'Lady Luck' Was Riding With Auto-Train During Fiery Collision And Derailment

By F. T. MACFEELEY
Associated Press Writer

HORTENSE, Ga. (AP)—Luck rode an auto-train that piled up like an accordion in a fiery crash with a log truck Tuesday in the center of this Southeast Georgia community.

All 318 passengers and crew members escaped death. Only four were hurt seriously enough to be admitted to area hospitals.

The truck driver, Raymond Charles Wilson, 20, of Hazlehurst, Ga., died in the wreckage.

"The engine crew was very fortunate," said Henry Pigge, assistant superintendent of the Waycross Division of Seaboard Coast Line railroad. "The lead locomotive went off the tracks and sat down right side up. They weren't even scratched."

The second diesel unit, which was unpowered, broke into flames that spread to the first of 14 cars carrying 108 autos belonging to passengers.

All of the auto carrying cars twisted into a grotesque pattern crosswise of the SCL track. Some autos spilled into swampy ditches and adjoining pinewoods.

One of the train's domed coaches, a buffet, turned on its side. Auto-train hostess Ursula Schneider of Arlington, Va., said "it rolled over like in slow motion."

"You couldn't believe those old people climbing over refrigerators, cabinets and windows to get out the end of the car," said Sherry Grillo of Arlington, another hostess on the train that shuttles motorists and their machines 360 miles from Washington, D.C. to Sanford, Fla.

Floridian Train To Conclude

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Federal Railroad Administration report to the Congress is expected to recommend elimination of the Chicago-Miami Floridian train, informed sources said Tuesday.

The dropping of the Floridian is among cutbacks proposed for the National Railroad Passenger Corp. to be made public Thursday or Friday, sources said.

During the first 11 months of last year, the most recent period for which statistics are available, Amtrak's Chicago-Miami Floridian lost $1 million on revenues of $2.3 million.

The train lost almost $1.3 million southbound and $2 million northbound.

Elimination of the train would deprive cities such as Nashville, Tenn., Louisville, Ky., and Birmingham and Montgomery, Ala., of Amtrak service. It would also require travelers from Chicago to go through Richmond, Va., to reach Florida.

Headmaster Calls For Full Jury Trial

ORANGE CITY, Fla. (AP)—The headmaster of the Green Valley School has demanded "a full-blown hearing with a jury" to look into charges of depraved violence and sex at the home for problem children.

"We feel we are going to win this case on the merits of the school," said Ronald E. Nowicki, reading from a prepared statement at a news conference Tuesday.

He said he was ready with a lengthy list of witnesses "who will testify in our behalf and as to the quality of the program," including parents, who reportedly pay up to $45 a day tuition at the school.

Nowicki's statement came five days after State Atty. Stephen Boyles filed suit asking that the private school be closed down as "a place of lewdness" and its 78 pupils be declared wards of the court.

The suit alleged operators of the school condone sexual relations between students, require girls to take birth control pills, allow boys and girls to swim together in the nude and place pornographic literature in the school's library.

Boyles said students are also subjected to cruel and depraved punishment, including being chained and shackled, locked for days in an enclosure known as "the bomb shelter" and poked with an electric cattle prod called the "bull shocker."

Nowicki, 31, refused to answer questions at the news conference, saying "we've decided not to try our case in the press... as Mr. Boyles has done."

Elderly Mass Transit Plan Has Green Light

BY ANN SIECZKOWSKI

Facing a Friday deadline, Seminole County commissioners Tuesday heard a report of the Orange-Seminole-Osceola Transportation Authority study for Elderly Transportation solutions, and agreed to participate in three routes.

According to County Planner Roger Neuwander, the elderly transit demonstration grant project provides for a federal-state grant to cover the cost of buses, facilities, operations, maintenance and monitoring.

The project participation ratio is two-thirds Federal, one-sixth State Department of Transportation and one-sixth local.

Since the federal-state share of the grant applies to all phases of the project, any subsidy necessary to maintain the bus system is an eligible cost under the matching grant.

Total service provided would be within the Sanford-south county area, which the board felt was not a justifiable expense at this time since there was no confirmation that residents in Sanford would use the system to go to south Seminole, nor that those residents in South Seminole would use the service to travel to the Sanford area.

Selected however, as part of the total service and approved by the Board was an east-west route connecting Oviedo and Forest City via SE 136, giving access to shopping and medical facilities and the Mailand extension via Oxford Road, giving a connection to the Orlando system as well as service to the elderly of St. Johns Village.

A connection will be made to the east-west route at the Seminole Plaza Shopping Center.

Approved also was the Sanford route which would include the area between Bookertown and Midway.

The cost to Seminole County will be $37,311.

It is anticipated that upon termination of the project the buses and equipment will be sold to the authority. The anticipated duration of this grant will be 24 months for preliminary studies, routing and equipment acquisition, followed by 13 months of actual operation. Neuwander said during the operational period routes may require adjustment.

The basic factor used in proposing routes was to provide accessibility to the elderly population.

Service is keyed to the elderly population but other persons will not be excluded from using the system.

Priest Shot To Death; Will Name Orphan

PORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—A Roman Catholic priest found shot to death in a ditch has left half his estate to a 10-year-old black boy he had tried unsuccessfully to adopt.

Police said the Rev. Joseph Norman Hardy, 56, of Lehigh Acres, Fla., was shot twice in the head and neck. His body was found early Tuesday near his blood-spattered car.

The Rev. Thomas Anglin, dean of the southern deanery of the Diocese of St. Petersburg said Father Hardy was a very "compassionate and sympathetic man."

"He was always sympathetic and helpful especially to migrants or black people — people who were kind of down in life. It was his project in life," Father Anglin said.

Father Anglin said that in his will Father Hardy left half his estate to Patrick Jerome Robinson of Palmetto.

Shevin Issues Warning

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—City Gen. Robert Shevin today threatened to take state and local officials to court if they refuse to throw open public records for examination by citizens.

"During the past few months I have noted with increasing concern the number of complaints which this office receives from representatives of the news media and from private citizens concerning denial of access to public records," Shevin said in a memorandum to all state and local government agencies.

Shevin issued the warning after releasing an opinion saying personnel files of civil service employes may not be maintained under two separate headings—one open for public inspection and the other containing investigative reports closed to the public.

Sen. Henry B. Saylor, R-St. Petersburg, requested the opinion.

The attorney general stressed in his memo that "all state, county and municipal records shall at all times be open for a personal inspection of any citizen and those in charge of such records shall not refuse this privilege to any citizen."

Shevin noted that the public records law provides for removal of office for employes and officials who violate the statute and criminal penalties of up to 90 days in jail and a $500 fine.

While some new organizations were filing suit against officials who they contend are violating the law, the attorney general said private citizens often cannot afford the court costs involved.

Cadets Program Rescued By Polk

BY GARY TAYLOR

The cadet program for a seven-county district which includes Seminole has been saved after Seminole County Sheriff John Polk and Kissimmee Police Chief Don Adams appeared before the Governor's Council on Criminal Justice in Tallahassee and convinced them to restore $170,000 in funds to make the program possible.

The council staff had appropriated the money for other causes, but now the program will be maintained on the same level as in the past. The sheriff's department and all municipality police departments in the county use cadets, mostly in radio and complaint desk positions.

Polk revealed Monday that he was also assured that the Sheriff's Crime Lab will receive its "fair share" this year. The lab, located at the Sanford Airport, is now offering a wider variety of services than ever before, and serves 21 counties.

Polk is now organizing plans to seek about $100,000 in federal money for Seminole County, after it was learned Monday that $1,007,000 offered by the federal government to boost bacteria-killing agents in the water. Saslaw said he would make recommendations to city officials on how to avoid a similar water problem in the future.

Polk also plans to meet with the police chiefs of county municipalities to work up a plan to apply for $25,000 in planning funds. The money would allow a professional consulting firm to run an in-depth study of the local sheriff's department, and advise changes that would better the department. Similar studies would be run on each municipality's police department.

A federal grant of $3,000 is going to make the new central communications center possible. Polk said $20,000 has already been distributed to the Sanford Police Department and $7,000 to the Casselberry Police Department.

Shipment date on 70 new mobile radio units, the first equipment for the new system ordered, is set for March 24.

A federal grant of $3,000 also arrived at the sheriff's department last week, and must be used to purchase specialized equipment. Polk said the money would be spent on the latest surveillance equipment.

Only specifications for the grants are that

Zone Regulation Ordered

Altamonte Gives 'Devonshire' First Okay

By MARION BETHEA

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS—A new $30 million community to be known as "Devonshire" which will be erected on the back nine holes of the Valley Forge Country Club, was approved by city council Tuesday contingent upon preparing an annexation ordinance.

Myers balked at the excess over the eight units claim had been requesting of developers.

Drage said the development will feature three residential groupings: patio and cluster homes in two sections, and a 4-1/2 story high-rise apartment complex in another section.

Recreational facilities will be provided such as golf, tennis, swimming, etc., and half of the 61.5 acres of the development will be designated as open space.

Owner of the property, Weber Haines, told council the development was not the conventional apartment type, that each unit will be privately owned, and each cluster will be a living unit within itself.

Drage, in requesting the annexation, said he had not approached the county in which the area is currently zoned R-1AA, but "I could easily sell the county (on annexation of the property), but I'm in love with the way the city of Altamonte operates and the approach it takes."

Drage contended the cluster homes are a futuristic concept, with single family homes becoming "a thing of the past."

Myers also cited a problem with the high density with the impact on roads and schools, but Mayor Lawrence Swafford maintained less children would populate the schools in this type of development than in conventional homes, and that single family homes generate more traffic.

It also was pointed out that the development will be in phases, predicted upon market demand. Following authorization of the preparation of the annexation ordinance, one final condition was imposed—that it be referred to the city Planning and Zoning Board for review and report prior to first reading of the ordinance.

Inspections Halted On 85 Houses

By BOB LLOYD

Sanford city commissioners have lifted a building inspection moratorium that stopped construction on 85 houses in unit two of Washington Oaks subdivision and voted to negotiate a contract with Hallmark Construction Co. requiring installation of satisfactory street drainage in completed 100 home unit one.

S. Joe Davis, attorney for Hallmark, said City Manager Warren Knowles slapped the moratorium on unit two Jan. 29 stopping issuance of building permits and occupancy permits and building inspections.

Davis told commissioners his client faced a "financial disaster" if the moratorium was lengthy.

Hallmark president Gordon Nutt said work on the 85 homes in unit one stopped Feb. 1. Knowles said the January moratorium was instituted "to get their attention" after months of unsuccessfully trying to get action on alleged defects on streets put in by the developer in unit one of the subdivision west of Summerlin Ave. at 20th St.

City commissioners agreed to lift the moratorium only on building inspections and made it clear that the city will issue no certificates of occupancy for the 85 houses in unit two until a contractual agreement is reached with developer on the unit one street problems.

Davis told commissioners the city is using the moratorium as "a lever" and he feels building in unit two isn't related to the unit one street problems.

"We feel we should be allowed to continue construction in unit two and at the same time try to reach an acceptable solution on the unit one streets," Davis said.

"He emphasized there is no threat of a lawsuit by the developer against the city over the moratorium and said, 'This appeal is to take all necessary steps to try and reach an administrative remedy.'"

Knowles said the unit one street problems center on "false side underdrains." He said the drainage installed by the developer "deadends" and within the year since the streets were completed "they have begun failing."

Knowles said the paving contractor claims the streets were built to the developer's specifications and the contractor's bonding company has denied any liability.

"There's been lots of talk but no action by the developer," Knowles said.

Nutt told commissioners, "We've never gotten response from Mr. Knowles to proposals we could work with."

"This (moratorium) goes beyond the point of using a lever and I'm at a loss as what I can do next," Nutt claimed.

"Why did the city accept the streets in unit one if they knew of problems?" he said.

Knowles said during construction of unit one streets in Washington Oaks the paving contractor said the soil wasn't suitable for street construction without drainage but the construction continued.

The city manager said, "We've never seen engineering plans on street drainage for unit one using the moratorium as a lever" and he feels building in unit two isn't related to the unit one street problems.

Davis said engineers are working on plans now and they should be ready in several weeks.

"WOW, it's great to be back in Sanford with old friends!" exclaimed POW Cdr. James ("Duffy") Hutton, a prisoner of war for seven years, four months, who was stationed at Sanford Naval Air Station from 1957 to 1965. ## Grants Due Soon Drain Talk Asked

By BOB LLOYD

Thomas Wilson III, executive director of the Sanford Housing Authority, has requested a conference with city officials to spark interest in a unique and innovative technique for handling drainage and sewage that will qualify Sanford for HUD under-secretary for Community Development.

Wilson said in a recent trip to Washington he learned "block grants" may be available soon through the federal revenue sharing program.

He said he isn't discouraged with the response of U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development officials to his January inquiries for funding drainage and sewage programs in Sanford.

Wilson said Tuesday he hopes to get together with city officials "to come up with some innovative program for drainage to replace Sanford's antiquated drainage system."

"I found in Washington the attitude is Community Development programs are 'out' right now but block grants of up to 80 per cent may be available soon under the federal revenue sharing program."

Wilson said he feels it is possible the city's 20 per cent for a drainage program could come from a capital improvement fund accruing with sewer tap fees being paid by developers.

Wilson feels with engineering work by the city engineer Sanford may be able to create a "pilot program" with enough innovations "to point the way for larger cities" and thus be considered for federal funding under the expected new federal programs.

Sanford Police Det. Karen Reynolds charged two Sanford youths, 14 and 15 years of age, with trespassing after they were found inside a house at 2426 Marshall Ave.

CASSELLBERRY—City Council in continued session this morning awarded contract for $4 million water and sewer revenue bond issue to A. G. Becker and Co., Inc. of New York and Miami. Average net interest cost bid by the company for the 30 year bond issue was 5.5674 per cent. The bonds will be paid by the city at First National Bank at Mainland or First National City Bank New York at the option of the bond holder.

Nixon Asks Death Penalty Restoration

By GAYLORD SHAW

Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon urged Congress today to speedily restore the death penalty for treason, sabotage and espionage and for kidnapping and hijacking resulting in death.

He also asked that stiff new penalties be set for heroin traffickers, that the insanity defense be sharply restricted.

In a message to Congress—the sixth in his series of State of the Union reports—Nixon talked about declaring "the only way to attack crime in America is the way crime attacks our people—without pity."

He said his proposed death penalty statute was carefully written to overcome a Supreme Court decision last June ruling capital punishment unconstitutional.

Nixon said the court's 5-4 decision hinged on a finding that the death penalty was unconstitutional "only insofar as it is applied arbitrarily and capriciously."

"I believe the best way to accommodate the reservations of the court is to authorize the automatic imposition of the death penalty where it is warranted," he said.

His proposal sets its procedure. After conviction on a capital offense, a hearing would be held to determine if there were "aggravating factors or mitigating factors."

If a jury finds there are mitigating factors—such as "the youth of the defendant" or "the defendant's mental capacity"—the death sentence is prohibited. But if the jury finds there are aggravating factors—including "the creation of a grave risk of danger to the national security or to the life of another person, or the killing of another person—imposition of the death penalty by the judge would be mandatory" if no mitigating factors exist.

"I do not contend that the death penalty is a panacea that will cure crime," Nixon said. But he added that capital punishment "can be a valuable deterrent."

Along with the death penalty statute, Nixon asked for immediate congressional approval to slam shut what he called "an escape hatch for those who are responsible for the menace of drugs."

That escape hatch, he said, is the present set of federal laws allowing laxity in sentencing of heroin and morphine traffickers.

He also told Congress he opposed the legalization of the possession, sale or use of marijuana.

108 POWs Landing At Philippines Base

By JOHN BREWER

Associated Press Writer CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (AP)—The fourth release of American prisoners of war began today with the freeing of 107 military men and one civilian by the North Vietnamese.

The first of three big Air Force C-141 flying hospital lander 40 POWs at Clark Air Base at 5:08 p.m. 4:08 a.m. EST—about 15 minutes earlier than expected after the 900-mile flight from Hanoi.

Two more C-141s picked up the other 68 men.

"I believe the best way to accommodate the reservations of the court is to authorize the automatic imposition of the death penalty where it is warranted," he said.

His proposal sets its procedure. After conviction on a capital offense, a hearing would be held to determine if there were "aggravating factors or mitigating factors."

McCaig, whose wife lives in Orange Park, Fla., was given one of the loudest cheers when he emerged from the plane. He saluted the colors smartly, then walked smiling down the ramp to salute and shake hands with the welcoming officers. They included Adm. Noel Gayler, who succeeded McCaig's father as chief of the Pacific command.

McCaig limped heavily on his right leg, but he told a newsman he was "fine."

McCaig and several other men reported that the morale of the POWs remaining in North Vietnam was high and they were looking forward to their release. North Vietnam has said it will release all the Americans before March 23, the deadline set by the Vietnam cease-fire agreement.

Aboard the third plane was the only civilian in the group, Bobby Joe Keese, who deserted from the Army in 1962, took a role plane to Cuba, served two years in an Arizona penitentiary and in 1970 forced a pilot to fly him to North Vietnam.

I would like to particularly acknowledge the courage and integrity of our President. We know that he must have been faced with many difficult decisions and circumstances such as the bombings of Hanoi. He held our support and our prayers every day.

From the bottom of our hearts, I want to thank God, the United States of America and all you wonderful, good-looking people." The crowd responded with cheers, whistles and applause.

Aboard the second flight were Air Force Col. John P. Flynn, 50, the senior POW, and Lt. Cmdr. John S. McCain III, 36-year-old son of the commander of U.S. forces in the Pacific in 1968-72.

Flynn, speaking for the 40 men on his plane, gave thanks for their release and also praised the morale of the POWs during their captivity.

"I would like to state simply that as a group we have been privileged to serve our country under very difficult circumstances," he said. "And I would also like to thank our President, the services, the people of the United States for their support in efforts, in lives which were expended in our behalf in The Lord's Prayer."

Long Struggle Ahead

Dollar's Troubles Began After WWII

Editor's Note: This is the first of two articles on problems facing the U.S. dollar and efforts being made to protect its integrity.

The troubles of the American dollar in the international marketplace is a reflection of the problems which originated with the end of World War II.

It will be difficult to reverse the trends set in motion during the last 25 years until there is a greater recognition of the real causes of the present crisis. The struggle to protect the integrity of the dollar will be long and difficult under the best of circumstances.

Devaluation of the dollar in terms of gold prices has only a limited value insofar as improving our trade position is concerned.

Any foreign country, fearful of losing its export business, may retaliate by making a similar adjustment in the value of its own currency. This would neutralize whatever temporary advantage the United States may gain from the 10 per cent devaluation announced on Feb. 12.

A permanent solution to the "dollar crisis" will have to come from other efforts. The first order of business should be an improvement in America's competitive position in world markets. This will have to be followed by a more intense effort to control inflation and improve productivity. We may find, too, that foreign aid programs will have to be curtailed for the duration of the monetary crisis.

Little is being said about the domestic adjustments which will have to be made to solve the balance of payments problem. In the past, government has taken the position that the United States should not pursue conservative monetary and fiscal policies at home merely to maintain the value or acceptability of the dollar abroad.

But under present and future conditions, it is probable that the United States will have no choice.

Millage Wins 2-1

Although less than 15 per cent of our 44,961 registered voters turned out Tuesday to support retaining the 4 mills for our schools, it was enough. We applaud those in the community who showed the fortitude to exercise their right to vote, both advocates and opponents.

However, we are dismayed with the poor turnout, especially for such an important issue. Hopefully, this trend is not indicative of future elections.

The "run on the dollar" in Europe recently was not triggered by the termination of Phase II price controls or by any other current event. Rather, the position of the dollar abroad has been deteriorating for a very long time. Moreover, conditions appeared to be growing worse rather than better. The panic stemmed from:

1. A record-breaking trade deficit of $6.4 billion in 1972. This followed a deficit of $2 billion in 1971 when the United States suffered its first such deficit since 1885.

2. The balance of payments deficit for 1972 is estimated at $8.5 billion on current account and long-term capital, following a deficit of $10 billion in 1971. (The 1971 deficit on official reserve transactions amounted to $30 billion.)

3. Monetary and fiscal policies in the United States during recent years offer little evidence that government is prepared to give a high priority to the control of inflation.

During the last 15 years, federal expenditures have increased 212 per cent. During the period 1965-1970 spending rose 66 per cent. The Office of Management and Budget now estimates that the total deficit for the last four fiscal years ending June 30, 1973, will amount to $73.9 billion.

Reserve assets of the U.S. government in the form of Treasury gold stocks totaled in excess of $24 billion at the end of World War II. The greatest threat to international economic stability was the so-called "dollar shortage." Neither Western Europe, Japan nor the developing countries held the dollars required to finance the imports that would be required from the United States during the early postwar years.

Everyone Talks

Food Price Curbs Too Slow An Act

The rise in food prices is one of the most critical problems facing the United States of America, but recent dialogue on the subject in Washington unfortunately has taken a comic opera turn.

There was, for example, the wild thrust by Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz the other day. Mr. Butz insisted even before the figures were published that the press would distort figures showing an unusually high rise in the price of food during January by multiplying the monthly figure by 12 to get an inordinately high annual total. Under pressure, Washington spokesmen were forced to admit ruefully the following day that they themselves sometimes extrapolate figures they consider favorable for 12-month totals.

In much the same category as Mr. Butz outburst was the Marie Antoinette-like suggestion by Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur Burns that if housewives are outraged about the high prices of meat "let them eat cheese" one day a week. It might save a little on the food budget, but eating cheese is hardly the cure for inflation at the marketplace. On still another front George Meier, president of the AFL-CIO, advocated strict government controls of food prices, down to raw agricultural products. Ironically, labor opposes wage and price controls generally — and the history of controls on food products is one of black marketing and profiteering before any controls are put in place. What the house wife pays at the marketplace has a direct relationship to the success or failure of Phase III economic controls, the size of the wage contracts that will be negotiated by more than 4 million American workers in 1973 — and perhaps even on our relations with the Soviet Union.

and Communist China whose purchases of American food have an effect on its prices. The Administration has taken some positive steps to curb rising grocery prices. It has eliminated export subsidies, permitted more imports of meat and released idled land for farming. Unfortunately, these measures take time to become effective. On a longer range scale, the Administration also is on solid ground. It is moving to reduce the federal tinkering with the economics of farming and food prices through such things as withdrawing from the direct subsidy and land management programs, and by refusing to spend money on outdated farm agencies and functions. If the President succeeds in these efforts, the United States will have taken a large step toward more competition in the marketplace — the surest formula known for maintaining quality and lowering prices.

If the housewife wants to give the Administration support, after she complains to her local store about the price of food, she might write to her congressmen, suggesting that she is fed up with paying twice for the high price of food — once at the grocery counter and again when she pays taxes for farm subsidies.

Confusing Actions

Paris Peace Talks Uphold 'Cong

The 13-power conference that ended in Paris recently was supposed to concentrate peace in Vietnam and Laos. But it merely concerned the Viet Cong's claim to be a contender to rule South Vietnam, in the opinion of many diplomatic observers.

Hope budied for padding out peace when Hanoi suggested that U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim attend the parley. Then Hanoi and the Viet Cong refused to let his staff sit with diplomats drafting the Paris "pact."

They did not want the United Nations to have any authority for prosecuting true violations, diplomats concluded.

Why invite him, then confine him to the role of observer? Apparently so that the United Nations would observe the Viet Cong deliberating with 11 governments, which inflated its claim to being a government itself.

Waldheim proposed accepting a Viet Cong liaison delegation to U.N. headquarters in New York, which angered Secretary of State William Rogers. That would put the Viet Cong on equal footing with Saigon in U.N. protocol.

"The Paris parley really is like introducing fiancés at a family gathering," confided a Viet Cong delegate. "That gives more weight to the wedding."

Yet the Viet Cong showed little desire to make the wedding stick. Communist delegations thwarted efforts by Canada, Saigon and the United States to set up international machinery to stop true violations in South Vietnam.

The conference was not so much an occasion for reconciliation between the Viet Cong and Saigon, as an opportunity to gain recognition as Saigon's rival.

The Viet Cong was the bride-to-be who was introduced, but Saigon was not the groom it desired. Hanoi was.

At one point, ministers of the United States, Hanoi, Saigon and the Viet Cong met to see if Hanoi was going to break up the conference by suspending the return of U.S. prisoners. The first concern of the Communists at this crucial stage was to call in photographers.

This was to show the Vietnamese people that the Viet Cong's foreign minister was conferring on a par with Washington's.

So Saigon's foreign minister delayed the consultation an hour until workers had set up a round table flanked by two small tables. That was so photos would show two sides conferring instead of four equal delegations.

Don't Stay Long

We Could Throw Overboard . . .

By HAL BOYLE NEW YORK (AP)—Some things we could do without:

- People who tell you they're sorry for what they did — when they really aren't sorry at all but secretly glad.
Telephones that get you three wrong numbers for one right one.
Welcome mats that say on them: "Please don't stay long."
The noisy kidder in every group that tours a wax museum. Why do you need a life of the party on a trip like that?
A late flu in March that keeps you from smelling the early spring flowers.
Funerals without music, sorrows too dry for tears.

- Winning a Shetland pony in a church lottery when you're 62 years old.
Having five teen-agers in a large family at the same time — four of them with acne and the fifth with a personality problem.
A hospital nurse who's had the same ailment you're suffering and doesn't remember she felt so bad with it as you claim you do.
Looking under the bed with a hangover for the socks you kicked there so blithely the night before.
Being picked up as a child by the robust aunt who shakes you under your bones rattle and then won't set you back down without giving you a farewell kiss like a dehydrated vacuum cleaner.
Two-faced people who look as bad wearing one face as the other.
Days that seem like Monday when they are actually Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.
People who say after a cloudburst: "Well, it is dry enough out for you!"
People who say during a long drought: "Well, if it don't rain soon it'll get worse for you!"
People who refer to God by such terms as "the Guy upstairs."
People who think you're a racial bigot just because you're a blacker than you are "a black." Does it make you more of a liberal to say, "She's a black," instead of, "She's a colored lady?"

Trade Rivalries Pinch Have-Nots

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Out front, the world's trade dilemma centers on the super-producers: the United States, Japan, and an increasingly cohesive Western Europe. Backstage, the underdeveloped lands are proving to be the keenest sufferers from the rich-nation rivalry.

In the past two decades, their share of world trade has declined from one-third of the total to one-fifth, and their plight is getting worse. It is their exports which most feel the squeeze as the wealthier countries maintain or heighten protectionist barriers in their own competitive struggle.

Some 75 per cent of their foreign exchange is earned by exports, yet prices for these (usually raw materials or low-technology goods) have dropped even as the prices of the things they import have risen.

We are talking, of course, about the impoverished lands of Latin America like Colombia, Ecuador and Peru; nearly the whole of Africa, and much of Asia, including huge India, but also such nations as Taiwan and South Korea which have showed modest promise in low-technology industries.

I have written often of trade experts' judgment that the great gap between the rich and the poor nations is never going to narrow substantially. The advanced countries, with their high-technology and their sophisticated work force and their pools of capital will go on the upward move as the less developed places fight for betterment.

Plagued with excessive population growth, some of these lands are unable to import food and raw materials prices by building labor-intensive industries like textile and shoe manufacture.

As indicated, Taiwan and South Korea are among those which had a certain success. But moves like America's 1971 textile quota system, advanced to meet competition mainly from Japan, struck hard at these lesser countries, which have been selling increased amounts of low-technology products to Japan itself.

It is daunting, on the underdeveloped nations that they are not going to close the wealth gap with the big fellows. But they want at least to lift themselves above the poverty line, and the new wave of protectionism threatens to become a countervailing force.

Unemployment in some of the underdeveloped areas runs as high as 30 to 40 per cent. Where the "green revolution" — introducing farm technology — has had any results, it has created new pools of rural unemployed who stream to the cities and magnify urban problems.

Where agricultural techniques still have not advanced much, crop output is actually in import food as well as among consumer goods and the machinery counted on to plug them hopefully into industry.

The stiff restrictions of the European Common Market, outlined now by the strongly self-protective British bloc badly. But they see as an even bigger threat such measures as the pending Burke-Hartke protection bill in the U.S. Congress.

One Man's Opinion

Indians Must Look Ahead, Not Back

By DON OAKLEY

"We are the original owners of this land," said Russell Means, a leader of AIM, the American Indian Movement, at the second battle of Wounded Knee, S. D.

For 400 years we have been trying to obtain justice from the white Indians, demonstrating in front of the United Nations in New York.

This is good oratory. It may be good psychology. But it is not realism, and it is not the truth.

No one alive today is going to do with the injustices done the red man in the settlement of this continent, any more than anyone alive today had anything to do with the sin of slavery against the black man.

What is true is simply that a lot of whatever color or ancestral origin, are the common heirs of history, a history we had no part in making. Nothing that has gone before can be recalled or undone. If the past lies like a heavy burden, the only escape is by looking to the future.

Let the Indians speak to us as fellow Americans, which they are, with certain grievances and needs and dreams as Americans—not as aliens who would attempt to recapture something that is as irrevocably lost as the last long-dead campfire on Manhattan.

Libbers, Beware of Success

Even after they win the battle for equality under the law, women's lib leaders may face a bigger battle in convincing women to take advantage of it.

A study of student dropouts from the University of Texas, for example, found that while male students often leave college out of fear of failure, female students often drop out because of fear of success.

Judith E. Albino, who presented the study at the recent annual meeting of the American Educational Research Assn., suggests that many women apparently believe that academic success interferes with "attainment of the feminine role."

How much this attitude carries over into the business world is a good question. But at least one company has decided that lip service to equal opportunity is not enough.

Women have the same rights, pay, prerogatives and opportunities for advancement as do men, according to a "manifesto" issued by Arthur R. Taylor, the new 37-year-old president of the Columbia Broadcasting System. But implementation of the policy requires "the fullest measure of attention and determination," he says.

Such training programs to qualify for advancement are being made available within the company and outside it. A supervisory management course, which prepares employees for higher positions, is being expanded. A Career Inventory System will provide management with a record of every employee's qualifications, regardless of sex.

Already, there are more than 1,100 women with the company in executive, professional, technical, sales and craft positions, out of a total of 2,100 employees. In 1964, women represented 10 per cent of the CBS professional staff. At the beginning of this year it was 23 per cent.

Retarded, Elderly 'Can't Go Home'

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A state mental health official says Florida can't comply with an order to release 1,100 elderly and retarded patients from Chatahoochee State Hospital because "many simply have no place to go."

Robert Furlough, administrator for special programs for the Division of Mental Health, said many patients are in the mental hospital only because their relatives didn't want them around.

"To be truthful, many families are not exactly jumping with joy to learn that their relatives will be released from the hospital," said Furlough.

State hearing officer Jon Caminez said Tuesday he will order 800 geriatric patients and 300 retarded patients who are not mentally ill released from Chatahoochee within one year.

"In one week I toured, I found old people just sitting around looking at television with blank stares on their faces," said Caminez. "There was no one to talk to."

Caminez was appointed under the Baker Act, which gives patients involuntarily committed to state hospitals a right to a hearing for possible release within a year.

Furlough said the Baker Act, passed by the 1972 Legislature, also ended the practice whereby families could have persons committed by signing the necessary petitions and going before a county judge.

"We got quite a number of old folks that way. We got the court order and just had to take them, even though they had no mental illness and obviously didn't belong," said the mental health official.

"We still have these people and we've given them excellent care from a medical standpoint. But if we are ordered to release these patients, there is just no place for them to go. We can't dump them out on the street."

He said the one-year limit mentioned by Caminez would not be enough to place all 1,100 in other homes "even under the best of conditions."

However, Caminez said the time limit would be extended if necessary. He also said he may recommend legislation requiring families to take care of elderly relatives.

Cancer Danger Seen

Dr. Cites Nuclear Haste

By KEN GEPPERT TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A physician has warned that haste in building nuclear power plants could result in accidents or thefts with "catastrophic" consequences.

Dr. Thomas Cochran told the governor's Energy Commission Tuesday a 10 per cent leak of volatile fission products from a 400 megawatt reactor could plague the population in a 60-mile radius and cause up to 10,000 cases of cancer.

Cochran, a consultant with Resources for the Future of Washington, D.C., said the Atomic Energy Commission's review of nuclear power plant construction requests has been "less than satisfactory" in regard to safety.

But AEC Commissioner William O. Bush, also in Tallahassee to address the governor's conference, dismissed Cochran's warning as "unrealistic" and said a catastrophe was highly unlikely.

The 32-year-old Vanderbilt graduate, Cochran admitted the only research on the probability of a serious nuclear accident showed only one chance in 100 trillion of a created nuclear plant construction is trucking more than 50 million kilograms of plutonium across the country during the next 50 years, he said.

Sanford Council Actions

By BOB LLOYD

Sanford city commissioners voted to draw an ordinance amending the majority of nearly 300 acres, north and south of S-46A at the city's western limits.

Included in the ordinance, which will be ready for first reading in two weeks, is the city-owned Mayfair Country Club and golf course, main water plant and Cleveland-Trook groves south of the golf course.

Also included is a 14-acre tract adjacent to the golf course on the north side of S-46A that is slated for development with 12 townhouses by Bud Merrill and A.J. Thomas and two tracts owned by A. K. Shoemaker Jr. north of S-46A on the east and west sides of Upsala Road.

Commissioners directed that the proposed annexation area the Upsala Presbyterian Church, Ivyville Elementary School and two tracts owned by Shoemaker.

Temporary Parking

Commissioners agreed to "temporary" give the county 18 parking spaces on the west side of the city-owned public parking lot between Hood and Palmetto Aves. on the lakefront.

Terming downtown Sanford parking "critical," County Commissioner Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr. appealed for the spaces for the Sheriff's office and other county departments on a semi-permanent basis "but was told the county can have the spaces for nine months."

Vihlen said county commissioners have "deep feelings" for the aesthetics of the $5 million courthouse project and decided against deleting green space "islands" in the county's 58-space parking lot under construction on the south side of the new courthouse.

Vihlen said the 18 spaces requested include eight now being used in the city by the sheriff's department.

City Commissioner Gordon Meyer voted against the motion allowing the "temporary" parking spaces saying, "I'm not against county government but we critically need these spaces."

City attorney Vernon Mize warned commissioners unless the 18 spaces are "very temporary" the city commission "had better address itself to charging for the spaces."

Mayor Lee Moore said the city presently leases spaces on Park Avenue to Sanford Atlantic National Bank for $50 per space per year.

"I'm sure the county would consider this a fair price," Vihlen said. "I'll support paying a fair price."

Downtown Parking

Shenstrom told fellow commissioners "we'd better start looking for solutions to the downtown parking problem." He questioned if it would be possible for the city to build an upper parking deck on the present block-size city lot to the east of the new courthouse.

Vihlen said the county is starting a $11 million jail expansion and "within two years there's a possibility of a $1.2 million third floor being added to the courthouse south building and the parking problems will get worse."

Vihlen said an individual he favors the county negotiating for service station property on the corner of N. Park Ave. and Commercial St. with the idea of eventually building a multi-level parking garage. "If this is impossible I would like the county to purchase other nearby property for such a facility," he said.

City Parking

City Commissioner A. A. McClanahan warned commissioners the city zoning ordinance requires the removal of off-street parking for buildings 300 feet from a city parking lot is "loaded with dynamite." He suggested the ordinance be changed to permit variances be approved by the city commission as to the precise construction of a high-rise office building downtown without parking facilities because it would further complicate the critical parking problem.

Ruling Protested

Commissioners voted to send a resolution to the area congressional delegation protesting U.S. Postal regulations requiring citizens in Sanford with homes more than 35 feet off the street put up mail boxes on the curb.

"Officials, who haven't been successful in getting citizens to accept curbside garbage pickup, expressed fear the mailboxes would turn city streets into ugly clutter."

City Manager Warren Knowles estimated 90 per cent of the homes in Sanford will have to have curbside mailboxes "that are unsightly and a distraction from the aesthetics of the community."

Postmaster George Coleman said the regulation has been in effect since May 1972. In Sanford, increase in use of motor vehicles for city mail delivery to residences apparently is resulting in the enforcement of the regulation.

Sanford Zoning

Commissioner voted 3-2 to re-zone to GCS General Commercial from RC-1 Restricted Commercial property south of 27th St. to the city limits between Sanford and Palmetto Avenues.

Commissioners McClanahan and John Morris voted against the rezoning. McClanahan said, "I don't feel we're justified in rezoning this big a 'chunk' on the heels of the recently passed citywide zoning ordinance. I feel the RC-1 zoning is proper and we should only consider the one request."

Diane Harrell and Bill LaBree had requested commercial zoning of two lots in the area so they can put in a western wear store. Commissioners advertised the entire area for rezoning. Several other businesses would be conforming under the new zoning ordinance, can expand facilities in the future.

City officials said owners of property in the city within 300 feet of the rezoned area were notified of Monday's public hearing but no one appeared in opposition to the rezoning.

U.S. Warns Hanoi Of Truce Violations

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House and State Department have issued sharp reminders to the Communists after weighing evidence that Hanoi is infiltrating South Vietnam with men and heavy equipment in violation of the cease-fire agreement.

In virtually identical language, spokesmen for the President and for the secretary of state Tuesday reminded Hanoi publicly as well as through diplomatic channels that the Paris pact specifically forbids an arms buildup in South Vietnam. Intelligence sources decline to be specific about the number of men and the amount of material that may have crossed over, but Pentagon officials earlier acknowledged that as many as 30,000 North Vietnamese troops had moved down the Ho Chi Minh trail into Laos.

Also, the Associated Press reported last month that more than 250 tanks had rolled down the supply trail along with several large artillery pieces, armored personnel carriers and large quantities of ammunition. Any military buildup in Laos caused by another country would, in itself, violate the agreement signed in Paris Jan. 27 by the United States, Hanoi, Saigon and the Viet Cong.

Washington is delaying a formal protest until it can get a clearer idea of Hanoi's intent, the precise amount of infiltration and specific timing of the movements.

In Paris, meanwhile, the Viet Cong issued a statement asking the Saigon government of violating the agreement by conducting military operations and failing to release civilian prisoners.

Casselberry Council Actions

By DONNA ESTES

City Council went on record at its regular weekly meeting unanimously endorsing and urging the Board of County Commissioners to support and fund the senior citizens transportation authority.

The action was taken on the recommendation of Councilman Tom Embree.

In other business, Council:

—Accepted the low bid of First National Bank of Maitland on the $100,000 loan for the improvement of Melody Lane. The bank bid an interest rate of 4.88 per cent. Second low bid was from Citicorp of Casselberry at 5.18 per cent. Mayor Bill Grier was authorized to borrow the funds.

—Approved installation and transfers within budget of the fire department for a beacon to be placed atop the fire chief's personal car.

—Granted a raise in pay of $36 monthly to custodian Edgar Mathiot due to increased work load.

—Agreed to order placing of street lights on Lilac, Kendra, Jasmine, Hibiscus and Zirconia with the city to pay the costs of $80 per wooden pole and $100 per light fixture rather than a monthly rental charge. Opened bids to the city's new water storage tank and referred the bids to the city engineer for study to determine compliance with specifications and recommendations.

—Reviewed bid from Alpha Service of Lakeland at $90,540. Brown Steel Contractors, no bid on specifications, but an alternate of $108,141 and Krom Corp. $88,030 with an add-on of $713 to substitute 2,800 gallon per minute aerator.

Minutes Corrected

One problem was solved by the city council in correcting its minutes of January 22, Monday night, and a new one was possibly created.

Councilman Edith Duerr asked that the minutes be changed to show that she had voted affirmatively on the issue of whether the John Zacco home should be allowed to hook up to the privately-owned utility company.

Duerr explained she abstained from voting, but was informed the day after the meeting that an abstention is not legally proper under state law. Council voted unanimously to allow the correction.

Shortly after Duerr's correction, Zacco asked for an interpretation of the minutes concerning whether he voted on the issue. City Atty. Kenneth McIntosh said the minutes as written indicated Zacco voted in favor.

Zacco, however, said he made the request to the council to allow his home to hook up to the sewer system as a private citizen and asked that the minutes be corrected to indicate he did not vote on the issue. This was also approved unanimously.

A moratorium on sewer hookups has been followed for many months by the CASSUCO water and sewer utility while the city was negotiating for purchase. Zacco asked for an exception in his case, reporting his plumber said no amount of work could correct septic tank problems. The councilman also said at the time that sewage was backing into his home ruining carpeting and creating an unhealthy condition.

Big Orange Fiasco
Are orange peels trash or garbage? Resident Bill McCabe asked before the city council seeking a clarification and asking what he should do with bagged orange rinds and what he should do with the trash.

McCabe said he has no fruit trees on his property but had purchased some oranges and had "squeezed" same. However, when he placed the bagged orange rinds in the garbage, the city's garbage franchise company refused to pick them up insisting they were trash.

McCabe said when he placed the bagged rinds with his trash, they still were not picked up.

"I was going to bring my garbage can tonight," he said, "but my wife's better judgment prevailed."

City Manager Ron Bergman said uncut oranges from trees on the property are considered trash and if they have gone through the kitchen they are considered garbage. The manager said he would contact the garbage company, Reliable of Orlando, about the problem.

Crystal Bowl Circle
Engineering is to be authorized by the Council at its meeting next week on Crystal Bowl Circle so that a cooperative effort be given the city and the county can begin improving the street.

Mayor Bill Grier urged the item be placed on the agenda so there "will not be an excuse to delay the project further."

Bergman told the Council the county has taken the position the street can't be included in this year's county program because the engineering has been done. "In fact this is a convenient excuse because too much was included in the county program," Bergman insisted.

The manager said it was the city's understanding the county would "let us know" if the road was being favorably considered and then the engineering could be done. Bergman said the road now is to be in the county's 1973-74 program.

In other business, Council turned over to the city attorney for correction the problem of an admitted error by the surveyor of the first survey of Lake Kathryn Circle. Bergman said a second survey by another company revealed the error.

The Board asked the attorney to represent the city in hearings in Tallahassee before the Legislative Delegation on the repeal of Casselberry's charter amendment which permits annexation of islands of land completely surrounded by city territory. The city hopes to stop repeal of the law.

Nixon Barring Testimony Demos Doubt Gray Confirmation

By TOM SEPTY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Several Democrats on the Senate Judiciary Committee say they doubt U. S. Sen. J. Edwin Roberts will be confirmed as FBI director unless President Nixon allows his lawyer to testify about the Watergate investigation.

The committee voted 18 to 0 Tuesday to invite White House counsel John W. Dean III to testify, even though Nixon has said he will not allow it.

"I think it is essential to the nomination of Gray for Dean to appear," Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. said after the vote.

Senate Democratic Whip Robert Byrd, who has opposed the nomination from the beginning, said: "If Dean does not show, the Senate ought not to confirm Gray. It is vital to the integrity of the Senate, if it is to remain a body of men."

The committee approved a motion by Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., requesting Dean to appear before the committee to testify on matters relating to Gray's qualifications.

Tunney has said he wants to learn Dean's role in the investigation of the bugging of the Democratic headquarters last June is completed.

"It is injurious to the FBI to go without a leader," said Byrd. "I think the President ought to let Dean appear. If not, he should pull the name down and send us another nomination."

Gray has testified that he turned over to Dean, who headed a White House investigation of the bugging, interviews and data compiled by the FBI in its Watergate probe.

After the committee action, the White House referred to past statements in which Nixon said he would plead executive privilege and block Dean's appearance.

Should the White House reject the committee's invitation for Dean to appear at a public hearing and answer all questions, the panel could vote to subpoena him but passage of such a motion is doubtful. No one would speculate Tuesday on the possibility of voting a subpoena.

In another action, subpoenaes were issued for Dean and any other present or former administration officials to testify in a lawsuit about the financing of Nixon's re-election campaign.

The subpoena for a pretrial deposition was issued in a suit brought by Common Cause to force disclosure of information about fundraising and disbursement practices in the campaign.

"And did he say who special prosecutor Richard Sprague?"

"Yes sir, Tony Boyle," Gilly replied.

Boyle, contacted later at his home in Washington, D.C., stood by his previous denial of any knowledge of the killings.

Boyle has never been charged formally with any role in the slayings.

The Yablonskis were shot to death in their beds three weeks after the union rebel lost a bitterly contested election for the UMW's presidency to Boyle, then the incumbent.

Boyle's name surfaced Tuesday in the state murder trial here of William J. Prater, a former UMW organizer from LaFollette, Tenn. The government alleges Prater was a consultant in the $20,000 purportedly paid for the deaths of UMW insurgent Joseph A. "Joek" Yablonski and his wife and daughter.

Paul E. Gilly, 38, a convicted participant in the slayings who had remained silent on his role in them until this week, testified that Prater told him Boyle was behind the killings.

Gilly told of three meetings he had with Prater prior to the New Year's Eve 1969 murders at the Yablonskis' rambling rural home near the southwestern Pennsylvania town of Clarksville.

Gilly said that at one such meeting, Prater told him the Yablonskis were about to die in their beds three weeks after the union rebel lost a bitterly contested election for the UMW's presidency to Boyle, then the incumbent.

and added that many so-called secrets in the volumes were common knowledge.

Galtbraith was followed to the stand by Melvin Gurtov, 31, a political science professor and former government researcher who said he was "principal author" of two volumes of the Pentagon study. He testified that he derived much of his source material from public documents—newspapers, State Department bulletins, presidential memoirs and speeches.

Gurtov said he marked on each page of his reports whether the source material required that they be classified. He said he wrote "unclassified" on pages that used open sources. However, when the final draft of his reports became the Pentagon papers, every page was marked "top secret, sensitive," he said.

The prosecutor failed to shake Galtbraith's assertion that three volumes of the Pentagon study of the Vietnam war would have been denied to an enemy by the time Daniel Ellsberg and Anthony Russo copied the top secret documents in 1969. Ellsberg, 41, and Russo, 36, are charged with espionage, conspiracy and theft.

But Nissen did get Galtbraith to acknowledge that many Washington officials felt rumors of impending U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam in the early 1960s were a hoax. Nissen had him read a passage in the Pentagon study that said withdrawal of 1,000 troops in 1963 was a pretense to make it appear the United States was leaving.

"I was not informed it was a pretense, but I remember I had great doubts it was going to happen," Galtbraith said.

This contradicted Schlesinger's testimony that President Kennedy seriously planned a phased withdrawal from 1962 to 1965 and that the exit of 1,000 troops was the first step. Schlesinger said Monday that if the Kennedy plan had been made public, it might have changed the shape of the war. He presented this as an argument for releasing the papers.

Galtbraith, now a Harvard economics professor, disputed Nissen's efforts to show that if 1963 would have hurt the United States if released to an enemy in 1969. He said the two periods were not comparable.

Boyle In Limelight Murder Trial Continues

By GARY MICHICES

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Despite testimony which again thrusts United Mine Workers President W.A. "Tony" Boyle into the spotlight in the Yablonski murders, investigators say they have no plans to seek further indictments.

Curudo is a scar of dislodged shacks on stills crowding a section of the zone from the slum. The newsmen could see metal hats and some trimmed grass in the zone, but they were an improvement on the shacks and barren ground on the Panamanian side.

"This government has done a lot for us," said Panamanian denax, a neighborhood house-painter who has a wife and three children. "We are all going to get new housing after the government fills in the land here. The houses are built on stilts because we get up to four feet of water when the rainy season comes."

"For us, the canal means exploitation because there are jobs over there that Panamanians could have. Sixty-five per cent of the people here are out of work."

Torrijos wants the United States to increase the $1.9 million it now pays annually as rent for the canal.

The Security Council will meet for a week on sovereignty over the Canal Zone next week. The U.S. has controlled the 58-square-mile zone since 1903, when after helping Panama win its independence from Colombia it was "rewarded with a treaty giving it control in perpetuity of the canal, which the United States built, opened in 1914, and the Canal Zone is also the home of one of the chief U.S. military installations in Latin America.

Torrijos now wants the United States to recognize its full sovereignty over the canal zone.

Club Organizes Community Project To Boycott Meat

By FANNETTE EDWARDS

DELTONA — The Women's Club of Deltona voted unanimously to support the meat boycott urged by Mrs. Nancy Roberts of Orange City, for all women in Volusia County and hopefully all of Florida and other states, at their regular meeting last week.

Mrs. Roberts is urging all Women's clubs to support her in this project as most housewives belong to one club or another and can spread the word to others by March 15.

The president Mrs. Jesse Boyett, appointed a committee of two, Mrs. Wilhelm Stuhrenberg and Mrs. Francis Schulte, to attend the meeting at Mrs. Roberts' home Friday evening to learn details of the proposed boycott.

This group will be called, WAHP, which stands for "War Against Rising Prices." Committees were chosen to cover publicity, which is most important, fund raising, recipe exchange, telephoning and public speaking.

Mrs. Roni Schulte 930 Troy Drive, Deltona, will head the recipe exchange committee. Committees were chosen to cover publicity, which is most important, fund raising, recipe exchange, telephoning and public speaking.

Mrs. Hani and Mrs. George McCall as hostesses.

Cake and coffee were served to the ten members and one guest present.

Mrs. G. Andrew Speer demonstrated making artistic flower arranging, stressing that the center line must always be straight.

Mrs. H.H. Grier, circle president, conducted the business meeting, giving the report from the general board meeting. She announced, due to public's high regard for the FBI and most of our police officials, newspapermen will write somewhat about possible secret connections of policemen with gangsters.

In the past year, here in Chicago, for example, several policemen have been accused of blackmailing tavern owners and extorting "protection" money from other business firms.

Newspapers, on the contrary, are looked upon as independent defenders of the public.

Congressman J. D. Waggoner (La.) thus lauded the Dayton (O.) JOURNAL HERALD for its investigation of the alleged links between the Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and organized crime.

"Why is it," Waggoner inquired, "that two reporters, working without subpoena power, without staff and without the full investigative force of the Executive and Legislative branches of the federal government, should uncover this information after a special subcommittee of this House failed to do so?"

Shakespeare summed up the public's reaction to newspaper citizens when they have watched crimes being committed outside their own windows.

You readers will recall some of the heinous attacks on women, which were idly witnessed by people in neighboring New York apartments.

They didn't go to the victim's aid nor even call the police, for they "didn't want to become involved."

But such people are more willing to tip off the newspaper by phone or confide in a reporter.

People fear reprisals by gangster hoodlums or the Mafia if they notify the police.

For they figure they may be called to testify and thus their identity will be discovered, with possible death to themselves or family.

Interpretive Naturalist Speaks To Garden Clubbers

By FANNETTE EDWARDS

DELTONA — W. J. Kenner, interpretive naturalist with the Florida Department of Natural Resources, was the guest speaker at the Deltona Garden Club meeting, Friday, in the Community Center.

Mr. Kenner accompanied his talk with a colored slide film on the geological development of the Florida and current ecological conditions in the state.

More than 100 members representing the thirteen circles in Deltona were in attendance. Mrs. Harry Durand, president, Mrs. Ewald A. Korth, program chairman of the club, introduced and presented Mr. Kenner.

The Amaryllis Circle decorated the speaker's table at which coffee and sweet rolls were served and the Hibiscus and Iris Circles served as hostesses for the meeting.

Future plans include a trip to Disney World, Friday, March 16, and on April 7, to Lake Wales for the Passion Play. Reservations for the trips are being taken with the bus leaving from the Civic Center at 3:30 p. m. for the latter.

For information call either 322-9148 or 322-6187. The group will also travel to Bush Gardens, at Tampa in April.

At the last meeting of the club, Mrs. M. E. Baker, president, presented a kindergarten group who entertained with a demonstration of games and school activities.

Newspapers, on the contrary, are looked upon as independent defenders of the public.

Congressman J. D. Waggoner (La.) thus lauded the Dayton (O.) JOURNAL HERALD for its investigation of the alleged links between the Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and organized crime.

"Why is it," Waggoner inquired, "that two reporters, working without subpoena power, without staff and without the full investigative force of the Executive and Legislative branches of the federal government, should uncover this information after a special subcommittee of this House failed to do so?"

Shakespeare summed up the public's reaction to newspaper citizens when they have watched crimes being committed outside their own windows.

You readers will recall some of the heinous attacks on women, which were idly witnessed by people in neighboring New York apartments.

They didn't go to the victim's aid nor even call the police, for they "didn't want to become involved."

But such people are more willing to tip off the newspaper by phone or confide in a reporter.

People fear reprisals by gangster hoodlums or the Mafia if they notify the police.

For they figure they may be called to testify and thus their identity will be discovered, with possible death to themselves or family.

Doctor's Day Set March 30

Doctor's Day, March 30, is a special day which has been set aside to honor doctors, past and present — those men and women of the medical profession who by daily devotion to their duty of service to humanity, minister to our health and welfare.

The date March 30 was not chosen at random, but is in commemoration of the anniversary of the use of ether as an anesthetic agent on a human being during a surgical operation by Dr. Crawford W. Long of Jefferson, Ga. in March of 1847.

Recognition of the medical profession on a special "Doctor's Day" originated in Georgia some years ago when that State honored her famous son, Dr. Long, and the idea has gradually spread over the country until today, Doctor's Day is observed by almost every State in the nation.

"On this day we should pause long enough to consider how completely and unselfishly the medical profession is dedicated to our health and welfare. It is time for us to be reminded to say "thank you", each in his own way, to the guardians of our health.

In observance of Doctor's Day the wives of the doctors of the Seminole County Medical Society will honor their husbands with a special dinner at the Mayfair Country Club, March 30.

Wanda Bedenbaugh, Marvin Sheffield Exchange Vows In Double Ring Rites

Miss Wanda Elaine Bedenbaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eugene Bedenbaugh, 803 West 4th St., and Marvin I. Sheffield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isham Sheffield, Celery Avenue, all of Sanford, were united in Holy Matrimony Feb. 2, 1973 at 8 p. m.

Rev. Doug Elliott was officiating clergyman and a candlelight, double ring ceremony in the Nazarene Church, 2nd and Maple Ave., Sanford.

Organist, Mrs. John Carter, a cousin of the bride, presented an appropriate program of nuptial music and accompanied John Carter, who sang "The Twelfth of Never" and "We've Only Just Begun."

Church decorations included a standing arch entwined with baby's breath and greenery, three brass candelabra with 45 burning tapers, two basket arrangements of stock, white roses and baby's breath and four potted palms. Family pews were marked with white satin ribbon bows and a white aisle carpet was used.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of candlelight satin with train embellished with chintilly lace. Her waist-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a satin pill box headpiece and she carried a nosegay of white carnations and baby's breath with removable corsage and candlelight satin ribbon streamers.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1973 by Charles F. Towne, N.Y. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: For 25 years I have been very close to a widower. I am divorced. This man owned considerable rental property, and I lived in one of his apartments. I paid rent like everybody else, but I looked in him and helped him rent and clean apartments when tenants vacated them. I was a trouble-shooter for violations, inspectors, routine checks, etc.

He was close with his money and paid me nothing. I didn't demand anything because he often talked about "my future" when he would sell his property and we would retire together in Florida or Palm Springs. He was 75 and I am 72.

He had one 18-year-old brother with whom he was not friendly. Also some nieces and nephews. To make it short, this gentleman was recently found dead of a heart attack. I was called immediately since I am the only one he ever spoke of.

I heard he left no will, or any mention of me. A friend advised me to put in a claim for the work I did. I was not exactly a common-law wife, but I was more like a free maid, housekeeper, rental manager and his best friend for 25 years. Do moral issues count in court? Or is it too much of a longshot? I don't want to make a fool of myself.

DEAR LOST: Take the facts to a lawyer. And this should be a lesson to others: get it in writing!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have a 10-month-old baby, and we've never had a fight; but we wanted to go to a late party last Saturday night, so we asked my mother-in-law to sit for us. She seemed happy to do it, and we knew we could trust her with the baby.

When we got home, did she ever let us have it? She said it was a very poor housekeeper, from the condition of my refrigerator, cupboards and closets. Also, that I didn't do my laundry often enough from the looks of my stuffed clothes hampers. [Abby, I go to the laundromat twice a week.] There she said we ought to be ashamed of ourselves for running up such big bills, and she named off some of them. She had actually snooped into our dresser drawers and looked over our bills.

My husband just kept his eyes on the floor all the while she was talking, and I was too shocked and hurt to say a word.

I have lost all affection for her now. How should I act toward her in the future? HURT

DEAR HURT: I wouldn't ask her to sit again. In time, if she regrets her actions and tries to make amends, I'd go the way a 70-year-old.

Problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box 6976, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1973

CARROLL RIGHTER'S CAROL SCOPES

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are thinking big and want to become big now, but some unexpected obstacles may loom in your path that require a switch in methods if you are to be able to contend with them wisely. However, changes in time a better set of circumstances for you to operate under. Maintain your cool. ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You want to have fun, but there may be obstacles in your path today or so want until tomorrow. As an astrologer may be somewhat demanding, but this is necessary. Evening is fine for radio listening or TV viewing. TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Listen to views of kin that you were not able to understand before, but do not let your excitement. The idea of others also have to be considered intelligently. Don't scold a close tie who could be your best friend as well.

DEAR POLLY: I feel I must answer Barbara S. who would like to buy cotton clothes which she feels are better suited to Texas weather than the "new fangled" ones. I am a pure goods buyer (for a Texas dry goods store) and have been for 16 years. True, cotton materials are cooler but they are almost impossible for us to buy and there is no way to tell. Why? Because the first question a customer asks is, "Is it stay-pressed?" To be permanently pressed it must be a blend, which makes the fabric thicker. Women do not like to iron. We now have shelves of cotton on sale for less than we paid for them. Cotton garments will be on sale again, along with yard goods of the same quality, when a manufacturer can come up with a cotton that does not have to be pressed or when women no longer mind ironing. Also men's dress slacks are now nearly all made of synthetic stretch fabrics—A. N.

8-8 CBS, Sony & Cher Show. A coup for Sony & Cher who will have Air Force Capt. John Nasmyth, a POW in North Vietnam for seven years, as guest star, singing "Prisoner's Alley Stars." Tonight's operatic spoof has a Japanese setting, set to Irish music and it's filled with "Did Your Mama Come From Italy?" Ford plays a jealous husband who thinks his wife still has warm feelings for an old college beau. When they decide to go to a 10-year class reunion, the husband plots to kill the former college boy friend, played by Brodin. Viewers quickly get the idea of what's going to happen in the scene when cameras close in on a man aiming a rifle from a belflower.

8-30 NBC, Adam-12. "Keeping Tabs" The title speaks for itself as officers Malloy and Reed lead a helping hand to a fellow police officer whose son is caught as a passenger joyriding in a stolen car. There's also a comical scene with Pat Buttram, playing a slightly drunk traffic director.

9-10 CBS, Medical Center (Rerun) The episode takes a number of surprise turns. First, James Stacy, insists he can't possibly be the father of the child expected by his wife. The wife, played by Pamela Payton-Wright, is faced with an illness which requires surgery, but she refuses, fearing it will endanger her pregnancy. An emergency operation becomes necessary and the defendant confesses that he was pregnant after all. However, she believes she is, and accuses Dr. Gannon of killing her unborn child.

Roger Casini, long-time conductor of the DeBary Concert Orchestra who passed away in New York City last summer, will be honored with a concert in his memory in the DeBary Community Center Friday at 8 p.m.

The public is invited and there is no admission charge. A collection will be taken at intermission for the benefit of the operating expenses of the Community Center.

A feature of the program will be flute solos by Earl Stocum of Deland, well-known band and orchestra conductor. He will be accompanied by Norma Jean Jenkins of Stetson University.

The concert which will be conducted by Mrs. Symons of DeBary City will open with the DeBary March, a composition written several years ago by Mr. Casini. Following will be a La Strada Gialla, a waltz overture by Mozart. Next will be Scarf Dance by Chaminade and Gallin's La Sorella will close the first part of the program.

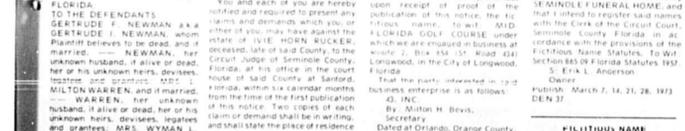

The second part opens with three movements from Ballet Egyptian by Launi followed by Marguerite Waltz by Gounod and Selections from the Fortune Teller will close the presentation.

SUSAN Wright won first prize in Math and Bob Orovets won first prize in Science, of the seventh grade division of the Science and Math Fair held at Milwhee Middle School.

Exceptional Childrens Plans Due

By GRACE E. SPINKS

FOREST CITY—Seminole County is preparing to meet mandatory education for exceptional children in the school year 1973-74.

Children who may be deaf, hard of hearing, blind or partially sighted, physically handicapped, speech handicapped, emotionally disturbed, socially maladjusted, and in general are all classified as exceptional children.

For the last five years, programs have been started and expanded to meet the needs of most exceptional children.

The papers have been full of the problems faced by Seminole County schools in the coming year because of the rapid growth of the school-age population. This population includes exceptional children as well.

By providing programs to meet their special needs three major benefits are being achieved. The classroom teacher no longer has to cope with children and their needs at the expense of other children.

The children themselves, through special teaching methods are achieving greater success, and finally the taxpayer will have less potential welfare clients in the future.

In seeking information for this article this reporter was surprised to find an old friend, Mary Wientigier, the coordinator of Exceptional Child Education. Our friendship goes back many years to the time we both worked at Forest Park School, Orlando.

Mrs. Wientigier said she returned to college in 1969 and obtained her Master's degree in Education with a major in Exceptional Child Education and administration and moved to Seminole County.

Mrs. Wientigier has been in the area about four years. In fact, she is my neighbor here in Forest City.

She outlined the following programs now in effect: trainable children, retarded to the degree that academics is not a goal. Instead they are trained to care for themselves, to be socially acceptable and self-sufficient or partially-so in adulthood.

These children are served by four trained teachers, an aide, and a vocational instructor. This program is located on the Longwood Elementary Campus and serves from 40 to 45 children.

Educable retarded children are capable of attaining a fifth or sixth grade education, be trained for a job and earn a living.

Graduation from high school depends upon ability to hold a job for one year. There are classes in the following elementary schools: Goldsboro, Sanford Grammar, Southside, Idylwild, Midway, Pinecrest, Lake Mary, English Estates, Lawton, Altamonte Springs and Longwood. Middle schools participating are: Milwee, Lakeview and Sanford. The senior program is located at Crooms.

Pre-school and elementary age deaf children and physically handicapped children attend Rock Lake and Forest Park in Orange County. The State department of Education (Division of Exceptional Child Education) granted extra funding to Seminole County for teacher salaries, equipment, materials and classrooms.

Forest City — The Young Men's Christian Association (YMCA) has purchased five acres of land adjacent to Lake Brantley High School as a site for a proposed satellite facility.

Max Clark, executive director for the branch YMCA said, "The new facilities will include a large swimming pool and other recreational areas. At the present time there is a house on the grounds, which will be used for office space, etc."

Paul Morgan, who is director at the trailer site in Altamonte Springs, gave a resume of what is happening behind the scenes in reference to their sport activities.

Although Morgan has only been working two months with the YMCA he is well qualified. He is hoping to graduate from Florida Tech University in the near future with a Bachelors Science Degree in Management.

In commenting on activities now being developed he said, "There are 250 girls and 580 boys participating. To help young people to gain dignity and integrity along with good sportsmanship is our goal."

There are 15 leaders with high school and college training, who are setting up the programs such as Indian Guides to foster companionship between fathers and sons during the boy's formative years; Indian Princesses to foster the little girl's relations with Dad in the same way and of course the Gray-Y and the Tri-Gray Y.

Presently a Tri-Gray-Y group is meeting at Forest City Community Building on Saturday mornings from 9-11. On Saturday and Sunday, weekend of March 31, 225 girls will weekend at Camp We-Wa and a trip to Disney World is scheduled for April 3, 4 and 5.

Specialists Attending Arthritis Talks Set

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI

On March 21, at 9:30 a.m. at the Community United Methodist Church in Casselberry (on 17-82), there will be a Symposium on Arthritis, sponsored by Project Greater through the auspices of Seminole Junior College.

According to Lytle Suffield, director of Project Greater, there will be a panel of two medical specialists in the field of rheumatology.

Arthritis: Dr. Charles E. Fitzgerald of Winter Park, and Dr. Jeffrey Polley of Orlando. This disease is the most common cause of painful knees, backs and fingers, but it seldom causes crippling. This form is a painful nuisance to many because it causes them to slow down in routine activities.

Treatment of this form of arthritis is said to consist mainly of moderation of activity, use of heat and some prescribed medications in severe cases.

Rheumatoid arthritis, often called "the great crippler" can develop in persons of any age, but most commonly attacks middle aged persons. It is a progressive disease, involving many joints. While there is no spectacular cure, more than half of the patients recover eventually.

These facts and many more will be presented and discussed at the question and answer session which will follow the symposium on Arthritis. For more information, contact Lytle Suffield.

Firms Present Building Plans

By MARION BETHEA

WINTER SPRINGS — Mushrooming growth in this city which has been alluded to as a "sleeping giant" was evidenced recently with the presentation of three development firms for construction in the area.

A six-month extension was granted Monday by city council to Western Land Planning Company for submission of planned unit development (PUD) plans to the city.

City ordinance states developers must commence building within six months or request a time extension.

Mayor Granville Brown said the PUD area will be developed behind the mobile home park known as Hacienda Village.

The city Planning and Zoning Board was a request by National Home Construction Co. to erect show homes along Shepard Road.

Plans encompass for single-family homes and four patio homes.

National representatives said the "sleeping giant" was involved with the land now developed and not recorded as well as a sewage problem.

Brown was authorized to sign plans for the Shepard PUD complex being developed by golf pro Bruce Delvin.

A project representative told council the development is being divided into sections in which each cluster will feature individual condominiums.

The representatives said some changes will be made in the buildings, since smaller units were not selling as well as townhouses.

The change, the representative said, would cause loss of 22 units. Townhouses will be located along the golf course at Shepard.

Kelly, Campbell Named To Boards

By MARION BETHEA

WINTER SPRINGS — City Council Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday named Charles Kelly to the Planning and Zoning Board and Malvin Campbell to the Board of Adjustment.

Councilman Troy Piland requested that P-Z board member John Aggar be removed from office due to absenteeism and non-performance of duty.

According to Piland, Aggar missed the last six meetings and efforts to contact him were unsuccessful.

Municipal ordinance provides for the removal of board appointees.

Piland suggested Kelly, but Mayor Granville Brown said he had not spoken with anyone concerning appointments to city boards and did not feel he should appoint anyone until the check their listings in the telephone directory for accuracy.

Approximately 19,000 telephone users in the Sanford area, including DeBary, Deltona, Geneva and Oviedo, will receive special cards with their March bills.

Customers are being asked to check their listing and return the card if improper spelling, wrong addresses or telephone numbers are noted.

Bob Sheidler, Sanford group manager, said that this is the first time this type of survey has been conducted. It is hoped that a good response will enable Southern Bell to correct the majority of mistakes in the next edition of the telephone books.

For various reasons some incorrect listings go unreported and are repeated. Sheidler said, "Business customers will be asked to check their Yellow Page listings also. New customers or customers who have already made a contact requesting a change of correction need not return the card."

Ma Bell Hunting Trouble

Southern Bell certainly doesn't want trouble but it is looking for it anyway. The Company is asking customers to check their listings in the telephone directory for accuracy.

Approximately 19,000 telephone users in the Sanford area, including DeBary, Deltona, Geneva and Oviedo, will receive special cards with their March bills.

Customers are being asked to check their listing and return the card if improper spelling, wrong addresses or telephone numbers are noted.

Bob Sheidler, Sanford group manager, said that this is the first time this type of survey has been conducted. It is hoped that a good response will enable Southern Bell to correct the majority of mistakes in the next edition of the telephone books.

For various reasons some incorrect listings go unreported and are repeated. Sheidler said, "Business customers will be asked to check their Yellow Page listings also. New customers or customers who have already made a contact requesting a change of correction need not return the card."

Sidewalk Sale

Sidewalk Sales days, promoted by the Downtown Business Association in Sanford, will be held May 4 and 5 this year, sister, Inc., will sponsor the activities of May 4 according to chairman, Mrs. George Stine.

All area clubs and organizations are urged by Mrs. Stine to call in early to reserve a choice location for their particular booth. The clubs may select their own type of activity.

Federal Revenue Funds Buy 'Springs Vehicle'

By MARION BETHEA

WINTER SPRINGS — Federal revenue sharing funds will pay for a new police vehicle, although account will be considerably depleted.

Councilman Victor Miller told city council Monday the city will get a "better deal" if the vehicle was paid for in cash and suggested using the federal funds.

Council subsequently approved allocating $3,400.

Miller pointed out that $1,600 was withdrawn from the fund.

PETUNIAS DETECT

NEW YORK (AP) — Fish and petunias may come to rival canaries as pollution detectors.

Nearly everyone knows that canaries have signals of foul air in mines. Now various plants, including petunias, are being tested in government laboratories at Beltsville, Md., for clues to various air-borne pollutants.

And Science News reports that fish responses may provide instantaneous gauges of water pollutants.

Tasty Banana Dessert

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Here's a fabulously good recipe from the South. Bananas are cooked with butter, brown sugar and spice, then treated to banana liqueur and rum and spooned over ice cream.

This dessert was first served at Brennan's restaurant in New Orleans and apparently it was offered without ice cream. We say this because in Brennan's "New Orleans Cookbook," published over a dozen years ago, the ice cream is omitted but in the 1971 Time-Life "American Cooking, Creole and Acadian" the Brennan recipe directs the cook to serve the bananas over ice cream — apparently a practice the restaurant now follows.

We think this is a great improvement. By the way, when the recipe was first concocted, about 20 years ago, it was named after Richard Foster, a regular patron of Brennan's.

We make one change of our own in the recipe: nutmeg is used instead of cinnamon. And here's a tip: once you start making the dish, don't remove it from the heat until directed — even to answer the phone. If you do as we have experienced, the brown sugar may not blend smoothly with the other ingredients.

At once, in a small saucepan over low heat, warm the rum; pour over the bananas and ignite with a good-size match. As soon as flame burns out serve at once, topping each portion with the ice cream.

Four hundred recipes are given in the illustrated "Cecily Brownstone's Associated Press Cookbook" available by sending $4.95 (check or money order made payable to "The Associated Press") to this newspaper in care of AP COOK BOOK, Box G4, Teaneck, N.J. 07666.

BANANAS FOSTER 4 firm-ripe bananas 1/4 cup butter 1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar 1/4 cup banana liqueur Ground nutmeg 1/2 cup white or golden rum 1 pint vanilla ice cream Peel bananas, slice each in half lengthwise and then again in half crosswise. In a 10-inch skillet over moderately low heat melt the butter. Add brown sugar, stir until bubbling. At once place the bananas, in a single layer, in the sugar-butter mixture and cook for a few minutes. Turn the bananas and cook only until slightly softened — another few minutes. Sprinkle with a dash of nutmeg and pour the banana liqueur over; remove from heat.

At once, in a small saucepan over low heat, warm the rum; pour over the bananas and ignite with a good-size match. As soon as flame burns out serve at once, topping each portion with the ice cream.

COMPANY SUPPER Olive Chicken, Noodles, Salad Bowl, Angel Pie

OLIVE CHICKEN Mozzarella, Snap Beans, Rolls, Beverage

Easy to prepare: 1/4 cup flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 4 chicken breasts, split and skinned and boneless, 1/4 cup olive or other salad oil, 1 clove garlic, crushed, 1 medium onion, finely chopped, 1 can (6 to 8 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained, 1 jar (14 ounces) spaghetti sauce, 1/2 teaspoon oregano, 1/2 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives, 1 package (6 ounces) mozzarella cheese slices.

Combine flour and salt in large paper bag; add half the chicken and shake until coated; repeat with remaining chicken. In a large skillet, brown chicken in oil on both sides. Arrange chicken in a 2-quart shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with tomato-onion sauce. Cut cheese slices into strips and place on top of chicken. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until chicken is tender — 30 minutes.

1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
2 1/2 cups herb-seasoned bread stuffing from an 8-ounce bag
1/4 cup dried apricots, cut up
1/4 cup hot water
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
Bone-in breast of veal (about 3 3/4 pounds) with pocket for stuffing
In a 10-inch skillet melt the butter over low heat, add the onion and cook, stirring often, until wilted. Off heat, stir in the remaining ingredients except the veal; mixture will look dry. Stuff pocket in veal with mixture, skewer closed. Place veal, bone side down, on a rack in a shallow roasting pan lined with foil. Roast in a preheated 325-degree oven, basting occasionally, until tender - about 2 hours. Makes 8 servings.

Colorful Personalities Help To Brighten Wine Industry

By MARY LESTER
Copley News Service

In almost every field of business there are personalities. Seldom, though, are more colorful characters found than in the wine industry.

Winemaking has to do with agriculture and people who are on a familiar basis with the earth and its products tend to be more independent and develop an individual personality rather than becoming just another duplicate human.

The elusive Ernest Gallo and his brother, Julio, can almost be put in a special category. Kings of the commercial wine field, they are scarcely ever seen but when they speak, it's as if the earth moved. Their headquarters complex in Modesto has been discreetly dubbed "Parthenon West."

Dick Vine, winemaker-president of Niagara Falls Wine Cellar, has yet to state if he chose the wine business because of his name. When he isn't talking wines, he'll switch over to another field in which he is an expert: raising German Shepherds.

Then there is the master of Beauclieu, Andre Tchelistcheff, with his built-up boots and chain-smoking habit and initially mesmerizes and startles each new devotee.

Oregon's Paul Bjelland of Bjelland Vineyards was one of the first winemakers to step out of the ultraconservative image and sport a beard. Paul is one of the few who doesn't look like a replica of the Kentucky colonel.

Hans Korbel has developed a distinctive personality image along with his champagne. Billed as "Champagne Master to the World," he has endeavored himself to marry a household by letting it be known that he won't purchase any bulk wine for blending until his wife and children have professionally tasted it and given their OK.

Joe Heitz, Heitz Wine Cellar, has as his trademark a plant—a hat. Thankfully, the hat looks well on him and Joe manages to wear one that goes with the style of his boots.

Bully Hill Vineyards' Walter Taylor continues to carry the nickname "Golden Falcon," dating back to earlier years when as an executive with Great Western he would often show up with a hooded sunshine-colored falcon on his gloved hand. It's the voice of Korbel's public relations director, Harry Edrington, that makes one amuse: "Where have I heard that before?" Answer: Harley is chief public address announcer for Bing Crosby's golf tournament, has been announcing there since 1945. Topping all colorful characters because she is simply herself is the little old lady who daily sits behind the bar in a tasting room belonging to a winery her family founded and once owned. She sits and sip glass after glass of a concoction made from a giant jar containing — Alka-Seltzer.

Use Of Polyunsaturated Oils In Cooking Is Outlined

Copley News Service

Saturated fats (animal fats, solid vegetable fats, and coconut oil) as well as cholesterol in the diet, tend to raise the blood cholesterol. But polyunsaturated oils (liquid vegetable oils) help to lower the blood cholesterol.

Use the polyunsaturated vegetable oils and special polyunsaturated margarines in the following ways to make your heart-saving diet delicious and interesting for you.

For oven frying or pan frying of meats, poultry, fish (otherwise, bake, broil or roast — these are the preferred methods of preparation).

For seasoning vegetables in salad dressings (oils and vinegars, dressings, etc.) and in marinades.

As an ingredient to replace saturated fats in: Sauces and soups (make cream sauces and soups with skim milk); Whipped or scalloped potatoes (make with skim milk); Pastry shells or crumb crusts; Cakes and cookies; Hot breads (muffins, biscuits, cornbread, pancakes). Today's recipes will give you exact ideas of how to use the polyunsaturated oil in cooking and baking. You might want to add beef jerky to your list of lunch box suggestions.

REFRY JERKY 1 beef flank steak (Note: 1/2 cup soy sauce, 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt, 1/4 teaspoon lemon pepper. Note: Any amount of beef may be used. Beef round steak, brisket or chuck filet are suitable. Trim off all visible fat from beef. Cut lengthwise with grain into long thin strips, no more than 1/4 inch thick. Combine soy sauce and seasonings. Pour over beef strips and toss until well coated. Place wire rack on baking sheets. Arrange strips on rack to touch, but not overlap. Bake in very slow oven (150 degrees in 175 degrees) overnight, 10 to 12 hours. Store finished jerky at room temperature in air tight container. If all fat has been removed, beef jerky will keep indefinitely. Oven is too hot if beef jerky is crisp. Be sure jerky is dry enough or white mold specks may appear after a few days.

POLY-POTATO BAKED STICKS A flavor coated, oven-baked version of the French Fry. No more deep fat frying. Just golden, goodness your family can get excited about. 1/4 cup water, 2 tablespoons polyunsaturated oil, 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco Sauce, 1/2 medium size Idaho potatoes, 1/4 cup cornflake crumbs, 1/4 teaspoon salt. Mix water with oil and Tabasco. Peel four Idaho potatoes and cut into strips. Toss potatoes in water and oil mixture. Mix cornflake crumbs and salt in a bag. Shake until strips in bag at one time until evenly coated. Place potatoes on foil-lined baking sheet. Bake in preheated oven for six to ten minutes. Turn over for 30-35 minutes. Serve six to eight.

BASIC FRENCH DRESSING Two-thirds cup polyunsaturated oil, one-third cup vinegar or lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika. Seasonings to taste: 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon onion or garlic, etc. Makes one cup. Toss over crisp, dry salad greens.

POLY-POPPYSEED CAKE 2 cups sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 and one-third cups sugar, 1/2 cup polyunsaturated oil, 1 cup skim milk, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 4 egg whites, 1 teaspoon vanilla, One-third cup poppyseeds, soaked overnight in water. Preheat oven to 350 degrees (moderate). Prepare a 10-inch tube pan by greasing lightly with oil or margarine and dusting with flour. Sift together in a mixing bowl the flour, salt, and sugar. Add the oil and two-thirds cup of the flour. Stir until the flour is dampened and beat 1 minute. Stir in the baking powder and add the remaining one-third cup milk, the egg whites, and vanilla. Drain the soaked poppy seeds well in a small sieve. Beat two minutes. Pour into the pan and bake 40 minutes or until cake tests done. Cool in pan for 10 minutes. Top with powdered sugar.

Try These Ideas

Make It Special

Anyone can serve potato salad, but it takes someone with imagination to serve an unusual potato salad such as this one.

6 bacon slices
6 medium hot cooked potatoes (about 2 1/2 lb.)
1 cup chopped onion
1 cup vinegar
1/2 cup orange-flavored instant breakfast drink
1/2 cup salad oil

Loaves Can Be Cake, Bread Or Entrees

By SUSAN DELIGHT
Copley News Service

Loaves can be many things. They can be bread, cake or entrees. The latter can be made from seafood, poultry or meats.

They can be made in individual loaves or in large loaves to be sliced. For a start, try one of the loaves offered today.

SAVORY MEAT LOAF
3 pounds ground beef chuck
1 tablespoon salt
Dash pepper
8 slices white bread, cubed
1 cup ketchup
2 cups canned apple sauce

6 bacon slices
6 medium hot cooked potatoes (about 2 1/2 lb.)
1 cup chopped onion
1 cup vinegar
1/2 cup orange-flavored instant breakfast drink
1/2 cup salad oil

smooth. Bake at 325 degrees for 1 1/2 hours. Place platter in slow oven, 225 degrees F., about one hour or until mixture is set. Cool in pan 15 minutes before removing from pan. Slice and serve with warm Mustard Sauce. Makes six to eight servings per loaf.

TUNA-VEGETABLE LOAF
2 cans (7 ounces each) tuna
2 cups (3/4-inch) soft bread cubes
1/2 cup milk
1 cup finely chopped celery
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
4 eggs, beaten
1 tablespoon chopped parsley (optional)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon horseradish
1 1/2 teaspoons grated lemon rind

MUSTARD SAUCE
1/2 cup salad dressing or mayonnaise
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon horseradish
1 1/2 teaspoons grated lemon rind

Combine ingredients; mix. Heat slowly, stirring constantly, until desired serving temperature. Makes about 1 cup sauce.

onion, and remaining ingredients, except Mustard Sauce. Pour tuna mixture into pan. Bake in slow oven, 225 degrees F., about one hour or until mixture is set. Cool in pan 15 minutes before removing from pan. Slice and serve with warm Mustard Sauce. Makes six to eight servings per loaf.

MUSTARD SAUCE
1/2 cup salad dressing or mayonnaise
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon horseradish
1 1/2 teaspoons grated lemon rind

Combine ingredients; mix. Heat slowly, stirring constantly, until desired serving temperature. Makes about 1 cup sauce.

RAM LOAF
1/2 lb. ground beef
1/4 lb. ground beef

1/2 cup dry bread crumbs
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons shortening
4 large potatoes, cut in half
4 large whole carrots
1/2 cup water

Mix together meat, bread crumbs, egg, salt and pepper. Form into two small loaves. Wrap in foil and refrigerate overnight or several hours before cooking. (This prevents meat loaves from breaking apart.) Remove foil and brown loaves on all sides in shortening in cooker. Place loaves and vegetables on rack in cooker. Add water. Cover, set control at 10 pounds and cook 10 minutes (or at 15 pounds and cook 7 1/2 minutes) after control jiggles. Cool cooker normally for five minutes, then place under faucet. Yields four servings.

Combine ingredients; mix. Heat slowly, stirring constantly, until desired serving temperature. Makes about 1 cup sauce.

Florida Imports

It's Wine

Florida has amazingly stepped way up the rungs of the wine consumption ladder. Latest statistics rank the Orange Blossom State seventh in gallons ratings in the United States.

So, delighted as I was to learn the news that more residents and visitors are drinking wine, I quickly discovered it is mainly of French origin. (And I wondered whether to open any wine conversation with "I'm from California...")

National Airlines' senior stewardess, lovely Diane Alaire, started me out happily enough by displaying cases of Paul Masson's Baroque, Tany's Rhine wine, Louis the Fifth champagne (Franz brothers) and then stating: "In each service we serve 2 ounce splits of Isabel Rose, a Portuguese estate bottled wine."

It was when I got off the plane in Miami and began reading restaurant wine menus and exploring new sections of liquor stores that my schooling in the wine tastes of the Gold Coast habitues commenced.

Everywhere I went, European imports outnumbered wines of the United States by five or six to one. Jordan Marsh stores carry a fairly good selection of California vintages and the better supermarket chains are perking up to the average housewife's demand for quality wines sporting a reasonable price tag.

Most of the neighborhood drug shops, however, reminded me of New York state's seven years back: the wine stock was 75 to 80 per cent import.

When Palm Beach's elegant Petite Marmale's suave captain, Alberto Orero, brought a bottle of St. Julien—a practically extinct French Bordeaux—I didn't complain. Since I am locally familiar with both the California wines listed—Christian Brothers and Kerbel Brut champagne, I smilingly opted for the import.

After the meal, we had a quick look-see at the merchandise in Bustani's Liquors, considered the leading store for wine sales in Palm Beach. There, manager-buyer, Bert Howard, cheered me with her enthusiastic reports on the local popularity of Almaden, Beaulieu, Great Western and Taylor wines. This news called for a champagne toast in Don Ferguson. Well—a votre santé!

Pasteurized milk allowed to stand without refrigeration is likely to develop undesirable off-flavors instead of a clean sour flavor. When a recipe calls for sour milk, it's best to use buttermilk.

A Festive Corned Beef And Cabbage Mold Treat

By ALLEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

For many, corned beef and cabbage is as traditional a part of heralding St. Patrick's Day as the parade up New York City's Fifth Avenue. However, a delightful change of pace with these familiar ingredients is a Corned Beef and Cabbage mold, gelled in a creamy-rich mayonnaise and fresh lemon mixture. This is a festive dish to add to this celebratory day.

New tack with corned beef and cabbage is gelled mold.

Foods Find Way Into Fondue Pot

By SUSAN DELIGHT
Copley News Service

The fondue which are now enjoying such wide popularity in this country are a far cry from the simple cheese and wine combinations which have been favored by Europeans for so many centuries.

After meat or seafood bits are cooked, they can be removed from fondue pot and dunked in a dip. Chicken pieces can be dipped in Sour Cream Apricot Sauce or Tomato Sauce.

String can be dipped into Curry Sauce or Tomato relish, hot oil or butter or both, chicken broth, or hot sweet sauce, depending on the food to be dipped.

What's in the BAG from PUBLIX?

What's in the bag from Publix? Something mighty good to eat! Fryers, ham, or leg o' lamb, Turkey, steak or liverwurst, Flapjack mix or plum preserves, jars of pickles, cans of juice, Crackers, cookies, lollipops!

Carefully unpack the bag... Salad greens so dewy-crisp, Glowing fruit from vine and tree, New-laid eggs and well-aged cheese. Produce from the sunny fields. Fresh-baked bread and frozen treats. Treasure-foods from overseas!

What's in the bag from Publix? Just the best. Things to bring your family joy. Love and food are intertwined—Cooking is an ancient rite! (That's what Publix keeps in mind.)
