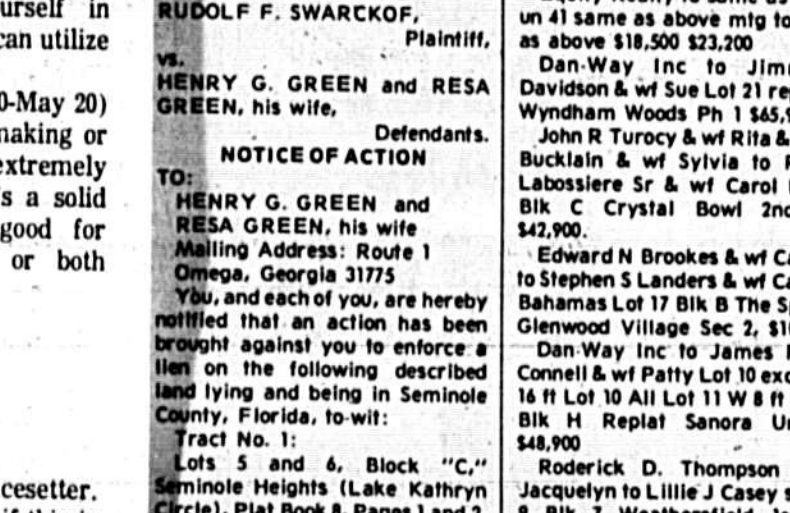

FRANK AND ERNEST

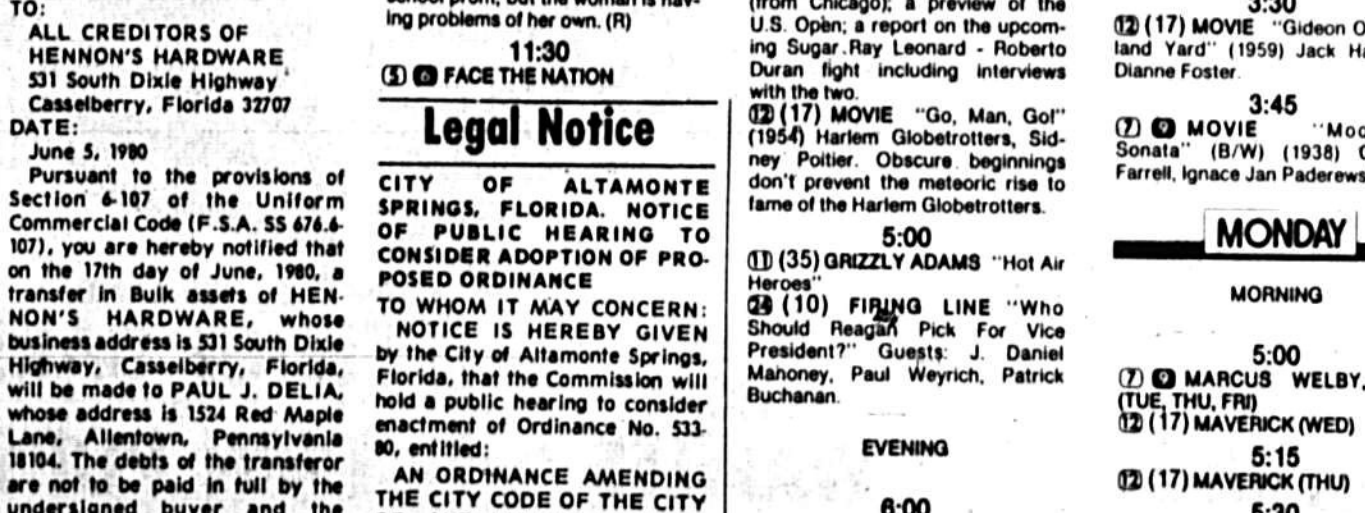

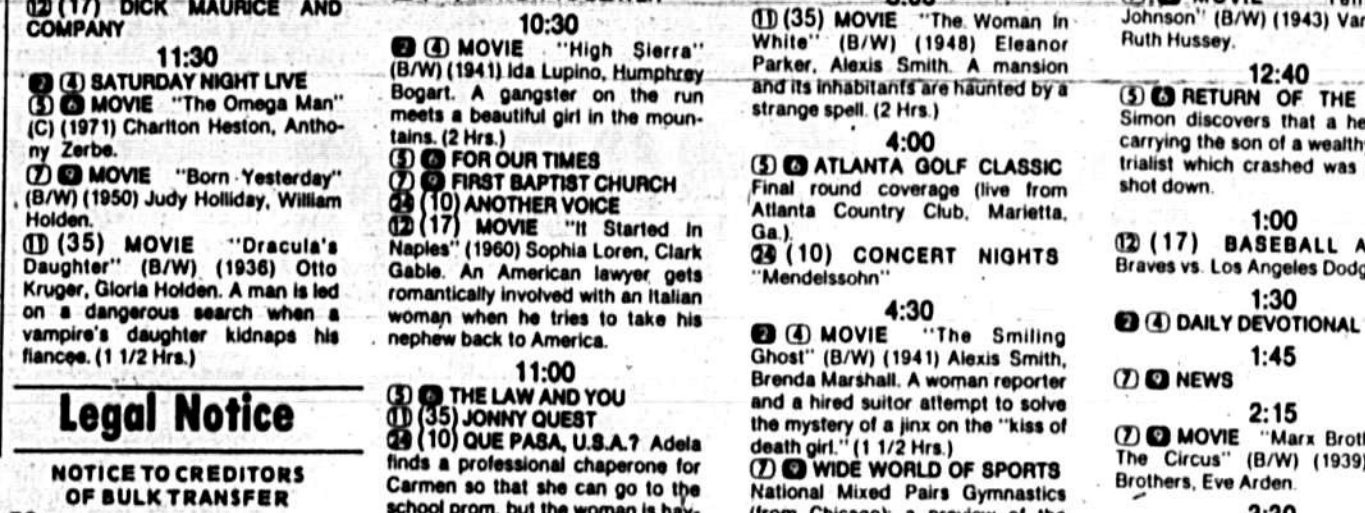

FRANK AND ERNEST

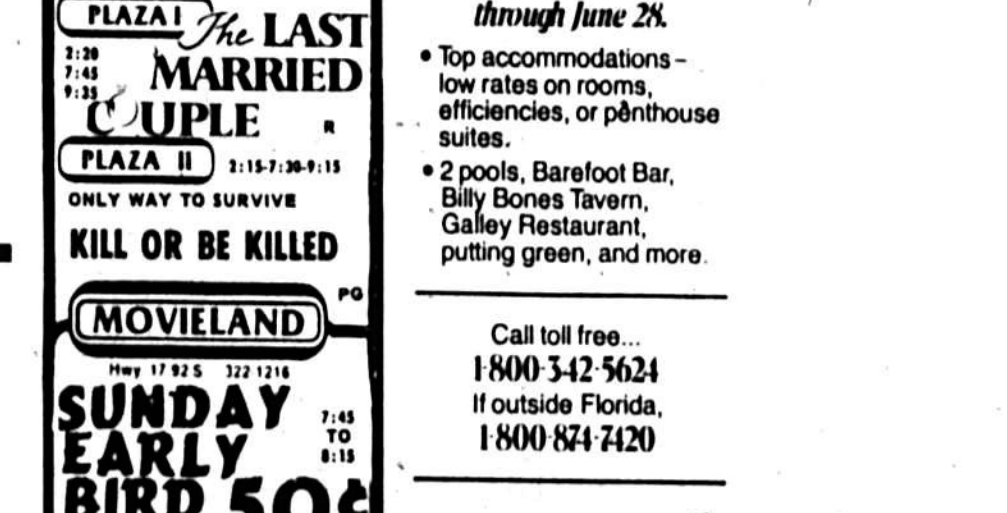

FRANK AND ERNEST

FRANK AND ERNEST

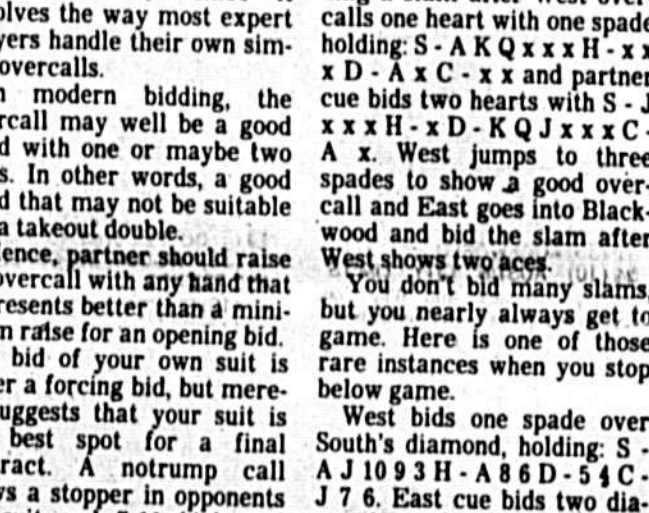

FRANK AND ERNEST

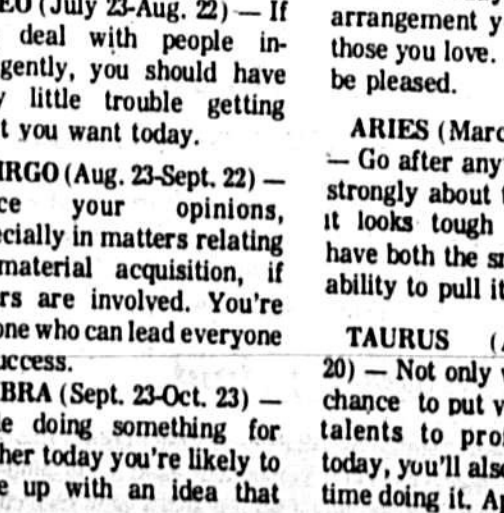

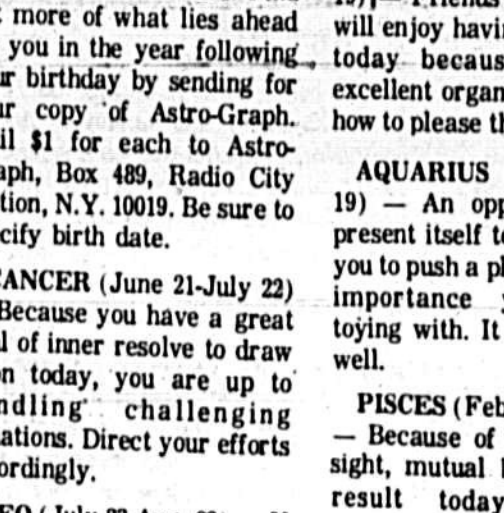

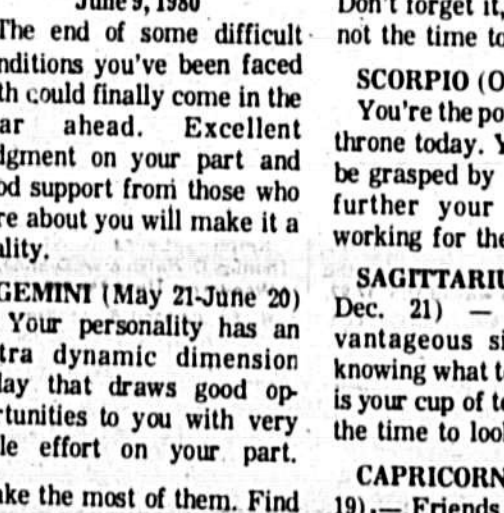

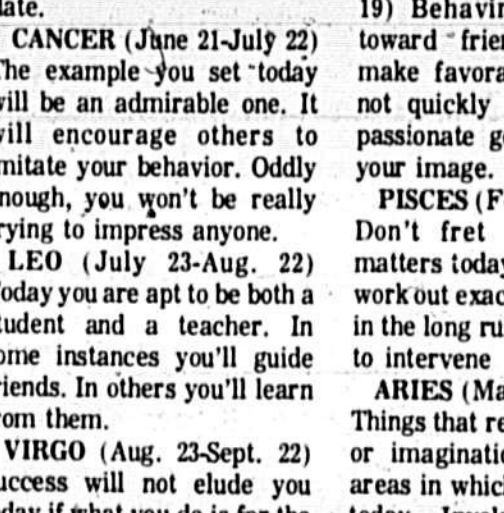

FRANK AND ERNEST

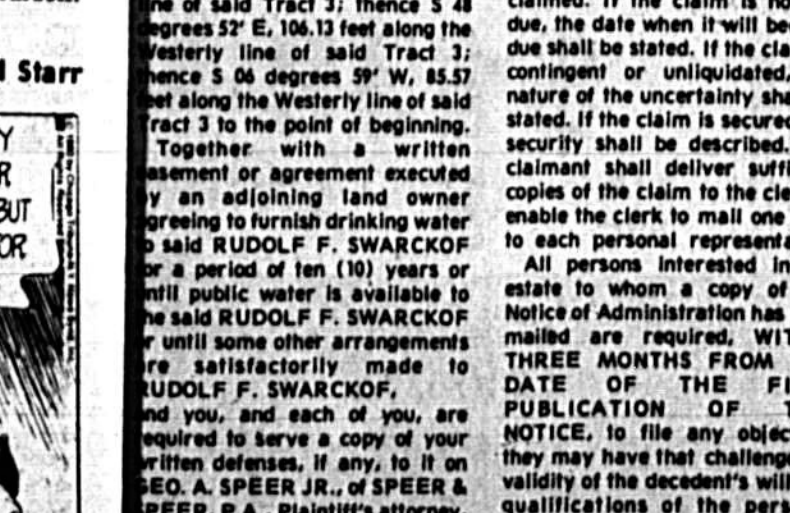

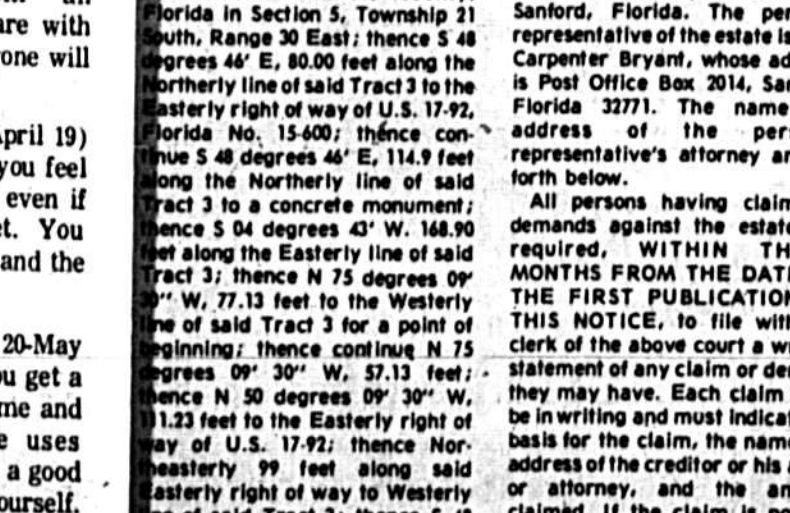

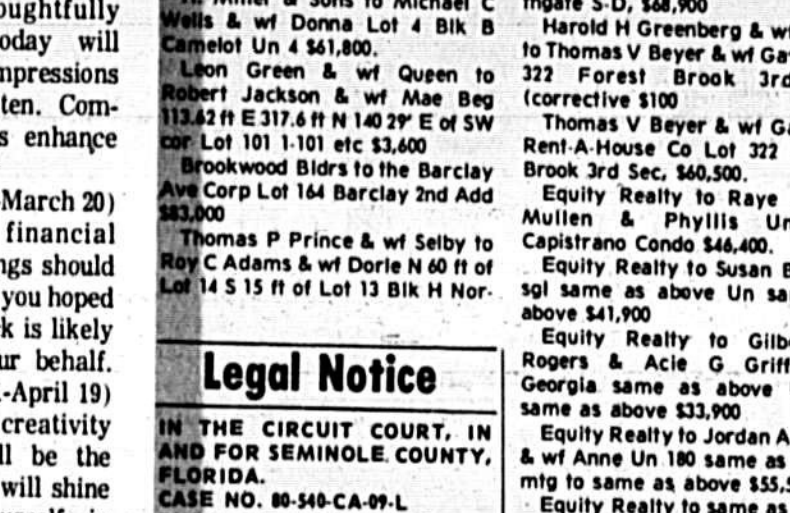

FRANK AND ERNEST

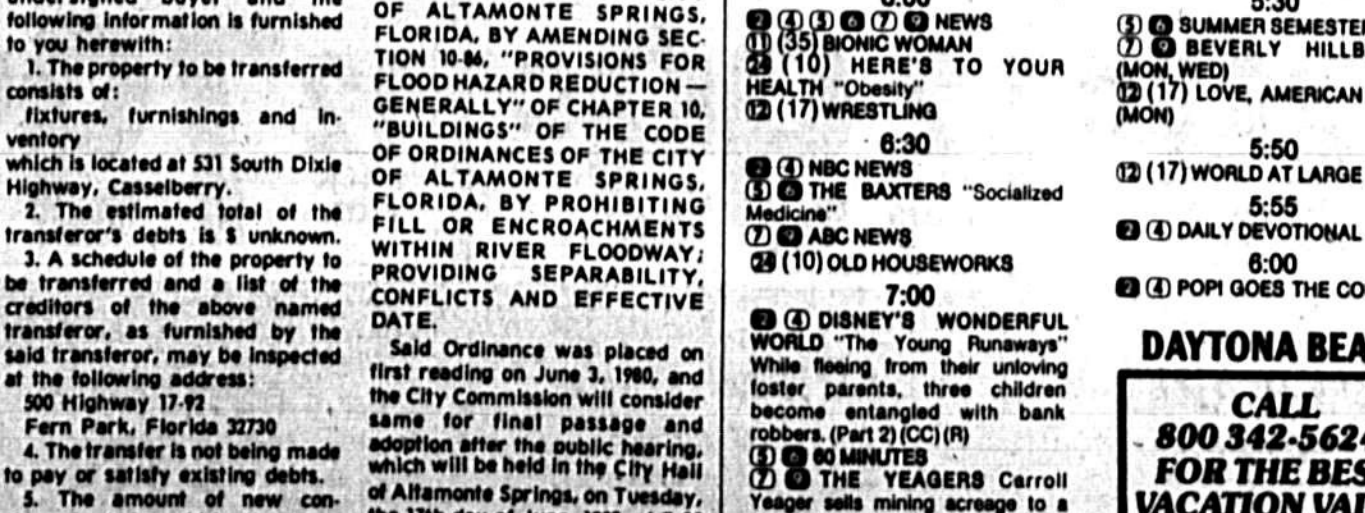

FRANK AND ERNEST

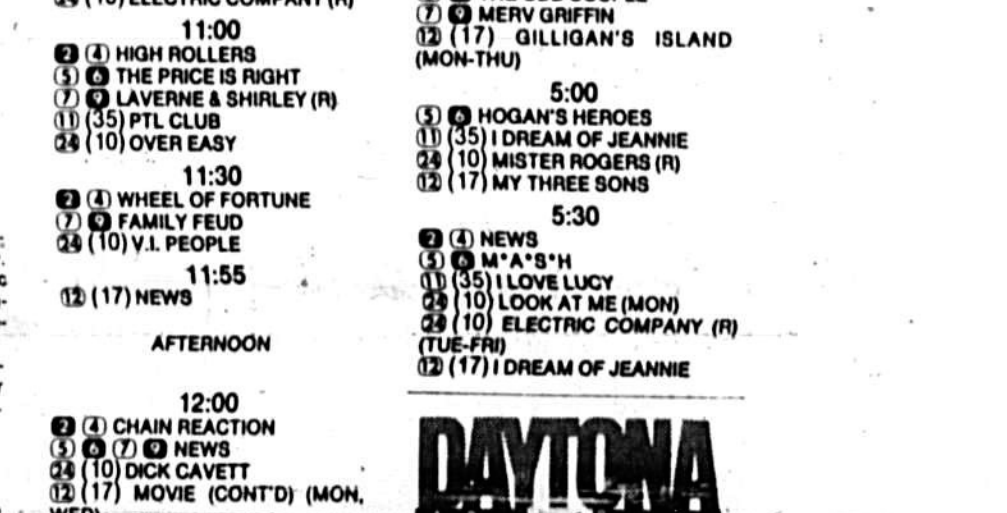

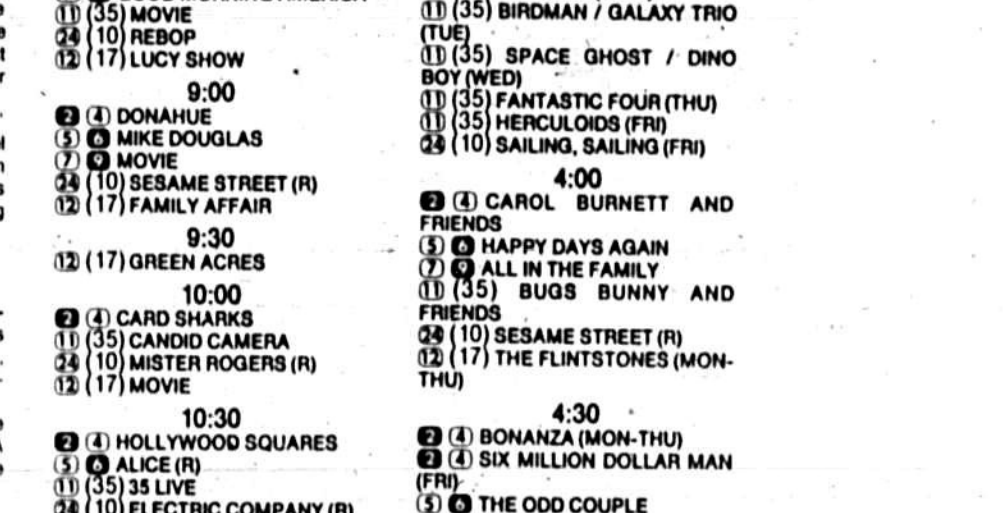

FRANK AND ERNEST

FRANK AND ERNEST

FRANK AND ERNEST

FRANK AND ERNEST

FRANK AND ERNEST

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

BNA WILL RETIRE JUNE 23RD AND IS LOOKING FORWARD TO JUST LOAFING FOR A WHILE...

NOW COMES SOMETHING IN THE MAIL THAT'S NOT CONDUCTIVE TO RELAXING...

YOU WAIT UP ALL NIGHT TO SEE YOUR FAVORITE FILM ON THE 1:30 AM SHOW... AND...

WHEN CHECKY WAS IN HE PASSED HIM-SELF OFF AS...

THE BORN LOSER

by Art Sansom

Quit Story: THE JOUSTING HAS NO SOONER BEGUN THAN KING ARTHUR IS TAKEN ILL. IN HASTE, STURDY SQUIRES CONVEY THE STRICKEN MONARCH INTO HIS PALACE, SKILLED PHYSICIANS ARE SUMMONED TO CAMELOT.

THEY BLEED HIM AND RAISE BLISTERS ON HIS BELLY AND PLY HIM WITH VILE POTIONS, YET STILL HIS CONDITION WORSENS. 'WE HAVE EXHAUSTED THE POWERS OF SCIENCE,' A PORTLY SURGEON TELLS THE ROUND TABLE.

LATE INTO THE EVENING DOCTORS WHISPER IN LATIN NEAR THE KING'S DOOR, BUT ALWAYS AT MIDNIGHT ALETA SLIPS THROUGH THEIR LEARNED GOSSIP TO JOHN GUNNEVER AT ARTHUR'S SIDE. 'THE PEPPERY BEARD' HEAVES FITFULLY UPON HIS BREAST AS A STRANGE WASH BROODS OVER THE PALACE, OUTSIDE, A SOFT JUNE WIND STIRS THE TREES. 'CAMELOT IS NOT FOREVER,' THE BRANCHES SEEM TO SAY, 'AND THE KING IS BUT A MAN.'

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE: Would you please reprint the recipe for making play clay? I've lost my copy of it and the kids really miss the fun. I believe it had a cornstarch base. Thank you.

HELOISE: On those rainy days when the children are stuck inside the house and bored to tears — or driving Mom to tears — making a batch of clay can be a "lifesaver." The recipe you seek requires cooking. Most times, it makes a smoother dough than the uncooked kind. Stir together in a pan, 2 cups of baking soda and 1 cup of cornstarch. Add 1 1/2 cups of cold water, and cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until the mixture reaches the consistency of mashed potatoes. Empty the mixture onto a plate and cover with a damp cloth. When cool, place on a flat surface which has been dusted with cornstarch. Knead until smooth and pliable. To make colored clay, add food coloring to the water before cooking. Now, if the above recipe is a bit too time-consuming and you want to entertain the kids fast, try this version sent to us by Mrs. Joyce Adams. She combines 2 cups flour, 1 cup salt, 1 1/2 teaspoons powdered alum (optional), 1 tablespoon oil and 1 cup water. Mix well, then knead until smooth. Food color can be added if desired. Just remember to keep the dough covered in an airtight container when not in use. If it works! The birds don't seem to mind not drinking red water and I'm sure it's even better for them.

A HUMDINGER

DEAR HELOISE: I have hummingbird feeders and, of course, hummers to feed.

I have always put red food coloring in the sugar water because it catches the birds' attention. But the color fades in the sun.

So, yesterday, I used a bottle of red nail polish and painted broad red stripes vertically on the water container, leaving narrow clear spaces to check how much food is left. It works! The birds don't seem to mind not drinking red water and I'm sure it's even better for them.

Mrs. Z.M. Haven

DEAR READER: This is your column. If you'd like to share a hint, ask a question or make a suggestion, write me care of this newspaper.

Hugs, Heloise

Just for Kids

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

DEAR HELOISE: I have a hint for children who have treehouses, playhouses or clubs etc. If you don't have a name for the club but have shelves to cover, etc., use decorative shelf paper and get the name from the design. For instance if you have strawberries on the shelf paper, you could name your group, the "Strawberry Jam Club" or something like that.

Missy Meredith, Age 11

Rx FOR ITCHY BITES

DEAR HELOISE: I have read your column since third grade and I enjoy hearing all your hints. Naturally, I've tried to think of one, but they just aren't good enough. Finally I couldn't stand it any longer so I wrote to you.

Have you ever had a mosquito bite that wouldn't stop itching? I have and have tried putting a stick-on bandage on it, but usually end up peeling it off to scratch.

Now before putting the bandage on I spray it with first-aid spray which relieves the itching.

Then, when it starts itching again, I just push on the pad to release the medication.

Hope this helps someone like me who is insect-bite prone.

Suzanne Cody, Age 11

© 1980 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

PONYTAIL

by Lee Holley

TIGER

by Bud Blake

BUGS BUNNY

by Stoffel & Heimdahl

THE KATZENJAMMER KIDS

by Mike Senich

Believe It or Not!

CARNIVAL

the SMALL SOCIETY

by Brickman

ALLEY OOP

by Dave Graue

HUBERT

by Dick Wingert

TUMBLEWEEDS

by Tom K. Ryan

WEE PALS - kid power

by Morrie Turner

Overtime Legislative Leaders Limit Special Session

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—House Speaker Hyatt Brown and Senate President Phil Lewis reconvene the Legislature at noon today for its second special session, a three-day term limited to the budget, higher education and a few other items.

Brown and Lewis decided Sunday to call the special session after the collapse of Saturday's one-day session. Legislative leaders had worked out a $550 million supplemental budget and were ready to vote it out Saturday night, but a Senate move to tax media advertising triggered a deadlock.

Brown and Lewis huddled with Gov. Bob Graham early Sunday morning, then met by themselves Sunday afternoon, deciding finally to limit consideration during the special session to the $550 million supplemental spending plan, Graham's "Trim bill" on property taxes, renter's relief, taxing media advertising, and tax breaks for "live aboard vessels."

Graham can add items to the call and so can individual legislators, but only upon the approval of both houses by a two-thirds majority vote.

Lewis said he has given up on a constitutional amendment requiring single-member legislative districts instead of multimember ones. And both Lewis and Brown said they see no reason to include trucking in the special session because the decision has now been made to deregulate the industry July 1 under the Sunset Act.

Graham said he might get the Legislature to consider the single issue of continued safety inspections of giant tractor-trailer trucks. He is considering a proposal, which may or may not require legislative approval, to transfer the 75

Senate Rules Chairman Dempsey Barron of Panama City reacting, senators said, to a newspaper report that President-designate W.D. Childers of Pensacola, a close friend and political ally, is under investigation by the state-wide grand jury, tried Saturday night to muscle through a bill clamping the 4 percent state sales tax on newspaper, radio and television ads.

Barron, D-Panama City, tied up the Senate most of Saturday evening, refusing to allow final action on the budget and other proposals that had to be passed before legislators could go home.

The Senate finally rejected the media advertising proposal, which would have funded the $13.7 million television relief plan being sought by Graham, raising 21-37 to clear it for a final vote.

Senators had passed the advertising bill earlier in the week, but the House rejected the plan Friday and it was dropped from further consideration.

When the story on Childers broke Saturday morning, Barron blasted the press and pursued the proposal fiercely.

House members were angry over what several branded as improper pressure from the Senate for passage of the advertising tax and other bills. They also said they were unsure about the contents of the complicated "Trim bill" allowing increases in city and county property taxes. Finally, the House adjourned and said the governor could convene a special session.

House members voted to return to work Monday after Brown told them, "frankly, the longer we wait, the tougher it will be to reconcile our differences."

Senators, who adjourned a few minutes after the House Saturday night, said they wanted a week to cool off and rest. Lewis finally agreed to Monday.

Public Service Commission transportation officers about to lose their jobs to the U.S. Department of Transportation, where they would continue to make safety checks of trucks traveling Florida highways.

The "live-aboard vessels" issue didn't surface until late in the session. Persons who live aboard yachts and other boats tied up in marinas claim they shouldn't have to pay property taxes.

Legislative leaders believed they had worked out a compromise higher education plan. It would merge the University of North Florida with the University of Florida and establish a legislative committee to study the possibility of other mergers.

The plan also would expand the Board of Regents from 10 to 13 members and dilute the board's power slightly. The plan faces substantial opposition in the Senate, largely because of the UNF-UF merger.

Senate Rules Chairman Dempsey Barron of Panama City reacting, senators said, to a newspaper report that President-designate W.D. Childers of Pensacola, a close friend and political ally, is under investigation by the state-wide grand jury, tried Saturday night to muscle through a bill clamping the 4 percent state sales tax on newspaper, radio and television ads.

Barron, D-Panama City, tied up the Senate most of Saturday evening, refusing to allow final action on the budget and other proposals that had to be passed before legislators could go home.

The Senate finally rejected the media advertising proposal, which would have funded the $13.7 million television relief plan being sought by Graham, raising 21-37 to clear it for a final vote.

Senators had passed the advertising bill earlier in the week, but the House rejected the plan Friday and it was dropped from further consideration.

When the story on Childers broke Saturday morning, Barron blasted the press and pursued the proposal fiercely.

House members were angry over what several branded as improper pressure from the Senate for passage of the advertising tax and other bills. They also said they were unsure about the contents of the complicated "Trim bill" allowing increases in city and county property taxes. Finally, the House adjourned and said the governor could convene a special session.

House members voted to return to work Monday after Brown told them, "frankly, the longer we wait, the tougher it will be to reconcile our differences."

Senators, who adjourned a few minutes after the House Saturday night, said they wanted a week to cool off and rest. Lewis finally agreed to Monday.

Public Service Commission transportation officers about to lose their jobs to the U.S. Department of Transportation, where they would continue to make safety checks of trucks traveling Florida highways.

The "live-aboard vessels" issue didn't surface until late in the session. Persons who live aboard yachts and other boats tied up in marinas claim they shouldn't have to pay property taxes.

Legislative leaders believed they had worked out a compromise higher education plan. It would merge the University of North Florida with the University of Florida and establish a legislative committee to study the possibility of other mergers.

The plan also would expand the Board of Regents from 10 to 13 members and dilute the board's power slightly. The plan faces substantial opposition in the Senate, largely because of the UNF-UF merger.

Senate Rules Chairman Dempsey Barron of Panama City reacting, senators said, to a newspaper report that President-designate W.D. Childers of Pensacola, a close friend and political ally, is under investigation by the state-wide grand jury, tried Saturday night to muscle through a bill clamping the 4 percent state sales tax on newspaper, radio and television ads.

Barron, D-Panama City, tied up the Senate most of Saturday evening, refusing to allow final action on the budget and other proposals that had to be passed before legislators could go home.

The Senate finally rejected the media advertising proposal, which would have funded the $13.7 million television relief plan being sought by Graham, raising 21-37 to clear it for a final vote.

Altamonte Police Find Body In Car

By DAVID M. RAZLER
Herald Staff Writer

A murder victim and the man who allegedly killed her were discovered Sunday evening by an Altamonte Springs policeman who stopped to help a motorist he thought might need assistance, police report.

Found shot dead was Susan M. Bordas, 27, of 707 S. Wymore Rd., Apartment 2, Altamonte Springs.

Under arrest for murder is a man giving his name as Milton Ricketts, 26, of 10th St., Apopka. Police say the name he gave may be phony.

Ricketts was arrested at 5:25 p.m. Sunday by Altamonte Springs Patrolman Brent Pagnia, who had stopped to help out the man pulled off Spring Oaks Boulevard in the Spring Oaks subdivision.

Police say they still do not know how or why Bordas was killed.

Pagnia said Ricketts told him the American Motor's Corp. Hornet had stalled because of a vapor lock. When the officer saw an Altamonte Springs Fire Department sticker on the car, he decided to ask Ricketts for his license and registration. The man had neither, said Pagnia, who said he looked into the car and saw a woman wearing a red bathing suit lying face down on the front seat.

"What's wrong with her," he asked, saying Ricketts responded: "It was an accident. I think I should take her to the hospital."

The two men opened the door of the car and Pagnia then noticed a pool of blood along the door. Ricketts began to reach for something under the body, Pagnia said.

Pagnia drew his gun and ordered Ricketts back. The object Ricketts was reaching for was a .38 caliber revolver, police report.

Bordas was taken to Florida Hospital-Altamonte, where she was pronounced dead on arrival. Ricketts is in custody at the Seminole County Jail, held without bond on a charge of murder.

Police say they still have very little information in the Bordas case. They know the car Ricketts was driving was registered to the victim, and they believe Ricketts did not know her.

COOL RETREAT

John Yoavish (13) of Altamonte Springs finds a dry culvert along State Road 436 a handy place to ride his bike. The view is not much but it is a lot cooler than pedaling on hot asphalt.

They Threaten To Withhold Support

Black Caucus Presses Carter

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Members of the Congressional Black Caucus threatened today to withhold their support of President Carter in the fall election unless he changes his jobs policy within the next two weeks.

Rep. Cardiss Collins, D-Ill., who spoke for the caucus, repeatedly accused Carter of "misunderstanding what we're trying to say" during a 90-minute meeting with him at the White House.

"We have come away with a feeling of real disappointment," Mrs. Collins said. "Disappointment because we felt there were two ships passing in the night."

"The president, I don't think, fully understood the intensity of the situation that we find throughout the United States today," she said. "There is indeed a Mount St. Helens ready to explode in any urban community today."

Mrs. Collins said Carter told them he would examine their demands for realignment of his economic policy. "We're going to return in about two weeks," Mrs. Collins said. "We have several alternatives. We have the alternative of saying the man has not been responsive to our needs and, therefore, we don't have to vote for him."

Rep. Augustus Hawkins, D-Calif., said the caucus opposed "trading off jobs" in an attempt to slow inflation.

Hawkins said the caucus called for "an immediate attack on the inflation in the proper way by bringing down interest rates and by recontrolling and limiting the increase in prices, including oil prices."

The blacks, who provided a basic core of Carter's support in the 1976 campaign, have been distressed by unemployment in their ranks that often has been twice as much as for whites.

Carter met with the black lawmakers a few hours before leaving for Miami, where he was to discuss with local officials federal aid for victims of the recent riots there, and ways to foreclose future violence. From Miami, he will fly to Seattle to discuss his program for cities with mayors.

BIG BONE

What looks like a dinosaur bone is actually a 5-foot rawhide chewing "bone" being offered to one of the tigers at the Central Florida Zoo by Bill Thacker (left), education coordinator at the zoo, and Dick Brandeberry from the Pet Animal Supply shop in Sanford. Brandeberry donated the "bone" to the zoo thinking the big cats might like something to gnaw upon between meals.

Herald Photo by Tom Nettel

Today

Action Reports	2A
Around The Clock	4A
Calendar	2B
Classified Ads	2B-3B
Comics	4B
Dear Abby	1B
Deaths	2A
Editorial	4A
Hospital	3A
Nation	2A
Ourselves	1B
Sports	5A-6A
Television	1B
Weather	2A
World	2A

HOCUS-FOCUS

CAN YOU TRUST YOUR EYES? There are at least six differences in drawing details between top and bottom panels. How quickly can you find them? Check answers with those below.

Junior Whirl

by Hal Kaufman

PROGRAM HITCH! "I completed a three-word anagram of the term GRADUATION," said the computer science student, "and now I'm a little reluctant to apply for a job." What three words proved unsettling?

● Tongue Tester: Any little needless noise annoys a Nervous Nellie. Say fast, three times.

● Sum Fun! Add the cube root of my age eight years hence to the cube root of my age 11 years ago and the answer is five. What is my age?

● Sizing Up! What is the smallest bite-size particle? The molar-cule. Which shoe size is the name of a country? Triple E. Give three sizes in which studs are made. Small, medium and large.

WATCH MONEY SLIP AWAY

Does money elude your grasp? Let's see. Have someone hold a fairly crisp paper bill between thumb and forefinger (top hand above). At the same time, pulse your own thumb and forefinger around the bill—not quite touching it—slightly below the top. Instruct the person holding it to release the bill without warning. Coincidentally, you try to grab it. Keen reflexes are required to succeed. If a bill isn't handy, substitute a playing card or envelope.

PUTT OR TAKE! You can help our golfer friend sink this putt in one stroke. Which path does the ball take?

2 Die In Car Crash On County's South Side

Michael J. Keen, 15, a Lyman High School ninth grader and the lone survivor of a two-car collision in which two persons died Sunday, was released from Florida Hospital-Altamonte today.

Killed in the collision were Stephen Lansing, 18, of 64 Wildwood St., Altamonte Springs, driver of one of the vehicles and Robert Keen, Michael's father. Michael Keen was driving the second car.

The Keens home is located at 161 1/2 N. 13th Ave. Both Robert Keen and Lansing died at the scene.

According to the Florida Highway Patrol, charges in the accident are pending investigation by R.S. Kirk and R.E. Davis, homicide investigators.

The Highway patrol accident report said the car driven by Lansing was traveling westbound on CR 427, when it went out of control, crossed the center line into the eastbound traffic and was struck in the right side by the Keen vehicle. The Lansing car, a 1978 Buick, was a total wreck.

The Keen car was traveling eastbound. The accident occurred at 5:25 p.m., Sunday on CR 427, one mile north of Longwood.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Sanford's Land-Use Plan Fuzzy, County Official Says

By DIANE PETHRYK
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County is expected to tell the city of Sanford this week that the county and the city have a basic difference in philosophy concerning formulation and use of their comprehensive development plans.

In a letter the county commission is expected to authorize Tuesday to be sent to Sanford Mayor Les P. Moore, the county says the city's plan "lacks sufficient detail" for the county to evaluate the impact of city proposals on the incorporated areas of the county. In accordance with the state Local Governmental Comprehensive Planning Act of 1975, cities and counties must formulate and maintain development plans.

The county continues to perceive the Comprehensive Plan as a detailed expression of the inter-relationship of land capability, goals of the citizens, costs of facilities and available revenues. This view leads to a rather specific plan and land use map that have a direct relationship to zoning and the actual use of property," the county's letter states. But "the city's plan continues to appear to be a more general approach designed to serve as a guide for future growth and development in the city," the letter says.

It points out that the potential exists for some incongruities between the city's and county's planning efforts.

County Planner Woody Price, who drafted the letter, emphasized that both the city and county plans "are legitimate and legal."

plan for them or say their plan needs to be like our plan," he said, "but for us it generates a problem in some areas."

Price said he hopes the letter will stimulate a dialogue to minimize the potential for future conflicts. But he said he realizes the letter is unlikely to effect any major changes.

"Land use compatibility (between the city and county) will likely continue to be an issue," he said.

The letter, he added, is part of a requirement of the state statute that governmental units within a county exchange information on changes they may be proposing to their comprehensive plans. The information must be subjected to a 60-day review-and-comment period before they may be adopted. Sanford recently sent proposed changes to its plan to the county.

But, Price said, the city is not obligated in any way to act on any of the county's suggestions.

public safety is "perhaps the most thorough" of all the sections and there appears to be several opportunities for cost savings in both equipment and personnel expenditures by minimizing what may be duplication of effort.

For instance, Price suggests that a fire notification system might cost less if centralized.

Currently, the county operates a central communications system utilized by the cities of Altamonte Springs and Longwood.