

POLITICAL MEET AT GENEVA LAST NIGHT IS SUCCESS

more influence in serving his constituents than ever before. He reminded his hearers that as chairman of the claims committee of that body he had saved the state thousands of dollars. A voice interrupted asking him about his stand on the liquor search warrant law, and he declared he supported it by his vote.

When the Sanford mayor answered, he was greeted with a loud applause. He declared that without the law, unscrupulous officers would have the right to search any car, and such privilege would lead to overstepping of that authority. The crowd enjoyed the situation immensely as the questioner muttered something about "we citizens will have to be careful about casting our votes."

The chairman then introduced S. A. B. Wilkinson, another candidate for county judge. He stated, contrary to Mr. Leonard's statement that he had been a resident of this county but three years, that he had lived here six years. He told the voters that they wanted a man for the office who is broad-minded, thinks for himself, is sincere, courageous and fearless in carrying out his duties. He declared that many reports were being circulated about him, all of which are untrue. He declared that he believed that he would be elected.

A letter from Schelle Maines was read expressing regret that he was unable to be present due to a previous engagement. Judge J. O. Sharon, the other candidate, was also not present.

George G. Hering, candidate for county prosecuting attorney, said if elected to the office to which he aspires, that he will fill it to the best of his ability. He reviewed his past record in office, saying that for three years, city attorney for three years and for a short time as municipal judge. The speaker said that he had been a resident for 14 years and that he was thoroughly familiar with the duties of the office.

E. F. Householder was the next speaker. He stated that he had served best because of the kindly feeling and spirit of co-operation that had existed between him and his constituents. He said what success he had attained was due to the people who put him in office and whatever mistakes he had made were due to himself entirely. He reviewed his record while judge, saying that he had disposed of over 2,000 cases during the eight years that he had served.

Vance E. Douglass spoke in behalf of his candidacy for clerk of circuit court. He reminded his hearers that he was born and raised in this county, and that he had the same experience in the office, that he is well qualified to fill the duties of it. He said that he had not been brought out by any friends, but that he was running because of his wishes. He promised a faithful and efficient administration.

The other two candidates for the office were not present, it was announced by the chairman. The candidates for the sheriff's office were the next speaker.
Raymond L. Allen declared that he is running on the platform of law enforcement, and particularly that of the prohibition statutes, which he promised to observe strenuously. He said that he had learned that he could secure the aid of government officials in this fight and that if elected, he will make use of this aid if he needs it. He said that if a law is unpopular the best way to get rid of it is to enforce it.

E. R. Brady spoke next. He opened his remarks with a humorous story of local interest and then declared that he would make no campaign promises. He declared that if elected sheriff, that he would make $35,000 for the county during his four years in office, and pointed with pride to his record as chairman of the county draft board during the war.

Sheriff Hand spoke next. He opened his remarks with the statement that "Brady has forgotten that the war is over." He pointed to his record, saying that he had turned in more convictions during the 37 months of his term than there ever were before in a similar period. Over 120 liquor cases have been turned in as convictions under his administration, he added.

The crowd here enjoyed another hearty laugh when E. H. Kilbee, the same person who had directed questions at the other candidates, asked the sheriff whether the search warrant law was passed during the last session of the legislature and Mayor Lake took up stating that "I supported it and voted for it, and that if it were to come up again, I would vote for it."

W. A. Tillis was the last candidate for sheriff on the program. He said that if elected he would be the best sheriff of Sanford county. He said that he had served as chief of police of Sanford for eight years, which is a longer period than any other man had served. He declared that during his term of office, he never had to rush around and borrow money to make up a deficit in his accounts when the auditor came around to go over his books.

Mr. Kilbee, candidate for county commissioner from district No. 5, was next to appear on the program and his remarks provoked much laughter. He opened by saying that during the evening he had changed his vote on several occasions. "Call me a fanatic crank if you want," he said, "but I have had experience and I know a thing or two."

As if by reply to Mr. Allen, the speaker declared that many men are very active after passing the age of 40. He further stated that he had voted for bonds, but that he voted against the new school house and had a good reason for his action. The speaker took 10 minutes to answer the remarks of some of the candidates and to present his own candidacy.

H. H. Pattishall was the last speaker and opened his remarks by declaring he didn't have much to say. Among other things he declared that he has "always been for progress" and to substantiate that assertion he declared that he had bought the first Ford brought into that community, and also the first tractor.

All of the speakers voiced words of praise of the women of the club for their efforts in making the meeting a success. Following the close of the speaking, members of the club were the recipients of many complimentary words on the appetizing meal which they had served.

RUMOR MORGAN HAS A GERMAN LOAN CONTRACT

proposed $200,000,000 loan to Germany. "That was very nice of Mr. Morgan," he said. "But I hesitate to talk about it because there are so many issues involved and so many government phases to be considered before we bankers can ever move to take up the subject."

He hastened to joint out, however, that the American government was neither officially nor in any way directly connected with the German loan proposal. But there were other besides associates of the J. P. Morgan and Company who would have to be consulted in the matter, he indicated.

"We are bankers you know, and as such reserve the right to consider a proposition among ourselves before making it a public matter," Mr. Morgan continued. "I must be fair to my business associates, I have not discussed this loan with them, I must be discreet."

He admitted that, since the government was not to participate in floating the $100,000,000 bonds, J. P. Morgan and Company was the one private firm in America most likely to dispose of such a huge issue. Asked how much time might elapse before his firm would consider the terms of the loan plans and publicly announce whether it would undertake to float the $100,000,000 issue in America, he said bluntly, "I don't know."

Paris Reports Corroborated.
Mr. Morgan corroborated reports from Paris that the $100,000,000 loan was advanced that country recently to halt the plunge of the franc on the exchange, was loaned on condition that the French would undertake to float no more government bond issues than were already outstanding.

"I thought that was a well known fact," he said. "It was quite understood at the time that the loan was advanced. It was not a secret. He declared also that his arrival in Paris just as the Daves report became public and his ensuing conference with Bradbury, the British, and Barthou, the French expert on the reparations committee, was purely circumstantial, that they "learned I was in Paris and asked that I confer with them, in a professional and individual capacity, about the financial provisions of the report."

Tonight at 8:30 o'clock at the armory the first wrestling card to be offered in Sanford for some time, will be held under the auspices of the Florida National Guard. As the headline attraction of the evening's entertainment will be the match between "Young" Gatch, former world's light heavyweight champion and "Rough House" Ross, a clever boxer-wrestler, who have appeared against some of the best in the country.

The match which has been advertised all over this part of the state during the past two weeks, will be a stellar attraction and well worth the time and money of the fans who will witness it, although men have enviable records to their credit and it is believed that their match will be replete with all of the thrills that the fans are looking for and more too.

LONG DEBATES DELAY ACTION ON TAX CHANGE

has been endorsed by the Democratic conference and a move to gain its adoption probably will be made tomorrow, Senator Simmons said.

Chance Good For Final Vote.
The senate made such progress with consideration of the revenue bill at a session which lasted throughout the day and until late tonight that the prospect of a vote on final passage tomorrow was considered favorable.

All finance committee amendments were disposed of during the day and thereafter individual amendments were taken up, the senate adjuring a number to the measure while rejecting others. One of the last actions before a recess was taken was the adoption, 35 to 28, of a proposal by Senator Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, to open all hearings of the proposed board of tax appeals to the public.

ed by other similar bodies to fight the increase.

County commissioner G. L. Bledsoe reported that in company with Fred T. Williams, he had made a survey of the Titusville road and the work that is being carried on there and was glad to report that conditions were not what have been reported. Money, he said, is being spent judiciously and Engineer Donaldson is doing the best that could be done considering the handicap under which he is laboring. He recommended that the remaining $500 pledged by the county, be sent to Mr. Donaldson to help in the work.

On the Osceola road, the commissioner reported that work is progressing and especially that of the bridge construction. The meeting today was one of the best held for some time. A large number of the members were present and enthusiasm and interest were predominant.

FOR WORKING PEOPLE

The best of workers get out of sorts when the liver fails to act. They feel languid, half-sick, "blue" and discouraged and think they are getting lazy. Neglect of these symptoms might result in a sick spell, therefore the sensible course is to take a dose or two of Herbin. It is just the medicine needed to purify the system and restore the vim and ambition of health. Price 25c. Sold by Union Pharmacy.

FOR SALE, or will trade for car, five acres of unimproved celery land near Oviedo. Write C. B. Bradburn, 204 S. Main St., Oviedo, Fla.

Baroness Rothchild Friend of Notables

FRANKFORT, Germany, May 10.—Baroness Mathilda von Rothchild, who died recently at Gruenburg, the ancestral palace of her family, at the age of 94, had lived in great seclusion for many years. She had been especially saddened by the war, as it broke off many of the remaining friendships with her contemporaries in other lands. She was born when Goethe was still writing and Chopin was her music master. She was an intimate friend of Rossini and Clara Schumann.

The former German emperor always called on her when he went to Frankfort, as he was much interested in the great art collections which had descended to her from four generations of Rothschilds.

Of recent years the aged Baroness was alone much of the time with her servants. Her chief cook was a woman of 70 who had been with her 52 years. Her housemaid had been in her employ 54 years and her butler for 38 years.

Office of R. C. Hinton & Bro. Architects. — A PRACTICE SIX ROOM HOUSE — (House #A-96)

This plan arrangement gives all rooms good exposure that is, most of the rooms have three outside walls with plenty of large windows, that afford good light and air. The large opening between the entrance hall and Living Room practically makes these two spaces one room.

The porches on either end of the house gives the front a broad appearance and the comfort they offer does not need explanation.

On the second floor are three bed rooms, two bath rooms and plenty of closets, all are compactly arranged. There is good wall space in the bed rooms for all furniture, even though there are numerous windows on two and three sides of each room.

An additional bedroom and bath are provided on the third floor, no plan of which is shown. A dormer on the rear of the house gives good light for the third floor rooms.

The laundry, coal storage and heater are arranged in the cellar.

This house would be a comfortable home for the average family. Cost about $9800.

OLD MOTHERS

I love old mothers—mothers with white hair, and kindly eyes, and lips grown softly sweet. With murmuring blessings over sleeping babes. There is something in their quiet grace. That speaks the calm of Sabbath afternoons; A knowledge in their deep-unfaltering eyes. That far outreaches all philosophy. Time, with caressing touch, about them weaves. The silver-threaded fairy-shawl of age. While the echoes of forgotten songs. Seemed joined to lend a sweetness to their speech. Old mothers! as they pass with slow-timed step. Their trembling hands cling gently to youth's strength. Sweet mothers! as they pass one sees again. Old garden walks, old roses and old loves.

Facts From Which To Make Measurements.

A child reared among good books, good pictures, and accustomed to good music is naturally cultured in taste. This being the case, what you want to do at once, if you desire your child to be cultured in taste, is to look into the sort of books, the sort of pictures and the sort of child to which your home is accustomed.

As to the books, you will not only note the kind of books found in your library but the kind of books actually read at your house. What sort of books do you like, yourself, and why? What sort of books do you select for your children, and why? Are you one of the misguided people who choose books of the goody-goody variety with no regard for their literary merit or their sturdy interest?

Having satisfied yourself that there are plenty of fine books for your children to read and that these books are read and discussed in your family circle, you can turn to an examination of the pictures your children know and enjoy. A few days ago we picked up the magazine section of a Florida newspaper devoted to the schools of the county in which the paper is published. There was some excellent reporting of school things, with well chosen special articles. But the pictures were the kind that used to be connected in the main with One whole page of that school magazine was devoted to near-naked ladies discussing their divorces! If you have the alleged comics in your home, is the drawing good? And do your children see every day good copies of the paintings of the great masters?

And the music? What do your children like to sing, and why? What sort of records do you buy for your family victrola? What kind of "pieces" does your little daughter learn from her music teacher?

Whoever wrote that assertion with which this editorial begins would have made it considerably nearer complete, if he had added "tasteful environment" to books, music and pictures. Looking around your own home you will notice how the colors blend, how the "tone" of everything bespeaks the directing mind.

But after all, if the books are right, the pictures right, and the music right there is little danger but what the environment so far as its material attributes are concerned is the setting from which come children getting the foundation for cultivated tastes.

FLORIDA GETTING LOT OF VALUABLE PUBLICITY BRADENTOWN HERALD

Florida is getting a lot of valuable publicity on the state beautification movement, a number of reports of state papers including the New York Tribune-Herald having printed reports of the Davanport meeting or editorials about Florida's leadership in this work. The Garden Magazine, which in the April issue gave the State Beautification Committee such fine editorials on leadership in beautification work, has again in the May issue proclaimed Florida's Billboards Are Going Down. Still leading in this state beautification work, Florida has again struck a new and vital blow at all kinds of obnoxious outdoor advertising. All candidates for political offices receive the following forceful announcement: "This year the candidate for office who sticks his name and picture on posts and trees along the highways is going to feel the displeasure of the public. He will be defeated the moment he starts tacking his cards up. Twenty thousand Florida club members have banded together to boycott any one advertising in this way. This phase of the anti-billboard campaign has wide appeal and what one state can put across surely the others can." The balance of the editorial was devoted to reporting results secured in some other states and closed with a list of sixteen nationally known advertising firms which have pledged to restrict or do away altogether with outdoor advertising.

Fon Youn Mother

The services rendered the United States by the American mother is the greatest source of the country's strength and inspiration; we honor ourselves and the mothers of America when we do anything to give emphasis to the home as the fountain head of the State; and the American mother is doing so much for the home, the moral uplift, and religion, hence so much for good government and for humanity" were the beautiful words of the United States Congress in recommending to President Wilson in 1914 that a day be set apart in honor of mothers.

While it was not until this late date that a day was formally set aside for honoring the mothers, the idea can be traced to much remoter times. England for centuries celebrated during Lent what they called "Mothering Day," but even that was recent in comparison to the ancient worshiping of Rhea, the "great Mother of the Gods" in Asia Minor, or the Feast of Hilaria in early Greece, or certain ceremonies in our own Church during the early Christian era, all antecedents of Mothers Day as we know it. In fact as far back as we can be taken by history deciphered from the most antiquated hieroglyphics inscribed in Egyptian or Assyrian clay, we find an unalloyed appreciation for the sympathy and kindness of the motherly instinct.

But there is a tendency among the present generation, despite what Congress has done to counteract it, to lose sight of, in the mad rush of accumulation, the unselfish devotion of Mother and to grow careless in the fulfillment of our obligations to her and the repayment, which at best could be only in part, for her life of deepest love, encouragement and faithful service. It counts for nought into what depths you may sink, to what heights you may rise; your mother's love will remain unchanged. She will always meet you with a word of praise, or a kiss of sympathy. Like the tigress in defense of its young, she will always fight to protect you from the hard knocks of business and the evils of life.

But what do we for our mothers? What can we do to meet half-way their many sacrifices? We cannot. But tomorrow we can give them a happy little thrill by doing some little thing, unusually nice. You will of course wear the carnation, the red one if your mother lives, the white one, if not. If your mother's home is a great way off, you can warm her heart in gladness by a telegraphed message of love. If you live not too far away, she would never forget your coming over to see her. You might, if you live with her, stay at home all day, or better still, take her with you somewhere; you might even perhaps tell her you love her.

A few days ago we picked up the magazine section of a Florida newspaper devoted to the schools of the county in which the paper is published. There was some excellent reporting of school things, with well chosen special articles. But the pictures were the kind that used to be connected in the main with One whole page of that school magazine was devoted to near-naked ladies discussing their divorces! If you have the alleged comics in your home, is the drawing good? And do your children see every day good copies of the paintings of the great masters?

And the music? What do your children like to sing, and why? What sort of records do you buy for your family victrola? What kind of "pieces" does your little daughter learn from her music teacher?

Whoever wrote that assertion with which this editorial begins would have made it considerably nearer complete, if he had added "tasteful environment" to books, music and pictures. Looking around your own home you will notice how the colors blend, how the "tone" of everything bespeaks the directing mind.

But after all, if the books are right, the pictures right, and the music right there is little danger but what the environment so far as its material attributes are concerned is the setting from which come children getting the foundation for cultivated tastes.

FLORIDA GETTING LOT OF VALUABLE PUBLICITY BRADENTOWN HERALD

Florida is getting a lot of valuable publicity on the state beautification movement, a number of reports of state papers including the New York Tribune-Herald having printed reports of the Davanport meeting or editorials about Florida's leadership in this work. The Garden Magazine, which in the April issue gave the State Beautification Committee such fine editorials on leadership in beautification work, has again in the May issue proclaimed Florida's Billboards Are Going Down. Still leading in this state beautification work, Florida has again struck a new and vital blow at all kinds of obnoxious outdoor advertising. All candidates for political offices receive the following forceful announcement: "This year the candidate for office who sticks his name and picture on posts and trees along the highways is going to feel the displeasure of the public. He will be defeated the moment he starts tacking his cards up. Twenty thousand Florida club members have banded together to boycott any one advertising in this way. This phase of the anti-billboard campaign has wide appeal and what one state can put across surely the others can." The balance of the editorial was devoted to reporting results secured in some other states and closed with a list of sixteen nationally known advertising firms which have pledged to restrict or do away altogether with outdoor advertising.

Tammany and Al Smith, Orchids Now, Men Later, The King's Legs.
Copyright, 1924.

TAMMANY HALL, ancient, profitable political institution of New York, is puzzled, following the death of its chief, Murphy. Under ordinary conditions, Mr. Al Smith, who for years has been real boss of Tammany Hall, would name a new chief to work under his orders. But Al Smith at this moment is a candidate for the presidency. He is taking the thing seriously. And, for reasons that will be understood west of Hoboken, Al Smith doesn't want to be tied up too closely with Tammany. It is true that Al Smith has been in Tammany all his life, and has made every dollar he has through Tammany, and got every office that he ever got through Tammany. But in politics it's necessary to forget. And it is only reasonable caution for Al Smith, as a presidential candidate, to cross to the other side of the street and look vague when the Tammany tiger nods to him.

PROFESSOR KNUDSON, of Cornell University, shows that orchids can be fully grown with a saving of two years' time. The extraordinary results are obtained by feeding the plants certain essential salts and sugars while keeping them free from the microscopic organisms that destroy plant life.

SOME DAY MEN will learn how to feed themselves and how to protect themselves from germs. Whales and elephants will disappear along with the microbes.

ALL ENGLAND'S ART critics, and half the population of the British Islands, are discussing a portrait of the King by Charles Sims, in the Royal Academy. Some critics say "the face lacks dignity." Others say "the legs lack character. The artist admits that, somebody, not the king, "posed for the legs."

Just why a king's legs, have more character than other legs is not stated. The interesting thing to us proud, republican sovereigns is that Englishmen discuss a portrait they ever discuss the king that they ever discuss the king himself.

VIEWED FROM THIS distance, King George seems a pretty good sort of King. The things that he does not do are at least as important as those he does do. He sets a good example and doesn't interfere with the British Government, which is really democratic, closer to the people and more within the people's control than our own government, for instance.

KING GEORGE is guided to a large extent—as all men ought to be—by his wife, a sensible woman, high shoes that button up, and who wears dresses of the old kind, that don't look like a gilded harness for a Shetland pony.

It isn't necessary to read the fable of King Stork and King Log to realize that the British are fortunate in the character of their king.

HENRY FORD refuses to discuss his Muscle Shoals proposition in Washington. You don't blame him. He wrote out his proposition, which would have given more than two hundred million dollars to the government. The Senate has put the matter off for two years and ought to know what is in it by this time.

MOST OF THE OPPOSITION to Henry Ford is the opposition of grafters that would like to get government property without giving anything real in exchange for it. But some of the opposition is sincere. It includes the opposition of Senator Norris, an earnest, honest man. Senator Norris' opposition is courageous, inasmuch as the farmers will hold him responsible for the final result.

A NERVOUS YOUNG woman, called the "bobbed-haired bandit," is sent to jail for from ten to twenty years. She warns young girls to be good, saying, "My heart is breaking in me."

The young lady made experiments in mob psychology. With a small pistol, usually not loaded, not even "cocked," she would "stick up" a store and all the people in it, ob them at her leisure, and depart.

SHE WILL SPEND at least ten years in a prison; her young husband will spend from ten to twenty years in another prison. Our civilization doesn't know what else to do with criminals, and perhaps there isn't anything else to do but lock them up and make them live abnormally in vile surroundings.

THEY COME OUT feeling they have a just grudge against society, and perhaps Supreme Justice would agree with them.

Is there nothing better to be done with criminals, young and old, than locking them in a stone prison for a certain number of years? Does that in the long run do more good or harm? Does it reform or frighten the criminal? Does it teach him anything? Or does it train professional criminals, who in the far train other criminals?

JUST IN PASSING

Jacksonville's municipal golf course shows a profit on the first month's business. Wonder if our own course will show one?

All our candidates are beginning to take on the airs of orators and by the time they wind up the campaign here Saturday night before election they will be good speakers.

Longwood will be the next stop on Wednesday night, Orlando on Friday night and so on down the list for the county candidates. It is most interesting to follow up the meetings and hear the candidates sing.

Ed Kilbee remarked at Geneva meeting that after some of the candidates were as old as he is they would have a heap more sense. Ed goes on the principle that the older you get the more sense you will absorb.

The Tampa Tribune says you can always judge a candidate by his home vote. This should hold true but not always. Some times the home folks do not appreciate our efforts like the towns farther away. The prophet in his own country does not cut the same amount of ice—sometimes.

The St. Augustine Record had an editorial the other day on the idea of summering at sea. It says that the folks that are forty or over, maybe we will all make our fortunes later on.

Don't knock the fellow who is doing things. He will make mistakes but he is trying to put it over while the man who is never trying is sitting in the sun whittling a stick and making funny cracks at all improvements.

It looks like we will get that canal cut from the St. Johns River to the Indian River and when we do it will be one of the biggest things that this country has ever accomplished. There will be no question about our city growing, about tourists about development, about high water and overflowed lands. It will open to cultivation thousands of acres of the best general farming lands in the south.

One of our candidates for sheriff says he will make no promises. That the sheriff has a hard time making good on promises and the best way is to promise nothing and then you will not have to take anything back after election.

Some day Lake Monroe will be the greatest pleasure resort in the state of Florida—that is it will be if we can take advantages offered by Nature and help to make our lake what it should be. The boat basin, the boulevard, resorts of all kinds, a fleet of yachts and sail boats and other improvements will attract the tourists.

We often hear folks in various towns and cities start talking about the dull summer time as spring fades and summer weather approaches. There is no dull summer time in Florida. We have crops all the year round, we are building more homes and we are making more improvements this season than ever before. Then why should we have a dull summer here?

Arising rather early the other morning and coming down town I was surprised to note the few people on the streets, the few stores open for business and the few cars parked on First street. It looked very much like the "Deserted Village." We are getting in the big city class where everyone stays up all night and sleeps parts of the morning. But it makes it rather tough on us folks that get up early to catch the early worm—if you know what that is.

There are some of the finest conductors on the Atlantic Coast Line that you will find anywhere and you will find them on the jerkwater branch lines as well as on the main lines. Not mentioning any names for there are so many of them it would not do to miss any. However, if the heads of the railroad want the names I will give them a few and they can give them a pension for life.

Those railroad boys are all to the good wherever you see them in all branches of the work. I just naturally like to look around the railroad because the boys have always been my friends. It is good news to me to learn that some of these days W. B. Zachary, that good old knight of the wire, can quit work after awhile and retire to his own vine and fig tree. He has some land in Sarasota that will make him rich when he wants to sell.

There is so much stuff about John Martin and Frank Jennings in some of the state papers that it occurs to me that a certain candidate in the race can step in and take away the bacon if all this tiresome stuff continues. According to those "Twice Told Tales" both Frank and John sucked eggs and stole watermelons and robbed ten roosts early in life.

Even detectives are forced to resign in the Senate investigations and it would seem that the Tea Pot Dome affair eventually drag everyone in the U. S. A. into the oily waters.

Now that the bob haired bandit and her husband have been sent to the pen for ten years we hope the newspapers will take up something else for the summer months.

The State Road Department will push road projects says dispatches in newspapers. They have one in this county that needs pushing. In fact it needs everything that can be obtained—pushing, pulling and running in both, and low gear with the cutout open. Let us have the road.

SATURDAY EVENING SERMON

BY W. J. CARPENTER, D. D.

"Upon this rock will I build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

When the average man recognizes that the modern church represents the Lord Christ in spirit and policy, and work, he will have a more profound respect for it. The fact of the matter is that no church has much moral power or weight unless the people believe it to be a body of men and women inspired by the spirit of Christ. The church is not a club. The church is not a social organization alone. The church represents spiritual values first and all the time. God has given a church to the world through which the Holy Spirit is to function for the cleansing of the heart of man. The average man thinks the church is a sort of place for entertainment, for fun, for physical exercise, for fairly good music, and for the perpetuation of an exclusive social set. When a church functions as a club for entertainment, however good that entertainment may be, it lowers its standard and loses influence. No greater mistake can be made than to place the church in competition with the world and think it can be operated on the same basis. It is a prostitution of God to put it on a level with the ordinary organized diversions which appeal to the lower side of our nature. Because many modern Christians have, in their mistaken zeal, sought to attract the crowds, resorted to all sorts of clap-net methods, and have added all kinds of diversions to catch the youth, they have weakened its influence and short of it of its power. Balls, billiards, and bowling have never been used by the Holy Spirit to save sinners. Consecration, prayer, preaching of the gospel, holy living, and personal service, are the means used of God to save a world. There are many things which may be good and useful in their proper spheres, but are ill adapted to God's purpose as expressed in the life of Jesus. Old Dr. John Hall, of New York, had a great building which was crowded with anxious seekers after God at every service, and the only attraction he ever used was the Word of God preached from a heart fired by the Holy Spirit. When entertainments, physical culture, social functions, are made to constitute the larger things in the life of a church, it becomes a barren institution so far as redemption is concerned. As an evidence of the way the thinking public view these things, I append three statements which reflect the public's notions of the strain of the average church to conform to the world.

JUST TO REMIND YOU

TAMPA TIMES

Once more we take the privilege of directing your attention to your privilege in the matter of going to church tomorrow.

But few privileges that are ours are so worth while as that of church-going. Realized upon, it brings good companionship, being in the place that is dedicated to God, and that spiritual uplift which only comes from having been with the Almighty. It is balm and tonic—balm for hurt hearts and tonic that are sore, tonic for hope which is eternal and its handmaiden, peace. It would be a great thing if Tampa were to go to church tomorrow, for the world, great for the greater still for you.

You know, without being minded, what the church is to civilization and to a community. That is too well established more proof, or to demonstrate. The important thing what you mean to the church you do not mean very much has become habitual with absent yourself from the services of the church.

Go to church tomorrow. Do not go on good grounds, do not go on good grounds, do not go on good grounds.

Do not go on good grounds, do not go on good grounds, do not go on good grounds.

Do not go on good grounds, do not go on good grounds, do not go on good grounds.

Do not go on good grounds, do not go on good grounds, do not go on good grounds.

Do not go on good grounds, do not go on good grounds, do not go on good grounds.

Do not go on good grounds, do not go on good grounds, do not go on good grounds.

WEST SIDE PRIMARY SCHOOL HOLDS CELEBRATION IN MAY DAY PAGEANT

Under a cloudless sky the May Day Festivals came to a close Friday afternoon when the West Side Primary School held its May Day pageant with about 150 children taking part. It was pronounced a wonderful success.

To Miss Love Turner, principal, under whose direction it was given much credit is due. Her splendid organization and the splendid ability of the children are the main reasons for the success of the pageant.

The pageant was given in the gymnasium of the school. The stage was decorated with a natural background of trees and palms in front of which was a grouping of 40 or 50 children in costumes, representing flowers and grass blades.

After the opening song, "Oh, It is May," by the school children, a reading, "Greetings to Spring," was given by Lucile Mitchell. This was followed by a song, "Spring Time is Coming," by the school. An interpretative dance, "South Breeze" was gracefully done by Marian Houlihan, who called to the Rain Drops to enter, these being 15 little boys, in costumes representing rain, who were singing "Rain Drops." Then the Sun moved slowly in among the flowers and was followed by the Sunbeams, 15 little boys in costumes. Next was a chorus, "Good Morning, Merry Sunbeams." One of the little sunbeams answered with the song of "Little Miss Violet." Eighteen little girls, in rainbow fairies, in costumes of rainbow tint, dance and while they are dancing the Queen of the Fairies Rosalyn Bell, daintily in a beautiful fairy costume enters.

Following this was a reading, "I'd like to go out doors and play," by Raymond Lundquist, and the butterfly dance by 18 little girls, in butterfly costume, singing the Butterfly Song. A reading, "Dream of May," was given by Marie Elvise Winn.

The climax to this festival was very pretty, the crowning of the queen, Evelyn Smith, with her two little girl attendants in pink and white, who were dressed to correspond with the pink and white costume of the queen with her wreath of rose buds. A little play was then staged with eight little boys taking part. They brought offerings to the queen, all of which she refused, until she was presented with a crown of red cross, signifying health. This she gratefully accepted as the one above all others.

The winding of the Maypole was certainly a pretty feature when 56 girls went through the intricate mazes without a misstep. There were 56 streamers in pastel shades. An address was made by the principal, Miss Turner, who spoke of the equipment of playgrounds, and a nice little sum was realized.

Mother's Club Holds Its May Meeting

The Mothers' Club held its May meeting with Mrs. L. M. Telford Friday afternoon, Mrs. Schirard being assistant hostess. Cut glass bowls and baskets of fern and pansies adorned the attractive living room, the color motif, purple and gold, being carried out.

A short business session was presided over by the president and after the business matters were scheduled a pansy contest was introduced. Ten questions were asked and answered with the names of a flower. While this taxed the wits a little, it gave a great deal of pleasure to the contestants. The first prize, a bud vase, containing fern and pansies, was won by Mrs. Orin Stenstrom, second prize, a memorandum book, with cover ornamented in pansies was won by Mrs. Faircloth.

The social hour followed during which purple ice cream and cake were served, and lovely pansies were used as favors. The mothers present were: Mrs. Moyer, Mrs. Leinhardt, Mrs. Minarik, Mrs. Bradford, Mrs. Stenstrom, Mrs. Faircloth and Mrs. Paxton.

Davenport Citizens Vote On Bonds For Civic Improvement

DAVENPORT, May 8.—The freeholders of this place went to the polls today to vote on a bond issue of $65,000, the proceeds of which will be devoted to civic improvements. If the issue is approved, Provision is made for a modern water system, and also for the creation of a fire department. Underwriters have approved the issue and will give Davenport more attractive insurance rates if the improvements are voted.

On May 25 another bond election will be called for this district, which will give Davenport between six and seven miles of asphalt roads. A thorough canvass has been made on both of these issues and more than enough votes are pledged to carry this election. It is stated in authoritative quarters here.

Another development of great importance to Davenport is the proposed construction of a new block of business houses. A well known architect of Tampa and New York has just submitted final plans for this structure, which will cost between $75,000 and $80,000, and will be one of the finest of its type between Jacksonville and Tampa, it is declared. This business block will be 315 feet in length, 60 feet deep, two stories in height, principally of American architectural design although there will be a touch of Spanish and Oriental work mixed in.

The new structure will face the Dixie Highway, and will be located in Wilson Park, which will afford a beautiful parkway between the building and the highway.

Webb-Moore Wedding

An event of much interest to her friends in Sanford was the wedding of Miss Ernestine Webb, which took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Webb in Tampa. The wedding was a beautiful affair at 12 noon, the rooms of this home being tastefully decorated with quantities of Shasta daisies and ferns, and an improvised altar of palms and ferns was arranged in one end of the living room, before which the bride and groom stood to receive their marriage vows.

The only attendant was little Miss Nancy Knight who acted as flower girl, wearing a beautiful dress of pink organza with hat to match and carrying a basket of daisies.

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white crepe ramage, fastened in points and trimmed in dainty ribbon. Her hat a becoming model of neapolitan straw, was ornamented with white tips, and her flowers were an arm bouquet of white roses.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held and the young couple received the congratulations of the guests. Delicious refreshments were served.

The bride and groom left during the afternoon for points on the coast. Mrs. Moore is traveling in a handsome suit of brown roushannara crepe with accessories to match.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. Julia Webb and the late Mr. E. P. Webb and granddaughter of Mr. R. F. Webb and is a member of one of Tampa's oldest families. She is a young woman of dignified personality and has many friends.

Mr. Moore is the son of Mr. Arabelle Moore of Decatur, Ga., and is originally from Decatur and a representative of one of Georgia's prominent families, being the cousin of Henry W. Grady, distinguished Georgian. He is associated with the Wages Adding Machine Company in Tampa and is highly esteemed among a large circle of friends, all of whom will join in wishing him and his attractive bride much happiness.

Dr. George Hyman of the First Baptist church officiated, the ceremony was witnessed by relatives and a few close friends.

The bride was a former resident of Sanford and has been a recent visitor here. Mrs. Tom Davis and Mrs. Margaret Harris, and is remembered for her popularity.

Construction Work On Second Track of Railroad Is Started

NEW SMYRNA, Fla., May 9.—The first actual construction work in connection with building of the second track of the Florida East Coast railroad from Jacksonville to Miami, was started near New Smyrna on Monday, May 5. A local contractor was given the contract by the railroad company for clearing the right-of-way and grading, the roadbed for the second track from Spruce Creek, five miles north of New Smyrna to Fort Pierce, 122 miles. The work was begun from the Spruce Creek end by 100 men, the force to be increased as the work progresses. The railroad has acquired all the additional right-of-way required for the additional track through this section, according to information here.

SURVEY TO BE MADE

JACKSONVILLE, May 8.—A survey of a proposed waterway between Jacksonville and Miami is to be made by the forces of Lieutenant Colonel Gilbert A. Vanneberg, U. S. Engineer for the district embracing the peninsula of Florida, according to directions received by him from Washington. According to the understanding here, the survey will be made for a route through the St. John's river which will be connected with the Indian river at some convenient place, although there is nothing authoritatively known in this connection. One route that has been suggested is to follow the St. John's to a point approximately opposite Titusville, where it would be connected by canal with the Indian river in the vicinity of that city.

WEST PALM BEACH, May 10.—A proposal has been made here to connect three small islands at the south end of Lake Okechobee to the mainland by the construction of filled-in roads and bridges. The proposition involves the floating of a bond issue of $500,000 or $600,000 for the whole work and to have it under way, if possible, by the end of this year. The project calls for the island of Little Krasner and Krasner Island proper.

SCOTLAND YARD TO MAKE DRIVE

Illegal Drug Traffic Will Be Subject of Crusade By Famous Sleuths of British Empire

LONDON, May 10.—The illegal drug traffic in England has grown to such an extent since the war that it has crept out of its dusky limehouse haunts to pervade the dance halls and restaurants of the West End.

The war is held responsible for the abnormal conditions. During the stress of the times the vigilance of the police was otherwise employed, and traffickers obtained foothold in the slum districts of London. After the war, because of the loss in exchange in other countries, most of the drugs were shipped to England. Probably the war also can be blamed for the great increase in the market for the drugs, anyway there is said to be several times as much sold here now as in pre-war times.

Following the death of several addicts due to the use of drugs, and the exposure of several clever distribution schemes in the London police courts, Scotland Yard men have opened up on the traffickers. They increased the narcotic squad and began a round-up of criminals which has already resulted in the imprisonment of some of the leaders and has broken up the regular source of supplies which extended into the West End.

The headquarters of the traffic were easily traced to Limehouse, the ancient and natural haunt of all foreign vices. Long investigations and watching resulted in the arrest and imprisonment of a clever young Chinaman who had been under observation for many months by the police. As is usually the case, the man operated a small restaurant in the squalor of the Limehouse docks. Above the dirty eating rooms were luxurious furnished apartments, from which he carried on the traffic. He is said to have been the leader of the gangs peddling the drugs throughout London. Several other Orientals have been arrested during the last few weeks. They have been sentenced to a year or more in prison and will then be deported.

Cleaning up the wholesale traffic and the clearing houses which exist along the water front of most of the English ports, however, is a much bigger job. Hundreds of ships enter England every week from Oriental ports, and although they are searched upon entrance and a close watch kept on the crews, the police say the traffickers are able to bring in huge supplies. Generally, it is explained, the drugs are sold at once to a dealer and he in turn sells in large quantities to sailors going to other ports. Much of it is supposed to go to the United States and the other American countries and Holland and Germany.

The dealers in England thus only act as commission agents. They make their money and then disappear. It is almost impossible for the police to hunt them down. Usually a crafty Chinaman is behind the operation, but he employs girls to carry out the work and after a few deals they disappear.

MAY DAY PROGRAM IS GIVEN BY STUDENTS EAST SIDE PRIMARY

That spring is here in all its glory, is signified by the singing of the birds, the abundance of fragrant flowers and shrubs and by the many beautiful May day programs given by the various schools. One of the most delightful of these, was the one given Thursday afternoon at five o'clock, at the East Side Primary School under the auspices of the East Side Parent-Teachers' Association, and was attended by a large and enthusiastic audience.

The exercises opened with a welcoming address by Master John Courrier, this being followed by a song, "Lovely Day," by the school. After this a group of busy gardeners appeared and quickly made a garden for "Spring." They were: Ainsley Robson, Wilson Smith, Hugh Urquhart, Frank Bennett, Andrew Hanson, George Henderson, Ralph Mungler, Clayton, Marjorie. This was soon discovered by "Mother Nature" (Martha Conroy). She was indeed delighted to find such a nice well made garden prepared by the "Earth Children" and calls her "flower fairies." These fairies then waken and summon the "Raindrop Fairy" (Anna Marie Couch) who enters in true fairy style gaily tripping in among the sleeping flowers sprinkling dewy raindrops upon their heads. This also falls to arouse the flowers, and Mother Nature asks for the help of the "Sunshine Fairy" (Margaret Torrence). She too, dances lightly among the flowers, casting forth her soft warm sunbeams. Pretty soon the flowers slowly awaken from their slumber, by the singing of the "Earth Children," "Wake Says the Sunshine."

After they have all awoken, Mother Nature gives them a party and invites the Bachelors to help entertain them.

The children taking part as the flowers were: Mary Alice McMillan, Edith Steakley, Helen Kersey, Edith Steakley, George Dillard, Charles Betts, Wesley Cook, Elmo Dillard, Howard Lamb, Stewart.

After this a Flower Drill was given by Nona Rivers, Anne Robson, Jewel Turner, Patay O'Connor, Katherine Morrison, Winnie Jackson, Edith Wrasage, Marjorie Dube, all in fluffy white frocks, bearing French baskets filled with posies of all kinds, which they placed at the feet of their beloved "Queen." About their necks were bright garlands of leaves and flowers, which they used in their graceful dances.

Among the rest of the pleasures arranged for the "Queen" was the "May Pole Dance" by Doris Batters, Mary George, Evelyn Porter, Elsie Tolor, Euclidean Appleby, Nellie Jones, Mary Virginia Nott, and Dorothy Thurston.

After a fitting close and without which no "Queen's Court" is complete, were the jolly clowns: Jack Kanner and Harold Hamel. Their antics afforded much merriment from both old and young.

The entire program from start to finish, received much comment for the way each and every child did their parts and did them so well. Too much credit can not be given Miss Emma Owens and her efficient assistants: Miss Lollie Belle Robertson, Kathleen Brady and Marion Appleby, whose untiring efforts made this, such a wonderful success. The proceeds of the afternoon will be added to the playground fund.

LAKE MARY DANCE

At Lake Mary Friday night there was held a bag and a bow dance as has ever been held here. This was a benefit dance given by the Woman's Club of Sanford. A feature of this affair was the splendid music rendered by a favorite orchestra, the San Juan, of Orlando, and dancing was enjoyed until 12:30.

The floor was liberally crowded all the evening, and the scene was one of gaiety. Numbers of out-of-town visitors were attending. The Woman's Club realized from this dance over $100, and the ladies are well pleased with the success of the affair.

TO MY NEIGHBORS AND FRIENDS:

I wish to extend my sincere thanks and gratitude to those who so kindly remembered me during my recent severe illness in sending me fruit and flowers. Also to the friends who called whom I was not able to see. I also wish to express my appreciation to the Brotherhood Classes of the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches of our city for their floral offerings and good wishes.

Our master said: "As Ye did it unto the least of these, my brethren, Ye did it unto Me."

French Pugilists In 1909 Received Very Little Money

PARIS, May 10.—A guarantee of 200,000 francs has been offered Eugene Criqui by the directors of the Buffalo Velodrome, just outside of Paris, for a 20-round bout with Charlie Ledoux, who recently wrestled the titles of featherweight champion of France and Europe from Edouard Mascart. The offer carries with it an option of 25 per cent of the gate receipts.

The strides which boxing has made in France during the past 15 years is shown by the fact that in March 1909, a boxing program which presented to the public two French champions as headliners, with the late Sam McVey appearing in an exhibition for good measure, was carried out with a total expenditure of 980 francs:

The bill was as follows:

Relinger vs. Kid Stamp, fly-weights, 6 rounds	30
Paul Til vs. Dorgeuille, feather-weights, 6 rounds	50
Willie Fruitier vs. Kid Davis, lightweights, 6 rounds (Dacis was billed "American Champion")	100
Marcel Bernard vs. Henri Piet, welter, 10 rounds (Champion of France)	350
Battling Lacroix vs. Ott of Strasbourg (Champion of France), middleweights, 10 rounds	350
Sam MacVey vs. Celestin Moret, exhibition, 4 rounds	100
Total	980

Poor Sam got 90 francs for his bit.

The gate receipts totaled 1,460 francs leaving a net profit of 480 francs to the promoter.

GOTCH IS WINNER OVER ROSS LAST NIGHT IN ARMORY

Local Wrestling Expert Wins Best Two Out of Three Falls From North Carolina Boy In Fine Match Friday Night.

"Young" Gotch thoroughly demonstrated his wrestling prowess Friday night at the Florida National Guard Armory when he defeated "Rough House" Ross in a match which was replete with thrills from start to finish. Gotch won the last two falls thereby entitling him to the match.

Although the local lad was the victor, it was by no means an easy job for him. Ross, ever on the alert, furnished all the trouble that Gotch wanted and more too. Ross won the first fall after 21 minutes of gruelling battling during which time both men tried frequently to turn in the first fall. Ross won with a reversed body scissors and wrist lock. It was a pretty trick and the fans greeted it with a loud applause.

Gotch came back strong and at the end of eight minutes easily out the North Carolina boy's shoulders to the mat with a neat scissors and arm lock. Then began the fight for the fall which would decide the match.

Gotch was in danger several times and particularly just a minute or two before the end, when Ross had his shoulders down and the referee began the count. With a suddenness of an animal, Gotch released himself and a minute later pinned Ross' shoulder with a head scissors and leg and arm lock. The third fall came in 18 minutes.

In the preliminaries Whittle defeated Guter after 14 minutes with a pin fall. Lee Peck substituting for Collie Biggers defeated Bill Hammond in 16 minutes with an arm scissors and wrist lock. A battle royal featured the opening of the exhibition.

The attendance last night was disappointing as it was much smaller than was anticipated. The matches were staged under the management of Gus Schmah.
