

Utility Dept. 'Laxness' Cited; Review Voted

By ED PERCETT
Herald Staff Writer

After learning 100 utility bills went uncollected last February, the Seminole County Commission Tuesday hired a consultant and approved a 90-day, $15,000 study designed to get the lagging department back on its feet.

"There has been some laxness in the (utility) department," Commission Director Dick Williams acknowledged last night. "Some bills haven't been collected. I don't know why."

Utility Director Bill Dale said he is aware of the problem. Dale said he has been unable to do anything about it because he's not sure of his legal footing.

"I requested information from the attorney," Dale said. "I never got a legal opinion on it."

Dale said an error in billing resulted in about a $8,000 under-billing.

"I'm not sure we can go back and bill them (customers)," the director noted. "I'm not sure what is legal."

Dale said he asked for the legal opinion about a month ago.

After hiring a utility consultant, Hugh Harling of Post-Buckley, Scholl & Jernigan Inc. of Orlando, the commission Tuesday appointed Commissioner John Kimbrough as a liaison to oversee utility operations.

Harling told commissioner financial statements and audits have been "lagging" and also informed officials that 100 utility accounts went uncollected in February.

Harling said he will concentrate first on the financial picture, then skip over to operations.

With high hopes, Seminole County entered the utility business last year with the $3.9-million purchase of Indian Hills and Consumer Hills utilities. But a lack of growth attributed to a failing economy punctured the revenue picture.

Utility officials soon began predicting rate hikes for customers. Amid reports that it was not well, the commission Tuesday will concentrate first on the financial picture, then skip over to operations.

Public Safety Director Gary Kaiser's salary was upped from $18,500 to $19,000 and Abby Jones, the ass't. Court Clerk, was granted $18,216, up from $17,600.

The $18.3-million budget includes no hike in property taxes for county residents. The millage remained at $27 — or $5.37 for each $1,000 of assessed property valuation.

Neiswender said he was "disappointed" all the raises weren't approved, but said the board reviewed salaries prior to his Tuesday recommendation.

Commissioners also hired Winter Springs resident William J. Schuder as public works director to replace Bob Andrews who resigned.

Neiswender said a study comparing administrative salaries with private sector salaries shows some Seminole officials underpaid.

Neiswender recommended minimal increases for seven officials at the director's level, but requested a 10 per cent raise for Kaiser who

'I Forgot'

First, Seminole Commissioner Harry A. Violen, who advocated creation of a legal staff with $140,000, was individual commissioner approval last week. But officials stopped short of a vote which would have legally created the department.

On Friday, Violen said he would ask for legal action at Tuesday's meeting. Violen said Neiswender and the Office of Management Analysis and Evaluation (OMAE) have been busy with the budget and he has time to study the county attorney issue.

However, he had no explanation when he was reminded that it was Neiswender who was asked for direction so the staff could get underway on the project.

Asked if his new report could be termed the "Violen Report," Violen said, "I guess so."

VIHLEN

Freeman also has requested speedy action. Freeman says he will not seek a position as one of two attorneys envisioned for the new legal staff. But Freeman's assistant, Robert Pierce, says he is interested.

A third attorney and Freeman's law partner, Ned Woodcock, meanwhile, has submitted his resignation to the county. Woodcock, who was utility attorney, has accepted a position with an Orlando law firm.

$18.3 Million Budget Passes 2 Of 8 Win Pay Hikes

Exec. Asst. Roger Neiswender won pay hikes for only two of eight top-level administrators he said were underpaid as the Seminole County Commission Tuesday night approved an $18.3-million dollar budget to run operations next year.

Public Safety Director Gary Kaiser's salary was upped from $18,500 to $19,000 and Abby Jones, the ass't. Court Clerk, was granted $18,216, up from $17,600.

Carter: 'Lust' Talk Won't Hurt Me

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter said today he is not dismayed by reaction to his statements that he has "looked on a lot of women with lust" and "committed adultery in my heart." He said he doesn't think it has hurt his campaign.

Carter responded to questions from reporters as he got into his car after completing an early morning inspection of his peanut processing operation.

Asked whether he was dismayed by some of the reaction to his statements, made to an interviewer from Playboy magazine, the candidate replied:

"No. I don't want to have a press conference this morning..."

Q: "Do you feel you were misunderstood?"

A: "I haven't been bothered by it."

Q: "Why did you grant the interview?"

A: "The same reason I grant you one..."

Q: "Are you sorry you granted it?"

A: "No."

Q: "Do you regret it?"

A: "No."

Q: "Do you think it's been misunderstood?"

A: "I don't think it's hurt in any way."

Q: "You don't think it's hurt at all?"

A: "I don't believe so."

Chimp Man Fights To Save 'Dream'

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

To Austrian-born Rudolph Alexander the 56-acre of palmets and pine land bordering Lake Harney at Geneva was what he thought would be the "American Dream." A spot where he could breed and raise his "Hollywood Chimps," entertain young and old alike and live peacefully with his animals.

Over the last two of the seven years he's lived off the sandy road near the quiet northeast Seminole community of Geneva the dream has soured just a bit. He says he's been the repeated victim of vandals and thieves and his chimpanzees have been subjects of numerous complaints to authorities.

Nevertheless, since a mid-August public hearing before the Seminole County Animal Control Board that ended in a recommendation that the chimps be impounded, Alexander has been busy trying to improve conditions at the clearing in the pine and palmets lowland where he lives.

The old chimpanzee cages that officials said didn't meet minimum specifications and allowed frequent escapes by the animals that then roamed the neighborhood have been replaced with concrete, wood and steel-barred cages.

"I've spent $6,000 on it," says Alexander, even though he's lost his job at a Melbourne country club as a chef because of publicity in the chimp case.

Alexander hopes officials will come to his compound to see the changes. County Court Judge Wallace Hall may do that. Hall told lawyers in a Tuesday hearing that he'll go to Geneva to view the situation "if necessary" when an evidentiary hearing is held within the next 45 days.

It fell to Assistant State Attorney

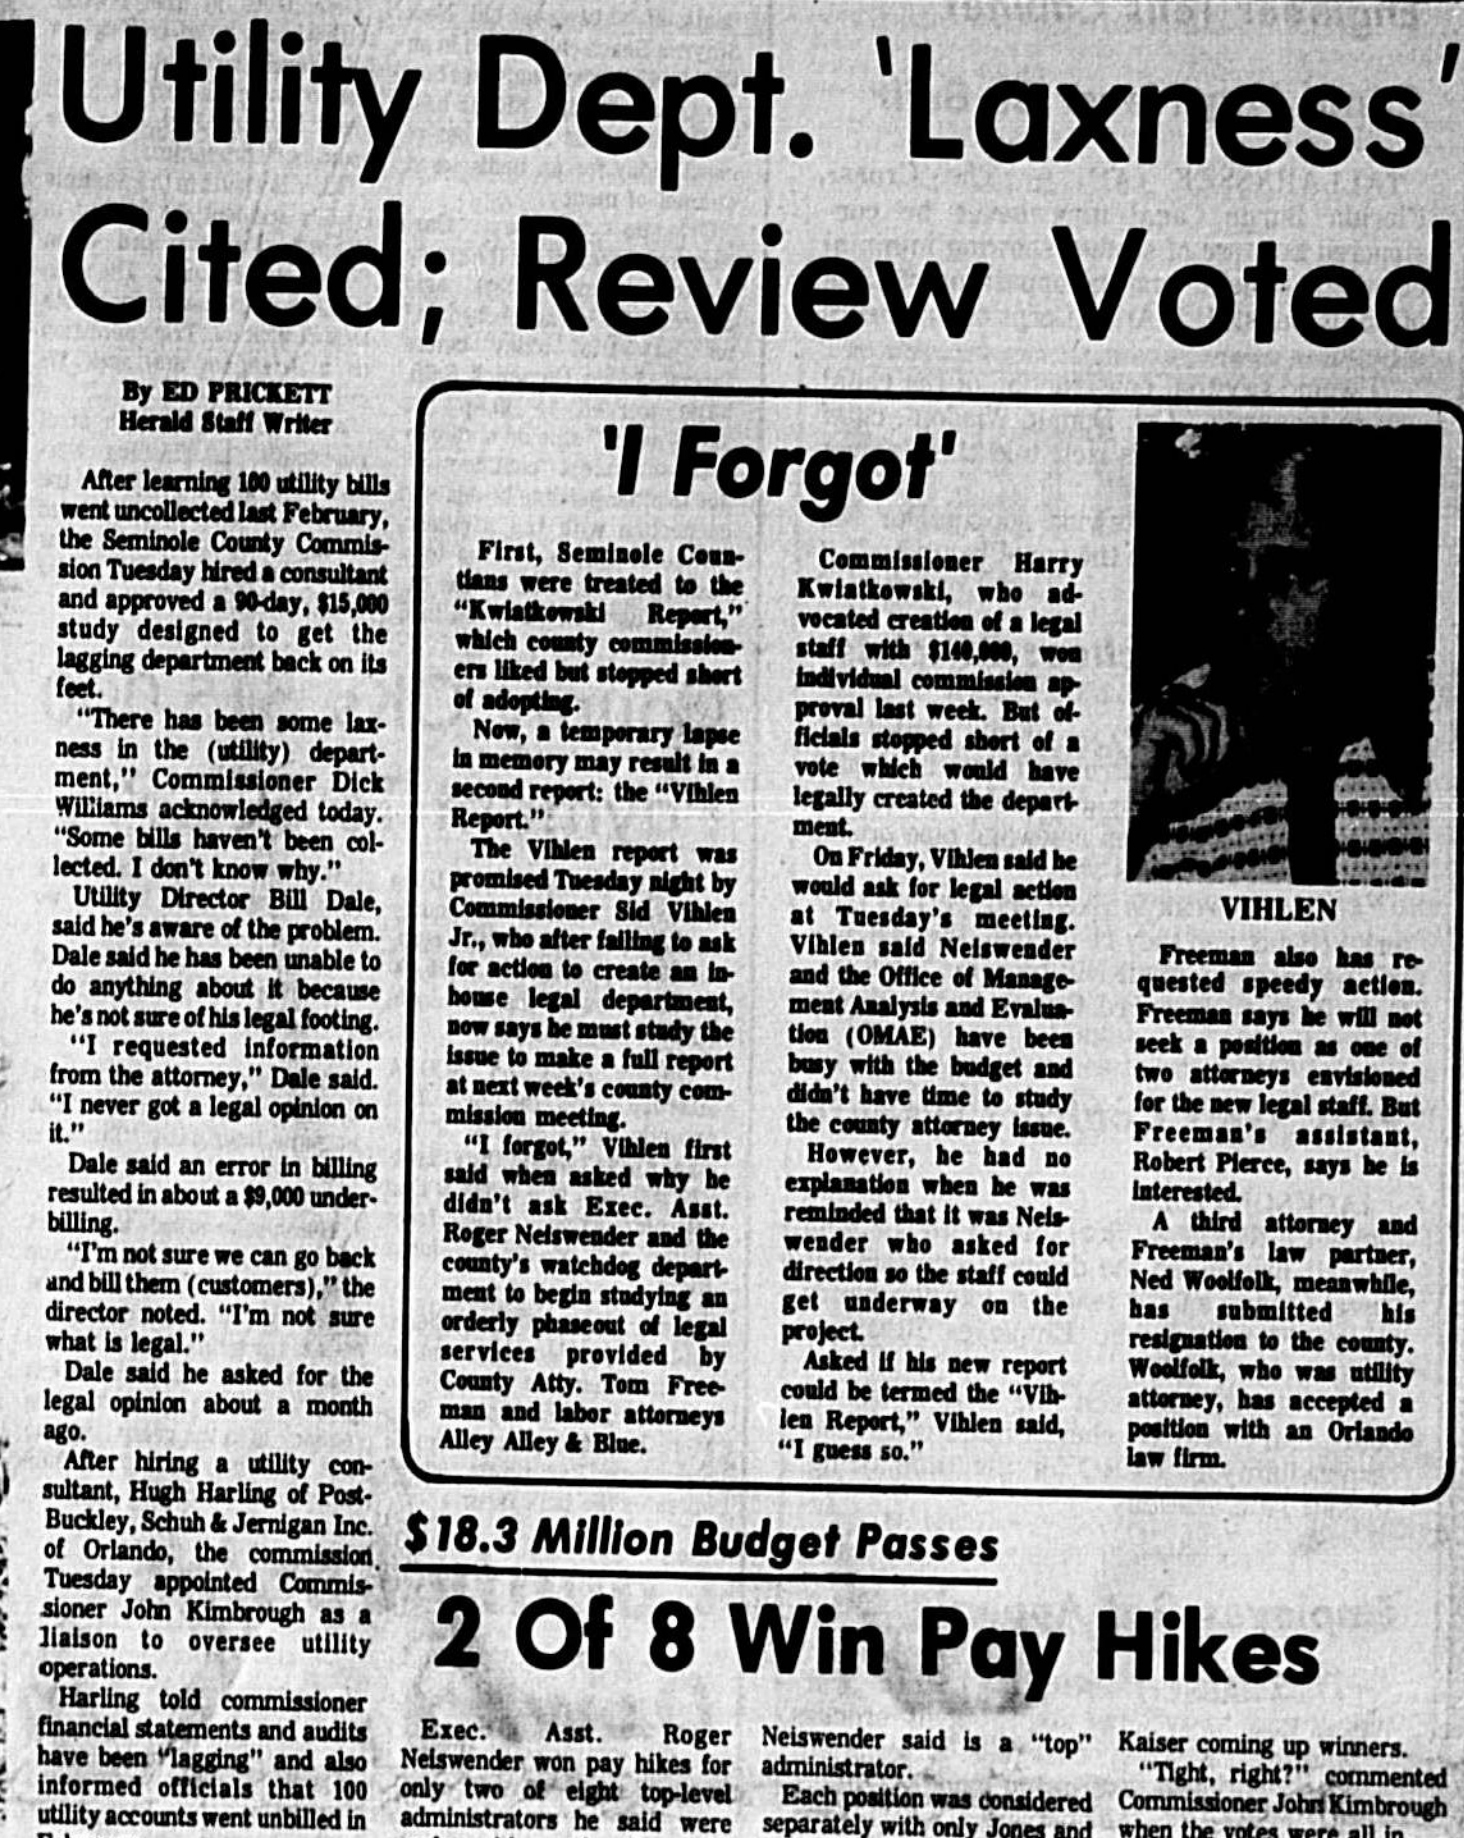

'My mother always said, anything happen, you go to America...'

'If I've done something bad, I want them to tell me...'

'I faced a firing squad...'

Engineer Tells Cabinet Canal May Never Be Built

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The Cross-Florida Barge Canal may never be constructed because of studies showing minimal economic benefits and the opposition of state officials, says a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers official.

"I would say that construction of the canal was in jeopardy," Col. Donald Wisdom, chief of the Jacksonville district, told the Cabinet Tuesday.

"If there is no state support for the canal, then I don't see the canal being built."

Re-Open Beaches: Officials

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Eight miles of beaches in southern Broward County should be re-opened to tourists and residents Tuesday after being closed when a sewage pipe broke, county health officials say.

"After the break is fixed and we run bacterial counts and they're normal, the beaches will be opened and all will be safe," said Dr. Paul Hughes, Broward County health director.

PERC Gets Contract Dispute

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — Calling himself a toothless tiger, Circuit Judge John McNatt has tossed the disputed contract for Duval County's 6,000 teachers into the hands of the Florida Public Employes Relations Commission (PERC).

The dispute between the county school board and Duval Teachers United is the sole responsibility of PERC for the time being, McNatt said Tuesday.

Employees Get Appeals

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — State employees now have a two-step appeals process they can use when charging government agencies with job discrimination.

The Cabinet approved the procedure Tuesday, setting up the state's first uniform process for handling the complaints. Under the rules, workers may appeal to agency heads and then take adverse rulings to the Career Service Commission.

Defendants in the lawsuit settled today were truck driver Keith Lamont Clark, and L.C. Woodard, 39, of Orlando; Truck Rentals Inc., Hill Tractor Rental Co. Inc., Hill Tractor Rental Co. Inc., and two insurance companies.

Other lawsuits in the multiple fatality accident are pending in Orange, Volusia and Leon County circuit courts. The suits in Leon also name the State Department of Transportation as a defendant and seek $7-million in damages.

After the fatal crash steel guardrails and flashing warning lights were installed on the bridge, which is scheduled for reconstruction early next year by a new bridge now under construction.

County OKs $15,000 Payment to SCOPA

The prospect of the port filling a lawsuit against the county ended Tuesday with county commission approval of a $15,000 payment owed the Seminole County Port Authority.

William Hutchison, SCOPA attorney, said the port had agreed to pay the $15,000 settlement. Hutchison said the port had agreed to pay the $15,000 settlement. Hutchison said the port had agreed to pay the $15,000 settlement.

County Jobless Down; State Up

Seminole County's unemployment rate dipped .6 of one point last month to 10.8 per cent, according to a report released Tuesday by the U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis.

The local unemployment rate was down from 11.4 per cent in August, but the national average was up to 11.2 per cent.

Commerce Secretary Edward T. Romney said the loss of 18,000 jobs in local government, mostly in utility firms, was the main reason for the increase. He said that in August the loss of 18,000 jobs in local government, mostly in utility firms, was the main reason for the increase.

Poverty Agency's Pleas Ignored

Seminole County Commission turned deaf ears Tuesday to pleas from a grant coordinator to consider an application from Seminole Community Action Inc. for federal public works funds to build community centers.

The county hopes to receive about $1-million of the $4-billion federal program to construct a new jail at Five Points. Another priority is construction of two new fire stations.

The federal money will become available when Congress passes an appropriations bill.

On the eve of the Great Debates, President Ford is holding dress rehearsals at the White House while Jimmy Carter is resting and studying issues after offering his first detailed suggestion for reorganizing the government.

His first nationally televised debate, on economic and domestic issues, will be held in Philadelphia on Thursday night. Two more Ford-Carter debates, on other issues, will follow.

6 Plead Guilty

Six defendants detected for trials this week before Circuit Court Judge J. William Woodson at Sanford have entered guilty pleas.

The court ordered John Daniel Smith Jr., 21, Lake Mary, held in jail during a presentence investigation (PSI) after he pleaded guilty to the July 29 burglary of Empire Auto Body shop, 118 S. Myrtle Ave., Sanford.

Also listed pending completion of a PSI was Richard Gill, 18, of Winter Park. He pleaded guilty to the Aug. 10 grand larceny of an auto in Sanford. Gill was arrested in the theft case when a state trooper stopped the stolen car near Daytona Beach for a speeding violation.

Leo George Laneve, 26, 1005-A Pine Ave., Sanford, pleaded guilty to uttering a forged check at a Sanford department store. The court ordered him held in custody during a PSI.

Also jailed during PSI was Jesse D. Richardson, 31, Sanford Route two, who pleaded guilty to the Aug. 27 burglary of the Army-Navy Store, 310 S. Sanford Ave. Sanford police nabbed Richardson inside the burglarized store which had been entered by a skylight.

Michael Wayne Gravemier, 22, Orlando, was allowed to remain free on his own recognizance while parole and probation authorities update a PSI. Gravemier pleaded guilty to forgery of a check drawn on the account of a Winter Park man.

Wayne Claude Brock Jr., 36, 1061 Clemens Drive, Allamonte Springs, was placed on one-year probation by the court after he pleaded guilty to the lesser and included misdemeanor offense of attempted obtaining property by worthless check.

Judge Woodson continued until Oct. 25 trials in three cases.

John H. Hickman, 49, 1107 E. Ninth St., Sanford, accused of three counts of attempted murder and two counts of aggravated battery in connection with a shooting incident July 31 at Lake Monroe Terrace, Sanford.

Arthur Wayne Marsh, 46, and his wife, Claire R. Marsh, 47, of Forest City, accused of soliciting a felony, conspiracy and arson in connection with a July fire that damaged their house at 1026 Bear Lake Road, Forest City.

Norris L. Lataon, 30, Fern Park, accused of felony possession of marijuana, cocaine and heroin.

W. Springs Priorities

WINTER SPRINGS — The City Council has set a list of priority projects for federal grant applications in a letter of intent sent to John Johns, Economic Development representative in Tallahassee.

The city is applying for Public Works funds for the following projects in the order of priority: street and road building; drainage and fire hydrants; public works department maintenance complex; park completion; and city hall and law enforcement building.

Councilman Donald Sines reported that the paperwork has been sent in on the city's grant application for federal matching funds for preliminary regional sewer studies.

City Engineer B. C. Conklin estimates total cost of the infiltration inflow analysis of existing lines belonging to the two utility firms operating in the city will cost $18,000 and preliminary planning will cost an additional $6,000.

If the grant is received the federal government would pay 75 per cent and the city and Southern States Utilities and North Orlando Water and Sewer Corp. will share the 25 per cent matching funds.

Final approval was given the $248,267.15 budget for fiscal 1976-77. Also approved was the placing of a referendum on the November general election ballot on city charter amendments.

One amendment will be to change the date of municipal elections from December to coincide with the general election in November. The other would require a deputy mayor filling a vacancy in the mayor's office to run at the next regular election rather than fill out the unexpired term as is now the case.

Proposal May Have Cost Jobs

Budget officials say a proposal to limit the size of the state bureaucracy would have forced 10,000 full-time workers out of their jobs if it had been in effect this year.

The legislature, the bureaucracy and Mr. Cresce would have two years to work into this situation," he said. "This is not intended to put working people out of a job but it is intended to put a constitutional cap on the number of people in government," the Cocoa Democrat said.

Proposal May Have Cost Jobs

Budget officials say a proposal to limit the size of the state bureaucracy would force 10,000 full-time workers out of their jobs if it had been in effect this year.

Joe Cruse, state budget director, said Tuesday that a proposed constitutional amendment on the Nov. 2 ballot would limit the state to 86,041 full-time workers — 12,000 fewer than actually authorized.

"Usually we can figure on a two-percent vacancy rate, but that varies," Cruse said. "So if you look maybe 2,000 people off — that's 10,000."

Such a rollback from the current total of 98,137 full-time jobs would have saved the state $100 million, he said.

In addition, Gov. Reubin Askew, an opponent of the proposed amendment, said the cutback would lead to "indirect tax increases" for local governments taking up the slack in state services.

The proposed amendment, adopted overwhelmingly by voters this year, would limit the full-time work force to one per cent of the state's estimated population beginning with fiscal year 1977.

Sen. John Vogt, who sponsored the proposed amendment, said it would not cause anyone to lose his job because the cutbacks could be achieved through normal attrition.

"The legislature, the bureaucracy and Mr. Cruse would have two years to work into this situation," he said.

Vogt defended the proposal as one designed to clamp the lid on bureaucratic growth.

"It's not intended to put working people out of a job but it is intended to put a constitutional cap on the number of people in government," the Cocoa Democrat said. "This is a constitutional protection against the size of government getting out of hand either because of advocacy groups or pressure by state employees."

Under the proposal, the number of part-time workers would be limited to 10 per cent of the full-time work force. Cruse said the state's 20,000 part-time workers, including student and graduate assistants at state universities, would have to be cut in half.

He said 6,327 full-time and 10,800 part-time jobs would have to be slashed if the state were to meet the proposed 1979 ceiling.

Cruse pointed out that part-time workers account for only five per cent of the total state payroll.

"It's nonsensical," Cruse said. "You're still spending the same dollars and the issue is dollars, not numbers of people."

The Day Of The Political Technician Has Arrived

Voters Provided With Plenty Of Info On Candidates

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — When political candidates knock on your door this fall, chances are they'll know every-thing there is to know about you. Politically speaking, before you open it.

While not as comprehensive as the Republican computer program, a Democratic program is a boon to candidates because it allows them to raise the maximum amount of money with the minimum amount of begging.

"This is one of the finest services a party could provide to candidates because it tells them where to put their resources," Farmer said.

Harmon said the GOP is undertaking a massive telephone poll in each of the state's 19 largest metropolitan areas.

The results of the canvass will be made available to all Republican candidates, identifying who's committed, who's leaning for you and who's leaning against you.

The Department of Education reported this week that 11 county school superintendents were defeated in the first primary. It said 11 others face general election or runoff opposition.

Ten superintendents apparently saw the writing on the wall — they did not seek re-election. The remaining 17 superintendents are appointed. School board members have fared somewhat better than superintendents so far, but also are being turned out of office in fairly large numbers.

Conner reported, with a straight face, in a recent news release: "We've had about 23 eradication in Florida, including the Mediterranean fruit fly twice."

Many Factors Cause Fatigue

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: I read an article on reasons for being tired. This article mentioned folic acid deficiency. That came the closest to being my problem.

Fatigue is caused by many different things. It is a common symptom of problems ranging from emotional strain and depression to tuberculosis, cancer and a host of diseases which I won't mention lest you develop too.

I do note that you take Diuretics which is ordinarily used for people with high blood pressure. The lining of your intestinal tract is a good example. Did you know normally it is replaced every three days?

Other areas of the body that undergo constant regeneration also show failure in development. The lining of your intestinal tract is a good example. Did you know normally it is replaced every three days?

When this function fails, diarrhea and other digestive complaints occur. The tongue is also sore. You cannot substitute folic acid for B-12 because it does not protect the spinal cord from degeneration. Fatigue from folic acid deficiency is mostly related to the anemia. Folic acid is found in folage foods, specifically spinach and other leafy vegetables.

Now to your question about folic acid. I am sending you the TAKE A FLORIDA ORANGE JUICE BREAK.

Hawaiian Papaya Starts Islander's Day

Hawaiians start their day with a cool green papaya half, served as the Hawaiians enjoy them - cut in half with a squeeze of lime. Papaya devotees won't start their day any other way.

This wonderful fruit is as healthful as it is delicious, too! Only 80 calories and high in potassium and low in sodium (which may be helpful for some special diets).

This marvelous tropical fruit is available in our supermarkets just about every day of the year. Papaya is shipped to major mainland markets almost within hours after picking, so they taste just as good as they do in Hawaii.

With all their good nutrition and great flavor, the papaya is a delicious way to start the day. Served as the Hawaiians enjoy them - cut in half with a squeeze of lime or lime - they're a refreshing eye-opener. Or, for a little variety, try this Hawaiian Breakfast For Two.

Papaya does not darken or discolor when cut, so this breakfast can be prepared the night before. That way, it'll be ready and waiting to meet anyone's morning schedule.

Fill the papaya half with a scoop of cottage cheese and wrap in plastic wrap. In the morning, pop with a sprinkling of a favorite dry cereal and a dab of jelly. Served with toasted English muffins, (perhaps spread with pineapple studded cream cheese), Papaya Breakfast For Two adds an exotic and nourishing touch to "morning."

When selecting papayas, judge ripeness by eye rather than touch - when the skin color is predominantly yellow-orange, the papaya is fully ripened. The juicy rose-gold flesh is firm and smooth with a flavor reminiscent of a Crenshaw melon and a fragrant ripe peach with a rich tropical sweetness.

HAWAIIAN BREAKFAST FOR TWO

1 Hawaiian papaya, halved and seeded
1/2 cup cottage cheese
1/4 cup dry cereal flakes
2 teaspoons jelly or jam
1 English muffin, split, toasted and buttered

Place papaya halves on 2 serving plates. Divide cottage cheese; fill cavities. Sprinkle cereal over cottage cheese. Top with jelly. Serve with hot muffins.

Makes 2 servings.

Especially compatible with papayas are apple mint jelly, strawberry jam, blueberry jam, tomato preserves, grape jelly, granola, grape nuts, rice krispies, frosted flakes.

PAPAYA TOPPING

1 ripe papaya (about 1 pound), halved and seeded
1 ripe banana, sliced
1 can (8 ounces) crushed pineapple in its own juice
3 tablespoons lemon juice

With a spoon, scoop out the papaya pulp into an electric blender. Add banana, pineapple and lemon juice. Whirl just until pureed. Cover tightly and refrigerate; hold up well, keeping its flavor and color for several days. Makes about 2 1/2 cups. Delicious served over sliced bananas and orange sections or a mixture of diced papaya and other fresh fruits.

PAPAYA KEBABS

Cubes of Hawaiian papaya, alternating with other attractive foods on a stick, make easy, elegant appetizers for summer entertaining. Papaya will not turn dark after cutting so the kebabs can be prepared ahead of all the last-minute rush. Mix and match these kebab ideas:

- Papaya with ham cubes, with small prawns or crab legs and a cocktail sauce for dipping; with chunks of fresh summer fruits, such as strawberries, peaches, grapes, plums or pineapple; with strawberries and plums.

The fruit bowl is pretty enough to serve as the centerpiece at the table. Each guest should have a small bowl of sour cream - grated orange rind-ginger dressing for dipping speared fruit.

WOW OF A IUAU AP-PETEEZER

Win the praises of your next party by serving big chunks of fresh fruit in a large glass bowl with toothpicks for spearing and a creamy sour cream sauce for dipping. With the wonderful variety of summer fruits starting to appear in markets, the possibilities are endless. Hawaiian papaya is at its peak season during May and June and blends beautifully with other traditional summer fruits - peaches, grapes, strawberries and plums. The fruit bowl is pretty enough to serve as the centerpiece at the table. Each guest should have a small bowl of sour cream - grated orange rind-ginger dressing for dipping speared fruit.

Papaya is a delicious, nutritious and fast way to begin the day

Garnish Carrot Cake With Peanut Carrots

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor

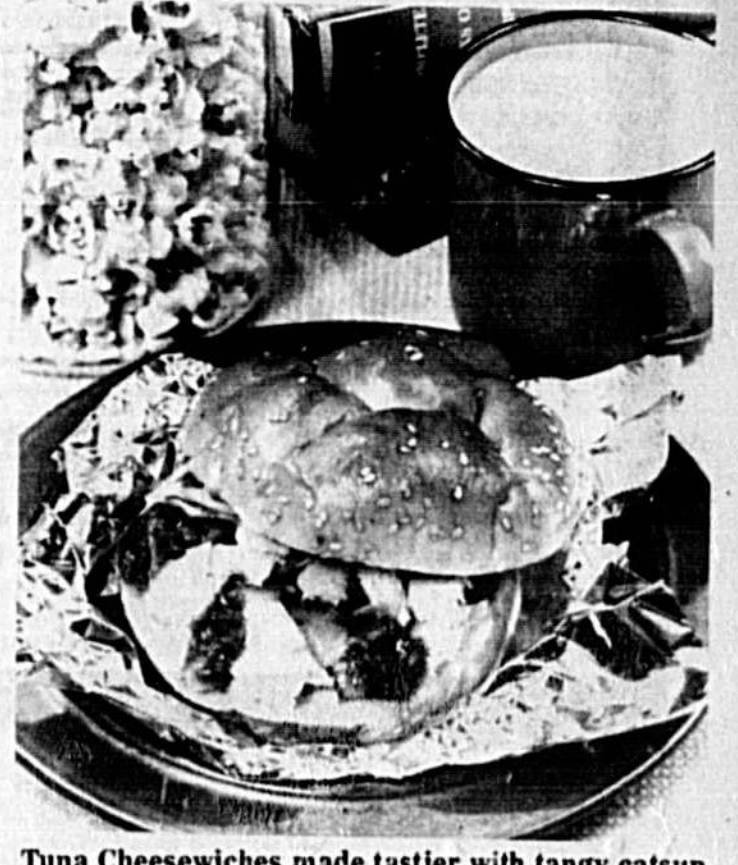

We've had requests for a recipe to use up our miniature marigold carrots with which to decorate ever-popular carrot cakes. Because that recipe called for red food coloring, now taboo, we've dreamed up an all-natural way to make tiny fondant carrots.

Our inspiration came from a pamphlet we treasure: "How to Grow the Peanut and 105 Ways of Preparing It for Human Consumption" by George Washington Carver, published about 50 years ago at Tuskegee Institute where the famous scientist carried on his work. In his booklet there's a recipe for Peanut Carrot Fudge that inspired the following rule for an uncooked peanut carrot fondant from which to fashion delightful garnishes. To deepen the natural color, we call for only the outer portion of the carrots, darker than the inner core. We also call for a yolk from a brown egg - usually a little more vivid than one from a white egg.

CARROT PEANUT FONDANT

3 medium carrots, each about 7 inches long
1/4 cup creamy peanut butter
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, softened
1 egg yolk, from a large brown egg
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 package (1 pound) confectioners' sugar
Paraffin or carrol-top sprigs
Pare carrots and quarter; with a small sharp knife cut

Line an 8 by 8 by 4-inch cake pan with plastic wrap. Pack the carrot mixture into the pan. Smooth the surface. Lightly cover pan with plastic wrap. Refrigerate until firm enough to cut - about 1 hour. Cut into 1-inch squares - there will be 64. Shape each square into a 1 1/2-inch long "carrot." Chill. Insert tiny sprigs of parsley in the tops of these carrots; you are using right away. Wrap the unused garnishes in plastic wrap and store in the freezer; thaw when needed and insert the parsley tops just before using. To decorate a carrot cake, brush its top with a confectioners' sugar glaze and arrange the miniature carrots over the glaze; you can use 12 for a cake baked in a 10-inch tube pan.
