Philosophical is the attitude of those several hundred persons waiting in line outside the Seminole County Court House to buy their license tags before today's deadline ex-

A huge communal shrug and sheepish acknowledgement. "It's my own fault; I kept putting it off," was the reaction to two, four and even six hours of waiting for the Court House doors to open at 9 a.m. for the day's business. "I knew I'd have to wait; I saw what the line looked like yesterday. Sure, I should have come in weeks ago; I had

"The two women at the head of the line said they'd been here since three in the morning. They had blankets and milk with them and just sat down outside the doors and waited," said Hicks.

Viet Losses Increasing

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) - Military sources today reported about 1,000 government soldiers killed, 3,000 wounded and 1,000 missing in the past month of heavy fighting south of Da Nang. Two district towns have been lest, but government officials claimed more than 2,590 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong have been killed. The Saigon military command, meanwhile, reported that an army headquarters at Meng Buk, in the central high-lands, apparently was overrun early today and the fate of its 300-man garrison was not known.

Tim Rice Marries

LONDON (AP) - Tim Rice, who wrote the lyrics for the long-running musical "Jesus Christ Superstar," has married 27-year-old Jane McIntosn.

Rice, 29, said after the ceremony at the Kensington Register Office that the couple would honeymoon in the United States "but not for another 10 days." They will then return to England and settle in a $300,000 house Rice has purchased near Oxford.

U.S. May Close Cyprus Embassy

By The Associated Press Greek, Turkish and Cypriot leaders expressed shock and abhorrence at the fatal shooting of the United States ambassador to Cyprus, Rodger P. Davies. He was killed during an anti-American riot Monday. American sources in Nicosia said the U.S Embassy in the battle-scarred Cypriot capital might be closed temporarily, and an official said unessential files were being burned "to make the job quicker if we decide to go." But there was no indication from the State Department in Washington of any such action. Lindsay Grant, the embassy's second in command, was flown from a vacation in Scotland to replace Davies.

There were these other developments in the Cyprus situation: -The civilian government in Greece increased its authority over the military by firing the commander in chief of the armed forces and his eight top officers and replacing them with foes of the ousted military junta. -Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said Turkey had expressed willingness to negotiate a withdrawal from part of the 40 per cent of Cyprus its troops have occupied.

Davies was killed by sniper fire during a 600 Greek Cypriots who accused the U.S. government of siding with Turkey.

The snipers were believed to be gunmen from EOKA-B, the Greek Cypriot terrorist force whose aim is to unite Cyprus with Greece and which helped to overthrow President Makarios on July 15. Although hundreds of the demonstrators Davies' killers were "enemies of humanity." Premier Bulent Ecevit commented: "The Greek Cypriots are making a big mistake in trying to make others pay for their own errors broke through the embassy gates and stoned and sins. The U.S. embassy had been told Cypriot civil servants planned a protest demonstration, and about 30 or 40 unarmed Greek s Cypriot police had been sent in response to its request for protection.

Some of the police watched passively, while others tried to push the crowd back, yelling: "For God's sake, there are Cypriots in there." Half a dozen U.S. Marines were also on duty and drove the mob back with tear gas. But American officials said the Greek Cypriot national guard failed to respond to an appeal

The police said they made no arrests. But some police were seen struggling with armed EOKA-B members.

U.N. troops also rushed to the scene but did nothing to stop the rioters. A U.N. spokesman in New York said it was "not the job of the peacekeeping force" to intervene, "this is the job of the police."

Congress: Do As We Say Not As We Do

Congress has a delightful habit of passing laws that apply to everyone but congressmen.

They slip these little hookers into legislation that the rest of us, unfortunately, never read or seldom have an opportunity to study at any length. An example of this double standard came to light over the weekend when an enterprising Texas probably the Air Force's giant C-54A transport newspaper discovered that 19 U.S. Representatives and one U.S. Senator had practiced racial discrimination in the hiring of their office staffs. The examples cited didn't rely on "informed sources" or "officials close to the situation." The Vietnam battlefields. evidence was in the form of photostatic copies of requests from the congressmen involved to the Office of Placement and Office Management. The RAY CROMLEY requests specified "whites only" and "no minorities" and even "no water signs" - a reference to the signs of the Zodiac, and no gal who wears pants suits.

On the face of it the requests would seem a clear violation of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 which would have a private employer in all kinds of rouble with the government.

But, as we said, Congress has this thing about passing laws that might infringe on their right to hire whomever they please while establishing very rigid guidelines for the rest of us. In this case the "hooker" is a provision in the law that says Congress is not an "employer" under the Act and therefore is not subject to its antidiscrimination provisions. A 1972 amendment gave the Civil Service Commission jurisdiction over discriminatory congressional employment Ford in the past has moved slowly, gathering practices involving "competitive service" only and just what that might mean is anyone's guess.

So the gentlemen involved are home scot free. Oh, they'il have to suffer through some embarrassing questions for a day or so, maybe even get some threatening mail from the folks back home, but it'll be a two-day sensation and they'll be ship. free to go back about the business of discriminating against minorities.

Meanwhile, the rest of us can expect to hear House Republican Conference, in a vote from the Justice Department if we so much as engineered by his Young Turk friends. The military budgets have never been subjected to the penny-pinching that members of Congress apply to welfare spending, housing programs, educational ap-

As the dreams are translated into the reality of steel, the top brass have long lists of wishes. These need have no relationship to existing technology or the industry's ability to produce. In fairness to the defense contractors, they are often called upon to accomplish technological miracles to satisfy the whims of the military dreamers. Practicality and cost are secondary. As the procurement planning expands with each new appropriation, so does the planning staff. The top planners are judged less by the new weapons they produce than by the size of the staffs they command. After all, it will take a war to determine whether the weapons systems

Nearly all contractors employ former military officers in their sales divisions. These arms peddlers unashamedly flash their service academy rings in pursuit of contracts.

WILLIAM RUSHER Immunity Issue Is Tough One

The question whether Richard Nixon should be prosecuted for his misdeeds in connection with the Watergate cover-up is thornier than many people imagine.

According to the Gallup Poll 55 per cent of the American people oppose prosecution, and only 37 per cent favor it—an impressively solid majority or compassion, and one that anti-Nixon zealots will ignore at their peril. On the other hand, the let-him-alone advocates don't seem to understand that Mr. Nixon, once he stepped down as President, became legally subject to prosecution for any crime he committed while in office, and that there is no very convenient technical excuse for failing to prosecute him for this one. Nor does Congress have the legal power to confer immunity on him.

That, incidentally, is why it was dangerously naive for various good-hearted people to complain that Mr. Nixon, in his resignation speech, didn't "make a clean breast of it" and frankly acknowledge his guilt. If he had done so, he would not only have been making things far easier for a potential prosecutor in his own case, but would gravely have compromised the trial of his co-conspirators Mitchell, Haldeman, Ehrlichman, et at., which is scheduled to begin on September 9th. However beinous we consider the Watergate cover-up, is surely a great deal to be said in mitigation of the offense, and Mr. Nixon would only have made saying it infinitely more difficult if he had chosen to twang our heartstrings with a dramatic "mea culpa" in his

Dems Hold Voter Edge

IN BRIEF

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) - More Republicans than Democrats have registered to vote in Florida in the past two years but the Democrats still hold a two-to one edge. A_voter registration report released Monday by Secretary of State Dorothy Glisson showed Democratic registration increased to 2.4 million this month compared to 2.3 million in August 1972. Republican registrations were up from 893,024 to

The biggest increase in percentage was among those not registered with either party. Most were registered as independents. These registrations were up nearly 50 per cent, from 97,524 to 139,695.

Burglars Burglarized

LAKE WALES, Fla. (AP) - It probably won't receive the attention of their first break-in, but Bernard Barker and Eugenio Martinez have found themselves mixed up in another burglary, police said.

Authorities said someone stole $9,000 worth of furniture and other equipment from the construction site where convicted Watergate burglars Martinez and Barker hope to build a housing project called Watergate Hills. The two are on probation after pleading guilty to the burglary at the Democratic National Headquarters in Washington's Watergate complex.

Barker and Martinez announced last week that they would develop the project along with John Priestes, a

DEAR ABBY Stay Away From Captain's Table By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DeAR ABBY: My husband is 49, a wonderful man in all respects, and I love him dearly. I am 43, but I'm told I look a lot younger. Not to brag, but I'm also attractive.

Living in our apartment building is a handsome, 40-year-old Army captain. (He's a bachelor.) My husband travels a lot, and this bachelor told me if I ever got bored or lonely when my husband is away, I should call him and he will invite me over for a gourmet dinner. (He belongs to a gourmet club and loves to cook.)

So far I haven't taken him up on it, but I've thought about it. I've been a faithful wife all these years and have no intentions of being otherwise. I told my husband about this captain's invitation, and he said: "I don't like the idea. It's not that I don't trust you, but I wouldn't trust any man alone with a beautiful woman. Also, I don't want to give the neighbors anything to gossip

ON THE FENCE DEAR ON: A woman of any age should be allowed to do what she wants to do . However, even though the captain's "gourmet dinner" is 100 per cent kosher, and he has a good conduct medal to match yours, if your husband doesn't like the idea, don't pursue it. If you're lonely in your husband's absence, get off the fence and the home of Mrs. Richard Crapps, and their wedding will Canal Zone was used, with a go with a group. There's safety in numbers.

DEAR ABBY: I've often considered writing to you about this, but then I would think: "It's too silly!" Now, I've had it. We share a duplex house with two of the warmest, kindest people in the world. They are always so nice. That's the trouble. they're TOO nice!

When the mister cuts his grass, he cuts ours too. I know this is Found Offensive silly, but it bugs me. I LIKE to cut my own grass! I've told him not to bother, that I would do it in the evening, but then he says: "That's all right. I already have my lawn mower out."

Abby, I've gone out and started mowing my lawn and he has the nerve to come over, shut my mower off and say: "Now you go tend to your baby, and let me do this." (They have no children and are quite a bit older than we are.)

Abby, I truly like this sweet old neighbor, but he is carrying a good deed too far. How can I tell him? KEEP OFF THE GRASS disgusted by the amount of the tough get going."

THINGS YOU ALWAYS WANTED TO ASK ABOUT HYPNOSIS BUT DIDN'T KNOW WHO TO ASK

ANSWER — Information from the experts, in the field of sexual problems, indicates that 95-99 pct, of all impotence and frigidity are of a psychogenic origin. Assuming that your physician agrees that there is no "organic" cause, and that the problem is psychogenic, then hypnosis can, very definitely, help. Working through the subconscious mind, sexual anxieties, guilt, shame, etc., can be alleviated or removed. Sexual emotions and maladjustments, due to lack of information, or misinformation in extly life can be corrected with the help of hypnosis.

Which Bicycle? It's Complicated

By MARK WEINTZ

Buying a bike is like buying a car...it's time consuming. There are so many types of bicycles and each is designed with

A ten speed for high velocity traveling or touring, a 15-speed for hilly regions, a tricycle for toddlers, the one speed for the average rider and on and on. But, how do you know what to buy?

Bike shop owners say the answer to that question lies in the needs of the potential cyclist. Bike shops offer a variety of bikes as well as accessories to satisfy the ordinary rider or the professional racer.

For the average county resident who rides daily or maybe only once a week, a bicycle may cost between $50 and $100 according to bike shop managers. There are so many styles, shapes, and sizes of bicycles available that it is best to decide what you need from a visc for and before you pick the machine. In Europe, where bicycles are a very common mode of transportation for young and old and the terrain is hilly the ten and 15 speed bicycle is popular; but in Seminole County where few hills merit so many gears the "ole favorite," the one speed But, with the more expensive multi-geared bikes come smoother bearings, stronger, but, lighter parts and probably a higher top speed. These bikes can cost as much as $400 or more, but, $100 will buy a "nice ten speed" according to one area bike

For about $50 a junior size bike with small tires is available. And some of these machines are multi-geared. The original high-wheeled bicycle, the one with the large front wheel and tiny rear wheel is back on the road, but it is mostly a novelty item and even bike shop owners say it is not the most practical means of transportation. The one-wheeler (unicycle) is another novelty type of bicycle and shop owners say it is usually only stocked at Christmas time.

Inflation Devastating To Welfare Recipients

Sanford, apartment. "I pay what I can but the rest I just put in a drawer. What else can I do with them?"

Similar laments may be heard with increasing frequency throughout Seminole and trade in the roomy family economy car. But what happens when you're already at rock bottom? When even hamburger is a luxury and owning any kind of automobile an impossible dream?

Nobody's smiling about an annual inflation rate up around 10 per cent, but welfare recipients are certainly among those hardest hit by spiralling costs. Their already low allowances are being cruelly eroded by rising prices of food. clothing and shelter.
