SIXTY SIXTH CONGRESS CONVENED TODAY AT NOON PRESIDENT ELECT PRESENT

Much Speculation on President Wilson's Message

ON WORLD QUESTIONS

OPENING SESSION TODAY IN NA- TURE OF REGULAR ROUTINE

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The sixty-sixth congress convened at noon today for its third and final session with outstanding events the attendance at the senate session of President-elect Harding and the presentation Tuesday of President Wilson's annual message.

Senator Harding was due to arrive in Washington shortly before midnight last night, from Bedford, Va., where he made an address yesterday, and went on his official visit at the capitol about 9 o'clock this morning and at noon went to the senate chamber to answer the senate roll call, probably for the last time.

Whether Senator Harding would make a brief address in response to the demonstration of welcome expected from his colleagues and spectators still was in doubt last night and was dependent, Republican leaders said, on the turn of developments today.

Another uncertain feature of the reconvening of congress was whether President Wilson would deliver his message in person or send it to congress Tuesday. Opinion generally was that the latter course would be followed. There practically was no information regarding the contents of the message, but the belief was prevalent that it would deal with America's international relations and pressing problems, including taxation.

The final session of the present congress opens with only three months of allotted official life, ending just before the inauguration of President-elect Harding on March 4, and with an extra session soon afterwards in prospect. Appropriation bills will constitute the principal task at this session. Secretary Houston of the treasury, will transmit to congress today the annual budget of estimates for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, said to aggregate between four and five billions of dollars. These estimates will form the basis for the appropriation bills.

The program called only for roll calls in the senate and house, appointment of committees to notify each other and President Wilson of their convening, and adjournment until Tuesday. The president will receive the notification committees in person and advise them regarding the delivery of his message Tuesday.

Actual work of both branches of congress is to begin Tuesday. The usual opening avalanche of bills is expected today in the house and Tuesday in the senate. Consideration of minor miscellaneous measures on the unfinished business calendar probably will be started Tuesday in the house and Wednesday in the senate will begin debate on the Kenyon-Kendrick bill for federal regulation of the meat industry.

A tentative program of legislation in addition to the appropriation bills, is expected to be determined this week by Republican leaders in conferences among themselves and with President-elect Harding, who will remain here over Tuesday for a brief but busy period of councils, legislative as well as political.

Republican leaders predict that congress will be forced to work steadily to complete the appropriation bills by March 4. In addition to these bills other legislation likely to be taken up includes measures to repeal war legislation, for relief of farmers and probably a few other emergency bills. Committees, however, were prepared to work generally on matters to be considered at the extra session.

A full attendance of both senate and house today is in prospect. Vice-President Marshall, Speaker Gillett and all floor leaders, together with most of the members of both branches had arrived in Washington last night.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—President-elect Harding, in addressing the senate of the final session of the sixty-sixth congress convening at noon for the rest of the day of co-operation and friendly relations between the White House and congress, said: "We are facing no easy task. We have our full part in readjustment of human affairs after the world tumult. We have our tasks at home, we have our part in the inevitable work of the civilized world. I am sure the necessity of wise solutions will inspire us to work together." He was given a hearty welcome by the members. Congress adjourned until time to receive the message from President Wilson.

DESPERADO KILLS OFFICERS FINALLY LANDED

(By The Associated Press.)
SANTA ROSA, Calif., Dec. 6.—George Boyd, accused of shooting fatally three officers attempting to arrest him in connection with recent attacks on girls in San Francisco, is in jail dangerously wounded from officers' fire. A mob of citizens stormed the jail to obtain the prisoner but officers broke up attacks with their fists. Two other men and women also were arrested.

CONSUMERS TO STRIKE SAYS BOARD

FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD FINDS CAUSE FOR BUSI- NESS DEPRESSIONS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—No hope of early relief from business depression is held out in the monthly statement of the Federal Reserve Board, made public Saturday night. Depression exists in most communities, the statement said, and one of the basic causes so far as the board could determine, was a "consumers' strike,"—a determination to wait for prices to come down.

A corresponding decline in buying power also was noted.

"It is impossible," the board continued, "to estimate the extent to which the completion of the readjustment process may involve further slackening of employment and the increase of commercial embarrassment. The favorable elements in the immediate situation are the improvement of transportation and easing of credit conditions.

The board said there was a tendency by some retail merchants to attempt to realize on stocks at the particular day's prices, but that reports from the various reserve districts indicated that there was also a counter sentiment among merchants to make their profit regardless of the current wholesale prices.

"Cold weather in most sections, has stimulated the buying of clothing," the board said.

In general the usual seasonal demand is still lacking. There is generally reported a decided determination on the part of the buying of the public to await until prices come down and this is characterized by some as a consumer's strike.

"Stores generally are reducing stocks and making no attempt to replenish them. Outstanding orders are declining and retailers are ordering only what is needed to meet day-to-day requirements.

"While prices are slowly declining, it is still felt that present declines have not paralleled declines in wholesale prices. 'Shoppers' are confining buying to necessities and staples with the result that the volume of trade has fallen off."

AUTO CAMP FOLKS ARE MERRY CREW

WILLIS POWELL SAYS LET THEM COME TEN THOUSAND STRONG

TAVARES, Fla., Dec. 6.—Having put the fodder in the shock and frosted the pumpkin, the farmer from up North is headed down South in his John Henry. The "league of notions" or the "Chauteu Theory" isn't causing him a single worry. He is more concerned about the price of gasoline and whether his tires will hold out, or what's the condition of the roads.

I see him every day—some 200 of him—and I wonder when's the end. For weeks they have been rambling through our burg without even saying "thank you" for the 225 miles of good roads our county allows him to use. Friend Wife sits up along side of him. She holds the guide book in her lap and is official dictator as to the turns. In the rear seat are little Willie and Mary and Susie and maybe a hound pup. The running boards are barricaded with dunnage until I know they get in the car with a shoe horn, and get out with vaseline. The bumper generally carries a stove or an ice box, and on the rear is strapped anything from a steamer trunk to an oats bin. Even the top is utilized for spare tires and casings. The wonder too is that much abused little car can stand up under the load.

I have watched them and marveled at them. They are picturesque, original, fantastic in their devices. Here goes one with five riding in the car, and on either side are four children seated on improvised seats built on the running boards and practically harricaded against sideswipes. Happy! Why, it is a picnic for the kids.

Here goes one that is airing its blankets, and such intimate pieces as ma washed early before the day's trip had begun. The garments are flaunting to the breeze. The old man is at the tiller trying to tack down the roads. A stiff breeze would upset them.

Here goes an old battleship that hasn't been in the drydock for years for paint. The fenders are rusted through and flap painfully as it takes up the road jolts. It is minus hubcaps; a newspaper stopper in lieu of a radiator cap; the top has a piece of oil cloth drawn over it to keep out the rain and sun; the windshield is broken, and yet it rambles right along.

Ah! Here comes a prince of the road. A high powered car with a colored man at the wheel and a red light at the rear, and lit up with green paint and white wire wheels until it looks like a Chinese joss house during the New Year's festivities. It carries a steamer trunk and a thermos bottle and two august personages. They look neither to the right nor to the left. They are just existing—they hain't livin'. All the scenery they have enjoyed was on picture post-cards they are sending back home.

Bing! A flat tire. Pa and ma and all the kids pile out and survey the damage. Pa kicks the casing, and looks over his stock on the shelves. They belong to the discard, but Pa is carrying them along believing some day he can make a whole one out of the three or four by nesting them.

The family comes into the office and all drink copiously of the ice water.

"Where are you from?" I ask.
"Meechegan," the reply in chorus.
"Where are you bound for?" I again remark.

"No place in particular."
"Why didn't you stay at home until after election, so father could vote?"
"Vote," said the woman sneeringly.
"Votes don't pay for coal at $24 a ton."

And there you are.
That's the story.
The old silver is a coal-saver—it is a fuel-saver—it is a clothing saver—and, by dint—a life-saver.

Come on, ye hosts from Meechegan; come on, ten thousand strong. You may not be adding to the beauty of the scenery with your antiquated tents and laundry on the line, flanked with the Hank'ford in all stages of disrepute, but, by the gods and little fishes, you are welcome!—W. B. Powell.

PRESIDENT MAY DELIVER MESSAGE IN PERSON

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—President Wilson did not tell the congressional committee calling at the White House today to inform the president on congress being in session whether he would deliver his message personally tomorrow. The committee was headed by Senator Lodge. The president did not shake hands, receiving the committee standing in the Blue room. Former Speaker Clark said President Wilson walked briskly but with a cane.

BURGLARS VISITED M. E. PARSONAGE

HEARD NEW HOME HAD BEEN OPENED AND WANTED TO SEE IT

Burglars, or a burglar, reading the notice in Saturday's Herald about the new Methodist parsonage being opened, probably thought there had been a shower of silverware and other presents and he proceeded to break into the parsonage Saturday night with the idea of lifting all the new presents. Luckily Dr. Walker did not have his silverware in his home but the burglar made away with three fine watches, one of them highly prized as the gift of an Elks lodge in West Virginia and a stick pin and several other articles of jewelry and all the money he could find. He was the real article and made his entry without waking any of the family. Mrs. Blount, daughter of Dr. Walker, of Ft. Myers, who is visiting the family, had been awake at intervals with her baby and was giving it medicine and awakened about three in the morning to look at her watch and see the time when she discovered the watch missing. Calling to her father and asking for the time Dr. Walker found his watch missing and upon awakening the family the loss of many other articles was noted. The burglar must have taken off one of the screen windows on the lower front floor, broke into the house, searched the entire premises and made his escape all in about one hour's time and no amateur could have accomplished this and escaped.

The police department was immediately notified but no clue has yet been discovered that would lead to the identity of the thief and if any one is caught in the state trying to dispose of several watches, one of them engraved by the Elks' lodge or any articles of jewelry they will be conferring a great favor upon Dr. Walker and family and will also be instrumental in catching a slick second story man, a professional burglar and one who should be apprehended.

War Costs Will Have To Be Figured

FOR YEARS TO COME

ARMY AND NAVY ASK FOR BIG SUM IF LEAGUE FAILS

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Another peace time estimate of nearly $5,000,000,000 for the government's expenses during the fiscal year 1922 faced congress when it reassembled today. The exact figures as transmitted by Secretary Houston were $4,653,856,759, an increase of nearly one billion over the appropriation for the current year but $211,000,000 less than estimates submitted a year ago.

Continuing war costs were directly reflected throughout the estimate, indicating that the government might be on a four billion dollar basis for some years to come, as compared with the one billion maximum preceding the war. The single item of interest on the public debt was almost the pre-war maximum of all appropriations, this total being $922,650,000. In addition there was an estimate of $265,754,864 for the war debt sinking fund.

Of the individual departments, the army and navy, as usual, asked for the greatest amounts, the estimate for the military establishment being $699,275,502; for the naval establishment, $658,522,231. The total estimates as given by Mr. Houston follow:

Legislative (congress) $9,324,040.
Executive (White House and government departments) $125,448,379.
Judicial (supreme court) $1,680,215.

Department of agriculture, $41,989,379.

Foreign intercourse, $11,983,848.

Indian affairs, $11,989,703.

Pensions, $265,190,000.

Panama Canal, $16,187,255.

Public works, $250,928,194.

Postal service, $685,406,902.

Miscellaneous, $75,154,741.

Permanent annual appropriations, $1,300,776,391.

These estimates prepared by the Democratic administration for the operation of the government during the first fiscal year of the new Republican administration. Republican leaders in the senate and house already have forecast a sharp cut in the total and within the week the house committees will begin the work of shaping the bills which will carry the sums for the various departments.

The estimate for the postal service will not actually figure in governmental expenditures, since the postal revenues practically cover the cost of operations.

Included in the estimate for the army and navy is a total of $95,000,000 for development and maintenance of the air service in the two defensive branches of the government. The navy asks for $35,000,000 and the army seeks $60,000,000.

Chief among the estimates for the navy is one of $184,000,000 to continue the 1916 three-year building program. Pay for the navy personnel exceeds it by $923,910.

The army's greatest single item is $215,659,830 for the pay and mileage of officers and men. Subsistence costs for the force is estimated at $64,400,895. An appropriation of $74,808,000 is postponed for the national guard.

Expenditures on public works suggested under the war department total $185,184,428, of which $68,097,865 goes to river and harbor improvement. For improvement and maintenance of military posts, fortifications and other works of defense the army lists $117,153,814.

Seal Your Mail With the Stamps of Health.

Mrs. W. L. Morgan, chairman of the Woman's Club of Sanford, has accepted the chairmanship of the Christmas seals campaign, which has been handled annually by the local club ever since its inception eight years ago. The sale will be started at once by Mrs. Morgan and her committee and will continue until Christmas.

Under the auspices of the National Tuberculosis Association the sale of the Red Cross seals has been for many years an annual custom. There has never been a time when united efforts in the health field was more needed in the country and the world than now, and of all the aspects of the health problem, that of tuberculosis takes first place. The work already accomplished by the National Tuberculosis Association is so notable that it is recognized everywhere, but there still remains much to be done and success can only be obtained if there is a generous response in the seal campaign. Every seal sold is a step on the road to success, in not only stamping out tuberculosis, the dreaded white plague, but in all communities, healthier, safer places to live. The funds derived from the sale of seals in Florida will be used exclusively for the work in the state. Sanford people have always responded generously to every call for the cause of humanity and the health crusade has been one of the strongest appeals. The seals are only one cent and each seal sold is a nail driven for knocking out the world menace of tuberculosis.

WOULD REDUCE SOUTH'S REPRESENTATION IN 66TH CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The opening gun in the long imminent battle to reduce representation of the Southern states in the house of representatives was fired last night by Representative Tinkham, Republican, of Massachusetts, who announced he had prepared a resolution for introduction today, directing the house census committee to make an inquiry into the extent of disfranchisement of negroes in the South and to recommend cutting down the representation of those state accordingly.

Mr. Tinkham's statement declared that eleven Southern states—Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Georgia and Virginia—cast only about 5 per cent of the total vote for president in the last election although holding 25 per cent of the membership of the house.

Commenting on probable reapportionment of representatives in congress as a result of the 1920 census, Mr. Tinkham said that if the present basis of representation were used, sixty-five members would be added in the house. This increase, he added, could be avoided almost entirely by adhering to the same unit of representation—one member for 211,877 inhabitants and by enforcing the fourteenth amendment which directs congress to reduce representation of state where the right to vote is denied qualified citizens.

Mr. Tinkham said that if a reap-

Memorial Services Held Yesterday

SANFORD LODGE NO. 1241 B. P. O. E. HELD ANNUAL MEMORIAL.

The annual memorial services of Sanford Lodge No. 1241, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks was held in the Methodist church yesterday and attended by a large crowd, the fact that the services were held in a church instead of the theatre attracting many who would not have walked down town. The services this year were unusually good, the musical numbers of Dr. McCaslin on the piano and the ladies quartette composed of Miss Mabel Bowler and Mrs. Roumillat, Daiger and Housholder and the vocal numbers of Mrs. A. W. Lee and Miss Mabel Bowler all being especially appreciated by the people present.

The male quartette composed of Messrs. Parker, Bates, Stone and Don Whitcomb were very good.

The address this year was delivered by Hon. W. W. Phillips, of Lake City, and one of the members of the Florida legislature and it was one of the best that has ever been delivered here at any memorial services. Mr. Phillips took his theme on fraternalism and the Elks as builders of the community and the spirit of this lodge in helping one another in every worthy enterprise and gave the audience something to think about regarding Elksdom in particular and fraternities in general.

There is nothing in Elksdom more impressive or more noble than that part of the ritual which gives homage and honor to the departed brother. This ceremony at the mystic hour of eleven wherever Elks may be gathered, and more elaborately once each year on the first Sunday in December; and again when the burial service is pronounced at the grave of a departed brother—this ceremony in form and spirit typifies the highest degree of Elksdom. It shows the world and each other that we, as an order, are not unmindful of our greatest blessing—the fellowship, the companionship and the love of our brother.

More than that, it brings before us so vividly that we measure a man by the imprint he has left upon us rather than by his mere physical presence. Some departed ones have left so vivid an imprint upon our characters and our lives that they are with us even now to a greater degree than some who are living. And so it shall always be. The memory of our brothers shall stay with us always.

After all, one consolation is left to Elks in the fact that while body returns to earth from whence it came, the spirit goes back to Him who gave it, the remembrance of these absent brothers is ours and remains with us and cannot be taken away.

The eulogies were delivered by Hon. W. F. Shelley and Hon. Forest Lake and they were given in a manner that came straight from the heart of each of them. The only members of Sanford lodge deceased during the year were W. H. Peters and Joe DeMont, both of them greatly beloved by their brother Elks and both of them having been staunch members of Sanford Lodge during their life time.

The exercises were impressive and very beautiful as the memorial exercises of the Elks are the world over and the Methodist church had been beautifully decorated for the occasion and lent itself admirably for the purpose.

COST DEPENDS ON THE DAY

Weddings on Monday in Holland Bring 40 Cents—Saturday Bargain Day.

The Hague.—The cost of getting married in The Hague all depends on the day of the week.

For some reason that has never been explained Monday is society day and marriages on that day at the city hall, where every couple must go for the official ceremony, cost 60 guilders (nominally equivalent to 40 cents each). On Saturday the charge is 5 guilders, or nothing at all, depending upon whether the couple wish a separate ceremony all for themselves or be married in groups of twenty couples at a time.

HAROLD BACHMAN AND HIS MILLION DOLLAR BAND, SANFORD, WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON AND NIGHT

WON BY APPEAL TO VANITY

How Wily Diplomat Saved Lord Beaconsfield From Bad "Break" He Had Contemplated.

Curiosity, says a London correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor, is frequently expressed as to how the prime minister gets along in his conferences with foreign ministers. It is understood that, though he can make out the purport of a printed passage in the French language, he never had the opportunity of acquiring facility in the spoken tongue. In this respect he finds a precedent in the case of Lord Beaconsfield. When he went to the Berlin congress in 1878 he made known to his faithful secretary his intention of addressing the conference in French. Monty Cory, having suffered scraps of his chief's colloquial French, was aghast. In despair he applied to the British minister at Berlin for assistance. "Odo Russell lived up to the occasion." In casual conversation with Lord Beaconsfield he mentioned that he had heard a rumor that he intended to address the plenipotentiaries on the following day in French. "That would," the wily minister said, "be a grave disappointment. They know that they have here in you the greatest living master of English oratory, and are looking forward to your speech as the intellectual treat of their lives." "Dizzy" immediately saw the reasonableness of this objection and all his speeches during the sittings of the congress were in English.

COULDN'T LEAVE EMILY OUT

Peculiar Reason Why Elderly Spinster Just Had to Attend the Funeral.

Word had come to the mid-Victorian lady that an old friend of her mother's had died suddenly in her home in Maine. It was her duty to break the sad news to two elderly spinsters, cousins of the dear departed "auntie." She found Miss Susan at home, tending to her pet canary. Miss Susan is 78, but spry and alert, ready for any emergency. Miss Emily, five years older, was out motoring with a kindly benefactress. The slow tears of old age trickled down Miss Susan's cheeks at the word that another of her generation had passed away. And then, with a quick transition, she began excited plans for attending the funeral, which involved a trip by boat to Portland and a long and arduous ride in a lay coach. But the thought of all this, coupled with midsummer heat, did not daunt the little lady. She would go. "But, at least, Miss Susan," urged the messenger, "you'll not take Miss Emily with you." "And, my dear," said the lady to the woman, when she told her story over a cold lunch, "what do you suppose Miss Susan said? Seriously, in her slow drawl, she replied: 'Oh, I couldn't leave Emily behind. You see she has so little fun in her life.'"

Scraping the Ballot.

The woman who had charge of the voting machine placed in one of the downtown stores for use in the instruction of women first voters, met a number of unusual and amusing situations. A few days ago, a well-dressed woman who had all the appearances of being well informed on matters political, entered the section where instructions were being given, and after making the usual preliminary apologies, asked the young woman in charge to demonstrate the operation of the machine. She was shown what she should do in case she wished to vote a straight ticket, but this failed to satisfy her craving for instruction, and the climax was reached when she innocently requested: "And how would you mind showing me how I should work the machine if I wish to 'scrape' my ballot?"

THE MILLION DOLLAR BAND

Practically unheard of three years ago, Mr. Bachman, through his splendid work in the army and because of the fine impression made by his band on its eight month tour of the central states last season, has become recognized as one of the leading band masters and his band as one of the really fine bands of the United States. This is testified to by the splendid list of engagements which the Million Dollar Band will play during the 1920 season. This includes the North Dakota State Fair—The Minnesota State Fair—Wisconsin State Fair, Lake Harriet Roof Garden in Minneapolis, Oklahoma State Fair, Mississippi state fair. Ten weeks at West Palm Beach, Florida, Jan. 9th, to March 22, and other large expositions.

Among the well known members of the band who have been connected with it from its beginning, Mr. Bachman announces Robert Bruce, the Indian cornetist and James E. Son, the march writer as special features. Earning Sodahl of Duluth will be featured as a violin soloist and Graydon Lower of Minier, Illinois as baritone soloist and the band will also carry a soprano soloist this year.

A big day for Sanford is assured when the MILLION DOLLAR BAND comes on Wednesday, December 8th, under the auspices of the Woman's Club. It will play at the corner of Magnolia and First street.

Furs All Her Fortune.

"Alaska produces a large variety of beautiful and valuable furs upon land," says Andrew J. Stone in the Century. "It has 13 varieties of bears, six species of fox—black, blue, cross, red, silver and white—and all common land furs. The skins of its foxes are of the highest quality and are larger than those produced in any other country. The Alaska moose is the largest land animal found on the western hemisphere. The meat is as choice as the best of beef and the skin makes excellent footwear and is much worn during the winter months. The caribou, like the reindeer, lives almost exclusively upon mosses, and inhabits nearly all parts of the country except the southern coast country. They are found in large herds and supply man with millions of pounds of meat."

REGULAR EVERY-DAY AFFAIR

Most Mothers With Small Sons Will Recognize This as Strictly Accordin' to Schedule.

Aw, mother, not yet! Just lemme stay a little longer—just five minutes. Just one minute! Aw, gee! Get ready? Why, ain't I all right to go this way? Why not? Aw, gosh, not my shirt! Yes, I see those edges on the cuffs, but I can keep my coat sleeves down over them. Gee whiz, you're pertickler. Why do you have to see my shoes? I did black them, just yesterday.

Yes, I'm all done washing; no, didn't hurry too much. Lemme alone—my neck's all right! Well, I'm sure I don't know why those dark places are on my hands; why, I just washed them. Ouch! Don't brush my hair so hard! Well, the place that sticks up is right over the bump, so that's why I couldn't brush it there. No, I haven't done my nails yet; I was just getting ready to when you made me wash my hands again.

I don't need anything. Well, then, just a sweater, not my overcoat. Aw, gee! No, I don't know where my gloves are; I don't need them, anyhow. Gosh, not my rubbers! Aw, mother! The mud isn't very deep, and it takes about a year to put the darn things on. Gee whiz!

Well, g'by! Yes, I am hurrying. Well, I'm gonna start right off, soon as I speak to Bill a minute; he's right up at the corner, and he might be going my way. Aw, why not?

Well, s'long! (Departs with the hug and smile that cancel all his sins, and a great peace settles upon the household.)—Life.

O, for the touch of a millionaire's hand and the sound of the voice that means money, buildings, progress, going forward.

We extend our sympathy to Miss Edie Wederburn, of the Mt. Dora Topics in the recent death of her mother. They were great chums and the loss of mother will be in the daughter's heart for many years to come.

The Sanford Herald wisely says that the best way to look at the reconstruction period through which we are passing is to see the bright side, eliminate luxuries, buy only what is necessary and what can be paid for at the time of purchase. Was this plan strictly adhered to, there would be little financial depression, and much other depression would be avoided.—Sarasota Times.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

O. B. Franklin lost his pocketbook and placed an advertisement in the want columns of The News. The pocketbook was recovered the following day, which proves that it pays to advertise. (Mr. Faulkingham found the book in his "other" pair of trousers.)—DeLand News.

HARRY GANS

The death of Harry Gans, editor of the Lake Highlander, was a sad blow to his many friends all over the state. No one knew that he was ill and the news of his death came as a shock to the newspaper fraternity in this and other states where he was known. He was one of those whole-souled printers and newspaper men of the old school and was doing a great work of publicity in his beloved "highlands of Florida." Harry Gans was one of the boys at every meeting of the various press associations over the state and will be sadly missed in newspaper circles as well as in the business and social life of Lake Wales where he was beloved and respected by everyone.

THE NEW LIFE IN FLORIDA

During the past week, eight or ten automobile parties passed through Charlotte from states North and West bound for Florida to spend the winter. With but two exceptions all were provided with camping outfits. Camp life is the new wrinkle developed in the wake of the automobile, but it is different from the old ideas, because, through the ingenuity of American inventive talent, it is characterized by all the comforts of home. One of the machines passing through the city was owned by a millionaire from Michigan, who was accompanied by his wife and family of three children, and who, explaining the detail of his accouterment in comfort, showed that with a few turns of the hand he could construct alongside his automobile and attached to it, a very comfortably fitted-up sleeping room and kitchen, all under canvas, which, in its compactly-folded form for transportation gave small idea of its possibilities for convenience. This tourist also talked of Florida's enterprise in taking advantage of the new methods of tourist life. He had made arrangements in advance for his "parking" place in a small Florida town. Arriving there all he will have to do will be to drive into the square assigned him, put up his tented home and adjust his affairs for the winter season. Not only is the ground given him free, but he has free use of water and electric light. There are no charges for garage accommodations. All he has to do is to pay for what gasoline he may use and make himself at home. It is developed that all through Florida these camping grounds for tourists have been established. Every town has its plot of ground set aside for this purpose, the plot being equipped with water and light, which is a free asset for the visitor. In most cases a vacant lot is utilized for the purpose, but some towns make a specialty of the tourists camping ground and lay it out in the shape of city blocks at some desirable location in the suburbs.

This is one of the methods adopted by the people of Florida to overcome the hotel congestion and to open the way to the tourist world in general, and that the idea has proved popular is proved by the tremendous increase in the Florida tourist traffic. The people are flocking there this season from every state in the union and the winter automobile population of the Land of Flowers has far surpassed that going there by train. That many people prefer the automobile and the tented home to the train and the hotel is indicated by the popularity of the former life over the latter by the millionaire class. Many people abundantly able to pay their way on Pullmans and at the most expensive hotels are choosing the greater freedom of life in the open. And this great influx of automobile tourists reveals another story in that it shows what the developments of good roads is doing for the country.—Charlotte (N. C.) Observer.

NEWSPAPERS ARE INDEX OF CITY LOYALTY

"Show me the newspapers of a city and I'll tell whether its people are progressive," said Charles A. Dana, of the New York Sun, many years ago.

In every town and city in the United States today that situation exists; in fact, there is greater stress laid upon the local paper as an index of prosperity and loyalty and faith than ever before.

The first thing any fairly-conservative man does—if he is contemplating a change of location—is to send for a "sample copy" of the papers published in the several communities under consideration. The town sending out a poorly-printed, ignorantly-edited, and slacker-madeup sheet—one lacking the patronage of the merchants—or evidencing such light patronage that the reader can easily see there is a state of lethargy existing about the place—carries to the man of business the impression that the town is an excellent place to avoid.

The man who knows of the world realizes full well that the one-lawyer, one-physician, one-merchant, one-drug store town is merely a spot on the map; that there is no real inducement there for any enterprise. If the place was a good one, he reasons, there would be more institutions there. In some instances he may be in error—for there may be a thriving community; at the same time if there is not a good showing made of the place through the newspapers the usual run of men will avoid the outlay of time and money in making an investigation.

These are some of the reasons—outside of any personal desire to make a profit through legitimate publicity upon the part of those in business—why every institution in a community should be represented in every issue of the local paper. The cost of judicious publicity should not be placed on the books of any business concern or any professional occupation as an "expense." It should be placed under the head of "investment." Good advertising is just as much of an investment as are the goods carried in stock—whether that stock is on the shelves or in the mental storehouse. Then, too, the going out to all sections of the country of a publication bearing the impress of good support and carrying the cards and announcements of all who have the present good and the future prosperity of the community at heart, creates an impression of the importance of the town or city; and acts as an incentive to draw other people of other professions and other callings to the locality. It acts as a wheel within a wheel—where every cog perfectly meshes—and where every desire is for smooth action and perfect results.

"Show me the newspapers of a city and I'll tell whether its people are progressive.—Kissimmee Gazette.

BAPTISTS MEET AT KISSIMMEE

Hundreds of delegates will gather in Kissimmee this week for the annual meetings of the Florida Baptists. The 66th annual session of the Florida Baptist Convention will be held, beginning tomorrow, December 7, at 9:30 o'clock. Beginning tonight however, and running simultaneously with the general convention, the 27th annual session of the Woman's Missionary Union will be held. In addition to these two meetings the laymen of the denomination will hold their annual meeting all day and evening on Monday, Dec. 6.

The railroads have granted reduced return rates on the certificate plan, the only proviso being that 250 people purchase tickets going at full fare and take receipts for such purchase. This arrangement will doubtless result in a large attendance.

Among the prominent speakers on the program are Mrs. W. C. James, Birmingham, president of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention; Richard H. Edmunds, Baltimore, editor of the Manufacturers Record; Dr. W. L. Poate, president of Wake College, Wake Forest, N. C.; Dr. Lincoln Hulley, president Stetson University, DeLand; Dr. S. B. Rogers, Jacksonville, Corresponding Secretary Florida Baptist State Board of Missions, and many others. The opening sermon will be given by Rev. S. B. Cole, of Madison, or his alternate, Rev. H. S. Rightmire, of Daytona.

Judge O. K. Reaves of Bradentown, is president of the Convention, while W. W. Fineren of Jacksonville, is chairman of the laymen's convention.

Urging that immediate steps be taken by the county commissioners to expediate the completion of the Tamiami trail, directors of the Miami chamber of commerce recently addressed an appeal to the Dade County board recommending that the balance of unexpended money from the bond issue voted to build the trail, be used in meeting the actual payrolls of the J. B. McCrory Co. in the construction work now under progress.

OUR PAINT SHOP
is kept busy by knowing automobilists who send their cars to us to be repainted. The "wise ones" knew that their cars will be returned to them looking smarter and better than when brought new from the factory. The reason for this is that all our work is custom work which means that only the best of materials are used by skilled workmen.

WEEKLY WEATHER REPORT

Forecast for the period December 6 to 11 inclusive: South Atlantic and East Gulf States: Moderate temperature considerable cloudiness and occasional rains.

WEATHER REPORT

For Florida: Rain tonight and Tuesday, somewhat warmer in the north and central portion tonight.

Hon. Eph Brown, of the Ft. Christ-... section, was in the city today on business and greeting his many friends.

The Herald Printing Co. now has one of the largest and most complete printing offices in this part of Florida. No job too large and none too small for this office to handle. Quick service.

Miller's Bakery is sporting a fine new delivery wagon that is the very latest thing in auto delivery wagons. It is embellished with pictures of the famous Butter Nut bread and is very classy in every respect.

The citizens of Sanford will have a change of entertainment this week and have the chance to enjoy the Million Dollar Band that will give a concert here Wednesday afternoon and night.

Miss Barbara Tyner spent Sunday with her aunt, Mrs. R. J. Holly and today accompanied her grandmother, Mrs. E. G. Tyner, to Vero, where they will spend several weeks before going to California for a visit.

Everything in office supplies at the Herald office all the time. You don't have time to order these little things, and we have them on hand for you just when you need them. Let us figure on fitting up your new office.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fedder yesterday in a trip to Daytona and Daytona Beach and a fine lunch at Cattaneo's Grill rounding out a day of enjoyment for hostess and host and guests.

Hon. W. W. Phillips of Lake City, was here yesterday and today, coming over to make the address at the Elks Memorial yesterday. Mr. Phillips is a member of the legislature from Columbia county and is the leading candidate for speaker of the house and his many friends over the state say he is a sure winner.

Hon. Forest Lake is home today from his labors as chairman of the State Road Department, having been in Folk county last week arranging for roads that will give them an outlet north. Mr. Lake is making history in the road department and is getting fine notices of good work accomplished since his appointment.

B. G. Smith, of Oviedo, was in the city today calling on his many friends and looking over the situation generally. B. G. is one of the busiest men in the county now with his large orange grove interests and many other enterprises but he is not too busy to talk politics. B. G. told us that Harding would be elected and he tells it to us yet.

W. E. Bryant, of Jacksonville, representing Furehott's mail order department, was in the city today on business connected with his firm.

Those ladies who have seen our new line of fine stationery and purchased the same, think it is the nicest line that has ever been shown here. Come in and see it.

More auto campers are coming in all the time and the new camps should be finished up as soon as possible and make room for a thousand more or less to live here this winter.

R. H. Muirhead has returned from a trip to the Highlands section near Haines City, and reports that country booming and hundreds of acres of orange groves being planted.

ATTENTION! MEMBERS OF THE HOLY CROSS PARISH

Rev. Louis G. Wood, National Secretary for the Nation-Wide Campaign will address the people of the Parish and tell of this work, Tonight at the Parish House at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Wood is one of the strong men of the Episcopal Church, a powerful speaker, and brings a message of vital importance to every man, woman and child in the Parish.

This is an S. O. S. call for every one to be present and see that your neighbor comes also.

SPLENDID MEETING AT HOLY CROSS CHURCH

It is with greatest pleasure that the Rev. Louis G. Wood is returning to conduct a meeting tonight at Holy Cross Parish House at 8 p. m. in the interests of the greatest work ever undertaken, the Nation-Wide campaign. Let everybody, without exception be out.

ATTENTION

The Royal Neighbors will meet the second Tuesday night in December, the 14th, for election of officers for the ensuing year and a full attendance is urged. Meeting will open at 7:30 in Eagles Hall on Oak Street.

RECORDED.

M. S. WIGGINS,
Local Representative.

Miami Beach will expend nearly $5,000,000 in buildings in 1920, and that little city will more than match Miami in the cost of building. Miami Beach can match Miami dollar for dollar in construction in 1920 and have $500,000 left over, boosters claim, and the remaining two months will witness the beginning of expending $500,000 more at Miami Beach for a bank, a theatre, for houses, polo barns and other structures.

Have you seen that beautiful line of box stationery at the Herald office? Just the thing for "The Girl" for Christmas. Get it printed with her monogram.

Deliberate long before doing what it is impossible to do.

The Cedar Chest

The Old Ivory Reed Rocker, The Electric Parlor Lamp and the two Gold Pieces that we are giving away are all very valuable prizes and the interest being displayed in these by the hundreds of ladies as well as the men prompts us to again call your attention to these as we want you all to have chances on them.

During the Coming Week

every one should see that they make their purchases for Christmas, such purchases that they intend making from our line, so that they not only get these chances but save some nice money also. Our sale ends next Saturday night and at 8:30 that night the drawing will take place for these prizes. There will be just one drawing for each prize so that if any of the holders of these chances are not present they will be given an opportunity to call for the prizes later. We shall post the winning numbers in our store right after the drawing.

GET IN ON SOME OF THESE GOOD THINGS WE HAVE AT OUR PLACE FOR YOU.

"The Store That Is Different"

HAVE FINE WINDOW DISPLAY

Hardware is hard ware when it comes to a window display and it takes a good man to catch the eye of the passerby with a hardware display but the Hill Hardware Co., have two holiday windows that are the real goods, one of them being composed of new and shiny aluminum ware with all kinds of utensils that are needed in the modern kitchen. The other window is filled with rifles of all kinds from the repeating rifles for big game to the air rifles of the small boy. This window also has tennis rackets, harmonicas, toy pistols and many other toys of all kinds for the small children and the large ones. In fact the Hill Hardware Co., will go after the holiday trade with many useful presents as their advertisement in the Daily Herald will tell you.

At a meeting of the Jacksonville Clearing House Association, the organization plan for the Southern Federal Farm Banking Corporation, authorized by the Edge act, was approved. The corporation will have a capital stock of $6,000,000.

HARRY GANN, LAKE WALES EDITOR, DEAD

Harry M. Ganes, editor of the Lake Wales Highlander, and one of the best known newspaper men in the state, died at 8 o'clock last night at the home of J. E. Worthington, No. 718 Bungalow Terrace, where he had been for two weeks, while taking medical treatment. For three or four days Mr. Gann's death had not been unexpected, but the end came with startling rapidity. He had seemed bright and cheerful Friday and rather better than the day before. When Mr. Worthington came home last night Mr. Gann was able to walk and seemed well. As he started back to bed his strength gave way and he died before Mr. Worthington could get him there.

Mr. Gann suffered from a cancer the nature of which he did not suspect apparently when he came here for treatment. X-ray pictures by specialists indicated his condition soon and Wednesday night Dr. Helms stated that he could live but a short time, hardly expecting, however, that the end would come so soon. The disease had obtained such a start that it made it almost impossible for him to breathe the last two or three days.—Tampa Tribune.
