

Oviedo's Jones Leads County With Lofty 207 Points

Driskill Of Lyman Cracks 100 Marks; Sanford's Gordon Clark Is Fourth

By KENT CHETLAIN
Rampaging Johnny Jones, Oviedo's amazing 15-year-old cage wounder, cracked into the select 200-point circle with a resounding 30 production against Titusville last Tuesday night which gave the left-hander 207 points in 11 games to continue his complete domination over all Seminole County scorers.

Jones, likewise hosts of the county's leading field goal out-put of 87 and average points per game, 18.8. Sanford's Junior Metts, who was suspended before the Seminoles' last game, still retains his free throw mastery over all other Lyman's pesky little sophomore, Bobby Driskill, maintained his second position in the basket scoring race by vaulting the century mark to 108. He is only the second scorer this year to pass the 100-point figure in Seminole County.

The Longwood high school also claims the No. 3 scorer in Seminole County, Charlie Shaw, who has racked in 94 markers this year in 11 contests.

Seminole High School's leading scorer is Gordon Clark, the Frankfort, Ky. transfer who is the fourth ranking county point getter with an 81-point total for nine games.

Sanford also claims fifth place with Metts who has 82 points, only two behind Clark. While the sixth high scorer is not listed in the Top Five bracket, Sanford fans point with pride to Jimmy Krider, who is sixth with 70 points.

If the lucky Foot Locker funds been suspended he probably would have been in the Top Five this week.

The Oviedo Lions own the record in the county with a lofty 9-2 mark while Sanford has a dismal 3-7 count and Lyman an even lower 1-8 record.

The Seminoles travel to Titusville tomorrow night, while Oviedo will be out to extend their winning streak to nine straight when they play host to Groveland, Ky.

17th Annual Barr Umpire's School Opens Up Today

Mayor Randall Chase
And Ray Kennedy
To Attend Opening

Over 100 guests, students, officials and baseball luminaries are expected to jam the Longwood Hotel in Longwood to attend the formal opening of the 17th annual George Barr Umpire's School this afternoon at 2:00 p.m.

Both mayors, Randall Chase of Longwood and Dr. Mathew Dunn of Sanford, will be on hand to accord the welcoming mat for Barr and his four-man staff.

Widows of national pastime immortals, Christy Mathewson and John J. "Mugsy" McGraw, who are in Melbourne for the New York Giant farm team opening, have sent word they intend to be at Barr's 17th inaugural today.

A large delegation from Sanford will make the opening headed by Ray Kennedy, owner general manager of the Newark Bears, Pittsburgh Pirates and farm director of the Detroit Tigers.

Florida State League umpire, X-Barr student and St. Louis Cardinal hurler Ken Burkhart is also planning to make today's inaugural.

Approximately 25 regularly enrolled students will be on hand for the first day. In addition, 16 others from the Third Army are taking the course.

Among the students registered is William Patten, who will play in the Netherlands.

Instructors assisting Barr are Jimmy Odum and Gene Bothell, both of the Big State League. Both are former Florida State League umpires, and Nick Weiss, who was assigned by the Army to assist Barr with his school in Japan for last two years.

But after eight rounds of pummeling, Harrison stumbled back to his stool for a quick freshening up. His manager, George Parnassus, took one hit at Tommy and called it quits. So it went into the record as a ninth-round TKO under Michigan rules.

Harrison was hopelessly behind on all officials' scorecards when Parnassus tossed in the towel. The only round he took on all cards was the fourth, and that only because a low hit at Tommy and Charles, weighing 187, had an advantage of nearly six pounds on his 23-year-old opponent from Los Angeles. But his skill and experience edge was even more decisive.

Of the regular 1952 National League shortstop, Chicago's Cub Roy Smalley played the last number of games at the position. He was in 82.

Five minutes 14.81 seconds. Pete Folsie was second and Stan Callaway third.

Imgrund's Streak Paces Stetson To Victory Over U-M

DELAND — John Imgrund was a mighty handy man to have around — for Stetson — Wednesday night. The 6-foot-4 forward not only led the scoring with 24 points, but sank the field goal that defeated Miami, 80-77.

Another one of his field goals gave his team the half-time lead in a basketball game where the lead changed hands repeatedly.

Stetson won the game at the free throw line, getting 38 to Miami's 45, that department although outscored in field goals 31 to 21.

Neither team was ever ahead more than six points, and in the last quarter the edge was never more than three.

With the score tied, 75-75, Edvin Hansel put Stetson on top with two free throws and Imgrund raced in with his clincher.

Mel Yanuck paced Miami with 17 points.

Yankees Have Largest Payroll But Are Unable To Sign Players

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK — The New York Yankees have close to a million dollars they're ready to ladle out in salaries—the largest payroll put in baseball history—but no club is having more trouble getting diamond employees under contract.

The players' theme song seems to be: "No, gimme more."

"You don't realize what a problem it is to sign up a ball club that has won four straight world championships," said George Weiss, general manager of the Yankee empire and the man with the chronic winter headache.

"I don't think there's an organized bidout campaign or anything like that. Each of these fellows figures he was greatly instrumental in our success and he wants his reward on the pay check."

The Yankees have signed only two of their regulars for the 1953 season while most other clubs are announcing signings in clusters.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, the Yankees' victims in the last World Series, for instance, have signed all of their players.

The two regulars who have come to terms are catcher Yogi Berra, who autographed a contract for a reported $40,000, and infielder Gil McDougald, who is believed to be around $20,000.

Allie (Big Chief) Reynolds, who has had two tremendous years with the world champions, failed to get any satisfactory offers at a conference with Roy Hamey, assistant general manager, who does the Yankee negotiating.

The Oklahoma City right-hander, who had a 20-8 record last season and 17-8 the year before, is said to be demanding at least a $7,000 raise over the $55,000 he collected in 1952. That would be approximately the salary paid Vic Raschi, who also is asking a hike for his 16 pitching victories last season.

The Yankees must come to terms with lefty Ed Lopat, a reliable veteran; Whitney Ford, who is returning from the service; Bob Kuzava, Tom Morgan and others.

Also yet to be dealt with across the bargaining table are young Mickey Mantle, the 1952 World Series hero, and his outfield mates, Hank Bauer and Gene Woodling.

Reports have the 40-year-old Mize balking at a 20 per cent slash in salary. He is insisting on a carbon copy of his last season's contract, which called for $20,000.

A few years ago a congressional committee revealed the Yankees' payroll as $600,000. It's known the figure has grown substantially every year since, despite the departure of $90,000-a-year Joe DiMaggio.

Manager Casey Stengel signed a contract before he left for California in the fall. He hinted his salary was "close to $100,000."

Fain Is Highest Paid Player Ever
To Sign Sox Pact

CHICAGO — Ferris Fain, two-year American League batting champion, today signed perhaps the highest paid player ever signed by the Chicago White Sox, reportedly coming to terms for more than $20,000.

Fain, 36-year-old, who earned a reported $28,500 last season with the Philadelphia Athletics, needed just a two-minute phone conversation with Sox General Manager Frank Lane to agree on a 1953 contract.

Guesses were the Sox awarded Fain a $2,000 or $3,000 boost over his Philadelphia salary. The Sox once paid outfielder Al Simmons $33,000 for a season, but it was the final year of a three-year $100,000 contract Simmons had with the A's.

Fain inherits the top-salary role enjoyed last season by Eddie Robinson, who was swapped for Fain in a five-player trade.

Fain led the American loop with a .327 batting average after winning the 1951 crown with .344. He was the sixth American league batter ever to win two or more successive titles.

Fain was tops in the league last season in getting on bases, 282 times on 178 walks and one time as a hit batsman.

Gators Gain In SEC By Beating Auburn

By The Associated Press
Thanks to second half rallies, Florida grabbed a firmer grip on the SEC title and Georgia Tech moved into a tie for fourth in the Southeastern Conference basketball championship race last night.

Both teams won close ones. Florida defeated Auburn 66-52, and Tech defeated Georgia 78-73.

Auburn led Florida at halftime 40-37, and Georgia was ahead of Tech 39-33 at the intermission.

The losing teams came up with the high scorers. Guard Ippy Morocco of Georgia got 29, and Tech guard Eric Crake sparked the Engineers with 27. Center Bob Miller led the Auburn attack with 18, while forward Roy Roberts and guard Sonny Powell pushed in 14 for Florida.

LSU still leads the league with a 4-0 mark. Florida is second (4-1), Tulane third (4-2), Alabama and Tech are tied for fourth (4-3), and Vanderbilt and Tennessee are tied for sixth (4-4). Then come Auburn and Mississippi State, each with 14 records. Mississippi (1-5), and Georgia (0-8).

NEW YORK — The talk in the office of the New York Giants had for some time concerned that vanishing type of American known as the 300 hitter. There had been various interesting theories as to why this once-flourishing breed is going the way of the passenger pigeon and the buffalo.

One member of the seminar insisted that they simply are not turning out the kind of batters they used to, when almost any club boasted two or three players who consistently bettered the figure which traditionally separates the men from the boys. Another felt equally certain that improved pitching has steadily taken its toll.

Eddie Brannick, who has been secretary of the Giants since the second Cleveland administration and probably ranks as the greatest living admirer of the great John J. McGraw, listened patiently to the amateurs and then told them as follows:

"There's really no mystery about it. There aren't as many big husky fellows in the game as there were 20 or 25 years ago. At least it seems to me there are a lot more little guys, and every last one of them is standing up there swinging for the fences."

"They've learned that home run pay off in money, so why should they waste their time trying to hit singles and doubles the way the old-timers did. Take Ross Youngs, one of the greatest outfielders ever or anybody else ever had. You could see plainly that all he wanted to do was punch that ball safely—anywhere just so he got a hit."

"A batter like that was difficult to fool. He was out there trying only to meet the ball squarely. He wasn't trying to outguess the pitcher and get that one fat ball he liked and could murder. Today's pitchers know exactly what is going through the mind of the batter and all they have to do is keep him crossed up. I think maybe the average catcher today is a little smarter than they used to be, too in calling for what the batter isn't expecting."

There was a brief pause at this point while the Beau Brummel of 42nd Street was asked if he would concede that there might just possibly have been an overall improvement in pitching skill in the past two decades. After all, there were men who clubbed the old timers for averages around .380 and still didn't win the batting championship of their league.

"I honestly don't believe pitching has improved that much, if at all," Brannick said. "In those days you're talking about almost any club could throw a couple of good pitchers at you, and many of them were great ones. Are there any greater pitchers today than the Groves and the Johnsons and the Hubbells?"

Prexy said he would not say that, but he would say that the average pitcher today is a little smarter than they used to be, too in calling for what the batter isn't expecting.

However, Callahan said he was trying to sign a manager before the league meeting, but refused to divulge the name of the prospective pilot.

State League directors are faced at next Sunday's meeting with naming a successor to John Krider as the FSL president. Krider resigned suddenly at the circuit convolve in Crescent City in January.

The three most often mentioned candidates for the post are Peter Schaal, Silver Springs; Bill Terry, former New York Giant first baseman who resides in Jacksonville; and Dr. Huntley, Orlando.

Joe Black of the Dodgers needed 151 innings, or eight more than he pitched, to lead the National League officially in last year's ERA. His ERA was 2.15.

Giant Hoyt Wilhelm led the league with 2.43 based on 159 innings.

Sanford is the only team among the eight FSL clubs that has failed to post the $1,600 entry fee for next summer and is likewise the only franchise without a manager for the coming season.

Bailey Asks $600 Pay Hike For Teachers

$4,000 A Year Is Said Necessary To Get The Kind Of Teachers State Requires

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—State School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey today recommended a teachers' pay increase of $600 a year—just double what the cabinet approved Thursday and $40 more than the Teachers' Association has proposed.

He said "This recommendation is not based upon a cost of living formula or upon other personal factors of interest to teachers but is based upon what it will take to staff Florida's classrooms with qualified teachers."

He said Florida must compete with other states to get the kind and number of teachers the schools need.

Bailey made his suggestion to the State Advisory Council on Education, legally recognized successor to the Citizens' Committee which drafted and pushed through the 1947 minimum foundation program.

"To obtain the teachers needed for the state, Florida must provide an average annual teacher salary of approximately $1,000 a year, a minimum annual teacher salary for a teacher with a four-year degree of $3,200," he said.

The Legislative Council recently set the average Florida teacher's salary in 1951-52 at $3,237 and recommended an increase of about $300.

Bailey estimated a $600 raise would cost about 32 million dollars extra for the next two years, and added it would be "presumptuous" to expect any legislative responsibilities for me to suggest revenue sources or suitable allocations of local and state financial responsibility" in meeting the cost.

The superintendent said Florida teacher salaries now are lower than the national average. His recommendation for 1953 would put Florida in the upper fourth among the states.

"Over half a million Florida children are threatened with severe educational handicaps because of a critical shortage of teachers," Bailey said.

Our state institutions of higher learning are educating only a fraction of the annual replacement need. Florida institutions this year supplied only 25 per cent of the new teachers employed in the state.

Teachers in increasingly large numbers are leaving Florida for their home states or other states which offer a better reward for their efforts.

Superintendents of Florida county school systems, according to our most recent reports, were at the beginning of this school year only able partially to fill positions with qualified teachers. Many teachers were employed who were not normally certified, and their employment has not been considered for employment."

Bailey voted with the cabinet Thursday to recommend a $600 raise, but commented at the time he didn't think it was enough.

The County hospital board of trustees met last night in one of a series of meetings being conducted for the purpose of enclosing an architect, T. E. Tucker, board chairman, said today.

Interviews of prospective architects will be completed next week, he said.

Attorney Fred H. Wilson was instructed by the board to arrange an immediate meeting with the Park Estate trustees for the purpose of obtaining a commitment from them relative to action which will be taken by them in hospital construction.

The hospital board will meet again at 8:00 p.m., Tuesday at the regular gathering place in the Florida State Bank.

Three Accused Of Being Spies Seized in Russia

One Is Said To Have Been Trained By U. S. Intelligence

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
MOSCOW (AP) Pravda reported today that state security police have arrested three men and a woman, all Soviet citizens, on charges of spying and alleged that the U. S. intelligence service had especially trained one of the men for espionage.

The Communist party newspaper identified the four as: T. A. Sus, "an agent schooled for spying by Americans in Great Britain"; S. D. Gurevich, a "Soviet spy"; and F. Tarantula, a woman formerly employed by the Soviet Union's Academy of Sciences.

K. F. Romanov, a former school teacher who once tried to steal from the U. S. intelligence service, was also arrested. Pravda said all four had passed secrets to foreign governments.

Their activities, the paper said, makes it evident "that foreign intelligence services use as agents all kinds of criminals and even plotters."

The paper called again for intense vigilance against Soviet spies and reported that foreign agents of all kinds of criminals and even plotters.

Dutch Fight Hard To Save Soil From Sea

Rescue Efforts Concentrated On Saving 1,000 Persons In Noorgouwe Area

By JOSEPH DYSAN
AMSTERDAM (AP)—The Netherlands—Flood-ravaged but defiant Holland—facing a billion dollar damage bill—fought back today in her age-old battle against the North Sea. Every inch of Dutch soil, said determined officials, would be reclaimed from the crop-killing salt waters.

A few areas where the angry ocean threatened to punch through weakened dikes still were in danger but officials reported the dramatic evacuation of thousands of persons from the flooded south-west lowlands has been largely completed.

Rescue efforts were concentrated today on saving about 1,000 persons huddled in the town of Noorgouwe. A new break in a nearby dike already has engulfed one previously evacuated village. Thousands of persons are still in danger.

As Dutch, British and Belgian aid in the staggering damage bill from the storm that hit their lands Sunday, the three nations dealt all mounted to 1,910.

Britain helped 540 dead, Belgium 21 while Holland—by far the worst afflicted of the three counted 1,350. But this figure did not include hundreds of missing. Many of their bodies it is feared still lie trapped in homes several feet below sea level. Unofficial estimates of the Dutch toll alone have reached as high as 2,000.

Property damage both actual and potential, was described as "appalling." Some 200,000 Dutch are homeless and destitute and 100,000 others are described as "in distress."

Both Belgium and Britain were in somewhat better shape. The sea has broken through dikes from all except a few of the flooded places in Belgium.

In Britain, A. G. Johnson, chief technical engineer of the British Agricultural Ministry, reported "Everything is under control."

Johnson said that 500 holes had been filled in English dikes, but that 100 in 150 of the dikes already have been filled in and repair work on the others was under way.

Dutch officials indicated their next big job would be the evacuation of whole towns and villages of displaced men, women and children from the devastated southwest part of Holland.

The most immediate danger, according to Health Minister Dr. Pieter A. M. van der Stoep, is that an epidemic of typhoid fever may break out.

Although it is still much too early for a definite tally of damage to the nation's homes, farmland and national economy, preliminary estimates placed it at around one billion dollars.

Life-threatening salt water spilled over one-sixth of the nation's land surface, affecting fully one-fourth of its arable fields. Surveys by the Transport and Waterways Ministry showed that 500,000 acres of farmland and pasture have been flooded.

August G. Maris, waterways director, said that 100,000 acres of farmland were under water at a conference that none of these flooded areas can produce crops this year. They probably will not be able to produce crops for one or two years.

Defense Plants Man Coming To Orlando

ATLANTA (Special)—A plan to have a field representative of the Atlanta Regional Office of Small Defense Plants administration visit in Orlando on Feb. 20 and 21, was announced today by Hugh W. Mitchell, Regional Director, Small Defense Plants Administration, 50 Whitehall Street, N.W., Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. Mitchell stated that "the SDPA representative will be available to small businessmen in the Florida area in order to assist them in finding solutions to their individual problems."

Mr. Mitchell pointed out in his statement that this visit was a continuation of the "Circuit Rider" program, whereby every effort is being made to provide the maximum of services to small businessmen at the local level.

Mr. Mitchell urged that all small manufacturers in this area confront with problems in securing defense contracts and subcontracting, in financing, in obtaining critical materials and equipment or in technical and managerial fields to contact the field representative during his visit here.

Small Black managers, Industrial Board, City Hall, Orlando, has made his office available for appointments and has allowed space for the three days visit.

Negroes Sentenced On Drug Charges

Two Negro ministers were sentenced in terms of two years today by Circuit Judge M. B. Smith on drug charges.

Jesse Price, Orlando, was charged with selling marijuana and opium in Flagging, in obtaining with sale and possession of the drug. Both were members of a Negro orchestra at the San Delo Club, located on Highway 17-92, between Sanford and Orlando.

They were arrested after traffic in marijuana cigarettes was discovered at the establishment by two volunteer slouts.

Wage Controls Ended By Pres. Eisenhower

Blockade Of China Asked By Rep Short

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Short (R-Mo.) called today for a naval blockade of Communist China and said he believed President Eisenhower is considering such a step.

Short, chairman of the House Armed Services committee, said Adm. Arthur W. Radford, commander of Pacific naval forces, assured the committee in a secret briefing yesterday that a blockade would mean "little chance of war" with Russia.

Radford, however, an advocate of China blockade, is in Washington for top-level conferences. Short said he believed the President is leaning toward the blockade.

Short expressed belief in an interview that Congress would support a blockade order and any other steps by Eisenhower to "take the offensive" in the Korean conflict.

He quoted Radford as saying Eisenhower's order to demobilize Formosa would have little direct effect on the Korean campaign, but could be significant as the blockade to other steps.

The House also passed a bill today to authorize the President to use as much as $100 million to buy and sell goods in the Far East, as well as other deep-sea shipping and insurance. Short added that Radford also proposed sending more naval equipment to the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa.

Short reported that he would continue to support any "reasonable" attacks on the mainland.

Short said Radford contended a naval blockade would not back Russia's war and promotion plan to Red China but that it could halt a tremendous flow of war materials by sea. The chairman said Radford termed increased capacity of Russia's Trans-Siberian railway.

Court Bars Both Mortgage Eaters Press And Public Testimony Given

NEW YORK (AP)—The federal court today barred both mortgage lenders and the public from giving testimony in a hearing on the mortgage industry's alleged evasion of federal income tax laws.

The court said that the industry's practice was a violation of the law, and that the industry had been evading federal income tax laws.

Wage Controls Are Also Lifted From Meat Products And Some Other Goods

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today ended all wage and price controls. He also ended controls lifted from a number of consumer goods, including meat products.

The President's action, said a White House spokesman, was a result of the fact that the price and wage controls had become "unworkable" and that the American economy had been "seriously injured" by the controls.

The President's action will affect a wide range of goods, including meat products, and will also affect the wages and salaries of many workers.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Blues In The News

Several names were added to the NAAS roster of enlisted personnel during the past week as four men reported for duty here from recruit training in San Diego, one man from recruit training in Bainbridge, Md., and three men from other duty stations.

The four men to begin duties with NAAS after completing their recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center in San Diego are Louis Arambula, Warren F. Katen, Thomas M. Bouker, and Darel D. Stubbs. Louis, Warren and Tom, who are all seaman apprentices, have been assigned to the Administration Department while Darel, who is a fireman apprentice, will be working with the Public Works

White Is Awarded 30 Year Service Pin

In recognition of thirty years of faithful service, R. L. White, 5663 Magnolia Avenue, Sanford, will be awarded a 30-year service pin this month by the Florida Power & Light Company. In announcing the award, H. H. Coleman, North Central division manager, said that the pin would be presented at a meeting of the company's employees to be held in the near future.

White, foreman of a line crew, joined Florida Power & Light Company as a line crew helper back in 1923. His 30 years of service have been spent in Sanford. He is an active member of the Central Baptist Church and played an important part in the construction of the new church building.

White, besides being the oldest employee in seniority in the district, has the reputation of being one of the outstanding workers. Mr. Coleman stated: "He has worked in all phases of the electrical operations, and his years of experience have been most valuable in assuming the duties and responsibilities of a foreman. Coleman also stated that White's long service record is typical of the utility's employees. Last month Florida Power and Light presented pins representing over 500 years of service.

WILD RIDE
JACKSONVILLE — After smashing two cars and rejecting another, an auto thief finally found one he liked, a Florida Highway Patrol cruiser.

A few hours later, Haywood Duval, police chief of Callahan, 30 miles north of here, spotted the cruiser, chased it 11 miles to Hilliard and collided with it when the cruiser tried a turn at high speed. Duval reported the Negro driver escaped on foot.

PAINTER KILLED
TAMPA — A 24-year-old New Port Richey painter was crushed to death here Thursday in an automobile hit broadside by a truck loaded with concrete blocks.

Traffic Officer Eddie Zalva said the painter, Jack Williams, lost control of his car which left the highway and flipped back on right in the path of the truck. The truck driver, Jack Martin, 33, Elfers, was critically hurt.

VALENTINE'S DAY
O, human love! thou spirit given,
On Earth, of all we hope in heaven!
—Poe

If the motives of human affection are right, the affections are enduring and achieving.
—Mary Baker Eddy.

My bounty is as boundless as the sea,
My love as deep; the more I give to thee,
The more I have, for both are infinite.
—Shakespeare.

I love thee, as the soul loves heaven.
—Longfellow.

If thou must love me, let it be for nought,
Except for love's sake only.
—Elizabeth B. Browning.

My heart shall o'ertake you
Wherever you are.
—Clinton Scottard.

Since 1940 more than 7,500,000 new homes have been built in the United States. That is sufficient to provide accommodations for about 30,000,000 persons, and yet there is still a housing shortage in most places.

Steve Hannagan, the old Miami Beach publicity hound, is dead at 53, the very prime of life. So conscious of the value of publicity was he that when Julius Fleischmann, the yeast manufacturer, dropped dead of a heart attack while playing polo at Miami Beach, he wired the press associations, "Julius Fleischmann, yeast manufacturer, died of a heart attack today while playing polo. . . Don't forget the Miami Beach dateline!"

Doing a good turn daily is the credo of the Boy Scouts of America whose motto is "Be Prepared." Next week all over the country Boy Scout Week will be observed and drives will be conducted throughout the country to help finance this splendid organization. Here in Sanford W. J. Peacock is finance chairman and will direct the group's activities in its campaign to raise funds. There is no finer organization to which you could give your time or money.

President Eisenhower is both attacked and defended on the basis of his new Formosan policy. The Seventh U. S. Fleet will no longer stand between Chiang Kai Shek's Nationalist armies and China's Communist hordes. If they want to fight let them go to it. But there are some who see this as the eventual involvement of American ground forces on the Asiatic mainland, as a carefully screened stragem to "liberate" the oppressed peoples of China. And there are others who think that the best way to end the Korean war is to give the Communists a little trouble on their flanks.

Congratulations to John Sauls on the fine success of the March of Dimes for the benefit of the Infantile Paralysis Foundation. Sauls has been chairman of the Seminole County chapter of the Foundation for the past two years and as such has had more headaches and responsibilities than most people realize. But in addition to his duties as chapter chairman, this year he took on the management of the drive itself, something a little above and beyond the call of duty, and did the best possible job of it too.

How much are the services of a county commissioner worth to the people who pay the taxes? Well, a good without saying that some are worth a whole lot more than others, but you will never find such a provision written into public law. Our county commissioner gets $100 a month, we are told, and want $150 with a $50 a month travel allowance. Rep. Williams would probably admit that that is not enough to pay for any job done, but he doubts the wisdom of leaving the matter entirely to the discretion of the legislature.

Why Grand Juries?

Is the grand jury system worth keeping? One large city is examining it anew, a dispute having arisen between the foreman and the county prosecutor. By the law the prosecutor is the grand jury's legal adviser. The law says that that body hears the cases and the witnesses submitted by the prosecutor. Often a suspicion arises that the prosecutor may be lax, not calling all possible witnesses and playing down the testimony that might lead to an indictment.

A suggested remedy is to authorize the grand jury to hire an independent legal adviser. Often it is not allowed to do so, and has no funds for this or for hiring special investigators.

Grand juries are not the only method for screening criminal cases before bringing them to trial. The system prevails in only 24 of the 48 states. In the rest the customary procedure is for the prosecutor to lay an information, stating that a crime has been committed and that a certain person or persons appears to be guilty. This puts the responsibility for punishing crime directly up to the prosecutor, leaving him no institution behind which to hide.

The grand jury system has its points. One is that it provides for citizen participation in government. The grand jury has the power of conducting investigations of its own, though dependent on the prosecutor for legal advice or agents to do the investigating. This power is definitely beneficial.

The Sales Tax Spreads

The revenue for running the states comes chiefly from the sales tax, according to Commerce Clearing House. Twenty-four states have adopted this method of raising funds, three more than in 1951. Washington is entitled to the discredit of getting the highest percentage of its tax money from this system which discriminates against the poor. Washington's revenue comes 51 per cent from the sales tax.

The next most popular device appears to be the gasoline tax. This used to be increased regularly until public opinion forced its use to be restricted to roads, and not general state activities. The sales tax is superior to the gasoline tax in this respect, that it is out in the open. Gasoline taxes are added to the charge for fuel, and few drivers know how much they pay for gasoline and how much for state expenses. On the other hand, people can ration their driving and reduce their payments to the state. That is out of the question with sales taxes.

Best-Selling Writers

The most popular writer in the United States is one generally known, but not apt to be considered one of the really great. This is Erle Stanley Gardner, the prolific author of whodunits. A publisher of paperback editions estimates that 50,000,000 copies of his books have been sold in this form alone. The copies sold in bound editions would augment this figure considerably. The publisher says with considerable likelihood that this must be the record for the number of books sold in any one author's lifetime.

Years ago it was reported that the best-selling book in this country, outside of the Bible, was "In His Steps," a religious novel by the Rev. Charles M. Sheldon. Yet few if any literary histories of the United States even mention it, important as such facts are for any true estimate of the nation's reading habits. It may be questioned whether any history of American literature published 50 years from now will have much to say about Erle Stanley Gardner.

The Gardner books and "In His Steps" have one element in common — unimpeachable morality. For many that will redeem their lack of permanent distinction.

THE WORLD TODAY

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have in a fully expressed bluntly what has been an attitude among many people in this country for a good while. That if Western Europe wants American help it had better do more about helping itself.

Western Europe, and France in particular, has been acting like a tired old man. He likes to doze and would rather not hear the feet creeping along the hallway although he's still capable, under the spur of final fright, of jumping up and barring the door if he hears an unwelcome knock.

The French and West Germans began to quarrel at home about having a united army.

The French have reason to be concerned about the Germans who overran them three times in less than 100 years. They dread seeing Germans under arms again, although West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer says a single army is the only solution and he himself dreads ever again seeing national armies.

But the French factions have been arguing among themselves. So have the West Germans. In both countries there is some opposition to the EDC plan as approved by the statesmen, or to such a single army at all.

France acted like a tired old man before World War II. So did the rest of Western Europe, where the menace of Hitler was plain enough, but the people couldn't manage to set up a wall against him.

This was especially true in France, which was torn and divided. Now once again, with Hitler gone but Russia taking his place as the No. 1 European danger, the French are dawdling as if believing that just by hoping the worst can't happen to them it won't happen.

Dulles has been in Europe all week, trying to urge Western Europe into fuller realization that if it can't find the way to work together they have no right to expect this country to keep on shelling out help.

So far, of course, Dulles has been in a favorable position. He gave the Western Europeans about 75 days to make up their minds, though a representative of the Europeans, which foats the big bills, he

Dear Editor:
You have a lovely city, and I see, as a comparative newcomer, that it also has growing pains. In the course of scheduled work here as a civil engineer for about a year on the current sewerage and water improvements I have already been able to note signs of the town's itching at the seams. A number of sewerage, it is recognized, to be in need of attention; it is also plain that the growing pains are going before long to have an effect upon the presently available water supply. These matters are being carefully studied by Mayor Chase, the City Manager and Commissioners, and Robert M. Agnes, Consulting Engineer, all working in close cooperation.

ed, within a mile or so of your City Hall. Possibly if we can find such a place for early March occupancy I can be enabled to stop commuting and put even more time to the interesting task of searching the sewers from manhole to manhole.

Cheerily and cordially yours,
Perry M. Toole
Resident Engineer

Dear Mr. Dean:
Feast or famine! To my mind these words best represent what is in Sanford now. In the winter most of us live high and in the summer we starve to death. In the winter we are so busy we hardly know which end is up, and in the summer we twiddle our thumbs wondering how best to spend our time. One year the farmers roll in clover, and the next they have to borrow money to put in their crops and to live. In the winter we cannot find enough labor to do all the work necessary. In the summer hundreds of workers migrate to find work, and other hundreds lie idle.

This situation does not represent sound economy. It is not good for the merchant that has to keep his store open the year around. It is not good for the working man who must feed and clothe his family the year around. It arises because, basically, our principal sources of income are agriculture, the railroad and tourists. These are all winter seasonal sources.

One remedy is to encourage tourists to come to Florida in the summer, too. This is now being done, but of necessity is a slow process. Another is to bring to Sanford industries or other basic businesses that will operate on a year-around basis. A few such operating all year or even, if possible, primarily operating in the summertime would do wonders for Sanford. Ask any Sanford merchant what happened to his sales when Florida Fashions left for Orlando. Industries, Inc. is being organized for the purpose only-bring industry to Sanford and establish it on a sound basis. The organizers do not expect to realize anything at all directly on their investment. They do not even expect to get any of it back. They do not expect to make anything at all directly out of the company. They will get their return from the stabilizing and invigorating effect new industries will have on Sanford's economy. They expect their and other businesses here to make larger profits, they expect the working man to live better. That is how the backers of Sanford Industries, Inc., will get their return on their investment. They are really investing in Sanford and in Sanford's future.

Very truly yours,
George H. Williams Jr.

Old Mother Nature can sure do a swell job of knocking a guy's cars down when he gets to feelin' important. This is the time of year that I am usually galloping around like a cross between a cyclone and a flying saucer.

I was just getting set for 11 'big days and 11 big nights at the Florida State Fair to say nothing of the Press Breakfast at the Florida Citrus Exposition when Old Man Fla. comes along and knocks me for a loop.

I was going strong and feeling as fit as a fiddle and all of a sudden I wake up in the middle of the night with a fever that made me feel like a three-alarm fire, a heat as raw as a slab of fresh butchered yeasting and a nose that was running like a leaky hydrant.

I tried to get out of bed and my hind legs crumpled up like an accordion. By the time the Doc arrived I was 'frothin' at the mouth and yellin' that I couldn't be sick NOW! Not with the Florida State Fair coming up and me supposed to be a spark plug in the machine that made the wheels go 'round.

Not paying any attention to my screams the Doc jams a board down my throat, sticks a thermometer under my tongue and with my wrist in one hand and his watch in the other he watches 'time march on' as indifferent to my feelings as if I were an Egyptian mummy or something.

Then he takes a scratch pad out of his pocket, mimes it up with a lot of hieroglyphics and tells Mama to keep me in bed and give me nothing but liquid. That sounded pleasant in all I learned that in his pocket mimes it up with a lot of hieroglyphics and tells Mama to keep me in bed and give me nothing but liquid. throughout the South are coming to Tampa for the big parade and ceremonial.

Gasparilla Day is Monday Feb. 9, and Joe Mickler, general chairman of the event, promises that this year's spectacle will out-class and out-shine anything ever staged in the past. The most beautiful floats in the history of Gasparilla are ready for the big event and there will be more gaiety, more bands, drum corps and marching bodies, more bloodthirsty pirates and more just-about-everything that goes to make Gasparilla the famed show that it is.

Last night I was privileged to witness a rehearsal of the feature show in the Electrical Exposition—'Breakfast with the Neptunes'—in which Neut and Dot Perry, famed for their underwater show at Weeki Wachee Springs, do an entertaining underwater act that's sure to please and thrill you. The show is sponsored by Crosley and features a complete Crosley Kitchen all underwater. You'll get a kick out of watching Mrs. Neptune cook breakfast in their cavern under the sea.

This year for the first time an illuminated night parade will be staged, starting in Ybor City and terminating at the fair grounds. This is an International Day, Thursday, Feb. 12 and this year and colorful parade will have a distinctly Latin flavor. It promises to rival the Gasparilla Day parades and indications are that it will be as outstanding as any other event in connection with State Fair activities this year.

I have seen a lot of fairs in the making but never have I seen one so promising as this 1953 Florida State Fair. Every department shows improvement with exceptional livestock and poultry exhibits. The grandstand attractions are really outstanding with big car auto races by world famed drivers, a Tournament of Thrills with stuntmen from all over the world in competition, plus a circus and a big show that presents top-flight entertainers. Don't miss the 1953 Florida State Fair, Tampa, Feb. 20 to 14.

The question of who can vote was left to the states in the U. S. Constitution as it was first adopted.

Psychologists agree that it's wise to give your child enough of an allowance to provide an "overage" for saving. This encourages the sound habit of thrift at an early and impressionable age . . . provides the stimulus for further and purposeful saving.

Why not open a savings account here for your child . . . and let him add to it regularly with the money saved from his own allowance?

Citrus Growers Are Invited To Meet Duncan Hines

Growers of citrus throughout Central Florida are invited to meet Duncan Hines next Wednesday, Feb. 10, at 6 p. m., at the Citrus Growers' open house at Forest City.

More than 100 growers, with 1500 acres of citrus groves, will also be on hand to show visitors through the enlarged Foscage plant where orange juice "unproved by Duncan Hines" is concentrated, quick-frozen and packed.

Duncan Hines, best-known for his book "Adventures in Good Eating" and for the phrase "Recommended by Duncan Hines" which now describes thousands of eating places throughout the world, is well-known as a crusader for better standards of hospitality along America's highways.

In 1948, Mr. Hines, moving to carry his crusade for better eating into American homes, joined with food merchandiser, Roy Park, to establish Hines-Park Foods, Inc. Today, Hines-Park Foods works with 125 outstanding U. S. food companies, including the Foscage Citrus Concentrate Cooperative, in developing and merchandising the largest variety of top quality food products in this country under one single brand name—Duncan Hines.

Years ago, as a widely traveled business executive, he and Mrs. Hines began to make notes about good eating places which they encountered on their frequent trips. At Christmas in 1935, they decided that instead of a conventional greeting card, they would send their friends a little folder listing some of their favorite inns and restaurants. The result was literally hundreds of requests for copies of this list, and Duncan Hines wrote his first book "Adventures in Good Eating."

This spare-time hobby soon developed into a full-scale business, with more traveling and publishing of subsequent books. Then, somewhat later, he set up the Duncan Hines Foundation which provides scholarships in the hotel and restaurant management courses at Cornell University, Michigan State College, and several others.

Funds Requested For Universities Cut By Cabinet

TALLAHASSEE—The Cabinet Budget Commission has declined to recommend that the Legislature appropriate as much money for Florida State University and the University of Florida as the two institutions want for the next two years.

However, the commission made no cut in the $1,812,383 fund request of Florida A. & M. College for Negroes. The University of Florida was cut from $15,805,053 to $15,065,053 and Florida State from $11,522,510 to $10,922,510.

For the most part, the Cabinet followed Gov. Dan McCarty's suggestion that agencies be limited to five per cent increases in expenses and salaries but members

Wage Controls

men's retail marketing service report, the average price derived by checking a number of Greater Boston markets was a towering $1.79 a pound.

For those more interested in hamburger, the highest price is running 10 to 20 cents a pound below a year ago and from about 10 to 15 cents below the 1952 average.

Ground beef is selling from 20 to 40 cents in the 15 cities. A year ago most cities fell within a range of 20 to 45 cents and in 1950 within a range of 40 to 50.

Choice chuck roasts have a range of 30 to 50 while a year ago it was mostly 50 to 75 and in June 1952 the range was 35 to 45. Fat roasts ran all the way from 30 cents in Detroit to as high as 60 in New Orleans and 75 in Atlanta. A year ago the range was from 50 in Denver to 90 cents in New York and in 1950 from 45 in Denver to 80 in New York.

Most retail trade analysts attribute the lower prices this year to heavy marketings of beef cattle throughout 1952. The Department of Agriculture this week estimated producers turned out 9,311,000 pounds of beef last year. All meats totaled 21,387,000, which was around 1,900,000,000 pounds more than in 1951.

While much attention both from the meat industry and the meat-consuming public has been focused on the apparent differences in price declines of live cattle prices and beef prices, the American Meat Institute says beef has the lowest farmer-to-consumer cost of most foods.

The institute says 25 cents out of a beef consumer's dollar goes to costs of processing, transporting, packaging and distributing the meat from the farm through the retail market.

On some other popular food conversion cost is 27 cents on every 78 on butter, 31 on lard and 37 on pork, the institute said.

They refused outright to make the five per cent cut in the Department of Education budget because State School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey was not present at Thursday night's Cabinet meeting when his fund request came up for action.

McCarty was equally firm in declining to approve the budget as it stood so it was passed over to be acted on later. They also deferred action on budgets of Treasurer Ed Larson and Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo who were absent.

The five per cent policy went into effect only after long discussion during which several cabinet members urged that each fund request be considered separately because some agencies are expanding and need more money and others were passed over when increases were allowed two years ago.

"I certainly reserve the right to change my mind if we make a mistake on some item here," McCarty said, "but if we can agree a five per cent increase in salaries and expenses is what the state can afford to pay, I personally feel it's a fair and equitable increase."

As well as decreasing flat five per cent increases in expenses and salary allotments for many agencies, the cabinet also cut budgets of several by specific amounts. The result was a tangle of figures which will take much calculation before determination of the exact amount by which the budget commission recommendation differs from the total asked by state agencies. All told, the reductions will amount to several million dollars.

The final result will be the budget commission's recommendation to the Legislature on its general appropriations bill. It may be some time after the budget sessions end before the recommendation is calculated.

Russian Spies

liberty out to him state secrets. "Besides this, he sought out among his acquaintances political and moral instability, and used them for purposes of espionage."

"Thus Gurevich drew into the espionage work a former worker at one of the institutes of the Academy of Sciences of the USSR E. A. Taratuta, whom he contacted with obtaining a formation on the attainments of the society of scientists."

"As a result of enmeshment and the nullibility of certain workers of the institute, Taratuta succeeded in stealing a number of secret documents."

Romanov, who allegedly was caught trying to pass information to a foreign power, was drawn into espionage by his "criminal past."

While working in the Department of a "strategic" service, he "tried to steal a large amount of state money but was exposed and, fearing arrest, fled the state."

After moving about and holding various teaching jobs, he found "entry" to the "barracks" of the Moscow regional leather goods producers' cooperative organization, which made him chairman of the producers' cooperative in the village of Sinkovo in a Communist district of the Moscow region."

"In the story of Romanov," Pravda said, "the fact deserves attention that, this so-called spy, for two years by means of employing the carelessness and gullibility of certain Soviet citizens, in hiding from justice and even in finding shelter inside a number of Soviet institutions."

Pravda continued that there are a highly dangerous group since they can be recruited by foreign intelligence services. Among other ingenious elements it listed "Trotskyists of the border, exiled 'Trotskyists,' Socialist revolutionaries, Trotskyites and 'bourgeois nationalists.'"

The newspaper listed as particularly dangerous groups those who have a "psychopathic" urge toward foreign things. In this category, Pravda said, were the manufacturers of the border, exiled Trotskyists, Socialist revolutionaries, Trotskyites and "bourgeois nationalists."
