At the inquest this morning, Mrs. Fay McDonnell, sister of the late Miss Wise, declared that after the boat overturned she saw her sister and Mr. DeCottles but once before they went down.

Louis Resigns

"Louis, as in all his boxing career, has approached this climax in his ring activity in the same honorable and fair approach which marked his brilliant and outstanding tenure as champion."

Louis has been appearing in a series of exhibitions all over the country.

"I am certain you know how sorry I must be to let the championship go this way," Louis said in his letter to Greene.

"I have held it for a long time and I won it in the ring. I expected to lose in the same way I won it. This is the way champions should be made."

"However, things have developed so that I think I ought to stick to the decision to retire that I announced some time ago."

"I am sending you another letter in more detail and what I plan to do in boxing in the future."

It was signed: "With best wishes, Joe Louis."

Louis was the youngest boxer ever to win the title. He was only 20 when he whelmed Bradlow while Sullivan, Jeffries and Jack Dempsey were 24 when they became champion. Fitzsimmons and Johnson both were 37 when they entered the ring for their last title bouts, so Joe is not the oldest heavyweight ruler.

Another respect in which Louis tops them all is in ring earnings. When he earned $50 for knocking out Jack Kracken in his first professional fight in 1934, the Brown Bomber earned $3,000,000, 72 to the end of 1948 according to the ring record book. His exhibitions this winter have added an unknown amount to that total.

The same source gives Dempsey's ring earnings as $5,608, 114 from 1919 to 1942 plus an estimated $3,000,000 from various sources, including refereeing boxing and wrestling bouts since then.

The financial high marks of Louis' career were the second meeting with Billy Conn, which drew $1,035,604, and the second Max Schmeling fight and his meeting with Max Baer, both of which went over the million dollar mark in gate receipts.

The trial was one of a series of 20 persons rounded up by the American Army last fall.

The third trial, with eight defendants, is scheduled to open tomorrow. The eight include three women.

Gorham, 19, testified he had been an spy in Germany for the Polish government before the war. He said he was arrested by the Gestapo in 1937 and sentenced to life term. He said he had to collaborate with the Polish secret service upon his release after the war "or I would be dead or in Siberia now."

Sen. Connolly

(Continued From Page One) reporters the committee turned down 16 to 9 a resolution proposing to reconstitute the old Wagner Labor Relations law without changing the writing of a new national labor law.

The resolution was sponsored by Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.). It drew the support of nine Democrats. Opposed were seven Democrats and all nine Republicans on the committee. Losinski said hearings will open on the Administration's Taft-Hartley repeal bill as soon as the committee finished writing a new minimum wage bill.

The committee held almost three weeks of public hearings on an administration proposal to increase the minimum wage from 40 cents to 75 cents an hour. It is to meet tomorrow and Thursday on the minimum wage bill.

Losinski said hearings on repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act may begin Friday if the committee can finish work on the wage measure. The administration's labor bill would repeal the T-H Law and reconstitute the Wagner Act with some changes.

Arthur J. Altmeyer said that President Truman's plan for aid-for-all-needs would permit relief payments to families of workers on strike.

But the decision on whether they would get "home relief," he said, would be made by the individual states. As for what the states might do, Altmeyer said, "I don't think any state would let the family of a striker receive aid."

Altmeyer, a Social Security administrator, has the job of selling the administration's program of Social Security expansion to Congress. He was before the House Ways and Means Committee which is holding hearings on it.

Soviet Mission

An army spokesman said there apparently had been a misunderstanding about when the eight-man mission handling repatriation of Soviet citizens should leave the U. S. occupation zone.

The spokesman said a letter from American military governor General Lucius D. Clay to Russian commander Marshal Vasiliy S. Sokolovsky said the mission no longer would be accredited "effective Mar. 1." This was interpreted to mean midnight tonight.

Army sources said the Frankfurt provost marshall, Col. Sterling Wood, had been empowered to take action if the mission should not leave today.

But nobody would say just what Wood might do. An official source said Clay, General R. Haucke, chief of staff to General Clay, who did not want to be named, told his staff officers the morning he left that he would not leave before we came to them."

The informant said the Russians had told the U. S. Army they would be considered "deserters" if they left of their own accord.

They then were warned they probably would be escorted to the zone border, the informant added.

County Home

Among the improvements pointed out by Mr. Driskell were the 11 hospital type beds, together with linens and mattresses, which were obtained from the Fernandina Memorial Hospital. He showed the well equipped medicine table, including an electric sterilizer, a large new cabinet he had built for medicines and blankets and another cabinet he had constructed to hold linens. Toilets appeared sanitary and equipment in good condition.

Mrs. Francis McDougal, county nurse; her assistant, Miss Euclidie Appleby; Dr. O. L. Barks, county doctor and Rachel Lee, colored registered nurse, were on hand at the infirmary to receive visitors. Patients were visited, including Mrs. Campbell, an elderly lady who highly praised the efficiency and care given her by Rachel Lee. Two colored women, in another ward said that they are well treated.

Among the improvements at the Home are the cupboards in the food store room, erected by Mr. Driskell, and now stands made for garbage cans. The steam heat plant in the basement of the Home is in good condition, he pointed out, and he plans to extend a pipe to the infirmary for heating, he said. Due to the mild weather, the heating plant has been used but little this year, he said.

Asked what might be contributed by civic clubs for the betterment of the home, he suggested window shades.

Adventists Learn Of Missionary Activity

Progress in bringing the message of Christianity to natives of Nigeria and other countries on the Gold Coast of Africa, was outlined Saturday morning to members of the Seventh Day Adventist Church by Edgar Keslake, who recently returned after nearly three years of service in the British Nigerian and director of the denominational "Voice of Prophecy Bible School."

More than one third of the 130 million Africans live in the tropical west of West Africa known as the gold coast, he stated. Nigeria, controlled by England, is larger than Texas and has 23,000,000 inhabitants in its 23 provinces. More than 200 tribes speak as many languages. A few thousand natives have learned English.

Land may not be sold to foreigners, but may be leased. The hospital with a chief, 40 acres of land was obtained for a hospital site at a cost of one shilling, he declared. The Adventist hospital now has three wards and 60 patients. He told of a visit with an elderly chief of great influence who begged to be taught English and wanted to know if when he returned from America in the future he would bring him some "brain tonic" to aid in the process.

Atlantic Pact Okay Is Near, Acheson Avers

Snags On Bids To Other Countries Hit By Nations Of Security Alliance

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2—(AP)— Secretary of State Acheson said today there are no outstanding differences among the negotiating countries now on the proposed North Atlantic Security Alliance.

He also told a news conference:

1. He hopes the negotiations can be completed and the text of the treaty made public in the near future.

2. The negotiators have been discussing the possibility of bringing other nations into the talks here, but no decision has been reached.

The nations now negotiating the pact are the United States, Canada, Britain, France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Acheson said the discussions are too far along in other nations have touched on Italy. In relation to this and the other countries, he said, every phase of the whole matter is being investigated.

Acheson was asked whether he could say if he had encountered any opposition regarding the future admission of Italy into the alliance.

He replied no, that the matter is still open and under discussion. From other officials it was learned that some opposition has arisen.

Indications are that Acheson has encountered opposition from Senator Vandenberg and possibly other Senate Foreign Relations Committee leaders to including one of the original signers of the treaty that he is himself uncertain as to whether Italy should definitely be brought in, and that some of the European powers, particularly Britain, are not enthusiastic about the idea although willing to go along with the United States want to do.

Among the European powers, France alone is understood to have taken a very strong position in favor of including Italy. France's view is reported to be that while Italy is not on the North Atlantic, it occupies a highly important strategic position in relation to the powers which are on the North Atlantic.

Other countries most actively under consideration for early inclusion in the treaty talks are Norway.

'Lonely Hearts' Need For Better Killers Waive Relationships Is Court Hearing Outlined By Hurt

Pair Are Held Without Bond To Await Trial Arraignment

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Mar. 2—(AP)— A mail order Romeo and his woman confederate who confessed killing two widows and a child in a crosscountry "lonely hearts" racket waived municipal court examination today on murder charges.

The two-swatty, balding Raymond Martinez Fernandez, 34, and lucky, three-married Mrs. Martha Beck, 29, were held without bond for circuit court arraignment later.

They were accused jointly in two separate Michigan warrants of the drug-and-shooting of Mrs. Dolphine Downing, 28, and the shooting of her 21-month-old daughter, Rainelle.

Bodies of the two were dug yesterday from their cement-filled basement graves in their home between here and nearby Byron Center.

Prosecutor Roger C. McMahon said both had made "full confessions" and told freely of incorporating murder in an "easy money" fleecing of lonely women. McMahon said he would ask

B-50 Makes 1st Rankin Seeks Non-stop Flight Around World

Lucky Lady II Flew 23,452 Miles And Refueled 4 Times While In The Air

FORT WORTH, Tex., Mar. 2—(AP)— An Airforce bomber today completed the first non-stop flight around the world.

The B-50 Superfort "Lucky Lady II," carrying a crew of 13, arrived at 10:30 A. M. It was officially estimated that the Lucky Lady II flew 23,452 statute miles from its takeoff in Fort Worth around the world non-stop and returning to Carwell Airforce Base.

The world-pulling bomber had landed from Carwell Base at 12:21 P. M. Eastern Standard Time.

It headed eastward, its first refueling point at the Azores Islands about 3,000 miles away.

The next fueling station was Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, 5,200 miles from the Azores.

The third refueling point was above the Philippines, a 4,000-mile trip.

Longest flight between tankers was from the Philippines to Hawaii, about 6,300 miles.

The last 600 miles came over

Hawaii. From there to the Fort Worth home field was a 10-hour nonstop flight.

Closest resembling the B-50 in exterior appearance, the B-50 has considerably more speed, rate of climb, range and bomb-carrying capacity.

Powered with four Pratt and Whitney 2,000 horsepower engines, the B-50 has a top speed of about

400 miles an hour, a cruising speed around 300 and can climb to 40,000 feet. Its bomb capacity is stated at 10 tons. Its maximum range without in-flight refueling is 6,000 miles. Its wing span is 114 feet, its fuselage length 70 feet. The weight of the plane at normal takeoff is about 120,000 pounds.

A normal crew is made up of 12 men and officers.

Production of the B-50 was started in 1941, but only within the last year have deliveries in begun to the point where operational squadrons began receiving the bombers.

An Secretary Symington appealed a year ago for complete funding of the program.

"We have reached complete agreement on what we will do, where we spend our time under the sun," he said.

Later, it was reported the Air Force contemplated equipping its B-50s or B-52s for the long-range range type of operation.

A group normally consists of two of these types, now classed by the Air Force as medium bombers. The heaviest class now exists as the so-called B-52.

Symington, in revealing the ongoing fueling project to the Senate Armed Services Committee, said that by utilizing the "most modern development" of the air

refueling method, bombers would strike at any part of Russia from bases in Labrador or Alaska. This would be a two way mission, not a "suicide" flight,

Winter Is Problem To Women's Skins

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeature Beauty Editor
In some ways your skin is a weather barometer.

Spring gives it smooth, lustrous skin; an oily hue, fall a cool look. Of all the seasons, winter is the great big bugaboo on the charm schedule. It is this season that can bring roses to your cheeks one minute, frostbite the next.

We don't have to be hot-house flowers because we fear the consequences of the cold winter winds. Weather and wind lotions and hand cream can be used, not just to repair the ravages of changing temperatures, but rather as protective coats against the elements.

If you are equipped with prop necessary to skin comfort when you are outdoors, you can participate in winter sports to your husband's delight without sacrificing glamour.

Apply a good rich cream to your face at least an hour before you go outdoors, then use an oil base on face and lips. This should give you adequate protection and a good base for powder. Do not

22 Major League Players Continue To Dicker For More Money For '49

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Major League baseball teams entered the second day of their 1949 spring training sessions today with 23 players still dicing for more money.

The 16 teams began preparing for the 1949 grind yesterday with light workouts, pepper games and bull sessions.

Cleveland's world champion Indians, operating out of Tucson, Ariz., permitted four of their dissatisfied athletes, Pitchers Gene Bearden, Will Hafey and Infielders Joe Gordon and Roberto Avila, to work out. Outfielder Bob Lemon, also a holdout, was not in camp.

The National League champion Boston Braves, training at Bradenton, listed five holdouts, Pitcher Warren Spahn, Clyde Shoun, Catcher Phil Masti, Infielder Ed Stanky and Outfielder Jeff Heath.

Other holdouts include: First Baseman Les Fleming, Pittsburgh; Outfielder Stan Spencer, Boston Red Sox; Pitcher Vic Raschi and Infielder Bobby Brown, New York Yankees; Outfielder Johnny Wynn and Pitcher Harry Gumbert, Cincinnati; Outfielder Coaker Triplett, Philadelphia Athletics; Second Baseman Jerry Cratty and Outfielder Pete Layden, St. Louis Browns; Pitcher Schoop Howe, Catcher Andy Seminick, and Infielder Buddy Blattner, Philadelphia Phillies; Don Kolloway, Chicago White Sox.

Fourteen players came to terms yesterday. Pittsburgh signed Infielder Jack Tolin, Pitcher Vic Lombardi and Outfielder First Baseman Walt Judich. The Red Sox satisfied Outfielder Dom DiMaggio, Lefty Tommy Byrne agreed to Yankee terms. The Athletics signed Pitchers Phil Marchildon, Bobby Schantz and Outfielder Taft Wright. The Browns pleased Infielder Andy Anderson.

George Barr, veteran National League arbitror is given high praise in the current edition of the Sporting News. In an editorial, J. G. Taylor Spink, editor, says:

"Steady improvement in the lot of amputees and in the lot of the arbitros, particularly in the minors, has been noted in the last few years. And much of the credit for the advance is due to the efforts of one man—George Barr of the National League staff, who has worked tirelessly to make members of the profession more proficient and to improve their salaries and working conditions."

"Most amputees when their season's work was over, were content to retire to a winter of comparative ease. But Barr sacrificed these months of leisure to pioneer in the promotion of a school to provide better amputing. True, he has profited from his efforts, but it took more than the dubious prospect of financial gain to make him persist in the face of many discouragements, even ridiculous, to how out a path for others to follow."

"Now Barr's judgment has been vindicated. Many other schools have arisen following the success of his course. As a result, he needs of Organized Ball would be being supplied with capable amputees."

"Thanks to the pioneering of Barr, the demand for amputees is being met, insomuch as the capabilities of the candidates permit. Organized Ball would have been unable to recruit for members in its post-war expansion had not Barr and those who follow him provided the trained personnel."

"An orchid is also due each of the league presidents because of the encouragement and assistance they gave to George Barr, as well as Bill McGowen, in the operation of their schools."

State League Umpires

Florida State League President Jim Butler of Gainesville yesterday announced the staff of umpires for the league is complete for 1949.

Lyle Buck of Palatka has been given the post of umpire in chief for the coming year. He has umpired parts of two seasons in the league.

Hill Lutz, who now lives in Palatka, is a former Detain Red Hat player and is the only man on the staff without umpiring experience.

Tom Stanton of Covington, Ga., is a holdover from the 1948 season and Ellis Taylor of Orlando worked in the circuit in 1947. Pete Cosgrave, Minneapolis, Minn., is the man with the most experience on the staff. He has umpired in the American Association.

Henry Stone, Harrisonville, Mich.; Phil Taylor, Astor Park; and Dick Wilson, Deland, are the others named by Butler. Ellis Barnes of Gainesville has been selected as an alternate for the northern end of the league, and a man for the southern part of

ATTENDING A DINNER in honor of Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, military aide to the Chief Executive, President Truman, speaking at the Army-Navy Country Club, Washington, bitterly challenged "any S.O.B. who thinks he can get me to discharge any of my staff or cabinet by some smart-aleck statement over the air." The President is shown with Gen. Vaughan (left), Mrs. Omar Bradley and Gen. E. A. Evans. The official White House text was later altered from "S.O.B." to "any one." (International Roundphoto)

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

JOHN CHAMBERLAIN taught Sinclair Lewis the "cliche" game, in which one contestant poses a stereotyped question, and another has to give the appropriate stereotyped answer. Lewis loved it, until three in the morning.

A few days later he called Chamberlain in a rage. "You subverter of American literature," he cried. "You and that darn game! All day yesterday I tried to write, and every line came out as a cliché!"

A Vietnamese publisher, visiting America for the first time, confessed that he never had seen a game of golf. The late Frank Crowninshield took him to his Long Island club where they followed a crack foursome. One of the players landed in a deep trap just short of the first green. "He'll have to blast out of that one," said Crowninshield. "It must be impossible," added the Vietnamese. The player, however, executed a perfect explosion shot. The ball landed on the green and trickled into the cup for a birdie three. The Vietnamese clucked sympathetically and said: "This is Crowninshield's story." "Ach, what a time he'll have getting out of that one!" Copyright, 1949, by Bennett Cerf. Illustrated by James R. M. Hause.

NEW YORK—Along with a full complement of wheels—gentlemen that is whose occupations are unusual and whose eccentricities are many—the Brill building on Broadway in the middle Forties houses at least one reasonably normal tenant by name Tommy Dorsey.

Mr. Dorsey's first love is leading an orchestra, and while this does not make him completely normal, he is a comparative conservative a staid citizen, when placed next to the song writers and pluggers, the tap dancers and the promoters who infest the Brill.

Mr. Dorsey's world is not bounded tightly by cliffs. Local 402 regulations and taxes stolen like pennies from the eyes of Debutay. There is reason to believe that occasionally he reads Page One and that he is aware of the world outside.

Yet Mr. Dorsey is a tenant of the Brill building, by virtue of the two music-publishing firms in which he has somewhat more than an interest. As a publisher and a band leader simultaneously he has a finger in nearly every part of the musical pie.

Tommy has written songs, played them published them plugged them and even—or especially—has been forced to listen to the exhortations of song pluggers who want him to play their songs.

When I spoke with him in his backstage dressing room the other afternoon after his band had made the first of the day's appearances at a local movie house, he was taking an amiable and kindly glance backward at song pluggers. The glance was backward because they rarely bother Tommy these days.

"I think that is because I tossed a couple of them out on their ears one day," he said, with a grin. He is big and broad across the shoulders and gray, these days—you haven't lived until you've seen a gray crew cut, e.g. Dorsey or Carl van Doren, but he still is an enthusiastic and you would guess quick-tempered man.

The power of the press is great and I suppose the first thing a guy thinks of when he meets Dorsey for the first time is "Oh, oh this is the guy who beat the tar out of Jon Hall or was it the other way around?" Anyway, you can believe by just looking at Tommy that he gets into occasional argument. This is true, it is no sin.

THERE WAS A TIME, first when Tommy was in the band business, with his brother Jimmy and they were knocking the cash customers dead up at Glen Island castle and later when Tommy began with his own outfit in the Middle Thirties that song pluggers had to be combed out of him then dark hair nights.

They lay in wait for him in night clubs, hounding him during lunch at restaurants and did everything but sit on the steps of his apartment house at night.

"Now they behave," he said. "They might come up and say hello while I'm singing, but they don't mention their songs. They have learned that the best thing to do is leave the numbers with the band manager, and if I like them I'll play them."

Tommy smiled. "Well we hit the road though, and we lose that radio outlet. We'll be like yesterday's newspaper. So he's on the road, the pluggers say 'So what can he do for me now?'

Mr. Dorsey had an interesting sightseeing on plugging songs. During a recent 12-week stay in the Hotel Statler, he used approximately 60 new numbers. Of these he took them out of his little trunk and threw them away as he counted—about 20, or one-third, never will be used again.

Tommy played them once, twice or a half dozen times during that 12-week stay because he was doing a publisher or a composer a favor. A full-band arrangement for each number might cost about $500, although big-name arrangers like Cy Oliver collect considerably more.

Twenty songs at $500 per—and you have $10,000 virtually thrown down the drain during three months at the Statler. That's a big investment for goodwill.

MIR. DORSEY'S PERSONAL LIFE always has been of great interest to the American public, although it appears to have quieted down considerably since he and the temptress Pat Dame, of whom Robert Walker allegedly said doggedly that you couldn't get her drunk, were man and wife.

Tommy is wed now to the former Jane New and both of them are looking forward to the coming road tour, since R.B. give them a chance to be with each other.

In New York, a band leader's life is not his own, and while he was making the moviehouse appearance the only chance he had to be with Jane was for a quick snack around 5 in the afternoon.

(On the road, there will be comparative peace and quiet, which, come to think of it, may be the real reason that people like Katherine Cornell and Tallulah Bankhead take hit plays on the road.

One would think, however, that Tallulah would go quietly nuts and peep and quiet, wouldn't one?

FOUNDERS' WEEK

LAKELAND, Fla., 2 (Special)—Florida Southern College, celebrating its establishment in 1885, will hold its annual Founders' Week Monday through Sunday, with a varied program expected to attract a large number of alumni, parents of students, and other college friends and visitors to the campus.

As long as the filibuster continues, no other action can take place on Senate floor. And even Senate committees can not meet while the full body is in session unless the groups get unanimous approval of the Senate. The Southerners so far have not given this up later.

Foreign aid—the Senate Foreign Relations committee began its final study of the $4,500,000,000 European Recovery Program behind closed doors.

Deomargarine—those who favor continuation of federal taxes on deomargarine were called to testify before the House Agriculture Committee. Backers of the repeal measure had their day yesterday. The committee split wide open on the controversial legislation, plans to hold hearings on through the week. It is considering 20 separate bills.

Discrimination—Ugo Caruso, chairman of the federal displaced persons commission, and Rep. Collier (D-N.Y.) were called to testify before the House judiciary subcommittee on a bill that would let a large number of penniless people enter the country under the present law which limits entry against Jews and Catholics and doesn't let enough go into the United States. The present bill, carrying the G.O. amendment, both comes into effect about 100,000 come in two years.

Denmark, Iceland and Portugal. Ireland has declared its unwillingness to join an alliance with Britain in the present state of relations between the two countries.

Acheson said he and the other negotiators—the ambassadors of the European countries and Canada—are making good headway on the treaty. They are having another meeting tomorrow, he said, and probably a meeting early next week by which time they hope for substantial agreement on the text. He said that he did not know of any outstanding differences in text but that considerable time is consumed by exchanges of messages back and forth between the ambassadors here and their home governments.

In addition, Acheson said that he had been meeting regularly with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee leaders and has received very fine cooperation from them.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the committee has said he thinks the text of the treaty should not be made public until it is signed. He said that if some new question arose after publication, that before signing, that might cause trouble.

Acheson was asked whether he thought the treaty should be published before it is signed. He said he had hoped that it could be released before it was technically signed although there would of course have to be substantial agreement with other governments.

Truman Picks Johnson For Defense Post

Exchange Of Letters Between President And Forrestal Prepared For Release

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—(P)—President Truman is expected to accept today James Forrestal's long-pending resignation as Secretary of Defense and name Louis A. Johnson, West Virginia lawyer, to the post.

White House informants said the action probably will be announced at Mr. Truman's news conference at 4:00 P. M. (EST) An exchange of letters between the President and Forrestal has been prepared for release, they added.

Forrestal, the nation's first Secretary of Defense, is the last Cabinet holdover from the Roosevelt Administration. He was Secretary of the Navy before he took the top defense job.

Johnson has figured in speculation as Forrestal's successor. He is a former assistant Secretary of War and served as chairman of the Democratic Finance Committee in the 1948 presidential campaign.

President's spokesman disclosed during the campaign that Forrestal was expected to step down after the election. The only question was one of timing.

The President is known to have undertaken action because of his objections to publicly giving his plans.

He and Forrestal have discussed the question of Forrestal's resignation from time to time. At one point it was understood that Mr. Truman had agreed upon the date.

However, Forrestal expressed a desire to step out earlier and it is understood now that the change will take place within a short time.

White House officials look for Secretary of the Army Kenneth Royall to be the next to step out of the Administration, but they are not sure how soon that may be.

Secretary of the Air Force W. Stuart Symington, for whom resignation some of Mr. Truman's associates had been pressing, is now expected to stay on indefinitely.

Current Events Indicate Reds May Revive Dream Of World Revolution

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
ASSOCIATED PRESS STAFF WRITER

Does Moscow feel the time is ripe for reviving the Lenin dream of world revolution?

A new Comintern—communist international—embracing the Communists of all the world—may be taking shape. Events of the past two weeks form a pattern which seems to indicate this.

In quick succession the Communists of France, Italy, Britain, Germany, the United States and Austria have announced they would welcome the "liberating armies" of the Soviet Union if war should erupt between the East and West.

The Communist International Information Bureau (Cominform) may be getting ready to hatch out a military alliance to match the projected North Atlantic Pact. There are reports that a Comintern military conference will be held in Hungary.

In the concept of Nicolai Lenin, hero of the Russian revolution, Russia was looked upon as the beginning point of a world revolution of the proletariat. Under Stalin, however, Russian Communism for a while took a different turn, tending toward national development.

The war had much to do with the Russian Communists. (Continued on Page Three)

C-47 Crashes In Fires Kill 22 In Mexico, Killing Nine Passengers

All Occupants Of Craft Said To Be Army, Navy Men

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
At least 22 persons were reported killed today in fires in Michigan, Nova Scotia and New York.

A widowed mother and her nine children and a brother perished in a fire which destroyed their home in Lakewood, Mich., a resort community north of Muskegon. Deputy sheriffs said three more children may have died.

Seven died in their beds in a flash fire in a Halifax, N. S. tenement. Three others were injured, one critically. Thirteen were left alive.

The plane had been missing for several days on a flight from Hamilton Field, Calif., to Kelly Field in San Antonio, Tex.

It was last reported over Winkler, Tex., in the southwest part of the state, at 8:26 A. M. Monday. It had landed earlier at El Paso, Tex.

The plane had been the object of an extensive search both by land and air.

The plane was found approximately 100 miles south of the Del Rio, a border town, in the Sierra Colorado, rugged mountain country.

An employee of the R. A. Whitehead Ranch found the wreckage while checking water walls on the ranch.

The sheriff said that authorities in Villa Arcon, across the Rio Grande from here, were notified of the plane crash and a searching party was sent.

Mrs. Clover, whose estranged husband lives in Grand Rapids, also and three other children who at first were feared to be

Meat Prices Continue To Edge Upward In Nation's Retail Stores

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Meat prices continued edging upward this week in many chain stores whose competitive quotations are a sensitive barometer of retail trends across the country.

Steaks, for example, was up 2 to 4 cents a pound in several key cities following last week's advances of 4 to 10 cents. Pork loin roasts were up 2 to 8 cents. Even lamb, which remained comparatively high when beef and pork dropped sharply last month, was up a few cents from last week.

One notable exception to the general rule was Boston, where sirloin, which cost as around 75 cents a pound last week, was 60 cents yesterday, and pork roasts declined 10 cents to about 85 cents a pound.

Most buyers said the upward trend was believed to be leveling off. The supply-demand position of meat is more normal this week than at any time since the war began, however. Prices of bacon, ham, chops, steaks, and chops, however, are still being increased, and some meatmen are continuing to raise prices.

Among the more filled meat markets are the older centers. They used to serve tables full of meat, now they serve meat, now they are showing meat. Now it's bubble gum.

It was introduced, Arctic white residents think, by soldiers stationed at Cape Spenser and other northern outposts. Some of the soldiers may have gone, but the bubble gum stuck.

Holland Backs Dixie Group In Filibuster Row

Senator From Florida Argues Against Proposal To Alter Rules On Debates

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—(P)—Southern Senators today pushed their filibuster-to-save-the-filibuster into its fourth day in the Senate.

Senator Holland (D-Fla.) had the floor arguing against the proposal to alter the rules so that two-thirds of those voting could cut off a filibuster at any time.

Backers of an anti-filibuster rules-changing resolution showed no inclination to press for a quick showdown.
