

Cops treating man's death as murder

BY DAVID FRAZIER Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - Police are treating as a murder the death of a Sanford man found in his rooming house home Sunday.

The man, who police have not identified pending notification of next of kin, was found dead from trauma to the head Sunday night at the Florida Hotel located at the corner of Flfth Street and Oak Avenue. An autopsy took place at 8 p.m. Monday. The results are still pending.

According to Sanford Police, friends of the deceased came over to the man's room on Sunday to watch football. As they entered the room, they noticed the man apparently sleeping on the couch. They tried to wake him, but could not.

Sanford Police Information Officer Darryl Brewer said that there was no sign of forcible entry, and that the door to the hotel room was unlocked.

Because the man died of head trauma, police are treating the case as a homicide at this point. Brewer said that the next of kin for the man have not been reached.

The Florida Hotel has for years been the subject of controversy with neighbors. Nestled in the historic district, the hotel is one of the few remaining multi-family establishments since the area converted to single family homes several years ago. The Florida Hotel rents rooms by the week or month, and some of its clients over the years have often drawn the attention of law enforcement.

"The city needs to revoke the occupational license of the Florida Hotel] and close it down," said Walt Padgett, the proprietor of the Higgins House Bed and Breakfast located near the Florida Hotel. "This has been an ongoing eight- year thing," said Padgett.

Adult entertainment call has county breathless

By RUSS WHITE Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - The idea is to climinate all the glitches leaving no room for adult entertainment establishments or sexually-orientated businesses to skirt any segment of the county's new code.

"It's this, and staying eter-nally vigilant," says Seminole County Board of Commissioners Chairman Randy Morris. "No one will ever be completely satisfied with what's done. We just take it step by step."

The BCC's all-day meetings today will require major decisions by the commissioners about the adult entertainment industry. Not exactly Super Bowl Sunday but a primetime Tuesday event nonetheless.

Among the new concerns is an XXX-rated video store at Flea World. Of importance to the citizens of Sanford is the naming of the possible adult entertainment sites - two on the west side, or another near the airport. Sanford officials prefer the westside sites be chosen.

The commission's concluding decision which will come at the 7 p.m. public hearing is the approval of a Glitch Ordinance amending the Adult Entertainment Establishment and Sexually Oriented Business Ordinance #97-28 which became effective on June 26,1997.

The glitch ordinance amends numerous definitions related to the June ordinance, prohibits specific activity associated with sexually oriented businesses and strengthened the enforcement ability of the Shertiffs Office.

Sheriff Counsel, Legal MaryAnn Klein helped prepare the Glitch Ordinance which Sheriff Don Eslinger said he expects to be able to "enforce to the letter."

Since the county adopted its tougher code in June, there have been a number of attempts to get around the code. The county is engaged in legal battles with Sassy Merlot's and VIP Gold.

There may be a new one with Ron's Video at Flea World. Deputy County Attorney Lonnie Groot and the county planning division are awaiting the BCC's nod to initiate litigation against Ron's Video for violation of the county's ordinance relating to adult entertainment. The video store is operating without an adult entertainment license at a property not de-Bee County, Page 2A

LAKE MARY - It's a cold and forgy winter morning but John Giblson is bright in his orange and white Philadelphia Flyers jacket.

He's relaxed, ready for another commute to downtown Orlando, to his job in the Orange County Property Appraiser's Office.

Relaxed? How can that be? The thought of westbound Interstate-4 at 7 a.m. conjures images of harried and hasaled. But not Gibtson. He knows it's going to be a smooth and comfortable. If you look closely, you'll even see him smiling.

That's because Gibison won't be driving to Oriando this morning. No, he'll be riding on Express LYNX.

"We've been in no rush to get a second car," said Gibison, whose wife, Yazmin, takes him to catch the bus at the Amoco station on Lake Mary Boulevard, across from Home Depot.

SANFORD - The future of Sailfest could be in Sanford if the city agrees to make certain repairs to the boat launch area. Robert Roth, executive director of Sailfest, is seeking the city's support for the regatta, which has been held in Sanford for the past 23 years.

"My goal is to get the commission to approve funding for creating a safe area to have the event," Roth wrote in a letter to the city.

The event was moved last year when organizers found the Lake Monroe waterfront inadequate for boat launching. However, the City of Sanford reserved the right to host the regatta in the future once accom-seemed more positive and interested in repairs to the boat launch area, referred to as the beach by residents.

City Manager Bill Simmons said the event has been on again, off again for the past few years until last fall when organizera said there would be no Sailfest in December 1997.

The problem, Simmons said, is that the slope is too steep at the launch site, which is located on the north end of Marina laland. Over the years, the city has added dirt to build up the site and last year leveled the land to meet the water's end, he said. The dirt, however, washes into the channel.

Other limitations, Simmons said, include

"The north side is very exposed to the elements," Simmons said.

The Lake Monroe event brings many people to Sanford from places that are far away, he said. Measuring the impact on the local economy is not that simple.

"At their heyday, they were pulling close to 1,000 boats in different classes," Simmons said. They have been booked as the largest inland regatta in the world."

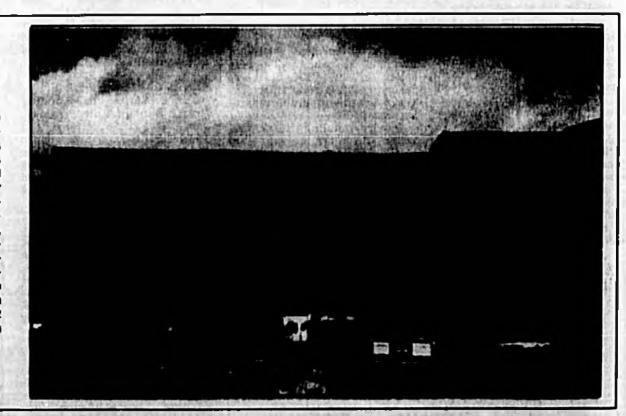

Simmons said the city will meet with Roth again to discuss the project in more detail.

"We want to see what he has to say and the costs associated," he said. "We're open to what they have to say."

How does your building grow?

The new building that will house the Seminole County Sheriff's Office is growing faster than a speeding bullet. Sheriff's spokeeman Lt. Jack Cash said today that the building is on or ahead of schedule and the contractor expects to complete construction by July. After that, some functions, such as the instatiation of telephone and computer systems, will be done, before the staff and deputies move in. The new office is located on the corner of U.S. Highway 17-92 and Bush Boulevard, across from Field World.

Trainer of exotic animals reports hate crime

From Staff Reports

OVIEDO - The Sheriff's Office Major Crimes Section is investigating a hate crime' re-ported by David McMillan, the owner of an Oviedo acheol that trains handlers of exotic animals.

The incident occurred about 11:30 p.m. at McMillan's home on Uak Hollow Lane near Oviedo. McMillan's school, Tiger's Eye Productions, is adja-cent to his home.

McMillan's dogs began barking. When he went outside to check on the reason for the barking. McMillan found a burning six foot high cross leaning against the fence of his front lawn. A racial alur was painted on his garage door.

McMillan naw a person running away from the cross and toward Oak Hollow Lane. However, he does not know who the person might have been. There was no other damage to McMillian's property. McMillan told Seminole County deputy sheriffs that he has a racially mixed son from a previous marriage. His current girlfriend is black. he said.

McMillan is white. He claims this is not the first time he has been victimized by racial alura.

McMillan recently has also been singled out by People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals, a group committed to animal rights. PETA in a national blits, protested McMillan's treatment of his animals. but subsequent investigations found no abuse.

Jokingly, he calls her his "little chauffeur."

Gibison decided to give mass transit a try about three months ago. He had been using Link 39, which runs from Sanford to downtown Orlando along U.S. Highway 17-92. It was a lot of stope, Gibison said, but well worth the wear and tear, on his car and his nerves.

The Central Florida Regional Transportation Authority, better known as LYNX, launched Express LYNX, in November and it's been a big hit with the Gibison family, if not with more commuters in the Lake Mary and Sanford area. "We were so excited," said

Yazmin, when they learned of the express service to downtown Orlando.

The origin of the new service is Seminole Centre, just north of Lake Mary Boulevard. The first bus leaves the shopping center at 5:55 a.m. and arrives at Orange and Magnolia avenues at 6:51 a.m. Park and ride facilities are available behind the Sanford Disabled American Veterans building, which is the second stop on the line. There are several stops along 'Lake Mary Boulevard and the stops are labeled with a bright pink XL and Link 120.

Not designed to be faster than driving (1-4 in the morning, duh?) LYNX Assistant Executive Director Rob Gregg said, "Express LYNX doesn't have to save time to improve your commute.

The cost of the round trip is $3 and Gregg said this gives the commuter the opportunity to read, listen to music and simply rest. Things that would be dangerous to do while driving-using the phone, adjusting a lie, fixing makeup-are perfectly safe."

Gibison said the schedule has been great. "They're pretty good with the schedule," he said, adding that some days he has been as much as 15 minutes early on the trip home from Orlando.

And the scats are comfortable.

The naming of Sanford sites has caused its own share of controversy. Mayor Larry Dale says that Sanford has had sites which may have been used all along and that city officials are doing all they can to scrub all areas in or near the city.

The airport sites (nearly 150 acres) would seem to be the most desirable. Dale says the two westside sites are much less likely to ever be explored by the adult industry. Others disagree, worrying that the mall area would be an ideal location. Church groups such as Central Baptist on State Road 46 have protested.

"I'm opposed to the two westside sites," Commissioner Grant Maloy said Monday. "We named the airport sites first and I believe we ought to stick with them. One of the new sites is only three acres....we'd still have to add something somewhere clae. We could always cut down the airport site area.

"We still don't know if we grandfather the businesses in the Fern Park area," Maloy said. "That's not something that will even be discussed today. We'll still have that to do."

Volunteer of the week

Interest in Center came 'from the Lord'

BY SUSAN WENNER Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD _ The Sanford Crisis Pregnancy Center is slated to open at 1002 French Ave. in late spring but volunteers have been hard at work assisting Director Andrea Krazeise with all the last minute tasks. Krazeise praised one of these volunteers, Mark Raab, for his consistent, persistent and devoted work with carpentry for the Center.

She shared that his constant vigilance to getting the job done right and being sure added volunteers are ready and following through has been a Godsend to her. According to reports approximately 20 churches are standing behind this ministry in prayer, volunteers and monthly financial support.

Raab shared that his interest for the work came "from the Lord." He'said, "My wife, Linda, has always had a wonderful. soft, compassionate spot in her heart for teenagers and children. We've prayed together for this."

He continued by saying. " I feel strongly that God wants all of his creation to be born and not wished away at our whim. I have a beautiful daughter and grandson and I would hate to think that my wife could have just chosen not to have them. I love them and have been blessed." Being in construction all his chamber is 4 to 6 inches in diameter and lined with fine grass and leaves. Moles have one litter of 2 to 5 young per year. The young are born in March after a 45-day gestation period. They are large at birth relative to the size of their mother and are able to fend for themselves in about 4 weeks. Damage: The damage caused by moles is almost entirely cosmetic. Although moles are often falsely accused of eating the roots of grass and other plants, they actually feed on the insects causing the damage. The tunneling of moles may cause some physical damage to the root systems of ornamental or garden plants and may kill grass by drying out the roots, but this damage is usually minor.

homeowners, renters, or employees of the property owner. No polson may be used on native wildlife without a Poison Permit issued by the executive director of the Florida Game & Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Traps: Moles can be live trapped using a simple pitfall. Find an active surface tunnel. Collapse a tunnel with your foot, then come back in an hour or two to see whether the tunnel has been reopened. If the tunnel has been pushed back up, it is an active tunnel. Dig a hole through the tunnel large enough to insert a large coffee can, wide-mouth quart jar, or similar container. Sink the can into the ground so the top of the container lies just below the bottom edge of the tunnel. Cover the area with a piece of cardboard or a board and the soil from the hole to keep light and air currents from alerting the mole to the trap. When the mole falls into the trap, the whole container can be pulled out of the ground and the mole carried to a forested area and released. Check your live trap several times a day. If this is not done, trapped moles may die from star-removed without a permit by vation or thirst. Commercial mole traps are available in two main types: the choker-loop and the harpoon and both are designed to kill the mole. If the trap is not sprung within 3 days, move it to a new, more active location.

Castor oil solution: Using a blender, mix 1 tablespoon of castor oil and 2-4 tablespoons liquid detergent into 1 gallon of water. Water your lawn first and then soak it with this solution.

Predators: Snakes, owls, herons, and sometimes cats and dogs will kill a mole, but moles are distasteful to most animals and they will not eat them.

Habitat and food: The eastern mole prefers loose, well-drained soils. It has been found in dune sand and rich forest humus. The characteristic mole ridges that lie just below the surface are foraging tunnels. These tunnels are created as the mole searches among the plant roots for the earthworms and insects on which it feeds. Moles are beneficial because they eat mole crickets, white grubs, wire worms, ants, cutworms, armyworms, and slugs. They also help to loosen and aerate the soil. In loose soil, miles can tunnel up to 18 feet per hour. Reproduction: The mole's nest

Adultery causes deep damage

DEAR ABBY: Adultery seems to be an accepted fact of life these days. Everybody's doing it. No problem. It's no problem, that is, until you are the injured party. Then it's a very big deal. The hurt is so deep, it's hard to believe that someone who chims to believe that someone who claims to love you has inten-tionally and selfishly inflicted this

After much soul-searching, I had to face the truth: I married a loser. I'm a kind and decent person who never expected or deserved to be treated so poorly. But I'm also strong, and although I'm deeply wounded, I'll be fine because I've been able to see why he had the wounded, I'll be fine because I've been able to see why he had the affair. It had nothing to do with me. You see, with her he could pretend to be someone other than who he really is. He could pretend to be a successful businesseman when, in fact, nothing could be further from the truth. He could brag about his children like a devoted family man. In truth, he is a workaholic and not at all involved in their lives or upbringing.

For years I begged him to go for counseling. It was easier for him to find a sympathetic lover who was willing to hear how his wife didn't understand him. I understand him, all right — too well. He is a charmer However, he can also be charmer. However, he can also be nean-spirited and vengeful, a side would never let her see. He is in denial and takes no responsibility for his actions. When I told him he had to leave, he didn't go to her. Maybe it's because he's married, although that didn't seem to bother them before. Or maybe he knew eventually she would see through his charade. The reason doesn't matter. It's over for us. I have some advice I'd like to give to your readers who might be considering having an affair: If you are unhappy in your marriage, get counseling or get out of the house. But do not get a lover. Affairs cause only trouble and very deep pain. SLOWLY HEALING IN

FREEPORT, MAINE

DEAR SLOWLY HEALING: That's sage advice - given by someone who obviously has not yet put the pain behind her.

Chang's, Homegrown roll to wins in Co-Ed Polar Bear openers

From Staff Reports

SANFORD _ John Stewart stamped an early claim on a potential triple crown as led Chang's Car Care to a crushing victory on the opening night of the Sanford Recreation Department Polar Bear Co-Ed Slowpitch Softball League at Pinchurst Park Monday night.

Stewart, the No. 2 hitter in the lineup, hit home runs his first three times at the plate and then singled to end the game as Chang's Car Care clobbered Holmes Truss, 21-1, in a game stopped in the bottom of the fourth inning by the 20-Run Rule.

Stewart hit a two-run home run and a three run home run in the bottom of the first inning as Chang's Car Care scored 12 runs and added a solo home run leading off the bottom of the third inning. His fourth inning single gave him seven RBI for the evening.

Dave Jickell had almost as good a game for Homegrown Hydroponics in the second game, hitting a home run over the 310-foot fence in a nine-run fifth inning and adding a double as he also went four-for-four and drove in three runs in a 23-3, four-plus inning victory over Beer :30.

The league will play a doubleheader every Monday night at Pinchurst Park starting at 7 p.m.

Powering Chang's Car Care were Stewart (4-for-4 with three home runs and a single, three runs scored, seven RBI), Bruce Sellers [3-for-3 with two doubles and a single, three runs scored, two RBI), Dave Blakey (3-for-3 with a double and two singles, two runs scored, four RBI) and Lynn Webb (three singies, one run scored). 6.0

Also hitting were Red Gamer (two doubles, one run scored), Chris Bryson (two singles, one run scored, one RBI), Lucy Sellers (two singles), Zeb Webb (one, double, three runs acored, two RBI), Lynette Barkley (one single. two runs scored, one RBI), Carol Garner (one single, one run scored, one RBI), Debbie Berning (two runs scored) and Carol Norman and Staci Abrams (one run scored each). Providing the offense for Holmes Truss were Don Ciccone (one double, one single), Tommy Kelly (two singles), Myriel Reid (one single, one run scored). Rick Pettis (one single) and Bill Cleveland (one RBI).

Rams wide awake Lake Mary puts on clinic in thumping Oviedo girls

By JEFF BERLINICKE Herald Staff Writer

OVIEDO _ So much for a wakeup call.

If anybody was going to give the number-one ranked Lake Mary girls basketball team any kind of challenge before states, it would have come last night.

Instead, it turned into a basketball clinic as the Lady Rams destroyed host Oviedo, 58-29, to all but wrap up the Class 6A-District 3 title.

Lake Mary has been routing teams all season and most of the games have featured the clearing of the bench by halftime. Last night could have been different. Oviedo was at least the second hottest team in the district and featured Mary Lou Johnston, the leading scorer in Central Florida. instead, it was never close as the Lady Rams jumped out to a big lead and were never challenged. This is the best we've played in awhile," Lake Mary coach Carl Brown said. "We came ready to play and our intensity was high." The Rams had also played a marvelous game on Saturday night against DeLand, beating the Bulldogs, 62-32. The game started like it might be a scoring fest with Lake Mary leading 25-16 after the first quarter. But the Rams defense took over. holding DeLand to four points in each of the second and third quarter, and allowing only 16 points over the final three periods.

Lauren Bradley led the way with 23 points, while Mary Leah Sutton added 13 points and Becky Pedro 10. for Lake Mary.

Monday night Oviedo coach Tom Biert knew he was in for a fight but his team fell behind early and never recovered.

"The bifference in that they have too many weapons," Bieri said of the Lady Rams. "As well as we've played, our kids were hesitant tonight. Basically, they (Lake Mary) are so good, they are intimidating." It started out exactly that way. The Lady Rama intimidated Oviedo and Johnston, despite a game-high 16 points, which never registered on the scoreboard until late in the first quarter. In fact, for a while, it looked like Lake Mary might pitch a shutout.

The Lady Rams Jumped out quickly, running up an 11-0 lead as Stephanic Dale got off to a hot start and Lake Mary never looked back. Oviedo finally scored on a Kelly Brock jumper after nearly seven minutes of play. Brock said the Lady Lions may have come out too light, but she warned that Lake Mary hasn't seen the last of Oviedo.

"It was a big disappointment," Brock said. "We have a lot of respect for them and they played better tonight but districts will be another thing. We were just too tight tonight."

it started to get ugly as Lake Mary dominated on the boards against the smaller Oviedo team, which runs a three guard offense and had a hard time combating the rebounding of Bradley and Sutton.

For Lake Mary, Bradley led the way with 15 and Sutton, still playing with a protective facemask because of an injured nose, had 14. Dale chipped in with 10 and Lake Mary dominated all facets of the game.

If anything, the one thing Lake Mary was able to prove last night was a ranking deserving of the top spot in the state.

"That's as good a team as l've seen in 11 years of coaching." Bieri said.

Lake Brantley has a chance to find out tonight when the Lady Pats travel to Lake Mary (22-0) for a 7:30 p.m. starting time. The Lady Lions also play tonight, tipping off at Seminole at 7:30 p.m.

Lake Mary's Stephanie Date takes punishment here from an Oviedo player, but the senior forward helped the Rama get off to a fast start and finished with 10 points as the No. 1 ranked team in Class 6A won its 22nd game without a loss, 56-29.

Howell took a big early advantage, leading 21-9 after one period and 28-14 at halftime, but Winter Park (17-6) kept battling back and eventually edged the Silver Hawks (14-12), 48-45.

Lake Brantley (7-14) did just the opposite, falling behind 15-9 after the first period and 29-22 at halftime, before coming to life and holding the Grenadiers to 15 second half points and winning 48-44.

SANFORD _ Whoever said female athletes aren't tough haven't been out to Seminole Community College.

Already down to eight players total, and with one of those out with an injured knee and three others playing with severe leg injuries, the Raiders continued to win over the weekend, throttling St. Petersburg Junior College, 85-58, on the road Saturday and Nassau (New York) Community College, 70-58, at home on Sunday.

Center Jaana Kotova had a big weekend, with 24 points, nine rebounds and 10 blocked abots at St. Pete, and 19 points and at least 15 blocked shots Sunday.

Also playing her usual excellent game was Daria Kudruyviseva, with 19 points on Saturday and 25 points on Sunday.

A surprise star in Saturday's win was Crystal Tanner, who came of the bench to hit 6-of-8 shots (4-of-5 on 3's) and all four

Unprotected sex is risky

DEAR DR. GOTT: I am a virgin who had a successful vasectomy. If I meet a woman who tests negative for vene-human activity, self-pleasuring can be real disease, can I safely have unpro- carried to extremes. However, centected sex?

DEAR READER: By having a vasectomy, you have virtually elimi- a natural function and I believe that nated pregnancy, which used to be more harm has resulted from the guilt one of the most feared consequences of intercourse - at least when I was growing up in the 1950s. Today, however, sexually active people have far more to fear than pregnancy. At last count, there were more than 30 sexually transmitted diseases, ranging in severity from AIDS (fatal) to herpes (uncomfortable). Fortunately, most STDs are curable but it's practically impossible to test for all of them - in part because some, such as chlamydia, produce few, if any, symptoms. A potential partner could be checked for AIDS, gonorrhea, syphilis, hepatitis, herpes, and the other cominon STDs, but - depending on her sexual histo-- she could still harbor an infection that could be passed to you during unprotected sex. There are no guarantees in life; any sexual activity carries potential risk.

Nonetheless, you probably don't want to go to your grave a virgin. Therefore, I advise you to be cautiously selective. By doing so, you won't completely eliminate the risk of infection, but you'll certainly reduce it substantially.

Here's an analogy. The risk of being struck by an automobile while crossing a quiet street in your community is statistically quite small. It can hap-pen, but such an event would be very unusual. However, if you run out into the street without looking both ways, you substantially increase the chance of injury. Conversely, if you are prudent, look both ways, and take other precautions, your risk of being run over is markedly reduced.

Same with sex. Pick your street. Keep your wits about you. And, by all means, look both ways.

To give you more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Where to Find Sex Infor-Report "Where to Find Sex Infor-mation." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long. self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station. New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: You're wrong to condone masturbation.

My brother did it a lot, became lazy and wouldn't work. When he was 30, he developed nervous spells. Then he required special treatment. Later, he had a fatal stroke. His death was a blessing

DEAR READER: Although I am sorry that your brother died, I'd have a hard time blaming it on masturbation. Despite traditional "wisdom," there are no scientific studies linking turies of adolescents (and adults) have masturbated. In moderation, it is of its prohibition than from the act itself.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What do you think about the new Band-Aids that contain antibiotic cream?

DEAR READER: Largely unnecessary. The publication Consumer Reports on Health points out that most cuts and abrasions do not need antibiotic cream. Such lesions heal satisfactorily within a few days whether or not they're covered - first day or two until the healing process is well underway. Antibiotic-impregnated Band-Aids pander to Americans' current phobia about bacteria and infection. What's more, they are expensive: 13 cents per strip compared to 3 cents a strip for plain old ordinary Band-Aids.

Trickery

There is something irresistible about making a play that hoodwinks an opponent into error. Today's deal was reported by Tim Bourke (pronounced "Burke"), who lives in a suburb of Canberra, the Australian capital. As a sidelight, Bourke has one of the world's biggest collections of bridge books and magazines.

West opened two spades, a weak two-bid showing a good six-card suit and some 6-10 high-card points. A moment later, South was in four hearts. After West led the spade king, how did South play?

If South only had a second diamond, the contract would be easy to make. But now that the spade ace has been driven out of the dummy, things are

The second declarer (unnamed be cause it was Bourke?) did much better. He ducked the first trick! Then he put up the spade ace on West's spade-queen continuation. No doubt laughing mockingly to himself, East ruffed. Yet now the contract couldn't be defeated. South won the club switch, drew trumps, unblocked the diamond ace, crossed to dummy with a trump to the seven, and discarded his three blacksuit losers on the top diamonds. South had brought home an overtrick.

With hindsight, it is easy to say that East should have discarded at trick two, which stops declarer from getting to those diamonds. But who would do that?
