Probe Begun Into Cheating At University

More Than 200 Students, Some Football Players Are Reported Involved

GAINESVILLE, Fla. — More than 200 University of Florida students are being investigated on charges of cheating on an examination, a reliable university source said today.

"There are a few more than 200 involved," said the source, "but we would not permit use of the name." "There are a few football players involved, but they are a minor part of the total group."

Dr. J. Willis Miller, university president, indicated the investigation is being made but he did not say how many students are involved.

Dr. Miller declined comment beyond a formal statement which said the students represent a cross section of the university.

Cases of this type are taken before the Honor Court, a part of the Student Government at the University.

"When the Honor Court investigates a case, it is done in secret," Dr. Miller said. "The name of the violator is never revealed."

While the suspected cheating happened last year, Dr. Miller implied the case is now before the Honor Court.

In a statement, he said in part: "It has been a difficult, time-consuming and serious case. The Honor Court has gone about this business in an orderly and careful way. It has had the instruction or direction as to what they should do for that would have violated our honor system."

"What they do in the way of conviction and penalty may be appealed. Through our total procedure in processing cases, justice will be done and all possible considerations will be given to all aspects of the situation."

An athletic department announcement Thursday, apparently unrelated to the suspected cheating, said four members of the football squad were suspended for a semester because of scholastic deficiencies. It also said four others had their athletic scholarships.

Dr. A. Gordon F. Lewis, Florida sophomore last fall and second-string defensive guard on the All-Southeastern Conference team, Dick Cummins, Rice, Tex., letter man linebacker, F. L. Lewis, Jr., Lauderdale, and Duffy Mignone, West Orange, N. J., reserves, were suspended for a semester.

Lee Burke, Billy Hood, Bob Johnson and Pat Dargatzis, all freshmen, were removed from school ships.

Spring football practice has been delayed a week, the announcement said. It now is scheduled to start Feb. 22.

Bob Woodruff, athletic director and head football coach, made this statement today:

Forecasts End Of 'Mink Dynasty'

MARYLAND'S GOVERNOR Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin (left) and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey (second from right) of New York shake hands at the 40th annual Lincoln Day Dinner of the National Republican Club, held in New York City, McKeldin called for a November vote's uprising that will put an end to the "mink dynasty in Washington."

WASHINGTON — The Army announced today that enlisted members of the National Guard and the organized reserve units on duty involuntarily will be released as individuals after 20 to 24 months of duty.

About 325,000 men are affected by the decision which means a speedup in their prospective release from active service. The program will begin next month.

Excepted from the plan to release the men as individuals are National Guard anti-aircraft units.

The Army said plans are to release all Guard anti-aircraft battalions from federal service as anti-aircraft units. This program is to be completed by May, 1953. Regular anti-aircraft battalions will be formed to take the place of each National Guard unit as it is released.

The Army said that the majority of the organized reserve officers now on active duty will be required to complete 24 months of active service. In some cases, however, officers may be released earlier but in no event before their 20th month of active duty.

Generally speaking, enlisted reserves who were called up first after the outbreak of the Korean War will be released first.

The Army said the order of release from any particular unit will be governed by such factors as the maintenance of the unit's effectiveness and the availability of trained replacements.

Other factors to be taken into consideration will be the length of the individual reservist's World War II service, (2) combat duty in Korea, and (3) the number of his dependents.

Those emphasized, however, that these considerations "will not confer on any individual the right to early release from active duty or replacement is not available."

The Army said its release program for enlisted inactive and volunteer reserves has been completed. All World War II veterans in the inactive and volunteer categories have been or are being released from their current active duty upon completing 12 months service.

The change was credited to Capt. Vincent J. Marzello of Albany, N. Y.

Fifth Air Force planes flew 289 sorties during the day in the campaign to cut Red supply lines.

The U. S. Eighth Army said two companies of Red spearheads Thursday night's attack they stormed down the Munding Valley, with another 1,000 right behind.

An Allied officer said the Red attack was designed to drive a wedge through the main U. N. lines. Allied fighting men stopped it cold in a 40-minute battle, much of it at close quarters.

Front line officers would make no further estimate of Red casualties. Allied troops were exuberant. They said Red losses must have been "very heavy."

AP correspondent Stan Carter, who watched the fight from a hillside bank, said the Reds lost at least 100 men.

Carter said doughboys could see the Reds approaching even in the moonless night. When the spearhead of communists slipped barbed wire guarding U. N. positions, GIs opened up with hand grenades and rifle fire.

Within moments heavy Allied artillery, mortar, tank and machine gun fire chimed in. Tracer bullets arched through the night skies and Allied planes dropped gently toward the ground.

Carter said it looked like a gigantic Fourth of July celebration. Less than an hour later the Communist retreat was complete.

SEC Chairman Is Cleared By House Group

No Good Evidence Is Found Reflecting On Truman's Choice For Head Of RFC

WASHINGTON — A House committee investigating the Securities and Exchange Commission reported today that there is no credible evidence reflecting adversely upon the honesty and integrity of SEC Chairman Harry A. McDonald.

McDonald has been nominated administrator of the Reconstruction Finance Agency by President Truman. But the Senate Banking Committee has refused to act on the appointment while the House inquiry is under way.

The House group, a subcommittee of the Interstate Commerce Committee, made its report on McDonald to Chairman Maybank (D-S. C.) of the House Banking Committee.

Rep. Heller (D-N. Y.), head of the House group, wrote Maybank that his committee concurred unambiguously in the report.

Heller said McDonald had requested a prompt review of the record.

Thus far, he informed Maybank, "no good evidence has been found reflecting adversely upon the honesty and integrity of Mr. McDonald as a member of the Securities and Exchange Commission."

Millions Pay Tribute To King George VI As Body Is Laid To Rest

The King Holds Final Court

Queen Elizabeth II Leads Country In Final Homage To Her Dead Father

WINDBSOR, Eng. — Britain said farewell to George VI today in a great outpouring of sorrowful grandeur and buried him here Windsor with a hymn of triumphant faith.

Elizabeth II, a Queen at 25, led the nation's final homage to her father. For 24 hours she rode in a horse-drawn carriage behind the coffin in the face of rain, while more than a million Britons, packed tightly along the rail streets of London bowed in reverence.

Then she entrained for Windsor with the body and saw it laid to rest in a crypt of royalty already holding George III and nine other sovereigns.

The Queen tonight lipped but composedly sprinkled earth on her father's coffin as it sank from sight beneath stored St. George's Chapel.

At the close of the 26-minute service the royal family left the chapel by a side door. Elizabeth II and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, kissed the Queen Mother as the check staff before they stepped into a waiting limousine.

The King's mother, Mary, stayed in London with the weight of her 84 years, and waved far farewell from a window of Marlborough House. But the widowed Queen Mother Elizabeth was here with the Princess Margaret to hear the choir sing the hymn she and the new Queen had chosen, "A Hymn of Victory," often sung at Easter.

"The strife is over the battle done,
Now is the victor's triumph won."

The Archbishop of Canterbury voiced the communal church of England's wishes to King and commoner alike.

Earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust, in one and certain hope of the resurrection to life.

A slab of stone had been laid aside in the floor and the oak coffin was lowered slowly to the side of the body of the King's (Continued on Page Eight)

Walter Lee Ervin Murray Attacks Is Found Guilty Steel Man Over For Second Time Contract Dispute

Attorneys Plan New Government Ruling Fight To Save Him On Rail Unions Is From Death Chair

NEW YORK — Philip Murray, president of both the CIO and the United Steelworkers, accused the steel industry today of trying to provoke a strike threat of a second time to get "unlimited price increases."

Murray made his charge in a prepared statement as he opened the annual minimum wage and cost-of-living survey hearing before the Senate Labor Committee today. He said the steel industry had not only refused to meet with the CIO and the United Steelworkers to discuss the industry's price increases, but also had refused to meet with the CIO and the United Steelworkers to discuss the industry's price increases.

Murray said these demands can be granted without price increases, but without "any undue burden on the industry's ability to earn fair profits."

The union says current wages average $1.92 an hour, industry places the average at $1.97.

WASHINGTON — A government board's approval of the union shop for a million rail workers gave labor unions a heavy burden to pry the same compulsory arrangement out of other industries.

Some labor experts said privately they expect Thursday's railroad industry ruling will cause a furor in Congress.

They said it is bound to encourage unions to seek the union shop more insistently than ever, with an inevitable increase in labor strikes and more unions will try to get their disputes before government boards in hopes of winning the union shop.

The 3-man panel headed by David L. Cole, Paterson, N. J., arbitrator, recommended that the railroads grant the union shop and dues check-off provisions to 17 places. (Continued on Page Five)

GRASS FIRES

Two grass and woods fires were extinguished by City firemen in the only two reported runs in the last 24 hours, Fire Chief Cleveland stated today.

First alarm was sounded for a prairie and forest blaze at 1:41 p.m. on the corner of 25th Street and French Avenue. The second call came at 2:44 p.m. for a grass fire at 2700 Palmto Avenue.

JUVENILE COURT

JACKSONVILLE — The new and much-discussed Juvenile Court is set to open today. The court will be held in the Florida Association of Juvenile Court Judges, Florida Probation and Parole Association.

There has been much talk in official and semi-official circles as to whether some aspects of the act are being correctly interpreted.

Prime among the disputed provisions is one which apparently prohibits publication of the name or photograph of any minor while he is under jurisdiction of the court whether charged with any kind of crime or merely being held temporarily for some other reason.

STATE LAIR

TAMPA — It was a livestock day at State Fair Thursday with Fred Taylor, Canto, Miss. Taking the lion's share of awards in the short-horn cattle division. He outdressed the grand champion bull and the female and reserve champion bull.

and author of a new book, "Shade and Ornamental Trees." Florida can grow more different kinds of trees than anywhere else in the world, Mr. Menninger pointed out. Trees will grow here which in their native lands have sustained temperatures as high as 130 degrees or as low as 15 degrees. This state also grows trees which come from the desert or places where there is more than 100 inches of rainfall a year.

He declared that Florida itself had very few native flowering trees, but pointed out that many had been successfully introduced from many warm countries and continents, including South America and Africa, Australia and south Asia.

The royal poinciana, which with its brilliant red flowers is so popular in south Florida, is native to Madagascar, an island off the east coast of Africa, he stated, and declared that there are literally thousands of showy tropical flowers not yet introduced to this state.

Mr. Menninger stated that he (Continued on Page Four)

Schools To Close For Afternoon Of Jaycee Circus Day

Principals of Sanford schools were yesterday granted permission by the County School Board to dismiss pupils on the afternoon of Mar. 6 to attend a circus sponsored by the Jaycees.

The action follows a request for this by Tim Crawford, Jaycee president, who stated that proceeds derived by the organization from the circus would be used for the benefit of the school children.

A telegram was read announcing that the State Board of Education approved the dismissal of bids on five 60 passenger school buses from General Motors Co., chassis and Blue Bird bodies. A bid on a 66 passenger bus was not approved. The only one bid had been submitted.

A contract granting the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad right-of-way near the Altamonte colored school was approved.

A $240 appropriation above the $180 previously recommended for a basketball court at Crooma Academy was approved.

Bull Carlton was named a teacher at the South Side Primary School to replace Esther McAlpin who resigned. The appointment of Mrs. M. D. Bumgarner as school bus driver was approved.

A boy and his HEROES

One of the keys to a boy's character is his choice of heroes.

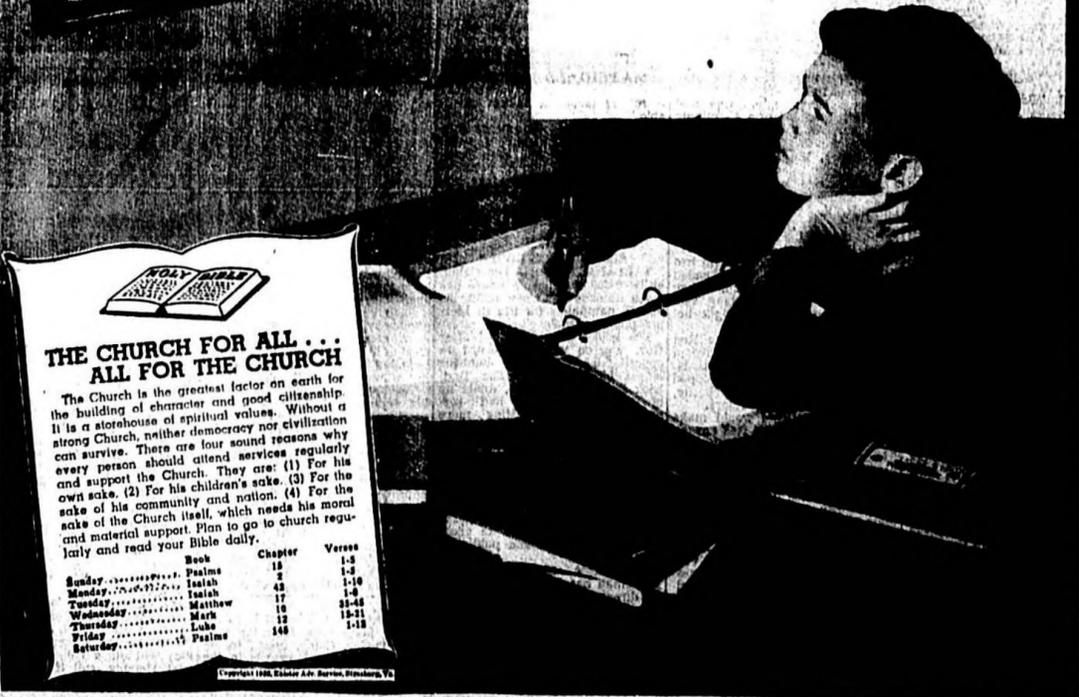

For a hero is more than a portrait on the wall. A hero is an ideal—a blueprint of greatness.

And where does a boy find his heroes?

He finds them in books and on the playing field . . . in his school, his family, his Church.

The Church's contribution to a child's gallery of heroes is unique.

Bible study and religious education not only introduce him to the greatest lives ever lived . . . but they teach him how to build the same qualities of heroism into his own life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Minimum Price For Citrus Again Bohs Into Discussions

LAKELAND — Suspension of Florida Citrus Mutual's $1 a box floor price on oranges to canning plants, which touched off a series of growers meetings and talk of a crisis in the industry, is due for another discussion.

Directors of the citrus cooperative Thursday asked the industry Advisory Committee to discuss restoration of the minimum price at a meeting Feb. 22 and make recommendations to the board.

Mutual cancelled the floor price Jan. 23 and called a series of meetings in citrus districts to hear growers' criticisms and recommendations to the board.

The move to discuss restoration of the minimum came after Dan McKinnon, Winter Garden, told the directors' concentration on the floor price about $2 cents a box but could easily afford $1 or more and make a profit.

McKinnon said of an estimated 45,000 boxes of remaining oranges in the Florida crop, three million would go to express channels and sales within the state and 12 million for fresh sales, leaving 30,000,000 boxes for processors.

McKinnon, predicting that supply doesn't equal demand, said processors would need some 32 million boxes in the next 16 weeks or so, about a million more than he thought would be available.

LAKELAND — Opponents of a plan to remove grading and sizing regulations on citrus trucked out of the state argued here Thursday that culls, packing house rejects and even stolen citrus could be shipped out if the regulations are relaxed.

One grower at the federal hearing said "Much of the testimony in support of suspension has been like my landlady's third cup of coffee—hot but very weak."

Opponents also said removal of the shipping rules would ruin faith in Florida citrus built up over 13 years of shipping good fruit under grading and sizing regulations.

A V. Saunman, manager of Florida Citrus Mutual, said during the day that culls, packing house rejects and even stolen citrus could be shipped out if the regulations are relaxed.

H. P. Sorrells, grower from Arcadia, said "Much of the testimony in support of suspension has been like my landlady's third cup of coffee—hot but very weak."

Arguing for suspension, Niles Acres Fruit Meade grower, said he should have the right to sell fruit when and where he wants.

E. L. Strino, Winter Haven, also in favor of suspension, said distribution was one of the "main ills" of the industry, and L. C. Black, grower from Kathleen, said he used to haul "tons of fruit and made money."

The hearing, called by Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan, moves to Orlando today for the final two days.

Blues In The News

John Huntington, the manager of the Central Florida Drama Festival, has extended an invitation to 200 navy men each week to be his guests at the Festival's productions in the beautiful Winter Park High School Auditorium.

As most sailors are saying, "That's a good deal!" And it really is. Mr. Huntington has given us a chance to attend one of the largest Central Florida attractions of 1952.

I have attended four of the five productions presented this season, and each has been an evening of enjoyment. I, for one, sailor, hope to go to the five remaining plays.

Miss Jeanne Gagney, the sister of the Hollywood-famed James Gagney, is starring this week as Sally Middleton in the love story, "Voice of the Turtle."

Miss Gagney wins the hearts of her audience in part by her presentation because of her attractiveness and appealing voice.

George Mingle, a photo mate aboard the station, said that he thought that Miss Gagney's portrayal of Sally was "excellent."

"She is really a good actress," said George, "and if the play had more plot, the production would be first-class."

Another first-nighter was Leonard Rochford and his wife, Claire. "Rocky" claims the play was "very good."

Among the navy men gone last night was Fred McDonnell, Bob Small and Bob Anthony and his date, Dot Von Herbis. Their sentiments were the same as first-nighter, Bob Miles.

Bob Miles said, "I liked it a lot!" Daytona Beach is once again calling the men at the station.

Even though the water is cold, the sun is wonderful. Wednesday afternoon, Fred Peterson, Bob Wells and George Mingle's journey over to the beach for a couple of quick dips.

The dips had to be quick, according to Fred, because the water was a little too cold. But a lot warmer than the water in my home state.

At this point in Fred's and my conversation that Bill and George broke in and said that swimming was fun but getting on the beach watching the cut-throat business was more fun.

Tonight the ill-fated Sanford Navy Basketball Squad travels to Lakeland for the season's closing game with Florida Southern College. The Navy Five were set back 84-63 here Wednesday night when they first faced FSC and so Southern stands a 30 point favorite tonight.

However, Hank Lowe, high man Wednesday with 20 points to his credit, will be in tip-top shape tonight. As a probable starting forward, Hank promises to play one of his best games.

Low Ayre and Marilyn Maxwell are costarred in the stirring drama, "New Mexico" playing Sunday and Monday at Movieland Ride-In Theater.

MUNSAN Korea — Truce negotiations held an important full-dress session Saturday to hear a new Communist proposal for a Korean peace conference.

View Aha — Turner Joy chief P. N. negotiator, returned today from Tokyo where he has conferred for two days with Gen. Matthew Ridgway and two high ranking officials from Washington.

Staff officer working on person exchange plans reported some slight progress Friday. The session on truce supervision marked time.

Col. Don D. Parrow said it looked as though the talks were stalling until after Saturday's penalty session.

There has been no hint as to what the Communists will suggest in their new plan for a post-armistice peace conference.

Previously the U. N. agreed to talk about the withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea and a final peace settlement, but rejected a Red proposal to discuss other Asian problems related to Korea.

Joy conferred in Tokyo with Gen. John E. Hill, Army chief of staff, and Lt. Alexis Johnson, Deputy assistant secretary of state for the Far East, as well as with Gen. Ridgway. Hill denied bringing in instructions from Washington, but there was speculation that the two officials might be taking a hand in the stalled truce talks.

Col. George W. Hickman said staff officers discussed the new 9-point Communist plan for exchange of prisoners. He said that except for the basic disagreement over

Scribbling Scandal

Their usual comment "Outside students only interfere with the normal functions of Student Government. This is entirely a student affair and should be left in their hands."

In the midst of the athletes were suspended from the university faculty scholarship during their first semester work, it should be clearly understood that this action was taken by university authorities and was not connected with Student Government violations.

"They are all eligible to re-enter the university at the beginning of the summer term and I certainly hope they can regain their eligibility for the term next year."

There have been rumors of a scandal at the university for some weeks and the Tampa Morning Tribune brought it into the open today.

Dr. Miller's statement in full: "There are really two honor codes at the University of Florida. One code is known as the honor system. It applies to giving and receiving aid on examinations and a few other things."

"One accused or suspected of violating the honor system is investigated by the Honor Court which is a part of the Student Government of the university. The voluntary reparation only disputes over wording separate the two sides now."

The Reds are holding out for the formal reparation of all prisoners while the U. N. insists on giving each man a choice.

King's Funeral

brother, the first Duke of Kent, killed in a wartime air crash.

Representatives of countries around the globe joined royally, nobles and lords in the funeral at St. George's Chapel of Windsor Palace. There was the Duke of Windsor, who was a King himself when he laid George VI to rest here 23 years ago.

There were Winston Churchill, the servant of four sovereigns; there were seven sovereigns from other countries, Secretary of State Acheson representing President Truman, and the ambassador of the Soviet Union.

There also was Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who led Britons as well as Americans against the Nazis while George VI stood unflinchingly beside his people in the island Hitler coveted. And by the turn of time, the dignitaries invited to the funeral included the Chancellor of a new Germany.

Britain and all the Commonwealth fell silent for two minutes at 2 p. m., the hour of the funeral. Then thousands turned to their radios to hear the service. Earlier, the street processions had been seen on television.

In London, more than a million people from all walks of life had watched in reverent silence as 150 white-garbed British sailors drew the King's coffin mounted on a gun carriage from Westminster Hall to Paddington Station.

As Queen Mary waved her farewell to the coffin, the King's coffin was placed in a gun carriage. It was placed on a gun carriage. The jeweled crown, orb and scepter were put back on the casket.

To the accompaniment of slowly beating drums and a funeral dirge the procession moved toward Windsor Castle and St. George's Chapel.

Elizabeth II rode in a black carriage drawn by two white horses that moved behind the coffin. Naval ratings pulled the carriage up on which the coffin rested.

Thousands upon thousands of flowers, including a wreath of red tulips from President Truman.

New Atomic Tests Are Being Planned At Eniwetok Atoll

New Weapons For Naval Warfare Are Believed To Be In Development Stage

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced today that preparations for new atomic tests are under way in the Pacific.

The brief announcement gave no hint as to the nature of the tests. They will be conducted at Eniwetok, remote Pacific atoll, by a joint team of experts from the Army, Navy, Air Force and Atomic Energy Commission.

While there was no official information, the fact that Eniwetok was selected for the tests suggests that they involve some weapon other than the atomic bomb tested at the Nevada tests in Nevada, or (2) of particular concern to the Navy.

A variety of atomic weapons were tested last fall at Nevada. Among them, possibly, a "fat boy" bomb.

The Eniwetok testing site was last used in the spring of 1951. Following those tests, it was announced that atomic experts had gained "much useful" information toward creation of a hydrogen bomb.

Some atomic experts have estimated that a hydrogen bomb might be 1,000 times more powerful than the A-bombs dropped on Japan during World War II.

Today's announcement coincided with word released in London that Britain expects to test an atomic weapon—her first—this year. The tests probably will be in September or October in Australia.

The test force has been designated as Joint Task Force 12. It will be directed by Maj. Gen. Percy W. Clarkson, deputy commander of Army Forces in the Pacific.

Clarkson served as deputy commander of the joint task force which conducted the 1951 tests at Eniwetok.

16 Year Old Girl Critically Hurt In Auto Accident

A 16 year old girl was critically injured and two youths were hurt Saturday night shortly after 8:00 p.m. in an automobile accident on the New Smyrna coast about a mile and a half east of the Osteen Bridge.

The injured girl, Marjorie Wright, 16, of Osteen, was taken to the local hospital and then to Orange Memorial Hospital where her condition was reported last night as critical, according to Dr. Philip W. Harrison, D. Harrison, who investigated the accident.

Two companions, Robert Harrison, 17, the driver of the car, and John Rivers, 18, both of Cameron City, were knocked unconscious and received cuts and bruises as the automobile skidded on the wet pavement, and the rear of it hit a guard rail post and a small concrete bridge over a creek. They are receiving treatment at Memorial Hospital.

One of the major causes of the wreck was the fact that the rear fender of the old model car had been worn smooth, said Mr. Harrison. Harrison admitted having the fender smoothed and having failed to pass tests necessary to secure one.

Chinese Voted Out Of One Community Invited By Others

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A Chinese family, voted out of a white neighborhood on the eve of Brotherhood Week, was welcomed today with offers of welcome from across the country.

Bing Rheng, 25 year old air line mechanic, said his telephone hasn't stopped ringing since Saturday, when white residents of South San Francisco's Southwood tract voted 174 to 0 they didn't want him as a neighbor.

Rheng had suggested the balloting, explaining "I was sure everybody believed in democracy."

The Rhengs could have insisted on their right to occupy the house. But the U. S. Supreme Court has ruled that any agreement excluding race or color is unenforceable.

Southwood residents said they objected because property values would decline if the former owner of the Chinese National Army moved in with his American-born wife and two-year-old son.

The Rhengs, who are expecting another child next week, retained the $10,000 they deposited on the $12,000 home. Today they hoped to get back deposits on $1,000 worth of furniture.

There were calls from Wichita, Kan., and Brown, Wis., from individuals and groups all around the country.

U.S. Studies Aid To France In Indochina

Help May Be Limited To Dollars And Supplies If Chinese Commies Keep Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is considering giving special new aid to help France carry on the fight against a Communist conquest of Indochina.

State Department officials believe that additional assistance in the form of either dollars or increased military supplies to Indochina would be sufficient to provide the Chinese Communists with as they did in Korea.

Should the Chinese Reds launch a major assault there, however, the United States would pose an issue of aid of a different sort—whether the United States and other United Nations would send in troops to help the French and native defense forces strike directly at Communist China itself. What the American government would do in that event is still undecided.

The problem of financial assistance has arisen at this time because American studies of France's continuing economic crisis have convinced officials here that maintenance of the present forces in Indochina is a heavy drain on the French economy and an important factor in France's long-range ability to hold on to Indochina.

The subject is understood to be up for discussion between Secretary of State Acheson and French Foreign Minister Schumann in their London talks.

The French Parliament has voted to cut 10 billion francs (about $1.6 billion) from the Indochina war budget for this year. This is expected to be from one-third to one-fourth of France's total military budget. The European section of which has yet to be fixed.

If additional American aid to help France's Indochina burden is agreed upon, the present tentative plan here is to begin it in fiscal 1953 which starts July 1.

President Truman has estimated the foreign aid outlay next fiscal year will total 10 billion dollars for all purposes, but whether that sum will be granted this year is yet to be determined.

For the present fiscal year, ending June 30, the United States has assured France of 100 million dollars. Half of this is to be in out-right grants and half in the form of U. S. military expenditures in France and French North Africa.

As to the latter, officials of the State and Defense Departments and the Mutual Security Agency are now trying to figure out how to make good on the promise to spend 300 million dollars in France, or French African territory before next June 30.

U.S. Studies Aid To France In Indochina

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is considering giving special new aid to help France carry on the fight against a Communist conquest of Indochina.

State Department officials believe that additional assistance in the form of either dollars or increased military supplies to Indochina would be sufficient to provide the Chinese Communists with as they did in Korea.

Should the Chinese Reds launch a major assault there, however, the United States would pose an issue of aid of a different sort—whether the United States and other United Nations would send in troops to help the French and native defense forces strike directly at Communist China itself. What the American government would do in that event is still undecided.

Road Department Starts New Test On Highway No. 1

Check Is Made To Determine Need For New Toll Highway

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—The State Road Department sent its second caravan south along U. S. 1 today to see how long it takes to drive to Miami.

The first time, about two weeks ago, it took 12 hours to make the 200-mile trip in one hour 32 minutes.

A proposed toll highway between the state's two largest cities inspired the check of travel time along the East Coast's present main highway.

Chairman Alfred A. McKethan of the road department did not accompany the caravan today because of recent ill health.

After the November 10 McKethan said U. S. 1 was "undoubtedly" the worst highway in the country. He added it is a "series of obstructions and potholes" and that it is "highly unimproved in Florida."

Publicly, McKethan's earlier traffic test already has produced startling results, Chairman McKethan said.

He said several traffic delays signs in the Daytona Beach area have been removed since the time check in November and that several small municipalities along the Lower East coast have raised speed limits from 25 to 35 miles an hour on U. S. 1.

He also expressed belief that the earlier test had played a part in the agreement of St. Augustine to eliminate the narrow, winding, historic old city by putting a straight, new four-lane road there.

As in the November test, all traffic regulations along the way are being observed in today's test run, under the direction of John Reynolds, assistant state road department engineer.

"The actual driving time, because of the increased traffic, is expected to take much longer today," Reynolds said.

New England Is Covered By Snow 6-20 Inches Deep

NEW YORK (AP)—A weekend of snow and freezing weather blanketed one of the Northeast United States today, with a total of 6 to 20 inches of snow piled up in some places and brought the temperature to below zero.

Under the snow, the storm saw the New England states where the temperature has been affected.

The Weather Bureau said Portland, Me., will have 15 to 20 inches of snow before the storm ends, probably later today. Some Vermont and New Hampshire areas were expected to have a foot of snow.

By The Associated Press

Wind-whipped snow blinged New England transportation today after all-day flurries buried the region under a blanket six to 20 inches deep.

The storm blanketed at least five states and the clearing of the snow will take several days, the bureau said.

The weather bureau said that snow will be piled up to 10 inches in some places and 20 inches in others. The snow will be piled up to 10 inches in some places and 20 inches in others.

Bones, Pottery Found On Pope Property

HUMAN bones, a portion of a skull and some fragments of pottery were discovered Friday in a workman digging a hole on the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Pope, Indian Mountain, Va., preparatory to transplanting a citrus tree.

Knowing the interest of H. G. Carter in archeology, Mr. and Mrs. Pope reported the find to the former, who arrived on Saturday with E. J. Moughlin, Jr.

They were careful to find several boxes with bones which Mr. G. Carter had studied carefully in an effort to identify them in possible connection with ancient Indian tribes formerly inhabiting the area. An arrowhead was found later near the bones.

Mr. Pope today was of the opinion that the bones may have been near the site of a former mound which had been investigated and removed some years ago by the Smithsonian Institution.

The find was made only about 45 feet from the famous Indian Mound, where remains of Mound Indians have been found.
