DRAMATIC POWER such as the screen has seldom seen will be developed next Wednesday and Thursday at the Ritz Theatre when Lloyd C. Douglas's famous best-seller, "Disputed Passage," starring Dorothy Lamour, Akim Tamiroff and John Howard is the feature attraction.

CHARLES LAUGHTON, with pistol and balalaika look, mounted pretty Maureen O'Hara, in this scene from the Paramount release, "Jamaica Inn," which comes Tuesday, only to the Ritz Theatre. The Douglas-Dunbar novel served as the original for this screen story directed by Alfred Hitchcock.

"HAWAIIAN NIGHTS" featuring Johnny Downs, Mary Carlisle, Matty Malneck and his band will begin its accompanying feature next Thursday only at the Ritz.

JANE WITHERS is more interested in singing, dancing and reading stories on her father's ranch than in getting an education, all of which has an important bearing on the plot of "High School," her latest starring vehicle which will be seen Friday and Saturday at the local Ritz.

Policing Of '40 Elections Is Promised

Senator Gillette Calls Organization Meeting Of Four Other Senators

Close Watch To Be Kept On Primaries

Hatch Act Prohibits Politics By Government Employees

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19. (AP)—While presidential races quickened following the selection of convention dates, vigorous policing of the 1940 elections by a special Senate committee was promised by Senator Gillette (D-Ia.).

He called an organization meeting of the four other senators appointed by Garner to campaign as an investigating group. He said the group will keep a close watch on all primaries, election convention delegates, and national nominating conventions as well as final elections in November.

A new factor this year, he pointed out, is the Hatch Act prohibiting political activity by thousands of government employees, and barring use of relief and other federal funds for political purposes.

Schools Receive $12,648.67 For Teachers Pay

A total of $12,648.67 was paid this morning by Sup. T. W. Lawton on the loans made to the Board of Public Instruction for the payment of teachers' salaries.

The amount was Seminole County's share of the $1,007,849 paid on its public school appropriation for the month of January and points out that the state is now $1,800,045 in arrears for the entire month of February and 40 percent of the appropriation for January.

The 1939 Legislature appropriated about $1,340,000 a month for use in helping pay salaries of teachers and bus drivers. The law provides for distribution of the money by the 15th of each month, but the State has been unable to make all allotments as time.

Most of the money for this allocation came from the sale of automobile license tags.

Garner Manager Studies Illinois Primary Petitions

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Vice President Garner's Illinois campaign manager said yesterday he was making an independent study of the legal status of Illinois primary petitions unaccompanied by a signed declaration of candidacy, such as those for President Roosevelt.

"At present there is no program for filing any objections to the President's candidacy," announced Julius T. Sniezaska, Garner's state manager.

Garner also has entered the Illinois preferential Presidential primary and filed a signed declaration with his petition.

The lack of a signed declaration with the petition for President Roosevelt raised a question in political circles over their legality, which apparently will be decided by the State primary committee when it meets Monday.

Garner also has had sent Attorney John S. Condon to Springfield to look into the legality of non-signature petitions.

Garner would be asked to sign the non-signature petitions at the same time as the signature petitions.

Barrymore Enjoys A Whale Of A Scene

John (Great Profile) Barrymore gives a warm (in spots) welcome to Elaine Barrie, his until-recently estranged wife, as she returns to her spanked-daughter part in his current Broadway play, "My Dear Children." Miss Barrie left play in St. Louis last Spring, returned in celebration of John's recent 58th birthday.

Rain Fails To Stop Address Of Mrs. Roosevelt

DAYTONA BEACH, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Rain started falling yesterday shortly after Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt began an outdoor address at the 35th anniversary celebration of Bethune Cookman College for negroes here, but a crowd estimated at 5,000 followed her indoors and she completed her speech in the school auditorium.

Raising her arms, Mrs. Roosevelt exhorted the audience to "go on, go on, go on." She said, "This is an opportunity of a lifetime. We've waited 35 years for this. Let's not worry about Mrs. Roosevelt. She's all right. We're the ones. Go on, Mrs. Roosevelt."

The First Lady resumed her talk, but had to stop again as the rain became a downpour, and the remainder of the program was transferred to the auditorium.

A terse definition of democracy was given to the crowd, gathered on the lawn under oak and palm trees, by Mrs. Roosevelt before the weather intruded.

"Democracy," she said, "simply means that more and more people can share the good things of life. Democracy doesn't mean having the same religion or color. It means more citizens who can share better things all the time."

Negro Taken To Raiford For Safety

Tallahassee Sheriff Says Man Admits Killing Of 2 Capital City Officers

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Sheriff Frank Stoutamire today announced that a negro who admitted killing two local county writers last night had been taken to the state prison at Raiford, for safekeeping.

The negro, booked as John Holliday, will be charged with the slaying of Constable T. O. Oppert and his deputy, Clyde Sauls. The sheriff said they were shot in a fight with Holliday when they attempted to arrest him at a negro restaurant.

The bullets struck Oppert in the leg, and he died an hour later from the loss of blood and a severed artery. Sauls' death resulted from spine injuries by a bullet that struck first in his shoulder.

Stoutamire said Holliday took full responsibility for the shooting, and absolved all others of blame. Another negro, Herman Tucker, who was arrested and taken to Raiford, but there was no charge against him.

The sheriff said there was no threat of mob violence. "I just decided to take them to Raiford to be safe." Two negroes were taken from the county jail here about three years ago and shot to death after they were arrested for stabbing Vernon Kelly, city policeman here.

Holliday told Stoutamire he wrested Oppert's pistol from him after the constable shot twice when a negro ran from the restaurant after someone cried the "loller outside." During the scuffle, he shot Oppert, then Sauls.

Debt Moratorium Is Impossible, Hendricks Says

Federal Spending Reduction Is Set As GOP Platform

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(AP)—A 20 percent reduction in federal spending was suggested by the Republican program committee last night in outlining a broad set of principles to be kept out of war—which may form a basis for the 1940 party platform.

Covering almost the entire field of domestic and foreign policy, the $2,000-word report was prepared after the committee, headed by Glenn Frank, had spent two years taking soundings among the Republican rank and file. It was unveiled last Friday to the party's national committee meeting here at a closed session.

At the outset, the report charged that the new deal had choked off enterprise and that the Roosevelt administration had been an "economic failure," then enumerated these major principles as a guide for "a program for a dynamic America."

A 20 percent reduction in federal spending "should not be too difficult, and this, coupled with a substantial increase in the national income, should bring balanced federal budgets during 1942."

Commitments "which might involve us in other peoples' wars" should be avoided and the government should observe a "scrupulous neutrality."

Defense forces should be powerful enough effectively to protect the western hemisphere from aggression and national defense policy should be made a workable part of a common protective policy of all the Americas.

Foreign trade should be expanded through trade agreements providing "genuine reciprocity benefits. The agreements should be made subject to approval by both houses of Congress."

The national labor relations act should be amended and the labor board should be overhauled to improve its administrative and judicial functions.

The board's power to invalidate contracts, determine bargaining units and delay elections "should be curtailed. It should be recognized that the federal government cannot possibly make the many wage and hour adjustments necessary to meet varying conditions. Labor organizations and state law should be the primary means of remedying abnormal labor standards."

Seminole Fair To Remain Open For Another Week

Bad Weather Results In Decision For 6-Day Extension

The Seminole County Fair will remain open for another week, Manager Fred Turner announced today, stating that more attractions will be added and that an attractive display of livestock from this section is being arranged.

Contrary to an announcement Saturday that the fair would remain open on Sunday, it was closed for the day.

In view of the inclement weather last week which prevented many persons from attending, the fair will be extended through next Saturday, Mr. Turner said, adding that John H. Davis, manager of the Southern States Show had agreed to loan the fair grounds.

Mr. Davis said the show, which had been operating in Fort Myers would join the show this week, providing several rides as well as additional side shows and attractions.

Stronger Support Of Democracy Is Urged By Lawton

Rotarians Told Ideologies Of Dark Past Threaten Happiness

"Unless its devotees are kept alert to world conditions and are able to interpret clearly for their ideologies, we may find democracy with its back to the wall," T. W. Lawton, school superintendent, told members of the Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon in the Vador Hotel at noon today.

Mr. Lawton, who is Seminole County chairman of American Week programs for the Congress of Democracy of which State School Superintendent John English is president, spoke on the subject, "Democracy is on the Defensives" in connection with the 1899 jubilee had been either killed or "captured" in "piece-by-piece" fighting.

The Red army, described yesterday as "isolating" the city, reported capturing the city of Kovel, and the capture of 475 Finnish fortifications in three weeks.

The capture of two German navy destroyers was announced by Britain as sea warfare continued to be the bitterest phase of the German-Allied conflict.

Both nations put pressure on neutral powers over the Atlantic incident. Interment of the ship was demanded by Britain who had why Norwegian authorities had not determined there were British prisoners aboard when the ship entered Norwegian waters. Germany accused Norway of failing to provide protection to the Atlantic and asked reparation. Norway's course apparently hinged on whether the Atlantic was a "piece-by-piece" fighting.

It is time to stop laughing at the activities of democracy and to enter more wholeheartedly into the support of its principles," speaker said. "Nazism, Fascism, and Communism were once all principles of government but these principles were made platforms on which ambitious statesmen climbed to the heights of their political ambitions."

The first crucial issue is the proper understanding of the conflict between two principles of government: between monarchy and democracy, tyranny and tolerance, slavery and freedom, the speaker said.

"We thought that this conflict had been satisfactorily settled decades ago only to find that these forms of government which we thought relegated to the dark past have risen from their ashes and are threatening the happiness of the human race," the speaker said.

"To doubt democracy is to doubt humanity," Mr. Lawton quoted a statesman as saying. "We should not allow ourselves to doubt democracy but to admit our failures to practice it in a manner that is conclusive evidence of its effectiveness, and strive under this form of government for the more abundant life which should be the goal of civilization."

Mr. Lawton also announced plans for Democracy Day programs throughout the county and set on George Washington's birthday under the sponsorship of the Congress for Democracy. George E. Rollins presided over the meeting in the absence of President Martin J. Bram.

Visitors to the luncheon were Tom Murray of Boston, G. F. Treshler of Jacksonville, W. H. Mouser of Orlando, D. H. Lees of Warrenton, Va., R. E. Ross of Portsmouth, N. H., William S. Edwards of Johnston, N. Y., W. Raymond Davis of Farmington, Me., and G. M. Luce of Farmington, Me.

British Lose Destroyer As Sub Attacks

Finns Report Wiping Out Russian Division As Reds Claim Advances

English Capture Nazi Merchantmen

Allies-Germany Put Pressure On Norway In Altmark Incident

Finland's warfare coat Britain another destroyer today while the Russians claimed a continuing advance on the Karelian Isthmus, as the Finns reported annihilating 18,000 Reds northeast of Lake Ladoga.

The Finnish high command claimed a "great victory" over the Soviet 18th division trying to encircle the big lake, but made no mention of the Russian declaration that Red troops were making further advances through the Mannerheim line 50 miles away.

Britain's newest naval loss was a destroyer, namely the 25th British naval vessel and sixth destroyer to go down since the war started. The 1,250-ton Daring was torpedoed, and 157 men lost. Germany and the warship were sent to the bottom yesterday.

Today's Finnish communique, reporting 20 Russian planes were downed, said Soviet attacks along the latterly contested Isthmus front had been thrown back from the Finns' "new position." They said Russia's losses there were about 1,000. Further north, the Finns said, the 10th division's 18,000 men had been either killed or "captured" in "piece-by-piece" fighting.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

KEEP CONSCIOUSLY CLOSE TO GOD: Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; so neither can ye, except ye abide in me.—John 15:8.

MIDSUMMER NIGHT

(From The American Mercury) Moon shall stay the mountain for the smoky reaches of the cloud pouring out of it to the south of heaven... —EVA HEARD

Another article on Florida by Oliver Dean appears in the Miami Herald of the Feb. 18 New York Times.

Just because we have had a hot winter, there is no reason to suppose the coming political campaign will not get hot.

With freezing weather one would expect the next Florida election would go well to write the most winter off as had seasons or at least "unusual."

Now that they have already done it for five months, the Germans, according to the news, will carry on unrestricted submarine warfare.

One of the British officers, who was scolded in the fire-control of the cruiser Exeter during the entire engagement with the Graf Spee, referred to his radio broadcast Sunday as "this bomb."

American sympathy and encouragement for the hard-pressed British, who urged his body to greater effort with these words: "Stay there and fight, Wilfred, they ain't hurtin' us."

Germany disavows that she is using Norwegian territorial waters for military purposes. The German navy is still there, and the British prisoners aboard the Altmark were merely "guests" under one of those "straw through joy" cruises.

Now cities in America have been to unusual advantages such as Sanford. Only 18 miles away from the college, there is a big business center, and a big city outside of a few great metropolitan centers.

Nothing has been done so far as when the moment is guarding the small bridge in the middle of the Sanford-Orlando highway known as "death valley." It will probably take a number of months before the public becomes thoroughly aroused and demands action.

While all the controversy rages about appropriations for the navy, and whether or not to have big battleships or bigger cruisers, and how many, and whether to build a fleet, guns, and so on, it should be kept in mind that a war is really fought by the men who are in the line, and the long possibilities begin to appear in the naval victories which are attributed to the men in the line, or the builders.

It is reported that Sen. Charles McNary, Democrat of Oregon, has been named to head the W.P.A. when the new bill is passed. McNary was named some time ago as head of the naval victories which are attributed to the men in the line, or the builders.

The Altmark Incident

Some time ago, those who have been following the course of events in Europe will recall, two British Secret Service agents were captured by the Germans near the border between Germany and Holland. The agents had been operating in Germany. Their identity had been discovered by the Gestapo who pursued them to the Dutch border but had not been able to capture them. The British agents got across the border into a small Dutch town. But the Nazis pursued them across the border, violating Dutch neutrality, killing some, seizing two and taking them back into Germany where they have not been heard from since.

The other day the Germany prison ship Altmark was proceeding down the coast of Norway with over three hundred British prisoners aboard on its way to a German port. Overtaken by British destroyers, the Altmark ducked into Norwegian territorial waters where it was expected that international law and Norwegian neutrality would protect them from British attack. However for once the British failed to recognize the necessities of the situation, and on orders from First Lord of the British Admiralty Churchill himself, they chased the Altmark on the rocks within a few yards of the Norwegian coast, boarded her and forcibly removed the British prisoners.

Now the Nazis are in a perfect dither of excitement. Chancellor Hitler is having one of his best spasms. In fact he has lost his patience not only with Britain but also with Norway. The British have resorted to an act of piracy! Norway has violated international law by permitting such a villainous act within her territorial waters! The League of Nations (the very League which Hitler kicked in the pants) has been appealed to! It must expel Britain from the assembly of civilized nations! The decent people of the whole world must be shocked at this murder on the high seas!

Hitler, the butcher, talks of international law. He marches his troops into little Austria and Czechoslovakia and takes possession of free and independent nations, but when Britain rescues British prisoners off the coast of Norway she violates international law! Hitler, the killer, slaughters innocent women and children in bombing raids on Poland, a friendly neighboring state, but when Britain kills a few German sailors guarding British prisoners, that's an act of piracy, murder on the high seas! Hitler, the beast of Berlin, orders unrestricted submarine warfare, sinks 47 unarmed neutral Norwegian ships, but when a British destroyer invades Norwegian waters for a few minutes, Norwegian neutrality has been violated!

Well, for once, Hitler has been given a dose of his own medicine and he doesn't like it. In fact, he is about to have apoplexy and no one on this side of the Atlantic will be sorry if he does. The British apparently have finally learned that the only way to deal with a bully is to be tough yourself. They have been standing on international law for years and it didn't get them anywhere. Now they have shown that they know the other way of doing business too. They did a mighty good job of roughing up the Altmark crew and guards and rescuing the British prisoners. More power to them.

As for Norway one can but sympathize for her in her present plight. She is indeed between the devil and the deep blue sea. There isn't any doubt in our mind that she lost British prisoners were aboard the Altmark. She let the ship pass only because she was more afraid of Germany than she was of Britain. She couldn't, in other words, protect her own neutrality against Germany. What Britain did was to help her protect it. This incident may have a stimulating effect on other neutrals who have thought that all they had to do was to placate Germany.

Gone With The Wind Pays

The opinion of most of those who have seen Gone With The Wind seems to be that it is one of the best, if not the best movie ever thrown on the silver screen. This general opinion also seems to be in for a good backing by box office records. We doubt if there has ever been any picture which attracted so much popular attention in its first appearances.

Originally scheduled for one week in Orlando, it was shown to full houses and then held over for another week, and finally for most of a third week. In Miami more than a hundred thousand persons were said to have seen the picture. In Tampa it is now in its third week and has broken all attendance records, even exceeding the unprecedented high reached by Snow White.

It is now playing in 156 theaters in 150 cities throughout the United States. In its first eight weeks, it has grossed $5,567,000, or sufficient to place Producer Selznick definitely out of the red. With prices ranging up to $2.20 a seat, it has broken box records almost everywhere. In its first year and a half it is now expected to gross over $20,000,000 providing a handsome profit for those who took the chance.

The Birth of A Nation, previous biggest hit, grossed $15,000,000, not in a year and a half, but in the years since it was first shown. The Big Parade and Ben Hur grossed $10,000,000 each. Snow White, most popular recent picture, has brought $8,000,000 into the box office. It seems more than likely that Gone With The Wind will set a new record for movie producers of the future to shoot at.

Rain Falls To Stop Address Of Mrs. Roosevelt

Mrs. Roosevelt flew to Tallahassee late Saturday, made an address on "Citizenship" attended a dinner, and headed toward Daytona Beach.

An airplane carried her to Tallahassee from Jacksonville in one hour and eight minutes, and she gave a demonstration of how to get things done in the three hours that followed.

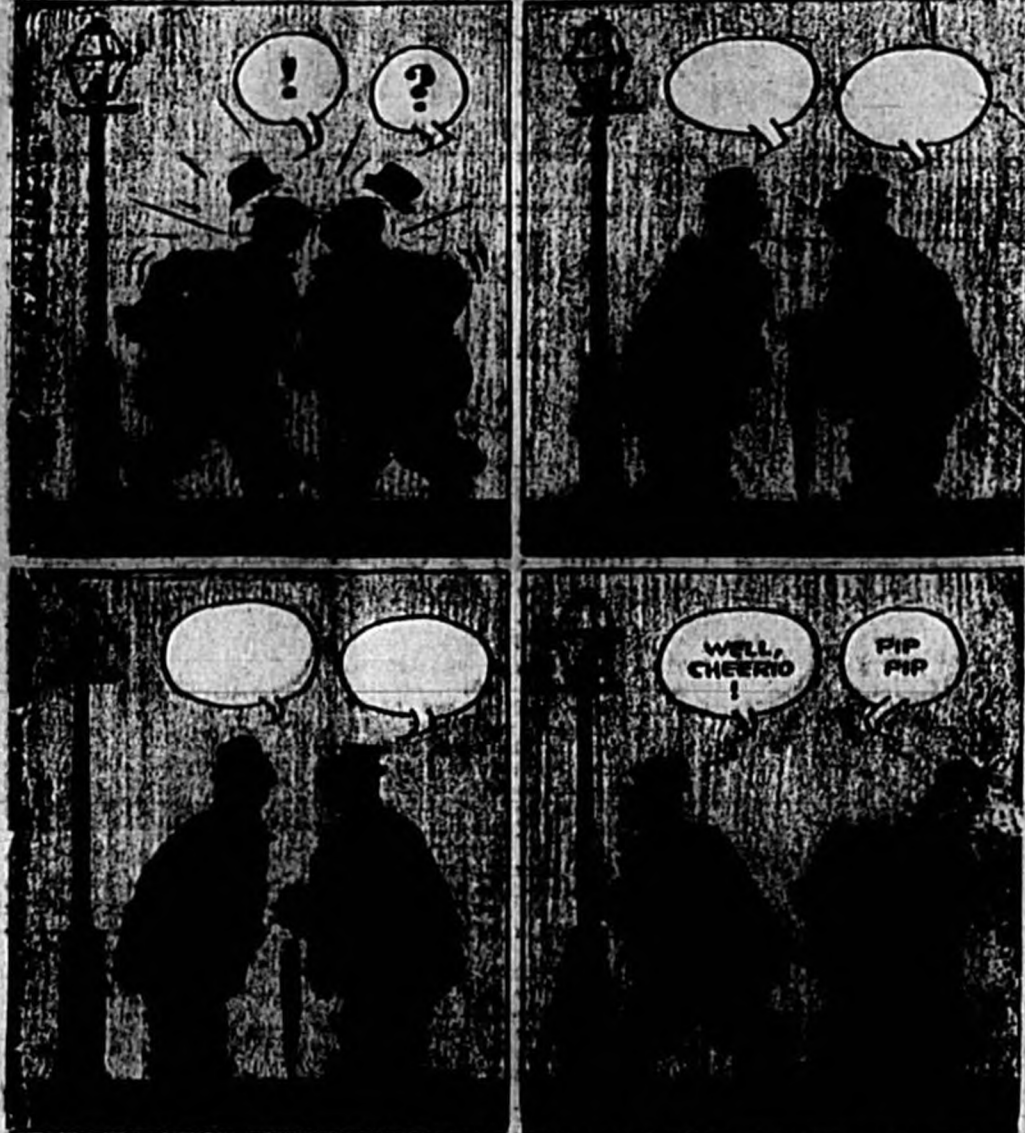

by car for Jacksonville. State highway patrolman escorted her on the 175-mile trip.

"Citizenship" was given first answers to problems," Mrs. Roosevelt said to a crowded audience at the Florida State college auditorium.

"We in this country have perhaps the greatest responsibility of any country in the world because we stand at the crossroads of the world, either to set an example of peace, or to set an example of war, and every thing they do is conditioned by ours, which is not conducive to growth nor the solving of problems."

"I hope very much that we will have a Nation able to go on trying to solve its problems in peace. Problems are being in handling situations involving education, health, working conditions, housing and recreation."

Debt Moratorium Is Impossible, Hendricks Says

(Continued From Page One) The letter is as follows: "I am in receipt of your letter and also the resolutions passed by the Seminole County Disaster Committee and wish to discuss the two divisions of the resolution separately. "I note that part of it is concerned with the question of a general moratorium and that your resolution declares that a general moratorium is desirable. I must be perfectly frank and say that, however desirable a general moratorium may be, that it is impossible. I have discussed a general moratorium with the leaders of the House and have been perfectly willing to introduce a bill for such a purpose if we could get any consideration but I have been informed that a general moratorium would be followed by a request for cancellation of the Federal Land Bank and the Production Credit Corporation and in fact all agencies concerned with the authority to extend the loan and interest under these various divisions and to re-amortize the loans if necessary. In fact, while the provision is not a general moratorium, its effects can be the same. "I have not only written to Mr. Julian Scarborough of the Federal Land Bank but have discussed this matter with him personally and have also discussed it with the Farm Credit Administration here personally and they have given me every positive assurance that when the case justified extension and where it is impossible for those who have borrowed money to pay out that they will extend these loans and assist in any way possible. Of course, there are many, as you say, on the borderline who can barely squeeze through and pay, but as long as a man is in debt and can possibly squeeze through he should do so. The day of reckoning will come sooner or later and I, myself, if I were a debtor, would prefer to pay as long as it was within my power. "In conclusion let me say this: that I was interested enough in the welfare of my friends to go to a great deal of trouble to help them in this grave crisis. I came to the state and saw for myself a portion of the damage, I am still willing to go to every length to help any of my friends in the Federal Land Bank or the Farm Credit Administration and they fall to give him relief, he will submit the facts to me I will see that they are properly presented to the agency involved and in the case justified an extension or re-amortization you can rest assured that I will fight to get it. Please inform every individual citizen of this promise."

British Lose Destroyer As Sub Attacks

(Continued From Page One) capture of two German steamers by British warships was announced Sunday and three neutral vessels and a French tanker were reported sunk. A fourth neutral ship was reported to be stranded on a rock off the Cape Verde archipelago. The British warships captured the Boreas, a 2,440-ton vessel and the Ourea, 1927 tons, of Hamburg. The Ourea was reported seized as it was dashing home from Spain with a cargo of manganese ore. Members of the crew did not attempt to scuttle the vessel. A Berlin dispatch said the French tanker Emile Miguet, 1,438 tons, had been sunk, but details were not given. The liner President Harding, responding to an SOS on Oct. 13, 1939, said it found the French tanker Emile Miguet, 14,115 tons, afloat and sinking 300 miles off Ireland, with no trace of its crew. The Dutch steamer, Ameland, struck a mine Sunday and sank near Schouwenbank, The Netherlands, in the North Sea, its crew, including several injured, was rescued by the Royal Dutch liner Montferland. The 4,537-ton vessel was owned by the Rotterdam Steamship Company. Captain Christianson told how his ship, the Liana, 1,646 tons, and another Swedish steamer, the Osmen, 1,525 tons, were sunk almost simultaneously Friday morning by the same U-boat. Both ships broke in half, the Liana sinking in one and one-quarter minutes and the Osmen in less than that, Christianson said.

Women's 'Build-Up'

Women's headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain may be symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, so often relieved by CARDUI. Principal way it helps is by increasing appetite, stimulating flow of gastric juices and so improving digestion and helping to build physical resistance. Another way you may find CARDUI helpful in reducing periodic distress: Take it a few days before and during "the time." Used for 50 years.—Adv.
