By DOUG WILLIS
Associated Press Writer
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — "It took one wall where the 17 kids were and just pushed it," one witness gasped after a burning plane slammed into an ice cream parlor jammed with children and their parents, killing 22 persons.
Authorities said one entire family of four died in the crash Sunday along with at least 10 children. Twenty-six others — mostly children — were injured when the private plane catapulted across a highway shortly after takeoff and hit Farrell's Ice Cream Parlor.

The pilot of the Korean war vintage jet fighter survived and was quoted as saying, "I'm sorry! I'm sorry!" as he was pulled from the wreckage.
Describing the scene at the wall where the 17 youngsters were being seated, Dave Thornton said, "They were all in a big pile. It just pushed them." He ran to the crash area from a nearby bowling alley.
A 12-year-old girl in the shop crowded with about 100 persons said she thought it was "a gimmick" to accompany the serving of a special ice cream sundae. "Then everyone started screaming and running."

Don McClusky, a management trainee working at the store, said a birthday party group of 17 persons was seated at the table at the front window and had just been served with ice cream, candy and favors when the plane crashed through the wall beside them. Most of the dead were found in that part of the store.
The crash occurred as the F86 Sabrejet was taking off from Sacramento's Executive Airport.

GOP 'Slush Fund' Aired

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) — Sen. George McGovern, describing President Nixon's administration as one "thought lock, stock and barrel by the special interest," is drumming a demand that the Republicans name the donors of what he calls a $10-million secret campaign slush fund.

The assertion that big business and special interests dominate the Nixon government has become a central one in McGovern's Democratic presidential campaign. He made it his text again today after pressing it from Brooklyn to Billings, Sunday.
"If there was ever an administration that was bought, stock and barrel by the special interests of this country, it's the Nixon-Agnew administration," McGovern told more than 700 persons at a $50 fundraising luncheon in New York.
At home in Sioux Falls, S.D., McGovern called that the principle issue of the 1972 campaign, which he whittled the Nixon lead from 34 points to 22 points in the past few weeks.

Nixon Leads McGovern, Latest Poll Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — A new poll conducted jointly for Time magazine and The New York Times shows President Nixon leading Democrat McGovern by 52 to 22 percent.
Moreover, the President has overtaken McGovern even among registered Democrats, 43 to 40 percent, according to the survey released Sunday. It was conducted by Daniel Yankelevich, Inc., between

Aug. 28 and Sept. 12.
The 39-point over-all margin represents an 11 percentage point increase over a parallel Yankelevich survey taken a month earlier which showed McGovern by 29 points — 56 to 28 percent.
Meanwhile, McGovern aides disclosed the results of a private national poll showing the Democratic contender had whittled the Nixon lead from 34 points to 22 points in the past few weeks.

Reds Step Up Attacks At DaNang

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces stepped up their attacks below Da Nang today in an apparent effort to gain new access routes to the vital north-south Highway 1 and weaken support for the Saigon government.
Associated Press correspondent Michael Putez reported that an estimated 20 North Vietnamese companies numbering up to 200 troops attacked a militia outpost about 25 miles south of Da Nang. The outpost is in a village which has access to Highway 1.

The militia company of 100 men was still holding at last report.
Fifty miles to the south, government troops were reported to have begun an operation aimed at clearing Highway 1 south of Quang Ngai City. About six miles of the highway are cut between the Song Ve bridge and the district town of No Duc, 15 miles south of Quang Ngai City.
North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces kept up their harassing attacks in Quang Ngai province with rockets and mortars against government outposts.
Officials said the wave of attacks below Da Nang is aimed at destroying the Saigon government's credibility in protecting the population it claims it controls.
Since Aug. 16, the attackers have captured three districts, towns and several outposts. One town has been recaptured.

According to Lt. J. K. Kriz, chief county investigator, no charges were placed against Alexander after the affray that occurred adjacent to Lake Monroe and outside Sanford city limits.
Caro was shot with a .22 caliber pistol and removed to Seminole Memorial Hospital where he was treated and discharged.
Kriz said Caro attempted to run down Alexander in an automobile but the action provoked the shooting.
Days Inn, motel under construction at 14 and SR 46 intersection, was looted of seven color TV sets with a combined $2,100 value.

Reduced From Death Penalty 4th Rapist To Get Life

By MARION BETHEA
Bringing the resentencing of previously doomed inmates of Raiford's death row to full cycle as far as Seminole County is concerned, is the scheduled resentencing next Tuesday of Robert Lee Byrd.
Byrd was sentenced to death in the electric chair on May 26, 1971, by Circuit Judge Dominick Salti for the 1963 rape of a Seminole mother.
The jury deliberated slightly over one hour before returning the guilty verdict without recommendation of mercy.
The rape occurred when Byrd hid in the darkness near the woman's carport. As she returned from a Girl Scout meeting, the assailant knocked her down into the dirt and raped her.
Byrd was declared legally insane in 1966 and was committed to a state hospital, from which he escaped in 1967. He was apprehended in California in 1969 and returned to the hospital. He was declared sane in 1970.
Under the resentencings necessitated by a U. S. Supreme Court ruling of the death penalty being unconstitutional, Byrd makes the fourth county defendant brought back to Sanford for resentencing.

Public Losing Beachfront To Commercial Buildings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It's tougher to get to the beach these days. And once you get there, it's harder to find parking.
Condominiums, hotels, motels, condominiums, office buildings, restaurants and more condominiums offer the beach-goer a panoramic view of concrete or concrete mixers making more.
Since 1970, Jacksonville Beach has been in the midst of a major beachfront building boom. The city has abandoned streets ending on the beach, and since it cannot sell the property it has leased the right of way to developers.
But State Sen. Dan Scarborough, D-Jacksonville, doesn't like it.
"Above all else, Florida must preserve its beaches for all of its citizens," he said Sunday.
In a letter to Bill Carlton, director of the Division of Beaches and Shores, Department of Natural Resources, Scarborough wrote:
"In my judgment, such a decision by Jacksonville Beach to continue to close off free access to the beaches will do irreparable harm to all our past and future efforts to preserve and restore our beaches."
"It appears the closing of street ends at Jacksonville Beach has become a fact of life today," he said.

Jacksonville Beach Mayor Bob Evans calls Scarborough's concern unfounded. He said when a street is abandoned the developer is required to build a paralleling 10-foot walkway leading to the beach for public use.
Evans said so far this year five streets have been closed — "this is five per cent of the accesses to the beach." Dead end streets make up 25 per cent of the entrances to the beach, he said.
"If allowed to continue," Scarborough countered, "it will no doubt result in the loss of our beaches and may possibly play havoc with any financial advance gained to preserve and restore our shores."
Carlton told Scarborough Congress has authorized the beach restoration project for the beaches of Duval County on the basis of public access and the use of the beaches. The government will contribute more than 50 per cent of the cost of the project, with state and county sharing the remainder, if a street abutting the beach is acceptable to public access.

Election Bill On Agenda

By MARION BETHEA
WINTER SPRINGS — City Council, at a 7:30 meeting tonight, will consider passage of an ordinance governing the Dec. 12 municipal elections.
The action is necessitated by adoption of the new city charter, which did not provide for a qualifying period for candidates.
Council, in recent discussions, established the qualifying period for candidates from Oct. 18-Nov. 5. Qualifying fee was upped from $5 to $10.
The ordinance, drafted by City Attorney Thomas Freeman, also provides for the qualifications for an elective office as being a qualified city voter, and a city resident for six months preceding the qualifying date. Further, each candidate, in addition to filing the qualifying fee, is required to file a petition signed by 10 registered voters of the city with the clerk between Oct. 13 and Nov. 1.
Mayor Granville Brown will discuss communications received from the state Department of Transportation (DOT) and the Department of Administration. The letter from the DOT states that new developers are entering right-of-way and roadways without first securing permits from the department, and the other department letter discusses coordination of planning with the orderly and ecological growth of the state.
Mayor Brown also will discuss with council the deplorable condition and repair of North Edgemoor Avenue.
Leonard Casselberry and Mrs. Barbara Christiansen will appear before council relative to a progress report upon a lake in which they received permission to dredge over a year ago. The lake is located in the Ranchlands.

Shoplifting in Seminole, Growing Menace

The weekend shopping trip is so much a normal and exciting event for the family, that the veritable feast of goods and goodies which the far-sighted and promotion-minded merchants stretch on their counters and in their salesrooms for Seminole residents that it has assumed major importance.

Like so many other of the plus factors which the phenomenal growth of this county has provided, there is also a minus factor in this which needs to be recognized and controlled until it ceases to exist.

We refer to shoplifting. Once regarded as a "game," it is now a menace and a very grave one. Serious for the merchant who must spend money to guard against the crime and catch the offender, it is something which can destroy any normal career for those who are caught.

Make no mistake about it, the wide-awake business-men in our county are alert and are determined that this loss-factor be minimized.

As for the legitimate shopper, this is the one who must also be aware that when shoplifting has become so prevalent that it is getting high-level national attention, it deserves the same treatment in the retail stores, the shopping centers and the supermarkets which are now doing such a thriving business here.

A few weeks ago Hugh Muncy, president of the Illinois Retail Merchants Association, told publishers that in Illinois shoplifting was contributing to a loss factor of 4-5 per cent of gross sales and that it was the "fastest growing larceny in the U.S."

This newspaper will shortly present two articles on the shoplifting issue prepared by the Copley News Service. They will contain facts and details which should protect the ill-advised or the "happy" shoplifter from light-fingered appropriation.

What articles attract these thieves? Research indicates that small electrical appliances, TV sets, cigarettes, record albums, crushable clothing, jewelry, office supplies and housewares are most often carried out in booster bags, booster bloomers and other booster receptacles.

One of the most alarming recent developments is the increase in the number of real young boys and girls who do try to shoplift with no understanding at all of the risks that they are taking. Teen-agers have always presented a problem. And there is even more than suspicion being attached to a young-old combination which seems to be appearing in many sections of the United States.

It should not be surprising to anyone that in this anti-social and reprehensible affair, the drug habit is now pushing the addicts into the kind of theft which makes shoplifting a major loss to the merchants.

Such a challenge to honest business has, of course, been met with a response of varied nature and application.

Perhaps the most important observation that can be made at this time is that there has never been a time when the shoplifter — young and old, amateur or professional — is being detected, arrested and booked with so much skill, human and technological.

One of the most effective ways to counter the shoplifter and to remove temptation from those who would slip something into their shopping bag without paying for it, is found within the ranks of the clerks whose job is to serve the public.

One store has found out that when a shopper is sort of roaming through the aisles, brushing against counters or just "taking a look around" the clerk who sees this and then asks "May I help you?" will nip the impulse in the bud.

Seminole County is proud of the fine stores which have a history of service and success and the steady influx of national supermarkets and the creator of shopping plazas.

We believe that all who are benefitting from these stores — and who is not? — should join hands and be alert to the shoplifting menace and help stamp it out.

Nothing bad ever happens to them. They are immune to the accidents and misadventures that make life's road perilous to the rest of us.

Common Market Squeezing U.S.

By BRUCE BOSSERT

What happened to American athletes at Munich is symbolic of larger things. The United States, you might say, is losing the economic Olympics.

The high attention given our trade problems with Japan has tended to obscure others that, in the long run, may be worse. We are being seriously squeezed down in our vital trade with the nations of the European Economic Community.

The EEC, through its internal trade and its preferential trade agreements with non-EEC countries, is becoming an enormous and increasingly exclusive trading bloc. It already has special tariff arrangements with some 30 nations. The total will pass 50 when Britain enters the Common Market in 1973.

Even by itself, the EEC is today the world's largest trading unit, having surpassed the United States within the last 12 months.

The prospect, then, is that American exports will have a harder and harder time surmounting tariff barriers in Europe and elsewhere. We may be more dependent than ever upon our markets in Canada, the rest of the Western Hemisphere, and Japan.

Most disturbing in this situation is the EEC's continued policy of protectionism in farm products. We are the world's most efficient producers of agricultural products, and of course the biggest exporter. Yet the nations of the EEC have firmly held to programs of support for their own farm products, even at cost of high European food prices.

Underlining the bad trade news for the United States is a new trade report from the Organization of Economic Cooperation and Development. It revealed a whole host of unexplained differences between the United States and the EEC.

William Eberle, President Nixon's special trade representative and the U.S. member of the group which produced the report, has been particularly disappointed with the findings. He was particularly displeased with the group's collective judgment that farm products are different from industrial products in the international trading system.

The wide U.S.-European gulf is considered a very bad augury for a proposed major trade conference in 1973. Some experts are suggesting that a reasonable, updated international trade framework. Today the outlook is dark.

Curiously, the troubling OECD report came out at just about the time President Nixon was highlighting our trade difficulties with Japan in his Hawaii meeting with Premier Tanaka.

One Man's Opinion

We Are Gaining In Pollution Job

By DON OAKLEY

Cooperation between industry and government is making slow but steady progress against solid waste pollution.

According to the National Center for Resource Recovery in Washington, programs sponsored by industry are giving strong impetus to the recycling movement throughout the country. Substantial increases have been reported in the volume of steel, glass, paper and aluminum recovered from municipal trash for reprocessing into basic materials or other uses that conserve natural resources.

Latest figures show that 17 cities alone are salvaging used steel, or "tin," cans by magnetic separation at the rate of 2.5 billion a year.

Admittedly, this is only a small fraction of the 60 billion cans produced annually, but indications are that salvage operations will be accelerated in the years ahead.

R. Thomas Wilson, senior president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, estimates that municipal and regional systems will be recovering more than five billion steel cans annually by 1975. Already, some cities employing magnetic separation systems are reclaiming 36 per cent of all used steel cans in their localities.

Similar progress is noted in the glass container industry, where some 900 million of the 36 billion bottles and jars in household refuse were retrieved last year. This figure will be doubled when just one new plant, recently commissioned in North Hempstead, N.Y., goes into operation.

If enacted, the bill would bring an increase in private school tuition; federal encroachment into private schools; increased federal control over state and local school operations and probably a reduction of federal expenditures for other education programs.

Private schools would have to comply with federal civil rights and equal employment opportunity laws, a provision certain to pale the prospect of federal greenbacks for many academies North and South. Both the trust fund and tax credit provisions face constitutional problems.

Hearings still are under way before the House Ways and Means Committee chaired by Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., co-sponsor of the act with Rep. Hugh Carey, D-N.Y.

The legislation is not in final form and final action is unlikely this session. The trust fund is designed to help states equalize educational opportunities in the wake of court rulings that current reliance on local property taxes to finance schools makes educational quality and opportunity a function of wealth in violation of constitutional guarantees of equal protection under the law.

Neither administration officials nor congressional aides have been able to decipher the bill's hastily drawn trust fund

Trust Fund Within Tax Credit Bill

A $2.5 billion-a-year "Public Education Trust Fund" is tucked away in the House of Representatives' bill authorizing income tax credits for private school parents.

Both sections of the Public and Private Education Assistance Act of 1972 (H.R. 1614) represent major changes in federal aid to education. Together they would cost more than $3 billion a year and $15 billion over the next five years.

If enacted, the bill would bring an increase in private school tuition; federal encroachment into private schools; increased federal control over state and local school operations and probably a reduction of federal expenditures for other education programs.

Private schools would have to comply with federal civil rights and equal employment opportunity laws, a provision certain to pale the prospect of federal greenbacks for many academies North and South. Both the trust fund and tax credit provisions face constitutional problems.

Hearings still are under way before the House Ways and Means Committee chaired by Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., co-sponsor of the act with Rep. Hugh Carey, D-N.Y.

The legislation is not in final form and final action is unlikely this session. The trust fund is designed to help states equalize educational opportunities in the wake of court rulings that current reliance on local property taxes to finance schools makes educational quality and opportunity a function of wealth in violation of constitutional guarantees of equal protection under the law.

Neither administration officials nor congressional aides have been able to decipher the bill's hastily drawn trust fund

Capital Ideas European Inflation Worries U.S.

WASHINGTON — The Nixon-McGovern campaign notwithstanding, Washington is beginning to cast anxious eyes across the Atlantic. American partners in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are struggling with West Europe's worst rash of inflation since the start of the decade that followed World War II. Readers put teeth into dentures issue

By Abigail Van Buren
DEAR ABBY: I can certainly feel that widow with dentures who is worried about how men would feel about a woman if they knew she wore dentures.

DEAR G: My dental consultant assure me that dentures can be made so realistically that their presence will be undetected during the most passionate kissing.

DEAR ABBY: In my 84 years I have never heard it suggested that a man's emotional responses to a woman might be affected by her wearing dentures!

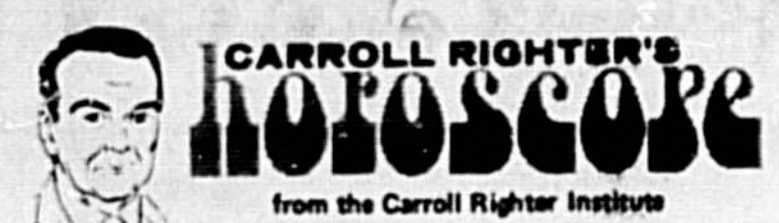

DEAR WARREN: Your letter will bring joy to the hearts of many a lady who smiles thru her dentures.

In 'Sloppy' Effort Greyhounds Hold On For 21-20 Win

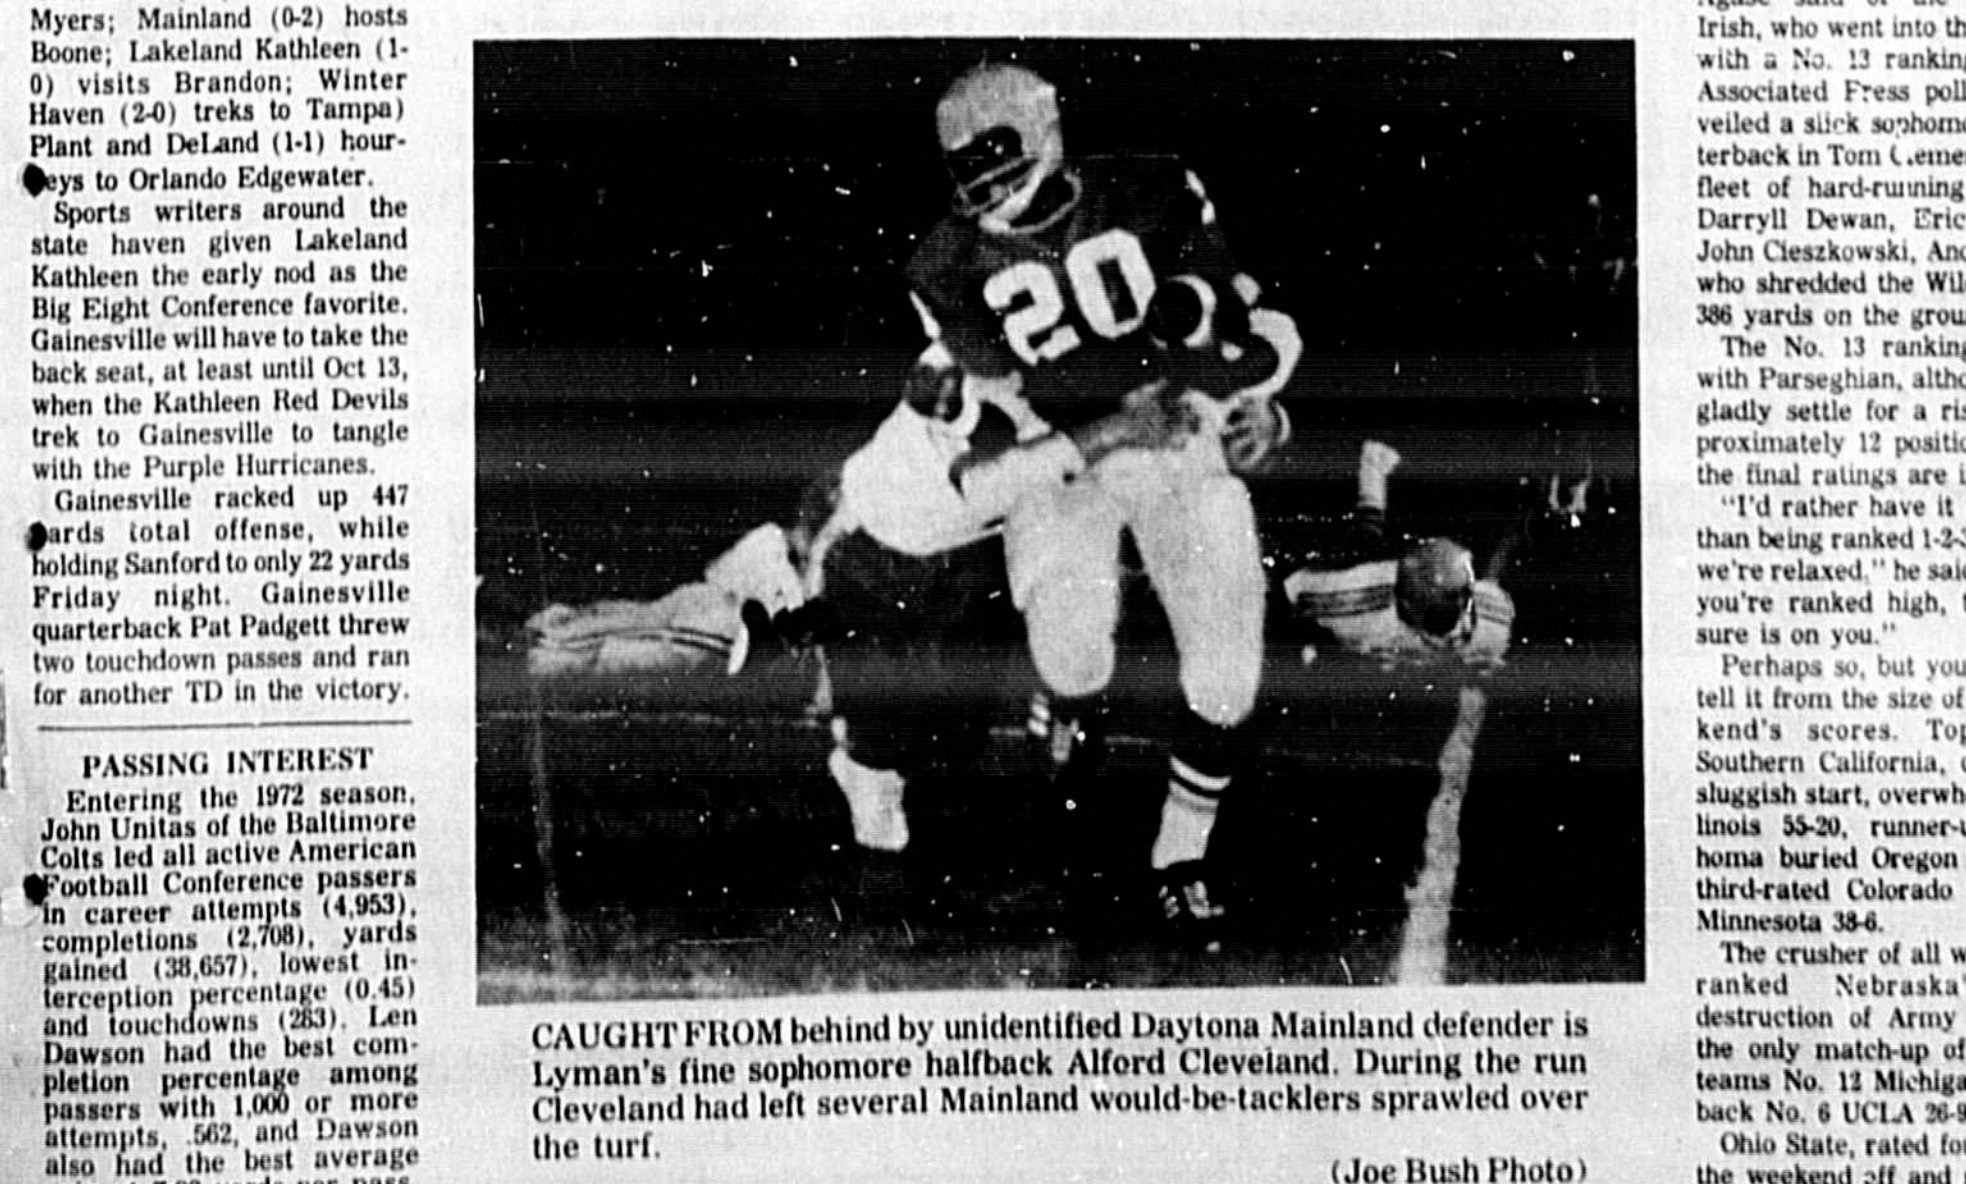

By HERKUS CUSH Herald Staff Writer Nothing comes easy. You've got to work and work hard for everything you get. This is the message Dick Copeland tried to convey to his Lyman Greyhound football team last week and it will be the same "story" this week as he prepares his team, or at least tries to prepare them, for the Bishop Moore Hornets.

HERALD SCOREBOARD table with columns for Lyman, Mainland, and game statistics.

Rated Second In Big 8

Gainesville is rated second in the Big Eight Conference, but you'd have a hard time convincing Sanford players, coaches and fans that they're not tops.

Waiting and waiting for pass to come to him is Lyman's fine split end Tom Gooch (86). Gooch made reception and it gave Greyhounds a first down early in their game with Daytona Mainland Friday night.

Tribe Falls 53-0 To Purple 'Canes

One thing's for sure: The Gainesville Purple Hurricanes are not a lot of hot air. In what may have been the worst defeat ever handed a Seminole High football team, the Tribe was blanked 53-0 Friday night by the Gainesville Purple Hurricanes.

Sanford took the kickoff, but once again they were unable to move the ball. Jimines got off a 50-yard punt and a penalty on the play set the Purple Hurricanes back to their own nine-yard line. Six plays later, Jerome Fuller ran in from the nine. Dennison kicked and the visitors led 14-0 with 7:02 left in the first half.

TOMMY THOMPSON (44) picks up six yards for the Fighting Seminoles as he is surrounded by several Gainesville defenders. Among the tacklers are Larry Crinshaw (35), Van Goetting (70) and Tim Straussner (10).

After 37-0 Victory Irish Cinch To Better Ranking

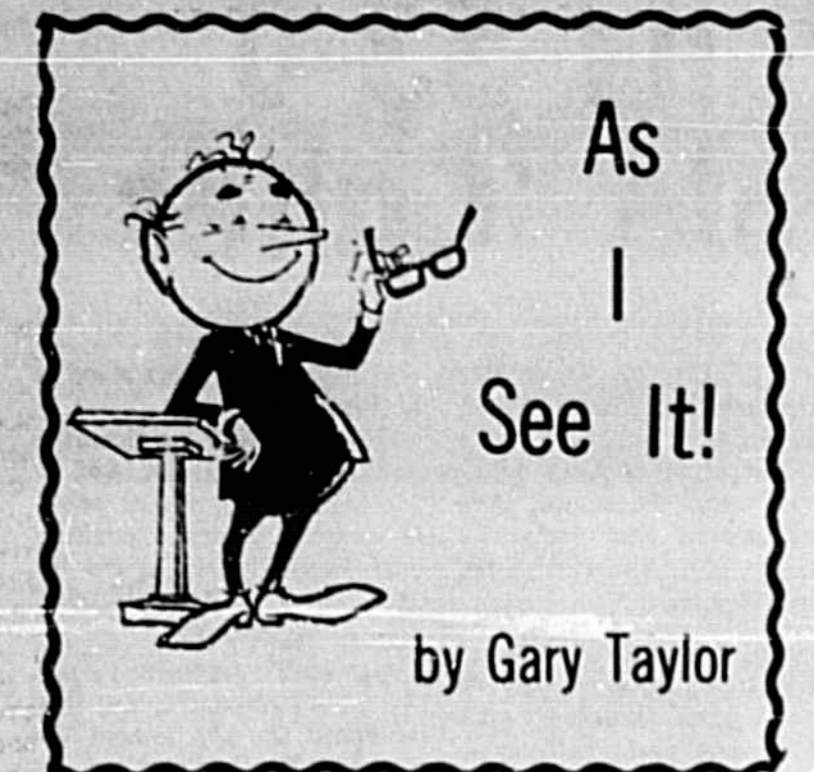

By HERSCHEL MISSENSON Associated Press Staff Writer Whether Ara Parshegian likes it or not, his Notre Dame team seems a cinch to move up in this week's college football ratings following a 37-0 trouncing of Northwestern Saturday in their 1972 debut.

As usual, they're always somewhere between good and great." Northwestern's Alex Agase said of the Fighting Irish, who went into the tie with a No. 13 ranking in the Associated Press poll but unveiled a slick sophomore quarterback in Tom Clements and a fleet of hard-running backs—Darryl Dewan, Eric Penick, John Cieszkowski, Andy Huff—who shredded the Wildcats for 386 yards on the ground.

The Middles' next meet will be Tuesday at Mt. Dora Bible School. Since Sumter will also be participating, the three-way meet, Friday the Middles will trek to Orlando to run in the Edgewater Invitational.

As I See It!

by Gary Taylor

For the last two or three years, the Sanford Seminoles have had some strong teams. They've really administered some top-sided beatings on opponents. This year the outlook isn't so bright.

Many times during recent years this writer emphasized that more boys on the bench should be able to play after the score gets one-sided and a victory is assured.

But this never happened. It was a sound, pound, pound right up to the final horn. Last year at Evans the Tribe called time out with just a few seconds on the clock, trying to get another touchdown...

What about last year's game with Oviedo. The Seminoles won 6-0, but their were first-string players on the field when the game ended and there were clean uniforms on the bench.

So Friday night the Seminoles got a taste of what it's like to be on the other end of the score. I've listened to numerous complaints about how Gainesville played their starters all the way through the game. That's funny, they didn't complain when Sanford beat somebody by a similar margin.

Gainesville did play their second-team quarterback, Randy Craig. He must have been in the game for all of four plays. But then standstill Pat Padgett was back on the field as the Purple Hurricanes ran up the score.

The defeat was bad, but it goes as a loss whether the score was 6-0, 24-23, or 53-0. The worst thing was injuries. Running back Mark Carli was injured early in the game.

Doctors say Carli must stay off the field for four weeks to six months so it is doubtful that he'll be back in uniform this season.

Several other players suffered minor injuries, but it is hoped that none of those were as serious as Carli's. Speaking of the name Carli, there's one that deserves a lot of credit for work on the Sanford Stadium facilities.

John Carli, along with Ray Malby, have been the main two getting the field in shape. They've probably had a lot of help, but no one has put as much time into the effort as these two.

Oviedo Loses Second

Rockledge Too Strong For Lions, 28-6

By GREG SINDAD Herald Sports Staff

The Rockledge Raiders scored 14 points in the opening period against Oviedo and then coasted to an easy win as they beat the Lions 28-6 Friday night at Courier Field in Oviedo. The Lions were outweighted and outmanned but still put up a game effort against a tough Raider team. It was Oviedo's second loss and Rockledge's second win.

Rockledge sported a strong armed senior quarterback by the name of Pat Basquill who threw for two touchdowns and earned the Lions on several other occasions with his passing. But the big story for the Raiders was junior tailback Sidney Green. Green scored all of Rockledge's touchdowns, two by hand and two on passes from Basquill. When the game had ended, he had put together 84 yards rushing and another 81 yards on passes.

It looked as if Rockledge might run up a big score against Oviedo during the first quarter, but a stalled Lions defense came back to slow the offense was finally given a chance in the second period. But Oviedo was unable to get their offense moving until late in the quarter when they moved the ball deep into Raider territory. But here the drive stalled and the Lions were forced to turn the ball over after a desperation pass on fourth down from Greg Washington to Glennie Patterson fell incomplete. The Raiders then ran out the clock and the half ended with the score 14-0 in favor of Rockledge.

But the Lions came out fighting in the third period and began to move the ball well against the Raiders. Keeping the ball on the ground, Oviedo moved steadily down the field and inside the Rockledge 10 yard line. Then on second down from the three, Washington handed to fullback Alan Daniel who got the touchdown. This proved to be the only score of the night for the Lions who continue to have offensive difficulties. But the Raiders came right back. They took the ensuing kickoff and ran and passed all the way down the field. Three, where Green took the ball across for this third TD of the night. This made the Score 21-4, and for the Lions, time was running out.

After their third touchdown, the Raiders again took control and were the dominant force for the remainder of the game. Oviedo failed to make another scoring threat and were unable to move the ball against a tough Rockledge defense. The Raiders scored once again in the fourth period but by this time the game was out of the Lions' reach. A large crowd that was on hand to view Oviedo's home opener began to file out with six minutes left and were undoubtedly very disappointed. Offensive ineffectiveness continued to plague the Lions. Oviedo totaled only 108 total yards and could put only six points on the board. The Lions will have to find a way of putting points on the board if they are to win.

The defense, although allowing 28 points, looked much improved from last week and gave a good performance against the Lion. The secondary continued to hurt the Lions, but it too looked much improved and with a little work could become one of the teams strong points.

One bright spot for the Lions Friday night was the discovery of the running talents of junior halfback, Tom Sievert. Sievert picked up 33 yards on the ground and also did a fine job of returning kickoffs. His running ability was evident and he should become a regular in the Lions backfield.

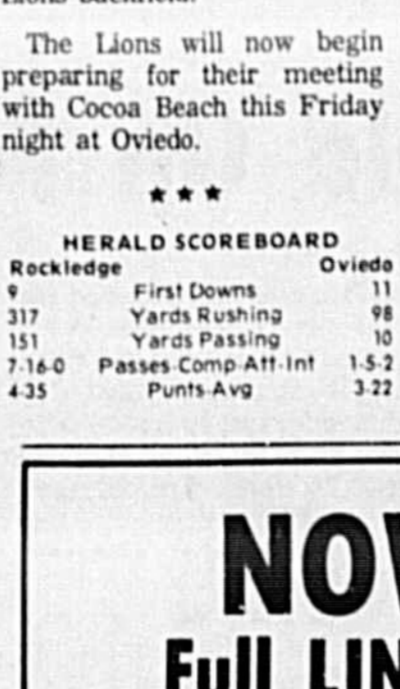

The Lions will now begin preparing for their meeting with Cocoa Beach this Friday night at Oviedo.

Has Had Better Days?

Namath Fires 6 Scoring Bombs

By BRUCE LOWITT Associated Press Sports Writer

"I know it sounds like I'm Namath grinning," but I've had better days throwing the ball." If he has, Baltimore Colts are probably quite happy they weren't around then, cause they were around Sunday when Namath demolished them to lead the New York Jets to a 44-14 National Football League victory.

"It wasn't my best day," Namath deplored after rolling up an incredible 66 aerial yards and six touchdowns. "Sometimes I throw it short, sometimes I was long and sometimes where I wanted to be."

His first three touchdowns, covered 65 yards to Eddie Bell, 67 to John Higgins and 28 to Don Maynard, followed by three to Rich Carter involving plays of 10, 19, and 80 yards respectively. The six touchdowns fell one yard—achieved on just 15 completions in 28 attempts—was third best in the league's history for one game.

In Sunday's other games, Buffalo stunned San Francisco by knocking off the A's in the opener as Paul Schaal ripped a home run and rookie Monty Montgomery bested Blue Moon Olson.

Chicago tied Los Angeles 13-13. In tonight's nationally televised game, the Kansas City Chiefs take on the Saints in New Orleans. Johnny Unitas didn't exactly have a dismal day quarterbacking the Colts, despite being thrown for losses six times. He still managed to complete 26 passes, a Baltimore record, for 332 net yards, including touchdown strikes of 40 yards to Sam Havrilak and 23 to Tom Matte.

Don McCauley also scored two Colt touchdowns, one on a one-yard field goal, the other on a 29-yard kickoff return, and Jim O'Brien had plays of 13 and 32 yards while Bobby Howfield had one of 14 yards for the Jets.

Running back Jim Braxton's second touchdown of the game with a touchdown pass to Randy Vataha, the other climaxed by Carl Garrett's 12-yard scoring run.

Mike Phipps, a third-year quarterback making only his second NFL start, threw for one touchdown and ran for another to lead the Browns past the Oilers for 27 yards. Krick scored twice while Morris, Conka and quarterback Bob Griese each scored once for the Dolphins.

Jeffery plays our type of physical game, therefore we're able to out-smash them," said Halba Dave Osborn, who scored three touchdowns in the Vikings' romp against the Dolphins.

Tight end Jerry Smith caught his first two touchdowns—the season—both for touchdowns—to lead the Redskins past the Cardinals.

Red Sox Recapture

Lead In AL's East

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer

Forget the games behind column. Don't even look at the games remaining column. Those numbers can lead to negative thinking and with 10 days to go in baseball's American League East championship chase, there's no room for negative thinking.

There's nothing negative about Boston's numbers today. The Red Sox hold a one-game edge over Detroit after whipping the Tigers 7-2 Sunday. Third place Baltimore remained 2½ behind, defeating Milwaukee 4-3, and the fourth-place New York Yankees closed to within three games of the top by sweeping a doubleheader from Cleveland, 5-4 in 11 innings and 6-3.

In other American League games, Oakland clinched its magic number for the West to five. The A's split a doubleheader with Kansas City, losing 4-2 before winning 2-1. Chicago topped Texas 7-4 and California edged Minnesota 2-1.

In the National League, New York nipped Philadelphia 2-1, Montreal edged Pittsburgh 2-1, St. Louis topped Chicago 2-1 in 10 innings, San Diego beat Atlanta 2-1, Cincinnati walked off Houston 10-2 and Los Angeles shut out San Francisco 7-0.

Managers always look at the bright side of things. St. Detroit boss Billy Martin, one behind with eight to play, said, "I like our position very well."

And Jim Palmer, whose 11th career victory kept Baltimore alive, 2½ back with seven left, said, "We've got to win all of our games... but we can do it since we play Boston three times at home."

And New York manager Ralph Houk saw a good omen in the Yankee attack that produced 13 runs in the double header sweep against the Indians. "If we can start scoring runs again, we can have some fun. We know we have to win practically every day to get back to not worry about what the other clubs do."

The man with the most right to optimism is Boston Manager Eddie Yasko, whose team has hung on doggedly to the lead. The Red Sox have been out of first place only one day since Sept. 7 when they took over the lead. Kasko, however, remains non-committal.

"Of course anything can happen," he said, "but it looks like it's going down to the last three." That would be Boston's wrap-up series at Detroit Oct. 2-3-4.

Boston jumped on Detroit's Woody Fryman for four runs in the first inning and that was a good enough cushion for returning Luis Tiant, who has emerged as the ace of the Red Sox staff.

Tiant pitched a seven-inning and ran his record since Aug. 1 to 10-1. He is 14-5 for the season and has won 10 in a row at Fenway Park.

A two-run single by Carl Yastrzemski and Reggie Smith's two-run homer staked Tiant to the quick lead. Then Rico Petrocelli smashed a three-run homer as the Red Sox entered Fryman's five-game winning streak.

Blair drove in two runs with a home run and a sacrifice fly. Cleveland handed the Yankees edged Minnesota 2-1, five errors in the 11th inning allowing two runs to score. New York took the nightcap as Sparky Lyle tied the major league record with his 35th save of the season.

Frank Duffy committed three other errors in the nightmarish 11th inning of the opener. He had the ball hurled out of his glove in a rundown on Thurman Munson and the Yankee catcher wound up on third base. Then Duffy committed a double error on Gene Michael's bouncer, first bobbling it as Munson scored and then throwing wild, allowing Michael to reach second.

In the nightcap, John Ellis drove in three runs and Bobby Murcer tagged his 30th homer of the year as the Yankees completed the sweep. Lyle's save in the ninth inning tied the mark set by Wayne Granger with Cincinnati in 1970.

Chicago chopped Oakland's West lead to 3½ games by whipping Texas while the A's split a doubleheader against Kansas City.

Dick Allen drove in four runs, tied the lead with his 37th homer of the year, as Chicago bounced from behind to beat the Rangers. Texas led 4-1 at one point but Allen paced the comeback. He singled home a run in the third, walked with the bases loaded to force home another in the fourth and then tagged his homer in the eighth

Robinson Golf Classic

Robinson, III (AP) — Dave Marad, who had just blown his first big chance to win a title on the tough pro golf tour, gave a rueful little shrug of his shoulders and said: "I guess I got a little careless. I had that big lead and I was out there thinking about $20,000 and year's exemption and everything that goes with being a winner."

That was on the 10th hole of the water-logged Crawford County County Club Sunday when the longshot struggler had a five stroke over Grier Jones. Jones, however, made up five strokes over the last seven holes, forced a playoff and beat Marad on the second extra hole for the $20,000 first prize in the Robinson's Fall Golf Classic.

Jones, who had won the Hawaiian Open earlier this season, got a second life when Marad three-putted for a bogey on the 72nd hole.

three-putted for a bogey on the 72nd hole. Jones had a three-under-par 68 in the final round on the damp and soggy course while Marad had a 69 as they tied at 73.

Jim Colbert was third with a 67 for 275. Labron Harris, the 1971 winner, and Mac McLendon were at 278.

Saints Top TP, 7-0,

For Second Victory

By J. RICHARDS Herald Sports Staff

Trinity Prep's usual scoring power was "cut off" Friday night but not before the Saints had pushed across the game's only tally, downing a strong Taylor Pierson eleven, 7-0.

Lawrence Cleveland, who doesn't wait for anyone's favor, blasted eight yards in the first quarter after three Taylor miscues for the game's only score. Paul Bouldin split the uprisings and the game turned into a tight defensive struggle between the 20 yard lines.

Against a bigger, more physically punishing opponent, the Saints moved the ball well, except for the final thrusts to paydirt Cleveland, who usually leads both sides in the statistics department, carried the pigskin 22 times, barely missing the 200 yard mark by himself.

Strong running from "Red" Austin and Greg Miles helped push the Saints over the double century rushing mark, erasing any doubts over the Wishbone's attacker's durability for the Preppers.

Linebackers Bouldin, Austin and Steve deGanahl came in for some heavy graying for their work plugging gaps in the Saints' line.

"We had some great defensive backfield work from David Terwilliger, Walt Morgan, Ray Patsons and Greg Miles," Ruby related, "but I was real impressed with the way Greg Chandler came through for us. He's a sophomore, also our number two quarterback, one of the finest athletes we have."

Although Trinity threatened to score on several occasions throughout the contest, a tenacious Saints' defensive eleven virtually cut off any Taylor chances. Cornerback Ray Parsons, who leads the Saints in pass receiving, collected two interceptions.

Calling him, "some kind of wildman on defense," Coach Ruby pointed out star Halfback Miles as one key reason Taylor did not score.

The junior dominated defense eleven, twice back from corner-back last week, and against Taylor Pierson, that boy had more than that. He's just great."

Leading the defensive charge for a Saint team, which held Taylor to practically no rushing yardage all night, were Rick Lapp, Tom Dickenson, Alan Johnson and Rob Knowles, the forward wall.

Although Taylor's Ronnie Carlisle gathered almost half a hundred yards rushing, his mates wound up facing minus yardage all evening long. The juniors dominated defense blanketed almost every play.

'Activist Underground' Federal Aides Have Blahs

By G.C. THELEN Jr. Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — The activist underground, federal employe branch, has a case of the blahs.

The Sanford Herald Rapist Meted 150 Years Robert Byrd Originally Sentenced To Death In The Electric Chair; Judge Salfi: 'I Have No Mercy For You'

By MARION BETHEA Circuit Judge Dominick Salfi this morning resented Robert Lee Byrd, convicted of rape, to 150 years at hard labor at state prison. Byrd was given credit for time in which he has been incarcerated since 1963.
Byrd received the sentence calmly, standing before the bench with arms folded across his chest.
Preceding the sentencing, considerable legal maneuvering and discussion ensued over the question of an amendment to state statutes effective Oct. 1, declaring that the court having jurisdiction over a person previously sentenced to death for a capital felony shall be resented to life imprisonment without eligibility for parole.

Spending One Day In Peking, China Three POWs Are Flying Home

By PETER ARNETT AP Special Correspondent PEKING (AP) — The sun was setting over the Dien Bien Phu Valley and its glow was bathing the cabin of the turboprop plane in gold. The voice over the intercom was saying: "No poisons, firearms or explosives permitted on board."

As we looked down at the fast receding paddy field terrain where bomb craters were etched in sharp relief because of the lengthening shadows, U.S. Navy Lt. (j.g.) Mark Gartley shook his head in wonder.
"I used to sit in my cell and think about how I would eventually get out. I would talk about it with my buddies and we came up with some fantastic ideas. But I never in my wildest dreams imagined that it would be this way."
His mother, Minnie Lee, in the seat beside him, smiled broadly and squeezed his hand.
Gartley was on the final leg of a journey that had first taken him over North Vietnam's skies four years ago. That time he was shot down and captured and up to the time his mother came to Hanoi to get him eight days ago, he was a prisoner of war.

Casselberry OKs Sausalito Project

By KATHY NIBLACK CASSELBERRY — Despite the heated objections of John Zacco, four members of City Council voted last night to accept the site plan for the Sausalito cluster home project proposed for the corner of Red Bug Road and SR 434.
Lester Mandell, president of Greater Construction, was before the council for the second time to discuss in detail the site plan for the project.
This site plan is involved with the first phase of a proposed six-phase project of privately owned condominiums. The project is geared toward senior citizens, and when completed will be privately owned and maintained by the homeowners' association in the project.
Zacco has raised numerous questions and objections to the site plan since its introduction last week. Both times he and Mandell have engaged in heated discussion.
Zacco's main objection to the site plan for the project, itself, is in the area of recreation. Zacco claims that the project does not comply with the city ordinances in providing 25 per cent open green space. He also contends that another 25 per cent green space should be set aside, since the density of the project is nine units per acre and this is above city maximum. Mandell claims that 58 per cent of the project, "more than double the requirements," is open green area, and that the project is in compliance in all ways with city ordinances.
After considerable discussion, Harry Sambrook moved to accept the site plan. This drew objection from Zacco, who said, "This site plan should not even be considered this evening." Sambrook pointed out that the site plan review ordinance was created largely by the city Planning Board, and that the Planning Board had voted to accept the plan for Sausalito with several contingencies which have been met by Greater Construction.
"The only person who seems to be in disagreement is Dr. Zacco," Sambrook said. The plan was accepted by a 4-1 vote, Dr. Zacco voting "no."
Another 4-1 vote was received on the adoption on first reading of an ordinance amending a portion of Red Bug Road Council Chairman Edith Duerr voted against the ordinance. (Cont'd On Pg. 2A Col. 1)

Property Cleanup Ordered By Panel

By BILL SCOTT Sanford City Commission Monday night voted to enforce the city's condemnation ordinance against the burned-out and partially demolished Robson sporting goods building on downtown First Street, and ordered city crews to move and clear out the debris within five days if the owner has not cleaned it up before that time.
The city move came on a motion by Commissioner John Morris, acting on a suggestion from W. E. Knowles, city manager, who advised the original 30-day condemnation notice ordering the clearing of the property had expired and that an adjacent business is faced with cancellation of insurance because of the moisture coming through the common wall between the burned firm and that operated by Mrs. Ned Smith.
The city manager suggested the owner be given an additional five days to clear out the bricks and other debris or have city crews brought in to clear out the debris within five days if the owner has not cleaned it up before that time.

Search Is Continued For Baby Swapper

ASHFORD, Ala. (AP) — Alabama law enforcement officers pressed a search Monday night for a man charged with giving away his 3-month-old baby in return for a used car. The infant's teenaged mother was turned over to Florida authorities for arraignment today in Naples, Fla.
She said she and her husband signed a paper "and all it said was 'I so and so, I give my son to so and so,' and if I had known it was wrong, I would not have used my real name, would I?"
She also said she told Mrs. Vannoy she did not want the car in exchange for the infant and that the landlady replied, "I'm just giving it to you. I've finished making all the payments and it's just a thank you."
The couple had been with a carnival seeking work when officers sought them on arrest warrants. The carnival owner, Jimmy Wright of Troy, said he had told them they could stay around and he would see they got something to eat and maybe would have work for them when the show moved to Ashford.
Officers hunting for the husband maintained a stakeout at the new carnival site on the possibility that the man might return for his belongings.

HHH Joins McGovern Vs Nixon

By WALTER R. MEARS AP Political Writer SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sen. George McGovern accused the Nixon administration today of interfering with the return of three American prisoners freed by Hanoi, saying President Nixon "not impede their release."
The freed prisoners, Air Force Maj. Edward Elias, Navy Lt. Markham Gartley and Navy Lt. (j.g.) Norris A. Charles, arrived in Peking from Hanoi today, en route to the United States.
"We thank God that the men have been released, despite the administration's interference," McGovern said.
"In the last several days, we have seen that the Nixon administration is more concerned about the opinions those men might express than it is about speeding their release," McGovern said. "I believe the President is afraid these prisoners will tell the awful truth about the war—that it is the bombing that keeps them in prison."
McGovern's dispute with the administration centers on whether the men are to be returned to military jurisdiction immediately. He said that they asked a chance to choose civilian medical care and sought 30 days leave.
McGovern's supporters, you're Democrats, you go on out and work for George McGovern."
