

Wife Of Detroit Scientist Found Slain Near Home

Mrs. Vivian Stanley Said To Have Lent Neighbor $5,000

DETROIT, July 14 (AP)—The slaying of a comely matron of Detroit's West Side sent police on a search for clues in a deepening mystery today.

Pretty Mrs. Vivian Stanley, 37, clad only in a nightgown and a house coat, was found shortly before noon yesterday in a weed patch a mile from her home.

The victim, wife of a scientist and mother of two children, had been garroted with a rope or a chain, police said—and her neck was broken.

Police headquarters put its top sleuths to work on a case that had grown more fantastic by the hour in night-long inquiries.

A neighbor was held for questioning and the investigation turned in part to $5,000 which police said Mrs. Stanley had loaned to him.

In the background was a role played by private detectives. Homeless inspector George Kimball identified the neighbor in custody as Sam B. Sampson, 42, who he said also had borrowed $5,000 from a second woman to finance a grocery store.

Sampson, who was held without charge, denied any knowledge of Mrs. Stanley's death.

In fact, he said, he was in the company of the other woman, Mrs. Ruth Rankin, at the time of the slaying. Police said Mrs. Rankin supported Sampson's statement.

Mrs. Stanley, wife of Crawford T. Stanley, a Detroit metallurgist, was killed about 11:30 P. M. Wednesday. It was near noon when a chance passerby in an alley came upon her body.

As the inquiry was pursued, police said, it developed also that Mrs. Stanley had hired private detectives to shadow Sampson, the prospect, subsequent to her loan to him of the $5,000.

Inspector Kimball said that Sampson appeared perturbed over this.

Sampson said he had been an acquaintance of the Stanleys and that he had given Mrs. Stan-which has made clear the basis of the United Nations action with respect to Korea. The United Nations itself has set forth the solution to the Korean problem by the Security Council resolutions of June 25 and June 27.

"The aggression of North Korea against the Republic of South Korea was recognized by the United Nations Security Council on June 25 when it issued the cease fire order. Two days later when it had become abundantly clear that the North Koreans had invaded and would not cease fire, then the Security Council called on all members of the United Nations to come to the support of South Korea.

"In case this sounds like a lot of diplomatic doubletalk, let me put it this way. The solution of the Korean crisis is a cease fire and a return by the North Korean forces to the 38th parallel."

White: "That is correct."

Rail Strike

For three weeks, two members, Francis A. O'Neill Jr., and Levee Edwards, have been in Chicago, trying to work out a settlement, particularly between the Switchmen's Union and five western railroads where the switchmen staged a brief strike.

Board Chairman John Thad Scott Jr., has stayed in Washington.

After an appeal by President Truman, the switchmen ended the strike against four roads but continued it on the Rock Island. Mr. Truman seized the Rock Island last Saturday, transforming the strikes into government employees, and forced them back to work by getting a court order.

A court hearing is scheduled for Monday in Buffalo, N.Y., and that is why the switchmen's officers are coming late to the negotiations.

Three separate cases are involved in these negotiations, and the talks will run "concurrently," board officials said. This means three different bargaining sessions, side by side, instead of one big meeting.

Small sums from time to time in repayment of his loan. He said he had paid back about $1,000.

"She kept bothering me," he said.

But he added "I was surprised to find that she had put private detectives on me."

Evidently the last person to see Mrs. Stanley alive was another neighbor, D. W. Davis, 63.

Davis, a field deputy for the Internal Revenue Bureau, said Mrs. Stanley asked him to watch her house Wednesday night because she was "going out for a little while."

She had left the daughter, Lucy, in the house, Davis said.

Mrs. Stanley made the request of him about 9:30 P. M., Davis said and left with the remark "It is important and I won't be gone long."

"I noticed she was wearing a short coat and what I thought was an ankle length gown," he added.

Davis said she left on foot, toward the street instead of toward her garage, and that he then heard a motor start up.

It was nearly 14 hours later that Mrs. Stanley's body was found. Meanwhile Davis had notified police when she failed to return.

Officers found no evidence of a struggle in the weed patch two blocks from the Stanley home.

However, they said that residents of that district had reported hearing a woman scream about 11:30 P. M.—the approximate time of Mrs. Stanley's death—and then heard a car drive off.

Mixed Reaction

the memory of those speeches has vanished while those armored cars are conquering Korea and are about to hurl the Americans into the sea.

Il Memento's conservative competitor, Il Tempo, which also supports the Christian Democratic government, took another view.

"Don't be impatient," it said. "The Communists have enjoyed all the advantages of aggression including surprise and even using 60-ton Soviet tanks. In the end we shall see MacArthur's army coming back."

The non-Communist press in France, while sympathizing with the Americans, has made little comment. The conservative Le Monde saw in the battle the question of the prestige of two flags—the American and that of the United Nations.

The London Daily Express warned that the news from Korea might continue bad for another 90 days but predicted eventual victory.

"Korea is no Dunkerque," it declared. "It's a pitched battle between the handful of ill-equipped American troops, some of them battle-green, and a well-trained, numerically superior aggressor."

The whole free world, it added, will be demoralized if America's "new, grim alertness"

Another leading London newspaper, the liberal News Chronicle, warned "This is our fight too."

Noting that the Americans had made mistakes, the paper said: "We strengthen our cause by facing up to such errors, but not by jering at our friends who make them."

"We have no doubt of their ultimate success. For their initial setbacks we should have nothing but sympathy."

West German editorials emphasized that the Americans were outnumbered and outgunned.

Said the Brunswick Zeitung: "It would be premature to interpret the early tactical losses as a true indication of the power of the free peoples which will be demonstrated in coming days and weeks."

The Wiesbaden Kurier saw American actions in Korea as a defense of Germany and said: "Their defeat would also be our defeat."

Both press and public in the Netherlands took a wait and see attitude, but confidence was expressed in the eventual success of American arms.

In traditionally neutral Sweden, the liberal Daily Aftonbladet said:

"The five letters 'Korea' may one day symbolize the choice of all free peoples: 'To surrender everything that makes life worth living and submit to the basest, most cruel tyranny in world history—or to follow the example now set in the distant land of the morning calm by those ill-trained, ill-equipped American boys.'"

The Miami newspapers, he complained, ridiculed his office and did everything possible to defeat him in his last election.

Sullivan voiced disapproval of the crime commission of greater Miami and its operating director Daniel P. Sullivan. A letter from Dan Sullivan offering the crime commission's cooperation with the Sheriff's office was read by Senator Kefauver.

Sheriff Sullivan read his answer to Dan Sullivan in which he said: "You and your organization are not anti-crime, you are anti-Sullivan. Your purpose is to take over the Sheriff's office." He also termed Dan Sullivan a "high-salaried 'get Sullivan' hatchetman."

Sheriff Sullivan offered in evidence photos and details of raids his men made between March 1949, and July 12, 1950. Kefauver asked if one of the raided places was the Roney Plaza Hotel on Miami Beach, and Sullivan replied, No.

Kefauver: You knew Frank Erickson had been there? It was in the newspapers.

Sullivan: If it was I didn't read it.

Kefauver: Abe Alenberk was at the Woffard Hotel and at the Boulevard Hotel. This gang went from one hotel to another.

Sullivan: From time to time undesirable come into the community but they are not committing a crime and are not wanted elsewhere. What can we do about them?

Kefauver: Don't you know about the state's conspiracy laws? All you need is their financial records to prove their operations here.

Sullivan: That could be, if we could find them and get them.

Kefauver: The Crime Commission of Greater Miami could give you some information.

Sullivan: Those people are here just to get publicity.

full-scale attack to breach the Kum River line which guards Taejon vital rail and highway center.

The headquarters spokesman said the Reds have two or three divisions facing the Americans on the river line.

South Korean police ordered an alert and midnight curfew in Taejon, 20 miles southeast of Kongju.

The Reds apparently sought to outflank American positions on the west.

(There was no word whether the North Koreans were able to re-occupy this band during the early night hours.)

Mustang planes struck at the small force wading the low, gravel bottom river. American artillery blasted the crossing area.

General MacArthur in his communique today had said the 34th Infantry Regiment is in position near Kongju. The North Korean first division, called the Reds' best, was replaced in that area by the Sixth Communist Division, a Korea outfit trained during combat in the Chinese war.)

Red artillery fire was fairly intensive in late morning and early afternoon, but vigorous American counter battery fire silenced the Red guns.

The Red artillery fire apparently was meant to cover the crossing. In late afternoon the Red guns boomed again but three rounds smashed helplessly behind American lines.

If the Communists across the river number under 200 men and if they were hit by artillery and air attacks they could be exterminated by infantry containing action.

But if their bridgehead is re-occupied during the night they could make trouble.

The Communists had moved their tanks down the highway from Chochiwon some seven miles northward and used the tank guns as artillery weapons.

American artillery fire was credited with knocking out seven of 12 tanks. Four were blasted on the Chochiwon highway and three near Kongju.

Front line officers said the small crossing attempt was made upstream and eastward of the Chochiwon Highway bridge. The Reds reportedly used small boats.

(Since the dispatch told of Reds wading the stream, presumably the boats were used to ferry equipment.)

traffic accidents and fatalities.

In announcing Mr. Harmon's nomination for the position of chairman, Mr. Moughton said, "Mr. Harmon has been working for greater safety in Seminole County ever since he first arrived in Sanford." He cited the award Station WTRR received as one of the top ten radio stations in the nation for promoting safety.

A suggestion was made that the local group become affiliated with the National Safety Council. Members were told that the cost of joining the national group would not exceed $50. For this money the local body would receive instruction for various committees, posters, safety signs, and other information based on the experience of the national group.

It was decided to postpone further action on this subject until the next meeting on Aug. 10 when a representative of the national council will address the local club.

Mr. Harmon pointed out that the accident rate in Florida as of July 4 was responsible for more deaths than have been reported to date in the Korean War. He asked members in outlying areas to consider a vice-chairman from each community in Seminole County.

Judge Douglas Stenstrom said that while the organization was only in its embryonic stage on July 4, he believed they could take some credit for the accident-free holiday enjoyed by Seminole County. The Judge asked for a legislative committee whose efforts would be bent toward removing some of the ambiguity that now exists throughout the state because of the national signs erected along the highways.

He said that the Seminole Court is open at all times to try persons who plead guilty for traffic violations. "This condition does not exist everywhere," he said.

Sheriff P. A. Mero praised Superintendent of Roads H. Gay for his vigilance in road safety. The Sheriff said that the Superintendent has placed dozens of warning signs on roads which are not state highways.

Members present asked Sheriff Mero to make a public display of the more than 100 pictures he has showing accidents that have taken place within the County. The photos will be displayed in a local merchants window.

The 36 persons who attended the first meeting were appointed to head a board of directors.

Correcting the cause of the "back" in the "body" is the principle on which Chiropractic is based. It is a natural and drug-free method. Disease is an effect and every effect must have a cause. Under the Chiropractic premise, the vertebral subluxation which creates pressure upon nerves and interferes with the normal transmission of vital mental forces is the cause of disease in the body. Correct adjustment releases this pressure and thereby removes the real cause.

When normal function is disturbed for a length of time we become sick. In order for the body to be healthy it must be supplied with three essentials: first, life force from the brain to all parts of the body through nerves free from interference; second, it must have the proper nourishment; and third, it must have oxygen. Chiropractic is an attempt to maintain the first.

Resistance of the body against disease depends upon the condition of the spinal column. If this is normal so that the vital forces may express itself freely, then the body will have a state of health comparable with the capacity of that life force.

Odham Takes Presidency Of State Jaycees

Awards Presented To Outstanding Men; Millidge Asks Jaycee Crime Action

J. Bradley Odham, Seminole County representative, was installed as president of the Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce at impressive ceremonies at the Sanford Armory Saturday night when Ed Frost Award to the outstanding Jaycee president in the nation, and Judge E. Stanley Millidge of Miami urged the Jaycees to action against organized crime in Florida.

In accepting the presidency for the coming year, Mr. Odham said that in looking at Communism spreading throughout the world, the situation in Korea, the work of the social planners and crime investigators, the Jaycees realize that there is much left to be done and he expressed the hope that God would give them the courage to act wisely and to do the right thing.

Mr. Road, the retiring president, received a special award from the Tampa Jaycees from Al Cahill of Jacksonville who said that the Florida Jaycees have enjoyed during the past year the highest quality of leadership of any state in the union, and calling attention to Road's success in bringing the national convention to Florida next year, said that he had been the best Jaycee president Florida had ever had.

Judge Millidge, who introduced the first anti-bonkie bill in the Florida Legislature, told of the revolution of the Kater crime investigation committee in Miami and pointed out that "when one illegal syndicate boasts an income of $25,000,000 a year, you don't find that kind of money in a law suit without corroborating evidence from the lowest to the highest in office."

He declared that American boys are being killed in Korea trying to preserve the American way of life "while we at home all around completely and allow northern racketeers with their hands on our state, bribe and corrupt our officials with their unlawful pro-crate, bribe and corrupt our elected public officials the same kind of big racketeers."

"While these boys overseas, are dying for a principle," he continued, "we allow the Ericksons and the Costellos and the crooks and the gamblers to run our government. This is not a problem of crime in this state, but a problem of crime in Miami alone, or just the lower East Coast, but the entire state of Florida. The effects of such corruption in office can not be confined to the state, but are spread to Gainesville, Ocala, Sanford and throughout the entire state."

He paid high tribute to Bradley Odham and Henry Camp of Ocala for expiring bribery in the Legislature and said that this had done more to overcome cynicism in Florida than anything else that ever happened in this state, and urged the Jaycees to take it (Continued on Page Two)

Acheson Prepares Delicate Reply To Indian Premier's Peace Note

Secretary of State Acheson is planning to make one of the most delicate diplomatic moves of the week in reply to suggestions of India's Prime Minister Nehru for settling the Korean war.

The New York Times and a New Delhi source reported today that Russian Prime Minister Stalin has replied to these suggestions by asking for the seating of Communist China in the United Nations Security Council as a step toward ending the war.

Acheson is expected in his answer to draw a sharp line between peace and appeasement, as those terms are applied here to the Korean situation.

The essential conditions to any settlement of the Korean and related Far Eastern issues is complete withdrawal of the Communist invasion forces from South Korea, Acheson is expected to write.

The United States, he will make clear, is not prepared to compromise on this condition which is not only an American but also a United Nations objective.

WASHINGTON, July 17—(AP)—President Truman will tell Congress and the nation Wednesday what he believes is needed to push the Red invaders back out of South Korea. An official close to the planning said Mr. Truman is expected to ask for 1.25,000,000 or more in new defense funds, and to lift ceilings on the armed forces by more than 200,000 men.

Legislation authorizing an additional 160,000 men for the Army above the present legal limit of 837,000, and about 90,000 more for the Navy, now held by law to 666,882, presumably there would be an increase in the 502,000-man Air Force ceiling.

Lawmakers Vote $34,500,000 For Point Four Plan

Senate Group Hikes Amount Designated For Backward Areas

WASHINGTON, July 17—(AP)—With the Korean war in mind, the Senate Appropriations Committee today voted to increase by $34,500,000 today in "Point Four" funds. This is only $500,000 less than Congress had authorized for President Truman's program of technical aid to underdeveloped countries. It is $10,000,000 less, however, than Mr. Truman originally proposed.

Previously the Senate group had voted, 11 to 9, to make only $12,500,000 available. Mr. Truman asked Senate leaders last week to reduce the total $35,000,000 that had been authorized.

Today's action lifted to $36,500,000 the amount which would be provided for direct "Point Four" technical assistance.

Previously, however, the committee had provided $5,000,000 to the Institute of International Affairs and $2,000,000 for technical and cultural activities under the Smith-Mundt bill.

These two are covered by the "Point Four" program, which Mr. Truman first outlined as part of his inaugural address.

Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn.) told reporters the committee action was taken because of Mr. Truman's statement that technical aid would bolster anti-Communist countries.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican floor leader, said he was one of the three who voted against the increase in "Point Four" appropriations. He said there was no detailed justification for the President's request showing how the money would be spent.

Members of the House-Senate conference committee agreed today on language blanketing about 5,000,000 non-farm self-employed persons and 1,000,000 domestic servants under the old age benefits of the Social Security program.

This was the first action of the committee which is working out a compromise on separate bills passed by the two Houses. Announcement was made after the closed-door sessions, but House conferees were reported to have accepted the Senate bill's language on domestic workers and the self-employed including independent business.

Three North Korean Divisions Close In On Important City; Air Raids Continue

TOKYO, July 17—(AP)—Three North Korean infantry divisions, heavily armed with artillery, but shy on tanks, warned close on Taejeon today, forcing the slender American defense to abandon the airfield three miles north of that South Korean city.

General MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters communique reported early this morning that the North Korean invaders are "continuing to pay a high price for ground gained," but acknowledged that they were gaining.

Late field dispatches said Taejeon, until last week the provisional capital of the Korean republic and site of American field headquarters was still in American hands but virtually deserted. Its abandonment appeared near, however.

MacArthur's communique described the situation in which the Americans had to quit Taejeon, 90 miles northwest of Taejeon, and pull west and south so that their former west flank had become a north flank.

The North Korean second division was struggling to turn this flank "in the Taejeon area," the communique reported. Exact distances from the city were not disclosed.

The airfield, three miles north, was suddenly under Red artillery fire and threatened by infiltrating enemy foot soldiers, however.

Although the Red Air Force in the army had succeeded in getting only two tanks across to the north bank of the Kum River and that both tanks had been destroyed, field dispatches indicated the Reds since had brought up more armor. This, it is believed, came the heavy Red concentrations which MacArthur reported.

Woman Reporter Ordered To Leave Korean War Front
TOKYO, July 17—(AP)—Maxine Higgins, foreign correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune, said tonight she had been ordered out of Korea and told to return to Tokyo "under escort."

Miss Higgins said in a telephone interview from an advanced American base that she had been given no reasons for her expulsion. Two other correspondents, barred from Korea Saturday were given General MacArthur's personal permission to return. They are Tom Lambert of Associated Press and Peter Katscher of United Press.

Lambert flew in a jet plane over the Korean battlefield today.

Miss Higgins, only woman correspondent on the Korean war front, was among the first reporters to go there when the fighting started. She made several trips to forward positions.

She said the message to leave Korea came from headquarters.

The largest city in the world now boasts a population of 7,841,611, with the following cities ranking next in size in this order: Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Detroit, Baltimore, Cleveland, St. Louis, Washington and Boston.

With such a population, it is a bit of a wonder that the city is not in a state of chaos. The reason is that the city is a well-governed city.

Foreign Arms Aid

Everything that the government does now in the field of defense, foreign policy or foreign assistance will be influenced to some extent by the events in Korea. The passage of the military aid bill through Congress doubtless was speeded a great deal.

Most Americans had been under the impression that the United States was supplying important military aid to Korea. Some small amounts of equipment were left in Korea when American occupation troops were withdrawn last year.

The utter failure to implement the authorized Korean assistance program casts a long shadow of doubt over all military aid projects. If there should be corresponding failures in Europe and elsewhere, the American people would be putting their trust in nonexistent strength.

Papers From The Sky

People in other parts of the nation may wonder about flying saucers, but those around Bozeman, Montana, know there is something new in the sky.

The method probably will have little application in cities of most of the rest of the nation, where folk have become accustomed to finding their papers on the porch.

It may seem far-fetched to link a pilot dropping Sunday papers over ranch homes in Montana with those storied riders of almost a century ago, galloping their mounts across the desert trails and mountain passes far to the south.

City elections were held on Monday, county elections on Tuesday and the state elections on Thursday.

Program Of Events, Activities Told By Clause And Tison

Clarence Clause and Bill Tison two of the five Sanford boys who recently attended Boys State in Tallahassee, spoke before the Rotary Club today on the advantages of the affair and the program of entertainment in which they participated.

Mr. Tison pointed out that this is the fifth time he has attended Boys State from Sanford. He said that the Sanford delegation was an outstanding group of boys this year and that Sanford is always well represented.

Young Clause stated that the boys left Sanford on Sunday, June 18, and went to Orlando where they took a bus to Tallahassee arriving there about 4:30 in the afternoon. They went to the West campus of Florida State University where they were registered and met their counselors, members of the Florida Highway Patrol.

City elections were held on Monday, county elections on Tuesday and the state elections on Thursday.

Texas Becomes Fifth Most Populous State

HOUSTON, July 17 (AP)—Texas has 7,575,468 people and has passed Ohio to become the fifth most populous state.

The 1950 census count, still not complete, reached that figure yesterday when Houston was reported to have 598,600 population. This makes Houston the largest city in the South, passing New Orleans which has 588,876. Houston has annexed large areas since the 1940 count.

The preliminary Ohio population has been announced as 7,501,781. Texas was sixth in 1940 with 6,414,824 behind Ohio's 6,907,512. Ranking at the top in order, year after year, New York, Pennsylvania, California and Illinois.

day behind the U.S. and U.N. actions in Korea, Wallace was still sharply critical of the war.

He also called for a conference between President Truman and Premier Stalin to discuss mutual aid for backward nations.

But he said he believed Russia could stop the Korean war at once if it wanted to, and added:

will have to disclose that. Rayburn said the congressional quartet got a picture of the Korean war from Mr. Truman. Asked how things look, Rayburn said they look just about like they appear in the newspapers.

Willis Rivers of Keystone Heights, yesterday afternoon at 5:00 P.M. with Dr. A. Bernard Root officiating.

The church was decorated with tall baskets of white gladioluses against a background of fern and palms. White tapers in graduated candleholders cast a soft glow over the scene. Sprays of ferns with white satin ribbon marked the family pews.

Prior to the ceremony, Miss Helen Witte, organist, rendered a program of spiritual music and Roger Harris sang "O Promise Me." The traditional wedding marches were used and during the exchange of vows soft music was played by Miss Witte.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely in a wedding gown of ivory slipper satin featuring a long-waisted bodice finished with a wide sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. The train came to points over the hands. The yoke fit smoothly through the waist and hipline with a full gathered skirt terminating in a train. A fingertip veil of net fell from a coronet of steel pearls and illusion. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls which was a gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white sweetheart roses from which fell white satin streamers.

Miss Betty Ann Cagle, who served as maid of honor, wore a gown of green organza over a soft green taffeta. The dress was fashioned with a fitted bodice with a soft shoulder neckline. Her bouquet was of pink roses, from which pink ribbon fell.

Mrs. Lossing, mother of the bride, was given in an afternoon dress of navy blue with white accents. Mrs. Rivers, the bridegroom's mother, wore a rose lace dress with navy blue accessories. Small sweetheart roses formed the corsages for Mrs. Lossing and Mrs. Rivers.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for the wedding party, relatives, out-of-town guests and intimate friends of the couple. Receiving the guests was Mrs. Beatrice Pico and presiding over the bride's book was Miss Betty Pico.

The bride's hair was covered with an arrangement of carnations and roses. At one end of the table was a three tiered wedding cake and punch was served from a crystal bowl at the other end of the table. Mrs. A. H. Roundtree presided over the punch bowl.

Those assisting were Mrs. W. A. Cagle, Mrs. C. A. Anderson, Mrs. J. P. Wilson, Mrs. Clara Hunt, Mrs. Catherine Carey, Miss Ann Hunt and Miss Nancy Roundtree.

Following the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip. For travel they were dressed in a white shirt-sleeve suit with matching hat. Her accessories were navy blue and white. Mr. and Mrs. John Rivers will make their home in Keystone Heights.

ported were building up just north of the Kim.

Associated Press correspondent William R. Moore, who visited Tacjon at 9 P. M. Monday (6 A. M. EST), said most of its 100,000 population had fled. He talked with American soldiers on the empty streets, and with south Korean military police.

While the Americans were pulled back in one sector at least 100 miles from the Kim, General MacArthur said the northern Communists suffered their worst setbacks of the Korean war on the east coast.

Two Russian built Yak fighter planes were shot down by American pilots this week according to Lt. George M. Edwards of Ft. Paso, Tex., north of Tacjon. A jet F-80 shot down the second plane when Edwards called for help. It was the first time the jet planes had shown any fight since 17 were shot down early in the war.

In the west the Americans outnumbered 10 to one by the North Koreans, who pushed back 200 miles. The entire 24th American Infantry division fell back slowly from the Kim River southwest of Kongju and north west of Tacjon.

Tank led North Korean in Langryon pushed across the Kim Saturday, MacArthur said. The United Nations command considered the 24th held them up in Langryon, giving southern elements time in which gather men and supplies for attacking the offensive against the north.

He said the American 4th and 6th infantry regiments, elements of the 24th division had taken up 100 jet positions at Langryon and east approach to Tacjon. Tacjon is the abandoned southern emergency capital.

Once they crossed the Kim, MacArthur said the 24th pushed out the 24th division's last line of defense. The 24th division's last line of defense was at Langryon, which they held for 10 days before giving up the town. The 24th division's last line of defense was at Langryon, which they held for 10 days before giving up the town.

Sanford Tourists Hold Reunion In North

SODUS POINT, N.Y., July 17—(Special)—Sanford Tourist Club members in Wayne County, N.Y., held a reunion here Sunday, July 16, with William Smith as chairman and host at the Sodus Bay Shores Summer cottage.

J. Roy Ball gave the invocation and led the guests in pledging allegiance to the Flag preceding the luncheon served buffet style.

Forty guests dined at individual tables, under the spread of a huge tulip tree, on the lawn overlooking Sodus Bay. Myriad of tri-colored balloons covered the branches of this tree which lay to reach the half-century mark before it blooms. Sail boats, Canadian freighters, pleasure crafts, gyroplanes, and outboard motor boats added to this outdoor scene, and the enjoyment of the first holidays that have had a summer atmosphere.

Special recognition was given Mr. and Mrs. C.S. Spalding of Woodstock, Conn., who claim to have been among the first tourists to Sanford. They began going there in 1917 and have held memberships in the local clubs since 1935.

The afternoon was spent in visiting and reading pleasant times spent in Sanford. A vote of thanks went to Mr. and Mrs. Austin for the most pleasant day in July and a bid for another year at their place.

"I am going down to General Walker's headquarters and try to convince him that I, as a fully accredited correspondent, am here as a newspaper correspondent and not as a woman," Miss Higgins said.

"I'm going to tell him that as long as any other correspondents can get to the front my newspaper has a right to be represented here too."

She said she believed Walker was preventing her from carrying out her assignment on the ground that she is a woman.

A spokesman for General MacArthur's public information office said Walker yesterday was given direct control over all correspondents in Korea.

over 400 miles an hour. The hands of the altimeter moved slowly higher.

We seemed to hang almost in air, five jets headed for Korea. There was a horizon high pile of gray white clouds, like snow banks piled up by giant snow plow.

Near the coast of Korea, which suddenly slipped beneath our wing tips, Tidwell asked me to take the control momentarily while he adjust his sun glasses. The jets flew sweet and straight.

"When we get over the target area keep an eye peeled behind us and into the sun," Tidwell cautioned. "Any attack usually comes from that direction."

Then air control took over and the hunt began.

We broke through the cloud over the silent city of Tacjon and headed the few miles north to the Kim River where the American dug in only a few days ago. At a long highway bridge with one dynamited span we turned west toward Kongju, where the Reds already had made some crossings of the river.

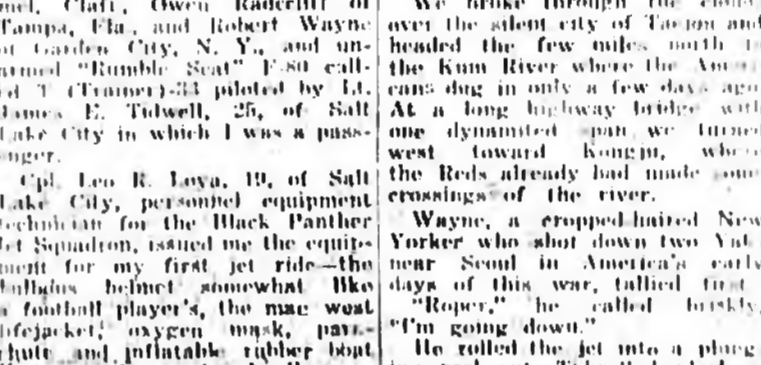

Wayne, a cropped-haired New Yorker who shot down two Yak near Seoul in America's early days of this war, called first "Roger," he called loudly, "I'm going down."

He rolled the jet into a plunging pool out, Tidwell barked as we could see Wayne. Tossed down toward the Kim, then fired his rockets. The flaming explosion erupted a fountain of water, mud, boards and fire.

"Direct hit," he yelled excitedly.

Gifford Goes On Trial In Slaying Of Charles Schuh

Elderly Butcher Of Doubtful Sanity Pleads Innocent

CLEARWATER, July 17—(AP)—Trial of Charles Gifford for the slaying of state Rep. Charles J. Schuh, Jr., was postponed today until tomorrow to give defense counsel an opportunity to investigate prospective jurors.

CLEARWATER, July 17—(AP)—Charles Gifford, the little old ex-butcher who has admitted shooting state Representative Charles J. Schuh to death, goes on trial here today.

Gifford, 71, pleaded innocent at his arraignment to a first degree murder charge.

He commented later "it might be the best thing if they sent me to the electric chair, considering my infirmities and how old I am."

Despite his reference to infirmities, the slight, gray-haired defendant seems spry and healthy in body.

His attorneys have said they will ask the jury to rule on his sanity. Circuit Judge John U. Bird, who will hear the case, had asked two doctors to test Gifford's sanity, but the defense protested this was matter for the jury to decide.

Three years ago Gifford's wife tried to have him committed as mentally incompetent by reason of senility. Schuh, a lawyer, represented her in that case, and although he failed to prove that was the motive for the slaying.

Gifford, while freely admitting pumping five pistol bullets into the popular young legislator in his St. Petersburg office Apr. 24, has given several reasons for the killing.

Once he said Schuh owed him for distributing campaign circulars and "city policy" was behind it. But Schuh was not a candidate then and was not active on behalf of anyone else.

Another time Gifford said Schuh called him a liar and he never took that from any man. Another explanation was that Schuh struck him during an argument. Schuh's employees said there was no time for argument between the time Gifford entered the inner office and when the shots were heard.

Gifford has been consistent about one thing since he was caught on the scene: that his name is Charlie Ross and that he came to this area only a few weeks before the shooting from Texas.

OCALA, Fla., July 17—(AP)—Dr. Ralph E. Russell, local eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, was found dead in his office last night about 9:30, with a self-inflicted bullet wound in his head.

The body was discovered by Dr. Carl S. Lytle, who had been summoned to the scene by Mrs. Russell when she found her husband's car at the rear of the office building but could not gain admittance.

Mrs. Russell told Police Lt. Kenneth Alvarez and Deputy Sheriff Don McLeod Dr. Russell had left Lake Kerr, where they were vacationing, yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock saying that he would be back in a short while.

When he had not returned at 7 o'clock, Mrs. Russell said she set out to look for him around the lake. Failing to find the doctor, his wife drove on into Ocala and saw his car parked at the rear of the office building. She was unable to get any response to repeated calling and banging at the door, Mrs. Russell said, and telephoned Dr. Lytle.

Dr. Russell was found slumped in a chair at his desk, and the death weapon, a .45 caliber automatic U. S. Army revolver, in his lap.

Acheson

Stalin. Stalin's reply was handed to the Indian ambassador in Moscow Saturday.

The New York Times, quoting confidential sources, said Stalin wrote that he "welcomed Nehru's initiative in trying to restore peace in Korea" and "reactivation of the Security Council should be the first step."

The Times noted that this latter reference obviously meant that the Chinese Communists should be seated on the U. N. Council in place of the Nationalists. Russia has been boycotting the council and other U. N. agencies because of the presence of Nationalist China representatives.

Seating of the Chinese Reds on the council would lead to the return of Russia to its deliberations and a discussion of the Korean situation among its five permanent members—the U. S., Britain, France, Russia and China, the Times said.

Substantially the same information was reported from a reliable source in New Delhi.

The American government, however, has taken the position that this is not the proper time to press the China question in its view the basic fact of the present situation is that the United Nations is fighting for its life in Korea and that fight must be won as a preliminary to the settling of other issues.

Finally, Acheson's advisers feel that to trade peace in Korea for Chinese Communist membership in the U. N. would be like giving way to international blackmail.

Two factors make the American reply to Nehru a matter of extraordinary delicacy and importance. One is that Nehru's great prestige as a leader of Asian nationalists means his attitude toward American policy and action in Asia can vitally affect their chances for success.

The other factor is seen at the State Department is a need to present the American action in Korea clearly as a fight in support of the principle of international security under the United Nations.

American government leaders would like to retain Nehru's good will toward the United States' stand on Korea and his sympathetic understanding of this government's policy of opposition toward bringing Communist China into the United Nations.

Initial drafts of Acheson's reply, therefore, were understood to have set forth American policy on the point in some detail.

Acheson is convinced that any compromise on the basic issues of the Korean crisis would constitute appeasement of an aggressor that would be almost certain to bring on other Communist attacks elsewhere in the world.

As far as Korea itself is concerned he sees no alternative to pressing the military campaign against the Communists.

WASHINGTON, July 17—(AP)—The State Department got a copy today of Marshal Stalin's reply to Indian Prime Minister Nehru's proposals for ending the Korean crisis. The terms offered by the Russian Prime Minister were not officially disclosed. He was reported in New Delhi dispatches to have made seating of the Chinese Communists in the United Nations Security Council an essential preliminary to halting the fighting.

The State Department is reported to have completed a draft of the U. S. response to Nehru. It is expected to restate the "rock bottom" American terms for settlement, but in a manner to leave the way open for Nehru to pursue his effort if he believes it holds any promise of success.

The minimum U. S. demand, outlined Friday, is withdrawal of the Communist invaders back of the 38th parallel into North Korea. There is every indication that this country will refuse to compromise on this point, which is also a U. N. objective.

In addition to the U. S. reply to Nehru, the State Department said it is preparing to publish an American "White Paper" on the Korean crisis.

Indo-Chinese Red Fight To Be Pushed

SAIGON, Indochina, July 17—(AP)—American and French military and diplomatic leaders met here today to step up the fight against Communism in strategic Indochina.

They began their talks amid new acts of terrorism by Communist-led Vietminh guerrillas in and near Saigon. The war in Korea added to the urgency of the meeting.

The opening session lasted four hours and reportedly covered a general review of the political and military situation in Indochina. It was the first full plenary meeting of American and French military and diplomatic experts since President Truman's announcement of increased U. S. aid to France for Indochina.
