McDonald Home Wins Garden Award

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom McDonald at 1100 Cornell Drive has been chosen as the Garden of the Month by the Camellia Circle, represented by Mrs. William Gramkow, Jr. and Mrs. Charles Hardwick.

The beautiful grounds surrounding the home are the creation of Mrs. Mary Lou McDonald who does all of the work in the garden herself, with the exception of a boy who mows the lawn.

A huge bearing orange tree, more than 80 years old, is the local point of the front yard of the home, and it has been carefully landscaped to enhance its beauty with curving beds outlined by border grass and containing many kinds of green shrubs, highlighted with red-foliaged copper plants, yellow hibiscus, and orange ixora, the showy "Flame of the Woods."

In front of the chimney of the home stands the uniquely shaped travelers palm, a fan-shaped plant, renowned for its unusual form. All around the house are green shrubs, ixora, hibiscus and many other varieties of plants, and a graceful cecropia palm in the center of the lawn.

Behind the home, towering Australian pines rise straight up forming a beautiful background for the home. On the east side, more sturdy old orange trees give shade and attractiveness. On this side of the house, a new patio has just been poured, and Mrs. McDonald has already made plans to landscape it in the form of an Oriental garden.

The patio was a prize won by Tom McDonald in a membership contest in the Jaycees.

The McDonalds have lived in their Cornell Drive home since January and it is plain to see that Mrs. McDonald has accomplished a great deal in a few short months.

Mrs. Bill Stemper To Be Contestant On N. Y. TV Show

Word has been received in Sanford that Mrs. Bill Stemper, who is vacationing with her family in New York City will be a contestant on the panel show "The Price is Right," Wednesday at 11 a. m.

The show has the famous Bill Cullen as emcee and contestants can win big prizes for correctly guessing the prices of various articles shown on the show.

Realtor Bill Stemper telephoned the news back to his office so that friends of Mrs. Stemper could be sure to watch for the show.

Mrs. Stemper was one of ten people chosen out of the audience of 2,000 people. She was then interviewed and was one of three people chosen to be on the show.

Eight Cezanne Masterpieces Worth Fortune Stolen From Show

AIX-EN-PROVENCE, France (UPI) — The latest sensational art robbery here has brought to $3,800,000 the estimated total haul

German Ginal Set

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI) — Wimbledon champion Rod Laver of Australia advanced to the final round of the German International tennis tournament Sunday with a 2-4, 6-4, 6-1, 2-4, 6-4 triumph over Wilhelm Bungert of Germany.

of France's six major art thefts since the beginning of last year. Police said today that the sneak thieves who broke into the Vendome Pavillion exhibition hall and stole eight Paul Cezanne masterpieces probably entered through a second floor window while a police guard was being changed before dawn Sunday. A woman caretaker slept through the robbery, according to detectives.

The two guards carried sub-machine guns. Despite them the thieves got away with what is considered the impressionist master's most famous canvas, "The Card Players." The Cezanne masterpiece had been on loan from the Louvre gallery in Paris.

The other stolen paintings also are considered collectors' items. They included "The Skulls," "Reflections in the Water," "The Sitting Peasant," "The Leg of Mutton," "The Keyhole Tower Landscape," "Still Life with Apples and Teapot" and "Sister Marie," a portrait of Marie Cezanne.

Hurried police refused to estimate the value of the latest haul, but insurance sources said the eight moderns were worth a minimum of $800,000.

Wins 2 Titles

WILMINGTON, Del. (UPI) — Linda George of Santa Monica, Calif., won twin honors in the Delaware Girls Grass Court Invitation tennis championships Sunday. She defeated Julie Heldman of New York, 7-5, 6-3, for the singles title and then partnered Andrea Miller of San Carlos, Calif., to a 6-1, 6-1 doubles crown victory against Miss Heldman and Lynn Haines of Dallas, Tex.

Actress Said In Good Shape

MONTEREY, Calif. (UPI) — Movie actress June Allyson, former wife of actor Dick Powell, was reported in "good condition" today at Monterey Hospital, where she underwent kidney stone removal without surgery.

Miss Allyson was stricken with abdominal pains last Thursday when she and Powell visited the Monterey peninsula to pick up their three children, who had been vacationing in nearby Carmel Valley.

County Commission Rules Out Civil Defense Warning System

Gambling With Lives, Peterson

The County Commission by a 3-2 majority today turned down Civil Defense Director A. B. Peterson's request for an additional $25,000 in funds to purchase a warning system for the county despite Peterson's protests that the Commission was gambling with the lives of the people of the county.

Voting against an increase of CD appropriations was District 3 Commissioner James P. Avery, who said that if he thought the warning system would do as good as the traffic light at SR 406 he would vote for it this morning. John Fitzpatrick and Ted Williams also were against the increase.

Favoring the proposal was Chairman J. C. Hutchison and District 4 Commissioner Vernon Dunn who said "we owe it to the people of the county."

Dunn made the motion that the 1961-62 tentative budget be amended to provide for a warning system and if necessary that millage be raised.

Chairman J. C. Hutchison relinquished his chairmanship to vote with Dunn. "We buy life insurance as a protection and I personally would be glad to pay more taxes as a protective measure for the people."

Fitzpatrick asked the board not to act hastily and said he was not going to vote for the raise because of "pressure." The District 5 Commissioner asked that a fund drive be established throughout the county to pay for the system but Peterson emphasized that time was of the essence.

Williams said he would never vote for the raise because he didn't know if the taxpayers who have the burden to pay for any increases would go along with it.

Berlin Reds Fire On Refugees

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist police opened fire today on three East Germans fleeing to the West. The Western commandants in West Berlin protested to the Soviet command against sealing of the East-West border to Germans.

The United States, British and French commandants said the border closing, put into effect early Sunday, was a "flagrant violation of four-power agreements" governing the city.

At least 50 East Germans managed to escape to the West during the day, some in hairbreadth moves.

A man and wife swam to freedom across the Britz canal, despite bullets fired at them by Communist police on the Eastern bank. Another rammed his automobile through a barrier despite a burst of gunfire.

The refugee flight was reduced to a trickle by the constantly tightening Communist restrictions on travel between East and West Berlin.

This morning, the Reds announced that free travel for West Berlin vehicular traffic was limited to those persons possessing special permits, and issued the permits at only three of the city's 12 border crossings still open.

Except for a warning shot fired Monday, the gunfire was the first since the Communists sealed the border to the refugees on Sunday.

As the East Germans tightened their stranglehold on East Berlin, scores of anti-Communists were reported arrested. The flow of refugees, which had run as high as 2,000 in a single day last week before the border closing, was trimmed today to about 30 who eluded the border guards.

Behind the barbed wire, tank and machinegun-manned border fence, Communist police were reported hunting down persons suspected of trying to join the exodus.

East Berliners said police combed hotels, boarding houses, railroad stations and even private homes.

The County Commission today ignored a letter of resignation from the county health director, Clyde D. Brothers, amid shouts of "Hear" and a near exchange of blows between two commissioners and agreed to relieve Brothers of his job effective Aug. 31.

District 4 County Commissioner Vernon Dunn accused two commissioners, James P. Avery and Ted Williams, of trying to get rid of Brothers from the start.

"How many heads will roll now," Dunn shouted. "Whose head is next. I deplore this condition and in my opinion it is an attempt by you two to close the health department doors."

Avery shouted back "that is a lie."

Dunn, shouted "heart attack or no, take that back" and with the demand, Dunn rose to his feet.

Chairman J. C. Hutchison asked everyone to sit down. Dunn went into the law library to "take it easy."

The commission then voted to disregard the letter of resignation that Brothers submitted on the basis of a special commission meeting Monday night.

Two Commissioners Exchange Angry Words

The County Commission today ignored a letter of resignation from the county health director, Clyde D. Brothers, amid shouts of "Hear" and a near exchange of blows between two commissioners and agreed to relieve Brothers of his job effective Aug. 31.

District 4 County Commissioner Vernon Dunn accused two commissioners, James P. Avery and Ted Williams, of trying to get rid of Brothers from the start.

"How many heads will roll now," Dunn shouted. "Whose head is next. I deplore this condition and in my opinion it is an attempt by you two to close the health department doors."

Avery shouted back "that is a lie."

Dunn, shouted "heart attack or no, take that back" and with the demand, Dunn rose to his feet.

Chairman J. C. Hutchison asked everyone to sit down. Dunn went into the law library to "take it easy."

The commission then voted to disregard the letter of resignation that Brothers submitted on the basis of a special commission meeting Monday night.

The board voted to write the State Board of Health requesting discussion of a new health director.

Monday night it happened this way:

"I will cut the budget. I will follow your orders. . . . And the next day, you will receive my resignation!"

With these words, an angry Brothers stalked from the County Commission room where he had been called for a special hearing before the board.

"On the basis of Dr. Brothers' last statement," said Commissioner John Fitzpatrick, "I move that the state health officers be advised that Dr. Brothers' services no longer will be required."

Commissioner James Avery seconded the motion and the roll call vote showed Avery, Fitzpatrick and Ted Williams voting for the motion and Commissioner Vernon Dunn and Chairman J. C. Hutchison voting "no."

Events leading to the fiery meeting, which saw accusations fly and lack of cooperation denounced, have been a gathering thunderhead for months as Brothers fought for a millage increase to carry on the work of the health department here and the county commissioners remained adamant at permitting no increase, either in the millage or in the budget for the department.

In action leading up to Brothers' final statement, Commissioner Avery told the health director:

"Take what we have given you and do the best you can with it."

Avery also hit Brothers with the query:

"Is it true that you held staff meetings and told your people at the health department to put pressure on us?"

"Yes, I did," Brothers replied. "It was no secret."

Avery: "Have you approached any state people and asked them to cut your appropriations in order to bring us in line?"

Brothers: "No, I was summoned to a staff meeting in Jacksonville. We worked on the state budget in the assumption that the millage here would not be raised."

Commissioner Vernon Dunn interrupted with:

"We all know the value of preventive medicine. Health and welfare is a very important phase to prevent the spread of communicable diseases. If it is necessary to raise money to provide this care, I say, let's raise it."

Avery insisted that the main point was a "matter of policy."

"Are you going to cooperate with the commission or not? he again asked Brothers.

"We live in a democracy, where the expression of the will of the people is the policy," said Brothers. "Ninety percent of the people that I talk to are in favor of good health."

Dunn reminded the commission that Brothers had the backing of the entire Seminole County Medical Assn. and that Dr. Vincent Rubens had personally appeared before the commission to plead Brothers' case.

Fitzpatrick, who had remained silent up to this point, addressed Brothers in stern tones.

"Some of your statements to the press and public have been ill advised," he said.

"I advise you to remember that we are boss. You had better cooperate with us as long as you are employed by this county."

"My aim is to provide this county with the best possible health service," Brothers replied.

"Then do we have your assurance that you will cooperate with us?" asked Fitzpatrick.

Brothers then made his final statement and when the commissioners voted 3-2 to accept his resignation when it is tendered, rose and left the room.

Casselberry Hears Town Hall Plans

Casselberry Town Hall Committee Chairman Cliff Overman presented a report at Monday's Board of Aldermen meeting which recommends that the town build a new 3,600 square foot Hall and suggests that the present utility tax be increased by five per cent to finance its construction.

The building, with an estimated cost of $50,000 would be of Colonial design with a meeting room seating capacity of at least 300 persons. Included would be the offices of the mayor and clerk, police station, rest rooms, utility and janitor's rooms and two jail cells.

Building site for the structure has been offered by Hubbard Casselberry in the proposed shopping center area where the new Post Office is located. The property, located on Lake Triplet Dr., has a 115 foot frontage on the already paved parking area.

Plans call for putting the tax increase measure to a referendum vote of the townspeople when the December municipal elections are held although it is not necessary through ordinance.

Other members of the committee appointed by Mayor Joseph Laird are Ben Evans and Don Willson.

Palms Hotel Owner Put On Notice

The owner of the Palms Hotel Monday night was put on notice that no new hotel license will be issued for the hotel until improvements are made on the W. First St. building.

The City Commission at a hearing to revoke the city license of the hotel, forbade any tenants from using the hotel and when license renewal time comes up (Oct. 1) no new license will be issued.

At the hearing, F. Ambrose Olliff Jr., represented the owner, Mrs. C. H. Olliff of Tampa. The Sanford attorney stated that at the present, Mrs. Olliff is trying to get a more definite understanding from the State Hotel and Restaurant Commission as to what alterations and repairs are deemed necessary to bring the property within the standards of the commission.

Both the city and state have termed the hotel a health menace and fire trap.

Olliff said that the owner of the hotel plans to make the needed repairs and that "we want to cooperate fully with the city."

However, Commissioner Tom McDonald asked the board to revoke the license and said "nothing was done in the past to clean up the hotel — why should we expect something to be done now. Let's put the burden on the owner and not on the city," McDonald said.

"We have been too lenient in the past," he added.

J. H. Crapps voiced opposition to such strong action and said, "we can accomplish the same thing by just warning her and telling her that no new license will be issued unless the state requirements are met."

The remainder of the board members agreed with Crapps. Olliff said that the owner plans a great deal of improvements, but that they won't exceed $20,000.

To this, Commissioner Earl Higginbotham said, "we're doing her an injustice by letting her spend her money fixing up that place."

Knowles Presents Plans For Disaster Shelter

The City Commission Monday night accepted City Manager W. E. Knowles' preliminary plans for a disaster headquarters for a disaster headquarters to be located east of the reservoir on 13th St. and French Ave. and gave Knowles the green light to proceed with plans on the structure.

At the same time, Civil Defense Director A. B. Peterson complimented the commission for its initiative in taking the Civil Defense lead in the county saying, "you have shown the way by recognizing the need for action."

He also complimented Knowles for his complete support in working with Civil Defense.

In explaining the disaster headquarters, Knowles said that the structure would be used to carry out vital city services during any disaster period.

The shelter would house 10 persons and would also be used to store valuable city records.

In other business, the board acted on approving a new zoning ordinance for Sanford pending clarification of certain points.

Longwood School Sets Registration

Longwood Elementary School will hold registration for all new pupils in the Longwood School area on Wednesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. to noon. Principal John Angel announced today.

Pupils previously attending there need not come to the school at this time.

Parents of children who will be six years old before Dec. 31, 1961, are required to bring their child's birth certificate.

Instructional aid fees of $3 will be accepted at the time of registration.

Residents Urged To Attend Meeting

Lee Pearson, member of the Democratic National Committee 750 Club, said Monday that all residents of voting precincts in the central and south sections of the county are urged to attend an organizational meeting to form a Democratic Club which would be representative of their areas.

Included in the areas on Pearson's map were those from Lake Mary west and south to the county line and through the North Orlando area east and south to the county line.

The meeting will be held at the Women's Club of Casselberry at 7:30 p.m. today. Club officials and various committee chairmen are to be elected at the meeting.

Pearson said that "the purpose of organizing such a party group is to give the people of South Seminole County a more representative voice both in county and state government."

Team Sent For Hijacked Plane

MIAMI (UPI) — Eastern Air Lines sends a team to Havana today to recover the hijacked $3.2 million prop-jet Electra held by the Castro regime since July 24.

The United States, in turn, was expected to return soon a pirated $50,000 Cuban patrol boat from Key West, Fla. It was brought to this country by a band of Cuban navy defectors on July 29.

Harris Advertising Co. of Miami, which had seized the vessel under a federal court order, announced Monday night it was releasing its claim to the boat "in an effort to demonstrate national unity."

The advertising agency holds a judgment against the Cuban government for an unpaid promotion debt and has been confiscating hijacked Cuban planes and ships to satisfy the lien.

Among the Eastern employees flying to Cuba today were Herbert C. Dobb, special assistant to the company's executive vice president, six mechanics and a three-man flight crew.

Waterfront Lease Studied By City

Terms of a proposed lease of the city pier and boat launching ramp for construction of a marina on the Sanford waterfront were taken under study Monday night by city commissioners and the city attorney.

Commissioners advised Jack Trim, applicant for the lease on the city property, that they would insist that the lease spell out a guarantee that the boat ramp be continued as a free launching facility and would include a provision giving the city final approval of the plans for any structures to be built on the pier before the lease is signed.

AROUND THE CLOCK

By LARRY VERSHEL
Now that the County Commission has forced Health Director Clyde D. Brothers to resign his post I wonder who will be next on the board's agenda. The commission has made it rough on Brothers since January.

Driving up Sanford Ave. late Monday afternoon we noticed the cars of some of the county commissioners in front of Ted Williams home. Was it a secret meeting? We called Ted and he said "we were just having coffee. . . why didn't you stop by?"

Wouldn't it be a good idea for the commission to look over the Public Library before discussing the department's budget appropriations. We hear that only the Mayor has been inside the place for many years.

What ever happened to the City Commission's plan to redecorate the commission chambers? Perhaps the board got a cost estimate of those drapes.

Don't forget the county board of equalization meeting Wednesday starting at 9:50 a. m. and the city equalization meeting set for Sept. 7 at 3 p. m.

Navy Joins Giant Buildup

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Navy has joined the emergency buildup of U. S. armed forces with plans to keep 26,500 men on active duty for an extra six to 12 months, starting next month.

The announcement, part of President Kennedy's military strengthening spurred by Soviet threats to Berlin, came Monday as the Berlin situation grew more tense hourly.

Kennedy conferred with his top diplomatic advisers on the situation, but high administration sources said there was nothing the United States could do in this situation—except to keep the Communist crackdown on East-West travel through the beleaguered city.

The Air Force already has alerted reserves for possible call-up next month, and the Army is hurriedly bringing three home-based divisions to combat readiness for possible shipment to Europe.

Navy officials said the extended tour, to go into effect Sept. 1, would apply to 24,000 enlisted men and 2,500 officers of the rank of lieutenant commander or lower.

In September, the Navy estimated about 80 officers and 1,600 men whose tours would have ended will be extended for six months to a year, while in October 400 officers and 1,800 men probably will be affected.

From October to next June, the Navy said, about 90 per cent of the officers and 80 per cent of the men who would have completed their tours will be kept in.

However, the Navy said that if there are sufficient numbers of men and officers who volunteer to stay on, the involuntary extensions would be reduced.

Enlisted men particularly affected by the move included boatwains' mates, aviation jet mechanics, oiler repairmen, signalmen and parachute riggers.

In previous preparedness moves, the Defense Department put 71 Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve units on alert for possible call-up. Six wings of B-47 bombers, totaling 270 planes, will be kept in service instead of being junked.

Three Army divisions, previously devoted to training recruits, will build up to full combat strength. A new training center will open in September at Fort Carson, Colo., and 10 other training centers will be expanded.

To carry out the Army buildup, the draft call has been raised to 25,000 for September compared with 13,000 in August and an average of about 3,300 a month earlier this year.

Saturn Booster Arrival At Cape Set After Long Trek

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—America's 50-ton Saturn rocket booster, which carries this country's hopes of reaching the moon, arrives here by slow boat today.

The Saturn booster has been proceeding on its 2,300-mile journey by barge, at a slow pace, for 10 days. It was shipped from Huntsville, Ala., down the Mississippi and finally reached the Cape via the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic Ocean.

Only a short haul by truck remained to take the 85-foot rocket from an unloading platform at Eau Gallie, 15 miles south of here on the Banana River, to Pad 34 at the Atlantic missile firing range.

The booster and a dummy upper stage that will be tested here later this year were manufactured at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville.

The barge, air conditioned and pressurized, was built at a cost of $250,000. It is covered to protect the vehicle from the elements.

While technicians of the Marshall Space Flight Center were building the Saturn and attaching its eight great engines at Huntsville, other crews have been busy here building the Cape's biggest launching platform to handle the rocket.

The service tower alone for the great rocket was a major construction project. It stands 310 feet tall, weighs 2,000 tons and is delicately balanced on four wheels so it can be rolled back from the launching site.

When it becomes operational with upper stages, probably in 1964, Saturn will be able to put payloads of 19,000 pounds into 300-mile earth orbits or 2,500 pounds on Venus or Mars.

The rocket will be used for Apollo around the unannounced spaceflight — NASA's planned three-man space ship for earth orbital and around-the-moon flights, Mars and Venus probes and soft landings on the moon with large instrumented spacecraft.

Truck Driver, Hero Last Week, Dies In Crash

LIBERAL, Kan. (UPI)—Clair Eugene Fulkerson was a bright, ambitious young man who was a hero in the eyes of his family and neighbors.

Last week the 23-year-old, dark-haired truck driver saved his son's life by applying mouth-to-mouth respiration after the boy had nearly drowned in a backyard wading pool.

Monday, Fulkerson's big tractor-trailer truck collided with the Rock Island Railroad's fast "Imperial" passenger train at a crossing just inside the city limits of this southwestern Kansas community.

He was killed instantly. Fulkerson was a good truck driver and police were unable to explain how the accident could have happened.

Two-year-old Tommy Fulkerson, too young to remember, had stopped breathing and his skin had turned blue last Wednesday when his father scooped him from the bottom of the plastic wading pool. Fulkerson brought the boy back to life by breathing into his mouth.

Further investigation is being pressed to determine what phase of this type the parts might belong to. Numbers found on some of the pieces are being traced through the files of the Douglas Aircraft Corporation which manufactures the craft.

Wreckage Pieces Identified As Parts Of Navy Plane

The parts of an aircraft washed ashore over the weekend at Daytona Beach have been identified as being structural pieces of a Navy A4D bomber, a Navy spokesman said today at the Naval Air Station, Sanford.

Investigation is being pressed to determine what phase of this type the parts might belong to. Numbers found on some of the pieces are being traced through the files of the Douglas Aircraft Corporation which manufactures the craft.

Last Artist At DeBary Mansion

MRS. ADAM MULLER — Miss Anne E. Luke, Georgia artist who will be the last resident teacher of the season at DeBary's Mansion House headquarters of the Florida Federation of Art, was honored at a tea Sunday from 2 p. m. until 4:30 p. m.

Miss Luke teaches in watercolor, oils, portraits and landscapes and began 9 a. m. until noon classes, Monday through Friday, on Monday morning.

On Wednesday, at 2 p. m. she will give a demonstration in "landscapes in oils" and another demonstration will be held the following Wednesday at the same hour.

Evening classes and private lessons can be arranged. Miss Luke is a graduate of Wesleyan College, Macon, Ga., and of Cooper Union in New York. Her paintings have been shown in Washington D. C., in Pittsburgh and in the Central Art Galleries in New York.

Agencies Scrapping Over Loan Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Government agencies are scrapping the Treasury Department's proposal to boost the taxes paid by savings and loan associations and mutual savings banks.

The Housing and Home Finance Agency foresees dire results in the loss of home mortgage credit. So does the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

But the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. and the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System are in the Treasury Department's corner.

The proposal, which has the enthusiastic support of the commercial banking industry, is now before the House Ways & Means Committee. President Kennedy proposed it as one of his major tax reforms.

The measure would impose a corporate income tax on the mutual thrift institutions which would bring in $378 million the first year and up to $549 million five years from now.

But the Federal Home Loan Bank Board has warned congressmen the tax would have an adverse effect on home mortgage credit with a loss ranging as high as $4.5 billion.

The board contends this would happen because savers would take their money elsewhere if dividend rates are reduced.

"Every billion dollars of real estate credit dissipated as a result of the diversion of funds from savings and loan associations to commercial banks means an annual reduction of 80,000 housing units," the board said.

The Housing and Home Finance Agency also said the tax hike could bring "a significant decline in homebuilding."

But Earl Cucke Sr., chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., said that way at all. "The tax will have no great impact upon the total savings of the American public," he said.

Cocke said savings and loan associations and mutual savings banks are competing with commercial banks for the savings and loans of the people.

"Whatever basis might have provided justification in the past for a favored tax position to mutual thrift institutions," he said, "we now believe such institutions have grown in financial strength to the extent that they should be expected to bear their full share of the tax burdens of the nation."

Chairman William Martin Jr. of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System said there was "little logic" in the way the present law was set up.

'Old Motorist' Turns Over License

VALLEY STREAM, N. Y. (UPI)—An 81-year-old motorist, who can boast of a perfect record during his 43 years behind the wheel, voluntarily turned in his operator's license Monday out of consideration for all the "young people on the road."

Frederick S. Kappauf's decision was applauded by State Motor Vehicle Commissioner William S. Hulta, who called the gesture a "fine thing."

Kappauf, who is in good health, was in no danger of having his license taken away. He never had an accident or received a summons in 43 years of driving.

But he said he decided to relinquish the license because he feared that at his age he might suddenly become ill while at the wheel and possibly injure others.

Rejection Seen For Auto Demands

DETROIT (UPI)—The auto industry has started rejecting some of the United Auto Workers' new contract demands, despite a union threat to call a strike in 16 days.

Chrysler Monday turned down two UAW proposals—to put hourly rated production workers on salaries and to start a joint assault on Congress for passage of the union's far-reaching legislative program.

Both General Motors and Ford are believed to feel the same way about those and other UAW proposals and are expected to follow Chrysler in rejecting them sometime before the present contracts expire Aug. 31.

The Chrysler move came in the face of UAW action to take a strike vote from 500,000 workers employed by the automotive Big Three.

The strike poll will start this week and is to be completed by Aug. 28. That is the date the UAW executive board will meet to set a strike target date if no "progress" is made by then at the bargaining tables.

Vandals Attempt To Destroy Alamo

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Police said Monday vandals tried to burn down the historic Alamo, but it was either the work of kids or a "rank amateur."

Detective T. M. Barnes said the attempted arson at the Alamo, cradle of Texas independence, did little damage.

He said someone waded up newspapers and stuffed them around the back door of the shrine, but the fire "burned only a little way" into the door and went out by itself.

OPT-CONQUERED

Among the conquerors of Lebanon have been the Babylonians, Assyrians, Greeks, Romans an Ottoman Sultan, troops of Napoleon III and the British Army of General Allby in World War I. It was controlled by France between World Wars I and II and became an independent republic on Jan. 1, 1944.

Jo Anne Adams Weds Kenneth R. Evans In Ceremonies At Methodist Church

Miss Jo Anne Adams, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. John Thompson Adams Jr., and Kenneth Richard Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Evans, Deerfield Beach, were married Saturday at 4 p.m. at the First Methodist Church in Sanford.

Junior maid of honor, Miss Jane Adams, was dressed in an identical outfit. Miss Susan Adams, who served as flower girl, wore a dress of yellow silk organza with a yellow satin sash, and carried white baskets decorated with daisies. The father of the groom served as his son's best man. Ushers were Harry Jarvis, Steubenville, Ohio; William McConnell, Orlando, both uncles of the groom, and Patrick Figley, Ft. Lauderdale. An embroidered blue linen sheath with a short jacket, a feather hat and shoes in the same color were worn by the mother of the bride. Her corsage was of white phalaenopsis orchids.

For the occasion the groom's mother chose a dress of coral silk jersey. She wore white accessories, and her corsage was also of white phalaenopsis orchids. For a wedding trip to Florida's southeastern coast, Mrs. Evans departed in a silk suit of Copenhagen blue and a feather hat of the same color. Her shoes and bag were black patent, and she wore a white phalaenopsis orchid corsage. The couple will reside in Pompano Beach.

Rev. Adams performed the double ring candlelight ceremony assisted by Dr. Laurie G. Ray, uncle of the bride. The first part was conducted by Dr. Ray, and, after giving his daughter in marriage, Rev. Adams completed the ceremony.

Ivy twined the altar rail ending on each side with a candle and white sprayed magnolia leaves. The white leaves and candles were repeated in window decorations.

Lighted tapers entwined with ivy interspersed with gladioli flowers adorned the choir loft. This was flanked with arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

The bride's gown was of white nylon organza over taffeta. The scoop neckline and short sleeves were outlined with seed pearls. The gently pleated skirt ended in a short brush train. Her veil was of silk illusion held in place by a crown of pearls.

She wore the small strand of pearls which her mother had worn at her wedding, and carried the handkerchief which had been carried by her paternal grandmother, her aunt and two cousins at their weddings. White Marguerite daisies and variegated philodendron made up her bridal bouquet.

Maid of honor, Miss Kae Adams, wore a street length gown of yellow silk organza with satin trim. A circular veil was attached to her small yellow hat, and she wore shoes of the same shade. Her bouquet was of yellow Marguerite daisies and ivy.

MRS. KENNETH RICHARD EVANS (Photo by House of Rahija)

The bride, born in Waycross, Ga., has spent most of her life in Florida. She attended Miami Edison for her junior year of high school, was chosen to participate in Stetson's early admission program, and entered the university as a freshman the following fall. In February, she will receive a B. A. in Elementary Education from Stetson.

At Stetson, she has been active in the Wesley Foundation, serving as president her junior year. She was a member of the executive council of the state Methodist Student Movement, and spent a summer on the leadership team at the Florida Methodist Youth Group.

The groom, born in Steubenville, Ohio, has lived in Florida since childhood, and graduated from Pompano High School. While in high school, he attended Boy's State and went from there to Boy's Nation. He also served as Lt. Gov. of Key Clubs of Florida.

A 1960 graduate of Stetson University, he was a member of Pi Kappa Phi and was active in the Wesley Foundation. He was also president of the Student Union Board, and belonged to Stetson Players' Guild.

His senior year he was assistant director of Youth at Trinity Methodist in DeLand, and he is presently on the faculty of Deerfield Beach Junior High School.

Following the wedding a reception was held in McKinley Hall.

Officers Wives Plan Benefit Party

Final plans and decorations were being whipped into shape for the OWC Benefit Card Party set for 12:30 Thursday at the N.A.S. Ballroom when the committee met recently at the lovely Mellonville home of Mrs. C. N. James Jr. All officers wives, wives of retired and reserve personnel and their civilian friends are cordially invited to use their bridge and canasta skills in an effort to win the intriguing prizes selected by the committee. Proceeds will be given to the Navy Widows Home to be constructed in Washington, D. C.

Bridge reservations are to be made in partnerships. Players will remain with their own partners the entire session, changing tables at the end of each 45 minute period.

Cool drinks and plenty of color-loaded goodies will be served by two gracious floating hostesses, Mrs. Blunden, Clever decorations in a card-playing theme and all other arrangements have been made by Mrs. James and her committee which includes Mrs. J. J. Moynihan, Mrs. F. H. Galloney, Mrs. R. H. Stolpe, Mrs. Bud Gear and Mrs. Blunden.

Adams - Evans Reception Held At McKinley Hall

McKinley Hall was the scene of the reception which immediately followed the Adams-Evans wedding Saturday at the First Methodist Church. Hosts, the bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Whipple of Waycross, Ga., were unable to attend. Mrs. Bess Herman was in charge of arrangements.

A crystal bowl of yellow and white chrysanthemums centered the table which was covered with white organza over yellow. Crystal candelabra with white tapers and a crystal punch bowl were used. The four tiered wedding cake was topped with spun sugar belts backed with a puff of ribbon and lilies of the valley.

Miss Betsy Ann Carter, Miss Margaret Jones, Miss Eileen Myers, Miss Valerie Kirchhoff and Miss Anna Lee Herman acted as floating hostesses.

Out of town guests who attended both the wedding and the reception included Mr. and Mrs. John T. Adams Sr., Tampa; Miss Irwin Smith, Waycross, Ga.; Miss Sandy Martina, Winter Park; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Montgomery, Deerfield Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jarvis, Steubenville, Ohio; Mrs. Weyman Cooper, Mrs. Howard Montgomery and Mrs. Persia Black, Miami; Mrs. William McConnell and sons, Orlando; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Figley and Carol Ann Figley, Ft. Lauderdale; Mrs. Laurie G. Ray, Tampa; Mrs. Richard Graham, Brandon; Mrs. C. L. Howell, Coral Gables; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberts and Rev. and Mrs. Scott Rutan, Holly Hill; and Mr. Vernon Cade, Seville.

DeLand guests were Mrs. Leslie Hagstrom, Mrs. G. G. Alexander, Miss Eretta Faber, Mrs. Walter Partz, Miss Judy Cliff, Miss Ann Jamieson, Miss Jackie Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sartain.

They were, in addition to the bride and groom, Rev. and Mrs. John T. Adams, Misses Kae, Jane and Susan Adams, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Adams Sr., Mrs. Ben Wiggin, Mrs. Bess Herman, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Powell.

Silver Tea Honors Nancy Rountree

Mrs. Ralph Lossing and Mrs. J. P. Wilson were hostesses recently at a silver tea given in honor of Miss Nancy Rountree who became the bride of Jerry Lancaster Saturday.

During the afternoon about 75 guests called at the home of Mrs. Lossing on Pinecrest Drive which was the scene of the event. A pink and blue color scheme was carried out with bouquets of pink asters and hibiscus interspersed with accents of twining ivy and fern.

On the tea table, which was overlaid with a lace cloth, a crystal punch bowl was surrounded with pink hibiscus and ivy, and two sterling silver, three-branch candelabra held burning pink tapers.

Greeting the guests in the receiving line were Miss Rountree, Mrs. A. D. Rountree, Mrs. Lossing and Mrs. Wilson. Floating hostesses were Mrs. A. C. Cleveland, Mrs. Martin Stinecoper, Mrs. D. K. McNab, Mrs. Lee Patton and Mrs. Max Lossing. Those who poured at the punch-bowl were Miss Grace Marie Stinecoper and Mrs. Gene Estridge.

A piece of her chosen pattern of silver was presented to the guest of honor by the hostess. Refreshments included two special recipes of Mrs. Wilson, the punch and dainty little poofs of meringue. Also, tiny open face sandwiches and mints were served.

Navy Wives 211 Plan Coming Events

Plans for coming events were made at the monthly meeting of Navy Wives Club 211 which met recently at the NAS Ballroom. The president, Mrs. Heth Robertson, welcomed a new member to the group, Mrs. Beverly Noto, and introduced a guest, Mrs. Carol Jenkins.

It was decided to donate five dollars to the Seminole County School for Retarded Children to be used as needed.

Thursday at 6 p. m. a pot luck supper will be held at the Ballroom for members and their husbands. Chairman for the event is Mrs. Audrey Leist.

Sewing circles will be started in September to make handcraft items which will be sold later at a bazaar planned by the club.

Mrs. Phyllis Paul will be hostess for the next meeting set for Sept. 11 at her home.

Enterprise Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cockrell are the proud parents of a daughter, Marilyn Frances, weighing six lbs. three ozs., who was born at Seminole Memorial Hospital Aug. 3. Mrs. Cockrell was the former Miss Gail Taylor.

Woodalls Entertain Friends At Hawaiian Luau

Elaborate decorations transformed the yard of the Highland Park home of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Woodall into a typical Hawaiian scene when they entertained friends with a luau party Saturday.

Mrs. Charles M. Rust created the decorations which included tounge torches, water lilies floating in the pool and a simulated seven foot tree covered with exotic flowers and large butterflies.

A palmetto hut covered the buffet table which was centered with an elaborately carved watermelon, arranged with cantaloup and fresh pineapple.

Featured in the buffet were dishes one would expect to see at a genuine Hawaiian feast: taraki steak, roast pork, ham, fresh shrimp, garlic bread, fresh fruit and Hawaiian punch.

During dinner the guests were entertained by a comedy skit by Mrs. Stanley Dakin and hula dances by Miss Pat Bertraug. Swimming and dancing were enjoyed later.

Those from Sanford who attended were Maj. Ralph Wood, Jimmy Wright, Mrs. Rust, Mrs. Harold McCumber, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Flamm, Mr. and Mrs. John White, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Boezers, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Whitmore, and Mr.

Guests from Orlando were Dr. and Mrs. Milton Yahue, Dr. and Mrs. Travis Orton, Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Dakin and Dr. and Mrs. Frank Dean.

Other out of town guests were Dr. John Harkins, Winter Park; Dr. and Mrs. Richard Loeffler, St. Cloud, and Dr. and Mrs. Harry Ansley, Apopka.

The Matterhorn, Switzerland's most famous peak, was first climbed in 1865. The British-led expedition ended tragically when three members of the party fell to their deaths during the descent.

(Viedo) Personals

Ben Wainwright enjoyed a trip to Hendersonville, N. C. with J. W. Bedenbaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. John Eason and Miss Esther Eason arrived Saturday to be with their sister, Mrs. Mae King.

Cities Look Ahead

City and regional planning specialists are the first to acknowledge that for a long time major planning in this country was mostly a thing of paper promises, a thing that given wide lip service but seldom converted into fact.

But today the turning of urban and area plans into action is beginning to be a reality in a good many parts of the nation.

Cities like Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Rochester, N. Y., and New Haven are performing major surgery on their often crumbling cores.

Where before World War II only a handful of U. S. cities had master plans for this purpose, today more than a hundred have.

Planning technicians, once looked at askance as "starry-eyed dreamers" if not socialists, are in ever increasing demand. In 1944 the American Institute of Planners had 233 members. Today it has 2,900.

There are more than a dozen planning schools, and 31 colleges and universities, a sharply increased number, today grant degrees in the planning field.

As a result of activity and the planning field has become using plans instead of tossing them onto dusty shelves.

The main factor seems to be the startled awareness of countless public officials that their communities, large and small, are in for sweeping change—which they must somehow govern if they do not want to be engulfed.

Secondly, the very magnitude of the problem has brought massive programs into being—urban renewal, area redevelopment, highway network, school and hospital construction.

If these projects are not to conflict and overlap, they must somehow be fitted together. No one wants to see repetition of such a case as occurred in the 1930s, when a public housing project was begun and then torn down to make way for a highway.

Quietly, the federal government, source of much of the "development money" our communities get, is exerting pressure for more effective planning. In such matters as urban renewal and area redevelopment, "workable programs" must be presented before the funds are handed over. We may see still more of this.

Private industries and builders, too, see increasing value in relating their efforts to some sort of general plan.

The planning veterans are hardheads. They see the surface barely scratched, with urban sprawl in outlying sectors racing unchecked.

But they agree a real planning start has at last been made. And Americans who do not wish to be smothered in community disorder must share their pleasure at these marks of progress.

To The Editor

Editor: According to a recent issue of The Sanford Herald it appears the County Commission has cut the budget for the Tax Collector from $44,638 to $38,000.

It certainly would be interesting to know how they arrived at $44,638 in the first place.

By taking the non-exempt valuation as given then by the Tax Assessor and estimating revenue to be derived from occupational and beverage licenses it is easy to determine that a budget of $38,000 would be ample to take care of bills from this office covering commissions on collections.

These commissions on collections are established by the General Laws of the State of Florida and must be paid by the Board of County Commissioners upon presentation of bill or bills from the Tax Collector.

In view of this fact it occurs to me it would be good business to provide for same in the budget. Incidentally these commissions are for the operation of the tax collector's office including all salaries and necessary expense.

From Rome

Henry McLemore

LONDON—England is Talking About: The unexpected and costly drop in the number of American tourists so far this year. The Ministry of Tourism places the decline at around 10 per cent, but travel agents and hotel men say the figure is closer to 25 per cent. August is the peak month, and usually hotels are jammed and London shops are packed, but reservations are easy to get, and clerks greet the customer at the door. The blame is placed on President Kennedy's plea to Americans to keep U. S. money at home, plus the uneasy situation over Berlin.

The arrival in England of German Panzer units for training. One section of the press has worked itself into a dither about the thought of German tanks rumbling across English fields, and has managed to work some of their readers into a dither, too. The Englishmen least concerned are those who live in towns near the training site. Knowing the value of money, even when it is in marks, they have welcomed the Germans and their business in stores, shops, and cinemas.

The doping of race horses. Every week, it seems, a thoroughbred is popped with a drug that either gives him extra speed or slows him to a walk. The finger is being pointed directly at the bookmakers, and a commission has been appointed to investigate. Racing is a major industry in England. There are scores of tracks all over the country, papers give pages to selections and results every day, and it is said that nine out of ten Englishmen have a "flutter" on a race every day in the year.

The end of the Commonwealth. Millions of Englishmen foresee its end when and if England joins the European Common Market, to which it is about to apply for admission.

The American musical, "Bye Bye Birdie," a smash hit, and John Osborne's powerful play about Martin Luther. Both are sold out solid for months to come.

The end-of-the-month arrival of Sammy Davis, Jr., at the Prince of Wales Theatre for a seven-week stand, and whether or not he will be accompanied by Sinatra, Lawford, and other members of the Rat Pack.

The victory of the soccer players over the club owners, bringing about a tremendous boost in salary for the stars, some of whom now will draw as much as $250 a week. Before the threatened strike, $60 a week was tops for the mightiest player.

The choice of a school for Prince Charles when he leaves Cheam. Many want him to attend an ordinary school, but the majority appear to favor a great public school where he would meet the type of young men he'll be associating with all his life.

The collapse of the English cricket side against Australia. This will keep the club rooms of St. James in conversation for five years. Maybe ten.

The fine personality of Arnold Palmer. His victory in the Britlin Open stamped him as the most popular American athlete since the days of Bobby Jones. No critic found a single fault, either with his behavior or his game.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE J-468: Ed J., aged 31, is a very attractive bachelor.

"Bul, Dr. Crane," his sweetheart began, "Eddie and I have been dating regularly for 4 years. He vows he loves me and indicates he plans to marry - - some day.

"But he always puts it off by one excuse or other. So how can a girl prod a man into actually settling a wedding day?"

Winning a husband is much like getting an order for a life insurance policy or a new vacuum sweeper.

Every experienced salesman realizes the value of the "minor decision" strategy.

For example, suppose a vacuum sweeper salesman has put on a demonstration and is approaching the "dotted line" stage of the sale.

"Well, take it or leave it," he might conclude. Or, "Do you want to buy it or don't you?"

But no smart salesman ever acts like that. For he knows he should not startle the prospect and scare her into thinking she is making a legal decision.

So he just hurdles the entire issue of whether she is going to buy, and diverts her attention to the "minor decision" of whether she wishes delivery on Saturday in time for the weekend cleaning or on Monday.

He may also continue getting the prospect to assent to other minor decisions, as whether shipment is to be made by freight or parcel post.

And he asks if she'd prefer to pay by the week or month, etc. Thus, he "sews up" the deal, as it were, by settling many minor decisions, without ever facing the major decision finally.

"If you'll just O. K. this down here," he says, designating the dotted line, "We'll have delivery Saturday morning."

His ready smile and positive attitude, plus his lack of the phrase "Sign here," all propel her to the clenching of the sale.

Good salesmen generally avoid the legal sounding verb "Sign" and substitute the phrase "Just O. K. this."

Bachelors are very tough prospects for marriage. And if they have reached the age of 31, it usually takes a very clever widow to fence them in.

But you single girls can use the same good psychology if you will be lavish with honest compliments.

Build up his ego habitually that he begins to lean on you for daily nurture of his emotional well being.

Then, after a good meal, and when you see that he is feeling mellow and inclined to "Yes" you along, spring the "minor decision" on him.

Maybe you are thumbing through a woman's magazine, looking at the new bridal costumes.

"Eddie Honey," the girl may casually begin, "do you think it would be more romantic to have a Christmas wedding or one in June?"

Naturally, the gun-shy bachelor will pick the date that's farther off, so he'll probably reply "June."

Then you have him committed. He is hooked.

First successful oil well in the United States was drilled at Titusville, Penna., in 1859.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The three-month-old $300 million Area Redevelopment Administration is open for business. Its 44-year-old administrator, William L. Batt Jr. — an old hand at unemployment relief — is installed with an eager staff in a redeveloped top floor suite of the Commerce Department.

The problem areas with which the ARA is supposed to deal include 750 counties or parts of counties — roughly a fourth of all counties in the United States. They are most heavily concentrated in the eastern Appalachians and deep South — Iowa, Vermont, New Hampshire, and Delaware are the only states claiming no depressed areas. But a number of states have only two or three, where natural resources are slim or worked out.

There are an estimated 28 million people, or about 15 per cent of the total population living in these so-called depressed areas. Eighteen million are in industrial areas and eight million in rural areas.

Most of the U. S. unemployment of around six million workers or 7 per cent of the labor force is concentrated in 124 industrial labor market areas. Forty-six of the depressed areas are Indian reservations. The other 80 depressed areas are characterized more by underemployment and lack of job opportunities. ARA's job is to try to build them up.

The redevelopment administration has closed only one deal so far, but it is receiving about 2,000 requests for information a week. It has sent out over 35,000 pamphlets outlining its operations. Over 700 inquiries have come from congressmen seeking help for their constituent areas.

ARA has held 65 conferences with community leaders in the field and 125 in Washington. It has 65 live project requests on file and 20 of them are sound enough to close soon. They average about $1 million apiece, but range from an $8 million steel mill to a $100,000 small business plant.

ARA's first project is a loan of $21,000 and a grant of $129,000 to finance a water tower for Gassville, Ark. A new $500,000 shirt factory being built there by private funds is expected to furnish 1,200 jobs for three Ozark counties.

The loan was the maximum which the town of 233 could repay, so the balance of the financing was a government grant.

This is typical of the way the Redevelopment Administration hopes to function. Local initiative, local capital and local planning must make the major effort. The federal government will step in with the little extra help needed to make projects complete.

An average project is expected to be financed 4 per cent by a local development corporation. Its plan must be approved by its state and by ARA before it becomes operative. The state will then supply 10 per cent of the financing.

As much capital as possible must come from local banks on a first mortgage loan. This may amount to 50 per cent of the total on a 15-year, 5.5 per cent basis.

TB Assn. Asks Volunteer Help

Mrs. Lorraine Graham, executive secretary of the local TB Assn. is appealing for volunteer helpers to work in her office this week.

Mrs. Graham said that she needs workers to do typing, filing, sorting and many other miscellaneous jobs. The hours are from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. but volunteers may come in any time they wish during those hours.

The Tuberculosis and Health Assn. offices are upstairs over the Roumliat Building. Entrance stairs are on North Park Ave.

Quarantine Lifted

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner lifted a quarantine today on the Bush animal compound at Tampa.

That will leave 35 per cent for ARA, which it can supply on a 25-year, 4.375 per cent loan. ARA can also take a second mortgage if that will help wrangle more local money into the financing.

This will take care of building a plant for a new industry locating in a depressed area, but this is only a fourth of the total costs. The other three-fourths must come from the operating company itself. It must supply all its own working capital and install all its own machinery.

On this basis the ARA revolving funds — borrowed from the Treasury's back door — are expected to go a long way and last a long time. The agency may make up to $10 million in loans to industrial areas of chronic high unemployment, $100 million for underdeveloped rural areas and $100 million for public facilities — water and sewer systems — needed by industrial areas.

ARA may make grants of up to $75 million for public facilities in communities which don't now have the tax base to pay for such luxuries.

The agency also has $4.5 million it can use for technical assistance grants to communities making their own development plans. There is another $4.5 million to finance a labor retraining program which will be run by Department of Labor. Congress also appropriated $10 million more to Department of Health, Education and Welfare for support of workers' families while the breadwinners are being retrained for new jobs.

It's the savingest time of the year on the trucks with the workingest ways

SAVE! You just can't beat August buys for saving. It's the time of year when Chevrolet dealers traditionally pull all the stops. You'll find sweeter-than-ever savings waiting for you on every '61 Chevy truck—from the nimble Corvair 95's, right up to the mighty medium- and heavy-duty jobs. Come in and save a bundle!

SAVE! You just can't beat Chevy trucks for working. With Chevy's easier riding Independent Front Suspension, loads ride easier, drivers stay fresher, the truck lasts longer. You get more work, more hauls, for your truck dollars!

SAVE! And for the frosting on the cake—you just can't beat Chevy trucks at trade-in time, either. Latest official industry reports prove that Chevrolet trucks lead in trade-in value, week after week, over every major competitor in Chevy's price range.*

Championship Dispute May End By Spring

NEW YORK (UPI) — Harry Markson, managing director of Madison Square Garden Boxing, Inc., said today he believes the dispute over the world middleweight championship will be settled "by next spring."

At present the 160-pound crown is split. Terry Downes of England is recognized as champion in Europe, Massachusetts and New York. However, the National Boxing Association recognizes Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, as middleweight ruler.

Downes is scheduled to defend his share of the title at Boston Sept. 23 in a fight with a former ex-champion Paul Pender of Brookline, Mass. Paul and Terry are tied at 1-1 in their two previous title bouts.

Markson disclosed, "Fullmer's manager, Mrv Jensen, informed me today that Gene wants to fight the Downes-Pender winner for the undisputed title as soon as his fractured right elbow heals."

Fullmer fractured the elbow in his successful sixth defense against Florentino Fernandez at Ogden, Utah, Aug. 5.

Markson, discussing the situation in his office at the Garden, added: "And I am informed reliably that both Downes and Pender desire a title-clearing match with Fullmer, in case of victory on Sept. 23."

If Downes keeps his title in the Boston fight, brown-haired, slender-faced Markson continued, "Downes-Fullmer fight should draw well at either Los Angeles or San Francisco. And if Pender beats Downes at Boston, a Pender-Fullmer fight would be a big attraction at Las Vegas, Nev."

He stressed that the Garden would be "very interested" in televising the title-clearing match, wherever staged.

If Downes defeats Pender on Sept. 23, would he be willing to make another defense in the United States.

"I understand he would," Markson answered. "I'm reliably informed that George Parnassos, the California promoter, is friendly with Downes and manager Sammy Burns."

If a title-clearing fight is held and Downes, Pender or Fullmer becomes undisputed world champion, whom would Markson personally favor as the challenger who should get the title crown at the crown?

Without hesitating an instant Barry replied, "Dick Tiger of Nigeria. He's the champion of the British Empire and he has merited a title bout for some time."

Isn't there an advantage, from the promotional standpoint, in having a split title? After all, there already have been five middleweight title bouts this year; and Downes-Pender on Sept. 23 will be No. 6.

Markson answered: "When a title is split, the two segments lose lustre. A co-champion never has the glory nor the box-office appeal of an undisputed champ. No one knows that better than the co-holders of a crown."

The latest split in the 160-pound diadem occurred on May 4, 1959, when the National Boxing Association vacated Sugar Ray Robinson's title because of his delay in defending. Robinson lost his remaining portion of the title to Pender, who lost it to Downes. Meanwhile, Fullmer won the vacant NBA portion by beating Carmen Basilio.

United Press International
St. Louis Cardinals have applied the brakes to the Los Angeles Dodgers' headlong dash for the National League pennant — and now it's up to the Cincinnati Reds to make the most of the opportunity.

The Reds and Dodgers begin the most important series of the NL season so far with a single game tonight and meet again in a doubleheader on Wednesday. The Reds — who've been feuding with the Dodgers for the last few years — can take over the lead by sweeping the series.

The Cardinals gave the Reds an important lift on the eve of the big series when they downed the Dodgers, 5-0, Monday night and out Los Angeles' lead to two games. The victory ended the Dodgers' six-game winning streak and marked only Los Angeles' fourth loss in 23 games.

Ernie Broglio, a 21-game winner in 1960 who has been struggling to reach the 500 mark this season, showed up at the Los Angeles Coliseum with a sore shoulder but when the game was over it was the Dodgers who were "hurtin' all over." The 195-pound right-hander from Berkeley, Calif., turned in a five-hitter for his second shutout and ninth victory of the season.

The game was the only Monday night action that had any real bearing on either pennant race. The Milwaukee Braves downed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-3, and the Chicago Cubs scored a 9-2 victory that stretched the Philadelphia Phillies' losing streak to 17 games in other NL games. In the American League, the Minnesota Twins beat the Kansas City A's, 6-2, and the Los Angeles Angels defeated the Washington Senators, 5-1.

Broglio also struck the big blow in his own cause when he singled with the base filled in the second inning to drive in two runs. Joe Cunningham drove in two runs with a double and a single and Stan Musial contributed three hits to the Cardinal attack.

Don Drysdale, who has shown signs of leading the Dodgers' late-season flag drive, was tagged for four of the Cardinals' runs and suffered his seventh loss against 10 victories. It was only the third time this season that the Dodgers were shut out.

Ed Mathews hit the 362nd homer of his major league career to move past Joe DiMaggio into 10th place on the all-time list as the Braves dealt the Pirates' Harvey Haddix his sixth defeat. Joe Adcock had three hits and Hank Aaron had two in the Braves' 11-hit attack that brought relief.

pitcher Tony Cloninger his third win. Dick Stigart and Roberto Clemente honored for the Pirates. Ernie Banks drove in three runs with a homer, double and Jerry Kindall knocked in four to lead the nine-hit Cub attack. Dick Ellsworth pitched a six-hitter to win his sixth game for the Cubs while Frank Sullivan suffered his 11th loss for the Phillies. The Phillies' 17-game losing streak is only two short of the modern National League record.

Harmon Killebrew hit his 34th homer of the season and Billy Martin connected for a three-run homer for the Twins who handed Kansas City's Jerry Walker his ninth defeat. Jim Kaat pitched a seven-hitter and struck out four to win his fifth game for Minnesota.

Ted Bowdler pitched a seven-hitter to raise his season record to 9-4 behind a 10-hit Los Angeles attack that included three hits each by Lee Thomas and Leon Wagner. Chuck Cottier had three hits for the Senators.

CHICOPET, Mass. (UPI) — Babe Ruth's home run record is broken this season, it will not be due to any changes in the baseball being used. That's the word from Mrs. Beryl Gauthier, chief stitchee of the official major league ball.

The other day Joe DiMaggio remarked that the ball of two decades ago had closer stitches and higher seams, allowing pitchers better control.

This statement raised inquisitive eyebrows, what with Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris of the New York Yankees trying to knock stitches, cover and four rolls of yarn off the ball in their attack on Ruth's record of 69 home runs in a single season set in 1927.

Officials of A. G. Spalding & Bros., Inc., here have been insisting for years that there hasn't been a change in the ball since the cushioned cork center was introduced in 1925. "In fact," said a spokesman, "we aren't allowed to make any changes. All the balls are made according to major league specifications."

If either Mantle or Maris tops Ruth's record, 73 women stitchees will have had their piece-working fingers in the record pie. All of them have been tutored by Mrs. Gauthier and have spent up to seven months in apprenticeships before graduating to the major league balls.

Each woman handstitches between 40 and 80 baseballs daily. A needle in each hand, they fling their arms back like oarsmen. Back and forth the needles go through 108 holes in the two pieces of horsehide until the 98 inches of waxed red twine is gone.

Same horsehide—same thread—same number of holes.

The almost finished spheres then go through a rolling machine to flatten the stitches — as they have for years.

13 Injured At Ball Game

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (UPI) — Thirteen persons were injured Monday night when a 30-foot section of grandstand containing about 100 persons collapsed before the start of a semi-pro baseball game.

Some 2,500 persons were at the game, including American League President Joe Cronin and three New York Yankee players. They were not involved in the accident.

Otis officials said the grandstand buckled because it was overloaded. It was made of reinforced steel tubing with wooden plank seats. The highest seat was about seven feet off the ground.

Those in the upper rows fell on persons below when the structure gave way with a crash. All of the injured were treated at the base hospital but only four were hospitalized and their injuries were not serious.

At the time of the accident, former New York Yankee star Phil Rizzuto, now a radio sportscaster, was acting as master of ceremonies.

Attending the game were Yankee players Elton Howard, Bill Skowron and Bill Spafford along with former Brooklyn Dodgers catcher Roy Campanella. The game went on as scheduled.

Redskin Grid Boss Willing To Draft Negro Players

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Owner George Preston Marshall of the Washington Redskins promised today to draft Negro players "if given an opportunity" — to settle a feud between the volatile club owner and Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall.

Udall had threatened to prevent the Redskins from playing in the new District of Columbia Stadium next fall unless Marshall lifted an alleged ban against Negro players.

But Marshall, in a letter to National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle, not only said he would draft Negroes but even listed two of them as his first and second choices for 1962. The letter denied the team ever had discriminated against Negroes.

Marshall, whose team is the only one in the NFL which has never hired a Negro, said half-backs Ernie Davis of Syracuse and Larry Ferguson of Iowa would be his first two draft selections for the 1962 season.

"There are other fine football players . . . who would be subsequent choices to the aforementioned," Marshall wrote Rozelle. "They are Wilburn Hollis, defensive back from Iowa; Felton Rogers, defensive end from the same college, and Ron Hatcher, full-back from Michigan State."

"I can assure you that if any of these names are still on the board at the annual NFL draft meeting, I shall be glad to select them," Marshall added.

Udall, who met with Rozelle here recently, promptly hailed the commissioner for his "constructive action" in mediating the Marshall-Interior Department battle.

"The Kennedy administration is determined that every American should have a full and equal opportunity to utilize his or her talents in the classroom, in industry, on the playing field and in all areas of our national life," Udall said.

St. Petersburg manager Bob Bauer, perhaps discouraged at his team's sixth place standing in the Florida State League, took matters into his own hands Monday night with a pair of homers that paced the Saints to a doubleheader sweep.

In the opening contest against Palatka, Bauer broke up the game with a bases-empty homer in the seventh inning that gave St. Pete a 3-2 decision. He homered again in the sixth inning of the nightcap against Orlando, this time with one on, as the Saints coasted to a 9-0 triumph behind the three-hit pitching of Tom Metcalf.

Sarasota and Tampa, the only two clubs in the league playing better than .500 ball, continued to coast. Tampa took two from Leesburg, 3-1 and 8-1, and the Sun Sox battered Daytona Beach 14-3.

A two-run triple by Ted Maley highlighted the Tarpons' victory in the first game. Archie Botolongo boosted his pitching record to 11-7 with a smooth five-hitter in the second.

Sarasota blanked Daytona with a 16-hit attack, scoring eight times in the fifth inning on nine hits and three errors. Ron Banovic, the league's winningest pitcher, hung up his 16th triumph to go with eight defeats.

County Can't Give Exemptions For Shelters

County Attorney Mack Cleveland Jr. told the County Commission Tuesday afternoon that it had no authority to grant exemptions from county taxation of any shelter improvements.

"There's no provision in the law for this," Cleveland said, "and it would be solely a matter for the Tax Assessor."

Mayor Joe Baker of Sanford asked the County Commission to cooperate with the city in providing encouragement to the home-owners to make improvements or additions that may be used for other business, the board agreed to ask the City Commission, in a formal request, for use of a portion of the city warehouse at Municipal Stadium for storage and distribution of surplus foods for county welfare cases.

The commission is considering entering into the Federal Donated Surplus Commodity Distribution to the Needy program which would supplement the county's welfare program.

Cott to the county to enter the program would be the hiring of a commodity supervisor at a salary of $3,800 a year.

Board members also look under advisement a request from the USO for $300.

Heard Cleveland report that there was not sufficient traffic about at the intersection of SR 436 and SR 434 near Forest City for a traffic light. However, the State Road Dept. recommended a flashing beacon.

By: LARRY VERSHEL
Nobody asked me but... Is it true that the County Commission will sell admission tickets to its next regular meeting?

I'll bet department heads under the County Commission jurisdiction are spending many a restless night these warm summer evenings.

I'll bet, too, they were sleeping Tuesday when Chairman J. C. Hutchison wished he were back in the Pacific fighting Japs.

The County Commission doesn't need an administrative aide—what they need is a public relations staff.

I wonder how many of the present board of commissioners would be elected if there was an election tomorrow.

There's a good chance now that the firemen in the city may get some sort of partial Kelly Day and that two additional men will be hired. The city will meet in budget session Thursday night at 8.

Still no decision on whether the city board will give its high priced help a rest of living boost.

Mary Eather's has gotten into the downtown improvement swing and plans to redecorate its store on Park Ave.

Tax Assessor Defends Bill On Sharpener

Tax Assessor Mary Earle Walker defended the cleaning of an electric pencil sharpener Tuesday at the County Commission meeting and the board, by a 3-1 vote, agreed to pay the $8.50 bill.

Last week, the board tabled action on the bill which called for cleaning, oiling and adjusting the sharpener.

District 3 County Commissioner James P. Avery voted against paying the bill.

Other members of the board felt that they were doing it to pay it.

Said Mrs. Walker: "the sharpener will pay for itself. It was the first repair bill we have had on this in 10 years."

Doctors Back Stand By Brothers

Doctors throughout the county today gave Dr. Clyde D. Brothers Commission Tuesday and said that the county's health program is in jeopardy unless some financial aid is given the department.

Brothers had asked for a $20,000 increase in his budget and had threatened to resign unless additional money was appropriated.

Tuesday the board disregarded a letter of resignation from Brothers and voted instead to advise the State Health Dept. that Brothers had been dismissed.

The commission's tentative budget for the fiscal year starting Oct. 1 includes a .12 mill levy for the county health department which is expected to produce some $20,000.

Dr. Brooks Smith, president of the County Medical Society said that the society had given the doctor a complete vote of confidence on his proposed budget and added "speaking for myself, I feel the department must get more financial aid to keep the public health operations up to par."

"If we are to have increases in population with the accompanying increases in health aid demands, we cannot continue with the same millage we had for these many years," he advised, adding "Dr. Brothers has done a good job."

Dr. Vincent Roberts agreed with Smith and said that as far as he knew all the members of the society were in agreement with Brothers' program.

"We are happy with the job he has done," Roberts said.

The Herald also polled other doctors and although they asked that their name not be used, they too, gave Brothers a vote of confidence.

Stop Meddling, Reds Tell West

BERLIN (UPI) — The Soviet Union today told the Western Allies to stop "meddling" in the affairs of "sovereign" East Germany.

A few hours before a scheduled giant West Berlin rally protesting the Communist move in sealing the border early Sunday, the Soviet Berlin commander flatly rejected Western notes delivered to him more than two weeks ago charging that the Communists were harassing East Berliners commuting to West Berlin.

Col. A. V. Solovoyev sent his reply in separate notes to his United States, British and French opposite numbers several days ago. The reply was released today by the East Germany news agency ADN.

The Western commandants sent another note to the Soviet Commandant Tuesday, charging that the East German closure of city borders was illegal and violated four-power agreements governing Berlin.

An unexplained power failure struck East Berlin for an hour, just before the start of the mass protest rally amid hints of a new Berlin blockade.

All traffic on elevated, streetcar and subway lines was halted by the failure which lasted from 11 a. m. to noon.

It could not be determined immediately whether the loss of the power was a Communist harassing tactic. It also could have been the work of anti-Communists in East Berlin or equipment breakdown.

The power failure cut off all electricity to the Soviet sector of Berlin and halted elevated trains in West Berlin because the power that controls them comes from East Berlin.

Sanford Attorney S. J. Davis Appeals To Board

Dunn Back In Thick Of Fight Again

District 4 County Commissioner Vernon Dunn, who 24 hours earlier almost got himself wrapped up in a fist fight with another commissioner, was in the thick of the fight again this morning at the Board of Equalization meeting.

Harsh words flew between Dunn and Attorney Stephen Magyar over Jericho Road in the Slovak Village property which is located off SR 436, between the Turkey Farm and Goldenrod.

Magyar complained that the people living in the subdivision received absolutely no return value from their property taxation as they had no school age children, no county roads, no fire protection, no drainage and no grading.

He further stated that because of the inaccessibility of the village, due to the terrible condition of the sand roads, he could not rent or sell property.

Words flew when Dunn stated that the county had no property there and had asked for road rights of way.

Magyar insisted that the road belonged to the county and was not private property and that he had offered several times to give the right-of-way of the necessary 50 feet, to the county.

Other property owners complained of low-flying planes, junk yards, swamp land, and inaccessibility, while First St. residents came to remind the board that the new highway had bitten off chunks of their property.

Attorney Kenneth McIntosh, representing Hibbard Casselberry in the interests of the Casselberry Gardens, Casselberry Ferneries and as an individual property owner also appeared before the board.

He showed the commissioners two large notebooks filled with material and told them that he had a "rather lengthy" matter contained on 37 legal pages, to be brought before the board.

Accordingly, he asked that commissioners meet with Casselberry and himself on the property sites at any time chosen by them. This they agreed to do.

County Board Asked To Reconsider Cut

Tax Assessor Mary Earle Walker today at the opening of the board of equalization meeting asked the County Commission to reconsider its action of cutting off $15,000 in reappraisal work for her office.

In a two page letter read to the board, Mrs. Walker said "normal funds available for this office are insufficient to carry on a reappraisal program along with the regular duties of the office."

Mrs. Walker also pointed out that there is still a great need for reappraisal work in a substantial part of the county. "This has been shown by spot reappraisals which were necessary to be made for the 1961 tax roll and also by the fact that when notices of assessed valuation for 1961 on real estate were mailed, countless protests have been filed and voiced since the figures used are those which appeared on the 1959-60 tax rolls."

GOP Hit For Playing Politics

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, today accused the GOP congressional leadership of playing politics with the critical Berlin situation.

Mansfield made the charge in replying to a statement made Tuesday by his GOP counterpart, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, on behalf of the GOP congressional leadership on Berlin by top Democrats weakened the nation's bargaining position and confused its allies.

The Montana Democrat's suggestion that all Berlin be made a free city was singled out in the GOP statement, as were comments by Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and W. Averell Harriman, President Kennedy's ambassador at large.

Gas Company Removing Tax From Billing

City Manager W. E. Knowles said today that the Sanford Gas Co. notified him that they were calling in their previous billing in order to remove the utility tax that has been added to the bills.

However, Knowles said that in the revised billing shown to him by a consumer, the tax had merely been removed as a tax and added onto the standard bill.

Knowles stated that the city of Sanford is notifying the Sanford Gas Company to explain this procedure or the city will represent the consumer by notifying the Utility Commission in Tallahassee to ask for an explanation of this unauthorized rate change.

BERLIN (UPI) — West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt called on President Kennedy today for action instead of words on the current crisis.

Army Planning To Alert 111 Reserve Units

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army was ready to announce plans today to expand to about one million men and alert more than 100 reserve units for possible call-up in the mounting Berlin crisis.

Army Secretary Elvis J. Stahr Jr. scheduled a news conference for this afternoon to give details of the ground force buildup now projected under President Kennedy's preparedness program.

The Navy and Air Force already have outlined plans calling for manpower increases respectively of 25,000 and 25,000.

In advance of Stahr's conference, a high government source said Army National Guard and organized reserve units would not be called to active duty immediately. But he estimated there would be 111 units on the list being alerted today for possible call later.

No units as large as divisions are on the list. They range in size and function from small maintenance units to artillery batteries and support battalions.

It had once appeared to Army leaders that their expansion would be more limited than the administration at first indicated. But authorities said the plan now is to carry out substantially the buildup that Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara outlined to Congress late last month.

He said then that "initial estimates" showed the Army might need a 133,000-man increase, which would raise its authorized strength to 1,008,000.

Apart from alerting reserves, the Air Force announced Tuesday a 28,000 buildup. It said it would rely on voluntary enlistments, re-enlistments, and extensions of tours as much as possible but would not hesitate to order mandatory extensions, if necessary. With the increase, the Air Force will number 852,900, and Congress has voted money for a further 33,327.

The Navy said Monday it would freeze 26,000 men on their jobs for six to 12 months beyond normal tours. Congress has authorized a 28,000 increase in the Navy to a total strength of 637,000.

Irregularities

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Irregularly reports on insecticides increased nearly 35 per cent in the year ended June 30 due to stepped up enforcement of Florida's pesticide law, it was announced today.

Ecuador, Bolivia and Uruguay head a group of small Latin nations that have balked at a proposal worked out by larger nations for the assigning of funds under the 10-year, $20 billion program for Latin-American development. In the large-nation group are Mexico, Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Peru. Diplomats were hoping to heal breach.

U.S. Wins Solid Okay On Alliance Program

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (UPI)—The United States, strongly supported by Mexico and Argentina, fought off a last-ditch attack by Cuba today and won solid approval for a proclamation that will put President Kennedy's agreement for progress into action.

The agreement signaled the beginning of a $20 billion war against poverty, illiteracy and economic instability among the underdeveloped nations of Latin America.

A four-power committee — The United States, Brazil, Haiti and Ecuador—meets later today to polish the final reports of the Inter-American Economic and Social Conference. Quick ratification is expected tonight.

Thursday, the delegates of the 21 western hemisphere republics will convene for the last time to sign the document enacting the 10-year alliance.

The Cuban delegation fought the declaration to the bitter end. Cuba's economic czar Ernesto Guevara said: "We would like to get an answer, either from the chairman of this conference or from the delegation of the United States whether we are in or out of the alliance for progress."

The question was not answered. Secretary C. Douglas Dillon, chief U. S. delegate, was forced to warn the delegates to halt a seething debate that backed away at the heart of the keynote document of the conference—"a declaration to the peoples of America."

Backed by two of the hemisphere giants, Argentina and Mexico, Dillon won quick and decisive support from Brazil and the other delegations fell quickly into line.

Easterly Wave Gains In Intensity

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The U. S. Weather Bureau reported today an easterly wave has moved into the southeast Gulf of Mexico and increased in intensity during the first 12 hours.

A reconnaissance plane was to fly into the area this afternoon. The advisory said the wave would move westward 10 to 15 miles per hour and should intensify slowly.

Squalls were expected in the southwest Gulf this afternoon and tonight with winds reaching 35 miles per hour in gusts.

Adenauer Calls Cabinet Session

BONN (UPI) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer called the West German cabinet into another Berlin crisis session today prior to meeting with Russian Ambassador Andrei Smirnov.

Smirnov returned to his West German capital from Moscow on Saturday, presumably carrying fresh instructions from Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Big Prizes

There will be two big prizes given away at the drawing Friday night by the Downtown Merchants Assn.

A ladies wrist watch and a man's wrist watch, both worth $60 will be awarded to two lucky people.

The success of the last two Friday night, Open-TM-Nine Shopping promotions have been very pleasing to both the merchants and the shoppers and it is certain that a precedent has been set here.

As the opening of school draws near, buying and activity along that line has greatly increased and some enterprising citizens are already doing their Christmas shopping.
