FUNERAL TRAIN AT CAPITAL WHILE MARION MOURNS WITH HARDING HOME FOLKS

SIMPLICITY APPROACHING
THE SEVERE WILL CHAR-ACTERIZE LAST RITES

AT HIS OLD HOME

Where the Late President Was Known and Beloved for His Many Fine Traits

(By The Associated Press)
MARION, Aug. 8.—While the nation through its recognized leaders was paying official respect to the memory of Warren G. Harding, at Washington today, the late president's home folks and neighbors continued their plans for final simple funeral services here Friday afternoon. Simplicity approaching severity will characterize the last rites here. This is the wish of Mrs. Harding. There will be no military display and nothing official about the services here. When the body arrives here about 9 o'clock tomorrow morning from Washington it will be taken immediately to the home of the president's father. From 2 until 10 tomorrow and again from 9 until 1 o'clock Friday Ohioans will be given their last opportunity to view the face of their dead friend and leader. Then Friday afternoon without military pomp the body will be tenderly borne from the home to the cemetery where brief and simple funeral services will be conducted by local ministers will be held.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—President Harding's funeral train, freighted with the sorrow of the nation, reached Washington at 10:22 last night.

Although the train was nine hours late thousands jammed the station concourse, waited for hours, packed against the iron fence that shuts off the train platform, to be the first to give their silent tribute to the dead chieftain.

The train backed into the station so that the funeral car with its flag draped casket rolled in first, to stop where the little group headed by President Coolidge waited.

The lights in the funeral car cast a brilliant glow in the big train shed. Secretary Christian and Dr. Sawyer were on the back platform and were first to alight. There was no noise in the station but the throbbing of the air pump of a distant engine.

Mrs. Harding stepped off the car leaning on Secretary Christian's arm and with Dr. Sawyer on her other side. The band in the concourse began playing "Nearer My God to Thee."

Mrs. Harding walked erect but slowly along the station platform. While her hand was on Secretary Christian's she apparently needed no support.

Members of the party who came all the way said Mrs. Harding had stood the trip well.

As the solemn strains of the comforting old hymn filled the station, the casket was tenderly lifted down through the special door cut in the side of the car. It was placed on a rolling platform.

A single wreath that had been waiting at the station was laid on the great flag spread over the casket.

The military guard which had alighted behind Mrs. Harding resumed its place about the casket. The uniformed men raised their burden and began moving slowly toward the double rank of non-commissioned officers who formed a corridor to the president's room.

Meantime, Mrs. Harding had entered an automobile and had been whisked away through a side street to the White House. Her appearance and the reports of those who had made the trip with her from San Francisco set at rest widespread rumors that she had suffered a physical collapse. It was said she had borne up bravely from the start and had shown no sign of breaking down under the strain.

Secretaries Hoover, Wallace, Work and Attorney General Daugherty and General Pershing walked slowly behind the casket as it was carried down the living corridor.

Speaker Gillette also walked with

FIRST ANNUAL MEETING OF FLORIDA VEGETABLE CORPORATION LAST NIGHT

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS
ELECTED FOR THE EN-SUING YEAR

BY-LAWS ADOPTED
Announcement of Construction of Pre-Cooling Plant—Meeting Filled With Interest

The first annual meeting of the stockholders of the newly organized Florida Vegetable Corporation was held last night in their offices in the Ball building.

The meeting was well attended and characterized by an unbounded spirit of enthusiasm.

The board of seven directors elected at the organization meeting were, by a unanimous vote, re-elected for the ensuing year and two additional members added. The board for the ensuing year are:

R. B. Chapman, John Meisch, G. F. Smith, L. A. Brumley, G. L. Bledsoe, Frank Meisch, Joe Cameron, Roy Symes, H. E. Squires.

The report of the secretary showed the present membership to be seventy-five, representing approximately fourteen hundred acres, a preponderance of Sanford's celery acreage.

The by-laws of the corporation, having been prepared by the directors—all of whom, by reason of years of experience as growers and shippers—were exceptionally well qualified to construct a set of working rules for such an organization, were read to the stockholders, carefully considered by them, and adopted without a dissenting vote.

It was announced to the stockholders that a contract had been let for the construction of a pre-cooling plant to be located at Bradens' Sliding, and that work has actually been started. This plant will be completed and in operation for the first shipments of the coming season with a capacity of fifteen cars of celery every ten hours.

Judge E. F. Housholder at the invitation of the chair addressed the meeting, commending the labors of the organization committee and the outgoing board of directors. He urged the continued hearty co-operation of the membership and lauded the spirit of the organization.

Mr. T. L. Dumas spoke of his observation of the work of co-operative organizations in other sections of the country. His remarks were distinctly encouraging to the members of the organization.

Following the stockholders meeting, the newly elected board of directors met and elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

R. B. Chapman, President.
John Meisch, Vice-President.
L. I. Frazier, Secretary-Treasurer.

The organization of the Florida Vegetable Corporation was one of the best moves ever attempted in this section and means that the growing and shipping of vegetables has been put upon a higher and better business plane. It means that hereafter the crops will be grown and packed and shipped under better conditions and that the pack and the brand for Florida vegetables put up under the supervision of the Florida Vegetable Corporation will command top market prices and will always be in demand.

Started and officered by the biggest vegetable growers of the Sanford district the Florida Vegetable Corporation has commanded the respect and esteem of the growers and shippers from the start and eventually will be a state wide organization and its field is not limited to any certain section. With the pre-cooling plants, the co-operative plan of shipping and selling and the earnest

GOOD NEWS TO SHIPPERS OF FLORIDA

Commerce Commission
Suspends Supplemental Tariff

(By The Associated Press)
TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 8.—The Florida railroad commission received a telegram from Senator Fletcher at Washington to the effect that the Interstate Commerce Commission had suspended the supplemental tariff of the railroads whereby they propose to increase refrigeration charges on citrus fruits, perishable freight shipped from Florida.

August 10 had been fixed by the roads as effective date of tariff supplement which the railroad commission estimated would add 15 per cent to the charges for refrigeration cars loaded with perishables.

GRAND JURY PROBING BUCKET SHOP CLIQUE

Confessions of Several Spur Them on to Greater Things

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Additional indictments of bucket shop operators and backers and "other prominent persons" will be sought of the federal grand jury, sworn in yesterday, as a result of the confessions Tuesday night of Edward M. Fuller and W. F. McGee, partners in the bankrupt firm, it was announced today.

It was indicated that an attempt would be made to show that the Fuller concern was an subdivision of a loosely organized system—one of several directed by a council and supply center—and was in turn the center for a number of bucketshops operated under different names in this and other cities, also that many other branches are still in lively operation in an unsuccessful effort to "spear" enough from the credulous to pay the legal expenses of those "higher up."

Another result of the confessions was expected to be a move on the part of the receiver in bankruptcy for E. M. Fuller & Company to regain some of the six million dollars in assets which disappeared shortly before the failure. The brokers were said to have given the names of several persons to whom large checks were given and it was indicated court action would be taken to recover these funds.

Mr. Hayward again refused yesterday to make public the confessions which he announced last night he had obtained.

Anxiety approaching panic, prevailed in the Wall Street underworld yesterday, in the absence of information as to just how much Fuller and McGee had told Mr. Hayward. Curiosity also was keen as to the whereabouts of the two bankrupt brokers, who were spirited away from Fort Jay, Governor's Island, Saturday, and have been held secretly in various places in Manhattan.

WHEN TRIUMPHANT TWO CROWDED YEARS AGO

AMID THOUSANDS Of Silent Countrymen Grouped Along the Way He Had Passed in State

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Swelling tide of honors bore Warren Harding today back over road by which he came triumphant to the presidency two crowded years ago. For him urge of ambition was ended, compelling a call of duty stilled in death. Amid tens of thousands of silent countrymen-grouped along the way he passed in such state as only great deed of a nation may know and beyond brief hour of ceremony of sorrow there awaited for him rest eternal on soil that gave him birth. Down wide avenue he was carried today with marching legions tramping ahead to lay him under the dome of the capitol while ere he goes back to his native state to stay forever. That high resolve of duty had brought him to death and with it peace, quiet he loved but which he could set aside at the nation's call. With Pershing riding ahead marching thousands of escort led the way, steel of bayonets glistening above them. Soldiers, sailors, marine and citizen soldiers all were there and behind them came the new president still bowed in grief that his high office came at such a price. Came also two men who before him had held high office one to be stricken like him and so crippled in illness that he might not give himself as he would to sorrowful duty of day. Behind these in endless array marched great body of American citizenry and men who keep wheels of a great government moving.

In the huge alien buildings about, military bands interspersed in columns played old, old hymns that stir comfort. Hush and dim mystery of last night when the flag draped casket came to its brief space of quiet in the White House was lacking, but there was no sound or movement in the great crowds that lined the way until that fateful burden under its colorful glorious bunting had been carried by on silent wheels to be lifted to catafalque in the great stone chamber of the capitol rotunda. There in keeping with simplicity of the man who lay dead funeral services were of brief impressive nature. Afterward in its place of honor beneath the dome the body was to lie until tonight while thousands upon thousands filed past the bier with bent and uncovered heads to bid farewell to the upright kindly man so soon to leave Washington forever.

New Smyrna Votes Bonds for New Bridge Across to Coronado

And Telephone Thanks to Herald Editor for His Support and Loyalty

John Burch telephoned the Herald office this afternoon that the bonds in the sum of $100,000 had been voted to build a new bridge across the river at New Smyrna and to touch the beach at old Coronado. The bonds went over by a majority of 52 votes the telephone message said and the New Smyrna people were very grateful to the editor of the Herald for all that he had said in regard to the bridge and for New Smyrna and Coronado in general and that when the new bridge was built they wanted the Herald editor to lead the procession over the new structure. The Herald and all of Seminole county and this part of the state will rejoice in the voting of bonds for the new bridge and now with our new bridge at Osteen and a good road to New Smyrna and the new bridge to the ocean next season will find thousands of people going to Coronado Beach where doctors are going now. It really means that the fortune of Coronado Beach is made and it will now take its rightful place as one of the most beautiful and popular beaches in the south. All it lacked before was another bridge and better roads.

NOBILITY.

True worth is in being, not seeming—

In doing each day that goes by,
Some little good, not in dreaming
Of great things to do by and by.
For whatever man say in blindness,
And in spite of the fancies of youth,
There's nothing so kindly as kindness,
And nothing so royal as truth.

We get back our mete as we measure—

We cannot do wrong and feel right,
Nor can we give pain and feel pleasure,
For justice avenges each slight.

The air for the wing of the sparrow,
The bush for the robin and wren,
But always the path that is narrow
And straight for the children of men.

We cannot make bargains for bliss—
Nor catch them like fishes in nets;
And sometimes the thing our life misses
Helps more than the thing which it gets.

For good leeth not in pursuing,
Nor gaining of great nor of small,
But just in the doing, and doing
As we would be done by, is all.

Through envy, through malice,
Through hating,
Against the world early or late,
No jot of our courage abating—
Our part is to work and to wait,
And slight is the sting of the trouble
Whose winnings are less than his worth;

For he who is honest is noble,
Whatever his fortune or birth—
—Alice Cary.

YEAR'S GOOD ROADS BUILDING COST TO BE $228,000,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The 1923 road construction season is expected to add many hundreds of miles to the country's system of improved highways. Figures compiled by the Bureau of Good Roads of the Department of Agriculture from 21 scattered states show they will have available $228,000,000 for this purpose, compared to $273,000,000 spent by them last year. On federal-aid work, which constitutes something like one-half the total mileage, there was under construction March 31 work estimated to cost $258,000,000, as compared with $233,000,000 on the same date a year ago.

The general outlook is regarded as considerably better than a year ago, when the railroad and coal strikes were disturbing factors. The designation of federal-aid highways is now completed in 33 states, and is almost complete in the others. Thirty states now tax gasoline, as compared with only four at the beginning of 1921, and most of this revenue goes for road purposes.

ARMAMENTS WORRY L. OF N. COMMITTEE

PARIS, Aug. 7.—How to make guarantee treaties between two or more nations harmonize with the proposed general pact for mutual assistance, which will be suggested to members of the League of Nations, in an effort to bring about reduction of armaments, is giving some trouble to the temporary committee of the League of Nations sitting here. Disinclination of the smaller nations to join in the general pact which might bind them to take part in a blockade is the principal obstacle to it. The larger nations which are most exposed to danger from the interior, say they can not leave themselves in a position where abandonment of them by smaller powers might compromise action otherwise likely to protect them from aggression.

Hence the insistence of France for partial guarantee pacts. The representatives of the smaller powers have been joined by Italy, however, in their demand that parties to such partial pacts shall take action in case of threatened war only after the council has decided whether there is cause for action.

On the other hand, France and Great Britain are agreed that parties to the regional or partial treaties can not wait in case of dire menace for the council to act. The discussion is expected to require another day or two at least.

HARDING WILL NOT BE PLACED BESIDE MOTHER AND SISTER, BUT IN RECEIVING VAULT

Cumming of Iowa, president pro tem of the senate, will meet the train as it draws into Union Station. Members of the guard of honor—soldiers, sailors and marines—will remove the body from the car where it has rested since the long trip from San Francisco began, and bear it to a black-draped caisson at the entrance to the President's room. As the caasket is taken through the station concourse, the marine band will play a funeral dirge.

On the broad plaza outside will be drawn up a squadron of cavalry and a battery of field artillery and as the caasket is lifted to the caisson they will from in line to "present arms" and the marine band will play as the caasket is strapped into place.

On signal of the cavalry men will swing away in the column, leading the way to the White House. Behind them the caisson and flag draped caasket will follow then some members of the party that made the fateful journey with the dead chief of state, President Coolidge and other officials, and a battery of artillery.

Passing through streets cleared of traffic, the cortege will turn southward to the Capitol grounds, down the winding roadway to Pennsylvania avenue and then over the heroic route that has witnessed every great moment of joy or sorrow in the nation's life. The caisson alone will enter the White House grounds, the troopers swinging aside to line the broad avenue before the executive mansion, sitting motionless, and with sabres at "present" until the caasket has been lifted down and carried into the stately East Room, where it will rest until Wednesday.

Mrs. Harding will not ride in the procession from the station. Accompanied by such members of her party as she may designate, she will go to the White House immediately after the train arrives and will be received by Mrs. Coolidge and the wives of the cabinet officers, who will await with her the arrival of the body.

While the caasket is in the White House there will be placed on the bier a wreath for Mrs. Harding, one by the President and Mrs. Coolidge, one for the Supreme Court by Chief Justice Taft, one for congress by Senator Cummins and Speaker Gillett of the House of Representatives, who is accompanying the body; and wreaths also from the heads of foreign and state governments.

On Wednesday at 10 a. m., the caasket will again be placed on the caisson for the journey over Pennsylvania avenue to the Capitol, where will be paid the last sad rites of loving remembrance. The historic thoroughfare will be cleared of all traffic and will be roped off with cordons of police on guard as the funeral cortege moves slowly to the muffle of drums and funeral dirges by army, navy and marine corps bands.

From 11 a. m. until 5 p. m., a tide of humanity will ebb and flow. At 5 o'clock the great bronze doors of the rotunda will be closed and preparations made to bear the caasket to the Union Station for the final journey to Marion, Ohio, where burial will be at 3 p. m. Friday.

St. Petersburg Man's Body Exhumed to Find Evidences of Poison

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 7.—To determine whether or not James Hance, former deputy sheriff here, died of poisoning, his body was exhumed here Saturday by a local undertaker and the liver, kidneys and spleen were removed and sent away in a sealed metal box. Careful tests will be made by chemists. The exhumation of the body was under the direction of Sheriff W. S. Lindsey on order of the court.

Ray Weaver, well known St. Petersburg man, is held under $25,000 bond charged with the murder of Hance. It is charged that he furnished whiskey to Hance, and that it contained corrosive sublimate, which is a mercury reaction. It is said that the presence of mercury can be detected even after a body has been embalmed and since embalming fluid does not contain mercury in any form the chemical tests can be made just the same whether the body has been embalmed or not.

The body of Hance was in exactly the same condition, when it was exhumed Sunday, as when it was buried two weeks ago. There was not even a drop of moisture had penetrated the caasket. Weaver's examining trial was held Saturday in Clearwater and he was held to the next term of circuit court. He made bond at once and it was accepted by the sheriff.

This country store—typical New England general store and postoffice—is doubly distinctive. In this building in Plymouth, Vt., President Calvin Coolidge was born on the Fourth of July, in 1872. And it was in this store, possessing the only telephone in Plymouth, that the official news of Mr. Harding's death was received from San Francisco. As vice-president, Mr. Coolidge daily, tramped between his father's farmhouse and the store to get bulletins on the sick president's condition. Insert shows the president.

WE ALL EAT TOO MUCH OF THIS HOT WEATHER—EXPERTS SAY SO.

It is not so much the quantity you eat as it is the quality in hot weather.

The Ku Klux Klan captured Tampa Monday night and paraded the streets causing much comment.

We would like to warn the little island of Cuba that there will be an invasion of that island by Sanford buccaneers some time this week and it would be well to close up all the cold drink stands.

Sanford will pay tribute to the memory of the late president—Warren G. Harding—Friday afternoon by closing the stores for one hour. Sanford is one of the most patriotic American cities in the state.

Orville Caldwell, of Oakland, California, has been selected by Elinor Glyn as the handsomest man in America. Poor fellow, he has our sincerest sympathy.—Eustis Lake Region. Wonder if it took her "Three Weeks" to make the decision.

Bob Holly, in his Sanford Herald, notes that all class distinctions have been wiped out in Orlando, submitting proof of the truth of this assertion by giving the details of a head-on collision between a Ford and a Marmon on the main street of that burg. Bob wins.—Lakeland Star-Telegram.

A New York paragrapher is stirred by pity for the music store clerk who was forced to say to his customer: "No, we have no 'Yes, we have no bananas today.'" That would make him appear a bit ridiculous—but no more so than the clerk who once told Lelley Ripley, the cartoonist, "We will have in a fresh supply of 'Curses of an Aching Heart' on Tuesday."

Who would be president if Coolidge died? This question has to be answered every time a vice-president is elevated to the presidency by the death of his chief. Under a federal statute passed some time after Roosevelt succeeded McKinley, the Secretary of State is next in line, and after him the cabinet officers in the order of their ranking.—Plant City Courier.

During 1922 the apples shipped from the famous Wenatchee Valley, in Washington, amounted to sixteen thousand carloads. This was due to a scheme of co-operative effort instead of keen competition and the State Board of Agriculture points to this as an example of what can be accomplished in that way, urging that farmers try the same scheme all over the country. Wenatchee has 7,000 population. The writer of this item was at Wenatchee when the buildings there included a shack used for a depot, and three or four cabins occupied by workers on the railroad track. Land was worth a few dollars an acre. Now it is worth $1,000 or more. Chances like that are open in Florida.

In Sanford they are talking of cheaper rates for water and light, now that the town has decided to buy the utilities. In this they will be disappointed; you can't have cheaper rates and pay for your plants, too. In other words, you can't have your pie and eat it also. Orlando has found this out. We are satisfied with our buy and some day when it's all paid for we'll cut the rates in half.—Reporter-Star. We want cheaper rates from the Southern Utilities Company, dear heart. They still own the plants and it will be some time before Sanford owns the electric light plant and meantime we do not want to be bankrupted paying the high rates for electricity. After Sanford takes over the utilities plants or builds new ones we will talk about rates again. And anyhow, we don't eat pie.

If three more candidates come out for governor it will leave just three votes apiece for the lot and these votes will have to come from their own ranks. We are not sure but believe that the last count showed every other man in Florida running or thinking of running for governor.—Sanford Herald.

Of course the Herald is exaggerating, but the situation is really one to cause concern. Under our abominable primary law with such a large number of candidates it is possible that an altogether unworthy man may be nominated by a minority—in fact, that very thing was done not so many years ago.—Tampa Times.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS

Larger quarters have been needed for a long time for West Palm Beach's postal business. The need increases with each month; last month there was a 25 per cent increase in business over July of a year ago, and the tremendous volume of fundamentals industrial development under way in the back country makes it certain that the proportion or increase in postal business will be heavier in the future.

It is the policy of the federal government to provide to provide government buildings for the transaction of the postal business.

West Palm Beach should have a post office building under an appropriation from Congress.

The subject has been presented to Congressman W. J. Sears several, if not many, times. The degree of Mr. Sears' interest in the matter is disappointing.

But why depend upon Hon. W. J. Sears, of Kissimmee?

Why should Palm Beach county not present a candidate for the nomination for Congress and get behind its candidate and defeat Mr. Sears?

A West Palm Beach man would have good reason for exerting himself to get an appropriation for a post office building for his home city. Mr. Sears has not done anything to merit consideration from the voters of Palm Beach county as against the claims that any one of several West Palm Beach men can make.—West Palm Beach Post.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT THE NEGRO.

There is little need for the south and especially for Florida to worry about the exodus of the negro to the north. It is true that unless they come back in the fall many farmers will have a difficulty in harvesting the crops of winter vegetables but the negroes who have left a sure thing in Florida for something they know nothing about in the north will be drifting back when the cold weather strikes them. The north has never been the habitat of the negro although many of them have lived there ever since the Civil War. But the majority of them in the north have never been as comfortable or looked after by the white people as they are in the south. They can make money there and some of them accumulate money but the great majority of them do not own homes and farms as do the negroes of the south and they do not have the benefit of a warm climate—something that is really essential for their welfare.

"South Carolina appears to be very well satisfied with the situation, and doesn't care very much whether the negroes who have gone away return or not. The Charleston News and Courier, always conservative and not inclined to speak too quickly, declares that the South is not particularly disturbed over the movement of the negroes, although some trouble has been caused in some sections by the emigration of farm labor after the cotton fields had been prepared for the new crop. Continuing, the News and Courier says:

"The plain fact of the business is, as this newspaper has pointed out again and again, that a considerable part of the South's negro population has existed solely for the purpose of picking the cotton crop after it had been made. With the decline in cotton production brought about by the boll weevil it would have been a problem to take care of many of the negroes in this section if just at this time the shutting off of foreign immigration had not opened up work for the in the North. So far there has been absolutely no occasion for the South to take alarm because a great many negroes have gone North. All the conditions combined to make such a movement inevitable. Nor has the South at large experienced any alarm. Of course there are individuals who may have been injured. The most intelligent opinion in the South agrees, we fancy, with the New York World, that no penal law against enticing the negro North is likely to avail much. It is mainly a matter of where the negro can best market his labor. The North does not want the negro, but is taking him because the immigration laws shut it off from getting white labor from Europe."

KIDS — IMAGINATION —

NEW YORK BECOMES ALARMED

The Manufacturers' Record this week points out that some banks and supposedly respectable citizens are the props that enable the bootlegger to ply his unlawful trade. In this article, the Record quotes from the New York Times which is alarmed lest the bootleg profession destroy all respect for laws. The Times, in part, says:

"No one can read the details which Commissioner Haynes is bringing out in his articles in The Times regarding the difficulties of enforcing prohibition without being struck by the desperate character of the class of men most frequently detected in attempts to violate the law. They can fairly be called criminal, not merely because they are setting at defiance this particular law of the land, but because so many of them stand ready to commit crimes of any nature. The list runs from smuggling and thieving to assault and assassination. The special motive they have in taking up the business of the illegal sale of liquor is of course, mercenary. They think, and apparently think rightly, that large profits can quickly be made in this forbidden industry. But the lawless instinct which prompts them to go into it also betrays itself in the incidental acts connected with it. They go armed like burglars and are at any moment prepared to kill enforcement agents or detectives or policemen, if they think it necessary, in order to escape the clutches of the law. As a rule they are a reckless and hardened set."

"To this aspect of the matter some thought ought to be given by easy-going people, passing as respectable citizens, who consent to have dealings with these gentry. To do business with them is really to encourage and harbor a criminal class. Its members disregard not only the prohibition law, but the general criminal code. The money which they make by bootlegging, too often enables them to commit any other crime which is to their supposed advantage. Persons who call themselves law-abiding ought to take heed how they get into even temporary business relations with such offenders. From pouring scorn upon one law it is easy to pass to contempt for all law. People who would be horrified at an agitation to despise or break the laws safeguarding property are often found winking at violations of the prohibition law. It is a dangerous attitude. The question involved is not only of consistency, but of fostering a temper in large sections of the community which might easily be led to favor the trampling upon any law that stood in the way of the passionate desires of great masses of citizens."

After endorsing everything said by the Times, the Manufacturers' Record further comments, "We have warned the violators of the prohibition law who have made themselves co-partners with the bootleggers, that every man who buys the bootlegger's whiskey is a criminal because he is upholding criminality, and is doing his utmost to break down all law. Every bank which knowingly deals with a bootlegger is a criminal conspirator to destroy all law."

"The fence who receives stolen goods is always looked upon by decent men as about the lowest of the law, matching the thief in criminality. But the man who buys bootleg whiskey or the bank which knowingly handles the money is a 'fence' of the most outrageous kind. These people are deliberately handling stolen goods; deliberately violating the law of the land which it is just as much incumbent upon them to observe as it is incumbent upon other men to keep from burglary or highway robbery."

FROM OTHER SANCTUMS

ONE REASON FOR HIGH COST OF LIVING.

If the cost of food and farm products generally is high, the farmer is not to blame. He is himself a sufferer. Farmers are steadily leaving their farms and coming to the cities to live in despair of making a living on the farm, and are thus adding to the numbers of those who consume but do not produce food, and also to the pressure in the cities on the means of subsistence.

The professional man, the manufacturer, the merchant, the clerk, do not produce food nor the raw material for clothing.

H. F. Youkum, a practical farmer himself, and a student of economic problems, has written considerably on the subject. In a recent article written for and published by the New York League of Women Voters Mr. Youkum says:

"When every housewife realizes that only one-third of the money she pays for foodstuffs goes to the farmer and that two-thirds are eaten up by the distributors, she will be ready to aid in establishing a marketing system which will be to her benefit as well as to the benefit of the farmer. City dwellers have not been brought to view the farmers' problem as their own. If they will realize that conditions now obtaining are driving the farmers away from the soil and reducing the output, thus making price higher and higher all the time, they will see that this evil is as detrimental to them as it is to the tillers of the soil and they will co-operate in finding a remedy for it."

By way of illustration, Mr. Youkum instances apples as retailed in the New York market, but in general the principles involved would apply to any farm product in any market in the country. The New York retailer charges for Oregon apples ten cents each which, at the average of 90 apples to the bushel, is $9 a bushel. The grower in Oregon gets 9 cents a bushel for his fruit, and, delivered in New York, they cost, farm price and freight added, $1.85 a bushel. Where does the $7.15 difference between the price at which they are delivered to the wholesaler and the price paid by the ultimate consumer go? To the army of middlemen between the railroad and the market basket, of course.

The total cost to the consumers of farm products during the year 1922 (exclusive of cotton, tobacco and products of animals), still quoting Mr. Youkum, was $22,500,000,000. This was divided as follows: To the farmers, $7,500,000,000; to the railroads, $5,000,000,000; to commissions, profits, storage and other local distribution costs, $14,500,000,000; or, respectively, 33 1-3 per cent, 2.17 per cent, 64 1-2 per cent. Thus we see that the farmer gets one-third of the consumer's dollar, the railroad receives about one-fourth-sixth; the distributors the balance.

Out of the third of the customer's dollars the farmers receives he must pay debts and taxes and buy machinery, lumber, etc., for the upkeep of his farm, paying for for all these the highest retail prices, in order that he may continue to produce food. Is it any wonder that a committee from leading farm organizations recently told the Interstate Commerce Commission that "one-sixteenth the farm population was driven off the farms last year, and that nearly one-fifth of the farms changed hands because farmers were not able to get a fair price for their products?"

In the course of time will anybody be producing food, if 64 1-2 per cent of the money paid for it continues to go to those who merely handle it between the farmer and the railroad which transports his commodities, on the one hand, and the kitchen, on the other? Not unless prices for food go high enough to be comparable with those for the precious metals.

What can the house wife do about it? Nothing, now. But she can remember the facts stated, and, as she has the right to vote now, she can make her resentment felt in the right direction at the right time in the right way.—Times-Union.

PRINTERS HOME MAY BE LOCATED SOMEWHERE IN FLORIDA

The story of the Union Printers' Home in Colorado Springs, Col., is the story of the battle of the printing trade for life—and their victory.

Union leaders in this state, and throughout the Southeast generally, are working for such a home in Florida, and believe that the coming meeting of the International Typographical Union will be successful in putting the project over.

The story of the fight for the original printers' home is that of a battle in union meetings from 1857 to 1891. Many difficulties beset the way, but every dollar of expense was met by the unions, amounting, with rent and maintenance, to more than $2,000,000, with the exception of one gift of $10,000 and others amounting in total to something less than that.

The need of such a home was its real reason. Long hours, the dirt, dust and grime of printing offices, the fumes, the hot metal fumes, the bent over position of the printer at work, all combined to make him an easy victim to diseases of the lungs and throat.

His need was for a home for his old age and the time when some disease should take him in its grip and leave him unfit for work. With printers' wages higher now, the raising of the maintenance and building funds has been much easier. But the story of the early struggles was a hard one.

Many of the original backers of the home idea never lived to see it completed. The original building constructed in 1891, was a $60,000 structure. Since that time other buildings have been added, and additions and modernities added to the original structure, to bring the total cost near to a quarter of a million dollars.

It was the union printers' fight for life—and victory was theirs. The union now is calling for the South-east to have a similar home, as the growth of the profession is making the Colorado Springs home too small.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Two committees of Senators to act as honorary pall bearers at the funeral ceremonies for President Harding here and in Marion were named today by President Protem Cummings.

All signs point to the biggest fall crop acreage in the history of Ocala county. Last spring showed a big increase in the production of truck crops in the county following the campaign for strawberries last summer, and the indications are that a bigger acreage in fall truck crops than ever before will accompany a 50 per cent increase in strawberries over last season.

Senator Charles Curtis

Charles Curtis, Kansas senator and Republican "whip" in the senate, who probably will be the administration candidate for election as president of the senate. He would then hold the position recently held by Coolidge, without the rank of the vice-president.

GRAPE CULTURE A COMING INDUSTRY DECLARES WOLFF

Grape culture in Florida is an established industry, and it is an intensely profitable industry, according to John H. Wolff, of DeLand, pioneer grape grower of Volusia county, who is here today en route to Gainesville to attend the meeting of farmers and fruit growers at the University of Florida.

Mr. Wolff said that the growing of Carmen grapes has been thoroughly tested, that there are many acres of them in Volusia county, that they have been shipped to Vermont and Wisconsin and carried wonderfully well, and that the price, without any special selling effort, returned to the grower was 25 cents per pound.

When asked how much return could be reasonably expected from one acre Mr. Wolff said he disliked to say, as he might be considered a prevaricator. "One thousand dollars per acre is a very reasonable figure," said Mr. Wolff, "and this amount, and more, has been received by growers from vineyards just three years old."

"There are many advantages of growing grapes in Florida," he said, chief among which is the natural adaptability of the soil and the nearness to market. Pittsburg is the great grape center of the country and they come in there by the car load. Grapes from Florida have ripened and been gathered and sold for a month before any of the early California varieties come in, and the demand is ever increasing."—Palatka News.

FUNERAL TRAIN AT CAPITAL WHILE MARION, O., MOURNS WITH HARDING HOME FOLKS

the party that nighted from the funeral train. The double rank of soldiers forming the aisles, came to "present arms" as the casket was carried by their bayonets flashing in the bright lights.

The slow majestic strains of the old hymn filled the big building with soft music as the casket was carried through to the President's room.

Mrs. Harding reached the White House at 10:45 p. m. just as her husband's body was being taken into the President's room at the station. She walked into the house unaided.

Inside the executive mansion which she left six weeks ago as the first lady of the land, the widow was greeted only by old friends and members of the family. A plan to have Mrs. Coolidge and the ladies of the cabinet present to greet her was cancelled at her own request.

KIWANIANS MET TODAY AT VALDEZ

Interesting and Instructive Program Was Rendered

President Shanon called the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club to order today and the Divine blessing was invoked by Rev. Thompson of Oviedo, who, with his wife, were the out-of-town guests of the club. Rev. Thompson promised the undivided support of his entire section in every move that would tend to a closer and warmer feeling among the residents of Seminole county. He also told of the brilliant future in store for this section, and asked for a united effort to this end.

Mr. Stewart, a prominent resident of DeLand, told of the good roads and free bridges that would do much to engender a better feeling between Volusia and Seminole counties, and praised the latter county for the work already done.

Mr. Howell, of Orlando, another visitor, is a real Kiwanian, with a 100 per cent attendance record for the past two years, of which he is justifiably proud.

Another visitor, Mr. Elliott Dunn, is a member of the Kiwanis Club of Palatka, a director of the Citrus Exchange and manages a large hardware store during his spare time. His talk was heartily applauded.

Forest Lake told of the marvelous growth of the banking interests in Seminole county during the past ten years. He is thoroughly familiar with his subject, and held the undivided attention of his hearers. He also made a most impressive plea for a closer relation and more neighborly feeling throughout Seminole county and a warmer welcome for the stranger in our midst.

Col. Lewis O'Bryan was the speaker of the day, and the way he spread wit, humor, eloquence and hot air was a revelation even to those who know him best. He told of the origin and growth of the civic organization and expressed his belief in the great future good to be accomplished by them and promised his personal support to every move that had for its object the betterment of Seminole county. He also stated that he expected to move his family to Sanford to make his future home.

Dr. Gardner slipped in late and punished the club—and visitors, too—by rendering Liza Jane. He was requested to sing only one verse, but doubled the dose, despite the vigorous protest of all present.

A motion carried that the secretary be instructed to draft and forward to Mrs. Harding suitable resolutions of sympathy and regret on the death of President Harding. The large flag in the dining room was draped in mourning and as the closing song, the membership and visitors sang "America."

MILLION DOLLAR HOME BUILT AT PALM BEACH

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Aug. 8.—Shipment of furnishings for Joshua S. Cosden's Palm Beach mansion was the largest of the kind ever made from Spain, Addison Mizner, architect who accompanied Mrs. Cosden, was told by port authorities in that country. Mr. Cosden, an Oklahoma oil man, owns a cattle ranch company in Okechobee county, and is backer of a packing house at Fort Lauderdale. His new house will be the largest in Palm Beach county, exceeding the J. S. Phipps place which now holds that distinction. It will be located on Ocean boulevard, and will cost upward of a million dollars.

THE PERILS OF "BAD" BLOOD

The Disease That Shortens Your Life. Quickest Way to Get Well is Through New Prescription Containing Seventeen Ingredients That Renew Every Part of the Body.

That itching, pimply, irritated skin is only a surface indication of the horrible pollution in your blood that your heart is pumping every minute through your veins into every inch of your body, carrying disease germs that break down skin tissues, weakening the liver, stomach and kidneys. That is why any remedy that merely relieves skin eruptions is not sufficient, but a complete systemic treatment is necessary to get permanently well.

This complete treatment is found only in a prescription called Re-Cu-Ma, which contains seventeen well known and thoroughly tested medicines, so skillfully compounded that each one performs its function on the various parts of the body perfectly and harmoniously.

This remarkable prescription starts right to work purifying the blood, relieves constipation, cleanses the kidneys and gets every particle of pollution out of the colon, which, according to Prof. Metchnikoff of the Pasteur Institute, Paris, is the direct cause of all our aches and pains. Re-Cu-Ma quickly and surely dispels biliousness, sick headaches, nervousness, rheumatism, restoring the appetite and normal strength and completely rids your system of those toxic poisons which have been making you feel so sickly and good-for-nothing.

Re-Cu-Ma is sold and recommended by the Union Pharmacy and other good drug stores, and if you don't feel a decided change in your condition after taking according to directions, you get your money back.—Adv.

PRINCESS NEWS

Mary Alden, the mother of "The Old Nest" in "The Man With Two Mothers" at the Princess tonight.

Would you give up your son if you were poor and knew that your boy would grow up without the good thing of life—

another offered to take him and give him everything—

What would you do?

Would you be content in his happiness knowing he was a man with two mothers.

Added attractions, too.

And don't forget the admission price to the Princess has been slashed to 10 and 20 cents.

And tonight everyone in Sanford with their last name beginning with "D" will be admitted free, the treat being on the house.

And tomorrow night everyone with their last name beginning with "T" will be admitted free. Watch for your turn, it's coming.

And tomorrow night will be your last chance to see Wallace Reid in the last picture he made, "30 Days," with a two-part Century comedy as an added attraction.

Friday and Saturday—"The Rustle of Silk."

Can you answer this? Why does the QUICK SERVICE TRANSFER go three-fourths of the long distance hauling of Seminole County. Answer is: Because they have SERVICE as their motto, and in addition to that, their prices are right. See for yourself by calling 498. Also STORAGE. 110-Mon-Tues-Wed-49c

The Latin American countries are having more business with the United States than ever before. In the last ten months our imports from most of these countries averaged 100 per cent more than in the same period last year. Imports during the ten months totaled over $800,000,000 while exports had a value of about $500,000,000. Half of the coffee of Brazil, half the nitrates of Chile, and an important percentage of other Latin American commodities wool, sugar, hides, minerals, fruits, etc., are sold in the United States.

Indians Enjoy Slug Fest As Senators Lose

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Cleveland enjoyed a slugfest at the expense of three Washington pitchers yesterday, winning 22 to 2. Score: Cleveland 180 031 621—22 26 0. Washington 010 000 010—2 10 2. Uhle and O'Neill; Mitchell, Friday, Pether and Ruel, Hargrave.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The St. Louis Americans won their last game under the management of Lee Fohl here yesterday, slugging out a victory against New York in the third game of the series, 12 to 10. It was the third game St. Louis has won from New York this season. Ruth scored his 100th run of the season in the seventh inning, being the first major league player to reach that number. The score: St. Louis 020 016 030—12 17 2. New York 000 13 330—10 14 0. Wright, Bayne, Root, Pruett, Shockler and Severeld; Shawkey, Jones, Mays and Hoffman.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—Philadelphia made it two straight from Chicago, yesterday, winning 6 to 2 when Cvangros weakened in the third. The score: Chicago 200 000 000—2 11 1. Philadelphia 103 100 01x—5 12 0. Cvangros, T. Blankenship, Castner and Schalk; Harris, Ogren, Hasty and Perkins.

BRADENTOWN IN BAD WAY TO COP THE PENNANT

BRADENTOWN, Aug. 8.—Tampa yesterday defeated Bradentown by lurching hits in the eighth, together with a costly fielding error. Johnson was knocked unconscious when hit by a pitched ball in the ninth. Score: Tampa 000 100 030—4. Bradentown 000 003 000—3.

HERNANDEZ IS JUST TOO GOOD FOR LAKELAND

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 8.—Hernandez won his fifteenth game out of his last eighteen starts yesterday and backed by marvelous fielding defeated Lakeland 4 to 1. The score: Lakeland 000 100 000—1. St. Petersburg 000 202 00x—4.

There is something about horse pitching, sometimes called barn-yard golf, that is 100 per cent attractive. Every man on the farm should know how to pitch horseshoes and he should teach his boys and girls to follow suit. Then if he wishes a real, honest-to-oddsness contest, let him teach his wife, and see how quickly she will beat him at the pitching game. The official rules can be secured by writing to the National Horseshoe Pitchers' Association, Wilmington, O., and it is always best to use these.

Reds Still on The Toboggan Lose to Giants

CINCINNATI, Aug. 8.—The New York Giants made a clean sweep of the five game series with Cincinnati by winning the final contest yesterday 6 to 2. The score: New York 200 010 030—6 12 1. Cincinnati 000 000 200—2 8 1. Watson, Ryan and Gowdy; Luque, Harris and Hargrave.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 8.—The revised Phillies continued their winning streak yesterday by defeating Pittsburgh 7 to 5. "Cy" Williams poled out his 29th home run of the season in the fifth inning with two runners on the path. The ball dropped in the right field bleachers and then bounced over the fence. The score: Philadelphia 000 010 120—7 10 0. Pittsburgh 010 000 040—5 11 1. Glazner, Behan and Henline; Meadows, Stone and Matfox.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 8.—St. Louis defeated Boston yesterday 7 to 5. Score: Boston 200 020 100—5 8 2. St. Louis 031 002 10x—7 11 1. Barnes, Benton and E. Smith; Toney and McCurdy.
