PUBLIC VOICE NOT HUSHED

Western Idea That There is Lack of Belf-Criticism in Japan is Altogether Erroneous,

The view is assiduously cultivated n certain circles that the Japanese press is one mass of self-gloriousness and that it is always a unit on great nublic questions, but nowhere is self criticism more freely indulged, and many as the sands are the variety of opinions-very much after our own home fashion, East and West says For instance, nothing would seem more a subject for egotism than the progress of the nation in learning and science, but long editorials are appear ing daily crying out that educational reform should be the great cry of the day in Japan. Then the standard of living is another bone of contention. Some hold out for the old standards that produced the great race capable of making the history of the last fifty years, but the Chugwa. Shogyo of Tokyo, after citing European and American efforts to raise the people's living standard, says solemnly:

"But, in the Orient, the governed are considered by the fuling classes as so much dust. The conditions of living of the people are neglected Consequently, the majority of them are suffering from difficulties of living. They are emaciated and sickly from lack of nourishment. Since Bismarck's social policy was executed, the condition of the German people has improved considerably. The value of German labor has increased. That is a chief cause of the national strength of the German people. In Japan it is different proper nourishment is decreasing in the heart of Africa and walked up competition with others? The bad taxes and the excessive issue of convertible notes are responsible largely in bringing about this sorry state here. On the part of the people, they are rather getting reckless in this expenditure. They make unnecessary expenditure, neglecting to save money

French Veteran of 1870 Is Doing His Share.

Corporal Surrugue, Twelve Years Mayor of Auxerre, is Still Hale and Hearty and Does His Bit Like the Others.

Paris - The Paris Journal Officiel recently published the following honorable mention in army orders:

"Corporal Surrugue, Charles, entered under No. 9,131, in company 9-2 T of the Sixth regiment of Engineers, second company of the corps. yeteran soldier of 1870, chevaller of the Legion of Honor, enlisted as volunteer for the duration of the war at the age of seventy-six years, asked to go to the front as second sapper and miner, takes part without any physical weakness in all the work carried on day and night under fire of the enemy, animated with the highest conscientiousness and the most noble conception of his duty toward his country, and offers to his younger comrades a model discipline of dash and energy.

Seeing this description of the old young man a correspondent of the Illustration of Paris set out for the front to find him. After wandering about the trenches in zigzag fashion the correspondent saw a rather small man with white beard and the insignia of an engineer on his cap. WAS MOST SUCCESSFUL AND THE PATRONS WERE WELL PLEASED

The Sanford Chautauqua closed on Tuesday night with one of the best numbers on the program, the Dunbar Male Quartette. Those who purchased season tickets and year: attended the different events were well pleased with the high class entertainments offered. The last days were taken up with the following program:

Monday Afternoon

Tuesday Evening

The Dunbar - Male Quartet, and Bell Ringers had been looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure by the Sanford Chautauqua goers. They were not disappointed. No more variety was offered by any number than by these four youn men comprising the Dunbar Quartet. The bell ringers was perhaps the feature that pleased the most. It was the best we have seen along that line. Their rendition of Mc-Dowells, "To a Wild Rose" was great. The solo work of the various members of the Quartet quite justly called for encores. But the best music that the Quartet fornumbers. We all love a male quarevery time.

IN THIS CITY

A SPRING FESTIVAL WOULD BRING LARGE NUMBER OF PEOPLE HERE

Sanford should celebrate. We are now completing the bulkhead of the lake front which in itself is one of the greatest improvements over undertaken in this city. We are now getting off the celery crop and one thousand acres of this great crop in this section will be moving this month, We are doing many things worthy of notice and we want the people of sections of the state to visit us.

We also want the tourists who She only looked more meek and are thinking of moving northward at this time to tarry a week in Sanford and look us over. We have much to offer them and their stay will be pleasant.

The candidates are anxious to meet at some central location in Florida for a big coming out convention. Sanford is the logical place for a meeting of this kind and all of them will be here. We have many things for our Congressmen to do here and we want them all here for a day or so. The candidates Notwithstanding the opening want a joint debate that will attract number of the Chautauqua and people from all parts of Florida and

Our community was saddened last Friday morning by the death of T. J. Wilson, Jr., aged 24 years. Mr. Wislon had resided here for the past two years. He came out hoping to regain his health and strength in our piney woods. Seemed as if medical aid or nothing could benefit him. He was cheerful and hopeful up to the end, giving up only when he saw it was so near. His father, step mother, two step brothers, R. S. and J. C. Register were at his bedisde. The interment took place at his home at Green Cove Springs, where he was laid to rest Saturday morning, amid grief stricken friends and relatives. He leaves a father, who lives here, three sisters, Miss Alice Wilson of Green Cove Springs, Mrs. Dozier Devane of Tampa and Mrs. Nathiel Ken-nedy of London, England. All at-tended the funeral except Mrs. Kennedy. He was a great favorite among both the old and young. His friends extend their deepest sympathy to the bereaved family,. But remember he is at rest in the heavenly home where there will be no more sorrow and pain.

The people owe it a debt of gratitude. It saved the state a hurtful campaign and the Democratic party possible disruption. In the end it proved itself to be truly Democratic and not the tool of a few politicians.

This episode, now so happily closed, as far as the real Democrats are concerned, should teach designing policticians that it is dangerous to attempt to tamper with the basic rights of a few people. They may often mislead the people, they may take away their property and squander their money, and the people will endure and sometimes applaud; but when basic rights, like the ballot are tampered with, retribution always
