Man-Made Island Workman Stricken

BOSTON (AP)— A workman stricken ill on the "Texas tower," a man-made radar island 110 miles east of Provincetown, was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital early today after he was landed ashore by the Coast Guard.

Progress on the four-laning, widening, and paving of 17-92 is somewhat uncertain this morning with the first report from the appraisers not yet in the hands of two right-of-way agents, in accordance with the schedule set at Tuesday's meeting of the Seminole County Board of Commissioners.

John E. Fox, right-of-way agent for the county, said this morning that appraisers were at work yesterday and are reportedly working this morning. Fox said, "I turned over a marked right-of-way map to them yesterday morning."

Fox said today that there are approximately 40 more instruments not yet available from the State Road Department in DeLand on parcels of land south of Casselberry to the Orange County line.

M. C. Hagan, county engineer, and Fox, were both on the State Road 46 project this morning completing surveys and planning further right-of-way on that thoroughfare.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)— Vicki the elephant guzzled tap water and chomped domesticated hay today, having put behind her 11 days of free-lance foraging in the woodlands of Mecklenburg County.

Woonsocket Pulls Out Of Mudpack

WOONSOCKET, R. I. — The waters receded quickly, but the flood of a month ago still is a living thing in this textile city of 30,000 population.

Legal Notice

IMPORTANT NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING FOR OCTOBER 1955 FLORIDA RAILROAD AND PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION APPLICANTS IN THE DOCKET LISTED HEREIN ALL INTERESTED PARTIES NOTICE is hereby given that the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission, a Commission Member appointed by said Commission, will hold PUBLIC HEARINGS during the month of OCTOBER 1955 in the following docket at the times and places hereinafter designated: October 20, 1955 — 918 A. M. Court House, Sanford, Fla. Docket No. 1250. On the application of Railway Express Agency for authority to close and discontinue its Agency at Lake Monroe, Florida. At said time and place and in each of said docket, all interested parties will be given an opportunity to be fully heard. WITNESSE the hand of the Acting Executive Director of the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission this 14th day of September 1955. Louis W. Peterson ACTING EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

Alphonse Le Febvre, printing shop owner, painstakingly cleaned and sorted 200 gallons of type caked with mud. "I figure I'll have the job finished in another six months," he says philosophically. Crews of women in a spinning mill are cleaning an estimated 100,000 bobbins smeared by the floodwaters. The owner hopes to be back in business next month. Laborers slog through mud and caked dust in hundreds of cellars, using shovels and wheelbarrows for a mop up job in quarters too cramped for cranes and bulldozers. Of flood damaged dwelling units, 400 still have not been certified by health officials as fit for occupancy. Almost 1,000 of the 3,500 mill hands killed by the flood are still without work. The road back to normal is long for Woonsocket but the city is optimistic, despite huge reconstruction costs. There are two chief reasons. All major industries are staying in Woonsocket. So are the people. "When you've lived in the same house 25 or 30 years and know all the neighbors, it is kind of hard to move somewhere else," said a man trudging into a dried-out six-family tenement house in the city's "Social" district. The area takes its name from Social St., one of its principal thoroughfares. This district, with a population of about 3,000 persons crammed into less than a square mile, was the most congested area hit by the Aug. 1929 flood. There alone, about a mile from the city's main business section, 163 commercial establishments were flood-damaged, along with the 1,100 dwelling units. The wearying mop up job has progressed far enough so that some of the establishments are back in business. Others hope to open within weeks. Two rivers combined to inflict the damage. Overflowing of the Blackstone hit the big brick mills traditionally located on the riverbank since the days of water power. The Social district was submerged when a pond burst through earthenworks around a dam and sent a seven-foot high wave rushing down Mill River, a small stream that flows into the Blackstone. Damage in the "Social" district, the mills and municipal installations was first estimated by officials at 30 to 150 million dollars. The estimate has been reduced to about 25 million—but the magnitude of reconstruction appears as great as ever. Mayor Kevin Coleman wonders where the money will come from. James Winn, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, ponders the flood's effect on his efforts to attract new industry. Virtually everybody in Woonsocket has his own special problem. For many families it is: When can we return to our homes? For many working men: When will we get back to work? For many business firms: When do we open? For the town's policemen, it has meant work without a day off since the flood. With the National Guardsmen gone, policing duties remain heavy. Washed out bridges have altered traffic patterns with resultant traffic jams. Help for the flood victims comes from many sources. Printer LeFebvre is getting aid in sorting his type from printers of the Woonsocket Call. In the once epic and span textile mill owned by Eugene Bonte and rows of rusted machinery. Crews of women clean and sort mud-caked bobbins—100,000 of them. (Bobbins are machine spools about the size of candles.) Machinery on the first floor is being oiled and repaired. Bonte has rented the second floor for operations formerly conducted in the basement. He intends to carry on the remaining production—he hopes—in October. "I am 66," he says. "I would

(Continued From Page 1) son. He had a better than "B" grade, he said, in chemistry and related subjects. He graduated last year and now has a fellowship at Florida State University. The Dean of Men and Baseball coach, who played baseball for Sanford in 1910 and again in 1948, said, "We like to win at Rollins, and we play to win. However," he explained, "a lot of schools are over-emphasizing sports — sports like football. When football practice gets so important that they practice on Saturday mornings and Sundays — when it's just over-emphasized—that's a little too much." Justice was introduced by Floyd Palmer who explained that he was a brother of the famous Choo Choo Justice, the All American of the University of North Carolina. John Senkari, and his son Jerry Senkari, of the Senkari Glass and Paint Company, along with T. V. Brown, Sanford mill station operator, were included into the Kiwanis Club yesterday as new members. Visitors introduced at yesterday's meeting included: R. F. Lenox of DeLand, Jerry Schellentrater of Enterprise, Andy Bracken; Asst. Principal at Seminole High School, Curtis Goff of Orlando, O. A. Risher of Hollywood, and L. C. Smith, Key Club. David Gatchel, chairman of the UPC Football Game, said that the game which will benefit the Under Privileged Children's Fund, will be played in Sanford on Oct. 15. Advance ticket sales for the game between Seminole High School and Palatka will begin next Monday with ten teams selling tickets for the event. "I have quit, but I want to continue the business for my sons." Thick mud in cellars of homes and small stores has proved a vexing problem. You can't use cranes and bulldozers there. So you solve the problem by cutting a hole six or eight feet square in the floor of your store or living room. You shovel mud through the hole to the first floor, then cart it in a wheelbarrow to the street, where trucks pick it up. For some owners, especially the elderly, the task was too much physically. For others it was too expensive. In such cases the city did the job with its own crews. "It's private property," commented Mayor Coleman. "The people have been about all of them want to continue in their old homes or businesses." The big problem facing Coleman is whether the city will have to pay for most of the 15-million-dollar damage to municipal installations or whether it will get substantial help from the federal government. It appears now that the city will have to bear most of it. He had hoped the Army would take over a major part of the work, but the Army is restricted about all it can do. Citing one bridge as an example, the Army will replace washed out fill and install culverts and make the road passable, but the new bridge is the city's problem.

City Takes Care Of Tired Canine; Walks Shortened

MIDWEST CITY, Okla. — Roger, a nine-year-old Airedale, is the pride of Midwest City dogdom, and there's a good reason for his high standing. He's the only dog in the city with a special fireplug right in the front yard. A bright red fireplug at that. Roger and his boss, J. C. (Jiggs) Ray also succeeded in putting down an anti-dog rebellion which flared up at Midwest City Council meeting. The question of dogs' right came up at the council meeting when some 20 irate citizens showed up to complain about the way dogs were howling, romping and generally misbehaving. There were demands that all dogs be tethered, fenced or otherwise confined. Mayor Marion C. Reed finally got around to asking if anyone wanted to speak in defense of the dogs. Ray took the floor. "Your honor," he said, "I have a dog problem. There is a fireplug on the corner of Babb and Marshall. "As you know this has been a hot, humid summer. Roger is nine years old, and it is wearing him out to make that half-block walk every morning. I believe this council should install a fireplug for Roger in his front yard." His speech broke up the council meeting. Several days later Roger and the Rays were surprised to find a fireplug in their front yard. Workers at the City Water Department had retrieved the fixture from the junkyard and fixed it up for Roger. They painted it red — the only one in town.

Columbia Becoming Fearful Land

Editor's Note—An AP reporter who investigated the situation in Colombia flew to Havana to write his story free of censorship. By PHIL MANGELSDORF HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Columbia is becoming a country of fear. President Gustavo Rojas Pinilla ticks off the familiar milestones of the dictator's road, and the 13 million Colombians more and more withdraw behind the barriers of silence. Prominent businessmen, opposition politicians and others are eager to present their criticism to the outside world but hesitate to state publicly what they will say privately. They fear government retaliation. Government officials, acutely sensitive to foreign criticism, either avoid newsmen or are evasive when questioned. The government of Lt. Gen. Rojas last month suspended indefinitely one of the country's most influential newspapers, El Tiempo of Bogota. The suspension set off a series of decrees aimed at silencing complaints. There is a strict censorship. A national publications board has been formed to control imports of newspapers and to establish a government daily newspaper. Radio stations are prohibited from presenting opposition views on either politics or economics. Leading Liberals shake their heads pessimistically when asked whether the situation might change for the better. "There's no hope," they are inclined to say. This is the picture they outline: Economically Colombia is fairly well off and, in fact, stands on the threshold of an industrial and agricultural boom. Wages are increasing. Jobs are plentiful. Few men care to risk their improved standard of living for government displeasure. Also, political opposition is unorganized. No one antigovernment figure stands out as a rallying point. The army is in control and is loyal to its handsome, greying 55-year-old leader. The army probably numbers about 40,000—representing a three-fold increase during the past 10 years. It is supported by a strong police force. Much of the national budget—how much the government will not say — is devoted to purchasing the most modern planes and weapons. The government denies censorship exists. Its attitude is that it must protect order and the President's dignity. Rojas took over the government in a bloodless coup in June 1953. His army suppressed guerrilla warfare that had raged for five years. He and his army became heroes. Even El Tiempo and the Liberals supported the Conservative President. Since then his popularity has declined a little. Originally appointed as a member of the National Assembly to serve as president until Aug. 9, 1954, he later packed the Assembly and put through a constitutional change which extended his term four more years. Then came control of the radio stations, which must devote to government propaganda as much time as the government desires. Rojas established an official television station. Under construction are 14 repeater stations to carry its message all over the nation. Life—on the surface—appears normal. Much new construction can be seen. Colombia's coffee sales have been good. Below the surface there are whispered anti-Rojas jokes, secret distribution of anti-government pamphlets and the ever watchful eye for the police. New guerrilla warfare has broken out in the mountain area of the Sumapaz region south of Bogota. Mentions of this in newspapers is forbidden. The government claims, and many Colombians agree, that the guerrilla activities are directed by Communists. For this reason, if for no other, the guerrillas receive little or no support from even Rojas' opponents.

Israeli Troops Cling To Sector

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Israeli troops clinging today to a section of the Negev Desert demilitarized zone, refusing to leave until Egyptians quit two areas they allegedly hold in the zone. Egypt denied it holds the posts. Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, United Nations truce supervisors' chief in Palestine, reported in U.N. headquarters that 70 Israeli troops had taken up positions yesterday in the Nizana sector of the demilitarized zone, 50 miles due south of Egyptian-held Gaza. A spokesman for the Israeli Foreign Ministry said in Jerusalem that the action was taken because of the "continued presence of two Egyptian military outposts in this territory inside 'Israel' and because the Egyptians had demolished border markers Israel had put up in the area.

Phillips Announces Start Of New Homes

Wellborn C. Phillips Jr. today announced the start of 13 new homes at Little Venice. The homes will be of varying design, incorporating such architectural types as the Britany Farm House as well as more conventional homes and several of ultra-modern design. These homes will have three or four bedrooms; one or two baths. Down payments will be kept at a minimum, and prices will range from $13,000 to $17,000. Phillips stated that the 13 homes represent a total in sales prices of $244,275 and that this additional volume of business will represent considerable activity on the part of Sanford firms. "In fact," he said, "all business possible is being given to the local concerns, and 38 of the 63 men on the payroll live in Sanford."

Progress

(Continued From Page 1) Bradley Odham, said this morning that no additional information had come in to her office relative to the right-of-way or amount of work completed by the appraisers. County Commission Chairman John Metzch was out of his office this morning on comment from him was available regarding the progress made so far by the two teams of appraisers. Those working with C. E. Duckworth Sr. of Orlando, in making the appraisal of 17-92 right-of-way are Raymond Ball, Sanford real estate dealer, Tommy Peterson Jr., Sanford real estate man, H. S. "Low" Arnold, real estate man of Longwood, and Wally Dietrichs, Sanford real estate man, all appointed by the Seminole County Board of Commissioners at its Tuesday meeting. Plans laid at the meeting this week would have the appraisers meeting each day at the completion of their surveys in agree on the appraised value of each parcel so that right-of-way agents could immediately close out and complete deeds and instruments necessary.

Red Transformation Summed Up

Editor's Note — Reinhold East, an American on the AP staff in Germany, received Russian permission to visit the 1955 Leipzig fair. Here is his report. By REINHOLD ENSE LEIPZIG, East Germany — One way to sum up the Communist transformation of Leipzig is to tell what has happened to the F. W. Woolworth store. The store front still carries a red sign with the familiar lettering, "F. W. Woolworth Co." Window displays are arranged in the tradition of the worldwide chain. Inside, the counters are neatly laid out, displaying many of the items one always looks for in "the dime store." But all the merchandise is from East Germany, and a close look at the sign out front reveals the significant words: "In Verwaltung," meaning "under administration" — Communist administration, that is. "Things have certainly changed around here," one clerk told this

DEAD SEAGULLS USEFUL

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I. (AP)—Two seagulls, killed by a plane at Block Island airport, are serving to keep other seagulls off the runway. Airport attendants staked out the birds, one on each side of the runway to keep live gulls away. The attendants said incoming pilots are no longer bothered by the numerous birds in the vicinity.

CONFEDERATE FLAG FLIES

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The Stars and Bars waved in the blue off this port yesterday as a ceremony was held aboard the carrier Ticonderoga honoring Robert E. Lee and the new 30-cent Lee stamp. It marked the first time the Confederate flag has flown from an American warship. The skipper of the Ticonderoga is Capt. Andrew Jackson — a native of Mississippi.

Young Henry Ford Makes Good Showing

DETROIT—Ten years ago a stubborn but tired old man retired as president of the Ford Motor Co. Into the post stepped his 29-year-old grandson.

For the Ford Motor Co. it was a history-making event.

World War II had just ended. Big defense contracts were about to be terminated. The huge industrial empire the elder Henry Ford had founded and directed as one-man institution showed signs of tottering.

To a younger Henry Ford backed by all members of his family excepting perhaps the retiring 82-year-old patriarch fell the task of rebuilding the empire.

Did it frighten him?

"I didn't know enough to be frightened," he said later.

In the decade that Henry Ford II has directed the destinies of the great family-owned automobile enterprise, he and his associates have brought it back into the big money-making area, weathered some serious threats to its life and implemented a 2½-billion-dollar expansion and modernization program.

And, temporarily at least, he has realized one of his most cherished ambitions—to overtake Chevrolet, his major competitor, in production and sales. Although he is not yet there, Ford claimed sales leadership in actual customer deliveries at the end of 1954.

Unofficial estimates from financial sources say this year's net earnings of the Ford Motor Co. will top the estimated 1950 total of 263 million dollars. That was the year of the auto industry's biggest output. Ford's assemblies and sales will be greater this year than those of any previous year.

Friends of young Ford say his ambition goes farther than just to "beat Chevrolet." They visualize Ford challenging General Motors in all price classes. They point to the huge expansion program that has been underway since 1946.

When currently planned projects are completed in 1958 more than $2,323,000,000 will have been spent on expansion and modernization. More than 50 million square feet of floor space will have been added to present facilities.

An acrimonious family meeting is said to have preceded the elder Ford's resignation and his grandson's election as president. It was common knowledge that young Ford's father, Edsel B. Ford, had been president largely in name only, from 1918 until his death in 1943; that the elder Ford and some of his close associates frequently countermanded Edsel's orders; that Edsel made much of the latter's embarrassment.

Ella and Clay Ford, Edsel's wife, reportedly threatened to sell her company holdings and the stock she controlled as trustee for her younger children on the open market if the elder Ford did not step down and let her son, Henry II, become president in fact as well as in name.

It was the same threat the company founder had used a quarter century earlier to force minority stockholders to sell their holdings to him.

Thus, on Sept. 21, 1943, a couple of weeks after his 28th birthday, young Henry Ford, who had had relatively little experience in the business, became its president.

Young Henry Ford was born in Detroit. He attended Hotchkiss school in Connecticut and was a Yale senior in 1940. He left school before graduation and took a brief apprenticeship in the Ford factories before joining the U.S. Naval Reserve as an ensign in 1941. He served at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station facility at Dearborn, Mich.

Late in 1943 he was put on inactive duty and rejoined the company as a vice president.

At 28, the six-foot Ford is becoming somewhat plump. To a characteristic personal charm and outspoken frankness he has added substantial poise in the decade he has headed the Ford company.

A hard worker, he has the facility for quick discernment and quick response. He gives full credit to his management team for much of the company's success during the last 10 years.

Unlike his grandfather, who figuratively carried the company's affairs in his vest pocket, the younger Ford sought and got a lot of help. He brought together a group of experts in engineering, manufacturing, in administration, in financial affairs, in labor relations. Heading the management team was Ernest R. Breech, top-notch production man who had directed three General Motors subsidiaries. Today the company has more than a score of vice presidents. Each is responsible for a vital phase of the company's operations.

Formation of the management team followed a major "house cleaning" Ford started when he stepped into the presidency. Many old, time-worn policies, along with many individuals long associated with the elder Ford, were swept out of the corporation.

Numerous "fringe" enterprises developed by the company's founder also went out. Ships that sailed the seven seas were sold; so, too, were big rubber plantations in South America; the manufacturing facilities, timberlands and saw mills, soybean oil mills; numerous

Cheju Being Made Into Playground

CHEJU ISLAND, Korea, Cheju, which its natives call the "island of women, wind and storm," is being boomed for a new tourist playground.

So far the only resort atmosphere is provided by one palm tree in front of the police station, one orange tree and a stretch of white sandy beach.

All Cheju's leaders are boosting the tourist potential of this land of stone villages 75 miles south of Korea. But the only high official born here is Cheju city's mayor. The story goes he was appointed by the city council because he was the only man who owned a cutaway coat and striped pants.

The mayor looks just the man for a resort promoter. With his cutaway he wears a casual green shirt, red tie, red socks and brown shoes.

Facts and history are vague about Cheju. But there's no doubt there are a lot more women than men on the island. Some stories say women outnumber men two to one, others seven to one. Most conservative estimates say 110,000 men to 150,000 women.

The buxom wives plow fields, haul lumber, dive for fish, dabble in government—and manage also to raise an average of three or four children.

There are more than 20,000 fishermen. Some are part time, some full time, but all are full-bodied lady wrestler types. They dive the year round, sometimes at night, for fish, shells and seaweed.

The girls, some of them Korean war widows, fish with slingshot-type harpoons with an inner tube attached to the rear end. They accounted for a good portion of the 2,000 tons of marine life brought into Cheju last year.

As for politics, there are some female majors and councilwomen in villages along 300-foot Halla San volcano, a Fuji-like cone that dominates the island.

The topsy-turvy man-woman ratio was further upset by the bloody Communist-fomented civil revolt of 1948, which few people like to talk about but which no one has forgotten.

Some 20,000 men, mostly between 20 and 40 years old, were killed by South Korean constabulary and police.

About 200 reds, many of them smuggled in from the China mainland 300 miles from Cheju, stirred the revolt amid discontent over the island's civil administration and a bad harvest.

An army regiment called in to quell the trouble revolted, killed its commanding officer and joined 60,000 citizens in the mountains.

New South Korean troops rushed from the mainland, put down the rising, and shot anybody suspected of talking or associating with the Cheju rebels. The indiscriminate killing left much bitterness toward the government.

Cheju was the farthest South Korean territory from the fighting front in the Korean War, but it played a big wartime role. It was the ROK Army's biggest training ground for young soldiers, and it had two big prison camps for Chinese war captives.

People get to and from Cheju by courier plane or by boat, which takes 18 hours.

U.S. Army and State Department brass often fly in from Seoul aboard their own planes to hunt and that might be a selling point for tourists. Cheju sports some of the best pheasant, quail, duck and deer shooting in Asia.

But that one palm tree moved a skeptical American soldier, dispensing relief supplies here, to crack: "They have a veritable Hawaii of the Yellow Sea."

Keep Calm At Meals

By HERMAN H. RUMBLE, M.D.

DON'T quarrel at the dinner table!

The roast may be burned, the potatoes may be lumpy and your mother-in-law may announce she plans to extend her stay—but don't quarrel at the dinner table. Frequent arguments while eating disturb your digestion as well as your emotions.

Functional Disturbances

Experiments have proved conclusively that the emotional state of a person profoundly affects the blood supply, the secretory functions, the motility and the stomach's emptying time.

If you are nervous, anxious, worried or otherwise excited, the nervous mechanism controlling your digestion usually is affected. In a state like this, you are apt to wind up with nervous dyspepsia, or nervous indigestion.

Stress and Overwork

This ailment is caused not only by excitement at mealtimes, stress, overwork and strong emotional disturbances at any time produce nervous dyspepsia.

In addition to stomach distress, you may have headaches and become weak. You might be unable to concentrate and unable to sleep. Nausea and lack of appetite are frequent symptoms of nervous indigestion.

Many persons aggravate the condition by smoking or drinking more alcohol than usual.

Your stomach will return to normal only when your nervousness subsides. Phenobarbitone or amylal may be advised by your doctor to take the edge off your anxieties. Alkalies frequently relieve any symptoms caused by gastric acidity.

Small, dry meals, with only a little liquid, sometimes help. Don't drink coffee or tea excessively. Usually, a long restful holiday will do more good than drugs or dieting.

Restricted Diet

It is important, of course, that you seek treatment from your doctor. He can do more for you than just give you drugs or maybe put you on a restricted diet.

He can help alleviate many of your worries by proving to you that your ailment is not caused by some serious organic disease. And you know as well as I that most of us secretly fear there is something seriously wrong the moment we get stomach trouble.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. M. E.: Is there anything that will help a person get rid of liver spots?

Question: So-called liver spots or brown spots on the skin are really not due to any trouble with the liver.

Your physician should be consulted as to the most advisable method of removing such disfiguring blemishes.

Importance Of 17-92 4-Laning Is Too Great To Let Slip Away

Before the very eyes of every citizen of Seminole County there has been drawn word pictures of a modern, up-to-the-minute, four-laned highway, joining Sanford and Orlando.

Before the project gets past the planning stage, however, stumbling blocks of words, promises, spending unnecessarily, and false economy are being thrown in the way for the project to become a reality.

And as seconds tick away on every clock and watch in Seminole County, the most forward-looking project to face the county officials in its history is being pushed farther back from reality.

Here are the facts—and remember—you, as a citizen of this county will benefit from the highway's completion.

Last Tuesday, the Seminole County Commissioners initiated an action to expedite the securing of the right-of-ways for the widening, four-laning, and paving of 17-92. At the time that this action was discussed, many members of the Citizens Committee were present. It was evident that everyone was overjoyed when the appraisal estimate submitted by C. E. Duckworth, Sr., of Orlando for the right-of-ways from Five Points to the Orange County line was for the sum of $500,000. We were additionally delighted, too, when Mr. John Meisch, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, announced that the appraisal was deliberately made a little high. Because, that meant Seminole County would have sufficient funds to acquire the right-of-ways for the first part of the project without any strain.

With $325,000 in the secondary road fund, plus the $220,000 which is to become available following the issuance of revenue certificates by the State Road Department from anticipated receipts of the county during the next five years from surplus gas tax funds, this gives the county, almost immediately, the sum of $545,000 to purchase right-of-ways. It was also pointed out, at the Tuesday meeting, that some 15 owners, having land valued in excess of $25,000, would be willing to donate their property for the proposed right-of-ways.

Naturally, everyone was happy! What happens then? The Seminole County Commissioners, rolling another one of their stumbling blocks in the way of progress, decided that the appraisers should appraise, not only the property from Five Points south to the Orange County line, but also the properties from Five Points north to Onora Street, and in addition, the Seminole County Attorney should prepare legal pleadings to condemn and to use a Declaration of taking not just from Five Points south, but also from Five Points north. This was done—mind you—knowing that not a single deed, not a single abstract, not one lot of an instrument was ready on the property NORTH of Five Points. Stumbling Block? That's just ONE of them!

Why are we getting so excited about all this? Simply this—we know that this is the most important project to face the officials of this county in the last three decades. The most important project since 1926 when the present 17-92 right-of-way was DONATED ENTIRELY by the people and when civilization hauled clay into the proposed road bed for the project.

We are also excited about all of this simply because it indicates the possibility that some of the Seminole County Commissioners want to be in the position of pleasing ALL people ALL the time.

Here is exactly what it means to this county and to the citizens who live here: the Road Department has budgeted the sum of $800,000 to widen, four-lane, and pave 17-92 from Five Points, in Seminole County, to the Seminole County line, THIS YEAR! That money MUST BE SPENT or contracted for before December 31, 1955.

Before the State Road Department will let any contract, the right-of-ways must be acquired either by gift, purchase, condemnation, or through the use of a Declaration of Taking. So you see, the Seminole County Commissioners can tell the ones of us who are FOR 17-92 that they're SO SORRY, but there just isn't enough money to buy all of the right-of-way. And then, WE ARE SUPPOSED to accept the statement at its face value—when WE KNOW THAT THERE IS NO REASON FOR ALL OF THE PROPERTY TO BE ACQUIRED.

Here is the truth of the matter—the county needs only to acquire the right-of-way from Five Points south to the Orange County line THIS YEAR, because that is the only part of the road proposed, scheduled, or even expected to be built this year. Next year, additional monies will be available through the 7th Cent Gas Tax to Seminole County to purchase and acquire the right-of-way from Five Points north to Sanford. There is MUCH the Seminole County Commissioners could do to help get this project completed and the contract let this year, but they'll never do it if they insist that all of the right-of-ways be condemned or acquired this year.

The people in all parts of Seminole County will be affected for years to come by the widening or non-widening of 17-92. We know now what the Seminole County Commissioners plan to do next year since they un-animously approved the PAVING AND WIDENING OF 46 IF 17-92 is not completed this year.

It is time that each citizen who feels that 17-92 four-laning and widening is of paramount importance to the future growth and prosperity of ALL of Seminole County TO CONTACT YOUR COUNTY COMMISSIONER and tell him that you, as one of his constituents, recommend to him that he give ALL OF HIS EFFORTS, UNBIASED and unrelenting to do everything he can to see that the project is started in THIS calendar year.

If the Seminole County Commission doesn't do something in the next two weeks, time will have run out. And the money, spent so jubilantly last Tuesday, will have been wasted.

Don't take a passive answer from your county commissioner. This project could have already been underway had it been the wish of the entire BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Businesses Entering New Season

NEW YORK (U)—With the sun balanced on the equator business enters a new season today. Business has had a good summer and in spite of the almost general anticipation of continuing good times in the fall and winter seasons, there are plenty of conflicts looming.

There's almost sure to be some same calling between those who held that good times and easy credit go together and those who want to stretch prosperity into next year by going a little slower the rest of this year.

Politicians will talk the loudest concerning what to do about farm income and farm surpluses. But businessmen will be divided on that question, too. Those selling products to farmers will be nervous about any drop in farm income. And others will worry about the load on the economy caused by price supports of farm products.

Business also will be split over the question of U.S. tariffs and the trade problems of our Western European allies. Any decisions along these lines will affect some industries directly, and others indirectly.

prices. Rising labor rates and much of this can be passed along to the consumer before sales drop off. If prices don't rise, and the factory absorbs the higher costs, stockholders may find their hopes of higher dividends fading.

To keep business going at its present rate, merchants and manufacturers are likely to lean heavily on promotions. Competition is going to be bitter.

Lot Of Money Likely To Be Spent

WASHINGTON (U)—The Democratic and Republican parties very likely will spend a whopping six million dollars between them to carry the 1956 presidential campaign arguments into millions of American homes by television.

Advance estimates indicate television will be the largest single item in the campaign budgets. Each party will spend about double the amount spent in 1952. The money will come from the treasuries of the national committees, state committees and allied citizen groups.

By law, the national committees may collect and spend only three millions each in financing the entire campaign. But each party can sidestep this limitation by having state organizations and citizens' groups pick up the check.

The Republicans already are dicker over the national networks for favorable TV spots next fall, particularly in the last six weeks of the campaign. The best times are the evening hours. The Democrats say they haven't yet begun negotiations with the networks, but they also will reserve time far in advance of the campaign stretch drive.

Party leaders in 1952 had little or no experience with television as a campaign medium and this lack of experience was expensive. In the heat of the campaign, critical times arise when party leaders consider it worth almost any price to get their story to the people quickly and dramatically. But it's a costly thing to buy TV time on short notice because it means paying a "pre-emption" fee to the producers who save up the time— in addition to the regular network costs.

Some TV network sources have estimated that in 1952 the Republicans spent more than $250,000 in buying up expensive time on short notice. Such a moment came when Republicans rushed Richard Nixon (now the vice president) to the air waves to explain a campaign fund given to him by a group of private citizens.

The Democrats had their own emergencies but their extra cost weren't as heavy as those of the Republicans. And it is no secret that the Democrats must hoard their money a good deal more carefully than the Republicans.

Both parties face the problem of heavier costs for TV time in 1952, a half hour of one network's coast-to-coast cost about $22,000, according to one source at GOP national headquarters. But with more TV stations in the network, the cost next year will be just about double.

Truman Tells Story

WASHINGTON (U)—Harry S. Truman says he believes his administration paved the way for preventing a third world war for "as far ahead as man can see."

It did so, he contends, by making sure of this country's military strength, and by dealing with Soviet Russia on a "give-and-take" basis.

Truman leaves for conjecture the exact language he used in a face-to-face dressing down he gave Russian Foreign Minister Molotov at the White House on April 23, 1945, for failure to carry out Russia's Yalta agreements on Poland.

But he says it was so sharp that Molotov was slung to protest "I have never been talked to like that in my life." Truman recalls he retorted: "Carry out your agreements and you won't get talked to like that."

Jonathan Daniels, a longtime member of Truman's staff, once quoted one of those present as saying Truman used "blunt language unadorned by the polite verbiage of diplomacy" and "the natural language of a direct politician to men he recognized as politicians, too."

The story is told in Life magazine's current issue in the first of five installments of the "Truman Memoirs" The New York Times and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch are serializing them, too. The installments make up the first volume, which will be brought out in book form in November by Doubleday & Co.

Truman is reportedly getting $600,000 for this and a second volume, to be published early next year.

Of the current effort, he said "I'm just glad to be through with the job."

Truman attributes his 1945 appointment of James F. Byrnes as secretary of state in part to a desire to make up to Byrnes for his failure to get the Democratic vice presidential nomination in 1944.

Byrnes, according to Truman, was "deeply disappointed and hurt" when Truman was picked instead. He had "asked me to nominate him and give him my support," the ex-President adds. "But Roosevelt and the convention ruled otherwise."

Byrnes quit the Cabinet in 1947. Later a Truman-Byrnes feud flared onto the front pages and Byrnes supported Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower for the presidency in 1952.

Truman coupled praise of the late GOP Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio as a "highly ethical, straightforward and honorable man" with a description of Taft as "a violent partisan" with a "sense of dynamism."

Savings Bond Sales Keep Upward Trend

Savings Bond sales in Florida in August resumed their upward trend after a slight hesitation in July it is reported by W. A. Patrick, Savings Bonds Chairman for Seminole County. Sales within the state were 9 per cent ahead of August 1954 and contribute to a 24 per cent increase for the year to date.

Seminole County sales in August were $32,225 and for the first month of 1955 now stand at $284,000, which is 112.1 per cent more than for the corresponding months a year ago.

"In the aggregate Florida sales are $10,195,000 greater than last year and now account for 72 1/2 per cent of our state's assigned year's quota. At the same point in 1954 only 63 per cent of the year's objective had been reached," Patrick stated. Thirteen counties have already achieved their full year's goals, a fact concerning which State Advisory Chairman V. N. Northcutt of Tampa has expressed extreme gratification.

thing I can get for you—like a double-edged saw, or something?"

Miss Bacall's ideas may seem strange to some wives. But there's one thing about them. They work. After 10 years she still has a happy husband.

NEWS IN LIGHTING

There's nothing like soft, diffused lighting to give your home a restful, warm glow—and now you can have this type of indirect lighting in every room in your home, very inexpensively. One new lamp has a disc-like polycarbonate shade laced to a black wrought iron frame, covering the bulb to give a soft diffusion of light. It can be used atop a bookcase, TV set, or table, on the wall, by telephone, in the nursery—or as an efficient night light. It's practical, too, since the plastic shade can be washed like a dish in soapy water.

New apple dumplings: bake the apples, sweeten to taste, before covering with pastry and baking in a hot oven for about 20 minutes. Use standard pie pastry and brush it with a mixture of egg yolk and water for a pretty glaze.

Picnic Supper Given Recently

A family picnic supper was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Newsome Friday night for the young married peoples department of the First Baptist Church. Swimming and general "chatter" was enjoyed.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Deke and Susan, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cook and son, Mr. and Mrs. James Summers and children, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Litton Jr. and Eddie, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Quicker and son, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Chiles, and children, Mrs. Richard Galloway and children, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Covington, Mr. and Mrs. Benny Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Riment and baby.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Reagan and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Carter and children, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Cooper, Mrs. Ralph Betts and Ellen, Mr. and Mrs. Lindell and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Thomsen and Mrs. A. J. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Osborne, the Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Officers, Teachers Are Given Fish Fry

A fish fry was held Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. J. F. Harrison for the teachers, officers and their families of the Junior No. 1 department of the First Baptist Sunday School.

The fish were fried in the back yard and served with baked beans, slaw, hot grits, bush peaches, tea and coffee.

Those present were the Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Brooks Jr., the Rev. and Mrs. John L. Miller, Jackie and David, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Britt, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Valentine, Carol and Phyllis, Mr. and Mrs. Don Flamm, Mr. and Mrs. Holly Perry, Mr. and Mrs. P. Harrison, Mrs. Chris Woodruff, Mrs. C. C. McManus and Mrs. Frank Holt.

Car washing becomes a soft job with the help of a new Crumley & Monteith car wash. The large and bath-tub size washes 30 times the weight of soapy water. It won't scratch surfaces, won't shrink, takes to hot or cold water, dries in minutes, and stays so soft as silk. The mitt is also handy from the any lady—the one who's faced with scrubbing, dusting, and polishing.

137 Pros, Amateurs Teeing Off Today In 30th Annual PGA

CHATTANOOGA — A field of 137 professionals and amateurs, representing most of the South's finest golfing talent, tee off today in the 30th annual Southeastern Open and PGA golf tournament here.

Among the first to tee off was Pat Abbott of Memphis, defending Southeastern professional champion.

Joining him in the pro ranks were such standouts as Charley Harper of Columbus, Ga., 1946 Southern champion; Skip Alexander of St. Petersburg, Fla., former member of the Ryder Cup team, and Dick Cline of West Point, Ga., last year's Georgia Open champion.

Heading the list of amateurs entered in the 72-hole medal play tournament were Hillman Hobbs Jr., Memphis State golfer who went to the semifinals of the National Amateur tournament last week, and Lew Gehring of Chattanooga, five-time Tennessee State Amateur champion.

The final 18-hole round over the 6,800-yard Rivermont course will be played Sunday. The tournament offers $2,500 in cash prizes for the professionals and $500 for the amateurs.

Leo Beckman of Savannah, Ga., PGA president, yesterday announced a special division for senior golfers over 50 years of age, the winner to be determined by total score on the final 36 holes of regular play.

A pro-amateur was held yesterday, with professionals Darwin White of Anniston, Ala., and Broyles Plemmons of Valdosta, Ga., winning first place with a best ball score of 64.

Plemmons fired a five-under-par for the low card of the day.

Willie Is Expected To Play Tomorrow

NEW YORK — Willie Mays, the New York Giants' flashy center fielder, had only a stiff back and a bruised hip today to show for his run-in with the bleacher wall at the Polo Grounds yesterday while attempting another of his sensational catches.

The 24-year-old star crashed the wall in full flight trying to stab a 450-foot triple by Pittsburgh's Dale Long.

Senators Deserve Fair Cut

WASHINGTON — When the New York Yankees get around to clinching the American League championship, it would seem only fitting and proper that they cut some of the Washington Senators in for some of the World Series cash.

For when you come right down to it, the Senators just about save the Yankees the pennant.

They did it by clobbering the rubber-up Cleveland Indians 13 times during the season while rolling over and playing dead against the Yankees, whom they managed to defeat only six times.

Had they played the same kind of ball against Cleveland that they played against New York, the Indians already would have hoisted the American League championship flag.

No one can offer a reasonable explanation of how the last-place Senators contrived to play a reasonable facsimile of championship baseball against the Indians.

On his last trip here, the Indians' manager, Al Lopez, said he couldn't understand why Washington was deep in the second division. "They play like champs against us," he said.

Against the Yankees, the Senators looked more like chumps. They blew a million scoring chances in dropping a 7-3 decision to the Yankees last night. They were given eight bases on balls and collected seven hits, but managed to score in only one inning.

Five times the Yankee infield pulled off double plays to cut down a budding Washington rally.

Porcupine twins are rarer than those of human beings.

Manager Al Lopez has started his ace — Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia — in each of the last six games and they've crumpled along with the hitters.

An error by rookie shortstop Bill Harrell, injected by Lopez in a try for more hits, opened the way to a five-run eighth inning for the White Sox as Lemon lost his 10th. He's won 18.

New York packaged the Nats in three innings, tagging Chuck Stobbs for six hits — four of them for extra bases — and a 4-0 lead. Billy Martin iced it with an inside-the-park homer with two on off rookie Ted Abernathy in the fifth. Bob Turley won his 17th, but walked eight and Rip Coleman and Bob Grim mopped up after Washington scored three in the seventh.

In the other AL games, Baltimore left the cellar behind by beating Boston 8-7 in 13 innings, and Detroit clubbed Kansas City 10-1 as Ray Boone and Harvey Kuenn homered in an eight-run first.

The New York Giants, world champs a year ago, clinched third in the National League standings by peppering Pittsburgh for the second straight day in a doubleheader 7-2 and 7-1. Ray Manzant and Don Liddle allowed only four in the first game.

Gus Bell drove in eight runs, with a grand-slam homer and bases-loaded double, as Cincinnati walloped Milwaukee 13-5. Chicago beat St. Louis 7-5 with Randy Jackson hitting a bases-loaded triple in a four-run 13th inning.

About four out of five prescriptions were compounded in the drug store 15 years ago compared to about 1 in 10 today because of the increase use of miracle drugs, most of which are sold in the manufacturer's containers.

50 home runs and who matched a major league record by hitting seven in six consecutive games Tuesday, was carried off the field. X-rays proved negative and Mays is expected to play tomorrow. The Giants are idle today.

Rocky Maintains Title With Sizzling Attack

'We Won't Quill', Says Manager Al

CHICAGO — The Cleveland Indians have been just about counted out of the American League pennant race after last night's loss to the Chicago White Sox but Al Lopez, the Tribe's manager, refuses to concede.

"We're not going to quit fighting," Lopez told newsmen after the Indians were beaten by the Sox last night 7-2. The loss left the Indians 3 1/2 games behind the Yankees, who won over the Washington Senators, 7-3. The Sox trail the Indians by 3 games.

Cleveland has three games to play, at Detroit Friday, Saturday and Sunday. New York had four to play, a doubleheader Friday, and single games Saturday and Sunday, all with Boston. Even if Cleveland won all three, and New York lost all four, the Indians could just tie for the lead. But Lopez said:

"Anything can happen. The Yankees could lose four in a row, just like that, as we did. As long as we've got a chance, we'll be trying. That's about all I can say. The Yankees have four tough games in Boston."

NEW YORK — Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano's awesome, meat-grinder destruction of gallant, meek Archie Moore in one of boxing's great battles may have been the invincible Brockton Blaster's last fight.

This was the one the indomitable Rock of Brockton wanted to win more than any other since he knocked the crown off Jersey Joe Walcott's brow three years ago in Philadelphia. And he won it in typical fashion with a relentless, bulldozing attack that smashed Archie's crumbling defenses with a knockout in 1:19 of the ninth round.

Now, with the light heavyweight king out of the way, there were no more worlds for boxing's Caesar to conquer and he mulled over retirement.

"There is a lot of pressure from my family for me to retire," said the 21-year-old victor in his dressing room. "My mother wants me to quit. So does my dad, and my wife. It has been a pretty bad ordeal for them. I don't know what I should do."

Then Rocky added: "Personally, at this point, I don't feel I should retire."

Last night Rocky came off the floor like he did in the memorable first fight with Walcott, and ground down the crafty, cocky Moore with a relentless assault.

A smashing left hook to the jaw ended the 28-year-old master craftsman's fierce resistance, leaving him a collapsed heap in his own corner.

Out to become the first light heavyweight champion ever to ascend to the heavyweight throne, Archie gave it all he had in the beginning when he floored Marciano for a four count in the second round with a right to the jaw.

"I blacked out just a second," said Rocky. "But I snapped out of it."

For a while it looked as if the crowd of 61,574, which contributed to a handsome $948,117 gate in the Yankee Stadium, was going to see an astonishing upset.

Rocky blinked his eyes. It was only the second time in his career that he had been floored, and a worried expression appeared on his face. Just as it did when Walcott decked him in their first fight.

Archie went after the champ with another right to the jaw but Rocky's head was clear now and he moved in close. Archie's big moment was gone even though he had Rocky bleeding from the nose and bruised under the left eye before the tenth round was over.

In the third Rocky established his pattern of victory. He started maneuvering the craft Moore to the ropes and ripped him in close with both hands.

There was a slight cut over Rocky's left eye and blood dripped from his nose, but that only served to spur him on. Try as he would from then on, Archie couldn't get away from the rope traps Rocky set for him with his bulling drive.

The pressure was hot on Archie in the fourth and fifth rounds and in the sixth his aging legs betrayed him. Rocky's old "Sury Q" overhand right shook him all over, buckling his knees. Another long right dropped him for a count of four. Rocky swarmed all over his stricken foe, smashing him down for eight.

For one minute of the seventh, Archie seemed to have dipped into his fountain of youth. He smashed over two rights to the jaw that momentarily stopped Rocky's furious drive and brought tears from the fans. But midway in the round, time and Rocky caught up with Archie again. By the end of the round, Archie's right eye was almost shut.

The 19 years of fighting caught up with the poised craftsman in the eighth. Rocky bulldozed Archie to the ropes and whaled away to head and body. A right to the jaw dropped the dead-tired Moore on the seat of his pants. The bell saved him as Referee Harry Keasler tolled seven.

Rocky was ready for the kill in the ninth and everyone in the park, including Moore, knew it had to happen. Rocky forced his game foe to the ropes and let loose with everything he had. Moore, his back to the ropes in his own corner, somehow found strength to fire two hard shots to Rocky's jaw. Then it happened. A short, perfectly timed left hook thudded against Archie's jaw and he crumpled in his corner, a soggy left mitten over one rope.

It was all over. Archie went the way he wanted to if he had to go — counted out. He said:

"When the doctor (Dr. Vincent Nardiello) asked me if I wanted to quit (after the eighth round) I said no champion should lose except in the center of the ring. I'm happy it ended the way it did. I wouldn't want to lose sitting in a corner."

The defeat ended Moore's winning streak of 21 and was the fifth time he had been kayoed in a career of 145 fights. It was Marciano's 69th victory in a perfect record that includes 43 knockouts. Moore still had his 175 pound title and a $211,187 purse — the largest of his career. Rocky, too, earned his fiftiest check. He will receive $182,374.

The theater telecast earned an approximate $1,125,000, of which $350,000 went into the International Boxing Club coffers to be shared with the fighters. Radio added another $35,000.

Marciano, only a quarter pound heavier than Moore at 184 1/2, entered the ring as an almost prohibitive 4-1 favorite.

Miami Heads Rely On Reeves' Passing To Give FSU Shock

MIAMI — Florida State probably will see a lot of new faces when the Seminoles line up against the University of Miami in the Orange Bowl Sept. 30.

Miami football coaches are counting on the passing of Gene Reeves to give the Seminoles a few shocks. The Atlanta sophomore has not yet appeared in a varsity game but has looked good in practice.

Bob Stewart, sophomore from Ocala, is expected to see action at center. He was with the first team yesterday and showed he was ready to handle the job. Mike Hudock and Furman Martin, regulars, nursed bruises.

Coach Andy Gustafson said after yesterday's drill that the team looked like the 1954 club "for the first time." Effective blocking and sharp running featured the workout.

Two workouts are scheduled for today as the coaches work to erase flaws that showed in the Georgia Tech game.

Pioneer Family Does Pretty Well At Choosing Days

GRACEVILLE. — If awards were passed out for expert weather forecasting, one surely would go to the prophetic progeny of an old Florida pioneer cattleman, Andrew Elton Williams.

Fifty-two years ago, the descendants of Andrew Elton Williams sat down to pick a good date to hold their first annual family reunion down from the shelves came dusty calendars and almanacs.

After considerable probing, it was decided the first Thursday in October each year offered the best chance for a "clear-weather" day.

Modern-day meteorologists couldn't have done better. Not a single one of 31 previous family gatherings has been marred by inclement weather.

Nearly 2,000 members of the Williams clan who will gather for the famed reunion near Graceville next month are confident history will repeat itself.

Some areas in East Pakistan have 3,000 people per square mile, one of the most densely populated areas in the world.

First Home Game Here Tonite As Seminoles Tangle With Hastings

Governor, Sheriffs To Combine Forces Combatting Crime

Sheriff Luther Hobby said this morning that "a meeting of all the Sheriffs of Florida with the newly established Florida Sheriffs Bureau" has been called for 2:30 p. m., Oct. 1, in Miami immediately following the Governor's Annual Highway Safety Conference.

Sheriff Hobby said that he received the notice of the meeting from Governor LeRoy Collins.

In the Governor's letter to Sheriff Hobby, he said, "I am confident the Sheriff's Bureau will prove to be one of the most potent weapons against crime ever created in our State."

Governor Collins continued, "But to achieve full success, the Bureau must have the cooperation and confidence of all law enforcement officers, particularly the Sheriffs."

"For this reason," said Governor Collins in his letter, "I am looking forward to joining you in Miami to discuss methods and means whereby we can accomplish, through our united efforts and cooperation, the aim and purpose for which the Bureau was created."

Sheriff Hobby said this morning that he would attend the meeting.

Committee Talks Of Wayside Park As First Project

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce committee meetings were held to two yesterday as "Planning Glorious Ten, Two and Four" continued.

The Beautification Committee, headed by Mrs. M. L. Raborn Sr., discussed the possibilities of beautifying the boat landing area and wayside park as its first project.

Cooperation with the paint-up and clean-up campaign was a center of discussion. Another item of planning surrounded highway beautification with something to be done to the lake front drives, approaches and city parks.

The Road Committee meeting, scheduled at 2 o'clock yesterday was canceled and will be rescheduled for further planning discussions.

The Education Committee met in the afternoon with its chairman R. T. Milroy. First discussion surrounded the possibilities for a Business Education Day sometime in February and the cooperation with the Chamber's Commercial Affairs Committee in setting up a sales training school. Other possibilities for projects included a program of awards and citations for teachers.

Further meetings to get underway Monday will include the Safety and Health Committee with Bob Karnes as chairman and the Agriculture Committee with Frank Wheeler as its chairman.

At the completion of the committee meetings, a budget committee will set up an overall budget commensurate with the plans to be undertaken in the 1933-36 fiscal year.

Public Hearing Set On Express Agency

A public hearing will be held in Sanford Oct. 20 at the Seminole County Court House on the application of Railway Express Agency to lease and discontinue its agency in Lake Monroe.

The hearing has been set for 10 a. m., commencing in an auditorium by Lewis W. Polk, secretary of the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission under whose jurisdiction the hearing will be held.

An announcement invited all interested persons to attend the hearing and to be fully heard.

Spectacular Show Set For Half-Time By Band, Pep Club

The highlight of the football half-time show tonight will be the presentation of the 1933-34 Major League Corps.

After a fanfare played by the Seminole High School Band, the Seminole High School Marching Pep Club and the Band will march onto the field as one group. Upon reaching the center of the field the group will divide into four separate groups. At this point each member of the newly organized major league corps will be presented individually.

The next part of the show is the forming of the letter "S" after which the band will play the School Song. As the band plays another march the two groups will march off the field while still in their "S" formation.

Both groups have spent a great deal of time working on the show, which promises to be a spectacular performance considering it is the first public appearance this year.

The crackdown on careless and negligent driving is beginning to show dividends, according to a report received here this morning from the Florida Highway Patrol.

Arrests in the Seminole County area, covered by Trooper T. Mark Mack and Patrolman Carl Williams, are showing an increase over last year, according to reports received in the Seminole County Sheriff's office.

Traffic deaths on Florida highways in which the Florida Highway Patrol works continued to show a below-1932 trend at the end of August according to the patrol report.

There have been nine per cent more wrecks for the first eight months of the year, or 10,297 against 9,361 — but the number of deaths was still 14 percent below a like period the year earlier.

In areas outside of incorporated towns and cities, the Patrol had counted 220 deaths from traffic causes against 246 for the same time year before.

"On the other hand," however, H. N. Kirkman, Patrol Commander, said, "there have been 18 per cent more injuries in the total number of wrecks."

In their effort to minimize death and destruction on the highways, state troopers and patrolmen arrested 17 per cent more drivers, or a total 33,119 against 28,970 in those eight months.

No Clues Available In Disappearance

PORTLAND, ORE.—Searchers were left virtually without clues today in the disappearance five days ago of two Portland women, one 75 and the other 53.

The women went for a drive Sunday afternoon. Their car was found two days later on a dirt road in remote foothills 20 miles east of town. It was locked and things were in order. But the women, Mrs. Avera Ferguson, 53, and Mrs. William Sharkey, 75, had vanished.

Relatives of Mrs. Ferguson said she was experienced with backwoods roads and the woods.

Relatives discounted any theories of suicide or voluntary disappearance.

John Fitzpatrick Selected To Group

John M. Fitzpatrick, 2103 Amelia Ave., a Sanford certified public accountant, has been elected a member of the American Institute of Accountants, national professional society of CPAs, according to news received from the organization's Department of Public Relations.

Fitzpatrick conducts an independent public accounting practice here in the Sanford Atlantic National Bank Building.

'Buttermilk' Is Churned By Janet

MIAMI, Fla. — Hurricane Janet, so powerful that her winds made ocean waters look like "boiling buttermilk," whirled westward in the Caribbean Sea today.

Big-eyed and capricious, Janet was howling along in a northwest-southwest direction at about 15 m.p.h. at 5 a. m., spotted her about 225 miles south-southwest of San Juan, P.R.

She had changed her course somewhat, and all warnings were heeded down in the Windward Islands. Several of the smaller islands in the Windward group had been in the storm's path last night and north and southwest of the Wind-

Slight Damage Caused

Only 69/100 of an inch of rain fell in Sanford yesterday during the rain and thunder storm which began shortly after 8 o'clock, according to local weatherman E. J. Moughton Jr.

Power was affected in some areas as late as 9:15 last night while Florida Power and Light Company crews put a transmission line conductor on Grapeville Avenue, back into operation, as well as repair breaks in the local lines.

The Sanford Fire Department was called out to answer two calls during the storm. One at the beginning, shortly after 8 o'clock to a grass fire on Willow Ave. A call at 8:45 was in answer to an alarm given on a power line break on 5th St. between Sanford and Cypress Aves.

Heavy rains washed new soil from around the entrance of Pinecrest School during the heavy downpour yesterday afternoon. However, repairs to the area were being completed this morning by local crews.

H. H. Coleman, of the Florida Power and Light Company, said this morning that all crews were out until 2 o'clock this morning, putting torn wires into service again. Coleman said that "a lot of spotty damage was done when gusts of wind in the frak storm actually blew, in one place, conductors into a guy wire." Florida Power and Light Company crews worked continuously until all repairs were completed, said Mr. Coleman.

Argentina Prepares Gala Welcoming For New Top Man

BUNOS AIRES (U.S.—Argentina's capital prepared a gala welcome today for Maj. Gen. Eduardo Lonardi, conqueror of Juan Peron and top man in the new government.

Lonardi arrives here by plane from his revolutionary headquarters of Cordoba for his installation as provisional president.

The revolution leader's entry into Buenos Aires was preceded by an order from the provisional government for the arrest of all Peron supporters in the national Congress. Earlier, the new regime had dissolved the Congress, to which Peronist party members held all 34 Senate seats and all but 12 places in the 133-member lower house.

Violence flared here and in Rosario, Argentina's second largest city, as students and other foes of the ousted dictator moved to eradicate evidences of Peron's power.

Search For Infant Hits Atlantic City

SAN FRANCISCO (U.S.—The growing search for kidnapped Robert Marcus, centered again today in San Jose, Calif., after spreading briefly last night across the nation to Atlantic City, N. J.

Hopes rose briefly that a week-old boy found abandoned in a church in Atlantic City might be the son of Dr. and Mrs. Sanford Marcus. Dr. was snatched from the nursery at Mt. Zion Hospital here Monday when only 2 days old.

Dr. Marcus and his 29-year-old wife Hanna studied an Associated Press wirephoto of the Atlantic City baby and said:

"He is not our son."

There were many points of similarity between the infants.

Sailor Terrorizes Driver, Passengers

PITTSBURGH (U.S.—A knife-wielding sailor terrorized a bus driver and his 28 other passengers yesterday on a 20-mile ride along the Pennsylvania Turnpike before the driver grabbed a fire ax and subdued him.

The sailor, Robert L. Jones, 23, of Washington, D. C., was held without charge today by police pending action by naval authorities.

The driver, W. E. Small, 50, and four of his passengers required treatment for shock.

Evans Makes Arrest As Detroit Visitor Passes School Bus

Another arrest for "passing a school bus" was made by the Seminole County Sheriff's Office.

Anthony J. Mahmeister, a retired Detroit visitor, was charged with "passing a school bus" this morning about 8:45, four miles south of Sanford.

Deputy Sheriff A. E. Evans, following the bus as a part of the child safety program of the Sheriff's Office, made the charges.

Florida Highway Patrolman Carl Williams charged Harold Bernard Whitehurst, 35-year-old negro teacher of Bethune-Cookman College at Daytona Beach, with "excessive speed" seven miles south of Sanford, shortly after 9 o'clock last night. According to the report, Whitehurst was traveling at approximately 75 miles per hour when stopped.

1925 Classmates Planning To Attend 30th Uoff Reunion

Two members of the class of 1925 of the University of Florida from Seminole County will attend the 30th anniversary reunion beginning tonight at Gainesville.

A block of 25 rooms has been reserved at the Thomas Hotel where a dinner will be held tonight followed by a tour of the campus tomorrow morning as guests of the University and a box lunch on the field at 1 o'clock tomorrow preceding the game between the University of Florida and Georgia Tech.

All old graduates are expected to be seated together at the game.

There were 168 graduates in 1925, with 11 of them known dead, and about 10 whose addresses are unknown.

Plans are being made for a large percentage of the class to attend the reunion.

The Reverend Milton H. Wyatt, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Sanford, and W. J. Wells Jr., principal of the Lake Monroe School, are attending the reunion festivities and football game. They are both members of the class of '25.

Bundestag Okays Relation With Reds

BONN, Germany (U.S.—The West German Bundestag unanimously approved the establishment of diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union today.

The vote was made by a show of hands.

The ratification of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Moscow agreement with Soviet Premier Bulganin ended a two-day debate during which the 78-year-old government chief said the new trend in German Russian relations "offers the prospect of future easing of international tensions and national unity in freedom to Germany."

Erich Ollenhauer, leader of the Socialist opposition similarly told the lower house of Parliament normalization of relations between West Germany and Russia "can banish for a long time the danger of a hot war."

Previously Denied Exit Permits Told For Two Americans

HONG KONG (U.S.—U.S. consular officials said today they have received word that two American women previously denied exit permits by Red China will leave Shanghai Monday or Tuesday for Hong Kong.

The two were identified as Eva Stella Dugay, 38, also known as Sister Theresa, a Carmelite nun born in New York City, and Mrs. Peter Hulzeas of Wilcox, Ind., wife of a Dutch businessman. They will travel to Hong Kong aboard the British ship Spret.

The women were among 12 American civilians the Chinese Reds said Sept. 8 were free to leave whenever they asked for exit permits. No formal charges had been made against them.

17-92 Appraisal Approval Holds Up R-O-W Progress

Hospital Auxiliary Membership Goes Up

The active membership of the Seminole Memorial Hospital Women's Auxiliary has been raised from 100 to 150 members it was stated at the meeting of the group held in the City Hall last night.

All those who were on the waiting list will be transferred to the active list and anyone who is interested in becoming an active member is asked to contact Mrs. George Harden, membership chairman.

Mrs. Harden and Mrs. Charles Cole were elected directors from the board members; Mrs. A. H. Peterson Sr., Mrs. John Higgins and Mrs. J. N. Azzarello, directors from the membership; and Mrs. Phil Kessler, Mrs. Isabella Blumley and Mrs. William Bush were elected directors at large.

The nominating committee was composed of Mrs. R. F. Cooper, Mrs. Roy Holler and Mrs. Ed Stinholzer.

Various services which will be explained by the chairman and U. M. Weir, hospital administrator, assisted by Mrs. Mary Deigna, director of nurses for the new hospital.

The services include: reception and hostesses, Mrs. R. N. Black-welder, chairman; sewing and central supply, Mrs. C. Robert Reely, chairman; hospitality, Mrs. John Morgan, chairman; library, Mrs. H. C. Baker; and fund-raising, Mrs. E. K. Kumlitz Brumley.

Members present at last night's meeting agreed up for the days and hours they would be available and the services they would provide. From that list payments will be made. However, it was explained, that a person was obligated to remain in the service which she had chosen for six months.

They talked briefly to the group outlining the functions of the Women's Auxiliary. Purpose of the auxiliary, she said, is to "promote and advance the welfare of the hospital through service rendered to the hospital and its patients."

He outlined the three main items which she had chosen for six months.

Laryngitis Strikes Judy Before Show; No Germs Involved

HOLLYWOOD (U.S.—Judy Garland, who makes her television debut tomorrow night in a $500,000 show, is nursing laryngitis today.

Garland may be a little worried, but Judy isn't. In a voice that sounded as if she might be Andy Devine's sister, Judy explained:

"I always get laryngitis as opening night nears. Just nerves. That's all it is. No germs involved. I'll go away as soon as I get in front of the audience. I hope. If not, I'll just sing over it."

Judy's debut will be an impressive one. She kicks off the network's Ford Star Jubilee, a one-month blockbuster that will number Bing Crosby among its stars in future productions.

The 30-minute show will be seen on CBS-TV 9:30-11 p. m., EDT.

Triple Trio Plans First Appearance At Rotary Meeting

An event that is anticipated by both the members of the Sanford Rotary Club and the Triple Trio of the Seminole High School Girls' Glee Club is the traditional first appearance of the nine talented vocalists before the group of local business and professional men.

For many years, the young ladies destined to be known as the Triple Trio for the coming year, are selected at the close of the preceding year. Intensive practice begins the moment school starts and for the past several years, the first public appearance of the Trio has been at a weekly meeting of the Sanford Rotary Club, which happens to be the meeting this coming Monday at 12:15 p. m. at the Yacht Club.

For 1933-34, the Trio is made up of the Misses Kay Jenkins, Bobbie Crutchfield, Pat Harrington, first soprano; Lois Harwood, Sylvia Price, Carol Nutt, second soprano and Wynne Colton, Nancy White and Irla Casagrande, first tenors; and Mrs. Margaret Cash, who will act as accompanist with the group under the direction of Miss Ollie Rose White, who for ten years, has been in charge of the entire girls club ensembles of the local high school.

They talked briefly to the group outlining the functions of the Women's Auxiliary. Purpose of the auxiliary, she said, is to "promote and advance the welfare of the hospital through service rendered to the hospital and its patients."

He outlined the three main items which she had chosen for six months.

Children 'Bumped' When Mother's Car Is Hit During Rain

A two-car crash at the intersection of Sanford Ave. and 11th St. yesterday caused property damage estimated at more than $600.

At approximately 5:14 yesterday afternoon, during the torrential downpour, a 1931 Buick 4-door sedan crashed into a 1941 Chevrolet sedan.

Willie Ashley Austin Jr., a 30-year-old negro teacher, driving a car owned by Horace L. Chain of 1802 S. Southwest Road, apparently failed to yield the right-of-way when it smashed into a car driven by Mrs. Elizabeth King Blocker, 29-year-old housewife of R. I. Sanford.

The 9-year-old Berant and eight-year-old Sharon Blocker received bumps on the head from the impact.

Patrolman C. C. Dodson, following investigation of the accident, charged Ashley with "careless and negligent driving."

Two Teams Contact Owners Board To Hear Reports For OK

Progress on stouping right-of-way for the 17-92 four-lane project is in the hands of the appraisers headed by C. F. Dink, north St., of Orlando.

The two teams of appraisers are contacting property owners and surveying parcels of land, buildings and improvements, reports of which will be brought before the entire Board of Appraisers for approval.

Right-of-way agent John E. Fox said this morning that Appraisers A. H. Peterson Jr. and Wally Dietrich brought in reports on 28 parcels of land in one section of the proposed highway project.

Fox said today that reports of the appraisers will come before the full board of appraisers, headed by Dicksforth, with the first meeting set for Monday night.

On approval of the appraisals, the entire board, a report will be made by Dicksforth to the Board of Seminole County Commissioners. On the approval of the commissioners, the report is then sent to the State Road Board in Tallahassee for their approval. Until an approval from the State level is secured, said Fox, the appraisals are not official.

"I am not sure," said Fox, that the County Commissioners and the State Road Department will approve the appraisals in sections.

"Until the official sanction of the State Road Department is made on the reported appraisals, the property owners should not be contacted relative to securing their property for the 17-92 right-of-way," said Fox.

"The appraisers, Peterson, Dietrich, H. S. 'Low' Arnold, and Raymond Ball, along with Dicksforth, are working hard," said Fox, "to get the appraisals completed as quickly as possible."

Volcanic Activity Reported In Ocean West Of Honolulu

PEARL HARBOR (U.S.—Volcanic activity in a supposedly deep ocean area west of Honolulu was reported yesterday by crewmen of land planes, one of whom said a land mass was visible.

However, a third plane, sent by the Navy to search the area, said it saw only orange streaks in the water but no land.

The first report came from Lt. Legrande Heaton of Gonzalez Garden, Columbia, S. C., pilot of a Navy plane flying to Wake Island.

He said he saw a land mass a half mile long 375 miles west of Honolulu and 190 miles south of Necker Island, in the Hawaii group.

The second report came from an Air Force C-125 Globemaster, which said volcanic activity was sighted 300 miles west of Honolulu.
