County to quiz garbage contractor

SANFORD — Problems with Seminole County's solid waste contractor and an appeal denying a special exemption for a telecommunications tower are among agenda items to be discussed at the Board of County Commission's Tuesday, Oct. 24,

Two weeks ago commissioner Randy

Morris pushed for a legal review of the county's contract with Florida Recycling Services, seeking to determine if the firm could be held in breach of contract. Board chairman Carlton Henley cited more than 300 complaints by county residents in the past two months. The complaints centered around Florida Recycling's inconsistent garbage pick up and total lack of pick up on some occasions in some areas of the county, particularly the Markham Woods Road area and a number of subdivisions along the artery.

Later in the day, during a 7 p.m. public hearing, commissioners are expected to hear an appeal against the Board of Adjustment for denying a request by

Chandler ready for challenge of new job

By Joe DeSantis

SANFORD - With five miniature dachshunds, three cats, and a home garden to tend to, it's a good thing Frances Chandler has a background in planning. It will come in handy in her new position as Seminole County's Deputy County Manager.

County Manager Kevin Grace announced Tuesday Chandler's promotion from a number of in-house candidates, filling the spot vacated by Cynthia Coto. Coto is departing to take over the County Manager position in neighboring Volusia County.
She officially begins her new duties Oct. 25 following formal confirmation of her appointment by the Board of County Commissioners Tuesday, Oct. 24.

"I'm very excited about the opportunity," said Chandler of her selection. "Following in the footsteps of a person of Cynthia Coto's caliber is going to be a challenge."

Armed with a Bachelor's degree in Economics, she held several positions within the Planning Department from 1985 to 1991, served as the Comprehensive Planning Division Manager from 1991 to 1997, and has served as the Director of the County's Planning and Development Department for the past three years. "This is a fascinating time to be involved with Seminole County at this level," Chandler said. "We are shifting our focus from infrastructure development to quality of life development. We're beginning to look at our community in a different way."

The newly appointed Deputy Manager said she feels her knowledge and history with the county along with the objective assessment of a planner's vision are two of the biggest assets she brings to the job. The third is enthusiasm.

"I'm a big supporter of a team concept," she said. "I've been promoted throughout my career because I feel I'm a good facilitator. I don't have a monopoly on good ideas. My feeling is you have to have all the right people at the table to bring about good decisions for the county."

SANFORD — The Wekiva River Players are coming back to Seminole County.

The performance group will present "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" at the newly renovated Helen Stairs Theatre beginning Oct. 27. It marks the company's return to Seminole after performing at various other venues for the past few years.

"The Wekiva River Players are a Seminole County-based theater," Public Relations

Coordinator Sarah Cloke said. "The reason we aren't performing in Seminole County now is because we have no home."

According to Cloke, high school theaters in Seminole County are cost prohibitive to the group and are usually booked. With no other option, Wekiva River Players left Seminole County and began per-forming in other locations, including Winter Park.

"But, we really had a desire to return to Seminole County," she

When renovations began last year on the Ritz Theatre which was renamed the Helen Stairs Theatre — the Wekiva River Players saw an opportuni-ty to come back to Seminole. The group started talking to theater officials, and an agreement was made between the two groups. "It is a bit of a trial run for both of us," Cloke said. "We have to see if we can draw people to see the show, and they have to see if enough money is made to pay the theater bills."

If all goes well, the production company may continue using the Sanford theater as its main performing center.

"It's nice to have a theater in Seminole County for the first time in years that is available to us," Cloke said. "That's why we want to get the word out. We hope this is good for Sanford and good for the Wekiva River

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Is Oct. 22 ...

The End of the World?

On October 22, 1844, the world was supposed to come to an end. Needless to say, it

Pfeifauf

The concept was origi-nally established by William Miller, (1782-1849), a religious leader and creator of a movement known as Millerism. Why he chose Oct. 22 has apparently been lost in history.

There were stories about Miller's followers who disposed of all their earthly possessions and climbed to high elevations on this particular date, reportedly to be closer to heaven. Miller apparently convinced his supporters he had determined the date through his study of the Bible.

On Dec. 31, as we went from 1999 into the year 2000, there was another similar declaration. Some people believed the world would end at midnight when the new millennium began. However, many believe the new millennium won't officially begin until New Year's Day 2001. Will we again hear predictions of the end of the earth?

I personally know people who were so convinced of the end this past Dec. 31, they gathered their family together at their home and conducted a prayer session as 1999 ended at

Now if you REALLY knew when the world would end, the thing to do is go out and buy a new car, new furniture and anything else on time, knowing that you'd not even have to make a payment because everything would come to a screeching halt before the first payment was due. At least you could live in comfort for the last few days or weeks.

But seriously, people who have studied the Bible closely will tell you that we WON'T know when the end will come. Ask your pastor, preacher or Priest. We're not supposed to know, and we shouldn't listen to false profits who try to convince us they (and they alone) know about this.

Can you imagine the chaos if we actually knew when the final day was? Many people probably couldn't even control themselves mentally. They would be running wildly around paying little attention to anyone or anything. Everything would stop because everyone would want to be at home. To heck with that job, what does it matter anyway?

You wouldn't be able to reach other family members (even to say good-bye) because the telephone company and electric company employees would have also gone home and probably shut down operations.

It should go without saying — I'm glad Miller's predictions were false, as have been many similar predictions over the years. When the final day comes, I plan to be ready, but the only way to do that is to plan as if every day might be the last, and conduct ourselves accordingly. (What a wonderful world this would be if everyone did this).

With Sanford city commissioner Brady Lessard leaning toward a run for the mayor's office, at least one candidate has confirmed her intentions to seek Lessard's District 1 seat if he vacates. Longtime Historic District resident and former Main Street Executive Director Linda Kuhn said she will test the political waters. Kuhn said she has a keen interest in downtown Sanford and would like to serve in order to help the city realize and accomplish its future goals.

Longwood "debate" leftovers...Sheree Murphy, instrumental in organizing the Lake Wayman Heights Neighborhood Watch debate, said she got involved as a result of attending Longwood City Commission meetings months ago. Murphy said she was "appalled" at the lack of citizen input and was even more taken aback by the verbal tone used by some of the commissioners when addressing residents. Gee, Sheree, you should have been on hand a year ago when heated debate over the city's Charter Review Committee darn near lead to fisticuffs, which in turn led Mayor Paul Lovestrand to declare, "There can be too much comer George McKenzie, seeking Steve Miller's District 3 seat, was asked about his position on a ballot referendum designed to finance nat-ural trails and land preservation in Seminole County, something amazing happened.

McKenzie informed the audience he wasn't up to par on the issue and felt it would be better to "take a pass" on the question rather than try to buffalo his way through It. The audience seemed to genuinely appreciate the honesty.

For a novice, McKenzie got in a deft left hook on the missing Miller. While emphasizing his willingness to serve throughout the evening's discussion, McKenzie pointed to his calculations that Miller has missed 9 commission meetings and 17 work-

"You can talk about your vegetable crops, your cotton crops and your fruit crops, but take it from me, the greatest crop in Florida is the tourist crop and the sooner we get down to brass tacks, build a fine hotel and invite the world in here to see our pretty city, the sooner we will start to making the real kale. Our farms and factories will take care of themselves, but to get the tourists you must have a tourist hotel. Some day the people of Sanford will wake up and get this fact in their think tanks." No folks, that's not a quote from Sanford Mayor Larry Dale. It's from Sanford Herald Editor R.J. Holley's Dec. 12, 1916 "Curbstone Gleanings" column. In the same column, current Sanford Monarcha Marcet would take issue with Holley's stance against side-walks. Holley complained about Mayor Forrest Lake "smearing sidewalks all over the landscape." Seems Holley liked the old days when "we did not have any walks at all and walked through the nice soft sand that was easy on our feet and did not wear out shoes near so fast." Despite his misglvings about the sidewalks, Holley gave into his pro-gressive nature. "I suppose we can get accustomed to it sometime just like electric lights, automobiles and all other new fangled notions.

Funerals (Buyer Beware)

A growing trend within the funeral profession is the purchase of funeral homes by large international corporations who own literally HUNDREDS of funeral homes worldwide! Their local funeral home politics are mandated by "corporate headquarters", frequently out of state!

They now have entered into the low-cost funeral market in central Florida. Family Funeral Care in Oviedo and south Orlando are owned and operated by Service Corporation International (SCI). If the Family Funeral Care funeral homes can offer low-cost funerals why can't the rest of the SCI funeral homes in central Florida? The other SCI funeral homes are charging as much as twice what Family Funeral Care charges. These other SCI funeral homes would be the Woodlawn, Carey Hand, Cox Parker, and Garden Chapel groups. The same people make the removals, do the preparation, work the funerals, or do the cremations from a central facility. Why then does SCI only have a few funeral homes offering low-cost funerals.

Banfield Funeral Home has been in the low-cost funeral market since 1989. We believe in the personal touch, being a local, family-owned funeral home. We carefully guide each bereaved family through the funeral arrangement process. We take the time to learn about the life of the deceased, and strive to accommodate all family desires.

The result is a very personal and memorable funeral service, honoring a life that has been lived. This is always done at the guaranteed lowest price with no monkey business.

A good deed goes bad

After a visit to Kenya this summer, I wrote a column describing how the drought had decimated the cattle of the Samburu tribe. I gave an address in Kenya where readers could send $40 to buy a cow for a family there. I had no idea at the time how much good and how much trouble the column would create.

A few weeks after it ran, I received an e-mail from Rocky Francombe, who has been coordinating the fund-raising effort in Kenya.

"I have been up half the night opening envelopes from your wonderful readers. It's unbelievable — $8,600! We will open an account so the money can earn interest as we wait for the rains to return and can buy the cows."

Since then, the total has reached more than $12,000. Like Rocky, I was touched by the extraordinary generosity readers showed toward people so far removed from their own lives. It reinforced my belief that, given a chance, most of us are willing to help.

Then, about 10 days ago, I began getting the phone calls that made me wonder if this good deed had turned into a

A woman who lives near Mendocino called to say that an office-supply company in Virginia had a check from her in the amount of $9,600. The company wanted to confirm that she was, in fact, purchasing office equipment for a company in Kampala, Uganda. The check number matched the one she had used to buy seven cows. The Francombes' name and the dollar amount had been bleached out and replaced.

Then Bill from Modesto called. His bank flagged a check in the amount of $5,460, made out to an automobile company in New York. The bank noticed that the date on the check put it wildly out of sequence with the rest of his checks, and that it was for a much higher amount than usual. Payment on the check was stopped.

A day later, a couple in Morro Bay told me they got a call from an office supply company in Vienna, Va., different from the company the woman in Mendocino had heard from. The couple's $40 check to the Francombes had been changed to $9,700 and was accompanied by a cover letter requesting purchase of 250 HP Inkjet Original Cartridges for GK International in Kampala, Uganda.

(This Virginia company had already filled an order for a different company in Kampala for 250 HP cartridges with a $10,000 check that cleared. But the Morro Bay couple's check was flagged because there were insufficient funds to Another reader called to say she had received a letter from a girl in Uganda asking for money for schooling. I told her about the previous calls and suggested she put a stop-payment on her check for the cows. She decided to close the account altogether, vowing angrily never to give money to help anyone again.

Now a neighbor has just called to say a computer-supplies company in New Hampshire received a $6,600 check signed by her to purchase 200 HP Inkjet Original cartridges for the Kidda Trading Company in Kampala,

My phone calls to the various Uganda companies either went unanswered or did not go through. I'm waiting to hear back from the State Department about tracking down whoever is doctoring the checks.

A scam like this reaches beyond a handful of bank accounts. I wonder how many checks have been altered and thus how many cows will never be bought. And I worry, when another call for help goes out, how many people will decide it isn't worth the trouble.

Support for Octoberfest appreciated

To the editor:

Thank you for your participation and support of the second annual "Octoberfest" benefiting the Good Samaritan Home of Sanford held on Oct. 7. Because of your generous support and participation the day was des-tined to be successful.

The Good Samaritan Home of Sanford has been providing a much needed service in the Seminole County Area since 1948. The "Home" is and has been a haven for indigent elderly and disabled persons in need of care regardless of race, color, creed, religious belief, national origin or ability to pay. It is through the donations and contributions of concerned citizens, organizations and area churches that the "Home" is able to continue to succeed in its efforts.

Thank you again for your support in second annual "Octoberfest." We are looking forward to a greater success with "Octoberfest 2001."

Remember that you show how tall you are when you reach down to give a helping hand to someone in need.

Sincerely, Ruby N. Blake, Administrator The Good Samarlian Home

Doctor thanks participants in fund-raiser

To the editor:

During the year 2000, 12,000 women will fight the battle against breast cancer, 2,900 will lose. To honor those who have fought the battle or who are still waging the war, walkers offered a morning of support to contin-ue to make strides against breast cancer.

On Saturday, Oct. 14, 4,540 participants joined the American Cancer Society's second annual "Making Strides Against Breast Cancer" walk through Historic Downtown Orlando, raising more than $400,000 for breast cancer research and outreach programs. On behalf of the American Cancer Society, heartfelt thanks to all of you who participated, whether physically by walking or financially by pledging. Any outstanding pledges can be mailed to the American Cancer Society at 1601 W. Colonial Dr., Orlando, FL 32804.

Breast cancer is the most common form of cancer among American women. One in eight women will be diagnosed with the disease. While progress is clearly made in saving lives from breast cancer, "Making Strides Against Breast Cancer, women and families throughout our community will directly benefit from American Cancer Society programs. For information call the American Cancer Society at 1-800-ACS-2345, or visit our website at www.cancer.org and click on "Florida."

Mason to vote no on retention election issue

To the editor: I am concerned that

Florida's citizenry will be voting this November on an extremely important issue which has received little media coverage. Voters will be asked to forego their right to vote and have Florida's trial judges appointed for life. There will be no campaigns, no chal-lengers—no chance for voters to choose between candidates. The proposed change is generically referred to as a "merit retention." What it means is that populist elections will be abolished and in their place, special committees (comprised of lawyers and lay peopula) will populate lawyers to ple) will nominate lawyers to become judges. The ultimate appointment decision will be made by the governor. If merit retention passes, when a judge's term expires, he or she will be subject to a "retention" election. Only one name will appear on the ballot—that of the sitting judge. The voters will decide yes or no to retain that person. If a sitting judge has no direct competition, now will bad judges ever be replaced?

In November, Floridians should vote against "retention" elections. Kings are appointed for life; judges should not be.

Sincerely, Steven G. Mason

Candidates just strangers in the night

After their first debate, John F. Kennedy and Richard Nixon shared a sleeper back to Washington. Boarding the Capitol Limited at midnight, Jack took the top berth, Dick the bottom.

It wasn't 1960, the date of their historic "Great Debate," but 13 years earlier. The U.S. congressman from McKeesport, Pa., had picked the best Democratic and Republican prospects from the class of '46 to come and show their stuff before a downtown civic group.

"He won that one," JFK laughed during a presidential re-visit to McKeesport in 1962, "and then we went onto other things."

Chris

Matthews

This is an example of how wide the gap is between the Bush-Gore rivalry of 2000 and the very personal rivalry of JFK and Nixon four decades ago to which it is so often compared.

The fact is, Kennedy and Nixon knew each other quite well before going head to head.

The two navy officers from WWII had come to Congress together the same year and served on the same committee: Education and Labor. Both became committed Cold Warriors. Groomed in wildly different worlds, they formed one of those odd Capitol Hill friendships that would make their later contest for the presidency all the more bitter.

"I was always convinced that you would move ahead to the top," Jack wrote Nixon

..... after his '52 nomination for vice president, "but I never thought it would come this quickly."
"While the hand of fate made Jack and me political opponents," Nixon wrote Jack's widow that sad November night eleven years later, "I always cherished the fact that we were personal friends from the time we came to Congress together in 1947. Historians will never dig up such notes between Al Gore and George Bush. No. Theirs is a combat between strangers, men who share neither a common personal history nor a similar professional path, only a mutual contempt for everything the other man stands for.

"I have not spent the last quarter century in pursuit of personal wealth," Gore said in Wednesday's final debate after reviewing his own resume of perennial public service.

Bush, who takes obvious pride in his past exploits as oil man and baseball team owner, holds to an equally dim view of Gore's career. Why would anyone spend his adulthood pandering to the Democratic party's myriad of pressure groups?

Their differing careers obviously reflect a deep divide in their attitudes. Gore told us Wednesday night that public service is the most noble of all possible vocations. That includes public school teachers. "Most schools," he assured us, "are excellent."

Bush offered a far different manifesto. "I don't trust the federal government," he told the country.

Gore says "we" in speaking of the federal government. When his topic is better-off taxpayers, he is not referring to himself. Bush, who says

"Washington" when he is on the attack against big government, is clearly on defense when the talk shifts to the prime targets of Gore tax doc-

Unlike Kennedy and Nixon, who spent 13 years bumping into each other in Capitol hallways, this pair has shared but a handful of hours confronting each other in primetime. They eye each other, not with the mixed respect of veterans, but as symbols of what each detests. After three nights of debate, their only shared experience is playing the other guy's villain.

This may explain why we've found this Bush-Gore contest so bloodless, their three-act drama so vacant. Imagine how good these debates might have been if the governor and the vice president had been old pals even shared a sleeper way back when?

"We believe Lexington Park's dynamic location and easy access, along with its sophisticated design concept, will make it the area's premier office center."

Opening

Through interaction with its membership, the performing group chooses its productions through a democratic voting procedure, Cloke said. In a threestep process, the more than 80 members choose various productions they would like to see and submit their ideas to a committee, which reviews each selection. The committee narrows the list of plays and musicals depending on their feasibility to produce and then distributes the selections to the members, which in turn vote on three or four productions.

This year, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," featuring music by Stephen Sondheim, was one of the top selections.

"Forum" is a musical comedy set in ancient Rome. It is based on several plays of the Roman playwright, Plautus, and is a hilarious romp through ancient Rome complete with mismatched lovers, mistr ken identities and lots of laughs.

"It has great music," Cloke said. "And, it is a family show suitable for the entire family to enjoy."

"Forum's" director is Doug Curry, musical director is Carol Sissom, and the production includes a cast of more than 20 characters. Show dates are Oct. 27-28 and Nov. 3-4 starting at 8 p.m., and Oct. 29 and Nov. 5 starting at 2:30 p.m.

Ticket prices are $12 for adults and $10 for students, children and seniors. Group discounts are available in advance.

Ten percent of all ticket sales will be donated to Morning Star School, a school in College Park dedicated to the needs of children with disabilities.

Challengers address Longwood issues

By Joe DeSantis Staff Writer

LONGWOOD - Longwood's only scheduled debate for city commission candidates took on the flavor of a town hall meeting this week with only half the candidates on hand to meet potential voters.

District 5 challenger Craig Van Hooven and District 3 hopeful George McKenzie outlined their positions for 90 minutes before more than three dozen residents at the Ed Myers Community building

Wednesday night.
The "debate" was sponsored by the Lake Wayman Heights Homeowners Association and moderated by University of Central Florida polítical science professor Dr. Aubrey Jewett.

Debate organizers were earlier informed by incumbents Paul Lovestrand and Steve Miller they would be unable to attend due to previous commitments.

Van Hooven, making a second bid for Lovestrand's seat, expressed a theme outlining more participation from residents and volunteers within the city, aggressive and equal enforcement of codes enforcement, establishing spending priorities for parks and recreation development, and called on the city to come out of its self imposed shell and attempt to be more aggressive and cooperative with the county and other municipalities in tackling mutually beneficial projects and identifying additional revenue streams for the city.

"I'm not looking out for any special interests, I'm looking out for the people of Longwood," he told the gathering.

Longwood needs a delicate balance of taxing and spending."

Referring to the absence of Lovestrand, Van Hooven told residents, "I'm not battling my opponent (Lovestrand), I'm battling what has not be done in this city for the past 10 years under his watch.

Political newcomer McKenzie told the audience he was running with no agenda as well, and simply wanted to serve Longwood's residents.

"Getting rid of Longwood's nasty reputation as 'Wrongwood' will only come with progress," he said.

"I am running because I'm willing to listen and serve the will of the people in this city. I would like to see Longwood become the best city in Seminole County and for that to happen it will take a combined effort between city officials and residents. Without that combined effort we will stag-

Addressing major areas of concern posed by moderator Jewett, the city commission candidates offered their respective positions on the following topics:

• "Longwood's 2000-2001 budget has a 24 percent surplus. Do you support reducing the tax millage rate?"

city has a 24 percent budget surplus thanks in part to the over-taxation of residents and projects previously approved by the board being continually tabled into the next budget year. He said he felt it bordered on silliness that his opponent, Lovestrand, led the charge this year to give back taxpayers what amounts to 50 cents per month when the city doesn't even have a revenue generating concession stand at any of the city's parks. "Should Longwood offer economic incentives to attract new business to the Van Hooven said the city should consider economic incentives if the end results were right for Longwood. "If it means long term leases and long-term commitments and high dollar jobs for Longwood residents,

McKenzie said the city should consider incentives on a case-by-case basis and weigh whether or not particular incentives were in the best interest of Longwood.

• "One of the Nov. 7 ballot issues for county voters will be to choose to extend or kill the one-cent sales tax approved 10 years ago. Are you in favor of extending the tax?"

McKenzie said he was personally in favor of continuing the tax, but felt it was the voter's opportunity to go to the polls and ultimately decide if they think the tax is

Van Hooven likewise expressed a desire to see the tax continued, pointing to $900,000 the city received to help pay for a large scale paving project on Rhinehart Road. He added he felt the tax would help pay for future projects in the city and ultimately hold or reduce property taxes

 "Should Longwood more aggressively move toward renovation of its Historic District?" Van Hooven said more input was needed from the city's Business Advisory Council and members of the Historic District business establishment before concrete decisions were made. While many cities are saying, 'Give us a downtown,' I haven't seen a strong enough push to put that issue at the top of the pri-

McKenzie said renovation of the Historic District wasn't likely until the city cleaned up its "image." "We first need to address sidewalk concerns in the Historic District. With few exceptions, there's no place to walk." "Police and fire personnel were last minute additions to this year's budget. Should voters have more advance information on this type of budget impact?" "In Longwood the squeaky wheel gets the grease," responded Van Hooven.

Personally I believe in the chain-of-command approach. If rank and file can convince department heads additional hires are absolutely necessary, and if department heads can convince the city administrator they are necessary, then the city administra tor should bring it forward for the commission's consideration. During the past two years the city administrator has recommended no new police and fire personnel, yet we see "selected" department heads almost invited to make last minute cases."

McKenzie said he felt any proposals for additional city personnel should come up very early in budget workshop sessions so citizens have ample opportunity for input instead of last minute pitches for more peo-

 "How can the city address its problem
 "How can the city address its problem of employee retention, especially public safety employees?" Van Hooven said the Issue was tough for Longwood to deal with. We are a small city with limited revenue We have two unions that are always screaming for more, more, more. But we can only go so far."

He added that police and fire personnel would always look outside the city for mor opportunities because the size of the city's police and fire departments offer little room for promotion and upward career mobility. McKenzie agreed, saying the city could implement other incentives not based solely on pay, but would have to hold the line

Patricia A. Walker to Marry

Thomas A. Speer This engagement announcement of one of my long time friends, Patty Walker, is in my scrapbook. I probably have their wedding announcement somewhere also, but not where I can find it.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Walker announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Patricia Walker, to Thomas Algenon Speer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Algenon

Patty was born in Palatka, but move to Sanford (her dad's home town) when she was about eight and graduated from Seminole High School with the class of 1954. She had worked for a few years in Atlanta but at the time of their engagement she was employed by Florida State Bank in Sanford.

Tommy was a lifelong Sanford resident (his ancestors were some of the very first Sanford settlers) who graduated from SHS in 1953. He was graduated from the University of Florida and received his law degree from South Texas College of Law, Houston. He had been admitted to the Florida Bar Association in 1963 and joined his dad in the firm Speer and Speer.

The wedding was scheduled for February 27, 19645 at First Presbyterian Church.

Tommy continues as an attorney with offices on Magnolia Avenue while Patty is a homemaker. Those of us who know this couple, rejoice with them as Patty was pronounced cancerfree last year after having been given no chance at wall with heart cancer. Miracles do hap-

Rosemary Garner, G.R. Boot Married

Another of my longtime friends, Rosemary Garner, has her wedding announcement to Roy Boot in my scrapbook. Although of course it isn't stated in the announcement, she did what she always said she would - they got married at the courthouse and then informed their family and friends. The ceremony took place June 1, 1967 in New York City.

Rosemary was born in Alabama but moved to Sanford as a baby with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Wade Garner, and brothers, Wade Jr. and Ronnie.

She graduated from SHS In 1954 and then received a degree in nursing education from FSU. She worked in hospitals in Miami and Fernandina Beach before moving to New York City where she had been a nurse at Doctors Hospital for the previous five years.

Roy Boot was born in Nottingham, England, but received his education in the United States. He had done graduate work in Fine Arts In Paris. He was presently a staff member at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York.

A few years after their marriage, the couple quit their jobs and moved to Maine. Roy continued to do free lance art work while Rosemary painted houses and picked apples. Roy died of bone cancer in the late 1970s. Rosemary was remarried to Michael Spivak a few years ago and they live in Fairfield, Iowa.

Rosemary and my friendship began in first grade when we sat at the same table in Miss Welsh's class at Southside School. We were in each other's homes often during our childhood and she was the one who encouraged me to play a clar-Inet when we were in the sixth grade. Her brother Ronnle was in the SHS Band. We took lessons together from Mr. Bernard Black who would come to Sanford Grammar once a week. And there was actually a small band at Sanford Junior High. We practiced in the basement. Then we had great fun together in the SHS Band for four years.

Our lives have taken widely divergent paths since then but we have remained in touch all through the years.

Former city commission candidate Judy Putz said the threat to Murphy was the latest in a pattern of activities that happens election after election in Longwood.

Jackson said the Longwood

Police Department would handle the letter with standard

Blue Darters run past Rams

Apopka's team speed too much for Lake Mary in 6A-2

By David Quinones Herald Correspondent

APOPKA — Friday's game between the Lake Mary Rams and the Apopka Blue Darters was literally a clash of the titans, as both teams battled to maintain their respective undefeated streaks in Class 6A-District 2 play.

The game brought about as much hype to Central Florida as the "Subway Series" has to New York. However on this night the Apopka Blue Darters seemed to be the better team as they dominated the Rams by a score of 35-12.

Lake Mary would draw first blood when they scored on their opening drive on a 10-yard touchdown scamper by running back Reggie Campbell. Campbell's touchdown run was setup by a 62-yard reception by Eddie Quinones on a flea flicker pass from Anthony Ballerino. The extra point try See Rams, Page 3B

Long touchdown pass costs Tribe crucial district, Homecoming victory

SANFORD - While it will only count as a one defeat in the loss column, the Seminole

Such was the case for the Fighting Seminoles as junior quarterback Gentry Jackson avoided a sack in the back-field and hit senior Wilson Jackson with a 31-yard touch-down pass with 7:56 left in the game as the Spruce Creek Hawks edged the Tribe, 14-7, in a Class 5A-District 4 con-

Cougars hand Oviedo crucial setback

Latest loss leaves Lions with little hope of returning to state playoffs

By Tony DeSormier Herald Correspondent

ORLANDO - Statistics never lie ... at least, not as long as you look at the right ones. On Friday night, the Oviedo Lions both out-ran the University Cougars (gaining 153 yards to 96) and out-passed them (180 to 59). But a pair of turnovers and a blocked punt gave University the edge in the only statistical category that

McNealy sparkles as Greyhounds romp to Homecoming triumph

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

LONGWOOD — Mark McNealy ran for a pair of touchdowns as Lyman took out a season of frustration on Pine Ridge Thursday night, rolling over the Panthers, 34-6, in a Class 5A-District 4 contest at Carlton D. Henley Stadium.

The victory was doubly sweet as it came on Homecoming.

Senior Paul Sanchez got his first start at quarter-back for the Greyhounds and he directed the home team to a season-high 331 yards of total

Lyman also scored five touchdowns on the evening, bettering the four the team had totaled in the first six games.

Sanchez got the Greyhounds on the board in the second quarter, scoring on a six-yard run. The extra point try failed, but the hosts carried the 6-0 lead into the lockerroom at halftime.

McNealy, a junior who rushed for a game-high 191 yards on 22 carries, scored his first touch-down of the game on a 10-yard run in the third quarter and Sanchez added the 2-point conver-sion run to give Lyman a 14-0 lead after three

Junior Ricky Argo put the game out of reach for the Greyhounds on the first play of the fourth quarter as he sprinted in from 20-yards out and when Juan Zuluaga kicked through the extra point the score was 21-0.

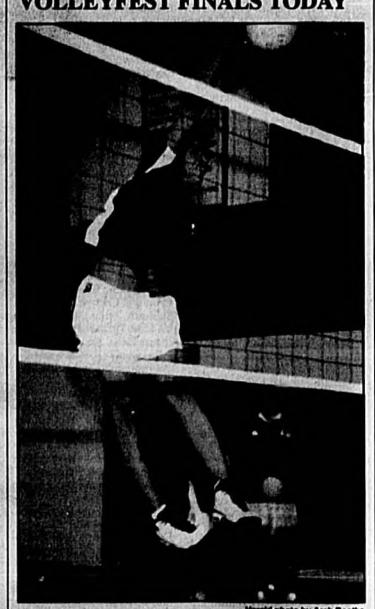

Pine Ridge tried to get back into the game when Isaac Chavers, who ran for 181 yards on 27 carries, scored his team's only points of the night on a 2-yard run to make the score 21-6.

But this was Lyman's night as Means scored on

VOLLEYFEST FINALS TODAY

Lake Howell player slams down a spike during the opening round of Volleylest 2000 at Lake Mary High School on Friday. The host Rams, the Silver Hawks, Winter Springs, Winter Park, Cypress Creek, University, Edgewater and Seminole are the teams vying to be the best boys volleyball team in the area. The tourney continued at 9 a.m. this morning with the Championship Game set for 3:15 p.m. today

Lake Howell stifles Winter Springs

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

CASSELBERRY— Lake Howell returned a pair of third quarter turnovers for touchdowns as the host Silver Hawks pulled away for a 28-12 victory over Winter Springs in a Class 5A-District 4 game at Richard L. Evans Field Thursday night.

Lake Howell, which had lost the last two times these neighthe last two times these neighborhood rivals had played, took a 14-0 lead in the second quarter on 1-yard touchdown runs by Aston Wilson and Ivan Scott and a pair of extra point kicks by Robert McClintock.

The Bears cut the lead to 14-6 at halftime when Estaban Murillo returned an interception 15 yards for a touchdown.

The Silver Hawks' defense then broke the game open in the third quarter as Eric Rouse returned a Winter Springs fum-ble 42 yards for a touchdown and moments later Donald Sams picked off a pass and returned it 25 yards for a score.
McClintock added both extra points and Lake Howell had an insurmountable 28-6 lead.

The Bears put the only points on the board in the fourth quarter when Andrew Barch found Chad Hunter for a 10-yard touchdown pass.

The Silver Hawks are now 2-5 overall and 2-2 in the district race and have a golden opportunity to be a spoiler and keep their slim playoff hopes alive when they take on district unbeaten Spruce Creek at Daytona Beach Municipal Stadium next Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Winter Springs fell to 2-4 over-all and 0-3 in 5A-4 and will host Lyman in a district contest next Friday at 7:30 p.m. at A.W. Epps Stadium.

Jets, Dolphins meet in NFL game of the week

Wecome back fans, we've had a great ride so far and it promises to get better. I'm writing this column under duress, my computer crashed, but as always you can count on the Crystal Ball of Football to deliver.

The Herald has graciously offered to pay for the repair of my computer and the price of renting this one at Kinkos, but I've refused. I'll state once again for the record, this has never been about the money. It's about the Crystal and his readers exploring the National Football League together, and in the words of a 1980's hit, Loving every

Last week was a slow one for Florida's teams as the Dolphins were idle.

The Jaguars continued to embarrass themselves with a loss to the Titans. In my opinion, which the record shows is usually accurate, Jacksonville is now out of the playoffs. Tennessee and Baltimore will battle in that Division and Jacksonville, Cincinnati, and Cleveland will be the also-rans.

Tampa Bay has once again succeeded in breaking our hearts with their Thursday night loss to Detroit. Early on this team had the opportunity to put the Lions away but failed.

I'm not saying that they are done for the season, but they have dug themselves quite a hole. The offense has once again not lived up to their end of

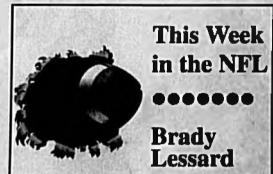

Enough about last week, let's get to the schedule and find some winners. DENVER (-10) AT CINCINNATI

You know you're bad when you are a 10-point dog at home. The Broncos are showing signs of life and NEED this pushover to catch the Raiders in the Division. I think the Bungles are good enough to keep it close....in the first quarter. Broncos 24, Bungles 13.

INDIANAPOLIS (-8) VS. NEW ENGLAND This game promise to be Manning's return to the ranks of the best quarterbacks in the League. He's been having his problems but a return home should prove to be a return to greatness as well.

Class fans will make it difficult for Bledsoe to hear. Colts 34, Patriots 17.

DALLAS (-7) VS. ARIZONA Will someone let me know how this one turns out? I could not care any less about an N.F.L. game. In my opinion they should cancel this game. Cowgirls 17, Cardinals 10.
ATLANTA (-1) VS. NEW ORLEANS

The Palcons need to spread their wings a bit. They've been having trouble all year and I look for them to turn it around here. They have OWNED the Saints for the past five seasons. Falcons 37, Aints 13.

BALTIMORE (-1) VS. TENNESSEE Many are calling this the game of the week, they're wrong. Granted both teams have good defenses and the game will be close, but the Titans have the edge on offense. McNair is a much better quarterback than Banks and that will be clearly illustrated today. Titans 19, Ravens 13. MINNESOTA (-7) VS. BUFFALO

My beloved Bills are coming off their huge win over the 0-6 Chargers in overtime last week. Well, maybe it wasn't that impressive. Flutie takes the wheel as the starter for the first time this year and will stun the Vikes at home. Bills 23, Vikings 21.

ST. LOUIS (-7) AT KANSAS CITY The Rammies may be taking the Chiefs a little lightly. Kansas City has some of the best fans around, it's an outdoor stadium, and they can run the ball. Rammies fall for the first time this year. Chiefs 24, Rammies 17. OAKLAND (-7) VS. SEATTLE

The Cheaters plan on thumping the Seahawks and I'm not sure Holmgren has the horsepower to stop them. I think it would be great for Oakland to march all the way to the Super Bowl. Coach Gruden is a freak and the California fans love Itl

WASHINGTON (4) AT JACKSONVILLE The Jags are now playing for pride as their play-off hopes have dimmed. The Deadskins will again try to play to expectations and stay in the N.F.C. hunt. A loss in this one and Congress may ban them from the Beltway. Deadskins 24, Jaguars 12.

NEW YORK JETS (-3) VS. MIAMI

This my friends is the game of the week. These teams have been on a collision course and they've both win a red light. Monday Night Football will both run a red light. Monday Night Football will be one to remember after this one. Jets fans, already intoxicated with the Subway Series in baseball, will pelt the Dolphins with bottles AND batteries as they defend their turf. This is a gang fight and the cops are busy! Jets 27, Dolphins 13. Each week the Crystal Ball of Football releases his patented LOCK OF THE WEEK. This is the game that after intense research and contempla-tion he feels most comfortable going with against the spread. Today, I'm "shopping in the cellar," and making my selection in a junk game. I'm going with the ATLANTA FALCONS (-1) OVER THE NEW ORLEANS SAINTS.

Crazy you say? The Falcons have beaten the Aints 10 straight times, and even Jeff Blake can't fix that. This game will prove once and for all that the Crystal is not just a big game guy. I can pick them anyway, anytime, and anywhere. Enjoy your football this weekend and remem-

was no good, leaving the score 6-0 in favor of the Rams.

That touchdown would be the only score for Lake Mary until late in the game as the Apopka defense would completely shutdown the Rams offense, forcing them to punt a total of six times

The Lake Mary defense didn't seem as strong as usual as they allowed the Blue Darters to accumulate 405 yards of total offense.

Apopka responded to Campbell's touchdown with a touchdown of its own in the second quarter when quarterback Brett Pensala scored on a 2yard touchdown run off a quarterback keeper to put the Blue Darters on top 7-6.

Apopka would tack on six more points before the end of the half when Nazareth Pompilus caught a 3-yard pass from Pensala to push the Blue Darters lead to 13-6, after the extra point attempt failed.

The Apopka scoring assault would not end there as they scored again with 2:42 remaining in the third quarter on a Fernando Durden 7-yard touchdown run, putting Apopka up 21-6, as the two point conversion attempt was successful.

Less than six minutes later Apopka put six more on the board when Ned Baldwin made an incredible catch in the end-zone on a 20-yard pass from Pensala to put the Blue Darters up 27-6, as the point after attempt again failed.

Exactly 3 minutes and 42 seconds later, the Blue Darters would score again on a 72-yard touchdown run by Steve Baylark, who had 162 yard on 14 carries, putting Apopka up 35-6, when Pensala ran in the 2-point conversion.

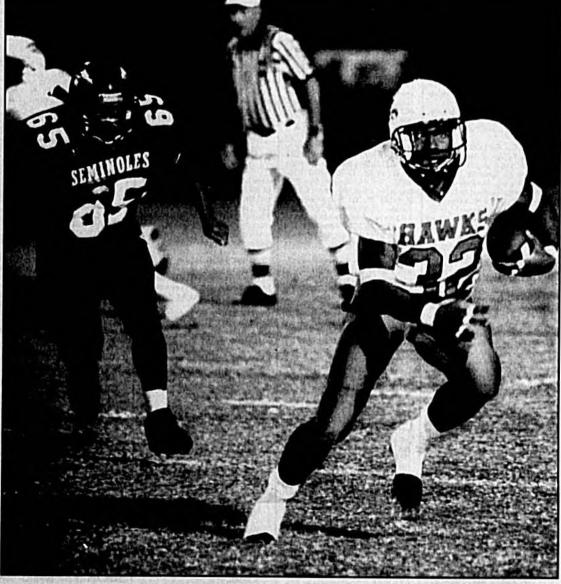

The Rams however would get the last score of the game when, with 24 seconds left when Tony Duber caught a 2-yard scoring toss from quarterback Jason Hadley, capping a 12-play, 74-yard drive that took a total of 3 minutes and 6 seconds to accomplish.

The Duber score would make the score 35-12, which would be how the game ended.

With the win Apopka improves to 7-0 overall and more importantly 4-0 in the district, while the loss saw the Rams fall to 4-3 overall and 4-1 in

If the Blue Darters win next Friday at DeLand (Spec Martin Stadium at 7:30 p.m.) they will be the 2000 Class 6A-District 2 champions, while the Rams will have a showdown at home against the Lake Brantley Patriots (5-2 overall, 3-2 in 6A-2), who had a bye Friday, for the runner-up spot in the district and a spot in the playoffs.

That game will begin at 7:30 p.m. at Don T. Reynolds Stadium.

Spruce Creek star Derrick Means (No. 32) breaks into the open field for one of the few times all night a runner actually found running room in Thursday's delensive struggle. Means was held to 74 yards rushing on 21 carries, but did score a touchdown as the Hawks edged Seminole, 14-7, in a big Class 5A-District 4 contest.

of eight, six, and 51 yards, the Cougars celebrated their home-coming with their first 6A-District 3 win of the season, a 24-21 decision over the visiting Lions.

University improves to 3-4 overall and 1-3 in the district while Oviedo, which has lost four in a row, also is 3-4 and 1-

Now tied for fifth (with University) in the seven-team district, Oviedo's hopes of returning to the state playoffs, even as a wildcard selection like last year, are flickering.

"All we can do now is sit back and pray something breaks our way," said Oviedo coach Greg Register. "It's been a weird year already, so more weird things can happen. All we can do is sit back and see what happens for us." What happened for the Lions Friday night was a gridiron interpretation of "The Good, the Bad, and the Ugly." The Good - Drew Balley-

Barnett, despite a slight hamstring pull, rushed for a gamehigh 94 yards on 10 carries while Christian Tenekedes completed eight of 21 passes for 124 yards and a touch-

The Bad - Twice the Lions advanced to the University 20yard line and came away empty, a 37-yard field goal attempt sailing wide on one possession while the other ended when Oviedo were unable to convert on fourth-and-eight from the Cougar 12yard line The Ugly - University recovered a muffed Oviedo punt return at the Lion 8-yard line and later blocked, the covered, an Oviedo punt at the Lion 6-yard line. Both plays resulted in Cougar touchdowns. Oviedo managed to knot the score twice. In the first quarter, Dwayne Allen caught a 9-yard screen pass from Tenekedes and scored to tie the game at 7-7. Later, in the third quarter, Billy Dreggors' 1-yard touchdown run (set up by a 58-yard dash by Bailey-Barnett) tied the score at 14-14.

University snapped the tie with an 11-yard Nick Buchert touchdown pass to Michael Raymond. David Tanner's 37yard field goal 2x minutes into the fourth quarter gave the Cougars a 24-14 advantage.

The Lions cut the deficit to three points when Nick Tenekedes scored on a 22-yard pass from Brett Murphy with under a minute left in the game. Tim Reid (90 yards on 30 carries) scored University's first two touchdowns on runs of 6 and 2 yards following the muffed punt and blocked punt, respectively.

Oviedo will try to reverse its skid next Friday, when the Lions return home to face the Colonial Grenadiers in another district contest. University, which has a bye next Priday night, plays again on Friday, Nov. 3, at Colonial.

as an at large team. "I'm disappointed that we didn't score more points," said Seminole head coach Jim Worthington. "This is a good bunch of guys here, we have to keep our chins up, and finish the season strong. The Hawks, the defending district champions, appear to have the Tribe's number, hold-ing the normally high-scoring Fighting Seminoles to only 16 points the last three years.

The game was a defensive battle throughout, but Seminole appeared to be controlling the game, having good field posi-tion and moving the ball pretty well. But each time a crucial penalty, a missed assignment or a busted play cost the Tribe points.

The Fighting Seminoles received the opening kickoff but had to punt after gaining seven yards.

Matt Groover got off an excellent 56-yard punt, but Spruce Creek's Wilson Jackson takes it at his own 16 and returns it to the Seminole 34.

After a five-yard gain by Derrick Means, the Tribe hand the Hawks a first down with the first of their six penalties on the evening.

Another offside penalty moments later keeps the drive alive and Means caps off a short seven-play, 34-yard drive with a two-yard burst up the middle. Eric Fuit added the extra point and Spruce Creek led 7-0 with only 4:50 having expired from the clock.

Seminole continued to move the ball but could not maintain a drive and also turned the ball over twice, once on a fumbled punt near mid-field and once on an interception after getting the ball at the Hawks 46 on a roughing the passer penalty.

Spruce Creek, meanwhile, could not get anything going the rest of the half, running no more than three plays in five series the final 22:10 of the first half.

The Tribe got the momentum going into the half when quarterback Brad Locke found Willie Bennett wide open deep along the right sideline for a 43-yard touchdown pass with only 2/10's of second left on the clock. Groover added the extra point and the score was tied at intermission.

The second half saw both teams move the ball, but not being able to find the end zone. In fact, the teams turned the ball over on downs a combined three times.

The Hawks were getting the better of it behind Means, who rushed for a team-high 74 yards on 21 carries, but could not dent the scoreboard until quarterback Gentry Jackson avoided a loss and hit Wilson Jackson with a 31-yard touchdown pass with 7:56 left in the fourth quarter. It is said that football is a game of inched and it was Thursday as a Seminole defender had a clean shot at sacking Gentry Jackson for a long loss, but missed the tackle and Jackson threw the touchdown The Tribe also had Gentry

Jackson penned up in the backfield on a third down and three play late in the game, but the nifty QB avoided the tackle and got the first down that allowed the visitors to run out the clock. Despite the loss, Bennett again had a good night, rushing for a game-high 83 yards on 18 carries and also catching the 43yard touchdown pass. Ramone Raines also had a decent night, catching a 24-yard pass and carrying the ball once on an endaround for 11 yards.

Groover also continued to impress, punting the ball four times for a 48.25 yard per kick average. Two punts were over 50 yards and the shortest of the night was 38.

Seminole, which fell to 5-3 overall and 3-2 in district, will look to right the ship in a nondistrict game against a tough Merritt Island Mustangs squad on the east coast next Friday starting at 7:30 p.m.

Spruce Creek is now 6-1 overall and 4-0 in 5A-4. The Hawks will host Lake Howell in another district game next Friday at Daytona Beach Municipal Stadium starting at 7:30 p.m.

According to Saminoles of Serminole Executive Director Michele Hickey, a total of 13,006 Serminole County realdents have received services from her organization. She also said the number of reported domestic violence incidents in Serminole County have increased 24 percent since 1995. Domestic violence is defined as a pattern of sessuitive and coercive behaviors, including physical, sexual and psychological attacks as well as sconomic coercion, that adults or adolescents use significant their intimate partners. For information or to seek help, Hickey urges people to call the Safehouse of Seminole 24-hour hottine at 407-330-3633.

ast year, 37 percent of all women who sought care rooms for violence-related injuries were victims of domestic abuse.

That's why officials from Safehouse of Seminole decided to hold a domestic violence memorial service

Tuesday in front of Orlando Regional South Seminole Hospital's emergency room. The timing of the event was planned to coincide with Domestic Violence Awareness Month.

This is a health care crisis," Safehouse of Seminole Executive Director Michele Hickey said. "This is an lasue we must address in Seminole County."

But, according to Hickey, the lasue is only now being recognized by the medical profession.

'Only 10 percent of the cases in emergency rooms are screened for domestic violence" she said.

However, things are changing. According to Dr. Joetta Newman, who serves on the Safehouse board of directors, it is now a state law for medical professionals to go through domestic violence awareness training before they receive or renew their licenses. It's also against the law not to report a suspected domestic violence case. We still have a long way to go because it still exists," Newman said. "But, domestic violence is something we can prevent.

"And, death is something that shouldn't occur if it is preventable." Newman believes education is the key to prevention. People in the medical field need to learn to recognize and treat symptoms of domestic violence and know what they should do if a patient appears to be a victim of the crime.

We can save a lot of lives if we only educate ourselves about the issue," she said.

Since 1995, domestic violence reported incidents in Seminole County have increased 24 percent,

Season of Harvest Five generations of Pells continue farming tradition

As we notice the daylight dwindling and the morning air turning gool and orisp, we don't need a calendar to tell us that fail her arrived. For farmers across the country the estumn months are the start of the harvest season. It's a time to reap the rewards for the long hours of work during the spring and summer. One local family that has been farming the land for five generations are the Pells. The farmity owns Pell's Citrus & Nursery on Doyle Road in Ostesn. Janette and Albert H. Pell, who started the present day operation in the early 1950s are still very active in the business. The rugged field work is handled by their son Mark with help from his son, Austin, and several other employees. Pell look time from cutting and beling hay along Celery Avenue in Sanford to talk with Herald stall writer Arthur Zielinski about his job as a Florida farmer.

Q: In addition to your mother, father, and son, how many people in the family are involved in the farming business? A: My younger brother Ross works in the nursery on Doyle Road and my sister, Connie, works in the office. I also have an older brother, Ash. But Ash decided back in high school that farming wasn't his cup of tea, so he went college and got a degree in nuclear physics. Now he works as a nuclear engineer for Florida Power &

Q: How many acres of land do you farm, and is all the land owned by your family? A: Pight now we have about 400 acres in hay and around 150 acres in citrus in addition to timber land. We do cut hay on land owned by other families. The block of ground we're cutting right now is owned by Vince Leffler. Leffler was just named "Tree Farmer of the Year."

Q: I notice that your bales of hay are large and round compared to the traditional smaller rectangular shape — is there a reason for that?
At Each round bale will weigh around 500 pounds and is less labor intensive than the rectangular ones. The only time we touch the round bale is when we roll them on to the back someone's truck, it's all mechanical. When a person with small farm and a few animals uses a round bale, they only need to feed the animals once a week compared to feeding everyday when using the smaller bale.

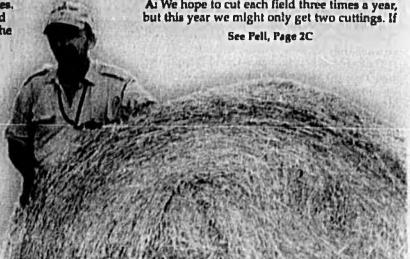

Q: What would you say is the most important factor in farming?

A: The weather. With hay, we cut for two days and bale on the third day. We need dry weather to cut the hay. If the hay gets wet it will mold and can't be used to feed horses, it will make them sick. However, the hay can be used to feed cows because the cow has two stomachs and can tolerate some mold on the hay. The freezing weather of 1983-84 and 1985-86 wiped out about 95 percent of the local citrus crop. At one time all this land was citrus groves. But I think the last person to plant this ground was a potato farmer.

Q: How many bales of hay can you get from an

Q: What is your philosophy toward farming the land? A: It's very self-satisfying. At the end of a long day when the sun begins to set I try and get my crew to take a few minutes and sit back and look at those beautiful sunsets. When we finish up just before dark you can get the aroma of the fresh cut hay and just the satisfaction of a job well done. It's gratifying. I guess that's why fools like us farm.

At the end of the service, Father Charlie Mitchell from St. Mary Magdalene Catholic Church was asked to say a few words and give the invocation.

"Where ever there is fear, there is captivity," Mitchell stated before asking the group to bow their heads in prayer to remem-ber those who have died and for others who are suffering from domestic violence.

Bates condominiums opening for Halloween

Bates Enterprises, formerly the Bates Motel, is set to open in Lake Mary on Saturday, October 28 at 7PM on Country Club Road (the Community Building). Bates Enterprises is a new venture for Norma Bates. The newly refurbished condominium complex was once a motel run by Norma's twin brother Norman. Norma has assured the citizens of Lake Mary that her recently

Rowell paroled brother will have little or nothing to do with the new venture. An unfortunate incident that occurred at the Bates Motel has left Lake Mary, residents learn of anyone with the Bates name. In addition to the apartments, the new condos feature a welllit and happy campground. The Lake Mary

Community Improvement Association is sponsoring Saturday's open house of Bates Enterprises. The CIA is even sponsoring a costume contest for the younger citizens of Lake Mary and, due to parole constrictions, it is highly unlikely that Norman Bates will be allowed to judge the event. (Although he may be found in the shadows.)

Jan took the girls on a tour of the Lake Mary Cemetery. While there, the girls looked for the oldest dates on the tombstones and the most unusual names. In the museum, Mary Wolfe told girls what it was like to grow up without electricity, running water and malls! Claire O'Connor told the girls about the "Lake Mary Girl Scout's Little House" (which was demolished in 1995) and what kind of activities she did as a Girl Scout. Although she isn't a member of the Lake Mary Historical Commission, Happy Sjoblom gladly volun-teered her day to help tell the girls about the early days of Lake Mary. Marathon held to raise money for school equipment

By Michelie Jeria Managing Editor

SANFORD — More than a dozen dedicated golfers gathered Monday at Senford's Mayfair Country Club to raise money for Good Shepherd School.

Through donations and pledges, the golfers raised more than $20,000 for various action) make the country action of the send co ous school projects, former school board member Margie Brannon said. During the past four years, more than $75,000 has been raise from similar events for computers, paving and other equipment for the school.

According to John Koepsel, the organization chose Mayfair Country Club as this year's course for several reasons,

"This is a great course," Koepael said.
"For one thing, the format is open, and it's easy to go from one hole to another."

The short distance is a good thing for the marathon golfers, who started playing golf around 7 a.m. and finished in the early evening.

"You're done whenever you finish the number of holes you pledged to finish," fund-raising co-coordinator Fonda Byrd

By 11 a.m. Monday, Father Dan Bradley finished approximately 30 holes.

He started golfing less than two years ago.

"We had a spring tournament and I decided to start playing," Bradley said. "My handicap is my clubs."

But, the tournament wasn't held to determine a winner. The golfers weren't keeping score.

"We're doing this for fun and to help the school out," Bradley said.

And, Mayfair employees didn't mind sharing the course with the golfers from Good Shepherd.

'It's for a good cause," said Joe Schurtz, the club's golf pro. "We like to help church groups out."

A look at otherwordly images from heaven son is because sex on earth is for procreation ("and all this time you thought it was invented for the fun of it"), and we don't procreate in

To replace the earthly version of sex is another form of intimacy that "has nothing to do with lust and hormones. Known as 'merging,' it is a glo-rious episode of extraordinary reciprocal acceptance and surrender between two joyful spirits."

Most people believe in heaven and most of us think we are going there. But we have some problems with our picture of neaven. To a lot of people, it sounds boring — one eternal hymn-sing. This might be fine for those who like to sing, but many of us prefer something more exciting.

We understand the question of the little girl who said to her mother, "If I am very good in heaven, will they let me go down to hell on Saturday after-neons and play a little?"

One of the first questions we have about heaven is, "Will we be reunited with our loved ones?" Emmett Fox, one of the most popular of the metaphysical writers, answered that by saying, "Wherever there is a strong emotional link - either of love or hatred - there is likely to be a meeting when you have passed over."

The other thing we want to know about heaven is, "What will we do there?" Arthur Ford, a Disciples of Christ clergyman when he was alive, supposedly answered that question in a series of spirit communications with journalist Ruth Montgomery after he

He told of a man newly arrived in heaven who decides to go fishing. Montgomery reports that Ford said, "He wishes he had brought a fish-ing pole and instantly finds one in his hands. He casts and pulls in so many big fish so fas that the pastime soon dulls, and he goes on to some higher form of activity."

The point of Ford's story is that we will be able to do whatever we want in heaven. "What people learn," he says, "is that the next world is a live ly place, full of vigorous and varied activity. They eventually lose their interest in things that gave them pleasure on earth— like fishing, for example — for the more fulfilling joys which are theirs in heaven."

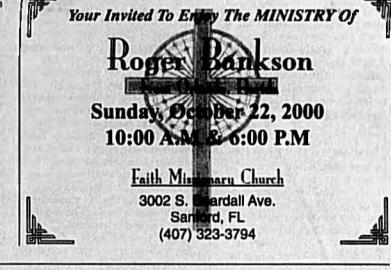

This most often, says Ford, consists of doing things for other people, who are either in heaven or still on earth. Clark Gable, Ford told Montgomery, works with out-of-work actors on earth to help them find employment.

If we can do the kind of work we want when we are on the Other Side, we can also live where we want.

A lot of people, after they have read Browne's book about heaven, can't wait to get there - except for the part about no sex.

Say that was a misprint, Sylvia, and we'll be right

Now the problem: She left her entire estate to me! This includes property, two cars, her home and a handsome sum of money. The family was shocked to learn of this, and so was I. Now I'm afraid Edward's family resents me.

Should I hand everything over to her only remaining son, Edward's lather, or keep It? I am not sure if I should honor her wishes or make the family happy. I really love Edward and hope to have a serious future with him. I don't want any ill will with his family. Please help.

UNEXPECTED HEIRESS

DEAR HEIRESS: Before you make any hasty deci-sions, speak with the attorney who helped Edward's grandmother make her will. It might give you some insight into her motivation for naming you and excluding the family. It is possible she felt she had already provided enough financially over the years for her only remaining son and his family. Even if you now feel like the object of resentment, there is no guarantee that handing over your inheritance will make those feelings go away. It goes without saying that this is a decision that only you can make. So think carefully about the implications and take plenty of time. Continue to work on your relationship with Edward - and "que sera sera."

DEAR ABBY: I have a suggestion, based on my experience, for "Colorado Lady in Waiting," who is in love with "Bob" after dating him for seven months. He wanted her to be his girlfriend, but didn't want her to go with him when he moved out of state, saying he "wasn't sure he wanted to commit."

A magical interlude of friendship and tradition nviting someone to tea is a custom which speaks of highly valued friendship, courted by a soft spoken, subtle parley of words, comforting foods and drink that warms the heart.

The holiday season is just around the corner, and I am sure like all of you, I cannot think of anything other than friends I have around the world and my beloved family back in Romania.

Christmas is memories, Nacu a patchwork quilt of remembrances. While we often strive to create perfect holiday memories for those we love, it is frequently the far from perfect experiences that linger with us the longest and bring those small smiles of remembered laughter and tears.

I come from a very small village in Romania, close to the Danube River, about halfway between Bucharest, the capital of Romania, and Constantza, the port city to the Black Sea.

Growing up, I did not know of any other holidays other than Christmas and Easter. In preparation for both, my mother would have the family go through an entire ritual, which would start weeks before the holiday. Major cleaning would take place, begin-ning with the backyard and ending with decorating each and every room. Hand embroidered liners trimmed with 10 inches of handmade lace would be hand ironed days ahead of time. Spring was the time to make house soap scented with wild lavender, thyme and oregano picked from the nearby Dobrougia hills.

Cooking pickling or marinat-ing used to be a permanent on-going activity. As a child, I spent most of my summer playing in our vineyard where my grandia-ther built my sister and I a tree house. The days harvesting grapes and making our own wine were the happiest.

Equally important was fellow-ship and sharing. The night before Christmas, the children would get together and sing Christmas carols at every house in the neigh-borhood. And, on Christmas day, all doors were open for all of us to enjoy each other's company. The scene remained with me as a celebration of hospitality and grace, which later in my life translates to Tea Time — a tranquil time out or more spirited celebration. I believe, time for tea is a magical interlude when conversation and comfort keep company with delectable tidbits and time-honored traditions, as I greatly value

So, why not take the time this year and plan a High Tea Open House? Especially if you have many wonderful people who you have not seen all year for one reason or another.

I can imagine that for a lot of people, planning for an open house can be a terrifying idea. Do not let that intimidating thought stop you from having your most heart-cherishing memories — one that I am going to walk you through.

A Successful High Tea Open House

A variety of light but piquant appetizers in an interesting combination of finger foods can make a spectacular meal that will satisfy the most pretentious gourmet taste.

Arranged in tea trays and three-tier center piece platters, complemented by pedestal glass cake domes and foot square dishes to house petit fours, scones and tortes will make your table look like a picture out of Victoria Magazine.

Don't forget the fresh flowers. Although a great deal of time is required in preparation, most of the time is spent in decorating and creating. Whether It's a watercress tea sandwich or a sophisticated miniature crab quiche, making every appetizer utterly irresistible should be a personal challenge.

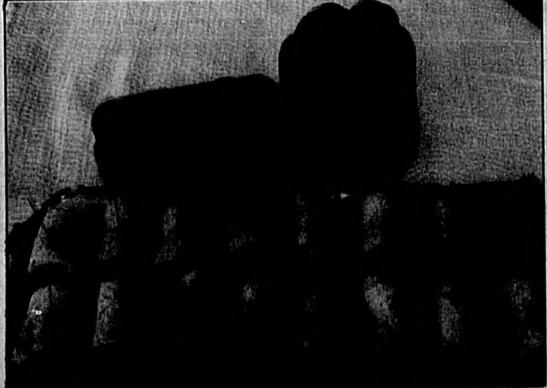

Step One:
Begin with careful planning, selecting the date and names of invitees, followed by invitations sent out two weeks before the party. Open houses imply dropin, drop out attendance and are customarily held in the late afternoon and early evening for two or three hours.

Before you settle on whom to invite, consider the compatibility of your proposed guests and the capacity of your home to accummodate comfortable mingling.

Make up a reasonable timetable for all the pre-party chores, including shopping, cleaning and decorating. Select menu Items that will fit into your available time. The more you can prepare ahead of time, the more serene you will be at party time. Write out on plain index cards your menus with instructions and all the ingredients you will need for your grocery shopping, avoiding multiple shopping sprees.

Step Three: Think of some clever, easy decorating ideas that can be incorporated throughout, from your front door to table and chairs or to a theme for the party which becomes the topic of conversation.

Example: Victorian hats. Research the subject and let your imagination go wild. Get some of your friends involved and assign Evaluate well ahead of party time the aerving pieces you will need and assemble them from your own cupboards, borrow from friends or purchase them from one of our downtown antique shops. Use all the antique linens you have in the house, and bring out the best china. If you have beautiful things, this is why you have them. Enjoy using your antiques and comment on the history behind them. I found that people become very well man-nered when around quality and beauty, and they are very grateful and complementary for sharing
