

Council Stymied: 'Phone Nuisance Here To Stay

Telephone solicitation nuisances are apparently here to stay. At least, until City Atty. William C. Hutchison Jr. can come up with some kind of a solution.

That's the gist of the City Commission as it pondered drawing up an ordinance to curtail such solicitations. Last night they asked Hutchison to check other cities to see how they may be coping with the problem.

"How you going to make it work," the attorney asked. "All you have to do is hang up."

Most commissioners agreed the calls can be a nuisance but were stymied in seeking a solution.

City officials stressed that fund-raising solicitations, in which a great percentage of the money goes to the in-and-out-of-the-city solicitors, are the ones they seek to limit.

A second portion to the ordinance part of the agenda calls for a limiting of junk cars or debris around homes. Hutchison is to draw up such a rule and submit it at the next commission meeting. This, he said, is a difficult one to write since some youths have hobbies of working on vehicles and the commission would have to determine what are "junk cars" and what is a hobby.

In other action, the commission:

—Approved a request for a conditional use as a day nursery at 2440 Oak Ave.

—Okayed installation of street lights at Fifth Street and Hickory Avenue, at Third Street and Bay Avenue, and near the Police Benevolent Association Building.

—Approved a low bid of City Service to supply the city with premium and regular gasoline as well as diesel oil. The firm's bid was low of five submitted.

—Approved a bid of $869.51 for fencing and submitted by Reeves Fence.

—Accepted a bid of $4,494 by Seminole County Motors to supply two police cars. At the request of Police Chief Roy G. Williams the city will retain cars scheduled to be traded in so they can be used on a standby basis.

—Okayed Strickland-Morrison's bid to supply four trucks. Two are for the water plant; others are for the zoo and parks department.

—Tabled until the Dec. 28 meeting consideration of the adoption of the revised plumbing code.

—Delayed action on a request for future water and sewer connections at DeWitt Trailer Park pending changes in the annexation procedure which will extend the time limit of such petition from two to five years.

—Left at 25 the number of marina reports the city will obtain. A suggestion was made that the city might want more of them to give merchants, civic groups, etc. City Manager Warren E. Knowles said there was "nothing new" to report on the marina project.

—Decided to limit future sewer taps to one and abandon the present policy of up to five lines into one tap.

THE FIRST CHRISTMAS

North Liberals Would Weaken Southern Bloc

WASHINGTON (UPI) — No major civil rights battles are expected in Congress next year but Southern conservatives face several other fights.

Northern liberals are planning legislation, rules changes and party purges designed to weaken the Southern bloc.

Congress should open with a bang when liberal Democrats in the House attempt to purge Rep. John Bell Williams, of Mississippi, and Albert W. Watson, of South Carolina, for their support of Barry Goldwater in the presidential race.

Later, an effort is planned by the Mississippi "Freedom Party" to have Congress oust all members of that state's House delegation on the ground that voter discrimination voided their elections.

A reduction in the power of the conservative House rules committee, headed by Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) is another goal of the liberals.

They favor provisions allowing the House, by majority vote, to send a bill into conference with the Senate without going through the committee, and to pry a bill from the committee after 21 days if there has been no action.

Other rules changes proposed by the liberals would reduce from 213 to 175 the number of signatures needed to take bills from hostile committees and require the approval of Democratic committee assignments by the party caucus.

In the Senate, Southerners will overwhelmingly back the effort by Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.) to succeed Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey as Democratic whip.

Episcopal Churchwomen Name New Officers In Longwood

By Donna Estes
The slate of officers recommended by the nominating committee was unanimously approved at the regular meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Episcopal Church, Longwood, held last Thursday at the Parish House.

Elected were Mrs. Virginia Bowersox, president; Mrs. Jean Pasternack, vice president; Mrs. Ann Chandler, secretary; Mrs. Betty Hamilton, treasurer; Mrs. Pauline Stevens, secretary of Christian education; Mrs. Beth Hinson, secretary of promotion; Mrs. Marie Taylor, secretary of United Thank Offering; Mrs. Peggy Kuhn, secretary of missions and supplies; Mrs. Josephine Chapman, secretary of social relations; Mrs. Helen Thompson, house chairman; and Mrs. Jan Cole, secretary of college work.

Serving on the nominating committee were Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Hammond and Mrs. Pasternack. The new officers will be formally installed at the regular meeting in January.

Rev. Charles W. Stewart Jr., vicar, who gave the devotional at the election meeting, expressed his appreciation to Mrs. Kuhn, outgoing president, for the excellent manner in which she had conducted her office.

An interesting session of the current Christian Education Series from the book, "Tests of a Living Church," by Robert W. Spike, was led by Mrs. Stevens and Mrs. Pasternack. The book was discussed by Mrs. Chandler and Mrs. Hamilton.

Activities of the Episcopal Churchwomen were reported by Mrs. Hinson.

Following the business meeting, refreshments of warm Christmas pudding with lemon sauce and coffee and tea were served by Mrs. Stevens.

PRIZE WINNING booths of the International Festival sponsored at Forest Lake Academy to raise funds for playground equipment were (top) the Hawaiian, first, and (bottom) the Mexican, second. Tie for third prize went to the Parisian Cafe and Santa Claus Village. An approximate $1,000 was realized from the event.

William Bendix, 'Life Of Riley,' Succumbs At 58

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The death of William Bendix, the death of the funniest performers in show business to die in as many months, cast a pall today over movietown's Christmas preparations.

The gruff, likeable actor who led "The Life of Riley" on radio and television for 13 years, was 58 years old when he died Monday in Good Samaritan Hospital. His death tentatively was attributed to lobar pneumonia and complications.

His demise followed that of Percy Kilbride, of "Ma and Pa Kettle" fame, Eddie Cantor, Harpo Marx and Gracie Allen.

Yule Program Slated Tonight

"Merry Christmas to the World" is the title of the program being presented by the sixth grade classes of Pinecrest Elementary School at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Each grade group will portray Christmas customs in different countries. Music by the sixth grade chorus is under the direction of Mrs. Jere Straley.

Featured as "Columbia" is Christine Plapp, with "Uncle Sam" played by Peter Kelly. There are also clowns and the public is invited to attend.

Hard Cash, Hard Work

The Boom In Roadside Eateries

By Don Oakley
NEW YORK (NEA) — You can't just pick up and take off in the 20th Century, as great-granddaddy may have done in the 19th, and head west to be an independent farmer on free government land.

But something like 25,000 ambitious, dissatisfied Americans are doing much the same thing every year by kicking over their old careers to set up as independent franchised businessmen. A franchise is far from free, but the reward is the same—the satisfaction that comes from the old dream that every man should be his own boss.

In the past 10 years, a quarter of a million former taxi drivers, clerks, factory workers, waitresses, housewives have invested in anything from hamburger stands to coin-operated dry cleaning centers. Every day 5,000 people apply to the more than 400 companies that use the franchise system; even more roadside stands are started, selling everything from doughnuts to fried chickens.

Franchise outlets, led by the food business, now account for 25 per cent—$60 billion—of all retail sales. This figure will double in the next 10 years, predicts William Rosenberg, a founder and past president of the International Franchise Association, which has rid the industry of most of the shady franchisors who once plagued it.

The mushroom growth of roadside food stands reflects the changing American way of life—more automobiles in more suburbs, more leisure, more free money and more eating out.

First the franchise food operations were started in the 1930s. Today the list of such companies includes 10,000 units across the nation.

This is how franchising generally works: The parent company, the franchisor, licenses a number of independent businessmen (or women) to run its stores or sell its services, using its brand or trade name and running the business along lines established by the company. The franchise usually pays an annual fee, usually based on his volume, and agrees to purchase supplies from the company.

The capital required for an outlet ranges from a few thousand dollars for a root beer stand to $100,000 for a restaurant or motel. But most food service stores take about $25,000—$10,000 cash for the down payment and operating capital and the rest in a short-term mortgage. The investor gains the advantage of a well-known name and advice of the parent firm.

There are, however, pitfalls for those whose enthusiasm may run ahead of their good sense. Though the industry has done much to clean house since the National Better Business Bureau ranked questionable franchising as the second biggest racket a few years ago, there are still con men ready to prey on the unsuspecting, particularly in the vending machine field.

"Investigate before you invest" is the rule recommended by the BBB—investigate the company, its financial strength, its product, its territories and its methods, its rating with the BBB. Prospects should be particularly wary of unsigned, box number "opportunity" ads in newspapers.

Above all, says the BBB, nothing should be signed without discussion of the entire deal with lawyer, banker and family.

For its part, franchising enables the parent company to expand quickly with a minimum capital outlay while having its product sold by people who have a vital stake in the success of the business.

Wins Fellowship
ST. PETERSBURG (UPI)—Dr. Robert C. Meacham, professor of mathematics at Florida Presbyterian College, has been awarded a National Science Foundation science faculty fellowship. He will study and do research at Stanford University for one year, beginning next September.

Because a falling franchise doesn't help the company any more than it does the operator, most require that prospective operators pass a company training program in management, selling and equipment maintenance.

The partnership between company and franchise holder seems to have paid off. The mortality rate of new small businesses in the U. S. is high—about 90 per cent, according to Dun & Bradstreet. By contrast over 90 per cent of franchises are successful.

In Rosenberg's opinion, "Franchising will be the most important single influence in business." His own company has a record of only three percent failures in the 10 years since the first store was opened.

This company's operators average about $27,500 a year on an investment of $31,000. The most successful ones have been found to be people wanting to move up the social and economic ladder from blue collar to white collar, who were unable to finish their work early in life and are used to long, hard hours.

While the rewards may be satisfying for those investing their money in a reputable company, franchising is very definitely not a 40-hour-a-week job. But neither was homesteading.

Carpenters Eye Apprentice Plan

Carpenters Local 2376 of Sanford will make an effort to get an apprentice school established in this area, according to the local's business agent, R. F. Graham.

Representatives of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America will be present Wednesday night at a dinner-meeting for members and local contractors at the Capri where plans for the school will be discussed.

Graham said that the school would be operated for young men 17 years of age and above and would be co-sponsored by the local and the state. The local would furnish instructors and the state would pay for the services under a new program now in effect.

Under the plan, Graham said, the young men would attend classes several nights a week in addition to on-the-job training. Courses would last, Graham said, about four years.

South Seminole Jaycees Active

By Julia Harton
First projects of the South Seminole Jaycees, headquartered in Altamonte Springs and chartered for the past six months, are painting the Altamonte Springs Community Library Building and constructing a school shelter at Hattaway Drive and SR 436 for use by children who walk to school.

Members also are hoping to be able to handle automobile tag sales in the south end of the county as another civic service to the area.

As a fund-raising project, they along with all Jaycees in the state, are selling the new Christmas record for children, "Louie, the Elf."

Members painting the library were served doughnuts and coffee by Mrs. James Walter, Library Association president and Mrs. Helen Raasman, vice president.

Officers of the Jaycees are Robert Miller, president; Robert Hattaway, vice president; Frank Stroupe, second vice president; Edward Bishop, treasurer; Ralph David, secretary and Dale Riggensbach and Tom Walter, directors.

Holiday Foods Plentiful

(The following guide to the nation's best food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.)

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Beef, poultry, fresh fruits and vegetables headline the weekend supplies of food awaiting the holiday shopper.

At fresh produce counters a good selection of fresh vegetables includes plenty of broccoli, carrots, celery, eggplant, lettuce, onions, peppers, squash, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, and turnips.

Fruits bins will offer plenty of apples, bananas, grapefruit, grapes, oranges, peaches, tangerines, and cranberries.

Presbyterians Defend Stand

ATLANTA (UPI) — Leaders of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., issued a statement defending their decision to remain in the controversial National Council of Churches and denouncing the exclusion of Negro members as "unscriptural."

A number of churches in the Southern Presbyterian group withheld funds from the parent organization until it leaves the NCC, which has drawn much criticism for its support of racial integration.

The statement followed a recent meeting here of Southern Presbyterian leaders, headed by Dr. Felix B. Gear, Decatur, Ga., moderator of the church. It was mailed to more than 4,000 churches in the assembly.

The statement said the church "as long ago as 1963" declared itself against racial bars to membership as unscriptural and therefore wrong. "Our church has never departed from this position and has reaffirmed it many times," said the statement, signed by 13 synod moderators and other officials.

The Global View Why Russia Needs The UN

LEO E. Woodcock, assigned to the power plants division of RVAH-3 at Sanford Naval Air Station, has re-enlisted for six years. He and his wife, the former Virginia Roper, reside at Maitland. (Navy Photo)

By Leo E. Woodcock
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (NEA)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko has been serving new masters since Nikita Khrushchev's fall from power. But he is still peddling the old line about "American imperialism."

The four-faced Russian's performance at the United Nations must have been a disappointment to some optimistic Washington diplomats who usually predict a "soft" Soviet policy after each shake-up in the Kremlin. But the Reds refuse to oblige them.

Where the non-Communist world—especially the United States—is concerned, they believe in business as usual, no matter who sits on the top in the Kremlin.

For the present at least, U. S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson is dealing with the Russians gingerly in an effort to avoid a showdown with Moscow. He hopes to convince them to pay the debts of some 3 million dollars they owe the United Nations for its various peace-keeping operations.

But is it wise American policy to negotiate patiently behind the scenes while Moscow is winning the propaganda battle? Even in diplomacy too much patience or a vacillating policy is not always a virtue.

Next time the Russians had the usual charge of colonialism at the United States, Ambassador Stevenson could at least remind them publicly of Mao Tse-tung's recent interview with Japanese leftists.

It certainly takes a Red to catch a Red. As reported by Asian diplomats, Red China's ruler mimed-in words in his talk with the Japanese. "Russia has grabbed far too much territory belonging to other people," he said bluntly.

Maocao, the South Korea islands, claimed by Japan, Outer Mongolia, Russian satellites, and—have it or not—"parts of Eastern Europe."

He said among other things: "Approximately 100 years ago the entire territory east of Lake Baikal became Russian territory. Since then Vladivostok, Khabarovsk, Kamchatka and other areas were the territory of the Soviet Union."

Maocao warned: "I have got to call for an account concerning this list of territories."

Could there be a more dramatic emphasis on the depth of the national and political aspects of the Russian-Chinese conflict?

Maoocao in a recent speech to the United Nations, despite obligations to the UN—pro-Moscow's threats. If pressed, he is likely to throw in the towel too soon.

To add insult to injury, another top Chinese Red, Premier Chou En-lai himself, repeated Mao's charge against Moscow in a statement to a Japanese newspaper. "Russia is today the most aggressive colonialist nation," Chou said.

It is thus the consensus of specialists on communism that the Russians, for all their bluff and bluster, need the United Nations now more than ever as a "third force" and a propaganda forum not only against the United States but also against Red China.

They are not likely to leave the United Nations, despite obligations to the UN—pro-Moscow's threats. If pressed, he is likely to throw in the towel too soon.

Windsor Family Closes Ranks

LONDON (UPI) — Like any other family in the face of trouble the Windsors closed ranks today behind the Duke of Windsor with 28 years of estrangement all but forgotten.

Most of the remaining bitterness in the royal palace over his abdication for love of an American divorcee drained away with the word the 70-year-old former King Edward VIII is in a Houston (Texas) hospital for arterial treatment.

His more Queen Elizabeth sent him flowers as did his sister, the Princess Royal. His brother, the Duke of Gloucester, sent him a get-well soon card.

And in court circles the hope was expressed that the duke would now reconsider his decision never to live again in his homeland unless his duchess, the former Mrs. Wallis Warfield, of Baltimore, is raised to the status of a royal highness.

His insistence on this is the only reason for his self exile from Britain.

The duke's decision to give up the throne to marry Mrs. Warfield about the royal family which places public duty above all else, as few events in its long history.

Red-Nose Saint Nick Generous

MIAMI (UPI) — Residents at the McBride Hotel in downtown Miami were thanking Santa Claus—and drinking to his health when along came Detective Sgt. Scroggie, and took back the cheer.

Early risers at the hotel found 10 cases of vodka stacked in the hallway and thought that St. Nick, bless his red nose, had made an early call.

But police threw cold water on that with a report that the spirits were part of the loot from a warehouse robbery.

They found Jack Youmans, 48, curled up in a cub-a-few blocks from the hotel with four more cases of the cheer.

Youmans and the cab driver, Donald Campbell, 37, found snoozing amid vodka wrappings on the roof of the hotel, were looked for investigation of grand-larceny and breaking and entering.

Sgt. A. Donatelli had the unhappy task of making the door-to-door trip around the hotel getting the stuff back. He got all but about 20 of the 120 bottles.

Christmas Ornaments Poisonous

BEIJAR, N. J. (UPI) — Mistletoe and poinsettias, both symbols of the holiday season, also are deadly poisons.

"They are beautiful and have a pleasant smell, but the mistletoe berries and poinsettia leaf contain enough poison to kill you," warns Belmar pharmacist Sidney Kauffer.

He said there have been cases where children died from eating a single leaf of the poinsettia, the traditional Christmas plant.

An auction was extended to other residents of the community to give their contributions at any time.

All Stops Pulled In Money Bid

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (UPI) — Colorado State University vice president A. R. Chamberlain pulled out all the stops while pleading for more money for new engineering equipment before a budget committee of the state legislature.

"The Smithsonian Institution wants us to donate two of our old microscopes because of their historical interest," Chamberlain told the committee.

"But we couldn't let them have them—we're still using them."

Handshaking A La Lyndon

By William J. Eaton
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Backstairs at the White House, President Johnson appears to be fully recovered from the minor surgery performed Dec. 3 to remove two wart-like growths from the back of his right hand.

Johnson is again using his right hand for handshaking and the small flesh-colored bandages he wore for a time have been discarded.

Dr. George R. Burkley, personal physician to the President, says the bandages were kept on longer than usual as a precaution against infection.

At a reception for about 75 new congressmen a week ago, the President occasionally gripped the four fingers of those in the reception line before they could clasp his hand.

The next night, at a meeting sponsored by the National Urban League, Johnson agreed to shake hands. He often greets members of the audience but passed the word that a hand-shake with national Christmas tree on the elipse just south of the White House.

Another kind of switch is thrown to turn on four red lights on top of tall pine trees inside the White House grounds whenever Johnson returns home by helicopter after dark.

The red lights indicate the route to the choppers' landing pad. Unlike the trimmings on the national Christmas tree, however, they are kept mounted the year around.

Charles G. Dawes, vice president under Calvin Coolidge, was one of the most memorable events of his youth.

At times, Johnson gives a special reception-line greeting—a left-handed grip on the elbow along with the firm hand-shake.

'Catcher In Rye' Ordered Shelved

SAVANNAH, Ga. (UPI) — The novel, "The Catcher in the Rye," was ordered removed from the bookshelves of all Chatham County schools by Supt. Floyd Marshall.

Marshall said a civic group, the Citizens for Decent Literature, complained the novel by J. D. Salinger contained too many vulgar words. The story is about the adventures of a young boy in New York City.

And the voice continued: "And this shall be a sign unto you; ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger."

"Let us go see this thing which has come to pass," said Dav's father. Pale and shaken, they hurried on their way. But in their hearts was great happiness.

Mary saw them, standing by the stable door. "Come in," she said, and her voice was soft and tender. "Here is."

Bear Lake Community Club Sees Plans For Clubhouse

By Maryann Miles
Preliminary sketches were presented at the December meeting of the Bear Lake Community Club by President Dick Ostrander for the proposed clubhouse to be built on the organization's lakeside property on Big Bear Lake. Building plans are being prepared by Ostrander, a practicing architect, and will be completed subject to final approval of the club committee.

Canal Project Starts Thursday

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant will drive a bulldozer across the proposed span of the St. Johns lock near Palatka Thursday to signal the start of construction on the $5.5 million project, the Army Corps of Engineers announced today.

The 600-foot-long, 84-foot-wide lock will be the first of five navigational locks on the Cross-Florida barge canal.

The lock contract is the largest yet awarded for the $158 million canal which will stretch from Jacksonville to Yanketown.

future accomplishments for the area which included repaving of Holiday Avenue and the need for work crews to keep roads free of debris.

Reports on coverage and equipment available through the Lockhart Volunteer Fire Department were given by Capt. Jack O'Hare and Chief Harry Aroian. Work of the department's rescue squad was outlined in detail and it was stated that at least 60 per cent of calls for assistance are for this equipment.

Announcement was made that a drive for new members is slated to get underway in January. Pig in the poke winners were Mrs. Helen Cockley and Mrs. Hazel Loomis and the cash drawing was increased to $5 since Mrs. Frank Boudreau whose name was called, was unable to attend due to illness.

Acting hostesses for Mrs. Boudreau were Mrs. George Appleman and Mrs. Ostrander. A grab bag gift exchange and singing of carols were enjoyed during the social hour with Mrs. Ray Finney as piano accompanist.

Next meeting will be Jan. 21 with C. D. Pence in charge of the program. Hostesses will be Mrs. James Bratt and Mrs. Cockley.

Casselberry MYF Schedules Breakfast

Now You See It, Now You Don't

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — The thief who stole a red chest from the car of the Rev. William Tressler won't find any valuable gems. Instead, he will find:

- Habitats that charge color.
- A clock that vanishes.
- A wooden bowl that bursts into flames and then turns into flowers.

The Rev. Tressler was a magician before he entered the ministry.

By Jane Casselberry
The Intermediate MYF of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church will sponsor a sausage and pancake breakfast Saturday from 6 until 9:30 a.m. in Weaver Hall of the church.

The distinguished chefs, Burbon Ferrell and Marvin McClain, have promised "all you can eat." Tickets may be purchased from MYF members or at the door and those for children under 12 years will be half-price.

A bake sale will be held in conjunction with the breakfast with proceeds from both projects to be used to help send the young people to the junior high weekend retreat in Leesburg in February.

Alexander Selkirk remained as a castaway on Juan Fernandez Island for 4 years and 4 months until the British Navy rescued him.

Cost Of Drugs Discussed For DeBary AARP

By Mrs. John Leone
Cost structures for drug items was explained for members of the DeBary Chapter, American Association of Retired Persons, at their Christmas meeting by guest speaker, Tom Armao, whose appearance was arranged by Glynn Reeder, program chairman.
Armao informed the group that he would assist in anyway possible to bring about a reduction in drug prices as a benefit to senior citizens.
The meeting, led by Mrs. Charles Ulrich, president, opened with prayer followed by the flag salute and committee reports. New members were introduced and welcomed.
An ovation was given Everett Swift who was instrumental in organizing the chapter. The program featured a recitation by Miss Alice Cooper and carol singing with William Keller at the piano.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Reeder served Danish pastries, doughnuts and coffee during the social hour held prior to the meeting.

Mrs. Leone Joins Herald Reporters

Mrs. John Leone, 103 Plantation Road, DeBary, has accepted affiliation with The Sanford Herald as news correspondent for the area.
A resident of the community for some three years, Mrs. Leone is a member and past president of the Auxiliary Unit, Herbert D. Gibbs American Legion Post and also is active in the DeBary Business and Professional Women's Club.
She may be contacted at her home or by telephone at 668-4883.

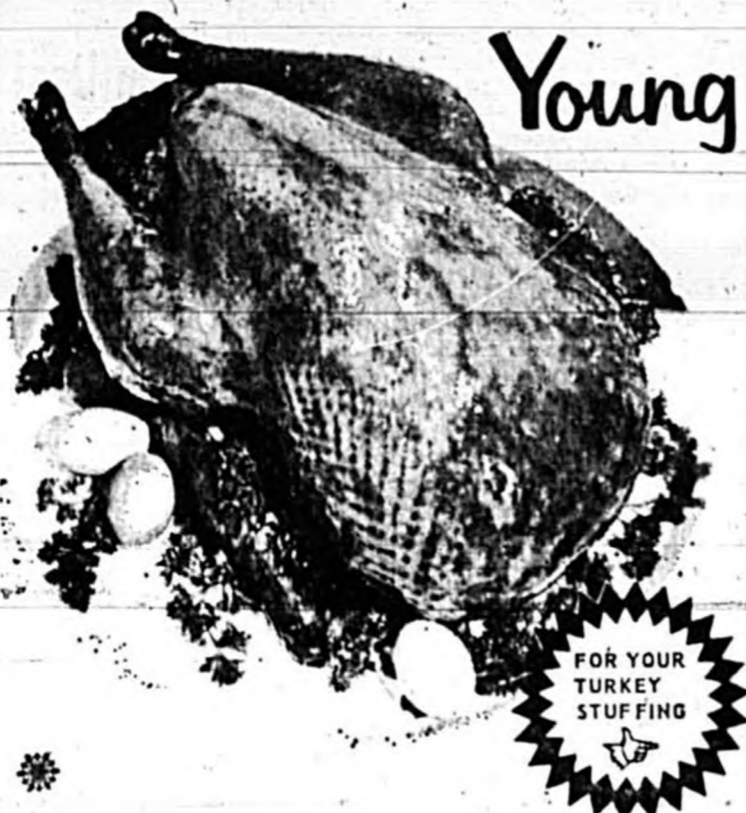

League Donates For 'Judy'

The Friendship League of Sanford Congregational Christian Church met Monday at the home of Mrs. Merrill Robinson in DeBary for a brief business session followed by a Christmas party.
In lieu of a gift exchange the group donated a check to the Judy Kinnaird Fund with the request that similar organizations also make like contributions.
League officials explain that Judy is in Orange Memorial Hospital suffering from fracture of the spine in two places following a hit and run accident several weeks ago. She faces two years of treatment and family funds are extremely limited. Donations to the fund are handled under auspices of the Sanford Lions Club.

Parley Planned
GAINESVILLE (UPI) — The Florida Council of Churches and representatives from state colleges will hold a conference on religion and higher education in Orlando April 27-28.

North Orlando Garden Club Has Gala Yule Meet

By Margaret Cosby
The North Orlando Garden Club had its gala Christmas meeting on Thursday, Dec. 10, at the home of Mrs. Jesse Wallace, 30 South Edgemoor Avenue. Co-hostess was her sister, Mrs. Jackie Blanton.

In a brief business session, Mrs. Jane West, chairman of the North Orlando Christmas outdoor display contest, announced that she is receiving good cooperation from the community and that contest arrangements are progressing satisfactorily. She hopes everyone will have a display for the Dec. 22 contest.

The membership again voted to support the Federation of Garden Clubs.

Mrs. George Duquette announced that the North Orlando Civic Association and the Volunteer Fire Department are cooperating in the "Santa Comes to North Orlando" program this Sunday, and that Santa is expected to arrive, without incident, by fire truck promptly at 2 p.m. with his bag of goodies.

The Garden Club's Mrs. Arthur Dennis, who recently moved to the area from Wakefield, Mass., was given the difficult chore of judging Christmas decorations presented by members at the December meeting of the North Orlando Garden Club.

A GUEST, Mrs. Arthur Dennis, who recently moved to the area from Wakefield, Mass., was given the difficult chore of judging Christmas decorations presented by members at the December meeting of the North Orlando Garden Club.

Her Christmas Dinner Party has been arranged for Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Capri Restaurant in Sanford. Mrs. Anita Mayer is in charge of arrangements.

In connection with the North Orlando Volunteer Fire Department's building fund "Kiddle Day" on Jan. 8, the Garden Club will have a refreshment stand in operation from 3 until 8 p.m. Jane West is in charge of the committee.

For selling the most Christmas cards, a fund-raising project, Mrs. Eita Harville, president, won the prize of a lovely two-foot-tall artificial rose tree.

Christmas creations of the members were on display and appeared like a miniature fairy land in their frosting and gilt edges. Mrs. Arthur Dennis, a guest from Wakefield, Mass., judged the decorations, and three ribbons were awarded to Mrs. W. W. Anderson, first place, for her golden bells cocktail table decoration; Mrs. Raymond E.

Ware, second place, for her twinkling outdoor wreath and third place, Mrs. George Oglesby, for her gold-edged white satin poinsettia centerpiece.

Styrofoam and Elmer's glue seemed to be the mainstay of most decorations, although stiff plastic golf club covers, aluminum pie plates, soda straws, cotton mill spools and wire clothes hangers also were basis of some gorgeous creations.

Secret Pals exchanged Christmas gifts and members delighted in their presents and in learning identity of their Pal for 1964. New Secret Pals were determined for the coming year.

A colorful refreshment buffet revealed a "Merry Christmas Cake," delicate assorted cookies, holly red punch and coffee.

Guests included Mrs. Irene Rocuzzo of Orlando; her mother, Mrs. Arthur Dennis, now from Orlando, and Mrs. David Wallace, mother-in-law of the hostess who has just moved here from Harlan, Ky. The Jan. 14 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. George Oglesby, 6 Algiers. Flower arrangements will be the workshop project for the evening.

WINNERS of the North Orlando Garden Club's Christmas Creations were, left to right, Mrs. Raymond E. Ware, second place; Mrs. W. W. Anderson, first place and Mrs. George Oglesby, third place.

HOSTESS for the Christmas meeting of the North Orlando Garden Club at her Edgemoor Avenue home was Mrs. Jesse Wallace, left, who was assisted by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jackie Blanton as co-hostess.

The Roy Pounds' Host Party Feting Welcome Wagon Club

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pounds recently served as hosts at their Saturna Drive home to the annual Christmas party of the Welcome Wagon Club of Sanford.

The picturesque buffet table contained turkey, baked ham and all the extra fancy trimmings. Congaled salads of Santa Claus and Christmas trees provided colorful festive decorations on the beautiful buffet.

Centering a smaller dessert table featuring a variety of holiday desserts, was an arrangement of poinsettias accented with gold bells, candles, leaves, snow capped holly and Christmas bulbs. Holly, mistletoe and a ceramic Santa Claus were among the other decorations in the entertainment area.

Door prize was won by Clyde Guzas and the centerpieces were awarded John Pugh and Mrs. Harry Hahn. The members exchanged farewells with Mrs. Walter (Eleanor) Blevins and presented her with a bon voyage gift. The Blevins are leaving for Canada.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Guzas and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Stinger.

Among the members and their husbands present were Mr. and Mrs. Bob (Virginia) Petroski, Sanford hostess; Mr. and Mrs. Bob (Phyllis) Rugestein, Lake Mary hostess; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blevins, Sanford president, and Mr. and Mrs. John (Mary) Bush, president-elect.

The next regular meeting will be on Jan. 19 at the Capri Restaurant.

Preserve colorful fall leaves by dipping them in paraffin, which gives a waxy look, or in glycerine, which gives a soft, translucent effect. Leaves also can be preserved with a drying agent such as borax or silica gel.

DeBary Personals

Mrs. R. Silverstein of Yonkers, N. Y., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Murray Gilbert, of Lucerne Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. George Haus-halter of Union, N. J., are the current guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Martin of DeBary Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Breiner of Alamo Road have returned from a month's trip to East Orange, N. J., where they visited their son-in-law and daughter. They also spent some time in Verona, N. J., and Springfield, N. J., where they visited former neighbors and friends. Before returning to DeBary, they spent a week at their farm in Freehold, N. J.

Mrs. Ethel Gray of Bonita Road writes from Ponce, Puerto Rico, she is back teaching school for the Salvation Army. They are housed in a larger building this year, and have added several more class rooms.

Mrs. Gray spent the summer in Europe, leaving from New York on July 1, on a chartered plane to Ganders with 108 in the party.

Their next stop was London then France and Switzerland, Nice and the French Riviera. Mrs. Gray stated she preferred our beaches here at home to any she saw abroad, from the Mediterranean, Monaco, Genoa, Pisa and Rome.

Italy was the next stop, and then Greece. She found Athens beautiful and interesting. They set sail for Tel Aviv, and en route they stopped at Rhodes, Cyprus, Jordan, Cairo and the Pyramids.

They rented a small car for their tour through Florence and Venice and they parked their car in Holland and visited Belgium and returned to Paris where Mrs. Gray left the group and visited her mother's people in Dunkineely, Donegal, Ireland.

She later joined the group again for home, before returning to Puerto Rico.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hartwig of Valencia Road celebrated her birthday with a dinner at home for ten guests on Sunday, Dec. 13.

Debbie Potter of Grande Vista celebrated her 13th birthday, Monday, Dec. 7, at her home. Debbie is the daughter of Mrs. T. J. Potter and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sharp.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul Clay of Camellia Drive recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. William Abrams of New Smyrna Beach.

BLFE Ladies
Plan Yule Party
This Thursday

Mrs. Alfred F. (Barbara) Greene was hostess recently at her home on Jewett's Lane to the December meeting of the Ladies Society of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

The principal item on the agenda was the election of officers who will be installed at the January meeting at the home of Mrs. C. H. Goethe.

Officers elected were Mrs. Robert Eisenhoff, president; Mrs. J. A. Calhoun, vice president; Mrs. C. H. Goethe, secretary; Mrs. H. E. Turner, treasurer; Mrs. Harold Keeling, collector, and Mrs. H. H. Fortner, chaplain.

The social committee will be comprised of Mrs. Walter Cook, Mrs. Harry Wilson and Mrs. Greene. Mrs. H. J. Titshaw and Mrs. Calhoun will serve on the telephone committee.

The annual Christmas party will be held on Thursday, Dec. 17, at the home of Mrs. Turner, 210 West 17th Street. There will be a gift exchange and all members are asked to attend the party and invite interested visitors.

Mrs. Greene served delicious refreshments of cranberry punch, assorted cookies, toasted pecans and mints to the Meses, Eisenhoff, Calhoun, Keeling, Fortner, Cook, Goethe and Turner.

Miss Patricia Bass, R.M. Moye Repeat Vows

Miss Patricia Bass, daughter of C. D. Bass and the late Mrs. Bass, of Sanford, and Robert Melhan Moye, son of

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT MELHAN MOYE

Mrs. and Mrs. James Morris Moye Jr., also of this city, were united in holy matrimony on Nov. 14.

The Rev. B. Hamilton Griffin performed the impressive double ring ceremony at the home of the parents of the groom before an improvised altar under a white laticed archway before the fireplace. Greenery was interspersed throughout the archway, flanked on either side by large silver urns containing arrangements of white glads. A low arrangement of white glads centered the mantle accented by crystal candelabra holding tall white tapers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a sheer white wool street length dress featuring a yoke of Irish lace. Her illusion veil fell from an open pillbox and she carried an old fashioned nosegay of lavender and white orchids and carnations.

Mrs. Faye Orr attended her sister as matron of honor and was attired in Alice blue wool with a nosegay arrangement of matching blue carnations.

It. James M. Moye, III, served his brother as best man.

When you get your good crystal out of hibernation for the holidays, treat it to a soak in a baking soda solution to get it really sparkling. Be sure to line sink with a rubber drain mat first to protect from chipping.

Use an old toothbrush to apply paint remover to carved woodwork.

Mrs. Moye chose for her son's wedding a chic white lace suit over pale green with matching accessories. Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the Moye home. The refreshment table was covered in an exquisite cut work cloth featuring hand embroidery and lace detail. A three-tiered traditional wedding cake was complemented with assorted dainty wedding refreshments.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Howard Montleith, Mrs. Chall Harkey and Mrs. Bill Jennings.

For her going away outfit, the bride wore a smart lavender suit with bone accessories and the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet. Mr. and Mrs. Moye are residing at 1908 Jolly Avenue following a wedding trip to the northern part of the state.

Among the out of town wedding guests were Lt. and Mrs. J. M. Moye, III, now in Germany; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Moye, Tallahassee; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Evans' and daughter, Trudy, Leesburg; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harrison and children, Jan and Rick, Orlando, and Mr. and Mrs. Julian A. Ponder and children, Alan and Mary Kate, Belle Glade.

Mrs. Ruth Gallagher Hostess To Homemakers Yule Party

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson

The artistic country home of Mrs. Ruth Gallagher was the recent scene of the annual Christmas party of the Lake Monroe Extension Homemakers Club. The rooms of the Gallagher home were opened en suite for the occasion and were gaily decorated with Christmas decorations and greenery.

The gifts were placed on the large open hearth of the mammoth fireplace. The dining table was overlaid with white net over a lace tablecloth with silver service placed on one end and the other end held a cat glass punch bowl. The centerpiece of winter floral arrangements placed around differently shaped and colored candles was the attraction of the evening. Place cards were of green Christmas trees with glitter.

Before the party began the county H. D. Agent, Miss Myrtle Wilson, gave a demonstration and showed slides on "Decorate with Color".

In a short business session presided over by the president, Mrs. C. E. Hunter, the club voted to contribute to the Judy Kinnaird fund.

Mrs. Gallagher along with co-hostesses, Mrs. Hunter and Mrs. H. L. Johnson, served fruit cake, pound cake and punch and coffee to the Meses.

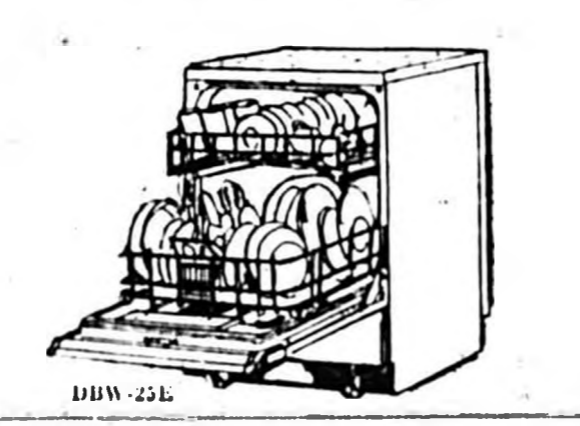

Floors take longer to dry if waxed on humid and hot days.

Make A Chest For Toys And Enjoy Yourself

Here's a Christmas project that can pay dividends year after year — make a toy chest. You'll find it fun. There are many types.

All use the same basic stock of pine. A basic toy chest should be 3 feet long, with sides, top and bottom measuring the same. One 1x12-inch board should run down the center, two 1x4-inch boards on each side. The 1x4's neatly frame the top so that no framing inside is needed.

How about a "covered wagon" chest? It should be 3 feet long, using 1x4's and 1x2's; since the upper course of 1x4's forms the top of the box without any extra framing pieces. The bottom section of the box is easily framed by using corner posts of 1x2's laid flat against the front and back areas. Two extra lengths of this same 1x2" stock are used as runners for an inside alidrine tray made of 1x4" Ponderosa Pine. The bottom of the inside box is covered with a panel of 1/4" hard-board. The tray is set in flush with the top of the bottom section of the chest.

Or make a "circus" chest. The basic box is a rectangle, three feet long. Sides, top and bottom are the same; one 1x12" board down the center, two 1x4" boards on each side. The chest itself needs 1x2" corner posts and runners of the same material to hold a sliding inside tray. This is also made of 1x4's with a hard-board bottom.

Adding special finishing touches gives you and your child an opportunity to give the chest that personal look you want. Make one for Christmas!

Helen Fuller Says

'Burch Must Go'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The betting odds that Dean Burch will be able to hold on to his job as Republican National Chairman are falling fast.

Naturally the anti-Goldwater element in the GOP wants to be rid of the man Barry Goldwater installed as head of the party when he received the nomination for President.

That is just what Burch is now trying to do. There is no indication yet that he has the active help of any except a remnant of the original Goldwater band.

GENERAL TENDENCIES

A restless discontent is present today that makes most everyone fearful and wondering whether or not they can take broken promises or the tension and strain that is now present and that seems unending. However, by doing the work and duties expected of you conscientiously, you can make a big advance.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your partners expect certain things of you and you have made other plans, but wise planning can see them appeased also. Make sure that co-workers have no cause for complaint. Be certain to give them the time and attention that is required for progress.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You may find that what you had planned would cost more in cash than you can comfortably put out at this time. Await a better day before you invest, when your position is infinitely better. Seek the recreation that is wholesome and will cost you little.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can impress others with your excellent physical health and well being, but avoid arguing at home with him later. Desire for self-aggrandizement is tantamount to an irresistible urge and some serious thought will easily accomplish much for you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Expecting too much from buddies is not wise and especially if you use pressure on them. Wait for a better time when they are in a more expansive mood. You are wanted in several places socially, so make it a point to decline the undesirable.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) Be careful in social matters since there are those who would turn on you if you are not in accordance with their way of life. Some allies may be in a bilious mood, but take no offense or be critical. It will pass. Smile understandingly.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) Public affairs could be the source of much trouble now, but if you carry through with own ideas, plans, all is well. Show that you are willing to serve the worthy, and be certain to do so. This makes for greater good will and finer attainments.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You can lose much prestige now if you are not respectful with high-ups and do not attend to the civic affairs that are your finest sphere of expression. One who admires you finds it difficult to voice affection and needs prompting from you.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Being inclined to waltz on a promise or obligation could bring much trouble if you follow through. Show that you are a conscientious person instead and do not be afraid of a difficult job. You are more than equal to it—WORK!

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to Dec. 21) There are so many situations popping up that require you have discussions with associates and not try to peddle the canoe alone. Do not be afraid to go to any arguments with those who have opposite ideas to yours.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to Jan. 20) It would do you no harm to get the practical ideas that co-workers are willing to give so that labors become less tedious for all. Your work is all outlined for you—just roll up your sleeves and dig in with real enthusiasm, wit.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to Feb. 19) Concentrate upon the fine qualities of your allies or you could stoop to unfair criticism because you are not feeling up to par. Try not to alienate sincere affection. Be your own kind, encouraging self and give credit where it is due.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) Giving close ties the support they require, whether of a tangible or spiritual kind, is right thing to do now. Buy thoughtful gifts. Meticulously keeping your word with others is best way to have far greater security in the future.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be so active that you must make it a point to see that getting to bed early becomes a habit at tenderest age, since otherwise your brilliant youngster can become so involved in study, etc., that the nervous system may become impaired.

25th Street Improvement Will Continue - SRD

City, County Differences 'Irons Out'

By Harry L. Johnson
A subtle hint by a State Road Department official Wednesday afternoon softened hidden bristles on the backs of city and county officials and Highway 46 construction will continue.

The two governmental bodies met at the county engineer's office to iron out differences on how to cope with a drainage problem in the 25th Street section.

The SRD official, drainage engineer Al Davis, brought the cool comments to a quick close when he said that the project would continue without delay "if we aren't stopped."

He referred to the change in drainage of the area from an open ditch to pipe. "If we have to redesign (the road plans) there will be a delay." City and county commissioners members caught on quickly and a running discussion of an alleged "agreement" made by a previous county official that the county would help in placing the drainage pipe was dropped—at least in public.

Mayor A. L. Wilson presided at the session and read a lengthy resume of what had transpired since the widening of Sanford Avenue was first discussed in August, 1956.

At that time the city assisted the county with its drainage problem with the understanding that the county would reciprocate when the 25th Street widening project started.

County commissioners said no such agreement could be found in the record. City commissioners insisted it was a moral obligation to keep the agreement.

Yesterday all agreed—with SRD officials listening—that the project should continue no matter what form of drainage is used.

WOULD SCUTTLE:
State engineers had left the open ditch in the road building plans because "there is a ditch so we left it there." To change plans of construction now would probably scuttle the entire operation, an official hinted loudly.

James P. Avery Jr., county commissioner chairman, said he believed four lanes of Highway 46 (25th Street) will not appreciably increase the drainage situation for the city.

He added, however, that with completion of the project, busineses will spring up along the right of way and then the problem "will be compounded."

He expressed sympathy to the city for its problem but insisted it was that governing body's concern. "I wish you didn't have it but you do," he said.

"We will get new business on the highway come hell or high water," Avery declared.

Such businesses, whether it be supermarkets, service stations or others will increase the runoff of water considerably and the city must be preparing to cope with it. "Paving" around such places will prevent the ground from absorbing it and then the drainage situation north to Lake Monroe will be compounded.

City officials had contended that the previously promised pipe would limit the flow of water into the city drainage system and that that form of drainage would be most advantageous.

They said leaving the ditch to handle the drainage would allow too much water to enter the piped portion of drainage and would "rupture" the existing pipes.

Boiled down, the decision yesterday is this: The drainage ditch will remain and the road work will continue. The city will keep tabs on the flooding situation. They delayed any active work on possible changes in the drainage system pending future happenings.

For the benefit of the SRD, some commissioners stated yesterday that no feud existed between the two factions; that the only place the "collision course" existed was in newspaper accounts of what transpired at open meetings of the two bodies.

Banker Heads New Sanford Trade Board

DeWitt Mathews, the auditor of Sanford Atlantic National Bank, today was named by Seminole County Chamber of Commerce President Karylye Householder to head the trade-body's newly authorized Greater Sanford Board of Commerce.

Mathews, who came to Sanford in January of 1963 from the Atlantic National Bank of Jacksonville, said he would immediately recommend a board of 10 directors for appointment by the Chamber.

"We expect to have this board organized by the latter part of next week," said Mathews, "and we'll go right to work."

Mathews pointed out that he and his new group will work to formulate a program to meet the needs of the Sanford Merchants Association as well as the newly organized Sanford Progressive Business Association—a group of South Sanford business and professional people.

"This new board," Mathews pointed out, "will design a program to meet the needs of both merchants and professional people." He added, "The Sanford Merchants group will operate as a wing of the chamber a new division and our program will be established to permit other groups to operate in a similar manner."

Mathews, a native of Jacksonville, was with the Atlantic Bank there for four years before coming to Sanford. He and his wife, Rebecca, and their son, Ted B., and daughter, Toni G., reside at 1800 Sanford Avenue.

Local Pastor Accepts Call To Germany Post

During the past two years Rev. and Mrs. William J. Guess have had a ministry with many L. S. evangelists, for he has been pastor of Pinecrest Baptist Church near Sanford Naval Air Station.

They expect to continue working with servicemen but soon they will be doing it in a different setting. They were employed today by the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board for a five-year term as missionaries in Germany. There they will work primarily with English-speaking Baptist churches of which American military personnel and their families form the core.

Mr. Guess knows the life of a serviceman not only from his personal experience but from personal experience as well. During World War II he served in Europe with the U. S. Army Air Corps. "God kept his hand on me," he remarks, recounting those days. "I was made aware of this when my life was miraculously saved when the B-17 in which I served crashed at sea."

Mr. Guess is a native of Opahey, where his father was a part-time Baptist pastor.

9 VIPs Face Charges

In Omaha, Mayor James Dworak and four others were accused of taking thousands of dollars in bribes from building contractors to smooth the way for the erection of a luxury apartment project.

Acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said in Washington that the misuse of the defense funds, estimated at about $66,000, had been discovered by the Pentagon last fall during a routine audit. The money, $10,000 of which had been earmarked for "certain confidential projects" in South Vietnam, was embezzled between 1960 and 1963. About $12,000 of the money has been recovered.

The men charged in the indictment are scheduled to be arraigned next Tuesday. They are:

—James Robert Loftis, 52, a $20,000-a-year administrative aide to McNamara, who retired March 27.

—John A. Wylie, 57, a $17,500-a-year head of the budget and finance branch in the Pentagon under Loftis who retired last January.

—William H. Godel, 43, a $20,000-a-year deputy director for management of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency. He was removed from office last Aug. 24.

The "envelope case" scandal in Illinois involved a former Illinois revenue director and Otto Kerner, Theodore J. Isaacs, a close aide to Kerner, was charged with misconduct and conspiracy while in office.

The former state official, who managed Kerner's campaign for re-election this fall until

Dora Damage Funds Given Federal Okay

The U.S. Office of Emergency Planning has approved funds expended by the city and county to repair damage caused by the September visit to the area of Hurricane Dora.

The county will receive, subject to a future audit, up to $14,903—the amount requested—and Sanford will receive, subject to a similar audit, up to $1,019.

County Commission Chairman James P. Avery received the county's approval Wednesday. The city's approval was made Nov. 19.

The money was requested after President Johnson set up the disaster procedure following in the wake of the hurricane.

Both the city and county received approval for the amount requested. OEP auditors are expected here soon to check the figures and if the estimates are accurate, checks will be issued in those amounts.

The city sought the fund to reimburse the treasury for overtime paid regular city crews for clearing of debris from the city.

County Engineer William Bush said the county's request was for emergency work done on a number of projects.

These include cleaning out of Bear Creek and the Bear Lake area, installation of a larger drain pipe between Bear Lake and Cub Lake, replacing of a bridge on the Longwood Road, general repairs to washouts and other damage to roads in the southwest portion of the county.

Bush said this county came through the hurricane with relatively minor damage. He noted other counties which suffered damages in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Wildcat Strike Hits Moonport

CAMP KENNEDY (UPI)—Wildcat pocket lines today turned away hundreds of space construction workers and brought major work to a standstill on the huge $750 million Merritt Island moonport.

Pockets were also set up at the main entrances to the nearby Patrick Air Force Base headquarters of the Atlantic Missile Testing Range and construction work on a $1 million laboratory at the base was stopped.

The pockets, members of Carpenters Union Local 1665, authorized at all major construction sites on the moonport.

Carpenters Eye Apprenticeship Unit

Jack Shubard, Florida representative of Carpenters International and Warren County, of the State Council of Carpenters, Wednesday night addressed members and guests of Carpenters Local 2376 relative to the establishment of a school for apprentice carpenters in this area.

Also participating in a discussion was County zoning director Robert S. Brown, county building inspector Charlie Bentham, E. S. Douglas, of the Seminole County school system, and Leslie Luard, of Winter Park, a representative of the State Industrial Commission.

During the meeting at the Cape, Joel Olson of Deland, Jefferson Davis, of Sanford, and Tom Puckett, of Deltona, were named to represent contractors on a committee to complete plans for establishing the school. George Elliott, Frank Graham and Raleigh Sullivan, all of Sanford, were also named to the committee to represent labor.

The committee will meet Jan. 20 with Dauglass and Luard to outline final plans for the school.

Krider Attends Waterway Rites

John Krider, executive manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the St. Johns-Indian River Canal District, was in north Florida today to attend groundbreaking ceremonies for the first construction since the canal was originally planned in 1935.

Mayor Demands Altamonte Quiz

By Donna Estes
Altamonte Springs Mayor W. Lawrence Swofford last night at a meeting of the town council adamantly insisted that the board request the governor to conduct a "complete and full investigation of all charges made against the town government prior to the November general elections."

He pointed out that "irreparable damage has been done to the community by adverse publicity, false charges and rumors circulated at the time" and pledged, in event the board failed to act upon his recommendation, to "bring the matter before the county commission, the district attorney and the grand jury."

He reported that he had been advised in a meeting with the state auditor's representative earlier in the day that cost of an audit already ordered by the governor, will be between $4,000 and $6,000, a sum which must be on deposit in Tallahassee before work begins.

Pointing out again that only 13 per cent of the town's freeholders had signed the petition requesting the audit, Swofford stated that in his opinion "petitioners have a moral obligation to pay for it" and made it plain that he wished all possible haste be taken in the matter.

Ed Levy Sr., defeated earlier this month in his bid for council office, protested payment of the town's tax money for what he termed an "unnecessary audit."

Conclusion of lengthy discussion resulted in an agreement that the town would pay for the audit and that contributions will be accepted from the petitioners although they cannot legally be required to pay for any part of the cost.

Extra Judgeship Bid For County

The Seminole County Bar Association has petitioned Gov. Farris Bryant to set up an additional circuit court judgeship for Seminole County, a part of Division II of the Sixth Judicial Circuit.

The association cites the rapid growth of the county and the additional burden placed on the court because of it.

Division II is comprised of Seminole and Brevard counties. The association recalls that a population survey shows unofficially that the division has a population now of 240,000 with 176,000 in Brevard and 67,500 in Seminole.

It also says the division has three judges, two of whom are residents of Brevard County, the third a resident of Seminole. The petition notes that the population total now qualifies the division for two additional judges.
