Inn Expansion, Senior Citizens' Complex OK'd

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Two new projects — expansion of the Holiday Inn on Sanford Isle and a new senior citizens congregate living complex — have received the blessings of the Sanford City Commission.

And the city has received a payment of $54,500 from County Commissioner Robert G. "Bud" Feather to end its involvement with the former city-owned property on U.S. Highway 17-92 behind the Evening Herald Building.

The commission "recognized" the right of the Holiday Inn owners to pick up an option to lease a 2-acre parcel in front of the current facility at the Isle to build a new lounge and restaurant at the site.

Fred Salgado, one of the partners in the operation, said the expansion will have 6,000 square feet under roof. Construction will begin in about 60 days and completion is expected late this year or early in 1984. The new restaurant and lounge will have a capacity of 200 persons, Salgado told the City Commission.

Salgado said he could not give an estimate now on the amount of investment that will be made in the new facilities. He noted the renovations at the Inn have been on-going for the past several months.

He added that phase two of plans for improving the facility including adding more hotel rooms, a meeting room and retail shops will be announced at a later date. The city-owned property has been leased for the Inn operation since 1967.

Meanwhile, with approval from the commission, some $5 million in industrial revenue bonds will be sold for "Howell Place," a congregate living complex for senior citizens on a parcel of land off Airport Boulevard near the Zayre's Shopping Center.

Bob Little, a general partner in the development firm which will build and operate the facility, said he expects construction to begin next week. Closing on the purchase of the site is scheduled for next Thursday.

Since there appeared to be some question about whether city property tax could be levied on the property, the commission insisted an agreement be executed by the developers pledging that "payments in lieu of taxes" will be made to the city during "the life of the project."

Final approval was held up Monday night while City Attorney Bill Colbert examined documents presented by the developers to guarantee the payments.

Colbert said while the city will sponsor the bonds for the project, the city will have no responsibility for their payment nor will the city's credit be pledged.

In another matter, City Manager W. E. "Pete"

Knowles announced Feather has delivered to the city a check for $54,500 as a final payment on property behind the Evening Herald Building and fronting on the waterfront where Feather plans to build a life care center.

In exchange for the payment, the city is to remove a reverter clause from its contract with Feather.

The property, recovered land where a city sanitary landfill was operated years ago, was purchased by Feather from a previous buyer under the condition that he maintain a development schedule so that it could be placed on the tax rolls as soon as possible.

Feather said the clause which gave the city the right to repurchase the land if development was not begun within a certain number of months made it difficult to finance his project. The City Commission said it would remove the reverter clause for a payment of $54,500.

Sun Bank Will Get County Business

By Michael Beha
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County Commissioners have voted 4-1 to award a three-year contract for the county's banking services to Sun Bank.

The county will pay $12,738.50 annually to Sun Bank to handle all of the county's bank accounts. The contract begins Sept. 1, 1983, and will end Aug. 30, 1986.

Seminole County Clerk Arthur Beckwith said the county will earn about $254,000 this year from investments at Atlantic Bank. That contract will expire in August.

Sun Bank's bid of $12,738.50 was nearly $4,000 lower than the next lowest bid. Southeast Bank bid $16,404.50; Freedom National Bank bid $17,636.80; Atlantic bid $18,409; Barnett Bank bid $27,267 and Flagship Bank bid $40,165.

Commissioner Robert G. "Bud" Feather cast the dissenting vote. He said the contract should be for two years not three.

In other business, commissioners heard a report from the Central Florida Commission on the Status of Women concerning a shortage of maternity care and other medical care for children.

Because of the high demand for maternity care, the Seminole County Health Department is unable to supply gynecological care for non-pregnant poor women, said Debra Horner of the commission.

Ms. Horner said poor women often have to wait up to three months for an appointment at one of the county's two health clinics.

As a result, simple health problems can escalate into emergencies before a poor woman can get help, she said.

Ms. Horner said the number of poor women far exceeds poor men because of divorce. "The quickest way to poverty for a woman is a divorce. She gets the children and no support."

County Health Director Dr. Jorge Deju said funding restraints will not allow the problem to be corrected in the near future.

The commission plans to make a study on the status of women on boards in Seminole County.

Ms. Horner said the commission and school board have been leaders in naming women to advisory posts.

The study will concentrate on women's roles on corporate and private advisory boards, she said.

Kmart employees and a Sanford policeman closed Tuesday afternoon when a strange odor stand outside the store just after the store was made some ill.

No Odor, Store Open Today

4 Kmart Employees Treated After Strange Odor Detected

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Four Sanford Kmart employees received emergency room treatment at Central Florida Regional Hospital Tuesday and the store was closed as the result of mysterious irritating fumes inside the store.

Treated and released for chemical bronchitis as a result of exposure to the unknown chemical were store employees Faith Neal, Jewel Oswald, Cynthia Brownson and Renee Rowan.

A strange odor was detected in the store and the Sanford Fire Department was called in mid-afternoon to investigate.

"We couldn't pin it down," Assistant Fire Chief Tom Hickson said today. "We checked to make sure it wasn't a flammable liquid or something that might explode. We brought in Seminole County's explosive meter, but nothing was detected."

Hickson said to him it was a sulfur based smell, but everyone had their own description of the odor. It was irritating to the bronchials, lungs, nose and eyes and was nauseating to some, he added.

Due to employees complaining of symptoms the decision was made to close up until the source could be found, Hickson said. The store was closed to customers and employees were sent home about 3:30 p.m.

"The air-conditioning system is on computer so it was put in override and it ventilated the store all night," said Hickson. "And there was no odor this morning."

John Mestan, district manager for Kmart, said the plumbing, air-conditioning and electric system were all checked, but there was no trace of whatever was causing the odor. He said he was in the store, which is located at U.S. Highway 17-92 and Airport Boulevard, this morning and there was no odor.

The store is open for business as usual today.

Cleveland Represents Civil Board

Representing the Sanford Civil Service Board in its first court appearance today on a charge of violating the "government in the sunshine" law was Mack N. Cleveland Jr., a Sanford attorney.

Cleveland, a former legislator and veteran of 20 years on the city's Civil Service Board, was retained after the five-member board unanimously voted to select him at a special meeting this morning.

No other attorney was discussed by the group. City Manager W. E. "Pete" Knowles contacted Cleveland for the board and got his agreement to handle the court case.

Knowles told board members that Cleveland wished all five to be present for a hearing before Circuit Judge Kenneth Lefler which was scheduled for 2 p.m. today at the Seminole County Courthouse.

Dr. Luis Perez said the board chose Cleveland because of his vast knowledge of the Civil Service Board gained during his 20 years of service. Cleveland was elected 10 consecutive times to two-year terms by the city employees.

The board also voted unanimously to reschedule a rehearing of a case involving a city employee for 8 p.m. June 27. The rehearing was slated for tonight before the lawsuit was filed by the Orlando Sentinel.

The basis of the newspaper's suit revolves around the board's refusal to permit the press and the public to attend a closed door meeting May 31 when the board discussed whether to grant a rehearing to the city on a case involving a fired city employee, Bernard Mitchell.

The board also excluded an Evening Herald reporter from the 55-minute executive session, held in the City Commission Conference Room at City Hall. The closed door session was held despite a warning from City Attorney Bill Colbert that the board members could be prosecuted as individuals for the misdemeanor of violating the sunshine law if they held the meeting. He noted at the time that the board members could escape prosecution if they were acting under the advice of the board's attorney. But, he noted that Gordon Frederick was only a board member and not its attorney.

The board decided to hold the meeting after Frederick gave them the opinion that the board is similar to a judicial body and according to an appellate court decision in Tallahassee a board of this type can meet behind closed doors.

According to the state law which created the board, the city must pay for its legal defense and earlier this week the City Commission authorized the hiring of an attorney to represent the board. Colbert could not represent the group because of an apparent conflict of interest in that he is representing the city in a battle with the board over a decision concerning a terminated city employee.

The lawsuit against the board asks the court to levy attorney fees and court costs against the board and its individual members.

It is thought this is the first time the almost 40-year-old board has been involved in a court case.

Abortion Ruling

The Supreme Court today ruled that states cannot place certain restrictions on a woman's right to have an abortion. See story on page 10A.

Isle Description Being Corrected

The legal description of the lake bottom surrounding Marina Isle will be corrected even though Gov. Bob Graham vetoed a bill designed to solve the problem.

State Rep. Bobby Brantley, R-Longwood, earlier said an effort would be mounted in the Legislature to override that veto.

But Brantley said Tuesday night the Department of Natural Resources is prepared to handle the problem administratively and that confrontation is no longer necessary.

City Manager W. E. "Pete" Knowles, who had said the veto was a misunderstanding, said today Ted Foregren, chairman of the Bureau of State Land Management of the DNR, is "personally handling" the matter which will result in the description being corrected. The city is also to be given the right to maintain the Monroe lake bottom around the marina and to govern the speed of boats around the marina, Knowles said.

Spry Oldtimers

Although he's just a month or so short of 70 years on this earth, Sanford's Buddy Lake still wields a dangerous bat. Lake fled out to medium-deep center field in his lone at bat Tuesday night in an Oldtimers game between the Sanford Giants and the Daytona Beach Islanders. Former Cincinnati Reds' hurler Jack Billingham doubled home the tying run in the last inning to salvage a 2-2 deadlock for Sanford. See Sports Page 7A.

Goat Lady Going To Jail—Again

By Diane Petryk
Herald Staff Writer

"I will survive," said Mrs. Ingeborg Morris as she left court Tuesday facing a 30-day jail sentence which was to begin today.

Seminole County's celebrated "goat lady" was ordered to start serving time at 1 p.m. Wednesday by Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. But the judge nixed prosecutor Mark O'Mara's suggestion that Mrs. Morris be given six months because she has "simply not learned."

Mrs. Morris owns 36 pygmy goats which she insists are pets and the county insists are livestock — and as such forbidden from being kept in her residential neighborhood. Mrs. Morris lives at 2331 Oak Drive in the Lake Brantley subdivision in Forest City. Since an initial court order for removal of about 16 goats from her residence in June 1981, Mrs. Morris has repeatedly defied the court, violating five different civil contempt orders, O'Mara said.

"She has brought this on herself," he said. "She has flagrantly and continually abused this court and this system."

Mrs. Morris has been fined $2,500, but has not paid any of the money. She served four days in jail last year for failing to remove all goats from her home.

During the past two years Mrs. Morris' goats have been seized, farmed-out, given away and auctioned, but the feisty lady has repeatedly brought goats back to her residence — sick ones that needed personal care, she says.

She insists the goats are not livestock.

"Who says my goats are livestock?" she asked Mize Tuesday. "That's the first error you made right there."

Mize said: "Every conceivable effort has been made to avoid having to get down to a criminal contempt proceeding. A civil contempt proceeding did not work. Fines did not work."

"There is no other alternative (to jail time) other than disregarding what has been done and I'm not going to do that."

Mize also pointed out that his earlier decision regarding Mrs. Morris' goats has been upheld by the 5th District Court of Appeals.

Despite her pleas of bad health, he gave Mrs. Morris only 24 hours to make arrangements providing for the goats, dogs and cats she keeps as pets and ordered her to report to the Seminole County Correctional Facility at 1 p.m. today.

Mrs. Morris' attorney, Thomas Greene, had asked no jail time be given since his client had only brought goats home recently because they were sick and she felt she needed to take care of them. Greene said if Mrs. Morris had intended to defy the court, order she would have brought all 36 of her goats home.

Mrs. Morris said she fed newborn goats with a bottle and, as mammals, they needed the warmth of a human being they had come to trust. She said she incubated a small premature goat in her hairdryer. "They can't see they're prosecuting love not crime," Mrs. Morris said.

Motel Fined $200 In Fire That Killed 5

FORT WORTH, Texas (UPI) — A fast-moving motel fire killed five people who probably would have lived if their rooms had been equipped with smoke detectors, fire officials say.

A few hours after the Tuesday fire, the management of the five-building, 303-unit was fined the maximum $200 for a fire code violation for leaving several rolls of carpet in a hallway of a recently remodeled wing.

The blaze started in the carpeting after 3 a.m. CDT Tuesday, destroying 87 units, killing five people, injuring 34 and sending some 150 guests fleeing into a thunderstorm.

No cause for the fire had been determined but officials are expected by Thursday to be in the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms laboratory in San Francisco.

Investigators said all five people who died were found at the foot of their beds or in their bathrooms, indicating they tried to flee before being overcome by smoke.

Satellite Weapon OK'd

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House, undeterred by assertions it was taking an "irreversible step" toward war in space, gave the go-ahead to production of what could be the nation's first anti-satellite weapons system.

The House voted 243-177 Tuesday to defeat an amendment that would have deleted $19.4 million in initial production funds for the weapons system but would have retained $206 million in research funds for anti-satellite testing.

If ultimately approved by Congress, it would lead to the first U.S. flight test of an anti-satellite weapon, in which an Air Force F-15 jet fighter this summer would launch a two-stage rocket designed to attack low-level reconnaissance satellites.

Smokers Do Slow Burn

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The city's new anti-smoking ordinance — one of the toughest in the nation — may go up in smoke if a citizens' group succeeds in obtaining 19,000 signatures required for a November referendum.

Concerned Citizens Against Government Intrusion, comprised of community, business and labor leaders, has 30 days to collect the necessary signatures.

The anti-smoking bill was signed by Mayor Dianne Feinstein June 3 and will take effect July 3. The law gives employers three months to devise a smoking policy and smoking must be banned if employees cannot agree on a policy. Violations can draw a fine of up to $500 a day.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Thunderstorms rumbled from the western Gulf Coast to the Great Lakes today, taking the edge off the Midwest's heat wave. Lightning strikes in Virginia and North Carolina injured three young people, at least one critically. A fourth day of steaming temperatures loomed for the Northeast after a wave of storms from Texas to Maine Tuesday dumped heavy rain, hail and a few tornadoes. The National Weather Service said today's temperatures should be 10 degrees lower than Tuesday across the Midwest and Plains, but no relief from summery heat was in store for New York and New England. New York City imposed restrictions on watering lawns. Lightning struck a state park at Raleigh, N.C. Tuesday night, injuring two girls working as day camp counselors, one critically. The girls and three boys were knocked down when lightning struck a tree under which they were standing. A high school boy wearing a metal safety helmet was struck by lightning and burned during baseball practice at Roanoke, Va. Minor tornadoes were reported Tuesday at Venice, Fla., Martin County, Minn., and Peoria and Hebron, Ill. The Peoria twister knocked down a barn and upended a construction trailer. Thunderstorms dumped hail at Decatur, Ala., Illinois, Ill., and Fergus Falls, Minn. More than 2 inches of rain fell at Blytheville, Ark., an inch at Memphis, Tenn., and rain was widespread across Missouri and central and northern Illinois. Evening thunderstorms dotted the central Appalachians and eastern New England. Winds gusted to more than 60 mph at Guilford, Maine, northwest of Bangor.

5 Arrested In Seminole On Drug Charges

Five persons have been arrested in Seminole County on drug charges so far this week.

Two Orlando residents were arrested early this morning at the ABC Lounge, 175 East State Road 438 in Altamonte Springs, and charged with possession of cocaine and drug paraphernalia.

Jodi Leigh Bowling, 19, of 7715 S. Branchwood Lane and Charles Michael Eiserman, 25, of 2420 Locke Ave., were released on bond after their arrest at 12:32 a.m. today.

Police said two people were observed sitting in a red Ford parked on the east side of the ABC Lounge apparently attempting to hide something.

The officer saw a woman place something under her leg and then asked the couple to exit their car.

A search of the vehicle revealed a white powder substance in the woman's handbag and a number of razor blades and straws, police said.

In an unrelated incident in Oviedo, two men were arrested for possession of marijuana.

Peter John Finch, 18, of 550 East 4th St., Chuluota, and Thomas R. Anderson, 29, of 8504 Alveron Ave., Orlando, were released on $500 bond each after their arrest late Tuesday.

Police said they observed two men drive into an open field at the rear of Westwood Apartments, and stop in an exit road.

There one of the men observed reaching into his pocket and pulling out a plastic baggie and rolled cigarette.

At 5:30 p.m. Monday, Sylvester Brown, 24, of 110 Bethune Circle, Sanford, was arrested for possession of marijuana after being observed with a clear plastic bag containing a green leafy substance on the 1400 block of West 12th Street.

Police said when asked for his name, the suspect ran and so was also charged with resisting arrest without violence. He was released from the Seminole County jail on a $500 bond.

SANFORD BURGLARIES

Money from a pool table, PAC-MAN video game and music player were taken from 1509 West 13th St. between 2 and 6:35 a.m. Wednesday, police report.

Also taken in the burglary was a 19-inch color television set, clock radio and three cases of beer. The property is owned by Edna Smith, 1900 West 18th St.

A burglary at the body shop of Seminole Community College has cost a car repair customer $150. Between 4:30 p.m. Monday and 8 a.m. Tuesday, someone using a pry tool on a hallway door entered the body shop and removed an AM-FM radio-cassette player and two speakers from a 1978 Toyota belonging to John J. Kucik of 100 Douglas Ave., Apt. 92, Longwood.

A .22-caliber blue steel revolver was stolen from a white Cadillac parked at AAMCO Transmission repair shop, 2880 S. Orlando Drive, Sanford, between 10 a.m. Tuesday and 4 p.m. Wednesday. The gun is the property of Lawrence McIntyre, 25, of 1003 Mangosline Ave.

Two apartments at 700 Magnolia Ave., Sanford, were burglarized between 8:15 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. Wednesday, police said. Susan Flores, of Apt. 7, lost $560 worth

CRASH VICTIM SERIOUS

A Deltona woman was listed in serious condition at Central Florida Regional Hospital today after an automobile accident at U.S. Highway 17-92 and Lake Mary Boulevard at about noon Saturday.

Carolina Aguilu Hake, 68, of 2600 Keys Lane, was in the hospital's intensive care unit after the car she was driving was totaled in a crash with another vehicle.

A passenger in the car, Carman Ramos Delgado, 72, of 2260 Howland Blvd., Deltona, was listed in satisfactory condition.

Another passenger, Lori Ann McIntosh, 8, 209 Main St., Enterprise, was treated and released, as was the driver of the other car, Grace L. Shafer, 65, of Lake Mary.

Police said the Shafer car entered the intersection at 17-92 and Lake Mary Boulevard after getting a green light while the Hake vehicle was unable to stop when the light turned red.

No charges have been filed in the case pending completion of an investigation.

GAMBLING ARRESTS MADE

Sanford police arrested three men on gambling charges early Saturday morning.

Willie Gaines, 18, of 2370 Granby St., and Larry Snell, 19, of 75 Lake Monroe Terrace, both of Sanford, were arrested at 12:05 a.m. after police said they saw the pair and a third man rolling dice in an alley behind Joe's Tavern, 3rd Street and Sanford Avenue.

The third man escaped but Gaines and Snell were arrested. A pair of dice and $12 were confiscated.

Joseph McGiblamy, 25, of 1621 Strawberry Ave., Sanford, was arrested at 12:42 a.m. at 4th Street and Sanford Avenue by police after they reportedly observed him rolling dice. McGiblamy was also charged with resisting arrest after he hit an officer in the head with a can of beer. Thirty three dollars was confiscated.

Gaines and Snell were released on $100 bond each. McGiblamy was released on $500 bond.

DRUG ARREST MADE

Kenneth Hinson, 32, of 3315 Palm Way, Sanford, was arrested at 10:49 p.m. Friday on charges of cultivating and possession of marijuana.

Police said they saw several plants growing in a courtyard by Hinson's apartment.

He was released from in the Seminole County jail on $8,000 bond.

STRONG ARM

A gold rope chain necklace was ripped off the neck of a Sanford woman Tuesday at 7:55 p.m. outside the Tip

Top grocery store, 1100 West 13th St., Sanford.

The necklace was valued at $1,000 and belonged to Denise M. Hockett, 29, of 500 Oak Ave.

In another strong arm robbery in Sanford, Angela S. Compton, 19, of 915-A Park Ave., Sanford, had her purse snatched Monday morning in the parking lot of Super X Drugs, 2438 South French Ave. Police said the thief netted about $30 cash in the 11:50 a.m. incident. Ms. Compton suffered scratched legs in the scuffle.

$23,000 HEIST

A blue Cadillac Seville valued at $23,000 was reported stolen from the Joe Creamons dealership, 3700 South U.S. Highway 17-92, between 8:30 p.m. Friday and 6 p.m. Saturday.

The auto, taken through the service gate, belongs to the dealership.

AUTO THEFT

William E. Poffenberger, 53, of 3645 Marquette Ave., Sanford, has been released from the Seminole County jail on $5,000 bond after being arrested Sunday and charged with grand theft auto.

Police say Poffenberger is allegedly stole a 1974 Dodge Ram truck valued at $2,000.

CASSELBERRY WOMAN ARRESTED

Sherry Loop, 24, of 1311 Concord Drive, Casselberry, was arrested early Saturday on a charge of dealing in stolen property.

Casselberry police charged Ms. Loop with selling stolen guns at Connie's Pawn Shop on U.S. Highway 17-92 in Casselberry.

Police said the guns were stolen on Dec. 29 from Richard Evans, 141 Lake Triplett Drive, Casselberry.

Ms. Loop was released from the Seminole County jail on $8,000 bond.

THEFT ARREST

Ernest Brown, 34, of 2510 State Road 46, Sanford, was being held at the Seminole County jail today on charges of retail theft and grand theft.

He was arrested at 4:55 p.m. Wednesday and accused of removing a 13-inch Emerson color television set valued at $299 from the Zayre store at 2938 South Orlando Drive, Sanford.

SCHOOL THEFT

Items valued at $2,509 were discovered stolen from Sterling Park Elementary School, 501 Eagle Circle, Casselberry, between June 1 and Wednesday, police said.

The items include a video recorder valued at $1,058, a color camera valued at $1,181 and a color television valued at $270. The stolen video equipment was taken from a locked storeroom. There was no sign of forced entry, police said.

FANS TAKEN

Three Hunter paddle fans valued at $100 each were taken from the garage at 12 Trilby Branch Road, Longwood, between May 18 and 1:50 p.m. Wednesday. The fans belong to Judy C. Frank.

MISSING

A 24-inch gold rope chain necklace with gold nugget valued at $800 is missing from the home of Velma I. Vogel, 1750 Markham Woods Road, Longwood. It was last seen at 6 p.m. Monday and discovered missing at 12:27 p.m. Wednesday.

Politician Comes With Money Back Guarantee

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (UPI) — A candidate for the Westchester County Legislature is offering voters a "money back" guarantee that he will not break his campaign promises.

"If somebody contributes to my campaign because of the things I say, they should expect that their money will be well spent," Paul Feiner, 27, said.

"If I don't keep my promises, I'll return the money out of my own pocket ... I'm staking my financial well-being on this promise. How many politicians would be willing to do that?"

Campaign contributors interested in Feiner's "money-back guarantee program" must state in writing which of his campaign promises they want guaranteed.

The candidate said he will file the name of the contributor, the amount donated, and the campaign pledge with the Board of Elections in Westchester County, which is made up of New York City suburbs.

U.S. Must Persist In Negotiations

The world is being instructed once more that good news in the Middle East is as perishable and short-lived as it is scarce.

The Israeli-Lebanese agreement for the withdrawal of foreign forces from Lebanon was hardly signed on May 17 before Syria vetoed it. The Syrians, with strong support from the Soviet Union, served notice of their firm intention to stay in Lebanon, and, moreover, they have mounted an aggressive campaign in the Arab world to discredit and undo the Israeli-Lebanese understanding. Indeed, Syria refused even to receive President Reagan's special envoy, Philip C. Habib. This sabotage hasn't enjoyed much Arab support except among radical elements led by Libya and the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Syria's belligerent rejection of a peaceful resolution of the Lebanese crisis effectively partitions Lebanon, for the moment at least, into a southern area occupied by Israel and a somewhat larger northern area occupied by Syria and the PLO.

Meanwhile, the Soviet Union has not only replaced all weapons lost by Syria in last year's fighting but moved into Lebanon more than 5,000 of its own military personnel to man sophisticated missile systems, which have been deployed for the first time outside Russia. And, underlining the gravity of the situation, the Soviets have ordered all dependents home just as they did before the outbreak of the 1973 war.

The ominous Soviet move took on the appearance of prophecy recently with a war scare brought about by Syrian attacks against Israeli forces in Lebanon on the ground and in the air. But the immediate danger has receded following an unusually subdued Israeli reaction and a halt to mobilization by both sides. An uneasy calm now prevails across eastern Lebanon where Israeli and Syrian armies face each other from increasingly fortified positions.

Another big reason for the winding down of tensions was provided by none other than Israel's Prime Minister Menachem Begin. In a surprising address before the Knesset on June 1, he said Israel had no intention of attacking Syria and vowed to "bring the boys home" from their garrison duty in Lebanon.

Although Begin's declaration undoubtedly placates domestic pressures and reflects a sincere overall Israeli goal, it must be interpreted as being more hope than realism.

Israel is unlikely to pull out altogether and hand Lebanon back to Syria and the PLO because the Lebanese government is far too weak to defend its territory. And even if the Israelis withdrew only to the Awali River and maintained a buffer zone in southern Lebanon to protect their northern borders, a dangerous vacuum would be created in central Lebanon.

An Israeli withdrawal would undoubtedly generate calls for an expanded peacekeeping role in Lebanon by the four-power multinational force of 4,809 men that includes 1,500 U.S. Marines. But so grievous are the prospects for such an undertaking, it should not even be considered.

A single and sufficient reason for avoiding deeper involvement in the Lebanese quagmire is provided by recent developments in the Palestine Liberation Organization. Some of the PLO chieftains are leading a widespread mutiny against their leader, Yasser Arafat. They command most of the 10,000 PLO guerrillas behind Syrian lines in Lebanon, and they enjoy active support from the most radical Arab elements, chiefly Syria and Libya. If the mutineers succeed, as it seems likely, they would surely shed the moderate coloration Arafat has successfully assumed and mount a mad-dog warfare against Israel and its "imperialist" ally, the United States.

Conventional diplomacy is hard put now to deal with Arab madness in sabotaging both negotiations on the West Bank and a troop withdrawal from Lebanon. It is appropriate and encouraging, therefore, that the Reagan administration has recalled Habib for a policy review in Washington to see where U.S. peace efforts, now "at a pause," can go.

As the only real peacemaker in the Middle East, the United States has no recourse but to persist in its negotiation efforts which, if they cannot bring peace agreements, may at least prevent another all-out war.

Just A Polite Summit

As the recently-completed Williamsburg economic summit wore on, Secretary of State George P. Schultz was heard by a New York Times reporter to remark that the statement by the leaders of the seven industrial democracies on arms control was more of the same "reassuring" old stuff.

By the time the Williamsburg meeting adjourned on Memorial Day, it was obvious that President Reagan had charmed his fellow heads of state, from Britain, France, Canada, West Germany, Japan, and Italy, into a mood of blissful, not to say comatose compromise. The set-piece communiqué pledged the seven governments to the pursuit of "appropriate monetary and budgetary policies that will be conducive to low inflation, reduced interest rates, higher productive investment and greater employment opportunities..." The leaders also promised to consult more closely with each other, to halt the spread of trade protectionism, and to recognize the impact of recession on the Third World.

The unanimity at Williamsburg contrasts sharply with the angry aftermath of last year's Versailles summit, when the Europeans turned their backs on President Reagan's imprecations not to finance a natural gas pipeline in the Soviet Union. The pipeline issue did not come up at Williamsburg. But there was more than a hint of new fears of Soviet bullying: the conferees agreed that Western security was "indivisible and must be approached on a global basis." Even the Japanese and for the first time the persnickety French joined in. As one economist remarked, this was the year of the missile, that is, Soviet intermediate range SS-20s, aimed at both Western Europe and Japan. More European credits for Soviet gas won't make them go away.

Behind the courtesy at the summit, hard questions on economic policy remain. The pledge of "convergence" of economic policies masks European annoyance at U.S. interest rates and deficits, and American anger over European and Japanese protectionism. None of the summiters practice what they preach. President Reagan's administration is spending more on non-defense social programs than Jimmy Carter ever did. British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's so-called hardline government is spending 44 percent of Britain's gross national product this year, to 41 percent in 1981. And none of our friends appear willing, thus far, to do more than exchange notes about eliminating trade barriers.

Summits are well and good, and give the leaders of the West a chance to chat with each other, but the issue they are supposed to deal with are really faced when the heads of state go home to face their voters. That is why they will meet to argue them again, next year.

EPA Takes A Lot To Say A Little

WASHINGTON — You wonder why the Environmental Protection Agency is in trouble? You should read "Project Stream," an inch-thick document produced by the EPA's Denver regional office at a cost of about $1 million in money and employee-hours.

It's supposed to be a blueprint for increasing efficiency and improving management. As it turned out, it's a testament to exactly the opposite.

Fourteen full-time employees spent thousands of hours interviewing the Denver region's 340 employees. The result should be titled "Dick and Jane Meet Mr. Bafflegab."

Where the report isn't confusing, it is simple-minded. Much of it is just incomprehensible. It confirms the maxim that the less the bureaucrats have to say, the more words it takes to say it.

My associate Indy Badwar labored through a copy of "Project Stream." He extracted a few examples of the nonsensical nattering that cost the taxpayers a million bucks.

Bureaucrats seem to have a compulsion to define everything, for example, whether it needs defining or not. Here's how the report explains the word "budget" to employees who may have been living on Mars:

"A budget may be seen as a prediction. If the requests are granted in the amounts requested and if the money is spent in accordance with instructions leading to a satisfaction of the prelimi-

There weren't any seats to spare at GOP County Commission candidate Fred Streetman's first fund-raiser of the 1984 friendly season at Lord Chumley's Pub last weekend.

And it had to be the most fun political event in Seminole County in many years. Labeled "The Great Celebrity Talent Show," the most popular entertainers appeared to be John Polk, the high sheriff of Seminole County and Patti Brantley, wife of state Rep. Bobby Brantley.

The four-term Democratic sheriff did a solo of "Cool Water" while Mrs. Brantley performed as a stunning Dolly Parton.

State Rep. Art Grindle performed a soft shoe and sang "Cecilia," while the candidate and his wife, Mary Bell, did a clogging number, called the "Precinct Stomp."

The "Great Celebrity Band," with Brantley on the drums (as a young man he played drums in a professional band); Rod Cable, former chairman of the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee, on the banjo; Wendall Hall on the guitar and lead singer, and Walt Cable, Rod's father, on the piano, provided music for the occasion.

Master of Ceremonies was Seminole School Superintendent Bob Hughes; state Sen. Toni Jennings, County Commissioner Barbara Christensen, and Ingrid McCollum in baseball costumes, but more form-fitting than the usual ones, sang "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" as Ron Safford, a Lake Mary High School teacher, displayed his remarkable memory; County Commissioners Sandra Glenn and Bob Sturm performed a magic act; Brantley did a drum solo; U.S. Rep. Bill McCollum told some stories from "Inside Washington" and Mrs. McCollum did a solo of Cabaret.

Jeanie Austin, vice chairman of the Republican Party of Florida, assisted Jim Stelling, past-president of the Young Republican Club of Seminole County and current president of the Greater Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, as "Carnac the Great."

Last number in the show was performed by Jan Thompson and Thompson's Aerobolizer Dancers. Everyone participated in the grand finale of the song, "You're a Grand Old Flag."

Most important from Streetman's point of view is that his campaign probably netted between $7,000 and $8,000 from the some 300 persons on hand.

ROBERT WALTERS

On The Enders Ouster

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Behind the removal of the State Department's senior official in charge of Latin American affairs lies a tale of political intrigue that indicates a profound shift in this country's policy toward Central America.

President Reagan's abrupt transfer of Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs Thomas O. Enders to a new diplomatic post suggests that the White House has decided to adopt a highly confrontational posture toward the regional conflict in Central America.

Enders began expressing doubts about the administration's hard-line approach as early as last August, when he proposed in a speech to San Francisco's Commonwealth Club that there ought to be an embargo on all future exports of major military weapons to Central America as well as the removal of all foreign military advisors in the region.

In February of this year, Enders visited Spain and discussed with leaders of that nation pursuit of a "two-track" policy to resolve the conflict in El Salvador through not only aggressive military action but also intensified negotiations.

Shortly thereafter, a group of conservative "Latin American specialists" outside the federal government and Ambassador to the United Nations Jeane J. Kirkpatrick, an unabashed advocate of a hard-line approach in Central America, reportedly expressed their strenuous objections to Enders' moderate stance and proposed diplomatic initiatives to Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs William P. Clark.

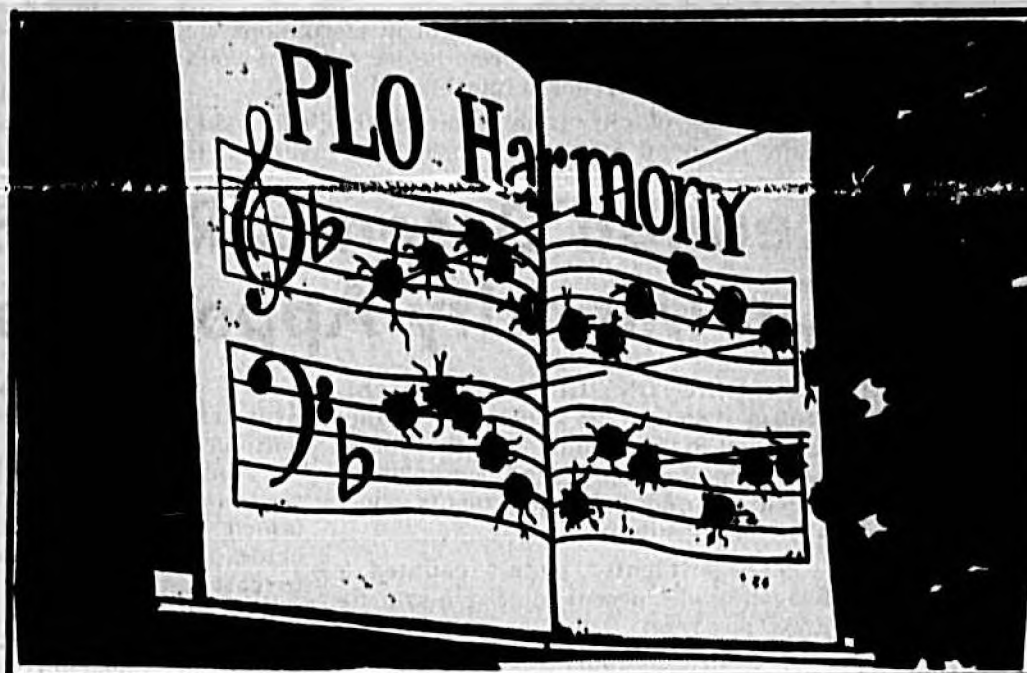

As the campaign for Enders' removal escalated into a crusade among the president's most conservative supporters, Enders infuriated another senior Reagan advisor, Director of Central Intelligence William J. Casey.

Unattributed news accounts quoted members of Congress as saying they had been told by Casey and Enders that the Nicaraguan rebel forces supported by this country had a good chance of overthrowing Nicaragua's Sandinista government.

Casey reportedly blamed Enders for that damaging "leak," which undercut the Reagan administration's repeated denials that it is seeking to topple the Nicaraguan government.

At approximately the same time, W. Scott Thompson a senior official of the U.S. Information Agency learned that public release of a controversial "white paper" on Central America was being thwarted by Enders, who insisted the document contained no new information.

That position paper, written by Constantine Menges, a former CIA official, was popular among administration officials who share the president's view

JEFFREY HART

AIDS: Plague Of 1983?

What can only be called a panic is spreading outward from the urban centers concerning the AIDS syndrome, a disease new within the last three years. AIDS is fatal. It affects mostly homosexuals. It is likely to have major social and political consequences.

Item: An alert friend of mine in New York City reports as follows:

"Straight New Yorkers are reacting to AIDS in a very frightening way. Yesterday, a co-worker of mine came into my office and said, 'My God! My hairdresser is gay! Should I refuse to let him touch me now? What if this thing is transferable?' At age 55, she sees a slide of AIDS that I had not. I started to think about it, too. She went on: 'My dentist has a large homosexual clientele. He mentioned something about this to me Monday. Maybe the DRILL is infected. Should I mention this to him?' Then another co-worker joined in. 'Look, I no longer frequent a deli in my neighborhood. I've gone there for years. They have this gay guy behind the counter handling food, and I'm just scared to death.' This I tell you, is what AIDS is doing to the American people. There is going to be a backlash like you have never seen if AIDS spreads to large quantities of straight people."

Item: Interview with a research biologist, Ph.D.: "The scientific community has a so-far unspoken terror that the AIDS statistics that have produced the current incipient panic may be enormously understated. On the basis of currently known cases, projected as doubling every six months, we are said to expect 20,000 cases by 1988. But AIDS has an incubation period of something like 2-4 years. No one knows," the biologist said, "how many incubating cases there are out there."

Item: Rutland, Vt. reports the first case of AIDS in that state, a 29-year-old musician. He is not a homosexual. He thinks he acquired the disease from a drug needle several years ago. While traveling with a band in Colorado four years ago, he became weak and began losing weight, and his hair began falling out. During a recent hospital stay, the patient, who is a bit over six feet tall, dropped to 117 pounds. "I keep getting all these infections they can't identify," he said. "I'm just waiting to die."

Item: Police in San Francisco are demanding and getting protective surgical masks and rubber gloves for use when dealing with suspected AIDS victims.

Item: It goes beyond AIDS, hard as that may be to believe. According to J. Gordon Muir, author of the forthcoming "The Unhinging of Society," diseases of the bowel and colon are reaching epidemic proportions among homosexual males. Hepatitis B, for which there is no known cure, and which can prove fatal, can be transmitted through sexual contact. Hepatitis A, which has a high incidence among male homosexuals, can be passed on through food or water. This last raises serious questions about the employment of homosexuals in food-handling and other activities.

Further, according to Dr. Muir, the bowel diseases now running rampant among male homosexuals include amebiasis, shigellosis, and giardiasis. They have zero incidence in heterosexual men. Shigellosis is sometimes fatal to children. Dr. Muir thinks that homosexuals do not belong in the food-handling business — an idea that would create a revolution in the New York and San Francisco restaurant industries.

All of this has landed on us in the last two months, before which no one was very aware of talking much about these homosexual-specific diseases.

Item: The incidence of AIDS among non-homosexual Haitians has been heretofore a mystery in the picture. My preliminary information is that among heterosexual Haitian men, sexual behavior elsewhere confined to male homosexuals is common. Haiti, consequently, is an "in" resort for American male homosexuals.

Item: Walter Mondale and other Democratic contenders who have backed the idea that homosexuals are a "civil rights" minority, and that they are entitled to all federal protections in employment and elsewhere — as in food handling — have a big political problem.

Perhaps the democratic platform will recommend a commission to study the issue, but it is not going to go away.

because you have gone too far."

In a lengthy glossary of recurring terms, the word "FOG" is defined as "To confuse or obscure." But for some reason — modesty perhaps — the authors don't use it to describe their own reports.

CONFIDENTIAL FILES: Ayatollah Khomeini's rigidly fundamentalist regime can't make up its mind whether it loves or hates the 800,000 hapless Afghan refugees who have fled to Iran. On the one hand, the ayatollah's mullahs are trying to convert the Afghans to Islamic fundamentalism. But the regime has also thrown many refugees into prison camps.

A confidential State Department cable sums up the Iranians' reaction to the Afghan refugees as showing "elements of xenophobia, paranoia... Islamic duty and loathing for the regime in Kabul."

— Although the Sandinista regime in Nicaragua claims the allegiance of many Catholic priests, they don't stress church support the way the "contras" do. In their forays into government-held territory, the rebels distribute posters and leaflets saying, "The Pope is with us." "Christ is the liberator," and "With God and patriotism, we'll defeat communism." Most of the self-styled "freedom commandos" wear rosy beads and crucifixes around their necks. Others pin religious medals to their combat-green caps, and rebel squad leaders hold brief prayer services before going into action.

I hope the rotation has been implemented and the dead fish have been eliminated from the Denver office.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Lebanese Parliament OKs Troop Withdrawal Accord

United Press International
Two Israeli soldiers held prisoner by a radical Palestinian guerrilla group have been sent to Libya, adding a new problem to the troubled Israeli-Lebanese troop withdrawal accord.
In Beirut, the Lebanese Parliament ratified the withdrawal pact amid warnings by Syria that it would scuttle the accord by refusing to pull out its 40,000 troops in northern and eastern Lebanon.
Israel has made the withdrawal of its 30,000 troops from Lebanon contingent on a simultaneous withdrawal of Syrian and Palestine Liberation Organization forces and the return of eight of its soldiers captured during the invasion of Lebanon.
Lebanese and Israeli officials fear the prisoner transfer means a prisoner exchange would get entangled in rivalries within the Palestinian guerrilla ranks.

Afghans Capture Soviets

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (UPI) — Moslem rebels killed or wounded more than 100 government soldiers and captured several Soviet troops in stepped-up attacks throughout Afghanistan, Western diplomats said.
The new rebel activity coincided with a visit to southeast Afghanistan by President Babrak Karmal, the diplomats said Tuesday.
They said guerrillas fighting to oust Karmal's Communist government kidnapped several Soviet officials in and around Afghanistan's second largest city, Kandahar, during a one-day visit by the Afghan president last Thursday.
Karmal, installed in a Moscow-backed coup in 1979 and backed by an estimated 105,000 Soviet troops, was not affected by the rebel activity, the diplomats said.

Army Ousts Rebels

SAN VICENTE, El Salvador (UPI) — The Salvadoran army said 6,000 troops liberated part of strategic San Vicente province from rebel control, preparing for a U.S.-designed program to repopulate the area with 35,000 farmers.
Salvadoran Defense Minister Carlos Eugenio Vides Casanova said Tuesday that 17 U.S. advisers were in the San Vicente garrison, 30 miles east of San Salvador, to train small "hunter" patrols that will try to prevent leftists from returning.

Peter Bird Back On Land

CAIRNS, Australia (UPI) — After more than 10 months at sea attempting to row solo across the Pacific Ocean, British adventurer Peter Bird today stepped ashore to a hero's welcome and cheers and hugs from his family.
Bird, 36, arrived at the Australian Navy's northern command base aboard the HMS Bendigo, the patrol boat that rescued him Tuesday when he was forced to give up his 10,000-mile quest just outside the Great Barrier Reef.

Pope's Visit Won't Bring Miracle

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — An underground Solidarity publication warned Polish residents today not to expect "a miracle" from Pope John Paul II's second visit to his homeland.

"Expecting a miracle to solve in one instant all the dilemmas of Polish life, to extend all of a sudden the range of freedom and democracy ... is bound to have tragic effects," said a six-page, typewritten document circulated by a Warsaw area Solidarity group.

"Anyone looking at the pope's visit from the point of view of direct, tangible effects will see nothing happen," said another article in the duplicated typescript. "Because it can bring nothing of that kind."

Solidarity earlier asked its supporters to maintain a religious spirit at all public gatherings during the pope's eight-day visit beginning Thursday. But today's publication said it "is us who will be greeting the pope, not the authorities. He will be welcomed by a nation which has not been lost and not been smothered."

Hardly a papal banner could be seen in Warsaw Tuesday, which at a comparable point before John Paul's first return as pope to his homeland in 1979 was ablaze with portraits, bunting and decorations of every kind.

Authorities do not want John Paul's 30 meetings and ceremonies in eight localities to ignite the kind of fervor which — a year after the pope's first visit — helped create the now-banned Solidarity free trade union movement.

The military regime hopes the papal visit will strengthen Poland's standing and respectability and perhaps prompt the West to ease painful economic sanctions against Poland imposed after the declaration of martial law in December 1981.

To ensure "a dignified and orderly atmosphere," the authorities banned the sale of any form of alcohol from Monday through Sunday.

They planned to televise only the pope's arrival, his departure and the main papal mass at the shrine of the "black madonna" at Czestochowa.

Despite the government's apparent failure to ensure adequate transportation for the millions of Poles hoping to catch a glimpse of the pope, church officials predict at least 10 million of Poland's 39 million people will set out — on foot if necessary — to greet the pontiff.

Pope John Paul

The Solidarity underground has asked its supporters to observe the religious spirit of all public gatherings during the visit. "Solidarity is waiting for the pope," said one poster fastened to a floral cross in Warsaw's Old Town.

Falklands Remembered

By United Press International

Argentine peace activists Tuesday marked the first anniversary of the end of the Falkland Islands war warning the military government was preparing "new adventures." In Britain, the anniversary passed with little notice.

In Buenos Aires, a coalition of youth groups from 11 political parties held a peace demonstration to honor the war dead. Argentine authors, actors and musicians lent their support to the demonstration with a statement denouncing "any new military adventure."

Argentine forces captured the Falklands April 2, 1982, naming an Argentine governor and claiming an end to 149 years of British rule. British forces recaptured Stanley June 14, ending the 74-day air, sea and land war.

A total of 255 British servicemen and civilians died or were presumed killed and 777 were wounded in the fighting. Argentina listed its casualties as 608 dead, 139 missing in action and 1,274 injured.

Argentina's military government did not officially commemorate the surrender to the British in a ceremony to unveil a liberation monument was postponed because granite blocks had not arrived from Britain as scheduled, reports from Port Stanley said.

Despite the toll, the war success gave a major boost to the popularity of British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher which carried through to last week's elections in which her Conservative Party won a resounding victory.

Non-College Career Help Is Offered

By United Press International

Here are some career information sources for those not going directly to college after high school graduation:

—Check the school counselor or career office for a list of state-operated technical schools in the area.

—Write for a free directory available from the National Association of Trade and Technical Schools, 2021 K St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006. The directory lists more than 500 accredited trade and technical schools, tells what is offered and how much it costs.

—The "Community Junior and Technical College Directory" can be consulted free through the reference section of the local or school library or career center. Or send $15 to American Association of Community and Junior Colleges, 1 Dupont Circle, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036. It offers a good listing of opportunities for college-level courses while working.

—"Job Hunting With Employment Agencies" tells how to read an employment agency ad and discover what they really offer, how to understand forms and contracts, and how the fee is handled. Besides showing how employment counselors work with their clients, it also provides tips on how to tell whether the counselor really means to help find the best job for you or just wants to collect the fee. The guide also lists state regulations governing employment agencies and contains an inventory of entry-level jobs. Write: Barron's Educational Series Inc., 113 Crossways Park Drive, Woodbury, N.Y. 11797. Price: $3.25 plus postage and handling. Also available from Barron's is "Get the Job You Want." It is helpful and costs $2.95 plus postage and handling.

—"200 Ways to Put Your Talents to Work in the Health Field" lists 111 organizations to write to for more information. It is obtainable free from National Health Council Inc., 70 West 40th St., New York, N.Y., 10018.

—"1983 Summer Employment Directory of the United States" provides information on more than 50,000 summer jobs. Applications are invited from high school seniors. Write: The Digest Books, 9933 Alliance Road, Cincinnati, Ohio 45242. $7.95.

—"Need a Lift" is offered by the American Legion Education Program, Children and Youth Division, Indianapolis, Ind. 46206. Send $1. The booklet contains information on hundreds of careers and tells where to get further information. Included are many jobs requiring no college but some training after high school.

Fireworks Funds

Frank Stabile, left, treasurer and incoming commander of the Disabled American Veterans Seminole Chapter 30, and John Mackey, commander, present $100 check to Martha Yancey, Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Goodwill Ambassador, for the Fourth of July Fireworks Fund. The chamber is asking local clubs, businesses and individuals to help pay for the fireworks which will climax a day of festivities in Fort Mellon Park.

Henry Witte, right, president of the Sanford Lions Club, presents a check for $100 to Sanford City Commissioner Ned Yancey and Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce President Jack Horner for the Fourth of July Fireworks Fund. Donations are being accepted at the chamber for the special fund.

PSC Modifies Lake Monroe Utilities Rate Hike Plans

By Micheal Beha
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County Port Authority Executive Director Dennis Dolgner says he's still opposed to proposed water and sewage rate hikes for Lake Monroe Utilities, but not as adamantly as a month ago.

Dolgner said recent reductions in the proposed rate increase by the state's Public Service Commission have reduced but not eliminated his opposition to the higher rates.

The PSC set the proposed rates, based on information compiled by the utility's owner, Dr. J.W. Hickman.

"It has changed for the better, but the bottom line is there are still a few problems," Dolgner said.

He said the formal proposal by the PSC staff will have a $3.70 per 1,000 gallon charge for water. That is $1 less than the PSC's original proposal.

The PSC reduced the rates because the actual cost of the utility operations is less than original estimates. The actual cost is $104,000 annually compared to estimates of $130,000.

Dolgner said he still opposes rates based on the size water meter a company uses and a high rate of return sought by the company.

Under the PSC proposal a customer with a two-inch meter pays more than customers with a one-inch meter.

At the port, Dolgner said, one customer with a two-inch meter uses only 3,000 gallons of water per month but would pay more than a customer with a two-inch meter using 58,000 gallons per month.

The proposal includes a 12.86 percent rate of return for utility investors.

"That appears to be a bit high," Dolgner said. "If all businesses were getting that high a rate of return we wouldn't be in a recession."

Dolgner said he would present the PSC proposal to Port Authority members at their next meeting. Today's planned meeting had to be canceled because too many authority members could not attend.

"The moment may be temporary, but the memory is forever," the Senior Class Motto of the Class of '83. The graduates celebrated their baccalaureate Friday at 7:00 p.m. in the auditorium. The processional, "Pomp and Circumstance," was led by Mrs. Gloria Williams. Debbie Silloway led the invocation and pledge to the flag, followed by Matthew Swinford's singing of "The Lord's Prayer." Mr. A. W. Epps introduced the Rev. David P. Bohannon who gave a sermon. Ms. Silloway then gave the benediction, followed by Mrs. Williams leading the recessional, "War March of the Priests."

On Saturday, at 8:30 a.m. at the Stadium, the big event occurred — GRADUATION!

The playing of "Pomp and Circumstance" by the Seminole Band preceded the invocation and pledge to the flag by Ms. Silloway. The first honor student speaker, Dean Shoemaker, gave an enthralling speech about the past and memories. Sheila Brown then sang the Senior Class Song, "Now Is The Time," which she wrote. Aubrey Kendall, the second honor student speaker, gave an encouraging speech about hopes and dreams for the future. The Senior Gift, the platform on which the speakers stood, was presented by Martha McIntosh, who also read her composition, "I Walked Through the Halls Alone Today."

Mr. Epps awarded the diplomas first to the Senior Class officers, then to the top 10 seniors, and finally to the rest of the graduates in alphabetical order. To end the commencement ceremony, the Class of 1983 sang the "Alma Mater." Many thanks go to the Senior Class sponsors, John T. Cullum, A. W. Epps, Denise S. Swain and Edward C. Wilson, the administration including LaMarr Richardson, James C. Thompson,

Earl Minott, Robert Lundquist, and Betty J. Freddie, and the members of the faculty and staff for all their help in making Graduation '83 a very memorable and festive occasion. Congratulations to all of the graduates and success and good luck in the future!

The last Tribe members for this year are Penny Morris and Lila Baker. Penny is a member of Keyettes, Theatrics, Varsity Volleyball and is Chaplain of National Honor Society, Chaplain of the Junior Class, and Chaplain-elect of the Senior Class. She was also in the cast of "Up the Down Staircase" and "You, the Jury."

Lila is the president and president-elect of Polyglots. She is also Junior Class treasurer and Senior Class treasurer-elect.

Before closing for the year, I'd like to thank Dee Goebelbecker for all her help, without which half of these columns never would've been written. Mrs. Williams, Mrs. McCall, Mrs. Atkinson, and Mrs. Swain, for much literary assistance, deserve credit. With much appreciation, I thank you all.

Summer Job Outlook Bleak

By Wendy Zents

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The summer employment outlook can discourage even the most industrious of job-hunters.

The National Park Service has 35,000 applications on file for 6,000 summer jobs. The construction industry plans to rehire laid-off workers and retailers have virtually eliminated extra summer help.

But experts insist there will be ample opportunity this summer for the persistent, energetic applicant.

"We're talking about students who are willing to be flexible, to learn a new skill," says Inez Frank, director of the University of Maryland's job referral service. "I'm anticipating things will be the same or better than last year."

Summer jobs have become an economic necessity for nearly 60 percent of the nation's youth, 16-21, who will forego the sun and surf for employment.

"Today's teenager's just can't get by without some sort of income," says Brian Wyant, 17, of Lanham, Md. "If you're living at home, your parents don't expect you to mooch off them forever."

The restaurant industry, one of the largest employers of teens, expects a strong summer season.

"The economic indicators point to the fact that we are moving out of the recession," says Dorothy Dec, a spokeswoman for the National Restaurant Association. "You can assume if the economy is getting better people will be eating out more."

The construction industry is less optimistic. "Unemployment is the last thing to change when you're coming out of a recession," says a spokesman for the Associated General Contractors. "Employers are going to look first at skilled people who have families to take care of."

Other industries, like retail, have permanently changed their summer hiring practices. "I would not encourage anyone to look at the retail industry for summer employment," says Alice McCord, personnel officer for the National Retail Merchants Association.

One of the most promising fields this summer will be resort work. Employment officers in Atlantic City note with bemusement that the casino industry has never been healthier.

For disadvantaged youth, the government will provide an estimated 813,000 jobs this summer in areas ranging from filing to lifeguarding.

The Adcock Roofing hitters shouldn't

Adebeck Roofing's top hitters, Von Eric Small, Bernard Mitchell and Patrick Dougherty all had huge times against McCloud and are looking to get back on track tonight. Small and Mitchell both struck out twice against McCloud and Dougherty went down three times. Adebeck Roofing had its scoring opportunities Monday night as it had the bases loaded two times but failed to score. Adebeck Roofing left 10 baserunners stranded in Monday night's game.

On the other hand, Poppa Jay's defense was upheld Monday night behind McCloud who was a one-man wrecking crew. Without Blake behind the plate though, Adcock Roofing's baserunners might try to take the extra base and test the catcher's arm. Blake did a good job of blocking balls and Should Adcock Roofing win tonight, a third and final game will be played Friday night at 7.

Confident Duran Has Enough Left To Take Moore's Crown

NEW YORK (UPI) — Whatever else Roberto Duran is lacking at this point, it certainly isn't confidence.

He's got enough not only for himself, but for a small army and he shows so much of it that simply by looking at him, it's difficult to imagine anybody capable enough of chipping away at it. That goes for Davey Moore or anyone else.

Bright and early Monday morning, Duran was about to enter Central Park with his manager, Luis Spada, to do his roadwork when whom do you think he should see coming out of the park? Nobody else but Moore, the WBA junior middleweight champ whose crown he'll be trying to take away Thursday night in a 15-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

"Hey, champ!" Duran called out spontaneously and cheerfully to Moore, walking with his own retinue.

The 24-year-old titleholder from the Bronx couldn't help seeing Duran and even if he couldn't, there was no earthly way he could miss hearing him because Duran had hollered loud enough to wake the dead, but Moore pretended he didn't see or hear the one-time Pride of Panama. He moved around the other side of his manager and trainer, who were with him, and kept on walking out of the park.

Duran merely laughed. "Why won't he say hello?" he asked Spada.

His manager shrugged, unable to answer the question.

"That's okay," Duran made a joke of the whole thing. "He can say hello to me Thursday."

On that day, Duran will be 32 years old and although the odds makers have him a 2 1/2-to-1 underdog to the far less experienced, undefeated Moore and do not believe he has retained enough of his old skills to beat him, the man who once held both the world middleweight and WBC lightweight championships disagrees with them.

After doing his roadwork Monday, Duran went to the New York State Athletic Commission offices for his pre-fight physical and he was examined by Dr. Edwin Campbell, the same doctor who checked him over in 1972 before he stopped Scotland's Ken Buchanan to win the lightweight title.

Campbell put the stethoscope to Duran's chest and back Monday, listened carefully and shook his head in disbelief.

"His cardiovascular system is perfect," he said to Spada.

Then he tested Duran's peripheral vision.

Milton Richman

UPI Sports Editor

"Cover your left eye," he instructed him. "Don't move your head. Now look at my finger here at my nose. I'm going to move it to the side and when you can't see it anymore, I want you to say 'stop.'"

Campbell drew his finger more than two feet to the side before Duran told him he couldn't see it anymore. The doctor repeated the test for the right eye and got the same result. Campbell had moved his finger so far to the side each time, he could hardly believe it.

"Incredible," he said. "You're in better shape than you were 10 years ago."

Duran stepped on the scale and weighed 153 pounds. He expects to go at 154 for Moore Thursday night.

Before leaving, he picked the winning entry in the contest out of a revolving drum. The prize was two tickets to the fight with a limousine furnished to transport the winner to the Garden and then take him home. Duran spoke to the winner, a retiree, on the phone.

"I don't believe it's you," the man exclaimed.

"It's me, it's me," Duran assured him.

"You sure?"

"Positive. It's me, and you won the tickets."

"When can I pick 'em up?"

"Right now. I got 'em in my hand."

Duran was having a good time and enjoying himself. He didn't look the least bit concerned about the fight. When I talked to him about it, he spoke respectfully enough of Moore but said he thought he could beat him. Desire was what was motivating him primarily now although he didn't specify what it is that he particularly desires. He said if he lost, he'd retire, but he doesn't think in those terms.

Once bitten, twice shy is the way the old saying goes. I picked Duran in both his fights with Leonard and wound up right the first time and wrong the second. I'm going with him once more. On a decision. No matter what the doctor says, I don't think Duran is in better shape now than he was 10 years ago, but I still think he has enough left to get past Moore.

Marshall's Homer Tops Braves — Lead Grows

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — After being benched for a week during the most miserable slump of his young life, Dodgers rightfielder Mike Marshall was coming unglued.

"If Tommy (Los Angeles manager Lasorda) wants to platoon me, that's fine, just tell me that," Marshall said earlier this week. "But don't say I'm your rightfielder and put me on the bench for a week."

"I just want to know where I stand."

Well, in the second inning of Tuesday night's game where he stood was home plate. And moments later he blasted a two-run homer, powering Los Angeles to a 4-3 victory over Atlanta and boosting the Dodgers' lead over the Braves in the National League West to 3½ games.

Greg Brock singled off loser Craig McMurtrey, 7-3, before Marshall hit his fifth homer of the season and second in two days. He was batting just .222 entering this week.

"I was concentrating too much on pulling the ball earlier," Marshall said. "Now, I just want to make contact. When you're struggling, you start trying to swing harder, which is not the way to get hits."

In the third the Dodgers made it 4-0 on Dusty Baker's two-run double.

Hooton, 5-2, won his fourth straight, allowing just five hits including solo homers by Dale Murphy and Bob Horner. He was relieved in the seventh by Dave Stewart, who recorded his eighth save.

In the absence of relief ace Steve Howe, who is undergoing treatment for drug addiction, Stewart has become the Dodgers' top man out of the bullpen. He allowed four hits in 2-2-3 innings but stopped the Braves at the right time.

"There are no easy outs against the Braves, especially in the late innings," Stewart said. "Now I know what Steve Howe went through as the No. 1 relief pitcher. It's a tricky spot. Short relief is really tough. You get up and warm up so many times."

"In two more weeks I'll probably say I'd rather be a starter, but playing is always fun, especially when everything is going right."

Murphy hit his major-league leading 18th homer in the third inning and Horner belted his 12th homer in the seventh. The Braves closed the gap to 4-3 in the eighth on Horner's single.

The Braves threatened in the ninth on singles by Bruce Benedict and pinch hitter Terry Harper, but Stewart got Rafael Ramirez on a line out to center field to end the game.

"Every game is crucial against Los Angeles," Murphy said. "It's very important when you're playing in your own division, especially against the team ahead of you."

Atlanta manager Joe Torre, however, disagreed with Murphy on the significance of the three-game series.

"We're going to be in the race all year and hopefully we can catch the Dodgers," Torre said. "Too much is made of do-or-die in a head-to-head series like this. It's going to come down to the end of the season, I'm sure."

Cardinals 5, Phillies 4

It's not that Phillies manager Pat Corrales didn't know what he was doing, it was simply a matter of the proverbial wrong place at the wrong time. The wrong place was St. Louis, the wrong time was Tuesday night and George Hendrick was coming to bat.

With the winning run on second, one out and the game tied at 4-4 in the ninth inning. Corrales ordered Porfi Altamirano to walk Keith Hernandez.

An inning-ending double-play would have been Corrales' reward, but Hendrick spoiled the Philadelphia skipper's strategy. The St. Louis outfielder lined a single to right that plated Tom Herr, giving the Cards a 5-4 win.

Reds 4, Padres 3

San Diego rookie Danny Blalock lined a single to center with one out in the ninth inning, driving in Gary Redus with the tie-breaking run to power Keith Cato's second major league win. Bill Scherrer earned his fourth save. Gary Lucas took the loss.

Expos 7, Pirates 3

At Pittsburgh, Tim Wallach hit a two-run homer and Tim Lincecum and Andre Dawson each added solo shots to lead the Expos. Steve Rogers, 8-3, scattered nine hits over seven innings and Jeff Reardon picked up his eighth save. Pittsburgh's Jason Thompson hit his seventh homer of the year. Larry McWilliams, 7-4, absorbed the loss.

Mets 4, Chicago 3

At New York, Rusty Staub's fourth successive pinch hit, a single with two out in the 10th inning, scored Bob Bailor from second base with the winning run. Dave Kingman clubbed his 12th homer of the year and Danny Heep added his second pinch-hit homer of the season to help winner Doug Sisk, 2-1. Lee Smith, 1-4, took the loss.

Astros 3, Giants 2

At San Francisco, Phil Garner led off the 12th inning with a double and scored the winning run on Luis Pujols' infield out to lift reliever and winner Dave Smith, 1-2, who pitched two shutout innings. Garner's double came off loser Greg Minton, 1-3.

Red Sox 6, Tigers 2

Kirk Gibson's one-man show got rave reviews, but the Boston Red Sox earned the curtain call.

Gibson put on an exhibition of strength and speed Tuesday night that demonstrated just how awesome his individual talents are, but Jim Rice and Dwight Evans proved once again that baseball is, above all, a team game.

The Detroit Tiger outfielder hit one of the longest home runs in the history of Tiger Stadium and also made a bid for a dramatic inside-the-park homer on a play that resulted in an injury to home plate umpire Larry Barnett. However, his efforts were wasted when Rice and Evans hit two-run homers to lead the Red Sox to a 6-2 triumph over Detroit.

Gibson hit only the 16th ball out of Tiger Stadium in its history with one out in the fourth inning when his blast off Mike Brown cleared the right field roof and hit the roof of a lumber company across Trumbull Ave. — an estimated 540 feet from home plate.

It was his fourth home run of the season and only the fourth ball to clear the right field roof, which juts 94 feet.

Blue Jays 13, A's 7

At Toronto, Jesse Barfield belted two homers and drove in five runs and Buck Martinez went 4-for-4 and drove in three runs to spark a 16-hit attack that carried the Blue Jays to victory. Barfield, who had not hit a homer or driven in a run since May 17, belted a three-run homer to cap a four-run first inning and a two-run homer to highlight a five-run third inning.

Indians 9, Yankees 6

At Cleveland, Julio Franco belted a three-run homer and Pat Tabler drove in three runs with a pair of doubles to power the Indians to victory. The Indians pounded Bob Shirley, 2-5, for six runs in the first inning. Jerry Humphrey hit an inside-the-park homer for New York.

Rangers 7, Mariners 1

At Arlington, Texas, Larry Bittner's home double capped a four-run third inning that enabled the Rangers to stretch their winning streak to five games — their longest in two years. Knuckleballer Charlie Hough, 4-6, went the distance for the second time this season, giving up three hits, walking three and striking out seven. Wayne Tolleson homered for Texas.

Twins 8, Royals 1

At Minneapolis, Gary Ward hit a solo homer and John Castino laced a two-run double to lead the Twins to victory. Winner Al Williams, 3-7, walked one, struck out five and held the Royals to six hits in going the distance for the first time.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Tire Wholesalers Complete Perfect 22-0 Pinto Season

Tire Wholesalers of Forest City completed a perfect season by defeating Forest City Furniture Villa, 3-2, for the Pinto League Championship at the Seminole Pony Baseball complex. Tire Wholesale finished the season at 22-0 while Furniture Villa finished at 20-2.

Forest City Tire Wholesalers scored all three of its runs in the second inning. David Mauro was hit by a Brett Black pitch, Mike Berzovich singled and Chris Lee walked to load the bases. An infield single by Steven Trotta brought in the first run while RBI groundouts by Anthony Malo and Sean Travis produced the second and third runs.

"Clutch pitching by starter and winner Bobby Stegall and relief work by Jake Winger thwarted all comeback attempts by Furniture Villa. Tire Wholesalers have now won 36 straight games dating back to the 1982 spring and winter ball championships.

In the riot round of the tournament, Tire Wholesalers eliminated Lake Mary Police Department, 18-5, as Mike Berzovich knocked in five runs and Stegall turned in another winning pitching performance.

Furniture Villa advanced to the finals against Tire Wholesalers with a slim 1-0 triumph over Forest City Albertson's. Brett Black and Brant Buffum combined on the mound for the shutout.

Cook's Corner Tips Colonial

Willie Mitchell poured in 21 points and Seminole Cook's Corner rebounded from a sluggish first half en route to a 53-38 victory Tuesday over Colonial in AAU Summer League Basketball League action at Colonial.

"We didn't play with any intensity at all in the first half," Cook's Corner coach Chris Marlette said. "But we came around and played well in the second half."

Colonial took a 18-16 lead after the first half as Cook's Corner scored just three points in the second quarter. But, behind Mitchell, Cook's Corner outscored Colonial, 15-5, in the third quarter and cruised to victory.

Behind Mitchell, William Wynn added nine points, Jimmy Gilchrist netted eight and Bruce Franklin added seven. Shawn Melle led Colonial with 18 points and John Alligood added 10. The next game for Cook's Corner is scheduled for Thursday, June 23, at Seminole High against Lake Howell.

The Seminole 15 and under AAU team got a 16 point performance from Robert Hill in a 52-40 victory over Colonial's Junior Varsity. Alvin Jones added 11 points for Seminole.

Grether Cruises To Victory

Sanford's Dave Grether shot a first-round score of 23 and cruised to an easy victory in the Fern Park Open Putt-Putt Championship this past weekend at Fern Park.

Grether followed his torrid first-round with rounds of 28, 29 and 28 for a four-round total of 108 on the par 144 course. Grether wound up at 38 under par while his closest competitor, Bill Askew of Fern Park, was nine strokes back at 29 under. Grether won 672 for first place while Askew pocketed 842 for second, the first five finishers made money.

Longwood Cops Top Rivals

Who's got the best hitting cops on the block? Well, after Monday night, the Longwood Police Department can lay claim to that fame.

Bill Cornaz slugged a three-run home run in the top of the seventh inning lift the Longwood Police Department past the Winter Springs Police Department, 12-9, at Tusawilla Park in Winter Springs.

Longwood pitcher Mark Smock picked up the mound decision, thanks to some fine infield defense from first sacker Jack Bialand, second baseman Don Knight, shortstop Smokey Parr, third sacker Terry Baker and catcher Carl Rentfro.

Repeated defensive gems by outfielders Cornaz, Tom Jackson, Terry Trautman and Stephanie Ryan kept the game close until the L.P.D. bats started smoking.

Pollster Harris Warns Of Women's Voting Wrath

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Women will punish politicians at the polls unless Congress corrects economic inequities like inadequate pensions, pollster Lou Harris warns.

"Those who want to survive in the politics of today and tomorrow had better begin to accommodate to these aspirations of women promptly," Harris said.

He testified at a House Aging Committee hearing on women's pension problems. Women also feel deprived of fair pay, credit, adequate insurance and promotions, he said.

Harris also said his polls show an unmistakable difference in the way men and women vote. The difference, known as the "gender gap," is nervously eyed by politicians and ballyhooed by women's groups as reason to court women's votes.

Congresswomen on the committee said it is difficult to convince their colleagues that women suffer economic disadvantages or that they will vote differently than men.

"I can guarantee you that in future Congresses, you will feel the wrath of real live power at no less a place than the voting booth itself," Harris said.

Court: States Can't Place Restrictions On Woman's Right To Have Abortion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today ruled states may not place certain restrictions on a woman's right to have an abortion.

In cases testing the constitutionality of abortion laws in Akron, Ohio, Virginia and Missouri, the justices generally struck down regulations limiting a woman's freedom to have an abortion in her second three months of pregnancy.

The ruling clarifies the high court's landmark 1973 decision, Roe vs. Wade, which legalized abortion but left a loophole by permitting states to regulate access to abortions during the second trimester if the limits are designed to protect a woman's health.

The cases decided today involved a variety of restrictions — mandatory hospitalization, parental consent and notification, waiting periods, "informed" consent, "humane" disposal of aborted fetuses and the presence of two physicians during an abortion.

At least 21 states require hospitalization for abortions after the first 12 weeks of pregnancy, a requirement women's groups label a "governmental veto" of a woman's decision to seek an abortion.

Today's ruling found Justice Sandra Day O'Connor, the first woman on the high court, voting to uphold the rights of states to regulate a woman's access to an abortion.

Intense public interest in the abortion issue focused considerable attention on the combined cases, which anti-abortion groups viewed as a chance to narrow the scope of the high court's 1973 decision. But groups supporting the right to an abortion argued such rules increase costs and health risks for women and asked the court to limit state efforts to curb abortions.

The Reagan administration told the Supreme Court it should step aside and permit states to decide politically sensitive issues such as abortion.

The high court rulings repudiated that point of view.

All three cases involved mandatory hospitalization for second trimester abortions. In three separate opinions, Justice Lewis Powell wrote for the court in overturning those provisions.

In a separate case from Virginia, the court held states cannot require abortions be performed in full-service hospitals, but have the right to demand such operations take place in licensed outpatient clinics.

Powell said the interest in protecting immature minors permits states to require that consent be obtained from parents or from a juvenile court before an abortion can be performed on minors.

The court also upheld provisions that permit the state to require both a second physician be present and a pathology report on a fetus as reasonable exercises of a state's concerns over the mother's health.

The court also struck down one of the most controversial provisions of the 1978 Akron ordinance — the so-called informed consent provision, requiring a physician tell a woman seeking an abortion "the unborn child is a human life from the moment of conception" and give her an anatomical description of the fetus.

We've just told this man about our beautiful facilities, big cars, and low prices.

If he doesn't seem too excited, it's because he isn't. He's tired of seeing and hearing so many boasts by so many firms — and who can blame him? We think we'll be forgiven, therefore, if we break custom and state one simple fact:

We sincerely try to help you because we sincerely care about you.

Cooks Of The Week

One Clings To Elegance; One Says She's Country

By Lou Childers
Herald Correspondent

Peggy Croasdale and Bobbie Rayburn have been good friends and neighbors for over 20 years. Together with their husbands, Bill Croasdale and Bud Rayburn, the "girls" have shared a lot of common ground.

Bobbie says, "We raised our families side by side in Chuluota." For Bobbie and Bud this meant seeing daughters, Barbara and Peggy, and twins, Darlene and Richard, flap their wings and leave the nest. For Peggy and Bill, family was one son, Ricky, who is now a major in the U.S. Air Force stationed at Wright Patterson AFB in Ohio.

"We have camped together, cried together, laughed together," says an almost tearful-eyed Bobbie as she reminisces. Peggy adds, "We have also shared a lot of great meals together." This is where the common ground ceases.

With insight as to why the friendship has lasted over the years, Bobbie states, "We really are very different. When we go to dinner at Peg and Bill's, Peggy sets a beautiful table amid her gold and white decor, but when it is our turn to have them over, I am just country. "That means," she says, "get it together, and set it out!"

This pair of girlfriends learned to cook in totally different ways, too. When Peggy was growing up near Allentown, Pa., in Summit Lawn, her family had a cook that always "let me putter around in the kitchen while she made these delicious Italian sauces." Peggy says she "learned while observing."

Bobbie, on the other hand, found the demands of marriage made cooking a must. She says, "My husband wanted pancakes, and I had not the faintest idea of how to make them." Her first futile attempts produced pancakes that turned out tough and almost inedible. But Bobbie persisted, staying in the kitchen, making one batch after the other until she perfected the art. Today she still uses her own recipe that calls for a cup of corn meal in addition to the flour. For light, fluffy pancakes that melt in your mouth she shares her secret: "Don't stir the mix after the ingredients are blended — just dip the batter out on a hot griddle and resist the urge to stir and restir."

Bobbie prefers maple syrup — the kind she grew fond of as a child in Maryland, where her real roots are. But, alas Bud is a "native Cracker" and insists on sugar cane syrup for his cakes. Bobbie says he doesn't mind when her cooking is "Marylandized" when it comes to Crab Cakes, though. "Southern cooks just don't know how to make crab cakes," quips Bobbie, adding, "Maryland cooks intuitively know how to make the best!"

Whether the Croasdales' candlelight dinner that starts with Peg's famous hors d'oeuvre, Clam Balls, is the scene for a friendly meeting, or Bobbie and Bud's poolside picnic is the "aire," these old friends will be breaking bread together for years to come.

Recipes from Bobbie Rayburn:

FRESH COCONUT CAKE

4 packages (6 oz. each) frozen fresh coconut
16 oz. sour cream
1 1/2 cups sugar
Mix well all of the above ingredients, cover and refrigerate 24 hours.

Next day: Mix 1 yellow cake mix according to box directions baking in two 8-inch layer pans. Cool and refrigerate until very cold. Split layers in half. Frost one layer at a time until all four layers are frosted, tops and bottoms. Place finished cake in air-tight container and refrigerate three days before serving.

PERFECT PANCAKES

1 cup flour
1 cup corn meal
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
Sift dry ingredients together. Combine 2 beaten eggs, 1/4 cup cooking oil and 1 1/4 cups milk, stirring into dry ingredients. Beat until well mixed and dip onto hot griddle. Flip pancake and bake to nice golden color. Serve with butter and room temperature syrup.

CRAB CAKES

MARYLAND-STYLE

1 pound crab meat
1 slice bread, crust removed
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco sauce
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
1 tablespoon parsley
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1 tablespoon melted butter
Place crab meat in bowl. Break bread in small pieces. Add all other ingredients, mix thoroughly. Shape into patties. Fry in 12-inch skillet in 1/4-inch of hot shortening over medium heat until lightly browned (about 3-4 minutes on each side). Yield: 6

AVOCADO HAM SALAD

1 large avocado, cubed
2 red delicious apples, chopped
1/2 cup diced celery
1/2 cup diced green onion
3 tablespoons lime juice
2 to 3 cups diced cooked ham

Dressing:
1/4 cup coffee cream
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/4 cup blue cheese

Blend all dressing ingredients and toss together with salad. Serve on lettuce leaves with crackers.

Recipes from Peggy Croasdale:

CLAM BALLS

2 cans (6 1/2 oz. each) minced clams
1 package Uneda crackers (3 1/2 oz.)
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon parsley flakes
1 teaspoon medium chopped onion
1 teaspoon garlic powder
1 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon hot pepper sauce
1/4 cup finely chopped green pepper
pinch of salt and pepper
8 tablespoons melted butter (not margarine)

Pour both cans plus liquid from one of the cans of clams into a large mixing bowl. Crush crackers with rolling pin. Add crumbs and seasonings to clams. Add melted butter and mix thoroughly. Mixture should be thick enough to hold its shape. Use a few more crushed crackers if needed.

Shape into one-inch balls, put on an ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes, turning once after first 10 minutes. Place cooked clam balls on hot tray and serve. (Can be made the day before serving, stored in covered containers, and reheated for serving.)

CHEESE-N-PASTA EN POT

2 pounds lean ground beef vegetable oil

2 medium onions, chopped
1 jar (14 oz.) spaghetti sauce
1 clove garlic, crushed
1 can (1 lb.) stewed tomatoes
1 can (3 oz.) broiled mushrooms
8 oz. shell macaroni
1 1/2 pints sour cream
1 package (1/2 lb.) provolone cheese, sliced
1 package (1/2 lb.) mozzarella cheese, sliced

Cook ground beef in small amount of vegetable oil in large deep frying pan until brown. Stir often with a fork. Drain off excess oil and fat. Add onions, garlic, spaghetti sauce, stewed tomatoes, and undrained mushrooms. Mix well. Simmer 20 minutes until onions are soft. Cook macaroni shells according to directions on package. Drain well and rinse with cold water. Pour half of shells into a deep casserole, cover with half the sauce, spread half the sour cream over sauce, top with slices of provolone cheese. Repeat, ending with slices of mozzarella cheese. Cover casserole and bake in a 350 degree oven for 35 to 40 minutes. Remove cover and continue cooking until mozzarella melts and browns slightly.

Fellowship Offered To Gifted Artists

Peggy Storey

Semifinalist

Great Model Search

Peggy Storey of Casselberry, has been named a semifinalist in 'TEEN Magazine's 1983 "Great Model Search," one of the nation's largest yearly hunts for new modeling talent.

She will appear in the magazine's July issue, receive an assortment of beauty products from The Gillette Company and become eligible for selection as a contest "super" semifinalist, the next step in winning the competition.

TEEN Magazine has a reputation for discovering new talent: its pages featured Cheryl Tiegs, Cheryl Ladd and Bo Derek when they were still unknowns. This year's winner of the Great Model Search will appear on the cover of TEEN and be awarded a one-year modeling contract from The Gillette Company, co-sponsor of the competition. She will also win a new Mazda GLC Sport automobile.

Later this year the contest's judges will narrow the field of semifinalists to 16 "super" semifinalists from each of six geographic regions. Two finalists from each region — 12 total — will then be selected to compete in the 1983 Great Model Search pageant.

The finalists will be flown to Los Angeles for a round of photo sessions, beauty make-overs, sightseeing and meetings with the press as the guests of TEEN Magazine.

Ag Center Sets Free Workshops

The Seminole County Agricultural Center announces two free workshops open to the public on June 21 at the center, 4320 S. Orlando Drive, Sanford.

Four sessions on Greenhouse Vegetables Growers will be held from 9 to 11.20 a.m. and will include greenhouse vegetable production, chemical and non-chemical control of greenhouse vegetable diseases, chemical and non-chemical control of greenhouse vegetable insects and greenhouse vegetable management techniques.

A Plant Nutrition Workshop, to be held from 1.30 to 3 p.m., will include soil reaction and liming, soil-plant nutrition relationship and diagnosing plant nutritional deficiencies.

For information, call the center.

The June 19 deadline is nearing for artists wishing to take advantage of the Fellowship offered by the Atlantic Center for the Arts.

Gifted artists are being offered the opportunity to work with three nationally acclaimed Master Artists, painter Richard Anuszkiewicz, playwright Ted Tally and composer Samuel Adler, Aug. 1 through Aug. 19, in New Smyrna Beach.

During their residency at the Atlantic Center, Anuszkiewicz, Tally and Adler will work with students, or Fellows, on a group and individual basis, as well as encourage collaboration among the arts disciplines.

Anuszkiewicz will work with painters, in any style, who wish to benefit from his experiments and experience with color.

Tally will work with playwrights who demonstrate a high degree of motivation and talent.

Adler will work with composers who wish to share with talented colleagues the agonies and ecstasies of creation.

Artists who would like to participate in the residence should apply by June 19.

Painters wishing to study with Anuszkiewicz should submit 10 to 15 slides encased in a single plastic sheet and a short personal note or letter stating why the applicant would like to work with him.

Playwrights apply to work with Tally should submit a sample of their work — either a one-act or a full-length play, typewritten and in a binder — as well as a brief biography emphasizing their theatre background and a statement telling why the applicant wishes to work with him.

Composers wishing to work with Adler should submit either cassette or reel-to-reel tapes, or scores of their work, and a brief biography.

All applicants should send their materials to: Atlantic Center for the Arts, 1414 Art Center Ave., New Smyrna Beach, Fla. 32069.

Cost for the three-week session is $125 registration fee. In addition, all participants must provide their own transportation, lodging, food and materials. Notices of acceptance will be made by July 1.

WHY THROW AWAY MY PERFECTLY GOOD TOOTHBRUSH?

ECKERD HEALTHLINE

BY FRANK STRASNICK
ECKERD PHARMACIST

If your toothbrush is three months old, you need a new one. The policy of changing your toothbrush that often is a good hygienic policy. Although present-day toothbrushes are so well manufactured that they can last much longer than that, it is still a good idea to get a fresh one.

Present-day dental advancements claim that it is just as important to floss and brush the area of your gums and teeth to reduce gum disease (resulting in gingivitis) and painful, expensive treatment.

A new toothbrush is an inexpensive way to help maintain healthy teeth and gums. Avail yourself of Eckerd's low prices on them and our watchful healthcare for Eckerd customers.

Write Dad A Letter On His Day

DEAR READERS: This Sunday is Father's Day. You're broke? Not to worry. Here's a suggestion for a Father's Day gift that won't cost you a dime, but will probably be the best gift your father has ever received for any occasion.

It doesn't matter if you're 8 years old or 60, if you're lucky enough to have a father, sit down and write him a letter. It doesn't have to be a literary masterpiece. Just a few sentences telling him how much he means to you, and why, will do. Or chase, if you are in a chatty or sentimental mood, go ahead and express the thoughts you may have found difficult to verbalize. And when you may help them to see the light.

N.Y. AND CONN.

DEAR ABBY: My father wrote to you at least 12 years ago, and you put his letter in your column. You printed it twice on request. My father had it framed, and when we brought him here to live with us, he carried it in his hands for fear it might be damaged or lost.

"When he heard his letter had been framed and hung in the chapel of a cemetery, he said, 'What a pity it will be seen only by those for whom it is too late. It would accomplish more on the bulletin boards of high schools and colleges.'

"Abby, he made me promise that after he died I would write to you and ask you to run it again."

"He died one week ago at age 72. Please print it once more for my beloved father."

FAITHFUL READER

DEAR ABBY: I am the most heartbroken person on earth. I always found time to go everywhere else but to see my old, gray-haired parents. They sat home alone, loving me just the same.

"It is too late now to give them those few hours of happiness I was too selfish and too busy to give, and now when I go to visit their graves and look at the green grass above them, I wonder if God will ever forgive me for the heartaches I must have caused them."

"I pray that you will print this, Abby, to tell those who still have their parents to visit them and show their love and respect while there is still time. For it is later than you think."

TOO LATE

DEAR ABBY: Look.

honey, I believe that I was taught that cattle were raised, and children were reared.

On several occasions you say that children were raised. Please get on the ball, or let me know that I am wrong.

WM. H. OWENS, FORT WORTH, TEXAS

DEAR WM.: To quote the late Theodore M. Bernstein in "The Careful Writer": "At one time a war raged (and some skirmishes still go on) against the use of raise to describe what parents do to children. The battle cry was, 'You raise pigs, but you rear children.'"

"However in this country, at least, the war is over: we raise both pigs and children, and some parents will testify that you can't always tell the difference."

If you put off writing letters because you don't know what to say, send for Abby's complete booklet on letter-writing. Send $2 and a long, stamped (37 cents), self-addressed envelope to Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

Joy Cumbaa, T.M. Snyder Repeat Vows

Joy Lynn Cumbaa and Thomas Michael Snyder were married June 4, at 9 p.m. in Centennial Park, Sanford. Edison Thompson performed the candlelight and double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Cumbaa, Sanford, and the late Mr. Gene Cumbaa. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald M. Snyder, Newberg, Ind.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Steve Knoebel, the bride chose for her vows a formal gown fashioned of Chantilly lace that terminated in a graceful train enhanced with wedgewood and Venise lace. She carried a crescent style bouquet of white roses, with lily-of-the-valley and baby's breath. She also carried an heirloom handkerchief belonging to her great grandmother.

Jill Knoebel attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a red chiffon gown accented with ruffles and carried a candle arrangement encircled with red and white carnations.

Bridesmaids were Kim Pate, cousin of the bride, Lisa Snyder, sister of the bridegroom; Diane Tischler and Donna Merchant. Their gowns and flowers were identical to the honor attendant's.

Tim Snyder served his brother as best man. Ushers were Dennis Bumbalough, Tim Thompson, Bruce Kurcher and Steve Hobbs. Groomsmen were Tim Snyder, Bart Kurcher, Sarg. Thompson, Tom Boetting and Larry Pate.

Jennifer Knoebel was the flower girl and Steve Bumbalough, ring bearer.

Following a reception at the Sanora Club, Sanford, the newlyweds departed on a wedding trip to Tampa. They are making their home in Sanford.

Energy-Packed Breakfast For People In Action

Keeping fit is a way of life for Americans in the Eighties. Jogging in the early morning... exercise classes during lunch... aerobic dancing and gymnastics full of sports enthusiasts at any hour. While the activity varies, the purpose is to tune up their bodies.

Performance hinges on nutrition and breakfast is the number one meal of the day to keep the energy level high.

Breakfast, literally meaning "to break one's fast," refuels the body to start the new day. An ideal breakfast will have three of the basic five food groups—fruit, dairy and grains. Orange-Date-Nut

Breakfast Cereal combines the three in a power-packed dish that starts the day off with a bang.

Florida concentrated orange juice, undiluted, contributes a citrus zing on the smooth, creamy farina while dates and walnuts offer a contrast in taste and texture and a bonus of vitamins and minerals. Fresh Florida orange sections and strawberries complete this energy-packed dish.

ORANGE-DATE-NUT BREAKFAST CEREAL

3 cups milk
1/2 cup uncooked iron-enriched farina (cream of wheat)
1/2 teaspoon salt

6 tablespoons, Florida frozen concentrated orange juice, thawed, undiluted

1/4 cup chopped dates
1/4 cup walnuts
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
Strawberries
2 Florida oranges, peeled and sectioned

In a medium saucepan, heat milk over medium heat; stir in farina and salt. Cook 5 to 7 minutes, stirring constantly until thickened and smooth. Remove from heat, stir in concentrated orange juice, dates, walnuts and cinnamon. Garnish with strawberries and orange sections.

Yield: 3 to 4 servings (3 cups).

ORANGE ENERGY BARS

1 can (6 ounces) Florida frozen concentrated orange juice, thawed, undiluted

1/2 cup chopped dates
1/4 cup chopped dried apricots
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup uncooked old-fashioned oats
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened

1/2 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
1 large egg

1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
Grease a 9-inch square baking pan. In a medium saucepan combine concentrated orange juice, date and apricots. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally until mixture thickens, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat, stir in walnuts and set aside. In a large bowl stir together flour, oats, baking powder, baking soda and salt. In another large bowl cream butter, brown sugar, egg, vanilla and orange peel until light and fluffy. Stir in dry ingredients until combined. Press two-thirds of the dough into prepared pan. Spread evenly with fruit filling.

Sprinkle remaining dough over filling to form a crumb topping. Bake in a 350°F. oven 30 to 35 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool completely on a wire rack. Cut into bars. Store in an airtight container or wrap bars individually and freeze. Yield: 16 bars.

COMMUTERS' SPECIAL

BREAKFAST DRINK

1/2 cup Florida grapefruit juice
1/2 cup milk
1 egg
1 tablespoon honey
1/2 medium banana
Combine all ingredients in blender container. Cover and process at high speed until smooth.

Squash Dishes

Tender and delicate-tasting summer squash is native to the Western Hemisphere. The Indians called this mild squash askutasquash, which means "green thing eaten green." Europeans settling in North America were quite fond of this vegetable. They shortened the name and began cooking squash.

Although the name "summer squash" is botanically incorrect, it is generally understood that this name applies to the several variations that are small and thin-skinned as well as 100% edible. Florida grows 29% of this country's squash with about 80% being the pretty and colorful yellow squash and the bright green Italian squash called zucchini.

Both the yellow and green varieties of summer squash can be eaten raw, steamed, stuffed, or in combination with other ingredients to form a tantalizing casserole. Because of their tender skins, no paring is needed prior to cooking.

When selecting summer squash, which is a good nutritional contributor of Vitamins A, C, and Niacin, choose those that are fresh, fairly heavy in relation to size, crisp, tender, and free from noticeable cuts and bruises. Avoid those with a hard rind as they are apt to be stringy and have seeds that are too well developed. Store in the refrigerator and use within 3 to 4 days after purchase.

STUFFED YELLOW SQUASH

7 medium Florida yellow squash
1 lb. ground chuck
1/2 cup onion, finely chopped
1/4 cup celery, finely chopped
1/4 cup bread crumbs
3 Tablespoons Parmesan cheese
1 8-oz. can tomato sauce with mushrooms
1 teaspoon salt
pepper to taste
Parmesan cheese

Parboil whole squash in salted water for 10-15 minutes or until can be easily pierced with a fork. Cool; split lengthwise, scoop out pulp and reserve. Sauté meat, onion and celery. Add chopped pulp, bread crumbs, cheese, salt, and pepper. Stuff shells and place in casserole. Cover with tomato sauce and additional Parmesan cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Serves 7.

ZUCCHINI & BEEF
1 pound ground beef
1 cup onion, chopped
1/4 cup water
1 16-ounce can tomatoes, cut up

1 envelope spaghetti sauce mix
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup uncooked pre-cooked rice

1 1/2 pounds Florida zucchini, cut in 1-inch strips (4 cups)
In large skillet cook ground beef and onion till meat is browned and onion is tender. Stir in water, undrained tomatoes, spaghetti sauce mix and salt. Bring to boiling. Stir in rice and zucchini. Cover tightly; reduce heat. Simmer, stirring occasionally, till zucchini is tender, 15 to 20 minutes. Serves 6.

Chicken Is Fit For The Queen

Culinary news was made when the President and Mrs. Reagan entertained Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip at their mountaintop California ranch with a Mexican-style luncheon. The affair was deliberately informal, designed to allow the royal couple a few hours of relaxation in the privacy of the Reagan family home.

The fare was equally informal and showed the broad range, from subtly seasoned to hot and spicy, that makes up the Mexican cuisine. Beyond the familiar tacos, enchiladas and refried bean recipes, you'll find that it is easy to duplicate a regional classic such as Chicken Ole, prepared as it would be in Guanajuato.

In this dish, as in many native Mexican entrees, fruit — particularly oranges — are used to contrast taste and texture. Using readily available Florida oranges and Mexican spices, it's a cinch for the home cook to create a dish fit for a queen.

A sauce is made with sauteed onions and garlic, tomato puree and orange juice, made pungent with chilies, orange peel, cinnamon and thyme.

The perfect accompaniment is Sunshine Sangria. Florida grapefruit and orange juices add sunshine flavor to dry white wine to make a most refreshing and royal libation.

CHICKEN OLE
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
1 large onion, chopped (1 cup)
2 cloves garlic, minced
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) tomato puree
1 cup Florida orange juice
3 tablespoons chopped canned green chilies
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon dried leaf thyme, crumbled
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 whole chicken, 3 to 4 pounds
Salt and pepper
8 new potatoes
3 medium-size red bell peppers, seeded and thickly sliced

In large skillet heat oil; saute onion and garlic until tender. Add tomato puree, orange juice, chilies, orange peel, cinnamon, thyme and salt. Cook 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Meanwhile, sprinkle chicken, inside and out, with salt and pepper. Place chicken in a large casserole or baking dish. Arrange potatoes around chicken. Pour sauce over all. Cover. Bake in a 305°F oven 45 minutes. Add red peppers; cover; cook 45 minutes longer until chicken and potatoes are tender. Yield: 4 servings.

SUNSHINE SANGRIA
Juice of 2 Florida grapefruit
Juice of 2 Florida oranges
1 cup sugar
2 bottles (four-fifths quart each) dry white wine
1 Florida orange and 1 Florida grapefruit, cut in 1/2-inch slices and quartered
Combine grapefruit juice, orange juice and sugar in large pitcher; stir until sugar is dissolved. Add chilled wine and citrus slices. Chill at least 1 hour. Yield: 10 1-cup servings.

Main Dish Meals

Vegetable dishes as a main course are becoming more popular, especially as homemakers learn not to overcook veggies. Low-calorie vegetables are more economical than a large steak.

A vegetable cheese melt is a main course that goes well with side dishes of rice and broiled tomatoes. Serve a grape salad with the meatball and celery skillet, a one-dish meal.

VEGETABLE AND CHEESE MELT

- 4 cups celery cut in 1 1/2-inch pieces
- 4 cups broccoli florets
- Bolling salted water
- 1 cup carrots cut in 1/2-inch pieces
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

In covered saucepan, cook celery and broccoli in 1/2-inch boiling salted water for 3 minutes. Add carrots; continue to cook until vegetables are barely tender, about 7 minutes longer. Drain off liquid. Place vegetables in serving dish; cover to keep warm. In small saucepan, melt butter; blend in flour. Bring to boil, stirring constantly; cook and stir 1 minute. Gradually add milk. Cook and stir until thickened, about 3 minutes. (Do not boil.) Mix in cheese; cook and stir until cheese melts. Pour cheese sauce over vegetables; toss gently. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 portions.

MEATBALL AND CELERY SKILLET

- 1 pound ground lean beef
- 3/4 cup soft bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup chopped onions, divided
- 2 tablespoons chopped celery leaves
- 1 teaspoon salt, divided
- 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper, divided
- 1 egg, lightly beaten
- 1/4 cup milk
- 2 tablespoons oil
- 1 garlic clove, minced
- 1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, broken up
- 3/4 cup water
- 3 cups Florida celery cut in 1-inch pieces
- 1 1/2 cup medium width egg noodles (uncooked)

In large mixing bowl, combine beef, bread crumbs, 1/4 cup of the onion, celery leaves, 3/4 teaspoon of the salt and 1+1/2 teaspoon of the black pepper. Add egg and milk; mix lightly but well. Shape into 1 1/2-inch meatballs (makes about 16). In large skillet, heat oil until hot. Add meatballs; cook until brown on all sides. Remove meatballs; set aside. Add garlic and remaining 1/4 cup onion; saute for 3 minutes. Stir in tomatoes and water. Add celery, noodles, remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1+1/2 teaspoon black pepper. Bring to boiling point. Add reserved meatballs. Reduce heat and simmer covered, until celery is crisp-tender and noodles are cooked, about 20 minutes. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 portions.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

Work which you leave until the last minute is likely to be done in a slipshod manner and will cause problems later. Keep your eye on the clock.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

Matters which affect your material well-being should not be treated frivolously today. Indifference could create avoidable regrets.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

Your spontaneous judgment in career situations might not be up to par today, so don't jump to conclusions. Take ample time to reflect.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

Risky financial ventures could mire today and end up costing you more than you bargained for. Be prudent and cautious moneywise.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

Be hopeful about your financial potential, but don't wear rose-colored glasses where realistic lenses are required. See things for what they are.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

Today you are apt to be judged by the company you keep. Make it a point to associate with persons who can enhance your reputation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Usual, you're quite good at do-it-yourself projects, but today you'd better call in the experts for any tasks which are beyond your talents.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)

Investments or deals which have been lucky for friends may not necessarily be your cup of tea. Avoid being misguided.

Avoiding Gluten To Treat Sprue

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have been treated for non-tropical sprue with Cantil tablets for the last year and a half. It doesn't seem to completely stop the diarrhea.

I'm on a gluten-free diet and would like to know if there is anything else I could use and what foods I should avoid.

DEAR READER — The first question is, are you really on a gluten-free diet? There are only a few people who have this peculiar intestinal allergic reaction to gluten, so it is hard to get gluten-free foods. All cereals, except rice and corn, contain gluten.

And you will find gluten-containing cereals in many prepared foods. Flour is commonly used to thicken ice cream and is found in all kinds of sauces, puddings, desserts and soups. Cereal is even in a lot of the prepared meats — cold cuts or luncheon meats. That is why prepared foods are a no-no for people with your problem and why it is better to have everything prepared from scratch at home.

For thickeners you can use corn starch or rice flour. Soybean flour is OK, too.

Perhaps because of the irritation caused by gluten a number of people with your problem have milk intolerance as well. They are unable to break down the double milk sugar lactose. If you want to see if it helps, try to also avoid all milk and milk products for a time and perhaps your diarrhea problems will be better controlled.

Later, after a period of no symptoms, you may then be able to tolerate milk but you would need to wait and see.

Of course you want to avoid coffee, tea and colas. You shouldn't use anything that may irritate your colon until after this condition is controlled. That includes eliminating spices such as garlic and pepper.

In addition to non-tropical sprue, there are other factors that cause persistent diarrhea.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I worked mining rock for 12 years. Shortness of breath warned me that I might be getting too much dust in my lungs and develop a condition we miners call being "rocked up." This forced me to change jobs. Now 22 years later doctors tell me about an abnormal lung condition seen in my X-rays. My previous suspicions are verified even though my breathing and other body functions are those of a normal person of 61 years.

Why didn't my X-rays show this sooner? Will my condition worsen? What can I do to prevent it?

DEAR READER — You are a lucky man. You are describing silicosis, caused by silica dust. The crystalline particles will stimulate fibrosis in the lungs and form nodules.

The lung reactions are very slow in some people and that may be true in your case. Since your breathing functions have been tested, you'll probably never have any problems caused by these silica deposits in your lungs. Had you continued your occupation you probably would have. Some men have acute or early reactions with severe damage. You were not one of them.

Everything happens to the unlucky expert. When his partners get a chance to do him wrong, they usually are successful in that task.

When his opponents have a chance to do something super-brilliant, they do it. Let's listen to him today.

"After my rather weak spade overall my partner took full charge. He started with an all-purpose cue bid and settled for game when I rebid just two spades. East won the first trick with the jack of diamonds and after some study returned the deuce of hearts.

"I could see his plan. Obviously, he held K-J-x of trumps and planned to try to put his partner in with the diamond 10. Of course, he wasn't certain that West held that card, but he was willing to gamble and give me an overtrick if I happened to hold that magic card.

"Anyway, I led dummy's queen of trumps. East produced the king and I took the trick. Now I had a simple play to make five-odd. I could play a club to my king and finesse against the queen, but it looked as if East held all missing face cards and that play would leave me two down. So I played king of clubs, club to the ace and jack of clubs.

"If East had played the queen, I would have discarded my losing diamond, and made it impossible for West to gain the lead, but East ducked smoothly. I fell for it. I ruffed and led a spade to East's Jack. Back came that diamond to the 10, a heart ruff and down we went.

We do sympathize with the U.E. this time. East had made a fantastic play.

Young Donna Dixon Making Transitions

By Vernon Scott
 UPI Hollywood Reporter

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Blonde Donna Dixon, best remembered for her decorative role in TV's "Bosom Buddies," has switched from TV to movies and from single to married all in the space of a year.

The 25-year-old beauty is making both transitions with a persistent dimpled smile.

She is the wife of comedian Dan Aykroyd whom she met, as it happens, during her transformation from television adornment to movie actress in "Dr. Detroit."

Donna and Dan also appear in the new "Twilight Zone" movie but did not work in the same sequence of the film.

"I hadn't met Dan when I started 'Dr. Detroit' last July," Donna said.

"We became friends during production, but no flirting or even a hint of romance. When the film was over in October I'd made many new friends, including Dan, and I thought that was the end of it."

"I saw him once in New York in December when we posed for a magazine cover to publicize the movie. We didn't see each other again until last February when he asked me to go out."

Because they wanted to escape gossip and publicity, they went to out-of-the-way restaurants, kept a low profile and didn't tell friends they were dating. In keeping with their obsession for privacy, they were married secretly in Massachusetts last April.

But according to Donna, the preacher spilled the beans. Fearful lest a scandal sheet exploited their wedding, Donna announced the nuptials last week.

"I took our friends by surprise," Donna said. "I felt I couldn't reach some of them with the news until I read it in the papers."

Donna and I are both private people and wanted to keep the precious, personal areas of our life to ourselves. We are the same values and morals. Dan is comfortable and funny to be with."

So much for her first transition, a change in lifestyle that obviously pleases Donna, a no-nonsense young woman as determined to succeed as an actress as she is wife.

Three years ago she was just another gorgeous newcomer looking for a break when she landed a supporting role in "Bosom Buddies." She and Telma Hopkins, Wendi Jo Sperber and Holland Taylor provided the Greek chorus for a pair of comic actors in the title roles.

After two years the sitcom was mercifully canceled. Donna, however vacuous her role, impressed many producers with her flair.

Ergo, her second transition from small tube to large screen.

"There were two important things that helped me move up to movies," Donna said. "First, our series only went two years. I wasn't too identified with the show. Like Farrah Fawcett and Suzanne Somers were with their series."

"Secondly, I had specific goals and knew that the series provided me with the kind of experience and exposure I needed."

"I attended acting classes three times a week so when the time came to play something other than the typical attractive young lady next door, I'd be ready."

Another factor in Donna's favor was patience. She refused to rush into any old role in television or feature films.

"I did some specials and a 'Mike Hammer' TV movie. I didn't want another series that would amount to 'Bosom Buddies Part II.' I was looking for projects that would help me grow as an actress."

She settled for "Dr. Detroit" for her first movie because it was a comedy, and with Aykroyd in the cast she believed it would succeed at the box office.

"I play the highest class call girl in Chicago, $2,000 a day for dinner and a movie and anything else is extra," she said, laughing. "In 'Twilight Zone' I play a stewardess who is quite plain."

"It's not easy being my age trying to find good roles in movies. Not that many films filter down through Meryl Streep, Deborah Winger and Jessica Lange. And I've lost parts because of my looks."

Fifteen years ago producers clamored for actresses in their 20s, today the big names are considerably older — Jane Fonda, Streep, Jill Clayburgh, Goldie Hawn and Diane Keaton — and not all are beauty contest winners.

In addition to struggling to overcome her youth and beauty, Donna faces the stigma of television. Among actresses, only Sally Field and Goldie Hawn have become major screen stars.

Donna Dixon would like to be the third.

Computer Camp For Kids Set At UCF This Summer

A computer camp for students in grades 2 to 12 will be offered this summer at the University of Central Florida.

The three 4-day sessions are designed to introduce campers to basic language with TRS-80 computers.

The first session, for those in grades 7-12, is June 27-30. A second session for the same grades will be conducted July 5-8. The third session, July 11-14, is for those in grades 2 to 6.

The cost is $75 per session and enrollment is limited.

Sessions are from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily in Howard Phillips Hall at UCF. Students will receive individualized instruction and be introduced to facets of computer use through demonstrations.

For more information and registration, call 275-2123.

Reagan Seeks Support For Return To Basics In U.S. Classrooms

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) — President Reagan, putting a combative edge on his latest cause, today sought broad support for his back-to-basics view of education reform and denounced "those who would divide, delay and drag us down."

Reagan turned up the rhetoric of his education crusade and took shots at his critics in remarks prepared for PTA leaders attending the organization's 87th annual convention.

The speech opened a second straight day of on-the-road appearances to drive home the theme of restoring excellence to the nation's schools. But there were indications Reagan has far to go in erasing doubts about his motives and proving the depth of his commitment to improving public education.

Before the address, Reagan came under sharp criticism from a number of PTA leaders for his past educational proposals and more recent suggestion that sweeping reforms can be accomplished without substantial federal help.

The PTA is on record against abolition of the Education Department, a campaign promise that has slipped from sight in Reagan's recent treatment of education issues, and his proposal for tuition tax credits for the parents of private school students.

Delegates to the PTA gathering submitted a rush order for 1,000 buttons reading, "Stop tuition tax credit" that they hoped would arrive in time for Reagan's appearance.

"Tax credits have nothing to do with quality education and everything to do with the politics of the presidency," Arnold Fege, director of government relations for the PTA told the Albuquerque Tribune.

Reagan, however, paid scant attention to tuition tax credits, prayer in school and similar initiatives that were the basis of his education program for the first half of his presidency. Instead, calling for "a course of common sense" in school reform, he touted performance pay for teachers and return to more rigorous academic standards and structured curriculums.

President Reagan

"Let us stand together — parents, teachers, concerned citizens — and say no to all those who would divide, delay and drag us down," he said. "And let us say yes to the challenge of a national agenda for excellence that will reach every child in our land."

A Reagan aide confirmed the veiled rebuke was directed at critics including the 1.6 million-member National Education Association, which has become one of Reagan's primary rivals in the rising political debate over education issues.

The NEA, the nation's largest teacher organization, opposes the type of merit pay systems advocated by Reagan. James Booth, president of the NEA's 38,000 member Tennessee affiliate told Reagan during a stop at a Tennessee high school Tuesday that merit pay plans may be "cumbersome, ineffective and inequitable."

Hawkins Seeks Sanctions Against Cuba For Aiding American Drug Traffickers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Paula Hawkins discussed with United Nations Ambassador Jeane Kirkpatrick actions that could be taken against Cuba for allegedly aiding American drug traffickers.

Mrs. Hawkins, R-Winter Park, met with Mrs. Kirkpatrick Tuesday to ask her to raise a formal complaint against the island nation.

Mrs. Hawkins, who requested the meeting, wanted to make sure Mrs. Kirkpatrick was aware of a hearing April 30 in Miami during which alleged Cuban links with U.S. drug traffickers were explored.

The ambassador promised that her staff would analyze the hearing transcript and "formalize a specific plan of action" against Cuba, Mrs. Hawkins said.

The Florida Republican also asked the U.N. ambassador to urge other countries to contribute to the U.N. Fund for Drug Abuse Control. Mrs. Kirkpatrick promised to ask them for contributions.

"This meeting with Ambassador

Jeane Kirkpatrick

Paula Hawkins

Kirkpatrick was very encouraging," said Mrs. Hawkins. "The ever-increasing problem of drug trafficking and the significance of Cuba's involvement is finally coming to the forefront."

The ambassador asked Mrs. Hawkins to write President Reagan requesting a meeting of all U.S. ambassadors to drug producing countries "to focus attention on international drug eradication and control."

Seminole 4-Hers To Host Teen Group From Maryland

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County 4-H Teen Exchange Club, which visited Calvert County, Md. last summer, will host a Teen Exchange group from there Thursday through Wednesday (June 16-17). Their itinerary ranges from America's oldest city to a Space Age launch.

The 19 Maryland youths and their two chaperones will be met at the Jacksonville Airport on Thursday and will visit historic St. Augustine and Daytona Beach.

While here they will stay in the homes of host families involved in last year's cultural exchange. Bonnie Moore and Pam Bragg are the leaders of the Seminole County Teen Exchange.

The Maryland 4-H'ers raised $3,000 to come here and the Seminole Teen Exchange raised $1,000 for the expenses

Involved in entertaining their guests, according to Fred Roberts, Seminole 4-H staffer.

As a special treat, the local 4-H'ers have secured a bus pass to take their visitors to Cape Kennedy for the space shuttle launch on Saturday. A weekend visit to Epcot and Disney World is also planned. On Monday, they will have a behind-the-scenes tour of Sea World.

Tuesday will be County Day with a whirlwind tour of Seminole on the agenda. They will visit a greenhouse and nursery, the Agri-Center, county courthouse, General Sanford Museum and Library, an orange grove, and Wekiwa Springs State Park.

On Wednesday, the group is scheduled to return home to Maryland.

The Seminole County Teen Exchange group is planning another exchange visit next summer, but the destination has not yet been decided.

Stress Class Offered At SCC

The Office of Community Instructional Services of Seminole Community College will offer a class "Managing Stress."

This class will provide the students with increased understanding of the nature of stressful events in our daily lives and occupational settings, and to provide students with coping skills to manage stress effectively.

The class will begin June 27 through Aug. 22, Monday evenings from 6:30-9:30 p.m. on the adult education campus, Building B. The fee is $12.

For further information, persons may call the Office of Community Instructional Services at Seminole Community College, 323-1450, Ext. 304, from Orlando 843-7001, Ext. 304.

PUBLIC NOTICE
CITY OF LONGWOOD, FLORIDA
RESOLUTION NO. 496

A RESOLUTION OF THE CITY OF LONGWOOD, FLORIDA, PURSUANT TO FLORIDA STATUTE 170.03, DECLARING SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS FOR STREETS, PAVING AND DRAINAGE, DESIGNATION OF STREETS TO BE IMPROVED, DESIGNATION OF EXPENSE THEREOF, TO BE PAID BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT, AND MANNER OF PAYMENT, DESCRIPTION OF LANDS ASSESSED, AND DECLARATION OF ESTIMATED COSTS, CONFLICTS, SEVERABILITY, EFFECTIVE DATE.

WHEREAS, the City of Longwood, Florida, deems it necessary to pave Georgia Avenue from its intersection with County Road 427 to its intersection with Grant Street, in the City of Longwood, Florida; and

WHEREAS, the City of Longwood, Florida, desires to pay for the cost of said paving by the levy of special assessments against certain real property located within the City of Longwood, Florida, and being lands and lots adjoining, continuous to, bounding, and abutting upon the street to be improved;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF LONGWOOD, FLORIDA, AS FOLLOWS:

1. That the nature of the proposed improvements to be made pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 170, Florida Statutes, 1977, shall be the paving of Georgia Avenue, within the City of Longwood, Florida, from its intersection with Grant Street to its intersection with County Road 427.

2. That fifty percent of the expense thereof shall be paid by special assessment against lands and lots in the City of Longwood, Florida, as hereinafter described, and that fifty percent of the expense thereof shall be paid by the City of Longwood.

3. That said special assessments may be paid in gross, or in ten (10) annual installments with no installment payment to be less than one tenth of the individual assessment, with the first installment to be due and payable one year from the date of enactment of final resolution following completion of equalization board hearings and with all subsequent installments to be due and payable on the same date of each year thereafter. The entire balance shall be paid, with each individual assessment to bear interest at the rate of eight per cent (8%) per annum on the unpaid amount. Further, that interest shall commence upon the date of the improvement herein described, and shall bear interest as provided for by the provisions of Florida Statute 170.09 (1977).

4. That the special assessment shall be levied against all lots and lands adjoining, continuous, or bounding and abutting upon the said improvement, more specifically designated by the assessment plat as required by Florida Statute 170.04 (1977).

5. That the total estimated cost of the improvement herein designated is $44,784.00.

6. That the assessment shall be made against each of the lands and properties as shown on the assessment plat as hereinabove described, on a pro rata basis, arrived at by division of the total costs of the improvement divided by the total front footage of each parcel, lot, or property designated by this Resolution, and shown upon the assessment plat as hereinabove provided for.

7. That all resolutions in conflict herewith, be and the same, are hereby repealed.

8. This Resolution shall become effective immediately upon its passage and adoption.

PASSED AND ADOPTED THIS 18th day of April A.D. 1983.

Honored

State Sen. Richard Langley, R-Clermont, a member of the Seminole County Legislative Delegation, has been voted the second most effective senator in debate by his colleagues in the upper House of the Florida Legislature. Langley served three two-year terms in the Florida House prior to his election to the Senate in 1980 and his re-election in 1982. He also served a four-year term on the Lake County School Board.

Demos To Pick Delegates

The qualification period is now open for Seminole County Democrats to file for election as a delegate to the Florida Democratic Party's 1983 state convention to be held Oct. 21-23 at the Diplomat Resort, Hollywood.

Democrats registered to vote in the county may file to run by completing a qualification form, available from local party chairman Marvin Meltzer by calling 834-2732.

Forms must be returned to the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee, P.O. Box 39, Casselberry 32707, by the July 15 close of qualifying.

Although any registered Democrat may file for election, 75 percent of the delegates elected must be members of the Democratic Executive Committee.

In Seminole County there are 16 delegate slots open for election.

A total of 2,577 delegates from around the state will attend the convention which will feature appearances by the Democratic presidential candidates.

Johnny May Someday Be Cavity-Free

By Charles S. Taylor

ATLANTA (UPI) — In the not-to-distant future, most American children may be able to say "look Mom, no cavities," and be telling the truth.

A generation of cavity-free children is a real possibility down the road, says Dr. Stephen Moss, former president of the American Academy of Pedodontics, the branch of dentistry that specializes in the care of children's teeth.

Moss, a New York City dentist who attended a meeting in Atlanta of the academy that attracted 700 members, said in an interview "there was no question in anybody's mind that it's a real possibility." Scandinavian countries, he noted, already have achieved a 90 percent cavity-free level in their children.

"In the United States today in children under the age of 15, some 56 percent of children are cavity-free," said Moss. "That's a big increase over a decade ago, when the number was about 34 percent."

Moss says there are several reasons why children have healthier teeth now than they did in past years. They include the use of fluorides, the fact that dentists are urging that children's teeth be cleaned as soon as they start to come in the mouth, and what Moss calls "the concept of dietary suggestions."

"Today, what we suggest to children and their parents is that children eat less frequently between meals. We're not concerned with what they eat but how often they eat."

"In the past we focused on candy but things like apples and raisins and some kinds of potato chips have great potential for causing cavities," said Moss, who noted "it's really hard to tell children what to eat."

"What we have been recommending is that they keep the teeth clean and moderate the frequency of eating between meals."

Moss believes these steps, plus the use of plastic sealants on the biting surfaces of children's teeth will eventually bring about a generation of cavity-free youngsters.

Fluoride, which makes the teeth stronger and prevents bacteria in the mouth from producing enamel-attacking acid, does a good job of preventing cavities on the smooth surfaces of the teeth, Moss said. But he said that on the teeth's biting surface, where there are cracks and grooves, fluoride is less effective.

That's where the new "incredibly successful" plastic sealants come in, said Moss.

"The dentist cleans the biting surface first and then flows a clear, plastic sealant onto it. If the child eats something and doesn't brush his teeth, the bacteria just sits on the plastic and doesn't make a cavity."

The National Institute of Dental Research and the American Dental Association have issued papers urging the use of the plastic sealants.

Moss said the sealants, which can be renewed, have lasted five or six years and the expectation is that some will last 10-15 years. The cost is about $10 per tooth.

Relaxed Summer Dining

It's summer and a time for relaxed barbecue dinners shared with friends in the pleasant surroundings of your patio or garden. Summer is also the natural time for an easy, informal approach to menu planning. It's a time for meals that are satisfying, yet light. And, whenever possible, it's a time to feature dishes that can be readied in advance.

Alaska seafoods and crisp, naturally-sweet Golden Delicious apples meet in two especially appealing summertime menus that are sure to delight guests and make entertaining a joy for the cook.

As a wonderful introduction to summer meals, tempt your guests with succulent Alaska Snow crab in the shell. The crab is simply thawed, then the clusters broken into sections, scored for easier eating and arranged on a bed of ice. Accompany the crab clusters with zesty Red Hot Dipping Sauce and be sure to include lots of napkins and small forks for removing the meat. Another time, serve Snow Crab Avocado Dip with crisp crackers or assorted raw vegetables.

Alaska salmon is a perfect choice for the outdoor grill as barbecuing enhances the rich, yet delicate, flavor of this treasured seafood. The salmon steaks featured here are marinated first in a tangy mustard sauce, then grilled just until the colorful flesh flakes when tested with a fork. For a larger group, a whole salmon or salmon roast is also a wonderful selection for the barbecue. Fortunately the harvest of sleek silvery salmon from the icy waters off the coast of Alaska coincides with summer barbecue season.

Golden Apple Rice Salad makes a wonderful choice to serve with the seafoods. Prepare in advance, it combines cooked rice with crisp chopped Golden Delicious apples, crunchy peanuts, raisins and a pungent curry dressing. Pretty Golden Delicious apple wedges are the perfect garnish for this salad because they resist darkening better than other apple varieties. Another time, feature tender-skinned Golden Delicious apples in a fashionable pasta salad. Or enjoy them out-of-hand, as the perfect refresher following a day in the sun.

ALASKA SNOW CRAB WITH RED HOT DIPPING SAUCE
 ¾ cup chili sauce or catsup
 4 teaspoons lemon juice
 2 to 3 teaspoons prepared horseradish
 1 teaspoon each Worcestershire sauce and grated onion
 ¼ teaspoon bottled hot pepper sauce
 Dash sugar
 2 pounds Alaska Snow crab clusters, thawed if necessary
 Combine all ingredients except Snow crab; let stand at least one hour to blend flavors. Rinse crab under cool water. Cut crab into serving-sized pieces. Score backs of leg sections using large heavy knife or slit with kitchen shears. Refrigerate until served. Makes 6 appetizer servings.

TIP: Serve with small forks to remove crab.

MUSTARD-MARINATED ALASKA SALMON
 ¼ cup each oil, white wine and lemon or lime juice
 3 tablespoons each Dijon mustard and minced onion
 2 cloves garlic, minced
 ¼ teaspoon each salt and pepper
 6 (about 6 oz. each) Alaska salmon steaks, thawed if necessary
 Combine all ingredients except salmon in large shallow dish. Turn salmon in mustard mixture to coat both sides. Marinate in refrigerator 3 hours; turn once after 1½ hours. Place salmon on barbecue grill. Brush with marinade; barbecue 4 minutes. Turn salmon; brush with marinade. Barbecue a total of 10 minutes per inch of thickness or until salmon flakes easily when tested with a fork. Makes 6 servings.

GOLDEN APPLE RICE SALAD
 3 cups hot cooked rice
 ½ cup oil
 ¼ cup lime or lemon juice
 1 teaspoon curry powder
 ½ teaspoon chili powder
 3 Golden Delicious apples
 ¼ cup each salted peanuts, golden or regular raisins and chopped green onion
 Salt and pepper
 Combine hot rice with oil, lime juice, curry powder and chili powder; chill. Core and chop 2 apples; add to rice mixture with peanuts, raisins, onion and salt and pepper to taste. Core and wedge remaining apple; garnish salad with apple wedges. Makes about 6 servings.

CRAB AVOCADO DIP
 6 to 8 ounces Alaska Snow crab meat*, thawed if necessary
 1 avocado, peeled and diced
 1 tablespoon each lime juice and grated onion
 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened
 ¼ cup dairy sour cream
 Assorted crackers or raw vegetable slices
 Drain and slice crab if necessary. Blend avocado, lime juice, onion and Worcestershire sauce in blender or food processor until smooth. Add cream cheese and sour cream; blend well. Fold in crab. Cover and chill thoroughly. Serve with crackers or vegetables. Make 2½ cups dip.
 *If desired, meat removed from Alaska Snow crab clusters may be used. Rinse 1 to 1½ pounds Snow crab clusters under cool water; crack and remove meat.

LEMON-BARBECUED ALASKA SALMON
 1 whole dressed (3 to 8 lb.) Alaska salmon, thawed and head removed if necessary
 1 lemon, thinly sliced
 Lemon Butter Sauce
 Cut heavy-duty foil to fit one side of salmon; grease foil generously. Arrange half of lemon slices on foil. Lay salmon on foil; brush inside with Lemon Butter Sauce and press foil smoothly to fit fish. Arrange remaining lemon slices over salmon. Insert meat thermometer into thickest part of salmon. Place fish, foil side down, on grill over moderately hot coals. Brush with Lemon Butter Sauce. Cover barbecue with lid to seal in heat and smoke. Cook salmon, basting occasionally with Lemon Butter Sauce, until thermometer registers 120°F. Allow 10 minutes per inch of thickness measured at its thickest part or barbecue until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Remove salmon and foil to warm platter. Serve with remaining Lemon Butter Sauce. Makes about 3 servings per pound of salmon.

Lemon Butter Sauce: Combine ¼ cup melted butter or margarine with 1 tablespoon each lemon juice and minced parsley. Makes about ¼ cup.

Kabob-Becue

Peanut Butter-Based Sauces Grill Winners

Gather 'round the grill for a kabob-ecue — a skewered meal with ingredients you can mix 'n match for a temptingly different taste treat.

Three meats — pork, lamb and chicken — are cubed and threaded on wooden-handled skewers, one meat to a skewer. Alternate meat with red or green peppers and zucchini chunks so juices and flavors intermingle.

The real difference with these kabobs is in the sauces. These three peanut butter-based sauces bring the flavor of America's favorite nut to the grill. Combine the sauce and meat of your choice to make the kabobs. Or, be adventurous and, matching each meat to a sauce, make up a couple skewers of each. The woody charcoal flavor of a barbecue and the nutty taste of the peanuts is a winning combination that can't be beat.

To add flavor, marinate cubed meats in the sauce of your choice before cooking; keeping remaining sauce handy for basting kabobs while grilling or for dipping at the table. Grill kabobs 4-5 inches over medium coals, 15-18 minutes (or until done), turning frequently to prevent burning. Baste during last five minutes of cooking time.

To judge temperature when cooking with charcoal, hold your hand at cooking height, palm side down. If you can keep it there for 2 seconds, the temperature is high or hot; 3 seconds, medium-high; 4 seconds, medium; and, 5 seconds, low. Cooking foods at the right temperatures will help prevent flare-ups. Spreading outer lettuce leaves over hot coals is another method.

Serve kabobs hot off the grill, either on skewers or on a fluffy bed of rice. The perfect go-with — crunchy cabbage salad with a peanut dressing.

KABOBS

(Makes 6 servings)

2 lbs. pork, lamb or chicken cut into 1-inch cubes
Assorted vegetables — 1 red and 1 green pepper
OR

2 medium zucchini
Peanut Sauce of your choice (see recipes below)

Marinate pork, lamb or chicken cubes in 1/4 of a peanut sauce of your choice, for 1-2 hours before cooking. Coat meat well. Thread marinated meat onto skewers, alternating with vegetables.

Oil cooking grid on grill to prevent kabobs from sticking. Grill kabobs over medium charcoal 15-18 minutes or until done. (Meat is done when juices run clear.) Turn frequently to prevent burning. Baste kabobs with remaining sauce, if desired, during last 5 minutes of cooking time. Sauce can also be used as a dipping sauce at the table.

SUMMERTIME SALAD

(Makes 4 cups)

3 cups shredded red cabbage
1 cup grated carrots
1 cup seeded sliced cucumber
1/2 cup creamy peanut butter
1/2 cup mayonnaise
3 tablespoons cider vinegar
2 tablespoons orange juice
Romaine lettuce

Combine cabbage, carrots and cucumber. In a medium bowl, stir together peanut butter, mayonnaise, vinegar and orange juice. Add to cabbage mixture and toss well. Line large bowl with lettuce leaves. Spoon cabbage mixture into bowl. Chill until ready to serve.

SOUTHERN-STYLE PEANUT BARBECUE SAUCE

(Makes 1 1/2 cups sauce)

1/2 cup creamy peanut butter
1/2 cup beef broth
1/2 cup honey
3 tablespoons soy sauce
1 medium onion, grated
1 clove garlic, minced
1/2 teaspoon pepper

In a medium bowl, combine peanut butter, beef broth, honey, soy sauce, onion, garlic and pepper. Stir to mix well.

ORIENTAL PEANUT BARBECUE SAUCE

(Makes 1 1/2 cups sauce)

1/2 cup creamy peanut butter
1/2 cup orange marmalade
1/2 cup water
3 tablespoons soy sauce

2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 clove garlic, minced
In medium bowl, combine peanut butter, marmalade, water, soy sauce, lemon juice and garlic. Stir to mix well.

COCONUT PEANUT BARBECUE SAUCE

(Makes 1 1/2 cups sauce)

1 cup boiling water
1 cup flaked coconut
1/2 cup creamy peanut butter
2 tablespoons grated onion
2 tablespoons peanut oil
1 tablespoon brown sugar
2 teaspoons lime juice
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger

Pour boiling water over coconut in small bowl. Let stand 20 minutes; strain, reserving water. Coconut may be dried and used as a garnish. In a medium bowl, combine reserved coconut water, peanut butter, onion, peanut oil, brown sugar, lime juice and ginger. Stir to mix well. (Add a little water if sauce is too thick.)

Mix 'n match kabobs to suit taste preference

Chef Training On The Increase

By Gaynor Maddox
Special To The Herald

Surprisingly, everyone wants to get into food service. That's the word from schools training tomorrow's culinarians — hotel, restaurant and fast food chefs and cooks.

According to Richard J. Haver, executive vice president of the National Institute for the Foodservice Industry, enrollment in hotel, restaurant and institutional management programs nationally is up more than 50 percent since 1960. He reports that 96 senior colleges will graduate more than 5,600 new hospitality management majors this year.

"There are more than 3,000 schools offering this type of training today," adds Dennis Newnam, president of Lea & Perrins, Inc., the Worcestershire sauce people.

His statistics come from a company-sponsored national recipe competition for student chefs which has been held for the last four years. "We see the increased interest in chefing from our steadily growing entry totals and we're constantly impressed with the enthusiasm and sophistication of these young people," he notes. In its Golden Tasting Spoon Contest, Lea & Perrins gives a $1,000 prize to the student with the most creative recipe and then makes a matching award to his or her school.

As part of the chef boom, the scene in commercial cooking is changing dramatically.

"Some 50 percent of our students are women," says Philip Panzarino, professor of culinary arts at New York City Technical College.

"For a long time there was a reluctance to hire women in the kitchen because of the physical demands, but now the largest kitchens readily accept them," Panzarino reports. "Second career people are another major change. They bring a new maturity and drive to the classroom," he adds.

Panzarino's school graduates 150 students a year and he says that each averages three job offers.

"The word is out among young people that this field has a tremendous opportunity today, but it's also getting more demanding. Cooking is no longer the end all; we're training people in the total management of the kitchen as well. Next year, as an example, we'll go from a two-year to a four-year program."

Microwave Magic

Sunday Brunch Features Hot Chicken Salad

A favorite kind of entertaining at our house is the Sunday brunch. A brunch allows for a variety of kinds of foods to be used on a buffet table. I usually like to plan for dishes that can be prepared the day before so that the cook can go to church too.

A tempting array of fruits, vegetables, hot breads, meat, fish, or casseroles and special desserts will invite the guests to linger and enjoy the early afternoon. The hostess will then have time for clean-up and leisure time on Sunday evening.

Recently I planned a brunch around this Hot Chicken Salad which I adapted to the microwave. It serves 8 to 10 people and should be made well in advance of serving. It also combines those ingredients which are complemented by most fruits and vegetables.

Midge Mycoff

Home Economist
Seminole Community College

HOT CHICKEN SALAD

3 cups chicken cooked, cut into bite size pieces
1 cup finely chopped celery
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion

1 4-oz. jar of chopped pimiento, drained

1 can of cream of chicken soup
2 cups of cooked rice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1/4 cup water
3 hard cooked eggs, sliced
2 cups potato chips, crushed
1/4 cup grated cheddar cheese

Combine the first 9 ingredients. Combine mayonnaise and water and beat until smooth. Pour over chicken mixture; stir well. Add eggs and toss gently. Spoon into a greased 2-quart casserole that is a microwave safe baking dish. Cover and refrigerate over night. Microwave at 100% power for 5 minutes, reduce power to 70%, microwave 10 minutes or until heated through. Stir once during the cooking time. Remove from oven, sprinkle with chips and cheese. Microwave 100% for 3-5 minutes more until cheese is melted.

Remember, stew the chicken and cook the rice in the microwave oven before preparing the casserole.

Ham filled angel biscuits, a fresh fruit compote, microwave broccoli spears, sliced tomatoes with Vidalia onion rings, and slices of daffodil cake with caramel frosting completed this brunch menu.

Garbanzo beans and cheese cubes add flavor and nutrition to a "Lunch To Go" Salad.

Take-Along Salads For Busy Days

Did you ever have "one of those days" at the office? You just can't get away from your desk, and lunchtime is rolling around. "Brown baggers" have the advantage on days like these. They can enjoy lunch at their desks without venturing into busy restaurants or carry-out counters. With recipes from the Kraft Kitchens you too can get your work accomplished and enjoy a satisfying meal.

"Lunch to Go" salad is a healthy mixture of cherry tomato halves, cucumber slices, garbanzo beans, cheese, and Kraft Italian reduced calorie dressing. The salad is marinated overnight and carried to work in a totable container. Its portion is perfect for satisfying these noontime hunger pangs without slowing you down for your busy afternoon schedule. Weight conscious folks take note: Italian reduced calorie dressing has only 6 calories per tablespoon compared with 80 calories per tablespoon in regular Italian dressing.

Another convenient salad idea is this recipe for Take 'N Toss Salad which can be assembled and served in a plastic sandwich bag. Assorted greens, cherry tomatoes, and cucumber slices are tossed with golden caesar or golden blend Italian dressing that you add just before eating.

Just carry it to work and enjoy!

"LUNCH TO GO" SALAD

1/4 cup cherry tomato halves
1/4 cup cucumber slices, halved
1/2 cup garbanzo beans
3 tablespoons Italian reduced calorie dressing
Casino brand natural muenster cheese, cubed
Place vegetables in portable container. Pour dressing over vegetables. Cover; marinate in refrigerator overnight. Add cheese; mix lightly.
1 serving

TAKE 'N TOSS SALAD

Torn assorted greens
Cherry tomatoes
Cucumber slices
golden caesar or golden blend Italian dressing.
Place greens and vegetables in plastic bag. Chill. Add dressing to salad just before serving; toss in plastic bag.

SPINACH SALAD

1 bunch fresh spinach, torn into bite-size pieces
1/4 pound fresh bean sprouts
1 (8-ounce) can water chestnuts, drained and sliced
2 large tomatoes, cut into wedges
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
3 to 4 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled
Dressing (recipe follows)
Combine vegetables, eggs, and bacon in a large bowl; toss well. Serve with dressing. Yield: 10 servings.

Dressing:

1 medium onion, grated
1 cup vegetable oil
1/4 cup catsup
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup vinegar
Combine all ingredients in a jar. Cover tightly, and shake vigorously. Chill several hours. Yield: about 2 cups.

FROZEN COLESLAW

1 large head cabbage, shredded
1 green pepper, chopped
1 large carrot, shredded
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup vinegar
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup water
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon celery seeds
Combine vegetables; sprinkle with salt, and let stand 1 hour. Drain mixture if water accumulates.
Combine remaining ingredients in a saucepan. Bring to a boil; boil 1 minute. Cool. Pour over cabbage mixture; stir well. Freeze in plastic freezer bags or containers. To serve, thaw in refrigerator. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

CREAMY STUFFED CELERY

3 stalks celery
1 (3-ounce) package cream cheese, softened
1 tablespoon finely chopped pimiento-stuffed olives
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1 tablespoon finely chopped sweet pickle
1 tablespoon finely chopped pecans
1 1/2 teaspoons mayonnaise
Wash celery, and cut into 3-inch pieces. Combine remaining ingredients, mixing well. Stuff the celery pieces with cream cheese mixture. Yield: 9 celery pieces.
